SNOW SILENCE

(From Poetry World)
 There being no kind of bird
 Now, in our sky,
 And all the songs we heard,
 Lost, and some by ear,
 The cat must learn to hear This white immeasurable crash of air...

Till noon a day

As birds are here once more,
 And a song's arrow may
 The monstrous roar,
 And stilling to starving men
 Stillness, again.

—DAVID MORTON

Fascist leaders shout that Italians must be ready to fight at any time. All they need is someone to fight.

Why is it that when it is cold someone is always leaving the door open, and when it is warm they are certain to close it?

A former Republican majority leader has shown out in favor of the Democratic party. He is just trying to give the bridge between Florida Democrats.

Florida's weather is the best in the first quarter of the year. It is better than any other place in the world. Keep the average pots well oiled.

One of the latest movies is called "Grapes of Wrath," but we will never have a complete picture of our social problems till one is made on the "Four Grapes of Wrath."

The Russians have set up loud speakers on the Mannerheim Line telling the Finns how they are going to live them from their oppressors. Reminds us of some of our sound-baggers during our gubernatorial campaigns.

If the quality of the paper you see the newspaper printed on shows a change for the worse, soon blame it on the Russians. We ordinarily use Finnish paper, but that is about gone, and Canadian paper is about the only kind available—Greta Hammer. Our newspaper is about finished too.

Down in Miami the schools had to close on account of the cold.
 They are constructed without heating facilities. In Brownsville, Tex., about the same latitude, the mercury goes as low as 25 degrees.
 Vegetable growers in a whole have suffered plenty, but so far celery has been untouched by the cold.

The United States' commercial treaty with Japan expires Friday. Thereafter the United States will continue to supply the Japanese with the necessary iron, oil, cotton and so forth with which to slaughter Chinese only if the Japs do not arouse our animosity.
 And if the United States should stop selling to Japan, the investment in China would suffer some serious and unexpected consequences.

Florida's Representative Caldwell is not concerned over the Japs selling iron at the United States. When informed that the Japanese were against American fortification of the island of Guam, he said, "who cares? It is going to make the Japanese mad to spend $1,000,000 on Guam. Let's spend $5,000,000."
 When the country reaches the point that it will let Japan or any other foreign nation dispose its policies, it'll cost us a lot more than $5,000,000.

After years of security radio attacks, the Government's financial position appears to have been largely unimpaired. The Treasury's financial position, however, is not so good. The Government's financial position, however, is not so good. The Government's financial position, however,
 is not so good.

An Old Threat Renewed

With the war in Western Europe apparently at a stalemate as German and Anglo-French troops eye each other across their impregnable lines, and sporadic attacks continue on all shipping in the North Sea, European neutrals tremble in their boots lest the war be extended to some new front and another little nation soon be added to the growing list of victims of aggression.

A few divisions of German troops are concentrated on the Dutch-Belgian border, and something akin to panic immediately runs through the low countries. All leaves are cancelled, reserves are mobilized, and preparations made to ward off immediate attack. German soldiers are reported concentrating on the northern coast near Sweden and the Scandinavian countries, already alarmed over events in Finland, begin to expect the worst.

The latest reports concern German troop concentrations near Lwow in the southern part of Russian Poland. The question immediately arises as to what German troops could be doing under any circumstances in that part of Poland which has been ceded to Russia, and why are they concentrating so close to the Rumanian border. Naturally the Rumanians are nervous and wonder if they are in line for the next blitzkrieg.

These latest troop concentrations arouse increased suspicions when one recalls that in order to fight any first class war Germany will be in desperate need of additional oil supplies. For her submarines, her airplanes, and motorized army corps, she will require oil or gasoline in tremendous quantities. It has been estimated that she will need something like 12,000,000 tons annually while her present resources in Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland amount to less than half that amount.

Rumania is rich in oil, but English and French, as well as American interests own most of the oil rights in that country and are not particularly disposed to sell to German militarists. Last year Germany received only a little more than 1,000,000 tons from Rumania, while her enemies, or potential enemies, got the rest. If Germany could get it all, her requirements, as far as oil is concerned, would be fairly well met.

For Germany to seize Rumania and undertake to dominate the entire Balkan peninsula would be in line with German policy since long before Hitler came into power. It was a long time dream of the former Kaiser to build a railroad from Berlin to Bagdad and to rule in one way or another all the territory lying between these two cities.

Throughout Hitler's struggle to power he advocated the extension of German control in this region. The western borders of Germany he regarded as fixed, but he saw wonderful opportunities in the weak and rich nations to the southeast. He even preached the extension of German influence into the Russian Ukraine. Now the war in the West has reached a stalemate, it seems not at all unlikely that he may return to his original plan.

In view of his present friendship for the Russian communists, he may not go as far as he originally intended, but it would not be unlike him to make a new deal with Stalin for the partition of Rumania, such as the conquest of Poland was carried out. Germans will move in first, subdue the defending armies, take what they want, and give the rest, or Bessarabia, to Russia, just as a friendly gesture.

Figures Show Improvement

Things are getting better if figures mean anything, and while they say that though figures don't lie, bars do figure, still we believe it will be hard for the pessimists to squelch reports that Florida East Coast rail traffic is 64 percent ahead of last year and that pre-Christmas sales in Florida were over 18 percent better than for the same period of 1938.

"The three big banks of Jax," says Walter P. Fuller's Florida Letter, "had deposits of $118,027,357 at year's end. This was a gain of 15.7 percent over same date in 1938 and nine percent for the last quarter of the year. The duPont chain of banks now numbers 11. Their total deposits now total $74,032,850 with half in the parent bank in Jax and 11 1/2 millions in Miami and 9 1/2 millions in St. Pete."

Postal receipts give some interesting figures. Nationally postal receipts for 1939 were an all time high, the year exceeding 1934 by 27 percent. St. Pete comes as near being an 'average' city as there is in Florida. Its 1939 increase was mere four percent over 1938. Yet since 1934 the city has increased 46.3 percent.

Tampa's 1939 was the best year since 1929 and December the best since 1926 although the year's $756,914 was but 3 percent ahead of 1938. By contrast Fort Lauderdale had a 13.2 percent increase for the year with highest total for any year. Hollywood also broke all records with its 1939 gain of 16 percent topping the percentages for both Miami and Fort Lauderdale. Bradenton shows typically how the year 1939 steadily gained on itself. Its year was seven percent better than 1938, the last quarter was 13 percent better, the last month 175 percent better.

"Sanford figures for 10 years reveal an odd history. Low year was 1933, of course, with $35,994.16; high was 1939 with $44,911.33. For the decade the total swing was only down 18 percent, up 7.5 percent. With $44,000 needed to qualify for first class status Sanford finally did last year."

WHEN I was very young I was disgracefully intolerant, but when I passed the thirty mark I prided myself on having learned the beautiful lesson that all things were good, and equally good. That, however, was really laziness. Now, thank goodness, I've sorted out what matters and what doesn't. And I'm beginning to be intolerant again.

Low Temperatures Severely Damage Texas Citrus Crop

ATLANTA, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The south shouldered an unexpected blanket of snow last night and found it a worrying load. In many areas it was the worst snowstorm in a generation. Atlanta's 9 1/2 inch fall set a new record for the city and 10 inches was an all-time mark for Jackson, Miss.

Shivering southerners dug in for several days' siege as meteorologists forecast temperatures considerably lower than the 20-30 degrees that accompanied the snow.

From southern Georgia west through mid-Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana to Texas snow piled up. In some places it measured an official foot.

Air, motor car and bus, train and water transportation was hampered.

The southern snow belt extended into the Carolinas and Virginia spread over Tennessee. Sub-freezing cold reached far south into the citrus belts of the Florida peninsula and Texas' Rio Grande valley, endangering several millions of dollars worth of fruit. Earlier, it had dealt a heavy blow

CELERY SALT

"The Spice of S. H. S." By Fick Myers

Save your pennies day by day and . . . Ahem, you can have a big time at the fair . . . twenty more days and everyone goes tripping down to the fair grounds to pay for their having their insides shaken up . . . their head jarred loose from its moorings, etc., on contraptions that would have done justice to a medieval torture chamber . . . The hot dog, America's greatest institution, will be chased by a soda pop while along the side lines milk bottles will be falling to the tune of three for a dime proving Barnum was right . . . on the other side banners will be proclaiming Jo-Jo the dog boy, the only one of his kind in existence, can be seen just inside the door for one-tenth of a dollar, and, as an added attraction, rippery, slimy, crawling sea monsters, guaranteed to be alive . . . and for three minutes, (by the way) watch! and for three minutes only, each and every one will be admitted; not for the price of an adult's ticket, not even for the price of a children's ticket but for the special price of ten cents. So hurry, hurry, hurry, get your ticket at the box office, everybody goes, everybody likes it, it's going on all the time!

I've got about three dances to discuss, so, to get along with it; the Sub-Deb's are giving their first dance in ages tonight at the City Hall . . . girl-talk! The Recreation Department put on their usual dance, the first one since before Christmas, last Friday night . . . Instead of the usual loud speakers though, there was one of Hoffman's radio-phonograph combinations which did just as well . . . If it had been decided which to use, the radio, or the phonograph, not both at the same time . . . and look (and the usual "But not least") is the Sport's Club Dance this Saturday night . . . dancing in between games of cowboy and Indian . . . two weeks ago saw a crowd of somewhere around 60 at the Women's Club, so get there early and get a place on the floor . . . (howal Helen?)

BILLY TILLER, the "Paola Playboy" and GEORGE HUGHES "Celery City Casanova" don't have anything to say about where they go on certain nights . . . JAMES SMITH seems to be grieving over competition from New Smyrna . . . since KATHERINE NORRIS arrived two weeks ago "Looks" like James has changed his mind. He's happy birthday to Virginia Ford. Jan. 10 was the day . . . didn't say how old she was but I don't think she's old enough to stop celebrating. "Wanted for Caddle Robbery" EDWARD HIG GINS! Better Markets Are Predicted For Local Crops

Competitive Crop Volume Is Reduced By Low Temperatures In Winter Siege

Improvements Already Noted

Seminole Citrus, Vegetables Again Withstand Mercury Drop

HARLINGEN, TEXAS, Jan. 25.—(A.P.)—Heavy damage to the citrus fruit from the week-end cold wave was reported through lower Rio Grande Valley. Growers and shippers estimated citrus loss at 20 percent of the perfected fruit and as high as 50 percent of the unperfected fruit. T. E. Sisson, assistant sales manager of a large grapefruit concern, said some citrus fruit protected by heaters was lost.

Unless Seminole County vegetables are hurt considerably by continued cold, there is every prospect that crops in this area will find a ready market at better prices with the reduction in the volume of competing green vegetables from other sections caused by sub-freezing temperatures.

At least this is the opinion among local shippers who declared this morning that local crops have apparently stood without appreciable damage another severe day of winter's siege.

Temperatures on Jan. 25 degrees were reported in the ridge sections of the County by night while the Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River the mercury remained as high as 20 degrees. The lowest temperature reported in the Sanford district was 23 degrees, while a low of 27.5 was reported in Orlando.

Some growers and shippers expressed belief that the early crop of this county is hurt more than its appearance would indicate, pointing out that continued cold, such as has existed during the past few days, may cause the crop to develop hollow stems. This condition would greatly reduce the yield since the damaged stems must be stripped off.

"I believe that in citrus and even the farmers will receive more for their crops because of the cold than they will lose in yield," Alan Wilson, sales manager for the American Fruit Growers, stated.

W. A. Laffler of Chase and Company said that the citrus market is already reacting favorably as a result in the reduction of the competitive crop volume. There is increased inquiry concerning citrus shipments and the prices being paid for it are already showing an upward trend.

Shippers reported that all green vegetables north of Deland had been frozen by the week-end cold wave and that there is increased demand for local vegetables throughout the southeastern states. With the widespread damage to the home, tomatoes, and other tender crops in south Florida, vegetables such as are being grown in this area now are all that remain in Florida to supply the northern demand.

South Florida Cities Shiver In Cold Wave

MIAMI, Jan. 25.—(A.P.)—This city's well-advertised sunshine is shivering for a full day's work but its citizens, who are building second in search of fuel, are not. The cold wave has hit the water but let them down.

The public schools in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties closed for a second time this week because of the cold and the lack of heating facilities.

Flowers and plants were virtually abandoned and many drove to suburban areas to gather pineapples for fuel.

"Trust-Busting" Law Being Used Against Unions

Government Moves To Halting Coercing Of Employees

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(A.P.)—The "trust-busting" law that Theodore Roosevelt generated long ago against business monopoly was turned yesterday on labor unions in a widening effort to defeat what the government called "secondary boycotts and threats of violence to coerce employees to join a union not of their own choosing."

Grant W. Kellner, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, charged that unions and their leaders induced here and elsewhere on additional charges, had flouted the Wagner labor act.

"It is beyond the power of a labor union, acting under the Wagner act, to force, or try to force, by use of coercive means, a change of affiliation on the part of employees, tying up interstate commerce or interrupting the flow of such commerce," he said.

He spoke as special prosecutor of Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's association, in New York and the union itself, all indicted yesterday on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Ryan simultaneously, on charges of inducing a boycott in Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Washington, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, and Kellner made clear that further questions were proceeding on a national scale.

Ryan and his ILLA associates were accused of halting employees who feared their employers into joining the longshoremen's association.

The government charged the ILLA in one instance had up $2,500,000 worth of lumber on city piers, rather than let it be taken by blacklisted retailers. The government also accused the defendants of attempting to persuade members of a rival CIO union.

The penalties under the act could be as high as $100,000 and 10 years in prison.

"It is the policy of Assistant Attorney General Arnold (in charge of anti-trust prosecutions) to include the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law in cases where pressure is being put on an employer through secondary boycott and threats of violence to coerce employees to join a union not of their own choosing," Kellner said.

"We will use the Sherman act where it applies to unions, as two kinds of the same union, which place an employer and an employee in a position where they are being coerced," Ryan emphatically denied the accusations and expressed a hope for an early trial.

NYA Offers Youth Musicians Course

An opportunity is being offered to youth musicians in the Sanford district by the addition of a music unit at Camp DuSoto and Camp Roosevelt, E. A. Goodspeed, local NYA administrator, announced today.

At these resident projects, he said, boys with previous training and ability will be trained for a prospective state symphony orchestra. Applicants will be interviewed by competent musical leaders being assigned to these projects, he added.

"Opening in the homecoming and entering camps will be available at Camp Roosevelt about Feb. 25," he said, "and here they also have two vacancies in the photographic course. The experience of these boys during camp recently indicates that there is a demand for good photographers in the district."
