THE PIONEER OF THE AIR

By James Ball Naylor —In The Week— I'm the buoyant, agile and free Final craft of the Powers that Be; An I swoop and I swerve, And I circle and curve— I'm the ship of the Uppermost Sea, With my white sails outspread, and my prow Pointing high over the luminous brow Of the cloud mountains, I cleave my way through the sky; I'm the marvel of Nineteen-and-now, Wings—to keep time to the breeze as it blows; Songs of adventure and quest; Tall—to disport with the tempest or gale— Ho, for the East and the West! I'm the sum of deeds man has done, I'm the substance of victories won; The vague dream of the vast Many centuries past— And the fact of the one now begun, And the sunny air-billows, whirled Right and left by my swift keel and curled Into apocryphal spray, One by one fall away O'er the farthest rim of the world. Wings—to give hall to the breeze as it brings Word of wet weather or drought; Tall—to wigwag to the tempest or gale— Ho, for the North and the South! I'm the acion of races outworn, I'm the sire of great people unborn; And my scintillant wake Is the path man must take— As he travels from midnight to morn. For my white sail outspread, and my prow Pointing high o'er the luminous brow Of the cloud mountains steep, Find a way through the deep; I'm the marvel of Nineteen-and-now, Wings—to give heed to the breeze as it brings Promise of worst or of the best; Tall—to take care of the tempest or gale— Ho, for the East and the West! We are all in the same boat; let's all pull together.

Hollywood, Forty Years Old

Hollywood, the capitol of moviedom celebrated its fortieth birthday anniversary during the past week. The occasion was made one of celebration and of happy reminiscences of the pioneer period of the film industry. The old timer recalled the days when dogs used to round up great flocks of sheep and drive them down what is now Hollywood Boulevard, the main thoroughfare of the city. The producers and stars of today took part in a general tribute to the city's founders.

It was two score years ago that Horace Henderson Wilcox and his wife subdivided their orange and apricot orchards sold a lot to a friend, and thereby laid the foundation for Hollywood. The early settlers had to struggle for existence, but they were not without vision. They used to debate the question: "Resolved: that Hollywood business property some day will be worth $109 a front foot." Today it is worth from five to six thousand dollars a front foot.

A struggling little village grew into a busy little town, then into a thriving little city and today is a wealthy center, the headquarters for practically all of the large movie interests in this country. Investments of the movie magnates alone represent a figure estimated at between one hundred and one hundred and fifty millions.

Years ago when Horace Wilcox surveyed and laid out the town little did he realize that he was beginning one of the magic cities of the nation; little did he visualize that Hollywood through its chief product would furnish the nation with one of its chief means of education and entertainment; and little did he foresee that his town one day would produce an industry that is one of the greatest in the country today and second only to the automobile field in the extensiveness of its earnings.

Learning To Jump

Something new in sports is, according to Time, balloon jumping. It is rapidly becoming the thing to do among the English gentry, and Long Island is said to be taking to it this summer with the wildest enthusiasm. Apparently it will be only a matter of a few short months until business men, like grasshoppers, will be jumping to their work.

At present the sport has reached, apparently only its primitive stages. A small balloon capable of lifting about a hundred pounds is strapped to the back of a man weighing perhaps a hundred and fifty. He then, with a little kick against the ground can rise quite easily over fences, walls, or automobiles. But if he gives a real jump such as ordinarily would lift him two or three feet in the air, he rises high and soars over the tops of houses, barns or trees, lighting gently on the other side.

Of course as we said before this is quite primitive. Nobody wants to go around with a balloon strapped to his back. But Time is authority for the information that a moderately sized knapsack will soon be perfected which will be filled with a highly volatile, non-inflammable gas which would have the same lifting power as the larger and more cumbersome balloon.

And if this is possible, why don't some inventive genius perfect a means for compressing this gas so that it can be conveniently carried in some such article as a fountain pen or a cigarette case? Then we could go about attracting no more attention than usual, and when we wanted to reach our office on the top floor of the building, we would simply hop into the air and sail in through the window without waiting for the elevator.

But as Time points out this would necessitate many new laws. There would have to be some measure provided to prevent people from leaving the earth too freely; another regulating the right way up and down and sideways; also provisions against landing on the head of pedestrians, or using them as a jumping block to start from.

TRADE AT HOME

FLORIDA STATE NEWS

The Florida State News recently called attention to people of Tallahassee to the tremendous number of mail order catalogs recently distributed in the city, and to the fact that shortly afterward, the mails were filled with packages from these same houses.

Naturally the people who were attracted to the glowing descriptions, the illustrations and the apparently low prices, did not take a number of things into consideration.

To begin with the cost, with postage, a period of waiting, and other handicaps, seldom makes it worth while to desert the home dealer, where you can inspect the goods, know just what you are getting, at approximately the same price.

In the second place, who pays the Florida taxes that mean the education for the children, good roads for the traveler, and municipal good housekeeping? Not the mail order house, and the community you, who are purchasing elsewhere, are helping to thrive, is not a part of your community. It is certainly not good business for a Tallahasseean to dig down in his pockets to contribute to business elsewhere, taking from the local merchants the profits they deserve, and which should go toward making better living conditions at home, instead of having a share in the support of another community. Home merchants are doing a local business, and without which the community would suffer tremendously. The mail order houses could not possibly take their place, and it is grossly unfair, to say nothing of being unpatriotic, and bad business, to make a practice of buying by catalog, instead of obtaining the same article, at practically the same price, and keeping the money at home.

QUEBEC MAY NOT AGREE to the St. Lawrence Canadian-U. S. A. ship canal. Its power production would help New York and New England more than Canada, according to Canadian experts. That is for Canada to decide. An all-American canal on our own territory from the Great Lakes to the ocean would suit this country, and half of one year's surplus government income would build it.

THE SCHOOL COUNCIL of Berlin says: "Germans must be educated to air sense," and orders teachers in public schools to give instruction in physics, aeronautics and mechanism of airplanes.

SOMEBODY IN THE United States—there are plenty rich enough—might present good safe airplanes to every big college and employ a few teaching pilots. The government will do that some day. The boys would learn eagerly. It would pay the airplane makers to do this, creating a market for their planes.

MILLIONS OWNING worthless oil stocks testify that figures can lie. One thousand delegates to the photographers' association admit and boast that photographs can lie. They advertise for the "fattest woman" to prize that in photographs they can make her look 100 pounds lighter than reality. It is done "by a shrewd use of lighting and pose."

Shrewd use of exercise, fresh water, steam baths, self-control and wise eating would make fat people happier. In justice to them it must be said that sometimes not even the strongest will can overcome fat, due to defective metabolism.

O. W. HOLTON HAD on his place in New Jersey a private animal collection that included a caged wolf. The wolf broke loose, seized Holton's three-year-old son and killed him. The father and mother feel badly. The wolf was killed and the animal collection may be abandoned.

WHAT ABOUT THOSE that endanger other people's children by leaving savage, dangerous police dogs and other descendants of wolves un-caged, that occasionally kill children? That fathers should allow such animals to menace their children because a dog owner needs a dog to lick his feet, and make him feel important, will amaze later generations.

THE BOLSHEVIK government has "ruled 88 famas. Buddhist priests, who objected to nationalization of monasteries, to paying taxes on their property, and to being removed from public office.

No wonder the lamus objected to that combination of insult and injury.

That has a news may be good news for Great Britain, which worries about hostile Bolshevik propaganda throughout Asia.

The British are wise enough to let religion alone. Anybody can believe what he likes under British rule and pick out his own God or prophet, as long as he pays British taxes. Render unto John Bull what is his, and he lets you alone.

But Bolshevism, over emphasizing its hostility to religion, may offset a great deal of its own propaganda. What Gautama or Mohammed said it, to Asiatics, more important than Lenin said.

WHILE THE BOLL weevil continues spreading in the United States Cairo telegraphs that: "Thanks to vigorous government measures, the area affected by the boll worm has been considerably circumscribed."

Egyptian acreage affected by the pest has been reduced from 89,000 to 5000 acres. What Egypt can do this country certainly ought to do. We have the scientists, the money and the boll weevils. What is the matter with us?

AMERICA READS WITH a pitting smile that the Rumanian King Ferdinand, feeling sorry for his son, Carol, deprived of the throne, left him 400,000 cash. In this country a good sausage maker expects to leave his son 10 times that amount. But a sausage heir apparent needs more than a royal heir apparent, Champagne $25 a bottle in our cabarets. One-tenth that price in Europe.

is based upon spiritual principals, which are admittedly difficult to understand, let alone follow.

In spite of this church is a mighty force in the nation for keeping people toned up to high levels of thinking and acting.

It has kept the affairs of the Moral Governor before the attention of His people.

It has been the force behind the building of homes for orphans, unfortunates, deficient, demented and aged.

It has been the backer and often the starter of philanthropic enterprises.

The church is easy to slam and hard to replace.

Kick it if you like; but you will be happier and wiser to back it. That is what Theodore Roosevelt had to say about the church. Suppose you go to church tomorrow and see if he was correct about it.

"I am the land of eternal sunshine and youth. My breast is warm from centuries of undimmed sun and covered with a brilliant mantle of flowers and trees. My lakes are my jewels, my cooling winds my laughter, my rains the wine of life for all things which find shelter in my longarms.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—At least four of the new senators ought to be able to restrain themselves from increasing the big hot wind as superfluous oratory for which the Senate is so justly famous. They are Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, Earl Hayden of Arizona, William E. Borah of Idaho, and Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. All are Democrats and all have seen long service in the House, where one is taught that Democrats should be seen and not heard. Occasionally a member is allowed to speak in the House, but very often he is stopped before he can reach his subject.

These four men, proscribed by their states at the expense of distinguished Republicans, are all senatorial calibre and their presence in the upper house will give no comfort to those who would convince us of the stupidity of the electorate.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 9. (INS)—Bell Haven College, one of the largest in the state, was burned to the ground at 7 o'clock this morning after being struck by lightning during a severe electrical storm which swept over Jackson and this section of the state.

How to Protect the Throat When Smoking

What 9651* Doctors say on this subject

The signed statements of intelligent men and women whose voices are to them what the hands of the day laborer are to him—the means indispensable to livelihood or success in life—are convincing. Actors and actresses, great singers, men conspicuous in public life, radio announcers, testify that they like LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes because of their finer flavor and because they do not irritate the throat.

Before such statements by laymen were published, questions had been addressed to a number of physicians in various sections of the United States—many of them leading physicians—and some replies had been received. The following is the result of the questionnaire:

Q1—In your judgment is the heat treatment or toasting process applied to tobaccos previously aged and cured, likely to free the cigarette from irritation to the throat? 9651 doctors answered this question "YES".

Q2—Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason? 11,105 doctors answered this question "YES".

The text reads: 'Titta Ruffo, Noted Metropolitan Star, writes: "Like scores of others whose everything is their voice and a clear throat, I, when I smoke, prefer the toasted cigarette Lucky Strike."' Below the testimonial is a large image of a Lucky Strike cigarette pack with the slogan 'It's Toasted' and 'LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES'. At the bottom, it says '11,105 doctors answered this question "YES".' and 'No Throat Irritation - No Cough.'

Besides the loss in food value, it requires more ice to restore proper temperature. BUY YOUR ICE from the wagon or truck with the orange oval emblem. YOUR GUARANTEE for pure, clean, solid ice. Courteous treatment, prompt service. 4th & Maple Phone 203' The advertisement includes a logo for 'ICE DEPARTMENT COMPANY' and a small illustration of an ice wagon.

The King Is Dead—Long Live the King

Nation's Capital Honors Walter Johnson

Here are two interesting views of Walter Johnson Day at Washington, when thousands of Washington fans honored their great hurler, the greatest in baseball, on the twentieth anniversary of his major league debut. At the left is shown Secretary of State Frank Kelogg, acting in the absence of President Coolidge, presenting Johnson with the American league distinguished service cross, studded with a diamond for each of his 20 years service, and, at the left, is Billy Evans, ace o of American league umpires who worked Johnson's initial game in 1907, congratulating Johnson on his remarkable career. Evans, assigned to work the Avg. 2 game, was able to work only one inning, and that on crutches, because of a recent injury.

SEEDS GROWTHS.
Seeds sown in the electrically treated plot had germinated in eighty hours and showed a much finer bed, absolutely clean of weeds and other undesirables. The plants were nearly twice as high in the other field.

KILL BACTERIA.
The destructive power of the electro-soil culture treatment is enormous, said Mr. Roe, in comparing it to the pasteurization of milk. Angle-worm, bacteria and spores of weeds are destroyed completely by the immense power of the treatment.

Asked if the treatment did not destroy desirable bacteria, Mr. Roe admitted that it did, but explained that no harm was accomplished since the primary function of "good" bacteria was to destroy the pernicious varieties.

Rochester Scientists Shocking Soil Into Fertility With Electrical Sparks

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Indicated that the static energy, shot into the ground with lightning-like effect, completely destroys weeds, cut-worms and small animal and insect life.

Plows By Radio.
Mr. Roe's electric plow, utilizing radio principles, even to the aerial antennae, on the second application "fraz" nitrogen from the air into the soil, which eventually produces carbonate of ammonia, making fertilizing unnecessary.

The plow and its appliances are the result of thirteen years intensive experimentation by the inventor and will save the United States government millions of dollars now spent on eradication of the corn borer and other insect pests if other tests prove as successful as the LeRoy experiment. The electrical plug is attached to the rear of any tractor, the coils and other apparatus being operated by a generator on the rear.

An experiment on a field of buckwheat gave an amazing demonstration of the effect of the electrical treatment. A field that always had been infested with quack grass and weeds was divided, part being given the electrical "shocking" and the other treated with 200 pounds of an approved fertilizer per acre. Seed was planted on both plots the same day.

Observations were made nine days later. The plot treated with fertilizer showed an uneven seed bed, only moderate growth and an abundance of weeds and pernicious

THE SUN NEVER SETS ON CHESTERFIELD'S POPULARITY

Popular in all 4 corners of the Earth...

where good taste is born

FROM the brilliant lobby of the Crillon to the obscure little bureaux de tabac in the Quartier Latin, you'll see the familiar Chesterfield package in every corner of Paris.

The marked favoritism shown Chesterfield by this most cosmopolitan city of the Continent is added proof that the appeal of natural tobacco taste and fragrance is universal. And that alone explains Chesterfield's world-wide popularity.

 ing and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement.

Now Comes a Beauty With "It"

The custom of glorifying mere beauty recently stirred up a rebellion in the University of Utah at Salt Lake City. A personality contest was decided upon and pictures of 46 co-eds were submitted to business men. They chose 15 and these 15 were sent to Elmer Glyn. Of the number the writer chose six who had "It." Margaret O'Rourke (above) led the list.

GENERAL WOOD LAID TO REST IN ARLINGTON

 army band and commanded by Major General Hanson E. Ely, commandant of the army war college behind the flag-draped casket, a rifeless mass, with saddle turned backwards—the traditional emblem of military mourning—march in the slow cortege.

The procession moved from the station plaza to the capitol grounds, west on Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington monument grounds, past the White House and the great marble shaft of the 1st division monument in the rear of the state department, and thence over the Potomac to the cemetery.

Colonel John T. Axon, chief of chaplains of the army, and chaplain W. H. Watts were appointed to officiate at the burial and end.

General Wood, once chief of staff, and for many years the ranking general of the United States army, was one of the most widely famed soldiers of recent times.
 Colonel of the celebrated "rough riders" in which Theodore Rooseveit won distinction in the Spanish-American war, and always an intimate friend of the former president who had been his Lieutenant Colonel, Wood rose in the short span of 15 years to the top rank of the army.

Disappointed that he was not given a command in France, but always a good soldier, he served during the world war in training camps at home, preparing thousands for service in the A. E. F. which he had aspired to lead.

His primary campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in 1920 made him a dominant factor in that historic Chicago convention which named President Harding after a deadlock.

Soon after the inauguration in 1921 President Harding appointed Wood to be governor general of the Philippine Islands.

After his arrival the General's headquarters by six soldiers, was carried about behind two ranks of troops from the train to the presidential mansion in the station, there to be taken for a brief time while the funeral cortege formed outside.

The casket, draped by an American flag, was not opened. The funeral service was ordered to move at 9 o'clock for the last, slow march to the cemetery. Wood's grave is among his comrades of the "Rough Riders" regiment.

Mrs. Wood, her two sons, Or-borne Wood and Leonard Wood, Jr., and her daughter, Miss Leslie B.
 Wood, sat for a short time by the casket in the president's room.
 None but military officers and relatives were allowed in the President's room. Mrs. Wood appeared pale and worn, but bore up well.

Commission Plans Strict Economy In Business Of City

 The white way system would be materially affected by Mr. Williams' plan if approved by the Commission. Other means of reducing the pruning knife are expected to be submitted at today's adjourned session of the Commission which reconvenes at the City Hall at 2 o'clock.

Operation of the baseball club was ordered continued through Aug. 15 to ascertain what support would be given the team by local fans. Floyd Palmer, president of the baseball commission, spoke and submitted figures that estimated the expenses for the remainder of the season at $8,000 with receipts of approximately $7,000 exclusive of money that is expected to be received through the drafting of players by other clubs.

City Attorney George A. De-Cottes was instructed to prepare the necessary legal papers for the validation of paying bonds covering the unfinanced portion of the city's paying program covering a period of five years. City Engineer Fred T. Williams estimated that $51,000 would be necessary to take care of the final paying work.

In response to a request from E. A. Douglass and D. L. Thrasher for an audit of all city books, the Commissioners announced that such an audit is now underway, being in charge of Hall and Pentland. Upon completion of the audit the Commission announced that the figures will be published.

In addressing the gathering, Mr. Douglass made a plea for a union of all factions in working for the best interests of Sanford.
 He urged that enemies be forgotten while the citizens of the city get together to meet a situation that demands the attention of everyone.

Work on a building at Sanford and Geneva Avenues was ordered suspended until its construction could be made to conform to all provisions of the city building code.

THAYER DENIES STAY IN SACCO VANZETTI CASE

Judge Webster Thayer, who had denied the men a new trial, had penned his decision on the motions for a revocation and stay of sentence.

Police in the Roxbury district discovered a circular calling for a workers' general strike in protest against the executions of the prisoners, who are under respite until midnight Wednesday.

Telegraphic requests were sent by Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee to Senator William E. Borah, Senator Robert M. La Follette and Miss Jane Adams to hasten to President Coolidge at Rapid City, S. D., to wait a delegation on the chief executive in order to lay before him "evidence in the department of justice files" of the federal government's alleged connection

 Perne a long telegram protest against the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti, which had been drawn up at a radical mass meeting, on the ground that it was too injurious to a friendly government.

DUBLIN, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The Irish labor party and the Irish trade union congress today sent a cablegram to President Coolidge asking executive clemency in behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti.
 The message follows: "Irish labor joins labor in other countries urging clemency for Sacco and Vanzetti."

LONDON, Aug. 9.—(INS)— A bomb was exploded in the Aldwick station of the London tube (subway) today. According to first reports there were five or six explosions.

on in Charlestown and Sacco was entering the 24th day of his hunger strike. Vanzetti has not eaten for over a week. Both men were alert and morose as they sat in their cells in the death house—all hope gone.

The elaborate police precautions at the prison were taken to head off a proposed "death march" at the prison gates before, during and after the execution by Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers from all parts of the country, all wearing mourning bands on their arms. All roads leading to the prison will be cleared of traffic, guards will be placed at bridges and railroad yards nearby and news-gatherers and telegraphers will have to show credentials.
