Early Break Expected In Phone Strike

Telephone Lines Are Reported Cut Near Fort Lauderdale; Sabotage Growing

WASHINGTON, May 1—Government conciliators said there will be an important break in the telephone strike negotiations this afternoon, but strike leaders called on all pickets to maintain their lines.

Union officials have been sent to New York in an effort to head off a back-to-work movement. They will try to persuade members of four independent unions not to accept a tentative settlement.

The Traffic Employees' Association includes 18,000 of the 37,000 workers affected in New York. This group has voted to observe picket lines and postpone returning to work for a few days. Both National Federation strikers and the independents have been called to a mass meeting at 4 P. M. E-D-T this afternoon where strike leaders will address a rally protesting the New York agreement.

New instances of telephone cables being cut were reported in the South today. In Orlando, Fla., a Southern Bell Telephone Company official said that the main cable between the United States and Cuba and South America had been damaged.

He said six nails were driven into the cable at a spot south of Pompano, and two more nails were driven into the cable north of Fort Lauderdale.

This official said service has now been restored, but all communications over the cable were interrupted yesterday.

Another report came from Memphis, Tenn., where a telephone company official said two cables were cut last night.

Local Selective Service Office To Close Saturday

The local selective service board, with headquarters in the Sanford Atlantic Bank Building, will be closed on Saturday for receipt of all records, and these will be transferred to a Federal Records Depot within the state. It was announced today by E. C. Harper, board chairman, Joseph Linnhart, secretary and B. Carter, clerk.

Selective Service, as enacted by Congress, officially closed as of March 31, 1947 and was transferred to the Office of Selective Service Records.

All veterans are reminded that upon receipt of final discharge or certificate of service they should promptly have such documents returned with the Clerk of the Circuit Court, D. P. Harnden. This will be a protection in the years to come in event such papers are lost or destroyed.

On May 5, E. B. Carter, clerk of the board, will cease to act as Co-ordinator of the Veterans' Service Group. All other agencies for the assistance of veterans will continue to function and will continue to render such as required.

The board wishes to thank every person, organization and agency that has so willingly cooperated with this board in the successful operation of the Selective Service System in Seminole County," said Mr. Harper. "Especially do we want to commend the fine record of service rendered by all the men who so valiantly responded to the calls of our country in the hours of need for defense against the powers of aggression."

ARCADIA MARKET

JACKSONVILLE, May 1, (Special)—Sales on the Arcadia State Livestock Market this week totaled $1,264.48. Market Manager John D. Kelly reported to Jacksonville offices of Florida State Markets. During the one-day auction, the market sold 32 hogs at prices ranging from $9 to $20.15 per hundred.

An odd item in the day's auction was the sale of a saddle and a cow-whip, which brought a price of $27.50.

The Arcadia also handled 131 cattle this week from financing as follows: Calves, $7.50 to $12 per hundred pounds; yearlings, $8 to $14.50; heifers, $8 to $10.50; cows, $7 to $14.50; steers, $8 to $14.50; bulls, $8 to $12.50.

Green And Murray Meet For Merger Of A.F. Of L. And CIO

WASHINGTON, May 1—The A.F. of L. and the CIO began talking about a merger today when Federation President William Green and CIO Boss Philip Murray met in Washington. They both expressed the opinion that they are going into the huddle with open minds, but little optimism could be found in either organization over the prospect of an early consolidation of the Federation's seven and a half million members and the six million in CIO.

Murray's position is that the two groups should demonstrate their solidarity first in fighting off common foes, and after that would come consolidation. Green wants the unions in the CIO to come back under the Federation's banner as the first step, and possibly under a new name. Then, argues Green, cooperation would come naturally. The big issue, therefore, is how to get over that basic difference.

Another factor facing the committees representing the rival organizations is the position of John L. Lewis. Murray and Green have worked together on committees throughout the war and post-war years, but the rivalry between Murray and Lewis has deepened. Lewis is a member of the A.F. of L. committee meeting today, and his personal feud with Murray may have a lot to do with the success or failure of the consolidation effort.

Changes In Resident Reveals CoFC Convention Old Newspapers

Some faded and hard-to-read old newspapers published in Sanford in 1875 and 1876 and entitled The South Florida Journal reveal that Sanford then as now was a busy place, especially for attorneys, doctors and dentists all of whose advertisements appear on front pages. The papers were owned by Jay Beck, a pioneer Sanford resident.

On several of the newspapers is the signature of Mrs. Nancy J. Woodruff, mother of Mr. Beck, who administered the estate of her husband, William W. Woodruff in 1874, and who on Aug. 1, 1876 married Charles Beck. By the first marriage there were three children, the late Frank L. Woodruff of Sanford, the late Seth Woodruff of Orlando and one daughter, Mrs. Emma Woodruff who lives at 500 Myrtle. The latter retained her last name by marrying a Mr. Woodruff from Kentucky.

The death of Arthur Ginn, born in 1799 in Ireland and who died Aug. 14, 1876 received a long notice in The Journal. It mentions his marriage to "Mary Lucas, a lovely and amiable Irish girl of Brooklyn, who died many years ago, having borne him two children, one of whom died in infancy."

"Mr. Ginn," it states, "after his marriage, moved to Georgia where he lived and conducted business until he came to Florida 25 years ago."

Plagiarism Case Is Lost By Chaplin

NEW YORK, May 1—Actor-producer Charlie Chaplin will have to pay Arthur Koppeled $300,000 instead of the $5,000,000 the writer had been seeking. That is the gist of the settlement announced by Judge Harold S. Burke today in New York federal court where Koppeled had charged Chaplin with plagiarism and breach of contract involving stories for two un-finished scenarios, "The Haymarket Riot" and "The Cry of the Wolf."

The settlement of $300,000 was agreed on after a trial which began before a federal court jury on April 17 and ran through eight court days.

COMMUNIST INDICTED

NEW YORK, May 1—Former Attorney Leon Josephson, an admitted Communist, was indicted by a federal grand jury in New York today. He was charged with refusing to be sworn in to testify before a sub-committee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities on Mar. 8.

Four Killed, 40 Injured In Train Wreck

Accident Occurs On Pennsylvania Road When Freight Side-swipes Crack Flier

HUNTINGDON, Penn., May 1—The sound of clanging steel and anguished screams shattered the peace of southern Pennsylvania's hills early this morning. In a freak three-way train crash, four persons were killed and 40 others were injured.

The accident occurred five miles west of Huntingdon, The Pennsylvania Railroad flyer known as "The American," a deeper-coach passenger train, was speeding from New York to St. Louis, also running westward on parallel tracks was a freight car with one of its open gondolas loaded with two 16-foot long sheets of steel, laden lengthwise.

The jouncing of the freight shifted the steel so that the ends of the sheets stuck out over adjoining tracks on either side. It was into one of these obstructions that the passenger train plunged. The inch-thick steel knifed into the fourth passenger car and tipped a gaping hole in its side. The engine, mail car and another coach also were damaged.

The accident was complicated a few moments later when another freight train, moving eastward, smashed into the steel sheets protruding from the opposite side of the gondola. The impact sent the engine and tender crashing from the rails.

All the dead and injured were on the passenger train. Three of the victims were servicemen and the other was a woman. Only one of the dead was identified immediately. He was 18-year-old Joseph Selinsky, Jr., a soldier from Pennsylvania. The injured, many of them military personnel, were rushed to hospitals in Huntingdon and Altoona, 30 miles away.

It was the third fatal collision on the rail line's main line since Feb. 18, 1922, 22 persons died in the wreck of the Pennsylvania's Red Arrow as it neared the famous Horseshoe curve some 35 miles from Huntingdon. Ten days later, on the same spot, the same car of the Sunshine Special tore loose from the rest of the train and rolled down a mountain side. A Pullman porter was killed and his passengers were injured.

The heroine of today's accident was the death of a young girl, (Continued on Page Three)

U. N. Assembly For Inquiry On Palestine

NEW YORK, May 1—The United Nations assembly has agreed today to set up a committee of inquiry on Palestine.

Arab representatives had taken the floor repeatedly to protest against the British fact-finding mission. But no opposition was made when assembly President Oswaldo Aranha announced that he considered the proposal approved for inclusion on the special Palestine session's work agenda.

Earlier the Arab nations brought their demands for immediate consideration of Palestine independence to the floor of the assembly. The steering committee turned down the Arab demands late last night by a vote of eight to one.

The assembly will also have to consider Jewish demands for representation at the UN Palestine debates. This question will be taken up by the steering committee after the current agenda debate is completed.

WEST PALM BEACH, May 1—With the hurricane season in the offing, a set of air routes over the entire Gulf, Caribbean and mid-west Atlantic areas is being woven by the Army Air Force. This season for the first time, huge B-29 Superfortresses are to be used in plotting the paths of the great storms.

Data obtained by the planes will be radioed to the Weather Bureau's hurricane center in Miami, where forecasts will be made up and sent out over the entire area.

Surveys Are Planned For State Highway 46

Services of a State Road Department surveying crew have been secured by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in order to make surveys for the extension of State Road 46 from the Geneva Bridge at Lake Jessup in Sanford to Sanford. It was announced this morning by chamber manager Edward Higgins.

"No definite route has been decided upon yet for the road," Mr. Higgins said.

A bill has been passed by the Legislature designating French Avenue as a State road, he announced. The next step, he said, is to set an appropriation for the widening and repaving of this route included in their budget. French Avenue, extends from Seminole Boulevard to the junction south of Sanford on Road 17.

Senate Fights Over Largest Finance Bill

Resolution Demanding Support Of Anti-Strike Bill Defeated 58 To 23

TALLAHASSEE, May 1—The Florida State Senate has passed the two-year general appropriations bill totaling about $82,000,000 this afternoon. In a last minute emergency move, the Senate eliminated a proposed $600,000 emergency fund for use at the discretion of the state cabinet. The Florida Senate proceeded smoothly today through the last three-quarters of the record-breaking money measure. The first part of the bill was approved yesterday. Immediately after passing the bill, the Senate adjourned without taking up a bill to recognize the school system and double appropriations for public schools in Florida. The important school bill had been set for a special order of business today.

TALLAHASSEE, May 1—The Florida Senate remained embroiled today in the record-breaking $82,000,000 general appropriation bill, but the upper chamber did take time out for a few other matters.

The Senate adopted a resolution calling on President Truman and Congress to authorize a half dollar coin in honor of St. Augustine and the State of Florida.

The resolution by Senator Lester of St. Augustine also called for assistance in restoring and preserving historic missions, forts and landmarks in the oldest city in America.

In the House of Representatives, a resolution calling on Senators Pepper and Holland to support anti-strike legislation in Congress went down in defeat. The lower chamber voted 58 to 23 against the resolution after Representative Stokes of Bay told the House, "We haven't got any business telling our senators in Washington what to do."

The resolution had been introduced by Representative Jenkins of Alachua, who said such an advisory resolution was not only the privilege but the duty of the State Legislature.

A game room and reading room will be provided to club members. Dining room facilities will be available for those using the pool.

The entertainment committee of the Bath and Tennis Club will determine the number of dances and other social occasions to be scheduled during the year, said Mr. Weber. Members, for a slight fee, may entertain out-of-town guests. There are three types of membership: family membership, which includes all immediate members of one family; individual membership and student membership for high school or college students. Democracy Backed By Force Is Advocated By President Aleman

Marshal Stalin Reviews His Troops In May Day Observance

MOSCOW, May 1—Russia's traditional May Day display of military and civilian prowess was staged in the Red Square of Moscow today, with Prime Minister Stalin watching from atop the tomb of Lenin. Stalin was flanked as usual by leaders of the Soviet Government and the Communist Party.

On either side of the tomb stood foreign ambassadors and ministers with assorted aides, military, air and navy. They were obviously out to see Stalin, and to get a look at whatever the Soviet armed forces might be showing in the way of military equipment.

The official reviewing officer of the May Day parade was Marshal Semyon Budenny, who rose from the ranks to his present high post. Budenny said in a speech before the parade began that the Soviet people are moving toward new success in achieving Communism, equal rights for the people, and honest collaboration between nations.

A hot sun shone down on the parade, as mated bands played the Soviet national anthem, and the Kremlin guns boomed 20 salvos. Cadets of the Frunze Military Academy led the way, headed by heroes of the Soviet Union. They were followed by long lines of medal-laden heroes of the battles of Berlin, Stalingrad, Budapest and Vienna. The military part of the parade was relatively small this year.

Sport groups led the second section of the parade, in bright costumes. Then came the usual thousands of civilians carrying banners and signs. The crowd gave Stalin a rousing cheer as he emerged from the Kremlin and walked up the stairs to the top of Lenin's tomb.

The traditional May Day order of the day was signed this year by Nikolai Bulganin, who succeeded Stalin two months ago as minister of the armed forces. The order called on Russia's armed forces to maintain their fighting preparedness.

Violent storms and tornadoes have taken the lives of at least 25 persons in many areas of the nation during the past three days. Relief agencies have set up temporary shelters in Fairmount, N. C. for more than 50 families left homeless by a tornado which swept through a 30-mile area yesterday. The water killed one and injured at least three others.

Northwest Texas was hit last night by the fourth tornado in two days. It struck near Rockwall, Texas and caused the deaths of two persons in a highway crash.

The death toll in Tuesday's tornado in Missouri and Iowa was at least 13.

A tornado swept through northeast Arkansas this morning. It caused heavy property damage but no deaths were reported immediately. It was the second week to strike Arkansas this year. Nine were killed and 25 others injured by a storm on Tuesday.

U. S. Good Neighbor Policy Is Praised; Additional Credits Granted To Mexico

WASHINGTON, May 1—President Miguel Aleman of Mexico told a joint session of Congress today that the mission of the United States is to insure for the democracies a future of justice and freedom. He warned that democracy, if not backed by force, whets the appetites of dictators.

Aleman called the United States "Good Neighbor Policy" the truest expression of the will for peace in the Western Hemisphere. He said that nearly 300,000,000 people in the Western Hemisphere are concerned not only with assistance to ward off foreign aggression, but also with common efforts to overcome poverty and despair.

Aleman is the first Latin American president ever to address a joint session of the United States Congress. And genial, youthful Aleman received a thunderous reception of applause and cowboy whoops as he entered the jammed chamber of the house. Speaking in Spanish, the Mexican chief executive declared that any nation under a tyrant's rule is not to be trusted nor can other countries live in security beside it.

Aleman was the guest of Secretary of State George Marshall at luncheon today on the presidential yacht Williamsburg. The (Continued on Page Five)

High School Glee Club Is Praised By Post Official

High praise for the Seminole High School glee club, which presented a program for the postmaster's convention here last Friday, was given in a letter from J. W. Whittle, assistant comptroller of the Post Office Department, in a letter read at the Jaycee luncheon today. Mr. Whittle stated that the community should be proud of the youngsters in the organization, and also complimented Miss Ollie Reese Whittle for her part in teaching the students.

President Jack Ratigan outlined the coming events for the Jaycees. "We need to spend more time on the regular organization of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce," Ratigan stated.

"There will be a dinner meeting May 12 for the purpose of adding membership to the organization. Two weeks later there will be an election of officers for the coming year, and these men should be carefully selected. The president, two vice presidents, secretary and the treasurer all have definite jobs to do. The Board of directors should be well chosen," Ratigan added.

Postmaster Joel Field appeared before the group and expressed his thanks to the organization for the part they played in making the present postmaster's convention a success.

"We have here in Sanford an ideal spot for conventions. Conventions will continue to be held here, and the Jaycees should continue their attitude toward these events. A delegation should be appointed as a welcoming committee from the body to greet these conventions and welcome them to the city," Field declared.

British Farmer Sows Wheat From Airplane

LONDON—Beating the record havoc of blizzards and floods, T. W. Tomkins, "the flying farmer," plans to make every one of his 6,000 acres at Apethorpe, Northamptonshire, work overtime. He is sowing his wheat from the air in a twin-engine plane flying 75 mph. at 50 feet. After he has shoveled out the wheat on five flights, letting the wind spread it evenly over the ploughed land below, a tractor will finish the job. Tomkins runs an all-tractor farm. He has been flying his own plane for the last 18 years and regularly inspects his crops from the air. If his tests are successful, he will swoop across neighbors' wheat fields to combat a winter's toll of 200,000 acres of wheat damaged by frost.

(Continued from Page One) ago; this change being made in order to be near his only child and daughter, who had been married to Dr. A. S. Speer. Dr. Speer had settled where the magnificent Speer orange grove now is, and was the father of Algernon S. and Arthur Speer and the wives of M. J. Doyle Esq. and Hon. G. C. Branley. This memorandum was written by S. M. Tucker.

In the way of news the issue of Thursday, Aug. 17, 1876, published in Sanford, Orange County, informs us that General Sanford's Belair Grove was being added to. "On the 31st ult., accepting a seat in the buggy with Col. N. A. Hull, General Agent," it reads, "we paid a visit to General Sanford's famous Belair grove, three and a half miles south-west of Sanford. It was the day on which Mr. F. G. Lindburgh, who has had charge of the grove for the past two years, was to turn it over to the new overseer, Mr. Jno. B. Sterling.

"On our arrival, at about 10:00 o'clock, these gentlemen were very busy in making out a schedule of the number of trees, and shrubs, variety, and date of planting. This proved to be a difficult, and a portion impossible task, for the reason that some of the importations of buds had not been properly labeled when they arrived, and it was impossible to ascertain them."

"Imported trees from Europe, comprising budded plants of best kinds—Lemon, orange, grapefruit, lime, 10; Italian seedlings, 150. The other fruits comprise, almonds, pineapples, guavas, grape vines, including native and imported kinds; tamarinds, mangoes, figs, pomegranates, logan or Japan plum, sour sop, custard apple, maunee apple, guavava Barbadoes berry, peach, olives and peaches.

No headline at all heads the fact that an Indian war is being fought in the West. "The reinforcements of troops have joined General Crook and Terry and they have begun their advance. If the Indians stand, a great battle will soon be fought, but it is thought they are advised of the preparations and will scatter and many of them return to their reservations. Through the recommendation of General Sheridan, the President has asked Congress to authorize the increase of the present cavalry force by 10,000 privates.

A brief item: "W. E. Dale, mail route agent, informed us Tuesday evening that the First District Republican Convention which assembled last Saturday, nominated Purman for Congress and endorsed the nomination of Stearns for governor.

The South Florida Journal of Oct. 30, 1915 advertises the Mellonville Hotel, Mellonville, Orange County, Fla., of which R. W. White was proprietor "has been refitted and refurbished and is the most convenient stopping place on Lake Monroe. Livery stable near by. House 100 yards from wharf. Boats procured by huntermen. Also noted is the advertisement of J. N. Whitner, Jr. of Florida Lands. A. C. Hughes advertises his services as a surveyor. Announcement is made of the opening of the new store by Dr. J. McFar at Fort Reid.

Fred L. Robertson, editor of the Journal, presents in his column the following items of "local intelligence": "Major J. N. Whitner and Mr. T. A. Hughes have been shipping oranges and lemons for several weeks past." "Dr. S. M. Tucker has received his notary seal and is prepared to attend to all who need his services." "Miss Irinele Colson and A. MacDonald arrived per steamer Hattie Barker on last week, accompanied by eight settlers for Orange County. They proceeded to the Lake Dora section where they propose locating."

"Here's an ad that looks worth investigating: "For Sale 40 acres of the very best quality high pine land within the corporate limits of the Town of Orlando." The price is not stated.

"Politics were Democratic then as now for us read: "A Democratic meeting was held under the sheltered portion of Sanford Wharf on last Monday night. Dr. W. A. Boney was made chairman and J. E. Ingraham, secretary. The meeting was addressed by Dr. Boney, Col. N. A. Hall, J. H. Allen and J. M. Burrell."

Both Stanley and Crews led at alternate counts, but the Executive Council action this week seated Crews as the new president.

Pottstown Stores Offset Sales Slump

POTTSTOWN, Penn., May 1.—The merchants of Pottstown took one look at the cash register today, and began planning to make their price-cutting plan a permanent institution. "A price-cutting war when prices were cut 10 to 50 per cent. Pottstown rolled up the biggest one-day sale in the memory of local merchants. Virtually all stores took part, and many of them said they did the best business since the end of the war. Pottstown staged the price-cutting spree in the middle of a springtime slump in sales.

The executive committee of the chamber of commerce has arranged a meeting for tomorrow night to discuss yesterday's profit-sharing project, and to advise what the chamber leaders call a "Pottstown Plan" on a permanent basis. A spokesman has made it clear that the Pottstown project differs from the Newbury port, Mass. plan, in which merchants cut prices 10 per cent.

In Pottstown, the system is frankly admitted as an attempt to clean out merchandise so that businessmen can plan for a permanent price reduction in the next few months. One Pottstown clothing merchant says that naturally stores are taking a loss, but he says they don't intend to pay manufacturers and wholesalers the high prices they have been paying.

Upon the arrival of the task force in Turkey the light Cruiser Dayton will fire a 21-gun salute which will be returned by the Turkish forces.

State Legislature

(Continued from Page One) strikes and secondary boycotts. WASHINGTON, May 1.—Meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce yesterday called for tax cuts, debt reduction and more efficient government. The speakers were a banker, an industrialist and an educator. They sounded the theme that continued high taxes will block peacetime prosperity by discouraging business expansion. Vice Chairman W. Randolph Burgess of the board of directors of the National City Bank of New York, spoke out against President Truman's proposed $37,500,000,000 budget.

"This clearly is a budget out of control," Burgess declared. "The present tax system penalizes extra effort—removes the incentive for going an extra mile. As a wartime measure high taxes could not be avoided. In time of peace and facing our present tasks they are bad medicine and ought to be reduced promptly. Small business would be perhaps the greatest beneficiary of lower surtaxes."

Harvard University's political economist Fred Fairchild, seconded Burgess' call for lower taxes. He asserted a $25,000,000,000 budget could be achieved for fiscal 1948 if the fullest economy were practiced. President Harry Bulis of General Mills, Incorporated urged that excise taxes be kept somewhere between 10 and 15 per cent. On the other hand, Bulis urged that corporation taxes be cut from 38 percent to 33 percent and a top ceiling of 60 percent placed on individual income taxes.

A spokesman said he believes tax rates for small wage earners can be cut by approximately one-half. He suggested a combined normal and surtax rate of 10 percent on the first $2,000 of taxable income, and rates graduated upward so that approximately at the $50,000 bracket, the rate would be 50 percent.

"Such a plan would offer an incentive for every taxpayer, large or small, to increase his income," said Bulis. tives considered mostly minor bills, but there were several sharp flurries of debate. Late yesterday, a bill which would make insanity a ground for divorce got a lively going over from both opponents and supporters, but definite action on the bill was postponed by adjournment. There was also tart discussion of a measure providing for central purchasing by state agencies. The bill was referred to the printing committee after some members complained that a present requirement for state printing to be done by Florida shops results in excessive prices. The House passed a Senate measure boosting legal advertising rates about 30 percent. The House also approved a fleet of minor citrus industry bills. The lower chamber also passed two bills calling for state regulation of health and accident insurance, and state regulation of private employment agencies.

Train Wreck

(Continued from Page One) wrecked in the America was a registered nurse named Myrtle Carlo of the Bronx, N. Y. Two passengers aboard the train told how she and an unidentified doctor worked in flare of lanterns to aid the injured. Miss Carlo said there was no plasma, sulfa drugs or morphine aboard the train. The physician had only bandages to work with until morphine arrived half an hour after the collision. "If there had been plasma," she added, "we might have been able to save some of the dead." Two soldiers, John Kavanaugh of Philadelphia and Ralph Gardner of Wheeling, W. Va., along with two unidentified sailors also showed heroism in helping to claim the frightened occupants of the wrecked coach.

Tourist Opportunities

An opportunity for Florida in general, and Sanford in particular, is indicated by the expanding tourist travel as described in a recent issue of the United States News which says that about 60,000,000 Americans will be taking trips this year and will spend on the average about $100 a piece. Travel will be easier this year, but prices will be higher, and many vacationers will be avoiding the more expensive resorts.

Also there is nothing about the European situation which is encouraging to those interested in taking a vacation. Travel is difficult, food is scarce and poor and accommodations are not only inadequate but also intolerable. Consequently many people who have been waiting to take that post-war trip to Paris, London, or Rome, will probably continue to wait a few years longer.

South American countries are doing their best to capture some of the North American trade, and many of them are making conspicuous progress. But Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires and even Caracas are still many days away except for those who like to fly. Mexico is getting a larger share of American tourists, and in summer, Canada will be drawing ever increasing crowds, but nowhere we can think of is so advantageously located as Florida.

Within 24 hours of New York City by train, eight hours by plane, and within not much more time of other big centers of population, Florida is most readily accessible to most of the nation's vacationers. Furthermore, few places in the whole world offer a warmer climate in winter or cooler breezes in summer.

Sanford, like most Florida cities, was handicapped last winter by inadequate accommodations, but the building boom which is spreading all over the state will to a large extent relieve most of the discomforts of over-crowding by next winter, and Florida once again will be able to take care of its customers in regular pre-war fashion.

Youth Takes Over

High school boys and girls of Las Vegas, Nev., determined to do something about juvenile delinquency, launched an effort to stop liquor sales to minors. Led by a 21-year-old city recreation employe, three youngsters, 13 to 15 years old, gathered evidence from grocery stores to fashionable hotels. Though obviously under legal age, they were able to purchase intoxicants with ease. Local papers as well as parents gave the campaign whole-hearted support.

Juvenile lawlessness is no worse in Las Vegas than in most communities. Public opinion of the youth of that city somehow became aroused. Not only violations of liquor sale laws will tend to be curbed through the youth of the community. It is safe to conclude that the tone of all activities involving the city's young people will be raised. Self-reform is the only really effective reform. It is heartening to hear of a group of young people taking upon themselves this matter of better youth standards.

Dreams Come True

Milton Reynolds' encirclement of the world in 78 hours and 55 1/2 minutes makes Jules Verne look like a piker. The French scientist-novelist's story, "Round the World in 80 Days," was meant to startle people by its improbability, and did. That was tremendously fast in 1872, when Verne wrote, but of course the plane did not then exist.

Another Verne romance, "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," seems far less sensational now than it was when written. Captain Nemo's submarine was more palatially equipped than even the largest modern vessels today, but that is a minor matter. The important thing is that such an underwater journey as that taken by Verne's hero is entirely feasible.

The realization of two other Verne romances is yet to come. No one has yet made a "Journey to the Center of the Earth" or "A Trip to the Moon," but it would be highly risky to say that no one will.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

As the wave of anti-closed shop legislation continues to mount throughout the nation, it is well to remember that Florida led the way when a courageous legislature and a determined people rallied behind Attorney General Tom Watson to pass and ratify the "right-to-work" amendment.

At the start of the 1946 legislative year, nine states had laws regulating or prohibiting the closed shop; Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Wisconsin and South Dakota. During 1946 Arizona and Nebraska joined the group and South Dakota strengthened its statutory position by adopting a constitutional amendment outlawing the closed shop.

Thus far in 1947, five more states have enacted anti-closed shop laws: Georgia, North Carolina, North Dakota, Tennessee and Virginia. Arkansas now has an act enforcing the 1946 constitutional amendment prohibiting the closed shop.

Committees of both houses of Congress have approved bills that include anti-closed shop clauses. While labor overrode bitterly denounces such legislation as they do any measure designed to place a curb on their activities and safeguard the interests of both the laboring man and the public, the sentiment of the people is against the closed shop and this includes many in the rank and file of labor itself.

Organized labor today is BIG BUSINESS and its top flight executives wield more power and play for greater financial status than do the so-called tycoons of commerce and industry.

Abuse of this power is directly responsible for the loss of public good-will and confidence, for the "public be damned" attitude is just as damaging from a public relations standpoint to a labor organization as to a railroad or any other institution. People now realize the danger that exists when two or three men within a nation possess the power to bring the wheels of industry to a complete stop overnight and hold the populace at their mercy to ransom, starve or suffer other discomforts until they achieve their selfish aims.

In principle the organization of labor is sound, and unfair practices and abuses on the part of industry in an earlier day made such action on the part of the workers imperative.

Unfortunately, labor leaders

Marshall Surpasses Molotov At Meeting With Cold Attitude

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Until the Moscow conference, Russian Foreign Minister Molotov had the reputation for being the cold-blooded diplomat in the international scene, but there are some who say that Molotov was over-taken in iceiness by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall, whose self-discipline is so complete that his impassive face often hides any expression in that Marshall brought one new element to American diplomacy. It was the quality of personal indifference to success merely for the sake of success.

Marshall made it clear to his advisers that he was more sensitive to Communist and leftwing criticism back home. But as the United States backed France on such matters as the Saar and demands for German coal, Biddart became increasingly independent of that criticism.

James F. Byrnes, who preceded Marshall as Secretary of State, was a warm-hearted, eager negotiator. He was anxious to have things go well, and usually he was ready to ston for a friendly drink after a day's meeting. Not so Marshall. The moment the conference broke up, he made for his coat, the door, and home. This he beat the departure of Molotov, who sometimes, but seldom, visited the bar. Biddart and Bevin were more likely to carry on the old friendly custom of previous council meetings.

At Spaans House, Marshall occasionally spent the evening with several of the American group—mostly Ambassador Smith, John Dulles, and Charles Bohlen, the State department expert on Russia. But he would retire relatively early. In this disciplined schedule, Marshall broke with the system of Jimmy Byrnes who worked from early morning to midnight at these conferences and tended to wear himself out.

Marshall was so cautious in his handling of American foreign policy at the conference that he never liked to depart from conservative methods. Some of this probably was due to his lack of confidence in his knowledge of "diplomacy" which he, however, was due to his desire to avoid any more incidents or Yalta, which later became the source of so much disagreement.

Marshall promoted only one technical meeting of the Big Four. And he delayed until the last possible moment his private talk with Prime Minister Stalin. It appears that his final decision to go to Stalin was influenced mostly by the opinion of his advisers that it would look bad if he delayed any longer; that the Soviets might take this as a discourtesy.

Marshall ran his delegation along military lines. At the outset, he made Smith the number one man of the delegation and directed the staff work through him. Even with his top-most advisers he showed his military training, his decisiveness, occasionally. Sometimes when they wrangled long over what move to make next, Marshall would get up and leave—asking that they let him know when the recommendation was agreed upon.

Opinion Is Divided Over Trusteeship Of Eritrea By Italy

AP Khartoum, Sudan—A report from Asmara that the secretary of an organization known as the "Union with Ethiopia Association" has lodged a protest with the United States State Department because of a Rome Radio broadcast which said that America favored Italian trusteeship over Eritrea, is causing no surprise among students of the Eritrean political set-up.

According to the report, the protest stated that Eritrea had been under Italian domination for 40 years and wanted nothing more to do with her former masters. The aim of Eritreans, the statement added, was union with Ethiopia.

Inside WASHINGTON

Special to Central Press
 WASHINGTON—The three major United States farm organizations—the Farm Bureau, Grange and National Council of Farmer- Co-ops—have endorsed American participation in an international wheat agreement.

They favor the wheat plan now being negotiated by upwards of 20 nations in London which would stabilize the world wheat market of the future.

Under the plan, nations which normally import wheat would agree to buy so many tons of the grain. The exporting nations, such as the United States, Argentina and Australia, would in turn agree to produce a given amount of wheat and sell it to the other countries at specified prices.

A similar plan, negotiated in 1942 between the United States and the United Kingdom, was disrupted by the war. This new plan is an outgrowth of that proposal but represents a larger scale.

Endorsement by the three leading United States farm organizations has been seen as an industry that the American farmer is looking ahead to the day when wheat surpluses might threaten his prosperity.

SENATE DEMOCRATS returned from Jefferson and Jackson Day dinners and speechmaking full of revived enthusiasm for 1948—and for the Gallup Poll.

Senator Millard Tydings (D), Maryland, merrily told reporters:

"It looks like the Republicans are going to let Harry Truman take the job for another four years."

Tydings immediately stepped up his sniping at GOP fiscal policies. Tydings thinks the House is on a tear-slashing spree, depending upon the Senate to correct its mistakes before damage is done.

Hitting at the five billion dollar tax cut, Tydings quipped:

"The Republican position is that we must have tax reduction if we have to borrow the money to make it."

Blaming the House rather than the Senate Republicans for what he termed "reckless" tax cut before ending pieces to save expenses, Tydings said:

"The House said 'we're going out on a spree but our big brother will see that we get home all right.'"

Tydings predicted that the "Big Brother" will look after the House, he said.

"They can't get enough votes in the Senate to impair the nation's credit, leave the budget unbalanced and make no debt reduction."

While Tydings thinks the Senate, or at least a presidential veto, will save the fiscal policy, he believes it will all add up against the Republicans. He recalled:

"Remember the '60s' enough? Hogan the Republicans used last November? Well, the Democrats will use one of their own in 1948. It will be: 'Yes—we have.'"

SMART, QUIET, EFFECTIVE Senator Edward V. Robertson isn't going to be able to block unification this year, as he did so neatly in the 76th Congress.

But the Wyoming rancher is scoring a victory to be taken by the Army-Navy get-together. His anti-merger battle forced President Truman, merger proponent, to cause the departments to evolve a compromise plan that at least is not too offensive to high Navy brass.

The Navy and its Marine Corps, and the Army and their tactical airforces are pretty well safeguarded from losing their identities. Robertson is more or less satisfied with what is promised—except that he wants to write safeguards more specifically into law, rather than rely on executive orders for "independence" of the Army, Navy and Air departments.

Actress Ida Lupino Becomes U.S. Citizen

LOS ANGELES, May 1—In about 30 days or so, Screen Actress Ida Lupino will become a full-fledged citizen of the United States, and Miss Lupino, it develops, knows plenty about her adopted land. At least that's the view of Examiner E. M. Broffman who gave the screen star her final examination.

Broffman said an examination in American history didn't even bother Miss Lupino, adding that she knew plenty about her subject.

Broffman said Miss Lupino knew who was vice president when Benjamin Harrison was president. Examiner Broffman knew the answer, too, but he had the book before him.

"The answer, everyone ought to know," is Levi P. Morton.

Telephone Strike

Telephone cables were cut. Officials said it was the first such instance in the Shreveport area.

WASHINGTON, May 1—The cry of "sabotage" was raised again today in the telephone strike even as the promise of important negotiations arose once more in Washington.

The so-called sabotage occurred in Michigan where the Bell Telephone Company said that a cable between Wayland and Moline had been cut. The line, owned jointly by Michigan Bell and the Long Lines division of A T and T, affected long distance phone service as well as some radio and telegraph circuits. Associated Press service to newspapers in at least 20 Michigan cities was disrupted by the damage to the cable, which forms the link between Grand Rapids and Chicago. Repairs have been dispatched to mend the break.

But a break of a different sort is being anticipated in Washington. Government Conciliator Peter Manno said important decisions may be in the offing at today's conference between A T and T's Long Lines division and the American Union of Telephone Workers. The development failed to materialize as expected, however, Manno has told newsmen that it was only postponed and that it can be expected at 5 P. M. Eastern Daylight Time today or even earlier.

The attorney for nine striking unions, Henry Mayer, said that the long-awaited break in negotiations was to have been what he termed a substantial money offer from the company. There have been rumors that the government is planning to propose a wage boost of $4 to $6 a week as a basis for getting salary talks underway in the Long Lines division. The National Federation of Telephone Workers is demanding $6.

Meanwhile, yesterday's strike settlement between the New York Telephone Company and four independent unions is in an unsettled state. Hundreds of workers are going back to their switchboards while hundreds of others are refusing to cross the picket lines of the NFW affiliates who still are on strike.

The New York Telephone Company claims that about 300 employees reported on the job this morning after their unions had settled for a $4 weekly increase, but union lawyer Mayer declared: "Not only are the employees not going back to work but they are

Idaho Town Starts Anti-Fly Campaign

MOSCOW, Idaho, Apr. 30—The bane of the housewife's existence in the summer, the common house fly, may become something of a rarity if not an extinct species as the "No Flies in Idaho" campaign spreads.

University of Idaho entomologists at Moscow believe they have demonstrated that the war-born insecticide—DDT—could virtually destroy the nation's fly population. At least six more states apparently have been convinced and are launching state-wide anti-fly campaigns. They are Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Mississippi, New York and Pennsylvania.

Idaho pioneered the program last year and the Iowa campaign is to be modeled after it.

The Idaho campaign was conceived four years ago when Dr. W. E. Shull tried out some DDT at the university barns. Flies died by the millions and housewives all over the city of Moscow commented that the flies didn't seem so numerous that summer.

By the time DDT was freed of military restrictions, Dr. Shull was ready for a state-wide anti-fly program. He taught commercial operators, many of them war veterans, how to use power sprayers. Shull liked the prospects of the new business so well that he resigned from the university and became a professional fly killer himself.

Some 50 to 100 Idaho communities solved their fly problem with DDT last year and more are joining the parade this season.

And Idaho University scientists are convinced that eventually the whole country will wipe out its flies with DDT.

Farmers Are Behind In Spring Planting

WASHINGTON, May 1—The month of May has arrived, with many farmers two to four weeks late with their spring planting, because of unseasonably cool and wet weather. As a result of the delay, Agriculture Department officials say the next three weeks will be critical from the standpoint of future supplies and prices of food. The Department has been hoping for a bumper farm output this year, to help keep down the cost of living and to stop the inflationary trend.

The states in which the crop delay developed include Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota.

The grain crop, and so it is looking to the United States for large supplies of food for its own people and other crops are essential.

The only really bright spot in the current farm picture is the winter wheat crop. This came through the cold months in very good shape, and now is beginning to look like the largest on record. The spring wheat crop has been somewhat less fortunate.

In the South, weather conditions have been unusually bad for several weeks, but the sun came through last week, so that much progress was made in planting cotton, soybeans and truck crops.

Aleman's Speech

White House had ordered the yacht made ready to take Aleman on an afternoon trip down the Potomac to the home of George Washington at Mount Vernon tonight the Mexican president will attend a small dinner at the White House before his party boards a midnight train for New York City, where another big welcome awaits him.

Earlier today Aleman and President Truman announced jointly that the United States will approve additional credits to Mexico and that the two nations had agreed to stabilize the rate of exchange between the dollar and the peso.

CARPENTERS STRIKE

DETROIT, May 1—Virtually all work on housing projects and commercial buildings came to a halt today when some 16,500 AFL building trade workers went on strike in the Detroit area.

"A woman, a dog and a walnut tree, the more you beat them the better they be." It's really true that an English walnut tree, beaten, produces more nuts.

WHITE HOUSE REPORTER HAS HECTIC LIFE

By ERNEST R. VACCARO AP Newsfeatures WASHINGTON—A White House reporter's principal need is a strong constitution, coupled with pneumonia and a distaste for family life. His assignment carries him many thousands of miles a year, to ray modern cities or to places steeped in history.

What he sees most, however, are telegraph offices, hotel rooms and bellboys. His wife spends her time worrying or wondering.

The Washington correspondent covering the President may have the finest of beds, but no time in which to sleep in them; the finest of food, but no opportunity to enjoy it; educational rights with- ing walking distance, and no chance to cross the street.

I've traveled many thousands of miles with Harry S. Truman during his two years in the presidency and during his 1944 campaign for the vice presidency.

Legal Notice Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 2845 Park Avenue, under the name of Tropical Fruit Market, and that we intend to receive said name pursuant to the terms of the Florida Name Statute (1937) with the effect of the said statute of 1946.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

have been flying trips to Kansas City, to Key West, to San Francisco and a dozen other places. I've seen a lot of water, a lot of sky and a lot of wreckage. I've seen a lot of the President.

The places I've been, however, are hazy memories of whitening past buildings, of speeches in banquet halls, stadiums and other meeting places—of sleepless nights, of checking in at airports in the darkness of early dawn.

Yet the "good trips" as the correspondents call them, wipe out memories of the bad.

Take Bermuda. There, the correspondents like to recall, they lived "high up on the hog."

It was last summer. Huddled in a crowded cabin on a destroyer escort, their sea jackets and heavy overcoats ready for the worst, they headed for New England waters with President Truman. They were following the presidential yacht, the U. S. S. Augusta, a few hours from Quantico Point, R. I., then learned the ship's course had been reversed.

A couple of days later they were relaxing at Bermuda. Mr. Truman had turned there when the seas got rough.

For a week the reporters had little to do but bask in the sunshine, enjoy the naval base and room around Hamilton, do a little fishing and swimming in between.

The present trip to Mexico City, however, was a nightmare for the White House press. Everybody loved the city, but nobody saw it.

President Truman, always an dawn's early riser, until it was early riser, moved about from bedtime for even the more hardy stay-ups for three action-packed days.

The fourth day the President departed in his plane, the "Sacred Cow" for the United States. They had left Washington five days before at 11 a. m., after attending the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents Association. The second day, after covering Mr. Truman's visit with his mother at Grandview, Mo., they had taken off from Kansas City at 2 a. m.

WARSAW, Poland

Poland's ministry of education now is supervising 220 homes for war-orphaned children, supplying them with food and clothing and educational facilities. The country, as result of nearly six years of war and the long Nazi occupation, has an estimated 2,000,000 orphans or half-orphans.
