A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH 'HE'LL PRENT 'EM'—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

While taking the ladies of the Eastern Star out in automobiles last Friday we stripped one of the gears and one of the young ladies hid her face. She was from Orlando.

Seeing so many people here last week at the different conventions has prompted me to investigate conditions here in the hope that some rich man will build a fine auditorium and tourist hotel to properly take care of the big crowds when they congregate in Sanford. A large auditorium could be erected at small cost and would be used for many purposes.

It is hardly necessary for me to express my admiration for the members of the city council in their determined stand for the bulkhead. Other people have talked much about bulkheading but the present council has gone ahead and accomplished something. And the best part of it all is that none of them promised a bulkhead when they were campaigning but said they would do all they could about helping Sanford become great and they could do nothing for the city; that bulkheading, I fully hope they can see their way clear to make the bulkhead of concrete for I believe that it will be the best material in the long run and even should it cost more it will be the cheapest in wearing qualities. It seems that at last Sanford will have a beautiful lake approach and with that all things should come our way. Now let us buckle down to getting a new hotel, even if it only contains fifty rooms. We must have one ere another season opens in Sanford.

These good roads meetings over the state tickle my risibilities for the majority of the people who attend them and get rid of much surplus hot air usually come from counties that have no good roads and are like the little boy who walks past the graveyard at night whistling to keep up his courage. The only way to have good roads is for each county to bond and build them just as the majority of the live counties in Florida are doing. They did not need any good roads boosters in Orange county to carry bonds down there for good roads. There is a bunch of hot air godd roads men in Florida who if they have ever done anything towards building good roads in their respective communities have never been caught with the goods on as yet and they make themselves ridiculous at the meetings taking good roads when the people of their own counties are wading through the sands. It would be well for the most of them to stay in their own halliwick at least until they bull good roads, themselves and then they could go forth into the highways and hedges and preach the gospel of good roads to some advantage.

A Chicago man has been fined $100 for beating his mule and $2.50 for beating his wife. Votes for women!

Mayor Thrasher had a bunch of virtuous and righteous citizens before him yesterday morning for speeding, running without lights and doing various stunts with the buzz wagons and after giving them due warning let them go. It is rather difficult to determine who is at fault in this age when the world is on wheels and it slimmers down to the question of the man who is driving and the man who is watching him drive. There is no doubt but what many drivers in Sanford are reckless and should be punished. The rules and regulations are plain enough and yet it seems that when a fellow gets in the auto or on the motorcycle or even on the sagate bicycle he immediately tries to do some stunts in the speed line and takes chances that he would never attempt on two legs. As long as we use trains, autos and bikes we will have trouble and those that use them and those who do not use them should be careful. The person who is attempting to cross a street ahead of an automobile should use just as much caution as the person who is driving the machine. I have seen people here in Sanford and elsewhere who would deliberately step in front of a rapidly moving machine just to see if the driver would stop and let him cross. Children also chase across a crowded thoroughfare with all the innocence of youth and trust to luck and never look to see if autos or wagons are approaching. The crossings are made for the pedestrians, of course, but they are also made for the man who is driving and people should be more careful at all crossings. The laws should be enforced and let every man take his medicine when he is in the wrong and of course the average man never thinks he is in the wrong and no two people see the same thing alike. The boys running cars on Sundays past the churches and late at night with the cut-outs open should be abated. They are a nuisance

The State Press Association on the 2nd of April will have its annual meet in Fort Myers.

Nice President Marshall will be the guest of honor, and along with that brilliant Democrat's attendance, the boys of the Florida press will make this occasion to be remembered.

There could be no better setting for such a happy event than the scene of its occupancy for a period of three days. Fort Myers, on the Caloosahatchee, a veritable gem of both nature and structure.

This occasion will be so enjoyable from a fraternal standpoint as well as beneficial in an intellectual way, that I hope that not only the press members will be present, but that representative good fellows and citizens from all over the state will find it to their interest to attend.

The State Press Association of Florida means something.

There is no state in the Union that has as many newspapers to the population, nor as many good ones in the same ratio. They are scintillantly brilliant to the last degree.

They are courageous, independent enough and with plenty of backbone to spout.

They fight and scrap for the principles in which each one believes.

However, on an occasion like the annual press meet, they fraternize harmoniously and get like a veritable band of brothers for the common up-lift.

When Vice-President Marshall meets this bunch of good fellows, he will feel at home, because he is one of the best of fellows himself.

He is the Mark Twain of the present administration, as well as a philosopher, a broad Progressive Democrat and a typically worthy American citizen.

If you want to know how to get to Fort Myers on the 32nd of April, follow the crowd.—Dixie.

SANFORD, THE GREATEST VEGETABLE GROWING CENTER IN THE WHOLE WORLD

FIGURES FOR THE SEASON ARE MOST STARTLING TO THOSE WHO HAVE NOT KEPT COUNT—THE SEASON'S BUSINESS IN VEGETABLE GROWING WILL REACH THE ENORMOUS SUM OF FIVE MILLION DOLLARS

The Herald is not engaged in exploiting land. There is land for sale in the Delta, but there is no cheap land here as compared with many of the portions of the state that are advertising vegetable lands as good as Sanford. There is no place upon this mundane sphere that has ever raised the quantity of lettuce, celery and other vegetables for the winter trade that Sanford can boast and thereby hangs this tale. Some time since The Herald promised to give the exact figures of the vegetable shipments for the season. They are given to date but the statement made today does not include the shipments that will be made in the next two months of our spring crops and these shipments will bring up the general average considerable. The following table is compiled of the refrigerator shipments from Sanford and the year shipped. Refrigerators from Sanford

Table with columns for Season, Cereals, Beans, etc., and Total cars. Data includes seasons 1909-1910, 1910-1911, 1911-1912, 1912-1913, and 1913-1914.

FOUR HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-TWO CARS OF VEGETABLES SHIPPED FROM SANFORD THIS SEASON and the total at the end of the spring season which will end in June almost to TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED CARS OF VEGETABLES. Talking the refrigerator cars alone and counting 350 crates to the car in Sanford and the growers here are and a most conservative estimate for this season would place the value of lettuce or celery at $1.00 per crate through the season refrigerator cars alone would bring to the growers $750,000. Added to this is the estimate of spring crops which are now bringing good prices and the million mark is easily reached and easily passed and at the present time no man can prophesy just what enormous profits the Sanford grower will reap on this season's crop. The Sanford celery season has long been recognized as the finest vegetable growing season that the world has ever produced. A cucumber specially arranged by nature for this purpose, for here the grower and sub-irrigation, take protection and cheap freight rates all combine to give the grower the best of everything. The only drawback that ever militated against the grower in former years was the market and now that the purchaser is disposed to buy the product that will give him the best value for his money, the grower is in a position to realize a profit in the north that was never before known. The grower is now being helped by being here at a rate of one of the best and most profitable crops that man can develop. Coupled with the grandest climate in the world and the best people on earth for neighbors the Sanford grower can't but be heartily congratulated. The grower has twelve months of winter to grow his crop and the grower has great improvements in the way of Sanford and the world has never produced. Sanford has cannot be kept in the background and coupled with this is the water transportation, new tourist hotel project, bulkheading of the lakefront and many other enterprises. We are not selling land. The land is selling itself. You can't keep the crowd away. Over Five Millions Invested. A merchant of Sanford who has kept tabs on the growers this year and figured on the supplies such as fertilizers, help, crates, etc., and taking the shipments of vegetables states that in his opinion the business done here in the vegetable line this season will be more than FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS and he has the figures to prove his assertion. Five millions of dollars in the vegetable business in Sanford means that the growing of winter vegetables has reached enormous proportions and means as much to this state as do the factories with their products. The vegetable crop only lasts about nine months in the year the growers are active for twelve months, as vegetables can be raised here the whole year round, and after the lettuce and celery and spring crops are off the growers plant corn and a natural crop of good hay springs up with no seeding. Moving the farmers corn and hay for stock feed. The day is coming when the Sanford growers will not need to send out of Florida for any foodstuffs. Canning factories will preserve the waste that is now allowed to rot in the fields. Instead of using little more tomatoes and peaches Sanford farmers can use Sanford tomatoes and fruits canned by the Girls' Canning Clubs here. There will be no waste products and the money that is made here will all be spent here and when that time comes the Sanford Celery Delta will be great indeed. We can feed an army here in Seminole county.

Five millions of dollars in the vegetable business in Sanford means that the growing of winter vegetables has reached enormous proportions and means as much to this state as do the factories with their products. The vegetable crop only lasts about nine months in the year the growers are active for twelve months, as vegetables can be raised here the whole year round, and after the lettuce and celery and spring crops are off the growers plant corn and a natural crop of good hay springs up with no seeding. Moving the farmers corn and hay for stock feed. The day is coming when the Sanford growers will not need to send out of Florida for any foodstuffs. Mr. Sulzer has drawn an assemblyman's salary from the state in the meantime. A special feature of the action is that the judges of the court of appeals who were members of the court of impeachment, are asked to vote on the matter for which they voted when Mr. Sulzer was removed from office.

BROKE GLASS WINDOW

Crowd of Buyers Anxious to Obtain Some of Caldwell's Bargains. The Caldwell Department Store of this city has the reputation of putting on some gigantic sales and one of the most successful in their history was the one that started on Wednesday. The sale was advertised to begin at nine o'clock and long before that hour the sidewalk and street was lined with anxious shoppers anxious for the doors to open. When the long rattled there was such a rush on the doors that the large plate glass in one of the doors was pushed out and fell with a noise of splintering glass but this small matter did not keep the crowd from rushing the store. The Caldwell store did a rushing business the opening days and expect to continue for the remainder of the ten days of the sale. The hour sales are something to attract the attention of the thrifty housewife for at these sales taking place almost every hour of the day special bargains will be offered. See the big bills and watch The Herald for special announcements.

Mr. Speer expects to erect a fine home on his new purchase and this will add another mansion to those already built on beautiful Park avenue. The building fever has certainly struck Sanford.

OUTING FOR THE GIRLS

Florida Young Women's Conference To Be Held at Enterprise

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Young Women's Christian Association of Jacksonville for the Florida Young Women's conference, which will be held in Enterprise, Fla., June 24 to July 8, 1914, under the auspices of the local organization.

Through the influence of James N. Gamble, a prominent soap manufacturer of Cincinnati, the property known as the Epworth Inn on the shore of beautiful Lake Monroe has been secured for the conference.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together all the girls and young women of the state, who may not have the opportunity of attending winter conferences or summer camps for their social, physical, intellectual and spiritual development.

For the last two years the Jacksonville Young Women's Christian Association has conducted camps at the seashore and in the mountains of North Carolina, to which only the Camp Fire Girls have been eligible. This year the camp idea is to be broadened into a conference, to which not only the Camp Fire Girls and their guardians throughout the state are invited, but other groups of girls as well—members of the Y. W. C. A., college girls, high school girls, organized Sunday school classes, canning club girls, girls from the various young people's societies, and, in fact, any girl in the state who desires this privilege, in so far as the hotel accommodations will permit.

All the joys of the out of doors and the freedom of camp life are to be combined with special conference features; councils for the college girls and the Sunday school workers; inspirational talks around the camp fire in the evening, or yepers by the lake; council talks over the problems of girls; talks on the various forms of service which are being given to the world today; and, in general to give these young women who attend a vision of the "more abundant life" and of their place in the world.

Recreation Planned

The recreation will be in the hands of a capable young college woman, assisted by a committee which will see that there are no dull moments. Tennis, croquet, driving, fishing, rowing and swimming will be among the attractions, and swimming lessons will be given.

Delightful walks to the many points of interest nearby can be taken, and the ferry Alma May will be at the disposal of the delegates for daily excursions to Stone Island, Lemon Bluff, Blue Springs, Woodlawn Park, etc.

As the conference period will extend over the Fourth of July, a special patriotic celebration will take place on that day. Other entertainments will also be provided for the pleasure of the guests, the details of which will be kept secret until the time comes for the conference.

Leaders of Conference

At this early date it is impossible to give a complete list of the leaders and speakers. Miss Lena Brokaw, general secretary of the Jacksonville Young Women's Christian Association, will be executive of the conference; Miss Mary Dudley Powell, student secretary for the South Atlantic field committee of the Young Women's Christian Association will be present to lead the councils for the college girls. Miss Emma Tucker, a Bible teacher well known in the north, Mrs. Abner Brown, an accomplished musician and an experienced Sunday school worker from Watertown, N. Y., Mrs. B. F. Holland of Bartow and others will be present. Dr. Carnine of DeLand will be one of the speakers, and others will be announced later.

Expenses of Outing

Application to attend this conference should be made to the Young Women's Christian Association, 42 West Adams street, Jacksonville, and each application must be accompanied by the registration fee of $1, payable before June 1.

Board for the two weeks will be $10. Special reduced railroad and steamship rates can be secured from all parts of the state for parties of ten. A round trip rate of $5.25 has been made by the Clyde Line from Jacksonville, which includes passage and stateroom. The Jacksonville party will leave on the Clyde line steamer and after an enjoyable trip up the picturesque St. Johns river will land at the hotel dock.

Further information may be obtained by applying at the Y. W. C. A. office, 42 West Adams street, and other announcements will be made from time to time. As the hotel accommodations are limited, those who desire to go should apply early if they wish reservations made for them.—Times-Union.

A Post-Impression

George Luka whose paintings of children and old people made a recent sensation in a Fifth avenue gallery, was talking about the postimpressionists. "But Luka," said a magazine editor, "what is a post-impressionist?" With his jolly laugh Mr. Luka replied: "A post-impressionist, my dear fellow, is an artist who aims to give you the post impression that he has orders for more pictures than he can paint."

Drunken Bears Couldn't Run.

Four big bears were killed near Marlinton, W. Va., by a gunning party who came upon the animals after they had destroyed a "moonshine" still and lapped up a large quantity of the illicit whiskey. The bears were so visibly intoxicated that they could not run and fell easy victims to the gunners.

Appendicitis, Known 30 Years.

Meet Me In Myers

Florida newspapers will be shy of news next week.

Huerta is not bluffed. His real play now is to bluff the United States in the hope that the people will flock to his standard and he has nothing to lose.

After the big meeting of the Florida Press Association the editors will get back on the job and there will be politics in Florida from then until the first day of June.

Two thousand four hundred and seventy two cars of winter vegetables shipped from Sanford already this season. Now figure up how much money the Sanford growers will make from the soil for nine months toll. It is enough to make an editor leave his desk and go to farming.

We are glad to learn that Orlando does not intend to hog it, and it is just as well to predict that if she does there will be another split in this county. Of course we don't get much legal printing, but if we stay in Florida there will be a change and that mighty moon or we'll know the reason why. A voter is a fool to play the sucker to Orlando, and if he stands up for his rights, he'll get 'em.—Winter Garden Times.

NO POOR SOIL IN FLORIDA

Such was the statement made by an expert at the Farmers' rally at Palatka on the 6th inst. by an expert on soils. We are told that the audience was surprised, we believe the statement will surprise many others, but it is made by one who has been investigating, and has the knowledge requisite to give his words weight. We quote from our account of that rally:

"Prof. Charles N. Mooney of the United States bureau of soil survey and chief of the corps now engaged in making a soil survey of Putnam county was the first speaker. He surprised the audience by declaring that there was no poor soil in Florida, as anywhere else. The white sand over which any one could pass a handkerchief without soiling was producing the finest pineapples on the American market. It was merely a matter of knowing what to plant and the soil would produce something in a most bountiful way."

"We have observed several times in these columns that we did not believe there was a foot of the land surface of this state that would not prove fit to raise something, basing our belief on the reports of crops raised on the least promising of Florida soils. Now we have the opinion of a scientific expert to the same effect. It is only a matter of knowing what to plant, and the soil will produce in the most bountiful way. This is a statement that should be widely spread, for it means much for the state. We may expect land agents and real estate men to make the best use of it, and cheerfully draw their attention to it, in case it has escaped them."

"It means much for the agricultural development of Florida, that an expert of the United States department of agriculture actually engaged in a soil survey of the state should make this statement. If there is no poor soil in Florida, so poor that it will not produce a crop of some sort if the owner will but find out to which it is particularly adapted, and if from three to five crops can be raised in a year under the influence of our benign climate which allows of agricultural operations every day of the year, the fact has to be but generally known to turn the attention of many a farmer in other states to the great opportunities that await him here. Furthermore, the assurance that all the soil of the state is adaptable to crops of some sort will inspire confidence in buying a home in rural Florida."

to discover something that it will produce and abundantly at what. He need not be disheartened. Let him but try again until he finds the crop to which that particular sort of soil is adapted.

We are learning things about our soil here in Florida, but none of us know it all yet. At one time the land in the potato belt at Hastings could have been bought for the tax and some accounted it dear at that price. But one day a man of brains who had some money to invest in experiment bought some of it and drained it, and proved that it was the best kind of farming land. "I'd hate to own any of that land and have to pay taxes on it," was often said of the territory surrounding Sanford in the desolate years immediately succeeding the freeze of 1895. But some persons were not afraid to undertake its cultivation, and today for some of the land a thousand dollars an acre is asked. With every acre capable of producing something, and a succession of crops possible the year through, and its superb climate, Florida should be the Paradise of the small farmer.—Times-Union.

TOM APPEYARD HERB

Young Tom Appeyard as he is known here, or T. J. Appeyard, Jr., as he is officially known was here yesterday and spent a pleasant day mingling with his many boyhood friends. It has been some sixteen years ago since he left Sanford and he is a comparatively young man, yet he was a youngster then. Since that time he has resided in many cities and was a student at the Lake City Agricultural College where he achieved high honors. He has also resided in Jacksonville where he was engaged in the real estate business and for the past two years has been in Tallahassee where his father, Col. Thos. Appeyard is the state printer when he is not actively engaged in piloting the destinies of the Florida Press Association as the secretary.

Young Tom is a candidate for the position of Commissioner of Agriculture, a position to which he aspires because he thinks that the farmers of Florida are coming into their own and need a good man to look after their interests. He seeks to bring the department nearer the people in their efforts to develop the state and that at the present time but very little is being done to aid and develop the many thousands of acres of land that are under cultivation.

Mr. Appeyard is a young and progressive Democrat who is a native Floridian and one who has studied the needs of the people at first hand and his knowledge of farm matters and his association at the state capital gives him an insight into the best means of aiding the agricultural interests of Florida. He will get a fousing vote in this section where the people have known him since boyhood and have the utmost confidence in his honesty and integrity.

Earlier Closing Saturday Nights

Relative to the earlier closing of the stores, by the merchants, on Saturday nights, there is also a part for the public to perform. The people have it within their power to make it possible for every clerk to be free from serving them after 10 o'clock on that night, providing we exercise a little more thoughtfulness and regard for others' rights and welfare.

To satisfy myself as to about how many workers, helpers and clerks are, or might be, affected by the late hour of closing on Saturday nights, in the early part of the week I made a personal investigation among most of the merchants of our city; it was discovered that over 150 hundred men and women (many of whom have families, thus further complicating the problem) are concerned in serving the public. A lady clerk, in one of our large stores, told me the other day, that she had to be to nearly midnight Saturdays waiting on customers and that it was wholly unfit for her, for anything but preparation for another week's grind. She is one of many who are thus severely taxed, in strength and nerve, to serve a thoughtless public, supply every one can adjust his hours for Saturday night shopping, if he (or she) is more considerate for the highest welfare of others. We do not mean to do anything that will harm our friends and neighbors, but too often we allow our personal conveniences and our old-time habits to place heavy burdens on many who are ill-prepared to bear them. We are our brother's keeper, whether we plan to be so or not.

In behalf of many whose lot can be made more pleasant by the exercise of a little more carefulness and consideration, I appeal to a buying and Golden Rule-loving public. With apologies to Shakespeare, to sympathize, practically, with those who serve us, or not to sympathize—that is the issue.

Pastor.

At the Methodist Church Sunday

All members and friends of the Methodist church in Sanford are expected on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, to hear a sermon, the subject of which will be "Church Building." The pastor will endeavor to show the relation the church building sustains to the cause of Christ and its effect on the community.

The evening subject will be, "Character Building," how it is done, the material used, etc.

The public is cordially invited to all the services.

The Sunday school meets at 9:45. Brotherhood class in the Tabernacle. The Wesleyan Truth Seekers for women have a cosy corner to which the ladies of the church are invited.

Our motto: Every Methodist in the Sunday school.

Baptist Church Last Sunday

"A great day" was the general expression from all who attended the services at the Baptist church on Easter Sunday.

The Sunday school observed special mission day and more than $100 was the collection. Two hundred and eighteen were in attendance at the school.

Chairs were necessary to seat the people at both the eleven o'clock and night services. In the morning beautiful Easter songs were rendered by the choir, and the pastor George Hyman delivered a discourse on the text of Christianity. The text being the resurrection of Christ. Miss Laura Davis, a convert was buried with Christ in the watery grave and raised again to newness of life. This being the first ordinance given to the church by our Lord.

The second ordinance, that of the Lord's Supper was then observed. One hundred and seventy-five of the 240 members of the church then stood in line and gave a friendly hand of fellowship. The church is practically free of any hard feelings among the members. A determination to love the Lord supreme and each other better was the general sentiment of the entire congregation. At night the choir and pastor rendered in story and song the beautiful musical arranged by Tullar-Meredith Co. "Love Triumphant," being a story of the first Easter adapted from "The Street Boy of Jerusalem." The three hundred people present declared it to be one of the prettiest services ever rendered in Sanford. Many of the best musicians of the city were present and declared the choir of the First Baptist church to be A1 in every respect. The genuine Sanford welcome is given in its best form at the Baptist church. Men! You Need the Sunday School: 1. It will Help you Live Right. If you are "trying to do right," the Sunday school will help you do it. 2. You Need it in Your Business. There are so many temptations to be just a little unfair and dishonest that every man needs God's Word to help him keep straight. Now, honestly, you don't think you are so good that you do not need it, do you? 3. You Need it as a Citizen. Whether you are a candidate or a voter, you need these Bible studies to help you to be a good citizen. 4. You Need it in the Home. These classes are to help you to be what you might be in the home. To be patient, thoughtful and considerate of those who love you. 5. It will Remind you of your Soul. There is danger that in the hurry of our work we may forget about the most important side of our nature. The Sunday school will remind you of it. 6. Your Soul Needs Food. The Bible is to your spirit what bread is to the body. You do not starve your body—why starve your soul? 7. It will be Interesting to You. The Bible is one of the most interesting books in the world. You will be surprised at how interesting it can be. 8. 186 Men Present Last Sunday. Baptist 46 Congregational 21 Methodist 50 Presbyterian 69 These were many men present who had not been in Sunday school in years. They are making the slogan "Every Man in Sanford in Sunday School During April" a success. You will be surprised at some of the men who were present last Sunday. Come Sunday at 9:45 without fail! The plant has outgrown the present quarters at the old ice factory building which was remodeled by the Ferrans to suit the need of an up-to-date printery. ARMY MAY NOW BE MADE "DRY"

Surgeon General Gorgas Upholds Daniels' Order.

WILSON NOT CONSULTED.

Revenue Cutter Service Likewise May Be Forced to Eliminate Liquor on Vessels—Possible Modifications In Sweeping Navy Changes Before They Become Effective July 1.

Washington—William C. Gorgas, the new surgeon general of the army, on his return from South Africa expressed his approval of the order issued by Secretary Daniels forbidding the use of liquor aboard naval vessels and in all navy yards and all naval stations. Many army officers expressed the opinion that this forbids an official order making the army as "dry" as the navy will be when Daniels' new regulation goes into effect on July 1.

By American Press Association.

SURGEON GENERAL W. C. GORGAS, U. S. A., the treasury, will apply a similar rule to the officers of the revenue cutter service.

It is certain that President Wilson will do nothing to stem the tide of prohibition, the chief executive having indicated his position clearly when he asserted it is a departmental question in which he is not concerned.

The president said that Secretary Daniels had not consulted him about the prohibition order, but that it was not necessary for him to do so.

Gorgas, who has been in South Africa installing in the diamond mines sanitary methods similar to those in the Panama canal zone, expressed great interest in the new move made by Secretary Daniels.

He asserted that officers in both branches of the service would be a better off if they never touched liquor.

As surgeon general of the army he is in a position to follow the lead of Surgeon General Bralsted of the navy in recommending the abolition of officers' wine messes at army posts.

Secretary Daniels let remarks drop indicating that modifications in the order are likely to be made before it goes into effect July 1.

"There is plenty of time between now and July," said the secretary, "to make any modifications that may seem necessary. But the order will remain absolute to the extent of prohibiting wine messes or the use of intoxicating liquors in officers' quarters, clubs or other kinds of organizations on shipboard or at shore stations."

"I am convinced not only from what I have seen, but from the examination of cases that come before me daily, that many a young officer fresh from the Naval academy learns to touch the first drop in these wine messes, and not infrequently the result is his dismissal from the service."

BONUS FOR EACH BABY.

"Taxless Town" to Reward Stark on Every Yell. Harrisville, W. Va.—With surplus funds rapidly accumulating, this town of 800 inhabitants, famous as the "taxless town," is becoming so rich through its ownership of gas and oil properties that the mayor, backed by council, has decided to offer a snug sum as a bonus for every baby born here.

The mayor says that "it is the hope of the populace that future generations may participate in the dividends of the most prosperous municipality in the world."

Harrisville is unique among cities of the world in that it levies no property taxes. This comes about because the town owns its own natural gas plant, wells lines and equipment. The plant is rented to the highest bidder and with other dividends derived from the lease of property on which are located many oil and gas wells, the municipal treasury is rolling in money.

To Keep Cars Sanitary. Washington—The senate passed the house bill directing the interstate commerce commission and the secretary of the treasury to promulgate regulations for keeping in sanitary condition all interstate passenger cars.

Peculiarities of Twins.

Many pairs of twins, as every one knows, are difficult or almost impossible to tell apart. In the case of these striking resemblances the similarity of character which accompanies it breaks out in curious ways. A newspaper recently drew attention to a couple of twins, named Evans, who bewilder the stranger by making the same remarks simultaneously, and begin humming the same song at the same moment. There are lots of similar cases on record.

Yes, Why?

The curate of a large and fashionable church was endeavoring to teach the significance of white to a Sunday school class. "Why," said he, "does a bride invariably desire to be clothed in white at her marriage?" As no one answered, he explained, "White," said he, "stands for joy, and the wedding day is the most joyous occasion of a woman's life." A small boy queried, "Why do the men all wear black?"

Ancient Definitions of Beauty.

He used to say that personal beauty was a better introduction than any letter, but others say that it was Diogenes who gave this description of it, while Aristotle called beauty "the gift of God," that Socrates called it "a short-lived tyranny," Theophrastus "a silent deceit," Theocritus "an ivory mischance," Carneades, "an overprize which stood in need of no guards," Diogenes Laertius, A. D. 200.

Feminine Estorons.

They are few and far between, but still they exist. This rare member of the sex is the girl who actually asks men companions to purchase her anything for which she may take a fancy. It is decidedly unfair to the man, and he dislikes the feminine thoughtlessness. He will soon desert a girl who has the weakness. It is rarely unfeminine.—Exchange.

Were Substantial Men.

A curious old document dated at West Point, August 19, 1783, gives the weight of several distinguished officers at the end of the Revolution, as follows: General Washington, 209 pounds; General Lincoln, 224 pounds; General Knox, 180; Colonel Henry Jackson, 235; Colonel Swift, 219, and Colonel Michael Jackson, 252 pounds.

Made Him Suspicious.

"Did you ask your girl's father for her hand in marriage?" "I did." "And he refused you. I can tell by the way you look." "No, he didn't. He gave his consent." "Then why the peculiar look you are wearing?" "He was so darned willing."—Houston Post.

Are You a Goose?

"I love to talk," he said, "as a goose loves to swim. Sometimes I think it is because I am a goose. For I never talked much at any one time without saying something or other I was sorry for."—Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.

Keep It Mumm.

"What kind of a man is Squire Simpson, anyway?" "Well, I'll tell ye. You've seen them know-for-me along atly in the winter, when there's a good deal of wind, but not much delighting? That's the sort he is."

Exceptions.

"When one reads he should read something to improve his mind." "Quite so. Still, it is imperative for some of us to read laundry lists and time tables, occasionally."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Is Fenole a Household Necessity?

This question can best be answered by any one of the thousands of housewives in Tampa and elsewhere who have been using Fenole exclusively as an insecticide and disinfectant in their homes. They have found it to be most economical, safe, effective and convenient preparation that they have ever used.

Fenole is economical to use, because distributed as it is with a spray pump there is absolutely no waste; it goes farther and kills more insects to the gallon than any other preparation on the market. It is safe to use anywhere and everywhere; insects killed with Fenole will not be around as a menace to the lives of your pets or chickens; it does its work quickly and then evaporates completely.
