Coal Strike

The number of idle grew despite a White House hint that increased coal production could help stave off presidential intervention. The strike doubled the number of stay-at-home miners in West Virginia. That state, biggest coal producer, counted 20,000 out of the pits out of 110,000.

Miller Says His Company Favors River

Plymouth Citrus People Prepared To Ship 1,000,000 Cases Of Canned Fruit

Dr. R. L. Miller, representing the Plymouth Citrus Growers Association, testified yesterday at the ICC hearing at the Mayfair Inn that his company is prepared to ship 1,000,000 cases of canned citrus a year from Sanford via the St. Johns River if barge facilities are established.

The testimony was given at the hearing at which C. G. Willis sought authority to operate a barge line on the river between Sanford and Jacksonville to supplement present shipments between Jacksonville and Trenton, N. J. and other northern ports. It was conducted by S. R. Diamond, I. C. C. examiner, and was not concluded until 11:00 o'clock last night.

Dr. Miller revealed that his organization is now trucking canned citrus to Tampa for shipment by water, but pointed out that Sanford would be but a 20 mile truck haul for the shipments as compared to a 100 mile haul to Tampa. He estimated that shipments from here would, if established, amount to more than 2,000 tons a month.

C. W. Hutcheson, traffic consultant for the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, told the survey that revealed that barge

Search Pilot For Missing C-54 Is Injured In Crash

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., Jan. 31. — An heroic search pilot, his face broken and bloody, fought through deep snow and tangled forest late yesterday to report his plane had crashed 21 miles to the south. Three of the men he left behind were injured. He said the two others were "all right."

The U. S. Air Force C-47 went down while engaged in the north country—greatest aerial mercy mission—the hunt for a USAF C-54 which dropped from night last Thursday with 44 persons aboard. Lt. Charles R. Harden, pilot of the C-47 which arrived here Sunday from Elmendorf Field, Anchorage, Alaska, was brought in last night by two civilian employees of the U. S. engineers. They picked him up on the narrow Carcross road 21 miles below this principal Yukon air base.

"My plane is down," he wearily told search officials. He placed the crash scene as five miles east of the spot where he was found. A ground rescue crew headed by Lt. Edwin Gulinski, Camp Carson Colo., left immediately for the site. They were expected to reach the survivors sometime this morning.

Planes circled over the wreckage. The rescue crew was on the way. The man that helped was on the way. How seriously three of the men were injured was not known. Harden was unable to tell. Among the men who escaped with shock and minor bruises was Jack Burgess, of the midnight Sun Broadcasting Corp. They were expected to reach the survivors sometime this morning.

Dr. Philip Westgate To Talk On Celery

Dr. Philip J. Westgate, associate horticulturist from the Central Florida Experiment Station on Celery Avenue, will speak Friday night at 7:30 o'clock to members of the Seminole County Farm Bureau and Veterans-On-The-Farm Training Class at the Future Farmer Building on "Poor Growth in Celery, Its Cause and Remedies." John Pierson, veteran instructor, announced today. Randy Anderson, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market, will tell of progress at the market and will explain basic reasons for "deplorable" prices now received by farmers. He will also give the latest news concerning the recently completed auction block, said Mr. Pierson.

The program will follow a covered dish supper, and Seminole County farmers and their wives are invited to attend. Dr. J. W. Wilson is program chairman. Mrs. W. W. Lutz, supper committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. and Mrs. George H. Steele and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert L. Hunter.

Brannan Asks Congress For Help On Spuds

Truman Adviser Says Destroying 50 Million Bushels Is Cheapest Way Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan proposes to destroy around 50,000,000 bushels of surplus potatoes unless Congress instructs him to make some other disposition of them.

This is the quantity of surplus potatoes the Department figures it will be unable to dispose of through give away programs to domestic and foreign relief, the school lunch program, and diversion to livestock feed and manufacture into starch.

The potatoes are being bought by the department at prices averaging above $2 for 100 pounds under a price support program.

Brannan was expected to outline his plans before a closed meeting of the Senate Agriculture Committee this morning.

A Brannan assistant said the secretary was prepared to argue that destruction of the potatoes was the "cheapest" way out for the government.

The surplus potatoes could be used for making alcohol but processors would take them only if the government paid the freight from areas of production to plants that would cost the government about $15,000,000, in excess of the purchase price.

The department will continue to offer the potatoes to relief agencies free of charge, at point of storage, as long as there is a demand for them.

It also will continue to offer potatoes for commercial export at one cent for 100 pounds, sacked, at points of storage.

Latest estimates indicate the government may lose upwards of $100,000,000 on surplus potatoes from last year's crop. It lost close to $250,000,000 on the 1948 crop.

The department has called upon growers to plant about 6 percent fewer acres this year than last year. This cut in acreage is designed to bring production more nearly in line with consumer demand.

Effort To Float "Mighty Mo" Is Failure Again

Giant Tugs And PT Boats Churn Water But That Is All

ABOARD THE BATTLESHIP MISSOURI OFF NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 31. — Another attempt to float the grounded battleship failed today and salvage experts said "We believe we are going on a lock."

Rear Admiral Homer N. Wallingford reported the failure of tugs and beach gear extrating some 1,000 tons of pull indicating that probably a large tug has cleared the ship's bottom and kept her from rising over it.

The bows of the salvage tug Rear Admiral Allan E. Smith, and another attempt to lift the ship by the bow was abandoned at 11:00 A. M. when the tug ran aground on a "hesapeake" buoy Jan. 31.

The Missouri now moved one degree to starboard—the right side—but she did not move an inch toward the deep water that lies so tantalizingly near, only a half mile astern.

Faces of officers and men were tightly restrained the continued pull on the power of 13 tugs, two heavy duty salvage ships and nine beach tugs.

President Truman Orders Work To Begin On New Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. — President Truman today told the Atomic Energy Commission to work on the "so-called hydrogen of superbomb."

He said in a two paragraph statement that he has ordered the AEC to continue work on all forms of atomic weapons, including the super bomb, because of its responsibility to see to it that our country is able to defend itself against any possible aggression.

He added that this work will be pursued on a basis consistent with American plans for peace and security.

The development of atomic weapons is to continue the program directed, until a certain point for international control of atomic energy is achieved.

This is his statement launching the government officially into a hunt for a new weapon perhaps as much as 1,000 times as powerful as the original A-bomb.

"It is part of my responsibility, as commander in chief of the armed forces to see to it that our country is able to defend itself against any possible aggression."

"Accordingly, I have directed the Atomic Energy Commission to continue its work on all forms of atomic weapons, including the so-called hydrogen of super bomb. It is my duty to see to it that our country is able to defend itself against any possible aggression."

Board Of Fact-Finders To Make Recommendations Before End Of Sixty Days

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. — The government's top conciliators met today with the leader of the 140 communication workers. Their talks were aimed at heading off a nationwide telephone strike called for Feb. 5.

Mr. Truman today called for a 30-day truce in the coal mining deadlock while presidential fact-finders investigate.

He proposed to set outside the union-led Felt-Hootley act, following the same pattern he used in last year's steel strike.

In messages to the United Mine Workers and leading operators groups Mr. Truman asked that they agree to a 30-day truce.

Mr. Truman stopped into the situation as the number of coal miners rose this week to 400,000. The 140 communication workers are working only three days a week.

The proposed cease-fire 24 hours a day for 30 days, but only if the United Mine Workers is to agree to a 30-day truce. The coal miners are working only three days a week.

Mr. Truman said in his message to the coal miners that he is not asking them to stop working. He is asking them to stop working for 30 days.

American economic aid in Formosa in order to help the Nationalist government to make two yards through center. It didn't make it. As any good football player knows, when you go through center, you don't try to make two yards, you try to knock the opposing team clear out of the stadium, and if you are real good, you don't stop there, you blast a hole right through the concrete at the far end.

The Russians are the world's most colossal liars, swindlers, and cut-throats. There is only one way to deal with gangsters, Russian unformed or otherwise, and that is to treat them like gangsters. Who says so? Why Brigadier General Frank Howley, who spent four years in Berlin including the blockade period, trying to get along with the Russians. He has just written a new book called "Berlin Command" in which he describes some of his experiences while an American representative on the Allied Kommandatura, composed of Americans, British, French and Russian representatives who were supposed to run Berlin. He should be in a position to know something of what he is talking about.

From Congressman Syd Herlong comes a questionnaire to be published in our paper so that he may be informed on how the people stand on a variety of topics. The only way a Representative can know what the people want him to do is for them to tell him. There is no trouble knowing what certain people want. Those who want something for themselves make their wishes known in no uncertain terms. But what the vast majority of the people want, those who merely want to be let alone, to live in peace and happiness, and to earn a decent living, and who are not expecting anybody to give them anything, is not always so easy to determine. Hence, this questionnaire. We hope that some will fill it out and send it in who have no selfish axe to grind, who are interested mainly in the public welfare and not in personal gain.

Man's Inhumanity To Man is nowhere better exemplified than in businessmen's attitude toward each other. At a time when the business community as a whole is beset by hordes of enemies from without, with the Communists threatening to take over the stores by brutal force, when the Socialists are poisoning the minds of all they can reach with the alleged evils of the profit motive, when labor leaders are recklessly forcing even the oldest and most successful corporations to the brink of bankruptcy by unconscionable demands, when the government is taxing them to death and spending most of its time thinking up new ways to tax, at a time when all this is threatening the very existence of the business community, and every intelligent consideration calls for unity and cooperation against its enemies, no one denounces the businessman quite so bitterly as the businessman himself, no one is quite so quick to cut the throat of the business as another businessman. It is, of course, the little businessman against the big businessman, the independent against the chain operator, the merchant against the banker, the farmer against the speculator, the honest against the dishonest, the honest against the dishonest, the honest against the dishonest.

Probing The Cold Lands

The world's adventurers have just about closed their books as far as discovery of new land is concerned. The results of the last of such discoveries have been mapped and charted, completing our surface knowledge of the globe we inhabit, or so we now believe.

Superficial information of some regions is gradually being supplemented, however, by information gathered by scientists of many different nations. A joint expedition sponsored by Great Britain, Sweden and Norway has just begun geological, meteorological, and glaciological investigations. Observers from South Africa and Australia accompany these workers. Chilean scientists occupy points in the South Shetlands, and a French expedition is en route to Adelic Land, south of Australia.

The spirit of adventure, which was one of the strongest motives back of the early voyages of discovery, forms part of the equipment of the modern counter-part of Columbus. He must, however, possess also scientific knowledge, careful training, elaborate equipment and, most important of all, the fortitude and strength of character which enable him to bear such hardships and dangers as those of Antarctic exploration. Yet these hardships and danger, for the party with present means of travel, protection and communication, are certainly no greater than were those of probing the wilderness of North America by adventurers who lacked the aid of modern science.

Friends In High Places

The loyalty in friendship of Dean Acheson, as an individual, in seizing the first opportunity to reaffirm his attachment to Alger Hiss after the Hiss conviction for perjury, must be admired. His judgment in making the Hiss declaration in a press conference in his capacity as Secretary of State is bound to be questioned.

Firm and enduring loyalty to friends who merit it is one of the finest attributes of human character. Everyone wants to have friends capable of unwavering loyalty through foul weather as well as fair. But it should be seriously questioned how far the influence of personal friendship ought to be carried into the direction of the affairs of the nation. In the separation of the great figures from the inconsequential ones among the statesmen and political leaders of history, an important quality has been the ability to differentiate clearly between the interests of the nation and those of personal friendship or obligation, with the will to put the nation in first place.

It has been said from time to time that of late years there has come to be too much of personal friendship, and the settlement of personal obligations, in the selection of government officials, and too little of sound, detached judgment. The attitude of Secretary Acheson in the Hiss case, coupled with the resulting uproar on Capitol Hill, has not tended to refute this criticism.

Thirty-Cent Color

The buzz of excitement in the television industry has died down. The buzz which was caused by the South New Jersey firm which had developed a color television set, which would cost only thirty cents, has died down. The firm, which had developed a color television set, which would cost only thirty cents, has died down.

At any rate, the gadget worked. Television engineers marveled at it, and then went back to their laboratories to pursue their search for a color television system which will win the approval of the Federal Communications Commission. No one is ready to guess yet how it will all come out. But one thing can be depended on: by the time they show up in the retail stores the difference between a color television set and a plain old black and white one will be more than thirty cents.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst. Signs multiply that the weapon which will contribute most towards winning the crucial war of the lands in southeast Asia will be food.

In the language of the Oriental that means rice, which is the staff of life. The belligerent who controls the rice fields is likely to be the ultimate victor, and for two very good reasons. One: No man can fight on an empty stomach. Two: The underprivileged millions of the orient do much of their thinking with their hungry bellies — and who wouldn't?

Thus it's no surprise to see the storm signals in Moscow veer around toward Indo-China. That not only is one of the great rice producing countries but it is a strategic key to Burma and other growers of this staple food. Moreover, it lies up against China proper, which already has been virtually overrun by the Chinese Communist forces.

Ho Indo-China looks like one of the crucial battle-grounds in the swelling Red offensive for control of the whole vast oriental theater.

Russia yesterday formally recognized the Viet-Nam republic of Dr. Ho Chi-Minh, the Moscow-trained Communist leader whose guerrilla troops have been fighting the French since 1946. The Moscow press has been emphasizing Indo-China and the Thai agency reports fierce fighting in Indo-China near the Chinese border between Ho's troops and the combined French and Nationalist forces of former Emperor Bao Dai.

The Emperor is leading a new Vietnamese government in rivalry to Ho Chi-Minh. One Moscow newspaper declared that "Tri-umphant billions will not save Bao Dai." Another article deals with the British Commonwealth conference at Ceylon which decided to plan economic aid to southeast Asia. This article proclaimed that "the amount of cooperation between the American government and the British Commonwealth is capable of crushing the movement of Asian peoples for freedom and independence."

That's the Red view of the London state that Britain's recognition of Bao Dai government is a "betrayal" of the Chinese people. It will have to be seen how the British and the Americans will react to this.

Sanford Forum

Editor Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida. Dear Sir:

After reading Sam Martina's letter in your edition of January 26, 1950, I felt the necessity of taking this means of presenting to the public some facts and information about the condition of the present baseball park and the possibility of a sewage disposal plant for Sanford, with which Mr. Martina apparently was not acquainted. The grandstand at the ball park was built in the middle 20's as a temporary structure and is now in a dangerous condition for use by the public. In fact, it is so bad that the public liability insurance was cancelled last Fall by the insurance company that was carrying this has resulted in a recent statement by an official of the New York Giants that it will be impossible to play any of the scheduled exhibition games beginning March 15th when open with the Florida State League April 13th, unless the stands can be so repaired that the insurance underwriters will re-issue the liability policy. If anyone were injured by the stands...

Because of previous commitments, the City is obliged to propose a plan for the stands which must be done now. The City Building Inspector reports that there are so many weak points in the grandstand it is impossible to tell how much of the structure would have to be repaired to make it safe and such repairs will be expensive. Mr. E. J. Moughton, our architect, recommends that the roof of the stand be removed and the structure underneath with heavy timbers the City has on hand. This would take a great straddling of the structure and eliminate the danger of the roof collapsing. Following this, however, the stand would be temporary and the added exposure to the elements would hasten the complete deterioration of remaining parts. The need for a new Stadium would be almost a foregone conclusion.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL. I agree it is a very real problem, but I do not agree that we should spend all of our money on that to the exclusion of other needed improvements. We cannot afford to be getting all of our eggs in one basket. Orlando grew to 60,000 people before they were able to look care of their sewage problem and certainly Orlando has been growing ever since.

The City is not blind to the need of additional sewage disposal. We have provided for repairs and extensions to the present sewage disposal plant. The present sewage disposal plant is a very real problem, but I do not agree that we should spend all of our money on that to the exclusion of other needed improvements.

Existing Sewerage Facilities. The present sanitary sewerage system is principally a combined system of sanitary and storm sewerage. This system is entirely gravity flow with the principal sewer discharging into Lake Monroe near the shore front of the city. Principal sewers that discharge raw sewage into the lake at different locations along the lake front, the largest line discharging at the shore front of the city center of the city. The present system covers the entire business and commercial districts and a large portion of the residential areas. There are, however, a number of areas where the sewerage is in very bad condition and in immediate need of repairs and rehabilitation.

Proposed Improvements. In order to undertake to correct this inadequate and antiquated method of existing sewerage disposal so as to eliminate the health hazard which is presented by the accumulation of raw sewage along the shore of the lake and the possibility of a certain number of the existing sewers, the City borrowed funds in amount of $21,530.00 from Federal Works Agency in 1948 to pay the engineering cost of survey, design, planning, specifications, and cost estimate for construction a sewerage treatment and disposal plant and rehabilitation of certain principal sewers. These funds were borrowed without any definite plan for financing the proposed improvements but with the interest of financing the way and means of financing the project at some time in the future.

The City employed the Engineering firm of Smith & Gillespie of Jacksonville to make the survey and prepare the plans and specifications and furnish a cost estimate for constructing the project which consists of the following: 1. Construction of a new sewerage treatment and disposal plant. 2. Rehabilitation of certain principal sewers.

PHASE NO. 1. The first phase requires the construction of 10,000 linear feet of an interceptor sewer along the lake front to collect the discharge from the present ten out-fall lines and convey it to a single point at the proposed site of the treatment and disposal plant to be located west of Cloud Branch on the lake front. Construction of each of the ten main sewers into the interceptor sewer so as to permit the discharge of the raw sewage into the lake. This phase will provide for a minimum flow of storm water into the interceptor with the sanitary sewerage; construction of out-fall lines into the construction of sewerage pumping station; and rehabilitation of certain existing principal sewers. A large number of the principal sewers having been repaired and rehabilitated through the project of W. P. A. Projects during the 1940's.

The today's cost estimate for constructing Phase No. 1 of the project as approximated by the engineers, amount to $420,483.50. PHASE NO. 2. The second phase of the project consists of constructing a disposal plant for treatment of the sewage before discharging into the lake. It is located west of Cloud Branch on the lake front; and a sewage lift station to be constructed at the point of out-fall of the interceptor line to pump the sewage from the interceptor to the treatment plant. The treatment plant is designed for a population of 20,000 with a daily sewage flow of 2 million gallons, and a peak flow of 4 million gallons. The plant would provide for primary treatment only, consisting of primary sedimentation tanks with facilities for the withdrawal, digestion and disposal of sludge; facilities for sterilization of the plant effluent before discharging it into the out-fall line emptying into the channel or at such distance from the shore as to prevent a nuisance from the source.

The today's cost estimate for constructing Phase No. 2 of the project, as approximated by the engineers, amount to $252,025.00. TOTAL COST OF PHASE NO. 1 AND PHASE NO. 2 - $672,508.50. Conclusion. Since the construction of the sewerage treatment and disposal plant and the disposal of the project before it can be placed in operation, it will be noted that the estimated overall cost amounts to $672,508.50. It will also be noted that the extension of sewers is the extension of the two phases of the project, therefore, there is a THIRD and NECESSARY PHASE in order to provide sanitary sewerage facilities for a number of large residential sections which are not sewerred, of which the approximate cost would amount to an additional $225,000. This would require an additional $225,000.00 in the following areas: From 16th Street at railroad south to 25th Street between Locust Avenue and the East boundary of the City, which would serve the residence in Santa Lanta Second Section, Magnolia Heights, Bel-Air, the Wynwood and Santa Park Subdivisions; the area from 20th Street south to 25th Street between Oak Avenue and French Avenue, which would serve the residence in Highland Park, Franklin Terrace and Beck's Subdivisions; the area from 18th Street south to 24th Street between French Avenue and the West boundary of the City, which would serve the residence in Pinehurst, Boyd's and Bonaventure Subdivisions; and approximately 75% of the colored area in Goldsboro section. There are also large areas south of 25th Street, including the area between Woodruff's Terrace and Oak Hill Subdivisions, in which there are a number of residence and business places, and developing rapidly with new construction, that should be sewerred.

These necessary extensions would increase the cost of an overall sanitary sewerage project to approximately $1,000,000.00. It is estimated that the interest alone would amount to $400,000.00 annually at a rate of 4% per annum.

BRIDGE BURNED. VERO BEACH, Jan. 31. — (AP) — Two spans of the Webster Bridge on Highway A1A over the Indian River north of here were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin early today. Traffic is being rerouted over the Vero Beach bridge.

BOOKMAKERS. TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 31. — (AP) — Attorney General Richard B. Vin and bookmaker were arrested today on charges of racketeering. The charges were based on a 10-count indictment of an indictment which charged that the two men had conspired to operate a racketeering business in Tallahassee, Fla. num. To amortize the debt over a period of thirty years, the annual requirement for retirement of principal would amount to $23,000.00 making an annual payment of $75,000.00 that would have to be applied on the debt. In addition to amortizing the loan and payment of interest, there would also be an additional annual operating cost of approximately $25,000.00 for maintenance and operating the disposal plant, lift stations, pumping stations, and maintenance of the new sewers.

If the entire project was constructed and the treatment and disposal plant placed in operation, all storm water from the sewerage would continue to be discharged into the lake because of the prohibitive cost of separating the sanitary sewers from the storm sewers, and the treatment plant would provide for primary treatment only, which would still prevent the use of the lake for swimming and bathing. The City already has bonded indebtedness of $4,658,000.00 on which it is now paying interest in amount of $87,500.00 annually, and the sanitary sewerage project would pyramid the debt another million dollars and increase the interest to $107,500.00. In order to pay off this debt the City would have to pledge all revenues that it could raise for many years, leaving it without any source of revenue to finance other needed improvements.

Since the Federal Government is appropriating more funds each year toward eliminating the menace of water pollution in public streams, it would therefore not seem advisable to borrow such a large sum for one project now, and later find some assistance through Federal aid. However, it would seem advisable and sound financing to appropriate a substantial sum and complete as much of the program as possible each year until one phase of the project is carried out, such as extending the present sewerage system into the areas where it is most needed, and rehabilitating certain of the existing sewers. Also, to set aside a certain amount each year to build up a reserve sufficient to either match bonds that may be granted by some government agency toward eliminating the discharge of raw sewage into the lake, or to apply toward the City's financing the completion of the other phase of the project. This would not jeopardize the financing of other needed improvements.

As you see the cost of such a sewerage disposal plant is over a million dollars. This could only be met by a bond issue which would be impossible for us to sell and if we could it would be a continuing lien on our properties for us and our grand children. Therefore, our only approach to this problem is on a long range basis. The City does not have sufficient funds or enough anticipated revenues to finance such a project. These no known revenues that could provide the necessary money, and one half of $38,000.00 of the estimated $70,000.00 cigarette tax income must be used to lower the ad valorem tax, which only leaves $35,000.00 for the sewerage project. This would not pay the interest on such a debt.

I think the major problem, and one which we can do something about it, is extension of the present sewerage system rather than disposal. Disposal is a constant need but is out of our reach for the present. My thought is to extend our present system as much as possible each year and at the same time invest $30,000.00 or $40,000.00 each year toward a disposal plant in the hopes that in five to ten years State or Federal funds will be matched with ours to enable us to build our sewerage plant. Even without such aid we would then be in a position to finance the project ourselves.

In view of the foregoing facts it is my contention that the sewerage problem is of such magnitude that it can only be met on a long range program but a new stadium is a need which is within present reach (by granting the Florida Power and Light Company a thirty year franchise and using the funds derived from that for the Stadium).

Sincerely yours, JOHN KRIDER. One of the world's largest chair lifts in the $200-foot lift used by skiers in the Squaw Valley near Reno, Nev.

Deals Star - Banner

Congratulations are in order for the progressive city of Sanford where the new municipal swimming pool in Fort Mellon Park on the shores of Lake Monroe, was dedicated Saturday with appropriate exercises.

Climaxing a quarter of a century of publicity, promotion and civic enterprise, the pool which was first approved by the people in a bond election in 1926, was finally made possible by a donation of $50,000 from Chase & Company, and by the support of the Jaycee and Rotary club which made it their No. 1 project.

Housed in a concrete block enclosure of light green, 60 feet wide and 128 feet long, the pool includes two dressing rooms, 18 lockers and shower accommodations for men and women. The pool proper, made of poured concrete, is 100 feet long and 30 feet wide.

It should be noted that the project, authorized as far back as 1926, languished until the Jaycees, Kiwanians, Jaycees, P.T.A. and other civic groups got behind the project and made building of the pool their number 1 project.

In its preliminary investigation of swimming pools, a committee of the Marion County War Memorial Association visited Sanford and obtained much useful information from the city manager and the superintendent for the contractors who build the pool, which is entirely above ground because of the high water table near Lake Monroe. The overall cost of the project was $42,000.

Sanford is to be congratulated on realizing this needed public utility. Deeds cannot lag behind our neighbor city. Our swimming pool is assured but more money is needed to round out the youth center project to be built in connection with the pool.

By 1960, the American population will shrink to 18 per cent of the total population, the Twentieth Century Fund predicts.

Below are listed a number of questions on which we will probably have to vote this session.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31 (AP)—Would you leave a $3,000-a-week job? Van Heflin did. And he has no regrets.

"I figure this way," he said, "after five years of college and 20 years in the business, I ought to be capable enough to make my own decisions. At any rate, I would prefer my mistakes to be my own, and not those made by my studio."

Heflin's parting with MGM was friendly, as all contractual endings are supposed to be in Hollywood. But he made no secret of his discontent with his postwar role.

The tale of Athos in "Three Musketeers" is bound to be a secondary one; D'Artagnan has to be the star. He remarked, "In 'Madame Bovary,' I was one of the three lovers of Jennifer Jones."

But the Oklahoma loaner is grateful to the studio for giving him what he sought from the start. "I realized the importance of a movie 'name' when I was touring with 'Philadelphia Story,'" he recalled. "I knew that people like Lunt and Fontaine, Kathleen Corneil and Helen Hayes could fill houses for the first three days in a town, but business might fall off after that."

"But that movie 'name' at Keystone Studios could fill the house, even to the balconies, for a week or more."

"The power of the movie was also driven home to me when the film version of 'Philadelphia Story' came out. I realized that Jimmy Stewart, playing the same role I did on the stage, could be seen by as many people in two days as had seen me in two years of the play's run. And he got an Academy Award for doing it."

Heflin, who had topped as a B-picture actor at RKO in 1936, accepted an MGM contract in 1941. He started at $500 a week, $150 less than his stage salary. "I wasn't 'wounded with offers,' as the saying goes, about Broadway success," he said with unusual candor. "I took the salary cut because I wanted to get a movie 'name.' I realized I didn't have the good looks or personality to become a topflight star, but I felt I had enough competence as an actor to establish myself."

He did it in a hurry, by winning an Oscar in his third film, "Johnny Faree."

But after his three years in the Army, he was dissatisfied with his roles. He felt that his best ones were three he did on loan to other studios. So he got his revenge.

However, should he stray for Mr. Heflin's loss of three goes every pay day. His salary as a free-available for shipment north from the Sanford port would amount to more than $3,000 tons annually, including canned citrus.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins outlined the development of the St. Johns River and pointed out that Sanford had enjoyed water transportation for 50 years prior to 1943 when the coastwise steamers were taken over by the government.

He revealed that the Hudson Pulp and Paper Co., Palatka, had plans to ship paper bags and other paper products by barge lines if proper service is established. W. F. Ackerman of the National Lysium Co., Buffalo, N. Y., said that his company planned to use water transport in shipping building materials to Central Florida.

D. S. Dublin of the Alwegon Transportation Co., Jacksonville, told of plans to establish barge service here by Mar. 1.

A preliminary report on the hearing should be available by May 1, said Mr. Higgins, and a final report by August or September. Among those questioning witnesses was Dan R. Swartz, representing the Jacksonville Warehouse Assn.

mands, so that government purchases could be reduced. The department is required by law to support prices at not less than 60 percent of parity. The support is at the minimum level. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices, designed to be equally fair to producers and consumers.

Senator Anderson (D-S.M.), Brannan's predecessor as Secretary of Agriculture, said Congress, not the department, was to blame for the situation.

Anderson said Congress ought to do one of two things: authorize the department to control potato production, or simply drop the potato price support program.

The National Potato Council wired a protest against dropping the surplus tubes. It said carrying out such a program of destruction would jeopardize the entire price control system in the potato mind.

Anderson said Congress should advise Constable M. Saunders of St. Petersburg.

Gomez Awarded Purse But Moran Is Fined $10

Boxing Commission Rules Fight No Contest For Stalling

ORLANDO, Jan. 31.—(AP) For a while all eyes were turned to the fight between Gomez and Moran here last night. Gomez, once rated a contender for the heavyweight title, went in to the fight with a string of five knockouts and then added another in a minute, 50 seconds of the second round.

However, the city boxing commission thought neither fighter put all he had into the scrap, despite the knockout. They ordered a no-contest, held up, and ruled the fight no contest.

During a commission session which followed, however, Gomez was awarded his purse of $201 but Moran was fined $10 for stalling. Also fined $10 was Promoter Doug Barnes.

Gomez weighed in at 180; Moran at 198.

A crowd of some 1200 fight fans saw Gomez, after a cautious first round, land a grazing right which sent Moran to the canvas for an eight count in the second. Upon arising, he was met by a sharp left which landed high on the cheek and went down again.

As Referee Jess Willard counted to eight, Moran attempted to get back on his feet, but slipped to the canvas and was counted out.

Even before the two fighters left the ring, a group of Orlando Boxing Comm. members declared the bout "no contest" and ordered an immediate investigation of the affair.

In the preliminaries, Ray Reed Hartford, Conn., knocked out Jesse Mountain, Orlando in the first round. Sam Mordenti, Buffalo, N. Y., won a T. R. O. from Orlando's Chuck Flavia when the latter suffered an injury to his right hand and was unable to answer the fifth round bell. Coleman White, Tampa, won a decision over Claude Rolfe in six rounds.

In the bout that saved the night, Herb Quintel, youthful New Orleans stylist, defeated Orlando's Billy Kinard in the 10 round semi final. It was a rough and tumble fight all the way with Quintel winning unanimously.

Marshall Is Named To "1,000 Point Club"

ATLANTA, Jan. 31.—(AP) The "1,000 point club" of Southern Conference basketball has a new member, Howard Jack Marshall of Mississippi.

However, neither Marshall nor any other one thousand pointer leads scoring this year. The leader is sophomore center Bill Spivey of Kentucky, a seven foot three eighth incher, who has 292 points in 17 games this season.

Among SEC players who have scored more than 1,000 points in their college careers are Jim Riffe, Tulane center, 1,200 points; Bob Headley, Georgia, 1,113; Virgil Hines, Tulane, 1,100; Billy Joe Adcock, Vanderbilt, 1,057; and Marshall, 1,023.

All totals are for games through Saturday.

Spivey's total has come in 17 games on 118 field goals and 50 free throws.

Lagging behind Spivey in the 1949-50 race are Hines with 225 points in 18 games; Jim Lane, Kentucky, 221 points in 17 games; Bob Schloess, Georgia, 218 points, 14 games; and Colin Anderson and Melvin Dold, both Georgia Tech, 197 in 18 games.

Other players with 175 points or more are: Hickey, 180, 18 games; R. B. Reeves, Mississippi, 188, 18; Adcock, 185, 18; Tom Bowman, Tulane, 184, 15; Mel Payton, Tulane, 182, 15; Art Burris, Tennessee, 180, 15; and Marshall, 175, 16.

Michigan State's 1949-50 basketball team is being coached by Al Kircher, who is in his first year as capo mentor for the Spartans.

Ben White Raceway Near Sanford Boasts Future Top Harness Racers

By F. T. MACFARLEY
AP News Columnist

ORLANDO, Fla. Kindergarten in its session for harness races at the Ben White Raceway here.

Many promising juveniles, including the highest priced yearling in history—Imperial Hanover—are in training to join the grand circuit next spring.

Besides the youngsters many veteran pacers and trotters are resting after the 1949 campaigns and getting ready to begin training for 1950.

Imperial, "queen of trotters," and Indian Land are among the leading victors.

Ben White Raceway is filled to capacity and many horse owners who tried to make late reservations were turned away.

Stables in training include: E. Roland Hartman's Arden Homestead Stable of Gaston, N. Y., in charge of trainer Harry Powell.

W. M. Reynolds' Tangwood Farm Stable of Clamond, N. C., in charge of trainer Delvin Miller.

The Gene Powell stable from Memphis, N. Y., includes Fitzpatrick's Stable from Charleston, Ill., which includes many horses owned by R. H. Owen, Texas oilman.

Nat Hay's stable from Goshen and Gibson White's stable of Orlando.

Jordan Brothers stable from Rockford, Ill., in charge of trainer Chuck Runley.

Sam Caton's stable from Memphis, N. Y.

The William Erving Stable from Haledon, N. J., in charge of Leo Fleisch.

Ralph Verhurst and Son of Victor, N. Y., owners of Proximal.

Jerry Bair of Elgin, Ill. Most of the speculation this winter centers around Imperial Hanover. He cost the M & W Stable of Orlando the unprecedented price of $75,000 at the Harrisburg, Pa., auction.

Ben White, veteran driver and trainer, represented the Orlando buyers at the auction and had to outbid Houston oil magnate Owen to get the full brother of two great harness horses—Red-

Holy Cross Is Named Best Team For Third Week

Idle All Week, Nevertheless Picked By 92 Of 157 Writers

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP) "We think we're the best in the nation. And we'll keep on thinking it until somebody beats us."

The speaker? Lester Sheary, coach of unbeaten Holy Cross which today was voted the nation's top basketball team for the third straight week in the Associated Press poll.

"Team play has done it," Sheary said. "We use a three-platoon system, employing 15 players. After all, common sense says 15 men can outrun eight or nine."

The "Triple-Team" was added to the 157 ballots cast by sportswriters and broadcasters throughout the country.

All told, Holy Cross totaled 1,145 points. Duquesne (14-0), undefeated in the Eastern Conference, placed second with 1,040 and 10 first place votes. The two leaders are the only undefeated teams in the country.

However, the top two face a lumpy week. Holy Cross tangles with mild Springfield tonight and Chicago Loyola on Saturday. Duquesne has two tough customers in Cincinnati and Louisville.

Bradley (17-0), registered an impressive triumph over Tulsa and St. Louis to advance from sixth to third place. Close behind came Long Island University.

St. John's of Brooklyn (12-2), which ruled the roost for several weeks, held its No. 5 spot, followed in order by Kentucky (11-4), Ohio State (12-3), La Salle (12-2), North Carolina State (12-3) and CCNY (10-2).

The top teams (first place votes in parentheses and record including last night's games with points on 10-28-7-5-1-3-2-1) ranked as follows:

Cardinals Grid Coach To Be Named Soon

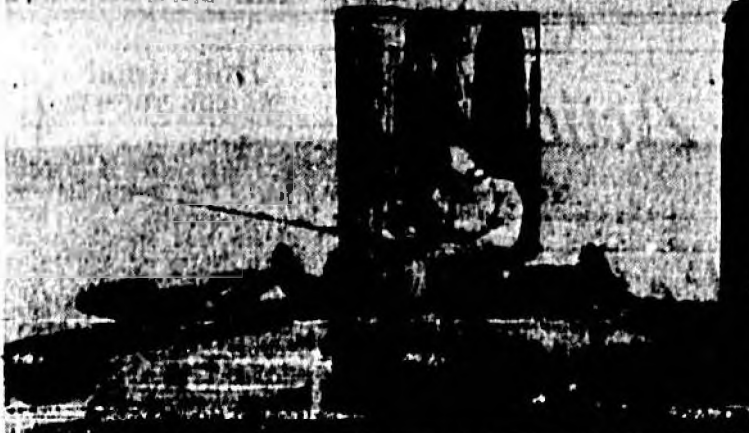

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(AP) One of the best kept sports secrets of the year has been the name of the new Chicago Cardinals football coach.

He is to be announced by President Ray Bennett at a Cardinals press conference tomorrow. It would be Clark Shaughnessy, the old T-formation master who presently is coach of the Los Angeles Rams.

Curly Lambeau, pro football player who organized the Green Bay Packers as a sandlot team in 1919 or any one of a dozen whose names have been buzzed.

Only thing definite is that Eddie Anderson, whose resignation at Iowa brought on a windfall of new rumors, will not be the Cardinals skipper. He is going back to Holy Cross.

Bennett has completed interviewing five or six applicants and has indicated the selection has

Kansas State Is Defeated 65-63 By Nebraskans

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP) High ranking Ohio State, Kentucky and Western Kentucky came through with basketball victories last night while Kansas State stumbled.

Ohio State (12-3), seventh-ranked in the Associated Press poll, polished off Purdue, 59-52, to take a tighter hold on first place in the western conference.

High-scoring Dick Schultz finished with 25 points for the Buckeye. Kentucky (14-4) had a hard time downing Vanderbilt, 68-54. Vandy (11-0) now shares the Southwestern Conference lead with Auburn. The Tigers defeated Mississippi, 77-63, to make their SEC record 6-2.

Western Kentucky (15-4) had its easy win with Tampa, 79-59. Rip (14) scored 21 and Bob Lavoy 21 in the Bluegrass victory.

Nebraska (11-4) upset BIV seven leader Kansas State in overtime, 66-63. The loss dropped K-State into a three-way tie for 22 with the Cornhuskers and Kansas.

Tulane (12-1) kept in the SEC title chase with a 68-55 victory over Tennessee.

Unbeaten St. Bonaventure won its game, defeating touring Texas Wesleyan, 65-59. Villanova (14-3) trailed Seton Hall during most of the first half before spurring to a 71-54 victory.

Wyoming (11-5) edged Utah State, 32-28, and Brigham Young defeated Utah, 61-51 in Skyline city headliners.

Clyde Lovellette scored 30 points in leading Kansas to a 76-59 rout of Drake. Loyola of Chicago handed Oklahoma A&M its worst defeat of the season, 41-31.

Arizona (16-2) trounced Santa Clara, 80-64, in a Far West contest. Oklahoma topped Texas, 63-48. Princeton thumped Rutgers, 60-62, to set a new Tiger scoring mark.

George Mikan Chosen Greatest Basketball Player In 50 Years

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP) Eight years ago he was just a big awkward guy.

Today George Mikan was named the greatest basketball player of the last 50 years by sportswriters and broadcasters participating in the Associated Press' mid-century poll.

It is significant that it seems hardly necessary to identify Mikan as 47—George Mikan, University star now with the Minneapolis Lakers in the National Basketball Association. Mikan has developed to the point where he is called by many "Mr. Basketball."

The electric lights on Madison Square Garden's marquee blink "George Mikan vs Knicks" when the Lakers meet the New York Knickerbockers. That in symbolism of Mikan's greatness has been achieved in the case sport.

Respected 65-foot-nine Mikan, whose 53 points in one college game still stands as a college record and who holds virtually all the individual scoring marks in the NBA, polled 189 of votes cast.

Frank Luissett, Stanford's who of 13 years ago, was very much in the running. He got the running spot with 133. Luissett averaged 16.8 points for 95 games during his college career compared to Mikan's 15.1 for 98 games. Luissett's high one game mark was 60 points against Duquesne compared to Mikan's 53 against Rhode Island State.

Mikan and Luissett far outdistanced the others. Nat Holman, the original New York Celtics and now of City College of New York, was third with 87.5. Joe Fulks, of the Philadelphia Warriors whose 63-point single game mark in the NBA Mikan has yet to eclipse, and Forrest (Red) DeBernardi, who played with the St. Joseph (Mo) Hillside in the twenties, each received seven votes and tied for sixth.

Two other members of the original New York Celtics—Joe Lapchick, now coach of New York's NBA team, and Rich Dehnert, credited with inventing the modern pivot play at Chattanooga in 1926—tied for eighth. Each got six votes.

Bob Smith, Oklahoma A&M's star of four and five years ago and now with the Phillips Oilers, completes the top ten. He received four votes.

National Leagues Schedule Games To Show Rookies

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(Special) —With an abundance of promising young talent fighting for a chance to make the big leagues, National League clubs have arranged an extensive exhibition game schedule for this spring. While the list of games is smaller than in the three years immediately following the end of the war, a total of 224 will be played and this schedule does not include at least a score of games that will see action by '49 squads.

Except for the pennant winning Dodgers, all the National League teams will play at least 30 games. The largest number scheduled is 36 and these will be played by the Phillies, the Giants and the Cubs. The Dodgers are ordered for only 27 games and the Yankees will be busy with their world series opponents.

The National League has been given the honor of dedicating the new big Stadium at Miami, Florida, with major league ball. The Dodgers and Braves will play the first major league game at the new park on March 11 and will repeat the feat the next day. All National League teams will see action on March 11 when the exhibition schedule will be launched. And, with few exceptions, the teams will be busy with games right up to the day before the season starts on Tuesday, April 18.

Of the 224 games listed, there will be 47 between National League teams, 58 games against minor league opposition, 2 games against teams not in organized baseball and 117 games against American League teams.

All National League teams return to the same training bases at which they were in 1949. The Cubs, however, will spend the first ten days on Catalina Island and then their winter camp in Los Angeles as their main base. Training starts on March 1st and will find the Braves at Bradenton, Fla.; Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla.; Cubs at Catalina Island; Reds at Tampa, Fla.; Giants at Phoenix, Ariz.

Don Mueller, who is returning for another chance with the Giants is the son of Walter Hume Mueller, who, like Don, played the outfield. Heine Mueller played with the Pirates in the early twenties.

All five of Villanova's 1950 baseball starters are seniors.

Phillies at Clearwater, Fla.; Pirates at San Bernardino, Cal. and Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Reuther Trial

Bolton, 39, longtime minor official of Reuther's CIO United Auto Workers Union, is charged with assault with intent to kill the UAW president.

The tall, slim defendant, now serving a prison term for robbery, has an alibi that he was in a pool room at the time Reuther was shot Apr. 20, 1948.

The questioning of prospective jurors indicated that much of the state's case hinges on circumstantial evidence.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Rashid insisted that jurors be willing to convict on such evidence.

Defense counsel Joseph Louis said the Reuther case is "the most important case in the history of the union movement." He claimed that Bolton should be acquitted unless "there is no innocent theory possible" and unless "all avenues of innocence are cut off."

Louis, with Rashid objecting strenuously, mentioned several times the shooting of Victor Reuther 15 months after his brother was fired on through a window of his home.

The defense attorneys' obvious purpose was to hint that the same gunman might have shot both Walter and Victor, the UAW established director. Bolton was in prison at the time of the Victor Reuther shooting and nobody has been charged in that case. The two assaults were almost identical.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY DAY CELEBRATED AT THE SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH
Dangerous trends towards curbing of religious liberties in the United States were stressed by Elder Williams at the Sanford Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Saturday. In a special program, carried out in all Adventist Churches of the nation, warning was sounded against proposed laws which could affect every church organization in its free use of the press.

There were six such bills now before Congress, Elder Williams pointed out, any of which could be interpreted so as to prevent even the New Testament from being distributed through the channels of interstate and foreign commerce and the United States mail. The same laws would keep various classes of church literature from circulating freely in the land.

The congregation was also told that ancient Sunday Blue Laws are still on the statute books of many states. They are from the time of the complete religious freedom to Catholic, Jews and Protestants alike. Sunday law prosecution during 1949 were reported in at least 100 states. Some states have invited religious freedom of most, the taking of oaths and the printing of windows on Sunday.

Members were urged to widely distribute the quarterly magazine devoted exclusively to protecting the religious liberties of every American.

Bidault Wins

The official tally was 293 to 293. By this the national assembly refused to adopt the cabinet's figure of 1,095,000,000 francs (about $3,120,000,000) for non-military expenses of the government.

Bidault was not obliged to resign because of the tie. To force him to resign the combined opposition—Communists, DeGaulists and right wingers—would have needed an absolute majority, or 311 votes.

The tie vote, on the heels of three confidence votes he won in quick succession on other budget issues, was not considered by parliamentary observers as particularly dangerous to Bidault. They said some formula to solve the issue would be found.

A fifth vote of confidence demanded by Bidault on his budget as a whole, was scheduled at 4 P. M. (10 A. M., EST).

Bidault won the first vote of the day 293 to 292.

France looks on the recognition by Russia of the anti-French Ho Chi-Minh regime in Indo-China as "an act of very great gravity."

The Soviet venture into the rapidly Indo-Chinese situation made that far eastern rubber and rich rice land a hot spot in the cold war.

Mo Sticks

Russia has denounced the French-supported Bao Dai regime as a "puppet government" representing only a small group of reactionaries. Paris observers said Russian support of the Communist-led rebel forces in Indo-China might lead to another situation like the one in the Congo, where American armaments finally tipped the scales against the Communist guerrillas.

The Russian diplomatic move came only a few hours after a report from Washington said Secretary of State Dean Acheson had sent greetings to Bao Dai expressing the hope of establishing closer relations. Britain is expected to recognize Bao Dai next week and the United States, it was anticipated, would follow suit.

A French foreign office source said the Russian move was "unnecessary" and complicated the situation considerably. He criticized Russia for recognizing "the enemies of France."

The Indo-Chinese situation is similar to that in Indonesia before the Dutch gave the Indonesians their independence. The forces under Ho are Nationalists fighting for political separation from the French. France's parliament last week granted the government of Bao Dai considerable autonomous powers.

The Russians today resumed their truck traffic in Germany. There was no reason given for the renewal of the blockade which had been lifted yesterday.

Missing Plane

Continued from Page One. Co., Anchorage, who was aboard as a civilian observer. Names of the others were not learned, but all were crewmen from Elmendorf Field.

Harden's plane struck the trees near the foot of Mount Caribou in midmorning while flying low in search of the vanished C-54.

He walked with the others for several hours, but not alone for help. For six hours he struggled through waist high snow and brush. Darkness fell, but he kept on.

At 7:30 P. M. (10:30 P. M. EST) he reached the road. There he was found by the engineer corps workmen, standing unsteadily in a snow bank and weakly explained what had happened. The foot was crippled.

The exhausted pilot had carried his pack and sleeping bag with him in the long, arduous trek through the snow. He said he had planned to sleep by the roadside if no one had come along. While making his way out, Harden later missed being crushed by a falling tree.

Hatchler and Watson joined the ground crew, forging in the crash survivors with food and medical supplies.

The swift moving rescue operation temporarily delisted the search for the C-54 which disappeared on a highway flight from Anchorage to Biggs Field, El Paso, Tex.

The big, four-engine transport last reported over Snag, 20 miles inside the snowbound, mountainous Yukon territory. It is believed down somewhere between Snag and Fort Nelson, B. C., but the entire 1,200 mile airway to the Alaskan border is being scoured by search parties.

Thirty-two rescue craft from Whitehorse, Yukon, carrying 43,600 pounds of supplies, are on their way to search. Ten more made stops from Fort Nelson.

Eleven American planes were able to get away from Great Falls, Mont., despite sultry weather and crossed the airway corridor 200 miles north to Fort Nelson.

Weather conditions were generally good throughout the day and are expected to remain favorable today. But with the clearing skies, temperatures have dropped below zero in the Yukon, known as the continent's ice box, to lessen chances of survival by these search parties.

The rescue party's expected load included 24 returning servicemen, an expectant mother and her 2-year-old son, and eight crewmen.

Coal Crisis

Reference to this proposal. "If production will be so reduced this proposal may be discarded."

"If you can not inform me that normal production will be resumed on Monday without reference to this proposal, I would then want your reply to this proposal by 5 P. M. Saturday, Feb. 4, and I urge your acceptance in the national interest."

The telegram was sent to Lewis and to George H. Love, operators' spokesman for the National Bituminous Coal Producers Association.

Mr. Truman told them that the coal dispute visits "severe hardship upon the miners and their families, and severe economic loss upon those who have invested in bituminous coal mines." He said continuous production of an adequate soft coal supply is essential to the nation's economic stability, progress and security.

He added: "Continuing stoppages, restrictions in production and shortages which result from the inability of the parties to settle their dispute, are of grave concern to the people of the nation."

A federal district court is to be held here tomorrow on a request from Robert Denham, general counsel of National Labor Relations Board, for an order to stop the three-day mining work week.

Mr. Truman's move presumably will not interfere with that Denham contends Lewis is using "unfair" labor practices in an effort to coerce the operators into accepting an illegal contract.

Among other things, Denham contends that Lewis' demand for a union shop—one where all miners must join the union—is illegal since the Fair-Hartley law bars a union shop except when it has been voted by the workers in an NLRB-conducted election. There has been no election in mining.

consistent with the over-all objectives of our program for peace and security.

"This we shall continue to do until a satisfactory plan for international control of atomic energy is achieved. We shall also continue to examine all those factors that affect our program for peace and security."

The question of whether the United States should undertake the production of the bomb has been under behind-the-scenes debate for at least four months—perhaps longer.

A government committee has considered it as well as key members of Congress.

The Senate-Atomic Energy Committee has held a series of meetings about it, talking with military leaders, scientists and others.

So far as has been disclosed, this committee has never taken a formal vote but there have been plain indications that a majority of the group favors trying to develop the bomb.

The cost of the project has been variously estimated up to $1,000,000,000.

But some estimates have run as low as $100,000,000.

And she could never touch finger of her daddy, she adored him. It was against the very fiber of her being. She couldn't possibly, if she was sane, do such a thing.

The state is trying Carol for second degree murder. The penalty is life in prison.

The defense is arguing that the girl was temporarily insane when she shot her father last Sept. 28, driven out of her mind by grief when she learned he had cancer.

Defense Attorney David Goldstein asked Mrs. Paigh if she was sure Carol Ann loved her 62-year-old father, Sgt. Carl Paigh of the Stamford, Conn., police.

The widow, dressed in black, replied: "She did love him very, very much—we all loved him. Goldstein wanted to know if Carol was a good daughter.

"She was a very good girl," said the mother, shifting her gaze to Carol Ann. The girl was dabbling her eyes with a white handkerchief.

Mrs. Paigh, tilting her chin and looking squarely at the jury, said: "He was a marvelous husband."

The widow testified Carol Ann had a dread of cancer, since an aunt died of the disease when she was four years old. When Carol was 14, another aunt died of the disease.

"She showed a great deal of emotion and talked about it long afterward," said Mrs. Paigh of her daughter. "What would say 'poor Aunt Alice' and then she would cry."

HOW MANY

do you think were installed in Florida in 1949?

The year 1949 was such a big year in the growth of telephone facilities and service, we thought you would like to know some of the facts and figures. Here's the story of the year in brief:

New Telephones
More than 100,000 new telephones were installed in Florida last year! That's a lot of telephones, requiring the addition of huge quantities of wire, cable, poles, central office equipment and new buildings or building additions.

New Buildings
Sixteen new buildings, or building additions were completed in the state last year and work is under way on other new building projects for 1950.

People at Work
At the close of 1949 there were more than 6,000 people employed by Southern Bell in Florida. When for these men and women are added to millions of others—a substantial contribution to trade and prosperity throughout the state.

Rural Telephones
Many thousands more were being strung by lines in rural areas throughout the state last year. During the year more than 26,300 new rural telephones were installed.

Money Spent
This vast expansion and improvement of telephone service in Florida in 1949 cost more than $20,000,000. This was over and above the cost of maintenance and repair work on existing telephone equipment.

Florida and its people are growing as never before and are by continuing our all-out effort to make telephone service convenient, efficient, reliable and available to more and more people.

Radio Signals Spur Searchers Of Lost C-54

Weak Signals Revive Hopes Of Finding Survivors Of Missing Plane In Alaska

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., Feb. 1. (AP)— Search headquarters confirmed here today that weak radio signals had been picked up in the area where a USAF C-54 disappeared six days ago with 44 persons aboard.

Capt. E. G. Nogar, attached to the search operations office confirmed the report and said full details had been filed with the coordinating headquarters here.

No investigation of the signals has yet been attempted, he said, but planes will comb the area, 112 miles northwest of Fort Nelson, B. C. at daybreak today.

Word of the signals, first denied by search officials, revived faint hopes that some of the 44 persons missing aboard the lost plane may be alive.

A plane was ordered to take off before dawn with special radio technicians. They will concentrate on locating the faint signals and tracing them, if possible, to their source.

A fleet of search planes will follow in an intensified sweep of the region, about 45 miles southeast of Whitehorse.

The "very weak signal" was reported by Capt. E. A. David, radio operator aboard a T-54 attached to the 54th Transport Command. It was not clear immediately whether the plane was participating in the search or picked up the message while on another flight.

David said the signal came in on 600 kilocycles, lasted two minutes and appeared to come from an emergency set in the C-54 which he thought was on the message while on another flight.

Carraway Greet Military Chiefs As Camp Opens

City and County officials were welcomed at a luncheon at the New York Gun headquarters yesterday by Charles Carraway as the Giants got under way with their baseball training camp at the Municipal Airport.

As the officials entered the former J. O. Q. building, they passed long rows of young men standing in line to register for the baseball school, which is conducted by Carl Habbell. Nearly 300 were registered by nightfall and about 600 are expected to attend the school. All will be housed in the building.

Mr. Carraway termed the co-operation of Sanford and Seminole County with the Giants as "wonderful," and told how he first came here in 1947 to view the prospects for a Giant training set up, and predicted that they will be here for many years.

City Commissioner John Kuder introduced Mayor Andrew Carraway who extended greetings to the Giants in behalf of the City and County.

Meeting Is Planned For Cattle Market

County Agent C. R. Dawson today urged all cattlemen of the district to attend a meeting to establish a cattle market. The meeting will take place at 7:30 o'clock at the Union Park Women's Club, eight miles east of Orlando.

At the first meeting, a work group, a committee was appointed to investigate several sites offered for the market. Mr. Dawson stated. Reports of the committee will be heard at the meeting.

"This market is going to get going right now, so if you want to be a part of it" he advised cattlemen, "get in on the ground floor."

Work Is Started On New Store Building

Work was started yesterday on the construction of a one story, concrete block building which will contain three 20 by 45 foot stores. It was announced this morning by Fred Williams and Dr. Orville Barko, co-developers and owners of the building project which is to occupy the lot on Palmiste Avenue opposite the Fire Station.

The building should be completed about April 1, said Elton J. Moughton, architect. Two of the stores will have conventional fronts and the other will have a recessed front with what he described as an "egg crate type" of show window, so called because the glass is divided into squares similar to windows in the Garden Club building. Exterior bulkheads below the windows will be of glazed tile.

Ceilings of the stores will be of concrete tile, while flooring in one store will be haphazard tile, and concrete in the others. T. S. Crawley is contractor.

Vinson Calls For Retiring Of Battleship

Armed Services Head Calls 'Mo' Too Expensive For Fleet; Suggests Carrier

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (AP)— After the Navy finally pried the battleship Missouri off a Chesapeake Bay mud flat today, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) proposed that the nation's only active dreadnaught be put in mothballs and a carrier sent to sea in its place.

When Vinson speaks, all hands in the Navy listen. He is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and he would seek formal action from that group next Tuesday.

Vinson said it costs too many millions to keep a battleship in service in relation to its usefulness under modern combat conditions. The Navy estimates it costs about $6,750,000 a year to keep the "Mighty Mo" in the fleet.

Meanwhile, Vinson's committee would up its hearing on President Truman's proposal to extend the peacetime draft law three more years.

While the committee may not reach a decision on the matter for some time, the members were obviously and for a straight contest on the possibility of continuing the law as stand-by until only with Congress deciding when or if induction would be resumed.

No more have been drafted under the law throughout the past year.

The Senate reached the voting stage today on a proposed constitutional amendment that would de-militarize the importance of state-by-state contests in electing a president. Prospects for approval did not seem bright.

Meanwhile, southern democrats used filibuster tactics in the House today to keep FEPC legislation from getting to the floor.

Before the session was one hour old they forced two-time whether or not to allow a vote on whether majority of the House was attending the session.

Their purpose every Wednesday is "celebrating day in the House." Committees are called alphabetically to bring up bills they have approved.

The labor committee has approved a Fair Employment Practices (FEPC) bill. Eventually the bill will be reached by the end of the calendar. By delaying things, the FEPC opponents kept off the call of the labor committee.

Public Hearing To Be Held On Plea To Re-Zone Area

A public hearing will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock to consider the re-zoning of a portion of land in the French Avenue, Twentieth Street district, City Manager Clifford McKibbin announced today.

The residential re-zoning as proposed will be from the R-1 to R-2 status in order to permit the building of homes of the $7,500 to $8,500 type. According to McKibbin, who is carrying on extensive building operation here, a shortage of R-2 zoned property now exists where developments can be carried out on a large scale.

The two properties considered for re-zoning are Highland Park bounded by French Avenue, the alley east of Oak Avenue, Twentieth and Twenty-fourth Streets, and Franklin Terrace, including a portion of Pine Heights. This is bounded by French Avenue, the alley east of Oak Avenue, Twentieth and Twenty-fifth Streets.

At the hearing, said Mr. McKibbin, the two properties will be considered separately.

Scandinavians Beat Housing Problems; Have Very Few Slums

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (AP)— Five lawmakers who toured northern Europe last year reported to the Senate today that the Scandinavian countries and Holland use co-operative housing systems "with much success to solve their housing program."

They also said the slums in Europe aren't as bad as some in America.

The five Senators — members of the banking committee — avoided recommending the co-op system to end housing shortages in the United States.

They will pass on that question later, probably tomorrow. The five are Senators Sparkman (D-Miss.), Maybank (D-S.C.), Flanders (R-Ind.), Flanders (R-Ind.) and Bricker (R-Ohio).

They are considering President Truman's latest housing plan for families of "moderate income." It would set up a new national mortgage corporation for housing co-operatives with $100,000,000 from the treasury. It could borrow up to $2,000,000,000 from private investors, under government guarantee, for loans to co-operatives. The loan could run for as long as 40 years with low interest rates, probably 8 per cent at first.

The report on European housing apparently was intended to serve as background for arguments that will come on the Administration's move to aid co-operatives here.

These points were emphasized in the report:

1. The European countries and cities which were visited apparently have done a better job of eliminating or cleaning up slums than this country, including the capital city of Washington.

2. Every country is still on-

Government Insists Fruit On Trees Is Taxable As Income

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 1. (AP)— It will be after Apr. 17 before Florida citrus growers know the answer to the question of whether fruit on trees is taxed as income or capital when a grove is sold.

Judge Clarence Opper, of the federal tax court will make the decision. He heard the case discussed at a hearing today, and set Mar. 30 as the deadline for the filing of main briefs and Apr. 17 for replies.

Miss Louise Owen of Winter Haven claims a grove she sold in 1944 should be treated purely as a real estate transaction. The profit there would be subject only to long term capital gain tax.

The government says Mrs. Owen owes $448 income taxes on the sale for fruit on the trees worth $8,500. Capital gain tax does not exceed 26 per cent and therefore would be lower than the income tax.

A similar suit has been filed in federal court in Orlando, but citrus growers are watching the federal tax court's decision because it will affect citrus groves all over the nation.

Attorneys on both sides agreed the stipulation to the facts in the Owen case today and only one witness was heard by Judge Opper.

He was Frank Beymont, of Jacksonville.
