Port Authority Vote Nears

'SINKHOLE ALARM' spread over Sanford Friday afternoon when a drive-way caved in at a still-unopened-for-business service station at Onora Road and Highway 17-92. City attaches . . . who said the cause and damages are between two contractors . . . reported a water pipe burst and washed away the fill. (Herald Photo)

Senate Okays Canal District Amendment

TALLAHASSEE (Spl.) — A bill establishing a Seminole County Port Authority to operate the Port of Sanford was headed toward action today in the Florida Legislature. The bill, introduced in the House Saturday by Rep. S. Joseph Davis Jr., was expected to be brought out of the governmental organization (local) committee Wednesday or Thursday, voted on and sent to the Senate. Davis told The Herald today that he expected action on the measure to be completed by Friday. Another bill, granting the St. Johns-River Canal District powers to condemn property and issue $12 million in obligation bonds for right-of-way, passed the Senate today.

Longwoodites To Elect City Councilman Tuesday

JOHN DEATON

DANIEL SCREONEY

JAMES REITER

HOMER SCOTT

By Donna Estes
Campaign platforms of the four candidates running for the office of councilman in Tuesday's special election in the city of Longwood were released today to The Sanford Herald. Making statements were Daniel Screoney, John Deaton, James Reiter and Homer Scott. The council seat open is one vacated by R. C. Carlson, who resigned recently due to ill health. Screoney, who was drafted and qualified by a group of residents just before the May 22 noon deadline, says that if elected he will work for a progressive city doing what he believes to be in the best interests of the community and at the same time will oppose any program detrimental to the city. Married, with a son-in-law, daughter, and one grandchild, he has been a resident of Longwood for 15 years, is a former mayor of the city, past president of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce and member of its board of directors, past member of the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department, and is a member of Christ Episcopal Church. Better city government is basis of Deaton's campaign. He is married, a deacon of the First Baptist Church of Longwood, and has resided in the city for 18 months. A native of South Carolina, he served in the Marine Corps for 16 years and prior to coming to Longwood, lived in Orlando for 10 years. Having attended most of the council meetings in the last six months, he plans if elected to urge changes in the present system of tax collection. Reiter is well-known in the community, having served 13 years on the council before his defeat by only four votes in December 1963. If elected he promised to "see to it" that Longwood has a clean government. Scott also is well-known in Longwood, having been a resident for 42 years and a local businessman for 18 years. Being interested in the betterment of Longwood, he pledged if elected to work for good, sound government. He is married, has four children and five grandchildren. He attends the Baptist Church and is a member of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce where he is on the board of directors.

Lyman Student 'Critical' After Vehicle Mishap

By Jane Casselberry
A 17-year-old Lyman High School student, Gary Massey, is in critical condition today at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, suffering head injuries received when his motor scooter and a compact car collided. The accident occurred as Gary was leaving school on SR427. He also received cuts and bruises on the face and arms. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Massey, of Forest City. The car was driven by Michael McClary, of Sanford. Trooper John McConnell was the investigating officer. Miss Donna Ann Southward, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Southward, 120 Elliott Avenue, received a broken collarbone and other possible injuries in an auto collision this morning. The accident occurred at the intersection of Mellonville Avenue and Second Street. Driver of the other vehicle was James Rushing, 65, of Indiantonic. Miss Southward's compact car received about $500 in damages. The Rushing vehicle was ruled a total loss. No charges have been filed in the accident yet, according to investigating P.I.M. T. E. Deppen.

Sinkhole Work Commenced

Work preliminary to filling in the sinkhole on Northmoor Road, Casselberry, began today when workmen removed the roof on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rosolaky, destroyed by a cave-in May 15. It is necessary to remove all combustible material from the house before the hole and house are covered. LeRoy Robb Construction Company of Sanford, is the contractor and the town's engineering firm, Leffer, Clark, Deits and Associates will supervise the project. Contract price is $100 per day, including necessary equipment. The State Road Department and county commission have offered cooperation in repairing damage done to the street and property as a result of the sinkhole. Town Clerk Mary Hawthorne said today that although there is still one property owner that has not signed a release absolving the town of liability during the filling operation, the alderman has decided to proceed with the work on the advice of engineers.

Teacher-Recruit Bill Introduced

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The much-publicized bill for a recruitment of teachers to offset the recent criticism of the so-called "political atmosphere" surrounding Florida schools was introduced in the Senate today. It authorizes School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey to use any school funds at his disposal to advertise and promote the advantages of teaching in Florida, including the information that the average teacher pay is the highest in the Southeast. It was an outgrowth of a move by the professional teachers organization, Florida Educational Association, to have the national parent organization investigate the Florida school picture with a possibility that sanctions will be voted against the state as a good place for teachers to work.

Americans Honor War Dead

United Press International
Americans honored the dead of their wars today, but even as they did so, other Americans faced death on a weary world's new battlefield. At President John F. Kennedy's grave and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier on the rolling slopes of Arlington National Cemetery, at ten thousand and one country church-sides where freshly cut flowers spoke of the hopes of the resurrection, Americans prayed that not again would their loved ones fall before battle bullets. But not all of their prayers were answered on this day. In Viet Nam, at least one American was killed in the latest fighting. In the Dominican Republic as well as in West Germany and Korea, the scenes of other wars, Americans brandished guns and unfurled the flag in hopes that freedom might prevail. Indianapolis 500 Factors Are All 'Go'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Thirty-three daredevil drivers got off on schedule today in the grueling chase for auto racing's richest prize, the $250,000 500-mile speedway classic. The race cars, led by the qualifying record-setter driven by pole winner A. J. Foyt, were pushed to their pit positions before 9 a. m. and later were to move into the starting grid after the ceremonial parade of bands. The temperature an hour before starting time was 73 degrees with a slight overcast to cut the heat from the sun and a mild wind from the southwest between 5 and 10 miles per hour. The parade of celebrities, with Gus Grissom drawing the biggest hand, went off without a hitch to the occasional burst of noise from a motor warming up in the pits. The race promised to be one of the most interesting in its 49 years and might determine whether future racers will stay with rear engine models or return to the roadster type which has won every event here since 1946.

Total Eclipse

HONOLULU (UPI) — Scientists from five nations today began the tedious task of analyzing and sorting data collected Sunday when they "followed the sun" for nearly 10 minutes during a total eclipse.

SHORT TRIP

DAVIE (UPI) — Volunteer firemen didn't have far to go when the alarm went off Sunday night. The fire was in the firehouse.

MIAMI (UPI) — The highway patrol reported two more deaths today which pushed Florida's Memorial Day weekend toll to 19. The National Safety Council said "it seems certain" the previous record of 431 deaths for a three-day weekend, set last year, would be shattered. A United Press International count at 11:30 a. m. (EST) showed at least 382 persons killed in traffic accidents. The breakdown of all accidents: Traffic 382, Drownings 64, Planes 11, Miscellaneous 54, Total 511. California led the nation with 47 traffic deaths, followed by Texas 24 and Ohio 22. New York 21, Michigan 20, Missouri and Florida 17 each and Illinois 15. The count was calculated from 6 p. m. local time Friday until midnight local time

Floods, Storms Pound Texas

United Press International
Unseasonably cool weather covered most of the eastern half of the nation today. Floods, storms and hail continued to pound sections of Texas. One woman drowned Sunday night when rising waters of the Black River rushed across a highway south of Carlsbad, Tex., and pushed her pickup truck into a gully along the road. She was identified as Mrs. Henry Nettles, 60, Pasadena, Tex. Two grandchildren with her were missing. Funnel clouds, hail and heavy rains were reported Sunday night in Kansas and Oklahoma as well as Texas. Newkirk, Okla., was hit by golfball sized hail. Funnel clouds were sighted near Dodge City, Kan., and Lubbock, Tex.

Gemini Flight Schedule Intact

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The federal space agency said today that a "leak" in the Gemini-4 spacecraft's water system turned out to be a corrected in time to keep Thursday the date for the world's most daring manned space flight. The four-day, 63-orbit mission calls for astronaut Edward White to become the first man to slip about in space with a "jet gun" and for command pilot James McDivitt to maneuver the Gemini-4 ship to within 10 feet of another satellite.

FIRE ANTS
More than 124,000 acres in Seminole County have been treated against the imported fire ants, Cecil Tucker, county agent said. Total area is 180,000 acres, which Tucker said he hoped would be finished this week.

INDIAN AQUAMAIDS at Cypress Gardens whopped it up with a rain dance for Seminole County Sunday morning . . . and the rains (.22 of an inch) came Sunday afternoon in Sanford and other areas. Drought conditions in Seminole still are critical, however.

North Viet Nam Communists Inflict Heavy Losses On Allies

QUANG NGAI, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A large force of Communists inflicted heavy losses today on South Vietnamese troops near this provincial capital 240 miles northeast of Saigon. A Vietnamese general said most of the Communists were regulars from North Viet Nam.

One U. S. Army adviser was killed and another was missing. At least 300 Vietnamese bodies were counted on the battlefield.

The body of the slain American, a captain serving as an adviser to the third Vietnamese marine battalion, was found on top of a small hill strewn with the bodies of 80 to 75 Vietnamese soldiers who had been hit by a rain of devastating mortar fire.

The missing man was a U. S. Army sergeant serving with the captain.

The battle began Saturday in what appeared to be the start of Communists' long-anticipated monsoon offensive to slice South Viet Nam in two.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of the Vietnamese army's 1st Corps, said the Communist force of seven battalions included at least four battalions of North Vietnamese army regulars.

Arriving in Quang Ngai from his headquarters at Da Nang, Thi produced a notebook he said was taken from a slain Communist officer.

The notebook contained the names and hometowns of North Vietnamese soldiers in the four battalions, Thi said.

"It is North Vietnamese troops which are attacking," Thi said.

The heaviest fighting was around Ba Gia, a government outpost about 10 miles north-west of Quang Ngai.

Newsmen flying over the area today could see the mangled bodies on top of the hill which the Communists had attacked with heavy mortar fire.

Thi ordered Vietnamese marine reinforcements into the area today and said the outpost could probably hold out through the night.

Heavy rain hampered the movement of heavy equipment. U. S. and South Vietnamese air force planes pounded Communist positions with rockets, bombs and fiery napalm, bombs and fiery napalm in an effort to drive the attackers out.

Operational headquarters here intermittently lost contact with the beleaguered 39th Vietnamese Ranger Battalion and the Third Vietnamese Marine Battalion during fighting Sunday night and early today.

In air action Sunday, U. S. warplanes made their deepest penetration yet into North Viet Nam, dropping 40 tons of bombs on a Communist ammunition depot only 45 miles south of Hanoi.

A spokesman said the attacking force of 16 Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs destroyed 60 per cent of the Hanoi ammunition dump.

An ordinary drop of water contains about six sextillion atoms.

Fallout . . Science Aid

The old saying that it's an ill wind that blows nobody good still holds true even if the wind is laden with radioactive fallout.

Not that fallout is good for anybody, but it has enabled scientists to develop a new method of tracing vital chemical and physical changes in the human body.

Science Service reports that the radioactive carbon released by the "dirty" H-bombs of 1961 and 1962, and which has been absorbed by every living thing, is being utilized by scientists at the University of California to study the formation and decay of tissues and cells.

"It is as if," says one of the scientists, "somebody with a gigantic global syringe injected some radioactive carbon as a tracer in every plant, animal and person in the world."

Fortunately, while measurable, the amounts of the element are considered far below the danger level.

Beavers . . Busy But Dizzy

Folklore-busting has long been a sideline of practical scientists.

Consider the much-admired beaver and this expose from the National Geographical Society. The industrious little creatures may be eager, but they aren't very smart.

They can't use four out of every five trees they cut down. Sometimes they fall trees so huge they can't budge them on the ground. Not infrequently a beaver is flattened by the tree he so patiently gnawed through.

Contrary to popular belief, beavers can't control the direction in which trees fall. They have a high score only because most trees conveniently lean toward streams.

Even with all the poor planning and wasted effort, beavers produce some engineering wonders. Dams 200 feet long are routine. The longest on record stretched for 4,000 feet.

Such dams store water, preserve top soil and create meadows, and will continue to amaze us despite the debunking.

Thought For Today

Do not be conformed to this world but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that you may prove what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. —Romans 12:2.

Do not look back, and do not dream about the future. It will neither give you back the past nor satisfy your daydreams. Your duty, your reward—your destiny—are here and now.—Dag Hammarskjöld, former U.N. secretary general.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The chilling lesson the Dominican Republic teaches is the speed with which Communists can move in and take over a revolution.

It is the more startling in this island fight, because the local Red movement is strikingly weak, say U. S. government analysts, and almost wholly confined to the capital city, Santo Domingo.

The Reds are believed to have barely begun their basic work among the farmers, the first priority of Communists who follow the Mao Tse-tung theory of rural-agrarian-base first, then the cities.

Real Communist organizational work began, it's understood, only a few years ago at the tail end of the regime of Rafael Trujillo. A man who knew Trujillo well says the aging dictator brought in three Communists in 1961 to make his government appear "more liberal and open."

Trujillo was assassinated the same year. These Red activists did a technically competent job. A chunk of Red organizers and agents have been brought in since this 1961 beginning, of course. They had a field day under leftist President Juan Bosch, who followed Trujillo.

The Reds began in Santo Domingo because historically all revolutions on the island had been won by the men who controlled the capital city. Red strength is believed greatest among college and high school students.

The Red technique in capturing and taking over a revolt is standard. They join behind a "popular" movement which possesses a great deal of emotional backing among the people but which has a weak organization.

The Communists may keep out of prestige leadership posts at the beginning but quickly move into the key control jobs just below the top.

A major first Red aim: Get things out of control by passing arms to emotional youngsters and to bands of criminals. This creates chaos.

The small but tight-knit group of Reds moves to stir things up every time a settlement seems likely. Red snipers kill native moderates or foreigners — preferably American soldiers or Marines. When it serves their purpose, as in Panama, these Red snipers will kill people on their own side of the revolt.

The aim is to keep emotions up and the disorder growing. Meanwhile, the Reds are promising business groups their interests will be protected if they co-operate or their stores and factories looted if they don't. Farmers are promised land. Students are promised "equality, freedom and an end to foreign domination." The Reds promise promotions to army officers who'll throw in with them. These non-Communist leaders will be discarded when their usefulness is over.

Written Hanoi instructions, for example, specifically order their Red agents in South Viet Nam to win the confidence of business and other leaders, use them, then kill them when the victory is won.

While this is going on, trained Communist execution squads systematically kill officers, police, teachers and other intellectuals, civic officials leaders they believe will be most dangerous to them (pardoning temporarily those they think they can convert).

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE W-407: On my recent lecture trip to Dover, Ohio, I was ably chaperoned all day by Jim Lonergan, talented General Manager of the newspaper there, and always gracefully introduced by Harry Yocky, its editor.

These two newspaper executives were glib for an hour!

For they invited me to start the day with a breakfast to which they had invited some leading clergymen.

Then they both escorted me to the New Philadelphia High School where I addressed the senior high school convocation for 45 minutes.

In the afternoon I also spoke to two more high school assemblies at Dover, so I had the pleasure of addressing about 4,000 teenagers in these mere "warm-ups" for my main event which was an 8 p. m.

adult audience. But what intrigued me most was the fact that the high schoolers in those audiences were often the children of similar high schoolers whom I had addressed 20 years earlier when I was guest speaker for the Dover Reporter.

"Dr. Crane," one charming junior coed informed me, "my daddy and mother were in school here the last time you came to Dover."

"And they used your 'Rating Scales for Sweethearts' to decide whether they were suited to each other for marriage."

"Now I am doing the same thing with my boy friend."

Which suggests one of the great educational values of the daily newspaper, namely, its continuing and constructive influence in molding the thinking of a vast area.

For example, the Dover Reporter has about 40,000 daily "students" (readers), which means that Jim Lonergan acts as Chancellor and Harry Yocky should be regarded as the President of a great "University in Print."

It is "Dover Reporter University."

And its influence is more lasting than that of Ohio State University down at Columbus, for the latter affects its students for an average of barely two years in college.

But your newspaper university is your mainstay of print education, enlightenment, inspiration, as well as fun and entertainment not just for a mere two years.

Almost every literate American relies heavily on the daily newspaper for his entire 52 adult years!

For most people quit the classroom forever at the age of 18.

But they live on an average 70. Who gives them their daily "teaching" about current history and the stock market, psychology and medicine, drama and agriculture, plus many other vital inclusions in its standard curriculum?

Why, it is the newspaper! You housewives also save far more money each week on "bargains" in groceries, clothing and other essentials just because you have access to the advertisements in this newspaper.

So don't think 10 cents per day is costly "tuition" to enroll yourself and your entire family in "Newspaper University."

Remember, the ads alone will repay you far more than your entire weekly tuition fee!

And when alert newspapers also sponsor lectures, concerts, stage plays and other cultural innovations, there are extra dividends for the entire community.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

In response to an early morning heart rendering telephone solicitation on behalf of the VFW, we presumed a local organization, we agreed to a contribution, feeling this was worthwhile.

About mid-afternoon a young man bounced into our place of business stating, "I'm here to collect." "Collect what?" I replied. "Collect for the VFW. Taken somewhat by surprise by these methods and also remembering the morning call, I gave this young man our contribution and received a receipt from the "Sun Vets."

Well, this fellow steps out, gets into a sporty automobile and, lo and behold, said automobile is also equipped with a sporty lady. The auto also had an out-of-county tag—3W—I believe. This apparently is a very needy organization—I'm sure of one thing they need not call again!

My receipt—in small print—says I purchased advertising space. When I called your news department I had the feeling I was simply boring someone. I'll bet your newspaper could sure use all those Sanford dollars that left town and the donors and intended beneficiaries would have received much more in return.

Mr. Editor, the City has advised me these people had a permit to conduct this solicitation. I wonder who can step forward and prove where these Sanford dollars really went? Will any needy veterans receive five cents of benefit from each dollar collected? Unless someone will show and prove how and why, why are permits for these activities issued?

Lake Brantley Fish Conditions Are Discussed

By Maryann Miles
Problems of fish stock and water conditions in Lake Brantley were discussed for members of the West Lake Brantley Civic Association by Jan Buntz of Ocala, Fish and Game Commission biologist, and his assistant, Tom Lawson, at a recent meeting of the group.

Members, interested in a fish count, also questioned smallness in size of the fish. Buntz explained that fish provide natural foods for each other, thus equal balance in size and quantity prevails.

It was suggested that the problem of weeds in the lake and canals of the area be controlled through use of chemical treatments and members of the association unanimously agreed to adopt this as one of the year's projects.

In other business, a barbecue chicken dinner was planned for Saturday, June 5, at 5 p.m. Games for the children will begin at 3 p.m., Mrs. Lil Young, chairman of the event, advised.

Members will have a crafts display as a money raising project during the afternoon. Meeting of the board will be held at 8:30 p.m., June 10, at home of the president, Sterling Copeland, Westwood Drive, Forest City.

Oviedo Names Courier MVP In Three Sports

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER award for basketball was awarded to Jimmy Courier during All-Sports Banquet at Oviedo High School Friday night. Presenting trophy for Jones Family was Leon Oliff. Courier also received Most Valuable Player awards in football and baseball. (Herald Photo)

By Marshall Lingo
Herald Sports Writer

An outstanding group of Oviedo athletes was honored Friday night at the annual "All Sports Banquet" held in the Oviedo High School cafeteria.

Jimmy Courier highlighted the evening by receiving the Most Valuable Player awards in football, basketball, and baseball. Courier, a senior, has been an outstanding athlete since the ninth grade.

He leaves Oviedo this year but he leaves behind a record that has never before been equaled and will be the ultimate goal for Oviedo athletes in the future.

Courier has been awarded a four-year scholarship with the University of Florida where he will continue his athletic career in baseball.

In football Rex Brooks received the best lineman award. Brooks, also a senior, has received a four-year football scholarship from Florence State College in Florence, Alabama. Ted Bellhorn received the best back award. Bellhorn also graduates this year.

Brooks also received the award for best offensive basketball player. Billy Mikler received the award for the best defensive player in basketball.

In track Brett Thompson was awarded the most valuable player trophy. Thompson, a junior, ran the 440 and the 880 relay.

Kiwanis Nine Nips Rotary, 8-7, As Contest Runs To 11 Innings

Kiwanis was the only team in the Junior League to survive the first week of play in the second half undefeated. They squeaked by Rotary 8-7 Friday afternoon in an 11-inning thriller.

The game took 3 hours and 15 minutes to complete. The regulation seven innings ended in a 2-3 tie.

Kiwanis, trailing 5-2, scored three runs in the sixth to knot the score. That was all the scoring until the eleventh when Rotary pushed across two runs, only to have Kiwanis come right back with three runs in their half of the inning.

Matt Morgan was credited with the victory. His two hits along with three by Wally Jarnigan, were tops among the hitters for Kiwanis.

In Little League action, Sanford Atlantic beat Georges, 6-2 behind the pitching of Mike Voltoline and some dazzling play in the field, especially by Jeff Ward. Only one game now separates four teams in the Little American League fight for the pennant.

Only five weeks remain in league play and all five teams are still in the running. The Sanford Atlantic victory Friday, put them in a tie for third place with Strickland Morrison, while Georges and Navy are now tied for the league lead.

Tommy Wilgham homered for Georges and Ehloe, for the Bankers, took hitting honors with two safeties. Sanford Atlantic did their scoring in pairs; scoring in the first, second and fourth innings. Georges scored single runs in the second and third.

The Locomotive Engineers evened their season record out at 7-7 by downing the Hunt Comets, 6-3. Paul Watson notched the pitching decision. H. Flannigan was top hitter, going 2-for-3 at the plate.

Casselberry Mets Run Win Skein To Five

The Casselberry Mets, coached by Phil Willitt, won their fifth game in a row Saturday to remain in first place in the South Seminole minor league.

The most recent triumph was a 2-1 victory over North Orlando's cardinals. Winning pitcher for Willitt's men was Phil Holder. His battery mate was Jeff Howe.

The Mets put together 14 walks and 12 base hits in the contest. Danny Shea led the attack with a single and double, and four runs scored. Holder rapped a single and triple to score three runs.

Richard Tennyson had a single and triple, John Harwood scored a trio of runs and belted a single. Mike Tennyson rapped a pair of singles. Tommy Bacchus had a double and two runs scored. Howe, the receiver, hit a double. Byron Coleman rapped a single, and David Jamison scored three times on a trio of base-on-balls.

White Taps Black, 20-13, In SHS Spring Tilt

By Barry Lawes
Herald Sports Editor

A valiant second half comeback effort by the Blacks failed to be strong enough Friday night, as the White team chalked up a 20-13 victory in the Fighting Seminoles' spring practice intersquad football game.

Trailing 13-0 when the second half began, the Blacks, appearing rather sluggish in the first half, broke loose from the minute the ball was snapped on the first play, and began marching down the field in a series of short hops. The Blacks pushed for the first down on a pass from Buddy Stumpf to Mike Gray, which carried them to the White 12 yard line. Bernie Barbour carried for a slight gain, and then Chuck Scott piled the ball through center for the Black's first touchdown of the night. Stumpf's pass to Gray for the conversion was incomplete.

The game got underway with the Whites in possession of the ball, having won the toss. It was put into play on the 50 yard line, with no kickoff. The Whites failed to make their first down and White quarterback Frank Whigham kicked out.

The Blacks also failed in their efforts to advance the ball, and the Whites took over in their own 25. It was then the Whites began their move. They advanced the ball to their own 40, then Whigham tossed an aerial for 10 yards to halfback Dick Walstrom who walked down the field for a touchdown, only to have the run called back, having stepped out of bounds.

Several plays later, however, Whigham faked the handoff to fullback Sonny Messer, gave the ball to Walstrom and he again scored for the Blacks' 30 for the TD. The conversion try failed. In the second period Walstrom again carried the ball over for the tally, this time on a 37-yard romp. Whigham passed to end LeRoy Nopper for the conversion. In the second half, an offside penalty against the Blacks set the Whites up for their final tally. From the Black's 18, Whigham attempted to carry out the ball on the fourth down but failed to make the gain. However, the offside penalty was called and the five yards gave the Whites their first down. Whigham, from the 15, tossed to end Greg Ganas for the touch-

Minnesota Twins Move Back Into League Lead

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer
Camilo Pascual is resting and enjoying it more. The ace curveball artist of the Minnesota Twins was advised this spring by new pitching coach Johnny Sain that he might be able to keep his arm in better condition pitching with only three days rest instead of four. Pascual agreed to give it a try.

"I've never pitched every fourth day for a whole season," Pascual said, "but I remember I pitched some of my best games with only three days rest."

The extra work has helped Pascual to his best start in 12 major league seasons. The 31-year-old righthander won his sixth straight game without a loss Sunday, blanking the Washington Senators 6-0 on four hits.

Pascual's victory boosted the Twins back into first place in the American League. The New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 12 innings to drop the Sox a half-game off the pace. In other AL games Boston trimmed Kansas 3-2 in 11; Baltimore tripped Los Angeles 4-3 and Cleveland pounded Detroit 10-2. In the National League

Lambert Leads Gold To 13-6 Win Over Blue In Greyhound Game

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Paul Lambert scored two touchdowns on runs of four and 64 yards, and Larry Baker added an extra point to give the Gold a 13-6 victory over the Blue in the annual spring football game held at Lyman High School Friday night.

ran it over from four yards out.

The Greyhounds' head coach, Dick Copeland, said that he was well pleased with the progress the boys were making and that right now he is "way ahead" of this time last year. Films were taken of the game so that each boy might view his own performance.

The two evenly matched teams fought it out throughout the game in what can be considered a fine defensive battle. There were no long sustained drives by either team. In the first half, neither team scored. The Blues struck first in the third period when sophomore-to-be quarterback Mike Hargis hurled a 32-yard touchdown pass to fleet Bobby Eldridge.

The Gold came back seconds later, though, when Lambert went around the left side for 64 yards and paydirt. Baker scored what proved to be the winning point on the conversion play. Late in the third period, the running of fullback Ron Boston and Lambert brought the Gold once again close to the Blue goal line, where Lambert

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: I've known this guy practically all my life. We grew up together. He's sort of like one of the family, but sometimes I get the idea that it could be serious between us. About four times a year he asks me out. But the rest of the time (about twice a week) he calls and says, 'How about meeting me after work? I haven't got any money but I can walk you home and we could talk.' Now you know when we get home we at least have to have a snack and, a lot of times, it's a complete dinner. Abby, I don't expect him to take me out to dinner twice a week, but it bothers me that he should tell me he has no money, as though, if he had money he'd be somewhere else. After all these years I wonder if I really know him. Any advice?

By Abigail Van Buren

N.Y. DEAR N.Y.: You "know" him all right, but you don't "no" him enough. Next time he pulls the "no money, but I'll walk you home" routine, tell him you're busy. After three months of this treatment, if he doesn't ask you "the" question, you'll have the answer.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town in Indiana, but I read your column in the Chicago American every day. You are the only one I can turn to. Abby, I am 19 and am in love with a boy who is 20. We aren't engaged yet and here's the problem. My parents like him all right, but my two older sisters are married to his two older brothers. My parents say that it would be too much of a mix-up with all the double cousins. His family feels the same way about it. They say that two from the same family is enough. We love each other, Abby, and it doesn't make any difference to us that we are already related through marriage. There isn't a law against our marrying is there? Please help us.

TWO IN LOVE DEAR TWO: There's no law against your marrying—and I can't see why you shouldn't be married if you love each other.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell a very dear friend that her children drive you crazy? This person is divorced. She and her children, ages 6 and 3, live with her parents. When she brings her children to my house, the place is a wreck after they leave. They go through my dresser drawers, machine drawers and even my refrigerator. The mother doesn't say a word. The eldest talks back to her and uses vile language. I don't feel like correcting them while she is there. I really like this person, but I don't want her to bring her children to my house any more unless she teaches them some manners first. How do I tell her?

LIFELONG FRIEND DEAR FRIEND: Tell her in plain English that she is doing her children a grave disservice by letting them run wild, that the little ones can't be expected to know what they've never been taught and she is shirking her responsibility as a mother. Undisciplined children grow to be selfish, inconsiderate adults, who pay dearly for their lack of training for they are unwanted socially.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to the man who signed himself "VET OF TWO WARS." He disapproved of hunting animals for sport, and in his letter he stated: "If you want to kill don't be a piker... go after the big game. Join the Army and ask for front line duty in Viet Nam."

It's people like Mr. "VET OF TWO WARS" who place human life on the same level with animal life—who are responsible for the rising crime and murder rate in this country today. We have many soldiers in Vietnam. Many of them are volunteers, risking their lives not because they like to kill, but because they believe in our country, its ideals and the very principles on which America was founded. Sign me...

Jacoby On Bridge

This week's columns will deal with the jump to game and its significance.

Today's hand would be bid as shown in the box by almost any group of four bridge players and played just about the same way by all declarers. South would win the opening heart and draw trumps with three leads. Then he would go for clubs and when the suit failed to break he would make his contract on the nose provided that West did not foul up the defense overtrick.

game so I am bidding it. If I were doubtful about playing game I would only have bid three spades. If I were interested in a slam I would have either bid some other suit or some past game myself.

Would anyone get higher? Yes. Some North players (not experts) would jump from one spade to three spades whereupon some South players would move to five or even six. Or some North player (not an expert) might revalue his hand after the jump to game and bid again.

Why would the bidding be the same by almost everyone? Because this particular jump to game has the same meaning in all bridge circles.

It says, "Partner you have told me that you have a minimum type opening bid with spade support. Based on that information I want to play in

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

In a recent column I quoted a letter written by a working wife who said she held down a job so that her husband could have the luxuries he had no intention of becoming unaccustomed to just because he had a wife to support.

That reader figured there must be other wives working for the same reason—to keep their husbands happy.

year or two is the No. 1 extravagance of husbands. Motorboats were also mentioned often.

So were faraway hunting and fishing trips—and all sorts of expensive equipment for both. Country club membership was also mentioned as something a husband who likes golf considers important to his happiness.

salary—no matter what. Maybe I'm actually working so that the children and I can have a few luxuries, too.

One wife who wrote said she just couldn't believe that any wife would be dumb enough to go to work every day just to enable her husband to have the luxuries he thought he couldn't be happy without. "Only a nut would do that," she claimed.

But she's wrong. Some wives today work as hard to provide their husbands with luxuries—and so keep them content—as men have worked through the ages to make it possible for their wives to keep up with the Joneses.

TV Time's Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. ABC. Ben Casey "A Woods Full of Question Marks." (Rerun) This is one of the most poignant effective dramas ever attempted on this series. It's the case of a little deaf girl who's never been given the opportunity to learn because her family is convinced she's retarded. The girl is played by June Reed, who happens to be a deaf girl herself and much of what you see on the screen is painfully authentic and acted by other deaf children. Dana Clark is the nominal guest star as the girl's father, but his primary purpose is to provide a sounding board off which playwright Ellis Marcus can bounce his arguments. A fine hour.

Horoscope Forecast

Tuesday, June 1, 1965

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

Today is pretty much a day to deliberate and to think out how you can best get along better in the days and weeks ahead — a time when thinking can bring interesting and unusual plans, but don't get act. Be steadfast.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)

Whether you are at home or not, think along lines of expanding very soon. Be sure you analyze all basics well, no matter what your business at hand. Be thorough, have wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Going to shops of repute for what you need finds you getting exactly what you desire. Put a new slip into your abode, office, etc. Information you need can also be acquired very easily.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

You can put those ideas to work soon, but it is necessary to impress others with the fact that they are practical, worthy of financing. Ask for worthwhile suggestions. Have ready cash.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)

Analyze your present position and know what you want in the future so that you can progress more quickly. Be very charming with social contacts. Others then become your boosters.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

Some confidential work must be done before you can carry through with what you have planned. Success is yours more surely then. Give assistance to those who truly need it later.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23)

It hasn't rained for so long and it's so dry that Jim Crowe says bream taken out of the St. Johns have dry sand in their eyes.

John Alexander says he can top this. He claims to have seen two trees fighting over one dog.

Speaking of rain, we read the other day where a newspaper came out with a banner headline like this: "Lord, We Confess Our Sins, We Ask Forgiveness, We Pray For Rain!" Within an hour after the paper came off the press the prayer was answered. Headline next day: "And The Rain Came. Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

County Water Control Gets 'Kiss Of Death'

Mail Delivery Speed Eyed By Post Office

By Dottie Austin
The United States Post Office Department is setting up a new system of receiving and dispatching mail utilizing "sectional centers," beginning July 1, Sanford Postmaster Cecile Heard said today.

Orlando has been established as one of the 333 sectional centers in the United States to receive and dispatch mail for post offices and branches in surrounding areas.

"The Orlando office was selected because of its availability to all transport media and its capacity to handle day-to-day fluctuations. It is one of 12 such centers located in Florida and will serve 60 surrounding offices including the Sanford post office," Miss Heard said.

"Each community will retain its own identity, but under the sectional center concept, all mail generated within the surrounding communities will be dispatched at Orlando by the fastest mode of transportation, be it rail, highway or air, if so designated by the patron," she explained.

"In turn, all mail addressed to these communities will be received at Orlando for redispach to the communities," she added.

"Post Office Department policy dictates that no mail be diverted to any other area which would in any manner tend to delay delivery," she pointed out.

The Orlando sectional center, like others throughout the nation, is designed to handle mail in the most expeditious manner and is in line with the department's Zip Code program.

"Any change in scheduling of dispatched mail from the Sanford office will be announced as soon as it is made, but it is predicted that any such changes will result only in improvement for next-day delivery for all the state of Florida and most of the Southeastern United States, by ordinary mail," the postmaster concluded.

Legislators Gird For Remap Tiff

Extra Session Scheduled On Court Order

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Big city legislators began to mobilize their forces today for a "one man, one vote" reapportionment plan while the Senate's rural majority bloc geared for swift adoption of a resolution urging Congress to void this theory of choosing membership in both houses of a legislature.

The House-passed resolution seeking congressional relief is top business in the Senate today. It would join Florida to 23 other states that already have petitioned Washington for a constitutional amendment permitting one house to be apportioned on factors other than population.

Representatives from half a dozen of the state's largest counties met Monday night to organize a big county committee on fair apportionment with Rep. Woodruff Liles, of Hillsborough, as organizing chairman.

Another meeting was set for tonight.

The group includes 20 House members, representing Dade, Pinellas, Hillsborough, Orange, Palm Beach, Broward and Duval counties.

The organization is a prelude to Saturday's opening of a 20-day extraordinary session called by Gov. Haydon Burns for the sole purpose of coming up with a reapportionment plan that can meet the federal district court's deadline of July 1.

The reapportionment memorial, sponsored by Leon Rep. Richard O. Mitchell, passed the House 77-33 Monday.

The so-called "Mitchell resolution" asks Congress to call a constitutional convention to adopt an amendment allowing one legislative house to be apportioned on a formula other than population.

Mitchell said that petitions from at least 34 states were needed to force a constitutional convention. He said that 26 states already had petitioned Congress.

The Legislature took final action on the prime item in the governor's legislative program.

The compromised version of the proposed constitutional amendment to build 1,200 miles of four-lane highways in six years and finance them with bonds cleared the House by a vote of 91-19 and the upper chamber 35-8.

SPACE-WALKER, U.S. STYLE—If in-flight conditions indicate "go," Major Edward H. White is scheduled as America's first "space-walker" during Gemini 4's four-day orbiting of the earth. He will emerge from the right-hand hatch of the capsule and, tethered by a 23-foot umbilical line, spend about ten minutes floating in the void. Russian Cosmonaut Alexei Leonov performed the feat on March 18. Rookie astronaut White's "walk," about five months ahead of schedule, would start over Hawaii.

Annual Session Bill Gets Shot In Arm

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The slow-moving bill to require the State Legislature to meet annually suddenly sprang to life and moved to the House calendar today after lying dormant for weeks.

Along with the annual sessions measure, the House appropriations committee also shot to the calendar a companion bill raising the pay of legislators from $1,200 to $3,600 a year if the state switches from biennial to every year sessions.

These measures, which started the session nearly six weeks ago with much promise and ballyhoo, had been given up for lost.

There still is no certainty they can make it into the final stages in the remaining four days of the session. In fact, it is unlikely they are at least on the way.

The bills were hammered out by an interim committee that worked for two years holding hearings around the state and gathering information to bolster the argument that Florida, as the ninth largest state in the union, has too much business for the Legislature to try to handle with a 60-day meeting every two years.

The appropriations committee, working, long after the Legislature had closed up shop for the day, sent out bills that added up to a half million dollars in spending and whittled the gap between authorized spending and anticipated income down to a mere $734,000.

All of the bills among the hundreds still resting in the committee did not get a favorable consideration.

The bill recommended by the Governor to increase the state parole Commission from three to five members was rejected.

The committee gave its blessings and sent to the calendar a bill increasing from $550 to $1,000 per teacher unit the amount of sales tax revenue earmarked for the state's share of payments into the Teacher Retirement Fund in order to make a start on making up a long-pending paper deficit. But because of the current shortage of funds, the program won't start until July 1, 1967, and would cost an estimated $11.8 million in the 1967-68 biennium.

3,600-Mile Space Walk On Thursday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — An expected medical OK today will give U. S. astronaut Edward H. White a go-ahead to try to "walk" 3,600 miles across northern Mexico and the United States during 12 daring minutes of his leap into space Thursday.

White and fellow astronaut James A. McDivitt, a former college chum assigned as pilot of their two-seater Gemini-4 spaceship, underwent a final head-to-toe physical and psychological examination this morning at the hands of a team of experts headed by Dr. Charles Berry.

Early forecasts indicated good weather at Cape Kennedy and in the main recovery areas on Thursday and probably on Friday.

As the blast-off hour of 9 a.m. (EST) Thursday neared, a drastically revised flight plan revealed that, in addition to White's highly touted "space walk" and their attempt to steer to within 20 feet of another satellite, the astronauts will dump air from their cabin at least twice.

The plan, virtually rewritten following a series of dramatic changes ordered by federal space agency chiefs last week, also reflected the featherlike touch that McDivitt will be called upon to use on the controls to separate gently enough from the Titan-rocket booster that earlier orbited them, to keep it nearby.

McDivitt and White, a pair of space rookies with the nation's first real chance to challenge Russian manned spaceflight supremacy, hope to fly the 7,200-pound Gemini-4 62 times around the world in 97½ hours.

Technicians planned to load the towering Titan-2 rocket with propellants Wednesday, to be ready to begin the final four-hour countdown before dawn Thursday.

Monday, the main recovery ship, the aircraft carrier USS Wasp, steamed from Boston Harbor en route to its post in the western Atlantic ocean about 400 miles south of Bermuda. It will await the fiery return of McDivitt and White from space next Monday.

Far and away the most dramatic events—the "space walk" and the two scheduled attempts to perform man's first true "rendezvous" between two objects in space—were set for the first seven hours of the daring and often dangerous flight.

Legislation Withdrawn

By Paul Brookshire
The controversial Seminole water control act was given the kiss of death by the Seminole County Board of Commissioners today.

On a split vote, 3-2, the board chose to advise the Seminole lawmakers not to introduce the bill at this session of the Legislature.

The measure would have given the county authority to issue bonds to finance water conservation and control facilities and to levy ad valorem taxes to pay the cost of such facilities.

The bill was drawn up because it was felt the extensive growth of population in the county made it necessary to authorize the county to deal in drainage and water conservation problems. It was felt the bill was necessary to control flooding and to deal with drought problems.

Chairman John R. Alexander, who brought the bill, said he still felt Seminole County needed a water control bill.

"I realize this bill has controversial features," Alexander said, "but I personally think it should be introduced with minor modifications."

Commissioner W. Lawrence Swofford spoke against the bill.

"It does not do what the people in my district require it to," Swofford said.

Commissioner Edward Yarborough made a motion that legislators be advised not to introduce the bill because it is unsatisfactory and there is not time enough to make sufficient changes. Swofford seconded the motion.

Voting for it were Yarborough, Swofford and Commissioner Les Gary. Opposed to the motion were Alexander and Commissioner John Fitzpatrick.

Close Race Seen At Longwood

By Donna Estes
Today's special election for the office of Longwood City Councilman promises to be a close race with 121 voters having exercised their franchise by 10:30 this morning.

The election is being held to fill the unexpired term of H. C. Carlson, which runs to December, 1966.

Candidates vying for the office are Daniel Screency, John Deaton, James Reiter and Homer (Bud) Scott.

A beehive of activity took place Monday in the city when supporters of Screency organized a "kiddie parade" throughout Longwood, passing out balloons and going from door to door distributing leaflets while Deaton supporters campaigned via telephone.

Reiter and Scott have done no public campaigning other than newspaper platform announcements.

Residents interested in city government have been urged to vote at the Fire Hall for the candidate of their choice before the 7 p.m. closing of the polls.

Holiday Traffic Accident Toll Is Record 474

United Press International
The nation today counted a record number of persons dead in traffic accidents for a three-day Memorial Day weekend.

With late death reports still coming in, United Press International counted 474 persons killed on the nation's streets and highways between 6 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Monday night.

The breakdown:
Traffic 474
Drownings 112
Planes 12
Miscellaneous 73

Total 671

California, with 55 traffic deaths, as usual led all states. Texas counted 29 dead in traffic, Ohio and Florida 28 each, New York 24 and Michigan 21.

The National Safety Council said the loss of life could be blamed on irresponsible and incompetent driving.

The worst traffic accident reported occurred in the final hours of the holiday weekend and claimed seven lives in a two-car head-on crash near Homosassa Springs, Fla. Both cars burst into flames.

Howard Pyle, president of the safety council, said incompetent driving was largely responsible for the record toll.

"In report after report on highway traffic damage over this weekend, mistakes in driving judgment stood out as the major problem," he said.

The previous record of 481 deaths for a three-day Memorial weekend was set last year. The all-time record for a four-day Memorial weekend is 525.

Teenage Card Telltale To Tavern Owners

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Young drivers cannot lie about their age by displaying their licenses to buy whiskey under a bill that cleared the Legislature today.

The bill requires that licenses issued to drivers under the age of 21 be colored a distinctive red.

Sponsors said youngsters some times forge the age on the license in order to buy liquor.

Nature, Man Threaten Wildlife

MIAMI (UPI) — A big white bird with black wing-tips and skinny legs for wading called the wood ibis is in danger of being a memory because it can't find enough water in the nation's biggest swamp.

The Everglades National Park contains about 1.5 million acres and it is so flat a man on a 12-foot ladder at the south end of the park could look in any direction for 100 miles—if he could see that far—without seeing any natural land surface higher than his head.

Much of this land is covered by saw grass and from June to November a sheet of water used to cover the land, cool and full of life under the grass tops.

The Indians called it the "river of grass."

It started drying up 10 years ago when engineers planned a system of canals and levees across south Florida to protect people from floods during hurricanes. The canals blocked the natural southward flow of water over the land.

Then the heavy rains stopped.

It rained a little Monday, "but it is going to take a lot more rain to do some lasting good, according to Park Ranger Ralph Maxwell.

Carroll Burroughs, acting superintendent of the park, flew over the sawgrass and said even where it rained the hardest "the ground just sucked up the water. There's no standing water in the water holes."

The water level had dropped two feet below the surface.

Fire and animal loss is the big concern of park officials. Birds are mobile and they can fly until they find water. But even some birds that can fly are in danger.

"I would suspect because of the lack of nesting the species of wood ibis is in danger if this trend continues," Burroughs said.

The wood ibis will not nest and lay eggs if it can not find enough food, Burroughs said. The ibis takes its meals on small fish and other wildlife native to the swamp.

Rangers have been working with tracked vehicles called weasels to haul alligators—mostly small ones that can be tied—from dried-up holes to spots where there is still water.

Some water holes have been blasted by Air Force demolition teams.

"But when you're dealing with all that land, what we can do is a drop in the bucket. We know we must be losing some animals that are water-oriented, like alligators and otters, but there's no way of telling how many," Burroughs said.

About 50 alligators have been rescued by the rangers.

No one knows the alligator population of the Everglades.

Next to starvation, the alligator's biggest enemy is exposure. It's thick hide cannot stand too much direct sun.

When an alligator gets hungry enough it turns cannibalistic. It eats its young first.
