Cdr. McAfee, executive officer of the Naval Air Technical Training Unit, NAS Pensacola, this week made an informal inspection of Photographic Squadron 62.

During the visit Commander J. A. Goodwin, commanding officer of Photron 62 discussed with Cdr. McAfee many aspects and phases of Naval photography and the training of Navy photographers.

It is interesting to note that Cdr. Goodwin commands one of the two commissioned photographic squadrons that are part of the U. S. Navy today, while Cdr. McAfee is the executive officer of the one school in the Navy that teaches photography to Naval personnel.

The training unit at Pensacola is commonly called the Naval school of photography, as it is there that the new men in Naval service are taught to officers and rated photographic technicians.

It is also there that photographic petty officers are trained in the highly specialized photograph bill of camera repair men and motion picture cameramen.

It is a part of the policy of the officers in charge of the Navy's photo school to visit the commands that receive its graduates to discuss their training methods and seek ways and means to further improve the all ready outstanding training that our "Air Navy" receives today.

Teheran, Iran, while Ensign Taylor is a native of Tujunga, Calif.

Cdr. J. A. Goodwin, commanding officer, Photron 62, welcomes them aboard.

Athletics Purchased By Philly Syndicate

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An eight-man Philadelphia syndicate made a dramatic last-minute purchase of the Philadelphia Athletics last night, saving American League baseball for this city.

Months of confusion and indecision over the status of the Athletics was ended when the syndicate of wealthy and prominent Philadelphia bought out Connie Mack and his son, Earle Mack, and made a one-ninth partner of Roy Mack in a four-million-dollar deal.

The syndicate moved with startling speed in concluding the deal that kept the A's from being transferred to Kansas City. It was only last Tuesday that the American League met in Chicago and approved sale of the club to Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman who wanted to take major league baseball to Kansas City.

Roy Mack was given until 11 a.m. today to make up his mind on whether to sell to Johnson.

It appeared that nothing short of a miracle could save the franchise for Philadelphia. The local newspapers ran the team's obituary notice with an "It was nice to have had you for 54 years" salutation. Only the Philadelphia group, strong in their civic pride with the thought of the nation's third largest city was about to lose its American League representative, saved the day, according to a report in less than 72 hours that no one here seemed able to work out in the four previous months.

The new group, which has asked President Will Harridge of the American League to approve the purchase agreement, paid Connie Mack $2,000,000 for his 302 shares and gave Earle $450,000 for his 163 shares. It assumed liability for a $1,200,000 mortgage held by the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. The balance of the four million will be used to pay off other indebtedness and as working capital.

Roy was given $450,000 for his 163 shares, but he reinvested $250,000 in the new ownership group as a partner.

The new owners, who plan to meet early this week to reorganize the club, elect officers and a board of directors, are:

Arthur Gallagher, trucking firm executive and former national sailing champion; T. H. Hanft, an investment man; Barney Fischer, oil and automobile industrialist; Isadore Sley, owner of the Ruppert Garage Corp.; Morton Lichtman, a Philadelphia department store magnate; Arthur Rosenberg, chain executive; Jack Rensel, Philadelphia advertising agency man; John Cason, automobile dealer; and Roy Mack.

Said Roy Mack, after the official announcement: "I have notified William Harridge, president of the American League, that I have agreed to sell this fine group of civic-minded Philadelphia businessmen. I have requested league approval. My lawyers are now meeting and finalizing the necessary legal documents."

Harridge said he would have no comment until he had received the list of new owners and had a chance to study it.

Johnson, who flew here last night in a desperate last-minute effort to forestall the Philadelphia deal, was stunned at the news.

"I can't understand it," he said at International Airport, "offered a million dollars for the club, but I would have been a vice president at a high salary and a key factor in the Kansas City setup. I promised to give his son, Connie Mack III, a five-year training contract and make a baseball man out of him. I offered him the moon. And now what has he got, a one-ninth interest in nothing. His son won't have a chance in this group."

He has been guaranteed a one-year contract at his present $25,000 salary by the new group.

Wildlife Director Offers Suggestions To Cure Bird Losses

TALLAHASSEE—Florida waterfowl hunters have an opportunity to bring an immediate increase in the waterfowl population by cooperating in an effort to reduce serious crippling losses according to E. B. (Shorty) Jones, director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Jones said today that a report from the Atlantic Waterfowl Council indicates that hundreds of thousands of ducks are being wasted annually through crippling and reduction of this loss is possible only in one way—by the hunters themselves.

To emphasize the seriousness of this crippling loss, the Waterfowl Council cites facts and figures that are startling. They show that annual crippling losses in the Atlantic Flyway range from 8 to 25 per cent and average 22 per cent nationwide. These are the figures only for the birds knocked down in flight and not retrieved.

Jones said that the following practices cause these crippling losses: hunting in areas of heavy cover, poor marksmanship, not knowing limitations in range of modern shells and failure to retrieve birds.

They Brennan, new Notre Dame basketball coach, won letters in football, track and hockey for the Irish.

Three SEC Teams Undefeated At Midpoint Of Grid Season

By MERCER BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

Mississippi, Florida and Alabama seem to have the Southwestern Conference championship run all to themselves at the midpoint of the 1954 season—and neither has a clear-cut advantage at the moment.

The Ole Miss Rebels face their most formidable foe of the year in Little Rock Saturday when they tangle with the unexpectedly potent Arkansas Razorbacks. Major hurdles remaining for Alabama are meetings with Georgia Tech and Auburn in November—when Alabama historically is at its best.

Tennessee appears to be the toughest of four SEC opponents Florida still must play. Each of the three leaders has a 3-0 conference record.

Ordinarily, Mississippi's game with Arkansas would have no bearing on the SEC title chase, what with the Razorbacks being a member of the Southwest Conference. But when scheduling troubles prevented Ole Miss from lining up the required six SEC opponents, Commissioner Herold Moore said Arkansas would be counted as the Rebels' sixth Conference foe.

Arkansas was not figured as a power at the beginning of the season, but after drubbing Tulsa, TCU, Baylor and Texas the Razorbacks are the pick for the Southwestern Conference crown and the Cotton Bowl.

Ole Miss and Arkansas are two of the few undefeated major teams left in the country and if the Rebels can get by the Razorbacks they should have clear sailing to a perfect season—and probably a New Year's date in the Sugar Bowl.

Mississippi trounced Tulane 34-7 last weekend and Arkansas scored into national attention with an upset 20-7 victory over Texas. Louisiana State won its first game of the season by whipping highly favored Texas Tech 20-13, knocking the Red Raiders from the unbeaten class.

Georgia used a field goal to beat Vanderbilt 16-14 after Bobby Goodall's conversions had put the Commodores within sight of their first victory. Joe Graf kicked the three-pointer to start the Bulldogs on their Conference campaign with a victory.

Albert Elmore, snubbed for injured Bart Starr, was the hero of Alabama's surprising 37-0 trouncing of Tennessee in a game that was a tussle. Elmore passed for three touchdowns and took rushing honors by running for 107 yards.

In other weekend games, Florida bounced back and defeated Kentucky 31-7. Georgia Tech got at Auburn 14-7 and Miami dropped Mississippi State 27-14.

Although the Mississippi-Arkansas contest is the headliner, there are several other important SEC battles next weekend.

Georgia Tech, which has a 3-1 SEC record and could move into contention if the leaders falter, plays host to Kentucky. Mississippi State goes to Alabama and LSU is host to Florida in a night game. Georgia and Tulane meet in New Orleans in a battle of SEC lightweights. Auburn is host to Florida State and Tennessee will entertain Dayton (Ohio) in a pair of non-SEC games. Vanderbilt is bye.

Eight FSL Teams Indicated For '55

ORLANDO (AP)—Eight teams for 1955 were promised yesterday at a meeting of Florida State Baseball League directors.

Gainesville, Palatka and Sanford—three former members—secured franchises and five of the six clubs which finished the 1954 season indicated they would return for another campaign.

Jacksonville Beach, a member since 1952, dropped out as expected. Cocoa, Lakeland, Daytona Beach and Orlando representatives said they would definitely operate and Joe Deily of DeLand reported he would field a team if the homefolks gave some financial help.

Bowl Opponents Are Predicted; Long Runs Noted

NEW YORK (AP)—Monday's football wash, and wonder how they'll be scrapping the stuff in the bowls this year?

Here's a mid-season guess at the lineup in the big bowls, based on records to date and remaining schedules.

ROSE BOWL—Southern California vs. Wisconsin. SUGAR BOWL—Mississippi vs. West Virginia. COTTON BOWL—Arkansas vs. Georgia. ORANGE BOWL—Duke vs. Colorado. GATOR BOWL—Miami (Fla.) vs. Cincinnati.

New Orleans will try to get a team other than West Virginia, crushed by Georgia Tech last Jan. 1, but the Mountaineers may have a record demanding another chance.

How close can a game be? After Notre Dame had beaten Michigan State 20-10, Coach Terry Brennan of the Fighting Irish said: "The score doesn't show how close it really was." When Wisconsin tripped Purdue 20-6 the victory kept intact Coach Vay Williamson's record of never having lost in the Rearmakers.

He could mainly thank a 30-yard runback with an intercepted pass by sophomore Billy Lowe. . . . But if Billy thinks he won the day's long-distance hauling honors he is entitled to another think. . . . The author is John Popson, Furman halfback, who ran a kickoff back 100 yards in a 31-20 win over the Citadel.

But Bob Kistal of Amherst had touchdown runs of 45 and 55 yards and Jim Flynn of Delaware put together scoring sprints of 77 and 27 yards.

Are the collegians getting ideas from the high-school pros? Field goals featured Saturday games. . . . Joe Graf kicked a 24-yarder as Georgia beat Vanderbilt 18-14 and also in the fading minutes, Brooklyn's Joe Mastrogiovanni kicked a 23-yard goal for Wyoming's 9-7 win over New Mexico.

Down Texas way they're calling Texas team the "rankler Longhorns" and the "great-out non-scoring" team in the country. Three defeats have brought said days. . . . And what happened to Notre Dame's wealth of material, said to be the nation's greatest. . . . Six of the Irishmen played 60 minutes against Michigan State.

Boston fans having a big season. Both BC and BU are undefeated. Each of the longer minor winning streak is shared by Oklahoma and Cincinnati—12 in a row.

Until last week no back on the Alabama team had scored on Tennessee. So the Crimson Tide had a long ride back home after LSU's 20-13 victory. . . . You have to go back 65 years to find an Illinois team that lost its first four games.

Coach Says Offense Helped FSU To Win

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Coach Tom Nugent says effective use of a newly installed two-point offense at Florida State University helped the Seminoles to a 13-7 football victory over North Carolina State Saturday night.

And if the Seminoles haven't absorbed all the fine points about the two-team attack, there'll be a good opportunity to learn this week when FSU runs up against Auburn's X and V teams at Gainesville.

The payoff on Nugent's tip and luck units came in the second half of the game at Raleigh when FSU came from behind and scored two victories against two defeats.

In the third quarter quarterback Harry Massey of FSU was shut in touchdowns and registered its third and fourth touchdowns.

Only casualty of the game was freshman halfback Bill Weaver who was broken jaw. Weaver will miss the 125 at Auburn.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK (AP)—Up to now when anyone asked whether we thought Rocky Marciano could have whipped Joe Louis when the Brown Bomber was at his wonderful best, the answer has been in the negative.

The memory of Joe on the night he knocked out and hospitalized Max Schmeling with a single sustained flurry of punches still is too green to go back on him this soon, no matter how great our present admiration for Rocky.

Our argument has been based on the belief that Joe hit so hard and so much when he got his opening that Rocky, no defensive genius, would have found it impossible to survive.

But what, we have been asked, about Rocky hitting Joe while all that was going on? Well, the reply has been, Rocky surely would have hit the Bomber with a few right. Everbody did that, and many of Joe's opponents knocked him down too. But he always got up mad, and no doubt he would have arisen after Rocky had pinpointed his jaw.

That has seemed to be a reasonable assumption because Louis shook off some brutal punches first and last. He was a great champion despite the fact that his chin was vulnerable to a degree. The only question is whether he ever got hit quite as hard as Rocky would have hit him, and that brings us to our present state of uncertainty.

There's a book just out entitled "TV Boxing Book." The author is Joe Williams, and his avowed purpose is to give the home expert some idea of how to score a fight. Nobody can do that, not even Joe. The only interesting bit he discloses exactly how hard Marciano hit.

Seems that after Rocky took Joe Joe Walcott out with one shattering punch at Philadelphia, a very scientific testing outfit was asked to measure the velocity of the new champion's haymaker. Rocky whacked a light punching bag, and somehow by using electronic gadgets and physics equations, they got an answer.

"It proclaimed," swears Williams, "that the champion's best punch is more powerful than an armor-piercing bullet. Specifically, a punch received a rating of 925 foot-pounds, as against 600 foot-pounds claimed for the most powerful American hand gun bullet. A foot-pound is the energy required to lift one pound one foot off the ground. By way of comparison, in a somewhat similar test Bob Feller's best pitch recorded 925 foot-pounds."

One of the men who conducted the test had boxed a little in college, and he gave it a dry run before letting Rocky take his lick. His highest figure was 200 foot-pounds, or maybe normal for a good box salesman.

"The gentleman," Williams continues, "did his scientific watching for a last fact. A 45 Colt's ammunition is rated at 485 foot-pounds and is credited with being able to knock a man down, what does Rocky do when he lands with 925 foot-pounds?"

JACK BILL, of Laguna Beach, Calif., hugs the 59-pound, one-ounce white sea bass that made him champion in the fishing derby sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and a local newspaper. His prizes include a 22-foot cruiser and a 1954 car. Bill landed his giant off the southern tip of Catalina Island.

Bob Blumaker, 165-pound Sanford senior played a good defensive game at guard, catching several Mattos backs in their own backfield. Also outstanding in the Sanford defense were Bud Davis, Larry Bates and Jim Hawkins, who teamed up to trap a Palatka passer for a 15-yard loss in the second quarter.

Palatka recovered three Maroon fumbles in the first quarter but failed to capitalize on them and lost the ball on downs each time. Palatka controlled the ball throughout the remainder of the game, but at half-time had failed to score.

In the third quarter, after a sustained drive of 75 yards, Charlie Williams, 160-pound Maroon halfback, swept 15 yards around end to score the first of two Palatka touchdowns. The extra point try was not good. Later in the same quarter, the Maroons received a Seminoles punt on their own 40 and marched to the Sanford 28, where Williams hit 100-pound Maroon end Jimmie Allen with a 38-yard touchdown pass. The extra point try was not good.

Although Palatka controlled the ball, they were unable to score again throughout the remainder of the game.

Figures Show Demo Might, GOP Gain Here

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The latest registration figures show that the Democrats are gaining on the Republicans in Florida, but they've still got a long way to go.

Secretary of State Gray reported yesterday that 1,553,780 Floridians are registered to vote in the Nov. 2 general election.

That's a gain of 20,212 over 1950. Registration by Democrats has gone up slightly from 1,215,085 to 1,215,775 while the Republicans have gained from 116,794 to 158,705.

In the First and Seventh districts where red-hot congressional campaigns are being waged, Democrats outnumber the Republicans considerably. But there, as elsewhere, party lines have been crossed regularly in recent years.

In the First District, composed of Hernando, Hillsborough, Pasco and Pinellas counties, the Democrats registered 159,314 to 124,331 for the Republicans.

Democrats have an even wider margin of strength in the Seventh District composed of De Soto, Hardee, Highlands, Manatee, Polk and Sarasota counties. Democrats 113,919, Republicans 124,469.

Outside of these districts there's little to attract a big turnout on Nov. 2. Statewide, the voting will be in the gubernatorial contest between Democrat Letoy Collins and Republican J. Tom Watson and in seven proposed constitutional amendments.

Gray has predicted the total vote would be between 500,000 and 600,000.

City Court Fines Hit Total Of $947

Fines totaling $947 were levied yesterday in City Court by Judge John Leonard. Police Chief Roy G. Williams said today.

Total court costs were $28, he added.

Among the cases before the court was that of Jessie Lee Scott, 55, of 1102 Cedar Ave., who was arrested around 11 p. m. Sunday and charged with the possession of illegal liquor by officers Joe Hickson and C. D. Dodson. Sixteen gallons of raisin jack were taken as evidence. Scott forfeited a $200 bond.

Appeal Renewed For Drought Aid

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Reports of new drought damage in North Florida were made to President Eisenhower by Acting Gov. John Johnston in a renewed appeal for federal aid to 14 counties.

The Department of Agriculture which rejected a previous request for aid to eight counties, sent a representative into the state to make a new survey.

Johns wired the president: "Records for the past seven to nine months show rainfall 30 per cent below normal and that which has fallen has been very spotted, some farmers receiving much less."

City Candidates Give Answers To Queries

Five Aspirants To Commission Posts Appear On Panel At Jaycee Meeting

Candidates for the City commission in next month's election participated in a panel discussion of city problems at the Lion's Club luncheon today at the Yacht Club.

The panel was presided over by Thomas Stringer, who proposed the questions to the panelists. The first question asked was about how the group felt about building a sewerage treatment plant for the city. The answers were:

Herbert Prevatt said he felt the water and sewerage plan was well under way and felt the plant could be built at no additional cost to the taxpayer. He felt it should be built.

F. D. Scott favored building a treatment plant, but felt the method of obtaining finances would take further study.

H. Ewing Dean favored building a treatment plant.

John Kaiser said the present commission had already taken a stand for the plant and had sent a letter to that effect to the State Board of Health. He felt the plant could be built with excess revenue from the water and sewer charges.

Within two to three years, taxes could be reduced and the plant worked in, he said.

Jack Hatgton said he felt there was not much freedom of choice; that the present commission had already committed the city. He said a plant should be built under the original tax structure. He did not believe the plant could be built for $200,000, but would work with the commission to get one as soon as possible, he remarked.

As a second question, Stringer presented a discussion of adequate city services.

Scott promised to work to make the whole of the city departments operate on a more economical basis without cutting the services.

Prevatt said the needs were still prevalent but could not be solved by increasing taxes.

H. Ewing Dean commended the excellent work done on the present limited equipment and said the need for new equipment could be met by good business administration with no need for additional taxes.

Ratigan, also complimented the city on the job that has been done. He said a detailed budget study began earlier than had been the practice in the past, would result in the consolidation and saving necessary to employ the needed personnel.

He said in the past two years. (Continued On Page Eight)

Justice Department Advocates Ending Travel Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department said today the time has come for the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue a flat ban on racial segregation of interstate travelers.

The department made its declaration in a "friend of the court" brief filed with the ICC, which is considering a complaint by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People that many railroads maintain discriminatory regulations for handling white and Negro passengers.

These railroads named in the complaint also filed a joint brief today, contending that provision of separate but equal accommodations for the two races does not violate any section of the Interstate Commerce Act.

The railroads recently stated in connection with the proceeding that they do not set aside separate coaches or portions of coaches for the exclusive occupancy of one race or the other.

They contended that the practice conforms to customs and laws of some of the states in which they operate.

The railroads and Justice Department collided head-on in their contention of the position of the Supreme Court in relation to segregation in transportation.

JAMES T. ROBERTS, Baltimore attorney who faces trial in connection with the kidnap slaying of his daughter, Judith Ann, 7, appears in court in Miami for a bid for release on bail Harry Rosenberg, grandfather of the slain child, told the court that he believes his son-in-law had a part in the crime. He said his suspicion started when Roberts' "swag" operation was being run by the police.

Most Of Truckers Are Quitting Strike According To Union

NEW YORK (AP)—A union spokesman said today between 9,000 and 10,000 of the 11,700 striking truck drivers here would be back on the job of ready to return to work by tonight.

David Kaplan, chief economist of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, said various New York locals were signing agreements with individual trucking firms so fast that the union could not keep track of the number.

Last night a group of 400 truck firms, voted in continue to fight similar demands for higher pay. However, the employers' chief negotiator, Joseph Adeluzzi, said the employers' position was weakened by defections in their ranks.

Free Enterprise Being Stifled, Says CofC Head

CORAL GABLES (AP)—Free enterprise is being stifled with an increasing blanket of controls and restraints, says Clement D. Johnston of Norfolk, Va., president of the Chamber of the United States.

Johnston said at a dinner in his honor last night that we are giving a form of "lip service" to free enterprise.

"Control and regulation lead to special privilege, evasion and corruption, and they produce the stifling conditions that are typified by some of our recent headlines," he said.

"When you accept in your heart the idea that government can do more for man than man can do for himself, you are signing your name to the death warrant of freedom," he added.

Johnston said the corporate power of the people, embodied in big government, "is being set up as a god for all to worship, and despite its multitude of worshippers it is a false god."

"The sheeplike trust of people in the omnipotence of government is one of the incredible and tragic phenomena of our time. We are confusing those whom we seek to lead and for whom we should be setting an example."

Free competition, demand and supply are not popular in most foreign lands, and it's going to take more than the emulsion of our current defense needs to make them popular.

Free Enterprise Film Shown Here

Sanford, Bailey said, was picked as one of a group of cities for the premiere showing of the film.

Bailey explained the film, which is in technicolor and partly captioned, would be suitable for showing to junior high and senior high school classes, fraternal organizations, civic clubs, women's clubs, adult farmer groups, religious groups, veterans, employment groups, 4-H and PFA groups and P-TA and teacher groups.

MIAMI (AP)—Miami's gasoline price was cut further today as major companies pared prices for regular gas to 29.9 cents and independents were selling for as low as 18.9 cents in some places.
