Commissioner Opposes County's Suit

Barbara Christensen's Land Being Voluntarily Annexed By Sanford

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

A member of the same county board that filed suit against Sanford last fall in an attempt to regain approximately 230 acres of unincorporated land the city acquired through voluntary annexation in 1985, now counts herself among the 14 property owners who have voluntarily annexed into Sanford during the last six months.

The 14 property owners' parcels will be noted on the second and final comprehensive land use map amendment the city will adopt this year. Sanford's first 1986 map amendment was approved by city commissioners in May, and was subject for 10 pages of opposition the county submitted to the state in attempt to prevent the move.

According to County Commissioner Barbara Christensen, there is definitely a conflict of interest regarding her parcel's recent annexation into Sanford, in light of the annexation suit her board filed against Sanford last fall as well as County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm's letter to the state last spring in an attempt to halt Sanford's first map amendment.

However, Mrs. Christensen said the conflict lies not with her land becoming part of Sanford, but with the suit itself and Sturm's letter, both of which she said manifest the county's practice of placing obstacles in the path of cities' expansion and development, a practice she opposes.

Commissioner Christensen said she voted against the annexation suit's filing and also opposed Sturm's letter because the actions are indicative "of the county's philosophy of entering into direct competition over land with cities."

Of Sturm's letter, which opposed Sanford's designating higher density land utilizations for some 410 acres of annexed property, Mrs. Christensen said, "I don't think the county should try and dictate to a city what that city should do. I think cities are very capable of planning for their own needs and their own densities."

Of the suit, which has yet to be settled, Mrs. Christensen said "cities should not be prevented from growing to increase their (tax base) (and) voluntary annexations are absolutely essential for this growth."

The vote to file the annexation suit was carried by Sturm, Bill Kirchhoff, Sanford's county commission representative; and Commissioner Fred Streetman. In addition to Mrs. Christensen, County Commissioner Sandra Glenn opposed the action.

The county majority sided with counsel that the annexations, all of which lie west of the city, created illegal land patterns because they are not sufficiently adjacent

Thumbs Down County Denies Zoning Request

A request for a change of zoning from agricultural to general commercial and wholesale use for 15.7 acres of land on the south side of Celery Avenue west of Cameron Avenue was denied by Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday evening. Several other zone changes were approved.

County land management staff and the planning and zoning board both recommended denial of the Celery Avenue request. The request had been made by property owners Carl Paulsen and Karen Corley.

The commission's decision to agree with the recommendations was based on nearby residents' objections. They said the zone change would not be compatible with nearby residential areas.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, who made the motion to deny the zone change, also noted that Celery Avenue was substandard to handle commercial or wholesale traffic. The motion to deny the zone change request was unanimous.

Also denied unanimously was a request to vacate and abandon a street right-of-way near Altamonte Springs. A request from C.E. Bradshaw for the county to abandon a portion of Maple Street was denied because the area where the street is platted may be needed for future use.

Approved was a request by Canin Associates to amend their Greenwood Lakes Planned Unit Development Master Plan.

The request was to reclassify a 17.1-acre section at the northeast corner of the project from single family residential, which had been designated for 25 dwelling units, to retail commercial. The approved change will reduce the number of approved dwelling units from 5,221 to 5,196. Sal Orlando made the request for the plan amendment.

Also approved was a request for a zone change from very light industrial to retail commercial use, for 4.9 acres of land on the north side of State Road 46, west of Elder Road, near Sanford. Robert Secrist made the request.

A change of zoning request for single family dwelling from agricultural use was also approved for ten acres of land south of Lake Drive and 25 acres of land south of Center Drive. Norman Cutson is the applicant.

Video Vexations: Cassette Thefts Cause Short Cessation Of Loans

By Diane Petryk
Herald News Editor

Cassette movies will not be loaned from the Seminole County library until sometime after August 1, while a tighter security procedure is established.

Circulation of the library's 640 movies was stopped last week after it was gradually discovered that 12 of the cassettes were missing from their cases, said Sandra Gallagher, libraries' branch coordinator.

Library staff members were taking an inventory of the collection Wednesday to determine if any other cassettes are unaccounted for.

Mrs. Gallagher said the movies cost the library an average of $50 each, but with processing costs the 12 missing represent, by low estimate, a $700 loss.

Casselberry police are investigating the thefts.

The movies were stored in a cabinet at the center of the Casselberry branch library at Seminole Plaza. Library patrons were free to remove movies from the case to take them to the checkout desk up front. Mrs. Gallagher said a person could, however, take a movie into one of the bookshelf rows and remove it from its case and perhaps put it in a purse or parcel unseen. The case could then be put back in the movie cabinet and the cassette taken from the library without being checked out.

In an effort to prevent such thefts, the cassette cabinet will be moved to the front of the library and persons will be asked to check out their choices upon selection, not after they have wandered through the library. There will also be a mechanical security system. Mrs. Gallagher said.

With the entire collection being checked out and returned every three and a half days, she said it would be impossible to have a system where the movies are kept behind a counter and titles brought out upon request.

"There's no space behind the counter and no staff to retrieve them," she said. Although a number of check out procedures have been tried for the movies, she said the busy nature of the library makes any kind of individual retrieval service impossible.

After "hundreds of requests" for the service, Mrs. Gallagher said the library management felt it had to invest some funds in such a program. About 300 cassettes were purchased initially and about 300 added last year.

Last year's purchases cost approximately $16,000, she said, out of a $240,000 acquisition budget for the entire library system. (Movies are available only at the Casselberry branch but can be ordered by Sanford branch patrons. Eventually, she said, the aim is to have a movie collection available at Sanford

County OKs Road Funds Student Safety Enhanced

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Students attending three Seminole County Schools will get help in having a safe trip to school as a result of actions taken by Seminole County Commissioners in appropriating more than $80,000 for traffic flow projects near the schools.

The projects include a traffic signal at County Road 46A and Ridgewood Rd., and road widening for turn lanes at Red Bug Elementary School and Greenwood Lakes Middle School.

The traffic signal was requested to be in operation near Seminole High School and Lakeview Middle School. Signals will include those for road traffic as well as pedestrians, along with time clocks for morning and evening peak driving time changes. The estimated cost for the signal system is $30,000.

The school board recently requested commission action to improve traffic flow and student safety during a joint worksession with the commission.

The projects will be paid for from school impact fees collected by the county.

A left turn lane into Red Bug Elementary School from Red Bug Lake Rd. will cost $18,300, and provide better traffic flow into the school. The project is estimated to be complete prior to school opening.

At the new Greenwood Lakes Middle School in Lake Mary, two left turn lanes into the school area from Greenway Blvd. and Lake Park Dr. are to be completed prior to school opening. The lanes will cost $32,500.

"Those are three critical areas," Karen Coleman, county schools spokesman said. "Traffic is increasing very dramatically around Red Bug Elementary, and Seminole High School, and will certainly increase with the opening of Greenwood Lakes."

"We certainly appreciate the assistance of the county commission in helping us address these safety needs."

Autopsy: Strangulation

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

An autopsy showed that an Altamonte Springs woman found dead in her daughter's bed at about 2:45 p.m. Tuesday was strangled to death.

Altamonte Springs police were not commenting today on the specific method of strangulation, nor would they say if the autopsy showed if there was any sexual involvement related to the death of Mary Harper, 24.

Police were still seeking Mrs. Harper's husband, Al Harper, for questioning. However, police spokesman Jim Viner said, that he is "not a primary suspect in the case."

Police, he said, believe Harper was at home Tuesday.

The autopsy, performed at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford on Wednesday established that Mrs. Harper, 518 Baywood Court, died at about 4 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Harper's 3-year-old daughter was in the home with her mother's body when it was found by Mrs. Harper's sister, Maurine Montag, 19, of Orlando. Viner said. The child apparently thought her mother was asleep.

There was little sign of a struggle at the home, but marks on Mrs. Harper's body indicated foul play, Viner said.

Mrs. Harper worked at Church Street Station in Orlando and her husband, who

Officer Suspended

A Casselberry police officer was suspended indefinitely after she was charged with battery during a skirmish with her roommate.

Suspended was Renee D. Kelley, 20, who joined the department in March. She was booked into the city jail and released on her own recognizance.

The charge stems from an argument she reportedly had with her roommate, Colette M. Beaseley, 20, according to reports.

Officers were called to the women's apartment around 3 a.m. Wednesday. Both women were reportedly arguing.

Ms. Kelly left shortly but

Bank Robber Named To FBI Most Wanted List

FBI Director William H. Webster announced today that Donald Keith Williams, a 57-year-old fugitive being sought in connection with at least 30 bank robberies throughout six states, has been named to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

Williams is wanted by the FBI for allegedly stealing over $100,000 during a series of bank robberies in the last three years which have spanned the states of California, Colorado, Illinois, Minnesota, Oregon, and Washington. Williams has been dubbed the "Veil Bandit" by some law enforcement officials due to the fact that during several robberies he has reportedly worn a baseball cap with a cloth over the visor to conceal his features. Williams, who has been convicted numerous times in the past for armed robbery, forgery, and burglary, allegedly carries a .38-caliber snub-nose revolver and has worn a radio earpiece and protective body armor.

Director Webster said, "The FBI is determined to bring fugitives such as Donald Keith Williams, who so blatantly illustrate their disregard for our society's laws, to justice."

Born Dec. 12, 1928, in Lincoln, Nebraska, Williams is described as a 6-foot, 200-pound, balding white male with gray hair and blue eyes. He has been known to wear a beard and a mustache in the past. Williams has a muscular affliction in his right eye which may cause squinting. He has previously worked as a salesman and has used Social Security number 492-26-8513. Williams has also used the following aliases: Anson Blake Judd, Thomas Slaughter, D.K. Williams, Don K. Williams, Donald Williams, Donald Deigh Keith Williams, and Donald K. Williams.

Williams may be accompanied by his wife, Cheri A. Williams. A white female born May 20, 1946. Williams' wife, who is not wanted by law enforcement authorities, has a deformed right leg which causes her to limp.

The 401st fugitive to be placed on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list, Williams replaces Brian Patrick Malverty, who was arrested without incident by Special Agents of the FBI as he approached his residence in San Diego, California, on the morning of April 27. Director Webster credited the arrest of Malverty, who had been on the list for only eleven days, to the cooperation of an alert San Diego citizen who recognized Malverty's photograph at a local post office two days earlier.

Director Webster added, "I would like to express my appreciation to the countless law enforcement and news media professionals as well as concerned citizens who have made the FBI's "Top Ten" program the viable investigative tool which it is today." Malverty had been sought in connection with the April 23, 1985, murder of two men in Atlanta, Georgia, who were shot in the head, chest, and back with a .25-caliber pistol and then doused with gasoline and set afire.

Donald Keith Williams has been charged with violations of the Federal Bank Robbery Statute in Federal warrants issued on May 5, 1984, at Chicago, Illinois, and on Aug. 8, 1985, at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Williams should be considered both armed and extremely dangerous. Anyone with information regarding Williams is requested to take no action other than to contact the nearest office of the FBI, the number of which can be found on the first page of most telephone directories.

Link Between Coma And Polar B'ar Suspected

CAPE CORAL (UPI) — Health officials sent blood culture samples to the Centers for Disease Control Monday to see if a 54-year-old man developed meningitis from a contaminated Polar B'ar ice cream treat.

Dean McEntyre went into the coma at Cape Coral Hospital early last week, and family members said chances for a complete recovery without brain damage were slim. McEntyre was listed in critical condition.

McEntyre's doctor said he was suffering from meningitis caused by Listeria monocytogenes, a bacteria found in a Richmond, Va., plant where Kraft, Inc., manufactures its Polar B'ar product.

Kraft closed the Richmond plant July 3 and recalled 25,000 cases of the ice cream treats as a precaution. The bacteria was found in only one flavor, a raspberry-vanilla mix called Checkerberry.

McEntyre told his doctor he had eaten one or more of the polar bars before he became ill, said Lee County Health Director

Dr. Robert Tomchik.

Blood cultures and other lab tests taken from McEntyre will be sent to the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta to compare with the bacteria found in the contaminated bars, Tomchik said.

"We cannot say for sure that it was the bars," he said. "We can only check to see if it was the same sub-type or not."

"At this point we're not sure one caused the other, but that's certainly a possibility we're checking out," Tomchik said.

Tomchik said Listeria is found in milk and is virtually always eliminated in the pasteurization process.

McEntyre first complained of flu symptoms July 11, and was admitted to the hospital July 13, hospital officials said.

A friend of his, Betty Sawyer, also said she had eaten Polar B'ars and was admitted to the hospital with flu symptoms Monday. However, tests showed none of the suspect bacteria, Tomchik said.

The agreement has been developing for several months, and as vacancies occurred, the positions were not refilled, Hooper said. He said "seven or eight" fleet maintenance employees remain. Some will be transferred to other county jobs, and others will be laid off.

The county's old trucks will be auctioned. Hooper said some of the trucks are between five and 10 years old, and get poor fuel mileage.

"In the past, we've paid cash for the trucks, and then maintained them. Personnel costs of maintenance have increased five to ten percent annually. Now we'll have a fixed cost," Hooper said of the lease agreement. He added that the county would retain four of its own trucks.

He said the old trucks get between four and five miles per gallon, and the new ones will get between five and six miles per gallon.

The agreement with Ryder begins Oct. 1.

County Oks Leasing Trucks To Haul Trash

Seminole County Commissioners agreed Tuesday to lease 14 tractor-trailer rigs to haul trash from the county transfer station to the landfill.

The five-year deal will cost the county $202,888.56 annually, but will actually mean a savings for the county, said county officials.

"This is an innovative idea, which will keep costs down," said County Administrator Ken Hooper. He estimated the county will save $107,000 during the first year of the lease agreement between the county and the lowest bidder on the lease program, Ryder Truck Rental, Orlando. The savings come from better fuel mileage, lower maintenance costs, and the elimination of 16 fleet maintenance department positions, since Ryder will maintain the trucks.

But 16 people won't lose their jobs, Hooper said.

Solar Panel Removal Brings Civil Suit

A branch of the Aetna insurance company is suing an Altamonte Springs business alleging its bungling of work on a solar panel caused water damage to one of its clients.

Standard Fire Insurance Co.

has filed suit against Mules Punch Solar Inc. The insurance company had insured the home of James and Sara Hollis, of 481 Citadel Drive, Casselberry.

According to the suit, the solar company removed a solar panel from the roof of the Hollis' home on May 8, 1985. Water discharged from the panel site and damaged unspecified contents in the house.

Damage was set at $15,171.05.

Two File To Run For Office In Lake Mary

Two candidates have filed official qualifying documents to run for Lake Mary city commission seats, and a third is expected to file for candidacy for mayor, before Friday's noon deadline.

The city's general election is set for Sept. 2. Also on the ballot will be a change in the city charter, moving the election day from September to November.

City Planning and Zoning Board member John Percy, 38, was the first to qualify for retiring commissioner Russ Megonegal's seat two on July 1. Percy has been a P&Z board member for one year, and is a former Seminole County Director of Public Services.

Incumbent seat two commissioner Paul Tremel, 37, filed candidacy papers July 17.

Tremel is seeking his second two year term, and is a Seminole Community College instructor.

Mayor Dick Fess is expected to file his qualifying papers today, according to city clerk Carol Edwards. Fess, 40, was elected as mayor in 1984. He was appointed to the city's Board of Adjustments in 1979, and elected as city commissioner in 1979. He ran for mayor in 1982, but lost in a three way race, before winning election to the job in 1984.

Fess is a businessman, who recently lost his job as a vice president for corporate banking at Freedom Bank, when his department was eliminated in reorganization of management.

There is no announced opposition for the three candidates.

Lake Mary Teens Need Place To Go

Lake Mary teens need an alternative to roaming the streets at night, and the solution may be in providing a location for city youth to congregate, according to Police Chief Charles Lauderdale. The youth program would be supervised by adults, but run by the city's young people, Lauderdale says.

Lauderdale said the city's Community Improvement Association civic center on Country Club Road has been mentioned as a possible site for the youth program base.

He said initial ideas call for a youth center to be open two nights a week during the school year, and more often during the summer months.

"The adults will supervise the programs, but the youth will run it," Lauderdale said. He added that the activities will be drug, alcohol, and tobacco free. "We hope to have something going by August," Lauderdale said.

Lauderdale said those interested can contact him at 322-1151, or Rev. Hays at 323-8983.

Jurors Consider Monopoly Charges — Sims Retires

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six jurors will begin consideration today of the USFL's charges that the NFL is the "most powerful monopoly in the country" and should be penalized by a billion dollars or more.

if the panel finds the NFL has violated the antitrust laws and the USFL has been injured by the NFL's action, it must set estimate the amount of damages. Antitrust law requires that the amount the jury estimates be tripled, as a penalty for the illegal behavior.

forcing a merger of his team into the NFL and obtaining a new football stadium in New York City as part of the bargain. Myerson dismissed the NFL's "merger" theory as "garbage."

recommenda-tions. The NFL "treats you people like village idiots" when they deny that any of the study's suggestions were carried out, he said.

normally, I'm just glad that I'm in the position to leave the game financially secure and with my health... Sims has not played since he injured the knee against the Minnesota Vikings on Oct. 21, 1984.

Neighbor Can't Turn Back To Back-To-Nature Family

DEAR ABBY: We live in a highly desirable section of town. A few years ago when our neighbor's little boy was 3, I observed his father teaching him to relieve himself off the side of their house!

Dear Abby

We have a daughter (now 8) who has been taught to come into the house to use the bathroom. She knows that urinating outside in public is nasty, unsanitary and ill-mannered.

These same neighbors have a 4-year-old girl who is following in her big brother's footsteps. Our son, just turned 3, sees these kids potting in the yard, and now he's doing it.

I realize that the neighbors have a right to do whatever they want on their own property, but it's setting a terrible example for our children. The neighbors across the street are also upset about this because their children play over here. What can we do? Please don't mention our town or name, as this family is pretty good at throwing eggs, too.

APPALED IN THE MIDWEST

DEAR APPALLED: First, speak to the offending neighbors and explain the unhygienic aspects of using the yard as a toilet. Advise them that the department of public health disapproves of this practice, and you will report them to the authorities if they do not clean up their act. Then have no hesitation to make an official complaint if necessary.

DEAR ABBY: Remember me?

I'm "Katherine in Georgetown, Texas." I wrote to you last September saying that I wanted to donate my organs after death but couldn't get any witnesses to sign the consent form. Members of my family refused to sign it, fearing some doctor might get "scalpel happy" and remove the organs they need before I'm dead.

Well, Abby, you printed my letter, explaining that my husband needed to understand that willing one's organs after death in order to improve the quality of life for the living is one of the most generous acts a person can perform. And the possibility that some "scalpel-happy" surgeon might remove one of my organs before I was dead was impossible because a patient must be pronounced dead by two doctors before a death certificate is signed.

To make a long story short, when my family saw your explanation in the paper, they not only offered to witness my donor form, they became donors themselves!

And listen to this, Abby. Last week I had major surgery, and when I gave my doctor my donor card to clip to my chart, he asked me what it was. He said he had never seen one before! So please print this and tell everybody who has a donor card to inform their doctors now, in case one day they'll need emergency surgery and are in no condition to let the doctor know. Thank you.

KATHERINE IN GEORGETOWN, TEXAS

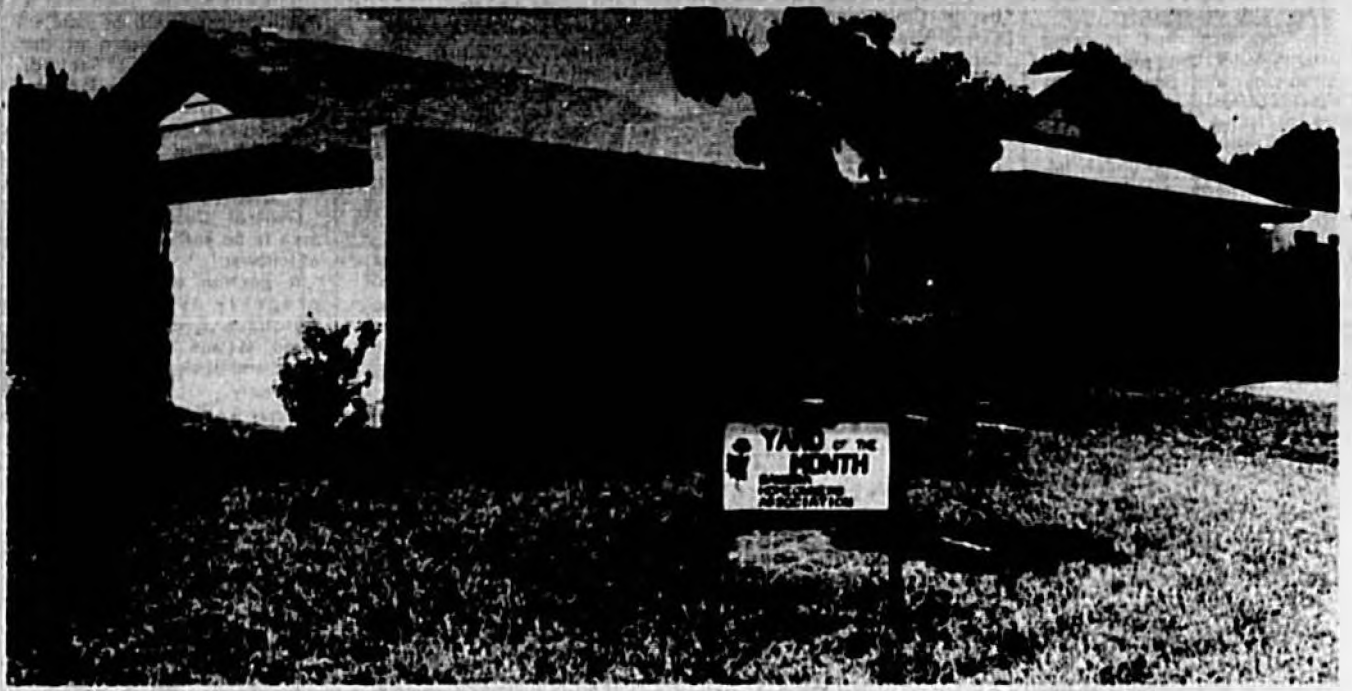

DEAR ABBY: A friend who I hang out with doesn't just "flash" — she wears miniskirts and sits cross-legged. If it's warm outside, she fans herself with her skirt. I don't know if she's trying to be outrageous or trying to attract guys or what, but it really nauseas me out.

Abby, it's not like she's 12 years old. She's 22! Is this some form of exhibitionism? I know she's aware she's doing it.

Is it none of my business? Should I just look away when she is spread-eagled in a skirt? I've never thought of myself as old-fashioned, but this is too much.

EMBARRASSED IN MINNEAPOLIS

DEAR EMBARRASSED: For goodness sakes, tell this friend what you have told me. Regardless of whether her exhibitionism is unconscious or not, the view is the same and so is the impression she's making.

Yard Of The Month

Sanora Homeowners Association Grounds Committee has selected the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Mark (Pam) Leppia, 103 Sanora Blvd., as YARD OF THE MONTH for July, according to Levelle Thompson, Sanora Homeowners Association Grounds Committee chairman. As you enter, you will immediately notice this well kept yard with beautiful variegated pittosporum as foundation plants and the ever popular crape myrtle, which is in full bloom, as corner plants and lining the wall, with every blossom in just the right place. A lone dogwood tree stands as a punctuation mark at the corner of this corner lot.

Skull Fracture And Ear Problem

DEAR DR. GOTT — My daughter has lost part of her hearing and is dizzy all the time. She was in a car accident 27 years ago and had a serious head fracture, but it healed. What can we do now?

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm afraid that if your daughter's deafness and inner-ear disturbance are due to the skull fracture, very little can be done to correct the condition. However, she may be helped by using a hearing aid and medicine to control dizziness. An otolaryngologist can advise you.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm getting white spots all over my body, and they're getting bigger all the time. It's almost as if my skin were being bleached out. What causes this?

DEAR DR. GOTT — You may be developing vitiligo, a blotchy depigmentation of skin. No one knows what causes these patches to appear. Check with a dermatologist for confirmation and suggestions about how to treat this.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Can cancer, hypertension, arthritis and cataracts result from the stress of chronic, unrelieved sexual frustration suffered for many years? I'm convinced that there is a connection, yet doctors never seem to mention it.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I think not. I'm not aware of any studies that suggest a relation between sexual frustration and the diseases you mention. Now that you bring it up, however, I might add that many forms of sexual frustration may be self-induced. Sexual expression does not necessarily require another person. Modern experts recognize that no physical or emotional harm will befall a patient who chooses sexual self-gratification. Masturbation is an acceptable way to relieve sexual tension and, as the writer Phillip Roth pointed out, its advantage is that you don't have to look your very best!

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have been on birth-control pills for three years and am now considering having children. How soon before conception should I stop the Pill?

DEAR READER — Stop the Pill at the conclusion of your next cycle — that is, when that month's supply runs out. You probably will be able to conceive within three months thereafter.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have a terrible problem of ballooning up the minute I drink any liquid. My waistline increases by two inches after one glass of water. Is this serious?

DEAR READER — I don't know, but it certainly is unusual. Did you actually measure your waistline before and after? If you really documented such a pronounced change, stop by your doctor's office for an examination.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio, 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
 One strategy in poker is bluffing — betting as though your hand were excellent so that other players will drop out. Although there is no betting in bridge, players will sometimes make a bluffing bid, hoping to stop the opponents from leading a particular suit. What is not so common is to make a bluffing play, attacking your weakest suit in an attempt to cajole the opposition into leading your stronger suits.

With the opening lead of a diamond, declarer had eight tricks. The obvious source of additional tricks was in the heart holding. If East had the heart king, a successful finesse would even provide an overtrick. And if West had the heart king, perhaps he would not know to switch to spades. So declarer went to dummy with a club and took the heart finesse. Defender West was on his toes. If South had A-J in diamonds, the club ace and as much as A-Q of hearts, the only defensive hope was that East held A-Q of spades and some spade length. So West won the heart king and switched to spades to set the contract.

What if declarer makes a bluffing play? Let him lead a club to dummy and play a spade back to his 10. West will win the king and may well reason that East has strength in the heart suit. A switch away from the heart king will then allow South to make his contract by means of this bold swindle. Please don't make this play every chance you get. But keep it in your bridge arsenal just in case.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 26, 1986

In the year ahead, you will be involved in a broad range of successful interests. Although each will be different, they will be related in a unique way.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Assign tasks today to those you are absolutely sure can handle them. Once you do, let go and let them do things their way. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Collective ventures have excellent chances of success today, but everyone must do exactly what is expected of him or her. Hold up your end.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Friends who normally support you will do so again today. However, be wary of someone who has never been your ally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you do your best today, the results will be exceptionally rewarding. But don't feel guilty if you can't build Rome in a day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you're competing with friends today, it's best to leave betting out of the picture. Do it just for fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A matter that affects you and your family should work out very well today. This is likely to be through the efforts of others, not yours.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your popularity is at a high today, yet you may have a hard time believing it. This could be because you're misreading the intentions of your pals.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

Material advantages you weren't expecting could suddenly develop for you today. Don't broadcast these events to someone who is a bit jealous.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your commercial affairs look rather favorable today, provided you deal from your strengths, rather than your weaknesses.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A confidential matter should be discussed today only with those directly involved with it. Try to keep this in mind if an associate starts giving you the third degree.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be careful today not to let your material desires override your innate generosity. If you treat others fairly, you'll have nothing to fear.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your possibilities for personal gain are extremely strong today, provided you're not unduly influenced by a weak cohort.
