Police Probe Rumor That Thieves Started Big Palm Beach Fire

Marshall Law Is In Effect After Disastrous Fire

Palmetto Beach, Fla., Mar. 19.—Marshall law in Palm Beach with troops guarding beaches between Palm Beach and West Palm Beach followed the seizure by police Wednesday night of two motor trucks and several automobiles filled with goods, stolen during the fire here last night. Eight negroes and one white man were arrested, the police withholding their names.

Martial law was ordered by Gov. Martin, after request had been made by telegraph and telephone. National guardsmen were on duty immediately after authorization was received from the governor.

Capt. W. H. Von Behren of the Florida National Guard, called out the police and distributed them about the burned area in Palm Beach and set them to watching all ingress along the county's highways in an effort to recover thousands of dollars of property looted from the burned Breakers and Palm Beach Hotels.

Jewels, money and clothing running into the thousands in value last night were replying in the West Palm Beach 22 persons were in the jails of these two cities last night, charged with looting. Most of them are negroes.

On a lot adjoining the Palm Beach Hotel site are assembled trunks, furniture and other articles, estimated to be worth $50,000 under guard.

A number of shops lying along the North Lake trail in the vicinity of the burned Palm Beach Hotel also were burned.

Owners of palatial yachts hurried to the lake as soon as the Palm Beach hotel caught fire and shortly later all of the craft and other buildings were saved from disaster.

This is the second time the East Coast Hotel Co., a part of the estate of the late Henry M. Flagler, builder of the Florida East Coast railway, suffered from fire at this spot. The first hotel was known as the Palm Beach Inn and was constructed there in 1895. In 1904 it burned to the ground. The next year the Breakers was built.

Owing to the fact that the Royal Poinciana hotel containing 1800 rooms was to close within a few days, a large number of guests had moved to the Breakers within the past week.

According to insurance agencies here, the hotel and contents were fully covered by insurance.

When smoke and flame began pouring from the hotel there was indescribable rush from all parts of the immense grounds by guests to rescue their property left in the rooms. Much of the lower floor of the hotel was given over to an arcade containing high class stores.

SENATE CLOSES SPECIAL MEET ON WEDNESDAY

End Of Stormy Session Sees No Abatement Of Intensity And Feeling Existing Between President and Body

Woodlock's Name Is Rejected Second Time

Trammell Denounces Colleagues For Failing To Act On Bill To Investigate Gas

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—The senate adjourned sine die Wednesday, bringing to an end the stormy special session which began Mar. 4. The close saw no abatement of the intensity and feeling that characterized the entire session, resulting in a breach with the White House.

President Coolidge continued to the very last to challenge a doctoral opinion on his nomination, office by resubmitting the name of Thomas F. Woodlock of New York to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which the senate failed to confirm at the last session.

Accepted the Issue.

As in the case of Charles B. Warren, the attorney general, the senate accepted the issue with the president by refusing again to give its approval to the Woodlock nomination. It was not even considered by the Interstate Commerce committee to which it was referred.

Close friends of the president now believe he will give Mr. Woodlock a recess appointment.

On Mar. 4 with a fiery speech by Vice President Dawes, who aroused the senators by his denunciation of senate rules, the special session was almost as turbulent in its last hours. Most of the day was spent in reviewing the old cases that have divided the senate into a group of small factions.

A number of Florida denunciations of the president, without acting on his resolution to investigate the president.

Debate Was General

Debate covered a wide field including discussion of the proposed Muscle Shoals, the Warren nomination, and Federal waterpower.

Then, before the senators agreed to quit and go home, they heard a discourse by Senator Stanford, Republican, Oregon, on the need for better homes.

The senate did confirm in rapid order and in open session, however, a large number of nominations that were forwarded during the closing hours from the White House.

There was no discussion and no roll call on any of them, and they were accepted without a single murmur of protest.

With the adjournment, congress closed down until the first Monday in December, unless the president calls a special session, which he has shown no disposition to do.

Most of the special session, consisting of twelve legislative days, was confined to expressions of disagreement over pending issues. The program of actual accomplishment was confined to ratification of the Isle of Pines treaty, agreement to take up the world agreement of committees to deprive the La Follette insurgents of their places of seniority, and adoption of two investigation resolutions and a few measures of lesser importance.

With hundreds of dollars worth of easily portable merchandise available, burglars who entered the drug store of Roumiffat & Anderson, at Park Avenue and First Street, Wednesday night contented themselves with two small phials containing cocaine and about $12 from the cash register and made their getaway, it was reported today.

To get the drug, the intruder or intruders broke open a narcotic cabinet in the back of the store. Though there was morphine, heroin and other drugs in the cabinet, only the cocaine was taken. The bottles taken originally had contained one-eighth of an ounce though a part of the contents of each had been used.

Bandits Get $1,200 From Man In Crowd

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 19.

Geo. Mann, proprietor of the restaurant here, offered $1,200 into his bank book Wednesday and started for the West Side Bank of Commerce, Twelfth street and Broadway.

It was 11 o'clock and scores of people were on Twelfth street. Before Mann covered the book and a half to the bank bandits got his money.

Bandit factor by will, by administering typhoid fever germs and subtle poisons.

C. C. Palman, head of a science school, named with Shepherd in an indictment of 25 counts after he told Robert E. Crowe, state attorney, that he supplied the fatal typhoid bacilli and showed Shepherd how to feed them to the youth, was not placed in jail.

He was held in custody of the state's attorney, and indictments were held would not face imprisonment until after Shepherd's trial for murder.

Shepherd, through his counsel William Scott Stewart, noted trial lawyer, demanded immediate freedom on bail when a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was dismissed yesterday afternoon upon the state's attorney citing the indictment.

Traffic Will Be Restored Today

Engine And Three Cars Leave Track; Engineer And Fireman Escape Without Hurts

L. D. Martin, baggagemaster, who was seriously injured late Wednesday afternoon when the Atlantic Coast Line train No. 92 was derailed seven miles north of DeLand, was reported Thursday to be in an improved condition at a DeLand hospital where he was taken after the wreck and hopes are held out for his recovery.

Mr. Martin was the most seriously injured of 20 persons hurt when the train, the Tampa Special, struck a split switch at Bond's Mill.

Twelve persons injured in the wreck required hospital treatment. Mr. Martin, who was in a seat at the time of derailment, was thrown through a glass window, seriously gashing his throat. E. H. Weekly, of Sanford, engineer on the train, and his negro firemen, remained with the engine and escaped without injury.

The engine left the track and ploughed along for about 100 feet. One day coach, one combination coach and a baggage car were overturned.

Superintendent T. L. Dumas has been at the scene of the wreck to clear for traffic. Wrecking equipment was roused to the scene and officials of the line expected at noon the track cleared in time for train No. 89 north bound from Tampa to pass through the wreck.

Among the more seriously injured were C. L. Hess, Lumbert, P. W. Va., broken ankle and wrenched hip; Perry Lee, Toledo, O., badly cut and scalped; A. F. Harley, Jacksonville, and B. J. Lewis, Nashville, Tenn., lacerations.

A number of other passengers suffered slight wounds and bruises. Mrs. O. C. Comar of Omeida, Tenn., Mrs. R. E. Knight of Valdosta, Ga., and E. L. Davy of Union, S. C., suffered minor cuts and bruises.

The station at Bond's Mill, where the accident occurred, was demolished when sidwiped by a steel baggage car.

Dawes Will Take To Country Fight Upon One Man Filibuster

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.

Vice-President Dawes will carry to the country in public addresses the issue he made through the senate in his inaugural address for a revision of the rules so as to prohibit one man filibuster.

His first address on the subject will be delivered at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press at New York on April 21. Beyond that he has made no definite engagements, but he expects to speak in Ohio and Indiana.

After his inaugural address, which astonished and aroused the senate, the vice president told a delegation from Marietta, O., which called on him at his hotel, that the matter of the amendment of the rules was one that would have to be taken to the country over the heads of senators unless the senate acted.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, and Copeland, of New York, Democrats, subsequently introduced resolutions for a change of the rules, but the senate took no action further than to refer them to the rules committee.

Senator Underwood's proposal would pave the way for closure under certain conditions while that of Senator Copeland would require objection by three senators instead of one to block consideration of a measure under unanimous consent.

Illinois Tornado Death Toll Nears 1,000 Mark 8,000 Made Homeless

CLEVELAND COPS BREWER CONTEST BY SCORE OF 3-1

Speaker's Team Sewes Up Contest By Crossing Plate Twice In First Two Innings; Brewers Vs. Atlanta Friday

By M. S. PAGE

Given nine hits by two Brewer pitchers and further aided by four errors by the fielders, the Cleveland Indians were able to defeat 3 to 1 the Milwaukee team Wednesday afternoon at the Sanford municipal baseball field. The game proved rather hard on pitchers of both teams as each manager used three during the nine innings.

Cleveland started the game with something of a rush, putting over a run in the first inning and another in the second. The Indians ceased scoring activities until the seventh when another walk out across. The Brewers, in the eighth became a trifle impatient, and expressed their annoyance by slipping a run over on their own account.

Coming up in the eighth, McCarthy, Brewer third baseman, got out. Luce, batting for McCracken, fanned. Riechbourg singled and took second base on an error by Kade, Indian first baseman, who went out after a ground ball and then followed with a bad peg to the pitcher. Oscar Melillo, the only man to knock a home run on the Sanford field, this season, followed with a single that was stretched into a double and then was further stretched into a three base hit through the speed of Oscar's legs and the over enthusiasm of the Cleveland short stop who heaved the ball over Knodel's head. Riechbourg, who at the beginning of the play was camping on second base, came home.

Triu Speaker played for the first five innings at his place in the lineup. He revealed a flash of two of his old time form but did not contribute materially toward breaking the monotony of the game.

Roy Sanders, who began pitching for the Brewers, gave up five hits in five innings. Ovid McCracken, following, gave up four hits in three innings. Bill Schneidhitz, during his occupancy of the mound, which lasted only one inning, held the Indians hitless. Bill Skiff started in catching but later in the game retired in favor of McMenemy.

Cleveland began pitching Speer who gave up one hit in three innings; Hackey, who followed, held the Brewers hitless for three innings while Lehr, who pitched the last three innings, is credited with allowing two hits. Lehr caught throughout the game.

None of the celebrated University of Alabama trio got into the game. Luke Sewell and Ilggs Stephenson were present but were used to hold down the bench in the dugout.

The Brewers departed about noon Thursday for a game with the Baltimore Orioles, in Eustis. The Orioles last year won the pennant of the International league. On their return to Sanford Friday the Brewers will play the Atlanta Southern League team which, in Winter Park, handed the Brewers the heaviest set back they have suffered this season.

Junior Chamber To Elect Officers At Meeting Next Week

Officers to lead the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce during the year beginning Apr. 1 will be elected at the next meeting of the organization on Mar. 29. Preparations to bring out a maximum of the organization's membership for the election were begun at the meeting Thursday at the Seminole Cafe.

The officers to be elected will be a president, first and second vice-president and a secretary treasurer. They will be installed in office at the first meeting after Apr. 1.

S. A. Sossamon, formerly of North Carolina and recently of Daytona, a resident of Sanford, made a short address.

A report by L. C. Debout, secretary of the chamber, placed the funds now held in the treasury of the organization at $60.

Plans were begun for a drive to bring about a large percentage of attendance. The membership of the chamber is near 100 men while the average of attendance has been less than a score at the past few weeks meetings.

Isolation Of Cities Prevents Accurate Survey Of Situation Being Made; Fires Are Started As Result Of Tornado And Continue To Burn While Rescue Work Is Redoubled

Storm Hits Hardest Where It Lasts Only 5 Minutes; Five States Struck

Tornado Strikes When School Children Are At Studies, Crushing Them Beneath Falling Roofs; Red Cross Sends Rescue Workers

CARBONDALE, Ill., Mar. 19.—It is estimated that between 500 and 1,000 are dead, 2,500 to 3,000 injured and 8,000 to 10,000 left homeless as a result of the Wednesday's tornado.

The mid-afternoon tornado chose the worst hour to strike when children packed the schools and workers were in the stores and shops. Where it did its worst damage, the storm lasted but five minutes. It flattened heavily constructed school and business buildings with worse results than casualties in lighter dwellings.

Fires still raging or smouldering millions of dollars worth of wreckage delayed counts of the death lists.

A traveling exhibit of Crane plumbing fixtures, mounted in a huge auto van, was placed on display in Sanford Wednesday afternoon at Park avenue and First street. The automobile was equipped with a tank and force pump that enabled those in charge to demonstrate the operation of the various pieces of the exhibit.

Kitchen, bath and sanitary fixtures made up the exhibit, which has been traveling during the past several months. The demonstration was put on the road originally as an aid to dealers handling fixtures of the Crane Company and has been continued to demonstrate what is possible in convenience and comfort in plumbing fixtures.

Angry Briton Would Eliminate Harold Lloyd From Movies

LONDON, Mar. 18.—In penance for his sins, or perhaps just for the fun of it, a Briton by the name of B. Southcombe has "taken all the leading moving picture films that have come to Europe during the last 15 years." He has some suggestions to make for the Hollywood and Lonze Island producers. If the suggestions are unheeded, Mr. Southcombe firmly expects to see Germany beat America in the movie business within five years. Here is Mr. Southcombe's advice to the movie magnates of America:

1. Great Britain is tired of scenes in which hotel waiters are shot dead because the eggs are boiled too hard.
2. In Europe no right-thinking man ever goes out in a straw hat with evening dress.
3. We are tired of pictures showing a man hanging on a scaffold pole in Broadway.
4. Cut out all cinema artists with horn-rimmed glasses. No more dining salons with the made-up black waiter.
5. No motor cars in films that date back 50 years.

Alleged Murderers Taken From Miami

MIAMI, Mar. 18.—Crowds gathering at the Dade County jail today caused Sheriff Henry Chase to plan the immediate removal of William W. Fox and John Naugie, held in connection with the slaying of motor cycle policeman Laurie L. Weyer from Dade County jail to a jail in a neighboring city. They were arrested early this morning in a Miami suburb. Information given the police by three unnamed citizens. Fox admitted he is the man who shot Weyer, police stated, adding that he had confessed to several hold ups and robberies in Miami.

FT. LAUDERDALE, Mar. 18.—Fox and Naugie were taken through here at noon headed northward either for West Palm Beach or Ft. Pierce for safe keeping. The two men were in separate closed automobiles, manned by deputy sheriffs.

Grand Jury Said To Have Brought True Bills In Death Probe

Faiman and his hatred of wrong, Faiman finally told with smiling frankness and amazing coolness his story of a plot to add still another tragedy to the long chain involving the McClintock fortune. The typhoid bacilli, he said, Sherrill finally administered to the youth, were kept and propagated for four or five months before Sherrill found the time auspicious for administering them. He said he advised they be given in cold water but was not certain whether that instructions had been followed as he also had indicated other ways they might be given.

Authorities Begin Probe
CHICAGO, Mar. 18.—Disclosures made by C. A. Faiman, head of the National University of Science in investigation of death of McClintock resulted today in action by state and federal authorities. The state began an investigation in institutions of Chicago similar to Faiman's school and postal inspectors planned to scrutinize literature of the school in connection with correspondence courses.

Argentine May Use Airplane Mail

BUENOS AIRES, Mar. 18.—A saving of one week in postal service between New York and Buenos Aires, now occupying 18 to 20 days, is one of the features of plans for the establishment of mail plane routes radiating from this city which have been submitted to President Alvear by the Argentine Aero Club. The president has promised to send a message to congress at its forthcoming session commending an appropriation for carrying out the plans. These include mail plane service to Antofagasta, Chile; Asuncion, Paraguay, and remote points of the Argentine Republic. The week's saving on New York mails would be gained by the proposed route to Antofagasta, where the air planes would take on mails from steamship touching that port and arrive in Buenos Aires two days later.

Liverpool Grows To Be More Sober

LIVERPOOL, Mar. 18.—The inhabitants of this city are not drinking as much liquor in 1920 or else they are taking it more wisely. At the recent annual session of the licensing committee Chairman Joseph Hunter said convictions for drunkenness in 1921 were 4,434 as against 8,506 in 1920. The healthier condition of things was due in a great measure to the action of the bench and the supervision of the police.

Fishermen Turn Aside To Kneel In Silent Prayer

LE HAVRE, Mar. 18.—Every year, before the Havre fishermen sail off in their boats to the distant Newfoundland banks, they gather together at Havre to celebrate the feast of their patron saint, St. Peter. This year the presence of the Archbishop of Rouen lent unusual interest to the ceremony. The whole town turned out, and the church of St. Etienne was covered with flags and bunting and gattered with lights. The sailors filed reverently up the aisles, accompanied by their women folk, and the whole congregation, in picturesque Normandy attire, sang hymns and prayed for those who go down to the sea in ships. At the close of the ceremony a bluff old master seaman, who had weathered many a storm, came to the rail of the choir and made an address in the rough, piteous language of the seafarers, to which the archbishop replied. All the fishing fleet in the docks was gay with flags, their crews gathered together for the blessing of the ships by the archbishop. After the religious ceremony bands played the Marseillaise, the sailors cheered, and the 1925 Newfoundland Banks fishing season was declared open.

Wealthy Brazilians Do Own Shopping

RIO DE JANEIRO, Mar. 18.—According to an American housewife living in Rio de Janeiro, prices for food in the Brazilian capital register a rise every week. She states that prices are so high that cartloads of vegetables spoil at the municipal market. "A few years ago only poor people visited the market," this woman continued. "A long row of taxicabs can now be found every morning at the principal entrance, waiting for the higher class trade. Price in Rio have more than doubled during the last two years. Many articles are higher than they are in the United States, and yet wages are much lower. Fruits also have very expensive."

Islander Suffer

TRALLE, Kerry, Ireland, Mar. 18.—The inhabitants of the Burren Islands, off the coast, who ran short of food recently during the gales which swept over this part of the world, lit bonfires at night as signals of distress. The fires were seen by people along the coast and life savers were sent to the rescue. The islanders who were able to travel were brought to the mainland, and food was sent to those who remained behind. A bad fishing season, due mainly to the stormy weather, was the principal cause of the distress among the island inhabitants.

MENTAL WINS RACE TO BUY RADIANT PEARL

Discovery Of Huge Jewel Is Signal For Rush Of European Buyers To Tahiti; Gems Weights 20 1/2 Carats

Chinese Trader Pays Much Money for Find

Many Fine Pearls Have Been Found In Vicinity Of Gambier Island In Past Months

PAPEETE, Tahiti, Mar. 15.—What undoubtedly is the largest and most valuable pearl ever discovered in the South Pacific was brought to Tahiti from the Gambier Islands in January. Its weight is 20 1/2 carats. The coloring is very brilliant, with green and gold hues predominating. One hemisphere of the pearl is marked by a distinct iridescent band, which gives the jewel, on that side, somewhat the appearance of the planet Saturn encompassed by its rings.

When the news of the finding of this pearl reached Tahiti, the European buyers who make Papeete their headquarters during the diving season, chartered schooners to take them to the Gambiers, distant nearly 1,000 miles, only to find on their arrival there that the pearl was at sea in the possession of a Chinese trader, who had purchased it from the native diver and was bringing it to Tahiti. The price paid to the native is said to have been 10,000 francs. Experts at Papeete who have examined the jewel appraise its value at from 500,000 to 800,000 francs.

An unusual number of fine pearls have been found in the islands during the diving season just past. Lagoons closed for many years had been opened for diving, and it was from them that the most valuable pearls were taken. Many years ago the Gambier Islands were a center of great importance in the South Seas. From the lagoons came the most valuable shell and the choicest pearls. That was before the days of restriction on pearl diving, and the lagoons were stripped year after year until they became fished out and trade drifted to other quarters.

During the last 10 or 15 years the Gambiers have been the least visited islands in the eastern Pacific. Before the French took over the islands the Gambiers were ruled by missionaries of the Church of Rome. Under their direction the natives built a cathedral of heavy masonry, the altar of which is inlaid in many designs in mother-of-pearl, the figures of the Virgin and saints being adorned with the finest pearls. In the crown of the Virgin is a priceless pearl, said to be the most beautiful jewel ever found in the South Seas. But rumor has it that long ago the real pearl was taken to Europe and that the pearl now in the crown is only an imitation.

About the cathedral are other buildings of massive masonry, a seminary, where all the young women were segregated whenever a ship came to the islands, and other ecclesiastical structures. But of late years evil days have befallen the Gambiers. The population, which was numerous, has been wasted away by tuberculosis and other European diseases until a bare handful of natives remains. The fine buildings are roofless and falling in ruin and the whole group has an air of desolation.

LONDON POLICE FINDS TROUBLE IN RECRUITING

LONDON, Mar. 15.—The after effects of wartime privations on the nation's physique are shown up strongly in the number of police recruits rejected on medical examination says Sir Leonard Dunning, reporting on the County and City or Borough Police Forces in England and Wales for 1924. "Perhaps," Sir Leonard continues, "90 per cent of the applicants for appointments never get so far as the doctor because they are manifestly unsuitable, while the simple functional test knocks out so many more that the chief constable is lucky if he finds five suitable men among 100 applicants."

Young Men Have No Place In Scheme Of Oxford College Administration

OXFORD, England, Mar. 15.—The twentieth century fashion of raising young men to high places has as yet found no champions in Oxford. The average age of the present heads of colleges is just under 70 years, despite a number of recent elections. A master once lived to somewhat over 100, and several heads who are now well on in the eighties are ambitious of bettering his record. The prodigious age and spryness of these very learned men proves the error of the old monastic founders who, with a belief that a same mind could not exist in a sound body, are said to have picked upon Oxford as the most unhealthy town of their acquaintance.

The duties of an Oxford College head are neither onerous nor agitating. He personally admits all new undergraduates into his college, invites them to breakfast, once a year, and besides that sees very little of them. Heads of colleges are not called upon to teach or to lecture, they do not speak at Rotary Club lunches, or indulge in frenzied financial campaigns.

Cautiously enough, these men who have so little to do in shaping their respective colleges, have everything to do in the administration of the university. While they dispute with the university and lend his powers and authority and object to its schemes, the fact remains that they are, for all practical purposes, the university themselves. Meeting in solemn and heavy convocations called convocations, they transact university business, choose the university tutors and elect one another in turn to the office of vice-chancellor, an annually created office analogous to the presidency of a great American university.

Convocation meets with much ceremony in a room where no artificial light is permitted, and its meditations cease with the coming of darkness. As it is an afternoon luncheon, much more business is transacted in the lighter months than in winter.

The headship of a college is a life job, regulated only by the statutes. Here a life job is a long job, some of the present heads having held their places for nearly 40 years. The average age of the present heads at the time of their selection was a little over 50 years. Older and older men are being selected, most of the recently elected heads having passed 60 years of age.

England Seeks Better Fruit Shipping Means

LONDON, Mar. 15.—In order to discover the reason for what has been called brown heart, noted in apples arriving in England from Australia, the Governmental Food Investigation Board has sent a scientific expedition to Australia. On the journey out English apples were tested, operated upon and vivisectioned on board ship. As a result it was established that "brown heart" appears only in atmospheres containing too much carbon dioxide.

Many other problems of fruit transport were investigated and the results, embodied in reports, will be published later.

Tornado Death Toll Nears 1,000 Mark; 8,000 Are Homeless

(Continued from page 1) more than a mile, it was reported. At Murphysboro where death totaled 100, a school house was blown over; the heads of 245 pupils while at Desota, late estimates placed the dead at 100 and the injured at 300 out of a total population of 703.

A school house at Desota was also razed and only three of the 200 occupants escaped unhurt, while 68 bodies already have been taken from the ruins. The latest reports say that 700 persons were killed at Pariah and West Frankfort alone, but other information placed the loss in these towns somewhat lower.

In some places where the twisting wind struck hardest whole buildings were moved from their foundations, a grain elevator at DeSota having been carried intact some 40 feet to the middle of a road. Churches and schools seemed to have suffered most outside of dwellings and less substantial farm buildings.

The storm was not so severe in Missouri where it seemed to emerge from the Ozark mountains, owing to a low barometer pressure from Arkansas, but it laid waste a number of towns and many before it jumped the Mississippi River into Illinois.

There, the tornado was at the height of its fury for several miles while it careened from Murphysboro to Parrish. The twister rose above the tree tops for a considerable distance, but lapped the earth again just west of the Indiana line, creating more damage at Marmi. The tornado, lifted slightly again, split into two sections and swept northeast and southeast through Princeton and Griffin, Indiana, before it stopped its havoc.

Death List Grows. Princeton, Ind., reported 100 dead and twice as many injured while the latest tabulation at Griffin placed the dead at 70 and as many more hurt; Owensville, Ind., also reported 75 dead and probably 100 injured. Poseyville had a loss of five dead and a score hurt.

While lack of communication and the wide area of the storm precluded checking on the reported death and injuries which experience has shown frequently are exaggerated during the hours of distress, reports each hour enhance ed rather than decreased the total casualties.

Persons who have reported tornadoes, which are not uncommon in this region, predicted that a final check of the dead and injured might cut the total into Flames Follow Wind. Central operators at Christopher, who drove to West Frankfort Wednesday afternoon, declared the dead are strewn about the streets and blocks of buildings are in ruins, according to word received here.

Murphysboro, 20 miles southwest of West Frankfort, with a population of 11,000 suffered severely when fire broke out in the debris.

While railroad dispatches from previous experiences thought that first estimates of the casualties might prove excessive, it seemed certain from reports originating in many places on the edge of the storm's path that the dead might number in the hundreds. No reports had been received at a late hour of damage in the rural regions.

Other Casualties Reported. Among the other towns and cities to report damage and loss of life were DeSota, Ill., with 150 casualties reported; Parrish, Ill., with all but three of a population of 500 reported either killed or injured; Princeton, Ind., with an estimate of 100 casualties; Griffin, Ind., with 20 dead and 100 hurt; Gorham, Ill., with 87; Carmi, Ill., with 150, and Crossville, Bush, and Hurst, Ill., reporting serious damage and numerous casualties.

Darkness descended over the desolated area shortly after the wind had twisted its way to the north-east and the streets of the demolished towns were filled with frantic inhabitants clamoring over the piles of wreckage and seeking missing friends and relatives.

From the recesses of the jammed timbers came the cries of injured persons, pinned beneath the wreckage, while the bodies of the dead could be seen far down in the debris whence it was impossible to extricate them.

200 Are Killed.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Mar. 19.—The Indiana towns, Princeton, Owensville, and Griffin today are engaged in digging their dead and injured from the wreckage of the buildings leveled by the tornado. Close to 200 are reported as killed and hundreds of others are declared to be injured.

Aid Is Being Sent. CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—The American Red-Cross today took command of one of its greatest acts of mercy in home lands in bringing help to families of the area and injured in five states. Efforts Redoubled. WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—Officials of the Red Cross worked all Wednesday night, organizing relief work, and Thursday morning when reports indicated a worst disaster that at first was apparent, redoubled their efforts.

Brazil Finds New Way To Regulate Output Of Coffee

RIO DE JANEIRO, Mar. 19.—The present system of storing coffee in the state of Sao Paulo is the result of three previous experiments along this line, the first of which was in operation when the World War broke out. The second, the second endeavored to meet conditions in 1917-18, and the third, started in 1922, is said to have brought an enormous profit to the federal government.

At the present time Sao Paulo coffee growers store this product in warehouses scattered throughout the coffee growing centers, and owned by the state. All marketing is done through the port of Santos. Farmers secure loans against storage receipts. Shipments from the various storages are under a central control scheme, and state exports are said always to be based on a daily shipment which will exhaust the entire harvest in a year's time, thereby holding the demand steadily at a high level and preventing speculation in stocks by foreign importers.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

HOW TO GET ON:—Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find. Matthew 7:7.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS

If you can dress to make yourself attractive. Yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight; if you can swim, and row, be strong and active...

A tomb richer than that of King Tut has been discovered in Egypt, according to scientists. Oh, tut, what difference does it make?

You may want what you want when you want it but you don't usually get what you want when you get it.

Now comes Senator McKellar and makes a bitter attack upon the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill and robbably thinks he has started something new.

Our sympathy goes out to the man whose wife brought out last year's straw hat for him to wear his summer and at the same time asked him for money to buy herself new spring bonnet.

When a fellow wonders "What has become of Sally," he can be reasonably certain that she wasn't "All Alone," "Last Night on the Back Porch."

John McGraw believes that when he comes season ends the Giants will be on top. And Muggsy may be right with regard to the league champion but we'll risk our marbles that the Giants will be second from the top in the world's series argument.

Those persons who plan to go away for the summer months will be acting wisely by making investments in Sanford real estate before they leave. By the time they return in the fall property will be much higher. Sanford is going to see a busy summer and will make big growth in the next few months. Shrewd investors will to the point.

Progressive school teachers on the alert for special educational features for their classes can do considerable good for Florida by organizing the boys and girls into "legislatures" during the weeks the Florida legislature is in session.

Obviously that much of a paragraph is all a clever teacher needs for the development of an excellent school exercise. But if the word reached Tallahassee during the session of the legislature that every school in Florida was conducting an imitation legislature, isn't it almost probable that Florida's esteemed statesmen would look rather closely to the kind of programs they stage for imitation by Florida's boys and girls?

If the Florida Education Association, let's say, should keep a fearless reporter at Tallahassee to broadcast the daily program of the state legislature, for the use of the schools, isn't it entirely within reason to believe that much of the idiocy that has characterized former legislative sessions would not be in evidence at this session?

A good teacher, of course, might undertake to idealize the work of the state's law-makers. She might follow the old plan of hiding defects, and conduct her "mock legislature" along ideal lines. Even this would be of value.

What is needed is the realization by the people of Florida that the work at Tallahassee is their work, that the men in the legislature are their chosen representatives, and that every phase of the business there is a matter of personal concern to every taxpayer, actual and potential.

Florida schools could help immeasurably in bringing this realization home to the people.

Patriots Should Get Busy

This young nation of ours has always had considerable to say about "the right of free speech." We have strutted about quite a bit, talking loud and sometimes boisterously about our freedom to speak our minds.

So, all this being true, that other right we ought to have really should be calling for another Declaration of Independence. There's something in it closely akin to free thinking and free speech.

The Herald is referring to that inalienable right of American citizens to know the records of their government in Washington; that inalienable right of every tax-payer to know for what his money has been spent; that inalienable right of every American man and woman to know the facts back of such affairs as that Navy-Army contention regarding the national air service!

Just what are the facts? Just why are the people of the United States kept in the dark regarding the efficiency of the most important branch of the national defense—their air service? Out of the fragmentary reports from Washington the citizen gathers nothing but an uneasy feeling that something is wrong, grievously wrong. He begins an impression of some mighty attempt to hide facts that the nation should know, and feels that these facts are scandalously discreditable.

Accurate information and free speech must go hand in hand. It should be the business of honest officials to lay the information before the people, regardless of whose uniform it muddies. And until this is done the "free speech" without a foundation of reliable information will be bandied about until it has done irreparable harm.

Let the people know something about the efficiency of the nation's air force. Let the Army and Navy know that soldiers on land and ships on the seas are rightfully to give place to the defenders who will fly through the air. A jealousy that interferes with the greatest possible development of the air service is a dangerous, as well as despicable, outcropping of human frailty. Right now would be a good time to put the air service on its own, completely independent of the Army and the Navy, with abundant money to develop its usefulness for peace and war.

Right now, too, would be a good time for patriots to start again their flag-waving and their speech-making in the interest of some of those rights that were implied with that guarantee as to free speech.

The facts, gentlemen, demand the facts. "There's something rotten in Denmark."

THE NEW STAMP ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

The Postmaster-General rules that a profile of Nathan Hale is to adorn the new one-half-cent postage stamp. It is a marvelously apt and inspiring selection.

Nathan Hale, a young school teacher, joined the Revolutionary forces and was sent into the British lines to secure information needed by his superior officer. Captured by the British in his disguise as a Dutch school teacher, he was hanged as a spy. After his request for a Bible and the services of a minister was refused, and with the noose dangling at his throat, he spoke in a simple and unshaken tones his immortal words: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." He was twenty years of age when he so greatly died.

In these days of self-seeking and money-worship it is well for the youth of the land to look upon the pictured features of a hero who with one short sentence made his death an indestructible monument to patriotism. It is well for the young men to relearn the story of this heedless boy who, as the sands of his life slipped from him, thought not of himself, nor of death, nor of any selfishness at all, but of his country.

The young American of today does not think enough about his country. He is brought up by a father who thinks almost exclusively of "success" and of "putting away a little something." He is not taught to love America with profound and personal love ennobled by the pride of patriotism and sanctified by the tears of sacrifice.

"I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." How many young men, about to die today, would feel such noble sorrow? More important still, how many young men, going about the making of their careers today, entertain ideas that could be translated: "I only regret that I have but one life to live for my country?"

A NEWSPAPER FUNCTION OWENSBORO, KY., MESSENGER

There are many varying views as to what a newspaper should and should not be, but everybody will agree that the chief function of a newspaper is to print the news. It would not be a true newspaper if it suppressed legitimate news, or colored news to misrepresent the truth or distorted it in order to injure private persons or the public welfare.

A newspaper, to be worthy of public respect and confidence, must be fair to all, impartial and devoted to the public interest. Necessarily it must be without fear or intimidation when it publishes the day's news. It can not take the dictum of any one who wishes to suppress news, or distort it or misuse it for private advantage. A request to a newspaper to suppress legitimate news is similar to a request to a merchant to quit selling a certain legitimate kind of goods. In order to succeed a merchant must carry all kinds of goods within the scope of his service to the public. He can not accept dictation from outsiders, because he must exercise his own judgment or fail. A newspaper, if worthy of the name, caters to the entire public, and therefore it must carry all the news that is fit to print. It is a department store of news, and it must maintain its lines full and without adulteration.

Whenever a newspaper begins to grind a private axe the public becomes aware of the imposition. Whenever a newspaper of general circulation favors a certain individual, group, class or section it risks its reputation and is immediately indicted for bad faith. Unless it mends its ways it loses prestige and finally disappears. Its only means of existence is the confidence of the public; hence, if managed properly, it refuses to abuse the public confidence by suppressing true news, by distorting it or by misusing it for private advantage.

WHEN from your front yard you look toward the faint cloud of stars that astronomers call NGC 6822 you are looking far into space. That is about the farthest spot in the universe of which the distance has been measured.

The light that strikes the eye looking at NGC 6822 through the telescope has been traveling toward us for one million "light years." To learn what a million light years amount to in miles, find out how many seconds there are in a million years. Then multiply the total by 186,000, the number of miles that light travels per second, and you have it. Don't forget the leap years.

SCIENTISTS of Harvard Observatory say that NGC 6822 is outside of our Milky Way, in which case it is part of "another universe." The Milky Way in the universe is like a small cluster of frogs' eggs floating in the Pacific Ocean, only you would have to multiply the Pacific Ocean a few quadrillions of times to get the right proportions, and then it wouldn't be big enough, no matter what Einstein says about curved lines.

THE DIRIGIBLE Los Angeles traveling at average high speed, could take you to NGC 6822 in a little more than thirty-three thousand million years.

This is a big universe, and any human mind convinced that it can define, explain or conceive the power back of it has considerable confidence in itself.

JUST AS the virtuous complain that women leave nothing to the imagination, they suddenly decide to cover up again. "Dress is to be more subtle" this season than in other seasons.

That isn't saying much, for there is nothing subtle about a lady backed to her waist in the evening, with a skirt above her knees in the day time.

BUT FASHION really means to reform for the moment. Arms that have been naked from the top of the shoulder down, looking in some mottled cases like a butcher shop exhibit, are now to be covered with "soft mysterious veiling." Thanks for that, with or without the mystery. And shawls of brilliant colors, worn "to reveal personality," will cover up almost everything.

JAPAN'S HOUSE of Peers yesterday passed a new law forbidding ownership of Japanese land by citizens of countries that forbid land owning by Japanese. This means you, and you must give up any idea of owning a lot in Tokyo and trying out your scheme for an earthquake proof bungalow.

NO AMERICAN will complain of the Japanese law. Asia for Asiatics, America for Americans, and perfect good will between the two Continents is what we favor, and Japan will please notice that we do not think our national honor injured merely because Japan wants Japanese land for Japanese people.

THE UNIVERSITY of Washington, which prepares young men of the Northwest for their great opportunities, decides to develop poets with special lessons in the dramatic art department. First class poets are needed to describe the beauties of water, land and sky around Seattle. But you can't really make poets to order? And is not poetry a semi-extinct form of expression, invented as an aid to memory when men could not read or write?

POETS ARE born. Consider Keats, a young clerk from a chemist's shop. He sees in a friend's room for the first time in his life the works of Homer, takes the liad with him, sits up all night and reads the volume through, then writes his poem, "On Looking In to Chapman's Homer." Read that—it could all go in one-half of this column—and ask yourself how anybody could be taught to write that last line:

"Silent upon a peak in Darien." You might as well try to teach a china hen to lay real eggs.

THE WAR Department, rubbing its eyes and waking up a little, orders eighty-five flying machines, made in the United States. For ten machines by the Curtiss company $250,000 will be paid, and for seventy-five from the Douglas company $883,000, about. That's a start and, multiplied by a hundred, it would give the country a good beginning for an air fleet.

FORTUNATELY Henry Ford and his son Edsel B. Ford are in the aircraft field. They will let us know what a flying machine ought to cost, and something about the theory that the "flying life" of an airplane engine is only about 100 hours. The Fords will give you an engine that, without expensive renewal of parts, will fly around the world ten times. They don't believe in an engine as short lived as an ice cream cone.

POPULAR ARCHAEOLOGY NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

The discovery of an ancient hair-pin factory in northern Africa is the latest and (as these things are popularly reported) among the more sensational of the achievements with which the archaeologists have for the last two or three years been holding the attention of an awakened public. The close of the war saw the business of scientific digging renewed with an energy to make up for the lost years. It was only to be expected. What was less to be expected was that a public which had remained largely unconscious of the great discoveries of archaeological research in the past should suddenly upon the comparatively unexciting business of amplifying knowledge already established in its larger outlines...

Library Story Hour Is Greatly Enjoyed

A very enthusiastic story hour was held last week at the library, when 55 of the younger children were present and enjoyed the Japanese program given by Mrs. Voorhes. She was assisted by three of her pupils, who were dressed in Japanese costumes and looked very effective carrying oriental parasols and fans. After the program was given, several of the children present took part, and number were given by Ona Rivers, Jane Sharon and Margaret Mobley. Mr. W. J. Goodale also gave several entertaining readings.
Next week Miss Naomi Scoggin will be in charge, and additional numbers will be given by Margaret Torrance, Betty McKinnon and Marjorie DuBose in costume, also by Martha Carter and Margaret Mozley. All are asked to be promptly on hand at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Goodale is familiar with the reading required to interest the ambitious student, as he has had many years experience as a teacher. After the program Mr. Hait will announce the program for the following week.

RAVAGED BY WILD RABBITS FRANCE SEEKS SECURITY
PARIS, Mar. 19.—Protection against the ravages of wild rabbits is another phase of the security problem which recently has occupied the attention of the French parliament.
A bill declaring the "rabbit" a nuisance and a noxious animal, signed by Premier Herriot, Minister of Agriculture Queuille and Minister of Justice Renoult has been introduced. It is couched in similar language to that aimed at the wild boars infesting Normandy and Auvergne, passed by the chamber some weeks ago. It gives authority "to any one, at any time and anywhere, to destroy rabbits by any and all means."

54 CHURCHES ATTEND WEST PALM BEACH, Mar. 19.
Fifty-four clubs will be represented at the district convention of Rotarians here Thursday and Friday. It is estimated that 1,200 to 1,500 delegates will take part in the convention proceedings. Luncheons, surf bathing, golf, dancing and the like are among entertainment features on the program for the visitors' amusement.

WOULD SAVE OLD FORT MIAMI, Mar. 19.—Members of the Miami Woman's Club and the Everglades chapter, D. A. R. have interested themselves in a movement to preserve historic Fort Dallas, destruction of which is threatened by the rapid development of this city. Purchase of the property, removal of the building to another site, or reproduction of the building after it has been dismantled are among suggestions made for preservation of the structure.

How to Solve Puzzle.
The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Berlin Women Tire Of Dance Without Men In Attendance

BERLIN, Mar. 19.—This year's ball of Berlin's women artists marked an important departure from a tradition of 30 years. While formerly it was a festive occasion for women only, the mere male was this year not only invited, but fairly wooed.

When the women artists of the German capital started out in 1895 to arrange an annual costume party, they hit upon the novel idea of limiting it to members of the fair sex. This meant that all women with lithe, graceful figure dressed as men and as such became the dancing partners for others. The ball enjoyed great popularity among the suffragettes, who pointed out that women were not condemned to wait modestly until some male dancer asked them to have a turn on the floor, but anybody in female attire could unblushingly ask anybody in male garb to dance.

But when the ball was revived for the first time after the war, a year ago, it was found that the modern woman no longer cares to come to a ball of spinsters. Therefore it was decided to invite men this year.

Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Adv.

DOGS GIVEN LEGAL FREEDOM TO CHANGE LIVING QUARTER

LONDON, Mar. 19.—The old understanding in law that "finding is keeping" may be superseded by "following is keeping" in the eyes of the London Sessions, which interpreted the code recently to mean that if a dog follows a man home, the person followed was not bound to communicate the fact to the canine's owner.

The owner, however, it was decided, may prosecute the person for stealing the dog's collar, if it happens to be wearing such an article, but he cannot go into court and prosecute for stealing the dog. In other words, if a dog desires to select a new owner, he may do so at his leisure.
