Three Named To SIC Board

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Commission last night filled two vacancies and created another position on the Sanford Industrial Commission, raising the membership of the industry-hunting agency to a total of eight.

Named to fill present vacancies on the commission were Clifford McKibbin and Scott Burns; and to occupy an eighth spot the city fathers named Lee Moore, who was a charter member of the SIC at its inception over a year ago.

Moore, it was felt, would bring a commission desire to have representation on the board. William Hutchison, city attorney, was directed to change city ordinance to raise SIC membership to eight.

Bending to public pressure, the city commission authorized a change in the disputed sign ordinance and instructed Hutchison to amend existing zoning law forbidding political signs on private property without a license.

Commission decided after discussion to allow signs on private property 60 days before an election but must be removed within 30 days after election is over. Amended law would not go into effect until after November elections, the commission said.

In a bad action, the city fathers passed with one dissenting vote by Commissioner M. L. Raborn Jr. a request from A. K. Shoemaker Jr., contractor, to purchase lot 4 of the Lake Monroe Industrial Park at $7,500 and acquire a one-year option on lot 4 of the city-owned property located on French Avenue at Seminole Boulevard.

Raborn objected to Shoemaker's request on grounds that property, which was formerly a land fill, was to be used for new industries moving here and to give employment for local people.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham replied this did not preclude existing industry or other uses.

City Pushes Urban Renewal

Sanford City Commission at regular meeting last night showed renewed interest in urban renewal legislation and industrial bonds.

Regarding the legislation for urban development, the commission approved an effort to have a previous bill requesting state legislative delegation to introduce urban renewal for Sanford re-submitted to the delegation for submission.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles informed the meeting that he had written letters to Sen. Elrod and Rep. E. Pops Bassett asking them to explain what was wrong with the bill they refused to submit in 1967 and the two men for their comments.

Knowles also released a copy of a letter from Sen. Robert H. Elrod, dated June 25, 1967, which disclosed an opinion of the delegation that "no emergency existed to warrant action on the bill" and therefore, Elrod said, the bill would not be taken up.

A discussion of the problem of getting the legislative delegation to support wishes of Sanford followed with William Hutchison, city attorney, observing, "I cannot draft better legislation; if someone can point out how best to prepare it, I wish they would."

Continuing with subject of appointments due for lack of a second.

Audience attending the meeting protested vehemently against the Council's actions.

Mayor Woodruff, visibly upset, by the Council on action in the matter, said to Council Chairman Woodruff, "You have flouted me enough I do not care to bring anything further to your attention."

Mayor and Council have battled for the past year over the police department. For the past several months, four members of the Council have tried to get the mayor to get rid of Police Chief James McCall, but the mayor refused.

Of late few appointments to the police department by Mayor Woodruff have been approved by Council.

Charter Study Set

North Orlando Mayor Clifford Jordan and City Attorney Thomas Freeman, plus three citizens still to be named, will form a charter study committee it was agreed Monday night at a continued session of the village council.

Definite schedule of meetings of the charter group will be set up following appointment of the additional three members.

In other business, council awarded a $10 bid to W. W. Prescott of Longwood for supplying city and doing the work of opening a section of Bird Road to Lake Drive in Casselberry, which will extend eastward to provide access to the new Florida Technological University area.

Council will contact the Seminole County School Board on the matter of placing school zone signs in the village, although there is no school located there.

Justice Miscarriages Is Charged

"Horrible miscarriage of justice," the words used by Rev. Lucas Gile to describe actions last night of the Casselberry City Council in retaining the police officers who had recently finished 200 hours training at the Orlando Police Academy.

After presenting awards to Richard E. Hamm, Jerry A. Barnes and Charles W. Harasim for completing the required training on their own time and rating high on examinations at the academy, attempt of Mayor Woodruff to promote Barnes and John Hendy, another officer who had completed training, from radio operators to patrolmen failed. Councilman Edith Durr's motion to confirm the

Ambulance Service Assured

End of month of October when local funeral homes have stated they will discontinue ambulance service in the county will bring no real crisis to Sanford. "We will guarantee service until a solution can be found," representatives of Herndon Ambulance Service assured the Board of County Commissioners this morning.

Herndon went further and offered to donate an ambulance to Seminole Memorial Hospital to be used for emergency calls if it would cover the north end of the county in some instances. He said his company would provide transportation service throughout the county and would completely cover the south end of the county.

Herndon several months ago estimated $10,000 county subsidy would be needed to completely cover the county but this morning revealed he had a plan whereby his company could save Seminole some 75 per cent of this cost. He declined to discuss his plan further.

At the same time, Robert H. Roberts, administrator of Seminole Memorial, stated his board is perfectly willing to review the situation. Original estimate from the hospital for providing the service had been given at $70,000. "The hospital may be able to do it at a net cost to the taxpayers of $20,000," Commissioner Chairman John Alexander said, and Bessner agreed. Bessner said the hospital board has been looking into the operation of ambulance services by other hospitals.

Proposal from Universal Ambulance Service was submitted of $15,000 to $27,000, while Beacon Ambulance proposed the county lease two vehicles to it at $1 per year and in addition give a $10,000 subsidy.

Gary Kaiser representing an Altamonte Springs group gave two alternate plans calling for subsidies ranging from $30,000 to $42,000.

Democratic Sheriff candidate John Polk gave the opinion a study should be made to determine the feasibility of the sheriff's department handling ambulance service if it could be done economically and save the taxpayers money.

The matter was also placed on next week's agenda.

Humphrey Hq. Opening Set

Dr. W. Vincent Roberts announced today that headquarters for "Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie" will officially open in the old J. C. Prasey building on First Street in Sanford Wednesday evening at 6 p.m.

The former department store has been decorated in the appropriate political motif with fly posters suspended from the ceiling and a spectacular window display of campaign literature, banners, etc.

Stella Roberts, chairman for Women for Humphrey-Muskie in Fourth Congressional District, praised the decorating as accomplished by a committee headed by Helen Pitts, chairman of Seminole Women for Humphrey-Muskie.

The decorating committee also included Anna Marie Riley, Mary Ellen Rowe and Stella Woodhouse.

The opening has been set for Wednesday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., and everyone is invited to the affair, which, according to Mrs. Roberts, will feature a few surprises.

Miami News Endorses HHH

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Miami News today endorsed Robert H. Humphrey for president in an editorial that said one consideration was the fact that Sen. Edmund Muskie would become president if Humphrey died.

The newspaper dismissed third party candidate George Wallace as "just a demagogue" and said Richard Nixon was "the '68 Nixon" a few years older and hopefully more sensitive to public needs."

The News praised Humphrey's earlier leadership on control of nuclear weapons and his advocacy of domestic social welfare legislation but said the campaign is blighted on the issue of Vietnam.

"He should start speaking out on the overriding issue of our time, which is how to remove ourselves from the unwarranted war in Vietnam," said the editorial.

The matter was also placed on next week's agenda.

Airplane Sends SOS

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A private plane carrying a Kistmister doctor and three other persons radioed an urgent "Mayday" shortly after takeoff today and the Highway Patrol and Coast Guard launched an air wrecker attempt to turn it on the highway after the truck had lost a wheel. Crews were still unloading the greens at midnight.

The driver of the truck was Clarence Sims of Apopka.

The Longwood Volunteer Fire Department maintained a standby at the scene due to gasoline spillage from the truck.

A supervisor at the Orlando flight station of the Federal Aviation Administration said Dr. Haynes radioed the international distress code about 5:30 a.m.

Yule Theme Contest Open

Annual contest to choose a theme for the Christmas parade is now open and will continue through Oct. 31, according to Co-Chairman Ronald Bissner, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Children in grades 1-6 are invited to participate, with the winner receiving a savings bond and the opportunity to ride in the Christmas parade.

Children submitting entries must include their name, address, telephone number and theme suggestion. Previous theme winners were "Wonders of Christmas," "Christmas through Children's Eyes," "Keeping Christmas through Christmas," "Christmas Dreams," "Christmas Fantasy" and "Christmas Pleasures and Treasures."

Entries may be mailed to Christmas Parade Theme Contest, P. O. Box 1345, Sanford, or delivered to the Jaycee building, 427 South French Avenue, before the deadline.

Submerged Land Sales Moratorium Restored.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)— Cabinet members quickly bowed to legislative requests today and reimposed a statewide moratorium on sales of submerged lands and issuance of dredge and fill permits.

The action came almost exactly one month after Cabinet Democrats made their controversial decision regarding criteria for establishment of bulkhead lines and received a moratorium on submerged land sales.

The moratorium then applied in nine counties. "I think this is a consistent policy. I think it is a proper one," said Comptroller Fred Dickson after getting through his motion to impose a statewide moratorium.

Dickson said the only exception to the moratorium "would be cases of dire emergency or relating to public projects."

The moratorium will apply for not less than two months and no longer than three, pending completion of a special legislative subcommittee's hearings on the whole issue of submerged land sales, dredge and fill permits and bulkhead lines.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Richard Stone, D-Miami, last week requested the Cabinet to impose the moratorium. A statewide moratorium was imposed briefly last year at the request of Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth.

"Compliance with the subcommittee's request is not only a matter of courtesy between coordinate branches of government but consistent with Cabinet action in many previous cases where the Legislature and the Cabinet have cooperated in the interest of the public," Dickson's motion stated.

Astro-Acrobats Star Live On TV

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)— The Apollo 7 astronauts, all battling colds, today performed a celestial acrobatic show for television viewers on a high-spirited tour of their high-flying spaceship.

"Barring the great acrobats of outer space," radioed commander Walter M. Schirra Jr. as the second live episode of the Wally, Walt and Donn show began at 8:28 a.m. CDT.

With the transmission quality about as good as it was during the crew's first live telecast Monday, Schirra and his copilot, Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham first held up a sign welcoming people to the "Live by Apollo 7 from High Altitude."

Schirra and Cunningham then held up two signs asking Donald K. Slayton, head of the astronaut office, and Paul Hasey, director of public affairs for the Manned Spacecraft Center, "Are you a turtle?"

The sign referred to an inside joke among the astronauts and, if properly answered, would have elicited a raucous reply not fit for the airways. Hasey refrained from answering, and Slayton was not in mission control at the time.

"From outer space, the one and only original Apollo roadshow," Schirra said, and the three crewmen began floating around in a dramatic display of how roomy their capsule is.

One of the other astronauts held the 4½-pound camera at the end of its 15-foot cord as Schirra took viewers on a tour of their spaceship interior during the 11-minute show.

Nixon Shuns HHH TV Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)— Republican Richard M. Nixon has so far ignored Democratic presidential opponent Hubert H. Humphrey's latest demand for a debate, but a new National Press Club offer could bring a showdown on the issue.

President Allan Cronley disclosed Monday that the press club has proposed a Nixon-Humphrey debate that could be nationally televised as a news event and thus skirt Nixon's objection to any debate requiring equal time for third party candidate George C. Wallace.

Neither Nixon nor Humphrey have acknowledged the Press Club invitation but Humphrey sides call it a "money in the bank" standy in the event Nixon turns down Humphrey's offer to pay for a three-way televised debate Sunday night between 10 and 11 p.m. EDT.

Nixon had until 5 p.m. today to accept Humphrey's offer. Wallace accepted it Monday "assuming Mr. Nixon accepts" and said he will pay his share of the cost if the debate comes off.

Nixon has said any debate that would require equal time and thus give Wallace added exposure "would not be in the national interest."

But Cronley said the major broadcast networks could cover a Press Club Nixon-Humphrey debate as a legitimate news event without running afoul of the law that requires equal time.

Shooting Of Convicts Probe Is Ordered

CUMMINGS PRISON FARM, Okla. (AP)— Prison guards fired eight shotgun blasts into a group of 75 inmates Monday, wounding 24, after the convicts refused to work in the prison fields unless some institution policies are changed.

Supt. Victor C. Urban defended the use of gunfire as a reasonable tactic under the circumstances. Gen. Winthrop Roberts called for a full investigation of the law that requires equal time.

The prospect of Humphrey debating tapes of Nixon's statements was raised Monday by his daughter-in-law, Donna Humphrey.

All but one of the 24 prisoners who were wounded were taken to the hospital infirmary. Urban said Herman Good, 36, of Neichee, Miss., was struck in the eye by a birdshot and taken to a Little Rock hospital.

Urban said about 100 prisoners refused to work Monday morning but that about 25 changed their minds and went to work.

He said Gary Hayda, an associate superintendent, fired the first shot.

"Mr. Hayda told them to go back to work," Urban said. "He fired his shotgun in the air as a warning shot, and they did not move. So he fired into them. Then they moved."

SAIGON (AP)— The battleship USS New Jersey steamed farther up the North Vietnamese coast than ever before Monday and blew part of a small island off the map, the U.S. Command reported.

The target for the 36,000-ton New Jersey, the only active battleship in the world, was a three-mile-long island 14 miles south of the 17th parallel limit for U.S. bombers and warships.

Borneo State Fight Run UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The Philippines called on Malaysia today to join in placing their rival claims to the Borneo state of Sabah before the World Court.

Philippine Foreign Secretary Narciso Ramos made the appeal in a policy speech before the 15-nation U.N. General Assembly.

Earlier, Prime Minister Abdul Rahman told a special session of the Malaysian Parliament in Kuala Lumpur that Sabah could be named only if the Philippines accepts Sabah as a constituent state of Malaysia.

Ramos spelled out his government's 35-year-old claim to the former British colony. He signed a copy of a document signed in 1973 by the Sultan of Sabah, who ceded part of the territory that became Sabah in 1963 to the British. The rest of the former Sultanate of Sabah is now Philippine territory.

Asserting that his government would continue to press its claim, Ramos assured the assembly that it would do so "only by peaceful means."

"Territorial disputes have been the cause of some of the bloodiest wars in history," said Ramos. "The Philippines as a party to a territorial dispute now comes forward to fore-swear any recourse to violence and affirms instead that it is prepared to settle its case before a competent tribunal and to accept without reservation the judgment of that tribunal."

He said Malaysia should have nothing to fear from a court ruling if it is as sound as it claims. Malaysia says Sabah is part of its territory and it won't entertain any challenge to its sovereignty.

Ramos is to meet Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak in Tokyo after Oct. 21, but Razak said they will discuss easing tensions between the two governments and not Sabah.

Question: What is your pet gripe?

Dorothy Kelly, Longwood. Cats. People go away for months and leave their cats to roam around and bother the neighbors. I have cats but they're taken care of and no one else has to look after them and see to it that they're fed.

Franz Fletter, North Orlando. Children's toys. I'm always getting complaints about my children's toys being left in the street, but they're left there by other children while we're away from home. I live in a housing project and there's a lot of kids around to play.

Jack Spencer, Orange Avenue, Sanford. Little kids playing in the streets. You can't drive over five miles per hour where I live because of the two- and three-year-old children riding their trikes in the street and they couldn't get out of the way of a car if they wanted to. The dogs are just as bad.

Mrs. W. A. Brown, Forest Heights, Sanford. I'm perfectly satisfied with things the way they are and can't think of a thing to gripe about. We have lived in our present location for 28 years and have lovely neighbors and a good neighborhood. I love Sanford, we've lived here since we were married and that's been 42 years.

Peggy Tharpe, 135 Hayes Drive, Sanford. Something for the teenagers in Sanford to do. We have six children and there's nothing for them to do, such as recreational areas. There are dances two nights a week, but that's not enough.

Bill Holland, Country Club. The only thing I can really complain about is the dogs in the neighborhood. The barking all night is disturbing.

Dean Schultz, Lake Markham. Dogs. Out where we live it's hard to sleep because the dogs bark all night.

TV Debates Would Clear Presidential Air

Editorial Comment

Republican Presidential Candidate Richard M. Nixon may have, as he is quoted as saying "closed the door on any TV debates" during the balance of the 1968 presidential campaign.

But we would not be quick to agree with such a conclusion. For, even if it is closed by the hand of front-running Mr. Nixon, it is more than possible that the foot of Democratic candidate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is sticking in the crack.

And if HHH hasn't been able to prevent such a closing there is a lot of common sense in a belief that the fiery, aggressive George Wallace, controversial candidate of the third party, will blow it open.

There is widespread and responsible criticism on the management of Mr. Nixon's well-planned, professionally conducted and strongly financed campaign for its obvious reluctance to let his candidates show their ability to stand up to person-to-person confrontations where his basic strengths would be tested.

Especially, if this would take place in front of the TV cameras which have a sort of tragic memory for the Republican managers. But, as we have said before, this is 1968 and not 1960. This year it is not Mr. Nixon who has had physical difficulties.

We are entering the final three weeks before Election Day. These will be days when every attempt will be made by the Humphrey and Wallace forces to upset the extraordinary lead which the professional polls have bestowed on Mr. Nixon.

Quite naturally this issue of TV debates will stay alive. There are those who would not be greatly affected by such events, those who believe that the need is a change in the party, not necessarily the man.

But our history shows that the advent to the presidency does change the man. Here in an office where the awesome responsibilities are centered, where there is every need that there be no weaknesses which would be disastrous to the cause of freedom in the world.

If it is not possible that the strain of personal confrontation which would be present in TV debates between the contenders would serve to let the voters know how each reacts under unexpected circumstances?

Ever since the Republican strategy was conceived and then proven effective at the Miami nominating convention, the path of the Presidential Candidate has been of the red carpet variety.

Such a course will end on Nov. 5th. Whether it is Vice President Humphrey, or Mr. Nixon, or Mr. Wallace who will have the right to take up this path and walk into the White House next January is not, to be sure, determined now.

Every indication is that the next President of the United States will be under even greater pressures than those which faced the triumphant hero of WW II, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower; the vigorous Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts; or the politician's politician Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas when they became President.

Thus we are hopeful that the Nixon management will be conscious enough of this fact to let no blemish stain the campaign record of the Republican candidate.

We urge person-to-person TV debates between all three of the major candidates. But we are deeply serious about the need for such a debate between Messrs. Nixon and Humphrey. Evasion of such confrontation does nothing to quiet the doubts of some or strengthen the confidence of others.

To round out this comment we must point out that the two candidates who are, at this writing, well behind the pollster's standing putting the GOP candidate in the lead, are both willing to the point of eagerness for such TV debates.

Heated arguments, transferred quickly into bouts of mutual insult and invective, boil up in little eddies in tense crowds which sometimes show a strangely close intermingling of opposing militants. The enquirer walks nervously for the blow to strike that will touch off an uncontrollable melee, but it never quite comes.

At the courthouse steps in Akron, a new handful of blacks quickly edged toward the front line of Wallace's listeners massed in the warm morning sun. Suddenly, the competition of hatreds grew bitter in that cramped space.

There was pushing and shoving. A Wallace supporter believed "I was that woman alone." Wallace himself stopped except to say: "It's all right. It's all right. Let the police handle it..." Helmeted officers weighed through the trouble spot, grabbed just the blacks among the disputants and took them away.

In the Wallace meeting, then, is where the action is. Cause and effect are acted out before the eye. The big internal American struggle takes on vivid content in the political arena.

Looking up at them in their gallery vantage point near the stage, Wallace repeated his customary warning that if "any n*r" is down in front of his car they won't want to do it ever again.

Then, pointing at the arm-waving disrupters, he added: "And if I am elected president, I'm going to come back to Canton, and you just try me."

Moments later the militants began to file out. Wallace, who unlike Vice President Humphrey really never loses his composure under hostile barrage, softly muttered "Goodby" into the microphones and, walking to the corner of the stage, blew his detractors a farewell kiss.

Unexpectedly, they did not leave. They moved to the ground floor, headed toward the corner of the stage, blew his detractors a farewell kiss.

Boost Concerts

In attracting industry and people to Sanford there are many factors involved. Ask either the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce or the Sanford Industrial Board if there is any doubt.

Most of these factors are known to the public and are, obviously, tied up to government and business matters.

But there are others.

For Sanford and all of our area must be viewed for even more attractions than nature has provided with lake, river, landscape and floral beauty.

One of these is the Seminole County Mutual Civic Association which has pioneered in and successfully operated to let culture, in terms of music and art, flourish.

This year the program arranged under the direction of Dr. Van Parker, president is witness to the vitality of these efforts. There will be the most such events ever offered here.

They will range from "The Big Bang" for modern tastes, to "The Alard Quartet," noted chamber music artists. Included will be the Florida Symphony Orchestra, Hermann Hertz, conductor, bringing back for another year this popular group.

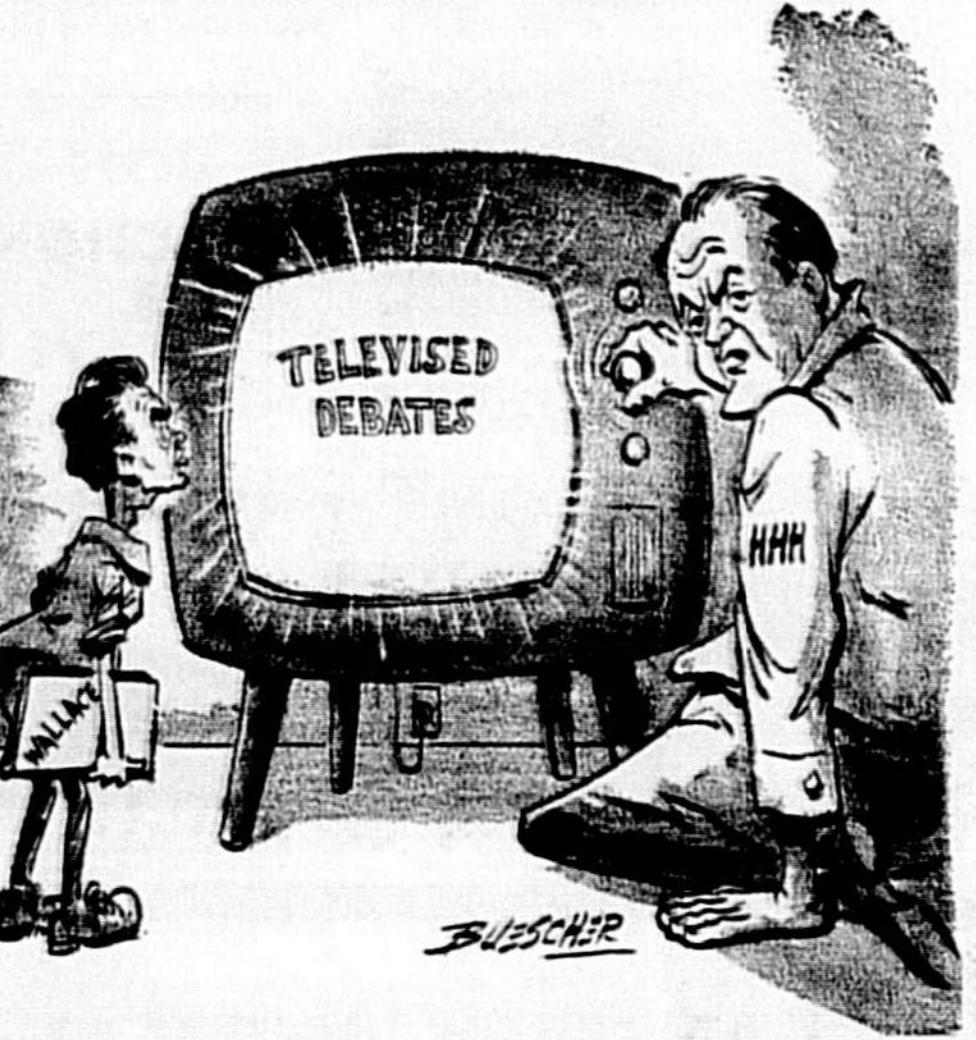

Another first for the association this year will be the presentation with Seminole Junior College of the Bethune College Choir.

In addition, there will be art exhibits displayed in the Civic Center, where the association stages its events. These have, in the past, attracted much attention and earned widespread favorable comment.

We are very much in sympathy with the work of the association. We believe that it is an integral part of the life here and deserves the full and broad support of our residents.

This is, to be sure, a year when other affairs are getting more than usual attention from all. But subscribing to the concert series, and their have been lagging, is a certain way to avoid any partnership, except in the cause of harmony.

Political Notebook: Wallace: Clash Of Extremes

By BRUCE BOSSART, NEA Washington Correspondent

The political meetings of potent third-party candidates George Wallace and Hubert H. Humphrey are more than the self-promoting rallies common to the American scene. They are raw confrontations between two men who are not reconcilable as a troubled society.

He alone among the presidential candidates speaks in language largely stripped of diplomatic camouflage, addressing himself to countless Americans who are filled with anger at seeing or just plain militant blacks, at chanting placard-bearing, antiwar demonstrators, at nihilistic campus revolutionaries in general.

But as he talks directly and indirectly to his frustrated, growing constituency, he hears more than their clamorous shouts of approval. For his well-advertised campaign cuttings draw the very militants he so harshly assaults, and they chant their slogans as he speaks.

Often, as at Canton, Ohio, on the morning of his speech, he is surrounded by a mob of blacks who are shouting back to where it has always been. Humphrey could no more agree to this, without repudiating his prior convictions, than he could agree to a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. forces.

It should be plain by now that there is no practical or durable compromise between the position of McCarthy and that of the Johnson administration which Humphrey supports.

The two sides are different as night and day. McCarthy demands that the Johnson administration repudiate every major purpose for which the war has been fought, and that it should end with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong attaining major objectives.

In effect, McCarthy demands the repudiation of the Thieu-Ky regime and its replacement by a new regime which will be more responsive to Hanoi.

If that is to be the price in the Paris negotiations, there is very little likelihood that President Johnson or either of his probable successors will ever pay it. And if the Paris negotiations get stuck on this nothing but more trouble.

Fishing Trip Set By Club

Plans for two upcoming events highlighted the monthly meeting of the Deltona Sportsmen's Club, which had 112 members and guests in attendance.

The club will have dinner at Julian's Restaurant tonight, meeting at the Deltona Shopping Plaza parking lot at 6 p.m. for departure. All are invited to attend.

A salt water fishing trip at Haverhill Canal is scheduled Thursday with departure from the parking lot at 8 a.m. Those wishing to participate are asked to contact Herb Packman, president, or Everett Hartboon, in advance so that boats may be reserved.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Gene Wallace of the Florida Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission. Also in attendance was Major A. Goodson, chief of Florida law enforcement officers for the commission and Lt. Joe Pierce of Deltona. A question-answer period followed Wallace's talk.

A color film on the Carolinas was shown.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served under direction of Mrs. Ted Wheeler.

Next meeting will be Nov. 6. All newcomers and interested residents of the area are invited to attend.

REFRESHMENT committee for meeting of the Deltona Sportsmen's Club was made up of Mrs. Fred Oldham, chairman (left), Mrs. Abe Narsico (center), and Mrs. G. R. Field. Figurines used on the serving table were given to Mrs. Oldham when she retired from a Pennsylvania hospital before coming to Deltona. Gene Wallace, guest speaker for the evening (right, bottom) was welcomed by Herb Packman, club president. (Herald Photos)

Ethel Root Circle of Sanford Congregational Church will sponsor a spaghetti supper from 5 until 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19, at the church, 2401 Park Avenue.

Final plans for the event were completed at regular meeting of the circle at the home of Mrs. Leroy Taylor. Tickets are on sale by any member of the circle. Dessert will be served at an extra charge.

Politicians Tell Differences

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

In answer to the question, "Is There a Dime's Worth of Difference Between the Two Parties?" presented to the speakers at the luncheon meeting of the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce, both sides readily agreed that there is a difference.

In fact, according to Mrs. Paula Hawkins, of Maitland, national committeewoman for Republican Party and national convention delegate, it is "more the 100 million."

Fery representative for the Democrats was Mrs. Faye Ouelts, state president of the Democratic Women's Club and delegate-at-large to the national convention.

Both women are well versed in party politics and only reiterated their parties' views. Mrs. Hawkins compared the voting record of Republican and Democratic Congressmen in regard to legislation in supporting the Constitution and that for the favor of extension of federal control showing the Republicans voted for the former and against the latter while the biggest percentage of Democratic Congressmen voted the opposite.

She also quoted contrasting opinions expressed by presidential candidates Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey on major issues such as Vietnam, civil rights, law and order, Communism and the "Right to Work" law.

Mrs. Ouelts said that she has no apology for the "liberal" label that has been given her party as she is proud that the Democratic Party is one that puts "human rights first and is a party of compassion," she feels that there are often far greater differences between the two parties than between them.

She called the Republican Party one of "protest and negative reaction." As to inflation she said she doesn't want to go back to the so-called "good old days." My dollar is still buying a halibut but more and I'm enjoying it twice as much," she declared emphatically.

Also on the program were candidates for state senate, the so-called "use or return."

Senator Pleate replied that Republicans in the Legislature still are in the minority and any legislation was passed by Democrats.

Interpretive Report

About Real Vietnam Issue

By RICHARD WILSON

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Sen. Eugene McCarthy has put his finger on the real issue of a Vietnam settlement. It is not stopping the bombing; bombing could be stopped without affecting the central issue.

That issue is the kind of government there shall be in South Vietnam. This is recognized on the highest level in the Johnson administration as the heart of the matter.

Senator McCarthy, still denying his support to Vice President Humphrey, has placed his primary emphasis on a new government containing representatives of the National Liberation Front. In other words, a coalition government which Humphrey once described as the chicken coop.

Free elections are not enough for Senator McCarthy. They would be enough for the North Vietnamese if the Communist side could win in South Vietnam, but it cannot win if the American military is there to insure the freedom of election.

A coalition government would not emerge from such election but from prior agreement that an interim government would contain members of the National Liberation Front and that this would be imposed on the people of South Vietnam.

NEW YORK AP—Memory is the master magician. Its trickery is on a vast scale, and it is often more entertaining than simply entertaining. By a simple wave of its wand it can recreate a vanished world and let us dwell again with those we love before. Or at least, it permits us to have a brief affectionate visit to them as often as we wish.

Other magicians on earth can perform such a feat. Through memory alone we are enabled to live our lives not just once but a thousand times over, and over, whenever we choose.

And you've got quite a choice of memories yourself! If you can look back and remember when the wonderful smell of homemade bread baking in the kitchen stove was an orgy of the nose.

The neighborhood here in spring wasn't the guy who saw the first bomb. It was the kid who stubbed a barefoot toe early and therefore got to wear the first bandage.

A man could eat a hearty breakfast of steak and eggs and apple and cheese without being regarded as a potential coronary victim.

If you wanted a career in opera, you had to adopt an Italian name; if you wanted to become a boxer, you switched to an Irish monicker.

It was expected that when 70 you'd spend most of your waking hours ambulating and swatting houseflies. Any day an old-timer didn't get at least a couple of dozen he considered he'd fooled on the job.

If it started raining when you went for a drive in your "beating car," you'd get real wet unless you buttoned up the long-leas windows real fast.

Priscilla Circle Sets Dinner

By LIZA BAKER

The Priscilla Circle of Church of the Holy Spirit will sponsor a turkey dinner from 4 until 8 p.m. Saturday at the church hall. Chairman is Mrs. Ruth Boswell, who is being assisted by all members of the circle.

Menu will include, in addition to the turkey, dressing and gravy, candied yams, green beans, cranberry sauce, rolls, butter, coffee and tea. Homemade pies also will be available at a nominal fee.

Proceeds from the event will be used towards air conditioning and heating the church.

Tickets are available at a nominal cost for adults and children from any member of the circle.

The public is encouraged to support the dinner.

BERRY'S WORLD

H. L. Hunt Says:

Public Opinion-Consumers

Consumers, the people who purchase goods and services, can express public opinion by their buying habits. When a housewife goes to the market, a man to a clothing store, a family to an automobile dealer to purchase the car they wish to purchase, they are all stating their opinion in a very direct and forceful manner. And the seller who does not take heed of their opinions is not likely to prosper.

One meaning of this is that the individual who is concerned about the threat to freedom in America today can use his buying power to express his favorable opinion of any business that injects a note of patriotism into his advertising. It is worthwhile for a person who feels strongly about freedom to go to a little extra trouble, if that is necessary, to give his patronage to the businessman who is not afraid to let his patriotism show.

It is regrettable that too many of the people who make decisions about the advertising that is seen in newspapers and magazines have been duped into believing that patriotism in advertising is not a good thing; that it is "controversial" and may lose customers. Businessmen who have tried, however, know better.

United States Leads...

Matson, Hines Pick Up Olympic Gold Medals

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — These could be the Red, White and Blue Olympics.
Hines and Matson — both pro football prospects — rang up gold medals for the United States Monday while the Russians, obviously were disappointed over their showing.

Hines, a 6-foot, 175-pound whippet, matched his own pond world record with a 4.9 clocking in the 100 meters, with teammate Charlie Greene, a former Nebraska star, third. Lenny Miller of Jamaica was second.

Matson, a 6-foot-6, 260-pound giant, world record holder in the shot put but slump-ridden lately, won his specialty with a total of 665 pounds. His younger brother, Yoshiyuki, was third with Russian Dito Zhnidze taking second.

The jubilant Hines may have talked out of turn after his record victory in the 100 meters. "I hope to be in uniform with the Miami Dolphins within two weeks," he said. "I hope to start negotiations right after the Olympics. I'll probably be a defensive back or a flanker."

The specks are still hitting real good in Lake Monroe, Lake Jessup as well as Lake Harney, on live and artificial baits, with bass also taking a nip at the good baits.

Dick Dove has really been havin' good fishin' luck with fly rod and spinner. He's been catching a lot of bass and bluegill. He's been catching a lot of bass and bluegill. He's been catching a lot of bass and bluegill.

That gave the United States the early gold medal lead, with two, plus a silver and a bronze. Russia leads in overall medals with five, three of them bronze and only one gold.

The gold came from Vladimir Golubnichy in the 20-kilometer walk, timed in one hour, 20:38.4. The Russians were expected to finish 12 in the event, but Jose Pedraza of Mexico took the silver, and Russia's Nikolai Smaga had to content with the bronze.

Rudy Halauf, Riverside Calif., was a surprising fourth in an event in which the United States never has done well. The Russians also suffered disappointments in the women's broad jump and women's javelin.

They had the world record holder in the long jump, Tatjana Talshova, but the best she could do was a 35-foot 10-inch leap. The Russians were expected to finish 12 in the event, but Jose Pedraza of Mexico took the silver, and Russia's Nikolai Smaga had to content with the bronze.

Ease Up Fellows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southeastern Conference football teams apparently agreed with Florida Coach Ray Graves that "too much heavy practice may have left the Gators' game on the practice field" — settled for light workouts and chalk talks Monday.

Graves said the Gators would ease up in practice this week, before traveling to Chapel Hill Saturday to face North Carolina. Georgia, however, ran through a spirited workout under assistant Coach Erskine Russell, while Saturday's opponent Vanderbilt did the same.

The Commodore worked on running Georgia, said Vandy Coach Bill Pace, "has the best kicking game in the country, and that includes the Green Bay Packers, the New York Giants or anybody else you care to name."

Florida Gators Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — It's still a tie for first in the Southeastern Conference football standings, but a new field has emerged. Florida, after a 14-0 victory over Tulane Saturday, bumped Ole Miss from the top slot to move into the tie with Auburn.

Florida's Gators are the SEC's lone undefeated and untied team after four games. The Gators boast a 2-0 Conference record and 4-0 over all, while Auburn is 2-0 in the SEC and 4-1 over all.

The Tulane contest was designated an SEC game to give Florida the required number of conference games.

Georgia moved into third spot with its stunning 21-7 victory Saturday over Mississippi, showing three on the fourth, with Alabama and Tennessee tied for fifth. Alabama stunned Vanderbilt 31-7 and Tennessee racked up three on the fourth, with Alabama and Tennessee tied for fifth.

In the scoring department, Tennessee held first in the SEC with an impressive 29.5 points per game average, while Alabama's Crimson Tide holds the scoring defense lead, permitting an average of 8.5 points per game. The teams meet in Knoxville Saturday in an annual battle which for the past four seasons has seen the victor roll on to the conference championship.

Sanpan Invokes The 5th

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Santo Trafficante Jr. laughed Monday when the Legislature's Crime Investigating Committee asked if he is a member of the Mafia's Grand Council, then he invoked his constitutional right not to answer.

Trafficante told the committee only his name and address as he repeatedly used his fifth amendment right to silence.

"I respectfully decline to answer on grounds that it might tend to incriminate me," Trafficante repeated over and over, reading from a slip of wrinkled paper.

Questions he declined to answer included queries into whether he is engaged in illegal gambling, narcotics traffic, hoita and other criminal activities. He also declined to say whether he has a financial interest in the Dream, Little Beaver and Sands Bars, all of Tampa.

Other witnesses called before the committee included Joseph A. (Joe) Scootch, Indelicato, Vincent James Palmisano, David Ichavetti and Joe Millsten. All took the fifth amendment when questioned about underworld matters.

POLITICS (what else?) is the favorite topic of conversation at most of the parties taking place around the county during the "Friendly Season."

Arthur Beckwith Jr., clerk of Circuit Court and Democratic nominee for re-election, discusses the matter with Sanford Herald publisher Walter A. Glolow, former School Supt. R. T. Milwee and County Commissioner and Democratic candidate for re-election, Lawrence Swofford.

Good, Not Great Congress Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress, described by Senate leader as good but not great, is over.

After trying for three days to muster the House quorum needed to approve adjustment, leaders gave up Monday and voted anyway to end the session.

This was possible because no one in either the House or Senate raised the question of a quorum.

The House completed its business at 2 p.m. and the Senate followed 12 minutes later.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., pronounced this vaudeville:

"This has been a good Congress, not a great Congress, not a poor Congress."

The 90th passed much significant legislation including a civil rights bill with a broad open housing provision, anti-crime and gun control measures, a big increase in Social Security benefits, a temporary 10 per cent income tax hike, an omnibus housing bill containing new ways to help poor families buy homes, a "truth-in-lending" measure, and several important conservation bills.

But it also handed President Johnson some major defeats, including his historic blocking of his nomination of Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the United States.

It also failed to act on such key Johnson requests as ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, his proposal to change the Constitution to lower the voting age to 18, election reform legislation, extension of the reciprocal trade program, a child health program, and a safety program for industrial workers.

Johnson said last week he might call the Senate back after the Nov. 5 election to try to win approval of the nonproliferation treaty.

But Senate leaders counseled against this. Mansfield pronounced the treaty one of the first pieces of business of the new congress in January.

Assuming there is no special session, the 91st will convene at noon Jan. 3.

Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., said he was convinced it would be futile to prolong the session.

Area CTP Collects For Rummage Sale

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Those with items to donate for the South Seminole Elementary School Council of Teachers and Parents "Pick 'N' Plunder" Sale may bring them to the vacant store at Fern Plaza, 24-26, to the school, or to one of the drop-off locations.

Receiving articles at their homes are Mrs. Lorraine Wightman, 150 Concord Dr., Casselberry; Mrs. William Robinson, 20 N. Deane, North Orlando; and Mrs. Margaret Durran, 50 Lake Kathryn Circle, Casselberry.

To have articles picked up, one may call T. J. Durran, William Workman, or William Robinson.

Mrs. Wightman, ways and means chairman, will be at the store to receive items 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, 1-4 p.m. on Saturday, and 3-5 p.m. on Sunday. The stock will be sorted and priced Oct. 21-22, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

In addition to clothing, appliances, furniture, household items and other good used articles, things needed are clothes hangers and saw horses and plywood to make tables.

An infant who gurgles and coos is trying to communicate. It is simply getting pleasure from hearing its own sounds and from feeling the movement of the tongue.

Area Unit Sets Meet

Central Florida Unit of Parliamentarians will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Committee Room of Winter Park Memorial Hospital. For homework, the program chairman has asked each member to write a resolution with an amendment and a substitute amendment.

Among other items to be studied are "Previous Question," "Division of the Assembly," and "How and When to Properly Withdraw a Motion."

Guests at the September meeting, each of whom has had a minimum of 10 hours of study under a registered parliamentarian, included Mrs. Stanley E. Porche, Mrs. Alfred Seville, Mrs. John J. Grant, Mrs. Jack L. Pitts and Paul M. McIntosh.

Any registered parliamentarian who has had a 10-hour minimum of study and would like to visit the unit is asked to call Mrs. Everett Porter, 519 Lake Howell Road, Winter Park.

Women's Personal Safety Presented At Club Meet

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
 Patrolman George Borthwick of the Winter Park Police Department spoke to the South Seminole Women's Club Thursday night on the subject of "Personal Safety for Women" at a meeting held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Bear Lake.

He stressed prevention as the best possible protection. The women were advised to keep their cars in good mechanical order so that they would not be an apt to break down on a lonely road at night.

Borthwick pointed out that car doors should be locked while driving and while leaving the car parked. "Always let someone know where you are going and approximately when you expect to return," he said. "Keep your windows up when driving at night and avoid lonely roads and other danger areas," he added.

He also suggested when going to meetings at night the women ride together in groups.

A large percentage of cases where women are kidnapped at night involve someone who has been drinking he revealed. "Talking in of little use in cases where the man is drunk or under influence of drugs," he stated.

In addition to having a gun and knowing how to use it and knowing judo, good old feminine standbys, such as screaming, scratching, spiking heels and hair spray in the eyes.

President Dixie Miller introduced Mrs. Dot Culpepper as vice president and Mrs. Jackie Fudev as publicity chairman.

Charles Felix has been retained as the club attorney. Members voted to authorize the club officers and eight charter members to sign the application for a state charter. Club members are working hard to raise money to purchase land for a building site and the club now has a 90 day option on a tract located on Howell Branch Road.

The service project is proving successful with the club being offered such diverse jobs as addressing mail, cleaning closets, poolside sitting and baby sitting, sewing, baking cakes and catering.

Also as fund raising project the club is saving newspapers and magazines to sell and is selling Christmas cards, wrappings and gifts.

Mrs. Nannette Oakley served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Betty Fosler, who is in the hospital. Hostesses serving refreshments following the meeting were Mrs. Merle Ellis, Mrs. Marian Eggen and Mrs. Shirley Emery.

THE WINDOW DISPLAY for October on the boardwalk at the Deltona Shopping Plaza was created by the Amaryllis Circle of the Deltona Garden Club. The display presents "Two Points of View" indicated by a bird perched in the floral arrangement and a boat below, looking up at it. Mrs. Albert Croninger contemplates the arrangement of sea oats, wheat, blossoms and ceramic fruit.

Arrangements Program Highlights Club Meet

The first meeting of the Geneva Garden Club was held at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Chalfant Sr. of Rest Haven-on-Lake Harney.

In the absence of the president and vice president, Mrs. Calvin Giddum, past president, conducted the meeting.

Chairmen of the various committees presented their reports which were offered for discussion and then approved as read. A program on "arrangements" for the fall season and the forthcoming holidays was presented to a most attentive audience by Mrs. Joseph E. Mathieux.

The Geneva Garden Club has been asked by the Geneva Elementary School Parent Teacher Organization to help plan and advise with the beautification of the school grounds. A committee headed by Mrs. Henry A. Ladd will take charge of this project. A covered dish luncheon was served immediately following the business portion of the meeting.

Mrs. V. M. Smith, formerly of Sanford and now of Geneva was introduced to the ladies and was the only guest present. It was noted that Miss Kate Rober, aunt of Mrs. Harold Guiso, Harold Guiso at Rest Haven-on-Lake Harney for a few days and would be returning to the Princess Islena Retirement Hotel in Daytona Beach where she is presently residing.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Theodore J. Chalfant Sr., Mrs. Kenneth Taylor and Mrs. Theodore J. Chalfant Jr.

In spite of many illnesses and many who are still away on vacation, the meeting was well attended and Mrs. Mathieux was invited to return next month to the Geneva Community Hall where she will conduct a work shop with the Geneva Garden Club members.

Garden Club Sets Luncheon Thursday

The Sanford Garden Club will hold its general business luncheon, Thursday, Nov. 17, at 12 noon at the Garden Center.

An interesting and unusual program will be presented by some of the members of the Camille Circle.

The World Gardening Committee sends items each year to the service men in Vietnam during the Christmas season. Garden Club members are asked to bring their items to the luncheon Thursday.

Articles acceptable are dark face cloths, unscented soap, toothbrushes with holders, tooth paste, pens, plastic photo holders, shaving cream, white stretch socks, pre-wetted drink mix, candy in cans, nail files and pocket size books.

Your family will date on you when you make them a chocolate pie! So easy to do if you use a pie shell made from pastry mix and packaged chocolate pudding and fill the pie with whipped cream and sprinkle with chocolate shavings.

FREE CONCERT TICKET to the 1968-69 series sponsored by the Seminole County Mutual Concert Association is presented to Mrs. John Burton IV, by Dr. Vann Parker, president of the association. Mrs. Burton took top honors with her arrangement at the Isora Garden Club's Interpretative Flower Show held last spring in conjunction with the concert group's presentation of the Florida Symphony. Her creative design depicted a Vienna Waltz that was a feature of the program.

Medical News

Being a teenager is synonymous with being a decision maker. All teenagers wrestle with such crucial matters as how to handle sexual drives, how to choose a career, how to become independent of parents without rejecting them. One decision that is virtually inescapable for American teenagers is whether or not to drink.

A boy or girl confronting this problem can receive first class help on making responsible decisions about drinking from the pamphlet, "Thinking About Drinking," produced by the Children's Bureau and the National Institute of Mental Health.

The pamphlet doesn't say drink or don't drink. It does not present drinking as the road to ruin. It points out that we are a drinking nation, since two or three million over 21 use alcohol. It urges young people to explore their own feelings about drinking. It presents insights on what the experience of other teenagers is on drinking (an average of about 60 per cent of teenagers say they have used alcohol before leaving high school).

By means of a quiz, the pamphlet presents the facts about alcohol: How and in what length of time the body absorbs it; its effect on the mind and body; individual differences in response to alcohol; the difference between distilled and fermented alcohol. It spells out why people react so differently to alcohol. "Thinking About Drinking" may be obtained for 20 cents.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have shared an apartment with another girl for almost a year, and our lease is nearly up. My problem is that I don't want to live with this girl any longer. She's a good kid, but she needs a baby-sitter. She is 20 years old, and she's afraid to stay alone for a week-end. I went home for a week-end, and when I returned she said she was so "afraid" to be alone she slept with the lights on.

One day I failed to tell her I was going to do some errands after work, so when I got home about 2 hours later she was practically in hysterics. She was so "worried" about me she was ready to call the police! My mother agrees that I'd be better off living alone even if I couldn't afford such a "luxurious" apartment. But how can I tell this girl?

UP A CREEK
DEAR UP: Tell her in plain English that you have decided to live alone. And don't start making up excuses or you will have a debate on your hands.

DEAR ABBY: I used to suspect that you made up some of those crazy letters I read in your column. But now I'm sure you don't, because not even you, Dear Abby, could spin a yarn as well as that it actually takes place right under your nose. A retired old maid school teacher lives next door to me. She's always been friendly and understanding. Recently I noticed two very nice looking young men "visiting" her. It soon became apparent that they were living there. Next I noticed a lot of middle-aged women coming and going. I inquired and was told the young men were teaching French and Spanish. Now I hear this old maid is running some sort of "brothel for women!"

I understand the authorities were notified but said they could do nothing as she is neither breaking the law nor disturbing the peace. How about this! B. B. "Brothel" for other sex against the law, so if your information is correct, you are "understanding" that which is not understandable. You could be mistaken, however. Lots of middle-aged women are eager to learn French and Spanish.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been having a big difference of opinion about the use of the word "brothel" when referring to a woman.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

The weak two bid is an almost universal use in tournament play. The American Contract Bridge League has ruled that the weak two bid may only be made with a high card holding of not less than six or more than 12 points.

There is a further restriction. They use the two-bid openings as their only forcing bid. In any event, Count Wright's two-diamond call is a typical weak two. He has nine high-card points and a good six-card suit.

This hand was played at the Mid-South Regional in Memphis and Jim Clinton, who sat North, was tempted to go to two spades. He and Count were playing that only response to a weak two bid would be two no-trump and would expect to play two spades. Duplicate players always try, if possible, to get into majors or no-trump cases. It may duplicate 10 or 20 points can mean a difference

FACIES
The faces of fashion are beautifully made-up, the look is dramatic, the eyes are the point of special attention. Little rouge for cheeks, the huge eye-lashes are still the "in" thing to wear, even if you do not want them!

Figures are soft and "natural." Waistlines are nicely indicated, belts draw attention to a simple dress. Creations. To magnificent belts of jewelry or embroidered leather and belts with long tassels make a simple dress a creation. To wear these belts you must have that "in" look, which more or less, So ladies, diet!

FASHIONS
The pants suit has taken the fashion world by storm. Pants are the love of the important designers. They are designed with matching jackets, long or short. The pants are fashioned from everything from velvet, brocade, tweed, sequins and sheer. You will see women wearing pant suits to shop, to career jobs and to the supermarket as well as to cocktail parties. The material will be suited to the occasion.

FITTED
I shudder to think that the women who are not slender will look like, they will wear them just as women would know better wear mini-skirts. And they love them. "And they love them," said Mark Cox, president of the PGA and Burke-Worthington, a subsidiary of Victor Component Corp.

Lighter Clubs
CHICAGO (AP) Golfers, who avidly seek new aids for their game, now are turning to aluminum shafted clubs. "I understand the use of these clubs will be limited to the PGA and Burke-Worthington," said Mark Cox, president of the PGA and Burke-Worthington, a subsidiary of Victor Component Corp.

Horoscope Forecast

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 16, 1968

GENERAL TENDENCIES—This is a beautiful day for you to charm others and to put into motion those plans which have broad scope to them and which can bring you advancement far beyond anything that you have had to date. You are able to gain the good will of those in high office by your own generosity and magnanimous activities.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Now you can get busy making your plans for the future. Happiness is the keynote. Get an early start at fun.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Now you can get busy making your plans for the future. Happiness is the keynote. Get an early start at fun.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Get together with partners and discuss how to make your point ventures more profitable. Don't forget to do your shopping. Keep your appointments for business, etc., on time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Concentrate on increasing your abundance instead of fading about the recession today, and put ideas to work quickly. Gain the favor of those who can back you very nicely. Be decisive.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23)—You ask of them. Get out to do almost anything you ask of them. Get out to do almost anything you ask of them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—You seek of them. Get out to do almost anything you ask of them. Get out to do almost anything you ask of them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—You have career affairs that can be made to operate very efficiently for you. Some discussion with a higher-up can give you ideas which help you to advance very quickly. Do be so squeamish about asking for advice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—You have made new and valuable acquaintances recently and it would be well to deepen the association now. Study every angle of some plan before you come to a definite decision. Be sure of what you are doing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—It would be wise to take care of regular routines right now and put those big plans aside until you have had a chance to study them. Show appreciation for loved one who is very loyal. Be kind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Business interests and goals are now anxious to meet you and get to know you better and could bring you real pleasure in the days ahead. Get early and enjoy yourself as much as possible. Be charming with your guests.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—You have plenty of energy and can get much of that work out of the way quickly, so get an early start and finish all jobs. Understand co-workers better and you get their full support. Be your old clever self.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY—he or she will be one of those young people whose thoughts roam the universe, but they also have much ability at detail, doing things right, and which means great popularity with others. Too, the rightness of things is very strong in this child's life. This does not mean success in this most promising chart.

THE STARS IMPEL, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carol Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for November is now ready. For your copy, send $1.00 to Carol Righter Forecast, The Sanford Herald, Box 628, Hollywood 28, California.

Smoot War Launched
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office has abandoned censorship as a weapon in the war against smut and is training its guns only on dealers who mail pornography to people who complain.

Main goal of this new strategy, says Chief Postal Inspector Harry B. Montague, is to keep advertisements for smut out of the hands of children and young people.

Montague indicates the heat is off offending individuals who use the mails to exchange obscene photographs and reading matter.

Montague said in an interview that since 1937, the courts and the Justice Department have hindered the Post Office in its fight against pornography and battle lines had to be redrawn.

Montague, chief inspector in charge of largely relies on individual protests from the public.

Ike Serenaded On Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower celebrated his 75th birthday with a hospital-wide serenade by the Army band and the wish for a "peaceful and victorious year on Nov. 24."

The five-star general waved from the open window of his third-floor hospital room. Monday, he flashed the V-for-victory sign and the Eisenhower grin for the bandmen and waved his five-star salute.

It was his first public appearance since suffering his seventh heart attack in mid-August. Doctors chose this occasion to announce Eisenhower has been walking unassisted.

Eisenhower, clad in a bathrobe, stood throughout the 15-minute salute from the Army band and chorus with his wife, Mamie, by his side.

The concert started with a trumpet fanfare and a chorus of "Happy Birthday To You." He stepped to a chair in a bathroom and sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" with a strong falsetto voice.

Teachers Will Be Measured

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The State of Florida has decided to measure its teachers as well as its students.

The new system will be used to determine how well a teacher is doing. It will be based on the number of students who are passing the state tests and on the number of students who are being referred to a special education class.

The state will also measure the teacher's ability to work with parents and to keep up-to-date on the latest educational methods.

The new system will be used to determine how well a teacher is doing. It will be based on the number of students who are passing the state tests and on the number of students who are being referred to a special education class.

CARLOS SMITLEY is an able assistant to his father, Ben Smithley, in the operation Smithley's Cash & Save Jewelers at Longwood Plaza.

From all over the Central Florida area customers have flocked to Longwood to shop to choose such items as costume jewelry, identification tags, bracelets, stainless steel and silver jewelry. Let Ben's daughter Debbie who owns the shop give you suggestions for wedding rings, and birthday gifts that can easily be found at the centrally located store.

Ben's deepest appreciation of jewelry is that it has thronged to his shop to pick up any type jewelry item and have their watches repaired.

Remember the dress placed in the front is in the middle and that is where Smithley's is located, halfway between Winter Park and Sanford.

Cost Of Fun And Play Is Rising

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The facts and figures are in now and there's something frightening about them. You just can't high noon and make it, even at the country club. The cost of fun and play today is rising steadily.

True, inflation after hits hard on the poor and those on fixed incomes, such as retirees. But the rich seem not to be affected. Operating expenses of the clubs last year rose faster than income.

A survey just published shows that club costs were at a record high in the 12 months ended in May. Maintenance per hole, for example, rose to $4.32 at golf clubs, a jump of nearly $200 in one year.

It was the 19th hole that appears to have kept costs in the black. Bar bills brought in more than twice as much money as sports activities, a shocking fact it is remembered that the cost of most sports is included in overall dues.

The survey, conducted each year since 1954 by Harris, Kerr, Forster & Co., an accounting firm, revealed that membership dues rose to $480 from $322 a year earlier. Food-drink bills rose to $411 per person from $493.

Add in another $181 per member for other items, such as new putters and jackets and make swimming pool fees and the grand total spent per member came to more than $1,200, real enough, you might agree, for all that grubbing at the bar.

This doesn't suggest necessarily that the clubs are going to go under or that its members will go broke. Prosperity has never been more evident at the clubs. But they are getting a little more difficult to run.

There are clubs that are not far ahead of the run. Some are losing money. After deducting all operating expenses, only $14 was left of that $1,200. That $14 might seem distressing, but perhaps it's not. In 1962 the average of all clubs dropped to $10 per member. Club managers corrected that in 1967 by raising dues an average of $30, which was the biggest increase since the survey began. That resulted in $12 remaining after expenses.

Based on the simple theory that what worked once will work again, it seems that club managers are about to raise dues again in order to bring that $14 number to the $20 figure. Things are little better down town at the city clubs.

Membership dues and guest fees cost city members an average of $256 each, about 40 percent more than 15 years ago. Bar and restaurant bills added another $308, and various other expenses, including rooms, added $120 for a grand total of $694.

The city clubs, however, generally have a lot more left over after operating expenses. In the most recent survey they averaged $34 a member. Not bad, but still $14 less than in 1958 and well below the average of more than $40 a member in the 1950s.

Headquarters Opened By GOP Women

Grand opening of Republican County Candidate headquarters at 106 S. Park Avenue, Sanford, was held at 5 p.m. Thursday by members of the Sanford Women's Republican Club. Mrs. Jerry Keith, state committee member and honorary member of the club, presided at the ribbon cutting ceremony.

Special ground for land for the occasion was Ray Osborne, candidate for the Public Service Commission.

Coffee and doughnuts were served following the opening. At 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Mrs. Keith was hostess for a coffee hour meeting for the club. Next meeting of the club will be at 8 p.m. Thursday at the headquarters location, with all county candidates as special guests.

The headquarters will be open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Oct. 19 will be observed as "Judge Wallace Hall" day and the public is invited to stop by and meet the judge and his wife at this time.

High Court Shuns County Fight

Red Cross today cancelled its Open House set for Thursday evening because of Hurricane Gladys.

Home and School Association of All Souls School will hear Sen. Kenneth Plante at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The school end of the county now has more registered voters than the north end. Using figures compiled by the Supervisor of Elections and cutting across the county, south of Lake Mary shows some 15,193 voters are registered in South Seminole as compared to 12,341 in North Seminole.

Wallace for President but won't vote in the last of Democratic County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick's court brought gas from Democrats around Sanford yesterday. He didn't explain as he was going from place to place that he was just trying to get a rise out of people and he did.

Look for strong and vocal opposition to proposal of Jim Avery to have his lot at the northwest corner of Maitland Avenue at Orange Road rezoned from R1 to R2 to permit construction of multi-family dwellings. Avery's attempts, the past few years, to have his property rezoned has met with SRD opposition and public hearings. Hearing on the matter is set for Nov. 19.

Latest word from General Services Administration concerning date to release Sanford Naval Air Station to city is Nov. 1.

According to City Manager Warren E. Knowles, the GSA is having a review of a review. In plain words, just more delay and red tape.

First meeting of the special committee recently formed by the Seminole Chamber of Commerce to explore the feasibility of consolidation of the municipal governments with the county will be held at noon Tuesday at Holiday Inn. George Touhy is chairman of the group.

Look for the Ministerial Association to announce its endorsement of only those county candidates who will oppose the Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages. That was the gist of the preachers' secret meeting with candidates last Friday.

See where signs still are plaguing the City Commission. Jim Spencer locked the Commission on the existing sign law and the commissioners bowed and changed the law. Now Gene Meadors is fighting the current sign law . . . and last night the commissioners again ordered an amendment to the law.

A county school bus driver, to term it mildly, was a "little put out" this morning with the sheriff's department, she called to inform The Herald. Mrs. Ida May Sjohom of Lake Mary, who drives Bus 303, called the law to report that some 25 gallons of gas was stolen some time during the night from her bus and was asked "Do you want me to make a record of it?" Mrs. Sjohom thought it perfectly obvious that she "wanted a record made of it," or she wouldn't have been bothered to report the theft.

Before the road was found, it had been hoped the bond issue matter could be placed before the State Road Board meeting today.

In other business, the Board heard report from Insurance Advisory Committee that no material savings will result from the State's insurance law for relief.

Authorized travel expenses for candidates for the position of Seminole County Commissioner Robert Parker and Commissioner John Alexander and space is available in his office. According to the regulations, "Each place of assembly shall be posted with a legible sign in contrasting colors conspicuously located stating the maximum number of occupants permitted."

Although it has been determined that 150 persons is the maximum safe load limit on the third floor, no sign is posted to advise the people of this fact.

Effort by Commissioner John Fitzpatrick yesterday to have the Commission chairman and the attorney express possible ways for the Board to ensure safety for the second floor. The county attorney was told to look into the legality of the Commission holding meetings at other than the court house and report his findings at next meeting.

Hearing was scheduled for Nov. 11 today before Judge Dyer on Truck's and Still's motions.

Commissioner Robert Parker, who had been serving as a committee to find a person to fill the post reported that it appears no local persons are available for the position and out-of-state applicants will be interviewed.

Authorized the zoning department to take legal action against Lawrence Webster of Titusville who is charged with the count of zoning and building violations.

Headmaster of Lakota Elementary School, who had been serving as a committee to find a person to fill the post reported that it appears no local persons are available for the position and out-of-state applicants will be interviewed.

City Approves Pact For Year

The two months rent would be the first and last month's rent since city had received lease on a lease from City of Sanford. The agreement is to be signed Nov. 1.

Subject to a written contract which will be drawn up by City Attorney William H. Heston and signed by both parties, the agreement reached this morning in 42 1/2 hour negotiating session, called for the city to lease the first approximately 14 buildings on the east side of the city with the city to pay for two months rent in advance.

It was agreed to release the city from the obligation to pay for the use of a terminal building in an airport operation.

The agreement also provided that there would be no sub-lease of any of the 14 structures to be received.

Problems Loom For Elections

Biggest election to hit Seminole in its history is expected in November and problems are cropping up already.

Suggestion of Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections, that at least 10 more voting machines are needed for the large Republican voter registration today by the strong winds in Tropical Storm Gladys as the 10 mile per hour gusts gained strength and moved toward parts of Florida already on hurricane watch.

The late of Pines, a colony of the young 30 miles south of Cuba, has been carried out by the storm. Shelters were set up in Nueva Gerona, the capital city of the former Caribbean trust island now used by Fidel Castro's government as an educational center for young people.

Precautionary measures to protect humans and livestock throughout western Cuba were begun late Tuesday. Rain Havana reported.

Even as heavy rains pounded the Isle of Pines, evacuation to higher ground began for thousands of people and cattle in Pinar del Rio and Havana provinces in western Cuba.

Elementary and high school classes in both provinces were canceled for the day. Protective measures were taken for crops and livestock. A hurricane watch was in effect in the Florida Keys and from Clearwater southward along the Gulf coast across Florida Bay to Key Largo. Forecasters said hurricane force winds of 74 mph or more were likely to reach the Keys by Thursday.

Gladys, the Atlantic season's seventh storm, hit the Isle of Pines and Cuba early in day and continued to gain

Li Press For HHH

NEW YORK (AP) — The Long Island Press today endorsed Democratic Hubert H. Humphrey in the November presidential race as the best qualified to "ster us back to sanity."

The newspaper, which endorsed the Johnson-Humphrey ticket in 1961, said that the "national stands bewildered, angry and divided" after a long period of assassination, bitterness and frustration.

Science Pact

MIAMI (AP) — Cuba and the Soviet Union have signed a five-year agreement for scientific collaboration.

The pact, which was signed in Havana, provides for the exchange of scientists and technical personnel, as well as the sharing of scientific data and equipment.

The agreement is expected to strengthen the ties between the two nations in the field of science and technology.

Roads Bonds Hit Snag

Sanj in the county's plan to issue $19 million bond issue for right-of-way for construction of state roads in Seminole was hit by the County Commission yesterday when it was reported that a part of one of the roads was not included in the planned issue.

Red Bag Lake Road from SR 436 to SR 300 was not included in the bond issue. The county commission is expected to meet again on the matter.
