Ginger Rogers Reveals Likes And Pet Peeves

Star Receives 10,000 Fan Messages Per Month From Public

If the fan mail received at the RKO Radio studio is any criterion, certain letter-writing movie fans are avid in their curiosity about the private life of their favorite cinema stars.

Particularly is this true in connection with Ginger Rogers, who receives a mere 10,000 fan messages per month. Ginger is currently co-starring with Katharine Hepburn and Adolphe Menjou in "Stage Door," a gripping drama of the theatre.

With a certain feeling of trepidation, but with a martyr-like gesture, Ginger has broken down and confessed to the following: Her real name is Virginia Rogers.

Her great grandfather, Ebenzer Ball, invented the Ball-Mason jar for preserves. She is partial to subdued greens, blues and browns for lounging pajamas and negligees. She always reads in bed before going to sleep.

"STAGE DOOR" STARS TETE-a-TETE

Adolphe Menjou pays homage to Katharine Hepburn in a colorful scene from RKO Radio's "Stage Door," in which Ginger Rogers is co-starred. Gail Patrick leads the featured cast.

"STAND-IN"

Pictures Of Panay Bombing Tell Tale Of Shocking Truth

The shocking truth clearing up the dispute regarding the guilt in the bombing of the U. S. gunboat Panay by Japanese planes is now laid before every person in the United States by Universal Pictures in the form of indelible motion picture scenes of the actual attack. The amazing film achievement of Norman W. Alley, who photographed the entire episode from the deck of the Panay, is contained in a special feature which comes to the Ritz Theatre, next Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture—the only complete account of the Panay attack—tells a story that starts with the first alarm in Nanking, the burning and bombing of that city, and the tumultuous evacuation by panic-stricken Americans. The frantic embarkation aboard the Panay comes next. Then the attack and following the struggle and privations of the wounded survivors, matching a long the Yangtze River, in constant peril from Japanese Army patrols until rescue comes in the form of the British gunboat, River in China to New York.

"DAUGHTER OF SHANGHAI"

Two famous Chinese actors head the cast of "Daughter of Shanghai," the story based on the alien smuggling racket which opens Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre. They are Philip Ahn and ex-wife Anna May Wong, the latter returning to the screen after a three year sojourn on the stage.

"First Lady" Is Picture Of Life At Washington

Kay Francis Stars In Film Of Capital Society And Politics

"First Lady," a film version of the Broadway stage hit of the same name, is scheduled to have its local premiere next Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. Kay Francis is the star of this Warner Bros. comedy of society and politics at the national capital. Supporting her are Preston Foster, Verree Teasdale, Anita Louise, Victor Jory, Walter Connolly, Louise Fazenda, Marjorie Rambeau and a dozen other notables. "First Lady" is a polite treatise on the Washington society, as seen from the corner of a merry observer's eye. It has no mission; it preaches nothing more serious than the gospel of good humor. Lucy is a woman whose grandfather had been President seven years before. She is the wife of a government official and is very ambitious for him. She wants to live in the White House and is not above playing any political game to further this desire. Clever, sophisticated and resourceful, she manages to pull strings in drawing rooms, conference chambers and even in the stately halls of Congress. Lucy is as successful in influencing women as in using men. She wields her power with incredible grace. Most of Lucy's connivings are staged in one or another room of the Wayne home. It is one of those Colonial mansions found only in certain sections of Washington. It has a majesty that seems to come from the traditions that cling to it from the past.

Kay Francis Described As Being Individualist

Kay Francis is a rugged individualist. Maybe not so rugged, but certainly an individualist. She doesn't give a hank what everybody thinks about anything—and there's your thumbnail sketch of one of the few interesting glamour girls. But the lovely Kay is too many-sided to be dismissed with a generalization. The best-dressed girl on the screen, she goes about between pictures in almost slovenly slacks. She gives a director a tongue lashing and then jumps into her car and rides 40 miles to call on a minor employe she has heard was in need. She dislikes people who are over-confident, yet she, herself, is definitely self-assured. She is the very rare combination of fast thinker and slow talker. Usually it's the other way round. Her mind is always active. She is never mentally relaxed, although physically she appears to be entirely so.

Lovers Do Not Kiss In China, Says Star

Anna May Wong, leading lady of "Daughter of Shanghai," at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, walked off the set while the film was being made because Chinese lovers do not kiss. Miss Wong shares love interest in the picture with Philip Ahn, handsome young Korean, and one of the scenes calls for her to kiss him. "I have no personal objection to kissing Philip," Miss Wong said, "but when the picture is shown in China I would be severely criticized were I to be seen kissing a man unless he were my father. Kissing and other forms of love making are taboo among the Chinese."

Speedy Karl Wins Again At Longwood

Speedy Karl got some of the racing luck he has been missing since his win in the inaugural Futurity and last night beat the top 50th greyhounds at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club by a typical courageous finish. He paid $10.60 for $2.

But it was Land Lord who furnished the surprise of the race for if it hadn't been for some interference at the last turn he likely would have taken first money. As it was he came in second, ahead of Just Lookout, another outsider who took third.

Trailing the leaders were Ann Hope, Chance Charlie, Bloody Omen and Fearless Buckle, in the order named. Far out of consideration was the veteran Molly Malone who folded up completely after breaking second out of the box.

Japs Capture Tsingtao When Chinese Leave

Landing Party Of Marines Take Doomed China Port Without Firing Single Shot

City Is Found Badly Damaged

Japanese Claim Right To Cross Borders Of International Area

TSINGTAO, China, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Japanese navy tonight occupied this rich north China port without firing a shot. Landing parties of Japanese Marines marched in without meeting the slightest opposition.

The Chinese army had left the city days ago but before it left it dynamited and burned Japanese property worth nearly $10,000,000.

The Japanese army announced following separate clashes between Japanese troops and British and French soldiers—that it receives the right to cross the boundaries between the various zones "in case of necessity."

British and American troops share with Italian and other forces the defense of the international settlement and have consistently refused to permit the Japanese to invade their zone.

French forces have blocked the Japanese right to enter the adjoining French zone without permits.

"We recognize the matter in principle," a Japanese army spokesman said, "but present conditions in Shanghai make it impractical to regard boundaries here as strictly as those between two countries."

"For instance, in case of a bomb-thrower who fled to other defense sectors, we could continue the pursuit across the border."

"We do not know whether the foreign forces recognize our theory, but the principal of self-defense and pursuit is recognized by international law."

Hearing On Citrus Marketing Pact To Be Held On Jan. 17

A hearing on the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling in interstate commerce of citrus grown in Florida will be held in the City Auditorium in Lakeland, Jan. 17 at 10:00 o'clock County Agent C. H. Dawson reported today.

The proposed pact is similar to the agreement now in effect in the celery industry of the state and is a compromise of two tentative proposals which were refused approval when presented to Washington A. A. officials.

The agreement, if adopted by the industry, will operate under the Agricultural Marketing Act passed in the last session of Congress and proposes to "establish and maintain such marketing conditions as will result in a fair price to the farmer at a level that will give citrus fruit a purchasing power, with respect to articles farmed by, equivalent to the purchasing power of citrus fruit in the base period; to protect the interests of the consumer by approaching such a level as rapidly as possible; and to authorize such action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to citrus fruit above such level."

The County Agent stated that those connected with the citrus industry in this county who desire copies of the proposed agreement may get same by calling at his office.

Rev. Ashby Jones Talks On Peace At Rotary Meet

Says Any Nation That Prepares For War Is Going To Get War

The Rev. Ashby Jones gave a talk on "World Peace" at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club today, in which he said that the development of the Rotary program of universal friendship in human hearts was the only alternative to war.

He also declared that any nation which prepares for war is sure to get war, no matter what slogan we use for it.

The Rev. Jones was introduced by the Rev. Paul Hedstrom who was in charge of the program in the absence of Rev. Hollins, the regular program chairman. The Rev. Hedstrom said that he had known the Rev. Jones for many years and that they had often been at desks together at Emory University.

Declaring that organized Christianity had taken possession of the program on Mount Sinai, the Rev. Jones said that the Bible, the Holy Jesus and the Holy Spirit were the only things that should be the basis of our civilization.

He commended the American Legion program which pledges itself to leave no stone unturned in its search for peace.

Printing out the cost of the last war, the Rev. Jones said that more than 12 persons were killed in that war every two minutes for four years, and added that the dollars and cents cost amounted to over 400 billion dollars, that it had already cost the United States 55 billion, and that ultimately it would cost this country over 100 billion.

House Shelves Plan For Vote By All On War

President Roosevelt Writes Speaker Ludlow The Amendment Is Not Desirable

Bill Defeated By 209 To 188

Roosevelt Says Measure Would Cripple Any President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The House shelved today the proposed war referendum amendment to the Constitution voting against the floor consideration of the proposal. Speaker Bankhead announced the vote against the referendum was 209 to 188.

Just before the vote was taken President Roosevelt sent Bankhead a letter which was read in the house. In it the President warned that the war referendum would "cripple any President" in his conduct of foreign affairs.

He also said it would encourage other nations "to believe that they could violate American rights with impunity."

Written in response to a request from the speaker for an expression of the President's views, the letter asked House members to vote against considering the referendum on the floor thus opening the international question to public debate.

The resolution was offered by Representative Ludlow, Indiana Democrat. It would have authorized a constitutional amendment, which three-fourths of the states would have to approve, calling for the approval by the people in a national election before the United States could declare war.

I AM THE NEW YEAR

I am the New Year, and I come to you pure and unstained...

The trouble about the higher-ups is, as we get it from some of our political spellbinders these days, they are too low down.

The reason some merchants do not advertise at the present time in the United States is their credit has been cut off.

Sanford business concerns have formed a "Merchants' Co-operative Credit Board" in order to protect themselves against bad accounts.

As part of the government's economy drive, no doubt, the sum of one million dollars was recommended in Congress the other day to finance the reindeer industry in Alaska.

On January 1 the payroll taxes which business employees have to pay, were increased from two percent to three percent.

Our Immigration Problem

We hear so much these days about how this country has lagged behind other countries in social legislation. We are told that England is far in advance of the United States taking care of the aged and the unemployed; that Norway and Sweden have completely eliminated poverty, that the fascist countries are much better run than our own, and the communists in Russia has been a great boon to the working man.

If all this is so, you would think that many Americans would be leaving this country of old-fashioned laws and hard times to seek refuge and opportunity in some of these more progressive foreign lands. But as a matter of fact, the trend is exactly the other way. There is no disposition on the part of Americans to leave America, but millions of foreigners from all countries are trying to break our immigration laws.

"Every civilized country presents an immigration problem to America," says Merle Thorpe in the Nation's Business, "but America presents no immigration problem to any other of the 60 countries on the globe. Boats leave our shores every day filled with tourists and travelers' checks. But stowaways are discovered by immigration officers on every incoming ship. No American ever expatriates himself without first accumulating here enough money upon which to live in comfort abroad. But people come to America without money; they need only a will to work.

"One of the forces that has made this country a promised land is ability to pull together as a team. Out of the town meeting idea grew one phase of group effort, chambers of commerce and trade associations. They have been effective because they have been voluntary. Groups enlist in common effort and pursue the objective by experiments; if the experiments prove impractical they are washed up. Unlike politics, voluntary groups have no inhibitions against admitting mistakes.

"Yet we are asked to substitute for our voluntary efforts the system of compulsory group effort from which these millions of foreigners would flee. We are told that the system of political regimentation favors the underprivileged, but the underprivileged of other countries evidently do not think so.

"While we raise immigration walls against the individual, we have no quota restrictions against alien philosophies which are vastly more dangerous than the immigrant himself. We embrace foreign theories of government and reject individuals seeking to escape from them. 'We, the people' are magnetic words that cause regimented millions of other nations to lift up their hearts in hope that their children may find here the freedom, opportunity and self-expression that they themselves have been denied.

"Perhaps when we adopt old-world methods we may solve our immigration problem. Nobody will find here any change from the oppression he endures elsewhere and won't care to come. If we adopt them in the true American style of 'bigger and better,' we may even look forward to the time when immigration quotas will be established against us."

Last Year's Accidents

In spite of the fact that there were approximately 40,000 persons killed in automobile accidents during the year just closed, an increase of about 2,000 over the previous year, accidents as a whole, including all types of accidents, actually decreased during the year by about six percent. This improvement is attributed in large measure to the safety campaign being conducted in the United States.

Among industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, this decline of six percent resulted in a new all time low for fatal accidents of 53.8 per 100,000. This new minimum among policyholders is said to be due largely to the reduction of fatal automobile accidents in large industrial centers where most of the policyholders live and where the speed of automobiles is more strictly controlled than in the rural centers.

With information as yet incomplete for the United States, it is estimated that during 1937, about once in every 10 days on an average, there occurred a motor vehicle accident in which five or more persons were killed at one time, and these persons were often members of the same family. Similarly, five or more persons were killed in a single home accident on the average at least once each month.

Outstanding catastrophes of 1937 in which large numbers of lives were lost, were: the Ohio-Mississippi Valley floods, in which hundreds were killed; the explosion which wrecked the school building at New London, Texas, the worst school calamity in recorded history, in which 294 lives were lost; the burning of the dirigible Hindenburg, with 35 lives lost; and the coal mine accident at Mt. Airy, Ala., which took a toll of 34 lives.

THE FRIENDS WHO are most stimulating to us are those who disagree with us. It is they whose ideas we should ponder; not that we may be converted by them but that, in the light of their certainties, we may search out the basis of our own. We dignify by the name of beliefs a jumble of traditions and superstitions, and we need to go over them periodically, spurred by some skeptic, to sort out the grain from the chaff.—Cornelia James Cannon in The Atlantic Monthly.

Rev. Ashby Jones Talks On Peace At Rotary Meet

Rev. Jones said that it would have been possible to build a $2,500 home, furnish it with $1,000 worth of furniture, place it on five acres of land, and give it or one just like it, to every family living in the civilized world. And with the money left over, he said, hospitals, libraries and teachers' endowment funds could have been established all over the world.

FANNIE STEMBRIDGE MUNSON
By MRS. AMELIA PEUCKERT NOBLE

Many years ago Mr. R. J. Holly, former editor of the Sanford Herald, in a tribute to Mrs. Munson wrote in part as follows: "At we sat in the High School Auditorium last night and listened to the finished musicians performing the most difficult selections of the musical program that varied from the smallest lot to the oldest girls, we could not help but feel like uttering a prayer of thanksgiving that Sanford had been blessed with such a wonderful woman as Mrs. Fannie Stemberidge Munson. For so many years that we can hardly remember, Mrs. Munson has been laboring with the children of Sanford, bringing them up from the smallest children to the young ladies that graduate and then many of them receiving higher honors at colleges and conservatories of music, due to the wonderful teaching of their first instructor. . . ."

"Mrs. Munson does not confine her attention to music, but is also a consistent student of current events, a deep thinker, and an educated woman such as few communities can produce. . . . "We know of your struggles and trials and tribulations, and how too often those wonderful workers like yourself get none of the praise or emoluments of which well done. We know something of your work for we have studied in the same school of life and have received little but hard knocks. The light of genius still burns and somewhere, sometime, those who have contributed so much in this world and received so little in return will get the 'well done thou good and faithful servant.'"

Fannie Stemberidge was born at Milledgeville, Georgia, in 1864. Her early education was obtained at a private school conducted by Miss Sarah Rockwell, and later at the Georgia Military College, Milledgeville, which admitted women to classes.

As a young woman she came to Sanford and engaged in teaching. Florida had just passed a law providing all public school teachers in take examinations, and Fannie Stemberidge was the first in this part of what was then Orange County to stand exams, and the first to teach singing in the Sanford public schools. After one year of public school work, she decided to devote her entire time to the private teaching of music, which she continued during the remainder of her life.

In 1887 she married Fredrick Randolph Munson, whose death occurred nine months later. Mrs. Munson then devoted her entire spare time to the study of music, including the organ. First she received a diploma with honors in kindergarten music teaching, at Brenau, Gainesville, Georgia, from Prof. Pfefferkorn, noted musician and composer. Later, while taking a Progressive Series Course by correspondence under the supervision of Joseph Hoffman, Mrs. Munson was honored by the request from the publishers to use her original definitions in their manuals of instruction for young beginners, as her definitions, because of clarity and brevity, exceeded any they had used. During her long career as instructor she never ceased searching for new ideas and methods of teaching.

Her special organ instruction was under Minor C. Baldwin, Dr. Frye of Philadelphia, and Charles M. Courtain, noted Belgian-American organist. For over thirty years she was organist of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sanford, Florida, never missing a service, except for illness or absence from the city.

Since the beginning of her work in music, Mrs. Munson had dealt with the Theo. Presser Company of Philadelphia, Pa. However, to her, Theo. Presser Company was not a commercial institution, but a friend to whom she could send for information, advice and even research work, knowing that her request would be graciously fulfilled. Even her pupils learned of Theo. Presser Company as the following incident proves: Mrs. Munson, while showing a beautiful piece of dress material to a pupil, once said: "I don't know how to dye it made." "Miss Fannie, why not write to the Theo. Presser Company?" Such bits of humor brought the sweet intimacy which existed between teacher and pupil.

Mrs. Munson organized and continuously conducted the Women's Music Club, the oldest of its kind in Sanford. At the monthly meetings held in her studio during thirty-five years, as visitors noted the progress of pupils might by month, and year by year there was concrete evidence of her greatness as a teacher. She not only taught them to execute, interpret and appreciate the music, but they also absorbed some of the beauty and the character of her character.

Tibbitts also survived. Other survivors are a brother, James Stemberidge of Los Angeles, California, a sister, Mrs. W. H. Mason, Georgia, and other nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at Holy Cross Episcopal Church on January 1st, 3:30 P. M., the pastor, Rev. Martin Brown in charge. There the body had lain in state since morning. Former and present pupils attending were Miss Charlotte Smith, organist, Wm. Morrison, active pianist; Jack Morrison, organist; and Jimmie Ingley and Freddie Fields, candle-bearers. Members of her class attended with the flowers at the cemetery. The beautiful floral tributes which covered the organ and filled the entire church, and the large assemblage of friends were a fitting tribute of esteem for Mrs. Munson. Interment was at Evergreen Cemetery, Sanford.

"Great is the gift above thee, Friend of my better days, None knew thee but to love thee. Not named thee but to praise thee."

The entire community mourned the loss of this wonderful woman whose life and work made richer the lives of many.

"When she had passed, it seemed like the ceasing of exquisite music."

Fannie Stemberidge Munson passed away at her home on Wednesday, December 29th, 1937, after a short illness. Mrs. Munson raised and educated four daughters of a widowed sister, Anna Belle Stemberidge, Munson, long deceased. The youngest niece, Fannie Roba Munson, who, for many years, had made her home with her aunt and assisted her with her work, was with her at the time of her death. The other three nieces are Miss Zoe Munson of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Joseph M. Allen of Havana, Cuba, and Mercedes, wife of W. Howard Tibbitts of Umatilla, Florida. A grandnephew, H. Munson

Rev. Sproul Conducts Services For Sick

Rev. John W. Sproul reviewed the Bible instructions for Divine healing at the Full Gospel Tabernacle last night where he said, "When you come, claiming the Lord's promise of healing, you profess to the world that you have faith in Him, and therefore His Word is at stake. If you are not healed, the unbeliever will point at you the finger of scorn and say, 'See, there is nothing to it. It is all a fake.'"

The only reason we do not understand the Bible is because we have not yielded ourselves to God, he added. "We have not believed on the Lord Jesus Christ as the Scriptures present Him and then been filled with the Spirit. The devil himself believes that Jesus Christ was the Son of God with power but he does not trust Him."

"Looking at the cause of sickness and disease we find that they were not in any way incidents of men's original state, but on the contrary utterly foreign thereto. Sickness came upon man as a consequence of his disobedience and departure from the Will of God. God has promised that your sins will be forgiven and your sickness healed if you will but trust Him."

In tentatively abandoning plans for two more he was said to feel that existing building facilities would be overtaxed.

Bulk To Air Fleet
Congressional leaders last night estimated that the cost of the supplemental program will add approximately $100,000,000 and $200,000,000 to the chief executive's billion dollar defense budget. The bulk of the increase will be spent on improving the navy's air arm and undersea forces and bulwarking the light surface fleet.

Exact strength of the present naval air force is not known, but is believed to include 1200 fleet-type planes with a goal of 2000 by 1942. The president's new program might bring achievement of the number by 1940, thus giving the United States nearly 4500 modern fighting planes with the army and navy forces combined.

Already the navy air force is generally recognized by foreign military and naval observers as the most efficient in the world.

Wallace Says Relief Needs Are Increasing

Industrial Recession And Drought Blamed For Drop In National Farm Income

Roosevelt Talks With Big Business

Meeting Is Held To Discuss Means For Gaining Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace told the Senate unemployment committee today that demands for rural relief were increasing steadily and that neither local nor federal agencies "have the means to cope" with the situation.

Testifying at the unemployment inquiry, he blamed the industrial recession, falling farm prices, increased mechanization of agriculture, and the drought for the critical condition which he said demanded an expansion of rural relief.

Farm income, he said, would fall this year 8 to 10 percent below 1937. Relief need is the greatest, he said, in the great plains region which has suffered from droughts since 1931.

President Roosevelt asked five industrial executives to confer with him at the White House late this afternoon on the business recession.

Sanford Milk Is Reported As Well Up To Standard

Milk sold by 11 dairies in the City of Sanford are well within the requirements of the City ordinance for Grade A milk, according to the twelfth analysis of the year presented to the City Commission in the regular meeting in the City Hall last night.

The standards set out in the ordinance provides that Grade A milk sold in the City of Sanford shall not contain less than 2.5 percent of butter fat and that the bacteria count shall not be in excess of 50,000.

Milk from licensed dairies sold in the City is well within these requirements, the lowest butterfat content being 4.4 while the highest 4.8. The lowest bacteria count was 800 for pasteurized milk, while the highest for raw milk was 23,000. All of the milk was reported free from sediments and preservatives.

The Commissioners expressed themselves as well pleased with the high quality of milk sold in Sanford residents.

Alex R. Johnson, advisor for the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers of America, appeared before the Board and requested that the City make a donation of $25 to aid the Future Farmers in preparing a Seminole County Exhibit at the State Fair to be held in Tampa soon.

The donation which has been given annually for several years was again approved by the Commissioners.

An ordinance prohibiting the parking of vehicles on the west side of Oak Avenue from the First Street to the intersection of the railroad property with the curbing, was adopted. This ordinance was required by the Atlantic Coast Line officials before the company would grant permission for the City to widen Oak Avenue to take in several feet of their property near First Street.

The Commissioners also designated Thursday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock as the time for a special conference with officials of the Florida Power and Light Company.

It is expected that the possibilities of the City supplying current from the generators at the water plant for the wharfway light system will be discussed.

Byrnes Flays Lynching Bill In Filibuster

Says Carpetbaggers Made Lynching Necessary Once But It Is Declining Now

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Senator Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat, continuing a steady attack from the South on the anti-lynching bill, charged in the Senate today it would "arouse ill feeling between sections."

The filibuster against the bill, going into its fifth day, drew from Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, a restatement of his intention to hold later Senate sessions until there is action on the measure.

The leader added he had not decided definitely whether to hold night sessions. Byrnes, taking the floor when the Senate convened, asserted there "has been a steady decline in lynching for 16 years. Out of 130,000,000 people in this country, only eight were lynched during 1937."

The South Carolina senator spoke of the "outrages" he said the South had suffered at the hands of "carpetbaggers and scoundrels" during the reconstruction period and said this made it necessary for Southerners to "take the law into their own hands."

Now, he said, lynching is rapidly declining but some legislators want to "destroy the power of the states" with the anti-lynching bill.

"Can one forget the record of the United States government in the enforcement of the national prohibition law?" he demanded. He expressed a similar doubt that the anti-lynching measure could be enforced.

Meanwhile a joint congressional committee reported an agreement on the wheat provisions of the "ever normal granary" program. Senator Pope, Idaho Democrat, said the wheat agreement was a "direct compromise" between separate bills passed by the House and Senate.

Fort Mellon Park Is Name Offered For New City Park

Dedication To City's 100th Anniversary Is Also Requested

That the new City Park to be constructed on the lake front between Sanford Avenue and the Mayfair Hotel be called Fort Mellon Park and be dedicated to the 100th anniversary of the founding of Sanford, was requested in letters from the Ladies' Auxiliary Chapter of the D. A. R. and the Daughters of the Territory of Florida which were read in the regular meeting of the City Commission in the City Hall last night.

These were the first names submitted for the consideration of the Commissioners and the Board decided to defer action on the matter pending the receipt of additional suggestions.

A letter from Mrs. H. J. Lehman, chairman of the Founders Day Committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary Chapter D. A. R., to the Commissioners in part as follows: "I am writing to ask that you dedicate the new park as a memorial to the 100th anniversary of Sanford."

"As you know last year the City celebrated the event with a fine program dinner. Sanford received much publicity but nothing of lasting value was left to keep in mind the 100th anniversary of our City."

"The D. A. R. whose work is entirely historical is anxious to link up the past with the present and respectfully suggest the name of 'Fort Mellon Park' be created. We would like to see this park dedicated on Founders Day Feb. 8."

The letter received from Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, president of the Sons and Daughters of the Territory of Florida, suggested the same and also requested that the park be dedicated to the 100th anniversary of the City as "This would commemorate a historical event in the life of our State and more particularly of our City."

As names for the park are being received, local WPA officials are hoping to begin work on the recently approved project early in the Spring.

Storm Delays Removal Of Crash Victims

Ranchers Watch Airliner Go Into A Spin And Crash In Remote Mountains

Flames Prevent Rescue Effort

Driving Snowstorm Is Only Shield For Bodies Of Ten Men

ROZEMAN, Mont., Jan. 11.—(AP)—A driving snowstorm today shrouded the bodies of 10 victims of the Northwest Airlines plane crash and impeded their removal from the remote clearing 14 miles north of here.

The inspection party of postal officials and newsmen failed up the mountain trails to the spot where the big transport plane crashed and burned late yesterday.

The plane, piloted by Nick Mamer, a veteran of a million miles of safe flying, was found soon after the crash, but the storm prevented immediate efforts to bring out the bodies.

Ranchers said the plane went into a spin 200 feet from where they were cutting timber, and burst into flames as it hit the ground.

The passengers and crew list, given out by the airline: In addition to Nick Mamer, pilot, and F. W. West, copilot, both of Spokane, Northwest Airlines reported the ship carried: G. A. Anderson, Spokane, Wash.
