6 Pct. Above 1961, Says FBI Director

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reports the crime rate in the United States broke all previous records last year and jumped 6 per cent over 1961. Hoover said Thursday in his annual "uniform crime reports" that during the past five years the crime rate in this country went up 27 per cent while the population increased 7 per cent.

He said that all types of major crimes except murder showed increases during 1962. Murder dropped 2 per cent. "The record shows police agencies mounting crime work effectiveness remains high leads and heavier demands for a wide variety of increasing complex police services," the FBI chief declared.

But he added that "law enforcement machinery is impaired and policing is hampered as a result of increasing restrictions being placed on enforcement operations."

"The effectiveness of police work . . . depends to some extent on the action of the courts and the success of the correctional process," he said, "but most of all the degree to which the local citizenry supports law enforcement."

"Positive action to reduce crime," he said, "must begin with the individual citizen."

In his youth, Dan MacLaughlin, star of "As the World Turns," called as a deckhand on a freighter bound for Singapore from New York.

GOP Gains In State Seen If Barry Is Chosen

MIAMI (UPI) — The president of Florida's Young Democrats warned Thursday that Republican strength in the state will get a tremendous boost if Sen. Barry Goldwater was the GOP presidential nomination in the upcoming election.

Miami State Rep. Richard Pettigrew, new head of Florida's Young Democrat Club, called on party officeholders and officials to "start pulling together" to stop the GOP challenge in the state.

Pettigrew expressed particular concern over the growing Republican strength in state legislature. The GOP now has 18 House seats and two in the Senate.

"A minimum of 10 additional seats in the Florida House are in grave jeopardy," Pettigrew said.

"If Senator Barry Goldwater is the Republican nominee, his popularity in certain areas in Florida could sweep in additional 20-25 Republican state representatives, as well as several state senators and cabinet officials."

Control Board OKs $101 Million Budget

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Board of Control has adopted a $101 million budget for the coming year, including $48 million to operate the state's institutions of higher learning.

The budgets now go to the Cabinet Budget Commission for approval.

The bulk of the budget, approved Thursday, will go to state universities, off-campus study facilities, a medical center, experimental and extension services. The expenses for these facilities total $68.6 million, Chief Budget Officer Robert Willis said.

Willis said more than half of the board's budget would come from general state funds, with the remainder coming from trust accounts.

The past legislature made the following funds available for university operations in 1963-64:

- University of Florida $18.5 million; Florida State University $14.5 million; Florida A&M $4 million; University of South Florida $5.4 million; Florida Atlantic University, $3 million, and the Institute for Continuing University Studies $2.9 million.

Salary hikes throughout the state's university system amounted to about eight per cent, with most of the larger increases going to non-teaching personnel.

Salary increases at the University of Florida, for example, totaled 8.7 per cent. However, faculty salaries increased only 6.7 per cent while non-academic increases amounted to 15.1 per cent.

The board also received a $2.1 million appropriation from the legislature to start a degree-granting institution at Pensacola and the board plans to spend another $1.4 million for university construction if voters approve a proposed $75 million bond issue at the upcoming general election.

Notaries Public Will Operate Under New Law

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Secretary of State Tom Adams alerted Florida's 70,000 notaries public today that they will have to be "absolutely honest" in certifying documents after Sept. 1 or face a penalty of $5,000 and five years in jail.

A new law regulating notaries goes into effect Sept. 1, setting the stringent penalties.

Under it, a notary who falsely or fraudulently notarizes a document would be guilty of a felony. Previously, the notary public law set no penalty for such a violation.

Simple failure to require reasonable proof of the identity of the person whose signature is being notarized would be a misdemeanor under the new law, punishable by a maximum fine of $500 or six months in jail.

Ignorance or absence of intent to defraud in falsely notarizing a document would be no defense. The law requires that a notary have proof of identity in all signatures witnessed.

Deliberately notarizing false information would constitute a felony and ignorantly notarizing a false document a misdemeanor.

Notaries are appointed by the Governor and commissioned by the Secretary of State. About 15,000 new commissions and recommissions are issued annually.

Governors Indicate Rocky To Be Curbed

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — more than 30 of the 50 governors were contacted, showed 20 on record for a return to the unanimity rule, five opposed and the others undecided or noncommittal.

Supporting Rockefeller against the rules change were GOP Govs. Mark Hatfield of Oregon and John Chafee of Rhode Island and Democratic Govs. Bert Combs of Kentucky and Karl Roivaag of Minnesota. Combs is a member of the executive committee, which announced after its spring meeting that it unanimously favored the rules change.

A UPI check of state capitols suggested that the governors were almost sure to vote for a return to their old unanimity rule, in effect before 1959, for adoption of resolutions. This rule change would enable a single governor to veto any controversial proposal—like Rockefeller's resolution to put the conference on record for a broad civil rights program.

The governors will meet here Sunday through Wednesday. The rules showdown is scheduled Monday morning on an executive committee proposal to abandon the present rule, requiring a two-thirds vote for adoption of resolutions, and to return to the requirement for a unanimous vote.

Rockefeller, a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination, is prepared to battle against the rules change. He is the author of 11 resolutions, including controversial proposals dealing with civil rights and financing medical care for the aged under the Social Security program.

U. S. Seeks No Settlement, Fidel Charges

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime charged in a note sent to Washington over the weekend that the United States does not want to settle its differences with the Castroites. The note specifically protested the recent freezing of Cuban accounts in U. S. banks.

The Cuban note cited President Kennedy's statement at his press conference Wednesday that "the United States cannot coexist with a Soviet satellite in the Caribbean" as proof of U. S. unwillingness to negotiate.

"Cuba maintains and will maintain relations of close and inextinguishable friendship with the Soviet Union, a friend which helped us in the more difficult moments of the revolution . . ." the note said. "Those relations are unalterable, as is the Marxist-Leninist character of our revolution."

The note said the Castro regime will continue to prosper, despite the freezing of its dollar accounts, "with the help of socialist countries and the nations with which we maintain normal relations."

It said communism will extend its way in the Western Hemisphere. "Cuba's was the first socialist revolution on this continent, but not the last," the note said. "Some day, it will be the imperialists and reactionaries of the United States and not the revolutionary government who are isolated."

The note charged that "the (U.S.) Central Intelligence Agency or the Pentagon" fostered the military coups "at which overthrew such Latin presidents as Arturo Frondizi in Argentina, Manuel Prado in Peru, Miguel Yildiaz Fuentetaja in Guatemala and Carlos J. Arosemena in Ecuador."

"It is American monopolies and not the Cuban government which foment and organize subversion in Latin America with their regime of exploitation, ignorance, unemployment, misery, servitude and plunder," the note said.

Further Ocala Protests Due

OCALA (UPI) — More demonstrations were scheduled by the NAACP here today to protest the arrests of 44 Negroes and a white integrationist leader.

Florida NAACP Field Secretary Robert W. Saunders told a mass meeting of Negroes here Sunday night that the protests would continue and that he had sent telegrams to the FBI and congressmen all over the country protesting the arrests.

He said he would seek an investigation of the "wholesale law enforcement setup in Marion County."

Saunders called the arrest of "nearly 100 citizens in 72 hours" "intestable and said he was protesting the matter to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

The Negroes—most of them juveniles—were arrested Saturday and Sunday for parading around the Marion County Jail carrying placards protesting the arrest of white integrationist Zeh Avolny, 25, of Minneapolis, Minn., earlier last week. Avolny is being held for a mental examination.

Rezoning Before County Board

Two public hearings, one a controversial proposition of rezoning property for a supermarket site, will feature the County Commission meeting Tuesday.

Commission also will take under consideration County Engineer William Bush's long-range county road plan. Department heads will present their budget requests to the Commission members, commencing at 2 p. m., Gen. J. C. Hutchinson, chairman, said.

Courts To Settle Financing Of Public Defender Offices

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A dispute over financing of the new state public defender's offices in Florida apparently will be settled by the courts.

Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin has ruled that state funds cannot be tapped to pay expenses of the office in connection with hiring assistants, investigators, clerical help and office rental.

Ervin said only the salary of the public defender and an assistant in the two counties and travel expenses of the defenders can be paid from state funds. The 1963 law creating the office authorized counties to pay other expenses of the office.

But a number of counties have refused, claiming the office was created by the state legislature and should be financed by the state.

Public Defender Robert Wilson of DeLand, representing the four-county 7th Judicial Circuit, has filed suit in circuit court against the Volusia County Commission, seeking to force the commission to ante up funds for the office. He said he will file similar suits in Putnam, Flagler and St. Johns counties.

His suit seeks a declaratory decree on the responsibility of the county to supplement office expenses and an injunction against prosecution of indigent defendants now awaiting trial, pending court determination.

Wilson brought the suit after the four-county coalitions turned down his request for a total $21,530 budget with Volusia, as the largest county, to finance 65 per cent of it.

The U. S. British and Soviet negotiators were reported so far along on the test ban issue that their talks have turned to other cold war problems, including measures to guard against surprise attack.

Convention Scraps Resolutions Panel

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other Republicans pushing for a vote on the civil rights issue were dealt a setback today by the National Governors Conference which abolished its resolution committee.

The Democratic-led move had the effect of avoiding on-the-record voting on the politically-intense issue.

The showdown vote was 38 to 16 in favor of an amendment offered by Democratic Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada. The result was reached on an almost party line basis.

Sawyer proposed that the entire resolutions process be abolished to avoid another southern Democratic filibuster.

Both proposals were offered as a substitute for an executive committee proposal to abandon the present two-thirds rule for resolutions and to return to the rule in force before 1950 to require a unanimous vote.

The unanimity rule would permit a single governor to veto any resolution.

The showdown came this morning at the 85th annual conference's first business session. In any event, debate on civil rights was virtually assured. Even with removal of the resolutions process, plans were made for a civil rights panel discussion tomorrow.

The civil rights issue was embroiled in presidential politics, with the names of Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, potential GOP rivals, dominating talk at the conference.

Rockefeller, demanding that governors show their responsibility by going on record on issues, said in an opening statement that the real threat to the governors' conference "lies in reducing these meetings to impotence and unimportance."

Although the civil rights dispute was the real issue, today's test was set up by a proposed rule change to require a unanimous vote for approval of resolutions, allowing a single southern governor, for example, to veto a civil rights resolution. The rule in force since 1950 required only a two-thirds vote.

Northern Democrats still were searching for a formula to counter Rockefeller's push for a civil rights resolution after earlier suggestions failed to generate support. Their latest idea involved scrapping the whole resolutions process and not adopting any.

The rules debate developed because last year's conference almost collapsed when civil rights resolutions ran into a southern Democratic filibuster. Many Democrats and some Republicans felt that a repetition of that episode would drive southerners from the conference.

Yesterday's preliminary activities—caucuses and news conferences—were loaded with politics.

While pickets for and against racial integration paraded outside the hotel, 14 of the 15 GOP governors present set up a Republican caucus at a meeting attended by National Chairman William E. Miller and other party leaders. Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon was elected temporary chairman. Hatfield reported that all of the Republicans opposed the unanimity rule and would support a substitute to retain the two-thirds vote, combined with an anti-filibuster limit on debate.

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Jacksonville realtor George Edward Brown died Sunday after a long illness. He was 93.

Oviedo To Get Driving Class
Seminole County's high school driver education program will be enlarged to include Oviedo during the coming school year, it was announced today by Supt. R. T. Milner.

Driver education was offered last year at Lyman, Seminole and Crooms High Schools. The new program, therefore, includes all county high schools.

Stewart Gatchel, director of instruction, explained that a new law makes it mandatory for all high schools to offer driver education beginning with the fall term in September. He added driver education was offered at all four high schools as a summer course.

Provision of the new law which requires all new drivers to have completed a driver education course in order to get a license at 16, or else wait until they are 18, went into effect July 1.

Gatchel said that all local driver education instructors have completed training courses and were not required to attend a three-week course which opened today at the University of Florida.

Three Killed In Head-On Crash

TAMPA (UPI) — Police said charges would be made today against two Tampa men allegedly involved in a hassle with a city detective who said he caught one of them trying to cut a General Telephone Co. cable with an ax.

A bitter strike against General Telephone by electrical workers entered its 12th day today.

Ora J. Teal, 35, will be charged with assault to kill, and his brother C. G. Teal, 45, with destroying private property, police said. General officials said the elder Teal was a striking worker, but Ora was not employed by the company.

General public relations director Dick Buckingham said that 18,000 telephones are still out of service in the six-county area served by the company, because of cable cuttings and other damaged equipment in the bitter walk-out by Local 821 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Test Ban Pact Seen Shortly
MOSCOW (UPI) — East-West nuclear talks entered their second week today and diplomats, encouraged by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's statement that "an agreement is in sight," predicted accord on a partial test ban by week's end.

The U. S., British and Soviet negotiators were reported so far along on the test ban issue that their talks have turned to other cold war problems, including measures to guard against surprise attack.

The inspectors would be stationed at key points on the territory of opposing nations.

Christine First Ward Witness
LONDON (UPI) — Christine Keeler, the party girl who ruined the political career of War Minister John Profumo, testified today she also was the mistress of the mysterious Peter Rachman, slum property racketeer whose activities have created another crisis for the British government.

The red-haired 21-year-old Miss Keeler, whose affair with Profumo nearly brought down the government, testified as the first prosecution witness in the vice trial of Dr. Stephen Ward, playboy osteopath and artist who brought Profumo and Christine together.

As the trial opened in Old Bailey Court, Ward pleaded guilty to vice charges—including accusations he lived off the immoral earnings of Miss Keeler and another party girl, Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies.

NAS To Host Australians

Australia's highest-ranking Air Force officer will arrive Tuesday at Sanford Naval Air Station for a three-day study of the Navy's super-sonic A-5 Vigilante attack bomber.

Visiting will be Air Marshal Sir Valston E. Hancock, chief of air staff of the Royal Australian Air Force, a rank equivalent to the U. S. Air Force chief of staff.

His visit to Sanford is part of a 40-day tour of U. S. defense installations to evaluate the Navy's Vigilante, the Navy-Air Force F-4C Phantom II and TFX (F-111) and the Air Force KC-135 and KC-130.

It is no secret the Australians are considering these craft as possible replacements for some of their own craft. The A-5A is currently employed by the Navy in roles similar to the Australians' Canberra medium bombers.

Sir Valston will be accompanied by six staff officers.

G. D. MARSHALL

plus Campbell Douglas, Australia's assistant secretary of the Air Force, and Group Capt. John F. Lush, air attaché to the Australian Embassy in Washington, D. C.

They will leave Thursday for a visit to Orlando's Martin Company plant and a look at the Bullpup air-to-ground missile.

During their visit in Sanford, the Australians will be briefed by Capt. James O. Mayo, new commander of Heavy Attack Wing One and other high-ranking Wing officers.

Sir Valston and his director of operational requirements, Group Capt. Charles F. Reed, are slated for practice bombing flights in the Mach Two Vigilante Thursday.

Another visiting officer, Air Commodore Geoffrey D. Marshall, is making his second trip to Sanford. He received a previous indoctrination in heavy attack aviation during a visit in February.

At that time he held the rank of group captain (equivalent to USAF rank of full colonel). He has since been promoted to flag rank.

Skate Club To Hold Benefit

"Funtime Party" is being planned by the Skate City Rollers Dance and Figure Skating Club to raise money for the club's travel fund. The money will help pay expenses of the club's contestant, Mazie Allen, who won the Southern Regional Skate Queen contest at Miami Beach recently and who will go to Portland, Ore., for the "American Roller Skate Queen" contest July 27.

The party will be held at Skate City Roller Rink in Fern Park, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Bill Fleck, party chairman, said. In addition to skating there will be games. "Skeeto the Clown" also will perform along with radio disc jockeys Johnny Gilbert, Tommy Gunn, and Dutch Holland.

On Cruise

Midshipman 3/C John Bonface Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bonface, of 2218 Palmto Avenue, is among 22 Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps midshipmen currently embarked in the destroyer USS Lloyd Thomas on a six-week training cruise in the Western Atlantic.

In his teens, Danny Thomas emceed a radio kiddie show in Detroit. One of the kiddies was Rosemarie Mantell. In 1936 she became Mrs. Thomas.

Cub Pack 235 Has Outing

Cub Pack 235 of Chuluota enjoyed many fun-filled hours on an all day hike and outing Wednesday at the home of Lt. Col. W. Brinkley. The cubs started the day by hiking 3 miles to the Brinkley home, where they fished and swam in Lake Pickett.

They all joined in building a fire and roasting weiners in the shady grove adjacent to the beach.

It was a day to remember, thanks to the Brinkley family and in offering the use of their lakefront and its facilities.

Wins Weed Award BURFORD, England (UPI) — Miss Barbara Hyde won first place in a weed-growing contest Sunday.

UN To Consider Protests By African Bloc

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Black Africa readied its diplomatic power today for a campaign to force Security Council discipline of Portugal and South Africa. Portugal's policies in its overseas territories and South Africa's practice of racial separation — or apartheid — shared the agenda of the council session summoned this afternoon at the request of 35 African countries, the continent's entire UN membership except for South Africa.

The Portuguese problem was scheduled to be dealt with first. But interest centered on the South African racial situation, which brought demands for an arms and oil embargo, enforced by a blockade, if necessary, and hints that a formal move might be made for South Africa's expulsion from the United Nations.

South Africa, whose Prime Minister Henry F. Vorster has hinted that his government might quit the United Nations, will not be present officially at the council meetings, which are expected to run two weeks to a month. Its delegation will be represented only as an observer.

But Portugal, whose Premier Antonio De Oliveira Salazar has said his country could well be the first member to leave the United Nations, sent Foreign Minister Alberto Franco Nogueira to participate in the debate.

Peacetime War Games Bingest

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (UPI) — Air and guerrilla harassment continued today in the first phases of Swift Strike III, this nation's largest peacetime military maneuver.

Charges and countercharges of violations of air space flew Sunday between opposing Red and Blue forces and erupted in scattered instances of open conflict.

Guerrilla activity and leaflet drops were also reported as the two warring factions moved toward all-out conflict in the air and on the land scheduled to start Aug. 4.

The Blue air force, with its capital at Ft. Bragg, N. C., flew 99 missions Sunday and claimed the destruction of two enemy aircraft.

The Red air force flew 60 missions and said it downed nine Blue aircraft.

U. S. Personal Income At Peak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income in the United States reached a record annual rate of $562 billion in June, an increase of $2 billion over May, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

Wage and salary increases contributed $1.2 billion toward the June hike and the remainder resulted from a rise in corporate dividends, the report said.

George Allen Now At Miami

One of the first Negroes to be admitted to the University of Florida, George Allen, of Sanford, who received his law degree in 1962 and passed his Florida Bar exams, has now joined the firm of Kaplan and Orr, attorneys at law in Miami, Mrs. Leslie Brown, Allen's mother announced today.

Allen was graduated from Crooms Academy and attended college at Florida A and M at Tallahassee.

There he met his wife, who was studying to be a nurse. They married while still students, graduated in 1958 and are now parents of three sons, seven, eight and nine years of age.

Fresh from Florida A and M, Allen joined the U. S. Army and was assigned to Army Intelligence. Despite his Army career, Allen continued to manifest an interest in political science, his major at FA and M, and he decided to leave the Army and apply for admission to the law school at the University of Florida.

Upon admission, which was accomplished without fanfare, Allen continued his studies through two successive summers, and was able to complete the usual three-year course in just over two years. He was helped during this time by his wife, Enid, who served as a graduate nurse at the U. of F. Hospital to support the family.

John B. Orr Jr., of the law firm of Orr and Kaplan, is a former state representative. Allen heard through a friend from law school that the firm was considering hiring a Negro attorney, applied for the opening and was accepted.

Officials of the law firm stated, "In George Allen we think we've found a top-notch attorney."

More Convicts On Parole Than In State Cells

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — For the first time in history, more convicts are out of Florida prisons on parole and probation than there are in the state's jails. And the situation will get better, according to Parole Commission Chairman Roy Russell.

He said the 1963 legislature has authorized the commission to hire and additional 21 parole supervisors and two administrative assistants during the present fiscal year.

The commission announced today in its annual end-of-the-year report, that during the fiscal year ending June 30, there were 7,832 persons under control of the commission, while there were 7,579 convicts in state prisons.

Jail Missing

MOUNT JEWETT, Pa. (UPI) — Authorities today were looking for a stolen jail. The four-by-six-foot lockup, being used to house violators of "Old Home Week" regulations vanished during the weekend.

GEORGE ALLEN

Mrs. Leslie Brown, Allen's mother, who has lived in Sanford for many years, is very proud of her son, who has made his way to the top on his own merits, without outside backing or agitation of any kind.

A well-adjusted and level headed young man, Allen, a native-born Southerner is the first Negro graduate of the University of Florida law school and the first Negro member of an all-white law firm, south of Washington, D. C.

Bryant Renews Plea For Cuban 'Peace Brigade'

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant renewed his proposal today of enlisting Cuban refugees in a "peace brigade" to be used in Latin America.

He discussed his proposal in a speech of welcome at today's opening business session of the National Governor's Conference.

"These people, properly trained and under guidance of our State Department or Peace Corps, could do much to improve facilities, raise educational standards, fight disease and advocate freedom's cause in the nations of Latin America," Bryant said.

He said Florida would continue to help Cuban exiles but would like to be more than a refugee base.

"We would prefer to be a training base and debarment point for those prepared to carry the cause of freedom forward in Latin America as proof that from an alliance with this nation can come progress for all," he said.

Bryant thanked other governors who had helped in the relocation of 65,000 refugees to other parts of the country.

HE GREW HAIR

Before A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa., (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview—saved and grew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

Will be in Sanford, Florida Tomorrow, Tuesday Only

Results guaranteed by the Ebb organization. We don't take 20 minutes of your time ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective. It costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience. Just go to the Mayfair Inn in Sanford, Florida, Tuesday, July 23, only between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for M. J. Hornick, hair loss. Interviews are given in private. You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Take action—before it's excessive oiliness, dryness, too late.

Mr. Hornick will be in DeLand, Florida on Wednesday, July 24, at the Putnam Hotel.

'BARRELS O' FUN'

'Barrels o' Fun' Launched Sunday

Roy Reel has built himself a houseboat. It's floated on two pontoons of welded-together oil drums filled with Styrofoam, virtually uninkable. It has a metal roof, awning windows, screens, a double-decker bunk, gas stove, sink, electric and gas lights, a marine head and fishing decks fore and aft.

Roy said he built the houseboat himself, with no plans. "It's just for my own pleasure," he said. "I've done a lot of camping along our rivers, and this certainly should beat a tent."

He launched his new houseboat early Sunday in Lake Monroe and towed it to a good fishing spot on the river.

Mrs. Bowden Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Mary A. Bowden, 76 of Palms, died in Orange Memorial Hospital, Sunday.

She came here from Long Island, N. Y., 10 years ago and was a member of All Souls Catholic Church.

Survivors include her husband Alvin; a daughter, Mrs. Doris McCafferty of Chatham, N. J.; three sons, Charles of Byeset, Long Island; John of Olive Bridge, N. Y. and George of Massena Park, N. Y. and 14 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at All Souls Church Wednesday at 11 a.m. with Rosary Tuesday at 8 p.m. with the Rev. Louis Dunleavy officiating.

Burial will be in All Souls Cemetery. Gramkow Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Sino-Soviet Cold War In New Phase As Talks Flop

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union and Communist China, their ideological talks broken off in failure, today began a new stage of their cold war for control of the world's Communist parties. Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, seeking to align support for his peaceful coexistence policies, announced plans to visit Hungary. He already has scheduled a trip to Yugoslavia next month and summoned a meeting of the COMECON—East Europe's Common Market—for this week.

Communist China, whose delegates flew home Sunday at the end of 15 days of fruitless talks, today accused the Soviets of "unbridled slanders and vilifications," according to New China News Agency reports heard in Tokyo.

Chinese party chief Mao Tse-Tung made a rare visit to Peking airport Sunday to welcome the delegation home. The Chinese press attacked the Soviets and repeated Peking's determination to pursue a militant line in seeking the spread of communism.

Today's Soviet newspapers were more restrained. They printed the communiques on the end of the talks and expressions of support for the Khrushchev thesis that nuclear war must be avoided in the campaign to convert the world to communism. Communist diplomats in London reported that Moscow has warned Peking that the backbone of their alliance, the 30-year mutual defense treaty, may be snapped if an excess of zeal lands China in a war.

Mr. Dan Long Dies Sunday

Mr. Dan Long, 79, died at 12:05 a. m. Sunday at Seminole Memorial Hospital following an illness of seven months.

Born Aug. 19, 1883, in New Martinsville, W. Va., he had lived in Sanford for the past 20 years. A retired painter, he made his home on S. Beardsall Ave.

Survivors are a son, H. E. Long of Sanford; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Grove of Benwood, W. Va., Mrs. E. S. Caldwell of Lake Charles, La. and Mrs. L. B. Crocker of Willoughby, Ohio; four sisters, Mrs. L. G. Hunter of Sanford, Mrs. B. E. Collier of West Palm Beach, Mrs. J. I. Husk of MeMechen, W. Va. and Mrs. Georgia Bridgeman of New Martinsville; eight grandchildren, five great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Thomas Makin of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

State Prepares For Another Winter Season

TALLAHASSEE (FNS) — Florida is prepared for another fall-winter tourist advertising campaign that will again remind snowbound northerners they would "rather be in Florida."

The Florida Development Commission, terming its 1962 campaign under that slogan a success, has voted to continue it for another year and step up advertising of package vacations at special rates.

Louisa Benito, president of the Tampa advertising agency handling the commission's account, said the 1962 campaign boosted air travel to Florida 21 per cent, rail travel 46 per cent, and bus travel 48 per cent.

The 1962 campaign was in three stages: fall cut-rate package trips; a December holiday push, and a "escape winter" program.

This same plan will be followed again with the three stages conditioning northerners to think about sunny Florida as the cold weather increases.

In addition, a special industrial campaign stressing the climate of Florida and its advantages to industrial firms has been prepared. It has been designed to bring 25,000 new jobs to Florida by inviting new investment.

Casselberry Lions Hear Talk

Lt. Robert Tucker, USN Ret., was guest speaker at the Lions Club of Casselberry Thursday night and presented films made while he was serving aboard the USS Forrestal during an 8 months cruise in the Mediterranean.

Lt. Tucker is an electronics consultant and lives at 219 West Lake Griffin Circle, Casselberry, with his wife and family.

The films included many exciting shots of Jets taking off and landing aboard the carrier as well as aerial maneuvers.

Plans were announced for a Ladies Night to be held Thursday, August 1, at 7 p.m. the Steak House at the Gateway in Winter Park. Those attending will have a choice of lobster, steak or turkey as their entree.

R. M. Nilback, local funeral director, was officially voted in as a Cub Lion.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By - WOODROW CASH

Fifteen years ago, M. L. Raborn, Sr. and I finished the classes at the National Institute of Cleaning in Silver Springs, Maryland. We were in the 66th class at NID. Mr. Raborn had some things to learn the professional dry cleaning business in an effort to bring the best possible methods of cleaning to serve his customers. In that same month, July, 1948, I came to Sanford to work for him. The classes we attended were good, and were taught by chemists and professors recognized as among the best in their own fields. We both profited by the classes, and by joining the NID, we still continue to profit by our affiliation with them in that we receive their bulletins and brochures relating to new materials, new cleaning methods, etc. Mr. Raborn began installing the best of equipment in his shop, and was soon the leading dry cleaning shop in Sanford, being so recognized by Sanitone to receive their Sanitone license. We earnestly strive today to live up to our reputation of serving our customers with the best of service and the best of dry cleaning, carrying the Sanitone label. We have enjoyed our association with the Downtown Cleaners and with you, our customers. We invite you to bring your cleaning to us, or to drop by for a visit, anytime you are downtown. ## Support Art Association

The group of painters who for four years has been known as the Sanford Art Association has changed its name to the Sanford-Seminole Art Association. The reason for the change is to let the residents of Seminole County know that they as well as the Sanford people are eligible to apply for membership. This can be done by phoning the president, Joseph Mathis, at Geneva, or Mrs. George W. Dodson at Lake Mary.

The names of new members before Aug. 5 will appear in the 1963-64 yearbook along with last year's paid-up members.

Persons who are interested in acquiring for themselves and their families a well balanced cultural outlook will find the programs offered instructive and entertaining. Membership is not restricted to those who want to paint. Some members just want to learn about art and how to enjoy it.

There are many talented artists in this community whose works are shown at the annual exhibit and ten presented by the Art Association. There also are one-man shows to be seen at some of the business houses and banking institutions. The public has shown its interest in these exhibits as the hundreds of names which appear in the guests books will testify.

As this determined group prepares for its fifth year in creative art in this area and of fostering a feeling of fellowship among its members, The Herald recommends that by lending your support to the Sanford-Seminole Art Association you will share in the pride of being a part of this community's cultural development.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Blame The Politicians

The American way of dealing with civil rights and relations between Negro and white citizens would have been a resort to the ballot box in local and state elections.

In this crisis of race relations, the American way failed to meet the challenge. This failure to cope with a great national problem is the most frightening aspect of the whole gloomy scene.

American citizens should inform themselves as to the circumstances by which they permitted themselves to be entrapped in the existing race relations deadlock.

When the American way marks up a big fat failure it is, indeed, time for all good men to come to the aid of their country.

This essay is to propose that the major blame for the situation now confronting me and my fellow citizens shall be assessed against the shameless politicians of both major parties.

These shameless ones made to Negroes presidential campaign promises they have not redeemed. Pure humbug! It is fair to suspect that some or all of them had no intention of redeeming the promises tossed out as bait during the presidential campaign to Negro voters.

It is reasonable to believe that some of these promises were impossible of redemption and, further, that the politicians knew this when the promises were made.

It is customary now to blame Negro leaders for taking their civil rights arguments into the streets, their fists clutching bats of brick or clubs and their minds set toward trouble.

These Negroes own their share of blame, right enough. But what about the politicians, especially the Democratic politicians, who promised in 1950 about what the Negroes are demanding in 1963?

The 1950 Democratic platform covered the waterfront on civil rights. You name it and the platform promised it. The Democrats were able, even, to out-promise the Republicans in their bid for Negro votes.

That is no small accomplishment because the Republicans also have been playing cruel politics at the expense of the Negroes for many years, and getting away with it, too. It was not until FDR put together his New Deal combination of the have-nots and underprivileged with the Democrats of the South that the Negroes bolted the Republicans.

FDR didn't offer Negroes much in the way of rights, either. There were kind words, but more important there were federal handouts, work relief, public housing, and money. The 1932 Democratic platform on which FDR stood for his first election wasted few words on civil rights. It said this: "Equal rights to all; special privilege to none."

Of course the Democrats did not really mean even that. But those eight words are not to be compared for duplicity with the outrageously flamboyant promises that political parties now freely make to obtain Negro votes.

The South is furious with the Kennedy brothers for their efforts in behalf of civil rights. But give the Kennedys credit. They did try to deal with civil rights at the ballot box, the American way. When that did not work and the riots began in the streets, the Kennedys returned to their platform promises. They were stuck with them. With a presidential election just around the corner, there was no alternative, the Voting Negroes in the North and East were ready to call their political loans.

To The Editor

Editor:

We want to thank you for the wonderful publicity you gave our annual Fourth of July Fiesta and "Miss Flame" of Seminole County Beauty Contest. You actually helped to make it the success it was.

Also we would like to thank Mona's, Rosseter's, Ramsay's and Sanford Florist for their donations of flowers and ribbon for "Miss Flame" and her runners-up and Chase and Co. for furnishing the trailers for the platform, and the many other businesses and individuals who gave donations and time.

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Gielow:
The Knights of Columbus were extremely impressed with your Longwood reporter, Mrs. Donna Estes. She was called to cover our recent Communion and family barbecue on Sunday, June 30th on short notice and at personal inconvenience to her. Her coverage of the event was of such quality that it was an asset to our young organization.

We would like to request, if it is in keeping with the policy of The Sanford Herald, that Mrs. Estes be appointed to cover all future publicity for the Knights of Columbus.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mrs. Estes,
We, "The Knights of Columbus," wish to express our appreciation for the fine publicity covering our recent Communion and family barbecue. The caliber of coverage we received on such short notice and at some personal inconvenience to you is a tribute to you and The Sanford Herald.

The fine article and picture received much favorable notice. It is the type of coverage that is of great benefit to our young organization.

Again expressing our gratitude, we remain,
Sincerely yours,

Case of the Shrinking Pillow

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Lucille Ball confesses that she is an inconsistent mother. In psychology we call this type of person a "chameleon parent." Children will not hate you if you punish them wisely and judiciously. But try to be an "expressive" mother instead of a chronic "no, no, no" or "repressive" parent. And be sure to read for the "Parents Tests" below.

CASE Q-401: Lucille Ball is known to most Americans for her superb acting and TV shows.

Recently she was interviewed about her new marriage to Gary Morton. Notice her very shrewd appraisal of Gary's parental psychology.

"Gary," she began, "now gives the children the kind of discipline they never had before.

"And they love it! The children really dig him! I can be strict — for about 60 seconds.

"Then the children can wind me around their little fingers.

"But you can really rely on the person who properly disciplines you, because he is dependable. He is always the same way."

Parents, please take a lesson from the animal trainer! He always rewards the right behavior and always penalizes the wrong.

And he never permits exceptions to occur! Take note of that fact!

For millions of parents are inconsistent in their punishment and scoldings.

Like Lucille Ball, they may say "No," yet if the child wheedles and whines and coaxes, they will soon relent and change that "No" into a "Yes."

A good parent does not say "No," unless necessary. But if it is really indicated, then that "No" should remain a "No."

Chameleons are those little lizards that have the faculty of changing their color according to the hue of their background.

Alas, many parents are "chameleon fathers and mothers," for they also change their tune, if the child whines and coaxes.

Occasionally, a wise parent is said to cause more fires than anything except careless use of matches, smoking and improper use of electricity.

ent may alter the rules if new data are introduced.

But it is "bad" parents who usually produce bad children! And bad parents are generally the inconsistent or "chameleon" variety.

So resolve here and now to follow these standard rules of smart child psychology:

(1) Be an "expressive" instead of a "repressive" parent.

Give a child proper outlets for his excess energy and encourage his probing mind, which generates incessant questions.

Remember, leg action in outdoor games drains off his energy faster than seawork or sitting games. So channel his activity constructively.

(2) Be consistent. Don't encourage a child to tear old magazines or books to pieces and then punish him when he also mutilates a current magazine or book.

For a child below reading age doesn't know the difference between "old" vs. "new" magazines.

So teach him to respect all printed matter.

(3) Pain is the major educator of a youngster, so when it is necessary to punish him, don't smack him on the bottom, which may be padded so heavily with diapers, rubber pants and rompers or a snowsuit that he doesn't even feel pain.

Instead, snap him with a finger or a flick of your pencil as on the back of the hand so he will feel some sharp pain.

This doesn't dislocate his spine with an adult smack, but gets the desired results, even with toddlers.

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Discuss them at PTA or Mothers' Club Meetings.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Regardless of new developments in the rail labor crisis, the long-term problems of featherbedding remain. They are:

—How to compensate railway labor for jobs lost through technological improvements introduced by management.

—How to settle disputes arising from this issue.

—What additional legislation is necessary.

Though the national mediation board was created by the Railway Labor Act of 1924 to settle disputes between rail management and labor, it has been of questionable value for 20 years.

In 1941 President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed an emergency board to mediate a railway labor dispute. But the President went beyond the board's recommendations to give the Brotherhoods bigger benefits.

From then on railway labor took its grievances direct to the White House, over the heads of fact-finding panels, to get better settlements, and the Railway Labor Act was circumvented.

For some weeks, Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz has been saying that if this country could get by without a rail strike this year, no new labor legislation would be passed by Congress.

Even so, there is no assurance that similar labor disputes affecting the national interest will not rise again. The long-range question of how they shall be handled therefore remains.

The most frequently suggested remedy has been that there should be some provision for government seizure and operation of industries threatened by strikes which affect the whole economy.

Under one recent proposal, the president would be authorized to direct the attorney general to petition any U. S. district court to appoint a special receiver to take possession of and operate any plant, mine or other facility subject to a labor dispute, to protect national health and safety.

This provision was largely kiased off when it was introduced. President Truman had suggested it before. The Senate killed it, and it is still viewed with much skepticism there.

Under a 1916 law authorizing such action in war times, the federal government has seized the railroads four times in the past 20 years to prevent work stoppages—in 1943, 1946, 1948 and 1950.

Railroad management contends that government seizure settles nothing and coerces acceptance of labor's demands. The alternative, as outlined by President Daniel L. Loomis of the American Association of Railroads, is to make recommendations of presidential emergency boards final and binding on both labor and management.

In the past, railway labor consistently has opposed compulsory arbitration. But in a new contract just signed by the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks with Pan American Airways, impartial adjudication of disputes is provided. This may set a precedent.

In the current four-year-old dispute over railroad work rules, acceptance of technological changes by the on-train brotherhoods, and elimination of jobs considered unnecessary by management, the issue not only is job security but also union survival.

Acceptance of the recommendations made by the presidential special commission under Judge Rifkind in 1962 and an emergency board under Judge Rosenman earlier this year probably would mean eventual liquidation of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Second men would not be taken off passenger trains, but three - men crews on freight locomotives would be cut. Displaced firemen would be offered substantial dismissal pay, or preferential rehiring, or liberal retraining benefits in new skills.

Displaced operating railroad men with more than 10 years service will reach retirement age.

BASEMENTS
NEW YORK (UPI) — The basement, long a familiar part of American homes, seems to be on the way out.

More than two-thirds of all new single-family homes today have no cellars, compared with only about half of the existing, or older, homes, reports John Shea, chief architect for Levitt and Sons, Inc., who said the reason is mainly economic—"a basement is an expensive luxury."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have just received a telephone call from the boy I've been dating. He told me that his mother didn't want him to date me anymore because she had heard some things about my older sister. Of course, he said we could date on the sly, but I don't like that idea. I have had girls tell me their parents didn't want them to run around with me because of my sister. Sure, my sister has a bad reputation, but I have never done the slightest thing out of line. Why do brothers and sisters have to suffer because of something they couldn't help? I'm not the only one with this problem? How can I prove to people that I am not like my sister?

HURT
DEAR HURT: Don't try to "love" anything. Build your own good reputation. Those who are not willing to judge you on your own record are not worth having for friends.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you could make mothers understand that no matter how cute their little darlings are, they are a pain in the neck to service men. When I go into a home to repair plumbing and heating, my biggest problem is combing the kids out of my hair. If they aren't watched, they get into my tool box and walk off with my tools. Or worse yet, they stand the chance of getting hurt. They ask a million questions and breathe down your neck. I like kids, Abby, don't get me wrong, but it's hard for a repairman to tell a mother to keep her kids away while he's working, so will you do it for us?

SERVICE MAN
DEAR SERVICE MAN: You have my sympathy, but you can do it better. Before you start a job, tell the "lady of the house" that you work by the hour, and if you have to watch Junior while he's watching YOU, it will probably take twice as long to get the job done. Then watch HER send him outside.

DEAR ABBY: I was pleased to see your answer to "HIS MOTHER", who complained because her son was not promoted. I've taught school for over 30 years, and am familiar with the problem. It is sad for the child when his parents bring the roof down on the teacher when it is suggested that their child repeat a year. Usually the parent is hurt because of what friends and relatives will say. I have seen parents fight teachers on this all the way through the grades, until the pupil receives a diploma even though he cannot spell properly, has never learned to comprehend what he has read, and has a very poor foundation in math and science. Parents willingly accept the fact that not all children learn to walk and talk at the same age. But they refuse to admit that not all children learn other skills at the same rate. Please, Abby, let parents know that if a child must repeat a grade, it is NO reflection on his intelligence.

"A TEACHER"

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Some of the easiest slams to make are hardest to bid. At six clubs South has to remember to ruff one diamond in dummy before drawing trumps, after which he must discard his jack, five and three of hearts on dummy's long spades.

South can also make five hearts or North five spades, but the major suit slams don't make because the heart finesse is needed and it doesn't work.

The bidding shown in the box is the way one expert pair bid this slam. The first bid that requires explanation is North's raise from two to three hearts. In some circles South might well have passed that bid, but in that particular went on to four hearts whereupon North continued his snaillike pace with a bid of five clubs.

South really thought about passing this one, but he realized that North was indicating a singleton diamond. Hence, South decided that there might be a slam, but South wasn't going to commit himself that far. He just went on to five hearts.

North might have passed at this point, but he thought that his very good spades warranted getting to six. North did not want to place the slam, but he knew how to get South to place it. North's five-spade bid just asked South to choose between six hearts and six clubs and South made the right choice.

silver threads from among the gold because, if husband and wife are about the same age, the man can say to himself, "Well, my wife's as old as I am and she looks good... I must look good, too."

Though her words are an out-and-out sales pitch, there's a lot of truth to them. A man doesn't have to worry too much about a receding hairline and a widening girth if his wife works hard at the job of staying young, keeping her girlish figure and refusing to settle for gray hair.

If, by making a supreme effort, a woman can manage to look 10 years younger than she is, her husband can assume one of two things:

1—His friends will figure he is as young as his wife looks—and only looks older because of the heavy responsibilities he carries.

2—He can figure that if some people DO think he is older than his wife, they'll think he is to be envied for having a wife who is 10 years younger than he is. So, either way he's the winner.

But it's entirely different with women. No woman figures she is anything but a loser if her husband, who is the same age as she is, somehow manages to carry the years so much better that he is the one who looks 10 years younger.

So that's another good reason for a wife's doing her utmost to look younger than her husband, even if she isn't.

By doing so she is sure to please her husband. By not managing to look younger than she is, she is sure to make herself miserable.

There's just no getting around it—a wife has to stay young for two.

There are many rich elements in this story of Townsend Harris, the first accredited U. S. Diplomat to Japan back in 1854. In the one-world tradition of ancient Japan, the westerner was considered barbaric and his intrusion on their privacy was as welcome as a plague. His hardships and determination, as depicted here, are somewhat dulled by the introduction of female flavor in the form of a geisha, which fortunately does not dull the film's overall effectiveness. Sam Jaffe is featured with Japanese stars So Yamamura and Eiko Ado.

THE INFORMAL LUNCHEON which Jeanne (Mrs. Gerald) Warkha held at her home Saturday had a two-fold purpose.

It was a "welcome back" for Doria (Mrs. Doc) Faulkner, former resident of Sanford who was visiting here for the weekend from Annapolis, Md.

It also was an "Au revoir and farewell" to Mary (Mrs. Herb) Collier who with her husband and two children Elizabeth Ann and Bill, will soon be moving to St. Petersburg for business reasons.

Also enjoying the luncheon were Ann, (Mrs. Ben) Howland, Mildred (Mrs. Bill) Simpson, and Doris (Mrs. Richard) Johnson.

Doria is a newcomer to Sanford, but not a new acquaintance to Jeanne. The two met in Monterey, Calif., where both husbands were attending Naval Line School.

It was a happy re-union of an old friendship when the Johnsons moved here a few months ago. Leif, and Mrs. Johnson and their four daughters, DeLaine, Debbie, Denise and Donna live on Fairway Rd. in Loch Arbor.

TONGUE IN CHEEK: A recent poll of women drivers revealed that 91 percent believed radiator hose to be a brand of nylon; 62 percent advocated a change in the ignition system; 79 percent thought a brake drum was a musical instrument and 63 percent said that universal joints were an international disgrace!

THE REBUTTAL: A recent poll of men revealed that 91 percent of men believed that the shift was standard transmission; 75 percent figured that a sack is to carry groceries home in; 92 percent said a tease was a girl who just leads you on; 89 percent said pumps were like for gas and 97 percent were sure that golf house cookie is the girl that collects the fare.

DROWNING IS SO UNNECESSARY.

There is no reason for any person to risk drowning when there are literally hundreds of devices, all relatively inexpensive, that can prevent this needless and heart-breaking tragedy.

One of the most frequent causes of drowning, especially in Florida with its thousands of lakes, is stepping in a hole while wading.

It is so simple to prevent this, says Miss Sally Neider, Red Cross Water Safety Instructor.

"Life jackets, plastic tubes, plastic floats and life preservers, even a ski belt, made of small squares of plastic foam, can save your life, or that of your children," she pointed out.

And if you can't even afford such inexpensive life-saving devices as these, you can certainly get hold of an inner tube.

Fishermen, wading along the shores of a lake, may trouble along certain that "there are no holes along here, I've been here before." But that's just where they are wrong.

Florida is honeycombed with underground rivers. You can't see them, but they are there.

Where they come close to the surface of the earth, overnight, the continuous pressure can cause a sink hole to suddenly appear.

These sink holes tend to create a downward current that can cause even the wariest wader to disappear under the water as if a giant hand had dragged him down.

"Dredge holes," warns Engineer Bill Bush, "are another deadly hazard to swimmers, and particularly to waders.

"We try to keep dredgers from digging these deep holes in less than eight feet of water, and that's at the mean low water level."

"But there are no written regulations governing the dredging of such holes, and almost everyone of the more than 30 inhabited lakes in Seminole County has at some time had some dredging done in it," he pointed out.

"Where dredgers have operated close to shore, to build up beaches around lakes where homes have been built, there is even more danger," Engineer Bush warned.

"This summer, the water is very low, and this encourages waders and swimmers to go out further, because the water is not so deep.

"Dredge holes, which at high water are farther out, and hence in water over a swimmer's head, are now in water no more than waist deep.

"Swimmers and wading fishermen walking in shallow water, suddenly may find themselves in water up to 30 feet deep. Often there is soft, clinging mud at the bottom of these holes, too," Bush said.

For non-swimmers, this is almost certainly fatal.

But how about people who can swim? Why do they so often drown helplessly?

"The main reason for this is panic," Miss Neider answered.

"The unexpectedness of finding nothing when you put your foot down causes the person to gasp. If they are lucky, they gasp a mouthful of air which may save their life, if they use their head and start swimming with all their might for the surface."

"But too often, they have already plunged down, and that gasp brings in a huge mouthful of water instead of air. It's the beginning of the end."

"Every muscle in the body goes tense, and the swimmer plunges down, like a rock."

If the person caught in such a desperate situation would only relax, use the arms for swimming and kick strongly, they would rise to the surface, just as if they had jumped in, instead of falling in."

"But, sadly, this seldom is the case. The terrified swimmer, finding himself plunging down into the depths, freezes in horror, and is unable to do a thing to save himself," she said.

Already this year, from January to June, there have been more drownings than there were in all of last year. The grisly total is expected to go over 1,000 this year.

Miss Neider pointed out grimly.

"House swimming pools have greatly increased the dangers, but the greatest danger and the commonest cause of drowning is simply carelessness," Miss Neider said.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Toole returned to their home on E. Seminole Blvd. Thursday night after a two month vacation in many interesting places.

The sailed from San Francisco on the Mariposa to New Zealand and then by plane traveled on to "winter time" in Australia. From there they flew to Indonesia, Singapore, Bangkok, Hong-Kong, Japan, and ended their sight-seeing journey in Hawaii.

Mrs. Clifford McKibbin and son, Bruce, have been enjoying their new sailboat at New Smyrna Beach. During their stay at the beach they were joined on the weekends by Mr. McKibbin, Alex and Cliff, Jr.

Mrs. C. E. Karkaker is in Dallas, Texas, visiting her new granddaughter, Barbara Jean, who was born July 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Karkaker. The Karkakers have another daughter, Diana Elizabeth who is three years old.

Mrs. Roy T. Boyd has returned to her home on Grandview Ave. after a visit with her mother, Mrs. B. F. Wynne of Ft. Lauderdale.

Dr. and Mrs. Orville Barks are back in Sanford after six more pleasant days spent at their beach home in Daytona Beach.

Not Too Warm

You'll find a lightweight wool or cotton coat a good summer investment. There'll be many a cool evening before the season is over.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Cosmetics are a personal thing, and teenagers should make certain to use them that way. It's fun to experiment with different shades of lipstick or eye make-up, but if a friend has a new violet eye shadow you'd like to try, buy your own and then try it. Don't borrow cosmetics.

Most girls realize the danger in using another's comb, brush or powder puff, but think nothing at all of trying on a friend's lipstick. Be more fastidious in the future.

If you're not sure a shade will be good for you, buy a small tube before you spend your allowance on the regular size. It's a far more satisfactory way to experiment.

Purchase seasonal flowers that are "best buys" because they are in plentiful supply. Use them for your everyday living enjoyment—as fashion accessories and for home decorating purposes.

Equipment that will hold you up if you should suddenly find yourself in water over your head," she cautioned.

"Belts, jackets, even an inner tube will hold you up. Fishermen waders, especially, would be wise to walk with an inner tube or ski belt around their waist," she advised.

"And for the best precaution of all, learn to swim. The Red Cross conducts free swimming classes all year round, which are open to all. This is your greatest protection," she urged.

Miss Strickland Honoree At Miscellaneous Shower

The home of Mrs. Ira E. Southward on Hibiscus Drive was the scene of a lovely party Friday evening for Miss Frances Strickland, bride-elect, who was showered with miscellaneous gifts from the guests.

For the occasion Miss Strickland wore a striking linen dress fashioned with an over blouse and a white carnation corsage, a gift from the hostess. The honoree's mother, Mrs. M. R. Strickland, also was presented with a corsage.

Arrangements of pink roses were placed throughout the Southward home and a pink and white color motif was used on the dining room table which was covered with a cut-work cloth over pink satin. White candles and a bridal bouquet of white carnations and Sweetheart roses tied with satin streamers were arranged in a silver cierge for the centerpiece.

Petit-fours tied with wedding bells, dainty open faced sandwiches, mints and sherbet punch were served. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Al Doudney and Miss Ann Doudney.

Those invited were the Misses Nicki Ashby, Ann Crappa, Dian Aiken, Rosemary Southward, Shirlene Shepherd, Kay Ivey, Judy Herron, Rosa Kratzert, Barbara Bradley, Suzanne Jones, Diana Haynes, Peggy Lundquist, Deanna Nichols, Vida Sue Smith, Carol Lee Osterholm, Merritt Phillips, Mary Stemper, Jean and Joan Wilke, Sally Williams, and the Misses Joe Alexander III, Bob Harvey and Bill Heck.

BRIGHTER BEACH CHAIRS

If your beach chairs need a little attention this season, wash the wood and metal portions. Thin coats of white shellac will make them shine again and give added protection against sun and water.

When unusual situations or crises render common currency useless, people tend to fall back on the age-old habit of bartering. History shows that coffee has often been an item of barter. Our early American pioneers frequently used coffee to clinch deals for blankets or beautiful skins brought to the trading posts by the Indians. During the Civil War when coffee was scarce, ten pounds bought 200 bushels of corn.

And in Texas, a cattle-farming family named Pruitt exchanged a pound of precious coffee for a longhorn heifer named Peeco.

The exciting time to be remembered there was the big "10th inning baseball game" between the Milwaukee Braves and the San Francisco Giants.

From San Francisco they traveled to Disneyland and made another complete tour before crossing the desert to Las Vegas where they saw such entertainers as Liberace, Jack Carter and Leslie Uggams.

In Dallas and Texarkana, Texas, they had a genuine Texas barbecue at a family reunion where they persuaded Mr. Higginbotham's mother, Mrs. E. L. Higginbotham to return to Sanford with them for a visit.

Every state has something to offer but none as much as our state, said Mrs. Higginbotham who was glad to be back in Sanford with a record of "not even one flat tire the whole, entire trip!"

Highlights Of Trip Told By Higginbotham Family

"See the U. S. A. First!" could have been the theme of a group of Sanfordites who just returned from a five week trip that took them 8,644 miles and into 22 states.

Taking the motor trip was Creola (Mrs. Earl) Higginbotham with her daughter, Carole, son, Bill, and her mother, Mrs. Bertie Roberts.

A trip that was "dreamed up" over a bridge table really began for the group after they left Chicago and arrived at Wisconsin Dells where an Indian guide took them on a tour of the scenic dells which are unusual formations of rock formed by the rush of wind and water. A ceremonial dance by various Indian tribes in a natural mountain amphitheatre was one of the highlights of the visit in Wisconsin.

Through the wheat country of Minnesota, the Badlands of South Dakota (described by Mrs. Higginbotham as the "most fascinating place of all") and the Black Hills of that state the party traveled.

Garden Gate

By Mrs. Eric Vibius Hemerocallis Circle

World Gardening — The very little brings to mind all kinds of exotic plants and peculiar forms of gardening, but research brings to light the fact that all over the world are grown the same kind of plants and in the same way as are grown here in Florida.

Different degrees of cold weather are limited to the kinds they grow. Ask any world traveler and the amazing reply will be that they saw the same plants and blooms we have here.

A most common shrub, the Ixora was first introduced into England in the 17th century and is native to the Malay Archipelago and China. Bougainvillea came to Florida from Brazil in the form of a present to James E. Hendry's mother. The day-lily or hemerocallis is found in the mountains of China. The lychee "fruit of the Gods" is a highly prized delicacy of the Chinese. The Bird of Paradise, a temperamental flower is a native of the Transvaal section of South Africa. The Hong Kong Orchid tree, Bauhinia Blakesana, first flowered in Florida in 1953 from a layer obtained in Hong-Kong, a British colony.

All camellias are native to Eastern Asia, from Korea to India. The first species to come to the attention of Europeans was the tea shrub, Camellia sinensis. Camellia Japonica are native to Japan and Korea and were taken to China a long time ago.

In the garden of French Monaco, the home of American born Prince of Grace, grow hibiscus, camellias, azaleas, althea and peonies. A 60 foot tall Jacaranda tree stands in a corner. A rock garden is planted in aloe, euphorbia, and yucca. A tall cactus and the exotic flowers of the euphorbia splendens are planted along the shaded path which descends to which winds a narrow stream and on whose banks are planted agapanthus.

Further along a very large, beautifully designed rose garden is laid out on a grass-covered mound as her highness likes to cut her own roses. On the west terrace the Prince's own personal collection of orchids, bromelia, anthurium are kept in the greenhouse. On the outside wall a collection of different species of bougainvillea has been planted — Brazilian, Puerto Rican, and even an extremely rare, pure white bougainvillea. On the land side of the walk the border is of pine and pittasporum and on the sea side of the walk it is bordered by a low stone balustrade covered with geraniums.

This description of the gardens of Monaco could be a garden here at home in Florida. In fact all of the so-called native plants are brought here by both famous and little known world travelers.

Baking soda added to baked beans makes them more digestible.

3-Palm, Finger Grip

There are basically two grips, the interlocking and overlapping.

Each may have one or more variations. The interlocking, which I will discuss in this lesson, has become my personal choice. This is a combination palm and finger grip. The left hand is placed firmly on the shaft with the shaft running diagonally across the hand, and extending from the left forefinger across the butt of the hand.

Looking down on the left hand you should be able to see the first two knuckles of the hand. Also, the V formed between the left forefinger and thumb should be pointing over your right shoulder. These are your two check points for the left hand. Your thumb should be extended down the shaft slightly on the inside. This should leave the pressure on the last three fingers. The club should be held firmly but not tensely.

The right hand performs almost completely as a finger grip. The right hand should be placed on the shaft immediately below the left hand, as close as possible, so the two perform as a unit. The more closely together the two hands perform, the better grip.

Join the two hands even more closely as a unit by interlocking the little finger of the right hand with the forefinger of the left. Since the left thumb has been extended down the shaft, it will fit snugly into the heel of the right hand when the grip is completed.

With the thumb of the right hand wrapped around the shaft, this will leave most of the pressure of the right hand exerted by the thumb and first two fingers. Here is where you gain a great deal of control. No knuckles should be visible on the right hand when you check your grip, but the V of your right thumb and forefinger should be pointing over your right shoulder.

One of your quickest checks on your completed grip actually is to make sure that the V's of both hands are pointing to your right shoulder.

Next: The overlapping grip.

Dodgers End Road Trip With 10-4 Record

By United Press International
You say you were thrown out of both ball games Sunday for umpire-baiting? Your team lost a doubleheader and you were hit in the face with a beer canister?

Chin up, Walter Alton, your Los Angeles Dodgers are leading the National League by six games and you have a nine-game home stand coming up.

Despite 7-2 and 13-7 losses to the Milwaukee Braves Sunday, the Dodgers wound up their successful road trip with a 10-4 mark, giving them a six-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals. When the road trip began, the Dodgers held only a three-game lead over the San Francisco Giants.

The usually quiet and restrained Alton, with the Dodgers' disastrous collapse of the past two seasons indelible in his mind, was ejected in the sixth inning of the first game by umpire Tom Gorman. In the first inning of the nightcap, umpire Stan Landes gave the Dodger manager the thumb. And then a Milwaukee fan belted Alton with a paper beer canister.

Alton claimed that Bob Sadewski was talking in the open and then became incensed when a ball was called on rookie Nick Williams of the Dodgers in the second game.

In other NL games, the Cardinals rapped out 17 hits to beat the Houston Astros, 5-4; the Giants clubbed 16 in downing the Cincinnati Reds, 10-5; the Philadelphia Phillies swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 8-0 and 7-2, and Pittsburgh and Chicago split, the Cubs taking the opener, 5-1, and the Pirates the nightcap, 6-5 in 14 innings.

A First
GUSTALD, Switzerland (UPI)—Nicco Pietrangeli, the temperamental Italian Davis Cup tennis star, had a first today when he became the initial player from his country to win the men's singles title in the Switzerland championships.

Pietrangeli won by beating top-seeded Roy Emerson of Austria, 7-5, 6-2, 6-2. The ladies title went to Robyn Ebborn of Australia, who beat compatriot Leslie Turner, 6-3, 6-4.

DUKE BASKETBALL
DURHAM, N. C. (NEA)—Headed by Jeff Mullins, 12 members of Duke's crack 14-man basketball squad of last season return.

Orlando's Post 19 swarmed over the local Post 53 of American Legion baseball competition, swept into the state finals at Tampa, and took home a 12-to-5 win from the game played here at Memorial Stadium Saturday night.

The invaders had two innings in which they racked up five runs each, but added two more in another frame just to be sure of the victory. Sanford shored Fred Grant across home plate in the third. Tom Brooks, Ricky Sires and Larry Pivec tallied in the fifth inning to mount the hometown offense.

Jimmy Courier drew the starting assignment on the mound for Post 53, opposing Charles Schoene, a stellar thrower for Post 19. The tension in the first inning saw the locals give up five disheartening runs on three singles, two hit batters and three errors.

The Oviejo a.s. gave way to Don Smith, who worked a smooth game from the pitching hill until the sixth inning, when Bobbie Johnson came to his relief.

In the sixth chucker the debate got started with two lead-off walks to the head of the Orlando batting order. Two fielder's-choice, another walk, a hit batter and a three-bagger by Joe Stroed netted the visitors five tallies.

But some great defensive work was shown by the Sanford club in this set. On a bases-loaded rap to Red Jansen, the hefty first baseman made a fine throw to the plate to cut off Eric Viehman. Just before that, the same Jansen had cut down John Blackburn at third. Stroed on his knee to the left field fence came on to score on a wild heave of the relay.

Tom Brooks had three for three at the plate and this was the only Sanford man that got more than one of the team's seven hits. Billie Higgins poked out a double and one of Brooks' clouts also went for two bases.

United Press International
It was an old familiar baseball tableau: Veteran Frank Lary of the Tigers struggling along the comeback trail to save his pitching career while young Al Downing of the Yankees jauntily strode the road to World Series gold and glory.

There was satisfaction for both Sunday.

The 32-year-old Lary scored his first victory in more than a year when he pitched a four-hitter as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 8-2.

And the 32-year-old Downing pitched his sixth victory to start the New York Yankees off to a doubleheader sweep against the Cleveland Indians, 5-2 and 5-4 in 11 innings. The wins widened the Yankees' American League lead to seven games—their widest margin of the season.

All three other games in the AL Sunday were decided by 3-2 scores, the Minnesota Twins edging the Washington Senators, the Houston Red Sox beating the Chicago White Sox, and the Kansas City Athletics topped the Baltimore Orioles. Rain forced postponement of a scheduled twin bill second game between Boston and Chicago.

Nicklaus Now Holds Titles He Set Out To Win
DALLAS (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus, at 23, figured today he was "a grown man."

For now he has won 'em all that he set out to win when he turned professional golfer a year and a half ago. He won the U. S. Open in June of 1962, and the Masters last April.

After that victory he said he didn't think he still had arrived.

"Wait until I win the PGA," he declared. "When I win that one, I'll consider myself a man."

He won that Sunday when he broke the hearts of those chasing him with a 80-foot birdie putt on the 16th hole of the best-scoring Dae Country Club course before a 110-degree sweat-soaked crowd of 12,500.

The triumph swelled his bankroll $13,000 to a total of $75,140, leaving him only $10,915 behind Golden Boy Arnold Palmer, who finished in a tie for 40th place—and $410 prize money—as once again he failed to win the only major golf tournament that has eluded him.

It gave Nicklaus more than golfing gold, too—for it gave him golfing glory.

Mary Mills Wins Woman's Open

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—A calm 22-year-old from Gulf Hills, Miss., Mary Mills made her debut in the winner's circle less than a year after turning professional by winning the U. S. Women's Open Golf championship Saturday.

A philosophy major in college, the unperturbed Miss Mills overcame stiff winds, soggy greens, a berry of veteran pros and an ambitious young challenger's stretch drive for a three-stroke victory Saturday over the Kenwood Country Club course.

TO BE A SUCCESSFUL PHANTOM, YOU MUST BE ABLE TO CONTROL YOUR OWN MINDS.

YEAH, CAPTAIN.

BUT A DASH OF HUMILITY NEVER HURT ANYONE, EITHER.

OH, I HAVE PLenty OF THAT!

OF COURSE, YOU HAD HELP.

THE PHANTOM

HI, MORTY.

IT'S ME, YANCY!

IT'S GOING TO BE A LONG SUMMER.

THE PHANTOM

FOR GAVE I CAN'T STOP FOR THE LOVE OF THE GAME.

WELL, THAT'S THE WAY TO LIVE.

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THAT HIGH SCHOOL KID...

WHO GOT $50,000 FOR SIGNING WITH THE PIRATES?

WE'RE NOT TEAMMATES, YOU'RE AN INNOVATOR!

THE PHANTOM

I'LL PAY THE GUY.

SEE, BOSS, IT'S NICE OF YOU TO PAY FOR MY LUNCH LIKE THIS.

IT'S A PLEASURE - I THINK OF YOU AS VALUED CO-WORKER, A BOSOM PAL, AND A DEAR FRIEND.

AND BESIDES THAT, YOU'RE AN INCOME TAX DEDUCTION.

THE PHANTOM

NEAR THE SHORELINE, YOU'VE STOPPED UP FOR THE MOMENT.

WELL, YOU'VE STOPPED UP FOR THE MOMENT, YOU'VE STOPPED UP FOR THE MOMENT.

GOTTA REST AGAIN, THIS ATTITUDE CAN'T TAKE IT LIKE YOU MATIVES, DIZZY - MY LINGS FEEL...

I'VE GOT TO KEEP MOVING!

BUT HE CAN HARDLY BREATHE! HE'LL SOON FREEZE THERE!

SO WHAT? I'VE GOT TO KEEP MOVING!

HOWEVER, WATCH HIM! HE CAN NO LONGER PUT UP MUCH FIGHT!

THE PHANTOM

POP, DO YOU THINK YOU'VE STOPPED GROWING?

NOT YET, SON!

HOW MUCH MORE DO YOU THINK?

IT'S HARD TO SAY...

BUT I ADDED A FEW INCHES EVEN AFTER I WAS 20!

HE MEANS UP, NOT OUT!

THE PHANTOM

THERE! Y'VEE I TOLD YOU DOC BIT OFF MOREN HE COULD HANDLE BY HIMSELF!

AM, GET BACK IN THE BLEGGY! DOC KNOWS HIS WAY AROUND! HE'LL COME OUT OF THIS ALL RIGHT! GIVE 'EM TIME!

Compensation Insurance Hike Sought

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - The National Council on Compensation Insurance has requested increases of 9.2 per cent in the average overall level of Workmen's Compensation insurance rates, State Insurance Commission J. Edwin Larson disclosed today.

Larson called a hearing on the proposal for Aug. 7 in Tallahassee.

He said the 9.2 per cent rate may be increased slightly as a result of the revised medical fee schedule approved by the Florida Industrial Commission, effective Sept. 1.

The rate changes vary with each industry group, depending on the volume and character of the particular classification's experience. In making the proposed filing for increases, Florida underwriting losses in Florida last year were cited.

Increased cost of administering Workmen's Compensation accounts for a part of the increase.

Suit Dismissal Plea Considered

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) - Circuit Judge Albert W. Graessle is studying a motion to dismiss an amended complaint in the $750,000 libel suit filed by Mayor Haydon Burns against John Lanahan, a former opponent of Burns in the race for mayor.

Burns charges that Lanahan, a former city councilman, used libelous advertisements in the race for mayor last spring. The amended complaint was filed Thursday after Graessle threw out the original.

The judge said the original complaint did not make it clear that Burns was the party injured.

McNamara's Order To Troops Challenged

By United Press International
An order by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara that uniformed troops must not participate in racial demonstrations has been sharply challenged by integration organizations.

Caught up in the controversy is the little town of Havelock which lies outside the main entrance gate to the Cherry Point Marine Air Station in the flatlands of eastern North Carolina.

Racial groups have leveled discrimination charges against the "public accommodations" of the town which derives much of its income from the 2,600 men of Cherry Point, 600 of whom are Negroes.

Floyd McKissick, a Durham, N. C., lawyer who is national executive director of the Congress of Racial Equality CORE and an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, NAACP, announced that McNamara will be asked this week to declare Havelock off limits to Marines unless the places used by the servicemen are desegregated.

He said he based his information that at least 17 night clubs and cafes and three theaters in the town were segregated on reports from a Marine who had just transferred home from duty in Japan.

A spokesman at Cherry Point, home of the 2nd Marine Air Wing, said the base would adhere strictly to a July 16 directive by McNamara and that "we will very definitely discourage participation in demonstrations."

In that directive, the defense secretary said that military personnel "may not under any circumstances" participate in racial demonstrations during duty hours, while they were in uniform, while on military reservations, when their participation breaks a civilian law or when violence is reasonably likely to result from a demonstration in which they were participating.

McNamara did not expressly forbid off duty servicemen not in uniform from getting into a racial incident but they also could be affected in the event of trouble and arrest.

Indonesia Will Hold Maneuvers

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Indonesia announced today it will hold four days of naval maneuvers in the waters off Mayala and Borneo under its policy of "confrontation" against the proposed Mayala Federation.

In London Sunday, Malayan Premier Tengku Abdul Rahman, one of the key figures in bringing together the federation, said he would use arms to defend Malaysia if anyone, including Indonesia, threatens its integrity.

Rahman said Indonesian President Sukarno has "clearly declared he wants to oppose this federation by all means" but said he prays "the day will not come when Malaysia and Indonesia clash with each other."

Mayala, scheduled to become a new member of the British Commonwealth at the end of next month, will be made up of Singapore, Mayala, and British territories on Borneo, an island Indonesia shares.

Rock's Wife Social If Not Political Hit

MIAMI (UPI) — Happy Rockefeller's debut into national politics was impressive. But, it is too early to count the votes.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller introduced his pretty, 36-year-old wife last night at a cocktail party given by governors attending their annual conference. The newlyweds held the spotlight.

"Say hello to Happy," the New York Governor said to most. To others, he was more formal: "I would like you to meet Mrs. Rockefeller."

The new Mrs. Rockefeller, who might play an important role in her husband's unofficial campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, was greeted warmly. Some said politely.

"She is much better looking than her pictures," one woman said. Another described her as "pleasant."

"Hasn't she nice teeth," a western governor commented. There were several hundred people crowded into the hotel room where the cocktail party was held and the Rockefeller got less than half way around before it was time to go to dinner. The dinner was held in another room of the hotel and the Governor and his wife were stopped a dozen times for greetings and autographs. Most of the autograph-seekers were young children and the Rockefeller obliged with "Rocky and Happy."

Mrs. Rockefeller said it was her first trip to a govern-

nor's conference and she described it as "great."

While the New York Governor battled on the civil rights issue before the conference, Mrs. Rockefeller stayed in the background. She limited her activities to social gatherings held in conjunction with the meeting.

After the cocktail party, the Rockefeller attended the buffet dinner at the hotel poolside.

While "Rocky and Happy" appeared to be getting a friendly reception, Gov. Henry Bellmon, a Republican of Oklahoma, said his presidential rating had not been raised.

"I don't believe he stands a chance," Bellmon said. "And, his marital problems haven't helped."

"That was the general appraisal given privately."

First Federal Dividend 4 1/4%

Last week a First Federal Savings and Loan Association inadvertently quoted the dividend rate as four per cent. It should have read four and one quarter per cent.

"That one quarter per cent doesn't look like much in the ad copy," Executive Vice President George Touhy said, "but to those investors who are multiplying their savings by it, it is very important."

Not only is First Federal's current earning rate for savers four and a quarter per cent a year, but the directors have established the anticipated rate for the final six months of 1963 at the same figure, according to Touhy.

N. Orlando May Get New Girls School

The Herald learned at noon today that Mrs. Horace Dodge, wealthy philanthropist, was to meet with land owners in North Orlando at 2 p. m. today to discuss the establishment of her Girls Town school in the North Orlando area.

Girls Town is reported to be an institution similar to that of Boys Town in Nebraska and various sites around the central Florida area have been under study for several years.

Mrs. Dodge was to have arrived by plane for the conference and preliminary public relations press releases. It is reported that approximately $350,000 in money and pledges are ready to be applied to the establishment of the school for homeless girls.

SHERIFF J. L. HOBBY stands amid the rescue unit paraphernalia just completed by his department after a year's planning and acquisition. The unit, used officially only a week ago in a drowning, includes a trailer for transportation, a boat powered with two heavy outboard motors, resuscitator, oxygen tanks, two generators, skin diving equipment, flood lights, life savers, traffic markers and other such necessary items. ### Exiles Leaving For New Base

MIAMI (UPI) — New exiles thrust against Fidel Castro appeared in the making today as invasion veterans and commandos prepared to move to Central American bases.

Dr. Manuel Artime was reported to be in Nicaragua, jumping-off place for the disastrous 1961 Cuba invasion which he led. He was reported conferring with Nicaraguan President Rene Schick and ex-President Luis Somoza, both outspoken foes of Fidel Castro.

Artime, secretary general of Revolutionary Recovery Movement, one of the largest anti-Castro groups here, said before his Miami departure, "We are leaving the United States to establish a base in Central America."

Nasser Shows 2-Stage Rocket

CAIRO (UPI) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser today displayed a new two-stage rocket with a claimed range greater than 300 miles. His defense chief also reported that sea trials of the first Egyptian-built submarine will begin within 15 days.

Four of the new two-stage rockets were displayed at the military parade marking the 11th anniversary of the overthrow of King Farouk.

Police Probe 2 Burglaries

Police Chief Roy Williams reported today officers are investigating two burglaries in which $353 in cash and jewelry goods were stolen.

Mike Reede, 915 West First Street, reported a burglar entered his upstairs apartment and obtained $97 in silver and $170 in $10 and $20 bills.

Robson Sporting Goods at 394 East First Street also reported burglars some time early Monday obtained 30 boxes of .22 caliber ammunition, two .22 caliber pistols, two air pistols, fishing equipment and $55 in cash, for a total of $154.

Driver Charged In Crash, Injury At Intersection

Running a red light at the busy intersection of Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436 at 8:25 a. m. today resulted in Chester B. Russell, 27, of Longwood facing charges and put Bobbie Briskill, 27, of Forest City in Winter Park Hospital with cuts on the head and face.

Russell, going south of Hwy. 17-92 ran through the stop light at the intersection. The Briskill car which was going east on SR 436, knocked it into the path of the third car, which was driven by Creston Eastman, 38, of Altamonte Springs, and then into a steel utility pole.

Russell and Eastman were not injured, but Eastman's car had damages estimated at $350 and Russell's car was a total loss. Damages to Briskill's car, a late model were estimated at $1,000.

FHP Trooper Len Sikes charged Russell with running a red light.

At 8:45 a. m. Wayne Hull of Orlando attempted to pass a car driven by Martha Sage of Orlando as she was making a left turn about one mile east of the turkey farm on SR 436 and crashed into the rear, causing damages of about $200.

Trooper Sikes charged Hull with failure to have his vehicle under control.

Search Renewed For Lost Plane

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — Coast Guard and Civil Air Patrol planes resumed the search today for a private plane missing since Sunday on a flight from Sarasota to Tallahassee with five persons — including a Tampa millionaire — aboard.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the search was being concentrated in the Cedar Key area north of here. He said there was the possibility of thundershower concentration around the time of the flight Sunday.

County Rezones Site For Use By Store

C. G. McWatters, owner of the site in question, had appealed from a decision by the Zoning Commission denying a request for the rezoning. Gail previously had been denied a request for rezoning of another property in the neighborhood for a store.

A delegation of residents, made up mostly of members of Oaklawn Baptist Mission, this morning protested the rezoning. The store site is opposite the Mission.

After a 45-minute debate on the question, John Fitzpatrick moved to approve the appeal and rezoning. He was seconded by James P. Avery Jr.

In the vote, Lee Gary and John Alexander voted against rezoning. The chairman, Gen. J. C. Hutcheson, broke the 2-2 tie and voted in favor.

Commission approved a $65,500 appropriation to be contributed to the City of Sanford for its recreation program, including the City Zoo.

The vote followed the reading of an opinion by the attorney general that such an appropriation was appropriate.

DeBary Mansion Threatened As House Burns

The large two-story frame house of DeBary builder Ed Davis was destroyed shortly after 10 a. m. today by fire which also proved a dangerous threat to the DeBary Mansion, headquarters of the Florida Federation of Art.

No point of origin could be determined for cause of the fire in which the family's two dachshund dogs and some good worth of guns also were lost.

Except for the dogs the house was unoccupied at the time of the disaster since Davis was at his place of business and Mrs. Davis had gone out shopping.

Some 30 members of the DeBary Volunteer Fire Dept. and two fire trucks were on the scene to fight flames which shot all the way across Plumosa Rd. Igniting awnings and fruit trees of the neighborhood homes.

Actions of the firemen were directed by Fire Chief Jack Lamberton and Volunteer President Thornton Smith. Ed Carter from the ambulance service and Florida Forest Rangers from the area fire tower were on standby duty.

Museum To Get Mementoes From Sanford Estate

A large collection of books, papers, some furnishings and other mementoes from the Estate of Gen. Henry Sheldon Sanford will be added shortly to the items already held here in anticipation of the construction of a new museum and library.

G. Andrew Speer, president of the Henry Sheldon Sanford Memorial Library and Museum Association, Monday evening and today requested and was granted appropriations not to exceed $500 each by the City and County Commissions to pay transportation costs and insurance for bringing the new collection here from Derby, Conn.

Speer informed the Commissions that the will of Gen. Sanford Dow, the general's daughter, presented these items to the association for inclusion in the proposed new museum and library. Proceeds from an auction of other Sanford items Saturday will finance a statue of the general for the museum.

The new collection will include a 150-year-old grand piano the general had in his home in Brussels while U. S. minister to Belgium.

More Picketing In Ocala Seen

OCALA (UPI) — Negro leaders said they will resume picketing segregated eating establishments here today and will probably attempt a few sit-ins.

The announcement followed the release of 11 Negroes arrested were adults, and they were released on $500 bond each. The 30 juveniles were released in the custody of their parents.

The Negroes, who were protesting the arrest of Zeb Nelson, a 23-year-old white Communist, of Haines City, Equality leader, were charged with resisting arrest without violence.

Nelson was arrested last Wednesday in Dunnellon on vagrancy charges and later moved to the county jail for investigation of mental incompetency.

Negro attorney Francisco Rodriguez said Monday he would represent Nelson at the sanity hearing before County Judge Lewis O. Meyers.

Congress Takes Up Rail Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress today tackled President Kennedy's proposal to block a nationwide railroad strike July 30 with members divided over the merits of his plan.

Democratic leaders lined up behind the proposal to let the Interstate Commerce Commission impose binding rail work rules for two years and Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., backed it with some qualifications.

But other lawmakers, including Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., attacked the measure as thinly disguised compulsory arbitration and rail unions indicated they would fight its passage.

Moving swiftly on the proposed legislation, the Senate Commerce Committee scheduled hearings for 2 p. m. EDT, today with Labor Secretary W. Dillard Witt as the lead-off witness.

Chairman Owen Harris, D-Ark., said the House Commerce Committee would open its hearings on the emergency bill Wednesday. The Senate is due to act on the bill ahead of the House.
