Seminole Schools Open Tomorrow; Parents Have Opportunity To Aid

system of education has gone through a great period of questioning. Though such things are hard to assess, it may be that never before in our history has there been such widespread concern as to how well our schools and colleges are preparing young people for life in a complex society.

Tomorrow, the new educational year begins. Vacations are over. Young children and young adults will be caught up again in the pattern of formal learning. This is a good time to ask one or two questions that relate to the school system in any community.

The first question is this: What effect has the great continuing debate about education had on our local schools? The next question: What, as a layman, can the aver-it is frequency argued that in the United States too much is made of applied science at the expense of pure research. According to this view the nation's scientific community is "living off the fat," so to speak, of the pure science developed in Germany and elsewhere overseas.

Concerned as we are in this country with "product development," it is natural that large amounts of money and manpower should be spent exploiting basic discoveries made in the fields of physics and chemistry. But the notion that U.S. science is merely feeding on the basic work done elsewhere is nonsense. The Navy's announcement of plana to construct a 60-million-dollar radio telescope offers a useful case in point.

Karl Jansky of the Bell Telephone laboratories was working in the very practical field of telephony when he made what has been claimed to be one of the most important discoveries of 20th century science. Trying to discover the source of statle in trans-Atlantic telephone transmission, Jansky developed the radio telescope.

Astronomers have hailed this instrument as a tool that may enable them to solve fundamental problems of the universe. Nor is the radio telescope the only basic discovery that has come from "practical" research. Work in applied science, as well as so-called pure research, sometimes makes welcome additions to the sum of basic know-

During the past year, the American age person do to see that the good can be drawn from this debate? The first step would seem to be to inform oneself as to the basic problems of education. This means knowing something about what is taught, how it is taught and what conditions are essential to a good system. This is not to say that each parent must be an expert on education; that is impossible. But every parent genuinely concerned can learn enough about school needs and goals to think and speak intelligently.

Once a parent has formed some clear notion of how the local schools stand in relation to the best, all that remains is work. This work should be along these lines: taking an active part in efforts to encourage and stimulate teachers to their best performance, supporting every local move toward better education, helping their children achieve a better understanding of the purposes of school and teachers.

With school opening tomorrow, this is a good time to be reminded that parents will have an opportunity soon to take part in assuring better educational facilities in Seminole County. The first step toward achieving better schools can be taken with a "yes" vote on the school bond issue Sept.

A meson tion provided for the considerable for the considerable for the considerable for the considerable financing problem. Congress has left it with the prospect of a 12-billion-dollar budget deficit for the current fiscal year. These funds must be procured in the money market at a time when bonds are not a particularly attractive investment. The jesting suggestion has been made that Congressmen be paid off in bonds -an event calculated to make them more keenly aware of the Treasury Department financing difficulties.

The sad experience of many purchasers of a recent long-term government Issue highlights a significant trend in the flow of investable funds. Big institutional investors have been increasingly dissatisfied with the return obtainable from Treasury obligations and have been placing funds heavily in mortgages secured by the government. There are two kinds of Senators. One is the workhorse who sticks to his job, ignores the apotlight, and gets things done for his State, the nation, and the people he represents. That's Florida's Senator Specard L. Holland.

Then there is the "showhorse" who loves to see his name in headlines and embraces showy, often extremely liberal, causes and "lams." The "showhorse" doesn't work very hard at his job. but he leves the limelight. Holland's opponent is a "showhorse" with a record that proves he failed Florida, the South, and the nation while in the U. S. Senate. The record shows that Senator Holland recorded his stand on 97.7% of issues while the already once-rejected ex-Senator has a record of only 76% in three Congresses.

In Senator Holland, Plorida has a workhorne. The amazing growth of Florida and the povious problems that expansion has brought require a U. S. Senator of sound judgment and solid good sense. Holland has proved his abilities by securing for Florida millions of dellars in federal appropriations for the development of rivers and harbors, highways, veterans' hospitals, post control, agriculture, forestry, flood control, and other projects vital to the welfare of Pleride.

Holland has the deep respect and admiration of his fellow lawmakers. His major committee assignments on the important Senate Appropriations Committee and the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry prove it.

Holland's seniority is high. He extremise threefearths (71) of his fellow U. S. Senators. His committee affiliations are of vest importance to Plant da. Florida needs Holland in Washington as W. S. Sonator, Speciard Holland deserves your vote and support for V. S. Senator.

THE CARD OF THANKS Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kind-nesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well

THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "in Memorium" notice in newspaper classified columns. They tind a real solace therein Preparation of selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasand recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so bequifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start What mamore plays an old time.

that start

What memory plays an old tune
on the heart."

Most frequently an' is Memorium is inserted on the aunivariate of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE

THE RATE Cards of Thanks and in Memorium notices, due to the fact they may run in considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.
