Neighborhood 'Tormented' By Vandals In Abandoned Rail Cars

Residents in the W. 7th Street-Mulberry Avenue section of Sanford, have been "tormented" and "frightened" for the past year by vandals and transients In 11 train cars and two locomotives formerly owned by the defunct Auto-Train Corp., and abandoned on a sidetrack there.

A Seaboard Systems Railroad official today promised to move the abandoned trains as quickly as possible "If they can be moved."

Ten of the cars have been purchased by Rosle O'Grady's Good Time Emporium in Orlando, a spokesman for the firm said Wednesday, but repeated calls to the owner, Bob Snow, were not successful in gaining any further information about them. And moving the locomotives and cars may present a problem, according to a nearby resident.

"The cars were in pretty good shape when parked there a year ago," said Wilma Coleman, 700 Mulberry

Ave. "But kids and others have been breaking off pieces of the trains - iron and such - and selling them and there isn't much left."

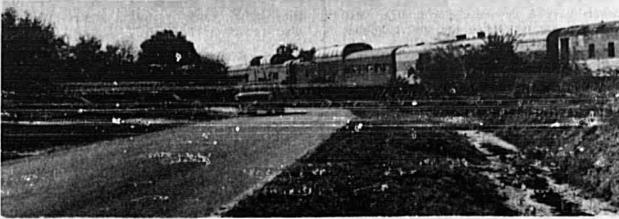

"There are people sleeping in those cars at night and young people hiding in there throwing rocks and tormenting the nathern 'bors." Mrs. Coleman said, adding that residents in the neighborhood can't leave anything outside for fear of having it stolen. "With those rocks llying it's dangerous to go out," site said.

'It's frightening to live here and come home at night and come into the house," Mrs. Coleman said.

'I can't say people are using drugs over there because I wouldn't dare go over there to see," she said of the locomotives and cars, some of which are within 25-to-30 feet of the homes.

Japanese Biochemist To Work In Sanford

The fame of the University of Florida Agriculture Research and Education Center at 2700 Celery Ave., Sanford, and its work on combating take pollution has spread to Japan.

As a result, Dr. Yoko Okt of the Okiyama University in Japan is coming to Sanford in May on a grant from her university. The grant is for a year's work with blochemist Dr. K.R. Reddy, who is leading the de-pollution research.

Dr. Okl's own research in her native land has paralleled Dr. Reddy's on curing polluted waters. said Dr. John Darby, who heads the experiment station in Sanford.

Darby said Reddy has been doing his research work on Lake Apopka. a heavily polluted lake, one of the worst in the state.

A major cause of the pollution. Darby said, is the some $500,000 worth of fertilizers - nitrogen, are draining into the lake a year from nearby farmlands. Persons living around the lake are threatening to sue nearby farmers and the state Department of Environmental Regulation is threatening to fine farmers for pumping poliuted water from the mucklands at Zellwood into the Aquatic weeds including clodea. hyacinths and cattails absorb the ferlitzers and clog the lake, he said.

Reddy is proposing that the aquatic weeds which absorb the fertilizers be harvested from the lake continuously. A system he is developing would then mix the plants with a bacteria in a digester and convert the mixture into methane gas.

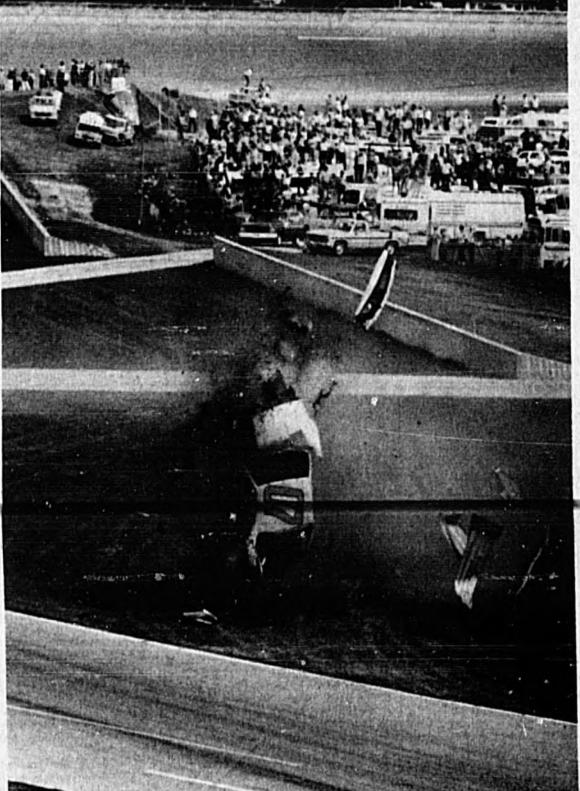

A feasibility study already completed shows that the methane gas could be sold to the Apopka Gas District, Darby said.

"So instead of spending $28 million to pump out the lake and let the bottom dry up to cure the pollution, a process that has not worked for very long elsewhere," Darby said, "5,000 plants could be fenced off in the lake, harvested and used to provide a gas supply."

Hopefully Reddy's research, with the help of Dr. Oki, will lead to the cleanup of Lake Apopka and that once clean the lake will stay that way, Darby said.

And if the process works for Lake Apopka, It can be used to clean up other lakes and sewer plants, Darby

Water Plan Set For Year 2010 With projections indicating by the year 2010 Lake Mary will have a population 10 times greater than its current 4,000 residents, the city commission voted unanimously Thursday to approve a master water supply plan. The plan, which projects the first steps toward the construction of a water facility to begin next month, will cost, in 1984 dollar values, $4.170 million by the year 2003. When in full operation in 2010, the water plant will serve a population of 39,000, pumping almost seven million gallons of potable water a The city buys its water from Sanford and starting in March one development within Lake Mary will be buying water from the county. Kathy Rice, city manager, said on facilities generate revenues, pay for themselves, and in the case of this plant. would be on Lake Mary property and controlled by the city of Lake Mary. She said competitive negotiations for engineering firms to design the plant and present a feasibility plan have been advertised and are to be submitted by March 8. In other action, the commission tabled one controversial utility item regarding connection impact fees. Currently, Lake Mary requires only a connection fee for new business and rette maker is seeking a debate on the hazards of cigarettes, but three national health organizations say there is nothing to talk about.

The debate about the health hazards of smoking is over and has been over for a very long time," said Dr. Douglas Lloyd. Connecticut commissioner of health services and president of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers.

And, scientists say new research links nicotine to lung damage, adding evidence to the outcry against a major tobacco company's ad campaign that the hazards of smoking are unproven.

Researchers at Washington University Medical Center said Thursday experiments showed nicotine attracted white blood cells, which are called neutrophils and are normally part of the body's defense against invading bacteria.

In high concentrations, the white cells can malm healthy tissue as well as outside invaders, the scientists said. The neutrophils are the inflammatory cells believed to destroy lung tissue in emphysema victims.

Oops, Soviet Farms Miss Target Again

Regardless what the newspaper Pravda may publish about the good harvest and the record production of meat and milk during 1983, it can't honestly give credit to the bungling Soviet bureaucrats.

According to Western economists, the Soviets' best agricultural performance in the last five years appears to be primarily the result of much more favorable growing weather than usual.

Despite the helping hand from the weather, very few of last year's centrally planned production targets have been reached. To make matters worse, most of the major agricultural goals of the 1981-85 five-year plan are out of reach and will not be attained:

For some reason, the Soviet government can't keep its hands off the food production process and the bureaucrats are free to foul up almost everything they touch. Apparently, the Soviet Union is proud of its mess and insists on exporting its system to the satellites of Eastern Europe. Poland is an example of what happens to a country that is forced to adopt the messed-up Soviet format of food production. In Poland's case, the Soviet formula has added to increased food shortages and soaring prices.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates last year's Soviet harvest at 200 million tons, which would be 16 percent below the target of 238 million tons. Western experts cite assorted factors for the Soviet Union's continuing inability to reach the established goals. The 200-million-ton grain production allowed farmers to attain record yields in meat and milk, although neither of the twocategories reached the target levels.

The Soviet failure is not surprising. The Soviet Union resembles a land in the far distant past. It's a country where fields rarely are allowed to lie fallow for a year and where a lack of machinery and fertilizers is a trademark of the forcibly collectivized farms.

Unlike highly productive farmers in the United States and the rest of the Western world, the controlled Soviet food producers plod along missing targets year after year, one five-year plan after another.

Look, No Hands

Only in dreams - and in the Buck Rogers comic strip - have human beings floated freely in space. Until the other day, that is. We can make another epochal entry into the history of our species with the first "space walk" taken by astronauts without an umbilical tying them to a spececraft for safety.

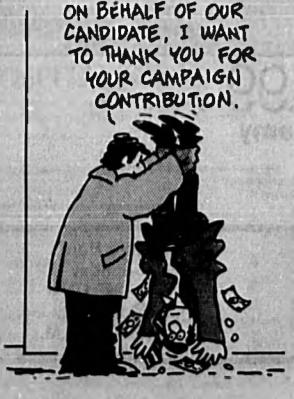

The experience of Bruce McCandless and Robert Stewart is hard to comprehend here in our prison of gravity. Their bodies were traveling at 17,500 miles an hour through the emptiness of space 175 miles above the earth, althought they seemed to be barely moving in relation to the space shuttle Challenger, which was traveling at the same speed. They maneuvered themselves with jets from their backpacks in the first demostration of a technique that will become commonplace when astronauts begin doing repair and maintenance work on satellites and other orbiting vehicles in Those events helped restore some luster to an otherwise disappointing shuttle mission. Two communications satellites the Challenger delivered into orbit apparently have gone into useless orbits because of failure of their rocket motors. The launching of a plastic balloon to be used in a shuttle exercise also went awry.

Although the afflicted satellites are beyond salvation by the Challenger, the technology being perfected in the current series of shuttle missions promises eventually to reduce the losses from malfunctioning space equipment. The day will come when errant satellites like the Westar and Palapa can be retrieved and relocated in orbit by crews operating from a space station.

Pushing off for his space walk, Astronaut McCandless recalled Netl Armstrong's words on the moon. "That may have been one small step for Nell but it's a heck of a big leap for me," he said. Step by step, leap by leap, the human species is extending its territory outward toward the stars.

BERRY'S WORLD

Although crop-damaging weather has made news lately and probably more than one cool day is still destined for the area before spring, the Florida Highway Patrol is preparing for warm weather and the accompanying cornucopia of marijuana

the same property of the same of the same and the same to the same of the same

Pot, it would seem, is big agricultural

According to FHP's chief pilot, Lt. Bill Flagg, all FHP pilots have received specialized training in spotting marijuana

"Even when working traffic detail, pilots are on the lookout for the illegal drug."

During the last three months, not the best growing season in Florida, pilots spotted five marijuana fields containing a street value of $1.248 million. While marijuana is one big business the highway partol concerns itself with, another crime operation tageted by the patrol is organized car thefts.

The Florida Highway Patrol formed a small investigative unit in the early 1970s to investigate multi-jurisdictional organized auto thefts statewide.

Today, the unit consists of 20 troopers including 14 field investigators who work with local agencies.

In 1983 the unit was responsible for the arrest of 244 persons for auto theft and related charges. The unit recovered 326 motor vehicles valued at over $5 million and other stolen property valued at $598,000.

According to FHP director, Col. Bobby R. Burkett, auto theft is second only to burglary in the cost of crime to the consumer and is no longer considered a non-violent crime.

Burkett said law enforcement officers and informants have been murdered in connection with organized auto theft and at least one state attorney had a "contract" placed on his lfe.

Auto theft also includes heavy equipment, tractor-trailers, construction equipment, and farm equipment.

In furthering its goal to be up to date, the FHP recently traded 470 old surplus .30 caliber carbine rifles for 391 new shotguns. according to Major Jack Carmody, chief of Administrative Operations for the patrol.

Carmody said the patrol purchased the carbines from the army 20 years ago for $10 each and traded them even for 391 shotguns. The carbines cost $4,700 and the shotguns are valued at $73,820.

The replacement of the carbines was necessary because parts and ammunition were becoming difficult to obtain,

Defense Dollars Make Jobs?

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Is recordhigh defense spending good for the economy? Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and most of the defense establishment argue that it is.

Weinberger says that hundreds of thousands of Jobs could be lost if defense spending is cut - an argument that will be heard often as the administration tries to convince Congress to approve its mega-billion defensebudget request.

The argument that defense spending is good for the economy isn't new: Harold Brown, President Carter's defense secretary, used similar logic to defend his budget requests, although he sharply disagrees with the current spending proposal. As Brown told a congressional committee in 1980, "Military expenditures are beneficial in the long term to the civilian economy."

But other experts, including many in the government, aren't so sure. First, they say, a government purchase is a government purchase. From an economist's point of view, the purchase of an MX missile is the same as the purchase of a stove. In this case, there's no reason why funds spent on defense would create more Jobs than funds spent on an income-transfer program for the poor, which goes to the purchase of consumer goods.

In fact, some argue that military spending actually produces fewer jobs than equivalent dollars spent through the private sector. One holding this view is Rudoiph Penner, head of the Congressional Budget Office, who recently testified before a House subcommittee.

"Higher defense spending would not greatly affect overall employment." Penner told the committee. In the short run, he added, "increases in overall defense and non-defense spending have about the same effect on overall unemployment."

In the same hearings, George Brown, a vice president of Data Resources, a private economic forecasting firm, presented data showing that "defense spending is approximately equal in its employment impact to the average mix of economic activity across the various sectors of the economy." Brown said that for every $1 billion spent on defense, about 15,400 Jobs are created - while the same expenditure in the economy as a whole would create 17,400 Joba.

The second major question about defense spending is whether it helps or hurts productivity. One critic of the impact of military spending is economiat Robert DeGrasse, director of a project on military spending spontored by the liberal Council on Economic Priorities. DeGrasse says bluntly, "America's heavy military burden has reduced our economic and productivity growth over the last few decades."

Critics are primarily concerned about productivity losses in private-sector research and development. For example, CBO figures show that in 1981, defense spending amounted to only about 6 percent of the gross national product but about 25 percent of all funds spent on R&D.

ROBERT WALTERS

Walter Mondale's Margin

DES MOINES, Iowa (NEA) - Former Vice President Walter F. Mondale apfirst election for delegates to the Demo-eratic National Convention.

Supporters and opponents alike agree including Mondale and Glenn. that, barring a political upset of extraordinary proportions, Mondale should win by a wide margin when lowa's Democrats hold their precinct caucuses on the evening of Feb. 20.

Indeed, Mondale's political operatives here were forced to devote much of their time in the closing weeks of the campaign to counteracting competitors' claims that he would be required to capture 50 percent or more of the vote in the eight-man field to legitimately claim victory.

"! don't see why Mondale shouldn't be held to a higher standard," insisted Larry Rasky, a senior campaign aide to Sen. John Glenn of Ohio, who has apparently failed to provide a serious challenge to Mondale.

"This is an away game for us. Mondale has the home court advantage," added Rasky, referring to the fact that the former vice president's home state of Minnesota lies directly north of

But that rationalization falls to explain Glenn's abysmal performance. "I heard Glenn was bad, but I wanted to see for myself," said one Des Moines lawyer following the candidates' debate sponsored by the Des Moines Register late in the campaign. "He's not bad; he's atroclous."

The dissipation of Glenn's support may have provided an opportunity for one or more "second tler" contenders to escape - at least temporarily - from the depths of the crowded field.

There generally are believed to be three candidates in that category -Sens. Gary Hart of Colorado and Alan Cranston of California, and former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew. Cranston has made a major comparently has eliminated much of the mitment of campaign resources to lowa drama and suspense from this year's and when the ballots are counted it is their that he will have spent more per-

Hart is reputed to have established one of the campaign's best political organizations in the state. Last autumn, hundreds of young volunteeers poured into lowa to participate in a door-to-door canvass of approximately 25,000 homes on his behalf.

"We sent kids into rural countles almost like SWAT teams," said an aide to the senator. "By the time they left. the country really had been blitzed."

Askew's campaign is by far the most intriguing. Shunning the conventional wisdom which holds that Democrats likely to participate in the precinct caucuses are overwhelmingly liberal, he alone has concentrated his efforts on appealing for conservative votes.

That strategy has gained him considerable support among "right-to-life" activists, an exceptionally potent political force in this state, as well as backers of "right-to-work" legislation and other conservative causes.

He has established an informal alliance with a number of distributors of Amway products in lowa and is counting on crossover support from Republicans who may forsake their party's relatively dreary caucuses because President Reagan is unopposed for the nomination.

Finally Askew has concentrated his campaign efforts on lowa's small towns and rural areas, especially in the western half of the state, where there are fewer voters but where the delegate selection formula gives caucus participants a disproportionately greater influence in the process.

Earn-it: Promising Innovation

Earn-It is a promising innovation in the treatment of Juvenile crime.

It keeps first offenders out of penal institutions, where they might become hardened criminals, and gives the victims restitution for their losses Earn-It was first set up successfully by Judge Albert Cramer in Quincy, Mass. Similar programs have since been started in Pennsylvania, California and

Missouri. The young offenders - only nonviolent ones - are hired by local businesses which agree to participate. When the juvenile has earned enough to repay the victim, the two are brought together by the judge and the payment is made in person. Some youths are hired permanently. In Erie, Pa., an Earn-It system established by Edward Darnell of the juvenile probation department last March has already resulted in $18,976 of restitution, with more than 74 young offenders participating.

'This program lets them stay in school and in the home environment," Darnell said.

'If given the chance, these first offenders can repay society and never do it again.

"But if he or she is sent to an Institution, the victim never gets repaid, the taxpayers pay for the institution and the young person often comes out worse than when he or she went in."

sources in Australia and New Zealand are worried about a "vacuum of Western influence" in the newly independent islands of the South Pacific. They're afraid the Soviet bloc will move into the strategic area.

In addition to Fiji and the Solomon Islands, particular concern involves Vanuatu, the former British-French protectorate of New Hebrides. Its prime minister has invited Soviet bloc nations in, and Cuba has already opened up a well-staffed embassy.

Laser May Revolutionize Eye Surgery

By Lidia Wasowicz UPI Science Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) - In six and a half minutes, eye doctors restored sight to a blind teenager - without pain, medication, risk of infection or a aurgeon's knife.

The cutting tool that sliced through a vision-obstructing membrane in the girl's eye was a beam of light from a new "Buck Rogers" type of laser that ophthalmologists say will revolutionize eye surgery.

The 15-year-old patient, who was not identified to protect her privacy, had been blind in the left eye but could see through the right one until a cloudy film, called a secondary membrane, began growing over the lens.

The obstruction - half as thick as a piece of celiophane - reduced vision in her right eye to 20-400, far beyond the 20-200 level defined as legal blindness.

Half an hour after the Jan. 12 surgery. which marked the first use of the laser on a patient in Northern California, doctors proclaimed the girl's vision a near-perfect 20-30.

"We consider this a miraculous recovery in vision - and a portent of things to come as a result of this new space-age tool," said Donna Hill Howes, ophthalmic nurse specialist and study coordinator for the new laser at Merritt Peralta Medical Center.

The significance of the eye surgeon's new weapon, called the Lasag neodymium-YAG laser, "is that it is different from all other ophthalmic lasers," said Dr. Alan Hurley, chief of ophthalmology at Peralta Hospital.

"It's not unlike the Buck Rogers-type ray gun, in that it actually vaporizes or eliminates tissue and changes structures."

The safe, speedy and super-accurate laser, approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration for investigational use, "will dramatically improve the treatment of vision problems," said Dr. William Dorsch, chief of ophthalmology at Merritt Hospital and principal in'vestigator for the YAG.

A key application of the laser, developed five years ago by Dr. Fran Fankhauser, a Swiss opthalmologist, is expected to be in the removal of the opaque capsules or "secondary cataracts" that form postoperatively in 30 percent of the 500,000 Americans who undergo cataract surgery each year.

"You still have to perform cataract surgery in the traditional way, especially since most patients are getting intra-ocular lens implants and you need to surgically enter the eye to put the implant in." Hurley said in an interview.

"But you no longer have to take to the operating room the tens of thousands of patients who develop secondary membranes postoperatively.

Other potential uses include treatment of some retinal conditions and abnormalities in the back of the eye, disintegration of abnormal eye structures, creation of openings in the iris and removal of inflamed or scarred membranes and bands that form in the eye following filness or injury.

Doctors also hope the laser will help some of the 2.4 million Americans who suffer from glaucoma but cannot be treated with medication.

'The laser is so new, we don't know how well it will work in various cases, but there's no denying it's an amazing machine," Dorsch said in an interview.

The $135,000 YAG laser, available at only 40 institutions nationwide, was first used on a patient in the United States a year ago.

The doctor, who sits facing the patient, operates the computerized laser machine with foot pedals. The patient's ailing eye stares at him from a television screen as the ophthalmologist marks tils

The doctor usually treats one eye at a time, numbing it with anesthetic drops. then inserting a special contact lens that contains mirrors which direct the laser beam to the area being treated.

Flavorful Herbs Easy To Grow

The probability of a freeze now is low, but we. still could have a damaging frost. We all know that most of our garden plants suffered in one way or another from the infamous Christmas freeze. As a rule, you really can't tell!

how much damage has been done until the plants start new growth. If you prune too early, you may cut away live wood that doesn't need it.

With some of the more tender landscape and patio plants, you'll find the freeze killed everything above the soil line. But, these plants, like rubber plants, philodendrons and poinsettia, may surprise you by sending up new shoots. So don't give up yet, wait until walmer weather arrives.

With azaleas, the cold will usually damage flower buds and stems. You'll certainly notice this at blooming time when the plants produce few or no flowers. Stem damage may show up later in the spring and early summer when some of the branches die. That's the time for pruning shears. Simply cut out the flead branches as you find them. Remember, always cut back into the

You have to be a little philosophical — if you lose one or two of your tender plants, so what? Really, worse things could happen... And, now you have the chance to add something new to your landscape. With thousands of plants from which to choose and mild weather most of the year, who could complain?

HERBS EASY TO GROW

If you've cut back on the amount of salt in your diet. and now your food tastes flat, don't despair - herbs to the rescue! Herbs are easy to grow, they require very Ittle care, and don't take up much room. A small garden spot, a window box or a few clay pots can give you a plentiful supply of aromatic herbs throughout the year.

Herbs are rapid growers and they have a wide variety of uses in the home. They can be used fresh or dried. And, when dried, they'll keep for a long time. All you need to get started is a few seeds, a good garden soil that's free of weed seeds, and a close water supply to keep them healthy and growing rapidly. Herbs vary considerably in their need for sunlight and cool or warm temperatures. Best to check an herb culture book or look on the back of the seed packets.

Dill is one of the east and hardiest berb you can grow. It's great fresh. To flower salads and cream uces. Sweet bastl is another popular herb. It is used as a flavoring for soups, meats, and fish. Be careful, though... don't overplant this one... a few plants will provide more than enough leaves and flowers for an entire family for a year! Sweet Marjoram is just as it sounds, sweet fragrance. It adds unique flavor to salad dressings and soups. When dried, it can be used as a sachet to sweeten linen closets and clothes storage chests.

The list of herbs which do well in Florida is lengthy. but are easy to grow and adapt to either indoor or outdoor culture. With just a little effort, growing herbs can provide year-round gardening satisfaction.

SEEDS OR TRANSPLANTS?

Seeds or transplants? Which should you use? This is an important decision you'll have to make if you plan to , have a vegetable garden. Of course, you can successfully produce a bountiful harvest with either. Both have their advantages and disadvantages.

One advantage transplants offer is an early start. Seeds can be sown in containers before the weather is really suitable for direct seeding in the garden. So. whether you grow your own transplants or buy them at a garden center, you'll be several weeks ahead of gardeners who start with seeds. Using transplants allows you to choose only the best plants. When you raise your own transplants, you'll have many more than you need. Thus, you can select the healthiest seedlings to plant. If you buy transplants at the garden center, you can pick the best from what's available. In either case, choose only the strongest plants for your garden. The main disadvantage in using transplants is that the cost mounts up quickly if you have a large garden. Also, some crops are hard to transplant successfully. Beans, corn, cucumbers and turnips do better seeded directly in the garden. If you raise your own transplants, they should be ready to set in the garden four to six weeks after seeing in containers. The best times to set them in the garden are: right after a rain, when it's cloudy, or late in the afternoon. Be sure to handle the plants gently... don't press the soil too tightly around the roots. After setting, carefully pour a little water around the little plant to settle the soil. Then. cover the moist area with dry soil to reduce evaporation.

To give transplants a quick start, apply a starter fertilizer solution in place of the original watering. For best results, use a water soluable fertilizer, according to instructions on the container. Or, you an use an ordinary all-purpose fertilizer, like a 6-6-6. Pour about a pint of the mixture into each hole as you set the plants.

Queen Of Hearts ...And Mr. Legs Highlights Of BSP Charity Ball

The Annual Beta Sigma Phi Charity Valentine Ball was sparked with sweet success, according to Susan Byrd, sorority spokesman. The Sanford Civic Center held a capacity crowd Saturday night at the sparkling gala.

Highlighting the festivities was the crowning of Linda Keeling, Valentine Girl for Preceptor Delta Delta Chapter, as the 1983-84 Valentine Queen by rettring queen Ginny Hagan.

Last year, a Mr. Legs Contest was an added attraction of the charity ball. The popular event was repeated this year with 26 men competing in the contest. Selection was by secret ballot with Wayne Crocker, Seminole County property appraiser, emerging as "Mr. Legs of Beta Sigma Cheryl Burch was the ball chairman and Margie Beine, last year's chairman, was the ball hostess. Martha Yancey was the mistress of ceremonies.

Come on. Abby, you must be kidding. I hope you are snowed with letters from readers protesting your answer. I can see it now. "Thank you for the birthday card." DEAR MR. MOON: You are right, of course, but I can't say I wasn't warned. My editor suggested that I rethink my stance, but I held firm in the belief that those who remembered an "important" birthday with a card should be thanked along with those who had sent a costly gift. ["It's the thought," I thought, "that counted.")

Bear in mind. I was alluding only to "important" birthdays - not to ordinary birthdays. Christmascs, anniversaries. get-well cards, etc. But had I thought it through (which I did not), even acknowledging cards for "important" birthdays needs some qualification.

For example, Cary Grant, that magnificent living legend who recently celebrated a well-publicized "important" birthday, must have received 50,000 cards from well-wishers around the world. Obviously, Cary Grant cannot thank everyone who sent him a card so there goes my logic.

Let's just say that I was wrong. So if anyone out there sends me a "condolence" card for this colossal gaffe., don't expect a thank-you card from me.

It's not very often that you get to see young men grow up before your eyes. The had just that opportunity.

Going into the game, both teams each had their own crosses to bare. Lyman, 11-7 for the season, was a decided underdog to everybody but itself. It had lost to Lake Howell, 3-0, earlier in the season.

Lake Howell, 16-6, had most of its players held together with ace bandages and tape. When you have to play 80 minutes of soccer on a 120-yard field, that is not the best condition to be in.

It was fitting that regulation ended, 0-0, and that the first overtime period was also scoreless. The game's ending could not have been better if it had been written by Hemingway or Poe. With 47 seconds left in the second overtime, Lyman's Brian Ocasek slammed the winning goal into the back of the net and ended what had been a fabulous season for the Silver Hawks.

"God was here tonight," said an emotional Lyman coach Jim Buckman. "This was God's ball game.

When you've got a twelveth man on the field and there's an angel sitting on everyone of those boy's shoulders, that's where it worked," Buckman said blinking back tears.

The game was characterized by tough, checking defense. Players hit the ground often enough to make the game look like football without the pads. It also complicated matters that there were only two referees instead of the usual three.

Before the gaine, Buckman felt that the big question would be how his defense would handle Lake Howell Junior scorer Mike Serino. The 2018 or to the question was, "very good." The Lyman defense, led by Pat Cusick, blanketed Serino whenever he even breathed close to the ball.

Lyman had a good opportunity to score with 14:30 left in the half when Ocasek broke through the Silver Hawk defense. Spraker came out to cut off the angle on the shot and deflected the ball, but not far enough away from the goal. Ocasek kicked the ball again but Junior fullback Kevin Ryder made a brilliant play to boot the ball clear of the net.

The Greyhounds had another opportunity to score before the half ended when they were awarded an indirect kick with 27 seconds left. But more good defense by the Lake Howell fullbacks saved three shots on goal and the first half was history.

In the second half. Serino started to shake the shadows of the Lyman defenders. He had a fastbreak opportunity and was close Lake Howell didn't get close enough for a to getting Ritter one-on-one near the penalty shot on goal until almost 15 minutes were area but Nathan Dubin raced over and broke

In the overtimes, the Hawks were running on sheer desire alone, they had use up whatever energy they had left in the prior 80 minutes. Their faces showed the fatigue of the previous 22 games and 80 minutes. "Maybe Lyman had a little more spirit to finish than us," said a dejected Silver Hawk coach Norman Wight.

'That's one of the rottenest games our team has played all year," Wight said. "That's all the players we have left, the rest are injured and we have no relief.

"They're all taped up and I don't know how far they could have gone after tonight. It was just one of those bad games; not much you can do about it," Wight added.

'Whadya Think's Coming In This Race, Glenn?'

Everybody is always coming up to me an asking, "Whadaya think's comin' in this race, Glenn?"

Well, first, if I knew what was coming in I wouldn't be working for a living - I would be gambling. It's a lot easier and a lot more rewarding.

But making a living gambling is a rough life. I don't know more than maybe a half-dozen people or so who make a good living at it year in and year out. That is an awful small percentage of the people who hang out around here trying to make it on gambling alone. We really try to sell the entertainment aspect of the races rather than the gambling side of the sport. We say, bring the money you would normally spend on a date, bet it by using your birth date, or house number — and have a good time.

If you win it may be enough money to go out on several other dates. If you lose - so what - it's the money you would have normally spent on a date anyway.

However, if you want to handicap the greyhounds out here I can give you a few insights on what to look for. Remember - nothing is foolproof.

First - you have to buy a program. You can't tell the greyhounds without a scorecard. That only sets you back $.75.

Right in the program we try to give you the winners. Down at the bottom v. 2 have selections by "railbird" and "chartman" for every race. We also have a morning line odds quote next to every greyhound's name. The lower the odds the better chance of winning that greyhound has according to the person who makes the morning line.

Believe me - the three people who

Win, Place and Show

Glenn Laney Sanford Orlando Kennel Club

provide these selections for us know a lot more than most of our regular customers. They are here every performance and they watch every race.

After all these warnings, if you still want to handicap on your own - here are some things to look for.

First - class. Second - route. Third post position.

Class - what is class. Every race out here has a designated class from maiden to A. If you see a grade C race and one of the greyhounds has been running in A or B - then he should be given consid-

The route is the distance of the race. We have four distances out here 3/16. 5/16, 3/8 and 7/16. In the short 3/16 race you look for that burst of early speed.

In the 7/16 marathon you look for the greyhound that can run all day. In the 5/16 and 3/8 either kind of runner - the early speed or late finisher — can find his or her way to the victory circle. Post position is a more difficult criteria to judge - but it is just as important as the other two and in some instances is even more important.

For instance - suppose there is a grade A drop in the four hole in a grade C race. But the five dog slashes in or the four dog bears out - or a combination of both. This might give the race to the solid grade C six dog who can come from off the pace when he gets around the first turn without getting bumped.

How do you tell whether a greyhound is early or late? How do you tell where he or she runs on the track? Once again back to your program. Every greyhound who races here has at least three past performance lines showing - the latest one not more than 10 racing days old. Most greyhounds especially after the season gets underway, have six lines showing.

The first number of a line tells you the date of the race. The small number next to it tells you what race it was in the performance. If there is an "x" beside the date then it was a matinee.

The next number tells you the distance of the race, with the winning time being printed after that. The next letter is either F or S for a fast or a slow track. After that is the weight of the greyhound at post time.

Now comes the meat of the line. The first number tells you what box the greyhound started in. The next number tells you where the dog broke in relationship with the other greyhounds - the third number tells you where the greyhound was at the first turn.

If the greyhound was on top coming out of the first turn a small number is printed next to the third number, indicating how many lengths he was ahead of the pack. The fourth number is where the greyhound was at the second turn and the last number is where the greyhound finished and by how many lengths. We then give you the actual running time of that greyhound, the odds he went off at, the grade of the race and the top three finishers in the race, other than the greyhound you are studying. A short comment on how the greyhound ran is also included in every fessional gambler has watched every race and may have spotted something the charting person missed. Since space limitations are quickly catching up with me - I'll go more handicapping next week. The All-Distance Medley will be over by the time you read this. But it has been deeply into interpreting the program and a close race all the way. As I write this James Robinson has the lead with 36 points and Level Ride going for the win in Thursday night's marathon leg of the competition. Rod Connell was right behind with 35 points and Jack Gentry had 34. If any of them should falter - Henry Wright is on their heels with 33 points. Robinson was the co-winner last year

County Sends Talent To Lake Mary, Wildcat Opens Saturday

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

From the sprints, to the hurdles, to the Oviedo and Trinity Prep. distance and field events. Seminole County may have as much talent as any other county in the state. Most of that talent will be on display Saturday at Lake Mary High in the 2nd Annual Lake Mary Open while a portion will be strutting its stuff at the Wildcat Open at Showalter Field in Winter

Preliminaries and finals in the field events begin at 10 a.m. at both meets and the finals in the running events will get underway at 1 p.m. at Lake Mary and 2 p.m. at Showalter. Admission fee is $2 for adults and $1 for students at the Lake Mary Open.

Seminole coach Ken Brauman is taking six of his studs - hurdler Franklin Sarnett, sprinters Louis Brown, Leo Peterson, Cliff Campbell and Jumpers Deron Thompson and Andre Jackson - to the Winter Park meet. "The Lake Mary meet is limiting the entries to four in everything but the distance races," said Brauman. "This early in the season we want everybody to run. We'll take six to the Wildcat and send the other 25 or 30 to Lake Mary."

The Wildcat Open is for boys only while Lake Mary's Open was just for girls only last year and the years which Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson ran it while he was at Lake Brantley. This year, however. Gibson decided to change his format to boys and girls.

All Five Star Conference teams along with Daytona Beach Father Lopez, Bishop Moore,

In the girls meet, 3A state power Titusville Astronaut should be the favorite but Lake already had some outstanding times. He Mary's Rams and Lake Howell's Lady Hawks also look strong this season and, as usual, Trinity Prep's Lady Saints will be a powerhouse in 1A-2A.

Here is a look at the events:

BOYS

120 hurdles - At the Wildcat Open. Seminole's Franklin Barnett, a transfer from Palatka, is one of the best in the state. Barnett sailed to a time of 14.6 in his last meet. Seminole's Andre Jackson is also strong at the 120 hurdles.

100 yard dash - Seminole is not only strong, but deep in the 100-yard dash. Both Deron Thompson and Louis Brown turned in times of 10.2 in their last meet and Cliff Campbell was right behind at 10.3. The Lake Mary open record is 10.3 set by Dviedo's Leonard Hadden and J.W. Yarborough. Lake Mary's Patt Murray is another one to watch for Saturday at home.

Mile run - Lake Howell has the defending 4A state champion in the mile in senior Ken Cheeseman. He will be out to break the Lake Mary Open mark of 4:32.6 set last year by Bishop Moore's Ken Pasha. Cheeseman will be challenged by Lyman's Doug McBroom, Lake Mary's Derek Tangeman and Seminole's Billy Penick.

330 yard dash - Brown of Seminole has turned in a time of 35.7 in a four-way meet Tuesday while the Lake Mary Open record is 36.6 by Oviedo's Hadden. Thompson of Seminole is another threat, he ran a 36.7 in Tuesday's meet.

880 run - Mostly the same runners as in the mile will be at the top but other strong performances early this season have been turned in by Seminole's Larry Cosby and Lake Brantley's John Mondo. The meet record is 2:08.2 set last year by Tangeman.

1,320 run - Again, the same as in the other distance events will most likely be on top. The record is 3:25.8 set by Seminole's Michael Wooten last year.

220 yard dash - The 220 and 440 are the specialties of Seminole's Campbell. He turned in a time of 22.6 in the 220 Tuesday. Lake Mary Murray and Kelth Mandy are the ones to watch at the Lake Mary Open.

2 mile run — Tangeman was one of the top two milers in the state in 3A competition last year and he will try to repeat that effort in 4A this season. The meet record is 10:00.6 set by Bishop Moore's Pasha.

Long jump - Peterson recorded a 21-5 Tuesday and was followed by teammate Thompson at 21-4. Lake Mary's Murray also excels at the long jump along with Lake Brantley's versatile Mark Napler.

High jump - Napter has already jumped 6-6 this season and he will go for the meet record of 6-7 set by Lake Brantley's Mike Patterson. Lake Mary's Mike Rouse was fourth in the state 3A meet last year.

Shot put - Pat James of Lake Brantley and Anthony Hall of Seminole are two of the strong shot putters.

Discus — James hurled the discus 145.9 in Tuesday's meet and if he repeats that effort he will shatter the meet record of 127-11. Napier and Lake Mary's Jeff Hopkins are also strong in the discus.

Pole vault - Napier helds the meet record of 12-0 and is the favorite to repeat.

Triple jump - Seminole's Jackson and Peterson are the ones to watch. Napier has leaped better than the meet record at Lake 110 hurdles - Seminole has two talented hurdlers in Charita Medlock and Jankle Johnson, Johnson turned in a time of 20th in Tuesday's meet. The Lake Mary Open record is 16.1 set by DeLand's Thomas, Lake Howell's Rochelle Spearman will also be in contention in the 110 hurdles.

100 yard dash - Lake Mary's Fran 'Flash'' Gordon is the defending meet champion with a time of 11.8. But, Seminole's Sharon Bass and Lake Howell's Michelle Spearman each ran an 11.8 Tuesday, Lake Mary's Sharon Speed, a transfer from Oviedo, is also strong in the Mile run - The defending meet champion. Liz Lewis of Bishop Moore who ran a 5:33 last year, will be back to try and make it two in a row at the Lake Mary Open, but she will have strong competition from Lake Mary's Sue Kingsbury, Lake Howell's Amy Ertel, Lake Brantley's Kathryn Hayward and Lyman's Julie Greenburg and Cindy Gaskell along with a host of distance aces from Titusville Astronaut.

440 dash - Seminole's Crystal Caldwell returns to defend her Lake Mary Open title. She turned in a time of 62.1 last year and she ran a 60.0 in Tuesday's meet. Caldwellwill look for a double victory Saturday as she is also among the favorites in the 220. along with Lake Mary's Gordon. Gordon won last year with a time of 27.3 but Caldwell ran a 26.0 Tuesday.

Long jump - Again it will be Gordon and; Caldwell along with Seminole's Charita' Medlock and Lake Howell's Rochelle Spearman as the favorites . Gordon's 16-9 was good for Pest place last year.

High jump - Lyman's Lori Carroll is probably the best in the state and one of the top prep high jumpers in the nation. Lake Brantley's Taleena Smith holds the meet record at 5-0 and she will be back to try and Shot and discus - Not the strongest events in Seminole County. Lake Howell's Cathy Saunders in the early going this year is the only one close to last year's mark in the discus and no one is close in the shot.

Yarborough, Allison Take Twin 125 Wins

By Carl Vangura Herald Motors Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH - Cale Yarborough and Bobby Allison were the big winners at Daytona international Speedway Thursday as they won the UNO 125 Mile Qualifying races. A record crowd of over 75,000 people saw the start of four straight days of racing at the two and a half mile super-speedway.

On Friday the Florida 200 will take place and on Saturday it will be the Goody's 300. Sunday will see the Daytona 500 take place.

In the first race, Buddy Baker found himself in the uncomfortable position of leading the race going into the final laps. Baker who has said, "I will not lead the final lap at Daytona anymore," slowed in hopes of dropping -to second or third. "I pulled over and figured I would fall behind Cale, but Elliott came up behind me and, man, Cale took off. It looked like we just handed the race to Cale without a fight."

Yarborough put the Hardee's Chevrolet into the lead with five laps to go and just walked away from the field. Cale said, "I knew I had the horses and Sunday proved third in the last lap wouldn't win it for me, so I said go for it."

Behind Cale at the finish were Elliott, Baker, Nell Bonnett and Geoff Bodine. Yarborough, owner of six Hardees was asked, "Where's The Beef?" His reply, "Right here under the hood of old number 28."

The race was run at an average speed of 125.459 mph over end (top photo and as it was slowed three times with 18 laps being run right) before coming to under caution. The worst crash of the event came when rest (below). Thursday eve Moore spun coming out of the second turn and In a qualifying race at was hit by Bobby Wawak. Yarborough picked up $20,000 for his win.

The second 125 mile event was held up for over two hours under the red flag which came out when Randy La Joie of Norwalk, Conn. lost control of his car coming out of the fourth turn and hit the retaining wall going to the nits. The crash broke four posts holding the guard rail and took out 12 feet of railing that had to be replaced before the event could be resumed. La Joie was in stable condition at Halifax Hospital.

On the restart, Terry Labonte shot to the lead with Harry Gant and Bobby Allison right on his bumper. Lobonte who has the outside pole for Sunday's race was hoping to do like Cale had earlier and pull away from the pack but just didn't have the horses. With eight laps to go Allison made a move in the Miller High Life Buick and took the lead. Gary Nelson, the crew chief for Allison, said that Bobby had been standing on top of the trunk during the first race and had watched what Cale had done and decided it was better to go for the lead

Harry Gant in the Skoal Bandit Chevrolet beat Terry Laborite by less than a foot for second. Fourth place finisher Benny Parsons in the Copenhagen Chevrolet had the strongest in the race at the finish as he made up six seconds in the last 10 laps to make it a four way dash to the checkers.

Racing before packed grandstands continues at Volusia County Speedway at Barberville and New Smyrna Speedway through this Saturday night. A Volusia County Speedway, C.L. Pritchard (Wed-

At New Smyrna Speedway, Dick Trickle (Friday), Mike Eddy (Saturday and Tuesday) and Gary Balough (Wednesday) are the hotshoes in late models. Sanford racers Phil Dorman and Harold Johnson also are in the show. Richle Evans, the seven-time national NASCAR modified champion, has literally dominated the modified event by winning every race.

Rams Try To Heal For Regional

By Lou Stefano Herald Sports Writer

Thank goodness for the quick healing powers of the young body. Wrestlers need that quick healing as much as any other athlete. Just ask Lake Mary wrestling coach Frank Schwartz. He's got more people hurting than the Broken Hearts Club of America.

'We're pretty banged up," Schwartz said. His biggest chore this past week has been getting his wrestlers ready for Friday's regional at Lyman High School. The opening round begins at 1 p.m. with the second round slated for 7:30 p.m. Semi-final action continues Saturday at 10:30 a.m. with wrestlebacks at 12:30 p.m., consolations at 6 p.m. and finals at 8 p.m.

Brent Blakely and Mark Lindquist haven't been able to practice this week because of knee problems," said Schwartz. "They both had to have their knees drained of

"Ned Kolbjornsen hurt his knee in practice this week. It seems like all of a sudden we're getting hit with all these injuries," Schwartz added.

Rains, though an the teams will face this problem, is that they haven't City. seen the teams they will face in the regional Friday. "I have no idea who we'll be wrestling," said the veteran coach. "I've never even heard of Wolfson and Jacksonville Ferrest (two team favorites). From here on, the wrestling gets pretty conservative because of the fact that we haven't seen anybody.

"It's tough because if you get behind early, it's hard to come as tough as I would have expected. I back." Schwartz added.

According to Schwartz, the keys for the Rams will be the big four, Ivan Carbia, defending 3A state champion Jack Likens, Kolbfornsen, and defending 3A regional champion Robert Rawls. "If we can get five to six guys in the finals, we can win the meet." Schwartz said.

Schwartz feels his wrestlers have become more serious in the past few weeks and is encouraged by the grit of his team. "A lot of these kids could have bowed out because of these injuries and said,' see you next year,' but they didn't. Winning the region means a lot to them and the chips are on the line," said Schwartz.

Lyman coach Skip Pletzer is over his team's bout with injury and illness. "Everybody is healthy and in pretty good shape," Pletzer said. "We've had a real good week of practice, now it's just if you're ready to wrestle."

The Greyhounds will bring four district champions into the regionals in 102- pounder Chad Dubin, Juwan Lee at 130, Jay Hunziker 136, and undefeated Derek Smith at 159.

Pletzer got a peek at the draws and was encouraged by what he saw. "We've got an opportunity to have five guys in the finals," he said. "The 159-pound bracket isn't think it will end up Smith against Troy Turner from Seminole.

As far as Turner's health is concerned, it's getting better after a bout with the flu. "Troy went to the doctor's Tuesday and got some antibiodics and says he's feeling a lot better," said his coach Roger Beathard.

Because of the Illness Turner_ hasn't wrestled this week until Thursday but Beathard feels that Turner will be strong enough for the regionals.

This will be the freshman, Turner's first regional and contrary, to what one might think. Turner is, not overwhelmed by the spectacle.

"He's wrestled a lot of good wrestlers in federation meets," said Beathard. "I don't think that he'll be awestruck."

The Oviedo Lion wrestling team doesn't have to worry about being awestruck. They'll strike awe in the psyches of their opponents in Friday's 3A state meet at Piniellas Park.

The Lions boast five district According to Pletzer, the teams to champions who together have a 120-5 record. And all are in the lighter weight classifications.

The Lions are led by 102-pounder Jerry Jordan who sports a 27-1 record. They march right along with Shawn Knapp, 109, with a 25-1 record and, Brian Smith, 123, also

And there a more with Steve Berg at 130 with a 26-1 record and Mike Hilgar, 136, also 26-1.

The Lady Bucs maintained a four-point lead, 54-50. with 4:30 remaining in the game when Lake Howell made its move. The Lady Hawks reeled off 14 straight points and held Mainland scoreless the rest of the way. Tammy Johnson poured in a game-high 25 points for the Lady Hawks. Johnson went over the 1,000 point plateau for her career at Lake Howell. Christy Scott and Monica McNeil played well underneath for the Lady Hawks contributing 10 points apiece. Scott also pulled

Still, the Lady Patriots fought with everything they had to stay in the game against the heavily favored Lady Bulldogs. Lake Brantley held DeLand scoring ace Bridgette Gordon to just four points in the first half and the Lady Patriots stayed within a point, 17-16, at halftime. However, Gordon came back with 19 second-half points to lead the Lady Bulldogs to a 53-36 victory. Nikki Williams joined Gordon in double figures for DeLand with 16 points and Raysha Roberts added nine. Sherry "Ice" Asplen led Lake Brantley with 11 points and Linda Nunez and Cammie Twaddell tossed in eight apiece.

IN BRIEF

Iran Claims It Killed, Injured More Than 1,000

LONDON (UPI) - Iran reported it killed or wounded more than 1,000 Iraqis and seized strategic territory in an offensive to "settle" the Persian Gulf war. Iraq said the attack was repulsed and many Iranian forces wiped out.

There were no independent accounts of Thursday's ground, air and naval battles reported by the two neighboring Moslem countries who have been fighting for 41 months. Border conflicts erupted into war Sept. 22, 1980.

Tehran Radio said in a broadcast monitored in Ankara that the offensive "will settle the war." The offensive began at midnight Wednesday, thrusting toward the iraqi capital of Baghdad just over 100 miles to the west.

The Iranian news agency IRNA said in reports received in London that "over 1,000 Baathist (Iraqi) soldiers were killed or wounded and a large group of them taken captive by the Islamic combatants since the launching of the victorious" offensive.

Cease-Fire Agreed To

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) -South Africa and Angola, in a move to end a 17-year bush war, have agreed to allow a commission to monitor a cease-fire along the northern Namibian border. The commission could include Americans.

"Angola wants peace, the Southern African states want peace, South Africa wants peace. We have taken a very important step on that road," South African Foreign Minister Roelof Botha said Thursday after talks in Lusaka, Zambia which included U.S. representatives.

In a statement released in Lusaka, negotiators said South Africa and Angola had agreed to set up a joint commission to monitor a South African troop withdrawal from southern Angola.

"It was agreed that a small number of American representatives could participate in the joint commission at the request of the parties," the statement said.

Kremlin Candidate Young

MOSCOW (UPI) - The youngest member of the Soviet Communist Party's ruling Politburo has emerged as a possible candidate for the presidency, the Kremlin's second most important position.

The publication Thursday of a speech by Mikhail Gorbachev, 52, revealed he played a key role in the emergency party Central Committee meeting that resulted in the election of Konstantin Chernenko as party general secretary after the death of Yuri Andropov Feb. 9.

In the months before Andropov's death, Gorbachev and Grigory Romanov, 60, were both Kremlin leadership as part of Andropov's campaign to reform the country's economic and political systems. Gorbachev was secretary of agriculture but had been given additional responsibility under Andropov.

those cars and some people are sleeping there." Mrs. Coleman said.

Mrs. Coleman and 14 of her neighbors sent a petition to Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles outlining the problem several weeks ago.

Knowles said although the city has no jurisdiction over the railroad he called the defunct Auto-Train Corp. in Washington and was told that its old equipment was sold at auction a long time ago.

He also contacted Amtrak and Seaboard Systems Railroad officials and they are trying to be helpful and cooperative, Knowles said.

Lynn Johnson, a Seaboard Systems Railroad supervisor in Tampa, said he has instructed workmen in the Sanford area to inspect the locomotives and cars and arrange their removal as soon as possible. He said he had no idea the locomotives and cars were there.

"A train pushed that mess in here about a year ago and left it," Mrs. Coleman said. —Donna Estes

Ten-month-old James Postell, with blocks, and Shawanda Brown, 3, play under a mural in the pediatrics ward of Sanford's Central Florida

Regional Hospital. The mural will be one of the special attractions which will be shown off at CFRH's open house next weekend.

Who Says A Hospital Can't Be A Fun Place?

By Susan Loden Herald Staff Write:

You may not think of a hospital as the place to go to play computer games, talk with a robot and view the creative work of a local artist, but those are some of the things you can enjoy if you visit Central Florida Regional Hospital's open house next weekend.

On Feb. 25, the Health Care Express, which was featured at the 1982 World's Fair in Knoxville, Tenn., will be at the hospital. To complement that exibit, various areas of the hospital will be open to the public from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Health Care Express features a robot and five talking computers for the young and the young at heart to interact with. And those interested in more serious matters related to the heart can see a documentary on the history of the heart and a demonstration of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). They can also have their blood pressure and blood sugar charled

February is National Heart Month and in recognition the American Association of Retired Persons helped fund the heart exhibit along with the Hospital Corp. of America, parent company of Sanford's CFRH and sponsor of the World's Fair exhibit

RSVP volunteers will be on hand at the open house to assist hospital staffers with the various exhibits and tours, according to hospital spokesman Kay Bartholomew.

Visitors will get to see the birthing room where dozens of children have come into the world since the 226-bed hospital opened in June of 1982. Decoration has recently been completed of the birthing room where women can relax in comfort with their families both before, during and after childbirth.

The one-day surgery department which has recently been expanded will also be open for tours. But the poison garden, which featured a sample of poison plants is off the list of things to see.

"The recent freeze killed the garden and you can't just go to a nursery and buy poison ivy and oak and that sort of thing." Mrs. Bartholomew said.

Topping the list of the hospital's new attractions are the animal cartoons, many of which represent hospital personnel, which brighten the hallway of the six-bed pediatrics department.

"It brings out the kid in your heart," said head pediatries nurse Joyce West, who spends a lot of time beneath the portrait of a furry creature, which artist Sandy Dunn, labled as Mrs. West.

Dyan Cannon Vows To Act Her Age After 'Master'

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — If you want to see Dyan Cannon looking old, you haven't much choice. Master of the Game is probably the only place Miss Cannon will ever be found playing an old lady.

"Never again," she says, with about as much firmness as she can muster. And she can muster firmness with the best of them.

In Master Of the Game, the TV version of Sidney Sheldon's best-seller (on CBS Sunday through Tuesday), Miss Cannon plays a powerful lady named Kate Blackwell. She plays her from 17 years old and right through to the 90s.

"It took five hours to put on that old age makeup," Dyan says, "During those five hours, I thought I was going to lose my mind. Glue. They put it on all over your face. And you can't eat, so you have to drink through a straw. And then they color that, and they paste that. And it's terrible.

"I had them put a trampoline in my room. Every 45 minutes or so. I'd start jumping up and down. I'd turn the rock 'n' roll on as loud as I could, just to let something out. A couple of times, I thought I'd have to go jump off the ledge."

She did that for "days, endless days." And she made herself a promise.

"I told myself I would never do that again," she says. "People said I shouldn't say never. What if some incredible part came along? But when I said never, I meant never. And I said never."

Still, it was a great part. When she first read the book, she couldn't finish it, originally. She didn't like the character of Kate Blackwell. She found her too manipulative and she dislikes manipulative

"I'm an artist," she says. "I'm creative. And being creative is the most important thing in my life. Manipulation is the antithesis of creativity, because the minute you start to manipulate somebody, all creativity goes out the window."

But the chance to play such an incredibly diversified part overwhelmed her dislike for the woman. So she was tempted. She also thought the script was terrifle and that helped.

Still, she paused. What gave her pause was that at the same time she was offered Master of the Game. she had been offered a role in a major movie. That, too, had a great script, "the best script I had ever read," she says.

"But I didn't like the director's work," she says. "But, on second thought, I know that some directors whose work I don't like do other films that I do like and maybe with this good script he would do good work. So I decided to do the movie."

The phone rang. Her secretary said it was that director, asking for her decision. She was, she says, in the act of pushing down the button on the phone, to speak to him and say yes, when her secretary came in and told her to wait, that there was another call, this from the Master of the Game people, and there was a firm offer for her to do it.

So, obviously, she eventually opted to do the miniscries.

She hopes, next, to go back to doing her own things. She plans to direct and star in one film and just direct another. The one she'll direct has to do with a group of high school kids, and she has been working on the script for many months with the writing team that created it.

Miss Cannon likes directing. She says it's "a bigger thought" than acting and while she still loves to act, it no longer keeps her fully satisfied.

"I want to make movies," she says. "I don't mean star in movies, I mean make them. But I prefer making intimate movies, stories dealing with relationships. I'don't think I could handle those monumental things, like Warren." (Her Heaven Can Walt co-star, Warren Beatty, made the monumental movie, Reds.)

But don't talk to her about her playing an old lady. no matter how great the script, no matter how intimate the relationships. She has said "never" and she means it. There is steel in those lovely eyes.

"That's me," Mrs. West said, pointing to her furry cartacture. "She even got my rippled shoe soles."

"They nagged me for two years. That's what inspired me to do this." Ms. Dunn a histology supervisor in the pathology department said of her creation.

It took Ms. Dunn, of Sanford, a year to develop the concept of the colorfully clothed animals which cheer both patients and staff. When she finally completed her preliminary sketch for the animals and the alphabets that accompany them, she projected the images on the walls and spent about two days tracing outlines.

Within about two weeks hospital staffers, volunteers and even a couple of patients had helped Ms. Dunn fill the outlines with color to bring the display

"They came up, took a look and got hooked," Ms. Dunn said.

Captions are also in the works to explain the action of the animals, but even without them it will be easy for open house guests to realize that "a greedy giraffe gobbles grapes," and a "dirty dog gets

Mrs. West expects guests to have fun making up their own captions for the characters and she said it will also be fun to see if they can recognize some of the doctors in cartoon form.

Does Dolly Parton Write Her Own Music?

DEAR DICK: I saw that Dolly Parton is going to be writing the lyrics and music for a new movie. Could you tell me whether she actually puts the notes down herself, or just makes up the tune and someone else has to write the notes down for her? I've been under the impression that she could not read or write the actual notes. Please ciue me in. - N.V.O., Monticello, Mo.

Consider yourself clued. Dolly puts it this way: "I don't write music, but I know it." Whatever that means, she says she's surrounded by trained musicians. In fact, the movie you mentioned - it will be called Rhinestone - is being produced by Mike Post, a noted composer. She sang all her tunes to Post and he wrote the notes down for her.

DEAR DICK: Who previously played Joe Novak on Ryan's Hope and why did he leave the show? What is he doing now? He was great! -M.G., Carthage, Mo.

Roscoe Born was the former Novak. The show's spokespeople say he left the show "to pursue other things." So far, those "other things" consist of an off-Broadway play. He has been succeeded by Michael Hennessy. Chances are you'll think he's great, too, after a little while.

DEAR DICK: I recently saw the movie Eddie and the Cruisers and liked it very much. I read somewhere that it was taken from a novel. Could you please tell me the title and author? I read somewhere that it was written by P.F. Kludge, but I can't find an author by that name. - L.W., East Windsor, N.J.

The problem is the letter D. There is none in the author's name - it is P.F. Kluge. The book is called

Ask Dick Kleiner

Eddie and the Cruisers, just like the movie.

DEAR DICK: In the miniseries Chiefs, the credits listed the executive in charge of production as William Dincen. During World War II, I was a POW of the Japanese and one of my fellow prisoners was a William Dincen. Could this be tme fellow? - E.J.O., Montrose,

I put the question to Dincen, who replied that he had never been a POW.

DEAR DICK: I have been watching Days of Our Lives for years. One of my favorite child-actresses is the character of Hope Williams, played by Natasha (something). Can you tell me what happened to her? Will she be playing any more TV roles? How old is she? -H.P., Williamsport, Pa.

A change was made because they wanted Hope's character to be a little older. Natasha (something) is really Natasha Ryan. She was only 14 and she was replaced by Kristian Alfonso, who is 18. Presumably. Natasha is looking for work and, being talented, will probably find it.

DEAR DICK: My husband and I recently watched Indian Love Call with Nelson Eddy and Jeanette McDonald. My husband says they were once married. I say no. Who's right? -M.H.A., Danville, Pa.

You are. They were never married to each other. DEAR DICK: I have a little bet with my older cousin. I say Priscilla Presley, who plays Jenna Wade on Dallas, is the same person who plays the blonde Terri on Three's Company. Could you please tell us which one is right? - F.D.E.,

Guanley, Mo. Your cousinot only older, but wiser. It is a Priscilla of a different name - Priscilla Barnes - who plays

DEAR DICK: Could you tell me who plays Eric on Knots Landing? I have $20 riding on this. — S.P., LaPorte, Ind.

Steve Shaw plays Eric. Did you win or lose?

DEAR DICK: My husband and I go around and around about how old Brenda Lee is. He says she is in her 50s. I say she is in her early 40s. Please, I hope I'm right. - D.A.N., Baginaw, You're not exactly right but you're closer than he is. It is hard to believe, but Brenda won't celebrate her 40th birthday until next December. She was very young when she started singing professionally.

DEAR DICK: Who did football great Tom Harmon marry? I thought it was Elyse Knox, but someone said it was Evelyn Keyes. - Mrs. J.C., Williamsport, Pa.

Someone was wrong, it was Elyse Knox, not the actress who played Scarlett O'Hara's younger sister in Gone With the Wind. Tom and Elyse's offspring include two current NBC series regulars - Mark Harmon of St. Elsewhere and Kelly Harmon of Bay City Blues.

Carol Burnett Turning The Pages Of Her Life

By Vernon Scott UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Carol Burnett, looking and feeling better than ever in her career, says she is turning pages in her life, both professionally and personally.

On a personal level, she is no longer married to producer Joe Hamilton. Professionally she is no longer tied to weekly television.

Both decisions apparently agree with the comedian who is free to pick her shots in movies and on the

Among her recent choices is an hour-long musical television special (CBS, Jan. 27) co-starring opera's Placido Domingo and titled, appropriately enough. Carol Discovers Domingo.

In years past, Carol has had the wit and wisdom to team up with such other, and unlikely, co-stars as Dolly Parton, Beverly Sills and Julie Andrews with enormous success.

"I'm leading a more spontaneous life than I have in many, many years," Carol said, allowing an unaccustomed peck into her private life. "I've spent most of the past three years living in Hawaii. Now I plan to spend more time in Southern California."

Carol originally moved to Hawaii to disassociate her young daughters from the drug culture, over-affluent environment of Beverly Hills. Now the youngsters are older and less likely to be influenced by their pampered peers.

Her two youngest, Jody, 17, and Erin, 15, attend a private high school. Carrie, who recently turned 20 and survived drug dependence, is a college student.

Carol and Joe ended their marriage on friendly terms. Now the comedienne dates several men. keeping a low profile, not talking romance or remarriage.

"With maturity comes a lot of ease and lack of pretense," Carol said. "My dates are relaxed, dinner and movies and no pressures. I don't feel the need to make a lot of small talk or think about creating an impression. I'm a very secure woman.

"I'm just turning leaves of the pages in my life. I find myself doing the laundry, washing windows and shopping for groceries like everyone else. I enjoy

"One major reason for relocating again in Los Angeles is to make it easier for Joe to be close to Jody and Erin.

"There's no doubt my lifestyle has undergone a big change. I don't plan my social calendar as far ahead. I enjoy many spontaneous outings with the girls, which are a pure joy.

"The demands of a weekly series were tremendous. Now I choose projects based on the people involved, co-stars and directors, which are more important in the long run than scripts."

Carol has enjoyed a diversified career since leaving the weekly Carol Burnett Show with her stock company of Vickie Lawrence, Tim Conway and Harvey Korman, with whom she maintains close ties.

She co-starred with Elizabeth Taylor in the cable-TV drama, Between Friends, starred in the movie, Annie, and headlined the TV movie Beatrice.

"It doesn't matter whether a project is for movies, TV or cable as long as I find it interesting and challenging," said Carol, a multi-millionairess.

Stick To The Ribs Meals At Old Time Prices

Harold Tersigno is no copycat. He has been around Sanford long enough to know what people here enjoy eating.

Cindy's Kitchen keeps roast beef and roast turkey dinners as standards on their menu.
