

RED CROSS WORK FACTS FOR COUNTY

MRS. BERRY EXPLAINS THE WORK IN ALL DETAILS

There has been a good deal of misunderstanding concerning Red Cross work, both as to the object of the Society at large and as to the duties of members of local Red Cross auxiliaries. The Red Cross is a permanent organization for the purpose of benefiting all humanity and its work constantly touches the well being of civilians as well as those connected with military organizations and operations, being active in peace as well as in war. The suffering entailed by any great disaster of flood, fire or famine, or some great epidemic, is always as far as possible relieved by Red Cross funds and nurses which are immediately directed to such places and kept active until the need has passed, while the Red Cross Town and Country Service Division through its visiting nurses is at all times quietly doing a tremendous amount of magnificent work among tubercular and other sufferers.

The founder of the Red Cross movement was an English woman but there are now few countries which have not adopted themselves with it. The Red Cross has a membership of 1,100,000, and Russia of 1,200,000. The United States of America has, so far, claim but 259,000 members, and one of the best things which will result from the state of war now existing will be an patriotic, active, permanent interest in Red Cross work for this country.

There are various forms of membership in the organization: the Annual $5.00, Sustaining $2.00, Certificate $1.00, Sustaining $10.00, each of these being annually paid and the Life Membership $25.00 and Patron Membership $100.00 paid in at one payment. Each of these memberships has its own advantages. The Annual includes a ready subscription to the Red Cross Magazine, a publication of great interest. It should be understood that the Red Cross accounts are all audited under government inspection and all that it does is open to public scrutiny.

With each of the memberships is fed service required as is so often imagined. There are four courses of instruction which may be organized through Red Cross chapters or auxiliaries: First Aid; Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick; Home Dietetics and Preparation of Sanitary Dishes; but none of these courses is obligatory, though women should be familiar with the first three for the sake of their families if not for the sake of the community and humanity in general.

Many people imagine that taking the First Aid Course would obligate them to nursing duties at the front or elsewhere under Red Cross direction. This is a mistake. The Red Cross does not accept as nurses those whose knowledge and experience is so limited. Even when one occasionally takes the course in Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick still further knowledge and special training are required and even these additional courses "place no burden upon the volunteer." Such classes will be formed later for the Seminole county auxiliaries and information concerning them will be published when formed.

The chief work required of annual members is local gatherings for the making of hospital supplies (including sheets, towels, etc.) or garments such as socks, pajamas, etc., besides which there is very great need of other supplies in great variety," as Red Cross pamphlets state. So far as Seminole county is concerned, the work will be conducted in neighborhood or town groups, weekly or more frequent meetings being held for the making of such supplies as will be directed or suggested by the Jacksonville chapter. Each neighborhood or town will be given independent, individual credit for its work, and a monthly meeting will be held at Sanford at which each of the county units who have agreed upon this will be represented. This representation is not, in a sense, official, since each member of each neighborhood or town unit is invited and urged to attend the monthly meetings. But as during the heat of the summer it might be difficult for all members to attend such meetings, the monthly attendance will not be obligatory, and one or more representative members may represent the unit as they themselves decide at their meetings locally.

In most instances the outlying towns or neighborhoods wish to meet with the Sanford chapter once a month and pool their orders for supplies since, although each town or neighborhood gets full credit for its work, the cost of supplies and freight, express or postal rates for these will thereby be lessened and the arrangements made for mutual helpings and outlay.

Further information concerning the Seminole Red Cross work will be published in the Sanford Herald from time to time.

GOVERNMENT ASKS BIDS ON POSTOFFICE

SANFORD'S NEW BUILDING SHOULD BE STARTED THIS SUMMER

Another step in the forward march of Sanford City will soon be launched in earnest and that is the building of a new postoffice. Those who thought a new postoffice for Sanford would be a fizzle and look at The Herald this week and note where the government is asking for bids upon the new postoffice building and the government never jokes about these matters.

All of which means that in a few months the new postoffice building for Sanford will be built or at least the work will be started. In this time of war and high prices and shortage of materials the work may be delayed somewhat but that the building will be built is a sure and certain fact.

The building will be 84 feet on First street and 50 feet on Palmetto and will occupy the greater part of the beautiful corner lot formerly owned by the Sanford House Company. The lot is on the corner of First street and Palmetto street and was purchased several years ago by the government. Since that time the necessary steps to get the appropriation and the soundings, etc., have been taken and the work will be ready for proceeding as soon as the successful bidder gets the contract.

The 25th anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America was celebrated in a most fitting manner and one that will live long in the history of Sanford Lodge, J. O. O. F. ERADICATION OF THE TICK UNPOPULAR

CATTLE MEN ARE AFRAID THEY WILL HAVE TO PAY TAXES

Tallahassee, May 1. There are a number of cattle men in the legislature and a still larger number of cattle men have been at the capital to look into legislation affecting that industry. It would surprise you to know the diversity of opinion that exists among them as to what legislation would be best for the industry. Most of them are satisfied with present conditions and are bitterly opposed to any legislation of any kind.

THE HERALD WILL START WHITEWAY

ENTERPRISING NEWSPAPER PLACES THE FIRST POST IN SANFORD

If it is good we are the better. Since The Herald started in business in Sanford some years ago, this paper has spelled PROGRESS in Sanford in big letters and if there is anything good for the city we have taken up the fight and have only taken it up but led the way.

The editor of The Herald advocated the building of the law front the very first issue of the paper and fought it through. And all down the line The Herald has taken an active interest in all that pertains to a greater Sanford. All of our plans have not matured but all of our plans have been good ones and if they have not been acted upon it has been on account of lack of cooperation upon the part of the men of Sanford who have been sleeping upon their rights and have failed to do their duty as citizens.

This paper has advocated a White Way for Sanford for many years because it is the best system of lighting that any city can obtain. Now that the time is opportune to have a White Way in Sanford not only upon the business streets but upon the bulkhead and lake front boulevard The Herald has purchased the first White Way post to be erected in Sanford and it is being installed in front of The Herald office upon Herald Square and in a few days the bright and effulgent rays will be shed over the street to attract the attention of the visitor to the fact that Sanford will soon be the model city that this paper has fought for so long.

"ROMEO & JULIET" STAR THEATRE

EIGHT REELS

FEATURING FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN and BEVERLY BAYNE

Thursday, May 3. MATINEE and NIGHT ADMISSION 10 and 25c

Among The Theatres

Lyric Tonight

The Lyric Theatre will have the pleasure of showing tonight the latest World Picture Brady-Made which bears the title of "The Family Honor." In this play Robert Warwick and June Elvidge are seen as the stars and both of them have interesting and dramatic roles. Mr. Warwick is seen in a particularly effective part in which he does some brilliant and forceful acting. Miss Elvidge has a difficult part that she handles with skill in a very satisfactory manner. The picture is a delight throughout.

Mme. Petrova in "The Secret of Eve" Tuesday

"What was the secret of the first woman?"

This all-important question is answered in the Metro-Popular Plays and Players Production, "The Secret of Eve," which will be seen at the Star Theatre on Tuesday, with the gifted Mme. Petrova as the star. Perry Vekroff directed this five-part Metro wonderplay, which is from the pen of Aaron Hoffman, author of many successes.

"The Secret of Eve" shows how in every period of the world's history men and women have occupied their minds with the fevered pursuits after selfish happiness, and the secret of Eve Brandon discovers is—what? See the play and find the answer. "The Secret of Eve" is a story, also a big photoplay, full of dramatic incident. Added to this, it has true spiritual uplift.

Mme. Petrova has never been called upon to do a more difficult piece of work than in this production. First of all she portrays Eve in the Garden of Eden. Then she is seen as Hagar, a gypsy woman, who leaves her baby daughter on the doorstep of "house dwelling" people so that she may have a chance for happiness. Next the young Eve is shown as a young woman, the foster-child of Quakers, who marries a millionaire, and as Eve Brandon goes to the city still in pursuit of happiness. The final picture is the noble-minded woman who had found perfect joy in giving her life to the service of little children.

"The Family Honor"

"I am delighted with your engagement to Doris Leighton," said Gen. Wayne, a proud old American patriot, to his son, Anthony, a successful young portrait painter. "We have traditions to maintain, my son, and in Doris you are bringing into the family a young woman who is everything that I could desire, lovable, refined and loyal. I am thoroughly delighted."

But even as General Wayne was congratulating his youngest son, the young man's thoughts were wandering away. Anthony was thinking of Marcia Quesnay, a great emotional actress and a glittering enchantress with whom he had become infatuated.

Anthony's Mad Infatuation

Anthony's infatuation soon became a mad passion. "Give me what you will for the," he cried one day to an art collector as he waved his hand toward the many paintings and works of art adorning his studio. "I'll take whatever you give me—I need the money for a lady friend of mine."

"With the proceeds he bought more jewelry for Marcia.

"It is very pretty," said Marcia, when Anthony presented it to her.

COMING—Roscoe Arbuckle in the funniest comedy in the world in his latest production "The Butcher Boy"

"You may kiss my hand." Marcia failed to reciprocate Anthony's infatuation and used him only for what he could do for her. Captain Stephen Wayne, Returns. It was to a distracted father that Captain Stephen Wayne, Gen. Wayne's oldest son returned from an army mission at this time.

"Anthony has disgraced me. He has dragged my name in the dust. He has abandoned his career. He has alienated Doris and he is going to the dogs for this woman. Do something, Stephen. Save him!" cried Gen. Wayne when Stephen drew from him the reason for his sorrow.

"I will," Stephen responded. "I want to meet this Marcia Quesnay," said Stephen to his brother.

Finally Stephen did meet Marcia and, as the result, he fell instantly and sincerely in love with her and she with him.

Later, with the dayning of this first real love of her life, Marcia, renounced her butterfly life and became a tender and self sacrificing woman.

"I am returning all of Anthony's gifts," she told Stephen, "and I am giving them to you for safe keeping. And now I am going to disillusion Anthony."

To disillusion the young man, she plunged into dissipation and apparently led a wild life and Anthony turned from her in disgust.

Anthony Steals From His Father's Safe

"I'm in love with Marcia, too," said Eric Mainwaring, an actor, to Anthony. "And she like all the rest of 'em—you've got to buy her, you can't win her by loving her. Beg, borrow or steal enough money and borrow or steal enough money and you can buy her."

Driven desperate by his infatuation and egged on by Mainwaring, Anthony opened his father's safe and stole from it some government funds placed there by Stephen. Later Anthony lost all of the money to Mainwaring at cards.

Stephen, discovering the loss, was driven to the conclusion that Marcia had made Anthony commit the theft.

The climax of this thrilling story is unusual and thrilling. See "The Family Honor," at this theatre, Lyric Tonight.

Lyric Monday

How an upright man was hounded by the ingenious powers of evil in municipal politics, how they drove him to desperation when his beautiful wife was estranged from him, how he battled for vindication, only to sink deeper into ruin, is told in "The Destroyers." How the man found refuge in the wintry wilds of Canada, how he found true hearts there and peace is a story full of red blood and courage, suffering and reward.

Mme. Bernhardt Recites "Patria"

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, in one of her plays recites, as only she can do it, Victor Hugo's patriotic poem, "Patria." The effect is inspiring and impressive. Audiences everywhere sit spellbound under the magic influence of the great artist's golden voice giving expression to the ennobling sentiments of her great countryman's immortal verse.

In view of the fact that the great photoplay, "Patria," the International serial supreme, with Mrs. Vernon Castle as the star is being shown at the Lyric Theatre every Thursday, an adaptation into English of Victor Hugo's inspiring poem has been made. It will arouse in American hearts that fervor of patriotism which the original evokes in the breasts of all Frenchmen and French women everywhere, especially when recited by the incomparable Bernhardt.

The adaptation follows:

PATRIA
By Victor Hugo
Adapted by N. P. Balchuck

Who gender smallest? Spirit divine
In garb of Woman dressed?
O! Nation kneel; her soul is thine,
"Thou be sore distressed,
Behold her standing in the door!
Thus all our ancient pride
Is born anew! We dare brave more
Where countless hosts have died.
Her conquering glances wake our hearts.

As birds are stirred to song
In forest nest where sunshine darts,
She stirs us to be strong.
The Angel of the Day appears,
As Hope and Love foretold;
Enchantress who can banish fears,
In Patria behold.

Bright Angel, when the powers vile
Thy mirror dare to brave,
"Thou dark the skies, thy faithful smile
Canst halt the enslaving wave,
Thou' orderest men to take the sword,
And, in thy Name to slay
And proudest Lands, with firm accord
Must Patria obey."

BOARD OF TRADE
Religion means not only the personal development but the development of progressiveness that go to "make you 'home town." A real Christian has two jobs on his hands and it's a sin to shirk either. "Get your paper and pencil.

Messrs. Baker and Varnedoe of Cordale, Ga., have been looking over the state for a business site and after a thorough canvass have practically decided to locate in Sanford and are now negotiating for quarters.

The Board of Trade has been advised of the shortage of farm labor by several parties and in a few cases so far we have been able to send a few men to jobs. Lately we have had several requests in person and by letter by persons looking for farm work. Should any one desire farm or other male help, we shall be glad to assist you in getting what you want. Phone 128.

A Maine man wants a vulcanizing plant in Sanford.

A Nebraska man wants a staple crop farm somewhere in Seminole county.

A Florida man wants a house and lot either in Sanford or close in with small farm.

A New York man wants a farm near Sanford, wants to raise crops and chickens.

A California man wants 10 to 15 acres land with house on it.

A Massachusetts man wants to purchase land for general farming in Seminole county. Forty to eighty acres.

The Board of Trade, upon personal or written application of any of its members will be glad to furnish the name and addresses of any of the above.

The 15 per cent advance in freight rates is suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission until the people who pay the freight can be heard. The shipper in view of the fact that it affects his pocket book and not only the shipper but every citizen, should take notice of developments of this highly important case and should support the Sanford Board of Trade in its efforts in their interests. Not only was a meeting of Southeastern shippers held in Chattanooga to combine their efforts but seven men attending this meeting have been delegated to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., in behalf of the shipper or receiver of freight and among that seven is a representative of the Sanford Board of Trade. A 15 per cent increase means to Seminole county and to every interior county in Florida, thousands of dollars added freight charges annually and the Sanford representative took the stand that the shipper could not afford an increase and asked for a hearing along with the interest of other states. Without doubt this work is the most beneficial to you that has been attempted and your hearty cooperation is solicited.

Do something for your town today. Think of the feed and display a spirit that shines with progressiveness. You cannot be a laborer or a representative unless if your thoughts are all for yourself—you must progress or you slip backward and no matter what feet you wear or what excuse you offer, you'll find the veil too thin and easily pierced by the other fellow.

Yes, we'll have that hotel and ready for business when you see us.

Peanut, Velvet Bean and Cottonseed Meal for Milk Production
To produce milk at a profit one must have good producing cows and at the same time must be economical in feeding. It is not meant that the cows be given light rations, but that those feeds be used that produce the most milk at the least cost to the gallon. In dairying it is not the milking of so many cows twice each day that governs the cost of production, but the quantity of milk each cow in the herd puts in the pail twice each day. Some feeds are better milk producers than others.

The object of this test was to make a comparison of the value of bright cottonseed meal, peanut meal and velvet bean meal (both and pods ground together) for milk production.

For the work, nine cows were selected from the dairy herd and divided into three lots of three cows each. The feeding test was divided into three periods of twenty days each with four days between periods for changing feeds. This was considered advisable so that it would not be necessary to make a sudden change in feed.

The feeds in this test were not fed in equal amounts but in nearly equivalent food nutrients as it was possible to get them.

The daily rations were: All cows were fed wheat bran 9 pounds, silage 12 pounds; in addition, lot 1 received 3 pounds cottonseed meal; lot 2, 4 pounds peanut meal; and lot 3, 6 pounds velvet bean meal.

The first period began November 11 and lasted twenty days. The second period began December 5, and continued for 20 days, closing January 17, 1917.

During the first period the cows fed on wheat bran, cottonseed meal and silage produced 902.5 pounds of milk; those fed peanut meal produced 1,044 pounds of milk; those fed velvet bean meal produced 889.7 pounds of milk. During the second period the cows fed on cottonseed meal produced 843.2 pounds of milk; those fed peanut meal produced 996.6 pounds of milk, and those fed velvet bean meal produced 1,048.5 pounds of milk. During the third period the cows fed on cottonseed meal produced 856.1 pounds of milk; those fed peanut meal produced 715.7 pounds of milk and those fed velvet bean meal produced 880.2 pounds of milk.

The total amount of milk produced during the three periods by feeding cottonseed meal was 2,601.8 pounds or 302.5 gallons; by feeding peanut meal, 2,755.3 pounds or 324.1 gallons; by feeding velvet bean meal, 2,565.6 pounds or 307.7 gallons.

In reckoning the feed cost of each gallon of milk, the feeds were valued as follows: Cottonseed meal, 10 cents; peanut meal, 16 cents; velvet bean meal, 16 cents.

The feed cost of the milk produced by feeding cotton seed meal was 16 cents; for peanut meal it was 16 cents and for velvet bean meal it was 16.5 cents a gallon.

From these figures we will get the relative value of each of these feeds for milk production. If cottonseed meal is worth $50 a ton, then, according to the results of this experiment, peanut meal is worth $45 a ton and velvet bean meal is worth $22.50 a ton.

Protection Against Catarrh.
 Any constitutional exercise which improves the circulation and makes the body resistant helps to protect one from catarrh. This is particularly true of all breathing exercises because the effects are beneficial locally as well as constitutionally, says one of the best-known physical culture teachers in New York. So let us teach our children the value of correct and deep breathing, and in doing so we improve our own health and thereby impart cheerfulness and happiness to our home.

The visitors to Orlando this week were greatly impressed with the fine body of men who spent the three days with them in the persons of the State Elks Association. There were Big Bills and little Bills and Big Brothers and all kinds of good fellows and they were there for a good time and they had it. The Elks parade on Thursday was a mile long and had two bands and then some and those boys captured Orlando and held it for the three days.

Legislature has passed a bill prohibiting Florida newspapers from printing liquor advertisements. We do not think the Florida legislature has any right to regulate advertising for the newspapers and this comes from a newspaper that never accepted liquor advertisements and never expects to accept any. Nevertheless we think the legislature is usurping too much power when they tell a newspaper what kind of advertisements they can accept and what kind they cannot accept.

When the road work on the Sanford Orlando road is all finished and an unbroken stretch is made between the two cities which will be in about two or three weeks The Herald thinks the two cities should have a fish fry at Robinson's Springs and hold a regular love feast, make up all the differences of the past and talk over the things of mutual advantage to the two cities. We have much in common and should get upon the common level of two friends. And then our Board of Trade can invite the Orlando Board of Trade down some time for a good time and our board can go there one night and we can do great stunts in all lines of business along many lines. Let us get together.

DRINKING FOOD SUPPLY

According to government statistics six hundred million bushels of grain go into the manufacture of alcoholics in the United States each year, six bushels for each man, woman and child in the United States, and nearly enough for the entire nation, as the estimate is that each person consumes something over eight bushels of wheat per year.

With the present high cost of living these figures are staggering. They indicate that there is something radically wrong in our system of living. Half of this amount would save Belgium for two years and the total would more than provision the entire populace of France.

A proposition has been made by Henry J. Waters, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College abolishing the use of grain for distilling purposes and the attention of the leading men of the country has been turned to this as one of the remedies for food shortage which now seems to be in sight.—Howey Tribune.

A SOUTHERN VOLUNTEER

Yes, Sir, I fought with Stonewall, And faced the fight with Lee, But if this here Union goes to war, Make one more gun for me! I didn't shrink from Sherman As he galloped to the sea; But if this here Union goes to war, Make one more gun for me!

I was with 'em at Manassas— The bully Boys in Gray; I heard the thunders roarin' Round Stonewall Jackson's way, And many a time this sword of mine Has blazed the way for Lee; But if this old nation goes to war, Make one more gun for me.

I'm not so full of fightin' Nor half so full of fun, As I was back in the sixties When I shouldered my old gun; It may be that my hair is white— Such things you know must be,

But if this old Union goes to war, Make one more gun for me.

I hain't forgot my raisin' Nor how in sixty-two, Or thereabouts with battle shouts, I charged the Boys in Blue; And I say I fought with Stonewall, And blazed the way for Lee; And if this old nation goes to war, Make one more gun for me. —Atlanta, Constitution.

PLANT A FIG

Now that we are trying to conserve our foods and raise more foods the idea of pigs enter the field and while The Herald has not been in favor of pigs in the city limits there could be something doing by the city council looking toward a suspension of the present ordinance until the war is over allowing people in certain parts of the city limits to raise pigs. For instance, they could be limited to certain parts of the city and the distance from a residence where they would be obnoxious and certain restrictions about keeping the pens clean and the odors thereof lessened. This paper believes that if pigs could be raised in certain sections of the city and fed scraps from the table supplemented with some corn that we intend to raise that the high cost of living would be cut down considerable. Of course the city council would be expected to use their own judgment about where the pigs could be raised and see that no objection would be raised by adjacent property owners in case the pig man wanted to blossom out into a full fledged hog man and start raising them on a large scale. And again if the ban was raised it would not mean that the present ordinance would be repealed but would be in force again after the war is over and means settle down to their normal price again which will be some time and probably several years. This idea as well as the conservation of fish should be taken up by the city council, the county commissioners and others for it means as much if not more than planting staple crops. Right now if the fish law allowed a citizen of Seminole county to get a barrel of shad or mullet and salt them down said barrel would go a long way towards keeping the wolf from the door next winter.

THE NEWSPAPER OF TODAY

Owen Moon, Jr., of the Trenton N. J. Times, a practical and active publisher, addressed the Trenton Rotary Club on the subject of the modern newspaper and his speech attracted widespread attention because of its keen insight and lofty idealism. He defined the real newspaper of today as one with a social conscience, with social service regarded as its prime duty. He said in part:

"The real newspaper of this day must not only possess a social conscience but must have vision and a mind to analyze. It has to deal not only with news and events but with motives—a newspaper is no longer merely a mirror reflecting only that which your eye can see, but a modern newspaper is radium, seeing through and beyond, picturing the nerves and the heart of human action, as well as the skeletons. Not only must these things be the aim and daily working policy of a real newspaper, but social service must be a duty—only such a paper with public confidence can initiate helpful movements, accept the leadership in betterments and fight for their successful accomplishment. Poor indeed, is a city without a crusader of this sort, for in many instances the limelight of pitiless publicity is the weapon against public and private outlawry, crime and graft."

Fine words and finely spoken. A newspaper that will not dare to give offense less its patronage be endangered and is controlled by a studied policy of pussyfooting on all issues that divide its community is not only worthless as a constructive force, but is a parasite that feeds where it does not nourish.

A newspaper, large or small must have vision, as Mr. Moon says, and that vision should be doubled only by its possibilities of highest public usefulness. A newspaper without ideals and with out the courage or the intelligence to stand for something is a misnomer, and its existence detracts from the high calling of journalism. An organ of this type will spend its days "feeling its way" and never speaks a bold word for worthy movements where there is risk involved is a mouthpiece for its own selfish interests and nothing more. It is not a newspaper, but a lickspittle, incapable of grasping its highest responsibilities. As Mr. Moon says, the constructive work confronting a newspaper is limitless and involves the whole range of movements looking to better government, better living and better citizenship.—Selma (Ala.) Times.

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Tallahassee, April 25.—The newspapers of the South Florida Press Association that carried the Tallahassee correspondence relating to the Savannah attempt to control the naval stores industry of this state have rendered a great service to this industry, in that they have put the operators next to Savannah's game when none of the large dailies of the state saw fit to render this service.

The result has been manifested here to a marked degree. The members of the legislature have begun to hear from the operators. Letters and telegrams are beginning to reach the members and a change of sentiment on the subject of abolishing the inspectors has been brought about. The "Big Squeeze" of Savannah is likely to be put to route in their attempts to restore the old system of inspection under which the Savannah buyer did the inspecting at the Savannah port, without the operator having anything to say in the matter.

Tallahassee, April 25.—The state chemist is going to be the whole thing around Tallahassee if a certain bill introduced yesterday should become a law. The bill is designed to make the Department of Agriculture subordinate to the state chemist and place from $75,000 to $100,000 per annum in the hands of that great functionary to spend as he deems proper in a State Health Department.

It is noticeable that the bill does not repeal the privilege which the present state chemist enjoys of having 10 gallons of high priced oils or a case of canned goods or a box of fruit or a bushel of something else sent to him at the expense of the state as a "sample" for analysis, when often a pint or a quart or a peck would answer every purpose of the ordinary chemist. It requires some sample for an expert.

By the way, the indications are good for a change in the office of state chemist, probably long before the proposed bill becomes a law. In fact the change is liable to occur most any day—and the proposed law isn't.

Tallahassee, April 25.—Certain members of the legislature seem to be getting quite touchy on the subject of newspaper references. The newspaper editor must confine himself to parliamentary language or run the risk of getting himself hauled out in a set of blistering resolutions. He will find the best policy is to speak softly and carry a pacifier.

Monday the Pensacola News referred to certain railroad influences at work here and intimated that some members here might be carrying the paper, contrary to law. Representative Amos Lewis introduced a resolution providing for a committee to investigate the implied charge. The resolutions were adopted.

Of course the News should not have made the implication without sufficient grounds, and it probably did not, but just why a member of Mr. Lewis' standing, like Caesar's wife, is above suspicion, should become wrought up over a newspaper paragraph to the extent of wanting to consume the valuable time of the legislature with so trifling a matter, when no direct charges were made is hard to understand.

Tallahassee, April 25.—Milton A. Smith, editor of the Tallahassee Democrat, published charges of graft against State Printer Apple- yard in his paper today and laid a copy of the Democrat on the desk of each member of the legislature.

The charges are specific and of a serious nature, alleging that Apple- yard has defrauded the state of $100,000, by avoiding his contract with the state.

A committee was immediately appointed to investigate the charges and a full and complete hearing will be given.

Tallahassee, April 25.—Despite the fact that the state tax commission, with the very limited powers it now possesses, has saved the state many times its cost to the state, and in face of the showing that it might have saved the state hundreds of thousands of dollars had it been given the power to enforce its demands against the tax dodgers, the house of representatives today by a vote of 31 to 35 refused to reconsider the bill granting more to the tax commission. This vote is indicative of the sentiment prevailing in the house to abolish the tax commission when the matter is brought up on special order Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The trouble with the tax commission seems to be that it has done too much already. Where it has been unable to enforce a just equalization of taxes between counties it has resorted to a campaign of publicity to expose the tax dodgers and the county assessors and boards of county commissioners which have sought to protect the tax dodgers and thereby make the counties they represent equally guilty with the "slackers" who seek to shirk their just portion of the public tax burden. Having already proved itself one of the best investments the state ever made it now seems doomed to annihilation as a matter of public economy. It has aroused some of the most powerful interests of the state and those interests are here seeking its destruction by organizing the political elements against it.

These elements are three in number: First, the members who always jump to their feet when any proposition is sprung affecting the big corporate interests of the state; Second, the members elected from tax dodging counties on a platform to abolish the tax commission because it made some of those counties "too the mark"; and Third, the members who want to rob the governor of these appointive offices as a matter of political revenge. The last named is the distiest element in the political history of the state. They seem ready to sacrifice almost any public interest if such sacrifice means a chance to slap "Old Catts" in the face.

It does not appear likely at this time that this political combine will be able to get the measure abolishing the tax commission through the senate. While this body does not seem less unfriendly to the governor it is composed of men of more sober and conservative judgment.

Tallahassee, April 25.—The third week of the session of the legislature began with a great deal of political unrest and excitement, but the seas are getting calm again and the threatened tornado gives indications of having subsided.

For several days it has been secretly whispered about that the senate was playing a coup d'etat that would solve the problem of the executive appointments, which certain senators had determined would not be made by the present governor and bills had been framed to take away from the governor the appointive offices and place them with the board of state institutions. The attorney general gave out an opinion that such bill would be clearly unconstitutional as the Constitution vested this appointive power in the Chief Executive. This opinion had the effect to puzzle but not to pacify the opponents of the administration.

The next plot rumored about was the coup to have the senate impeach the governor on some trumped up charge, and while the trial was pending the president of the senate, serving as governor, would make all the appointments. The appointments would be confirmed and then the impeachment charges would be dismissed and all would be well. We have no positive proof that any particular member of the senate was connected with this plot.

We know that the governor had several thousands of friends all over this state who were waiting for the summons to the capital to come in autos and on trains and bring with them whatever it might take to put this plot and the plotters out of business. You can begin to realize how serious matters were getting here when the friends of the governor did not know what minute ten thousand might be called here to help him hold the office to which a majority of that number elected him and are just as determined as ever to see that he gets a square deal.

Do Not Plow Food Under I want to ask all of our farmers to notify the Sanford Herald when they intend to plow down a field of beans, squash, cucumbers, peppers or tomatoes, as well as celery-culls, when they are through shipping, and permit people who have not these vegetables to go to their fields and get them.

In this way thousands of cans of vegetables will be saved and I know of many people from outside of our garden district where drought has prevented an abundant supply of vegetables who wish to avail themselves of this for canning purposes. C. M. Berry, County Agent.

Presbyterian Church The subject of the Sunday morning sermon by the pastor will be "The Eleventh Commandment." Rev. F. M. Baldwin will preach Sunday night at 7:30. Dr. Brownlee goes in the afternoon to Oakland to install Rev. J. F. McKinnon as pastor of that church at night.

At the morning service five minutes will be devoted to some prayers by Billie Sunday used in the New York campaign now in progress.

WOMAN'S CLUB Club Calendar: Wednesday, May 2—Business meeting, Household Economics.

This will be the last regular meeting of the season. In October the meetings of the Club will be resumed, the new officers will be inducted into office and the regular club year will begin. Members should bear in mind that the representation of the Woman's Club of Sanford at the Federation meeting in November will depend entirely upon the number of names who appear and not upon the names upon the roll. It should also be remembered that dues are payable at the October business meeting. This is the expiration of the time allowed for dues. It would greatly facilitate the work of the treasurer and business of the club in general if the dues are paid at the meeting in May.

Job for a Versatile Man. According to a London paper, the Lady's Magazine for 1789 contained the following comprehensive advertisement: "Wanted, for a sober family, a man of light weight who fears the Lord and can drive a pair of horses. He must occasionally wait at table, join in household prayer, look after horses, and read a chapter in the Bible. He must rise at seven in the morning, obey his master and mistress in all lawful commands, and if he can dress hair, sing psalms, and play at cribbage, so much the better. Wages, fifteen guineas a year."

Japanese House Dance Surrounded with the charm and beauty of wonderfully pretty Japanese decorations and the tinkling music of Oriental wind bells, the house dance given on Friday evening last, by Miss Margaret Cadwallader and Dr. Ralph Stevens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stevens was a prominent social event and a distinctively charming affair. In all the arrangements the Japanese note prevailed. Overhead big Japanese umbrellas were suspended from the center of the room from which ropes of grey moss extended to the corners. From these hung Japanese banners. The dining room was converted into a fairylike bower with all the fascinating charm of Japanese art. Between the library and dining room the entrance was defined by a lattice interlaced with vines. Over all hung hundreds of Japanese lanterns. In this lovely bower punch was served by Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. J. M. Wallace and Miss Charlie Seay wearing Japanese costumes. The porches were also hung with lanterns and screened with vines. The favor of this beautiful dance were tiny fans for the ladies and Japanese coins for the gentlemen. Music was furnished by the Lyric Orchestra, which in addition to the dance music rendered a program of patriotic airs, opening with the "Star Spangled Banner." Contrary to the usual custom refreshments were served after the dancing. It was one of the prettiest of the house dances of the season. Seventy-five invitations were issued.

After the play, "The Tides of Barnegat," featured by Blanche Sweet, the party returned to the home of Mrs. Morgan for refreshments. #### Ships Made in Jax

Jacksonville, April 24.—The Times Union says: It is given out on good authority that at least thirty-eight ships have been contracted for in Jacksonville, to be built within the current year; and that more ship yards are to be put in and additional contracts handed out in this city.

There seems to be no grounds for fear that the coming year will be a dull one for this city, as there must of necessity be a large force of well paid workmen on the combined fleet that is to be built here.

No one is authorized to speak positively, that is, no definite statement as to the exact number contracted for would be given out in many instances, but it is generally considered that the following is about what has been accomplished by the five men of the city in the past few months:

Contracts for five submarine chasers, Gibbs Gas Engine Company; twelve wooden ships of 3,000 tons, Hillier, Sperring, Dunn Company; ten wooden ships, cargo carriers up to 3,000 tons, Cumber Lumber Co.; six wooden ships up to 3,000 tons, J. S. Baxter & Co., five steel hulls with equipment, upward of 3,000 tons, errill Stevens Company.

Additional inquiries are being made for locations suitable for ship building here and both sides of the river for miles up and down have been found available in most every respect for this week.

It is believed that Jacksonville will become the center of the ship building activities of the south and that Gen. Goethals himself will devote some of his time to this place.

To All Who Can Produce or Save Food

Dr. Beverly T. Galloway, assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, and in charge of the department's emergency measures for dealing with the agricultural situation, has issued the following statement:

"The following letter issued by the British Premier, David Lloyd George, while addressed to the people of England, conveys advice distinctly applicable to the United States and which should be heeded by every one who can do anything to produce food or save food from waste:

10 Downing Street,
Whitehall, S. W.
March 5th, 1917.

Dear Sir:

We have now reached a crisis in the war when to ensure victory, the heroism of our armies at the front must be backed by the self sacrifice and tireless labor of everyone at home. To this end, the production of each quarter of wheat and oats; and of each bushel of potatoes is of vital importance. The work of the next few weeks must decide the harvest of the year; and in the nation's interest I urge you, at whatever personal sacrifice, to overcome all obstacles, to throw your fullest energies into the work, and to influence and encourage all who assist you, so that every possible acre shall be sown.

The imperative demands of the war have made it impossible to avoid calling up men fit for active service, even though skilled in farming. As far as possible this is being met by bringing up on the land men and women from other industries. They cannot be expected to do work equal to that of men expert in agriculture, but there is no time for delay and the Government is confident that farmers will at once step forward and do all in their power to utilize their services to the best advantage.

The farmers of this country can defeat the German submarine and when they do so they destroy the last hope of the Prussian.

Yours faithfully,
D. Lloyd George.

BRYAN BILL BECOMES A LAW

KNOCKS OUT ALL THE CLUBS IN ALL DRY COUNTIES

Tallahassee, April 24.—Governor Catts this morning signed what is generally known here as the Bryan club bill. It was introduced in the senate by Senator McEachern and it was the senate bill that first passed. When it reached the house it was substituted for Mr. Bryan's House Bill No. 30. On the final passage of the bill in the house some slight changes were made by Mr. Bryan, strengthening the bill, under advice from the attorney general, so it was stated by Mr. Bryan at the time.

On account of the widespread interest in the bill, which, by its terms, went into effect immediately upon being signed this morning, it is given herewith, the amendments having been inserted.

As will be seen, the bill only affects dry counties in the state. It reads as follows:

An act prohibiting the manufacture of alcoholic, spirituous, vinous, malt and intoxicating liquors and beverages and certain non-intoxicating liquors and beverages, traffic therein and keeping on hand in public places or for illegal sale in counties or election precincts that have or may hereafter vote against the sale of liquor.

Specifically defining and enumerating the liquors and beverages and classes of liquor and beverages that shall hereafter be construed as embraced within the prohibitions of this act; specifically enumerating the persons and classes of persons to whom, and the places and classes of places in which, such manufacture, traffic and keeping on hand are, or hereafter shall be prohibited. Forbidding the keeping or maintaining, or in the aiding of the keeping or maintaining, of any place or resort where such liquors or beverages are kept to be drunk on the premises by persons resorting there for that purpose, or any club room or other place where such liquors and beverages are received or kept for barter, sale, use or gift as a beverage, or for distribution or division among the members of any club or room; for or of any association where such liquors or beverages are kept for the purpose of being consumed by the members thereof or their guests or other persons, either on the premises or near the same, or any place adjacent to or near such premises, where such members or others may resort for such purposes:

Declaring to be common nuisances certain enumerated places and classes of places where anti-liquor laws are evaded or violated and providing for their abatement as such by prohibiting the keeping or storage of such liquors and beverages by prescribing, for judges, grand jurors and other public officers and private citizens, certain duties, looking to the better and more effective enforcement of the laws to promote temperance and suppress the evils of intemperance, and by abolishing all property rights in such liquors or beverages, by providing for abatement, injunctions and other remedial proceedings when necessary to enforce the laws to promote temperance and suppress the evils of intemperance, and by prescribing the rules of evidence relative to judicial proceedings in said matters.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. That the term "prohibited liquors and beverages," whether used in this act or in any other acts to promote temperance or to suppress the evils of intemperance, shall include and be deemed to embrace the following:

First.—Alcohol, alcoholic liquors, spirituous liquors and all mixed liquors, any part of which is spirituous, foreign or domestic spirits, or rectified or distilled spirits, absinthe, whiskey, brandy, rum and gin.

Second.—Vinous liquors and beverages.

Third.—All malted, fermented or liquors of any name or description, manufactured from malt wholly or in part, such as beer, lager beer, near beer, porter or ale, and all brewed or fermented liquors and beverages in which maltose is a substantial ingredient, whether alcoholic or not or whether intoxicating or not.

Fourth.—And any drinks, liquors or beverages containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol or more by volume at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, or any other liquids or liquors manufactured or sold, or otherwise disposed of for beverage purposes, containing said amount of one-half of one per cent of alcohol or more.

Fifth.—Any intoxicating bitters or beverages by whatever name called of this act.

Sixth.—All liquors or beverages of drinks made in imitation of or intended as a substitute for beer, ale, wine or whiskey, or other alcoholic or spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, including those liquors or beverages commonly known and called near beer.

Sec. 2. That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or association of persons, or corporations in any county or election precinct in this state where the sale of intoxicating liquors is now or may hereafter be prohibited by laws of this state, to manufacture, sell, offer for sale, keep for sale, barter, furnish at public places, keep on hand at a place, of this act, or any of them in any quantity at any time. Provided, that this inhibition does not include, and nothing in this act shall affect the social serving of such liquors and beverages in private residences in ordinary social intercourse. Provided, further, that nothing in this act shall affect the present laws of Florida relating to the rights of druggists to handle alcohol and its compounds. Provided further, that nothing in this act shall prohibit the manufacture by any one family of domestic wine for family use, in quantities not exceeding five gallons in any one year.

Sec. 3. That any violation of any provision of Section One of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment within the discretion of the court.

Sec. 4. That from and after the taking effect of this act, it shall not be lawful for any county that has voted against the sale of intoxicating liquors, nor any municipality therein, to license the sale, dealing in, or furnishing any of the said prohibited or beverages, including imitations or substitutes thereof.

Sec. 5. That it shall be unlawful for any person, corporation, firm or association of persons in any county of election precinct in this state that has voted against the sale of intoxicating liquors, directly or indirectly to keep or maintain or in any manner to aid or abet in keeping or maintaining any of the following places, which are hereby declared to be unlawful drinking places and common nuisances:

First.—Any place or resort where the liquors or beverages mentioned in Section One of this act, or any of them, are kept to be drunk upon or about the premises by persons resorting there for that purpose.

Second.—Any club room or other place in which such liquors or beverages are received or kept for barter, use or gift as a beverage, or for distribution or division among or to be furnished or to be used by members of any club or association of persons, by any means whatever, the prohibited liquors and beverages, or any of them referred to in Section One of this act.

Third.—Any club room or room for or of any association of persons in which said liquors or beverages, or any of them, are kept or stored for the purpose of being drunk or consumed by the members of such club or other association of persons, or their guests or others, on the premises, or at, or near, the place where such liquors or beverages, or any of them are kept or stored.

Fourth.—Any place adjacent to or near the premises of any club, corporation or association, or other combination of persons, to which members or their guests, or others by permission of members, resort for the purpose of drinking said liquors and beverages, or any of them, that are kept at or near such places. Any of the places herein designated if kept and maintained shall be and constitute an unlawful drinking place, and the act of keeping and maintaining any such room or place shall be deemed a separate offense for each day that it continues.

Sec. 6. Any place or room kept or maintained in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be a common nuisance and may be abated by writ of injunction issued out of the circuit court upon a bill filed by the attorney general of the state or by the county prosecuting attorney, or by any citizen or citizens of such county; such bill to be filed in the county in which the nuisance exists. And all rules of evidence and the practice and procedure to proceedings in equity generally in the state may be invoked and applied in any injunction procedure hereunder.

Sec. 7. That if any person shall let or suffer any other person, persons, firm or corporation to use any premises which he owns or controls, for the illegal sale, keeping for sale, manufacture, or other unlawful dispositions of the liquors and beverages mentioned in section one of this act, or any of them shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than one hundred ($100) dollars, or be imprisoned not more than three (3) months, or shall be both fined or imprisoned.

Sec. 8. That the unlawful manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale, or disposition of any of the liquors and beverages mentioned in Section One of this act contrary to the law of this state, shall at the option of the landlord, work a forfeiture of the rights of any lessee or tenant under any lease or contract, for rent of the premises where such unlawful act is performed by the lessee or tenant, or any agent, servant, clerk or employee of the lessee or tenant, with the latter's knowledge or permission.

Sec. 9. That the keeping of the liquors or beverages or any of them, mentioned in Section One of this act, in any building not exclusively used for a dwelling, shall be prima facie evidence that they are kept for sale, or with intent to dispose of same contrary to law.

Sec. 10. That the delivery of such liquors and beverages mentioned in Section One of this act, or any of them in any county or election precinct that has or shall hereafter vote against the sale of liquor from any store, shop, warehouse, boat, or other vessel or vehicle of any kind, or from any shanty or tent or building or place used for the purpose of traffic, or any dwelling house or dependency thereof, if any part of the same is used as a public eating house, grocery store or other place of common resort, shall be prima facie evidence of a sale or other unlawful disposition.

Sec. 11. That the following are hereby declared to be common nuisances, and may be abated as such, upon complaint of the attorney general, of the state's attorney of the circuit, or the county prosecuting attorney; or any citizen, or citizens of the county.

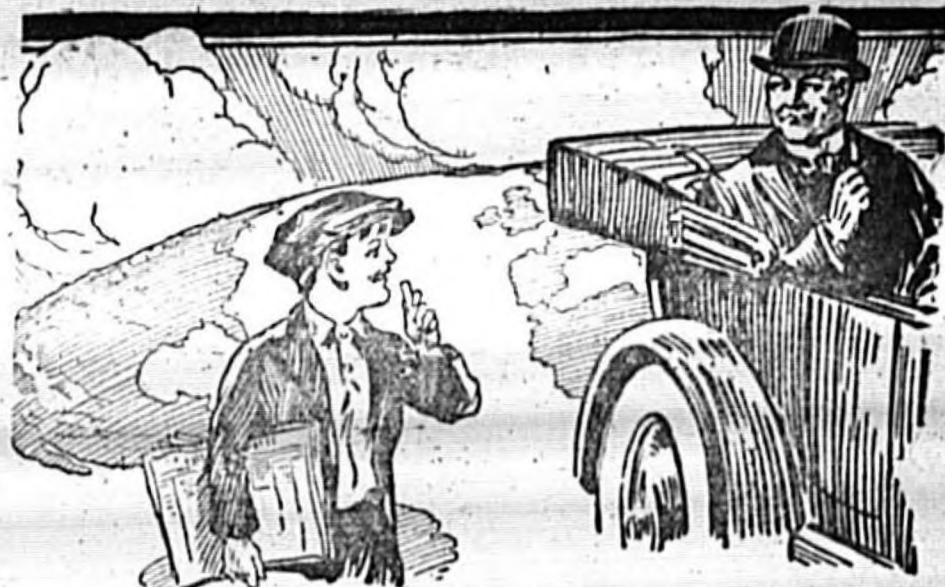

First. Any room or structure used for the unlawful manufacture, sale, keeping for sale or other unlawful disposition of the liquors and beverages mentioned in section one of this act, or any of them.

Second. All places of resort where persons are permitted to resort for the purpose of drinking such liquors or beverages or any of them, mentioned in Section One of this act, on or about the premises.

Third. Any public eating house where the said liquors or beverages, or any of them, mentioned in Section One of this act are sold or served for the beverage purposes.

Sec. 12. That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or association or corporation in any county or election precinct in this state that has or shall hereafter vote against the sale of liquor, to receive for storage, distribution or on consignment for another, the said liquors and beverages mentioned in Section One of this act, or any of them, or to have and maintain any warehouse or other place for receiving, storing or disposition of said liquors for another, and any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than five hundred ($500) dollars.
