Faith's Challenge

There is something very special about a boy and his dog. The dog so obviously wants nothing more than to devote his life to his small master. He takes his boy on faith . . . and, inevitably, the boy lives up to it.

For faith creates a challenge. If someone believes something good of you, you find yourself eager to measure up to that standard.

God looks for the best in all of us. Regardless of what may have happened yesterday we are, today, welcome in His Church. He has faith in us. Should we have less than faith in Him?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VOL. 56 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 MONDAY, JULY 20, 1964 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 237

Jerry Covington, popular local songster, is playing the part of Earthquake McGoon in Orange Blossom Playhouse's production, 'I'll Abner. Also in the cast as Pappy Yokum is Curtis Dunaway, well known about Sanford for his activities around the court house not long ago.

City Hall records show the renewal of the Florida Hotel license for 1964. Florida Hotel? Hey, that's the one that was on the corner of S. Park Avenue and E. Second Street and that was torn down to make way for the Sanford Atlantic Bank's parking lot. So, where's the Florida Hotel? Somebody told us it is now at Fifth Street and Oak Avenue in what in bygone days was called Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital. But there's no sign "Florida Hotel" - just roomers, the neighbors say.

How one improvement can lead to another is shown by the "new look" on the Southward Building just north of the new city parking lot at First and Park. Workmen have been using a new process known as "color-crete," which is a sprayed-on colored cement, a sort of a modern "stucco." It looks very neat and the owners are to be commended for their prompt reaction. We understand a nice redwood fence will also be erected there.

One thing about running out of gas in a boat - you can't get out and walk to the nearest gas station. A young Sanford bridegroom, honeymooning on his boat, had this happen to him. Ironically it was almost within shooting distance of the boat dock. A Good Samaritan city commissioner came along and gave the stalled bridegroom boatman a tow.

St. Clair Cameron, former Sanford man and brother of Mrs. Elmore Graddick of this city, was recently elected to the City Council of Fayetteville, Ga. A year previously, Cameron missed election by six votes. This year he polled more votes than any other candidate in the city election. Cameron, well known in this city, was a recent visitor. He is a graduate of Seminole High, president of his class for three years. For several years he was a manager of teams in the Lions Club junior baseball program.

One thing about Barry Goldwater. You know where he stands, regardless of whether you agree with him or not. At least that's the consensus of most Sanford people with whom we've talked since the Arizona Senator's nomination in San Francisco.

We estimate we've asked 12 to 15 localites for whom they'd vote - that is if Goldwater faces Johnson in November (and that's a pretty fair assumption). All but two said they'd go with Goldwater.

It was in 1948 that eastern and western elements of both the Democratic and Republican parties couldn't understand why the southern delegates to the respective conventions were threatening to walk out over planks in the platforms and the party tickets.

Now it appears the situation is changed. At San Francisco, for example, it's the eastern element of the Republican party which doesn't like the ticket and won't say whether or not it'll give its support. Strange thing . . . politics.

30th Annual Forestry Camp Under Way

One swallow doesn't make a summer . . . and one summer doesn't make a forester. But the 250 Florida Future Farmers of America who attend the 30th annual Forestry Training Camp this year will have a chance to learn some of the work's principles of forestry and forest conservation.

The oldest camp of its kind in the nation, Forestry Training Camp starts July 12 at O'Leary State Park near High Springs. Divided into two intensive one-week sessions, FFC is sponsored by the Florida Forest Service, Florida's forest products industries, and Florida Future Farmers of America.

The campers are vocational agriculture students from throughout the state. Counselors and instructors at the camp are staff personnel of the Forest Service, industrial foresters, visiting instructors from the University of Florida, Florida School of Forestry, and vocation instructors.

Each week, the youth receive field and class instruction in forestry methods. Though the delegates do not emerge as "foresters," the practical knowledge which they gain will prove helpful to them later in managing their own farm woodlands. They learn "how" to solve some forestry problems, but they also learn which problems require technical solutions, and how such assistance can be obtained.

Tropical forestry, gum farming, forest fire prevention and control, farm forestry, tree identification, and wildlife study make up part of the busy camp schedule.

Suspect Shot Dead; Four Others Seized

A short, violent gun battle early this morning left one man dead and resulted in the apprehension of four others when they were caught inside the Line Inn at Maitland.

Neither the identity of the dead man nor that of the other four could be learned today, police officials said.

The live wire spotted inside the inn which had been entered by breaking iron bars over a window. The safe was opened and it is believed the men received only $29 for their effort.

The dead man was shot outside the establishment as he fled on foot. The other four were shot. The gunning victim was dead on arrival at an Orange County hospital.

The uproar occurred at about 4 a. m. today.

The arrest came when the woman was stopped as she was driving from Osteen to DeLand on the old Lake Helen Road. Search of the car revealed six gallons of moonshine in the trunk.

Velno reports that the still was discovered several weeks ago in a 12 by 12 foot shed in the backyard of the Mitchell home about one mile east of Osteen on the Oak Hill Road and had been kept under surveillance since that time. Immediately following the arrest, officers destroyed the 40 gallon still which was said to be capable of producing 10 gallons of moonshine per week. Also destroyed were 100 gallons of mash and four gallons of low grade moonshine.

The woman's husband is paralyzed and confined to his bed and she has been operating the still and transporting the moonshine alone.

Catapulted Off Carrier Plane Sinks

Two Naval officers, including a prominent Sanford aviator, were killed Sunday when their twin-jet A3B Skywarrior attack bomber crashed seconds after a catapult launch from the aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Tyrrhenian Sea.

Two other crewmen were injured. Fatally injured was the pilot, Cmdr. Barton W. Bartholomew, 39, commanding officer of VAH-11 of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Also killed was Lt. Arnold J. Goldstein of Cecil Field NAS, near Jacksonville, Fla. Goldstein, a flight surgeon on the Carrier Air Wing One staff, was assigned to the flight as an observer.

The bombardier-navigator, Lt. Dale C. Purdy of 128 Coleman Circle, Sanford, and Third Crewman, CPO Roland H. Pritchett of 2331 South Park Ave., were rescued at sea, after escaping from the aircraft with "moderate injuries."

Officials of the USS Roosevelt reported that the aircraft settled into the sea about 500 yards ahead of the ship after what appeared to be a normal catapult launch at 5 p. m., ship's time (11 a. m. EST).

The Roosevelt and VAH-11 have been operating in the Mediterranean Sea with the U. S. Sixth Fleet since early May.

Cmdr. Bartholomew, a 21-year veteran Navy pilot, assumed command of the squadron shortly before the deployment. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Phyllis Kay Bartholomew and two children, all of Lake Mary and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jay Bartholomew, of Fremo, Calif.

Lt. Goldstein's survivors include his widow, Mrs. John I. Goldstein, of Cleveland, Ohio, and his mother, Mrs. Helen A. Arnold, of Wadsworth, Ohio.

Farm Safety Week Marked In Seminole

Recognizing the need for emphasis upon safety and the farm and home the Seminole County Extension Service offices are conducting a full scale "War on farm and home accidents" during Farm Safety Week, this week.

Each day a different theme will be selected and information presented to the public. Today the theme is Safety Begins at Home; Tuesday, Agricultural Chemicals; Wednesday, Prevent Falls; Thursday, Rural Highway Safety; Friday, Farm Machinery; and Saturday, Recreational Safety.

"One of the two highlights of the week's activities," says Cecil Tucker, County Agricultural Agent, "will be the farm and home safety kit of publications made available to the public free for the asking."

These kits contain such publications as "Tips on Farm and Home Safety," "Poisonous Plants Around the Home," "Rescue Breathing and Heart Compression," "First Aid Tips," "Home Safety Check List" and others. A "must" for every safety conscious home, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent.

The second highlight of the week will be the inauguration of a campaign of promoting the use of slow moving vehicle emblems on farm tractors, wagons and machinery. Tucker said he felt this program would be of considerable importance and lasting value not only from the standpoint of safety to the farm operator and highway motorist, but as a good public relations program as well.

"According to Florida's Farm Safety Specialists," Tucker said, "the sponsorship of the 'Slow Moving Vehicle' emblem in Seminole County is the first in Florida." Ohio was the pilot state on the vehicle emblem program.

County Millage Rate Due For 1.07 Rise

By Julian Stenstrom
Unless a public hearing scheduled for Aug. 11 dictates a change, the tax millage rate for Seminole County will be increased by 1.07 mills for the 1964-65 tax year.

The Board of County Commissioners has a tentatively adopted 1964-65 budget calling for receipts and expenditures amounting to $2,325,475 — an increase of $231,719 over the 1963-64 total of $2,093,756.

But the county budget calls for no change in the current rate of 6 mills. The budget tentatively adopted by the County's Board of Public Instruction last week called for a millage rate of 9.32 mills or 1.07 mills above the current rate of 8.25.

This means the total millage rate for Seminole County in 1964-65 will be 15.32 mills. Millage rates for the various sections of the county budget are as follows: General Fund, 1.10 mills — a decrease from the current 1.24; the Fire and Forestry Fund, .55 mills — a decrease from .91; Road and Bridge Fund, 2.17 mills — an increase from 1.60; Interest and Sinking Fund, .57 — an increase from .56; Hospital, 1.40 — an increase from .82; and the Health Department, .21 — the same as the current year.

Residents in the Lake Mary Fire District will have an increase from .1 to .15 mills. The largest sectional increase in the budget is the jump from 1.66 mills to 2.17 for Seminole Memorial Hospital. Clerk Arthur Beckwith explained today that this is due to the first of three annual installments calling for a total of $350,000.

One third of this figure, or $116,700 is appropriated in the 1964-65 budget. The $350,000 will enable the hospital to obtain $650,000 in federal funds through the Hill-Burton Act for the $1 million hospital expansion program recently approved by the County Commission.

The County Commission will act as a Board of Equalization on Aug. 3 and will hold the public hearing on the budget Aug. 11.

Board To Meet
Hal Colbert, chairman of the County's Board of Adjustment, will convene the board at 7:30 tonight for its monthly meeting. The session will be held in the County Commission chamber at the Courthouse.

Court Calls For Better Florida Apportioning Plan

MIAMI (UPI) — The United States Supreme Court today ordered a three-judge tribunal back to work on a fair apportionment plan for the Florida Legislature.

A mandate from the high court reached the Dade county courthouse this morning. The mandate ordered the U. S. Court for the Southern District of Florida to improve on the 43-senator, 112-representatives plan passed by the Florida Legislature at a special session last year and approved by the district court.

The U. S. Supreme Court on June 22 ruled that the Florida Legislature must be fairly apportioned strictly on a population basis. It said the plan approved during last year's 20-day special session of the Legislature did not do this.

The ruling and today's mandate favored Miami Attorney Richard Max Swann, who filed suit for fairer representation and who charged that the Legislature's plan still was "invidiously discriminatory" against populous areas.

The mandate said the tribunal's approval of the plan was "reversed and the same is remanded to the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida for further proceedings in conformity with the opinion of this court."

The next step will be a session of the three-judge panel. Judges David W. Dyer of Miami, William A. McIlwain Jr. of Jacksonville and Justice Warren L. Jones of the fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Deltona School Bell Installed

By Mildred Haney
The recently acquired bell for "Deltona U," a school primarily designed for the purpose of housing the Adult Education groups and the Agent's Training Course, has a history that is as faded as the type of school in which it was used. However, certain facts have been preserved and are as follows:
The bell was forged in West Troy, N. Y., in 1850, to be used on a locomotive serving the countryside between New York and Florida. It served in this capacity for approximately 25 years. Upon its retirement, it became part of a picturesque one-room school house near Pierson. For 50 years it was a daily part of the school life of countless numbers of children, and upon the passing of the one-room school house era, the bell was cast aside for an approximate period of 30 years.

It was through the interest and ingenuity of Zeral Mallard, director of Adult Education, that this bell came to be a part of "Deltona U." It will hang in the belfry of the "Little Red Schoolhouse," a building just being completed adjacent to the Community Center in Deltona.

The bell will be shined and polished and will ring once more, beckoning those with a desire to learn.

Seminole Headed For New Growth Cycle

By Julian Stenstrom
Seminole County is apparently headed for another growth cycle.
At least that's the belief of Walter Teague, administrative assistant to Seminole County Schools Superintendent R. T. Milwee.

Teague, who can lay his hands on more statistics in five minutes than a reporter could write about in a month, bases his predictions on past experiences.
Take school enrollment, for example. Teague says it's normal for the number of pupils in our school system to hit a peak about the third month of the school year. After that it begins a downward trend for the remainder of the year.

In the first month of the last school year there were 14,412 children enrolled in the county system. It jumped to 14,529 the second month and the next month to 14,719.

The monthly enrollment figure then began its gradual slide downward, that is until the seventh month when suddenly an increase turned up in the elementary schools.

"According to our experience," says Teague, "this is an indication of a growth cycle."

Seminole County grew in population and enrollment during the past school year over the previous year. Teague explained:
"We had 139 more pupils in

average daily attendance in 1963-64 than we did during the 1962-63 school year."

That's a substantial increase—in fact, far more than the average enrollment of an entire elementary school in Seminole.

And the board anticipates another year of increased enrollment. That's why the system has had to employ an additional 31 teachers for the 1964-65 school year.

And, of course, it is also a reason why school board members were forced to increase the millage from a total of 8.10 mills to 8.32 mills, a hike of 1.07 mills.

Southern GOPs, Some Demos Hail Wallace Withdrawal

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Southern Republicans, and some Democrats, today hailed the withdrawal of Alabama Gov. George Wallace as a candidate for President as a big boost to the campaign of Republican Barry Goldwater.

Goldwater, himself, said he was "surprised" and offered no other comment.

Wallace announced his withdrawal Sunday in Washington. He sat back today to await the outcome of the national Democratic convention before deciding where his support will fall in the November presidential election.

Wallace, a Democrat, said he pulled out of the race because he had got his message of conservatism across to both parties.

In his withdrawal statement on a television program, Wallace put both parties on notice. He said that no one can be elected who makes a "whipping boy" out of the South and that if President Johnson "does not represent the South he will not be elected."

"The people of the South are going to wipe the smiles off the face of some of the liberals in this country," Wallace said in an attack against the federal court system, news media and politicians who he said were trying to use the South.

Some political observers viewed the withdrawal as a face-saving gesture for Wallace, who had been under increasing pressure to bow out of the campaign so southern conservatives could unite behind Goldwater.

"I'll be with you boys again after the convention," Wallace told a news conference.

Goldwater's Positions In Brief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Here are Sen. Barry Goldwater's positions, in brief, on major issues based on his public statements:

Nuclear testing: Opposed nuclear test ban treaty on grounds that Russians have dishonored previous agreements and because it might give them a weapons development edge. Favors seeking some changes in treaty and has said he could conceive of situations in which the United States should abrogate it.

United Nations: Supports the United Nations as a means of fostering peace, and calls it a "useful forum" even if it does not now achieve its goals. Favors revisions in voting system, possibly to give stronger voice to larger nations or those who pay most of U.N. costs.

Foreign Aid: Favors military and technical assistance to foreign allies, but has "serious questions" about economic aid. Objects to "diluting" impact of aid by trying to help too many countries. Opposes aid to Communist countries.

Recognition of Russia: Proposes raising possibility of withdrawing diplomatic recognition of Russia as a cold war bargaining device. Says he would ask the Senate before deciding to cut off relations.

Civil Rights: Opposed 1964 civil rights bill on grounds that public accommodations and employment sections were unconstitutional, but voted for 1957 law and supported 1960 measure, calls for "rigorous enforcement" of voting and property rights and equal protection of the law.

Taxes: Opposed 1964 tax cut on grounds that it would foster inflation without cutbacks in federal spending. Favors tax rate revision and tense study of "better and more equitable ways" to raise revenue. Does not favor abolition of income taxes.

Social Security: Favors "a sound Social Security system," but opposes adding "unnecessary new burdens" such as medical care for the aged.

Education: Opposes federal aid to grade and high schools, but says such aid should go to parochial as well as public schools if ever granted. Favors tax concessions for school levies and college expenses.

Sen. Smith Has Reservations

DETROIT (UPI) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith R-Maine refused Sunday night to give her unqualified personal endorsement to Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, but got in step with the Arizona senator's foreign policy attacks on the Johnson administration.

Asked if she gave her "unqualified endorsement to the Republican presidential nominee," the lady from Maine told United Press International, "I wouldn't put it that way. Let's say that I'm a Republican, and as such I accept the decision of the Republican majority and will support all the nominees."

Earlier, in her first public appearance since the Republican national convention, Sen. Smith told an audience of about 4,000 persons that foreign policy decisions should not be delayed "until after the elections for fear of losing votes."

That Blooming 'Jim Brevis'!

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala. (UPI)—Marine scientists are ganging up with computers and new analyzing studies to seek a solution to block the dread fish-killing red tide.

Authorities report that a new study on the subject has been made by an Alabama marine biologist and turned over to the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

The red tide is caused by a microscopic one-celled protozoan with animal and plant characteristics bearing the hefty name gymnodinium brevis. It is known more as "Jim Brevis" to the scientists devoted to finding a way of stopping its bloom, which kills fish by the millions.

It is generally found year-round in the waters off the Florida west coast, and is harmless in its natural state. But occasionally, for a reason as yet undiscovered, "Jim Brevis" begins to bloom.

When this happens, the waters usually turn a soupy red color caused by the reproduction of billions upon billions of the tiny creatures. And when they die from a lack of oxygen in the water, "Jim Brevis" excretes a poison which is deadly to the fish.

Scientists Ganging Up On Fish Killer

The new study was completed by Dr. George A. Rounsefell, director of the University of Alabama's Marine Research lab here. Research biologist Walter Nelson works with him on the $22,000 project.

The report was turned over to Dr. James Sykes, director of the fisheries lab in St. Petersburg. He said the study was part of a continuing effort to find a way to control the tide.

Capital 'B' Please

Fellow went into a radio store the other day. After examining and listening to the models on display, paying no particular attention to their makes, he selected the one which seemed to him to offer the best combination of good looks, good workmanship, good tone and good price.

When he was handed the radio in its carton, prominently emblazoned on it were the words "Product of Japan."

The man, a veteran of the Pacific war, didn't bat an eye, though he was old enough to remember the days when the words "Made in Japan"— usually small and hidden away somewhere on an article—were synonymous with shoddy. People used to search out the label in order to avoid buying Japanese goods, and not because of ideological reasons.

Today the Japanese have captured, through peaceful initiative, not military might, a large share of the market in precision-made products such as radios, cameras and electronic and optical equipment once dominated by the Germans and Americans.

That's how long ago World War II was fought—not just a couple decades but a whole era.

Japan In A New Era

Scotland has its Scotch, Canada and Ireland their own whiskeys, France its Cognac brandy. Now the United States has its Bourbon.

Note that it's spelled with a capital "B"—the result of a concurrent congressional resolution honoring Bourbon as "a distinctive product of the United States."

What it means is that Bourbon will henceforth be internationally recognized and protected, as are the other national drinks, from the manufacture, importation and sale of imitations.

Fittingly, 1964 marks the 176th anniversary of the first concoction of Bourbon in the wilderness of Kentucky in 1789 by the Rev. Elijah Craig, who delved into things spirituous as well as spiritual.

Deriving its name from Bourbon County, Ky., where it was originally produced, the whiskey is now made in other parts of the United States. A lot of farmers, bottle manufacturers, label printers, stopper makers and interested friends will probably raise a glass in memory of the good reverend.

Breaking The Chain

If we and our children expect to get from one place to another in the future we must do either of two things:

— Multiply our road system indefinitely in a hapless effort to provide space for expanding millions of private cars.

— Or work out an effective system of mass transportation for our communities.

It comes as a hopeful sign to millions of beleaguered commuters that the U. S. House of Representatives has approved a $375 million mass transit bill designed to break the stranglehold of traffic and to help cities expand or modernize their transit systems.

Those long lines of bumpers stretching into the distance shrouded in exhaust fumes have become a fixture in our urban society. To sever this metallic chain will require determination and work. It is time to begin.

Thought For Today

The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament proclaims his handiwork.—Psalm 19:1.

If I were to name the three most precious resources of life, I should say books, friends and nature; and the greatest of these, at least the most constant and always at hand, is nature.—John Burroughs, American naturalist.

Start Made In Zanzibar

In Zanzibar, black African nationalists are waging a dramatic struggle to turn back a Soviet and Red Chinese bid to make of the tiny spice island a Communist bridgehead to the whole of east Africa.

It is a struggle largely lost in the days of colonial battles for Cyprus, South Viet Nam or Indonesia's confrontation with Malaysia.

But it is significant and becomes the more so because Africans themselves have recognized communism's threat to new-found freedoms.

It is being led by mild-mannered Tanganyika President Julius K. Nyerere, who on April 23 engineered the merger of Zanzibar with Tanganyika for the beginning of what he hopes will be an east African federation composed of Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Kenya and, finally, Uganda.

At the start, not much would have been given for the chances of the merger's ultimate success, and even now the issue remains in doubt.

Zanzibar obtained its independence from Britain last December and was in existence scarcely a month before its government fell to armed revolt.

Prominent among the revolutionaries were fighters trained in Communist Cuba.

High up in their leadership were Abdullah Kassim Haq, Moscow-trained, and Abdul Rahman Mohammed, a Sumbawa known as Babu, trained in Peking and a devoted admirer of Red China's Mao Tse-tung and Cuba's "Che" Guevara.

In the new "People's Republic of Zanzibar," Babu became minister of external affairs and defense and Haq a vice president under President Abdulla Amani Karume, it was widely held, was but a figurehead.

But with Babu out of the country on a shopping mission to Peking, it was with Karume that Nyerere engineered the surprise coup that linked Zanzibar with Tanganyika and undertook the first step to block Communist influence.

Success for Nyerere would constitute a major defeat for communism in Africa.

In Zanzibar, the Chinese and the Russians have been running the port and harbor and training the army.

The Chinese have been in charge of agriculture, and from their heavily guarded embassy the Communist East Germans have taken over direction of finance, education and information.

Gradually the changes are being made.

Babu has been removed from his important post as minister of external affairs. Marxists also have been removed from other subsidiary posts.

A particular blow to the Communists was Nyerere's action downgrading all Zanzibar embassies to the status of consulates.

Tanganyika's 800 policemen in Zanzibar have been equipped with submachine guns. Zanzibar's judicial system is being restored, and a new flag of the united republic will combine the colors of Tanganyika and Zanzibar into a green and blue banner with a diagonal black stripe edged in yellow.

A flag alone does not secure victory in Zanzibar but a start has been made.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

The appointment of the Gen. Maxwell Taylor-U. Alexis Johnson team to South Viet Nam signals the practical application of a new United States "total war" concept developed in Washington.

It was copied in part from the successful guerrilla tactics of Red China's Mao Tse-tung. In each province he attacked, Mao went into "bat-tle" with teams of infantrymen, propagandists, political organizers, underground intelligence men, teachers and economists welded into a combined war force. According to the situation, sometimes one of these teams, sometimes another, would move in first. Essentially, they moved in together.

The concept is, in part, an expansion of the U.S. Army and Navy techniques of World War II, when propaganda and civil government teams operated with U. S. troops.

Under this new program, in a war such as that in South Viet Nam, the over-all "commander" is the ambassador.

In this case it is Taylor, with Johnson as his deputy.

These two men will direct the local, total, U. S. effort, composed of military, economic, propaganda, intelligence and political advisory forces.

Local advisory task forces will be organized under this over-all command. Some of these will be commanded by military officers. In other areas, depending on the mission, the advisory task forces will be led by civilians.

Mao's successes in China and Ho Chi Minh's victories against the French in North Viet Nam have proved to the State Department and the Pentagon that winning a province from the Viet Cong requires this balance of military power, psychological warfare, economic aid and political and governmental organization.

Each hinges on the other. The Vietnamese organization will be similar to the American.

Once an area is captured from the Viet Cong, elements of these advisory task forces will stay on to help build up good government, local defense forces, economic stability and local intelligence networks.

The South Vietnamese combined task force the American team is working with will bring a trained administrator, or teach locally selected administrators on the spot. It will set up schools, clinics, train a local militia. Most units will bring along a man to advise local farmers on agriculture.

According to the plan, essential elements of the American and South Vietnamese task forces will stay on until they are convinced their local area is able to carry on effectively by itself in defense, self-government, intelligence and economic development. Achieving this stability will normally take months or years.

This need to stay on was learned the hard way. Even after "self-sufficiency" is reached, some personnel of the United States and Vietnamese task forces will remain in the region to help continuously with local self-improvement projects.

The object will be to induce the villagers to set such high goals for themselves that Communist propaganda will lose its attraction.

Matthew shows the value of proper "brainwashing" by his mother. And his daddy then was stamped into showing relish for a food that he normally avoided at restaurants, for parents must set a good example at the table and also in their use of correct English, as send for the booklet below.

CASE T-425: Matthew R., aged 4, is one of our grandchildren.

His daddy wasn't fond of lima beans and one day he expressed distaste for them at the table.

Thereafter, Matthew also said he didn't want any beans, though he hadn't even sampled any.

But during the next few weeks, his mother tactfully "sold" him on trying some.

And soon he was eating them with gusto.

A few weeks later, when his daddy was home for dinner, they again had lima beans on the table.

When they were passed around, his daddy failed to take a helping.

But Matthew ladled out a couple of spoonfuls on his own plate.

Meanwhile, he addressed his daddy as follows: "Daddy, you better have some of these beans. For they are very good."

As his father still hesitated a moment, Matthew added this clincher: "And you know Mamma!"

Whereupon, his daddy meekly took a serving of the lima beans.

Matthew's case offers several psychological points in the field of child psychology.

First, youngsters have no natural or innate liking for any of our foods, with the exception of sugar.

So whether they will like lima beans or beefsteak, fried chicken or spinach and orange juice, will depend to a very large degree on what we psychologists call "conditioning."

Since the Korean war, a new term has almost superseded our technical psychological word "conditioning," and the new addition to our vocabulary is "brainwashing."

In order to get a child to enjoy any new food, it thus becomes necessary to tie it in with an already developed pleasure.

If this is repeated several times, some of that original pleasure will figuratively "spill over" and paint the strange food attractively.

Since a child usually is fond of its daddy, then he should cooperate to the full in making sure his children do not become squeamish eaters.

Despite your own childhood dislikes, if modern medical science urges you to train your child to eat a wide variety of food, then daddy should cooperate.

Even if he refuses such side dishes as lima beans at a restaurant, he should at least show enthusiasm at home.

For children not only imitate their daddy's dialect and speech mannerisms, as well as his walk and his ideas, but they tend to follow his eating habits.

Being a good parent thus requires us to set a positive example, especially during the years till the child enters the teens.

Thereafter, Scout leaders and other heroes may partly

Pre-Convention Rush Begins In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats, warned by the long debate on the civil rights bill, that the chamber's business must go on "political campaigns not withstanding," met today with their leader on the backlog of legislation still awaiting action.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., presided at the closed session.

Mansfield's warning came as Congress resumed after a week's recess for the Republican National Convention. He put Democratic senators on notice they have only five weeks before their party's convention to dispose of key items in President Johnson's legislative program and other important measures.

It had been assumed that Congress would adjourn for the year when it quits for the Democratic convention in Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 24. But Johnson has never given a firm assurance this would be so.

Mansfield's statement opened the possibility the lawmakers might be called back if their business was left unfinished. He conceded Congress "could be here in September and on into December if necessary." The heavy backlog of legislation is due mainly to the long debate on the civil rights bill.

The Senate has passed only two of the 12 major appropriations bills and still must act on the foreign aid authorization measure.

The House faces consideration of Johnson's $962 million war on poverty program, his plan to revitalize the economically depressed Appalachian area, and a request for a 5 per cent increase in Social Security benefits. These bills will all go to the Senate after the House completes action.

Other congressional news: Poverty: Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, and two other Republican members of the Senate Labor Committee, are expected to file a sharply critical minority report this week on Johnson's $962 million anti-poverty legislation. Sources said the report will assail the program as a rehash of stopgap measures that will not cure poverty.

Coffee: Senate action was expected early this week on a controversial agreement by 36 coffee-producing countries and 23 coffee-consuming countries, including the United States, to stabilize fluctuating prices on the world market. The five-year pact, which requires Senate approval, has some determined opponents.

Goldwater Goes Back To Senate Chores

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, his presidential hopes boosted by withdrawal of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, headed back to Washington today to resume his Senate duties and plan his campaign for capturing the White House.

For the record, the new Republican presidential nominee had "no comment" on Wallace's withdrawal.

Goldwater boarded a commercial airliner to the capital to resume the duties which occupied him before the Republican National Convention gave him its presidential nomination.

Aides were confident, however, that the Wallace withdrawal would help Goldwater—especially in the South. Goldwater suggested, during the convention, that Wallace might well decide his candidacy confused the presidential campaign and that he might withdraw.

Goldwater, however, passed up several opportunities to comment on the Wallace action Sunday. He told newsmen he had really not given much thought to the Wallace matter. The senator said, however, in an impromptu press conference at a photographer's studio where he went to pose for a campaign portrait, that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower would campaign actively on his behalf.

The senator indicated that he hoped Eisenhower would give six to a dozen speeches for his presidential candidacy.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

We've had a lot of nice comment about the series entitled "Enjoy Your Boating" which we are running now on The Herald's sports page. The fifth in the series runs today. There'll be 17 in all.

Sometimes asked if the series contains any articles on the fast growing sport of water skiing.

No, it doesn't. But you waterbugs take heart. As soon as the boating series concludes it'll be followed with a new series devoted entirely to water skiing.

Never before in the 15-year history of the Florida high school all-star football game has there been as many outstanding quarterbacks as will represent the north and south squads Aug. 1 in Gainesville.

That's the opinion of veteran coaches the state over and all agree this year's contest could turn into an exciting production on the merits of these field generals alone.

Representing the North will be Harmon Wage of Jacksonville Lee, Gerald Bramlett of Wildwood, Ray Jennings of Marianna, and Sonny Owens of Milton. Leading the way for the South will be Bobby Downs of Winter Haven, Harold Peacock of Pahokee, and Randy Smith of Tampa's Robinson.

The quarterback most widely known among Sanford football fans is Bramlett, captain of the Wildwood High Wildcats who ran into trouble here last Fall when he met the Seminoles. Bramlett was all state and in two seasons passed for 31 touchdowns, scored 11 more and ran for 639 yards and passed for 3,250 more. Last season alone he completed 69 of 138 passes for 1,462 yards and 16 touchdowns.

But that's not all. As an inside linebacker Bramlett led his team in tackles and made 15, by film count, in one contest.

It should be an interesting evening. When Bramlett's around it always is.

Rollins College freshman outfielder Bob Gustafson was named recently to the 1964 College Division All-American baseball team. Another Tar, Rollins hurler Mickey Clark, was named the all-American second team. Rollins was one of two teams which placed one player on each of the first two teams.

The contract signed between the Florida Gators and The Crimson Tide of Alabama to renew grid relations in 1970 is good news. The two teams conclude their current series this season and the new pact will begin in 1970. That year the Gators will go to Tuscaloosa. The two clubs will meet in Gainesville in '71, they will go back to Tuscaloosa in '72, and will wind up the series in Gainesville in '73.

The two clubs have met 19 times in an exciting Southern rivalry which has seen the Tide maintain an edge in victories, 8 to 5. Two of the most notable Gator victories came in 1961 when Florida grabbed a 20 to 21 decision and in 1963 when the Gators upset the favored Tide men, 18 to 6.

By the way, in this new series each year's contest will be the second game of the season for both teams.

High Flying Angels Bedevil Twins Twice In Dual Bill

Giants Win Two; Baltimore Takes Detroit Tigers

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer

If the Angels move to Anaheim, what will Los Angeles do for a first division team? While the defending world champion Dodgers sink deeper into seventh place in the National League standings, the soaring Angels — the hottest team in either league — continue to climb toward a contending position in the American League chase.

The Angels swept two games from Minnesota Sunday 8-6 and 4-0 to move within one game of the fourth-place Twins. It extended their latest victory streak to six games and was the ninth win in their last 10, giving them a 27-15 record since June 5.

Manager Bill Rigney's charge encounter another streaking team in the AL race, the White Sox, tonight in Chicago, and another victory for the Angels, who hold the major's longest win streak of the season 11, may enliven Los Angeles to their only "winning" team.

Sunday it was a combination of youth — Dean Chance, who hurled a four-hitter in the second game, and slugger Willie Smith — with old warrior Joe Adcock, who homered twice in the second game and drove in four runs in the first game.

Adcock's heroics overcame Rich Rollins first grand slam and Harmon Killebrew's 83rd roundtripper in the opener.

In other American League action, the White Sox swept two from Kansas City, 3-2 in 13 innings and 4-3, to move ahead of the Yankees into second place while New York split with Cleveland, winning 6-2, then dropping a 3-0 decision; Boston outlasted Washington 11-10 then lost 5-4 in 10 innings and Baltimore tripped Detroit 5-4.

In five National League doubleheaders, San Francisco took two from Houston 4-2 and 1-0, Chicago topped Los Angeles 8-2 and 9-1, Milwaukee took Pittsburgh 6-2 and 6-4, Cincinnati split with Philadelphia, winning 7-4 then losing 4-3, and New York defeated St. Louis 3-2 then lost 7-6.

ENJOY YOUR BOAT

MEALS for the family are not a big problem afloat.

5-Family Boating

By Bill McCormick
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

That much overworked term "togetherness" has never meant so much as it does in boating. This is a family sport. The boat belongs to the family as much as the average American's automobile does.

When the family goes boating, much depends on the mate (which is a quaint term boatmen use for their wives). While the skipper is master of the boat, the mate is in charge of everything else, including the kids and cooking. Boating for her should be a pleasure, not drudgery. If everyone is to be happy.

Cooking afloat is not a big problem if a few simple rules are followed. Stay away from perishables that cannot be eaten the first day out. Shun bulky foods unless you have storage space to spare. Potatoes and onions don't keep well on the water, so take only enough for immediate needs. Pre-cooked foods, such as chicken, roast beef, ham, etc., should be used whenever possible.

It is best not to cook until the boat is tied up, but if you must cook under way be sure not to overload frying pans and kettles. And always keep a fire extinguisher within easy reach.

Plastic bags give good protection to fresh vegetables. Vegetables and meat treated by a new process, called freeze-dried, taste as good as frozen foods but do not require refrigeration. They can be stored just like canned foods.

You burn quicker on the water than you do ashore, sometimes even over a deep tan, so bring suntan lotion and clothes to protect all from the sun. If the kiddies tend to get restless, take aboard toys and games to keep them occupied.

The mate may have her hands full at certain times, but she can be free to enjoy boating when the most fun is to be had.

Post 53 Whips Post 19; Play 242 On Tuesday

Jim Courier took the hill Friday night for Sanford's Post 53 American Legion junior baseball nine and hurled a one-hitter while his mates picked up a pair of sixth inning runs to defeat Post 19 of Orlando, 2 to 0.

The victory forces Post 53 to play a rained out contest with Orlando's Post 242 and this tilt is slated to come off at 7:30 Tuesday night at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

The 2-0 victory Friday night gave Manager Frank Thomas charges a half a game lead over the now second place Post 19 team. If Sanford can knock off Post 242 tomorrow night the locals will go, according to Thomas, direct to the double-elimination state tournament to be played in West Palm Beach.

However, if Sanford loses Tuesday night's affair with Post 242 the locals will have to play Post 19 again — this time on Wednesday night here — to determine the Sixth District championship.

Friday night Courier, in blanking Orlando on one hit, fanned only four and walked none. However, two of his four strikeouts came when he bared down to whiff the last two batters in the seventh frame — "Right when it counted most," said Thomas.

Bill Deaton, who had handcuffed Post 19 several times this season, hurled three hit baseballs. However, Sanford scored its two markers in a rather unusual fashion and that spelled it out for Deaton.

What happened was this: Donnie Smith beat out a bunt and he went to second on a bad throw to first. Courier bunted and was safe at first when Orlando threw Smith out when he tried to go into third. Rick Golloher popped out to second but Billy Kuykendall came through with a single to center which moved Courier to second.

Steve Harris kept the threat going by working Deaton for a free pass to fill the seats. Billy Higgins, Sanford's catcher, dribbled one in the infield to score Courier and on the play Harris overran second and was trapped between second and third. While Orlando was chasing down Harris Kuykendall sped to the plate and crossed it before Harris was finally tagged. The run counted and Sanford had its pair of markers, one more than they actually needed.

Deaton fanned seven, permitted three hits, walked four and hit one batsman.

Score by innings:

Sanford (P 53) 000 002 2-3 3 5

Nationals Down Americans, 6-1

Sanford's Little League Nationals kept their post season record unblemished with a 6-1 exhibition victory over their city rivals, the Sanford Little League Americans, in a contest Friday night at Fort Mellon Park.

It was the timely hitting of Skip Senkarik, Bill Schmidt, Stephen Hitchcock and David Wiggins that paved the way for the Nationals. Schmidt and Senkarik teamed Sanford Wednesday night, simmes Nationals here in up on the mound to limit the Americans to a mere two hits.

This was the final exhibition scheduled before the district tournament which gets under way Tuesday.

The Nationals will play Kissimmee Tuesday night at Fort Mellon Park in a tilt which is slated for 8 p. m. The winner of this game will play the winner of the Clermont-St. Cloud contest at either Clermont or St. Cloud Wednesday night.

The Sanford Americans take on Tavares Tuesday at 6 p. m. and the winner plays the victory of the St. Cloud Nationals game with the Kissimmee.

The eventual winner of the Southern District Four will then play the winner of Northern District Four to determine this area at Jacksonville Beach in the Little Florida Major League Tournament during the first week of August.

Men's League Tourney Will Start Tonight

The Sanford Men's Slo-Pitch Softball Tournament starts tonight at Fort Mellon Park and the Kingswood

Builders, winners of both the first and second halves of loop play, will take an 18-game win streak into the opening rounds.

Kingswood closed out its regular season Friday night with a 9-4 win over Chase with Bud Moncrief posting the mound decision. Don Harvey had a pair of home runs, Bobby Johnson had two hits, including a homer, and Frank Stafford and Don Carter each had two hits.

McRaney's Painters whipped Longwood 15 to 11 in another Friday night affair to finish in second place in the final second-half standings. Larry Watson collected three hits — including a circuit smash — and Frank Williams, the winning pitcher, along with L. C. Smith, put together three hits apiece to pave the way for the Painters. Harold Helms had a trio of hits for Longwood.

It was reported that most of the Shrine's players are on vacation at this time, others are at camps, and some are reported to be ill.

Mobile Home Idea Now Branching Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Not only do Americans live and vacation in mobile homes, they are going to church in them, attending classes, banking and carrying on a variety of business in the versatile, relocatable structures.

While, traditionally, the bulk of mobile homes manufactured go to the consumer market, industrial demand is growing surprisingly, according to F. L. Cappaert, president of Magnolia Homes, Jackson, Miss.

Within the past year, he said, his firm has "designed and installed a complete mobile church, consisting of 12 separate units joined at the site, for the North American Baptist Association." As soon as the permanent structure is completed, the mobile unit is shipped to another location where a new congregation is forming.

Miss Sue Brewington, W. J. Johnson Wed In Impressive Church Ceremony

Miss Linda Sue Brewington, daughter of Mrs. Juanita Brewington of Sanford and William (Larry) Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter William Johnson of St. Louis, Missouri were united in Holy Matrimony on Saturday July 11, 1964 at 11 a. m. at St. Cronin's Catholic Church in St. Louis with the Rev. M. Flynn performing the impressive single ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Roger V. Hees, uncle of the groom, was radiant in a formal gown of chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and traditional tapered sleeves with tiny buttons closing the back. The voluminous skirt was gracefully draped across the back with chantilly lace flounces securing the sweeping chapel train at the waistline as it cascaded to the floor in a series of soft folds. Her silk veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of brilliant pearls and her bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white carnations centered with two white Cattleya orchids interspersed with narrow satin streamers. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Janie Sparks attended the bride as maid of honor and was gowned in formal pastel blue pol de sole featuring a fitted bodice with a Sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. A tailored bow held the softly draped back panniers at the waistline of the A-line skirt. Her short blue veil fell from a matching satin pillbox with a tailored bow at the crown and she carried an arm bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Sharon Kay Johnson, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid and was gowned identical to the maid of honor, except in pastel pink.

Miss Patti Lynn Johnson and Miss Billie Jean Johnson, sisters of the groom, attended the bride as junior bridesmaids, with their gowns identical to the bridesmaid.

Richard Cox served the groom as best man and Charles Kellerman served as usher.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM LARRY JOHNSON

The William West Family Enjoy Mountain Vacation

By Evelyn Lundy Hazel and Bill West of Oviedo, together with their two children, Pam and Tim, recently enjoyed a most interesting two weeks vacation in the mountains. They spent five days at Harrison Bay T.V.A. Camp Site, which is 10 miles from Chattanooga. They later visited Oakridge and saw the famous Atomic Energy Museum and Hazel said that this is one of the most interesting museums she has ever seen and wishes that everyone could visit it.

Their next camp site was Cades Cove in the Smoky Mountains. Here they saw many of the original pioneer's cabins which have been kept restored, and also the old grist mills and many other interesting sights. While camping at Cades Cove, Hazel said that they neglected to put away their icebox, and during the night they were awakened by a frightening noise and upon investigating, they saw a bear helping himself to the food in the ice box. After driving the bear away with a flashlight they finished the night in the tent and needless to say the next night everything was shipshape and all food put securely away.

The Sugarland Museum was visited by the Wests and their next stop was at Deep Creek Camp in Bryson City.

At Cherokee, they saw the famous historical play "Under These Hills."

On the way home, they camped on the lake recreational center at the Laura S. Walker State Park in Hoboken, Ga.

The bride's mother was attended in a stunning champagne beige lace sheath with white lightening accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a smart two piece blue and green brocade satin ensemble with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Members of the wedding party enjoyed brunch at Pagnellacci's immediately following the ceremony.

Later a reception was held at Swedish Hall with the traditional three tier wedding cake and tempting delicacies, tastefully arranged, creating a picturesque table.

For her going away the bride was attired in a chic two piece pink and white ensemble with matching accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are at home at 4533 Swan Avenue in St. Louis.

Out of town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Young, Columbia, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. William Sapp, Ellisville, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. King, St. Charles, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Housher of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Miss Beckham, J. J. Lee Exchange Marriage Vows

The Rev. Gail B. Smith performed the impressive ceremony in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride was lovely in a white lace two piece ensemble with a lavender orchid corsage and pearl jewelry.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Lee are residing at the Pinecrest Trailer Park.

The Pilot Club Of Sanford Convenes At Caucus Room

The Pilot Club of Sanford recently met at the Caucus Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building for the regular monthly business meeting.

Kay Gallagher, secretary to Mr. Tucker at the Florida State Bank, was initiated into membership in the club. Rosamond Chapman, chairman of community service, advised that the club was providing milk for one month for an infant who was ill, and whose family was unable to provide the necessary essentials.

Moise Collins reported that the safety committee had been successful in providing safety stickers for the bumpers of vehicles at N.A.S. These stickers read "It's 10 Safety Four in Florida," and this is one method of stressing the need to the public for greater safety on our highways. All Pilot Clubs of district Four (Florida) are participating in the safety program at all levels of safety.

President Marge Jernigan reported on the recent Pilot International convention she attended in New York and related that the safety program of Florida was recognized as being by far the most conscientious and best organized of any other district of Pilot International.

Margaret Hodge, membership chairman, asked all members to sponsor at least one new member during 1964-65 to boost the International membership to 15,000 members.

Question, Does He Or Doesn't He?

NEW YORK (UPI)—More and more males dye to be different.

And they're doing it to their locks in the privacy of their bathrooms—instead of going to the back rooms of barber shops.

H. B. Hagler, who says so, maintains that more males take to the bottle-of-dye-for their graying hair these days because the accent's on youth. Hagler, president of a firm that specializes in barber shop supplies, said one can't blame a man for taking to dye for the hair if brown or black means a livelihood and gray means no job.

The trend to touching up the male's hair is indicated mostly in increased sales of the firm's hair coloring kits for men.

"Once in a while," Hagler said, "the coloring works in reverse. A young fellow walks into our hair clinic and asks to have his hair touched gray because he has a job with a lot of older men who resent the idea that he looks younger."

New synthetic shoes for boys combine the look of leather with the durability of plastic. A special bonding process makes the shoes unusually sturdy by eliminating the nails and stitches normally used to attach the heels and soles to the uppers. The shoes are water-proof, scuff-proof, and never need polishing, the manufacturer reports. Wipe with thick soap or detergent suds to keep them shiny.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: How does a father tell his daughter's fiancé that he hangs around her house entirely too much? He comes over here even when he knows our daughter isn't home. The young man has an apartment of his own, but he has started coming here straight from work every afternoon. My wife has her routine housework to do and she doesn't feel comfortable going about it with him in the house. He's a good-hearted fellow, and we don't want to hurt his feelings, but we don't think we should have to entertain him when our daughter isn't home. So how do we tell him?

DEAR STUMPED: Either the young man has been made to feel that he is welcome any time, or he is taking too much for granted. In any case, he should be set straight. And your daughter is the one who should do it.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I entrusted an important letter and some valuable literary material to a friend of mine, who promised that he would type them up for me. Every time I ask him for the material he makes some excuse. I have written letters to him asking him to return my material, typed up or not, but he ignores my letters. Can I accuse him of stealing them and have him arrested? I would like to teach him a lesson.

DEAR "N": Don't make any charges against anyone without first consulting some legal counsel lest you find yourself in even more serious trouble than you hope to get your friend.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell what's-his-name not to be too concerned about "canned music" in a business place—at least she can walk away from that. How would she like to be blessed with a whistling neighbor who hangs his "manned music" on a construction in his back yard every week-end while he gardens from sunrise to sunset? After five years of this, we have put our house on the market and hope that it is raining or he has laryngitis when a prospective buyer comes. Why don't people who are hard-of-hearing get a pocket radio with a hearing place instead of entertaining the whole neighborhood with baseball games or beatnik music? Tell Susiebell that if she can WALK AWAY from "canned music" she is indeed very lucky—we can't. ALLERGIC TO ROSES

DEAR ABBY: My name is DEBBIE and I am 11 years old. I want to know how come there is a MOTHER'S DAY and a FATHER'S DAY, but there isn't any CHILDREN'S DAY I don't think this is fair. I WANT A CHILDREN'S DAY. DEAR WANTS: There IS A CHILDREN'S DAY. And it falls on each child's birthday.

Jacoby On Bridge

The writer of a bridge book has an easier time than the writer of a column. If you don't think so, look at this hand from Fred Harpin's book on decisions at trick one.

East's queen of clubs held the first trick and South made the mistake of playing the seven spot instead of the jack. South won the heart return and cashed three top spades and three top hearts. Neither suit broke, so South led his jack of clubs. West did not cover with the king and South wound up going down one trick.

Fred points out that if South had dropped his jack of clubs under East's queen, he would have had no trouble making his contract in spite of the bad suit breaks. The lesson Fred teaches is worth-while. South surely should have thought and then dropped the jack of clubs, but South should have made the hand anyway.

After his jack of clubs held, South could simply have played ace and another diamond. If East won the trick, he would be able to take a spade and a heart, but would have to concede the last trick to dummy's ace of clubs.

If East dropped the jack on the first diamond play, West would have been able to cash three diamond tricks, but would still have had to give dummy the last club trick.

We The Women:

"Thirty is a woman's most difficult age," says actress Ingrid Bergman who will be 47 in August.

Why does she think so? Because "when she's 30, a woman thinks that most of life is already over."

That may be true of the movie star who sees younger actresses crowding her. It may be true of any woman who is convinced that looks are everything, and who is dismayed by the first signs of fading beauty reflected in her much consulted mirror.

But for the average housewife and mother, 30 is such a busy, hectic, demanding and often rewarding age that she feels right in the center of life.

Her husband is still on his way up, and she is doing her best to help him get where he wants to go. Her children are out of the baby stages and need her to help solve their problems, to guide them, to reassure them and just to be at home to give a house the warmth and security of a mother's presence.

It just depends on whether a woman's main interest in life is her face or her family.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30 p.m. NBC. Monday Night at the Movies. "Treasure of the Golden Condor." (Color) (Rerun) This 18th Century adventure story stars Cornel Wilde and Anne Bancroft. Wilde portrays a nobleman who is cheated out of his title by a marquis and is forced to work in the stables. He falls in love with the marquis' daughter (Miss Bancroft) and, after attacking the cheat, runs away with her to find the treasures hidden in the Mayan Temples of Guatemala. After finding the treasure, he returns to win back his title.

8:30-9 p.m. CBS. Vacation Playhouse. "He's All Yours." Eve Arlen stars as the manager of a staid English travel agency in London whose life is made miserable by an employee who happens to be the owner's bumbling nephew. She is responsible for the nephew's pet promotion for a South Seas tour which backfires and the travel agency's office is overrun with dancing girls, a chimpanzee and even the weak punch has been spiked. British comedy writer Jeremy Lloyd plays the hair-brained nephew.

8:30-10 p.m. ABC. Wagon Train. "The Trace McCloud Story." (Rerun) A mystery western (or should that be a western mystery?) with more suspects than "Burke's Law." Super sleuth Chris Hale (John McIntire) finds himself trying to flush out a murderer from among a group of terror-stricken townspeople who have joined the wagon train to escape the bestial killer.

9:30 p.m. CBS. The Danny Thomas Show. (Rerun) The Thomases are in Venice tonight in what builds into a talent search as well it might in that fabled city. The focal, or vocal, point is a small girl named Maria who tags after Danny and Kathy voicing loud and long praise for her family of entertainers. As is to be expected, the young lady is no mean talent in her own right. Piccola Puppa and Antonio Pieretti are featured with stars Danny Thomas and Margorie Lord.

10:11 p.m. NBC. Sing Along With Mitch. (Color) (Rerun) No guest stars tonight. This one offers just the regular gang. With the particular highlights being Keith Booth doing "10 Tons," "The Peanut Vendor" by Jack Brown and Leslie Uggams singing "Who'll Buy My Violets?"

Horoscope Forecast

TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES:

During the early day it is necessary to refrain from making blunt and outspoken remarks that could irritate those near you, but later you get many interesting new ideas that can serve you well with those at a distance and in any correspondence awaiting your attention. Wind up all duties.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A letter or telephone call in AM could be disturbing, but later on you find it is more to your benefit than you thought. Be calm. Get rid of problematical affairs easily.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your intuition could get you into quite a mess during AM, so be practical and attend to responsibilities. Listen to ideas of higher-up. Follow them.

BEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Say nothing while a partner is letting off steam and you later can get much accomplished. Be sure to be with those you want to do business with later. Plan the future cleverly.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Although conditions around you are hardly ideal, be sure to do good work, and co-workers become very cooperative. Don't let anything phase you. Carry through with equanimity.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Don't be annoyed if plans are thwarted during AM, since finer and more creative things are possible later. Rest awhile. You will then be in better fettle for achieving.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Don't be critical at home during AM or you lose loyalty later, when most needed. You must be more practical where finances are concerned. Prosperity means application.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Forget any limitations that allies may have and concentrate on the practical. Then you have a true meeting of minds. Buying and selling is relatively easy now.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Economy during the morning can mean addition to present holdings later. Sit down with some expert and plan a wise budget. This will be a life-saver for you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Though you may feel somewhat crochety, show cheerfulness instead and all goes well in dealing with others. Fine ideas come from them. Be off to some party in PM with good friends.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Getting information you require is fine, but be sure you first make friends with those whom you question. Come forth with pertinent data yourself, too. Be fair.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) While a close ally may be disappointing in AM, keep calm, since later others are very cooperative. Show devotion to them. Make new friends of worth, charm.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) You may start off on the wrong foot with big-wig who is not quite up to par in AM, but later all works out fine. Be quiet. Study, handle outside duties well in early PM.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those individuals who wants to dash off to other interests before completing whatever is at hand, so it would be wise to discipline early in order to form the habit of perseverance, which is the only way to achieve success in anything. Fine chart for the top-notch sales person—and this could include almost any other career or profession.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Nation's GNP At Peak Of $618.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's production of goods and services soared to a record annual rate of $618.5 billion in the second quarter of 1964, and President Johnson predicts even bigger gains in the months ahead.

The figure, announced Thursday, was up $10 billion over the first three months of this year. This means that the gross national product (GNP)—that is, the total output of goods and services—now is running about $20 billion ahead of its rate at the start of the year.

"On the basis of this fine record—and with the tax cut's major impact yet to come—we fully expect the gains in the second half of the year to be even greater than the first," Johnson said.

He hailed the report as "further witness to our strong and balanced economic expansion. The Chief Executive noted also that personal income particularly "grows faster than we had expected."

In a related development, Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said Thursday that non-farm employment reached 59.1 million last month—the highest level in American history.

But, he noted, heavy overtime work assignments continued, and the total number of jobs in June was 4.7 million, for an unemployment rate of 5.3 per cent of the work force as compared with 5.1 per cent in May.

During the last quarter of 1963 the rate of the GNP was $599 billion, and for the first quarter of this year $608.8 billion.

Strong consumer buying was said to have accounted for $8 billion of the increase during the second quarter. All goods except automobiles showed substantial increases, the Commerce Department said.

Automobile purchases continued at the high level established during the preceding quarters.

Johnson said the performance indicated strong advances for the rest of this year.

Sanford Scout Leader Goes To Jamboree

Thomas G. Albert, Sanford Boy Scout executive, left Saturday for the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., where he will serve for two weeks as Scoutmaster of Council Jamboree Troop 60, located in Section 21 and composed of units throughout Region Six.

There are 112 Scouts and 14 adult leaders representing the Central Florida Area Council. The group departed late Saturday night from Camp LaNoche near Umatilla by chartered buses. The theme of this year's Jamboree is "Strengthen America's Heritage."

The tour schedule includes trips to Williamsburg, Va., Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and many other points plus military bases for meals, church services and attractions. Jamboree buses are slated to return July 20 at Camp LaNoche.

Lutheran Church Bible School Opens Today

Vacation Bible School at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, W. 25th Place, Sanford, opened at 9 a.m. today with classes for children four to 14 years old on the theme "God, My Country and I." The two-week school will close Friday, July 31.

Purpose of this year's courses, according to the Rev. Herbert W. Goers, pastor, is three-fold: 1) to lead the children to acknowledge God to be the Ruler over all things in heaven and earth and to recognize Him as the One who has established government on earth and given it authority to rule in order to serve the people in the land;

2) To lead them to the realization that every Christian is a citizen of both of God's Kingdoms—the heavenly one and the earthly one;

3) To encourage them, as they are led by the Holy Spirit, to develop the desire to live as loyal citizens of both kingdoms.

Tools to help accomplish these results will be workbooks for each pupil, filmstrips in color, handwork projects, singing of appropriate songs in the five departments, Nursery through Junior High. Games and refreshments will round out each morning's schedule.

The loud booming sounds, made by channel bass and black drum are often heard in the corridors at Marineland of Florida.

Four Detection Satellites Now In Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America's new nuclear detection satellites, maneuvered into position by three days of a killifly rocketry, whirled around earth today as lookouts for any illegal atomic tests during the next 12 months.

The two sentries joined a similar pair orbited last October to give the United States a four-satellite force to police the limited test ban treaty signed with Russia last August. Both of the new satellites, together with a small research moonlet, were rocketed early Friday into yo-yo orbits that looped from 65,500 miles in space to within 230 miles of earth.

The first of the new watchdog satellites was switched into a circular orbit 65,500 miles high Friday night while the second made another swoop around the earth on the initial orbit.

At exactly the right moment Sunday, 59 hours and 11 minutes after launch, scientists at the Air Force Satellite Control Center in Sunnyvale, Calif., triggered a small rocket aboard the second craft and klicked it into the same high circular orbit.

Because of the delay between the two orbital maneuvers, the two sentries are about 120,000 miles apart so that when one is on one side of the globe, its partner is patrolling the opposite side.

The first two, rocketed into space in the opening of the Defense Department's program for a fool-proof method to guard against test ban cheating above ground.

Unity Cited As City's Big Need

Editor's Note: A sincere and thoughtful reader recently took The Herald to task because the feeling was that this newspaper was "knocking" our downtown business district when it should "try boosting" for a change. This is the first in a series of three articles discussing the downtown district.

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

What about the downtown district? The question is heard repeatedly in nearby every major city in the country. Certainly, it's not a new question — even here in Central Florida where civic leaders, business men, city planners and municipal authorities are investigating every possible approach to find a practical solution.
