"The End of the Tour"
Lionel Barrymore in the five part Metro Columbia comedy drama, "The End of the Tour," directed by George D. Baker, which will be seen at the Star Theatre tonight has the support of one of the finest companies ever brought together in a motion picture.

Ethel Dayton, who has the leading feminine role has been seen with Ethel Barrymore in "The White Raven" as Sylvia Blaisdell, and her youthful charm is especially suited to the part of Grace Jessup in "The End of the Tour." Miss Dayton won her first laurels at the Vitagraph in ingenue and leading parts under the instruction of her present director, Mr. Baker. Formerly known as Ethel Corcoran, she chose the simpler name of Dayton for purposes of the screen.

Frank Currier, seen as Thorpe, the jeweler in "The Wager," with Emily Stevens in the part of Col. Jessup. A long and distinguished career on the speaking stage preceded Mr. Currier's entrance into motion pictures. He has been identified as manager and actor with practically all the great stars of the past thirty years. Another sterling actor well known to theatre goers is Charles Eldred, who has appeared in many Metro wonderplays, including "The Wheel of the Law" and "The Pretenders."

In "The End of the Tour" the charming little dramatic actress, Mar. Taylor makes her bow in motion pictures in the role of Lottie Lee, a bette of a "one night stand" theatrical company. She has played all the parts in which Lau-rette Taylor formerly starred. Mary Taylor is the wife of the celebrated playwright and author, Charles A. Taylor. She brings undoubted ability to her new work.

Kate Blanche is one of Metro's best known character women, excelling in grande dame parts. In "The End of the Tour" she has the part of the "character woman" of the troupe. Maud Hill, a statuesque beauty seen in many Metro productions is the troupe's leading lady, and Richard Thornton the manager.

Walter Hiers, one of the cleverest character comedians of the screen world, plays "Skinny," the fat property man. Mr. Hiers has appeared in screen versions of Booth Tarkington's books, "Seventeen" and "The Conquest of Canaan." J. Herbert Frank, Hugh Jeffrey and William Harvey, all excellent actors, have good parts in "The End of the Tour."

"As Man Made Her"
The newest World Picture Brady-Made entitled "As Man Made Her" will be the attraction at the Lyric Theatre on Friday and the patrons of this theatre will have the opportunity of seeing Miss Gail Kane as the star of this attraction. Miss Kane is supported by a super-excellent cast which includes Frank Mills, Gerda Holmes and Edward Langford. The play deals with the marriage consummated by a woman of the world with a young man for the purpose of avenging herself on the man's brother, who has cast her out. A child is born to her but she feels no mother love for the infant, until at the moment of its death. But later happiness comes into her life while the man she had sought to be avenged on goes to the lowest depths in his efforts to forget her. This attraction is pleasing throughout. Miss Kane has a highly dramatic role that will please and interest the average theatregoer. The attraction has been staged on a magnificent scale and many of the scenes were taken in Florida, where the company went on a special trip for the purpose.

"The Honor of Mary Blake"
Duped through an illegal marriage, Mary Blake fled from her near-husband and found solace in hard work with a small travelling show. Stricken suddenly ill when the company was about to leave town, the girl was left penniless, friendless and at the mercy of a rural community where charity of heart toward the actress was fixed at zero. How the girl, of her own effort found happiness when she had been restored to health, by the tender nursing of the one friend she had made in all the neighborhood will be pictorially related at the Star Theatre on Wednesday, when "The Honor of Mary Blake" will be displayed in Bluebird photoplays with Violet Mercereau playing the leading role. Devotees of the screen will recall with pleasure Miss Mercereau's earlier appearances in "The Bird Series," when she was the hysterical heroine in "The Great Problem" and the distressed little victim of villainy in "Broken Fetters." Quite different from either of these will be her forthcoming vehicle—her part in "The Honor of Mary Blake" is better suited to her fresh and youthful personality than any role she has ever appeared in upon the screen.

Lyric Friday
"She was mine before you married her!"
Mason Forbes threw this bombshell at his brother as he pointed dramatically at his brother's wife.

"It's a lie," cried young Harold Forbes, and he grabbed his brother by the throat.

"Don't—don't kill him," cried Claire, Harold's wife. "It's true!"

This scene a strange situation from which to expect happiness to come for Harold and his wife and yet happiness did come to them at last.

"As Man Made Her" tells a startling but thoroughly interesting story. In this latest World Picture Brady-Made Gail Kane enacts the role of Claire, the wife, while the part of Mason Forbes is made by Frank Mills and the part of Harold Forbes is played by Edward Langford. Gerda Holmes also has an important role in this production.

"As Man Made Her" has been staged on a lavish scale. One cabaret scene shows the interior of a restaurant with a prominent Hawaiian dancer executing her evolutions to the tunes played by a full sized orchestra. Other scenes have been staged with just as lavish an expenditure of money. For the outdoor scenes the entire company was sent down to Florida and there some wonderfully beautiful views were filmed.

You will like this feature. It has everything to make it entertaining—an attractive and effective star, a capable company, a splendid and interesting story, lavish scenic effects and superb photography. See "As Man Made Her" at the Lyric Theatre on Friday.

George Beban in "The Bond Between" at the Star Friday

In the forthcoming Pallas-Paramount production of "The Bond Between" in which George Beban will be seen at the Star on Friday it is necessary in several scenes for a young woman to pose as Venus. A Venus was secured and when called for the scene, stuck her nose out of the dressing room door into cold air and promptly refused to do any "Venusing" that day unless she could do it in a sealskin overcoat. Several methods were suggested as to how to keep the young lady warm while the picture was being secured and finally Mr. Beban hit upon the brilliant idea of taking a stove and putting a nice drape over it and letting the young woman stand on it.

This was done without informing the prospective Venus. Barefooted, she stepped on of the disguised pedestal and instead of assuming the classic pose of the famous statue, she executed a more or less artistic version of the Highland Fling as she leaped to cooler spots. Her feelings were injured as well as her feet and she promptly resigned while the engaging department went in search of a less temperamental and more fireproof classic.

Black Tom Explosion in Ninth "Patria"

Patria Channing Mrs. Vernon Castle

Patria Channing

Donald Parr Milton-Sills
Baron Huroki Warner Oland
Senor De Lima George Majaroni
Rodney Wrenn Allen Murmann
Rescue from the Black Tom Explosion in New York Harbor is a feature of the ninth episode of "Patria" to be shown at the Lyric Theatre tonight. Mrs. Vernon Castle is seen in the title role.

In this chapter, Patria and Don are rescued from the horrors of the black Tom disaster and go to the latter's apartment where the faithful one ministers to their comfort. Rodney Wrenn, the son of Patria's chaperone, and in love with her, visits the apartment and discovers Patria there. Driven wild with jealousy he grievously insults Donald and flouts out of the house in a rage. Huroki, spying upon Donald sees him and determines to turn the young man's anger to his advantage. He persuades Rodney to aid Iris Layne (an adventuress in Huroki's employ) in a scheme to compromise Donald in such a way that Patria will be obliged to break off all relations with him.

Donald is lured to Iris' apartment and Rodney brings Patria to the house so that she may see with her own eyes the unfaithfulness of her lover. But Donald in a masterful way escapes from the trap and walks out as Patria is coming in, free from all suspicion.

Donald obtains warrants for the arrest of Huroki, De Lima, and the rest charging them with having caused the Black Tom explosion. Huroki is immediately informed and makes hurried preparations for flight. He causes his home to be dismantled and plants a bomb in the secret passage way he uses to make his escape so that any one attempting to follow him will be destroyed.

Senor De Lima, also in fear of arrest goes to the house and finds it dismantled, with secret service agents patrolling the street. In his effort to escape by the secret passage the bomb is exploded and the house is wrecked. Donald and the Secret Service men are about to break down the door when the explosion occurs and they are saved the trouble. The find the body of De Lima in the ruins but Huroki has escaped to plot and plan more villainy. Lyric Tonight.

Robinson Crusoe

The positive treat in store for the people in Sanford at the Lyric Theatre on Thursday night is the most pleasing production in motion picture ever thrown upon the screen. It is the picturization of that world wide famous story by Henry DeFoe, ROBINSON CRUSOE.

Mr. Henry W. Savage, the producer and Mr. George Marion, the director expended a fortune of time to make this picture over one. How well they succeeded is learned from the vast crowds that attend the exhibition of the picture everywhere it is shown, please beyond words with delight.

The picture opens on the screen very different from the ordinary motion picture and continues without a single interruption to please and hold every one—sometimes breathless at other times spellbound to their seats from beginning to end.

Moving picture trade papers state in their review of this popular production that the producers have succeeded in a wonderful manner in making this most famous hero of fiction come to real life through their real production. The photography is beautiful and clear-cut.

The tropical settings, which are at Stuart, Florida, in the lower Indian river district are gorgeously beautiful in their splendor and elegance of tropical palms, foliage and sea shore.

The motion industry is the fifth largest industry in the United States of America and it is made very much more popular with the motion picture public to a very large degree by Savage's production of Robinson Crusoe, everybody's hero and known to every nation and tongue the world over.

Leading educators all over this vast country of ours are singing the praises of this gorgeously wonderful production and like productions because they know that besides being entertained in a marvelous and thrilling manner by the stirring adventures of young Crusoe that this picture gives you an almost real visualization of the land of the happenings of the story whereby you gain much interesting and useful knowledge thereby changing them from knockers to enthusiastic boosters of the motion picture.

The patrons of the Lyric Theatre will see in the depiction of Crusoe's life story of adventure and romance, the slave market at Sallee, the storm at sea, the wreck, the cannibals, and their feasting, the capture of Friday, Friday himself, the mutiny and finally the miraculous escape of Crusoe from slavery and his rescue after spending 21 years, 10 months and 14 days, the best part of his life on his lonely island.

The management of the Lyric Theatre states that this picture is far above the usual run of present features and that no one should miss it, as it is a real moving picture treat. Lyric Thursday.

Closed Season for Fishing

About two years ago the Times editor while a resident of Palm Beach county made a prediction that if the indiscriminate manner of catching and seining of fish in Lake Okeechobee was kept up the lake would be depleted in a short time. Now comes the news that the big fishermen on the lake are waking up to the fact that if something is not done soon they will have killed the goose that laid the golden egg.

According to their directions Representative H. C. Hood of Palm Beach county will introduce a bill in the present legislature asking that a law be passed establishing a closed season in Lake Okeechobee during the months of June, July and August. The bill will have the support of Representative Swain of St. Lucia county and Senator Hughlett of the East Coast. Probably Representative Langford of DeSoto will also support the bill.

The movement will have the hearty support of the leading Lake Okeechobee fish dealers, who, realizing that conservation of the supply requires protection during the spawning period, are now more anxious that such a law be passed. Moorehaven Times.

statements. We would like very much to be given a fair deal in the discussion of the scheduled game between the Sanford High and the Orlando High School basketball teams. Please understand that it was only on account of the illness of two of our team players and the inability to secure two others that we were forced to cancel the game at such a late date. The game was urged by the Sanford team to try, and came and made an effort to get a team together. However, the team learned that we would not be able to get back before the next morning and we were not able to get a chaperone. So only in the extreme case did we finally give up the game. Even then we offered to come to the next week but our proposal was rejected.

Again, I would like to correct a very untrue statement. You will probably observe in the Times-Union more closely notice that it was the Cathedral and not the High School that is claiming state champion.

You are quite mistaken in your exaggerated statement where you say that the Orlando team has failed to win a game this season. We have not had any too good a season, but we have won several games. We won from Oviedo twice and Kissimmee once.

Also, we would like to request you before flying off the handle, at least look at both sides of the affair before you accuse us of being poor sports. That game was the only game cancelled so far.

Please do us the favor of publishing this defense of the Orlando team so that the people of the state may hear our side.

The Orlando High School Basketball Team.

One-Piece Frock in Homespun Weave.

The light weight homespuns have invaded the sphere of one-piece frocks, and with splendid results, as the above illustration shows. Buttons and a collar of crepe Georgette are the chief decorative features of the design.

Very likable and shipshape is this one-piece frock in one of the new light weight homespun weaves now so fashionable. The front and front gore are cut in one, the open neck being finished with a square-collared chiffon cloth. The back gore is laid in plaits, gathered and attached to the back of the waist at raised waist-line. A one-piece flounce lengthens the dress. In the full size the model requires 4 1/2 yards 34-inch material with 1/2 yard 44-inch chiffon cloth for the collar.

The plait in the front near the armhole edge must be formed as the first step in the construction of the dress. Lap to small "o" perforations and stitch. Next form a tuck, creasing on remaining line of slot perforations; stitch 1/2 inch from folded Idea that the well-dressed women undoubtedly will approve are exploited in this afternoon costume of admiral blue cloth trimmed with embroidery.

The best of the ideas in advance spring fashions are embodied in this charming frock, developed in admiral blue cloth trimmed with embroidery. Under the sleeveless bodice with large armholes is an underbody to which sleeves of crepe Georgette or chiffon may be attached. The waist closes at the left shoulder and under the left arm. A two-piece circular skirt is gathered at the top and attached to the bodice. Cone-shaped pockets trim the skirt. In medium size the costume requires 4 1/2 yards, 54-inch material with 1 yard of lining 36 inches wide and 1 yard crepe Georgette for sleeves.

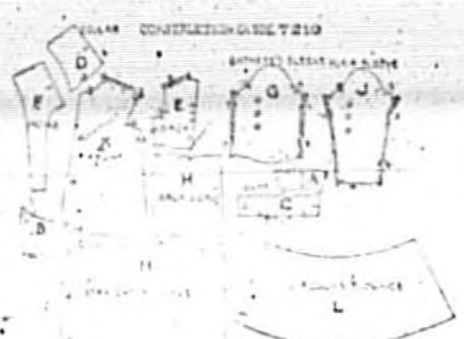

First hem the front of the lining, then cut the neck out in V-shape along small "o" perforations. Face around armhole in front and back to edge. Gather back gore between "T" perforations nearest center-back, plait placing remaining "T" on corresponding small "o" perforation. Sew to lower edge of back, notches and center-backs even. Close underarm and shoulder seams as notched. Now, take the straight flounce and close the back seam. Sew to lower edge of front and back gore, notches, center-backs and front edges even. Lap right front of dress on left, center-fronts even (large "O" perforations indicate center-front); stitch from double small "oo" perforations to lower edge and finish edges above perforation for closing.

To make the pocket, slash front of dress along curved line of small "o" perforations. Bind slashed edges. Join 2 pocket sections (forming a bag) leaving upper edge free between small "o" perforations. Sew to slashed edges in front. Large "O" perforations indicate front of pocket. Next, sew collar to neck edge, notches and center-backs even. Adjust facing over collar, and underneath front, center-backs and corresponding edges even.

Then, take the sleeve and bind, slashed edges. Close seam as notched. Gather entire lower edge. Sew cuff to sleeve, notches even; small "o" perforation in cuff at seam of sleeve. Lap front edge of cuff on back, to small "o" perforations and finish for closing. Sew cuffs in armhole as notched, small "o" perforation at shoulder, small "o" perforation at wrist.

Adjust belt on dress, with upper back edge at large "O" perforation near center-back. Close in front, the center being indicated by large "O" perforations.

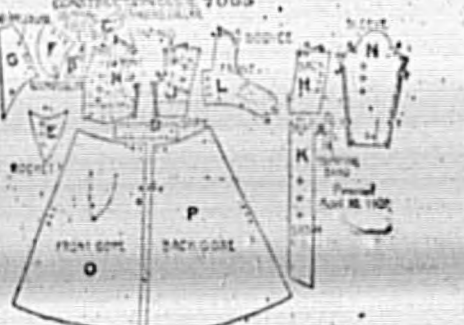

Buttons are the logical trimming for dresses whose adjustment extends in a broken line from neck to hem.

the lines of small "o" perforations. Take up dart in front as perforated. Close the underarm and shoulder seams as notched; close center-back seam. Turn hem in front of lining at notches. Center-front indicated by small "o" perforations.

Next, take up dart in stay and adjust to position underneath the lining. Then, take the trimming piece and stitch the edge having double small "oo" perforation and large "O" perforation on the lining, matching the perforations. Cross right trimming piece on left when closing.

Sew the collar to neck edge, center-backs even and along indicating small "O" perforations. To make the skirt, join the gores as notched.

The front of the pocket is indicated by large "O" perforations. Adjust to position on front gore between lines of small "o" perforations.

Now, line the sleeve band and sew to the slashed edge of sleeve as notched; lap to small "o" perforations in sleeve and finish for closing; snap fasteners, or hooks and eyes may be used. Close sleeve seam as notched. Sew sleeve in armhole as notched, with small "o" perforation at shoulder seam easing in any fulness.

For the bodice, first form plaits, creasing on slot perforations, bring folded edges to corresponding small "o" perforation and stitch. Sew sash to the rounded end of front, notches even. Lap the plaited end of front, on the back, matching single large and double small "oo" perforations; stitch to position on right side and finish the left side for closing. Close right shoulder seam as notched and finish left for closing. Arrange bodice on lining, center-fronts and center-backs even; tie the sash ends in back.

The embroidery makes a very charming finish to the costume.

THE SANFORD HERALD

Gold has been discovered in Orlando in one of the lakes.
Capital removal is up again and state division will come next.
Fly the flag if you are an American. If you are not an American we want to know it.

The Sanford Herald issued an Easter edition which contained some fine boasts for the Celery City. Fact is, The Herald declares that Sanford celery is the best on earth.

A Missouri editor refuses to publish obituaries of people who do not take the paper. His view is that people who do not take their home paper are dead anyway, and their passing has no news value.

Tuesday the Sanford Herald issued a handsome Easter edition of eighteen pages. It was profusely illustrated with Sanford scenes and contained much interesting reading matter of Sanford.—Wauchula Advocate.

The Sanford Herald's Easter edition has been received. It is a work of art and Edw. Holly, the editor, deserves all the praise that is coming to him. It is a snappy edition and well worth reading.—Orlando Sentinel.

Now is the time for a good fish law that will conserve our supply of fish here in Seminole county. We may be starving to death in the next twelve months and need those some fish that are being shipped to northern states.

Every man in Seminole county should plant a garden if he lives in town and plant all the available acreage he can command if he lives in the country. This country will be needing food stuffs badly in the next twelve months and Florida may be cast upon her own resources if the war lasts longer than a year.

The Sanford Herald issued an attractive Easter edition on Tuesday.

the cover design showing Easter lilies and other symbols of the happy season. A group of pictures in the center showed half a dozen of Sanford's beautiful church buildings, which is a most appropriate and timely offering.—Times-Union.

The know it all who squawks loudest about the papers never having any news in them is the same fellow who gets down on his knees and begs the editor not to humiliate his mother and sister by printing his name when he slips up and lands in the police court.—Macon Telegraph.

We knew when Seminole county failed to send Bob Holly to the legislature, that those people should have some inside information which led them to believe Sir Robert unfit for office. We now know what it was, for the ivory-domed wretch has been found guilty of writing poetry.—Perry Herald.

WHY SOME TOWNS GROW
The reasons why some towns grow, says some student of civic progress, is because there are men of push and energy in them who are not afraid to spend time and money to boost their town. They erect good buildings, organize stock companies and establish factories, secure railroads, work for public improvements and use every means in their power to induce people to locate in their city. Wherever they go they tell the advantages of their cities, they write about them in every letter, they send circulars and newspapers to all whom they think they can get to visit their city, and when any one visits them treat him so kindly that he falls in love with them and their city at once.

THE STARS AND STRIPES
The Stars and Stripes for freedom stand! It is a strong protecting hand. Those who are born beneath its fold, A heritage have worth more than gold.

Each star a state does represent, Each bar of red shows blood was spent; Each bar of white, its emblem—peace. The staff stands firm—then war does cease.

Where are the Stars and Stripes you see, In foreign climes, or on the sea, Protection for you there will be; It stands out clear for liberty.

Peace with honor we will uphold, Humane treatment for young and old. Should all efforts to that end fail, With sword and gun we will assail.

America has always won, Although all nations she tried to shun. If a nation our rights assail, Our war cry "Freedom" will avail.—Douglas Ward.

ORLANDO-SANFORD ROAD OPEN
The opening of the Orlando Sanford road, paved with grouted brick all the way, marks an epoch in the road building and development of this great section. The Sanford Herald rightfully refers to this territory as one of the richest in Florida. For more than a year the road from Orlando to Kissimmee has been open and travel between the towns has been increased by such a ratio that it would be difficult to accurately estimate its percentage. The opening of the Sanford road increases the mileage of brick roads and makes the connection between three of the most prosperous towns of middle Florida completely of brick, easy of travel and quick communication. It will not be long before Osceola county extends its mileage on to the Polk county line and already Polk is at work on its sand-asphalt road. It would be better were they brick, but any kind of a good road is better than sand, and along with the work in Polk county to the south is that in operation in Volusia and Putnam above. Not many months will elapse before the several connecting links will have been constructed and a paved road all the way from Jacksonville to Tampa will offer attractions to the motorist, home builder and agricultural developer that hitherto did not exist.—Reporter-Star.

MORE PATRIOTISM
We need more patriotism in Sanford. Every city, village and hamlet in the United States is aflame with patriotism and the war spirit while slow to kindle has burst forth with the spirit of '76. The Stars and Stripes are flying in the breezes of Alaska's frozen slopes and amid the balmy breezes of the peninsula of Florida. The men and women of this grand country of ours are responding to the call and there is work for every one of us. The patriotic women of every town in this state have organized and are busy getting ready for the conflict that is on and will end only after years of fighting. Sanford should have an auxiliary of the Red Cross and the men should be organizing a reserve corps. The young men should be forming a company of volunteers and be ready for the summons that will come. The middle aged can give our people guard company and have our home the protection that will be needed from time to time.

NO MORE LIVELY STABLES
The Herald learns from good authority that the Parramore property on Park avenue directly opposite the new Elks Home has been purchased or at least an option has been purchased on it and that the parties interested in it will start a large sales stable here in this building that has long been used as a lively stable. If this is true it deserves the criticism and censure of every citizen of Sanford. It is high time that the lively stables and all business of that sort were moved farther out instead of moving into the heart of the city. In this day and time of automobiles it is impossible to maneuver the lively stables in all the cities are going to garages and the lively and food and other large stables are moving out to the farming community on the edge of the towns where they belong.

It is not only cheaper and much more economical for the lively man to keep his live stock in the suburbs but it is better for the appearance and health of the city to have the stables removed from the heart of the city. "In our homes," remarks the Chicago Tribune, "we do not peel potatoes in the parlor nor keep the garbage can in the front hall, nor set up cook stoves in the guest rooms. The city, as things go now, does exactly similar things."

The Illinois legislature is considering a bill meant to prevent such chaotic lack of municipal organization. The measure would permit any city or town to establish a zoning system, restricting its various activities to definite quarters, and enabling it to regulate its own growth in a sensible and economic way. Factories and stables would then be kept out of the residential districts, tenements would be kept out of the factory sections, various parts of the city would be specialized for particular functions in the city's life just as are the rooms of houses or the departments of a manufacturing plant.

It is high time the city council looked into this matter and urged by the citizens gave us a better and cleaner city in many ways and this new lively and sales stable should not be located in a section of the city that already has one fine building and will in all probability be a hotel site in the near future.

SHAME
The following from The Country Gentleman is worth your while to read whether you endorse or are willing to practice the suggestions or not: "To be ashamed of the wrong things is a common fault. We are ashamed of our homes, because they are not so imposing as our neighbors, or of our motor cars, because they cannot travel so fast or climb hills so well. It is curious that this feeling of being ashamed which we generally attempt to conceal under an apparent indifference to the material superiority of others is confined to visible things. We do not experience the same sense of shame over our moral or spiritual defects; on the contrary, we are likely to feel that these do not matter so much after all, provided we can make a brave show in the world.

"Would it not be singular indeed, even for a brief period, if we could abandon our habitual hypocrisy and frankly admit our sense of shame for certain things which, if we do not exactly glory in them, at least afford us some measure of self satisfaction? Suppose, for example, that Jones should openly and unaffectedly declare that he begins to realize he is not such a skilled liar as he was wont to be; or that Mrs. Smith, with charming and artless publicity should lament her decreasing vanity, or her power of receiving her neighbors; or that Robinson, with genuine pathos should deprecate his own deterioration by vowing that there

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Tallahassee, Fla., April 9.—It is thought that the citrus canker appropriation bill will be among the first bills to receive consideration. The legislature will be asked to appropriate $300,000 for the eradication of the canker in the citrus belt. The measure will in all probability meet with strong opposition among the members in both houses who are afraid of the loss of the citrus belt and the loss of the bill can not now be foretold. It is thought that some sort of appropriation will be made, but the above sum strikes some members as going a little too strong. They do not seem to realize that this expenditure, though very large, is one of the best investments the state could make.

South Florida members are making urgent requests from the voters to support this measure and we have heard of none of them opposing it.

Senator A. M. Wilson says that his people can save their postage stamps and rely upon him to support citrus canker appropriation, as he is thoroughly committed to it.

Tallahassee, April 9.—The old county division contests have begun to arrive on the scene. This time the division of DeSoto county has come up in a new form. A division from Osceola County is here seeking to take a swipe off the east side of the county to go with a part of St. Louis and Osceola counties to make a new county for the benefit of Osceola City. The advocates of the proposition are making a strenuous fight and have some strong backing, but the outlook at the present time is not favorable to their success. The plan may develop strength as time passes and it may dwindle away and die. But out of all this long struggle on the part of DeSoto county to maintain her integrity, at least one fact has been developed. It is such a fine country that covetous eyes never cease their longing to take a slice of her.

Tallahassee, April 9.—At a short session of the senate this morning about 25 new bills were introduced, among them being one by Senator Andrews regulating Sunday amusements; another concerning fire tax books; another by Senator Hughlett creating a new judicial district; a resolution by Senator Farris providing a new state constitution, also a bill by Mr. Farris regulating the granting of injunctions by circuit courts.

Two war measures were also introduced by the senate. One makes it unlawful to interfere with the work of the recruiting officer, and the other authorizes the Governor to issue a proclamation to compel all aliens in the state to appear within twenty-four hours before such authority as the Governor may direct, and register their names, nationality, occupation, address, etc. Failure to do this subjects all such aliens to penalty for misdemeanor.

Senate bill, No. 69, introduced by MacWilliams provides that every male person must file a certificate of good health with the court before obtaining a marriage license. This measure was referred to the committee on Public Health. It is being discussed quite freely around the capitol and the indications, so far as we have been able to determine, are that the bill is going to pass both houses, if it receives a favorable report from the committee.

The senate this morning waived the rules and by unanimous consent passed a couple of special acts of interest by Senator Hughlett. Both measures related to the Upper St. Johns Drainage District. Senator Hughlett also introduced a bill creating a new judicial district in his section of the state. The bill was referred to Judicial A committee.

Senator Eaton of Lakeland this morning introduced an appropriation of $300,000 to be used for the eradication of the citrus canker, the sum to be available at the rate of $150,000 per year.

Tallahassee, April 9.—The senate took cognizance of a newspaper article supposed to have been sent from the city by H. West Farris of the Jacksonville News-Tribune. The article in question purported to quote from a speech delivered by Gov. Catts to an audience at the High School auditorium Sunday afternoon, in which the Governor is supposed to have said, "That the best members of the legislature who gets drunk will be sent to jail and kept for sixty days." Senator Gorato of Macon, who said he was a personal friend of the Governor introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, the present Governor of the State of Florida is reported as having stated to an audience assembled at the High School auditorium at Tallahassee, April 1st, 1917: 'That the best members of the legislature who gets drunk will be sent to jail and kept for sixty days.' and

Resolved, that the senate of the state of Florida rescues such statement, believing it to be unjust and unbecoming and considers the same a reflection upon the legislature, the members of which, as far as we are advised, are high minded gentlemen; Resolved, further, that we deeply regret and deplore the implication on the part of the Chief Executive, thus reflecting upon the morals and conduct of the members of the legislature; and suggests that it is unbecoming the dignity of the high office of Governor of this great state, and would suggest that the legislative department of the government is vested with the power, and is amply able and willing to take care of any infractions of law or morals on the part of any members of the legislature; and be it further

Resolved, That a duly inscribed copy of this resolution be immediately furnished by the secretary of the senate to the Governor."

COMMISSIONERS ARE ACTIVE

PASS RESOLUTION URGING FARMERS TO GROW STAPLES
That the board of county commissioners of Seminole county be wakened to the needs of the state and the country is evident from the fact that yesterday when in session, the board passed a representative resolution to the effect that they decided to urge the farmers to plant more food staples. The resolution in question purported to quote from a speech delivered by Gov. Catts to an audience at the High School auditorium Sunday afternoon, in which the Governor is supposed to have said, "That the best members of the legislature who gets drunk will be sent to jail and kept for sixty days." In consequence of this statement, the board passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, the present Governor of the State of Florida is reported as having stated to an audience assembled at the High School auditorium at Tallahassee, April 1st, 1917: 'That the best members of the legislature who gets drunk will be sent to jail and kept for sixty days.' and

Resolved, that the people of Seminole county be and they are hereby most earnestly and seriously urged and requested to proceed at once to plant in large quantities on all available untitled soil such quick food stuffs as peas, beans, corn, potatoes, squash, late Irish potatoes, sorghum, kaffir corn, upland rice and millets of all kinds, and be it further

Resolved, that the citizens of this county be and they are further requested to at once notify E. A. Douglass, clerk of this board, in writing, of the number of acres of land they will plant and of the kind of crops they will plant. Adopted, this April 8th, 1917.

Some music and drama. Music and games marked the passing of the pleasant hours. An ice cream course was served during the evening. On Sunday Mrs. Taylor was presented with a large and beautiful bouquet of pansies by the class. Mrs. Taylor will be reunited in the music departments of by the Baptists who, led by Dr. Hyman had held services during the day.

The first of these services was the Morning Watch, which was very well attended, considering the fact that it was held at 6:30.

The next of the services, Sunday school was largely attended, there being 211 present and taking a contribution of $77.54. The contribution was made special on account of it being taken for missions—this also being mission day in the school.

The third service was the morning sermon by Dr. Hyman, the pastor, and was delivered in the true, characteristic style of the Doctor and on a subject vital to all.

The fourth service was an emblematic one—that of rising from the grave—imitating Christ inasmuch as He rose from the grave even so did a great number that arose from the watery grave after having been baptized. This service was held at Brighton pool and was largely attended by both members and friends of the church.

The fifth service was the numerous B. Y. P. E. organizations that met at 6:20 in the halls of the Temple. This federation of B. Y. P. E. Organizations always closing these services was held in the Baginnes department of the Sunday school rooms.

The "Dawn Immortal" was the sixth service—this one taking place at 7:30 in the evening, and was conducted jointly by the Pipe Organ Club, the Temple Orchestra and by the pastor—with Mrs. Kennedy reading the story of the Immortal day.

The seventh service was a romantic service held in the upper part of the Temple and was a most interesting and beautiful affair.

Religion and Water. The mayor of a much larger town was about to engage a preacher for the new church. "Parson, you aren't by any chance a Baptist, are you?" "Well, no, not exactly, why?" "Well, I was just wondering if any we could baptize you?"

"The Right One to Question. "Jimmy, did you take the pennies out of the cup on the table?" I asked my youngest son. "No, mother," said Jimmy, aged five. "You must tell a story, Jimmy, because God sees everything and you know you can't hide from him." "Ask him who took the pennies, then," was the curt reply. Cleveland Leader.

Few Sweets Among Miners. Statistics show that there are fewer sweets among miners than among any other class.

As to Brain Food. The more brains a man has the more he is in need of brain food, though not necessarily the kind he would take in through his mouth.
