

CURIOSITY PIQUED BY FRENCH MOVE ON AMBASSADORS

Hunt Says Jusserand, After 22 Years of Residence in U. S. Could Not Handle Reparations as France Desires

By Harry B. Hunt.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The arrival of a new ambassador from France, just at the time the United States senate is "all het up" over that nation's reluctance to arrange some definite schedule for the payment of its $4,000,000,000 debt to us, has piqued the capital's curiosity.

Special significance, if any, there is in the termination of Jusserand's tenure as ambassador, just at this time, and the appointment of M. Emille Daeschner. The debt situation, they believe, has been a deciding factor in the change.

After 22 years of residence in Washington, it would have been mentally and physically impossible for Jusserand to undertake to drive a hard bargain with Uncle Sam in the settlement of this debt.

He knew and recognized not only the problem facing his own country in respect to payment, but he knew and appreciated the position of the American taxpayer, who has been carrying the load of the French loan.

While patriotically presenting the French government's view on this situation, the aged little Frenchman couldn't conscientiously make as strong a plea as his country desired.

This inhibition, developed by long residence and increasing years will not be found present in the new ambassador.

As against the slight stature and bent shoulders of Jusserand, Daeschner is a towering, erect figure, stalwart, vigorous, in the prime of life. Even in his reticence, which he diplomatically maintained following his arrival in the capital, there is a force and aggressiveness that was lacking in Jusserand.

Six feet tall, or a bit more, Daeschner has a personality and bearing that would make him a marked man in any gathering. He has a long face, long nose and a long, strong chin.

His mustache also is long, the ends drawn out into tapering needle-points that accentuate their length.

It's the longest, sharpest mustache Washington has seen in ages. His gray eyes are of the sort novelists describe as "piercing," with just the hint of a quizzical smile indicated in the lines at their corners.

Old Oriental Gifts Are Rescued From Capitol Dust Bins

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The State Department has rescued from its temporary wartime quarters in a sub-basement a collection of rare gifts from the East, presented to the American government as goodwill offerings.

Swords from Japan and Slam, a stone from the Great Wall of China, relics from Korea, and rare embroideries are in the collection. Miscellaneous documentary material and objects of art, now in the keeping of the State Department, would, in the opinion of officials, be valued in the millions of dollars if offered for sale.

The swords from Japan seem to have been brought here by the first mission from Japan in 1860, when ratifications of the treaty of 1858 were exchanged, and those that Commodore Perry took with him to Japan. When the treaty with Korea was ratified here, the members of the mission from that country brought presents with them. The Japanese mission of 1872 likewise brought gifts.

Congress may be asked to make provision by appropriation for the proper care of these articles.

To Begin Building Four New Homes At Oak Hill Soon

Four more lots in Oak Hill were added to the sold column Tuesday morning, according to an announcement by N. H. Garner, developer of the subdivision. One house is under construction at the present and building operations are to begin on three others next week.

The opening of the subdivision, which took place nearly four weeks ago, has aroused much interest. Mr. Garner states. Not only is this interest manifesting itself in Sanford but over the state as well. One lot was sold a short time ago to a woman in Miami, which is pointed to as an indication of the interest shown elsewhere.

Queries concerning the property are being received from virtually every section of the state. Mr. Garner declared. Likewise, the number of people desiring to look over the tract is keeping the sales force of the developing company busy.

The erection of three more homes in the tract was stated as a certainty. Other homes will be under construction within a short time, according to the developer. Only strictly high-class homes are allowed in the tract, which is reflecting favorably towards the directors and is drawing a high class of purchasers.

Committee In Favor World Court Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A resolution which would put the house in record favoring American adherence to world court, was approved today by the foreign affairs committee.

The district savings bank of Dessau is doing even more for new arrivals. It has announced that it will give a bond for three marks to the parents of every child born in 1925 on condition that the parents deposit one mark. The four marks will be held in deposit on interest for 14 years to promote the saving spirit among families.

NEVADA DESERT YIELDS SECOND ANCIENT TOWN

Find Reveals Pottery of Kings Never Before Seen on This Continent, Declare Experts

TONOPAH, Feb. 3.—Another prehistoric city was found recently 30 miles east of Beatty, at the head of Forty Mile Canyon. The discoverers, Judge W. B. Gray and W. E. Bond, of Beatty, have been investigating their find for two months, and they say it promises to rival in archaeological importance Pueblo Grande Nevada, the ancient city found recently in the Valley of Fire.

A considerable quantity of pottery has been uncovered, and it is said to be unlike anything hitherto found on the American continent. As soon as weather conditions permit, further excavations will be undertaken by W. M. Harrington, representing the Heye Foundation of American Indian Research and the Smithsonian Institution.

Mr. Harrington at present is superintending excavation at the Pueblo Grande Nevada, where almost every day he is finding evidence that convinces him this city existed some 2,000 years ago and was occupied for a thousand years before it was abandoned for some unknown cause. He has uncovered 18 tombs, containing vessels decorated in turquoise and pearl shell cut into small beads. The length of this city of antiquity has been established at six miles.

F. W. Hodge, curator of the Heye Foundation, has recommended an appropriation ample to excavate the entire city. It is estimated the work will cost around $100,000.

Here's a way to take out marks caused by setting out dishes on your table. Make a thin paste of olive oil and salt, spread it over the mark, and leave it for an hour. When you rub it off, the mark will come off.

Expert Tells Way To Combat Dread Egg Plant Disease

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 2.—Truckers and gardeners are advised to pay close attention to the most destructive disease of the eggplant, and to do this from the time they select their seed till the plants are set in the field, and even after that if this disease—tip-over, foot-rot, leaf spot or fruit rot—appears. This advice is given by G. F. Weber, associate plant pathologist of the Florida Experiment Station.

This disease is caused by the fungus known as Phomopsis vexans and is commonly known by any of the names mentioned above, depending upon the locality grown in and the size of the plants when attacked.

Speaking recently to a group of truckers about this disease, Dr. Weber said, "If you intend to grow eggplants, your attention should be focused on the following points: (1) Be careful in selecting the seed. New land is probably best for this purpose, as there are few if any spores of the disease in such soil. If you have no new land, be sure that the soil you select has not grown infected eggplants within recent years. If it is necessary to use an old infected rebed, sterilize it by steam or fire.

(2) Disinfect the seed by immersing in a solution of corrosive sublimate (1 to 1000) for five minutes. This is for the purpose of killing any spores that may be on the seed. Be sure that the seed are not kept in the disinfectant longer than five minutes. Wash the seed immediately in running water for 20 minutes and plant at once.

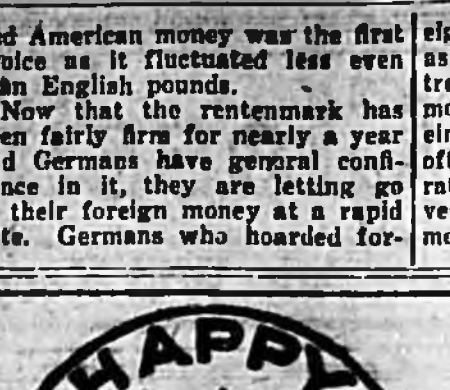

(3) Spray the plant in the seed-bed and after they have been transplanted to the field with 4-1-50 Bordeaux mixture. Spray once in every ten days or two weeks, if there are any indications of the disease in the field."

AMERICAN CASH NOW RETURNING FROM GERMANY

Establishment Of Stable Currency Causes Germans To Release Large Foreign Sums

BERLIN, Feb. 3.—American currency went back to the mother country at a record rate in 1924. During the inflation period American banknotes and silver certificates and all sorts of other American paper money were hoarded. Friends and relatives remitted money to Germany in the form of bills and it was tucked away for a rainy day. While the German paper money was fluctuating so wildly nobody wanted to hold it. Consequently all sorts of foreign stable money was in great demand and American money was the first choice as it fluctuated less even than English pounds. Now that the Rentenmark has been fairly firm for nearly a year and Germans have general confidence in it, they are letting go of their foreign money at a rapid rate. Germans who hoarded foreign gold or silver are out of luck, as the exchange rate of it is extremely bad. Nobody wants hard money and the quotations on foreign gold coins in small sums is often 20 per cent below the official rate for paper money. Foreign silver is an absolute drag on the money market. UNITED DAUGHTERS CONFEDERACY HOLD MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the N. De V. Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held at the home of Mrs. George A. DeCottes with an attendance of 32.

In the absence of Mrs. A. P. Connelly, the president, the first vice-president, Mrs. George A. DeCottes presided. The meeting was opened with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. J. D. Parker.

The business of the afternoon included reports from various chairmen. The final reports of the Robert E. Lee ball were given and the chairman was able to report that because of the splendid success of the ball, all outstanding bills of the Chapter have been paid and there remains a substantial sum in the treasury.

At this time the chapter expressed its appreciation and gratitude to the chairman and committees whose loyal efforts made possible the splendid social and financial success of the ball. A motion was passed that the secretary send notes of appreciation to the various business establishments whose generous assistance helped to make the ball a success.

At the close of the business, Mrs. G. Stringfellow read a most interesting article from the "Confederate Veteran" which told of the presentation of a bust of Gen. Robert E. Lee to the Royal Military College at Sandhurst, Eng. In accepting the gift of the U. D. C. Major General Corkran, Commandant, said that on behalf of the college he gratefully accepted the memorial to Gen. Robert E. Lee and he did so for the reasons which prompted its donors to offer it. It was to preserve the example of a brave, skillful, hard-fighting soldier, and gentleman.

The following resolutions on the death of Walter M. Connelly, were passed by the chapter:

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our community and the family circle young Walter Connelly.

Therefore, be it resolved that the N. De V. Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy extend its heartfelt sympathies to the family in their sorrow.

That we commend them to our Heavenly Father from whence all comfort cometh.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy be incorporated in the minutes of the chapter, and a copy be sent to The Sanford Herald for publication.

"Blest be the tie that binds Our hearts in Christian love, The fellowship of kindred minds To like to that above."

Signed: Mrs. J. D. Parker, Mrs. L. A. Brumley, Mrs. Clifford Bell, Mrs. G. W. Spencer.

McLaughlin, the director and head worker of the settlement, gave a report on the work of the settlement, which was followed by reports of the various officers of the organization. After the dinner at which many prominent school alumnae were represented, a song was given by Miss Elva Evans, followed by a play called the "Story Book Ball" which was very creditably enacted by eighteen of the settlement children. Assisting Mrs. McLaughlin in the arrangements were the Misses Mary Spalla and Momena Caruso.

General Grant Was Good Cook Say Memoirs Of Army Sergeant's Wife

SPOKANE, Feb. 4.—Little known incidents in the early army careers of Generals Ulysses S. Grant, Phil Sheridan and George B. McClellan are related in an account of a year they spent at old Fort Vancouver, Oregon territory, written by Mrs. Delia B. Sheffield, who as the wife of a sergeant in the Fourth United States Infantry, the command to which they were attached, shared their pioneering experiences there in pre-Civil war days.

A movement has been launched to restore old Fort Vancouver near what is now Vancouver, Wash., across the Columbia river, from Portland, Ore. The Fourth United States Infantry, one of the pioneer organizations of the army, now is stationed at Fort George Wright, Spokane.

Mrs. Sheffield's memoirs of these days have been made public by William S. Lewis, historian of the Eastern Washington Historical Society, who received them from Mrs. Sheffield's daughter.

General, then Captain Grant, was regimental quartermaster and was in charge of the transportation of the Fourth Infantry on its long journey from Governor's Island, New York, to Fort Vancouver in 1852. The trip was commenced on July 5, by steamer for Aspinwall, Panama, and thence across the Isthmus of Panama by train, boat, on muleback and afoot. The families and some of the women carried small babies.

To add to the difficulties of the journey, the California gold rush was in full swing, and after the regiment had boarded a steamer on the Pacific side of the isthmus, Asiatic cholera broke out. San Francisco was reached Sept. 1, but no shore leave was granted for fear of desertions to seek gold. At Benicia, Cal., an army post, the regiment went into camp to recruit until Sept. 18, and then again embarked for Fort Vancouver, which was reached some days later.

Besides the army barracks there, the town consisted of the Hudson's Bay Company's trading post and a dozen log huts of Indian and half-breed employees of the company, which carried on extensive trapping operations with Fort Vancouver as the base.

In order to raise the money to bring his family from the east, Captain Grant with a fellow officer leased a tract of land not far from the fort, which he planted to potatoes and oats. However, Mrs. Sheffield's account relates, the river flooded out the crops.

In the spring of 1853 Captain Grant asked Mrs. Sheffield to take into her home as boarders himself Lieutenant Phil Sheridan, Captain George B. McClellan and two others. When she objected, that she would be unable to care for so

His Near Escape. While being questioned Chapman jumped out of a window. His captors thought he had committed suicide, but the bandit was recaptured a few hours later in a vacant room in the same building. He had dropped to a ledge, run along to another room, and there concealed himself.

"I was nearly out of my mind," he explained later. "Officers had been grilling my wife for hours and hours until she was nearly a wreck."

TROTSKY SAVED FROM HANGING BY STUDENTS

Tale of Russian Red's Youth Is Told by Cousin Living Safely in United States

WENATCHEE, Wash., Feb. 4.—How an experience in the early life of Leon Trotsky which resulted in saving him from execution by the Russian Czarist government made him a convert to communism was related recently by his cousin, Mrs. Rose Kornblit of Manson, Wash. The mothers of Trotsky and Kornblit were sisters.

When quite young Trotsky, whose real name is Leon-Brunsh- toen, was sent by his wealthy parents, David and Anna Brunsh- toen from their home in southern Russia to European schools, Mrs. Kornblit said. He sympathized with fellow students less fortunately situated than himself, and divided his means with them.

Later Trotsky was jailed by the Czarist government on a charge of being a socialist, and was condemned to die. It was then that the friendly acts toward his fellow students borne their fruit. They started to dig a tunnel into his cell and effected his escape on the night before he was to have been hanged, his cousin related.

Dressed in feminine garments, he fled to Paris, and kept himself in seclusion until the vigilance of the Russian secret police was relaxed. Then he came to America, where he assumed the name of Trotsky to help in avoiding detection.

"So it is only natural that Leon would believe in communism," Mrs. Kornblit said. "He gave to the poor and in return the poor gave him what could not be bought with money—his freedom."

His parents did not know for years his escape that he had not been hanged. After his return to Russia and his rise to the head of the Red Army he rejoined his mother. With the revolution she had lost her wealth. She now resides in Leningrad.

Mrs. Kornblit, with her husband Aaron Kornblit, resides on ten acres of highly productive orchard land on the shores of Lake Chelan not far from this city. She left Russia in 1907 for fear of persecution of the Jews and came to America in 1918. In Seattle where she landed, she met and married her husband, who also had fled from the Jewish persecutions in Russia.

SOCIALISTS TOTAL 7,000,000.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—The Berlin social democratic organ, Vorwarts, estimates that the strength of organized Socialists throughout the world in 1924 was 7,000,000. England heads the list with 3,150,000 members of the Labor party. Germany comes second with 800,000 and Austria third with 500,100.

Funeral Services Held For C. C. Woodruff

Funeral services for Charles C. Woodruff, who died suddenly Saturday morning, while superintending construction work being done by the city on the boat basin, were held at the residence on Myrtle Avenue Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A large number of friends and relatives assembled at this time to pay tribute of respect to the memory of one whose passing is keenly felt. The beautiful services were conducted by Rev. E. D. Brownlee, who spoke words that were a comfort and solace to the sorrowing loved ones. The choir from the Presbyterian Church, who sang Rock of Ages and Beautiful Isle of Somewhere, were Miss Mable Bowler, R. L. Chilstenbery, C. C. Howard and H. Darrow.

The services at the grave were in charge of the Elks, of which order the Mr. Woodruff was a member, and the services were both impressive and beautiful. The pall bearers were Forrest Lake, Geo. A. De Cottes, C. M. Hand, H. McLaulin, T. F. Adams, and G. W. Bailey.

Big Munn, New Champ, Is Most Impressive In Modern Pugilistic World

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Wrestling is in no way very healthy in these parts just now, but still the mighty-muscled Slavs and Russians and Turks come expecting to earn fame and fabulous fortunes on the mat. The latest to arrive is Ivan Zaiken. He comes from the frozen countryside of the Volga with enough money to buy beefsteak through the winter and to place $1,000 forfeit money in Jack Curley's hands for a match against any wrestler in the world.

Zaiken declares that he is afraid of no one. Every man, woman and child in Europe knows his name, he says, and he thinks the matmen hereabouts are puny beings, who can be easily pushed over.

A wrestling expert asks whether the passing of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship to a college football star from the Middle West is the precursor of a similar development in boxing? It is the destiny of intercollegiate sport to send into the flat world the counterpart of Wayne Munn, of the University of Nebraska, who took the grappling title from "Strangler" Lewis in Kansas City a couple of weeks back? These make rather interesting questions at a time when Jack Dempsey is talking of retiring and fiat experts no longer scoff at the possibility of a college trained wearer of the crown which now rests on the brow of the one-time 'hobo' from Manassas, Colo.

There are many who will assert that the wrestling title has gone from one collegian to another. Ever since "Strangler" Lewis became the third bearer of the illustrious wrestling title, a story has gone around that he was a football star of the University of Kentucky. Investigation of this story on Kentucky some years ago brought nothing to bear on the allegation; so it seems safe to say that Munn is the first college product to hold a world's professional championship in either wrestling or boxing. Lewis did some coaching at Kentucky and it was there the Billy Sandow found him.

Physique Is Impressive.
Munn is perhaps the most impressive physical specimen now before the sport public of America. He is 27 years old, stands six feet six inches in his socks and weighs 290 pounds. He was born in the tiny farm town of Colby, Kan., deep in the grain country, and went to school in the county seat of Fairbury. From there he went to the University of Nebraska, where he remained for little more than three and a half years. With less than a semester to go before getting his degree, Munn enlisted in the Army on America's entry into the World War.

When Munn was mustered out he became an automobile salesman but the life did not appeal to the giant Kansan. He hankered for conflict. A western promoter whispered into the ear of the collegian stories of fortunes to be made through success in the ring. "You're Dempsey's successor," the siren of the roped area told Munn and the big fellow almost believed it.

Once Was Enough.
Munn had just one fight. He met Jack Clifford, a third-rate heavyweight, whom he outweighed by about 50 pounds, in St. Paul on November 14, 1923, and Munn heard the cuckoos twittering at an early stage of the alleged conflict. The promoter had rushed the football star into a match with an experienced campaigner without teaching Munn even the rudiments of boxing and Big Munn was knocked out in the second round. This short and poignant experience in the ring made Munn feel that boxing was not his meter.

At Nebraska the giant had played football and basketball and had been the star of the wrestling team. Here was something about which he knew a thing or two, Earl Craddock, another product of Munn's country, had retired. Zbyskos were in eclipse and Stecher had gone into hibernation. There was money to be made by a heavyweight wrestler, and Munn began the campaign which led to his meeting with Lewis and the acquisition of the world's championship.

Here is meteoric success—the most sensational advance ever made in wrestling or boxing. His bout with Lewis was only his thirty-first in the professional game. In less than one year Munn has jumped from a novice, making appearances at $50 a bout in the grain country, to the pinnacle of the game, attained with a startling triumph over one of the best grapplers the sport has known. In less than a year Munn has advanced from bouts before 200 to a great victory before 17,000 in Kansas City.

Played In Line.
While in Nebraska, Munn was a lineman and one of the best in the history of the Missouri Conference. He was chosen All-Conference guard in football and was a recognized star in basketball, too. For a man of his great weight he developed remarkable speed. Munn never has touched liquor or tobacco—and that's no press agent's fable either.

Munn comes from the section of this country which has produced a wrestling champion. Frank Gotch, who was king of the mat from 1908 through 1916, when he retired, was from Iowa. Joe Stecher, who held the title from 1916 to 1918, came from Nebraska. Earl Craddock who held the championship in 1918 hailed from Iowa. Lewis, who won the title from Stecher here in 1921 is from Kentucky.

There was a time when the world wrestling title was monopolized by foreign stars, but when our big men took up the game in earnest we went to the front. And the United States has remained there. There has been a revival of wrestling in Europe in the last two years, and we may expect to see Munn challenged from abroad as well as by Lewis and some of our other grapplers. The rise of Munn is a great thing for the game. It will inject new interest into the situation any may draw some of our old experts out of retirement.

Wants Engagement.
Stanislaus Zbysko, though 50 years of age, says he is eager to meet Munn. The elder Zbysko recently returned from Europe with news of the development of two outstanding grapplers—Podubny, the big Russian, who held Stanislaus to a draw in a two-hour battle in Berlin, and Salvatore, a giant negro from Martinique who gave Zibby quite a contest. Podubny is only 26 years old, and has been wrestling ever since he was eight years old. He weighs about 200 pounds. Zaikine, the Russian

BIG TRADES ARE ANTICIPATED IN BASEBALL SOON

Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Boston Expected to Stir Up Market in Training Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Damo rumor has it that there will be considerable trading between clubs of the National League before the training season begins. With the exception of Pittsburgh and Chicago, the clubs have done little to strengthen themselves. At a joint meeting of the two leagues practically all the trading was done by American League managers.

The clubs which are the most anxious to complete a deal of some sort are Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Boston. The magnates of the latter two realize that they must get out of part with Cotton Tierney, the second baseman, and Mickey O'Neill, the lively back-stop. Bancroft and Fletcher announced they plan to reorganize their teams. Which of their players Hendricks would be willing to accept in trade, however, is not known. The Cincinnati manager would like to bring Jimmy Ring back into the Redland fold, but he is the one player whom Fletcher wants to keep.

The only solution for Philadelphia and Boston is to loosen up on the bankroll for new talent, a procedure exceedingly distasteful. The Giants will, in all probability, present an unchanged lineup this season. McGraw still has the best team in the National League, and knows it. He has no intention of trading Bill Terry to Cincinnati unless he gets Donohue or Ed Roush in return.

In the American league there has been considerable activity with the Yankees, the Senators and the Browns in the limelight.

Passing of Athlete Mourned By Students

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 4.—High School students of this city are mourning the death of Martin Lillard Dillman, star athlete. Dillman, 19 years old, was stricken with severe pains in his stomach late last Wednesday, he was rushed to a hospital where he died an hour later after physicians had failed to give him relief. The physicians could find no trace of poison or any reason for the death of the youth's stomach has been sent to the state laboratory for examination. Dillman was captain of last year's high school baseball team, captain-elect this year, and also made his letter year before last in football which he mist last fall because of luteness in returning to school.

Shoes made from shark's hide are almost indestructible.

wrestler, no doubt will seek a match with Munn.

Munn is the biggest wrestler since the days of Yussif, the terrible Turk, who went down on the ill-fated steamship Bourgogne with the financial results of his American tour strapped about his waist in a money belt.

Big Purse Awaits Winner of Derby

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 4.—A record number of nominations for the 51st renewal of the Kentucky Derby is expected by turf writers who, taking into account the large number of high-class eligibles wintering at Louisville tracks and elsewhere, predict the 152 nominations of last year will be exceeded when the entries close Feb. 21.

The race for three year olds, at a mile and a quarter, will be run at Churchill Downs Saturday, May 16, the seventh day of the spring meet.

The purse, with $50,000 added by the Kentucky Jockey Club, may be the largest in the history of the half century old classic. Last year 19 of the 152 nominees accepted the issue, making the purse $52,775 for the winner, Black Gold. The year previous when Zev, the Rancocas Stable's colt, won, 20 started, giving the ace a net value of $53,600. The starting fee, $500, is added to the $50,000 purse.

Since weather observations have been taken in Alaska, highest and lowest temperatures recorded were 100 degrees above zero at Fort Yukon and 75 below at Tanana.

NATIONAL LOOP WILL CONTINUE PLAYER AWARD

Schedule For Next Season Is Adopted and Umpires Are Named at N. Y. Convention

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Continuation of the most valuable player award in its present state, adoption of the 1925 playing schedule, selection of golden jubilee celebration dates in each league city and the appointment of umpires for the coming season were the major matters of business transacted by the club owners of the National League at a special meeting here Tuesday.

The magnates elected to continue the most valuable player award without altering its provisions, although there was some discussion concerning a similar award for which pitchers alone would be eligible and barring pitchers from the original award. A player will be eligible to win the award any number of seasons in succession. The league's purse of $1,000 which goes with the award also will be continued.

The schedule was adopted without discussion and the following dates were announced for the respective cities to hold golden jubilee celebrations in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the National League: Chicago at Boston, May 8; Cincinnati at New York, May 13; St. Louis at Philadelphia, May 18; Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, June 6;

New York at Chicago, June 9; Brooklyn at Cincinnati, June 12; and Boston at St. Louis, June 18.

The first celebration will be held at Boston during the first visit of the Chicago club owing to the fact that the Chicago and Boston clubs are the only charter members of the league. The others follow in quick succession, the western celebrations following closely on the heels of those held in the East when the Eastern members make their first swing into the West.

The following umpires were appointed; Bob Emalle, chief of staff and instructor; Henry O'Day, William J. Klem, Ernest C. Quigley, Charles Moran, W. J. McCormick, Robert Hart, Charles Pfirman, James M. Cweeney, Charles Rigler, Frank Willson and Peter J. McLaughlin.

The officials also voted to raise the umpire fees for world's series assignments from $2,000 to $2,500 and for city series umpires from $500 to $750.

The fourth plan, club also will receive a cut in the world's series receipts according to a resolution unanimously adopted. These two matters were adopted by the joint sessions of the two leagues but ratification by each league is necessary before they can become effective.

The league also went on record as favoring Charles H. Ebbetts plan to promulgate a definite playing schedule for world's series games. According to Ebbetts' plan the first and second games, and seventh, if necessary will be played in the National League city winning the pennant, and the third, fourth and fifth in the American League title city. This order shall reverse annually. The suggestion was brought before the magnates during the joint meeting but was tabled to allow each league to allow each league to vote in favor of or against the resolution. It will be brought before the next joint meeting and if adopted, will be effective immediately.

The case in which the Giants are attempting to collect $15,000 from the league for alleged misrepresentation of the status of Dennis Gearin, a pitcher, who was sold to the Boston club for the waiver price, was thrown out by the magnates without discussion. It was ruled that the New York club had appealed, over their heads, directly to Commissioner Landis and having exhausted their highest tribunal, redress to the league was illegal.

The league also adopted a resolution permitting clubs to send purchased players out on option for two years instead of one year without obtaining a waiver for league clubs. The owners expressed regret at the inability of Charles H. Ebbetts, Brooklyn president, to be present. Mr. Ebbetts is the dean of the present day club owners and in the memory of President Heydler it is the first schedule meeting he ever missed during his connection with organized baseball.

Beginning in February, 1925 all students of New York schools who are under 17 years of age at the time of their discharge from school will be required to attend a continuation school until 17.
