

LIMITATION OF ARMS IS SEEN AS NEXT STEP

Move Is Expected As Consequence Of Moratorium Proposal Of Herbert Hoover

By C. P. WILLIAMSON
WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—

A definite advance in world disarmament was expected last night by the administration as one important consequence of the war debt moratorium.

With the holiday in inter-governmental payments definitely assured and steps already taken to adjust remaining debts, President Hoover and his advisors made the forthcoming general disarmament conference their next diplomatic objective.

Three times in as many months, the chief executive has linked the increasing costs of armies, navies and fortifications directly with the world's economic burdens.

Acting Secretary Castle of the State Department, in a chronological resume of events leading to the President's proposal, disclosed yesterday that the Chief Executive's first move toward the moratorium was made one week after a speech in which he linked world economic rehabilitation with success of the coming disarmament conference.

Addressing the International Chamber of Commerce, the President then said: "We must recognize that reduction of this gigantic waste of competition of military establishments is in the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all other forms of economic effort."

Again, in proposing the moratorium, the President pointed to the contribution of "competitive armaments" to the world wide depression.

Monday, July 6, the agreement of the major powers on the debt holiday, he touched on the arms question, saying: "I need not repeat that one of these causes (of depression) is the burdens (imposed) and the fears aroused by competitive armaments."

The disarmament conference will be held at Geneva in February under the auspices of the League of Nations. America will participate fully and officially.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, notified the American Government yesterday of the action by the London Government in summoning an experts conference.

Acting Secretary Castle in a formal statement expressed confidence little difficulty would be found in working out a solution of details.

Earlier the President received a message of gratitude from President von Hindenburg of Germany. The President's plan was designed mainly to assist Germany. That nation is the leading active supporter of the Geneva disarmament conference.

Two Fliers Leave Seattle Upon Non-Stop, Mid-Air Refueling Hop To Tokyo

SEATTLE, July 8.—(AP)—Reg Robbins and H. S. Jones, Texas aviators, took off in the monoplane Fort Worth early today on a non-stop mid-air refueling flight to Tokyo. The fliers will seek the $25,000 prize offered by the Japanese newspaper Asahi for the first non-stop flight between Seattle and Tokyo.

They plan to cover the 5100 mile route which will take them over Alaska and Northern Siberia hoping to bring their plane down in Japan Friday morning. The fliers expect to make the first of their two or three refueling stops today over Fairbanks.

Two other Texans, Jimmy Matern and Nick Greener, arrived yesterday with the fliers across Alaska. The Fort Worth failed to take off on the first attempt with 300 gallons of gasoline but left the ground at the end of the field on the second trial. Weather conditions here for the flight are ideal.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(AP)—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty were honored last night by leaders of American aviation and those who blazed earlier air trails across treacherous seas and distant lands.

They were guests at a dinner given in recognition of their round-the-world flight by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America at the Hotel Astor.

Speaking more freely than any time since he brought the Wiandina down on Roosevelt field last Wednesday to set a new world-girdling record, Wiley Post told of many humorous phases of his trip and subsequent reception.

Navigator Gatty already had described in various vein the problems of navigation he encountered. "I'm not going to let that fellow Gatty get far ahead of me even in public speaking," said Post, who has been extremely reluctant to make speeches heretofore.

"He got ahead of me down in Washington yesterday all right. It seems that all presidents are fishermen and Hoover isn't any exception. Harold's a fisherman too, as he and the president did a lot of gossiping about fish. But I wasn't a bit interested."

"You might take the Oklahoma vote away from Hoover if you keep on talking like that," interjected the toastmaster, Col. Peter J. Brady, chairman of the mayor's New York committee on aviation.

"No, I'm not going into politics," Post retorted.

He was asked by the toastmaster what he had learned about foreign languages in Europe.

"Well," he replied, "I learned three things in Russian, 'yada' (Continued on Page Three)

BUSINESS SKY BRIGHTENED BY DEBT ACCORD

Economic Reports Of World Centers Reflect Improvement In Public Optimism

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—

Rosier business skies the world over are reported by Commerce Department representatives as a result of the Hoover moratorium proposal.

Summarizing reports on the period since the President announced his plan but prior to the agreement with France, the department announced word of "improved sentiment" had been received from several countries.

Department experts said the psychological effect of the moratorium negotiations unquestionably has been good. They were unable, however, as yet to tell what material effect it may have.

A "survey of current business" issued last night showed declines in the domestic business field for May. The department said, however, indications were that there was a considerable improvement in June.

The May employment situation, though showing declines, was described as better than usual for that season although general business dropped slightly more than usual.

The rebound of sentiment abroad was reported most marked in European countries. There was no great change in Asia and South America where improved sentiment was noted during the preceding two weeks.

The greatest feeling of optimism was recorded from Great Britain, Italy, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Japan reported optimism due to better silk and rice prices while confidence increased in the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines.

Reports received thus far for June indicate an increase in car loadings and better than seasonal production of electric power and automobiles. The returns, however, still are far from complete.

In its May survey of business, the department said the decline of slightly more than seasonal proportions in the volume of business which set in early in May continued during the rest of the month, after allowing for normal seasonal fluctuations.

Sanford parents have responded in large numbers to an announcement issued some days ago that applications were open for a week's camp of girls at Lake Winona, in Volusia county, to be held under the auspices of the Seminole County Y. M. C. A., starting July 27.

Herman Morris, local "Y" official announced this morning that only a few more places were left, and that since accommodations have been arranged for but 42 girls, all entries will close when that number have been handed in.

The camp for girls between the ages of eight and 12, will be supervised by Mrs. H. E. Morris, with Mrs. J. M. Stinephor as assistant. High school girls who will act as counselors are the Misses Elizabeth Earle, Chloe Routh, Ethel Gater, and Mary Frances Andrews.

The girls will meet at Central Park, Monday, July 27, and be taken to the camp in automobiles furnished by their parents. They are scheduled to arrive there in time to enjoy a luncheon prepared by Mrs. C. A. Stomper, who has been the official dining room manager for the past two years.

After that they will start on a round of fun and frolic which will continue for an entire week. They will observe the same camp rules and regulations which were in effect at a recent boys camp there. The day's program will get under way at 8:25 each morning when first call will be sounded. The day's program ends at 9:20 o'clock when all lights will be turned out and taps sounded.

RUSSIA SEEKING TO WIN FAVOR OF UPPER CLASSES

Desires Services Of Brains And Ability Of Intelligentsia

MOSCOW, July 9.—(AP)—

Through Joseph Stalin, soviet Russia has set out to win over the remaining members of the old intelligentsia, at least that part of the former upper classes composed of specialists or technicians in business and industry.

For the first time since the revolution these representatives of a class which furnished many anti-pathetic elements to the government, not only have been given a definite status in the soviet state but have been invited by Stalin to take a larger part in socialistic development.

Subversive groups among the intelligentsia have been virtually destroyed, and Stalin foresees a pronounced trend among those remaining to become more sympathetic and to cooperate more fully with the state.

The number of this class now in Russia is indeterminate but is believed to be considerable. Many of the intelligentsia, joining the revolution at the outset, became genuine proletarians; those who actively opposed it were exiled or otherwise "punished."

Unsettled delays in the trial of Ernest and Jack Goodwin, white men charged with taking fish by an unlawful device, have resulted in a one-day setback of all cases scheduled to be heard before Judge James G. Sharon, who is presiding over County Court proceedings.

Yesterday afternoon, County Prosecuting Attorney John G. Leonard, began the prosecution of the two men, and a jury composed of the following, had been selected: C. W. Kelly, E. E. Wolcott, J. T. O'Brien, Jr., T. A. Brothman, M. S. Price, and J. V. Jamison.

Witnesses for the county were A. J. Gunter and J. A. Black. At noon today, after a morning's delay, the case was only half completed. It was deemed necessary to send for the men with which the men were charged to have caught the fish in the morning was required in measuring and otherwise prosecuting them.

Judge Leonard will hear more than 20 cases of alleged law violation before the county court proceedings for the term. Many of the cases are of liquor, while several others involve assault charges against both colored and white men.

Court proceedings this afternoon will be in progress at 1 o'clock.

LUXURIES TAX BILL IS BEFORE HOUSE TODAY

Other Measures For Raising Revenue Of State Introduced In Legislative Hall

TALLAHASSEE, July 8.—(AP)—

The Legislature today received bills to tax gasoline, kerosene, cigarettes and other so-called luxuries to provide the necessary revenue for operations of the state government the next two years without taxing real estate through an ad valorem tax.

The bills were introduced in the House by a select committee that drafted the revenue program between the first and second extraordinary sessions.

The House adjourned after an hour's meeting in order to give the committee appointed by Speaker Lewis an opportunity to consider 59 bills introduced today. The House passed one bill and the Senate several. All were of a minor nature.

The Senate wrangled over a resolution to require legislation to serve through the second extraordinary session without pay eventually defeating the plan. Similar resolutions were introduced in the House. One called upon the legislators to serve without pay, another specifying one cent per day as the rate of salary.

Interesting facts and figures on the duties of a Seminole County traffic officer are revealed in the June report of Motor Vehicle Officer A. H. Beckwith, who patrols territory roads daily.

The report, presented to the County Commissioners at their monthly session Monday, shows that Mr. Beckwith traveled exactly 1900 miles during the month. He warned 31 persons for reckless driving; 12 for improper lights, and ordered six to secure proper licenses for automobiles they were driving.

He made the following arrests which brought revenue to the County: Frank Fossett, Jr. and Marshall Hampton, colored, charged with reckless driving; and Frank Fossett, Sr., colored, charged with drunkenness; John Campbell, W. G. King, William McKinney, M. B. Smith, J. A. Long, Jr., and Ira A. Jamison, white persons, charged with reckless driving; O. Fourake, white, charged with operating a car without a license; C. M. King, white, charged with operating an automobile while drunk; C. B. King and J. G. Corley, white, charged with drunkenness. Fines and costs turned over to Sheriff J. P. McClelland amounted to $376.00.

The interpretation of the law, as handed down by the Attorney General, clarified the discretionary powers of the commission in passing on applications, showing it can only receive sworn statements from prospective track operators and, if the questionnaires have been properly filled out, must issue the permits subject to ratification by the qualified voters of the affected communities.

The applications require the following information: Full name of the person, association or corporation, and if a corporation, the name of the state under which the same is incorporated; if an association or corporation, the nationality, color and residence of members and directors; the exact location where it is desired to conduct or hold a race meeting; whether or not the racing plant is owned or leased and, if leased, the name, color and residence of the fee owner, provided nothing shall prevent persons or corporations from applying for (Continued on Page Three)

NEW FARM AGENT WILL BEGIN WORK IN COUNTY SOON

Assistant To Johnson Appointed For New Post

Following closely on the heels of the County Commissioners' decision to add one-half mill to county taxes for the coming year, the proceeds of which are to be used to help maintain a county agricultural agent, an announcement was made this morning that C. R. Dawson, Gainesville, had been appointed as assistant agricultural agent, under Alex R. Johnson, vocational director at the Seminole High School.

Mr. Dawson a graduate of the University of Florida, where he received B. S. and M. S. A. degrees will make his home at Lake Charm where he will also establish a branch agricultural experiment office within a few days. He was in Sanford today and expects to return here with his family tomorrow, and will begin his official duties immediately thereafter.

His experience as an agricultural expert has been wide. During his years at the University of Florida he was prominently identified with almost every branch of agricultural and farm work. He was an assistant in dairy investigations; a specialist in poultry and hogs, following five years' work along that line; and is author of a bulletin on "The Effect of Dipping Cattle on Milk Production", and co-author of a bulletin on "Comparisons of Soy Bean Silage and Alfalfa Hay for Milk Production".

Mr. Dawson is an ex-service man, having served as First Lieutenant in an infantry division. He served overseas for 18 months and holds a citation for bravery in action. He is a member of the American Legion, and is a communicant of the Presbyterian Church.

His duties will find him acting in an advisory capacity to Mr. Johnson on all farm matters, as well as in the same capacity to all growers and shippers who are interested in improving farming and marketing conditions locally. He expects to make the acquaintance of every farmer in the county and urges the full co-operation of all, so that agricultural progress may be advanced. Farmers are requested to get in touch with him on any matters in which they are in doubt.

al changes, fell back to a level approximating that of March. "Among the basic manufacturing industries, the only one which showed a decline greater-than-seasonal was that of iron and steel in which the adjusted index of output fell about 4 per cent," the department said.

"Production of automobiles if adjusted for seasonal trend showed no change as compared with April. Cotton textile production continued on the April level and has shown no material change during the first half of June. . . . The adjusted index of production in foodstuffs after having virtually reached its level of a year ago in April, fell back again last month by more than 5 per cent.

"One of the most unfavorable factors in the general business situation for May is the drop of nearly 10 per cent in contracts awarded in the building construction industry. The decline which had characterized the industry in April in the face of a usual seasonal increase continued during May but the first half of June showed some slight improvement.

"Department store sales during May if adjusted for normal seasonal changes and for variations in the month's total business days fell more than 40 per cent below those of April but only slightly below those of March.

of the $10,000 due Seminole County by Volusia County in the construction of the Osteen Bridge.

The high lights in the resolution concerning the taking of fish by nets are as follows:

Rough fish, catfish and mullet, may be taken from the waters of Lake Harney, Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River.

Nets not more than 250 yards in length and such mesh and other regulations as may be prescribed.

Only residents and citizens of Seminole County at the time the resolution was passed are eligible for the commercial fishing this set up.

The permission to fish with nets, as above prescribed, extends from the present time until Sept. 1, 1931.

The appointment of a deputy game warden, to supervise the fishing during the period designated, with power to collect one-fourth of one cent per pound upon all catfish and mullet caught.

The money collected to be used for paying his salary.

Persons catching fish in the above manner may sell them in this county or any county in Florida, in accordance with the provision of the law in regard to the sale of fish.

Violators of any of the regulations immediately forfeit their right as net-fishermen of that type.

should be able to raise this revenue from home other source.

The report further suggests 13 optional methods of raising this fund. They only suggest these avenues of revenue, and leave it to the House to select sufficient ones of them to raise the $1,000,000 necessary.

The methods suggested are a Cigarette Tax, Intangible Tax, Revision of the Occupational License Tax Schedule, Tax on Professions, Documentary Stamp Tax, Bill Boards, Amusements, Banks and Finance Co.'s Tax, 1c Additional on Gasoline, Excise Tax on non-essentials, (but the committee did not state what were to be considered as non-essentials). Kilowatt Hour Tax on Electricity, and 3c per gallon tax on Kerosene.

The committee also wisely recommended a UNIFORM reduction in salaries of all state officials and employes, with a higher scale for the larger salaries and so on down, this same UNIFORM reduction to apply also to state expenses other than salaries.

The committee carried out my ideas almost to the letter as to the State Road Department. Their recommendation provides that the department be limited to maintenance and to construction ONLY of Federal Aid roads.

In fact, taking by and large, the report conforms in a large measure to my ideas. I do not favor some of the taxes they suggest, but do favor a good many of them, and hope that the Legislature can raise the additional revenue and take the 10 mills off of real and personal property without working a hardship on any group of individuals or businesses.

means 'yes,' when you turn your thumbs up that means 'good' and when you turn 'em down that means 'rotten.' " "Did you take advantage of being away from the dry laws while you were gone?" Colonel Brady asked.

"Not much," Post said with a smile. "I just had one glass of wine. Gatty did all the beer drinking for us because I don't like it."

"What kind of English do they speak in Russia?" the toastmaster asked.

"Harold was the only one who could understand it." Post replied, "so I guess it must have been cockney English." (Gatty is an Australian.)

Then there was a long pause and the embarrassed pilot, who still seems perplexed by the honors showered upon him, finally said: "I don't seem to be getting along very well, but I can't let that partner of mine beat me at anything, even speech making."

Racing Board To Give Permits To All Applicants

permits regardless of whether plants have been constructed or not; a statement of the assets and liabilities of applicants; kind of racing to be conducted; and such other information as the commission may require.

Under the opinion the commission cannot question the financial responsibility of any applicant because the answers to its questionnaires are made under oath. It must pass the approval or rejection of the permits on to the voters.

"The law also provides for the posting of $50,000 bonds by the holders of licenses," Chairman Reagin explained yesterday. "This would tend to prove the applicant's financial responsibility."

Reagin was somewhat worried concerning the section of the racing bill pertaining to the powers of the commission in fixing dates of race meetings.

Car Owners Bought More Firestone Tires

During April, May and June than in any like period in History

THERE ARE REASONS for this—Firestone is now building the Greatest Tire Values in history, with the result that Firestone factories are operating 24 hours a day, 6 days a week, to meet public preference.

When they saw the facts, they bought more Firestone tires during April, May and June than in any like period in Firestone history.

This is the year everybody is scrutinizing his purchases. This is particularly true in tire buying because of the many confusing and misleading statements made about tires.

To give car owners the facts, Firestone published comparisons showing quality, construction and prices. Then the public came in—made their own comparisons with cross-sections cut from Firestone tires—and from special brand mail order tires and others.
