'Tomcat' Probed For Navy's Use

By FRANK MACOMBER
Military-Aerospace Writer
Copley News Service
The pendulum is swinging the other way for the once-maligned F-111 all-weather fighter. Now the guns of congressional and other weapons systems critics have shifted to the Navy's F-14 Tomcat.
Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) has called the Tomcat a "Tom Turkey" so slow and tough to turn that it could be outmaneuvered by the F-4 Phantom fighter. It is supposed to replace, despite denials from the Navy.
Cost overruns and operational flaws during test flights have plagued the Tomcat to the point where Navy Secretary John H. Chafee ordered an investigation of the F-14 procurement program.
The irony of this is that the Navy was to acquire a carrier version of the F-111 as its first-line fighter but rejected it on grounds the aircraft was too heavy for carrier flight decks. Then it set about acquiring the F-14 Tomcat, designed more closely to the combat needs of a carrier fighter.
After production stretchouts, reductions in quantity from thousands to hundreds, up-and-down financing, structural troubles and inflation which drove up prices, the F-111 nevertheless is moving into the U.S. Air Force arsenal, its misfortunes hopefully behind it.
While this multimodel fighter perhaps has been the target of more criticism than some new weapons systems, none goes unscathed. Congress always takes a long and sometimes uneducated look at new military hardware, especially when it is needed urgently over some far-away battlefield.

She Climbs Poles A Female First

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service
Where, you ask, will the American woman go next? Up a telephone pole, that's where.
Mrs. Sharon Roswell, a 24-year-old Arkansan, has gone to work as a telephone lineman for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest. A full-fledged member of a troubleshooting line crew, she is the first woman to take such a high-climbing job in any of the more than 30 company subsidiaries.
Says Del L. Moore, vice president for operations: "So far as we can find out, Sharon is the first lady lineman in the country, maybe in the world, for that matter."
"She is determined to climb up in the telephone business," Mrs. Roswell is a Stuttgart, Ark., housewife who has learned to climb poles with the best of the linemen and do her work without running aloft of any "hot" cables.
"I already know she is competent," says Moore. "The work is demanding and Sharon isn't receiving any preferential treatment. However, she's well trained, physically fit and eager to learn more."
"I worked for three years as an operator and clerk for GT ones and decided the pole-climbing job would be a challenging one and a way to learn the business," Mrs. Roswell explains. "I decided that eventually I'd like to specialize in repairing switchboards and installing telephone systems for businesses. The lineman's job, which pays more than my clerical one, looks like it would take me a big step toward my goal."
So Sharon now climbs poles, lifts heavy equipment and operates construction machinery in good weather or bad. She spends most of the time about 20 feet off the ground stringing new lines and repairing old ones.

Historic Milestone Traffic Hazard

TOKYO (AP) — All roads in Japan once began at Tokyo's Nihonbashi off the Ginza, the hub of the world's largest metropolis.
That was the starting point where distance in Japan was calculated.
But modern times have forced authorities to reluctantly remove the historic milestone carved in a Victorian era lamp post. It has become a traffic hazard.
To make sure map makers, functionaries, crooks and warriors, merchants and travelers, made no mistake where their journey began.
It was highlighted in Hiroshima's world famous woodcut prints of 53 stations on the Tokaido, the colorful highway that wound along the Pacific seaboard of Honshu between Tokyo, the eastern capital, and Kyoto, the western capital.
The life and times of Edo, old Tokyo, based around Nihonbashi, with its myriad mercantile houses, some of which later expanded into headquarters for shops specializing in seaweed paste, shaved bonito flakes, sweet cakes, tea leaves, wagashi and Japanese haberdasheries and two major department stores.

United Fund Drive Goes Over Top

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI
Poses and "stink-weed" time . . . the nice kind to President Nixon for the way in which he "leaked" the wrong information on his Supreme Court nominations to the press. However, on first blush, it would appear that there is no valid reason for rejecting either one of them . . . unless again it turns out to be good, old, dirty politics.
And the smelly kind of bouquet to the Washington Post—for going on their "exclusive" in releasing the names of two who didn't win, place or show in the final running in this name-dropping game.
Say . . . do you think that maybe some of that talkin' you and I've been doin' on welfare irregularities, along with others throughout the state, had something to do with the state's announcement of yesterday that a complete review of the $267 million welfare program will be made by the end of the year? (Wonder if that'll stop some of those culprits from using their "stamps" to cover the costs for electrical and plumbing bills?)
Hey, Diogenes . . . you can stop turning in your gravel. We've found that honest person for you. As a matter of fact, it was mail carrier Paul Markos who found him (and he's grateful, too).
Markos had his wallet slip out of his rain-soaked trousers the other day and didn't realize he had lost his wallet until he returned home from his mail run.
A short time later, teenager Joseph Caldwell of 805 Willow Avenue showed up at the Markos home . . . wallet and its contents intact.
Hear tell . . . another hamburger and Cokes emporium for 17-92 in Sanford? Supposed to be a McDonald's . . .
In case you didn't notice, the Camell-Lossing Post 53, American Legion is growing—thanks to the untiring efforts of that hard, go-getter Joel Field.

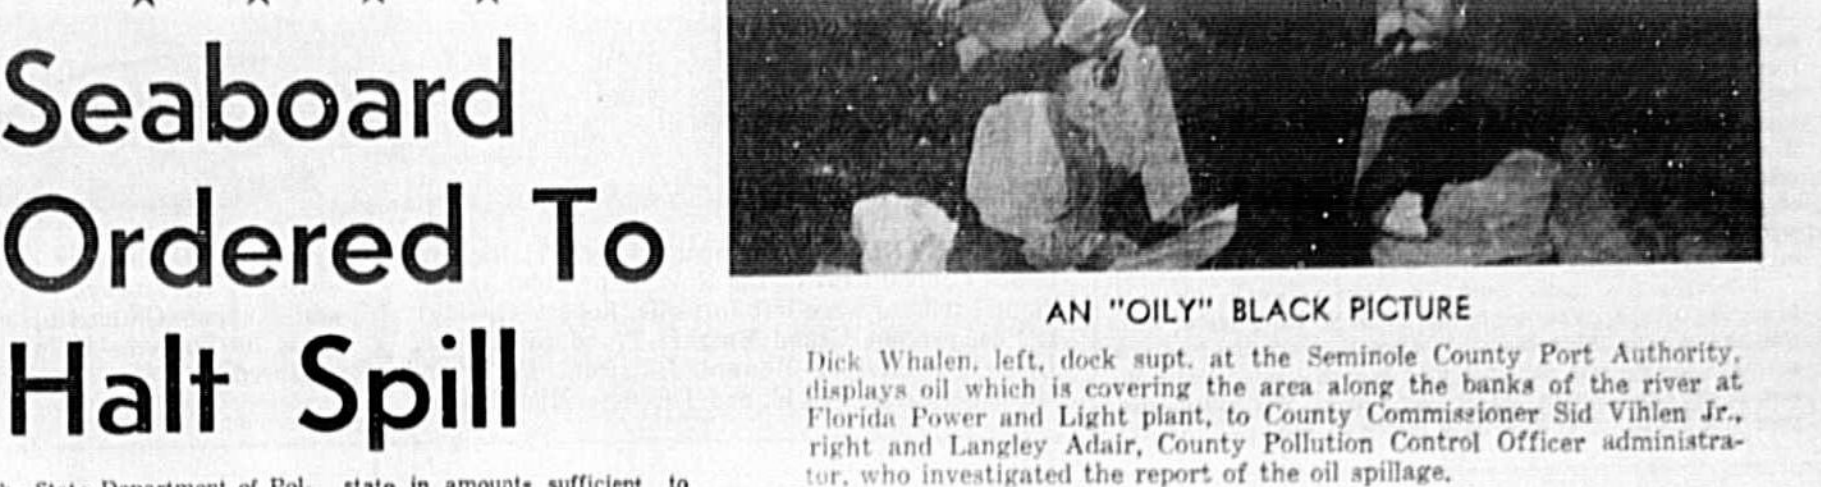

It was indeed a victory dinner for the volunteers of the United Fund as they heard campaign chairman Robert Morris report success of the $71,000 in '71 goal at precisely 8:15 p.m. Thursday via a call to Charles LeGette, general chairman of the United Campaign of Seminole, Orange and Osceola Counties, at headquarters in Orlando.
"We are over the top and still counting. We are at $73,253.26," Morris announced over the special telephone hook-up to LeGette. Victory was reflected on workers faces at the Sanford Garden Club where the dinner was staged but it wasn't until the second call made by Morris to LeGette that the crowd learned of the overall success of the combined goal of $1.4 million.
It was at that point that Morris' voice boomed over the loud speakers at both headquarters with Seminole's grand total of $74,238.08.
Public schools chairman Ernest Cowley's report of over $2,000 collected by late Thursday pushed the total over the goal and put the schools' tally at $5,838. Pilot firms division headed by John Carl accounted for over half of the entire total pledged with a figure of $2,750.
Mayor Lee Moore, a UF vice president, was master of ceremonies. Greg Drummond, vice chairman of the campaign, gave the welcome. UF president Jack Horner praised past campaign chairman Gilbert Blake and Mayor Moore, and thanked the workers on behalf of the 12 agencies which will benefit from the month-long campaign.

Barge's Valve Blamed Oil Spills Into River And Lake

By MARION BETHA
Pollution, an ugly word in an ecologically oriented society, has raised its specter again in Sanford with reports continuing to come in of complaints of oil fouling boating equipment and of oil spillage covering a large portion of Lake Monroe extending down the St. Johns River as far as Blue Springs.
County Commissioner Sidney Whalen Jr. reported to The Sanford Herald this morning he had received a report of an oil slick in the river at the Florida Power and Light plant shortly after 11 a. m. yesterday, from James Boston, a commercial fisherman in the area.
Approximately 30 minutes later, Richard Whalen, dock superintendent at the Port of Sanford, reported to James Egan, port administrator, that a large amount of oil had come into the port slip (dedged out area for barges) and had collected under the main storage building and along the eastern and southern banks of the slip.
Yesterday afternoon, according to Whalen, he and Langley Adair, the county's new Pollution Control Department administrator, investigated the report. They first inspected the county port slip and found a "very serious" oil slick of the nature of bulk crude oil, which was 1-1/2" of an inch thick on the water's surface, covering a huge area along the eastern and southern banks protruding from the shoreline 20-30 feet out into the water.
Whalen indicated the oil seemed to be coming straight across the river from the Florida Power and Light plant. Whalen and Adair proceeded to the power plant and contacted officials there, interviewing O. D. Smith, plant superintendent. Smith said an oil barge owned by Revelo Corporation had spilled oil on the water's surface due to a malfunctioning main valve.

Seaboard Ordered To Halt Spill

The State Department of Pollution Control has issued a notice of violation to Seaboard Coastline Railroad relative to an Oct. 7 instance in which oil, scum and other material was discharged into "waters of the state in amounts sufficient to be unsightly or deleterious."
Specifically, the citation states that the railroad's fueling station, located north of McCrackin Road, has constituted a source of water pollution in that oil, oily material and effluent containing pollutants and contaminants have been discharged from this source of operation and have entered and polluted the waters of Mills Creek, violating department rules and regulations.
The department has ordered, as a corrective measure, that the railroad immediately cease all discharge of oil, grease and petroleum substances into Mills Creek, and that it shall further clean all oil and grease from Mills Creek east and west of the railroad to insure that no oil or grease reaches Lake Monroe now or as a result of flushing action by heavy rains.
The department has further cited that the railroads shall within 15 days from the effective date of the order (Oct. 15) submit to the department's regional engineer a plan by which the railroad will totally prevent any future discharges of contaminants from the source.
Failure to comply with the order will result in legal action which provides a civil penalty of $5,000 per day that violation of the order occurs.
Seaboard Coast Line Railroad has stated it wishes to fully cooperate in the matter and its building sumps, oil and grit separators and modification of the docks at an estimated cost of $130,000.
County Zoning Director Robert Brown has noted that the state agency usually gives a reasonable amount of time to initiate corrective action but that the railroad is anxious to proceed expeditiously in the matter.

Annexation Costs Seen At $6 Million

Costs to the City of Sanford to provide requested services to surrounding areas desiring annexation may be so high that it will not be economically feasible for the city to annex any more outlying areas. Total cost was estimated at $6,945,812. This was disclosed Thursday night to Sanford Zoning and Planning Board members by City Planner Gerald Duke and City Engineer Max Lazenby, who completed preliminary studies of the costs of annexation of adjacent areas to Sanford.
Lazenby indicated, with the possible exception of part of Lake Mary area, the capital investments and operating costs would not be economically feasible.
City Commission asked the planning board to conduct the annexation study and announced a 60-day moratorium on adding more property until the study is completed.
Purpose of the survey by the city is to determine the economics of adding more property and the costs of providing needed services such as fire protection, police security, water and sewers, garbage and refuse, street department, street lighting, parks and recreation, library, engineering and administration.
Duke divided the adjacent areas into five categories: Lake Monroe, Sunland, Celery Ave., Ravenna Park and Lake Mary.
Lazenby reported to annex the Lake Monroe area would cost $316,200 in an initial capital investment and $169,625 in operating costs.
For Sunland the cost would be $719,590 initially with operating costs at $606,850. Celery Avenue annexation would cost $415,400 to start and $271,812 in operating costs. Ravenna Park costs were placed at $149,650 immediate capital investment and operating costs at $269,450. Lake Mary capital costs were set at $2,024,200 with an operational cost at $449,328.
After discussion it was decided by the planning board to have Duke and Lazenby define the area located south of 25th Street, including Seminole Junior College and the Hidden Lake planned unit development area for further annexation study. That area also would include part of Sunland Estates and Lake Mary.

$1.4 Million Property Purchase Reported

One of the largest land purchases of Seminole County property was consummated this week as Overstreet Investment Company, Orlando, sold 163 acres to Lester Mandell for $1.4 million.
The property is located on S.R. 34 south of the Springs (old Sanlando Springs).
Mandell, president of Greater Construction Co., Casselberry, says plans for the ecological complex includes patio-type condominiums, single-family housing with a R-IAAA zoning classification, and "an absolute preservation of the natural beauty of this magnificent land."
Harlan and Bartholomew, Atlanta-based architects and planners, will be commissioned by Mandell for all land planning of the area. Mandell notes that extensive care will be given to planning the area, since the Little Wekiva River borders the property to the south.
Construction is expected to begin after the first of the year. Greater Construction has been a prime developer in South Seminole County since 1968.

Joy, Riot And Theft

By REV. JOHN T. REEVES
First Christian Church

Monday we were greeted by a headline in a newspaper that said: "Pittsburgh Victory Riot Hurts 50." As the day wore on the number rose to as many as 300 injured, many arrested, buildings burned and many stores looted.

Many of us watched what has been billed as the major sports event of the year on our television sets. Some of us were happy, others sad, all depending on choice of teams. Nobody was angry. Right thinking people respect the person for their personal preference. Someone had to lose.

I am sure that many people in Baltimore were disappointed. I am equally sure that many, many people in Pittsburgh experienced great joy. Victory in a World Series had been a long time coming, and winning this coveted title was something that had been much joy to that city.

But, in the name of God, how mixed up can some people get? People who start riots can rightfully be considered among the worst sort of criminals in our country. And I would suggest to you that even though they may escape punishment at the hands of the courts, they will as the scriptures say: "receive their just reward." Many of us will stand up for our just rights and we don't want them violated. We also know that there are a few citizens of our land who would use a time of joy as a license to burn another's property, to injure another or steal his material belongings.

In the Ten Commandments: Exodus 20:15, we find that God gave to Moses the laws that we, "that all people were to follow." "Thou shalt not steal." This Commandment is as binding on those rioters, in a time of joy as it is on you and me in our daily lives. Any man who plunders, who steals another man's goods is in violation of the laws of both God and man. If it were possible for some who were involved in this heinous crime against both God and man should read these angry words of mine, they would most likely shrug their shoulders and say, "Let him rave. I don't believe in his God. I don't believe in any god. What can God do to me?"

I have a few choice words for those who take pleasure in hurting another. You are in this world of the grace of God. You are sustained with the air you breathe, with the food you eat, with the strength you have used in such a misguided way. God is not pleased with you or your actions. You will receive your just reward. May God have mercy on your soul. Amen.

Colleges Turn To Religion Subjects

By CLAIRE COX
Capitol News Service
NEW YORK—While the U.S. Supreme Court continues to be deluged with suits challenging various aspects of religion in the public schools, more courses are being offered every year by colleges and universities.

Both church-sponsored and secular institutions have included in their catalogs a broad range of subjects, from theology to literary references to the Bible. Many of the colleges and universities with religion courses are tax supported. Although a number of taxpaying parents of elementary school pupils have objected to mention of religion in the classroom, silence has prevailed at the college level.

Why? One reason is the fact that when young people have reached college age, they have pretty well made up their minds how they want to approach religion. They no longer look to their parents for guidance. Another is that in the last few years there has been a tremendous upsurge in interest in religion on the part of college people. Most tend to seek information rather than indoctrination, according to educators. They want to learn as much as they can about the different faith groups and they also hope to study religious applications to other areas of Western culture.

While that trend continues unabated, some questions have been raised about it. Only recently Ronald E. Cottle, who served as the secular director of the United Methodist Church in Pasadena, Calif., participated in a symposium on religion in higher education conducted by the Religious Education Association.

In publishing the comments made at the meeting, the editors of Religious Education, the association's official journal, observed that though church-related institutions have specific responsibilities in the teaching of Christianity that are not shared by secular centers of learning. "It is clear that ultimate responsibility for teaching about religion,"

The association's officials added that while religion clearly has a place in higher education, "the college is not the church." Pursuing the idea, Cottle, in a discussion of "Religion in the University: Messiah or 'Anti-christ?'" raised the question of whether a "secular theology" might emerge from the growing study of religion in the university.

He cited several other authorities who have expressed the belief that a non-Christian theology of some sort might emerge in graduate departments of religion. Such a theology would be more philosophical than spiritual, the experts predicted.

In Casselberry Budget Two Paid Firemen OK'd

CASSELBERRY — The tentative budget for the fiscal year 1972 has been adopted, and Fire Chief Roger Rasooli has been granted the two paid firemen for whom he has fought so hard. A public hearing was held on the budget this week, and at that time Chief Rasooli requested the City Council to reconsider its decision to cut the two paid firemen out of the budget due to a lack of funds.

It's almost mandatory that we get two paid firemen for the safety of the city," he said. He went on to report on a recent meeting with the Forestry Service Board of Air and Water Pollution Control, and the board's warning to him that "this coming year will be the worst on record for Florida as far as forest fires and other fires are concerned." Rasooli emphasized the dire need for these men in his repeated request to the council.

After discussion and consultation with City Manager Ronald Bergman, council decided that the only place to come up with the salaries for these men would be from the Emergency Reserve Fund. Bergman pointed out that removal of these funds "would not leave us in a good position if we have an emergency." He went on to say that "it's council policy to want on reserve money you don't get too far." Councilman Bill Grieg, expressing his feeling that the fire department is top priority next to the police department, said that removal of these funds would be "something we'd have to gamble on." Council voted unanimously to "gamble," and authorized the removal of $14,000 from the reserve fund to cover the two new firemen. This leaves approximately $14,000 in the reserve budget.

In further action at its regular meeting, council approved street lighting plans for Summeret V and VII and Colmanides III; authorized an end of the year audit, and authorized going out for bids for cable television. A committee was set up to draw up a set of specifications for companies bidding on this.

By MARION BETHIA
ALTA MONTANE SPRINGS—Mayor Lawrence Swofford told City Council, "This is a typical meeting when the engineer (Harold Radcliffe) is present. He doesn't get too far." His statement was succinct in that well over two hours was consumed with varying discussions of the municipal sewer system.

Radcliffe cited the need to Council of a water main on Orange Avenue, and was subsequently authorized by Council to prepare plans for a 1,200-foot extension of the water main and a pump station and force main to pump from San Sebastian to be returned by Nov. 2.

The group will leave from Herndon Airport at 6:30 a.m. Saturday. "Groups may provide a large gift such as a television set, radio player, or athletic equipment by combining resources of the members." "If time is a factor, a contribution of money will be welcomed. And we will be happy to do your shopping for your gift," Mrs. Chapman concluded. # Pollution Control Lab May Set Up At SJC

County Pollution Control Officer Langley Adair presented to the County Commission an agreement regarding a pollution control laboratory facility.

Conditions of the agreement include: Seminole Junior College of $150 monthly for rental of laboratory space. All necessary equipment and materials to be used will be furnished by the county. Permission to use granted the college. Also included was an agreement to cancel within a reasonable time space if the plan is determined to be unsuccessful. The college agrees to cooperate in any way it can to insure success of the program. Adair said that there probably would be a mutual agreement between the college and the county to replace any damaged items.

County Attorney Harold Johnson said, "I am concerned about insurance coverage." On motion of Commissioner Al Davis, the matter would be continued for one week, during which time Johnson could investigate the insurance company position.

Cubs Plan Cleanup

Cub Scout Pack 566 of Sanford will be out in full force this Saturday with Operation SOAR (Save Our American Resources). From 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. the troop will be at Lake Dot in Sunland.

During the time the project is going on Saturday, Scouts will sell soft drinks, hot dogs, and other refreshments. Herbert Shea is chairman of the project.

Water Main Need Cited By Engineer

By MARION BETHIA
ALTA MONTANE SPRINGS—Mayor Lawrence Swofford told City Council, "This is a typical meeting when the engineer (Harold Radcliffe) is present. He doesn't get too far." His statement was succinct in that well over two hours was consumed with varying discussions of the municipal sewer system.

Radcliffe cited the need to Council of a water main on Orange Avenue, and was subsequently authorized by Council to prepare plans for a 1,200-foot extension of the water main and a pump station and force main to pump from San Sebastian to be returned by Nov. 2.

Longwood Opens Drive To Carry Piled Trash

By DONNA ESTES
LONGWOOD—Action to cure the unhealthy condition of trash piles throughout the city, created in preparation for the municipality's Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week that never materialized, was taken by the City Council Thursday night.

The board, after urging from Councilman Sandra Thompson and lengthy discussions, ordered City Supt. Ralph Fisher to use city personnel and equipment to pick up the trash on a one-time only arrangement with the citizens of the community to understand the city is not going into the trash business at this time.

Fisher set special trash pick-up days for today and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. It also was made clear that the city men will not pick up any trash heaps in which garbage is mixed.

"We have an obligation to the State Board of Health to make sure no garbage is placed in our dumps," Fisher said, warning the state will take reprisals against the municipality if garbage is dumped in the city's landfill located just off SR 427 near Longwood Hills.

Mrs. Thompson said before Mayor Robert Kainmoki resigned from office and moved from the city, he, with Council approval, announced the special week with the city to pick up trash. When the special week was called off, the trash heaps were left all over town and are now breeding flies and other insects.

"I'm pushing the panic button because this is an unhealthy situation," she said. Vice Chairman Eugene Jaques contended city residents could have had city operated trash and garbage pick-up were it not for the 200-plus persons who petitioned against the measure.

Man, 22, Charged In Rape

A 22-year-old Casselberry man has been charged with the rape of a 27-year-old woman, sheriff's reports disclosed today.

According to Deputy Sgt. H. L. Smith, Thomas Gene Todd, 210 Cypress Way, was charged after the woman, also from Casselberry, obtained a warrant from Justice of the Peace Thomas Lovett after the alleged assault occurred in the living room at the married woman's home.

Smith reported the man denied his guilt and said he had been intimate with the woman previously. According to the deputy, the complainant said she was assaulted by Todd, and denied having previous intimacies.

Smith said the husband of the woman is confined to a hospital. Todd told the deputy the woman's eight-year-old daughter came into the room at the time of the alleged intimacy and the mother screamed and ran into the bedroom. She barricaded the door and later called police, Smith added.

Oil Spills In River

 tion's barge 22, with the assistance of the power plant employees, applied an oil boom (a form of a flotation collar) around the spillage. The oil not confined, because of the wind direction, was forced into the county port barge slip.

Vihlen stated that through the cooperation of Smith, Frank Oliver, president of Revele Corporation, Palatka, was contacted. Oliver assured the county that his company, at its expense, will clean the oil in the port slip. Oliver and another of the top company officials are expected to be in Sanford today to view the site with Adair and Vihlen.

According to Vihlen, he and Adair have made a "preliminary decision" not to call in the Florida Air and Water Pollution Control Agency due to the fact the Revele Corporation has cleaned up most of the oil and is progressing with efforts to clean up the port site.

However, Vihlen said, "Should they not take prompt action to completely clean and remain in oil, I will personally call in Alex Senkavich, regional engineer with the FAWPC, over the telephone and request that he proceed to initiate legal action and issue a citation to the company." Vihlen continued, "I do feel that this will be unnecessary due to Oliver's concern and evidence of his apparent action."

Vihlen emphasized, "I wish to report that Florida Power and Light is in no way at fault or has any position in the spillage. They have given full cooperation to Adair and me... they complied by notifying the U. S. Coast Guard immediately after the spillage and have worked with us to disseminate all information so that we could move for the clean up. Florida Power and Light, through Scott Burns local manager, has joined with us in seeing that Revele Corporation, in fact, cleans up the oil."

$2 Million Damages Sought

Damage suits seeking $2 million were filed this morning in Circuit Court by Merle E. Parker, R. R. 2, against Mrs. Marilyn Gordon, Casselberry, and Railroad D. Wesley, 2121 Magnolia Avenue.

Parker claims an article written by Mrs. Gordon, a correspondent for The Sanford Herald, and quoting Wesley "was purposely planned... to defame... the good name and reputation of" Parker.

The article reported a speech by Wesley about hypnotism before the Faculty Wives Club of Seminole Junior College.

Parker filed individual suits against Mrs. Gordon and Wesley, asking $1 million from each.

Crowning Of Queen Highlights Halftime Seminoles Entertain Sandcrabs In Homecoming Contest

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

A week of Homecoming activities comes to a climax tonight when the Sanford Seminoles play host to the Seabreeze Sandcrabs. Kickoff is 8 p.m. at the Sanford Municipal Stadium.

The crowning of the 1971 Homecoming Queen will highlight halftime activities.

The Seminoles carry a 4-1 record in the contest, while the Sandcrabs have had two setbacks in five outings. Seabreeze is fresh off a 36-0 win over weak New Smyrna Beach. After opening the season with a 21-14 win over Rockledge and a 17-7 victory over Ocala Fever, the Sandcrabs were bombed by Metro Conference leader Winter Park, 44-0. The following week saw the Seabreeze '11' stopped by Bishop Kenny, 11-6. The Seminoles' only loss came at the hands of Vero Beach, 14-12. They opened the season with a 60-0 win over Oviedo and then blanked Titusville 38-0. They also stopped Sarasota 20-0 in action last week. The Seminoles put on a strong second half effort to knock off Evans, 35-3. Clifford Martin has been the key to Sanford's offensive attack. The senior fullback handled the pignix 26 times in 138 yards, scoring two touchdowns and a field goal, rolling up 238 yards rushing. He also caught a pair of passes good for 23 yards, giving him 263 yards total offense in the contest.

Two people that have been helping Martin at the rushing department are halfbacks Mark Carl and Billy Jimmie. Though neither has shown real consistency, both have more than proved they are capable of doing the job.

Carl has been particularly effective on his sweeps around the end. His best outing was the Vero Beach game when he picked up 116 yards in a dozen carries, averaging 14.7 yards a carry.

The Seminoles defense is at work in the second half just after a sluggish opening half. They held the Trojans scoreless in the second half of the ball game. Key members of the offensive squad include Dallas Brown, Willie Bennett, Joe Steffen and Chris Daum. Those are among the top men on the highly rated defensive squad. The defensive squad's primary task will be to stop talented Seabreeze ball carrier Billy Glenn. The Seminoles did not let last year. Walter Park proved that stopping Glenn can stop Seabreeze when they blast the Sandcrabs 44-0.

Thus far, if any part of the Seminoles defense has shown a weakness, it's the pass defense. For the most part they've been able to come up with the big pass plays.

Last year the Tribe used the short pass up the middle to big Dallas Brown. Though that play has worked on occasions, it hasn't had near the effectiveness of last season. While Ronnie Howell has been the starting quarterback for this season, sophomore Brent Carl displayed his talents as he led the Tribe to 22 points in the second half against Evans. Ricky Nesmith has also seen action once this season at quarterback and Nesmith, along with Mark Carl, have both exhibited passing ability from the halfback position.

A HUGE CROWD gathered at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue yesterday for a pep rally following the annual Homecoming parade. The Sanford Seminoles host Seabreeze tonight at 8 p.m. at the Sanford Municipal Stadium. The highlight of the halftime festivities will be the crowning of the 1971 Homecoming Queen. The Seminoles are currently 4-1 on the season, while the Sandcrabs bring a 3-2 record into the contest. (Don Vincent Photo)

Lyman At Home Tonight Against Rugged Jones

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Staff

After two futile trips to the Tangerine Bowl the Lyman Greyhounds return to their home tonight in hopes of ending their losing ways against a rugged outfit from Jones High School. Kickoff is slated for 8 p.m.

Dick Copeland's Hounds were unsuccessful in both of their visits to the Tangerine Bowl losing to Edgewater 33-0 then to Seabreeze 27-0. The loss to Boone since the Braves had come field advantage tonight the Hounds will be handicapped.

Lyman's hopes for an upset tonight depend on quarterback Bruce Rose and his presence in the lineup. Rose did not play in last week's loss to Boone.

In four games to date Rose has not completed a scoring pass which is a far cry from his performance of years past. Last year he had nine touchdowns passes. And the Greyhound senior is not hitting for the average either with only 29 of 51 passes finding their mark. Three times they were inside the Boone 15 yard line and failed to put any points on the board.

Copeland attributed it to "mass confusion" on the part of the Hounds. He hopes to have things straightened out by the time his Hounds take to the gridiron tonight.

Lyman running back Bob Florence had a good game last week except for a fumble late in the fourth period. Florence had a 53 yard scamper during which he was brought down from behind but the Hounds failed to put the ball into end zone. That was the longest run by Florence who has over 425 yards in 100 carries. His best game came last week when he totaled 159 yards on 38 attempts. He has scored six times this season.

If the Longwood gridders are to come up with a victory this week, they will have to take full advantage of their opportunities. They failed to do so in the game against Boone last week and it cost them a victory. Three times they were inside the Boone 15 yard line and failed to put any points on the board.

Copeland attributed it to "mass confusion" on the part of the Hounds. He hopes to have things straightened out by the time his Hounds take to the gridiron tonight.

Trinity Treks To Miami To Defend 5-0 Record

When Trinity Prep travels to Miami tonight to do battle with Miami Military Academy, the Saint squad could well accomplish something that has never been done at the young school. The Trinity eleven are currently riding on the crest of an unbeaten 5-0 record and a win in any one of the five remaining contest would give Coach Bob Fox's squad their first winning season in the history of football at the school.

The Saints have most things going for them tonight. The entire team is healthy, with the exception of a few bumps and bruises suffered in last week's battle with Trinity's sister school, Jacksonville Episcopal, which the Saints came out on top of 20-18. John Kennedy will be dressing out for tonight's contest. Kennedy has been the only Saint on the injured list all season and he is expected to see limited action tonight.

Of course Lawrence Cleveland will be in shape for the battle this evening. The junior Saint back was honored along with Coach Fox with a day of their own by the Trinity team and students. Cleveland has become the number two scorer in his 12 touchdowns which have netted 73 points for the Saints. As a special tribute to Cleveland, his parents will be flown to tonight's game, courtesy of the school, to see their son in action.

More than just a school record will be riding on tonight's game and the successive contests this season for the Saints. Trinity Prep has a clear shot at the Class A Regionals with only Berkeley Prep near the Trinity will meet in their next to the last game of the season.

Quarterback Dale Parsons will get ample opportunity to display his aerial talents and offensive directing abilities as the Miami Military team has not seen the Saints in action yet this year. Parsons' arm is deadly and only Class AA Jacksonville Episcopal has been able to even come close to containing the passing of Parsons, who is considered among the better prep signal callers in the area.

Not to be overlooked are 330 odd other Trinity Prep gridders who have been doing their part in the Cinderella success of Trinity Prep. The Saints have more than an even chance at remaining undefeated after tonight's contest.

In Orange Belt Action

Oviedo To Host Kowboy Squad

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Writer

If the Oviedo Lions are waiting for the right set of circumstances to put everything together for their first Orange Belt Conference win, tonight couldn't be better. The Lions sport a somewhat dismal 1-4 record which does not reflect the quality of talent on the Oviedo squad.

Tonight at John Courrier Field in Oviedo the Lions will take on the Kissimmee Osceola Kowboys in OBC action getting underway at 8 p.m. Kissimmee is in no way a winner, although they will have the momentum of two wins when they appear on the gridiron tonight in Oviedo. For the season the Kowboys stand 2-3 having dropped decisions 41-3 to Haines City, 25-12 to Winter Garden Lakeview and

The Lions opened their season the number two team in the OBC. The Lions home field advantage may not be significant, but it is hard to forget the shining performance turned in by the Lions eleven against the Apopka Blue Darters, the top ranked team in the Orange Belt. Oviedo Lions have gone winless with 15-0 to Cocoa Beach, downed 26-20 by Apopka and last week's 27-0 loss to Winter Garden Lakeview.

Several interesting factors will come into play in tonight's conference tilt. The Lions have together their best performance to date in their own field where they will be playing to night and for the next two weeks. Also both Oviedo and Kissimmee Osceola had similar losing experiences at the hands of Winter Garden Lakeview.

The key to any success by the Lions tonight over Kissimmee will lie in the containment of Calvin Brown. Despite his size, Brown is 5 foot 4 and tips the scales at a measly 150 pounds. The senior speedster has averaged nearly two TD's per contest and has break away speed. The likes of which are comparable to Collier of Winter Garden Lakeview.

Brown has scored a pair of touchdowns on kickoff returns. This will necessitate big kicks and quick coverage on the part of the Lions if they are to contain the specialty talents of Brown.

Kissimmee relies almost entirely on the rushing efforts of Brown. Fullback Scott Shumaker is often called on by the Kowboys to supplement the talents of Brown.

Seldom used by the Kissimmee Osceola eleven is the pass. The Kowboys passing game is inconsistent at best, but quarterback Warren Piles occasionally goes to the air when anything else fails or when everything else is working.

The Lion passing attack has been getting better each week with Oviedo quarterback Lyn Burch finding his relationship with his receivers more each week. Burch has taken advantage of the pass catching talents of Alan Daniel, Carlton Brunbridge and Rick Mills from the backfield and David Bishop, Harry Constantine, Forrest Michael and David from their end of the line positions.

A majority of the ground gaining efforts of Oviedo have fallen to Burch. The sophomore back has moves and speed unequalled by most. Daniel, Mills and Burch have also been added port card into tomorrow's game.

Midget League Titles On Line

Area Pop Warner football fans should get their fill of action tomorrow afternoon when four games are scheduled for the Lyman High football field starting at noon.

Topping off the afternoon's action is a Midget League Northern Division contest which will go a long way in deciding the division champion.

That 4:30 p.m. contest pits the unbeaten Altamonte Springs gridders against the Longwood Vikings who are 5-1. That loss suffered by the Vikings did not count in the division standings this tomorrow's game will determine just who represents the Northern Division in the playoffs.

Other teams in the Northern Division and their records include Maitland 1-1-1, Eastwood 1-2-0, Sanford 1-3-0, and DeLand 0-3-1.

The Southern Division leader is the powerful Central YMCA which has rolled to four victories in as many starts. Challenging the Central crew are Pine Castle and Conway both of which have 3-1 records. An important game for Central comes this week when they engage the Pine Castle gridders at the Central YMCA field.

The remainder of the Southern Division shows Kissimmee with a 2-2 chart, Winter Garden at 3, College Park at 0-3 and Ocoee 0-4.

Another game of local interest at the Lyman field tomorrow pits the Sanford Midgets against Eastbrook. This contest is slated to start at 3 p.m.

In the Pop Warner Pee Wee Division Lake Mary has a solid hold on the top spot having rolled to four straight victories. While the coaches seldom spotlight any single player in Pop Warner play the performance of Lake Mary's Tim Raines has been such that it's been hard to keep it quiet. Raines is also remembered by local sports fans as the youngster who helped the Midget Little League capture district honors.

Tomorrow the Lake Mary crew is expected to pick up its fifth victory without defeat when they go up against the winless Sanford Pee Wee entry. Sanford has a 0-4 chart thus far. This game tomorrow will open the afternoon's action at 4:30 p.m. It will be followed by another Pee Wee league game matching Altamonte Springs (2-2) and Eastbrook (2-2).

Maitland, the closest competitor to Lake Mary, with a 3-1 record, is paired with Pine Castle which brings a 1-3-1 record into tomorrow's game.

The worst part of the season, with the exception of the Leesburg contest which is Oviedo's remaining road contest, is over for the Lions. A win tonight could well swing the pendulum back in the favor of the Lions. Had breaks with fumbles, penalties and interceptions been the key factors in three of Oviedo's past contest which could have gone either way. The per centages favor the Oviedo eleven getting in on the right side of "Lady Luck" and such a switch could not come at a better time than tonight.

The Saints have most things going for them tonight. The entire team is healthy, with the exception of a few bumps and bruises suffered in last week's battle with Trinity's sister school, Jacksonville Episcopal, which the Saints came out on top of 20-18. John Kennedy will be dressing out for tonight's contest. Kennedy has been the only Saint on the injured list all season and he is expected to see limited action tonight.

Of course Lawrence Cleveland will be in shape for the battle this evening. The junior Saint back was honored along with Coach Fox with a day of their own by the Trinity team and students. Cleveland has become the number two scorer in his 12 touchdowns which have netted 73 points for the Saints. As a special tribute to Cleveland, his parents will be flown to tonight's game, courtesy of the school, to see their son in action.

More than just a school record will be riding on tonight's game and the successive contests this season for the Saints. Trinity Prep has a clear shot at the Class A Regionals with only Berkeley Prep near the Trinity will meet in their next to the last game of the season.

Quarterback Dale Parsons will get ample opportunity to display his aerial talents and offensive directing abilities as the Miami Military team has not seen the Saints in action yet this year. Parsons' arm is deadly and only Class AA Jacksonville Episcopal has been able to even come close to containing the passing of Parsons, who is considered among the better prep signal callers in the area.

Not to be overlooked are 330 odd other Trinity Prep gridders who have been doing their part in the Cinderella success of Trinity Prep. The Saints have more than an even chance at remaining undefeated after tonight's contest.

CROCKETT'S COVE
I get plenty of teasing from the fellows at the plant about my cove. They call it "Crockett's Cove-for Tired Executives." And they're right. Drifting alone on the still water, tiny under the full sky, things fall into perspective. A bird calls, an sparrow, a fish arches, a passing breeze brings blossom scent. Somehow, no matter how thorny my problem, the harmony of God's nature takes the links out of me.

Things weren't always this way. A few years back a tree was just a tree to me — a lake, a lake. Now, wherever I look, I see God's goodness. It all started one evening when, worried and depressed, I wandered into a church. I can't remember now what was sung and read, but I never forgot the sense of God's presence. Since then, God's Church and teachings have been my strength.

Your church offers inspiration and a fresh viewpoint. Take advantage of it.

Man Is Polluting Oceans For Years

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Man's throw-away society is contaminating Northern Hemisphere oceans with toxic chemicals that are now more dangerous than DDT and may cause problems for centuries to come, an ocean scientist said Sunday. Dr. Edward Goldberg told delegates to the National Biological Congress that a series of compounds called polychlorinated biphenyls, nicknamed PCBs, had been linked to sharp decreases in sea trout populations.

Goldberg said PCBs, used in a wide range of industrial compounds, are washed into the seas by rivers.

(Latest oil spill on the St. Johns River is covered in a news article and photographs on page 1B.)

To the natural means of transporting this material, "man has added his sewer outfalls and shipping," Goldberg said.

He said several fatalities and thousands of cases of illness resulted from PCB contamination of fish in Japan.

Some seabirds are failing to reproduce, he said, adding that PCBs were believed guilty of sterilizing the birds.

"A drastic reduction in the use of these materials should be effected immediately - to protect both marine life and man himself," the scientist said.

Goldberg said man's major success in reducing ocean pollution had been his ability to keep the release of radioactive wastes at a level hundreds of times below natural radioactivity.

"If it can be done for radioactive wastes, I believe it can be done for the rest of his wastes as well," said the scientist.

"It has to be done," Goldberg said. "Rivers or lakes may clean themselves in a matter of years or decades, but the survivors of these materials in the oceans is a matter of hundreds or thousands of years."

Today is "Progress Edition" time . . . an opportunity for self-analysis . . . to see if indeed there has been "progress," or was it only wishful thinking!

Seems like yesteryear when the Navy pulled-out of Sanford, and we had thousands of vacant homes around the county, and everyone was wondering what would become of them.

Today, with Sanford's city limits alone, not only have all of the "For Rent" signs long come down, but we have over 800 new homes under construction at this very moment!

And then, look at the population explosion in the south end of the county . . .

Need to be a time when it would be front page headlines for a $100,000 building permit! In the past couple of months, only those over $1 million merited a banner headline. Actually many of those were well over the one-mark—more nearly $2 million.

Did we progress? Look at the statistics and you'll find that Seminole County is either THE FASTEST growing county in all The United States, or certainly one of the top five!

Imagine . . . this great country of ours, and here we are as one of the leaders! Fantastic!

Which automatically leads us to Disney World, scheduled for a "world" premiere via network TV this coming Friday. Yesterday, they had almost 50,000 visitors, including many of the top entertainers from Hollywood.

"By the time we're all through," a Disney promoter said the other day, "all the world will know that Disney is in business." And of course, whatever Disney does, it affects us here in Seminole in no small way.

Did you realize that in its first year, the new Central Florida playland will attract as many visitors "as Miami gets," according to a Disney official.

I don't know where you are as you read today's special 100-page Progress Edition . . . but, if you're not here in our area, you're NOT in the ACTION CAPITAL OF THE WORLD!

Come and visit with us . . . and before you know it, you'll be here permanently like the rest of us.

Future Needs Anticipated By Seminole

By GREG DRUMMOND
 Chairman
 County Commission

This Board of County Commissioners, by intent and necessity, subscribes to the policy of anticipation of problems rather than belated remedial actions.

Seminole County recognizes the need to provide services and facilities withheld in the past. These needs are fulfilled by means of prudent regulation, as well as by services made available through ad valorem tax dollars.

If the public works projects, currently being programmed by the Board, had been provided earlier, the construction and land acquisition cost would have been a steeper by comparison.

The most meaningful public works project the Board is working toward at the current time is county-wide sewage treatment. The short range sewer plan was just recently initiated. It is through this plan that the Office of U.S. Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds will be available for construction, acquisition and the final overall plan for an ecologically compatible system. As presently programmed, the short range sewer plan will be finalized within two years. In the interim the county continues to encourage expansion for the existing individual facilities and discourages additional small package plants. The new County Utility Control Office has been most effective in supervising consistent services from the private systems.

This Board has observed and recognizes the mistakes made by other governmental bodies throughout this country in their better shelter development in the past which created later problems that necessitated the remedy. Therefore, this county subscribes to the policy of prudent planning at the outset to avoid allocation of tax dollars in the future to remedy previous mistakes.

We are now entering an era wherein rural Seminole County is fast becoming urbanized and, as such, it is necessary to provide a comfortable way of life for all citizens in maintaining a harmonious community. With the urbanized style of living,

1,000 Acres Are Annexed In '71 By City

By LEE P. MOORE
 Mayor
 City of Sanford

Annexation was the "big thing" as far as the City of Sanford was concerned during the past 12 months. Over a thousand acres, including 800 in one swoop, is being added to the city as 1971 draws to a close. In just the additional 800 acres, the size of Sanford will be increased by one-tenth.

It appears the annexation program is taking a southerly direction and is being done where there are large water and sewage treatment mains already in the areas. These new properties will broaden the tax base and can be serviced by city facilities relatively at nominal costs.

Additional police have been hired to cover the increased areas; also a new garbage packer and fire pumper have been added to the city's equipment to give service.

With the October opening of Walt Disney World, there has been many opinions stressing what influence the tourist attraction will have on Sanford? I personally feel we might be enough on the fringe that the impact will be lessened! This will depend on whether permanent or transient type persons will be attracted here. I hope it will be the permanent variety since the other type often leaves much to be desired.

The future continues to look bright, but there are many problems that need solutions. A new city hall is desired and if we start now planning, we won't be able to get it completed by 1977, when Sanford's bonded indebtedness will be paid off.

On new city construction, I feel we should pay some attention to the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce efforts to renovate the downtown area. This would require about two buildings for starters. Some of the more progressive toward the business community.

As far as the police-security complex location is concerned, I feel we should not limit the location just to property owned by the city. We will have to weigh land acquisition costs with land preparation costs to city-owned property.

Man Dies, 7 Hurt In Accidents

By LARRY NEELY

Two separate weekend accidents in the Seminole County area resulted in the death of a West Virginia youth and injuries to seven other persons. (Related photos on Page 1B)

Charles Lee Lambert, 23, of Huntington, W. Va., was pronounced dead on the scene of an early Saturday morning two-car collision at the intersection of SR 520 and Chapman Avenue one mile south of Oviedo.

Lambert was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Sherman L. Peiffer, of Orlando. Peiffer and the driver of the other vehicle, Roosevelt Bradley, of Oviedo, were treated and released at Florida Hospital.

Two other passengers in the Peiffer car, Mary Ellen Nagata, 17, of Goldsboro, and Susan Hicklin Southby, 23, of Orlando, are in satisfactory condition in Florida Hospital where they were flown by the Herndon Air Ambulance.

Late Sunday evening three persons were seriously injured in a two-car collision on Highway 17-92 two miles south of Delberry. Jack Moyer was critically injured when a car driven by Evelyn Payne Ryals, 51, of Orlando, struck the rear of his parked car by which he was standing. According to Highway Patrolman Richard Yates both cars struck Moyer.

Mrs. Ryals and her passenger, Chester Harrelson, 49, also of Orlando, are both listed in serious condition.

Welfare Checks Review Slated

In the wake of a statement by State Secretary of Health and Rehabilitative Services Emmett Roberts that his department will take immediate steps to correct excessive welfare payments being made by the state, the following announcement has been issued by the Division of Family Services for Seminole County, 921 East First Street, Sanford:

"The Division of Family Services will be reviewing all public assistance recipients during November to determine their eligibility. All recipients will be notified by mail of an appointment date, time and location. Recipients should read their mail daily in order to be aware of their appointments. Recipients do not need to call their local office because they will be notified by mail."

It is believed that many welfare recipients do not bother to check their mail except the first of the month and so they are urged to be on the lookout for this notice of appointment time.

Nation's Veterans Are Honored

By JANET STAHAR
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice President Spiro T. Agnew honors the nation's veterans today by placing a presidential wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

The Pentagon has placed about 2,500 soldiers and Marines on alert at three military bases within 30 miles of the capital in case violence erupts at the demonstrations planned by the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice.

The coalition, which sponsored the massive Mayday protests here last Tuesday, plans rallies through Tuesday.

Anti-Busing Group Plans State Drive

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) - The newly-formed Florida Federation of Neighborhood Schools says it will actively campaign against political candidates who advocate busing children to desegregate schools.

Sen. David McClain, R-Tampa, named co-chairman of the group Saturday said the federation also would launch a statewide petition campaign against busing.

McClain said the group wanted "to amend the Florida Constitution to force a referendum on the busing issue."

He said the federation would petition the U.S. Congress to offer a pending anti-busing amendment for ratification.
