Krider To Pitch For "Whiz Kids"; Jax Vs. Pensacola

By KENT CHEFLAIN
Sanford's Junior Legion "Whiz Kids" will pin their state championship hopes on the arm of Jimmy "Jax" Krider this evening when they face Key West in the opening round of the State American Junior Legion baseball tournament at Wauchula.

Krider, with a 7-1 season record, will open the rubber game to be followed by Jimmy Hawkins (8-0) tomorrow. Manager Al McMillan's crew arrived in Wauchula yesterday afternoon in time for last night's Legion baseball banquet. After the banquet pairing for today's games were made by drawing.

The defending champion Jacksonville football team drew Pensacola in the opening game which began at 8:30 o'clock this afternoon. Sanford drew Key West for this evening's contest, beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Jim Hawkins and Jack Krider, pre-tourney contenders figure Jacksonville in the favorite at this time in the best of two second state title key West.

West is highly regarded, since several players on its roster composed the state high school championship contingent. This year's Sanford's thrilling finish in the Area tournament after losing the opener to St. Petersburg, 12-1, makes them a definite darkhorse in this year's title tourney.

The Campbell-Losing Post 53 from Seminole County has a sparkling 10-1 record going into this evening's fray, but the Central Florida "Whiz Kids" received a severe blow before departing for Wauchula yesterday. Sanford's star third baseman, Junior Metts, left the club in order to attend the practice sessions of the North-South All-Star Prep football team in Gainesville.

Metts forsaken the Legion state title to comply with a request of FSU Coach Nugent to attend the season. The North-South game will be played in Gainesville on Aug. 10.

Meanwhile, Manager Al McMillan has announced that Jimmy Wade will replace Metts at third. The State championship tourney will again be double elimination affair as it has been in other state tourneys. This may be the thing that will save Sanford, just as it was in the Central Florida Area round at Clearwater last week.

A loss tonight would place Sanford in the loser's bracket against the lower of this afternoon's Jacksonville clash. A triumph would pit Sanford against the winner of this afternoon's game.

The Sanford Herald will present its readers with a comprehensive eye-witness account of the entire tournament, including stories of the games, box scores and a daily column from Wauchula.

Sanford, Orlando Loops Draw Near Season's Finish
With all of their games rained out this past week, the Sanford Navy Softball Team has four rain-out games to make up this week. If the Flers win all of the four games, the team will be in first place in the National Memorial League of Orlando.

San-Navy must face the mighty Air Force Team from Pensacola. The Pensacola nine have lost only one game this year. That game was to the Flers, 6-0, in their last meeting.

The Sanford Team also has two games to play with Elliott Tie of Orlando.

Four wins will place the NAAB Team in first place one full game ahead of Pensacola.

As Sanford's Junior Legion "Whiz Kids" clamored aboard the Seminole County School bus, state-bound in their quest to bring glory to Sanford and the Campbell-Losing American Legion Post No. 53, that intangible spirit of victory was running high, but tinged for the first time by a bit of doubt. The loss of Junior Metts — one of the key men in the Sanford attack — could be felt even though no one mentioned it. Metts' loss, in his brief athletic career, created a great psychological influence among Sanford's athletes and spectators.

His mere presence has spurred pitchers and Sanford teams to astronomical heights.

To say his loss will be great is to understand the facts. Can Sanford go on to win with its winning combination broken? Only time will tell us. We think that no one man has made this team and it can hurdle the great loss, but no one can deny his great hitting ability, sparking fielding and all-around morale effect on Sanford's athletic machines.

The most important thing in his choice of leaving Sanford on the eve of the important state championship tournament... But let us be more rational. Look at it from Junior's standpoint. He had promised to attend and participate in this North-South football game and "warmer" clinic at Gainesville long before he, or anyone knew that Sanford would advance to state finals.

The future of a football player is limited, but baseball offers a longer career with great opportunities to make money. By playing in the State tourney at Wauchula, Metts would be seen by many scouts, who could offer him a handsome bonus, which would pay for a college education.

Others maintain Metts could be injured playing football. They also maintain that Metts could go up and make real money in baseball. Well, these are the factors in the debate. We can only add, "Good Luck Junior."

Jack Morrison, director of the Lions Club's famed annual Junior Baseball league for boys, reminded us that all the Junior Legion players played together in the last year ago with the single exception of Junior Metts. Morrison contends, and rightly so, that this is one of the key factors in the success of Sanford's Legion team.

Gordon Frederick, Campbell-Losing Commander, is really up to the neck in the matter. It seems that Frederick, normally a man who gets no excitement out of the sports pages, much less following a baseball team, is again a rabid fan of the Junior Legion. All the law books in his office have been closed around the time the games in Clearwater were finished.

It is interesting to note that since Bill Silverthorne broke his hand last Thursday night in Clearwater, Sanford hasn't won a game since. The 303 hitting-outfielder was the key to Sanford's success in the first round of the tourney. Dr. John Morgan says that Bill might see action in the next two weeks. It had been feared that Silverthorne would be shelved for the season.

We are on our way to Wauchula as you read this with Nick Kenis, brother of George — last year's outfielder for the Seminole more accurate and comprehensive than any other in the area. Our only hope is that the dispatches will parallel the success story Sanford wrote in winning the Area Tourney at Clearwater last week.

Pitcher's Thrills
By BOB HUNN
Chicago Cubs
AP Newswire
Helping the winning pitcher for the National League in the 1952 All-Star game gave me my biggest thrill in baseball.

I'd say my next biggest thrill came last Sept. 7, when nearly a thousand folks from my home town of South Bend, Ind., came out to see me pitch and gave me a lot of presents. I was lucky that day to beat Ken Raffensberger and Cincinnati, 8-1.

It was the third time in 1952 we had beaten Raffensberger to mark the only season the Cubs had ever defeated him three times. But that All-Star game was really a highlight in my life. I won't say I wasn't nervous, coming in there in the fourth inning to relieve Curt Simmons with the National League ahead, 1-0, and the rain coming down pretty hard. The field was waterlogged, making fielding a pretty tough chore.

Cards Lose Fourth In Row To Lakeland

Wilson-Maier Edges Robson's, 5-4; B. Q. Smith Hurls VC-9 To Victory

Trailing 4-1 in the fourth, Wilson-Maier staged a three-run uprising in the sixth to tie the game and go on to win in the 7th, defeating Robson's Sporting Goods, 5-4, at the Lakeland Diamond.

The victory enabled Wilson-Maier to gain a game on second place FASRON-51 as the FAS men were losing to VC-9, 15-5, in the nightcap of the City Men's Softball League.

Fourth place VC-9 with its star pitcher B. Q. Smith is now only two games out of second and a game and a half removed from the third place Wilson-Maier furniture men.

4 Walks, Wild Pitch Sink Flannigan; Sanford Plays Pilots Here Tonight

Jr. Metts Joins Prep All-Stars In Gainesville

The Sanford Cardinals, playing its fourth straight game without the services of 303-hitting Bill Silverthorne, lost their fourth successive game last night to the Pilots in Lakeland, 5-1.

Lanky Jim Flannigan contributed to his own defeat—his second against five triumphs—by walking four straight batters on 10 pitched balls and heaving a wild pitch in Lakeland's big five-run fifth inning.

The Pilots also used a triple by Johnny Byker and a two-run single by Roger Baer to punctuate the walk and wild loss. With Sanford still only one-half game out of the first division.

Tonight, the Lakeland Pilots will invade the Memorial Stadium of Sanford to play the Cardinals. Manager J. C. Dunn might use his sure-arm finger—Clarence Ingram—in this evening's match. Ingram holds a 12 season record this year, despite being shelved for nearly three weeks with his ailing shoulder.

Bill Batty drilled a double (his 11th) and a triple (also his 11th) of the season to drive in the run. Bill Samuels and Tom Houliet also earned in wild doubles in last night's losing cause.

Sanford's Lakeland, 9-4, but just couldn't seem to overcome the Pilots' five-run outburst in the fifth.

The Cardinals, after winning 15 of 23 runs have a miserable four-game losing skid going, one of their worst of the season. Only the Redbirds can get hot these last four weeks, they will be ruled out of the pennant mathematically very soon.

CARD CAPERS: Sanford needs five more stolen bases to link a new FSU theft precedent. With 259 SB's, the Cards have to hit the 214 mark to pass Gainesville's 14-year-old record of 213.

Daytona I's Play Crucial 4 Games In Next 4 Nights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Florida State League season still has four weeks to run but the Daytona Beach Islanders' hopes of sweeping both halves could be jelled or evaporated by tomorrow midnight.

The Islanders play a crucial four games in two days—two tonight at Leesburg and two at home tomorrow night against Sanford.

Daytona Beach is four games behind the leading Deland Red Hats and so is third place Cocoa after three teams won last night—Deland 9-0 over Jacksonville Beach, Daytona Beach 5-4 over Leesburg and Cocoa 10-4 over Orlando.

In the other game Lakeland handed the Sanford Cardinals their fourth straight defeat 5-4.

The victory punch for Daytona Beach came when shortstop John Skorupski singled across Mike Bellone in the eighth.

Cocoa piled up a big early lead on Billy Alberto Lee Richards and Red Treadway Jack Cade, 1952 league batting champ, got two of them—two triples and a double.

Sanford FASRON-51 Takes 3rd In Navy Softball Tourney

The FASRON-51 Softball Team has returned from the 6th Softball Tournament in Jacksonville with a 3 win 2 loss record, which placed them in third place.

FASRON-51 won twice over FASRON 6, 4-2 and 5-1. The third win was over VC-92, 6-0.

Both losses were to Key West, 2-3 and 1-2.

The outstanding game of the entire series proved to be the one with VC-92. In this game, Chief H. Q. Smith struck out 18 men allowing only two hits.

Vic Harding, the FASRON-51 manager, said he thought the games had been scheduled so that a Jacksonville team would be in the finals. As an example, he said, "To get into the finals, our team would have had to play six games with a Jax team only had to play two and they could have lost one of those. It seems funny, but that's the way it was."

The FASRON-51 Softball Team will now resume their playing schedule in the Sanford Softball League.

Stanky Has Three Years To Win

ST. LOUIS — Manager Eddie Stanky may not have a pennant winner this year in his St. Louis Cardinals but his boss gave him three years to correct the matter.

Augusta A. Busch, Redbird president, was full of confidence in his rookie pilot yesterday as he announced a three-year pact at about the same salary Stanky is getting now — a reported $40,000 a year.

The new agreement came as a surprise, not because the Cardinals are in fourth place, but because such a long term contract is new in Redbird history.

Take it from a former sports editor and official scorer, it certainly seemed good last night to climb the steps to the press box high atop the grandstand at Memorial Stadium to serve as a fill in for Herald Sports Editor Kent Chetlain, who is in Wauchula this week covering the Sanford Legion team. Looking at the play below from a new vantage point, we're reminded of an old thought that fans who sit in the same seat in the stands night after night may be missing a bit. This reporter has found that the action taking place on the field below looks just a little bit different from each vantage point of the grandstand and bleachers. Actually, though, we still can't get used to looking through protective wire in front of the press box and instead usually head for the open bleachers.

Where did they look each other? Where, in the jungle of unpaid bills? Endless house cleaning business problems? Where, in a labyrinth of futile quarrels? Sharp retorts, sudden responses? Where, in the play, the teasing, love-making? The easy arguments, and recalcitrations? Where, in the gentle word, the kind thought? The small, expected sacrifice for the other?

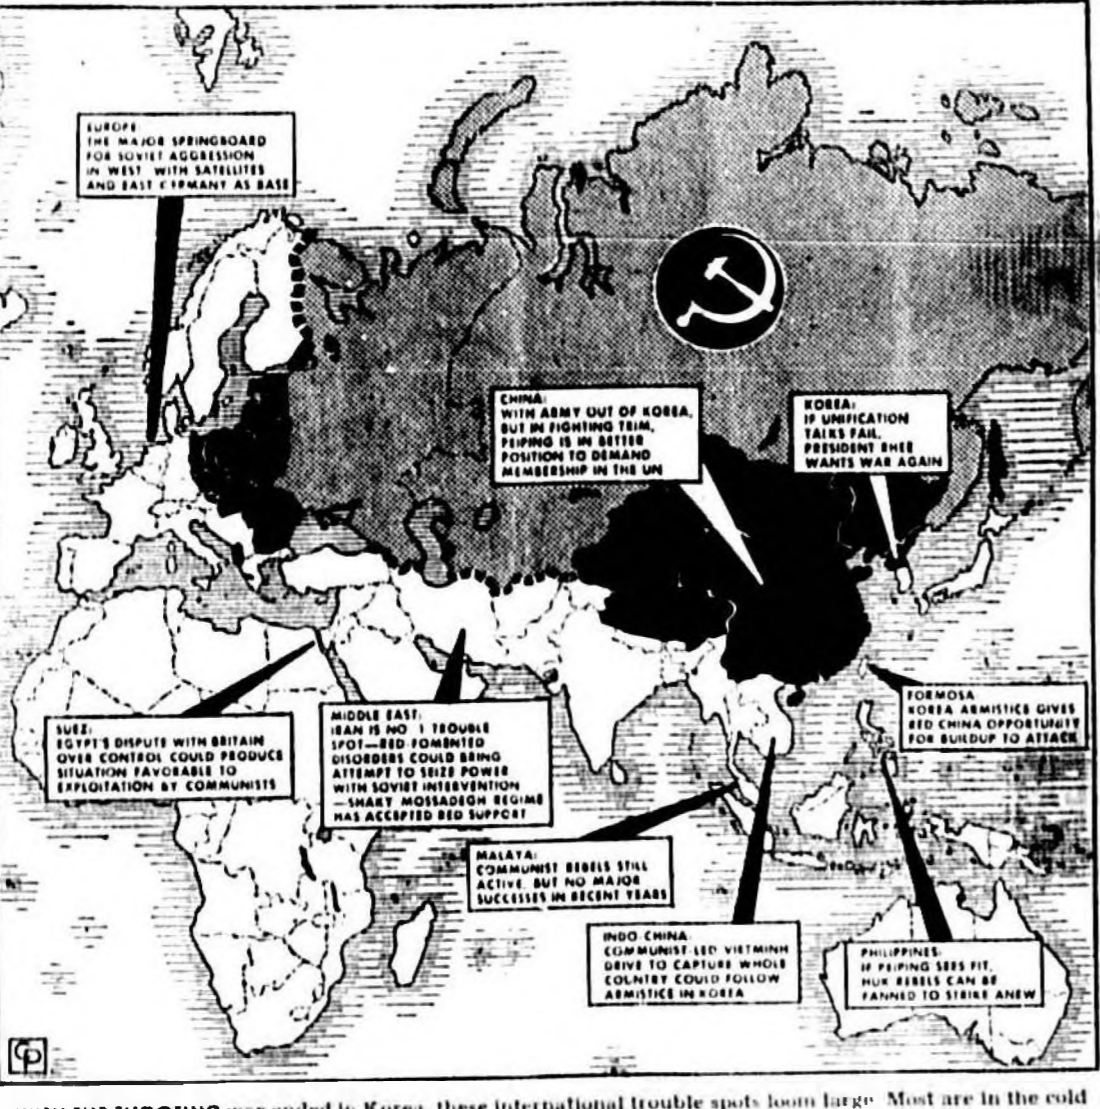

Where did they lose each other? Where, in a world of seeming nearness? No place on earth sustainable? Where, in a maze of complicated networks? Of auto and train and steamship and airplane? Where, in the signs and pointing arrows? The book of directions or the "turn right" signs? Where, in the love, the skeleton key? The padlock that keeps a bitter heart?

Puzzle Corner — We noticed a couple of corners in the drawing trying to look through on our yesterday's puzzle but even though they said they were going to try they never did. The puzzle couldn't see how the answer was reached. With the answer right here in front of us, we of course could not tell you how easy it was. The puzzle was a remainder whose digit was up to nine or more and the remaining digits from the number. To find what digit was struck, just subtract the sum of the remaining digits from the number. If the remainder is a multiple of nine, your friend struck out a nine.

Sanford and Seminole County continue to receive outstanding notices from Sumner Williams. In the Aug. 1 issue of the weekly publication appears Editor Harlan Powers Diary which is all about a trip which he and Associate Editor Charles Waterman made through Oviedo, Chuluota, Casselberry, Fern Park, Altamonte Springs, Forest City, Lakeview, and other points in the southern part of (Sanford puts it) "Sevemy, but nice Seminole County." We found it interesting reading as others must have also. In our conversations with the two editors, they expressed their very high opinion of Sanford and Seminole County.

Thoughts While Shaving — Yesterday seemed like the hottest day in the year to this as yet "non-acclimated Yankee." If someone has a sure cure for prickly heat, we'd certainly like to hear from them. We're gradually becoming acquainted with most of the personnel on the downtown boat. Chief Roy Williams' charges always look a little amazed when we see the boat open and lights on at 1:00 or 2:00 o'clock noon, but they're gradually getting used to the odd hours kept by the "four hours" boat in any time follows. We're mighty glad to chat with you. Seems odd to be in the office all day long and only on an occasional trip across the street for a cup of coffee. We miss our daily chats with Tom Lemon, Forrest Breckenridge, O. H. Hanson, Chief Williams, Ray Milner, Charlie Dawson, and all of the others along the main street.

Eight Wounded Among Men Exchanged

By ROBERT EUNSON and WILLIAM J. WAUGH

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea — Seventy Americans, the horror and boredom of Communist prison camps behind them, savored their first taste of freedom today at this village created to speed them on their way home.

Eight of the most, strapped tightly to stretchers, were flown here aboard four helicopters from Panmunjom where they were held. There were few tales of torture, death and maiming on the lips of the liberated prisoners who appeared happy but bewildered.

Some interviews were conducted with frequent interruptions from censors and the men obviously had told these were only certain subjects they could discuss.

"The War Department caught hell after some of the stories the sick and wounded told when they got out last April," one officer said in referring to the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners last spring.

Three Florida Men Released By Reds

MIAMI — Three Florida men were among the first released from Communist prisons in North Korea last night.

One of the first to reach Panmunjom's "Freedom Gate" was Marine Sgt. Robert J. Coffey, 22, son of H. V. Coffey, Kendall.

Another prisoner released in Korea was Capt. Julio L. Torre, son of Mrs. Verna Torre, George Allen Apartments, Key West.

But the news from Korea brought anxiety to Jim Cavagnaro of Miami Beach. His brother, Capt. Gerald Cavagnaro, Haverhill, Mass., was brought to freedom on a stretcher.

East German Soldiers Flee To West Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Thirty-seven East German soldiers and policemen fled to West Berlin today in the second largest mass defection of Red-armed forces this year.

The fugitives, including one officer, deserted from the food blockade which the Soviet zone government set an armed Berlin last Saturday to lift off American relief for 18 million East Germans.

Twenty were from the Red Wehrmacht and 17 from the People's Police.

The record for one day's flight was set June 24, a week after the East German revolt, when 10 soldiers and policemen applied for a flight to the West. The total for 1953 is 2,556 — two-thirds of them army troops.

The Communist hunger blockade and one of terror trials of sharply today the rush of East Germans to receive free American food packages in West Berlin.

Despite police threats and rain, hundreds of people from Soviet East Berlin still came over for food as the gateway swung into full operation today and toward the midday and a half past mark.

Blues In The News

Mr. and Mrs. George Powell held open house last night at their home on Crescent St. George is a woman first class and has been the office supervisor of the Station Personnel Office since the base was re-commissioned May 1, 1951.

In fact, George reported here for duty in April of 1951 and is the last "white hat" aboard the station who is a "plank owner."

George is a qualified submariner and has spent most of his ten Naval years with the Naval submarine forces. Also honored last night was George "Red" Galagher, woman seaman, who reported to NAAS shortly after its re-commissioning. "Red" has also received his orders and will be leaving Sanford next week for duty aboard the USS Missouri.

The night's hostess nicknamed "The Mighty Mo" which has made his story in more ways than one.

At the open house were included John Brennan, yeoman third class; Ken Jones, yeoman third class; "Red" Gallagher, yeoman seaman; Ed Heisenburgh, yeoman second class, and his wife Alva; Bob Valentine, chief personnelman; Floyd E. Grisham, yeoman second class, and his wife Bernice and son Floyd; and my wife Dottie, daughter Linda and I.

Floyd Grisham, better known as "Grish" has been officially detached from NAAS and will leave tomorrow for Norfolk, Va. where he will be further assigned to duty with the fleet. Chief Bob Valentine, who was present last night, will succeed George Powell as supervisor in the Station Personnel Office. Since the majority of men attending the open house were either yeoman or personnelmen, most of the evening was spent good naturedly discussing the differences between and the advantages or disadvantages of being a yeoman rather than a personnelman or vice versa.

Since the two ratings are quite similar in their duties, a friendly rivalry has existed between men holding the two ratings ever since the personnelman rating was established some years ago. No one is the winner of one, but I believe the discussion held last night was one of the most "classic" ever held in the Navy, with Powell leading the verbal attack for the yeoman while Chief Valentine kept up a strong defense for the outnumbered personnelman present.

The "argument" was really all fun because everyone realized we're all serving on the same team, right men?

The second game in the Sanly Inter-Department Softball League was held yesterday afternoon with the NAAS Special Services Department winning a thriller from the NAAS Operations team. It was a see-saw battle all the way with the Special Services Team coming out on top by the score of 18-10. Both pitchers went all the way with Grimes receiving the win and

ANTS

There's a new and better way to kill ants. It's called Roach Film. When applied to any surface with the built-in cap-applier, it leaves a hard, dry, film, invisible film. The film can't burn or soil any surface; but, when ants touch it, their legs become paralyzed and they die. To see how it works, apply application remains effective for months. You never see it, but it sure does get rid of ants and roaches! Roach Film is available at Touchton Drug.

Cleanliness Vital In Polio Fight

Cleanliness in a city not only enhances its appearance but contributes definitely toward safeguarding its health.

It is a definite fact that filth breeds disease and pestilence, which can tear at the vitals of a neighborhood or a community. An outstanding example in history of the ravages of filth-bred disease is the Black

Two Points Of View

In 1453, five hundred years ago, Sultan Fatih Mohammed II captured the city of Constantinople, now known as Istanbul. The anniversary of the event was commemorated recently in two countries, in two entirely different moods.

In Turkey the anniversary was celebrated with feasting, parades and speeches. Turkish flags bedecked the streets and copies of the conquering Sultan's headquarters tent were set up. A special opera was performed by the Turkish National Opera Company. The celebration lasted ten days.

In Greece the date was remembered with mourning. The Cathedral of Athens was the scene of requiems attended by high ranking government officials and representatives of the king. Bells in Greek churches tolled as if they were announcing a national disaster.

It was feared that the difference of opinion as to how the anniversary should be celebrated might lead to fresh dissension between the Greeks and the Turks who are now allied as members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The fears proved groundless, however, and no bad feeling was aroused.

The affair does point out how deep seated some of the differences which separate the countries of the Old World really are. It is these differences, grown out of hundreds of years of distrust, prejudice and suspicion, that make unity so difficult. In this light the progress that has been made toward unity since World War II is truly remarkable.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

If we would listen we might all hear the voice of the infinite. And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I here am I; send me.—Isaiah 6:8.

Ike Stresses Indochina Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower stressed, in his speech to the governors' conference yesterday, the importance of the 400 million dollars Congress voted for fighting the Communists in Indochina.

The money was important to his foreign program. The way his administration went about getting it illustrates Eisenhower's own development in handling Congress.

He has a theory of government he called gradualism. In a news conference July 22 he said he considers it his job to bring people in Congress and the executive branch together to achieve progress for the United States.

This was more than six months after he began dealing with Congress. In that time he himself showed some of this gradualism: in the sense of a gradual change in handling the lawmakers.

He started off the 1953 session by having members of Congress into the White House for breakfast or lunch, trying for a very personal and friendly relationship. That was still his goal at the end of the session.

But in the beginning he seemed to rely on an attitude of "after I lay my proposals before Congress it can suit itself and things should work out all right."

At the end he had reached a point of putting heat on Congress, or individual members, to get approval for what he thought important.

Shortly after becoming president he asked Congress' okay on a resolution condemning Russia for breaking agreements and enslaving people.

It suited the Democrats. But the Republicans wanted to add a paragraph critical of President Roosevelt and Truman, who made the agreements. The Democrats would not stand for that. The Republicans, with Eisenhower separately keeping hands off, let the whole business drop.

The President persisted pretty well in trying to get some mileage out of his program through without making anyone mad. Rep. James A. East, New York Republican, made directly into his path.

Death, or bubonic plague, which swept Europe during the middle ages.

People during this dark period dropped in the street like flies from the disease, which harbored in fleas which in turn were transported by rats. These rats thrived in unsanitary conditions.

Now, today we don't have to worry much about the Black Death wiping out half the population of Sanford, but we should be concerned about poliomyelitis. This disease has struck fear into the hearts of citizens of communities in North Carolina and Alabama, where polio has caused a modern-day plague.

In polio as in any disease, cleanliness is a combatting force. Personal cleanliness, cleanliness in the home, at the back door, in the alley and in the street, all help to combat disease.

Filth not only supports disease but feeds disease-carrying rodents and insects.

Sanford is far from being filthy. In fact, City Manager Tom Lemon praises the efforts of local citizens in keeping the City clean and in practicing sanitary habits in the disposition of garbage.

This praise is directed at the great majority—but there still is a minority. A few local people have been arrested and fined in recent months for failing to dispose of garbage properly.

True, these people are few—very few. But, it takes only one rotten apple to spoil the whole barrel.

The law specifies that garbage is to be kept in a metal container with a tight-fitting cover. Occupants of residences or business establishments are responsible for their premises.

Downtown, there are metal receptacles to take care of garbage and trash such as apple cores and candy wrappers. These cans are provided for the convenience of the general public.

Cleanliness can help fight polio.

DO UNTO OTHERS—

HAL BOYLE

Men Needle Women On Clothes

NEW YORK (AP)—Nothing makes an American husband feel more superior than the way women worry about changing clothes styles.

It was a subject on which Wilbur Peble, the nation's most average man, always enjoyed needling his wife.

"Well, well, Trellis Mae," he said joyously. "I see where some Parisian designers are trying to revive short skirts. How nutty can women get? Why don't they just put fringes on their bathing suits and wear them for evening gowns?"

"Oh, shut up," replied his wife. "Boy, oh boy," said Wilbur. "Don't tell me you girls are going to start dressing again like the high school flappers of the 1920's! Women never looked goofier in all history. This time everybody will be laughing at you."

"Can't you ever be quiet?" murmured Trellis Mae. Usually she paid no attention to her husband's rantings about women's styles. But this time he had struck home.

For the prospect of a return to short skirts secretly dismayed her. The truth was that Trellis Mae was a bit knock-kneed, and she had reached an age where she thought her knees, when she walked, might be heard—but shouldn't be seen.

"What gets me," marveled Wilbur, "is how some French ladies you never even saw says, 'Wear that!'—and all you dames run like sheep to do what he says. What's the color going to be this year—gunnysack brown?"

"The pig envies the peacock," said his wife.

"How's that?" asked Wilbur, surprised. Then Trellis Mae blew up.

"Listen, my little sackcloth hero," she said. "Why don't you grow up and face life. Don't you know you're jealous?"

"Jealous? Who's jealous of what?"

"All you men are jealous. You're jealous of how much better women dress than you do. You don't even know what clothing is for."

"It's to cover you up, of course," said Wilbur. "Even women can't get away with running around more than half-naked. It's a matter of law."

"That shows how silly men are," replied Trellis Mae. "They think clothing is just something to keep them warm in winter—and hot in summer. But clothes are an adventure with a woman, a weapon, a way to express her personality, to show she is different."

"Yeah, how can they be different when they follow the same style?"

"Don't be ridiculous," said Trellis Mae. "It's men who are afraid to be different."

"I don't follow that," said Wilbur indignantly.

"Look, you and all the other husbands I know think you're dressed up when you have on a black pair of shoes, a white shirt, a blue suit but one that isn't too blue, and a necktie you could wipe a postoffice pen on and nobly could see the ink stains. You all wear the same uniform, as if you were in an old-fashioned orphan home."

"It's just practical," said Wilbur defensively.

"That isn't it—it's fear," insisted Trellis Mae. "Why do you sneer at a man who wears a moustache or beard? Because he has the courage to be different, my little nutless wonder, and you don't."

"Well," said Wilbur lamely, "how about those blue summer shoes I'm going to buy?"

"You've been threatening to buy them for five years, and haven't got up the courage yet. And you'll probably never wear blue shoes unless I bury you in them."

Wilbur looked alarmed.

"You wouldn't bury me in blue summer shoes?" he asked un- usually.

"Why not?"

"Oh, I don't know."

"You think so, Peter will look at your shoes?"

"No, no, but it just doesn't seem right. You wouldn't do it, would you?"

"Black shoes" prodded Wilbur.

"No," said Trellis Mae dreamily. "I'll bury you in golden sandals tied with a silver bow."

When you go to heaven, I want you to stand out from the crowd!"

Wilbur dropped the topic of short skirts. The rest of the evening he kept glancing with a hunted look at Trellis Mae. He never could be sure when she was joking.

Major Business Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Business rallies on the report card of the third quarter today and finds some important gains: Ending of controls, first steps toward economy in government, and the first tentative steps toward hard money.

But business also took some losses (however inevitable): Disappointment that taxes weren't cut, higher interest costs on business borrowing and tighter money markets, and disappointment over a growing treasury deficit and climbing federal debt.

And business was told it must wait until next year for a number of things it wanted: Revision of tax laws, labor laws, foreign trade laws; and anti-trust laws; and a re-delimit of a farm policy.

The "businessman's administration" in Washington ran into some major problems that considerably cooled off early hopes.

Biggest gains and biggest disappointments were in the field of money and finance.

Business halted the move to end the era of easy money with its implications of inflation. And it applauded every time the Congress passed an appropriation bill.

But as the Congress session ended, the treasury ran into trouble with its budget. Just as you sometimes have trouble making your check-book jibe with the bank's account of your income and outgo, so the treasury suddenly found it couldn't pare expenses as it had hoped (because, it said, the momentum of previous unspent appropriations) and tax collections were falling behind expectations.

Businessmen have had to put off their hopes for a balanced federal budget for a year or more.

The treasury is having to borrow more money—and it's having to pay higher interest rates.

For example, next week it must pay off three billion dollars worth of certificates on which it has been paying two per cent interest. It proposes to do this by issuing the same amount of new certificates, but on them it will pay 2 1/2 per cent.

The cost of carrying the growing federal debt becomes constantly more expensive for the taxpayer. Interest charges are around six billion dollars a year now.

Business feels the rising interest rates in other ways than in its role as taxpayer. When it borrows at the bank, or floats securities in the market, business must offer higher interest rates, or it doesn't get the money it needs.

A Nation With A Heart Helps Young Girl Catch Up With Her Childhood

By CARL BELL.
SEARCY, Ark. — Shirley Bryant, who at 12 has lived through a lifetime of tragedy, is catching up with a lost childhood, thanks to a nation with a heart.

Even as a very little girl, Shirley was trying to fill a grownup's shoes. Both her mother and father worked, and Shirley mothered those of her six brothers and sisters who weren't old enough for school.

Then just before Christmas last year, her family was suddenly wiped out. Her father, Hilton Bryant, started a wood-burning stove with kerosene one morning. It exploded, leveling their little frame home in the Crystal Hill community near Little Rock.

Shirley was the only survivor. Painfully burned, she spent months in the hospital. And nurses and nurses used their greatest skills, and Little Rock newspaper, the Arkansas Democrat, went to work to provide for her future.

The paper's "Shirley Bryant fund" raised $12,300 from sym-thetic contributors all over the nation. E. J. Hixley, the Little Rock banker who is the fund trustee, says that, with interest, the money will see Shirley comfortably through college.

Today she is completely recovered from her critical injuries, except for a scar on her left arm which later will be removed by plastic surgery.

And she's launched on a road which will lead to a college degree.

Harding College at Searcy was selected to carry out the educational plan.

Shirley came to Searcy last May and now lives with Mrs. Pearl Dodd, a retired college dietitian living just off the campus. This fall she'll be enrolled in Harding Academy, a grammar and high school run by the college. But because she missed so much school, first in mothering her younger brothers and sisters, and then in the hospital, the little girl has been receiving special tutoring from a faculty member to prepare her to enter the seventh grade.

What seems even more pleasant is that at last Shirley has time to play. She even went to camp for a couple of weeks, has learned to swim and says Mrs. Dodd, "She seems to spend all her spare time swimming or riding her bicycle."

Does she help out with the house-keeping chores?

"Well," says Mrs. Dodd, "she used to have to do so much of it, you know. She sets the table for me and helps a little with the cooking, but she likes to water the flowers, sweep the walks and do other things outdoors better than washing dishes or cleaning house."

In the short time she has been in Searcy, Shirley has learned to play the piano remarkably well with only informal instruction and soon will take regular lessons.

What does she want to be when she grows up?

"I wouldn't mind being a nurse," she replied—her face sobering as she recalled her many days in a hospital.

An Aid to Spinal Anesthesia

By HERMAN N. BUNDISON, M.D.

IN times and conditions not so long past, the best anesthetic chosen was a stuporose one of a large dose of whiskey. Not so today, for there are many types of anesthesia that a person can have when going through an operation or the delivery of a baby.

One of the types most frequently used for difficult operations is spinal anesthesia. Spinal anesthesia is very advantageous to use in many cases because it causes great relaxation of the muscles, thereby giving the physician an easier field in which to work.

Alcohol and Sugar

It has been shown that giving alcohol mixed with a sugar solution into a vein following the use of spinal anesthesia and after the operation has been completed, causes the centers of the brain that produce the spinal fluid to give off more fluid. Thus the loss is replaced and the headache eliminated.

This alcohol solution is given slowly. Recently it was tried on a group of patients and results were excellent in almost all of them. Not only does the preparation serve to eliminate the headache, but it also acts to relieve the pain and liven up the spirits of the patient following surgery.

Grant Given For Biscayne Pollution Study

A grant of approximately $30,000 has been made by the U. S. Public Health Service to the Marine Laboratory of the University of Miami for a study of the effects of pollution in Biscayne Bay.

The effects of sewage pollution upon fishes and other life in the sea are not too well known, in spite of the general opinion to the contrary. It was pointed out by Dr. F. G. Walton Smith, Director of the Laboratory, in making an announcement of the grant.

It may sometimes happen that one of the results of sewage may be to bring about an increase in fish life, while other effects may be to destroy it," Dr. Smith continued.

The plans for a sewage disposal plant recently financed by the City of Miami will make it possible to conduct an experiment on a large scale to determine just how pollution affects sea life, says Dr. Smith. A very careful investigation will be made of the polluted areas of Biscayne Bay between so wand the time when the plant is in operation.

After the plant has set up its operation, and sewage is no longer dumped into the bay, rivers and adjacent canals, comparative observations will be made on conditions and on fish life to obtain a detailed knowledge of the changes due to cessation of pollution.

The studies will be related not only to angling and commercial fisheries but also to such problems as shipworms and ship-bottom fouling organisms, all of which are in various complicated ways affected by pollution. A general study of life in Biscayne Bay already has been carried out by the Marine Laboratory, the results of which were published in 1949.

Other studies on Biscayne Bay have included the effects of commercial fisheries upon angling activities, and several studies of the distribution of marine borers and fouling organisms. Biscayne Bay has had more scientific study than any other harbor in Florida.

This $30,000 grant, along with other from various sources outside the Marine Laboratory to pursue research helpful to Florida without cost to the state or to the taxpayer, it is pointed out by Dr. Smith.

For instance, there is the preliminary investigation of the effect of water releases from Lake Okechobee into the St. Johns River and St. Lucie Inlets upon the sports and commercial fishing of the Stuart and Fort Myers areas. Other contracts are being made with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Another is the recent $75,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation for the study of organic productivity of the ocean. This is primarily concerned with the plankton, basic source of food for the sea upon which all fish production depends.

TAFT'S LIFE IN PICTURES:

FATHER OF FOUR SONS, Bob Taft in the summer of 1938 was in the midst of the Ohio political campaign which sent him to the U. S. Senate for his first term. The future Senator and his wife are surrounded (left to right) by Robert Jr., William Howard, Lloyd Bowers and Louise Dwight. In seven months of campaigning, Taft delivered more than 600 speeches, and his wife made nearly that many without ever being declared a candidate for the Republican nomination (right photo). Senator Taft and his wife were with their nine grandchildren, three sons (Robert Jr. was absent) and three daughters-in-law at Murray Bay, Quebec, in this late 1941 group. High School Student Is Contest Winner With Essay On Democracy

Editor's Note: The Sanford Herald is pleased to publish a prize-winning essay entitled "Democracy Is What We Make It" written by Francis Hull, 16, a student at Newport News High School in Virginia. The student was the winner in the 19th annual national high school contest for 1952-53 sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

I guess each generation of young people has had the idea that it was going to forge a brave new era, suppose some high school students have always said, "Wait until our turn. We will correct the mistakes. We have the answers."

My generation is different. Adults may smile at that remark and say, "Behold the new crusaders." But we think it is true. We have to be different. We have lived, in our short lives, through one war and part of another. We have seen brothers leave their college classrooms, and fathers leave their families. We have lived in a time of little serenity, and in an ever-present atmosphere of "What happens next?" We hear the word, "democracy," perhaps more than any one word.

What are we fighting for? Someone shouts, "Democracy!" "What are we dying for?" Another answers, "Democracy!" "How will we find our way through the maze?" Always, "Democracy!"

We think that this word, holding a powerful heritage of meaning, is now used too casually. We think people decline too much about the privileges and freedoms of a democracy, and neglect the obligations and responsibilities that go with such privileges. That is what my generation is concerned about—not what democracy is, but how to make it work.

How can we hope to make it work by putting away our idealism, but by weaving it into the fabric of that which is practical and realistic. The boys and girls who are not so much interested in patriotic definitions as in living together, during high school years, in such a way that they will come to definitions and meanings of their own. We are told that the form of education my generation is getting is called "the democratic education."

We also hear critics and educators having word battles about what form of education is best. We do not understand their fancy terms. We are interested only in results. And we, who are about to graduate, feel that we have lived in a sort of miniature Democracy at work. We have grown to believe that the best life for an individual is to be found in cooperative living. Some of our conclusions may be youthful and fumbling. They are, however, lived with hope. These are our convictions:

First, since prejudice seems to us in darkness and indifference, we shall try to keep ourselves out in the bright light of activity, participation and friendship. We may learn more about respecting each other. We do not use the word, tolerance, too much. We think it, too, has been used too casually until it sounds somewhat smug. We do like the word, understanding, and its relation to the attitudes toward race, creed, and color. We know we must get on in age and experience before we grow into deep and true understanding.

Then, too, we intend to do something about participation. We do not believe that citizens have the right to criticize unless they are doing something constructive for their community, state or nation. We, my school mates and I, are committee-minded. We intend to eliminate weeks of research on our actual presidential candidates. I remember that I stayed until five after school to count the votes, and I felt a part of something great to come. We, during that pre-election time, were not too disturbed by noting that many adults were too lazy to be well-informed about candidates, or too indifferent to vote. We felt just a plain healthy anger, so concerned were we that we intend, as future citizens, to know what is happening in our country and the world, and do all we can for democracy with our great voting power.

But, since prejudice seems to us in darkness and indifference, we shall try to keep ourselves out in the bright light of activity, participation and friendship. Removal of the federal tax on theatre tickets, after long and thorough study of the situation, may not bring immediate relief to the taxpayer but will help tremendously in saving one of the nation's outstanding industries.

Burdened with the 20 per cent federal admission tax, the nation's slim profit margin dwindles to a point where the future of the whole industry was threatened.

When business in a community is forced to close and vacate property in the business section rapidly mounting operating costs and the excessive tax burden.

These movie theatres, especially those in small communities, are the poor man's theatre. It is the only kind of entertainment within his reach, and, consequently, the only entertainment offered him.

Movie theatres represent a considerable capital investment on which state, county and municipal taxes are paid. They give employment to large numbers of people and their pay envelopes are an item in local economy. They also contribute other taxes to the federal government, pay film rentals, consume power and render a valuable civic service in support of local projects.

No state in the nation, not even California, the home of the moving picture production industry, is as indebted to the industry as is Florida. Over the years this powerful vehicle of publicity has featured hundreds and hundreds of Florida films and shorts that have brought the advantages of Florida to the attention of countless millions.

Films made at Cypress Gardens, Marine Studios, Silver Springs and many other points as well as a number promoted by the Florida State Advertising Commission, have been featured nationwide and on one can estimate the value of this impressive publicity.

Congress acted wisely in moving quickly to save the nation's motion picture industry. It is hoped that President Eisenhower will be equally in accord by signing the bill into law.

Wild Ride Results In Death Of Man

DETROIT (AP)—A 13-year-old boy attempting to move his father's car a few feet set off on a wild ride yesterday that ended 1,800 feet later with the death of a man.

Charles M. Houchin, who had driven a car only once, told police that his father had given him the keys to get something out of the trunk.

The youngster said that he had to move the car since another was parked too closely behind. He accidentally got the automatic shift lever in reverse and piled into the rear car. Then the car suddenly rocketed ahead for a block, striking and killing Nicholas Hayden, 60.

Police released the boy pending further investigation.

Sanford Legion Loses To Key West; Play Again Tonight

The Sports Register

By KENT CHELAIN
WAUCHULA Aug. 5—(Special) Jupiter Playboys interrupted Sanford's high-flying "White Kids" after the first inning and a half of its opening clash with Key West in the State Junior American Legion final here tonight.

Jimmy "Jock" Krider started off in superlative form fanning four straight after passing the lead-off batter. Krider threw two scoreless innings at the Key Westers while Sanford had a budding rally, drenched out by the torrent downpour.

Sanford will play Key West tomorrow morning at 10:00. The loser will then battle Pensacola, which dropped a 6-3 decision to Jacksonville's highly-touted Post 33, this morning. At 6:00 o'clock tomorrow night in a seven-inning duel.

Meanwhile, Jacksonville will take on the winner of the Sanford-Key West game tomorrow evening in the semifinals.

Sanford had two men on and two out with Jimmy Wade, Junior Metts' third base replacement, coming up when the plate umpire called the game.

Krider coasted the ill-fated second stanza with a single to right after Johnny Jones struck out. Boss Hannum beat out an infield hit, Krider coaching second. Ed McCall stepped to the plate as the left fielder. Wade drilled a tremendous 359-foot clout to left field. Wade, too, a conventional backhanded catch by leftfielder Roger Bean saved Key West. The game was called after Krider advanced to third following the catch.

Lou Boudreau's Clutch Single Sparked Cleveland To Victory

By HICK SMITH

CLEVELAND Baseball's biggest crowd here cheered the rump of Cleveland Stadium to watch the Indians, and one of the biggest—73,484 paid customers—was the Aug. 8, 1948.

The hated Yankees were in town. The Indians were fighting to stay on top. New York and Philadelphia were only a couple of percentage points behind.

At game time the temperature was 80—comfortable enough for August. But the giant crowd of Cleveland partisans was fidgety as Southpaw Sam Zolack took the mound. Over at shortstop was Johnny Berardino instead of the darling of the fans and the club's leading hitter, Lou Boudreau.

Lou's absence forced the gamblers to put the home club on the long end of the odds.

Boudreau had been out for three days after banging his right shoulder and left ankle sliding into second. The doctor had told him not to play.

The first half of the game was fairly even. Each team got a run in the first, and the Yanks went ahead 2-1 in the fourth. But in the fifth, Berardino's wild throw, between singles by Phil Rizzuto and Tommy Henrich, helped the Homers to two more runs. In the seventh, the Yanks led 5-1. But the clutch Zolack off the mound with two singles and a double.

Frank (Rope) Shea had put 11 Cleveland batters down in order when Larry (Duke) Jacobs took the fifth. Berardino's wild throw, between singles by Phil Rizzuto and Tommy Henrich, helped the Homers to two more runs. In the seventh, the Yanks led 5-1. man conquering a situation through the strength of his nerve, the agility and power of his body, and the determination of his heart.

Five veteran baseball writers agreed recently that all of the hundreds of games played here in the last 10 years, that Aug. 8 opens was the most exciting.

"I picked it from the others with scarcely any hesitation, passing up such memorable contests as Bob Feller's third no-hitter in July, 1951, and Don Black's no-hitter against Philadelphia in 1947. As one of them said:

"If you'd gone to those Hollywood script writers before the game and said: 'Give us a story that will knock out 73,484 people, they couldn't have done a better job.'"

Daytona Beach Goes On Home Run Spree

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Aug. 5—Ed Levy, the only man ever to make much of a home run splash in the Florida State League, must have imparted his secret to the Daytona Beach Islanders he now manages.

Whether they got it from their manager or elsewhere in the islanders used the big wallop to win a pair from Leesburg, 8-3 and 9-2 last night and move up on the leading Deland Red Hots who were rained out of a scheduled game at Jacksonville Beach.

John Skrupski homered in each game, the second time with two on base. Paul Pardue hit one with two on in the first game. Mike Bolone did it with one on in the second.

Levy, the man whose example they followed, set the season home run record of 33 in Sanford in 1950. The closest anyone has come to him is Chuck Adams of Sanford with 25 last year. Sanford's J. C. Dunn leads this year with 15.

Cocoa lost ground in the battle for the second half title, losing to Orlando 1-0 in the opener of a double header, before taking the second game 5-2.

That left Deland three games ahead of Daytona Beach and four ahead of Cocoa.

Florida Man Snipe Second

ARDMORE, Okla., Aug. 5—Morris Whitney, Clearwater, Fla., finished second yesterday after taking two firsts to top the 30-ball field in preliminaries of the national championship snipe regatta.

Whitney had 4,721 points. Francis Seavey, also of Clearwater, Fla., won two of the four races Monday but failed in fourth today to win second place with 4,860.

The 16 highest point winners will compete for three days starting today for the coveted Heinsinger trophy.

Pettit Dropped

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5—Pitcher Paul Pettit, the Pittsburgh Pirates' $100,000 contract baby, was headed for Charleston, S. C., today after being released by the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Association.

The Pettit was dropped last night to Charleston, their Class A affiliate in the Sally League.

Pettit was optioned to the Pels in June by the parent Pirate club to bolster the Southern Association club's faltering pitching staff. Pettit won three and lost five for the Pels.

George Holt and Bill Whitout, halfbacks of Wake Virginia University's 1949 football team, are now baseball teammates at Burlington-Graham, N. C., in the Class B, Carolina League.

 The Robin Roberts express is rousing right on a schedule that could make the young Philadelphia pitcher the major league's first 30-game winner in 18 seasons.

The strong-armed right-hander has stepped up his tremendous pace of last year—when he won 26 and lost 7—by almost two weeks. And he's improved in almost every measurable pitching department in baseball.

Roberts won his 18th game last night, a 5-0 hit 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. He's lost seven. At this same point a year ago he had a 16-8 record.

He has pitched 35 more innings and a more complete game. He's struck out 33 more than a year ago and has walked only 17 more. He's given up 20 more hits but he has a lower earned run average, 2.58.

The last 10-game winner was Steve Dasso back in 1921. His average in 10 games that season was 2.00.

Local Nine Goes Into Losers' Bracket Against Pensacola; Key West Meets Jax

By KENT CHELAIN
WAUCHULA The sinking east ball of George Laxtra stayed Sanford's Junior Legion "White Kids" on two hits as the midget-Laxtra Post 33 lost its opening game in the State Junior American Legion championship drenched to Key West, 4-1, here this morning.

Laxtra fanned 15 Sanford batters while losing just five passes to record his sixth straight Legion victory and 21st win of the season. Sanford now advances in the losers' bracket to play Pensacola in this evening's opening seven-inning game, starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Laxtra had a no-hitter going into the sixth, when with two out, Larry Bates bashed a clean single to left. Jimmy Wade, substiting for departed Junior Metts, drove a long liner into center field, the seventh hit of the second inning threat for the other bingie. Jimmy Krider went the distance for Sanford, yielding 10 hits, five walks while whiffing six in allowing his second loss in an against seven triumph.

Sanford scored its lone run in the first frame when Buddy Reynolds crashed first safely on a througher error by Richard Salsgarden, third baseman, Bates drilled a grounder through first baseman James Pottler, scoring Reynolds.

Jimmy Hawkins is slated to pitch for Sanford against Pensacola Post 33 tonight.

Jacksonville now plays Key West in tonight's second clash, following the Sanford-Pensacola battle.

By winning tonight, Sanford can advance to play the loser of the Jacksonville-Key West seventh. A loss this evening would eliminate Sanford for the state tourney.

Sanford's record is 10-10-1. Jacksonville is 10-10-1. Key West is 10-10-1. Pensacola is 10-10-1.

Palmieri Chalks Up 15th Victory Of FSL Season

The Sanford Cardinals broke a four game losing streak last night by blasting out an 11 to 7 decision over the Lakeland Pilots at Memorial Stadium.

Sanford travels to Daytona Beach tonight to play a single game with the upcoming Islanders. Clarence Ingram will take the mound for the invaders after being shelved for almost three weeks with a sore arm.

A doubleheader was originally scheduled for tonight but because of other activity planned at the park the second contest has been rescheduled as part of a twobill on Aug. 24.

Ernie Palmieri, who won his 15th game, was staked to an early 10 to 0 lead by his teammates, but after weathering outbursts by the invaders in the fourth, seventh and eighth innings, was lashed out of the contest with one away in the ninth and the bases full. Harry Mella came on and stopped the visitors cold.

A steady drizzle held up the contest for 30 minutes in the bottom of the sixth inning after the rain had opened up the game. The final Pilot was being retired in the ninth, the wind blew and the rains came causing fans to dash through the downpour to their cars.

ERNE PALMIERI... Was 15th Game

Leonard's double and another flyout by Benoit brought in another marker in the third. Two more came across in the fourth on singles by Palmieri and Batty and a double by Tony Barone.

After the rain stopped in the sixth, the Dummies pushed three more markers across on singles by Westbrook, Palmieri, Barone and Batty.

Lakeland got back in the ball game by chalking up two runs in the seventh and three more in the eighth when Corso, who struck out four times during the evening, came through with a base-clearing double to left center.

Two walks, two hits, and an error in the top of the ninth resulted in two runs and the bases were jammed when Mella came on in relief. He whiffed Corso and forced Sykes to ground out to end the game just before the windstorm hit the field.

All 75 entrants will receive a share of the prize money this year. Only the first 10 finishers were included in the money distribution last year. The last place driver will be awarded a maximum of $100.

The second place finisher will collect a total of $2,750, while $1,500 goes to third place driver. The fourth place gets $1,000 and $900.00 will be given for fifth place.

As has been the custom in previous "SOUTHERN 500" races, Pure Premium gasoline will be used in all competing 1952 model stock cars. Any type of fuel contains, except pure race fuel, will be permissible in the event. Robert Colvin, president of the Raceway, announced an added attraction to this year's race will be the selection of "Miss Southern 500" at a dance on Friday night, Sept. 5 at the Raceway track. The beauty queen will pose in the trophy to the winner of Monday's event. The contest is being sponsored by the Darlington Police Department and all proceeds are earmarked for charity.

Northwest Florida Archers Claim State Superiority

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—A challenge was hurled today by the archers of Northwest Florida to the low and arrow men in Central Florida on the hunters' hill in the coming archery deer hunt scheduled for the Eglin Field Military Reservation and the Ocala Forest.

Boots in the northwestern section of the State declared that their archers in his area were better bowmen than those in other areas and he said that more deer would be killed in the Eglin Field hunt than in the Ocala Forest this season.

"After seeing the kill figures of last year's archery hunt in the Ocala National Forest, our group would be afraid to be seen with our bows and arrows," he said. "People might think we were those hunters."

"We archers in this section have certain standards we must maintain and we're prepared to show that we are capable of killing deer along with the best of shotgun hunters."

"Imagine that group in Central Florida killing five wild hogs, two foxes, two snakes and one raccoon. Why, with results like those, would a hunter from this area be called 'Just watch the kill figures on this year's archery hunt in Eglin Field!'"

He concluded that there were only nine days of archery hunting slated for Eglin Field, while Ocala Forest has 16, "that we're still willing to bet that more deer will be taken on our hunt than on the other."

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission authorized the two deer hunts at a recent meeting in Orlando when the hunting regulations were established. The archery hunt for Ocala Forest is set for October 31 through November 8.

Deer, bear and panther are the only game animals permitted during the Ocala Hunt. In Eglin Field archers may take deer, but killing of turkey, bear, beaver and alligator is prohibited. Unprotected wildlife may be taken at both areas.

All hunters participating in these hunts are required to purchase a special $5.00 permit as well as having a valid hunting license. They must also check in and out of the hunt areas at the various checking stations.

Approximately 35,500 acres will be open to the bowmen in the Ocala National Forest, while the archery hunt will be conducted on an estimated 12,000 acres in Eglin Field.

Last year 106 hunters from 41 clubs in Florida and from five states participated in the Ocala archery hunt. This year is estimated that 1,000 archers will take part in these special seasons. Both hunts will be concluded before the start of the regular shooting season on November 20.

All hunters participating in these hunts are required to purchase a special $5.00 permit as well as having a valid hunting license. They must also check in and out of the hunt areas at the various checking stations.

Approximately 35,500 acres will be open to the bowmen in the Ocala National Forest, while the archery hunt will be conducted on an estimated 12,000 acres in Eglin Field.

Last year 106 hunters from 41 clubs in Florida and from five states participated in the Ocala archery hunt. This year is estimated that 1,000 archers will take part in these special seasons. Both hunts will be concluded before the start of the regular shooting season on November 20.

Roberts Express On Schedule

By BEN FLEIGAN
AP Sports Writer
 The Robin Roberts express is rousing right on a schedule that could make the young Philadelphia pitcher the major league's first 30-game winner in 18 seasons.

The strong-armed right-hander has stepped up his tremendous pace of last year—when he won 26 and lost 7—by almost two weeks. And he's improved in almost every measurable pitching department in baseball.

Roberts won his 18th game last night, a 5-0 hit 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. He's lost seven. At this same point a year ago he had a 16-8 record.

He has pitched 35 more innings and a more complete game. He's struck out 33 more than a year ago and has walked only 17 more. He's given up 20 more hits but he has a lower earned run average, 2.58.

The last 10-game winner was Steve Dasso back in 1921. His average in 10 games that season was 2.00.

A good fast ball pitcher Roberts had his control working to near perfection against the Cardinals last night. Back-to-back doubles by Bing Muehl and Enos Slaughter produced a St. Louis run in the first inning, but from then on it was all Roberts. He struck out seven and walked two.

As usual, Roberts' victory came when the Phils sorely needed it. By winning, they pulled a game and a half ahead of the fourth-place Cardinals. Had they lost they would have dropped to fourth.

Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 3-1 Monday but suffered a fourth day on the stumbling New York giants 5-3. League-leading Brooklyn was killed by rain in Milwaukee.

In the American League, the "haves" beat the "have nots" in four battles between first and second division teams.

The New York Yankees crushed Detroit 15-0. Chicago whipped Philadelphia 5-3. Cleveland defeated Washington 3-2, and Boston broke an eight-game losing streak, beating St. Louis 6-3.

The Yankees lead Chicago by five games and Cleveland by 7 1/2.

Vic Raschi, one of the league's better pitchers, broke a major league batting record. He drove in seven of the New York runs against Detroit, an all-time high for hitting pitchers. The previous best was six.

Created with the bases loaded on each of his first three trips to the plate, Raschi delivered two runners in the second inning with a single, three in the third with a double and two more in the fourth with another single. On his fourth trip, with nobody on base, he grounded out.

Chuck Stobbs of the Senators held Cleveland to five hits but the Indians came in the New York Chicago contest. Clyde McCullough hit one for the Cubs and Monte Irvin for the Giants. Gil McDougald of the Yankees got the third hit. Bill Mungli drew the New York loss, seventh in nine games for the Giants on the current Western road trip.

Stormy Seas Impede Plane Rescue Tries

When Kluksman Ed Lane introduced a visitor at the noon service club meeting, he really does the job up brown. He generally goes into a long discussion of the person's home state giving street population, elevation above sea level and what not. We have had a visitor from the state of Massachusetts rather thoroughly. He even went to the bother and expense of writing (and getting a long roll of) a letter to the Chairman of Commerce of Haverhill, Mass., where our parents have lived for some 35 years, to inform him of the fact that our three children were born in New York, Ohio, and California.

Success Story

COTTAGE couple, 417 W. 1st, Mrs. Morris, who manages the Morris Apartments at 417 W. First St., tried for some time to rent a small cottage behind the apartments on First St. With us, the story is an old one. She decided to try a Classified Ad. The FOR RENT sign had been on the cottage for some time but these five words, no matter how insignificant they may seem when compared to the whole of the newspaper, brought immediate results. She rented the cottage in 3 days. The story spells success for Mrs. Morris and success for the Classified Advertiser. The Herald increased her income and increased the great confidence that we and an increasing public have in our Classified Advertising. Mrs. Morris is so satisfied with the results that she is now running a steady ad in the FOR RENT column. Look for it.

County Commission Hears Complaints

The County Board of Commissioners today heard the first of several verbal complaints on matters dealing with the County Commission planning project and one of which they had any jurisdiction to take action upon.

The lone matter dealt with improving drainage conditions at a Lake Mary residence upon which Commission pledged action within about a week.

A woman, residing here temporarily, complained about action which had been taken in Circuit Court on a case involving her estranged husband. The woman was advised to get a lawyer.

Two local residents complained about alleged hardship they would incur in the French Ave. project.

Bill another complaint was received by letter from a promoter of a local Negro recreation center.

In the one matter which was finally settled, the Commission decided to take action in the case of Mrs. J. H. Cowan, Lake Mary, to improve drainage conditions at her residence. According to Mrs. Cowan, a her son-in-law, R. B. Monroe, who also requested action in the matter.

"If there should come a storm, the whole place would be overflowing," Mrs. Cowan said. She complained about a drainage pipe and about sand washing off the road in front of her residence, into the ditch.

The Commission agreed to install a 12 inch pipe under the driveway to carry away water, but it was stated nothing could be done about sand washing off the road.

James A. Higer entered a complaint about action which is to be taken with his property in the proposed French Ave. project.

He stated the widening highway would run but 10 to 15 feet from the front bedroom of his house. He said the closeness of the street would endanger the safety of his children and that he wanted his house moved to another plot. There is no room at the back of the house site into which the residence may be moved.

"I'd be willing to move anywhere off French Ave.," he told the Commission. "I just don't want my children killed."

He was advised to take the matter up with the City and the State Road Department.

Gladys Smith told the Commission the widening project would
