Youth Sentenced On Arson Charge

James Bridgeman, found guilty of third degree arson by a Circuit Court jury, was sentenced to 2 1/2 years at hard labor with the State Division of Corrections by Judge Dominic Salfi. Judge Salfi said that he would give credit for the 10 months in which the youth has been incarcerated in the county jail.

Bridgeman told the court he had not known what it meant to be a member of society until he had spent the time in jail. Maintaining his innocence of the crime, Bridgeman said a witness lied on the stand. He admitted he was in error in stealing an auto and "stripping" it but did not set fire to the car.

Judge Salfi contended it is logical that he would destroy the evidence. Judge Salfi contended that several problems confronted him in the sentencing: the youths' attitude, in which he expressed little remorse; the investigation of the case elucidating the fact that Bridgeman is a leader type who was responsible for "turning boys down the bad path."

All these, said Judge Salfi, "stuck out like a sore thumb." The judge, surveying the youth's record, noted he was found guilty of a criminal charge in 1965 for which he was granted probation. In 1967, the judge explained, the youth was "graduated to grand larceny" and received four years probation. During this probation period, the young man left the jurisdiction of the court and came to Florida.

Judge Salfi commented, "Some times I wonder if the courts do the right thing, constantly placing people on probation." The judge contended that Bridgeman had not paid his debt to society for all he has done... stealing a car... possession of a stolen car.

With all due apologies to the Detroit Lions football Hughes family, the following is not meant disrespectfully. I have a great deal of respect for the "Reaper"; and offer my compassion to those affected.

However, because a professional dies on the battlefield of the grid wars, a special tribute prior to last night's nationally telecast Colts/Vikings football game was offered... not only to those on hand for the contest — but, to the millions of viewers who were tuned in.

One life... and all of a sudden, this great display of reverence.

However, on another "field of battle," some thousands of miles removed... this country considers itself lucky because on a given day ONLY FOUR were eliminated by the enemy's bullets!

Where was the special dedication for those "four"... not to mention the 50,000-plus who expired before them? As a matter of curiosity, where was ANY KIND for a dedicatory service yesterday... on THE DAY set aside for remembering the fighting men?

I suppose this single incident brings it more to mind than anything else, the appropriate thoughts of the drunk... He passed out on the floor of his favorite saloon and someone rubbed limburger cheese on to his upper lip. As he regained consciousness, he took a deep whiff... went outside and sniffed again... and returned inside whereupon he exclaimed, "It ain't no use. The whole world stinks!"

Nah, it's not that bad, really... look at what some of the little kids are doing in school these days. Making their own Christmas Cards which are going to be sent to GIs overseas. More on that in tomorrow's edition.

A TIP... We've been told that Castro is dead. The Cuban Government officially denies this. Maybe after Koygyn visits "em today we'll all find out the truth.

What good does the investigative news media do? Remember those "migrant workers" who didn't have adequate living conditions? Just received a photo from the Coca-Cola Company—Agricultural Labor Project.

"The first of an expected 40 or more families of citrus workers moved into new homes of their own."

Read I say move, folks?

While unloading at the Florida Power and Light Corporation, will be filed by Alex Senkevich, of the Florida Air and Water Pollution Control Department (FAWP/CD).

Michael Ramsey, of the agency for appropriate civil action.

Senkevich reported his intentions at a meeting this morning at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce building where officials from Revele, Florida Power and Light, Seminole County, Volusia County, the Florida Marine Patrol and the Port of Sanford met with him to discuss the problem. Most of the discussion centered on steps to be taken by involved inmate has to do is sit. Demario implored the court to consider that a sentence to prison would mean the youth could procure drugs "if he wants to" and if "someone wants to rape him, they can." DeManio said he "beseeched the court to give the youth the benefit of the doubt."

Buchanan told the court he had "done a lot of growing up" during his incarceration... that he did what he thought was the right thing to do at the time... that he could do more for society on the outside to help others avoid the drug habit.

Judge Salfi noted that the defendant had two charges pending previously, had managed to have a charge of possession of marijuana dismissed and convinced a jury of his innocence in a charge of sale and possession of a hallucinogenic. The judge contended that Buchanan had admitted to the use of heroin since he was 18, admitted to selling drugs which Judge Salfi termed "one of the most heinous crimes in society today." The judge said the youth admitted to the sale in order to support a $150-a-day drug habit; that he used marijuana since he was 17, "acid" later and then heroin.

Judge Salfi contended the youth had never paid his debt to society and that others were trying to support a $100-a-day drug habit due to his influence. "That is why," Judge Salfi said, "society must be concerned about the problem."

The judge contended if he were convinced the youth had "licked the bottom" he would grant probation under close supervision or if he could sentence the youth to a prison hospital and receive its recommendation of a cure. However, the judge said he had only two "tools" with which to work... "cut loose for probation" or prison. Judge Salfi said it is his hope that one day the state Legislature would be enlightened and provide an alternative to the county jail.

Possible Civil Action Is Seen By State Dept. Over Oil Spill

Senkevich, regional pollution control engineer for FAWPC/CD, said the report will go to Tallahassee and be turned over to the legal department of his agency for appropriate civil action.

Senkevich reported his intentions at a meeting this morning at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce building where officials from Revele, Florida Power and Light, Seminole County, Volusia County, the Florida Marine Patrol and the Port of Sanford met with him to discuss the problem. Most of the discussion centered on steps to be taken by involved agencies to avoid such occurrences in the future.

Michael Ramsey, of the Marine Patrol, Florida Department of Natural Resources, said, prior to an injunction from a federal court in Jacksonville, which removed the Marine Patrol's authority over inland oil spills, the patrol had a contingency plan to be used to effect clean-up operations immediately.

Ramsey said the federal injunction of the oil spill law, which was passed immediately after the Tampa oil spill, would have made the patrol the first agency contacted. The plans for Seminole and Volusia Counties can be made available to the counties if they want them to be used as a basis for a plan of action to handle spills in the future, according to Ramsey.

Frank Oliver, of Revele, told the group his dissatisfaction came as a result of newspaper reports of his company taking no action to clean up the spill and the amount allegedly spilled. Oliver said his company has spent all but one of the last eight days in cleaning operations. Vihlen said the difference of opinion was in that he (Vihlen) was not satisfied enough action was taken soon enough to clean up the spill.

Three Years Meted Youth In Narcotics

By MARION BETHEA

Circuit Judge Dominic Salfi this morning sentenced Donald Buchanan, 21, who entered a plea of guilty to charges of possession of heroin, to not more than three years with the State Division of Corrections.

Judge Salfi said he would recommend that the youth be incarcerated at the youthful offenders' prison and not at Raiford. The judge noted that he would give credit for the 10 months which Buchanan has served in county jail.

Peter De Manio, defense attorney, told the court that one day in this county jail more than any where else since there is no recreation provided and all an

Teenagers Arrested For Dope

County Det. Sgt. John Wright has arrested two persons, an adult and a 16-year-old boy, in the theft of two stereos.

According to Wright, Arthur Koon, 22-year-old janitor at English Estates Elementary School, has been charged with aiding in the concealment of stolen property. Koon lives at 1841 Moore Avenue, Maitland, and is charged along with the juvenile, an Eatonville youth, in the South Seminole theft.

Sanford police Monday night arrested two juvenile girls on possession of narcotic paraphernalia charges after finding them trespassing at the new court house construction site.

Det. Ralph Russell and Patrolman William Dube arrested the 13- and 14-year-old girls. They were transferred to state juvenile authorities for disposition of the charges. Meanwhile, they were incarcerated in the county jail.

They Won't Change Meyer Wins Jail Fight

STUART, Fla. (AP) — While most of the nation was celebrating Veterans Day in a three-day weekend, Martin County declared it a non-holiday.

County Commissioner William Owens, who led local opposition to changing the holiday to Oct. 25, commented, "Next thing you know, why not change the birth of Christ?"

760 Acres Annexed As Sanford Grows

City of Sanford grew by approximately a tenth of its size at Monday night's City Commission meeting when that body lifted its self-imposed moratorium on annexation for a brief minute and voted to bring 760 acres along Highway 17-92, south of Sanford, into the city.

The property, known as Hidden Lake Estates, which was purchased from a trust composed of A. B. Peterson Sr., A. B. Peterson Jr., Mary Peterson all of Sanford, and Herman Goodman of Hollywood, Dick Bond Associates, of Winter Park will be developed into a planned unit development (PUD), complete with apartments, single family homes, shops, parks and various other attractions for singles and families.

With the annexation of property by the city, the transaction is finalized and, according to City Attorney W. C. Hutchison, the purchase price of $2.1 million is confirmed.

When the Hidden Lake development is completed, expected within five years, there will be more utility taps in the added acreage than now in the whole of Sanford, it was disclosed.

In another development Bert Hollingsworth, of the Commission's charter revision committee, named to prepare a new city charter, appeared at Monday night's session to give rough drafts of the new charter to the Commission and the press.

The Commission commended the charter group for its work and indicated it would meet with the members within the month to discuss the proposed code after commissioners have studied the document.

Municipal Elections Shaping Up

By DONNA ESTES

Incumbent Councilman Keith Sanford and at Seminole Plaza in Casselberry will remain open until Nov. 5 to give residents of the municipalities an opportunity to register to vote in the city elections.

Incumbent Mayor Robert Kallio, resigned.

Longwood candidates who have filed for the three City Council seats, currently held by E. E. Williamson, Sandra Thompson and B. L. Helms, are former Council Chairman James Brown, Donald Shriver, William Klesky and Richard Crosshale.

Meanwhile, in Casselberry incumbent Mayor Curtis Blaw has qualified to seek re-election, making the race for the office of mayor three-way with former Councilman Richard Wirs and David McCoy.

For the Council qualifying have been incumbents Dr. Edith Duerr and Bill Grizer and newcomer Dr. John Zeeck.

Mrs. Helen Keyser, completing her first term on the City Council in Altamonte Springs, qualified Monday afternoon for re-election. Incumbent Mayor Lawrence Swofford qualified for re-election Friday.

All Invited To Country Quick's Rodeo And Fun-O-Rama For SAYS

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
When Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bowers believe in something, they really go all out to support and promote it.

ROUND 'EM UP COWBOY! Sheriff John Polk is getting clued in on the forthcoming rodeo and barbecue by Tom Bowers, left, and Ted Bowers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bowers of Oviedo. Site of the "outta-sight" fete is the Country Quick in Oviedo on Nov. 6. Show chairman is Tom Bowers.

On Nov. 6, beginning at 10:00 a.m., the Country Quick arena, which is located two miles northeast of Oviedo on SR 426, will be the scene of one of the best shows ever presented in this area.

Genial Tom Bowers is show chairman and he says that the events for this spectacular are really "outta-sight."

The purpose of having the rodeo and barbecue is to support Seminole All Youth Shelter (SAYS). Bowers and his family really believe in what Rev. Jack Limisky and his board are attempting to do for the youth in Seminole County area, and so this fabulous benefit was planned.

Bowers said, "Describe the events we will hold so that people will know what they are going to see, what they will miss if they don't come out and join us."

Country Quick stores in Oviedo and pick up your supply of high quality Western Beef.

So, for all of you rodeo fans, take note—the Bowers and family are presenting for your pleasure the following fare: A Junior rodeo and horse show, consisting of bull riding, calf decorating, 10 teams of 2 each, boys and girls, hold and the ribbons on the bulls and return to starting position. This event is open to those 10 years and under.

One other very important aspect about the rodeo—if you wish to participate, it is necessary that all contestants must sign up before a rotary public. There will be a rotary on hand the day of the big show.

There will be Junior and Senior pole bending contest (this is a series of riders tearing through obstacles placed strategically without touching or bending the pole (obstacle).

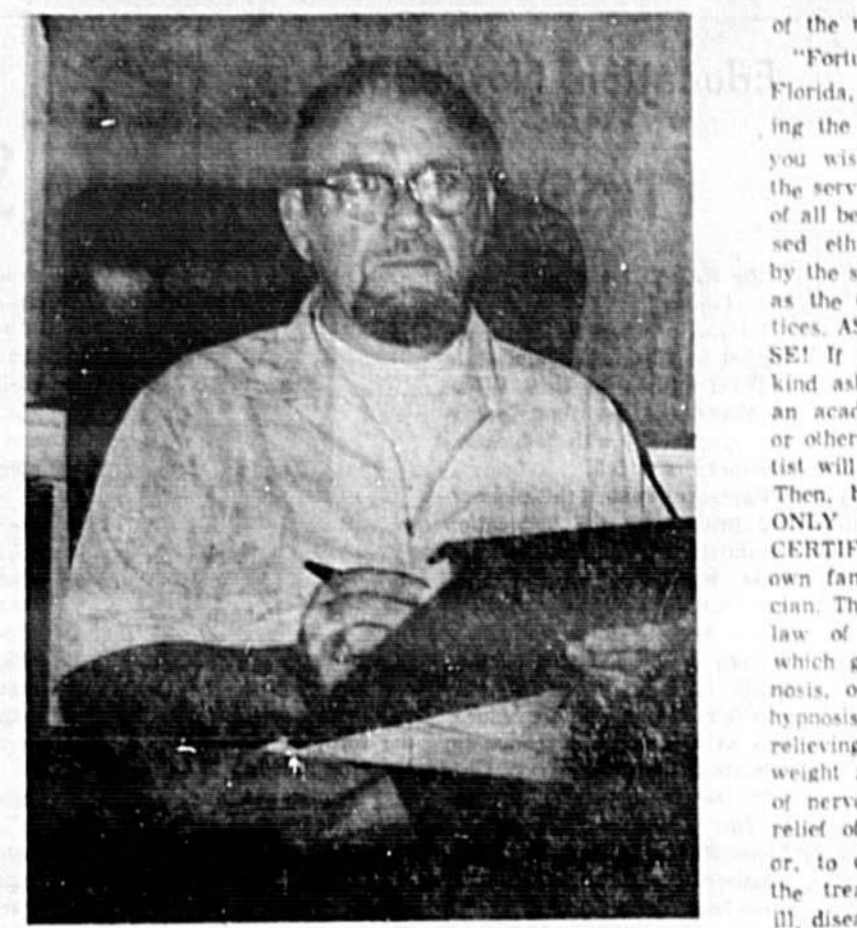

Country Quick stresses quality in products and service. Their slogan is, "We're big enough to serve you, small enough to appreciate your business."

The Junior and Senior cloverleaf (riding a course around barrels) is open to all ages as stated above.

Walt Disney World: More Than Eye-Opening

Formal opening of Walt Disney World, about 35 miles from Sanford, is now history. Impact of what the Disney organization, sparked by the imperishable vision of "Walt," has accomplished and will accomplish is almost unpredictable. One thing is certain, Central Florida is now the center stage for tourism. For what the imagination of the creator of Mickey Mouse envisioned has opened its magic box and revealed some of the wonders which will continue to pop out.

Adjectives to describe the Disney "Kingdoms" and "Lands" have been thrown to the home. Eye-opening is the least enthusiastic phrasing.

The parade of stars from the sound stages and the concert halls of the world which marked these last few days, is only a sample of what the future holds.

Let there be no mistake, Walt Disney World in Central Florida, will now join those other famed resorts and attractions which the tourist and the traveler must include when recreation and fun is the objective.

Out in the open now is the proof of what can be done when an area is researched, studied and developed by those who refuse to bow to the "can't" and grab the "can" with both hand and get about it.

If the physical eyes of the visitors are opened, then it must be emphasized that so, also, must their conceptions be of what the existence of this "World" means in terms which are not limited to any section of Florida, nor to the state itself.

Here in Seminole County, the example is of the greatest importance. We are, of course, in a peculiarly advantageous position to reap immediate benefits and future good from what is taking place near Kissimmee.

Of the millions who will be travelling along I-4 towards the Disney World entrance, few will pass by Sanford interchanges without "more than a glance" at the beautiful waters of Lake Monroe and the inviting stretch of the north-flowing St. Johns River.

Is this not something which should not be so ensnared in red tape, clashes of governmental authorities and similar hookey-traps that wise action is blocked even before it begins?

We believe that the positive aspect of this great endeavor should be accentuated. Of course, any change in such a status quo as has been accepted in Central Florida for so long, is disruptive. But it is the best kind of disruptive.

Walt Disney World, in itself, stands as a monument to decent living, decent entertainment and the possibility of creating a joyful morale in a public which is in dire need of such stimulants.

Seminole County should join in this welcome change of climate. Blessed with every attribute which nature can bestow, our beauties of woods, water and wildlands should be allowed to become the assets which they are, protected against exploitation, but allowed to perform their natural functions for all.

This coming "season" will be a forerunner of what the future of Central Florida, influenced and assisted by Walt Disney World, can be. The part our county will play will be of some importance to others, but to the residents it will be a challenging fact of life in the 1970s.

United Fund Grows

Once again the dedicated, hard-working volunteers in the annual drive of the United Fund of Seminole County for dollars to help the approved agencies provide essential services have exceeded their set goal.

It is no small accomplishment for a 1971 total of $71,000 to expand to more than $74,000 with more coming in.

We congratulate all concerned, with a deep bow towards Bob Morris, campaign chairman, whose initial post in the UF campaign was in that taxing position which demanded and got full time concentration.

We are also more than intrigued by an appraisal which Greg Drummond, chairman of the Seminole County Commissioners, and a man from South Seminole who was vice chairman south, has made: "... an omen of future development and growth of the United Fund in and with Seminole County."

This is the kind of thinking which will do the most for the people who need and receive help from the approved agencies by raising the goal to an amount which will more properly meet the minimum budget requirements they submit for UF approval before the drive.

There is another responsibility, however, which can be filled by none but the agencies themselves. This is to keep the public informed by reports from the agencies which will tell the contributors in Seminole who gave so generously this year just what specific good this did for the people in the county.

Perhaps it is the growing demand by people in every area of activity for the application of the principle of accountability which makes this response by the leaders in the agencies so important.

Build a base of greater public understanding of what the UF dollars really buy for residents of Seminole County and the same kind of dedicated effort which characterized the 1971 campaign will roll over and above the $100,000 which Bob Morris so dearly wanted and which is now within sight next year.

Don Oakley Says: Not Statistics: State Of Mind

By DON OAKLEY
NIA Editor

One of the most important signs of the success of President Nixon's "Phase II" economic plan will not be found in graphs or tables of figures. It involves not statistics but states of mind.

"We have lived too long in this country with an inflation psychology," the President said in announcing his post-reelection strategy. "Everybody just assumes the only direction for prices to go is up. The time has come for some price reduction psychology. It is not only in the public interest, but it makes good competitive sense."

For more years than anyone cares to think about we have proceeded on the assumption that inflation, whether fast, slow or medium, is inevitable. Workers negotiating new contracts have bargained not only for wage increases to cover past inflation but also for extra increases to keep them ahead of anticipated inflation over the life of the contract, increases not matched by improved productivity.

Businessmen have had to take for granted that wages and raw materials and all other costs will be higher tomorrow than they are today and have adjusted their prices accordingly. Consequently, consumers—and that is all of us—have routinely come to expect that everything will cost more next year than it does this year and have pruned themselves, either by buying less and reducing our standards of living or taking an extra day or two of vacation to make up for what we have lost. This year and next year we will see a long way toward making the actual hoped-for Phase II statistics come true.

What this country needs badly right now are a few dramatic, if only token, price reductions by its leading industries, coupled with state-mandated pledges from union leaders that they will seek only wage increases commensurate with Phase II guidelines.

Peter Pan Spoiled? Asks Betsy Palmer

By DON FREEMAN
Copley News Service

NEW YORK — The last time I had set eyes on Betsy Palmer, always a television's sunniest faces, she was muttering the possibility of starring in James Barrie's straight, non-musical version of "Peter Pan."

And there was talk then that most of it from Betsy, of having the role of the cantankerous Capt. Hook played by the cantankerous Henry Morgan.

"Well," said Miss Palmer when our paths crossed the other day, "we never did get that part. I was just a little bit of a disappointment."

"Peter Pan" she said, even-ly, "is really a spoiled, jealous, over-possessive little child. He has temper tantrums when he doesn't have his own way. Peter Pan is not at all endearing."

Freeman

It was scandalous, of course, an on-board-of-charge, but Miss Palmer insists that we forego Mary Martin's joyously innocent interpretation and look at the original script. That'll tell us what you think about this Peter Pan character.

Her tone grew confidential. "Peter Pan," she said, even-ly, "is really a spoiled, jealous, over-possessive little child. He has temper tantrums when he doesn't have his own way. Peter Pan is not at all endearing."

Pressures Mounting To Stop

By KENNETH J. RABEN
Copley News Service

Intense pressure is being exerted in Washington and state capitals to stop the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity's major experiment with education vouchers next fall.

Pressures against this pioneering project by the "education establishment" and national and state legislators supporting it will increase as more school districts become interested in a system that would give parents public funds as a certificate or voucher redeemable for education in the public or nonpublic schools of their choice.

In December, school officials in San Francisco, Seattle and Alum Rock, Calif., will decide whether to accept OEO invitations to participate in a five to seven-year experimental demonstration of education vouchers. These cities have been studying the proposed voucher OEO grants. Study finds still are available from OEO.

In San Francisco, education vouchers could bring hope to Chinese-American parents fighting the busing of their children out of their community.

The OEO emphasizes the proposal is an experiment and that the OEO is not an advocate of education vouchers. Neither is it designed to help parochial school parents, per se, OEO says.

Nevertheless, it could be the key to greater federal and state funding of parochial and private schools, since the voucher goes directly to parents and not to schools of religious institutions.

Its proponents could argue it is a legitimate extension of the "aid benefits" theory already upheld by the Supreme Court. Some schools may want to give preference to siblings of children enrolled in children of a particular neighborhood, to them their long career in his party.

For the future, Bayh may have hurt himself in 1972, but helped himself in 1976 or another year. The Indiana Senate is a young man.

Finally, love may conquer all, in the strangest of places—the smoke-filled rooms of Presidential politics.

Helen Fuller Says: "Love May Conquer" Test

WASHINGTON — Seldom does love prevail over ambition in politics: Presidential campaigns particularly.

But this is true in the 1972 Presidential race for the nomination. Senator Birch Bayh is winning, from the contest for the White House to spend the remaining days with his wife, Marvella, pronounced by doctors as doomed to terminal cancer.

Senator Bayh simply announced that he chooses to spend his wife's remaining days together with her rather than give his all to total devotion to running for the nation's top-post.

Standing beside his wife of twenty-five years of happily married life, the senator said what love leads him to do. An all-out Presidential drive would immerse him fully in the most grueling political contest, which would permit him almost no time to devote to his wife.

At present Bayh is not among the front-runners for the nomination. At best, he is a strong second-runner.

But he is a "comer." Personable, attractive to those who finance campaigns, a naturally appealing speaker, hand-shaker, conveying sincerity, he is potentially a winning candidate.

In a tight contest, Bayh could move up from the back stretch to the front-runners.

Bayh gives up this ambition for deep personal reasons.

But in giving up the fight for the Democratic nomination in 1972, Bayh, however, has not lost his Presidential chance once

Words Use Questioned

Editor, Herald:

For fourteen years I have felt about the "Sanford Herald" as Virginia Hanlon's daddy felt about the "New York Sun." If you see it in the "Herald," it is so.

Last Thursday, October 14, 1971, in the Sanford Herald, the headlines read — "Teacher Arrested—Abortion Charged." In the body of the item it did say "substitute" teacher. This person had substituted for five days and is not a certified teacher or substitute.

Teachers are human and do make mistakes, but phrase blame as only for our shortsightedness.

I feel it would be very thoughtful if a retraction could be made with the same size type and in the same spot in the paper.

Sincerely,
C. M. Harp, Sr.
President
Seminole Education Association

(Ed. Note — Thank you for writing. Subsequent stories deleted the reference to the individual as a teacher. However, at the time of the original story, identification (substitute teacher) was first established by the police report. The Herald checked with the school involved and was told that teacher — was not at work that day; thirdly, we contacted the School Administration Office an hour-and-a-half prior to the article's publication. However, we did not get a response to our inquiry and had to print the story with the facts as we had them.)

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

Who are its supporters? "Who are its opponents?" Among the supporters are our governor, the League of Women Voters of Florida, some members of the Chamber of Commerce, some Jaycees and some legislators. (Sen. Gunter is for it.)

The opponents are the Associated Industries of Florida, some big newspapers, most big corporations, some members of the Chamber of Commerce, some Jaycees and some legislators. (Sen. Gunter is for it.)

The next important question was "Which of these groups would care more for the welfare of the consumer?"

It is impossible for me to believe General Motors gave to new Buicks to keep the consumers' taxes down? If the corporations, newspapers, and banks thought the consumers would eventually pay the corporate tax, there would be no free cars and no expensive lobbyists fighting and lying to keep us from voting yes.

Firefighters To Enter Training Program

By DONNA ESTES

ALFAMONTE SPRINGS — All volunteers of the city fire department are to begin within the next few weeks a complete training program to meet professional requirements of the new state minimum standards for firefighters, according to Fire Chief Gary Kaiser.

"We are going to try to qualify all the volunteers under the 200 hours minimum standards," Kaiser said, "covering all aspects of firefighting from department policy, standard operating procedures through the proper use of equipment, fire-fighting tactics and strategy, for fire-fighting, search and rescue, the chemistry of fire, fire service hydraulics and thermo-dynamics."

Kaiser said special emphasis will be placed on emergency heavy rescue work which the county is in dire need of.

Senate Bloc Launching Next Step To End War

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's war critics are launching the next step in their drive to force U.S. withdrawal from Indochina amid indications the issue could become the single biggest stumbling block to adjournment of Congress by Dec. 1.

The battle this time revolves around an amendment to the $12 billion foreign aid authorization bill that calls for withdrawal of U.S. troops in six months. It also bars spending on U.S. military activity in Indochina except for withdrawal and protecting withdrawing forces from "imminent danger."

Debate on the bill starts today.

This amendment, unlike others, has been included in the aid bill by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. There are confident the Senate will uphold the dual antiwar amendment. Approval of the fund cut-off provision by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, would make it the first time the Senate has ever cut off money for the war.

Twice in recent months the Senate has voted to set a deadline on U.S. operations in Indochina, calling for 31 to 38 last month.

The first rider was watered down by Senate House conferees on the draft extension bill, but the second one appears likely to suffer the same fate when conferees return to work on the $12 billion military procurement bill.

But the margin of defeat in the House—215 to 193 last time—has been steadily narrowing, and the Senate's war critics hope that one of three times, possibly on the foreign aid measure, the House will finally go along.

Chamber Committee Girding For Action

By BILL SCOTT

Reg Howe, newly named chairman of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Committee of 25, has selected eight of the group to serve as a steering committee.

Those named were chosen from the seven sub-committees of the Committee of 25 and include:

T. P. Cawley, labor sub-committee; Arthur Maho, utilities sub-committee; David L. Smith Jr. and Don Rabbel, transportation sub-committee; Joseph Fisher, technical training sub-committee; C. Howard McNulty, finance sub-committee; B. C. Konkin, construction sub-committee; and Garnett White, industrial sites sub-committee.

Howe said the eight to meet on the first Friday in the month at 8 a.m. with the first meeting scheduled for Nov. 5.

Citing the four industrial groups now operating in the county: Seminole County Port Authority, Sanford Airport Authority, Seminole Development Board and Committee of 25, Howe said the four have the same primary objective, to bring industry into the

Luncheon Honors Past Matrons Of Order Of Eastern Star

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
Past Matrons of the Order of Eastern Star, for various reasons are not able to attend the regular night meetings held by Chapter 2, OES, were honored recently by the present worthy Matron, Mrs. William Reynolds.

The event was a luncheon held by Mrs. Reynolds at her lovely home on Narcissus Avenue, on the occasion of the official visit of the Grand duress of the Grand Chapter of Eastern Star in Florida, Mrs. Lucille Taunton is the Grand Conduress and she was accompanied by Mrs. Joyce Rouden, both of whom are members of Chapter 281 in Freeport.

The honored guests were Mrs. J. E. (Eunice) Cole, who was worthy Matron of OES, Chapter 2 in Sanford, in 1927; Mrs. Alice Click, W. M. 1943; Mrs. Alice Click, W. M. in Tallahassee in 1947, affiliated with the local chapter in 1958; and Mrs. J. L. (Henrietta) Zorn, W. M. 1963. Also present was Mrs. Irene Johns who was Past Grand Matron of Grand Chapter of Florida.

Edie Hewson is a very special person to Mrs. Reynolds because of her devotion and concern for Mrs. Minnie Lee Ellison, Mrs. Reynolds' mother. Mrs. Hewson visited Mrs. Ellison every week during her last years when she was so ill.

Also included in this notable assembly was Harvey L. Dunn, current Worthy Patron of the local chapter, who was incidentally the only man so honored.

The guests who are all past matrons, are abundant and do not have an opportunity to see and visit with the Grand Officers ordinarily. Thus, Mrs. Reynolds in a typically generous understanding gesture, planned this luncheon to give these members who have served Eastern Star so faithfully, for so long, an opportunity to enjoy a lovely luncheon and visit. All of these past matrons were presented orchid corsages by Mrs. Reynolds.

The dining area was beautifully decorated with flowers arranged in the room and white and green linen cloths covered the dining tables.

Ahly assisting her mother, Pam Reynolds, helped to prepare and serve a perfectly delightful luncheon menu of tossed salad, fresh mustard greens, okra, roast beef with rice and gravy, corn bread and biscuits, hot coffee and an irresistible fresh pound cake with strawberries and cream for dessert. Mrs. Ethel Peurifoy, Past Matron of Chapter #2, and currently serving as Chaplain for Mrs. Reynolds, gave the invocation.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Couple Miss Patsy Jean Burch Bride Of D. P. Fischer

Miss Patsy Jean Burch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Burch, Route 2, Sanford and Dannie Paul Fischer, 41 David Street, Orlando, were united in Holy Matrimony, Oct. 22, 1971 at 5 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Longwood.

Officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony was Rev. Jack Lindsay. Mrs. Linda Smart, organist, presented a program of appropriate nuptial selections.

Church decorations included two candelabra with yellow and green tapers, a basket arrangement of roses and carnations in yellow and green, carrying out the color scheme of the bride and groom's attire. A white aisle carpet was also given.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white satin, featuring long sleeves, wedding ring necklace, and an over-the-shoulder veil. Her hair was styled in a classic updo. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a dark tie.

of Sanford. They wore yellow sleeveless A-line gowns featuring empire waists fully covered with lace and carried bouquets of yellow and white carnations and roses with green carnation streamers.

The bride's mother wore a pale green sleeveless double knit dress, with white accessories. The groom's mother chose a coral double knit dress with braided trim, and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations and roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church social hall. Decorations included basket arrangements of yellow and white carnations, roses and greenery and two candelabra.

The bride's table, overlaid with a silver and white embroidered cloth, was centered with the three tiered wedding cake decorated in the bride's chosen colors. The cake was a gift from a friend, Betty Tate. Sprigs of yellow and white flowers, greenery and white ribbons completed the table decor.

Terri Smith cut and served the cake, pouring was Maylene Campbell and Dianne Burch presided at the bride's book table.

For traveling, Mrs. Fischer wore a yellow double knit ensemble with off white trim and accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Ocala and when they returned will be at home at 218 West Fifth St., Sanford. The groom is employed by Clark's Electric Co., Orlando.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Merin Skipper, Nienville and Mrs. Rene Paul, Black, Ala.

MR. AND MRS. ORA L. DREW of Deltona... on their golden wedding anniversary, Oct. 25, 1971.

I spent the morning today at Casselberry Elementary School and I am still repeating all the wonderful things I saw to all who cross my path.

I had lunch with Mrs. Mattie Cherry's third grade class. Now I understand why all the students love her so. Not only is she gracious, presiding at the lunch table like a hostess, beautiful in her bright pink outfit which was just as cheerful as her countenance but utterly competent as well. If she is an example of Seminole County's teachers, parents have nothing to worry about. Take note, John Angel.

Have to give credit to the luncheon staff, Joe Bakalanski, Eula Lurax, Betty Schardor and Terri Smith, both adding a musical touch to the outing by calling a few tips during the evening. The door prize (an ice chest) was won by class dancers, Milt and Lorina Pomeroy.

The South Seminole Jaycees wives held their annual orientation dinner. The guest speaker was the state auxiliary president, June Stern.

Rumor has it that the Variety Show at Lyman High School planned by the Jaycees will be one of the best in a long time. So put it on your calendar Oct. 29 at 2 p.m.

Representative Walter Sims addressed the Semoran Republican Women's Club Oct. 18 at the Security Federal Savings and Loan Association Building in Winter Park.

Nov. 12, Congressman Bill Young of Pinellas County will be the guest speaker at a membership coffee.

Speaking of yummy dinners, one of the yummiest to come my way was at the American Legion Old Glory Post 181. It was delicious and the members made me feel so welcome.

Deborah Grice, Girls State representative, and Richard Ostrander, Boys State representative, turned the audience green with envy as they told their experiences with proxy government.

"Golly Goblins" have you heard about the Halloween Special on Friday, Oct. 29? It is going to be a spooky scare dance by the Whirl and Twist Square Club and a costume affair—plenty of bewitching fun, all kinds of prizes, goodies, cider and doughnuts. The lucky costume winner will win a vampire.

Another big night for me was Whirl and Twist dance on Oct. 27. That is initiation night. It will be a real knee slapper.

Rain and love bugs failed to dampen the spirit of the day as Wally Hill and his commandos battled the elements to give W & T picknickers a super Sunday. Although most contests became aquatic, everyone seemed to have a grand time at Barton Lake Campgrounds.

Girls, double up on your diets because the women of the Casselberry United Methodist Church have been baking for their bake sale and when you see the results on Oct. 30 at the church parking lot, you will have to throw caution to the winds.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Forty-two years ago, a man caught my eye and I caught his, but we were both married at the time so there was nothing we could do about it. I moved away but I never forgot Mac. And he never forgot me, and when he came for me the other day I just about fell over dead!

My husband had died only three months before. Mac said he had kept track of me all these years, that his wife had died four years ago and he was just waiting for me to be free.

Here's the catch, Mac wants me to come live with him. No marriage. He has plenty of money and I could sure use an easy life because mine has been hard, but I am not going to live in sin with anybody no matter how much money he has.

Mac is 73 and has grown children and grandchildren. I am 49 and am in the same situation. He suggested we go away for a trial weekend, but I am in sin. How can I get him to leave me?

DEAR "IN": "In love" with a girl you've never even dated? Wouldn't it be more appropriate to say you are "very much attracted to her"? I suspect you miss her older sister and think the younger girl would make a handy substitute, but I think you ought to find someone nearer your own vintage.

DEAR ABBY: A member of my husband's social club was invited to our home for dinner. Later in the evening he discovered a large snag in his suit coat, and expressed much concern over it, but could produce no evidence as to what he had caught it on. He did make a point of saying, "I didn't have it when I first got here." The man insists that we are obligated to have it repaired or replace the coat since it happened in our house. Are we?

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually good day and evening for you to think out what your personal hopes and wishes are and then to consider them. You are in a position to help you get them. Whoever you like appreciates you getting in touch with them now, so don't wait for some contact you might invite them to see you or visit them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you get into some group affair so that you renew old acquaintances, you will be able to make new friends of worth. Think over what your true personal aims are. Go after them with spirit.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The right day to go after something. The parents were a family, but felt unqualified to make decisions about their two children. "We want to do the right thing," they said, and therefore subscribed to every magazine running child-bearing columns and read every baby book ever published. At Christmas time rather than waste money on silly presents, such as jewelry and electric mixers, they usually gave each other new editions of a Dad's Primer and a Good Mom's Guide.

When the question arose as to which advice to take (the articles differed somewhat), they took the latest. To facilitate his task, mother stamped every place of incoming mail with date and time of arrival. A good idea but one which left her little time to bake cookies or talk with the kids.

The parents spent many cozy evenings between their stacks of literature and pamphlets, reading aloud passages from Mrs. Spock and Gesell.

Meanwhile, the children being published and began asking more questions. Father quit his job in order to have more time to read the ever-increasing amount of material being published and soon had to be and mother had to stop talking to the kids altogether. They said, "Simply write down your questions and slip the notes under the living room door for future reference."

One day the children were talking to each other. "Frankly," the son said, "these parents are a couple of con-men. I asked dad six weeks ago for a car and he said he was still reading up on it."

"You'd think they could decide on something by themselves," his sister agreed.

And they took the car keys, drove away and haven't been heard from since.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY: — Twice this week I have needed to repair a cloth-covered button for a customer and both were so impressed they suggested I write the method to you. When the shank or cloth back (the part you sew to your garment) comes off, add a room sized cloth, add a little cotton interfacing or even a bit of tissue to the center and the edges of the circle into the little well of the circle with the button. With a tiny, cloth-covered screwdriver push metal down onto the cloth to seal, leaving enough cloth to fasten to the garment. This is a real gem when you have a fancy cloth-covered button. — ELLINOR

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY: — I would like to know how to keep plastic table mats that do not have a back backing from slipping around on the table. This is quite an inconvenience so I would appreciate any suggestions. — JOE

DEAR POLLY: — My Pet Peeve has to do with employers who do not send out notices to unsuccessful applicants for jobs. After you have filled out an application form you would think the employer could at least send a mimeographed card letting you know you were not successful. This would give the one applying a definite answer and save days of anxious waiting and hoping and perhaps wondering what to do about another job opening. — MRS. J. M. WICKIE

DEAR POLLY: — Those who use paper bags in or for trash cans should try closing the bag, not a hole and then taping the rim which will turn back easily. When it dries it is stiff and sturdier. — R. L. W.

The bidding of today's hand is just about as simple and straight forward as bidding can be. North has a sound opening-club bid and South a normal spade response. North's raise to two spades is straight from the book as is South's jump to game.

The opening lead of the king of diamonds is just about as good a lead as you can make. The man insists that we are obligated to have it repaired or replace the coat since it happened in our house. Are we?

At Christmas time rather than waste money on silly presents, such as jewelry and electric mixers, they usually gave each other new editions of a Dad's Primer and a Good Mom's Guide.

When the question arose as to which advice to take (the articles differed somewhat), they took the latest. To facilitate his task, mother stamped every place of incoming mail with date and time of arrival. A good idea but one which left her little time to bake cookies or talk with the kids.

The parents spent many cozy evenings between their stacks of literature and pamphlets, reading aloud passages from Mrs. Spock and Gesell.

Meanwhile, the children being published and began asking more questions. Father quit his job in order to have more time to read the ever-increasing amount of material being published and soon had to be and mother had to stop talking to the kids altogether. They said, "Simply write down your questions and slip the notes under the living room door for future reference."

One day the children were talking to each other. "Frankly," the son said, "these parents are a couple of con-men. I asked dad six weeks ago for a car and he said he was still reading up on it."

"You'd think they could decide on something by themselves," his sister agreed.

And they took the car keys, drove away and haven't been heard from since.

Their parents missed them continually but had not had time to try to find them, because they are so engrossed in the abundance of articles now being written—all entitled, "Why Children Run Away from Home."

Horoscope Forecast

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27, 1971

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually good day and evening for you to think out what your personal hopes and wishes are and then to consider them. You are in a position to help you get them. Whoever you like appreciates you getting in touch with them now, so don't wait for some contact you might invite them to see you or visit them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you get into some group affair so that you renew old acquaintances, you will be able to make new friends of worth. Think over what your true personal aims are. Go after them with spirit.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The right day to go after something. The parents were a family, but felt unqualified to make decisions about their two children. "We want to do the right thing," they said, and therefore subscribed to every magazine running child-bearing columns and read every baby book ever published. At Christmas time rather than waste money on silly presents, such as jewelry and electric mixers, they usually gave each other new editions of a Dad's Primer and a Good Mom's Guide.

CASE 5-502: Dr. Maurice W. Peterson might well be called the "Modern Paul Revere of Medicine."

As president of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons (AAPS), he is opposing the current medical monopoly by the AMA.

You readers know the psychological dangers from monopoly, whether in politics (as in Russian voting), or in religion, business and medicine.

The AMA long fought the control of medicine by Uncle Sam. "Now," says Dr. Peterson, "the AMA is saying in effect that government intervention is what a rival state is just across the street!"

Where there are two or more competing organizations, stores or factories, prices are usually less, service is better and the customers get more courteous attention.

You readers think that when there is only one grocery store in your area, the clerks are not as smiling and cheerful as when there are two or more.

Indeed, the United Parcel Service now offers faster service at lower rates on packages than we get from our post office.

Even now it delivers packages faster than first class letters by the post office!

And, making a profit, while paying taxes!

(4) Customers would get anti-inflation treatment and more courteous service.

If monopoly is psychologically bad in politics, religion, and retail merchandising, then why should we have a medical monopoly medicine and dentistry? Dr. Benjamin Rush, colonial patriot who signed the Declaration of Independence and for whom a Chicago medical college was later named, would be the first to agree that no single group of men should ever be allowed to monopolize the health field!

So we need rival medical associations to keep each other honest and more alert to the wishes of patients.

Same goes for law, dentistry and all other fields!

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Vicente Rondon stars tonight in

"Act One" of the world light-heavyweight boxing championship, crawling into the ring a July 8 to 1 favorite against old-timer Geneo Brennan.

Bob Foster moves onstage later this week.

"We can settle this confused title," said Rondon's manager,

Felix Zabala. "All the Foster people must do is guarantee at least $100,000 and we'll have ourselves a showdown."

Foster handlers have offered

$60,000.

The light heavyweight picture

became muddled in January

when the World Boxing Assoca-

Rondon kayozed Jimmy DuPre

in Caracas Feb. 27 to capture the vacant WBA championship, but Foster remains recognized in areas not governed by the association.

"This is no title fight," Foster said of the Rondon-Brennan match at Miami Beach Convention Hall. "I'm still the champion. Nobody takes the crown

Lyman's Wallick Named Velda Unheralded Hero

GREG WALICK

Lyman's "three-way" performer, Greg Wallick, has been named Velda Farms' "Unheralded Hero" of the week in District 3AAA for his performance in the Greyhounds 27-21 upset of Orlando Jones last Friday night.

Wallick, a 6-2, 189-pound junior line-backer, was honored for his outstanding defensive effort. Wallick was credited with taking part in 19 tackles and lauded by Coach Dick Copeland as being "highly instrumental" in the defensive effort that ended in victory for the Hoops.

Wallick plays an offensive half-back position and does the extra point kicking for the Greyhounds in addition to his defensive duties. Last week it seemed as if the talented junior was lining up in both offensive backfields.

It was through the efforts of Wallick as well as the other members of the Lyman defense unit that the Hoops were able to halt, form the most parts the antics of Andrew Wade.

The performance by Wallick must have been very satisfying since Wade had gone into last week's game as the leading ground gainer in Central Florida. The Jones' speedster had rushed for over 700 yards in his first five games. During last week's game he was effective to some extent but was dropped for losses on seven occasions. On six of those runs it was Wallick who was there to greet the Tiger halfback.

In addition to his defensive prowess last week Wallick also caught a touchdown pass from quarterback Bruce Rose and clicked on three of four extra point attempts.

But it was "only" for his line-backing performance that Velda Farms honored the Lyman grid-der. Florida Up For Auburn Tilt; Tigers Favored Over Gators

CARLOS ALVAREZ

By F. T. MacFEELEY
 Associated Press Writer
 GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida pass catcher Carlos Alvarez, asked how the Gators were approaching Saturday's game against Auburn, said "with great caution."

Auburn's passing combo of Pat Sullivan and Terry Beasley shredded a pretty fair Florida team 63-14 last year and, to boot, the upcoming game is at the Tigers' Cliff Hare Stadium where the Gators have never won.

At least one Florida fan suggested to Coach Doug Dickey that he leave the first string in Gainesville and play scrubs at Auburn, conceding the game while not risking injuries.

Dickey refused smilingly.

Two straight Gator victories and the renewal of his magic passing hookup with Alvarez haven't fully restored quarter-back John Heaves' breezy confidence. But he vowed the Gators won't take a defeatist attitude.

"I'm going to take the best game we ever played," he said, "but we will have a lot of inspiration for this one. We've been looking forward to it for a whole year."

since, as a sophomore, he averaged nine receptions a game. Auburn handed Florida its only defeat in that 1969 season, and it was at Cliff Hare Stadium. Alvarez has caught 36 passes for 323 yards and one touchdown this season. He is averaging 12.4 yards per reception. He has seven returns for 29 yards. In the rushing department Alvarez has lost six yards in three carries.

"This team could do something for everyone who has ever been at Florida if they could upset Auburn up there," said offensive coach Jimmy Dunn. Remembering his own years as a Florida quarterback and the frustration of a 13-0 loss at Auburn in 1957, Dunn said "it's not just another game."

Coach Jimmy Haynes, whose offensive line is beginning to mature, predicts "All the Gators will get emotionally involved, and I think we'll play well. I hope it's good enough to win."

"Auburn can be a beast up there," defensive end Bob Hatfield declared. "It's a challenge we have to meet and we have an added incentive going for us. I hope, with that spirit, we can stop these fellows Sullivan and Beasley."

"They treated us like children last year," Coach Doug Dickey remembered. "It's a long way back from that 63-14 defeat, but I hope we can that margin down."

"I think the team attitude will be excellent since we turned this season around. I just wish Alvarez is healthy."

"The 10 passes Alvarez caught against Maryland in Saturday's stop those fellows Sullivan and Beasley."

ney to Tampa this weekend for the State Championships after they won district honors last Friday afternoon.

Terry Long's runners brought the first District Two championship trophy to Seminole this past Friday when they nipped Lake City in some close competition.

Seminole came in with 34 points in the meet as Randy Tindol captured first place, Lake City was right behind the Seminoles with 35 points.

Tindol, a freshman from Brandon, won his fourth straight race last week and set a new race record over the 4.2

course at Florida Junior College in Jacksonville.

In winning Tindol covered the course in 21 minutes, six seconds. His three previous victories were in the Cloverleaf Invitational and dual meets with Manatee and Central Florida.

Other top finishers for the Seminoles last Friday were Rick Nulty, who took third with a time of 21 minutes, 48 seconds; Gene Lane finished eighth, Ray Frederick tenth, and Ken Swanson 12th.

Seminole's Tindol has fashioned the fastest time on a four mile course this year when he covered the distance in 19 minutes 51 seconds.

Coach Long hopes to have his entire unit ready for the state meet this week. Returning after two weeks absence is George Long who has been sidelined with a calf injury. Also freshman Bob Gully, who suffered a slight bronchial attack during the District Two meet, is expected to be ready. The smog filled air was cited as the reason for the attack suffered by Gully last week.

Among the chief competitors for Seminole this week is Dale South and this is due to their very talented runner, Howard Thorn. Thorn was beaten by Tindol in the Cloverleaf Invitational but part of the reason was that Thorn made a wrong turn on the course. Thorn is rated the top junior college runner in the state.

The two top finishers in the state meet will qualify for the national championships which are slated for November 13 at Carbondale, Illinois.

Also on the Seminole schedule is the Florida A&M meet at Tampa on December 4. The A&M competition will conclude a highly successful season for the Seminoles regardless of how they fare the rest of the year.

Coach Long's crew is dominated by freshmen who should return next year and make the Seminoles one of the cross country powers in the state — maybe for two years "training."

SEMINOLE HIGH defensive players join forces as they pull a Seabreeze ball carrier to the ground. The Seminoles topped Seabreeze 51-8 in action last Friday night. The Seminoles moved up to seventh in this week's prep football poll released by the Florida Sports Writers Association.

Celtics Come-From-Behind Effort Shock Atlanta '5'

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, who won 11 National Basketball Association championships with Bill Russell and a flock of other talent, are counting on bench experience for a "now" future.

After missing the playoffs of the last two years with Russell in retirement, the Celtics are retiring a new-old look under Coach Tommy Heinsohn, a former Boston star.

Heinsohn, given solid backing by his old coach, Red Auerbach, now the Celtics' president and general manager, has molded youth with experience—and the team is flying with four consecutive victories after an opening loss.

The Celtics, who lack great height, fell 14 points behind the tall Atlanta Hawks in the first period, but bounced back Monday for a 136-116 romp before a mainstay crowd of 10,311 at the Garden.

It was the only NBA game scheduled.

Captain John Havlicek, a superstar with nine years as a Boston pro, prevented Atlanta from making the game a run-and-gun affair. Heinsohn, who provided plenty of help, Art Williams and Tom Sanders, a couple of 32-year-old veterans, came off the bench to provide the big spark. And so did Don Nelson, a youthful 31. Havlicek, 31, began the real cutting of Atlanta's lead with three baskets early in the second period. Williams turned in a magnificent defensive effort, stealing the ball three times within a minute.

Sanders, an 11-year veteran sidelined most of last season after knee surgery, was fantastic. Entering the game with the Celtics trailing by seven points in the fifth minute of the second period, he hit on two long set shots.

Satch raced around the court like a rookie, putting Boston in front to stay with a layup. He also blocked two layup tries in a row by Walt Bellamy. "Why with myself, Nelson and Williams on the bench, that must add up to about 90 years of experience," Sanders said. "The Celtics always depended on bench strength, and now we're building another one. There's a lot of experience to call upon when needed."

Covens, who gives away height at 6-9, topped Boston scorers with 27 points, also grabbing 19 rebounds. Havlicek scored 23.

The Hawks, who had a 41-point first period wasted in their fifth loss in six starts, were topped by Herm Gilliam with 25 points and Lou Hudson with 23.

"The Celtics always depended on bench strength, and now we're building another one. There's a lot of experience to call upon when needed."

Covens, who gives away height at 6-9, topped Boston scorers with 27 points, also grabbing 19 rebounds. Havlicek scored 23.

The Hawks, who had a 41-point first period wasted in their fifth loss in six starts, were topped by Herm Gilliam with 25 points and Lou Hudson with 23.

Tribe Baseball Coach Honored By Pro Scouts

GUY GARRETT

Seminole High baseball coach Guy Garrett has been named the winner of the Monchy de Arcos Award which is presented each year by the Florida Major League Baseball Scouts Association. The announcement was made today by Nicholas Shinkoff, a scout for the San Francisco Giants. Shinkoff serves as chairman of the award committee of the Florida Major League Baseball Scouts Association.

The award is given annually for work in youth baseball development and is presented in memory of Julio "Monchy" de Arcos, a scout who was killed in a traffic accident in Belle Glade in 1966.

Prior to coming to Sanford, Garrett was baseball coach at Avon Park. His Avon Park teams posted combined records of 243 wins and 82 losses. During a 12 year period the team was in the state playoffs eight years. He's two years ago and took over the SHS baseball team while still a teacher at Sanford Middle School. Since then he has also served as an assistant coach in many other sports at Seminole.

Did you go fishing this past weekend? If you did, and went in the Lake Monroe area, you probably saw the oil in the river. It was a real mess if you had to clean it off your boat.

The thickest amount of oil was in the Monroe Bridge area with all the in-coming and out-going traffic getting in the zone.

It seemed like the oil was in the exact location where the specks were being hit the Friday afternoon.

Basic fishing in Lake Monroe has picked up with some nice catches of bass being caught on the spot and the purple worm while fishing close to the shore line.

A MEDIUM SIZE speck is shown after it got tangled up in crude oil in the St. Johns River. The fish's scales were literally eaten off from the oil and it died shortly after it was found.

Paul Johnson of the Oyster Ridge Fish Camp reports the specks and bream are biting real good around the two bridges, with some real nice size bream being caught on live worms.

Bud's Bait Shop in Longwood reports the specks are biting real good in Lake Jessup on live ball and the bass are also biting in Lake Jessup around Howell Creek and Soldiers Creek.

The specks have been biting out in front of Hiley's Fish Camp on Lake Jessup and at the end of Tankerville Road along the shore line. Literally thousands of specks were caught in Lake Monroe this past weekend by fishermen.

Speaking of specks, local fisherman Buddy Long, his brother, Mike and friend Dickie Smith made a haul of 46 this past Sunday from Lake Harney, using cane poles and Missouri minnows.

The previous Sunday the same locality yielded 54 specks to the Long brothers and their wives, Lois and Doris, along with five-year-old "Little" Buddy catching his fair share.

Cool weather brings better fishing, but — as always — the best success goes to those who know where to fish and what lures to use.

To help you select the best fishing areas, and the most likely lures and baits, the fishing department at Mercury outdoors has prepared the following tips.

For largemouth bass fish the shorelines near lily pads and moss beds. Fly rods with popping bugs, light action spinning rods with surface lures, and live bait (minnow) and frogs fished shallow beneath a bobber are good baits.

If you're a musky fan, try big minnows and frogs, shallow running plugs that dart to and fro, and bucktail flies on stiff tackle. These will often produce around the edges of weed and lily pads.

Walleye like to run in large schools in water with a rock or sand bottom. Trolling medium-running plugs and spoons will produce hits, as will minnows fished along underwater bars or around rocks and ledges.

Crappie take readily to live minnows, small spinners, and bright-colored jigs fished near flooded trees and underwater brush. Some good fishing occurs at night, beneath the lights of a dock.

Flies and jugging bugs fished along the shore will tempt scrappy sunfish out of their daytime resting places. Best poppers are those which have rubber legs. Move the lure rapidly, stopping for a few seconds between pops.

To get those hard, tackle-tearing strikes out of northern pike, work spoons, plugs and minnows near the mouths of small streams feeding into a lake. Real hotspots are where dense weed beds grow near feeder streams. Trolling alongside these often produces big fish.

Whatever your favorite fishing, the lads at Mercury suggest that you don't let the cooler days of fall keep you from going out on the lake or river. For even if it's late in the year, it's not too late for some real fishing fun.

Three Main Receivers Any QB's Dream Gary Huff Named SEC Back Of Week

Football Did Not Kill Chuck Hughes
DETROIT (AP)—While football cannot be blamed for the heart attack which killed Detroit Lion Chuck Hughes, a team physician said Monday.

Thompson said the disease would have killed Hughes even if he had not played football.

The doctors said that Hughes' collision with two Bears players three plays prior to his collapse did not precipitate the heart attack "except that it may have provided more stress."

Neither doctor felt additional equipment or faster transportation to the hospital would have saved Hughes. Extra equipment at the stadium would be more helpful to spectators, who regularly suffer heart attacks at games, than to players, they said.

With the first cool weather, Trout will be congregating in deep holes around the Turtle Mound area and river fishing will be at its best.

Guise and Dr. Richard Thompson, another team physician, said Hughes' condition worsened in any situation—involving football—which caused him stress, physical or emotional.

Guise said that Hughes died when a blood clot blocked the remaining flow of blood to his heart. For all practical purposes, Guise said, Hughes died on the field where he fell in the Sunday game with the Bears at Tiger Stadium.

finished his Saturday night work against a brawled Gamecock defense with 36-of-41 for 36 yards and the half-down touchdowns.

"Our pass protection was shaky in the first quarter, but then it got tough," said Huff. "That 85-yard drive seemed to ignite us, but I didn't realize it as piling up such great statistics."

Veteran media men scratched their heads, wondering if any college quarterback had ever outdone Huff's one-quarter performance. Actually, Gary did just about the same in his first FSU game.

"As a sophomore, I came in against Florida with the game pretty far out of hand," Huff recalled. "We were being 30-7 and I managed to complete 8-of-13 for 246 yards and three touch-downs... and that was in seven minutes. We lost 38-27."

Against a South Carolina defense that had allowed only 69 yards a game passing, Huff hit Dawson nine times for 149 yards and two touchdowns, the 6-foot-6 Gardner caught two—both for TDs, and Smith snared a 35-yard bomb.

"If there was a key play," said FSU Coach Larry Jones, "it had to be Gary's 18-yarder to Dawson to start our 88-yard march. We were down 16-0 and backed up to our own goal."

Huff, thanks to two penalties, passed for 164 yards in that one drive and put 20 points on the board in less than seven minutes to start Gamecock Coach Paul Dietzel toward his most lopsided coaching defeat ever.

Huff said the "biggest previous honor I've received was for being named Leto High School's best all-around athlete three years ago."

Sharockman Provides Spark Vikings Defense Morrall, Unitas To Win

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Ed Sharockman's punting provided the spark that helped the Vikings' defense stop the Minnesota Vikings' offense from scoring in the fourth period.

Sharockman, a 30-year veteran from Pittsburgh also intercepted a Morrall pass at the Baltimore 20 to set up Minnesota's touchdown—a two-yard run by Dave Gubert.

With the help of the goolpost, Sharockman and the Vikings strengthened their hold on the NFL Central Division lead with a 3-1 record. The loss, however, the Colts, who won the total defense battle 21-13, behind Mike Ditka in the AFC-East with a 4-2 record.

Unitas said he had to improvise on the goal post play, which could have set off a wildcat play. A ball deflected the Colts' line to set up a 23-yard field goal by Fred Cox.

At Jai-Alai Fronton Alberto Leading Winner

Alberto continues to lead the Orlando-Seminole Jai Alai Fronton in victories but his position was seriously challenged last week.

Making a charge toward the top with a fantastic week, Rene won 10 of 11 matches in the third week and now has totalled 24 wins on the season.

Alberto also is the leader in the money category having finished in the top three positions no less than six times during the first eight games of the evening.

Returning to action after suffering a rib injury was Edie Graham's return to the Orlando Stadium was not his most successful effort as he and tag team partner Don Curtis went down to defeat.

Graham and Curtis were the "favorites" in last night's headliner but did not live up to their "billing" as they were manhandled by Ole Anderson and Bob Duncum.

The popular Graham has not been on the scene at the promotions of Milo Steinborn in many months.

In another tag team bout last night the duo of Ronnie Garvin and Bill Marcus teamed to whip Mickey Doyle and Al Valencio.

The popular midgets were also on the card last night and Cowboy Lang delighted the crowd with his victory over Black Bart.

The other match on the program found Ken Lusk defeating Black Bart.

Rod Gilbert Pressing NHL Scoring Leaders

By HAL ROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League's scoring race looks ever so familiar to top and Bobby Orr of the Bruins pressing for the lead.

What's not so familiar about it is that, squeezed in between the two Boston hot-shots is New York's Rod Gilbert, off to the best start of his 10-year NHL career.

"I'm in the middle of Espo and Orr," said Gilbert, chuckling. "I don't think they'll like that."

Esposito, who set an all-time record last year with 76 goals and 152 points to win his second scoring title, has 16 points on goals. That's two better than Gilbert's 14 points and four ahead of Orr, who won the scoring title with 120 points two years ago.

That's a fast company for Gilbert and he's enjoying it, thank you. "We had a couple of high scoring games," the flashy right winger said, "and that's how come I got so many points.

But I think you see us playing a little more defensively from now on."

Defense has been the key for the Rangers who won the Vezina Trophy by allowing the fewest goals in the NHL last season. Emile Francis, general manager and coach of the team, prefers a close-checking style of game and the Rangers are molded as that kind of team.

Still, you have to score goals to win games and that's where Gilbert fits in. The Rangers have scored 30 this year and Gilbert and Francis, Joe Hadfield and Jean Ratelle have accounted for 14 of them. This is the sixth season the trio has combined together and they seem better than ever.
