

DAIL EIREAN MEETING THIS MORNING ADJOURNED TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION

Created By Presentation DeValera's Alternative Proposal ON A SETTLEMENT

LOOKS LIKE PEACE MIGHT BE SECURED FOR OLD IRELAND SOMETIME SOON

(By The Associated Press) DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—The Dail Eireann met this morning and immediately adjourned until this afternoon. Adjournment was made to give members an opportunity of discussing the situation created by the presentation of DeValera's alternative proposals concerning the Irish settlement with England.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—J. J. Walsh, a member of the Dail Eireann was quoted in a Central News dispatch from Dublin today as saying in a statement he could definitely state that as the position now stands the treaty will be defeated by at least two votes.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—Eamon DeValera when the Dail Eireann rose yesterday evening, produced for the first time publicly his alternative proposals to the Irish treaty. A fortnight ago he was asked by Arthur Griffith to publish them and Mr. Griffith repeated his challenge at yesterday's debate. Mr. DeValera's original idea, as announced by himself, was to move his alternative propositions in the event of rejection of the treaty. But, he changed his mind, and now intends, if he is permitted, to move them as an amendment to the resolution approving the treaty.

The document, whose secrecy has been carefully guarded, except for obscure hints by Dail members who saw it in the private sessions, was issued to the press, accompanied by an appeal by Mr. DeValera in a manifesto addressed to the Irish people, urging them not to be stampeded in the support of the treaty, which would not bring peace.

29,000 MOTOR CAR LICENSES ISSUED

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 4.—(Special)—Probably the busiest place in Florida just at this time is the office of the state comptroller, where applications for automobile licenses are being handled. An idea of the speed with which the work is being done may be had when it is known that 3,296 licenses were handled through the mails and sent out today. All the incoming mails through Saturday night have been handled today and the only applications to be worked are those arriving Sunday and Monday.

The total number of motor vehicles registered to date is, in round numbers, twenty-nine thousand. When it is understood that there are sixteen classes of licenses it is readily seen that the work is being dispatched with the utmost promptness. The comptroller has already circulated 150,000 application blanks printed on the multi-graphing machine in his own office about 100,000 more during the season.

A number of the applications are coming in incomplete and are having to be returned for correction, some fail to state whether the vehicle is to be used "for hire", or not, some also in various other ways fail to give information which is absolutely necessary for classification. The work under the direction of Mr. Amos, the comptroller and Capt. R. A. Gray, chief clerk in the automobile license department, goes on night and day and applicants are receiving service which is splendid and prompt.

More than one hundred thousand vehicles were licensed last year and the number during the present year will no doubt go far in advance of the previous figure.

Well, well, it's fair enough. Some women roll their stocks, and some roll baby carriages.

Not all of the slate is used in anthracite coal. Some of it is used in cheap lead pencils.

BANDITS KILLED BANK PRESIDENT SHOT MESSENGER

GAVE THEM NO CHANCE TO EVEN GET UP THEIR HANDS

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—John Soffel, president of the Maywood State Bank, was shot and killed and Louis Sweeney, chief of police of the suburb and Arthur Benson, bank messenger wounded today when five bandits robbed them of $12,000 pay roll for the Maywood plant of the American Can Company. The bandits did not give the banker and his two guards a chance to hold up their hands. They ordered the pay roll car to stop and as it came to a halt they opened fire killing Soffel instantly. Benson's injuries are serious.

MANY FAMILIES HOMELESS AT TULSA, OKLA., AFTER YESTERDAY'S BIG STORM

PREPARATIONS GO FORWARD FOR OPENING

ALLIED SUPREME COUNCIL AT CANNES, FRANCE—BIG THINGS TO HAPPEN

(By The Associated Press) CANNES, France, Jan. 5.—Preparations went forward today for the opening here tomorrow of the Allied Supreme Council. A meeting was held today at which reparations and proposed international economic conference was discussed.

Representatives from France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium held two sessions during the day. With the arrival of Viscount Ishii, at the head of the Japanese delegation, and Premier Theunys, of Belgium, everything is ready for what increasingly emphasized as the most momentous assembly of the past two years struggle to set Europe aright and get Germany started on reparations payments.

CANNES, Jan. 5.—With the air full of talk of an alliance between France and Great Britain as the only means of keeping the entente intact, Premier Briand and Prime Minister Lloyd George yesterday resumed their conversations which were begun some days ago in London.

"The conversations are continuing" was the only comment the French premier would make after a two hours' talk with Lloyd George yesterday afternoon.

General reticence is being observed by the principals of the British delegation on the eve of the opening of the Allied Supreme Council meeting regarding such an alliance.

Premier Briand said before going to the British prime minister's villa that it might be putting it rather strongly to talk of a formal alliance. Yet, he said, the policy of France all along had been to strengthen her ties with her war allies, since this seemed essential to a settlement of European problems.

Members of both the French and British delegations are agreed that the situation is grave and that the entente powers must come closer together or they will drift more widely apart. The difference of opinion appears to center around the question of who ought to make a concession necessary to bring about closer accord. The atmosphere throughout the day was generally pessimistic.

Premier Bonomi, of Italy, arrived on the scene late yesterday afternoon and expected to see Premiers Briand and Lloyd George during the evening.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING JAN. 3, 1922

Temperature: The temperature was generally moderate, except the last two days, when the weather was much colder than the seasonal with freezing over the northern portion and frost or frost temperatures in the central division. There was a return to near normal temperature on the last day of the week.

Precipitation: The week was practically rainless, as only light and unimportant amounts occurred at a few stations. The absence of rain was unfavorable over most of the section, and it is needed, especially on uplands.

Condition of Crops: Citrus fruits were benefited by the comparatively low temperature during the last days of the week; the trees, also, some of which were showing abnormal growth for the season. Trees that were defoliated as a result of the October storm gave evidence of recovery. Celery, lettuce, and cabbage will be benefited by the change to colder; some tender truck, such as beans, suffered from frost; local picking of strawberries occurred in Plant City section. Some tomatoes and other truck were set out in the south. The freezing weather over the extreme north and west enabled farmers to kill hogs, which had been unduly delayed. The rather pressing need at this time is a wide distribution of moderate rains.

GASPARILLA CARNIVAL WILL BE BIG FEATURE OF SOUTH FLORIDA FAIR

TAMPA, Jan. 5.—(Special)—Joe M. Lozano, captain this year of the Ye Mystic Krewe of Gasparilla, the organization which puts on the far-famed Gasparilla carnival at Tampa each year, announces that all of the dates have been arranged for the spectacular event. The dates are:

- Jan. 9—Election of Gasparilla XIV, his queen and court.
- Feb. 1—Annual bachelors' ball, at the Tampa Yacht and Country Club.
- Feb. 3—King's ball, at the Tampa Bay hotel.
- Feb. 5—Rehearsal for Krewe, at Tampa Bay casino.
- Feb. 6—Invasion of the city by the Krewe. Banquet at the Tampa hotel.
- Feb. 7—Annual coronation ball, at Tampa Bay casino.

The election of the king and queen is a great event among the Gasparillas. The several candidates—there are always two or more for king and queen—are voted on by secret ballot. Only the tellers who count the votes know who has been honored by selections. And they keep the secret right up to the night of the coronation ball, so that the ceremonial of crowning the royal pair who will preside over the festivities of Ye Mystic Krewe of Gasparilla is always an event of absorbing interest not only to the members of the Krewe but also to the people of this section generally, for Ye Mystic Krewe has members in all parts of the state who come here annually to take part in the revels of the "pirates" at their yearly gatherings.

But to the general public the principal event is the "capture" of the city, which is effected by the Krewe in true pirate style, when they come up to Tampa on a raskish schooner. With dummy cannon but real small arms. The pirates look true to their name, with their attire which is of the mode worn by pirates in the halcyon days of Drake, LaFitte, Kidd and other kindred spirits of the "take what you can" days of the Spanish Main. The "capture" of the city is followed always by a spectacular parade. Miller, the noted Philadelphia costumer, is preparing the costumes which will be worn by the pirates.

MARY ALDEN and CULLEN LANDIS in "THE OLD NEST" by RUPERT HUGHES, GOLDWYN and MRS. directed by DONALD CRISP

RUPERT HUGHES, VERSATILE ARTIST

AUTHOR OF "THE OLD NEST" HAS WON SUCCESS AS SHORT-STORY WRITER

Throughout Rupert Hughes' eventful literary career he has shown a versatility that has permitted him to express himself in many forms. His ability to write plays, short stories and novels with equal success has now been supplemented by his achievements as a writer for the screen.

Early in his career Mr. Hughes, who is an accomplished musician, wrote his "American Composers," and an original song cycle. Besides this creative work, he was the editor of several London magazines and assisted in the compilation of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Mr. Hughes has always been alive to the ridiculous aspects of changing fashions. This comic sense has expressed itself in such plays as "Excuse Me" and "The Richest Girl in the World." In his novels, "What Will People Say," "The Thirteenth Commandment" and "The Unpardonable Sin" illustrate the satirical trend of Mr. Hughes' vision.

But he also sees the simple, tender, commonplace of life and reproduces them faithfully, as in "The Old Nest." This novel has at last found its way to the screen, and the film version will be seen at the Star Theatre for two days, beginning Friday. The photographist Goldwyn has made of this novel with Mr. Hughes' personal cooperation is said to be one of the best examples of modern photoplay production. It presents a story of mother love without any artificial, melodramatic trimmings. One of the unusual facts in connection with the picture is that Mr. Hughes himself prepared the continuity from which Reginald Barker, the director, made the picture. Mr. Hughes is connected with the Goldwyn group of Eminent Authors, and his most recent pictures have been "The Cup of Fury," "Scratch My Back" and "Hold Your Horses."

We are tired, absolutely peevish about these "walkers", "workers", "wagglers", "jugglers", "hangers" and all others who are working Florida. They may call it "touring" Florida but we do not. They are here every day with a book to sign, with yards of stuff about themselves walking from Timbuctoo to Saskatchewan, about lecturing, about everything under the sun and the sum and substance of it is they want free advertising in order that they may glean some money from Sanford. If we were mayor of Sanford we would order everything off the street that looked like begging or working the public for any cause whatsoever. when you begin asking funny questions about his past, present and future life. Of course having lived in Orlando we know a lot about those boys but we would not breathe it. Why? Because they know a lot about us.

Who is Robert Parr? asks the Orlando Sentinel. Don't know and don't care but if you do not want him in Orlando he is perfectly welcome to come to Sanford and no questions asked. We will take him at Parr, yessum!

"Another side of Carl Dann" says an article in the Reporter-Star. We certainly hope they have not turned Carl inside out down there. Anyhow, he was born without a cent in his pocket and can't lose much.

FLORIDA TAXES

Nearly everybody grumbles about taxes. The paying out of money for expenses of government always painful, however necessary it may be and the cheerful taxpayer is rare. But in the matter of taxes, as in many other matters, Florida has a big advantage over most other states of the union. According to a table compiled by a Nebraska statistician, taxes in Florida are a little more than a third as much per capita as they are in California and other Pacific Coast states. Here are a few comparisons of per capita taxation in a number of widely separated states: Nebraska, $45.40; Iowa, $40.12; Kansas, $38.45; Illinois, $33.02; North Dakota, $49.45; South Dakota, $55.56; Pacific Coast states, $52 and $53; New England states average about $26; Florida, $18.28 and South Carolina $17.60.

Assuming that these figures are correct, the Florida citizen is doubly fortunate. He enjoys the privilege of living in a state favored over other states in most things pays less taxes than he would if he lived almost anywhere else in the country.—Tarpon Springs Leader.

TAKES MONEY TO RUN CITIES.

It takes money and plenty of it to operate cities and look after the various and sundry affairs. It takes money to make the mare go and this applies to municipalities as well as to private business. Cities have been hard hit since the war with everything twice as high and no taxes to meet the deficit. This phase of the matter seems to have been passed up by many cities with the result that they are now facing a financial crisis unless they revise their business to fit the present needs. No city could operate on the same taxes after the war as they could before any more than any private business could operate. It took twice as much money to operate business of all kinds during the war and after the war and in this respect there was no difference in the costs of operation of private business or municipal business. Many tax payers without stopping to think howled about their taxes without knowing and without stopping to inquire the reason. It is given now in the condition of many cities that failed to raise taxes in one way or another in the years following the war and the following from the Palatka News is one of the many that will take place all over the land where the taxes were not raised to meet the changed conditions:

"I know it is a very unpleasant thing to hear, and more unpleasant to say, but the city is faced with bankruptcy unless this council takes some action to relieve the present financial situation," City Attorney H. E. Merdyday declared last night in the midst of a very tense argument over the advisability of permitting the newly elected tax assessor to make his assessments according to law. The city charter prescribes that all property for taxation shall be assessed at full value. It has been the practice to assess property at anywhere from 15 to 75 per cent of its value. The debate indicated that Palatka has reached that stage where old methods of taxation, collections and assessments must be revised.

SOLDIERS OF EVERYDAY LIFE

Every so often the press carries the story of some heretofore unknown hero of the way Argonne discovered in some out of the way neck or corner and according to the story the winner of the Croix de Guerre or the congressional medal of honor who has refrained from making his whereabouts known because of modesty. We are glad to hear of the various acts of these individuals—some way or other it has a tendency to make one want to buck up to face the problems of life no matter how hard they may be, just the thought of what one soldier did, seems to be an inspiration to accomplish something worth while. Holders of the congressional medals, however, are scarce and sooner or later newspapers will be compelled to revert to other heroes or heroines to furnish the background for stories full of thrills. We therefore wish to bring out the following that they may receive their just share of publicity.

How about the daughter that dons the cloth of spinsterhood and foregoes the pleasure of motherhood in order to care for her aged mother or father or parents? How about the son that stays under the parental roof in order to provide necessities for those who cared for him? Is it not worthy of mention when a father or mother makes sacrifice for an offspring, and yet somewhere every day such sacrifices are made. Thousands of persons are wearing Carnegie medals today for heroic deeds, but very little publicity is given them, in fact there are deeds of kindness that when sifted down will be found to be as meritorious as some of the bravest performed on the battlefields, yet these unknown's must await until the final roll call before their goodness will be recognized.—Lakeland Star.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

Sanford is in the city class and there is so much travel over the streets by car, on foot and in all kinds of vehicles that it behooves our people and also strangers in the city to be careful. Streets are made for vehicles and people are not supposed to walk across the streets in the middle of blocks or to be in positions where drivers of vehicles are not looking for them. Drivers are looking at the traffic along the streets and trying to avoid other vehicles. At street crossings people are supposed to be looking out for cars but drivers are also supposed to be looking out for people on foot since the crossings are made for people to cross the streets. If people walking and people driving will use ordinary caution and keep the cars under control while in the business and residential portions of the city and all people walking will keep their eyes and ears open there will be less accidents.

COME OUT TONIGHT

Every citizen of Sanford should be at the Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight. It makes no difference whether you are a member of the trade body or not. If you are not a member you will be one if you will attend the banquet and get an idea of the great work being done here by the Chamber of Commerce. It is the getting together of the town builders, of the men who are honestly striving to make Sanford a great city, a meeting of kindred spirits who want nothing for themselves but are working for the good of the public. It is a poor citizen who will not attend the meetings and get the spirit and join the Chamber of Commerce and become a real citizen of Sanford regardless of all petty politics, petty differences, personal grievances, etc. Come out tonight and get a better idea of what Sanford has accomplished and expects to accomplish in the future.

SANFORD MERCHANTS PUTTING ON BIG SALES GETTING THE BUSINESS

Sanford merchants believe in taking time by the forelock and doing business while the weather is fine. Just now with winter half over and the real winter weather here for the first time many of the Sanford stores are putting on big sales and they are bringing the people here to trade. This city offers a splendid territory for miles around covered by good roads and Sanford stores get the trade they put on the big special sales and advertise liberally.

Thrasher & Garner report an excellent trade in their big special sale started last Saturday and still running full blast.

Speer & Son put on a big Pre-inventory Sale yesterday and they are having fine success with it.

Yowell & Co., started a big sale Saturday the advertisement appearing in yesterday's Daily Herald.

Many other merchants are getting ready for big sales this month and January and February will be big months in business circles in Sanford. No one needs to go out of Sanford to do their trading. Prices are down, all lines of merchandise and the stocks are fresh and clean and up to date. Do your trading at home and keep Sanford money here where it will do the most good. Outside firms are not paying taxes in Sanford, are not building up the city, are not taking part in the city affairs. Your dollars will go as far and further in Sanford as in any city in the United States—your dollar sent out of Sanford never returns.

Peace hath her victories. It takes a thousand bullets to kill a soldier, but it takes only one to kill an innocent bystander.

The discordant note in the concert of the powers seems to be the high C.

BOOSTING THE BOOSTER.

Boost our city, boost your friend; Boost the church that you attend. Boost the street on which you're dwelling.

Boost the goods that you are selling.

Boost the people around about you They can get along without you, But success will quickly find them If they know that you're behind them.

Boost for every forward movement; Boost for every new improvement. Boost the man for whom you labor. Boost the stranger and the neighbor.

Cease to be a chronic knocker. Cease to be a progress-blocker. If you'd make your city better, Boost it to the final letter.—The Gentle Woman.

THE AD AND THE MAN

He saw an ad from day to day And muttered: "I defy it; Their stuff may be just what they say,

But I'm not going to buy it." As time wore on he made remarks It would not do to mention; For he was mad because that ad Was forced on his attention.

But on a week, or two, or three, He said: "There's no denying That way that ad gets hold of me— The stuff may be worth trying."

For just about a fortnight more He dared mere words to win him, And then the ad completely had Aroused the spender in him Next day he drifted in a store And quietly expended

A few big iron dollars for The stuff the ad commandad. He found it filled a long-felt need, Its excellence surprised him;

And now he's glad because the ad So deftly hypnotized him.— James J. Montague, in the Fourth Estate.

CHIROPRACTIC
CHIROPRACTIC Means:
No Drugs No Surgery
CHIROPRACTIC is based on the fact that disease is the result of pressure upon the nerves. Such pressure can exist when the nerve trunks are given off from the spinal cord and pass between the bony segments which make up the spinal column.
When vertebrae assume unnatural positions as a result of injuries such as falls or twists the nerve openings are reduced in size after which the organs supplied by a particular nerve trunk become inefficient in its activities.
This interference expresses itself in muscular weakness, abnormal sensations, pains or paralysis.
Therefore; the first object of a Chiropractor is to make an analysis of the spine, determine the points of dislocation and then adjust them at regular intervals until Nature has again had a chance to right itself.
The big troubles as well as the little ones yield to the influence of chiropractic adjustments. If you want a strong, vigorous body call here for free examination.
