

FIVE BIG WORLD POWERS WILL FORM NAVAL PACT AND CONTROL SITUATION

Treaty Now Lacks But the Agreement on Pacific Forts HAVE HIGH HOPES

THAT SESSION WILL COME TO AN AGREEMENT BY MIDDLE OF NEXT WEEK

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The five-power treaty for the limitation of naval armament has undergone further changes in the course of a final overhauling by experts and it now is complete except for the article establishing a fortifications status quo in the Pacific.

When a solution of the fortifications problem will be possible is regarded by some delegates as a dubious question, but in other quarters there still is hope that a plenary session to announce publicly conclusion of the treaty may be held by early next week.

By some delegations the proposal is put forward that the troublesome article be dropped from the treaty altogether and either attached to the four-power Pacific treaty already signed or embodied in a separate convention to be drawn later. Thus far, however, that suggestion has remained in an informal stage and conference leaders are going ahead on the assumption that the provision will remain in the naval pact.

In the light of renewed instructions from Tokio to the Japanese delegation the naval drafting experts will meet again today to try to work out a new phrasing of the article. It was indicated last night that the Japanese advisers from home were not entirely conclusive but hope was expressed in an early solution.

It was revealed yesterday that in the final revision of other portions of the treaty, modifications had been agreed to in the limitations on aircraft carriers and on methods of scrapping and that provision had been made which would require two years notice from any power desiring to terminate the convention.

In the section dealing with aircraft carriers, the total tonnage limitations agreed to by the five powers are retained in the final draft but the proposal to limit individual carriers to 27,000 tons each is modified so as to permit each signatory to construct two of 33,000 tons each. It is provided specifically that these may be obtained by conversion of battleships now under construction but which would otherwise go to the scrap heap.

THE DONNELLYS ARRIVE

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Donnelly and son Norman E. Donnelly, and daughter, Miss Helen Donnelly, and niece Miss Alice Simmons, of Brooklyn, have arrived in the city and will spend a month or more. Mr. Donnelly has his two electric propelled yachts, the Dawn and New Era, at the dock and the party will make many trips over the lakes and rivers of this beautiful country. Mr. Donnelly will go as far as Salt Creek on an exploring tour to collect data for the Inland Waterways for the Sanford Chamber of Commerce of which body he is an active member being on the Waterways Committee. He will also bring down his car and they will make trips inland and enjoy a vacation such as few people coming to Florida have a chance to enjoy. The Herald, with their numerous friends, greet this estimable family (adopted citizens of Sanford) and hope their stay will be most pleasant. Mr. Donnelly has done more for Sanford than any ten men who ever visited our shores and he has won a large place in the hearts of the people.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schuyler of Kittinging and Mr. and Mrs. George L. Schuyler of Pittsburg have arrived in the city and are the guests of the Valdez expecting to remain for some time. Mrs. Geo. Schuler is the sister of Mrs. Harry Wilson of this city and they are regular winter visitors in Sanford where they have a host of friends who are giving them a warm welcome.

COLVIN BROWN SPOKE TODAY AT LUNCHEON

TIME WAS BRIEF BUT HE DROVE HOME SOME SALIENT FACTS TO THE MEMBERS

One of the finest talks to which the members of the Chamber of Commerce have ever had the opportunity to listen was made at the noon-day luncheon today by Colvin S. Brown of the United States Chamber of Commerce who is making one of his annual visits to Florida. This is his first trip to Florida and he is greatly impressed with the possibilities of the state and especially of the Sanford section. He took up the items of the budget system of expenses, membership, committee work and many other important phases of the work and at the close gave the members some pertinent facts about conditions of business and the work of the Chamber of Commerce in building a great city here. He recited the example of a big furniture manufacturer who called in all his salesmen when trade was dull a few months ago and making a big cut in the price of furniture told them to go out and sell it and they did. The manufacturer said that the idea of "normal conditions and average conditions were all right. That no man wanted to be an average man and there were never normal conditions and no one wanted normal conditions. That conditions are not average and normal now and never have been and never will be. To stop talking about hard times and go after business as never before and there would be plenty of business for everyone."

It was the sort of talk that every business man in Sanford should have heard and those present enjoyed every minute of it. Lack of space in the Herald today precludes giving parts of this fine business talk but its influence will be felt by everyone who heard it and the local chamber will be stimulated greatly thereby.

BUSINESS TO IMPROVE IN APRIL, 1922, SAYS ECONOMIC EXPERT

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—A "substantial increase in business activity" is due about April, according to predictions by the Harvard University Committee on Economic Research. The committee points out that in previous depressions, such as 1903 and 1907, business revival came 10 to 12 months after the beginning of a marked decline in interest rates. Decline in interest rates has been going on since May, 1921. Basing its prediction on precedent, the Harvard committee thinks April, 1922, is the logical date for a substantial upward movement of business.

POPE IS VERY ILL AND HIS CONDITION IS SERIOUS, NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

Condition of Yesterday Reversed and Extreme Uncertainty Administered

(By The Associated Press) ROME, Jan. 20.—At 12:30 o'clock today it was stated the Pope was in a dying condition. Extra editions of newspapers offered little hope regarding chances for recovery. A great crowd began to assemble in St. Peter's to await news from the Vatican. His condition which yesterday was described as not giving cause for alarm remained stationary part of the night but suddenly took a turn for the worse and doctors urgently summoned.

(By The Associated Press) ROME, Jan. 20.—Official bulletin issued this morning on condition of Pope said: "His Holiness has been ill four days with influenza, bronchitis. Ascertained inflammatory process has spread to right lung. The patient passed an agitated night and had no sleep. This morning dyspnoea is intense. Temperature 104, pulse 102, respiration 38."

CHINESE TREATY OPENED FOR WORLD INSPECTION BY ARMS CONFERENCE

BRYAN'S STORY GIVES CONGRESS TALKING TOPIC

REPUBLICAN SENATORS RIDICULE CLAIMS OF COMMONER AGAINST THE G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—William Jennings Bryan's solemn prediction that the Republican control of Congress is to be overthrown next fall and the Democracy returned to power, did not seriously disturb administration leaders today.

The Bryan prediction, however created a wide stir in congress because it is there the battle for control of the administration next year will be fought out.

Almost without exception Republican spokesmen attributed the Commoner's outburst as the opening gun in his campaign to succeed Park Trammell as United States Senator from Florida. The three reasons Mr. Bryan gave for probable Republican defeat, the Newberry case, tax and agriculture discontent, were declared to be fallacious, and based on "misstatement, misrepresentation and ignorance of Republican accomplishments."

Senator Watson, of Indiana, who has succeeded Boise Penrose as the leader of the "old guard" element of the senate, answered Bryan yesterday:

"In every campaign in which Colonel Bryan was a presidential candidate he predicted Democratic victories, and his predictions were always couched in the most offensive terms. The probabilities are that Colonel Bryan has never read the new revenue act by the Republican majority of congress. Had he done so he would have known that instead of the rich being relieved of taxation as he stated, it is indisputable that they were given such slight relief that they are criticizing the Republican party because of the tax campaign having been enacted.

"Colonel Bryan has evidently failed to keep tabs on legislation enacted by the present congress for the benefit of the farmer. He would otherwise have known that the present congress has passed no fewer than five important measures already for the benefit of the farmer, and has in fact, enacted more legislation for the farmer than any congress has done in the entire history of the country. So extensive has been this legislation indeed that congress is being criticized in some quarters as having been controlled by special agricultural interests."

Senator Lenroot, a leader of the "midwest progressive" group, ridiculed Bryan's claims.

"Bryan points out three alleged political blunders, the first being the seating of Newberry," said Lenroot. "I have no hesitation in saying that if the Democratic senators had forgotten party politics and voted on the merits of the case, that at least one-half the Democratic senators would have voted for him."

"The Republican party does not endorse the excessive expenditure of money in politics and in the resolution seating Newberry expressly condemns it and if Senator Newberry had been shown to have participated in this expenditure and had benefited by it, he would have been unseated."

"The second alleged blunder is the relief by the Republican party of the rich from taxes and increasing the taxes on the poor. If Mr. Bryan knew anything about the tax bill recently enacted, he would know that there is no increase of taxes upon the poor but there is a far greater proportionate reduction upon the poor than there is upon the taxes of the rich."

"The third alleged blunder is the failure to secure for the farmer an adequate price for products. As a matter of fact, the Republican party in this congress has done more for the farmer and the farmer is having a greater influence in congress than ever."

"It is plain from Mr. Bryan's interview that he is thinking more about the prospects of the Democratic party than he is of the welfare of the American people. "The Republican party in the next

Publicity Suggestion Comes From American Delegation

GEN'L APPROVAL

COMMITTEES NOW TRYING TO ADJUST RAILROAD DISPUTES IN CHINA

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Pushing forward rapidly toward the conclusion of its labors, the Far Eastern committee of the Washington conference yesterday recorded a mutual pledge against discriminatory railroad practices in China and then gave general approval to a proposal that the whole multitude of treaties and understandings relating to China's interests be published to the world.

The suggestion for a show down of all Chinese commitments came from the American delegation, was promptly supported by the Chinese, and after a discussion received in turn the tentative endorsement of the British, Japanese and French. A formal resolution embodying the decision is to be considered at a meeting of the committee today, but it is doubtful whether the publication will be accomplished before the Washington conference ends.

In expressing assent most of the plenipotentiaries declared that virtually all such agreements to which their respective governments were parties already had been made public, and the Japanese interposed the suggestion that there might be much difficulty in making the list complete because of engagements of various private individuals and corporations of which the governments had no knowledge. The resolution is expected to provide that each government may know whatever information it has regarding the separate agreements entered into by its nationals.

Two resolutions regarding Chinese railroads were adopted before the committee reached the topic of existing commitments, the last on the Chinese section of its agenda. One of them, presented by the British, binds all of the nine nations represented to permit no "unjust discrimination" in railroad rates or facilities in China, and the other, an American proposal, records the hope of the powers that Chinese railroads may be developed toward a unified national system under Chinese control, but with whatever foreign assistance may be found advisable.

Both the resolutions were approved with only slight changes from the form in which they were introduced, but that relating to discriminatory practices was qualified by its author, Sir Auckland Geddes, so that it will apply only to "unfair" discrimination. It provides that any case which seems to involve a violation of the principle of equality of treatment may be referred "for consideration and report" to the board of reference to be created under the new open door program. The Chinese expressed satisfaction with the two agreements, declaring their particular gratification over the inclusion of the pledge not to "permit" unfair discrimination. In the past, it was pointed out, all the roads operating in China have denied flatly that they were quality of discriminatory practices, and efforts to gather sufficient facts to prove otherwise have failed.

More fog followed by sunshine. Down below zero in the north-sunny weather in Sanford.

People were out in the park last night in their summer clothes, sitting on the benches and enjoying an open air concert while their less fortunate northern friends were shivering around the stoves and furnaces.

Senator Park Trammell says he is not worried about the Great Commoner, William Jennings Bryan running against him. Park says he will go right on running just like he always did which means that he will carry the vote of the people of Florida with him.

Thanks to the enterprising merchants of Sanford the Daily Herald is enabled to go to eight pages today and tomorrow. Business is picking up along every line in Sanford, new business is opening, new business blocks will soon be built to accommodate a dozen new firms who are trying to break into Sanford and this fall will see a big difference in this city in many ways.

That idea advanced by the Daily Herald several times for the merchants of Sanford to get together and have special sales days at least once each week should be taken up by the business men of this city and put over. It means so much to the business interests to stimulate trade and make Sanford the mecca for the people who want to come here to do their buying.

RE-ESTABLISHING LEE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

This is the birthday of Robert E. Lee, the beloved son of the South who led the armies of the Confederacy through four years of war, with honor to himself and glory to the section whose cause he defended with his sword.

The South has had many heroes, but none shall ever be closer to the hearts of the people than this gallant son of Virginia, who, although offered command-in-chief of the Union forces, resigned from the United States Army and cast his lot with the land of his birth, for purely sentimental reasons. The name and life of Lee shall live as long as the world respects virility and places a premium upon devotion.

It is entirely fitting that on this day the campaign for the reestablishment of the Lee Memorial School of Journalism should be launched, under the auspices of the Southern Newspaper Publisher's Association. This school of journalism will be located at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., and the purpose of it will be to perpetuate the name of Robert E. Lee in a constructive manner in behalf of the section he loved. General Lee was deeply interested in education and devoted much of his life to it.

Fancy Groceries, Fresh Fruits and Vegetables, DEANE TURNER, Phones 497-494, WELAKA BLOCK

In an age when college training meant only Latin, Greek, Philosophy, and Mathematics, when "practical" studies and student laboratories and the chairs of English and modern languages were practically unknown in college circles, when law was taught almost entirely in lawyer's office through private instruction, and our modern university schools of journalism and of commerce were undreamed of in a little mountain village fifty miles from the nearest railroad; in a locality and a section desolated and impoverished almost beyond conception by the hillish ravages of invading armies, General Lee in five years gathered a large faculty, secured for the times an ample endowment, built necessary buildings, gathered the largest student-body in the South, and made his institution not only financially prosperous but the one conspicuous center of Southern higher education, crowded with eager ex-soldier students from every Southern state. Yet these achievements as an administrator were far outdone by the educational transformation of a typical classical college into an institution a full generation ahead of its times. In five short years he added Schools of Law, of Journalism, and of Engineering, departments of Physics, English, Modern Languages and had already planned what would have been the first college School of Commerce and Business Administration when, worn out with his herculean labors he fell at his post, and left his institution as his legacy to his beloved land. —Jacksonville Metropolis.

EATING OF "HOMINY-GRITS" IS URGED BY GOVERNMENT.

The United States Department of Agriculture, in a recent bulletin, urges the people of this country to eat more hominy-grits.

Hominy-grits? — Hominy-grits? — Call for hominy-grits!

Verily, everybody, at least in the South, is familiar with grits—a dish, when properly prepared, fit for the immortal gods; and every Southern family has dined on hominy—but hominy-grits, bunk!

In the words of Tennyson "Someone has blundered!" Grits and hominy both belong to the well-known family of Corn, as does moonshine liquor, but there is as much difference between the two as between shredded wheat and hot wheat cakes.

Without even culinary knowledge the distinction can be made between the two dishes—grits are (the verb is always plural) corn ground into small particles hominy is (the verb is always singular) corn in the whole grain, associated with lye in the cooking, thereby eliminating the outer skin.

It was never intended by the god of concoctions that grits should be eaten with sugar and cream. Banish the thought! Grits rise to the height of their glory and soar in red ham gravy, or in a flowing stream of country butter, or even in the company of scrambled eggs, but as a desert, never! Likewise hominy finds its happiest home in the realm of gravy, still to eat it by itself is no offense—and always a delectable pastime!

Grits are made at a grist mill. The corn is poured in one hole and grits pour out of the other. That's elementary but the truth, thanks to the inventor of machinery. The proper place to make hominy (it is never manufactured) is an old-fashioned washpot—the kind your mother used to put chickens awaiting slaughter under. Pictures show an old black mammy, plus bandana handkerchief, stirring the contents of the pot, and certainly this adds pleasure to the thought. But it is not absolutely essential. The old black mammy is rapidly becoming a figure of the past—but hominy we have with us always. And grits!—Florida Metropolis.

The Washington and Lee University chapel of Lexington Va., is sadly in need of repairs and the U. D. C. have undertaken this task.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, recognizing the need for action in the matter, passed the following resolution at the St. Louis convention, with out a single dissenting vote:

1.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy recognize General Lee's University at Lexington, Independent of both church and state, as peculiarly belonging to the whole South, at once his greatest monument and the chief agent in propagating his influence and carrying on his life-work.

It rejoices in the success of the alumni movement to increase the general endowment, and in the effort of the United Confederate Veterans and Sons of Veterans to raise a half million dollars to endow and equip Gen. Lee's School of Engineering. It commends most heartily the great movement undertaken by the editors of the South to re-establish and endow Gen. Lee's original School of Journalism by a simultaneous appeal for funds during the coming winter in every Southern community, thus focusing the gaze of the whole South on the matchless character of this Christian hero.

2.—On behalf of the patriotic women of the South, it reverently assumes, as its share in the memorial movement, the enlargement of that chapel that enshrines his sacred dust, that it may continue the work for which he erected it, may be made more worthy of his name and fame, and that it may be protected from the ever present danger of total destruction by fire.

3.—It hereby requests the University to secure through its architects tentative plans for such enlargement, and requests its president-general to appoint an advisory architectural committee of five members, of which shall be ex-officio member and chairman, to act in conjunction with the University authorities in planning the University enlargement and reconstruction of this sacred shrine, that the mausoleum and Gen. Lee's own office may be preserved unchanged and the memorial nature of the building may remain, as far as possible, unaltered.

No more fitting memorial to the memory of Robert E. Lee could be devised than this extension work at the beautiful old Southern college for which he lived and labored during many years. On this anniversary of his birth no better tribute could be paid than a donation to the cause for which "the idol of the South" labored so self-sacrificingly. In many cities throughout the country the chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy are holding special memorial services today, and are receiving offerings to be used in financing the work contemplated. The beauty and appropriateness of the birthday gift is beyond words, and the strength of the appeal made through a mere success in the shortest possible space of time.

REDUCED RAILROAD RATES DEMANDED BY SEVERAL SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Demands for reduced railroad rates, both freight and passenger, were made by several senators today when debate was begun on the bill of Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, to order the railroads to issue interchangeable mileage books in 5,000 mile lots at 2 1-2 cents per mile.

Reduced rates would stimulate traffic and increase railroad revenues, Senator Cummins, republican, Iowa, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, asserted. Rate reductions were hoped for he added as a result of the present rate inquiry of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Present rate levels, Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, said had not only obstructed commerce but in hundreds of cases had actually stopped business. The interchangeable mileage book plan, he added, would increase passenger traffic and fill cars which the railroads, he declared, now carry half empty.

Senator Robinson spoke at length in support of the interchangeable mileage book bill which has been urged by many organizations of traveling men, and commercial bodies.

The bill was opposed by Senator Cummins, who offered a substitute authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to order mileage books at a rate which would be fair and compensatory.

Congress could not say, he asserted, whether the proposed rate of 2 1-2 cents a mile would be fair. He also was trespassing on state rights, he argued, in proposing to fix a rate for intra-state travel.

Senator Robinson proposed that the mileage books be issued in 2,000 instead of 5,000-mile books.

OCALA CHANGES CITY MANAGERS, SANFORD MAN TAKING UP REINS

OCALA, Jan. 19.—J. C. Ryan, formerly city manager of Sanford, has taken over the office of City Manager McKinnle, who handed in his resignation at Tuesday night's meeting of the city council. The resignation of Sanitary Inspector J. W. Alkin was presented at the meeting and accepted.

The new city manager has a long record of achievements as manager of Sanford and there is a general feeling among the townspeople that his choice as the city's guiding head in commercial and civic affairs has been for the best.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 19.—The child welfare bureau of the state board of health has submitted plans to the federal bureau of health with a view to obtaining Florida's allotment of funds for child welfare work, made available by the enactment of the Sheppard-Tower maternity bill.

Florida, it was explained, is allocated a total of $11,531.72 annually for five years from the federal fund, contingent, however, upon the state legislature making a similar appropriation.

Useless Calls For "Information"

In response to the inquiry of many telephone subscribers: "What can I do to help my service?" this advertisement is published.

Our records here show that of the thousands of questions answered by Information operators every year, almost half are for numbers already listed in the telephone directory.

The Information operators waste hours daily in looking up and giving out these numbers.

These wasted hours affect operating efficiency on regular calls, cause congestion of the lines and increase the already heavy load on the switchboards.

You can help your service by looking first in the directory to be sure it is not listed before calling "Information."

The Information operators are always ready to give numbers of new subscribers and other changes not listed in the directory.

STATE NEWS

(By The Associated Press)

EUSTIS, Jan. 19.—The new golf course of the Lake County Country Club here will be formally opened January 24, according to an announcement by officials of the club. Nine of the eighteen holes of the course virtually completed and it has been stated that golfers will be permitted to try out before the formal opening. Work on the remaining nine holes is in progress and it is expected that this will be completed during the spring or summer in time for use next fall.

The course has been pronounced by experts as one of the most attractive in the country, the fairways stretching amid numerous lakes and other undulating country. The course was laid out by Cuthbert Butchart, professional in charge of the Westchester-Baltimore course at Rye, N. Y., and he pronounced the site unequalled by any he had ever visited, declaring it would be one of the most appealing courses in America if properly constructed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.—Plans to erect a new Shriner's building here to cost approximately $80,000, have taken definite form with the organization of a building association to finance the project.

It is planned to build a three story structure, the lower floor to be used as an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,200 persons. The second floor will be equipped with bowling alleys, billiard rooms and other features, while the third floor will be divided into rental apartments, expected to yield $13,000 annually.

PUNTA GORDA, Jan. 19.The Chatter county Board of Commissioners has taken preliminary steps toward the calling of a bond election, the proceeds to be used for completion of the Tamiami Trail through the county from the Sarasota county line to the Lee county line, a distance of approximately twenty-five miles. The amount necessary for the work must be determined by engineers before the election can be called.

MIAMI, Jan. 19.—Miami's automatic telephone system, which will supplant the system now in use, will be placed in service January 21 according to an announcement by local officials. Delivery of the new telephone directory already has begun. The number of virtually every telephone in the city has been changed.

ARCADIA, Jan. 19.—Next Sunday, January 22, will be set aside in Baptist Churches and Sunday Schools throughout the state for the raising of funds to build and equip a steam laundry at the Florida Baptist Children's Home here.

The last state Baptist convention unanimously adopted a resolution designating this Sunday as the date to collect funds to remove the handicap under which the same 1,200 inmates of the home now work. The necessity of laundrying by hand has denied the youngsters of many of the advantages of the home, it was pointed out by the board of trustees.

It is planned to erect a two story building with the funds collected. The first floor will be entirely devoted to a steam laundry while on the second will be equipped a boy's dormitory and another laundry.

GROVELAND, Jan. 19.—Petitions are being circulated here asking that Groveland be incorporated as a city of the third class. The movement was launched by the Board of Trade.

Our idea of a natural-born conservative is a dentist who tells you it is going to hurt a little.

WHY COLD TREATMENTS FOR CHILDREN SHOULD BE EXTERNAL

The child's stomach is delicate and nearly all physicians will agree that every upsetting influence should be avoided. Internal medicines are sometimes necessary but invariably they have a bad effect on the child's system. Such slight ailments as coughs, colds and sometimes croup can be very successfully treated externally.

Camthol, an excellent croup and pneumonia salve, especially prepared for children, when rubbed vigorously into the chest, throat and temples and spread in the nostrils and throat will break up the phlegm, clear the air passages, soothe and heal. It stops a cold without the need of internal medicines.

It contains no capicum and does not blister the skin as many other salves do. 30c at all drug stores. Southern Drug Manufacturing Co., Jacksonville, Fla., Wholesale Distributors.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Foggy weather this morning. Don't know just where it is leading us in this land of sunshine and moonshine but we do not want too much fog for fog is bad on the throat in dry territory like Florida—and Bimini and other places where Pussfoot and others have advertised the wares of the unrighteous so extensively. But, however and notwithstanding we want nice weather for the Woman's Club to pull over the big demonstration fair and exposition on the lake front. Too much fog spoils the better part of the day and some of the night. Have you a little fog horn in your home?
