

Seminole Youth Termed 'Solid Gold'

"The young people of today are as fine Americans as any this country has ever known." This is the conclusion that he has reached, Cdr. Jack Langford told the Rotarians at their meeting Monday, after having worked with and taught high school and college boys and girls in Central Florida and elsewhere.

He particularly commended the students at Seminole High and said that they are "solid gold." He said that he had come to have a tremendous admiration for American youth and for their courage and vigor.

"But they are young and vigorous," said Langford, "and youth looks for leadership, for a cause. If American adults don't give it to them, the Communists will try to do it."

Part of the Communist plan now, Langford continued, is an all-out full-force effort to win the youth of America. They are putting out a magazine called "New Horizons" and are turning their propaganda on students and young people to try to prove that Russia wants only peace and that the Russians are martyrs. American youth are being urged not to "persecute Communists" nor to criticize them, but to listen to "their side."

Langford named Carl Braden, who spoke at Rollins College and passed out literature as one of the ring-leaders of Communist underground. At the time Braden spoke here he had already been convicted of sedition and had been cited for contempt of Congress. Three Rollins college students recognized him as a top Communist and made a special trip to Tallahassee to testify against him, said Langford.

The course in Americanism being taught by Langford at Seminole High was outlined for the Rotarians. The three points brought out were to reveal the evils of Communism, to provide guides to recognition of the party line and to learn what the Communist 18 point program contains, and to teach youth the glory of America.

Langford stated that Americans today need the same kind of dedication and devotion shown by the brave signers of the Declaration of Independence. Then he read John Adams stirring speech given at that time.

Following his talk, Langford, who is leaving in July, was presented with a plaque by the Rotarians in honor of his service. The plaque read:

"To Commander John Langford. In recognition of his work in Sanford and Seminole County for Americanism."

Eichmann Accused From 'Grave' Of Being 'Fanatic'

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann was accused from the grave today of being a fanatic killer of Jews but a "coward" who never took any action until he had confirmation from his superior officers.

The prosecution at the trial of the man accused of exterminating six million Jews read into the record a deposition made by one of Eichmann's former close friends and colleagues — Dieter Willency, who was hanged as a war criminal in 1947. The statement was made in return for a promise that his family would be protected.

Eichmann, entering the third week of his trial, was impassive as he heard Willency's words read into the record. The table in his bullet-proofed glass box was piled high today with documents from which orange index slips stuck out. Defense counsel Robert Servatius told United Press International Monday that Eichmann was working late in his cell and was making valuable contributions to his own case.

Servatius fought hard to exclude the Willency affidavit from the court record, contending it was motivated by a desire to get revenge against Eichmann. But the court overruled him, and Attorney General Gideon Hausner began reading the accusation from the grave.

"Eichmann was an extremely important factor in the extermination of the Jews," it said. "He himself was a coward who never did anything without written confirmation from above. He kept all notes, generally signed by Himmler and Kaltenbrunner (Nazi Police Chief Heinrich Himmler and SS General Ernst Kaltenbrunner). Eichmann was cynical with regard to the Jewish problem. He was not immoral because he was completely devoid of morality. He was adamant with regard to the Jews. He said: 'I'll jump into my grave laughing because the fact that I have five million Jews on my conscience gives me extraordinary satisfaction.'"

Carroll said that it would be all right if that made it $1 for speeding. "It just isn't justified to make it $1 for apprehending someone for driving without a license or drunk driving," he added.

Nixon's Proposal Gets Demo 'Balk'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's view that the United States must develop guerrilla-type forces to meet Red subversion in Cuba, Laos and elsewhere ran into sharp opposition today from two Democrats.

Constable Raps Proposed Law

Seminole County constables will be hit hard financially if a proposed law to reduce constable's fees to $1 for traffic arrests is enacted. At present constables receive $7.50 for each traffic case.

The Judiciary Committee of the House last Thursday approved the proposed bill and it will be sent to the floor for a vote sometime this week.

Complaints that some constables in the state have been operating speed traps and allegedly making unnecessary arrests to earn fees resulted in the proposed bill.

District 4 Constable Bob Carroll said this morning that he feels the proposed bill is unfair. "I can't see only $1 for a traffic arrest and it would be a mistake if the legislature enacts the bill."

Carroll said that it would be all right if that made it $1 for speeding. "It just isn't justified to make it $1 for apprehending someone for driving without a license or drunk driving," he added.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Latin America, was as critical of Nixon as he was of the Kennedy administration for aiding the ill-fated Cuban rebel invasion.

To Nixon's belief that this government must use para-military force against Communist aggression, Morse replied in an interview:

"Mr. Nixon's proposal would bog us down in brushfire wars for years. I am satisfied the American people will reject it."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), another member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said: "We've got to be very careful with loose talk about military intervention."

The assistant Senate Democratic leader added that instead of emphasis on military action, which "has its place," the United States would be wiser to meet the "real need of social reform" in Latin America.

But Humphrey said he agreed with Nixon that this government should separate intelligence activities from "operational" functions.

Nixon was understood to have urged this revision on President Kennedy, and to have strongly recommended that the U. S. further develop guerrilla-type military forces to be used in places like Cuba and Laos to curb Communist aggression.

Dry Spell Hits Citrus, Vegetables

The county's rich citrus and vegetable industry could be in serious danger unless the county gets some rain in the very near future, County Agent Cecil Tucker said today.

Tucker added that young citrus trees are in perilous danger from "wiltling" because of the excessive dry spell.

"It is a very serious problem and will cause great concern unless we get some rain," Tucker said.

The citrus industry here has been valued at $4 million and the vegetable industry slightly over that mark.

The weather bureau reported today that not a trace of rain has been reported in Seminole County during the past two weeks.

The last rain was reported on April 6.

French Explode Nuclear Device

PARIS (UPI) — French scientists today exploded another nuclear device deep in the Sahara Desert in Algeria despite the power struggle between President Charles deGaulle and mutinous French generals.

It was the fourth explosion in a series of atomic tests that have provoked angry protests by African nations and complaints by Russia at the nuclear test ban talks in Geneva.

The announcement released through government — authorized sources in Paris said the explosion concluded the current series of above-ground tests in North Africa. It said the device was exploded at 6 a. m. (midnight, EST) atop a tower at the Reggane nuclear testing grounds in central Algeria.

VFW Sponsors Navy Breakfast

The ladies auxiliary of the VFW Post 3282 were the sponsors of a breakfast held recently for Navy personnel at the USO. About 20 Navy men were served pancakes and sausage.

The ingredients were donated by the Winn Dixie Stores and the Handy Store on Celery Ave.

Firemen Collect For Cancer Drive

North Orlando's Volunteer Firemen collected $98.50 for the Cancer Crusade in a door-to-door canvass of the community last week.

Traveling by fire truck, firemen collected from the south side on Monday and from the north side on Tuesday. They also distributed informational materials provided by the Cancer Society and answered any questions from the residents when possible.

Up In Smoke

WATERFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Television's Howdy Doody and about 400 other puppets went up in smoke Sunday when flames swept the workshop of their creator, Rufus Rose. The puppets, representing about 30 years of labor, included some used on the Captain Kangaroo show. They were not insured.

Serving With Fleet

NORFOLK (FHTNC) — John H. Patterson, machinist's mate first class, USN, son of Mrs. Frank Cowan of Route 2, Sanford, Fla., is serving aboard the world's first Talos-firing guided missile light cruiser USS Galveston which returned to her home port at Norfolk, Va., April 10, following a three-month cruise in the Caribbean.

Women Don't Care What They Wear—Just Fashionable

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — I believe I am on solid ground in saying that American women, as a rule, don't care what they wear as long as it is fashionable.

Unless this be true, there is just no way to account for the popularity of those needle-nosed, or rather needle-toed, shoes that are currently in vogue.

In the first place, shoes of that type bear no direct relation to the shape of the appendages they are supposed to fit. I don't see how a normal woman can put them on without first sticking her toes in a pencil sharpener.

If a pair should be preserved among the artifacts of our civilization, future historians would have reason to conclude that we produced a race of females with pointed feet.

In the second place, these shoes negate the basic function of footwear. A woman so outfitted is better equipped for spear-fishing than for walking.

It is clear, then, that the shoes were designed for the eyes instead of the feet. And thereby hangs a tale.

What got me onto this shoe kick was a case that has come up before the Federal Trade Commission involving Alan E. Murray of Bridgeport, Conn., inventor of the "Space Shoe."

According to some biographical material I have at hand, Murray is a former professional ice skater who was forced to retire from the rink because of foot trouble.

While brooding over his pedal difficulties, he conceived the idea of a new type of shoe that would be fitted from plaster casts of the customer's feet.

The result was the "Space Shoe," which looks like no other foot covering known to man. It has been variously described as resembling a duck, a cured ham and a baseball mitt.

Some critics have suggested that in attempting to aid the foot-sore, Murray created an eyegore. He, however, contends that the Space Shoe is at least philosophically beautiful because "it bases its esthetics on the truthful shape of the foot."

The question of esthetics is more or less academic, anyway. The main purpose of the Space Shoe is to comfort rather than beautify.

It was in this connection that Murray ran afoul of the Federal Trade Commission. He was accused of putting out advertising falsely implying that Space Shoes not only were good for bunions and such but also would correct such conditions as stomach ulcers.

Murray denied making such claims but the preliminary decision went, in part, against him.

The FTC is expected to hear his appeal next month.

I intend to follow the case closely because I regard the Space Shoe, whatever it merits, as a step in the right direction. I'm in favor of anything that might keep women pedestrians from stabbing me in the ankle.

Commission District Proposal Shifts Population

Preliminary sketches of a proposed new County Commission redistricting plan revealed today that Sanford would be rearranged in three districts and that Casselberry and Longwood would be split into two.

The plan also reveals that the five districts will be more evenly populated with District 1 having a total of 10,319 residents; District 2, 12,945; District 3, 9,684; District 4, 9,768 and District 5, 10,807.

At the present time, the Sanford District, (2), has some 20,000 persons while other districts have from 9,000 to 12,000 population.

Under the proposed plan Sanford would be divided into District 1, 2 and 3.

District 1 would take in Sanford east through Geneva; District 2 would take in Park Ave. west through Paola to the county line; District 3 will run from Lake Mary south through parts of Longwood; District 4 would run from Hwy. 17-92 east to the county line and District 5 would take in Hwy. 17-92 to the county line west through Longwood on Molnar Ave.

Some changes are expected in the plan. At Tuesday's County Commission meeting, District 3

County Commissioner James P. Avery criticized the proposal and asked that the county be made into "pie shape" districting with at least four commissioners getting a part of Sanford.

"The city's business is the county's business and we all should take more of an interest in its welfare," Avery said.

Chairman J.C. Hutchinson tabled action on any further discussion of the plan to give commissioners two weeks to come up with some suggestions to present to the redistricting committee comprised of Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce, Zoning Director Robert Brown and County Engineer Carlton Bliss.

District 4 County Commissioner Vernon Dunn brought up the matter of county redistricting after lunch and urged the board to take action on the plan before the budget hearings in July.

The proposed plan was soundly rapped by City Manager W.E. Knowles today who called it "dirty politics."

Knowles said that the county commission appears to be gerrymandering so that the city will not be properly represented on the board.

He said that, although more than 35 percent of the county population resides inside the Sanford city limits, this proposal would weaken their voice at the polls in deciding many issues which affect them as city residents.

Good examples of this, according to Knowles, are the proposed drainage act and county code. Under both acts, Knowles said, tax monies would be collected from all city taxpayers without giving these same taxpayers anything back in the way of services.

Brutal windstorms, hail and heavy rain struck between the Ozarks and the Appalachians today behind a slow-grinding cold front headed for the East Coast.

The late April storm, responsible for ravaging a score of communities Tuesday, gathered strength in Tennessee and Kentucky during the night and set off widely scattered thunderstorms from South Carolina to Maine.

At Warren, Pa., the Allegheny River mounted a foot above 14-foot flood stage, closing off the city's West End and flooding basements in the business district. Swollen creeks deposited two feet of water across Washington, Pa., streets and minor flood-

Toughest Test Facing Seminole Racing Bill

TALLHASSEE (UPI) — Bills authorizing harness racing tracks in Seminole and Broward counties may face their toughest test when they get to Gov. Farris Bryant's desk.

Bryant has indicated he will oppose any new tracks in Florida, a hint that he may veto the bills passed by the House Tuesday, or let them die by failing to sign them.

The bill authorizing the track for Seminole actually amounts to reinstatement of a permit already granted by the State Racing Commission but turned down by the Supreme Court.

The Broward bill authorizes transfer of a track already existing in St. Johns County.

In other business House and Senate committees on congressional reapportionment voted today to go their separate ways in trying to solve the problem of locating four new congressmen to be added to the Florida delegation in 1963.

Suggestions that the problem be handed to smaller subcommittees for joint work were rejected after fears were expressed that some pet plans might be overlooked.

House Apportionment Committee Chairman Wilborn Daniels of Lake said his group will meet twice weekly at 7:30 a. m. until the matter is resolved. Senate Chairman John Rawls of Marianna indicated his committee will work more liberally.

The problem will probably be fought out eventually on the House and Senate floors and wind up in a joint compromise committee.

The birds will start flocking to Sanford now. The City Commission Monday night filled out forms with the Audubon Society to make this city a bird sanctuary. No birds will be allowed to be shot here and signs will be erected by the society in the near future on the outskirts of the city declaring the city a haven for birds.

Mayor Joe Baker is in Tallahassee today attending a committee hearing on municipal revenue measures proposed by the Florida Municipal League for a one cent tax on cigarette to be returned to the cities and a statewide license tag increase of $5 to be returned to the city or county in which the car is registered. Both proposals have the endorsement of the City Commission.

Here are excerpts from a letter from Mack Cleveland Jr., to the County Commission: "I feel there is a definite need for a portion of the proposed County Code act and am hopeful that I might be able to support the bill in its entirety. But at this time I am unable to commit myself to full support— but do feel the house will pass some form of the bill."

Board Reaffirms Stand On Race Track Revenue

Despite assurances from the county delegation that it would never be introduced into the legislature, the County Commission Tuesday afternoon, by a 3-2 majority, reaffirmed its decision to ask for a special act to get back $50,000 of race track revenue.

Both State Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick have gone on record as saying that money was obligated to the school board.

However, once again Tuesday, the commission voted to adopt a resolution to the delegation asking for the special act. Voting against the move were Commissioners Vernon Dunn and Ted Williams.

Dunn said that the schools were entitled to the money as much as the road and bridge fund. Williams said that the teachers would suffer if the money was withheld.

Chairman J. C. Hutchinson said that the schools can raise their own millage and that money was given to them during an emergency situation.

Laos Rebels Ask Meeting

VIENTIANE, Laos, (UPI)—Former Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma today demanded formation of a provisional government and called for a meeting in Communist-controlled territory to discuss details of effecting a cease-fire in Laos.

Souvanna, self-exiled neutralist leader who is recognized as legal premier by the Communists, issued a statement in Hanoi, Communist North Viet Nam, accepting the cease-fire agreement arranged by Britain and the Soviet Union.

The ex-premier said that to bring about an effective peace in Laos it was essential "to enlarge the government and transform it into a provisional coalition government with the participation of various parties."

World War I Vets To Meet

Hold Steady

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Living costs held steady at an all-time peak in March but the buying power of the average factory worker's paycheck increased slightly, the Labor Department said today.

Postal Operations Confronts Board

The confusing postal delivery system in Seminole County confronted commissioners Tuesday with the board asking for a study of just what county areas are serviced by out-of-county post offices.

The board authorized zoning Director Robert Brown to conduct the study.

West Side School To Hold Roundup

Board Considering Supporting Bill To Prohibit Wells

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery asked the County Commission Tuesday to support a statewide bill prohibiting surface drainage wells from being installed in Florida.

"We know for a fact that there is a danger of contamination in drainage wells and by backing this bill we can eliminate this menace," Avery said.

Avery asked the board to meet with State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. Saturday and get additional details on the bill and that a resolution be adopted in support of the legislation.

The commission held off any action until a conference can be arranged with Cleveland.

Approved a plan for the Jai-Alai fronton on Hwy. 17-92 off SR 436.

Double Celebration Set For Civilians

Brutal Storm Ravages East

By United Press International

Brutal windstorms, hail and heavy rain struck between the Ozarks and the Appalachians today behind a slow-grinding cold front headed for the East Coast.

The late April storm, responsible for ravaging a score of communities Tuesday, gathered strength in Tennessee and Kentucky during the night and set off widely scattered thunderstorms from South Carolina to Maine.

At Warren, Pa., the Allegheny River mounted a foot above 14-foot flood stage, closing off the city's West End and flooding basements in the business district. Swollen creeks deposited two feet of water across Washington, Pa., streets and minor flooding was reported in many western Pennsylvania towns.

Other flooding threatened along the Wash and White Rivers in Indiana and the Petite Saline near Boonville, Mo.

Flash floods deluged the West Virginia Panhandle during the night under two inches of rain. Glutted Wheeling Creek forced motorists to abandon two cars.

Outside the storm area, the nation enjoyed generally fair weather, with patches of snow in the northern Great Plains and northern Rocky Mountains and light drizzle along the northern Pacific Coast.

The U. S. Weather Bureau blamed eastern weather turbulence on a clash of cold and warm air masses in the Ohio and central and lower Mississippi valleys.

Severe thunderstorms and a possible tornado ripped southwestern Ohio late Tuesday, killing at least two persons and leaving widespread damage.

Authorities estimated the storm damaged at least 20 percent of homes and buildings at Eaton, Ohio, a town of 8,000 on the Indiana border. The town's mayor declared an emergency and Ohio Gov. Michael Di Salle ordered National Guard and highway patrol reinforcements for local authorities.

At Cincinnati, winds up to 81 miles per hour toppled a steeple from the Mount Auburn Methodist Church and showered debris that injured two women pedestrians.

Indiana tornadoes Tuesday injured three persons near Richmond and caused damage in four counties. The twister ripped part of the roof off the Fayette Central High School at Harrisburg, spewed furniture across the countryside at Waterloo and picked up trailer-trucks along Interstate Highway 74.

In Arkansas, a tornado chalked up an estimated $150,000 damage at Arkansas State College, Jonesboro, and injured two students. A funnel that never touched down set off 55 m.p.h. winds at Walnut Ridge, Ark. Winds up to 70 m.p.h. uprooted trees at Little Rock, broke stained glass domes in the Capitol chambers and drove flood waters into the Capitol basement.

Castro Firing Squads Shoot Two

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's firing squads have executed two civilians in Matanzas province for joining in an uprising when rebel forces invaded the area last week, Havana radio announced today.

The broadcast said they joined sides with the invaders when the rebels reached Playa Giron in the Bay of Pigs area.

Fifty others were sentenced to jail terms of from one to 20 years.

The men were convicted specifically of revolt against the powers of the state in the provinces of Matanzas and Las Villas, the radio said. It added that they were captured near the Giron beachhead.

The Havana radio announced the executions "officially" today, but the firing squad deaths were understood to have been carried out Sunday.

Today's announcement was the first reference to the 50 persons sentenced to jail, Havana previously announced that 53 persons were on trial in Matanzas, accused of "counter-revolutionary activities."

The total number executed in the past eight days is 24, with 63 killed by firing squads since the first of the year.

Havana's Radio Rebelde said in a broadcast that 98 persons injured in last week's invasion fighting have been hospitalized.

Algeria Insurrection Crushed; Generals Flee

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—The generals who led a four-day Algerian revolt against France fled in disgrace and defeat today but were reported arrested at the Foreign Legion base at Zeralda, 15 miles from Algiers.

French Information Minister Louis Terrenoire announced in Paris that all the ringleaders of the four-day rebellion would be brought to trial before a military tribunal. They face possible death by firing squad.

Terrenoire said one of the ringleaders Gen. Maurice Challe, would be returned to Paris "within the next few hours." He will be lodged in Sainte prison.

The whereabouts of the other leading insurrectionists were not clear. Terrenoire said some of the "traitors" had fled to Gibraltar by plane. He did not identify them.

It was announced that President Charles DeGaulle would continue to hold for a time the dictatorial powers he was given Sunday to deal with the revolt.

DeGaulle moved swiftly to consolidate the amazing victory he had won with hardly a shot fired.

Two Men Face Break-In Count

Two Seminole County men were charged today with breaking into two places of business in the county, the Sheriff's office reported.

Karl Wayne Martin and Roland Health were charged with entering Fogsate Equipment Plant in Forest City and Payne's Hardware store in Longwood.

The men took some equipment in the Fogsate place and over $400 in fishing supplies from the hardware store, Deputy J. Q. Gallo-way said.

Annual TB Meet Set This Week

Fleicher will leave Thursday to attend the three-day annual meeting of the Florida Tuberculosis and Health Assn., which will take place at the Hotel Robert Meyer in Jacksonville.

The local office of the TB Assn. will be closed from Thursday until Monday.

The City Recreation Department announced today a change in the day and time of the baton classes. Beginning this week, classes will meet at 8 a. m. Saturdays at the Southside School, instead of Fridays at 4 p. m. as previously scheduled.

Rocket Failure Fizzles U. S. '61 Space Man Hope

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's hopes of firing an astronaut into orbit this year were all but ended today by the destruction of an off-course Atlas missile in a crucial test shot.

Scientists still planned to send a man on a shorter trip into space next week, however.

An escape system rescued a space capsule a split-second before its rocket booster was blown up by a range safety officer Tuesday. The functioning of the escape system heightened the chances that an astronaut may ride a Redstone rocket 115 miles up and about 250 miles over the Atlantic next Tuesday.

The capsule fired Tuesday carried a robot "astronaut" which the United States had hoped to orbit with a modified Atlas rocket and recover 110 minutes later—a full rehearsal for an orbital flight by one of the nation's seven highly trained astronauts.

But the rocket veered from its flight path and had to be destroyed 41 seconds after blast-off. This was the second failure in the Atlas' last three missions in the Project Mercury man-into-space program.

Mercury Director Robert H. Gilruth said later a manned orbital flight for America "is still on the schedule for this calendar year."

Other sources said, however, the prospects were dim indeed that all the shots would go "down the line" toward a previously planned November target date.

Congo Troops Detain Tshombe

COQUILHATVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Congolese troops halted Katanga Province President Moles Tshombe at the airport today from a round-table conference of Congolese leaders.

The incident came two days after Tshombe had delivered an ultimatum to President Joseph Kasavubu demanding that the central government leader renounce the United Nations.

Tshombe told more than 150 delegates gathered here at a conference seeking to set up plans for a federation of states in this strife-torn country that he would not return to the meetings unless Kasavubu accepted his ultimatum.

Some reports reaching Leopoldville claimed Tshombe had been arrested. This could not be confirmed immediately.

Police Probing Grocery Break-In

Police today are investigating a break-in at Owen's Grocery Store on Willow Ave. where a large assortment of cigars were stolen.

Entry was gained by breaking the lock on the front door sometime Tuesday night.

Among the items stolen were eight cartons of cigars and assorted boxes of candy.

Technical Hitch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A technical hitch today postponed for 24 hours the last scheduled test of America's man-in-space capsule before the first flight of an astronaut.

Colorful Program Highlights Girl Scout Fair

Colorful ceremonies marked the Girl Scout Fair at the Civic Center.

Mathieux Works In Art Display

The final one-man show of the season was placed this week by the Sanford Art Assn. in the Benkrik showroom.

The works of Joseph Mathieux, high school art instructor and member of the association, will be on display for two weeks. The association requested that he show his own paintings after he supervised the arrangements of all the other one-man shows.

The pictures range from realism to very modern and are executed in many media, including pastel, water color, tempera and oils.

Mathieux joined the school art program after having been a teacher of civics, American history and vocational guidance. He has continued his own art studies and is a member of the new class being instructed by Hal McIntosh in figure drawing and portraiture.

The art association invites the public to view the exhibit daily during business hours at Benkrik's.

of Scouting in Sanford. As she spoke, organizers and members of the first Girl Scout troop in Sanford stepped through the large Girl Scout emblem on stage. Girl Scout officials were introduced by Carol Jo Oxford and at this time Mrs. Handall Chase was presented with the "Thank You" badge by Mrs. W. M. Barksdale in recognition of her efforts in behalf of Girl Scouting.

Denmark exchange student, Benita Buck introduced and spoke of her visit here, her plans and the value of international friendship.

The Juliette Low Fund story was told by Maria Rowland and Mrs. Robert Stutzman, fair chairman served as marshal while the Girl Scout troops, all in uniform and carrying their troop flags, passed in review.

During the rest of the fair visitors viewed the exhibits on every phase of scouting, projects, homemaking, arts and crafts and other fields.

Entertainment was provided by two Lake Mary boys and girls troops who performed Indian dances. After two dances, the Indians jumped down off the stage and took some members of the audience up on the stage to dance with them. Some very young Brownies, not sure whether the Indians were real or not, gave loud screams and headed "for the hills."

Another Lake Mary troop also entertained the audience with authentic Hawaiian dances, complete with palm and flower setting and grass skirts and leis.

Mrs. William Miller, district Chairman commended the participants and said "We extend our heartfelt thanks to all leaders and parents, officers and Scouts who worked so hard to make our fair a success."

THE VERY LATEST STYLES OF PARIS FASHIONS were shown to members of the Elks Club at a Fashion Show and party held Saturday at the Club. Posing in their original creations, designed exclusively for this show are from left "Peple" (Pete) Bowersox, in blue satin; "Miss Stephanie" (Steve) Androsko in a Hawaiian Mumu; "Miss Janice" (P. Donahue in the latest thing in beachwear; "Miss Willa Mae" (Bill) Hardin in a tall-girl fashion and handsome stole; "Miss Bobby" (Robert) Billimer, in an off-the-shoulder gown; and "Miss Mitzie" (Marshall) Langston, in two-piece bathing suit with beach hat, sun glasses and towel to complete the ensemble. # The Cliche Buster

James P. Mitchell, former secretary of labor in the Eisenhower cabinet, has dealt a fresh blow at some fading clichés which still clutter the American political scene.

He did it with his handsome 42,000-vote victory for the New Jersey Republican governorship nomination, a triumph which thrust him into politics after a lifetime of successfully wooing both labor and business leaders in the labor relations field.

Some appraisers said that as a Republican Catholic, Mitchell couldn't win his party's nomination because most Catholic voters are Democratic and would only make their weight felt in November. Mitchell rode right over that one.

It was also argued that Jersey voters wouldn't take him because he hadn't spent much time in the state and didn't know its problems. Both his opponents were veterans of the state senate.

Mitchell's winning margin seems an effective reply. Actually, the notion voters won't take a relative newcomer to politics has been chipped at often before by other successful bidders. But Mitchell certainly helped to demolish it.

Then there was that thing about how in a primary the man with the biggest organizational support is almost sure to win. Mitchell put his new face against the old organization and took the honors.

Few Republicans in national politics will be anything but happy at the outcome. They think Mitchell has a strong chance to beat his less well known adversary, Richard J. Hughes, next fall and put New Jersey back in the Republican column it left eight years ago.

They dream fondly of duplicating, in reverse, Gov. Robert Meyner's Democratic win in 1953. They feel it set the tone for a larger Democratic score in 1954, and don't see why they can't get the same kind of general national lift from a Mitchell triumph.

All three GOP candidates were billed progressive, but since Mitchell is best known he may give Republican liberals a better boost. Mitchell's chief sponsor and tireless supporter, Sen. Clifford Case, picks up stature both at home and in Congress. He put everything he had on the line and delivered.

The outcome inevitably leaves some scars on the winner's chief rival, state Sen. Walter Jones, who commands the county with the largest Republican vote, a key area in the fall contest.

But patching efforts are sure to be pursued with dedication. Republicans don't wish to fluff their one big chance in 1961 to get back on the political escalator.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE #48: Donna D., aged 34, is a cultured English girl. She was engaged to an aristocratic college graduate named Gerald who loved music and had the refinement you'd expect would attract Donna.

But Gerald overly worshipped Donna. He placed her on such a high pedestal that he reverenced her. Subconsciously, Donna probably enjoyed some of the prestige of Gerald's mother and sisters.

For, despite the fact they were engaged, Gerald still had never kissed her!

This disturbed Donna's feminine pride. Her roommate knew of the gloomy nature of her dates, so one night the roommate challenged Donna.

"Will you get you a box of chocolates that Gerald will not kiss you tonight on your date," she said.

Well, Donna had to take the wager. Gerald took her to the concert that night; then to a supper club afterwards.

As they spun along toward her home, he still hadn't put his arm around her, so she snatched tactfully and said:

"My, isn't it cool tonight!"

Instead of picking up his cue, he thoughtfully placed her wrist around her shoulders, but that was all.

Donna knew it was only a couple of miles farther till they reached her home, so she grew desperate and shivered harder than ever.

"OH, IT'S REALLY cold tonight," she exclaimed, and again Gerald dutifully reached over to place her wrap around her shoulders.

Before he withdrew his arm, however, Donna added:

"Your arm feels so warm, just leave it there," which he did.

She snuggled down into the crook of his shoulder and finally had her face close to his.

As he glanced down into her eager eyes, with her lips expectantly half parted, he still had made no follow-up, so she gently suggested:

"Why don't you?"

To which he responded with an arched:

"Why don't I what?"

So Donna kissed him to win the box of chocolates and vindicate her feminine allure.

Shakespeare perfectly diagnosed this type of situation when he wrote his famous "Taming of the Shrew."

For a girl like Donna will ultimately become a nagging wife unless her husband learns to give her some man treatment, at least occasionally.

Peter Edson's Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) Securities and Exchange Commission here is keeping a close watch on the battle of financial giants for management of the Allegheny Corp. that controls over $7.5 billion in railroad and other investments.

This battle comes to a head May 1 at Allegheny's annual stockholders meeting at the Lord Baltimore hotel, Baltimore, Md.

The "general" on one side of this war is Allen P. Kirby, 65-year-old Eastern financier worth around $200 million. He is a son of one of the six founders of Woodworth and is today its largest single stockholder. He is also largest single stockholder in New York Central and Allegheny Corp. itself.

Leaders of the opposing forces for control of Allegheny are the Murchison brothers—John D., 59, and Clint D. Jr., 57—reportedly worth about $150 million. They are the sons of Clint W. Murchison Sr., old and ailing Texas oilman, one of the richest men in America.

Securities and Exchange Commission's responsibility in a battle of this kind is to see that stockholders whose votes are solicited by warring factions are given accurate information in compliance with SEC proxy rules.

It provides that there can be no false or misleading statements by either side "which directly or indirectly impugn character, integrity or personal reputation or make charges concerning improper, illegal or immoral conduct or associations, without factual foundation."

SEC itself can't order corrections. But it can seek court injunctions against the use of such material. And this weapon acts as a strong deterrent on unethical operators. In the Allegheny battle, there have been a number of charges by both sides.

The interest in this case is far wider than that, however. In addition to the 28,000 holders of Allegheny's 10 million shares of common, owners of stock in its principal subsidiaries have a stake in this war. Allegheny controls the $2.5 billion New York Central and the $1.5 billion Missouri Pacific and the $2.5 billion Investors Diversified Services—IDS—which manages eight investment companies with over 600,000 shareholders.

Recently, Allegheny has also bought into Transamerica Corp. West Coast insurance holding company, the B & O railroad to support it and NYC in their effort to control C & O.

Allegheny Chairman Kirby and his former associate, the late railroad tycoon Robert E. Young, were originally allied with Clint

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I stopped a man on the street and asked him for directions. (I was new in town.) He walked me to where I was going, as it wasn't very far. We struck up a friendship. That was two years ago. I won't go into detail, but now we are very much in love. Abby, he says he has no family at all. No sisters, brothers, parents, nobody! He never talks about his job, his past or his co-workers. He says he "sells." We sometimes talk of marriage but nothing definite. I am 27 and he is 34. Is it possible that he can have not one relative or friend or co-worker?

GIRL ALONE

DEAR GIRL: Possible, yes. Probably, no. Find out what he sells, for whom and then check him. It could be a "line" you don't want.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady for a year now, and it is getting close to engagement stage. I am 19 and my "problem" is 20. When we go out on a date, we usually stop to get something to eat on the way home.

He always orders a hamburger WITH ONIONS. When we go to goodnight, all I can smell are onions. Could you suggest something?

ONION HATER

he should "hold the onions" if he would "hold his girl."

DEAR ABBY: We have a 22-year-old niece whose pet dog recently died. No one can talk to her. She is in another world. She refuses to eat, and she cries all night. We are afraid she's losing her mind. We try to tell her that 12 years is a full life for a dog, but she says hers could have lived to be 20. She even talks of committing suicide. We have had humans die in this family and she never took it so hard. How can we help her get over it? Don't suggest a puppy. We bought her one and she wouldn't even look at it.

WORRIED AUNT

DEAR WORRIED: All pet owners suffer some heartache at the loss of a cherished pet, but your niece has gone off the deep end. An emotionally mature, healthy person adjusts to such a loss. She needs professional help—and NOW!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently attended the wedding reception of a friend. We took a very special gift. But the thank you note we received was for the wrong gift. Should we let it go or should we let them know what our gift to them was?

MRS. M.

DEAR MRS. M.: By all means, let them know. Good-humoredly, of course.

We The Women:

In a Seattle, Wash., suburb three mothers recently picketed the modern version of the little red schoolhouse in protest against parents taxing their children to and from school.

The picketing mothers claimed that the mom-driven "taxi" jam in front of the schoolhouse and creates a traffic hazard for the children who walk to school.

Since it was designed as a walk-in school—with none of its pupils residing more than nine-tenths of a mile away—the protesting mothers figured it ought to be kept strictly walk-in.

However sensible their reasoning, these mothers probably won't win their "let 'em walk" battle. For too many mothers today feel guilty if they don't continually knock themselves out to do things for their children. They just can't bring themselves to send their children to school on foot. They don't feel they are being good mothers if they aren't being overly protective.

Yet, actually any child whose mother drives him to and from school when he lives in easy walking distance is depriving him of a lot of fun along with denying him the chance to learn to look after himself.

Children who walk to and from school don't clip along at a fast pace. They dawdle. They stop to look and examine things along the way. They chuck rocks. They meet up with friends. They tell secrets. They argue. Sometimes they get in fights to settle old scores.

But it all adds up to a little adventure each day.

But kids who have always been chauffeured have no way of knowing what they are missing. They are so used to being overprotected, they think they like it.

From Rome Henry McLemore

NAPLES— Not having met so many as one thus since I have been in Italy, I am wholly in sympathy with the Italian's objection to the TV portrayal of their countrymen as assassins, hijackers, rumrunners, and banditti in general.

But the objection does pose a problem. When the police records show that a Giuseppe or a Romeo was the mischief maker, would it be entirely sporting to pin it on the wrong man, say, a Polynesian, a Tibetan, a Turk, or a Greek? These, too, are very sensitive people, and undoubtedly would hypenated names embracing half the globe.

A gang chieftain, when ready to rub out the opposition on the other side of town, would summon his torpedo men thusly:

"Okay, Algernon-Frits-Joe-Pier-ro, you handle the shotgun and you, Mustafa-Nicolai-Rocco-Sandy stay at the wheel of the getaway car. When the job is done, all of you meet at the abandoned house that is a combination villa-bungalow-skycraper-ranch-house-temple-grass shack-chapel and hacienda."

This mixed architectural style would prevent anyone from identifying Kubeks with a real country.

To further cloak the identity of the Kubeks they would speak English.

peranto, brew an illegal alcoholic drink called "Kufu," a mixture of bourbon, Scotch, vermouth, gin, sake, kava, and Tokay.

The Kubeks, I believe, would settle the problem. For a while, anyway. Of course, before too long some man, or group of men, would claim to be genuine Kubeks and set up a boiler, threaten court action, and vow never again to use a drop of the glue made by the glue company sponsoring the Kubek program.

Eichmann Court Told Of Vast Plot Against Jews

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Although Adolf Eichmann was only a lieutenant-colonel, he wielded vast influence on the German government and was co-author of the plan to exterminate the Jews of Europe, the court was told today.

The prosecution in the trial of the man accused of the mass slaughter of six million Jews succeeded in placing into the court record a deposition charging that Eichmann suggested the "final solution" — murder — of the Jewish problem to Nazi Police Chief Heinrich Himmler. Himmler took it from there and Adolf Hitler personally issued the order.

The deposition was made by Dieter Wiltsney, a former subordinate of Eichmann in the SS Corps who was executed as a war criminal. Something happened to the great friendship that once existed between them, and Wiltsney offered to cooperate with the American Army in running Eichmann down after the war. The offer was rejected. Wiltsney said Eichmann and SS General Odilo Globocnik between them conceived the "final solution."

The words from the grave were a damaging blow to Eichmann's case, and he seemed to realize it. He made many notes inside his bullet-proof glass box to the left of the judges' bench. Occasionally he frowned as he listened to the reading of the Wiltsney deposition. Eichmann's entire defense is built around the contention that he never had anything to do with formulating Nazi policy, was opposed to the extermination of the Jews, and was only a "small sausage" blindly obeying orders.

TWA To Start Showing Movies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Trans World Airlines today announced plans for showing first-run, full-length movies on its long-range jet flights.

The airline plans to start showing the feature films, some of which will be pre-release, on New York-Los Angeles and New York-San Francisco non-stop flights starting July 18. Showings on international flight will begin Aug. 14.

TWA tested the movie idea several months ago and decided to equip its long-range jets for showings after getting favorable passenger reaction.

Only first class passengers will see the movies. TWA emphasized they will not be a "captive audience," however. The sound-track is carried to passengers via individual headsets equipped with personal sound control.

Dispute Rages Over Intelligence Failure In Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When President Kennedy announced that the "facts on the matter involving Cuba will come out in due time," he didn't say they would come out fighting.

High-ranking U. S. officials have launched a "battle of informed sources" over what caused the anti-Castro invasion to sink in the swamps of Cuba.

A top official started Round Two of the fight Tuesday. He denied there were any intelligence miscalculations involved in the failure. He wouldn't say what he thought did cause it.

His version was that there was no misjudgment of Castro's military power, and no misjudgment of his control over the Cuban people. He said the United States knew how many planes and tanks Castro had and the ability of his forces to use them.

This was exactly the opposite of what other equally high officials have said. They said the invasion failed because Castro's forces met the rebels with more planes and other fighting equipment than the United States thought they had.

They also said both Washington and the Cuban rebels underestimated Castro's iron grip on the people, which prevented a general uprising.

Kennedy told his news conference last week that there would be a lot of background briefings "by interested people or interested agencies. . . I think you will be informed."

There has been a rash of background briefings, but sorting out the information is something else again. The dispute boils down to whether the invasion was a fiasco because of intelligence or military failures.

The answer probably won't be known until Kennedy himself announces it, possibly from the study of intelligence methods he has ordered Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to make.

All the officials taking part in the briefings have remained anonymous. This is because they refuse to deal with such subjects as Cuba, France and Laos without some sort of escape hatch in case their information boomerangs.

The background briefing, which has been a popular pastime in the capital for some time, provides the public with inside information and interpretation. It is not without hazards, however.

One official undertook last week to advise reporters that Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were at odds over the attempt to topple Castro.

The first balloons were launched in 1952.

Live It Up You Kansas City Fans

United Press International
Live it up, you long-suffering Kansas City fans!
No one is more entitled. This is one time you can really rave about a fearsome powerhouse like those record-busting Athletics and who's going to give you any back talk?
Start the conversation mildly, maybe even by discussing how greatly improved the Minnesota Twins look this year. Everyone is sure to agree.
Then drop the bomb by casually mentioning Tuesday night's score—Kansas City 20, Minnesota 2.
It marked the most runs ever scored in Kansas City's major league history, topping the previous club high of 17 runs registered against the Boston Red Sox on June 15, 1958, and against the Cleveland Indians on April 24, 1957.

The only player in the Kansas City lineup who failed to connect safely in Tuesday night's 16-hit onslaught was rookie pitcher Norm Bass, making his first major league start. Understandably, Bass wasn't too upset, though, because he limited the Twins to seven hits and gained his first victory even though he issued nine walks.
For all the heavy slugging, there wasn't a single home run hit in the game, played before a meager but delighted crowd of 4,664 at Kansas City. Haywood Sullivan had a perfect night, driving in five runs with a pair of triples, a double and a single in four official trips.
Bill Tuttle, the only player left on the club who participated in the 17-6 shellacking of Boston three years ago, drove in four runs with a triple and two singles.
The A's routed loser Ted Sadowski during a six-run rally in the third inning and then rubbed the Twins' noses in the dirt with an eight-run outburst in the sixth.
Baltimore beat Cleveland, 5-2, and Boston defeated Washington, 6-1, in other American League games. Wet grounds caused postponement of the Los Angeles Angels-Chicago White Sox game, and rain washed out the game between the first-place Detroit Tigers and the New York Yankees.
San Francisco took over the National League lead with a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles, and Milwaukee beat St. Louis, 4-3. Rain and wet grounds forced postponement of the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game and the Cincinnati-Chicago contest.
"Diamond Jim" Gentile drove in three runs in Baltimore's win over Cleveland. Gentile hit his third homer of the season with one on in the first inning to give winning pitcher Steve Barber a lead he never let slip away. Hoyt Wilhelm nailed down Barber's second victory when he came in with two on and two out in the ninth and struck out Jim Piersall on three itches. Gary Bell lost his third straight and has yet to win.

Big Gene Conley, better known for his basketball rather than his baseball exploits in Boston, made a successful debut with the Red Sox when he was credited with their victory over the Senators. Obtained in a winter deal with the Phillies, Conley held Washington to seven hits until the ninth when Mike Fornieles came to his rescue.
The Red Sox hopped on loser Pete Burnside for four runs on as many hits in the second inning when they put together Billy Harrell's double, three singles, an error, a hit batsman and a sacrifice fly for all the runs they really needed.

Qualifying Round For Peewee Golf Tournament Set June 13

A special qualifying round for Seminole County area entrants in the National Peewee Golf Championships, set for June 13 and 14 in Orlando, will be held June 8 at Rolling Hills Country Club, the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce and Minute Maid Company, sponsors, announced today.

CPO Wives Cop Three In Play

The C.P.O. Wives won three points from Al's Barber Shop although Margie Woods rolled a whopping 241 game and she and Lee Kromas both rolled turkeys. Shoemaker Construction was the only team to make a clean sweep, thanks to Ollie Yalnek converting the 8-7 split, as they rolled against the Capri.

Dawn's Beauty Salon won three points from Stenstrom Realty. Nola Ferguson and Verna Bolton rolled turkeys to help Smith's Amoco win three points from Monroe Harbor. Betty Cox rolled a turkey for the Harbor. North Orlando Homes and the Big Dip split 2-2. Other splits converted were 2-7 Betty Kurimal, Jean Webster and the 2-10 by Mary Hince.

Congratulations to Margie Woods for doing so well in the City Tournament. A special "well done!" to Helen Kaelin and Jane Spolski on winning the City Double Championship and to Marjorie Kipp and Betty Smith for coming in second. These four girls and all in their first year bowling. All bow in the Hi-nocce league.

First Federal Wins

First Federal topped Chase 18-14 in Little Major League play Tuesday, while Perfection beat Florida State Bank, 9-4.

REALTOR WEEK

APRIL 23-29

This is the official seal of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Only members of the Association may display this seal. And only those who display this seal may call themselves Realtors.

A Realtor is a professional in every sense of the word. He has the special skill, knowledge, and experience to help people make wise decisions when they buy and sell real estate.

And he has taken a pledge to use this knowledge on behalf of the people he represents.

Membership in both the National Association of Real Estate Boards and local real estate boards is governed by rigid rules and requirements. That's why belonging to these organizations is a special honor.

And that's why you can be sure that your real estate investment is in good hands if it's handled by a Realtor.

Woman Sticks To Strange Vow After 'Inheriting' Burglar

LONDON (UPI)—A burglar... a stolen tweed suit... a solemn vow... and an unusual bequest. These were the ingredients that made up a true story stranger than most fictional plots dreamed up by the world's most famous mystery authors.

When the husband of Eibel Mannin, a well-known British writer, died two years ago, she "inherited" from him a burglar—a real live one with sticky fingers who had spent many years in her majesty's prisons.

The story of her inheritance was unveiled in court Monday. It all began in 1954, when Miss Mannin and her husband, Reginald Reynolds, were burglarized.

Police arrested ex-convict Frank Stanley for the theft and sent him to prison for seven years. Reynolds, moved by an impulse, went to the prison to talk to the man who had robbed him. From that first conversation, he regarded Stanley as "my burglar" and began to try to reform him.

The frequent visits appeared to have a good effect on Stanley. Reynolds told the convict that one of the suits stolen from his home was an Irish tweed garment that had great sentimental value. A few days later, Stanley sent Reynolds $28 to replace the suit.

Miss Mannin bought some tweed in Dublin and her husband had another suit made from the material.

Students Attend Rollins Festival

Twenty Spanish students of Seminole High School attended the annual Cervantes Festival at Rollins College Saturday under the supervision of their instructor, Mrs. Clay Williams.

Gathering at the Casa Iberia, the inter-American center at Rollins, the students were welcomed to the all-day festival by Professor Angela Campbell of the Rollins faculty who explained the Spanish program offered there.

Robert Bullard represented Seminole High in a Spanish quiz program.

After dinner, the students attended a play presented by the Rollins Spanish department, "An Hour with Don Quixote," in honor of Cervantes.

Those attending included Mrs. Williams, Mark Williams, Janet Ely, Peggy Powell, Michael Smith, Martha Wheeler, William Young, Larry Ann Ziegler, Richard Bruce, Larry Gilstrap, Cindy Lake, Linda Mills, Oscar Perez, Robert Bullard, John Westgate, Dennis Smith, Nancy Elkas, Ann Pharr, Jack Ceolo, Pam Jones and Stanley Hottelaw.

"Stanley told my husband he would go straight till the suit dropped off," Reginald," Miss Mannin said today.

After Miss Mannin inherited her husband's "interest" in Stanley, she visited him regularly. When he was released last October, she got him a job in a hospital which he kept until last January.

She remembered Stanley's vow to go straight as long as the tweed suit was being worn by her husband.

"So, instead of throwing it out when my husband died, I had it made into a suit for myself," she said. "I continued to wear it in the hope it would make him remember his promise. It is the suit I am wearing now. It has become a kind of symbol."

Miss Mannin wore the suit to court Monday. Stanley, now 58, pleaded guilty to robbing houses of property valued at $2,716. He told the court he was "ashamed and disgusted" to have betrayed Miss Mannin's trust in him.

The woman writer's eloquence in court won him a final chance for probation instead of a 14-year jail sentence.

Miss Mannin made it clear today that Stanley would never figure in any of her novels.

"He's simply my burglar," she said.

Foodstore Burglarized Of $450; Patrolman Hurt Rushing To Scene

The Little Giant Food Store on French Ave. was robbed of $450 early today and a Sanford Police man was shaken up in an auto accident while speeding to the robbery, police reported.

Store Manager Robert Borsdorf told police that he stepped out of the backdoor of the place at about 8:45 and "that's the last thing I remember."

Police Chief Roy Williams said Borsdorf was found some 15 minutes later by Don Street an employe of the store bound and gagged and unconscious. Borsdorf was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital and is reported in good condition today.

The manager told police after he recovered, that he didn't remember anything that happened. Williams reported that the money was taken from the cash register and that no merchandise is reported missing.

At the same time, a Sanford patrolman was shaken up and his patrol car demolished while rushing to the scene of the crime. Williams said that Patrolman Fred Kelley received the call and while traveling on French Ave. swerved to avoid hitting a car making a turn on 12th St. Kelley missed the car but smashed into a concrete marker.

Probers Say Cape Wages 'Border On Subversion'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators, charging that missile base workers sometimes make so much money it "borders almost on subversion" summoned more contractors today to tell about soaring wages and inefficiency.

They said common laborers made more than the nation's intensively-trained astronauts, and pipefitters at a California airbase got paid for doing nothing.

Chairman John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), said accounts of slow-downs and walkouts at the test sites and missile bases were "almost revolting" in such vital programs. He said it "borders almost on subversion."

Committee investigators told about Cape Canaveral electrician R. J. Cortez, who worked 84 hours one week in 1958 and made $647. For two hours before 8 a. m. and two hours after 4:30 p. m. he got time and a half. For all other hours, he got double time.

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle plans a purge of the army and may dissolve the famed French Foreign Legion as a result of the abortive military revolt in Algeria, government sources said today.

The sources said the president intends to take "drastic" action to remove both left-wing and right-wing extremists from positions of power.

It was the Foreign Legion, created mainly for colonial wars, which provided rebellious army generals with the bulk of their support in the Algerian insurrection Saturday through Tuesday.

Permissive legislation for Sanford to use the county tax roll was introduced into the house Wednesday, State Rep. Gordon Frederick said today.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy announced a rigid new code of ethics for administration officials today and asked Congress to stiffen laws against improper use of federal posts for private gain.

In a special message on conflicts of interests, Kennedy also proposed outlawing private pay propped to federal regulatory agencies in cases which must be decided through formal hearings.

The latter provision would apply to members of Congress. If administration officials have their way, it is doubtful that they will, since many lawmakers insist it is proper for them to talk to agencies about cases involving their constituents.

tributing although not in the open. The bill was introduced by Sen. Sutton of Orlando, as an outgrowth of the payola scandal in which road contractors admitted making under-the-table payments to highway engineers.

The bill sets a penalty of up to 10 years prison or a $1,000 fine. It would apply to any public officer or employe who solicits or accepts under-the-table payments, as well as to any person making or offering such payments.

Kelly pointed out that the Hillsborough County grand jury which indicted five road engineers for taking payola could do no more than criticize the contracting firm which made the payments because present law does not make that illegal.
