Only Treatment for Radiation Sickness

Doctor Begins Bone Marrow Transplants In Moscow

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A U.S. doctor who specializes in bone marrow transplants, the only treatment for radiation sickness, has started performing surgery on Soviet victims of the Chernobyl nuclear plant disaster. It was reported today.

Dr. Robert Gale, who went to Moscow to provide expert medical advice after offering his assistance through U.S. industrialist Armand Hammer, told the Los Angeles Times in a telephone interview he is "actually at work," performing surgery on people suffering from radiation exposure.

Gale declined to give details but said he is scheduled to continue treating the victims, who have been brought to a Moscow hospital. He added that he expects Soviet officials to release details about the medical care soon.

"It would be in everyone's best interest to do so," said Gale, an associate professor of medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Gale is president of the International Bone Marrow Transplant Registry, an organization based in Milwaukee that maintains computer files to help find bone marrow donors.

He was mentioned by name Sunday night in a formal expression of gratitude by the Soviet government transmitted by the official news agency Tass.

Gale left Los Angeles Thursday night, saying he planned to discuss with Soviet doctors American innovations in bone marrow transplantation and assess the radiation exposure of people suffering from the reactor fallout.

He told United Press International before departing that bone marrow transplantation, which is often used to successfully treat leukemia and other malignancies of the blood, is the only way to treat radiation sickness.

Thomas, Farr Discussed Pool Proposal

This afternoon's formal deliberations by the Sanford City Commission regarding the Sanford municipal pool proposal has been preceded by a private discussion of the matter between Commissioners Dave Farr and Bob Thomas.

The possibility of the city utilizing the Sanford Airport pool as its municipal facility was addressed by the two men by phone on April 29, Thomas said.

Farr does not recall the date of the conversation, but he acknowledges it occurred.

Thomas said he made the April 29 call to Farr "to talk about something else" and "just mentioned (during it) about the pool and what was being planned for discussion (by the city commission today)."

What followed, according to Thomas, was a conversation regarding the pool which "didn't last more than five minutes."

Farr and Thomas both said that safety at the airport pool was addressed during their conversation. Their discussion addressed statements Airport Director J.S. "Red" Cleveland made to the media regarding the pool's proximity to taxiways and industrial complexes and the dangers this might pose for youngsters, Thomas said.

Farr used the pool as a member of the Bath and Tennis Club that leased the facility from the authority until earlier this year. In response to Cleveland's safety concerns for youngsters, Thomas said "I asked Dave if he thought there was enough room to build a fence around pool and he said he felt there was."

This morning, when contacted by the Evening Herald, Farr said the security matter was discussed, although he declined to elaborate on it. He said he preferred to comment on the pool proposal at this afternoon's work session.

Thomas also said he and Farr discussed the five months that have transpired since the city commission received the pool proposal and the measures that are to be taken today to address it.

Thomas said he told Farr that city staff should have contacted the airport authority following the commission's acceptance of the youth report in concept. The report called for the city to acquire a municipal swim facility and suggested the airport pool as site for it.

Thomas said the "something else" of the phone call involved a vote by the city commission in a meeting held the night before. He said the topic of conversation between himself and Farr then turned to the pool proposal.

Thomas has become the city's most vocal proponent of the pool proposal, which he feels is "necessary for the development of the city's youth."

He has also alluded to the possibility that both the black and white communities have not responded to the proposal due to racial tensions. The two municipal swim centers Sanford operated during the 1960's and 80's were closed down soon after being integrated.

Seminole/Orange Area Targeted For VA Hospital

By Sarah Fischer
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole/Orange County area has been targeted as the site for a new Veterans Administration Hospital by a U.S. General Accounting Office (GAO) report.

The report, initiated by U.S. Representative Bill McCollum (5th District-Florida), rejects an earlier recommendation that Brevard County house the East Central Florida facility.

The report sites improved accessibility to a VA hospital by the greatest number of veterans through a facility located in Orange or Seminole Counties.

In June 1983, a Veterans Administration planning board recommended that 1,525 additional VA hospital beds be constructed in four new Florida hospitals, slated to be built in Palm Beach County, Lee County, Brevard County and one in the Panhandle area.

The VA's chief medical director approved the recommendation for the Brevard site in May 1985.

McCollum said he requested that the GAO evaluate the criteria and data used for site selection and complete an independent report. The draft study, issued last month, is expected to become formal once the 30-day comment period expires later this week, McCollum said.

According to the report, the GAO found a "significant computational error and insufficient evidence in the data made available to (VA) board members to support the board's decision to locate a hospital in Brevard County," he said.

"Most data considered by the board members favored locating the hospital in the Orange/Seminole area, which has a greater concentration of veterans, particularly older and lower income veterans who typically are the greatest users of VA facilities," McCollum quoted the report as saying.

The GAO has recommended the Veterans Administration suspend further planning for a hospital in Brevard County and reassess its site decision for a hospital in East Central Florida, he said.

The VA would provide the results of the reassessment to the House and Senate Veterans Affairs and Appropriations Committees under the GAO's recommendation, McCollum said. The proposed hospital will require Congressional authorization and funding, he said.

The GAO's report is under advisement by VA Administrator General Thomas Turnage, McCollum said.

He called for "an expeditious reassessment of the site so that we can get a much needed new hospital in East Central Florida for our veterans as soon as possible."

Longwood On Verge Of Raising Sewer Fees

Customers of the city-owned Skylark and Columbus Harbour sewage treatment plants will have their sewer rates and water and sewer charges increased if the Longwood City Commission adopts three ordinances on its agenda for tonight.

Public hearings are scheduled for the 7:30 p.m. meeting at city hall, 175 W. Warren Ave. The commissioners met with residents of the two areas Wednesday night at a workshop session to brief them on the city's plans to build a 600,000 gallons per day plant that would allow the two package plants to be phased out.

Under one proposed ordinance the residential rate for sewer service would be doubled from $12 a month to $24 a month and the commercial rate would be 300 percent of the water bill or a minimum of $24, whichever is greater.

The monthly sewer fee for vacant buildings is $4.

Another proposed ordinance calls for developers to pay a Development Assistance Fee (impact fee) of $5 per gallon per day to reserve sewer capacity. The minimum fee will be $1,500 for each establishment.

The other ordinance will levy a late charge of $15 for non-payment of water

Summit Reaches Pact On Terrorism, Soviets

TOKYO (UPI) — The world's leading industrial democracies joined hands today to fight international terrorism, singling out Libya as a chief offender after hours of the behind-the-scenes bargaining and infighting at the 12th economic summit.

The leaders of the United States, Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Canada and Japan also urged the Soviet Union to supply "detailed and complete information" on the Chernobyl disaster, criticizing Moscow for not being forthcoming when the fallout began spreading across international borders, eventually as far as Japan.

The United States, which came to the summit determined to get a condemnation of Libya, won out over stiff opposition which forced the leaders to hold an unscheduled afternoon session to hammer out details of the terrorism document.

British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher was described by summit participants as the leader of the majority pushing for a tough stance on terrorism and the naming of Libya.

France and Italy were singled out as the strongest opposition to the hard-line measures.

"It is more than we hoped for," said White House spokesman Larry Speakes, after Japanese Foreign Minister Shintaro Abe read the joint

IN BRIEF

Soviet Official Says 49,000 Evacuated From Disaster Site

LONDON (UPI) — A ranking Soviet official says some 49,000 people were evacuated after the Chernobyl nuclear disaster but neighboring countries were not told of the accident immediately because they were "not under danger."

Georgi Arbatov, a member of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee, said radiation from the catastrophe was "comparable to one explosion in the atmosphere of a nuclear bomb." He did not detail the intensity of the resulting radioactivity.

Arbatov's comments, in English, were carried Sunday from Moscow by the British Broadcasting Corp. on an international radio "phone-in" program. Arrangements for Arbatov's participation in the program were made long before the Chernobyl accident, believed to have happened April 26.

The Soviets evacuated some 49,000 people from towns and villages in a 6-mile radius around Chernobyl, but that was simply a precaution against fallout, he said.

Arbatov, director of the Institute of U.S. and Canadian Studies, defended Moscow's handling of information about the disaster. "Our major attention was there where the danger was the greatest," he said.

Radiation Levels Dropping

By United Press International

Wary Eastern European officials kept bans on drinking fresh milk and using rain water despite drops in radiation from the Chernobyl nuclear reactor disaster.

The West German Interior Ministry said Sunday radiation levels had fallen 30 percent and no more radioactivity was coming from the Chernobyl plant.

West German authorities also said people should still avoid drinking fresh milk, should wash fresh fruit and vegetables and should not give cows fresh fodder.

Neighboring Austria on Saturday temporarily banned imports of milk, dairy products, fruit and vegetables from the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

The precautions accompanied investigations by the West German government whether to sue the Soviet Union over the fallout, Wolfgang von Geldern, state secretary at the Agriculture Ministry, said in an interview published Sunday in the Bild newspaper.

Shake-Up May Help End War

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Afghan President Babrak Karmal resigned as head of Afghanistan's ruling party amid signs the Soviet-installed leader had lost favor with Moscow.

The resignation came as preparations were made in Geneva for today's resumption of talks between Afghanistan and Pakistan on a possible withdrawal of the 115,000 Soviet troops from Afghanistan.

State-run Kabul Radio said Karmal, 57, resigned Sunday as general secretary of the People's Democratic Party of Afghanistan.

The broadcast, monitored in New Delhi, said Karmal cited health problems as the reason for his decision to step down. But Western diplomats said Moscow may have become dissatisfied with Karmal — installed by the Soviets when they invaded Afghanistan in December 1979 — because of his failure to curb anti-communist rebels and gain support for his government.

Western diplomats in Moscow generally believe the Soviet Union would like to get its forces out of Afghanistan, but only if a stable pro-Moscow regime is in control.

Russians Celebrate Easter

MOSCOW (UPI) — Thousands of Russian Orthodox faithful, jamming churches where uniformed officers patrolled outside, celebrated Easter Sunday and were urged to help rid the world of "the scourge of nuclear weapons."

The message from Patriarch Pimen, 75, was read in all of the Soviet Union's estimated 8,500 Russian Orthodox churches, the official Tass news agency said.

"Let us constantly increase vigorous participation in peacemaking services to bring closer the ridding of the Earth of the scourge of nuclear weapons and to bar the road to the insanity of the militarization of outer space," said the statement by the head of the Orthodox church.

Union Members Remember 1866 Haymarket Labor Riot

CHICAGO (UPI) — On May 4, 1886, a package of dynamite tossed on the street just off Haymarket Square ignited a riot in which 11 people died, a galvanizing event for the fledgling American labor movement.

Seven policemen were killed and 74 wounded by the bomb that exploded as they were breaking up the rally. Four demonstrators were killed by ensuing gunfire.

A century later, some 500 union members held a rally on North Michigan Avenue to remember the watershed incident and to draw attention to their own strike against the Chicago Tribune.

"The strikers have done a lot of homework on the Haymarket riots," said Bob Branick, strike coordinator and member of the Chicago Typographical Union Local 18, one of three unions striking against the paper.

Sunday's rally outside the Tribune Tower featured various speakers and skits on the historic riot of 1886.

Charities Compete For Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The growing number of "alternative" charitable institutions has broken the United Way's "stranglehold in workplace fund-raising," says an official of a group that tracks philanthropic agencies.

The report issued by the National Committee for Responsive Philanthropy said 79 of the non-United Way "alternative funds" raised more than $54 million in 1985, a 100 percent increase in four years.

And the 65-page report said the number of alternative funds — often set up by charities not allowed in United Way campaigns — has increased from 10 in 1975 to the current 79.

"On the eve of United Way's celebration of its next 100 years, we're here to say the United Way stranglehold in workplace fund-raising is broken," said Robert Bothwell, executive director of the National Committee for Responsive Philanthropy.

Accident Panel To Probe Delta Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — On the 25th anniversary of America's first manned space flight, an accident panel convenes today to investigate the destruction of a Delta rocket Saturday in the nation's third and latest space disaster.

The rocket exploded on radio command in a ball of flaming debris 91 seconds after its 6:18 p.m. EDT blastoff Saturday following the mysterious premature shutdown of its first stage engine, which threw the 116-foot rocket into a wild tumble.

Lost along with the $42 million rocket was the $57.5 million GOES-7 weather satellite, which was to have been stationed 22,300 miles above the equator to track hurricanes and other weather systems.

Rear Adm. Richard Truly, NASA's associate administrator for space flight, named an eight-member investigation board Sunday to launch a probe into the failure, the second rocket explosion to stagger the nation's space program since the Challenger disaster Jan. 28.

"The board will investigate and recommend corrective action for the Delta 178 flight failure and will report its findings and recommendations not later than July 2, 1986," a NASA statement said.

Space agency officials said Sunday that preliminary analysis of telemetry radioed down from the rocket did not indicate what may have caused the first stage engine to suddenly quit, and that nothing has been ruled out, including the possibility of sabotage.

"At this point, nothing has jumped out of the data to say 'ah ha, here is exactly what happened and here is the cause,'" said

NASA spokesman Hugh Harris.

The failure, coupled with the Challenger disaster and the explosion of an Air Force Titan 34D rocket on April 18, has crippled America's ability to launch military and civilian payloads into space.

A military Atlas rocket launched in early February from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., marks the nation's only space success since Challenger exploded.

A grim atmosphere of failure now offsets what would have been an occasion for celebration at the Kennedy Space Center: today is the 25th anniversary of Mercury astronaut Alan Shepard's pioneering 15-minute flight to become the first American in space.

But the anniversary comes at a time when the shuttle, Delta and Titan programs are all grounded for accident investigations and reviews.

Only the unmanned Atlas Centaur remains in NASA's inventory and just three of those venerable rockets are left, the result of decisions years ago to make the shuttle America's primary satellite launcher.

The next Atlas Centaur is scheduled for launch May 22, but the blastoff could be delayed as a result of the Delta failure. The next Delta launch is scheduled for August to ferry a "Star Wars" experiment into orbit.

"Star Wars" is the term used for President Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative, a proposed space-based series of defensive military weapons.

Delta No. 178 took off Saturday, two days late, after a flawless countdown. The previous 43 Deltas were successful.

Gale said the bone marrow, the soft tissue that fills the cavities of bones and is the site of red blood cell production, is highly sensitive to radioactivity.

Meanwhile, the Soviet government is accusing the West of spreading exaggerated "rumors" about the scope of the Chernobyl nuclear disaster, calling it a deliberate attempt to undermine East-West relations.

But the Soviets also invited three Western nuclear experts to Moscow — apparently taking up an offer of Western technical assistance in dealing with the disaster. The experts planned to travel to Moscow today.

The three are Hans Blix, director of the International Atomic Energy Agency, and two of the agency's senior experts in nuclear power and nuclear safety.

The invitation was seen as an indication the Soviets have accepted the advice and assistance offered by the premier world organization dealing with atomic energy matters.

A government statement Sunday night about Western responses to the nuclear power plant explosion near Kiev followed a concerted attack by the government-run media on Western reaction to the disaster, which was described as more concerned with the nuclear fallout than the accident itself.

"It is to be regretted that against this broad background of sympathy and understanding, attempts are being made by certain circles to exploit what happened for ignoble political aims," the Soviet statement said.

"For propaganda purposes, rumors and inventions which go against elementary moral standards have been spread around," said the statement, distributed by Tass, the official news agency.

It said exaggerated casualty claims and descriptions of panic following the disaster — believed to have taken place April 28 — were being spread by "those who do not accept the very spirit of confidence and detente, to whom it is customary to kindle strife among nations."

The government said work to eliminate the "consequences and extend aid to those affected by the accident" was continuing at the power station, 80 miles north of Kiev, and in the surrounding area.

The efforts were shown by Soviet television, which broadcast film — shot from a helicopter — of what it said was the power plant and the workers' town.

There was no sign of destruction other than one jagged structure, and the commentator said the film showed "no great damage, as the Western media claims."

The Soviet news agency Novosti listed the casualties as two dead and 197 hospitalized. It said 20 were in grave condition, two more than previously listed. Western coverage of the disaster has included unconfirmed reports of thousands of casualties.

A U.S. Army team began testing in Moscow for nuclear contamination from the accident. Four experts — a veterinarian and three health physicists — set up a makeshift lab at the U.S. Embassy and began testing air samples.

The team, which arrived Saturday night, had to confine its examination to areas under U.S. control, including the embassy compound, apartments and a recreational cottage outside the capital.

"They started working last night as soon as they arrived," embassy spokesman Jaroslav Verner said. "How long it takes to get results depends on what they test."

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A wintry storm howled out of the Rockies today, hurling heavy snow and endangering newborn livestock in the northern Plains with cold rain whipped by winds gusting to nearly 80 mph.

Thunderstorms Sunday night in Texas piled hail 3 inches deep, north of Edmondson. A tornado, south of Plainview, downed telephone poles and damaged a mobile home, but caused no injuries, officials said. The wintry storm dumped 8 inches of snow at Austin, Nev., Sunday, and was expected to produce as much as a foot of snow today in the Montana mountains and up to 3 inches in parts of Utah, Arizona and Colorado.

The storm prompted high wind warnings in the Rockies and northern Plains. In Colorado, winds gusted to 78 mph at Montrose and 58 mph at Grand Junction on Sunday. Bullfrog Marina, Utah, reported winds of 65 mph. Rainshowers and thunderstorms reached from central North Dakota into Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. Thunderstorms also were reported from the Texas panhandle to eastern New Mexico and over southern Florida. The gusty winds and cold rain prompted forecasters to issue livestock advisories for newborn cattle in North Dakota and central Montana. "It's no way going to be freezing, but the cold rain could harm newborn livestock that are not in protective areas," said meteorologist Harry Gordon of the National Weather Service.

High temperatures in the Dakotas were only expected to reach the 60s today, a sharp contrast from Sunday's high of 91 degrees at Rapid City, S.D. In the East, a cold front that set record lows in 18 cities in 10 states Sunday morning moved to sea, leaving behind more seasonable weather. Highs today were expected to reach into the 80s from New Jersey to Florida.

Soviet Jet Arrives

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Soviet jetliner brought passengers to New York City for the first time in more than four years and was greeted by protesters demanding evacuation of Jews around the site of the Chernobyl nuclear accident.

The Ilyushin 62-M jet landed after a nonstop flight from Moscow at John F. Kennedy International Airport on Sunday bringing the Soviet bride of an American professor along with alpinists and a diplomat.

The Reagan administration ordered flights of Aeroflot, the Soviet government airline, halted in December 1981 to protest a crackdown on civil rights in Poland.

The first Aeroflot jetliner to arrive in the United States since the ban flew to Washington, D.C., Tuesday.

A spokesman for a Soviet delegation meeting Sunday's flight said there were 102 passengers aboard the jetliner, including Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Aleksandr Besmertnyh.

The two diplomats apparently left through a side door of the Pan Am terminal and reporters were unable to see them.

The diplomats' limousine did not pass the demonstrators outside the terminal. Ten members of Students Struggle for Soviet Jewry picketed, demanding the evacuation of 1.1 million Ukrainian and Byelorussian Jews living in the general proximity of the nuclear accident at Chernobyl.

They carried signs, reading: "USSR Radiate Freedom, Not Death" and "Gorbachev, Would You Like to Live in the Ukraine?"

Glenn Richter, a spokesman for the protesters, said Israel would gladly take in the Russian Jews.

statement condemning state-sponsored terrorism and specifically naming Libya.

"We're particularly pleased that it is a united effort, that it calls for action, that it names Libya and that it calls for cooperation and independent action," Spokes said.

The statement on terrorism by the seven nations said that "we pledge ourselves to make maximum efforts to fight against that scourge," which U.S. officials said ranged from economic sanctions to military action, even though neither was spelled out directly in the text.

Among the measures approved were banning arms exports to states which sponsor or support terrorism, limiting diplomatic missions and personnel of such states, even to closing such missions, denying entry to people, even diplomats, who have been expelled from summit nations for suspicion of involvement in terrorism, and improved extradition and immigration provisions to limit international movements of terrorists.

The "Statement on the Implications of the Chernobyl Nuclear Accident" said nations with a nuclear capacity bear "full responsibility for the safety of the design, manufacture, operation and maintenance of its installations."

"Each country, furthermore, is responsible for prompt provision of detailed and complete information on nuclear emergencies and accidents, in particular those with potential transboundary consequences," it said.

The summit leaders held their sessions Monday under a massive security blanket tightened even further after radicals fired five homemade rockets at the Oetthinkin state guest house where the opening session of the summit was held. There were no injuries.

Waldheim In Runoff

VIENNA (UPI) — Kurt Waldheim missed winning the Austrian presidency in the first round of voting by only a hair, but the road to the runoff he faces next month may be tough for the man accused of having wartime Nazi links.

The final unofficial tally Sunday showed Waldheim, an independent backed by the conservative Austrian Peoples Party, with 2,343,287 votes, or 49.64 percent — more than most polls had predicted.

But the two-time U.N. secretary-general needed more than 50 percent of those voting in the four-candidate race to avoid a runoff June 8. Another 14,000 votes would have elected him.

Kurt Steyrer, candidate of the governing Socialist Party, had 2,060,682 votes — 43.66 percent. His showing was the worst for the Socialists since 1966, when the Peoples Party won a majority in the general elections.

Environmental activist Freda Meisner-Blau got 5.5 percent and right-wing nationalist Otto Sgratz 1.2 percent in the voting to replace retiring President Rudolf Kirchschlaeger.

Political analysts said it appeared Waldheim benefited from a campaign against him by the World Jewish Congress and from mounting criticism of the Socialist Party, which has been in office since 1970.

Waldheim was a majority in five of nine Austrian provinces, while Steyrer won only in Vienna.

Man Charged In Assault On Girl, 14

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fla. Monday, May 5, 1986-3A

A 23-year-old St. Petersburg man has been charged with lewd assault on a child, accused of having sex with a 14-year-old Seminole County girl at her home. In an unrelated case, a Lyman High School teacher was arrested April 30 for allegedly having a sexual relationship with the 14-year-old's 17-year-old sister.

On April 30 the 14-year-old girl gave Seminole County sheriff's investigator Greg Barnett a statement saying the man suspected of assaulting her had entered her home three or four times, sometimes late at night when she had invited him.

At least once, on April 20, the suspect entered the girl's bedroom through the window and got in bed with her and they performed mutual sex acts, according to the girl's statement to Barnett.

The alleged assaults came to light when a sheriff's deputy was at the girl's home investigating an unrelated incident, Barnett reported. That is also when investigators first learned of the allegations against the teacher who was charged in connection with an alleged sexual relationship with the 14-year-old's 17-year-old sister.

Accused of assaulting the 14-year-old is: Paul Patrick Boone, 23, who was arrested at 2 p.m. Friday. He was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies on Saturday confirmed that the 14-year-old is the sister of the 17-year-old girl who is alleged to be the victim of ongoing sexual involvement with Lyman High School drafting teacher, Robert Michael Cannon, 39, of 291 Gary Blvd., Longwood, whose April 30 arrest on a charge of prohibited acts by a custodial authority was reported in the Evening Herald on May 1.

The 17-year-old has claimed she began having a sexual relationship with Cannon, whom she trusted as a 'father figure,' in January on a motorcycle trip to Clearmont. The relationship allegedly continued until about mid April, with some of the sexual encounters reportedly being in a Seminole County orange grove, Barnett reported.

Cannon was released from the Seminole County jail on $5,000 bond April 30 and that same day resigned from his teaching post.

STOLEN GUN SHOOTING
A man who allegedly accidentally shot an Orange County man in the head and then shot himself in the leg on April 21, reportedly told Orange County sheriff's investigators that he had thrown the gun away near the scene of the shootings.

The victim of the shooting, who is recovering from his injury, and his father and brother reportedly told Orange County deputies that the suspect had told them that he had stolen the gun, a radar detector and $400 on April 19 from a car parked at a restaurant on State Road 436, Caselberry.

When Orange County sheriff's deputies found the gun they determined that its serial number matched that of the gun reported stolen in Seminole County and gave that information to Seminole County sheriff's deputies.

Gary Allen Cupp, 19, of Pine Hills, was charged with armed burglary to a vehicle at the Seminole County jail at 6:20 p.m. Friday. He was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

STOPPED WITH COCAINE
Two men in a vehicle stopped by Sanford police after it ran a stop sign have been charged with possession of cocaine. One who allegedly tried to run was also charged with resisting arrest.

Police reported seeing a device used to hold a marijuana cigarette hanging from the rearview mirror of the car. That led to a search and a small quantity of cocaine was reportedly found.

Reginald Deaman, 31, of Ft. Pierce, and Antoine Venice, 34, no street address, Sanford, who reportedly tried to run from police, were arrested on Ninth Street at French Avenue at 4:29 p.m. Friday. They were being held in lieu of $2,000 bond each.

FINDING BRINGS ARREST
A burglary victim who spotted his jewelry for sale at the Geneva General Store in Geneva, was told the name of the man who brought it there. That led Seminole County sheriff's deputies to a suspect who allegedly took jewelry, pellet rifle, chainsaws and other items from the victim's home.

Deputies tracked down a suspect and recovered the missing items, some of which had been sold or given away, after being stolen from the home of Roland D. Webb, of Geneva, on May 1.

Donald Ray Chambers, 22, of P.O. Box 540 E. State Road 46, Geneva, was arrested in Geneva at 2 p.m. Friday. He has been charged with burglary and grand theft and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

DISORDERLY RESISTER
Seminole County sheriff's deputies called several times to a home at 1783 Angle Drive, Longwood, to calm a resident there who was reportedly yelling and threatening neighbors, charged a suspect with disorderly conduct, assault and resisting arrest.

Deputies were first called to the home at about 12:30 a.m. Saturday, and made several return trips to the home, in an effort to calm the suspect before arresting him at 12:54 a.m.

Prior to the arrest he had allegedly thrown a barbecue grill against his home and allegedly threatened to throw it at neighbors, a sheriff's report said.

Richard Leslie Shadler, 32, of the above address was arrested at his home and released on bond.

GUNMAN NABBED
Three witnesses described a reputed gunman and pointed out to Seminole County sheriff's deputies where the man had apparently gone. Deputies found a man matching the suspect's description and in a search reported finding a .22-caliber handgun in his pocket.

The man was arrested at his home at 9:49 p.m. Friday. Alfred Graham, 35, of 122 DeSota Ave., Altamonte Springs, has been charged with carrying a concealed firearm and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
Two speakers, a radio and a master cylinder, with a combined value of about $300 were stolen from the car of Aleia R. Snider, 42, of 1240 Marty Blvd., Altamonte Springs, while parked at Frost Lake Academy, Apopka, between April 25 and May 2, a sheriff's report said.

Presidential Plaque

Longwood Deputy Mayor June Lormann shows plaque she received on April 24 for "outstanding service" from the Tri-County League of Cities on completion of her year's term as president. Mrs. Lormann was the League's first woman president and only the second official from a Seminole County city. She is now on the board of directors of the organization of cities in Seminole, Orange, and Osceola counties.

Lake Mary May Choose Police Chief Tonight

Lake Mary city commissioners may hire a new Chief of Police for the city, during a special meeting tonight.

Scheduled for second interviews with commissioners are Frederick Justin Staly, 30, Orlando, a nine-year veteran of the Orange County Sheriff's Department detective sergeant and Charles Willford Lauderdale III, 43, Killeen, Texas, a retiring U.S. Army lieutenant colonel. He is a 26-year career officer.

The interviews will start at 7:30 p.m. at Lake Mary city hall, 158 N. Country Club Road.

The two are the apparent finalists for the job, vacant since former 11-year chief Harry S. Benson retired March 1. Commissioners have said they have not eliminated the four additional finalists recommended for the job by the Central Florida Police Chiefs' Association screening committee, but will call only Staly and Lauderdale for second interviews.

The first round of interviews conducted in April played in an empty city hall, void of public witnesses of the occasions, even though the meetings have been open to the public. Monday night's interviews will also be held in an open session.

Undermining Resolution

It is time for Congress to admit that the Constitution was right all along and swallow the fact the president is America's commander-in-chief. The War Powers Resolution passed by Congress during the Nixon administration placed new and unnecessary restrictions on the president's authority to use armed force.

The fact that there is a move in Congress to set aside some of those restrictions is further indication that the nation is recovering from its post-Vietnam malaise.

President Reagan's selective and effective use of military force on Grenada and in Libya has put muscle back into America's foreign policy and increased the nation's self-respect.

Few Americans are influenced by the line that Mr. Reagan is suffering from a Rambo complex. Freeing enslaved people from a murderous communist regime on Grenada was not the act of a macho madman and neither was the strike against the terrorist command posts in Libya.

Even though the American people and most members of Congress have supported the president's military strikes, he has still been accused by some of stretching or breaking rules of the War Powers Resolution. The contention was heard that the president violated the War Powers Resolution even before the outbreak of hostilities with Libya merely by massing U.S. warships off that nation's coast.

Mr. Reagan originally assembled those naval forces to demonstrate America's determination to protect its rights of navigation in the international waters of the Gulf of Sidra. Since this put our ships in harm's way if Libya chose to attack them (which it did), some respected members of Congress contend that the president exceeded his authority to unilaterally introduce military personnel into hostilities abroad.

The War Powers Resolution, according to some, also was violated recently when U.S. warplanes struck terrorist bases in Libya because the president didn't consult the members of Congress far enough in advance of the attack.

With the United States and its citizens constantly threatened by terrorism, it is absurd to limit the president's authority even to move troops.

The War Powers Resolution was passed as a congressional attempt to avoid a repetition of the circumstances that led to an escalation of military involvement in Vietnam. But Vietnam is history, and terrorism is the stark reality of today. An anti-terrorism bill co-sponsored in the Senate by Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kan., and Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala., would recognize that President Nixon was right when he warned that the War Powers Resolution would undermine our ability to act decisively in times of international crises.

In responding to terrorism, the president would be empowered to act "as he deems necessary" without consulting beforehand with Congress.

The War Powers Resolution should be scrapped in toto. If that is not immediately possible, the anti-terrorism bill should be passed.

BERRY'S WORLD

GEORGE McGOVERN

Are We Really Moving To The Right?

The strongest rebuttal yet to the popular notion that the American people have been moving rightward politically has been provided by two political science professors — Thomas Ferguson of the University of Texas and Joel Rogers of Rutgers.

Writing in the current issue of The Atlantic, Ferguson and Rogers contend, "There is little direct evidence that mass public sentiment has turned against the domestic programs of the New Deal, or even the most important components of the Great Society, and little evidence of a stable shift to the right in public attitudes on military and foreign policy."

Where the conventional wisdom argues that the American public is anxious to cut domestic social spending, reduce government regulation and give business a freer hand, recent public-opinion polls indicate just the opposite. A clear majority of the American public is opposed to any cut in federal spending for the environment, health, education, welfare and urban aid. In 1983 a New York Times/CBS News poll determined that three out of four Americans favor a government jobs program even if it meant increasing the federal deficit.

Other surveys have indicated that the public is still skeptical about the motives and behavior of big business. A strong majority of Americans do not trust corporate business to serve the common good unless regulated by public agencies. No public survey indicated support for the Reagan administration's efforts in eliminating regulations designed to protect the air, water and land resources of the nation.

As for the much-discussed "social issues," the polling data finds no swing to the right in public attitudes.

On the issues of feminism, race relations, abortion and separation of church and state there is a distinct liberal trend in American politics rather than a shift to the right. In 1984 an NBC poll found that two-thirds of the electorate endorsed the legalization of abortion with the decision "left to the woman and her physician." A Los Angeles Times poll found that only 23 percent of the voters favored a constitutional amendment prohibiting abortion.

Pollster Louis Harris has reported that a majority of Americans oppose a constitutional amendment to set up organized prayer in public schools. He has also found that the public supports passage of the Equal Rights Amendment by a margin of 60 to 34 percent.

Even on the controversial issue of affirmative action, 67 percent of the American people answered in a 1984 survey that they "favored a federal law requiring affirmative action programs for women and minorities in employment and education."

Likewise on the issue of taxes, a strong majority of the American people believes that the existing tax structure is unfair and would support reforms to make the system more equitable.

Ronald Reagan's supporters have argued in recent years that the American people want more defense spending and a more vigorous interventionist foreign policy. Ferguson and Rogers find no significant support for these views in recent public-opinion polls.

ROBERT WAGMAN

Just Empty Talk?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — I can't remember writing a column that has elicited a more emotional response than one I wrote a few months ago about Seymour "Cy" Beer, a Brooklyn-born jeans manufacturer.

Beer was faced with the same dilemma as most U.S. apparel makers — whether to maximize profits by using cheap foreign labor or attempt to save jobs here. He chose to save jobs, buying a plant in southwestern Missouri that was about to go out of business.

He vowed to compete with foreign-made goods by making top-quality jeans, using the best U.S. technology, and keeping his prices low through his willingness to earn a little less.

In the weeks following publication of the column, I received dozens of letters from all over the country praising Beer for his stand. Many asked where they could buy his jeans.

But if I received dozens, Beer received hundreds, most of them simply addressed "Cy Beer, Monett, Missouri." These letters were, uniformly in their praise. A woman in Ohio wrote: "I appreciate your faith in the American worker to make it better. May God bless people like you." A man in Minnesota wrote, "Thanks for starting a factory right here in this wonderful country."

Obviously the theme of "buying American" to save American jobs hits a responsive chord. But many in the retail apparel business believe the response may be merely an emotional one that does not translate into sales.

One senior apparel marketing consultant familiar with what Beer is doing puts it this way: "Cy Beer has the right idea, but it's going to take an army of Cy Beers to reverse the trend."

Bob Mulligan, president of Kmart Apparel, one of the nation's largest retail apparel organizations, does not see any major consumer move towards buying American.

"Our shopper is interested first and foremost in price and quality," says Mulligan. "I don't believe where an item is made really enters into a buying decision until after a shopper looks for quality at the right price. Possibly, if a shopper is looking at two garments of about equal quality and equal price, one made here and one abroad, she (retailer) habitually refer to their customers as 'she' will choose the domestic-made item. But the price and quality must be equal."

All in all, says Mulligan, he sees no major shift to buying American, at least at Kmart.

Communists Sell Contras Arms

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Nicaraguan contra leader Adolfo Calero has confirmed to us an astonishing development that had long been rumored: arms purchases from Communist China for the guerrilla war against the Marxist regime in Managua.

"We have obtained weapons from the People's Republic of China," Calero told our reporter in Central America. Jon Lee Anderson "In fact, the SAM-7s (anti-aircraft missiles) we got were not Soviet, as everybody thought; they were Chinese."

He described his negotiations with the Chinese arms agent with a chuckle. "I was laughing at the time," Calero said, "because at the same time Nicaragua was establishing relations with China, I was here (in Honduras) talking to an agent about getting some more

JEFFREY HART

Prisoner Of Words

The conservative presidential candidate carried 49 states and America is generally regarded as being in a conservative phase, but conservatives are still defining their goals in liberal terms, a fact that inevitably puts them on the rhetorical defensive. A new political rhetoric is urgently needed.

In a recent thought-provoking paper, professor M.E. Bradford of the University of Dallas, a student of political rhetoric, analyzed the weighted quality of such liberal "god terms" as "peace," "compassion," and "tolerance."

The president, for example, constantly talks about his goal in international affairs as "peace." This places him on the defensive every time he is obliged to resort to force, as in the case of the raid on Libya. Peace, of course, is a desirable goal, but in the real world it can only be one goal among many — including the assertion and protection of the national interest. Peace, if one desires it to the exclusion of all else, can always be obtained — and the shortest route to peace is surrender. But the term peace has acquired such a powerful emotional charge that it tends to exclude other goals from consideration. What we need instead of the liberal "god term" peace, says professor Bradford, is a rhetoric of the "common good." Such a rhetoric would not elevate one goal above all others, and it would more honestly describe the way in which we are obliged to behave in an imperfect world.

Another liberal god-term is "compassion." In point of fact, compassion is an individual virtue, not an institutional one; institutions do not possess emotions. But "compassion" as employed in liberalese translates into federal income-transfer programs and the bureaucracies to administer them. The "compassionate" politician, as the liberals define him, is one who takes your money and gives it to someone else, and does so regardless of the ill effects this may have both on the economy of the country and even on the recipient of the largesse. All sorts of studies have now demonstrated the devastating effect of welfare on the poor; nevertheless, "compassion" — in the vocabulary, say of Tip O'Neill — demands that these programs be protected and expanded, a counter rhetoric of the common good would assert the larger good against liberal "compassion."

Another god-term is "tolerance." The devil-term that goes along with it is "racism." To be tolerant and avoid the imputation of racism, one must support racial quotas in hiring and college admissions and other areas of life, and one must support an array of welfare programs launched as "compassionate."

A subcategory of "intolerance" in liberalese is "homophobic." You are in danger of being labelled "homophobic" and therefore "intolerant" if you deny that homosexual relationships are the full equal in every way of ordinary marriages and ordinary child-bearing. A rhetoric of the common good, in contrast, would assert the traditional respect accorded by custom and religion to the men and women who take their places in the succession of generations, and who, as parents, do so much to pass on the values and the wisdom of civilization.

The liberals are now making much of such condemnatory terms as "elitism" and "sexism."

Who Needs Crunchers?

By Arnold Sawisak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — We have been treated in the last week to some new variations on an old theme by David Stockman, to wit: President Reagan is not your quickest study when it comes to numbers.

To get this information, one must part with $21.95 for Stockman's book, for which the former federal budget director was reported to have received $2 million and change as an advance on sales.

Without access to Stockman's contract or the many side deals for subsidiary rights involved in such projects (Will there be a movie? Perhaps with Arnold Schwarzenegger as the author and Cesar Romero as the president?) it is impossible to calculate how many books Stockman's publisher has to sell to break even.

(Even if the financial details were available, this writer, like the president, isn't much of a numbers cruncher either, a fact he hopes will escape the attention of David Stockman, not to mention the IRS.)

Still, even though the book has been taken into the warm embrace of a major book club and is being serialized everywhere except on milk cartons, Gramm-Rudman strictures if not Reagan's airy dismissal of the work as "fiction" may limit its sales in official Washington.

So it does seem possible that the book might produce another Stockman deficit, albeit several orders of magnitude smaller than the one he left in Washington when he took off for Wall Street.

One of the problems of the book is that it imparts old news. Stockman gave Bill Greider and the world much the same information about Reagan's marginal numerical skills a couple of years ago and that cost only the price of a single issue of Atlantic magazine. It was after that disclosure, remember, that Reagan carried 49 states to win a second term.

Actually, the American people may be just as happy to have a president who isn't a whiz with numbers. The two most recent presidents who were at home with arithmetic were the engineers Herbert Hoover and Jimmy Carter, and neither one of them could add up enough votes to win a second term.

George Washington, who did some surveying before he took up fathering countries, also was said to be a pretty good numbers man, but anybody who would turn himself in for chopping down a very small cherry tree can't be fairly judged in the company of politicians.

2 State Entries Put Seminole Among The Elite

If there was any lingering doubt about the strength of Seminole County baseball, it was quickly erased last Friday night when two county teams qualified for the state tournament.

Lake Mary's Rama, boasting a 31-2 record, marched into the Class 4A State Tournament with a 17-3 thumping of Palm Beach Gardens. Oviedo's Lions, fashioning a 19-10 mark, moved into the Class 3A State Tournament with a 3-1 victory over Auburndale.

In another coup for Seminole County, both will host the tournaments. Lake Mary will be joined by Sarasota Riverview, Gonzales Tate and Miami Christopher Columbus at Alford Stadium on the campus of Rollins College in Winter Park. Oviedo will be joined by Fort Lauderdale St. Thomas Aquinas, Satellite and Palatka at the University of Central Florida Field in Orlando. Admission is $3 at each site.

Thursday's match-ups at Rollins are Columbus and Tate at 4 p.m. along with Riverview and Lake Mary at 7 p.m.

"I'll glad we got Riverview," Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle said. "They're supposed to have two real good pitchers. We want them in the first round."

Tuttle said Mike Schmitt (14-0) would hurl Thursday's game. The winners battle Friday at 7 p.m. for the title.

Thursday's match-ups at UCF are Palatka and Satellite at 5 p.m. and Oviedo against St. Thomas Aquinas at 8 p.m.

"From what I've heard, Aquinas sounds totally awesome," Oviedo coach Howard Mable said. "The team batting average is over .400 and they rely a lot on the hit and run."

Regardless of what happens from here on out, both Lake Mary and Oviedo have made the grade. As further proof of this area's strength, both had some of their toughest games in the district.

"It's just been a phenomenal year," Mable.

who will coach against Tuttle during Big League this year, said. "We're wishing Lake Mary the best of luck and its wishing us the same. Hopefully, we'll come away with two state championships."

The foundation for the success of both clubs was laid in the county's strong youth programs. The Altamonte Little League has been to three World Series in the past four years, finishing second twice and first once. Seminole Pony Baseball went to the World Series five years ago, finishing second.

Most of the players from both teams were members of these championship units or played in the organizations of both. Oviedo's own Little League has had several outstanding teams in the past five years. Its biggest problem was going head-to-head with Altamonte. Oviedo often gave Altamonte its stiffest test prior to the World Series.

The defensive gem from Friday was turned in by Lake Mary shortstop Shane Letterio, who uncharacteristically also committed three errors.

In the second inning, Letterio went into the hole for a ground ball. He didn't have a play at first but faked a throw any way. The maneuver caught the runner off second base and after a short rundown Pinckes tagged the runner for the second out. Winner Steve Shakar fanned the next hitter to ease from the jam.

"You just don't see high school players making plays like that," Tuttle said about Letterio's deceptive move.

Friday's sectional championships were the first for both schools as were the regional titles on Tuesday and the district crowns the previous Friday. Both coaches, of course, hope the trend continues.

Norman Settles For Greenbacks

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — After failing to capture the green jacket three weeks ago, Greg Norman settled for the greenbacks in the $1.2 million Las Vegas Invitational.

The Australian bogied the final hole at the Masters, and that allowed Jack Nicklaus to escape with a one-stroke victory. Although he earned a record $207,000 with a record-tying 27-under-par performance in the desert this week, Norman seemed unable to forget his failure at Augusta.

"I definitely would have liked to have had the green jacket," he said. "This doesn't make up for the bitterness."

Still, it doesn't hurt.

The victory in the PGA's richest event snapped a frustrating string of near-misses for the "Great White Shark", who had finished second four times since winning the 1984 Canadian Open.

"I felt (the pressure to win) when I woke up this morning," said Norman, who followed the Masters with another one-stroke loss the next week in the Heritage. "You keep leading the tournaments, leading the Masters, and you don't win."

"You try to forget about it, but you can't forget about it. You put more pressure on yourself than anyone else puts on you."

Despite southwest winds gusting to 30 mph at the Las Vegas Country Club, Norman accumulated eight birdies — including four straight on Nos. 8-11 — to seal the triumph in the five-day tournament.

The victory vaulted Norman from 18th place on the money list to No. 1 with $343,774.

His five-day total of 333 (73-63-68-64-65) tied the 90-hole record of 27-under set by Craig Stadler and Lanny Wadkins in the 1985 Bob Hope Classic. Mike Souchak, in the 1955 Texas Open, and Ben Hogan, in the 1945 Portland Invitational, posted 27-under scores in 72-hole events.

"I basically knew I was close to breaking the Tour record," Norman said. "I was disappointed when I three-putted the last two holes (including a bogey on No. 17)."

The performance spoiled a brilliant effort by Dan Pohl, who shot a 69 to finish 20-under. He collected an eagle and three birdies Sunday to claim second money of $124,200.

"It was a solid round, but I would have had to shoot a 62 to catch him," said Pohl. "He made a two-stroke swing on the ninth hole and was playing way too well to catch."

While Norman birdied No. 9, Pohl suffered his only bogey of the day.

Larry Nelson, who entered the tournament 158th on the money list, finished third at 19-under 341 with Steve Pate, who had a 67.

Dependable Whack Sets Attack On Concentration

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Anquetette Whack's formula for success is pretty simple. And it has taken the Lake Mary High senior a long way.

"Good things happen when you concentrate."

Concentration and the willingness to work hard at any event she tried has carried Whack to her first individual berths in the Class 4A State Track and Field Championships. The 4A State Meet will get underway Saturday afternoon at 3 at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

Whack, a four-year performer for the Lady Rams, will be competing in both the shot put and long jump at state. She is also one of only three Seminole County competitors to qualify in two individual events.

To catch the "Whack Attack" in action, get to the state meet early as the long jump is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. and the shot put at 4:30 p.m.

"My goal is to place at state but it's exciting to be able just to say I went to state," Whack said. "I've got two chances to try to place and I'm going to give it my best shot."

Whack qualified in the shot with a personal best and school record throw of 39-4 1/2 which was good for third place in this past Thursday's region meet. Whack also leaped 17-7 1/2 to take third in the long jump. Her personal best in the long jump is

Whack, who also played volleyball and basketball for four years for the Lady Rams, competed in the regional meet in both the discus and the 440 relay as well but didn't qualify in those two events.

"I thought my best chance to go to state would be in the shot put," the Sanford athlete said. "I scratched all three times in the discus probably because I was concentrating more on the shot."

Whack qualifying in the shot was a fitting end for the senior standout as she holds the Lake Mary freshman, sophomore, junior and senior records in the shot and has improved consistently throughout this season.

The long jump is where Whack has improved drastically this season, particularly since the Seminole Athletic Conference meet.

"The long jump came out of nowhere," Whack said. "I didn't really practice it that much so I was surprised I did that well. And this is the first year I've gotten into the 17s since my freshman year."

Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson said Whack's emergence in the long jump isn't a total surprise since she has proven her versatility time and again this season. "She (Whack) possesses the athletic gift to be able to excel and adds to it great determination," Gibson said. "You can see the determination on her face when she long jumps."

The "Whack Attack" was at full force in the rain-shortened Lake Mary High Invitational.

Stayin' Alive: Hawks Dallas, Nuggets Win

United Press International

The Dallas Mavericks and Denver Nuggets reached plateaus Sunday, while the Atlanta Hawks took the first step on a long journey upward.

The Mavericks and Nuggets evened their respective playoff series 2-2 with victories, and the Hawks, who entered the day trailing the Boston Celtics 3-0, stayed alive with a triumph.

At Dallas, Mark Aguirre scored 39 points, including 21 in the first quarter, and Dallas survived a missed last-second shot by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar for a 120-118 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The series returns to Los Angeles for Game 5 Tuesday night, and the teams come back to noisy Reunion Arena for the sixth game Thursday evening.

Aguirre highlighted Dallas' 45-point opening quarter — a total that equaled the NBA record for most points scored in the first period of a post-season game.

"We should actually be ahead in this series 3-1," Dallas coach Dick Motta said. "We've got a real shot at this thing."

Aguirre also hit Dallas' last points of the game, a turnaround jump shot with 38 seconds left that gave the Mavericks a 120-118 lead.

Los Angeles' Byron Scott drew the Lakers within 2, however, by grabbing an offensive rebound with 30 seconds remaining and making 2 free throws after he was fouled.

The Lakers then prevented Dallas from getting off a shot within the 24-second limit, giving Los Angeles a chance at the tying basket.

Los Angeles inbounded the ball with six seconds remaining and worked it low to Jabbar, but his hook shot bounced off the rim as the buzzer sounded.

At Denver, T.R. Dunn sank a pair of free throws with six seconds left in overtime, carrying the Nuggets past the Pistons 116-111.

Game 5 of the Western Conference semifinal series is Tuesday at Houston.

Alvin English led the Nuggets with 28 points, including 6 in overtime. Ralph Sampson scored 28 for Houston, striking for 15 points in the third period.

"Now we just need to come back down to earth tomorrow," Denver coach Doug Mac said.

"although I'm sure we're going to enjoy this win tonight."

Ralph Sampson scored 28 points for Houston, striking for 15 in the third period, and grabbed 13 rebounds. Houston center Akeme Olatuwon, who played sparingly in the first half because of foul trouble, scored 23 points before fouling out with 3:09 left in overtime. Robert Reid added 24 for the Rockets.

"The refs were making bad calls," Olatuwon said. "I was frustrated out there. We were planning on coming in here and getting at least one. We had both games won in the last minute but gave them away."

Houston led by 10 points in the first half when Mitchell Wiggins hit a free throw 5:05 to go. The Rockets were up 104-99 with 43 seconds left. Turner, who usually comes off the bench as the third guard, moved to

Seminole To Lead County's State Entourage

Track/Field

Seminole High's boys and girls head up the Seminole County entourage that will compete in the 4A State Track and Field Championships Saturday at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

The meet gets underway at 3 with the long jump followed by the triple jump for boys. Prelims and finals in the discus begin at 4 followed by the shot put at 4:30.

Running prelims in the 100 meters, hurdles and 320 dash, begin at 5 with the high jump and pole vault starting at 6 and the running finals at 7.

Seminole High's boys, the defending 4A champions, qualified four individuals and all three relays for Saturday's meet. The individuals, all of whom won their events at the region meet, include Alvin Jones in the long jump and triple jump, Pat Davis in the 100 meters, Billy Penick in the mile and Eric Martin in the 440 dash.

Lake Mary High has two individuals in the state meet including center Ken Rohr in the two mile and sophomore Cecil King in the triple jump. Rohr was first in the region and King third.

Lake Howell High qualified a pair of individuals and the mile medley relay. Dylan Rowe qualified in the pole vault by winning the region with a school record 14-0 and Chuck Boster qualified in the mile by finishing third.

Lyman High's Ralph Philpott cleared 6-6 to win the high jump and he will defend his state title Saturday.

In the girls division, Seminole High qualified all three of its relays along with three individuals. The individuals include Shownda Martin in the 440 and 880, Dorchelle Webster in the 320 hurdles and Michelle Pearson in the 110 hurdles.

Lake Howell High qualified four individuals including Martha Ponzon in the mile and two mile, Len Samocki in the mile, Angie Smith in the 880 and Cheryl Brinkley in the high jump.

For Lake Mary, Anquetette Whack qualified in the shot put and long jump and Olaya Berry in the 320 hurdles.

Lyman High senior Jeannine Gauvin qualified for state with a second place finish in the region in the discus.

The 3A State Championships will be held Friday at Showalter Field with the same time schedule. Oviedo High qualified one individual in the girls and boys meets along with the boys' mile relay.

Kelly Price claimed state berths in the 110 high and 320 low hurdles along with the long jump. Price finished fourth in the state in the 320 hurdles last season.

Sophomore Karl Wright also qualified in the 320 hurdles and runs a leg on the mile relay along with Robin Wright, Robb Hughes and Mark Stewart.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Gomez, Graf Wrap Up Clay Court Championships Sunday

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Andres Gomez, accustomed to sliding on clay, Sunday reacquainted himself with rebounding on it, as well.

Gomez, the number two seed from Ecuador, won his second U.S. Open Clay Court Championships title in three years, defeating top seed Thierry Tulaane of France 6-4, 7-6 (7-1).

Steffi Graf of West Germany won the women's division, surviving a scare from Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina to win 2-6, 7-6, 6-4.

"This was a big step coming back for me," Gomez said. "I was fifth (in the world), and then I dropped as low as 20th. Now I'm 18th and winning this tournament will help my confidence."

Sabatini, 15, took Graf to match point at 5-2 in the second set. Graf hit a forehand winner to take the point and went on to win the next four games for a 6-5 lead.

After Sabatini broke to knot the set at 6-6, Graf jumped to a 5-1 lead in the tie-breaker, only to see Sabatini draw to 6-5. Graf won the next game to even the match at a set apiece. Sabatini trailed 4-1 in the third set but came back to tie at 4-4. Graf then held and Sabatini saved one match point before Graf put her away.

In the men's doubles finals, Gomez and Hans Gildemeister of Chile defeated Sherwood Stewart, Baytown, Texas, and John Fitzgerald of Australia 6-4, 6-3.

Graf and Sabatini beat Gigi Fernandez of Puerto Rico and Robin White, Fort Worth, Texas, 6-2, 6-0 to take the women's doubles title.

Shocker Wins Helen Handicap

HIALEAH (UPI) — Shocker T.'s performance in winning the $100,000 Black Helen Handicap at Hialeah Park was just as thrilling.

Shocker T., who likes to run in front, took the lead before the 1/4 mile mark of the mile and an eighth turf race for fillies and mares and won by two and a half lengths over Lake Country.

"It went just the way we wanted," said Shocker T.'s trainer George Gianos. "She doesn't like to be behind another horse. When she gets behind another horse, she wants to go."

Shocker T. covered the distance in 1:47 3/5. Dawn's Curtsey finished third, 3/4 of a length back of Lake Country and a head in front of Sorayah.

Pre-race favorite Powder Break, who ran last week in the Hialeah Turf Cup, was a late scratch.

Polynice Reconsiders, Will Stay

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Olden Polynice, citing "the extreme pressure I have brought upon myself," Saturday night announced that he has changed his mind again and the 6-foot-11 center intends to remain at the University of Virginia for another year.

"In the last 24 hours, I have had a lot of counseling and time to reflect on my life," Polynice said in a statement, which called his decision to turn pro a mistake. "I realize that my first goal is still to graduate from Virginia and prepare myself for a productive life."

"I will not turn pro at this time," Polynice said. Virginia Athletic Director Dick Schultz said Polynice must undergo extensive therapy and be in good academic standing in order to be reinstated for the second semester.

Littler Takes 2-Stroke Victory

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Gene Littler withstood a final-round charge by playing partner Don January Sunday to take a two-shot victory in a PGA seniors' golf tournament.

January finished two shots back at 202 after a final-round 68. Bob Charles was four strokes back at 208 after a final-round 71, followed by Harold Henning and Chi Chi Rodriguez at 209.

Allison Erases Drought

TALLADEGA (UPI) — Bobby Allison ended a two-year drought on a day when his age was against him and the crowd was with him.

"I've been trying to get back on the winning column for a long, long time and there's no better place to break this losing streak than here at my home track of Talladega," the 48-year-old Allison said after his victory Sunday in the Winston 500 NASCAR race in the Alabama International Motor Speedway.

Sunday's victory marks Allison's first win since the World 600 in 1984 and makes him the oldest driver to win a race on the Winston Cup circuit. He was also the eighth different winner on the circuit this year.

"I am happy. I don't know what to say," a jubilant Allison said in victory lane.

Allison and Dale Earnhardt duelled in the final laps, and Allison's Buick held off Earnhardt's Chevy long enough to capture the checkered flag and pick up a winner's purse of $77,905.

"I only gave Dale three lanes," Allison said with a laugh as he talked about the final lap shootout. "Dale got up real close and a little in front. I still thought I had the car to beat him back to the line."

An estimated crowd of more than 130,000 saw the race.

Buddy Baker came in third in an Oldsmobile, followed by Bobby Hill Jr. in a Buick, and Phil Parsons, who rounded out the top five in his Oldsmobile.

Pole sitter Bill Elliott, who led 117 laps of the 188-lap race, went out on lap 175 with transmission problems.

There were a total of nine caution flags for 42 laps involving some accidents that knocked out such favorites as Cale Yarborough and Kyle Petty. Twelve blown engines also added to the attrition rate.

Earnhardt said the final lap showed Allison's car had more zip.

"Bobby and them did a super job," Earnhardt said. "I took a shot at him on the last lap, but he just drove by me. My car ran good all day."

Earnhardt's second-place finish gave him the point lead in the Winston Cup standings with 1,417. Darrel Waltrip, who finished 34th, is second in the point standings with 1,308.

Allison is in fourth place with 1,198 points, preceded by Rusty Wallace, who is in third with 1,216. Wallace finished 13th in Sunday's race.

Baker said he was close coming out of the final curve, but the final burst of speed from the two leaders made the difference in the race.

100 meters and 440 relay.

As the leadoff runner on the 440 relay and other relays she has run, Whack has started 80 consecutive races since her freshman year without a false start. Since the 440 relay team did not qualify for state, Whack will have one more chance to go for 90 in a row at the Golden South Classic.

Whack's only other state-meet experience came her sophomore season when she ran a leg on the mile medley relay team that placed fourth in the state.

Gibson chose Whack as the team captain at the beginning of this season and she has also been recognized as an outstanding high school athlete by the Women's Sports Foundation.

Whack has one more meet to try to break her school record in the shot and go for Fran Gordon's record of 16-3 1/4 in the long jump. Whack would have had another shot at the records but she will miss the State Heptathlon meet which is being held a week after state. Whack will still be busy, though, as she will be playing for the AAU Central Florida 19 and under basketball team.

BERRY IN 890 HURDLES

Lake Mary High sophomore Oneyke Berry will make her first appearance in the 4A State Championships Saturday as she competes in the 330 low hurdles.

Berry qualified with a school-record breaking time of 46.3 which was good for fourth place in the regional meet. Berry also holds the school record of 15.8 in the 110 high hurdles where she placed fifth at regionals.

"I thought she (Berry) would go in the 440 relay more than the hurdles but we had a couple bad handoffs there and didn't make it," Gibson said. "There were a lot of good hurdlers in this region so she did well to make it to state."

Gibson said the key for Berry making it state was the fact she ran a faster time in the finals, 46.3, than she did in the preliminaries, 46.7.

"She generally has been doing around 46.7 in the prelims and then coming back at 48-49 in the finals," Gibson said. "This is the first time she's run faster in the finals."

"I asked her why she ran so good in the finals," added Gibson. "And she said, 'Because I wanted to go to state, coach.'"

Gators Chew Up Hawks Division Foes

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

While it took playoff games to decide the first round winners in the Seminole Softball Club Eagles and Starlings divisions, the Forest City Gators took no prisoners in mowing down the competition in the Hawks Division.

The Gators closed out the second round with a 7-0 record and went 14-0 for the season in claiming the championship outright. Among the Gators final victories included a 23-0 rout of Lake Mary Dale Construction in which Mial Stone pitched a perfect game and a 7-1 thumping of Caselberry Pools by Max.

Against Lake Mary, Stone struck out three in pitching the perfect game for the Gators. She was backed by a 23-hit offensive attack. Courtney "Fencebuster" Finley led the way as she belted three home runs in the game and drove in seven runs. Connie Bonaventure, Christa Schroeffel and Leighann Schroeffel also slugged homers for the Gators.

Against Caselberry, the Gators kept their unbeaten record intact by rallying for three runs in the fifth and sixth frames. Stone allowed just six hits in the game, struck out two and walked two. Jonny Powell had a pair of singles and drove in one run for the Gators while Finley and Addie Antonietti drove in one run each. Mario Montalvo had two hits and drove in the only run for Pools by Max.

Lisa Silverstein contributed a triple to the offense while Tammy Lazzac smacked a double and Michelle Riely and Tawana Chisholm each had RBI singles. Kristi Winger had a single and double for Rinker.

The Angels continued the momentum into the second round of the season as they won their first two, 6-6 over an improved Lake Mary Frey Insurance team and 7-3 over Caselberry Trivision Chevron.

A four-run fifth inning enabled the Angels to fight off the upset bid of Frey Insurance. Katrina Shuler had three hits and drove in two runs for the Angels while Chisholm drove in a pair of runs and Melissa Storey contributed a pair of singles.

Dawn DiPiero kept Frey Insurance close with three doubles and a solid defensive performance while Renee Mathieu drilled a two-run triple.

Traci Goodrow added two hits each. In the win over Caselberry, DiPiero drove in two runs and Goodrow rapped three singles.

Oviedo Wington Fire Sprinklers opened the second half with a pair of victories, one a 27-4 thrashing of Altamonte Springs Goodings.

Johnette Hess was 4 for 4 with a double and a homer to lead the way for Wington while Corrie Lawson and Tammy Jenerette were also 4 for 4. Tiffany Kracht added three singles and Heather Golden had two base hits.

POWER WING STARLINGS

Altamonte Springs Pioneer Federal won two straight playoff games to win the first round of the Starlings Division, then won six straight to take the second round title.

In the playoffs, Pioneer Federal defeated Caselberry Construction by Home Sweet Homes, 12-11, and Lake Mary Veterinary Clinic, 8-7.

Against Caselberry, Pioneer Federal scored four times in the bottom of the fifth. Sara Wood also turned in a superb relief job on the mound as she struck out two and caught a pop fly for the third out in the top of the fifth.

On offense of Pioneer Federal, Carrie Scranton drove in four runs with a single, double and triple. Michelle Bishop drove in five runs for Caselberry with two doubles and a homer.

Against Lake Mary, Jennifer O'Malley, Carrie Young and Jessie Huestig each drove in a run for Pioneer Federal while Sonya McCoy kept Lake Mary close with a double, homer and three RBIs.

Included in Pioneer Federal's second-half unbeaten string was a 16-1 romp over Sanford East 46 Transmission.

Scranton and Stacy McGill knocked in four runs each in that game while Wood, Carrie Young and Heather Leber slugged two doubles apiece.

At Atlanta, Dominique Wilkins scored 37 points to lead Atlanta to a 108-94 victory over the Celtics that saved the Hawks from being eliminated.

The Celtics lead the best-of-seven series 3-1, with Game 5 scheduled for Tuesday night in Boston.

With Wilkins, who led the NBA in scoring during the regular season with a 30.3 average, getting 31 of his points in the second half, the Hawks built a 79-74 third-quarter lead and the Celtics never got closer than three points back throughout the final quarter.

"There were a lot of big plays today," Wilkins said. "But the biggest was the last play of the game, then looking up at the clock and seeing that the season wasn't over."

Spud Webb, the NBA's smallest player at 5-foot-7, kept sparking the Hawks with driving layups and finished with 21 points.

"Nobody in our locker room wanted the series to end today," Hawks coach Mike Fratello said. "The team knew what they had to do to win. They gave themselves a chance."

Kevin McHale led Boston with 26 points. Robert Parish had 15 for the Celtics.

The NBA's other playoff series, Milwaukee-Philadelphia, resumes tonight in Philadelphia with the 76ers leading 3-1.

...Plan

by city planners, with county planner input, and channeled to the county and city commissions through their respective P&Z's, rather than just the Sanford P&Z, Hooper said. In Sanford's case, the commission's formal adoption will be confined to only those portions of the plan which address areas and services lying within the city's boundaries, Simmons said. However, Sanford has a two-fold stake in the areas outside its boundaries and this forms the rationale for its wanting to spearhead the growth management project, Simmons said. In addition to helping see to it that there are consistent land utilization in the target area, city planners seek a role in addressing the anticipated development and the provision of urban services to the unincorporated areas because Sanford expects to acquire some of this land through annexation during the upcoming years, he said. According to Simmons, aside from common concerns such as transportation, "I think we (the city) have a greater interest in land outside our present boundaries than the county has interest in areas within our boundaries." Due to this, "You can't close your eyes and say you'll only plan up to your municipal boundaries because the area beyond them is changing, expanding," Simmons said. He also said because both the city and county will address these areas, "there's no reason to develop two different plans at double the cost to taxpayers." County Planning Director Tony Vanderworp described the proposed development of an interlocal agreement as "an terrific opportunity" for the county and the city "to address land issues with sound development principals, not litigation." The statement was in reference to the recently concluded Yankee Lake land dispute which saw Sanford attempting to usurp county ownership of the property through condemnation. Both governments had targeted the site, which lies west of Sanford, for their respective wastewater management efforts. Vanderworp described sewer service, the costs related to it and which government will provide it to what areas as "interlocal land issues that are not going to go away," and said a "consistent plan" developed by the city and the county would serve to "successfully" address these and other matters. In the unincorporated areas, in addition to sewerage, Vanderworp targeted conservation of certain areas, development of others and the provision of urban services as necessitating "a cohesive plan that adopts constraints, regulations, policies and funding mechanisms."

Woman On Antibiotics Has Surprising Result

DEAR ABBY: Please warn women who rely on birth control pills that if they take antibiotics, the effectiveness of the pill may be greatly reduced.

My grandson and his lovely wife are soon to be parents — thanks to the antibiotics she had taken for a brief time due to an infection in her ear! She was more than a little surprised to learn she was pregnant. Thank heavens, they can afford this unplanned pregnancy — many young couples can't.

Please print this for others who do now know the facts of life (no pun intended).

INDIANA GRANNY-TO-BE DEAR GRANNY: It's inconceivable (pun intended) that a physician would fail to mention this fact to a patient of child-bearing age. Thanks, Granny, for a valuable letter.

DEAR ABBY: A myth in a good cause is still a myth. In a recent column on the importance of one vote, one of your readers stated, "In 1960, one vote change in each precinct in Illinois would have defeated John F. Kennedy." Good story — but not true.

Kennedy received 303 electoral votes in 1960. He needed 268 to win. Illinois had 27 votes. Had

Dear Abby

Kennedy lost Illinois, he still would have had 276 electoral votes — and still would have been elected president.

Best from your friends at the Chicago Tribune.

RANDY CURWEN, CHICAGO DEAR RANDY: Another Illinois reader claims to have spotted another flaw in the list of so-called historical events submitted by an Alabama reader. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: A reader from Talladega, Ala., submitted a list of historical events pointing out the importance of one vote. Among them: One vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment.

Wrong! Andrew Johnson was impeached. I submit the following from The World Book: Andrew Johnson, the 17th president of the United States, was the only president ever to be impeached. He became chief executive upon the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. The Civil War had just ended. Johnson, a Democrat from Tennessee, wanted to carry out Lincoln's program of kind and generous treatment for the defeated Confederate States. But he faced a Republican Congress controlled by men determined to punish the South. Congress passed a series of harsh laws over Johnson's repeated vetoes. Feelings became so strong that the House of Representatives voted to impeach him. But the Senate failed by one vote to remove Johnson from office.

PHILIP BATEMAN, DECATUR, ILL.

DEAR ABBY: I have a message for "Smart and Confused," who felt superior. Feeling superior is not all that rare. I also have always felt superior to most of my contemporaries. Oddly enough, I kept running into people who felt exactly the same way. To paraphrase Ambrose Bierce: "An egoist is someone who thinks more of himself than he does of me."

Feeling superior is an arrested state of development. Compassion, not intelligence, is the greatest human attribute. An ounce of kindness is worth a pound of cleverness. It's nice to be intelligent, but it's intelligent to be nice.

GARY ENGLE, BELTON, MO.

Members of the 1936 Seminole High School graduation class have been notified of the plans to celebrate their 50th anniversary. Plans call for a banquet buffet at the Holiday Inn of Sanford beginning at 6 p.m. on May 31.

There were 86 members of the class, 34 of which still live in the Seminole County area. The committee has not been able to contact or have had no responses from the following members: Kathleen Adams, Frank Benjamin, Raymond Anderson, Edwin Boniske.

Elizabeth Brigham, Grace Cook, Sara Edwards, Peggy Crimball, Martha McDonald, Carolyn McKenney, Arthur R. Moss, Ethel Palmer, Louise Purdon, Robert Raulerson, Louise Ross, Jack Torrance, Elizabeth Turner, and Robert Wynn.

A number of students from this area are among the more than 800 rising seniors from secondary schools throughout South Carolina, North Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and Alabama who have been named Furman Scholars and who were invited to visit Furman University in Greenville, S.C.

Furman Scholars are chosen by their high schools on the basis of scholarship, leadership and character. Their day at Furman gives them an opportunity to look at college life and begin thinking of post high school education.

This year's Furman Scholars from this area are, from Lake Mary High School, Lynn M. Kurtz, daughter of Richard F. and Alvina Kurtz of 2 Sleepy Hollow Cove, Longwood, John Foley, son of Michael K. Bronchitis Can Cause Yawning And Gasping

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — Will fibromyositis cause constant gasping and yawning? My girlfriend also has mitral valve prolapse, bronchitis and very bad nerves.

DEAR READER — Fibromyositis — stiffness and pain in muscles — does not, to my knowledge, cause gasping and yawning. Your girlfriend's bronchitis and excessive nervousness are more likely causes.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had extreme pain for two nights about 10 weeks ago. Although I no longer have pain, my right leg doesn't seem to function correctly. It is weak and clumsy, and feels like it might give away. A medical doctor gave me antibiotics. A rheumatism specialist said I needed more exercise. A chiropractor hasn't helped much. I think I have a pinched nerve. What should I do now?

DEAR READER — A pinched nerve, causing leg pain and weakness, is certainly a possibility that should be investigated. See a neurologist. If, after a neurological evaluation, you still have symptoms, ask for a referral to an internist or to the diagnostic clinic in a teaching hospital.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Four years ago I had a "bandaid" tubal ligation. Is there any way this can be reversed?

DEAR READER — At the time of your surgery, the doctor cut and tied your Fallopian tubes through two small abdominal incisions (hence the term "bandaid"). This procedure prevents fertilization of the eggs from your ovaries.

By using microsurgical techniques, modern gynecologists can repair the tubes and sew the ends back together, enabling you to become pregnant. Although there is no guarantee that the surgery will make you fertile again, many women are helped by this method.

DEAR DR. GOTT — The whites of my eyes are turning medium to dark yellow. I eat a good diet, but I also feel run down. Could these two symptoms be related? I am 18.

DEAR READER — Yellowing of the eyes often means jaundice, a condition caused by liver malfunction. In otherwise healthy adolescents, the most common reasons for jaundice are hepatitis and mononucleosis. Because you may be contagious and the condition may worsen, I suggest you seek immediate medical attention. Jaundice — a backing-up of bile in the body — is not an ailment that should be ignored.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Playing a no-trump contract involves not only knowing which suit to attack, but also how best to take the tricks you need. Look at today's deal and think how you might play three no-trump when the heart jack is led to East's king. At first glance you may be tempted to go after clubs, your longest combined holding. But you quickly see that the defenders will simply take the club ace and continue hearts, immediately knocking out your entry to the long clubs.

You must therefore look to diamonds for the four additional tricks you need to make three no-trump. How should you play that suit? If you play a diamond to the king to force out the ace, you will succeed whenever that suit divides 3-3, about 36 percent of the time. If you had extra entries to your hand, you would play to dummy's diamond king, return to your hand and play up to the diamonds once again. That would win when the suit was splitting 3-3 or West held the ace guarded only once. But entries are a luxury that you lack.

Although it may risk going set extra tricks, the right play is to lead the eight or nine from your hand and let it ride. You will make three no-trump whenever West holds the diamond 10 (a 50 percent chance) and the suit divides 3-3 or 4-2 (an 84 percent chance). That makes your chance of success somewhat more than 40 percent (50 percent of 84 percent), and that's a good enough chance to warrant your playing in a game contract.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAY 6, 1966

Your possibilities for personal accumulation will be better in the year ahead than they have been for quite some time. Although you will increase in material worth, you are also apt to be more extravagant.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might be the recipient of a surprise gift today. An impulsive, generous pal may give you something you've always wanted but never hoped to receive. Is there romance in your future? To find out what's in store for you, get your Astro-Graph for the year following your birthday. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Doing things on your own has its merits, but today you'll have more fun being part of a group. Stir up something with companions you truly enjoy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not be hesitant to experiment with new tactics today if you feel they can help further your ambitions. You can be quite ingenious if you put your mind to it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Quick thinking on your behalf will extricate you from a tight spot today. But don't make a habit of waiting until the chips are down before you act.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Victory comes through persistence today, so don't be too eager to toss in the towel. When things look their darkest, favorable changes will occur.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) An associate who is seldom in accord with your suggestions may surprise you today when he throws his full support behind a cause you're espousing.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Funds will suddenly become available for something you've been wanting to do but thought was too expensive. Watch for a windfall.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today's most enjoyable events will be impromptu ones. Keep your schedule flexible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today you may be unduly concerned about the outcome of an event. You're likely to see yourself as the underdog when, in reality, the opposite is true.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll get a hopeful piece of news shortly about an enterprise you've recently become involved in.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This should be a rather fortunate day for you materially. You'll not be overlooked if anything is to be split up or given away.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're likely to do better than usual in competition today, whether it be sports, commerce or romance. In fact, you could win in all three.
