Charges Filed Against Selph

Rep. Carl Selph, of Casselberry whose car hit a parked car in front of the Tallahassee Hilton early one morning last May has been charged with making a false report and could face a fine of up to $500 and 60 days in jail or both.

Selph was charged Tuesday by Assistant State Attorney Elizabeth Keeth and cited for careless driving and failure to perform his duty upon damaging an unattended vehicle. Both are civil infractions.

Selph told the Evening Herald today that he paid the two traffic infraction fines of $39.50 each Tuesday and entered a plea of not guilty on the charge of make a false report.

He said his not guilty plea was self-evident and declined to comment further on the advice of his attorney.

"I paid $79 in fines, as would anyone, the standard fine so we were told by the clerk of court.

"I have been always willing to accept a ticket and pay the fine for careless driving because when you have an accident

Speedy Trial Violations Pleaded

By Dean Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

In the first legal battle to keep out of jail, a fired Lake Mary High School history teacher argued Tuesday that sale of cocaine charges against him should be dropped because he was not tried within 180 days of his Dec. 5, 1984 arrest as the law requires.

Judge Kenneth M. Leffler said he would rule on the dismissal motion by 2:30 p.m. Friday when Wilson Gordon Jr. has another hearing scheduled.

Gordon, 38, of Altamonte Springs, and his attorney, Chris Ray of Sanford, made the motion during an hour-long hearing at the county courthouse in Sanford.

Gordon, who was video taped selling cocaine Dec. 1, 1984 to a Seminole County Sheriff's Department informant, turned informant himself to avoid prosecution and loss of his teaching license. More than a year after his undercover work was completed he was arrested on the December drug charges. He claims he was double-crossed by agents. The sheriff's department maintains he did not live up to his agreement.

At issue Tuesday was whether Gordon was under arrest when he talked to three undercover agents on Dec. 5, 1984. If he was, then the statutory and constitutional time provision for a speedy trial within 180 days of an arrest would have lapsed and the charges dropped. If he was not under arrest, the 180 day clock would not have started running until this April when he was jailed on the charges.

Gordon testified he was told he was under arrest. Two of the agents testified and said he was not under arrest.

"At his residence, he in fact asked if he was under arrest and he was told he was not," one undercover agent testified.

Gordon, however, said he was told what to do, had his rights read to him, was not free to leave their presence if he wanted, and while was not in

Concerned Citizens Express Themselves

"Drug Awareness Week" in Sanford was highlighted Tuesday night when approximately 200 people, including Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, City Commissioner Milton Smith, left, and Sanford Police Chief Steve

Longwood OKs Capital Loan

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The Longwood City Commission has authorized the borrowing of $4.1 million from Sun Bank for capital funding for a $2.5 million sewage treatment plant expansion, a $1 million police station, and $600,000 for street paving as recommended by City Finance Director Barry Weeks.

The terms of the loan, approved Monday night, include 6.65 percent fixed rate interest for the first seven years followed by 65 percent of prime after the seventh year with a maximum of 9 percent.

The maximum total interest the city would pay is $2,111,110, according to the Sun Bank bid.

Part of the money for expanding the sewer system will be used to put in a flow diversion force main to transport sewage from the Columbus Harbour subdivision to the Skylark Sewage Treatment Plant and allow the city to phase out the Columbus Harbour sewer plant.

Worsham Underground Masonry Construction Co. of Daytona Beach, which submitted the low bid of $189,845, was selected by the commission Monday night for the force main

County To Seek Repayment Of Legal Costs From City

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County will file a motion in district court seeking payment of more than $38,000 in legal fees from the City of Sanford. The county commission approved the action during its regular Tuesday afternoon session.

The fees were accumulated in defending the Yankee Lake condemnation suit by Sanford, when the city tried to invalidate an agreement between developer Jeno Paulucci and the county for the sale of the 2.867 acre Yankee Lake parcel of land.

Both governmental agencies had sought the land for use in their wastewater management programs. Sanford lost the condemnation effort in March.

Sanford has already spent more than $90,000 in attorney fees during its unsuccessful effort to condemn the Yankee Lake property.

According to county attorney Nikki Clayton, the actual cost to the county to defend the condemnation action was $45,550.25. That includes $36,918.75 for out-of-house attorney fees, $6000 for Clayton's time, and $2,631.50 for other costs, including the cost of copying documentation requested by Sanford.

But Clayton's $6,000 in fees, determined by using a rate of $75 per hour spent in defending the county, will be deleted from the request of payment, apparently as a peace-making gesture to the city.

"We consider the matter over, but there are hard feelings," Ms. Clayton said. "We will seek what the law says we are entitled to, but forgive the in-house fees, which we are entitled to seek."

Commission chairman Bob Sturm said he is in favor of pursuing the payment if fees, and commissioner Fred Streetman added that he would rather get the money from Sanford, than take it from county taxpayers.

Clayton was also authorized by the commission to defend the county in a lawsuit filed by General Homes. The commission recently denied the company a temporary wastewater treatment plant at the Brentwood Planned Unit Development, after an outcry from area residents against locating a plant near their

Judicial Candidates Begin To Queue

Candidates began queuing Tuesday to replace Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi who announced his resignation Monday.

Already to kick off his candidacy is O.H. "Bill" Eaton Jr., 43, of Altamonte Springs.

Eaton, trial attorney and former prosecutor, was the head of the county's Domestic Relations Commission, a quasi-judicial agency that handles domestic problems.

"Judges who are elected this November may serve into the twenty-first century. The courts will have to become more accessible to the people and at the same time implement procedures to accept the inevitable increase in business due to growing population. I want to have a part in meeting this challenge," Eaton said.

Eaton, 43, has practiced law in Seminole County for 15 years.

Salfi, 48, is resigning Sept. 30 to return to private practice and to teach. He has been on the bench in the Seminole Circuit since 1970.

Qualifying period for the $67,276-a-year job has not been set as of today because the state Supervisor of Elections office had not

4 Dead, 7 Missing As Typhoon Slams Philippines

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Typhoon Peggy slammed through the rice-producing northern Philippines today with 110-mph winds, triggering floods and landslides that left at least four people dead, seven missing and thousands evacuated.

At mid-morning, the Manila Weather Bureau said Peggy, the first typhoon of the season, was off the coast of Cagayan province, 200 miles north of Manila, and was traveling northwest at 9 mph. At its peak, the typhoon produced gusts of 110 mph.

Red Cross spokeswoman Teresita Usapdin said four people were killed when heavy rains touched off landslides in the mountain resort city of Baguio, in Benguet province, 130 miles north of Manila.

Usapdin said two children were killed when mud, uprooted trees and boulders buried a shanty. Two miners were killed and three others were reported missing in another landslide.

Police Seek Boy George

LONDON (UPI) — British narcotics officers said today they were looking for singer Boy George for questioning on heroin use and a newspaper said the pop idol has fled to New York.

His brother, meanwhile, has been charged with supplying the singer with the drug.

Narcotics police raided Boy George's two London homes before dawn Tuesday, finding no drugs but saying that the 25-year-old star may have gone into hiding.

The Daily Express newspaper quoted friends as saying that pressure in the form of reports about heroin use may have forced Boy George to take flight.

Franco-Soviet Talks Conclude

MOSCOW (UPI) — French President Francois Mitterrand and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev today concluded their third round of talks centering on East-West tensions.

The Tass news agency, giving no details of the latest meeting, said Prime Minister Nikolai Ryzhkov and President Andrei Gromyko joined Gorbachev and Mitterrand, who leaves for France on Thursday.

A French press spokesman said Mitterrand briefed Gorbachev, during five hours of talks Tuesday, on "the U.S. role as he saw it," including his discussions last week with President Reagan.

However, Soviet spokesman Gennady Gerasimov emphasized that Mitterrand did not assume the role of a mediator between the United States and Soviet Union. Plans for a superpower summit have been stalled for months.

Philippine Coupers Capitulate

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — President Corazon Aquino demanded today that the leader of a failed coup and his supporters take an oath of allegiance to her government or face criminal charges. She also banned all protests by loyalists of ousted ruler Ferdinand Marcos.

The Foreign Ministry today prohibited former Sen. Arturo Tolentino — the leader of the revolt which ended at dawn Tuesday — and 24 other Marcos loyalists, including eight generals, from leaving the country, the state-run Philippine News Agency said.

NASA's New Safety Officer Faces 'Challenging' Task

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The chief of NASA's new safety office, a post recommended by the Challenger disaster commission, says he views the job as a challenge and an opportunity to "help NASA and help the space program."

NASA Administrator James Fletcher announced Tuesday a new office of safety, reliability and quality assurance had been established and that George Rodney, 65, will head the program as an associate administrator reporting directly to Fletcher.

Rodney, who currently holds a similar job with Martin-Marietta Aerospace Co. in Orlando, will join NASA about Aug. 1.

The presidential commission that investigated the Challenger disaster recommended June 9 that a new safety office be established with wide-ranging oversight responsibilities.

Accidental Cocaine Bust

MIAMI (UPI) — A more than $10 million cocaine seizure was accidental, after a Metro-Dade County police detective peeked into a van and saw it piled high with the drug, a police spokesman said.

Two detectives arrived at a Miami house Tuesday afternoon, after an anonymous tip alerted police a burglary was in process there. They questioned an unidentified man they found in the house who appeared "extremely nervous," said police spokesman detective Larry Chilson.

One of the detectives looked inside a van that was parked outside the house and saw the cocaine, packaged in kilogram bags. No attempt was made to conceal the nearly 900 pounds of cocaine, which partially filled the van.

Police arrested the man and charged him with possession and trafficking of cocaine. If convicted, he faces a minimum of 15 years in prison for each charge, Chilson said.

The cocaine's value was estimated at $10,200,000 wholesale or about $160 million at street value.

Hawkins Draws Opposition

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Surprise Republican Senate candidate Jon Larsen Shudlick said he can beat both incumbent Sen. Paula Hawkins and Democratic challenger Gov. Bob Graham despite their overwhelming advantages in money and recognition.

Shudlick, mayor of the Palm Beach County community of Ocean Ridge, paid the $3,755 candidate filing fee out of his own pocket late Tuesday afternoon. He said he had not received any financial backing yet but would contribute "$10,000 or $15,000" of his own money to the campaign.

Hawkins is expected to report campaign contributions of about $4 million before the July 15 reporting deadline. Graham has already reported contributions of just over $3.5 million.

Postal Service Revamps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Postal Service's governing board, trying to block the potential for kickbacks and embezzling after the indictment of its vice chairman, Tuesday streamlined its operation and drastically tightened spending by its members.

"This will be the tightest procedure in effect for any organization of its kind in the country," the board's general counsel, Joseph Califano, said before the unanimous vote to adopt the 18-point plan setting up an intricate process of authorizations and auditing for travel, telecommunications and private staff expenses.

In a report to the nine-member Postal Board of Governors, Califano said an audit of members' 1984 and 1985 expense vouchers revealed the only abuse was by Peter Voss, who resigned as the board's vice chairman in May.

Voss pleaded guilty to three federal charges, admitting he took $20,000 in kickbacks to help a Texas firm win a Postal Service contract and embezzled $1,180 in Postal Service funds by submitting vouchers for first-class airline tickets he did not use.

Federal officials are still investigating the case.

In another unanimous vote aimed at preventing abuse, the board dissolved all of its committees except one for audit and finance.

Voss used his role on the committee that tests and buys new equipment to help Recognition Equipment Inc. of Irving, Texas, in its bid for a $250 million mail sorting equipment contract.

"This is a desirable step forward," said board member J.H. McConnell. "While it seems somewhat drastic, it is important to note that the board can best meet its responsibility (with major decisions) being handled by the whole."

Chairman John McKean said the governors are still trying to decide on a replacement for Postmaster General Albert Casey, who will resign in August.

"We expect to interview several inside and outside candidates," he said, later adding the decision would be announced at the board's next meeting Aug. 4-5.

The board also reported the Postal Service's income in the quarter that ended June 6 was $115 million on revenues of $7.2 billion, compared to a $45 million loss for the same period last year.

They said the good results were due to low inflation, which kept down cost-of-living increases for postal workers, a reduction in overtime and a 4.7 percent increase in mail volume over the same period of 1985.

Sidewalk Authority

Sandalwood subdivision residents, from left, Danny Argo, Trey Newkirk, and Becky Argo, hold up their "Sandalwood Sidewalk Authority" T-shirts presented them by Longwood City Commissioner Perry Faulkner at Monday night's city meeting. The Woodlands Elementary School students came to a commission meeting a month ago asking that a section of a sidewalk and sod torn up a year ago by workers be replaced. The commission reported back to the young constituents that the two 10-foot gaps had been filled in with concrete and the sod would be replaced. The children, who have put in 40 hours cleaning up the entrance to their subdivision on Range Line Road, asked what kind of community service they could do in appreciation for the city's action.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Record heat that pushed temperatures above 100 and made it too hot for even the Army to work clung to the Southeast for the fourth straight day today, endangering livestock and crops already withering in a destructive drought. Temperatures that set records this week in the Northeast with readings in the 90s were expected to moderate today, but National Weather Service meteorologist Bill Barlow said there would be no relief for the Southeast. Temperatures were in the middle 80s before sunrise today in Georgia and South Carolina and were expected to climb as high as 100 degrees. Barlow said, "It looks like it's going to stay pretty hot down there the rest of the week." The heat wave, dubbed a Bermuda High because of a high pressure system off the Atlantic coast that pumps up heat from the Gulf of Mexico, set records Tuesday in seven cities in Georgia, Maryland and South Carolina. The mercury hit a record 101 degrees in Greer, S.C., and records were set in Atlanta and Baltimore with readings of 100. At Fort Gordon, near Augusta, Ga., Army officials ordered all personnel to stop work at 2 p.m. Tuesday when the temperature reached 94 degrees. The temperature rose to 103 in Augusta Tuesday, a degree short of a record. "It's oppressive," said Inez Wylds of Augusta. "I literally have trouble getting my breath." A spokesman for the Marine Corps logistics base in Albany, Ga., said the facility was continuing its operations. "It's hot as hell here, but we're not going to close down," he said. In North Carolina, where the temperature rose to 101 degrees Tuesday in Goldsboro and 100 in Fayetteville, agriculture officials warned the heat combined with high humidity was endangering livestock. "Producers will need to take all cooling measures to deal with this heat wave," an agriculture extension service statement said. The heat aggravated drought conditions in Virginia, where officials anticipate severe reductions in corn and other crop yields.

Agriculture commissioner Mason Carbaugh said half the state's corn crop could be lost. Maryland Gov. Harry Hughes said 20 of the 23 counties where farms were suffering from the heat and drought could be declared disaster areas. In Philadelphia, many of the city's 85 public swimming pools were closed Tuesday as the temperature climbed to 94 degrees. Mounds of trash were left steaming on sidewalks because of an eight-day strike by city workers, but officials said the trash did not pose an immediate health hazard. While crops in the South withered, the NWS said, rain flooded parts of eastern Iowa and northwest Illinois. Flash flood watches were posted in Nebraska and Missouri and a flood watch was issued in Pennsylvania. Tornadoes struck Tuesday in Santa Fe, Texas. Winds ripped the roof off an apartment complex for the elderly in Indianapolis, forcing evacuations.

LOCAL REPORT: The high Tuesday recorded at University of Florida Agricultural Research and Education Center was 92 degrees and the 8 a.m. reading today was 71 degrees. No rain was recorded at the center, but there were a few scattered showers around the county. Today's high is expected to be in the low 90s with 20 percent chance of rain.

AREA READINGS (8 a.m.): temperature: 77; overnight low: 73; Tuesday's high: 92; barometric pressure: 30.18; relative humidity: 87 percent; winds: SSW at 4 mph; rain: None; sunrise: 6:35 a.m.; sunset: 8:26 p.m.

a.m., 4:52 p.m.
EXTENDED FORECAST: A chance of showers and thunderstorms mainly during afternoon and evening hours except most anytime southeast and Keys. Lows from the lower 70s north to around 80 in the keys. Highs near 90 to mid 90s.

AREA FORECAST: Today...mostly sunny with widely scattered late afternoon thunderstorms. High in the low 90s. Light variable wind. Rain chance 20 percent. Tonight...fair. Low in the lower to mid 70s. Light wind. Thursday...wind mostly west near 10 kts. Seas near 3 ft. Bay and inland waters a light chop.

BOATING REPORT: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet — Today...wind variable mostly west 10 kts or less. Seas 3 ft or less. Bay and inland waters a light chop. Tonight and Thursday...wind mostly west near 10 kts. Seas near 3 ft. Bay and inland waters a light chop.

Changing One Evil For Another

The Reagan administration is signaling its consideration of a tougher policy toward South Africa by approving indirect diplomatic contacts with the outlawed African National Congress. When Britain's Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher sought to dispatch a similar signal recently, she authorized inviting the ANC's president, Oliver Tambo, in for a well-publicized chat with the Foreign Office.

These moves are meant to touch a sensitive political nerve in Pretoria, and thus signal sharp disapproval of the Botha government's continuing repression. Talking to the African National Congress also constitutes tacit recognition of the obvious: That the ANC enjoys widespread support among South African blacks and that it is the most prominent of the groups seeking to destroy apartheid by overthrowing the present white-minority regime. But, as Mr. Reagan and Mrs. Thatcher surely know, this adds up to something less than a case for endorsing the ANC as the preferred successor to the present government of South Africa.

The problem, simply put, is that a South Africa run by the African National Congress would likely merely have exchanged one set of evils for another, and with potentially worse consequences for South Africa and the West. The ANC began innocently enough in 1912 as a peaceful, reformist movement dedicated to black liberation. But since then, and especially after it was banned by the South African government in 1960, the ANC developed ominously close links with the pro-Soviet South African Communist Party.

Today, Mr. Tambo openly acknowledges the ANC's debt to the Soviet Union. And no wonder. The Soviet bloc is the congress's principal source of arms, training, financial aid, and political support. No doubt the Soviets also approved the ANC's decision a year ago to abandon restraints on killing civilians in its guerrilla war against South Africa. Absent those restraints, what is there to distinguish the African National Congress from any other terrorist organization with lofty sounding ends but criminally murderous means?

As for any formal ideology, and concomitant plans for a post-apartheid South Africa, the ANC is vague, perhaps deliberately so. The congress's constitution calls for nationalization of principal industries and redistribution of wealth, but says nothing convincing about establishing a multi-party, multi-racial, Western-style democracy.

Despite all of this, Washington and London have cause to maintain at least confidential contacts with the ANC, if for no other reason than that it is a major player in the unfolding South African drama. So much the better if symbolic public contacts can convince the Botha government to tack more toward reform and less toward repression. Nor is it wrong for the Reagan administration to press for eventual negotiations involving the African National Congress, the South African government, and the many other indigenous organizations and leaders representing black South Africans. Gatscha Buthelezi, for example, represents perhaps 5 million Zulus and is vehemently opposed to the African National Congress.

The essential point in all this should be obvious enough. South Africa won't be a better place if it exchanges the tyranny of apartheid for the terror and starvation of, say, Marxist Ethiopia. It's a point we never hear being made by the African National Congress.

Meese Says He Doesn't Want To Be A Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It has always been assumed by Washington insiders that Attorney General Edwin Meese, a member of President Reagan's close California coterie, eventually will be picked for a seat on the Supreme Court.

It was also assumed that Meese, a former professor of law, coveted the lifetime job on the highest court in the land. But Meese says those who speculate in that direction have got it all wrong. "A long time ago, I said I never wanted to be a judge. It was printed in The New York Times so it must be true. I never wanted to be one and never will."

Meese has the proper conservative credentials in Reagan's view if he wanted the job. And one more appointment and the president will tip the balance to the right where he has tried to steer the country for the last 6 1/2 years.

Meese, who heads the Pornography Commission, was asked what he thinks of Ronald Prescott Reagan, the president's son, writing for Playboy magazine. He replied, "I think he ought to be able to work for whoever he wants."

Then when told that the president had expressed a wish that his son would have a more "dignified" professional outlet, Meese beamed broadly and said, "I agree with the president."

Meese was corralled by reporters at the White House diplomatic reception. He is continuing his investigation of news leaks, and declared that he had never leaked anything in his life, particularly when he was a counselor at the White House.

The diplomatic world is filled with contradictions. One of them was when Nicaraguan Ambassador Carlos Timmerman and his wife came through the receiving line at the White House diplomatic reception and were greeted by President Reagan and his wife.

Reagan has made it a top priority foreign policy goal to get rid of the Marxist-led Sandinista government in Nicaragua, and succeeded in convincing Congress to militarily finance the anti-Sandinista rebels, called Contras.

Still the diplomatic niceties remain. The United States, which has imposed economic sanctions against Nicaragua, still maintains diplomatic relations with that country.

Both the United States and Nicaragua apparently feel it is to their advantage to maintain embassies in Washington and Managua, despite the hostility between them.

Nancy Reagan's 65th birthday celebration Sunday, July 5, was a quiet one with the president. Her press secretary, Elaine Crispin, said there were no party plans for the first lady and none of the other California-based members of the family were expected to fly to Washington for the occasion.

On the following day, Mrs. Reagan's staff had a special luncheon celebration planned in her honor.

Mrs. Reagan plans to leave for London around July 20 or 21 to attend the wedding of Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson on July 23.

Crispin said that Mrs. Reagan has no plans to travel to any other part of Europe while on the continent and will fly back to Washington the day after the royal wedding.

Seeing America This Year

With the arrival of the summer vacation season, Americans will be taking to the highways in greater numbers than they have for many years. The decline in gasoline prices, combined with fear of the terrorist threat abroad, is causing a tremendous drop-off in foreign travel and a corresponding increase in automobile trips in the United States and Canada.

This is not only good news for the U.S. and Canadian tourism, but an important educational opportunity for the Americans who take to the highways to discover or rediscover North America.

An automobile trip across this vast continent is an education in itself, perhaps of a more lasting nature and greater value than what many students receive in a classroom. One has to be pretty insensitive not to return from such a trip without a deep appreciation of this country and its friendly neighbor to the north.

In traveling across America, a family learns firsthand about the extraordinary beauty and variety of this great land — the rich farmland of the Middle West, the prairies, the majesty of the Rocky Mountains, and all the other incredible features of this mighty continent.

Anyone who imagines that the United States is a terrible sameness, consisting of fast-food restaurants and chain motels, discovers charming old towns such as Herman on the Missouri River, or the unspoiled hamlets such as Rensselaer near Albany, N.Y., or Quincy, Ill., a stately town on the Mississippi. Indeed, there is no end to places of individuality and distinction in this huge nation. And Canada, next door, represents another colossal opportunity for discovery — from the Maritime Provinces to the Yukon and Northwest Territory.

It is almost impossible to travel across America in the summertime without becoming schooled in American history and gaining new respect for the people who explored, settled and built up this vast territory.

At Fort Leavenworth, Kan., one can see the tracks made by the wagons of the settlers as they set out on the Oregon Trail. The great monument of the Mormons — "This Is The Place" — which looks out over the Great Salt Lake region, warms one to the power of vision that enabled many thousands of Americans to cross wastelands in pursuit of a promised land.

Today, one travels on interstate highways or excellent secondary roads as one discovers trans-Mississippi America.

HUD Black Won't Take Scalia's Place

By Jack Anderson
And
Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The only black member of President Reagan's Cabinet, Housing and Urban Development Secretary Samuel R. Pierce Jr., was recently offered a federal appellate court seat. But he politely turned it down, evidently hoping that he will be named to the Supreme Court before Reagan leaves office.

Pierce is well regarded at HUD and the White House after nearly six years in the Cabinet. But when he was first appointed, he was so unassuming that Reagan mistook him for one among a delegation of big-city mayors invited to the White House.

According to congressional sources, the offer of an appellate judgeship was made in a telephone call to Pierce on June 26 from Sen.

Manion Nomination Hurts

WASHINGTON (NEA) — After this July Fourth recess, the Senate will be faced with the continuing question of whether to confirm the pending appointment of Indiana lawyer Daniel Manion to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Liberals oppose Manion because of his ultra-conservative views. Moderates and many in the legal profession oppose him because of his almost complete lack of experience in the federal courts and his lack of any demonstrated legal scholarship. Meanwhile the Reagan administration has turned the nomination into a litmus test of Senate loyalty to the president.

Insiders now believe that in the end the president will get his wish and Manion will be confirmed. But the cost to the administration, and to the Republican Senate leadership, may end up being very high.

Much of the problem stems from what happened on the Senate floor in the final hours before holiday recess. The Manion nomination had been bitterly debated for days. It was obvious that the final vote was going to be very close, with a one-vote difference — for or against — widely predicted.

As the Senate entered its final pre-recess day, those opposed to the nomination were resigned to passing a motion that would table a final vote until after the recess. But they did a little vote-counting and suddenly came to the conclusion that they had the votes to kill the nomination.

To understand what happened next, one must understand the arcane, some would even say archaic, rules under which the Senate operates.

"Senatorial courtesy" is central: A senator's word is considered his bond. If a senator is opposed to something coming up for a vote, and he is going to be absent, he will call a proponent of the measure and ask that senator to sit out the vote to offset his absence. Or else the leadership will contact a senator and make the arrangement. It happens in almost every vote, or at least in every close vote.

In the frantic minutes before the Manion vote, Democratic opponents of the nomination say that Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole came to them and asked that two of them sit out the vote because two Republican members in favor of the nomination were absent. They agreed.

But it turns out that one of those absentees, Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., was purposely absent because he did not want to make a recorded vote since he was still "undecided." Most observers believe Packwood is against the nomination, but does not want to vote against it because he needs total Republican support to get his tax bill through the coming Senate-House conference.)

Packwood subsequently said in a statement that Dole had no right to speak for him or to make any deals.

As the vote was progressing, Dole went to Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., and asked her to withdraw her negative vote to offset Sen. Barry Goldwater, who was absent. She did so, changing her vote from "no" to "present."

It later turned out that Goldwater, like Packwood, was absent on purpose, and he also had not intended to vote in favor of the nomination.

At the same time, administration arm-twisters got Sen. Slade Gorton, R-Wash., to change his vote from "no" to "yes" by agreeing to appoint William Dwyer, a longtime Gorton friend, to the federal bench in Seattle.

Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. The senator asked Pierce if he would be interested in appointment to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C., which faces a vacancy with the nomination of Judge Antonin Scalia to the Supreme Court.

Pierce declined the offer and joked to Thurmond that he was holding out for a seat on the high court. Neither Pierce nor his press spokesman would comment, but sources told our associate Lucette Lagnado that Pierce's lighthearted response cloaked a serious hope that he will get a Supreme Court nomination. His decision to decline the appellate judgeship, therefore, is clearly a gamble.

The White House certainly has a "short list" of possible replacements ready for the next high court vacancy, and Pierce may not be on it. Thurmond may have been trying to signal Pierce that an appeals court seat was the best he could hope for anytime soon.

One knowledgeable Supreme Court watcher told us it would have been wiser for Pierce to have accepted the offer of an appellate judgeship, which historically has been a solid steppingstone to the highest court. Even a brief tenure on the appellate bench would make him an attractive choice for the Supreme Court — especially if he had breezed through his earlier Senate confirmation, as Pierce could have been expected to.

At 63, Pierce has more than ethnic and political considerations going for him. His intellectual and professional background is distinguished.

He graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Cornell in 1947, and from the law school there in 1949. He served as a first lieutenant with the Army's criminal investigation division

Money For The Educators

BOSTON (UPI) — Educators may want to use results of campus research to make money to support future endeavors, but a new study warns that real money-makers are rare and may be more trouble than they're worth.

While some schools have succeeded in generating profits by patenting products resulting from research by faculty members, such undertakings can be risky and costly.

"We urge caution in assessing the potential financial rewards of patenting and licensing offices at universities and medical centers," said the Kennedy School of Government Center for Health Policy and Management researchers who conducted the study.

In a special article in The New England Journal of Medicine, the researchers reviewed the experience of the University of Wisconsin's Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation (WARF).

"Universities that are now seeking ways to capture the financial rewards of advances made in biotechnology and other fields on their campuses have been encouraged by the apparent success of previous efforts," the researchers said.

"A close examination of the experience of this foundation reveals that, with good fortune and good management, a patenting and licensing organization can enjoy financial success," they said. "It also indicates, however, that the success experienced by WARF would be difficult to achieve today and that such efforts may yield lower financial returns than university administrators expect," they said.

WARF was started in 1924 after Harry Steenbock, a professor at the university, demonstrated that vitamin D could be activated by exposing food to ultraviolet light. This finding helped eliminate rickets as a childhood disease in the United States once the process was used on milk and other dairy products.

The university formed WARF, a private nonprofit trust controlled by an unpaid board of trustees, to administer the income from patenting the discovery, encourage other professors to submit patent suggestions and return money generated by the patents to the school to support more research.

In its first 50 years, WARF awarded about $99 million to the university, accounting for about 5 percent of the estimated $1.9 billion spent on research during that time.

during World War II.

During the Eisenhower administration, Pierce became the first black to serve as assistant to an undersecretary of labor; during the Nixon administration, he became the first black to be general counsel to the Treasury Department.

Pierce served as an assistant district attorney and assistant U.S. attorney in Manhattan, and was twice appointed to interim New York state judgeships by the late Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. He lost two campaigns for full 14-year judgeships, running in a heavily Democratic district.

Pierce was the first black to become a partner in a major New York law firm, when he joined Battle, Fowler, Jaffin & Kheel in 1961. He was earning a six-figure income at the prestigious law firm when he left to become HUD secretary in 1981.

All Signs Pointed To Arrests

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, July 9, 1968-SA

Oviedo police reported arresting two youths in connection with the theft of street signs from that city.

In addition to signs from Stephen, Franklin, Newton and Rich streets in Oviedo, police reported finding Frances and Ivey street signs from Casselberry and a New Jersey Street sign that belongs to Seminole County.

The signs were reportedly found in the youths' car after police, who had been alerted to possible mischief makers, stopped their vehicle on State Road 434 at about 12:40 a.m. Tuesday.

Charged with theft and dealing in stolen property was Richard Newton Schneider, 18, of Orlando, and a 17-year-old Oviedo boy. Schneider was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $2,000 bond.

JAIL WINDOW PASTED
Seminole County jail inmates apparently gouged mortar from a window casing and filled the gouged area with toilet paper and tooth paste, trying to hide their work, which Seminole County sheriff's deputies said was done in an effort to escape.

Sheriff's investigator Dan Prast said the effort couldn't have led to freedom because the window is secured deep into the wall by metal that could only be cut with a blow torch.

The window that had been tampered with was located at about 8 p.m. Monday after a tipster called the sheriff's department to report the reputed planned escape.

Prast said the cell was not occupied when the damage was found, so suspects have not been pinpointed. He said the damage could have been done some time ago and he was scheduled to question inmates Tuesday.

police because a tail light on his vehicle wasn't working has been charged in connection with carrying a handgun concealed in his car. He was also charged for having an improper license tag, no driver's license and for refusing to sign a citation.

The traffic related charges were made before the gun was reportedly found in the man's car. The suspect refused to identify himself to police. At first he was called John Doe, but was booked into the Seminole County jail as Jeff Jones, with no age or address given. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

POT & PIPE

A man who was reportedly smoking marijuana in a pipe in a home at 204 Midway Drive, Sanford, was arrested by a Sanford policeman who entered that home at about 10:20 a.m. Monday.

Police reported seeing the suspect with the pipe and smelling marijuana before confronting the suspect. Walter Keith Wood, 29, of 101 Hattaway Drive, Altamonte Springs, has been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. He has been released on $500 bond to appear in court July 18.

TIP TO ARREST

City/County Investigation Bureau agents who received a tip that a resident of 141 Oak Ave., Longwood, had marijuana in his vehicle, reported arresting a suspect at that address after allegedly finding less than 20 grams of marijuana and cigarette rolling papers in his car.

Lewis Speed Simpson, 30, of the address above, was arrested on Oak Avenue at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Joseph William Clinton, 28, of 350 Reider Ave., Longwood, was arrested at 2:42 a.m. Tuesday after his car was seen weaving on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry.

—Steven Louis Merlock, 49, of Massachusetts, at 2:42 a.m. Tuesday after his car was seen weaving on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry.

SHOT IN FOOT

A 16-year-old Altamonte Springs girl who was trying to load a pistol at Fisherman's Paradise on Willingham Road at about 2:30 p.m. Monday, shot herself in the right foot, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Thomas Coen, 27, of Longwood, took the wounded Cindy L. Mahon, of 628 Ashbury Lane, Altamonte Springs, to the Chuluota fire station for first aid after the incident. She was also treated in the emergency room of Winter Park Memorial Hospital, the report said.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Jewelry, stereo gear and other items with a combined value of $1,980 were stolen from the home of James E. Cathey, 45, of 182 Curryville Road, Chuluota, Monday, a sheriff's report said.

A California king snake, about two-feet long and valued at $100, was stolen from the reptile building at the Central Florida Zoo, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, between 11:20 p.m. Monday and 12:10 a.m. Tuesday.

A sheriff's report said the thief used a brick to break glass in a door to reach in and open the door of the building. Glass in the snake's quarters was also broken. Deputies reported that this mimics a similar snake theft reported by zoo officials about two months ago.

James Williams Jr., 34, of Sanford, has given sheriff's deputies the name of a man he said held him by the arms and robbed him of $40 cash in the parking lot of the Deluxe Bar on Southwest Road in Sanford at about 9:30 p.m. Monday. Williams said he didn't resist, because he believed the robber was armed with a gun.

Jewelry, including a $1,500 diamond ring, was stolen from the home of Esther J. Miller, 53, of 1908 Winnebago Trail, Fern Park, between June 22 and 29, a sheriff's report said.

Vallerie Luevani, 52, of 205 Atherstone Court, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies that $1,134 worth of items including three cameras were stolen from her home between June 2 and Monday.

Jade Lincoln, 48, of 107 Crown Point, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies that she determined that after a sheriff's deputy left her a note saying he found her business, Jade Lin II, 14010 Montgomery Road, Longwood, unsecured on June 13, she determined that $150 had been stolen from her business. She reported the loss Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Two gold necklaces and a bracelet with a combined value of $4,000 were stolen from Marsha Judy Seifan, 35, of 101 Wild Holly Court, Longwood. A sheriff's report said the items were stolen from 108 River Park Court, Longwood, between Feb. 25 and Monday.

Nancy Long, 29, of 118 Gum St., Altamonte Springs, gave sheriff's deputies the name of a suspect who may have stolen three surfboards and a bicycle from her home on Sunday or Monday.

An airboat valued at $4,000 and belonging to Timothy L. Myera, 28, of Route 3, Box 357-A Lake Ave., Sanford, was stolen from Dick Joyce Well Drilling, 415 E. State Road 46, Sanford, on Sunday or Monday.

Food Distribution Sites Remain Same

Surplus foods will be distributed in Seminole County by the American Red Cross on July 9-11. Distribution sites remain the same as last month, with recipients being asked to report only to the site serving their zip code. Boxes or bags to carry commodities are helpful. Recertification will be done this month for everyone.

Zip codes 32748, 32771 and 32770: Crooms High School, 2200 West 13th Street, Sanford, on July 9 from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Zip codes 32701, 32703, 32707, 32708, 32714, 32730, 32733, 32750, 32751, and 32792: July 11 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. (Note: This is a change of day for July only) at Altamonte Community Chapel, 625 Highway 436 in Altamonte

Springa. Zip codes 32732, 32765 and 32766: July 10 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon (Note: This is a change of day for July only) at the Chuluota Fire Hall, 7th and E. Streets in Chuluota.

USDA's Temporary Emergency Food Program is available to all eligible recipients regardless of race, religion, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap.

Seminole County residents who have not yet registered for the commodities may do so at the appropriate location for their zip code and will receive food on the same day. For additional information, Seminole County residents may call the Red Cross in Longwood at 831-3000 or in Orlando, 684-4141.

New York Court Orders Goetz To Stand Trial

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The state's highest court today unanimously reversed a lower court and ordered subway gunman Bernhard Goetz to stand trial on charges of attempting to murder four youths he thought were going to mug him.

The Court of Appeals voted 7-0 to overturn a lower court that had dismissed the charges on a technicality, saying such a dismissal would allow citizens to set their own standards for the use of force.

Chief Judge Sol Wachtler wrote the opinion, saying, "We do not purport to reach any conclusion or holding as to exactly what transpired or whether defendant is blameworthy."

"The credibility of witnesses and the reasonableness of defendant's conduct are to be resolved by the trial jury," Wachtler wrote.

The high court struck down a mid-level appeals court ruling that said deadly force was justified in virtually any case in which a defendant believes he is threatened.

The Court of Appeals disagreed, saying the state must adhere to a more objective standard for determining when deadly force is permissible.

"We cannot ... allow the perpetrator of a serious crime to go free simply because that person believed his actions were reasonable and necessary to prevent some perceived harm," Wachtler wrote.

"To completely exonerate such an individual, no matter how aberrational or bizarre his thought patterns, would allow citizens to set their own standards for the permissible use of force," he said.

The court said deadly force should only be used in cases when a "reasonable person" might believe they are threatened and dismissed the more subjective standard applied by the lower courts that could allow defendants to use deadly force in any case where they feel threatened.

"We're pleased the indictment has been reinstated and the case will go before a jury," said Mary de Bourbon, a spokeswoman for Manhattan District Attorney Robert Morgenthau.

Goetz lawyer Barry Slotnick said the decision will mean the issues of self-defense will be raised during the trial.

Black leaders claimed the shooting was racially motivated. Goetz is white and his victims are black.

While the legal wrangling over the Goetz case was going on, three out of four of his victims were facing legal difficulties of their own.

James Ramseur, 19, is serving an eight-and-one-third to 25 year sentence for raping a pregnant teenager last May — six months after he was gunned down by Goetz. Ramseur was also arrested for faking his own kidnapping but those charges were dropped.

Barry Allen, 19, is serving six months in jail for robbery. He was sentenced on April 29, a day after Ramseur was sentenced for rape.

Troy Canty, 20, is in a drug rehabilitation center as part of his sentence for a robbery he committed before the subway shooting.

Darrell Cabey, 20, was paralyzed and brain damaged in the shooting. Armed robbery charges that were filed against him before he was gunned down by Goetz were dropped because the youth became incapable of standing trial.

Government Bans Sulfites On Raw Fruits And Vegetables

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Use of sulfites on raw fruits and vegetables like those in salad bars will be illegal a month from today because of severe reactions — including death — in people allergic to the preservative, the government says.

The Food and Drug Administration announced the ban Tuesday and also broadened its requirement for sulfite labeling on packaged foods.

The ban is effective 30 days after its publication in today's Federal Register. The labeling regulation becomes effective in six months.

When it proposed the ban last August, the FDA said most reactions to sulfites are not severe but side effects can include hives, nausea, diarrhea, shortness of breath and fatal shock.

The agency estimated 500,000 to 1 million people may be sensitive, and more than 75 percent of that number are asthmatic, though the connection between asthma and sulfite reaction is unclear.

Firefighters Control Toxic Cargo

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (UPI) — Firefighters trained streams of water on a derailed freight car today to prevent its volatile cargo of phosphorus from igniting again, and Gov. Richard Celeste advised 15,000 people who fled fumes from the "all night."

Seven cars on a Baltimore & Ohio train derailed Tuesday and one tank car ruptured, spilling phosphorus that burst into flames on contact with the hot, muggy air, officials said. The blaze spewed a poisonous cloud that billowed over suburban Dayton.

Seven hospitals reported treating at least 138 people for minor injuries such as skin, eye and lung irritation, and 11 people were admitted.

More than 15,000 people were evacuated from Miamisburg and nearby communities, and City Manager Dennis Kissinger declared a state of emergency in the Dayton suburb, at 7 p.m. EDT Tuesday, about 2 1/4 hours after the accident.

By 10 p.m., firefighters had extinguished the phosphorus blaze, but they kept flooding the ruptured tank car with water as a precaution.

Letter Claims Ac'cent Poisoned

HOUSTON (UPI) — An anonymous letter claiming that six containers of Ac'cent seasoning had been poisoned with cyanide prompted the manufacturer to withdraw the product from stores in five Texas counties in the area where the letter was mailed.

In announcing the recall Tuesday, Les Landes, director of communications for Pet Inc. of St. Louis, which makes Ac'cent, said the letter gave no motive and made no demands. He added there had been no reports of deaths or injuries.

"I hate to say inflammatory things, but I think it's another case of mindless consumer terrorism," Landes said. "My big concern about this is all the copy-cat idiots out there."

The letter, which was dated Thursday and had a Houston postmark, arrived at Pet headquarters Monday, saying that six 4.5-ounce containers of the flavor enhancer had been poisoned. The company notified the FBI and the Food and Drug Administration and began the recall Tuesday, Landes said.

Porn Panel Unveils Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Edwin Meese's controversial pornography panel today unveils its final report, calling for sweeping changes in federal and state laws to eradicate the smut it has concluded causes sexual violence.

The presentation of the report to Meese by the Attorney General's Commission on Pornography came months of controversy that began well before the panel — charged with assessing the impact of the $8 billion-a-year pornography business on American life — finished its yearlong, $500,000 investigation.

The final draft of the report, opened to inspection Tuesday, retained the most contentious conclusion reached by the 11-member panel — that violence-oriented pornography is directly related to rape, and that link also applies to non-violent sexual materials.

On that premise, faulted by civil liberties groups and even some commission members for being unscientific, the panel of well-known anti-smut prosecutors and crusaders made 92 recommendations to combat "the cruel plague" of sexual violence they say pornography causes.

Building permits have been issued for all but nine lots in the initial phases of the Hollowbrook section of Brentwood, which totals 150 homes, according to county Land Management Coordinator John Dwyer.

General Homes will apparently be ready to move onto the next phases of construction in the 681 dwelling unit development, but cannot go further until it has adequate sewage disposal capacity, a county official said.

According to Ms. Clayton, General Homes' suit claims the commission's decision to deny the temporary plant was "arbitrary and not authorized by law."

Appeals Court Upholds Walker Conviction

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A federal appeals court today upheld the espionage conviction of Arthur Walker, rejecting arguments that the government failed to prove the classified documents Walker passed to his spy-master brother were received by the Soviets.

Walker, a retired Navy officer from Virginia Beach, was convicted last year of seven counts of espionage and conspiracy to commit espionage. He was convicted of transmitting secret documents that he obtained at VSE Corp. — the Chesapeake defense contractor where he worked — to his brother, John Walker.

"This argument fails because the government presented sufficient evidence to prove that John Walker was a Soviet agent," the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled.

Among the documents he passed to his brother in 1981 and 1982 was a damage control book for the USS Blue Ridge that contained a description of the Navy's response to damage control.

Arthur Walker was arrested in May 1985, several days after the FBI apprehended John Walker, who pleaded guilty to espionage. The spy ring operated by John Walker included his son, Michael, a former seaman aboard the USS Nimitz, and allegedly a Navy buddy, Jerry Whitworth.

Whitworth is currently on trial for espionage in San Francisco.

In oral arguments before the appeals court, Walker's attorneys, Brian Donnelly and Samuel Meekins, sought to overturn the conviction on grounds that the agreement between the brothers never extended to the Soviets.

The three-judge appeals panel disagreed.

"The government introduced ample evidence to show the existence of additional Soviet agents who received the information from John Walker," the court said, citing Arthur Walker's own testimony regarding conversations with his brother.

The appeals court dismissed arguments on a number of technical grounds, including allegations that U.S. attorneys failed to provide him with notice of the classified documents to be used at trial.

and cons from Shadow Hill subdivision residents, the commission voted 4-1 to reopen Lamont Avenue and Shadow Trail, which have been "temporarily" closed at the request of the residents. If the closing had been extended it would have been for the fourth time in two years.

Commissioner June Lormann voted against reopening the streets because she felt they should only be opened temporarily for a set time and monitored to see if there was still a problem.

The residents of the subdivision originally requested exits to county's Myrtle Lake Hills Road (then upaved) be closed because non-residents were using them as a short cut and vandalizing, littering, and speeding.

Opponents to the closing argued that the problems would no longer exist because the county road has since been paved and the exits were needed.

One Shadow Hill resident, Don Faulkner, pointed out that county commissioners, police officers, the fire and rescue personnel and the city planner all think it should be open.

"I don't think you're playing on emotions," Faulkner said. "Get the streets back to the people who live there."

The city had investigated closing the streets to through traffic permanently and building cul-de-sacs, but City Engineer Charles Haasler said to do so would put the street within a few feet of the houses on the end of the street causing them to not meet the setbacks required by the city code.

City Attorney Gerald Korman said he does not believe in closing public streets and maintaining them with public money and the city could not continue indefinitely keeping the streets barricaded on a temporary basis.

The commission agreed to have the streets monitored closely to see if safety problems exist and if they do the streets could be closed again.

that's obviously what it is, careless driving," Selph said.

A lobbyist, Kenneth Powell, has been charged with two counts of obstruction — both first degree misdemeanors — and driving under the influence in connection with the incident.

Selph has refused comment until he speaks with his lawyer, Assistant State Attorney Elizabeth Keeth, who has worked on the case, refused to elaborate on the facts surrounding the case.

Prosecutors learned that in the hours before the accident, Selph and other lawmakers met at the home of a business lobbyist to discuss the proposed commercial liability insurance bill.

After the meeting broke up, Rep. Dale Patchett, R-Vero Beach, said he stopped by a Tallahassee nightclub to talk to other legislators about the insurance bill. Patchett saw Selph at the nightclub and they agreed to meet other lawmakers at the Hilton.

At about 2 a.m. in the Hilton, Patchett joined Rep. Tom Gallagher, a Republican candidate for governor, and Rep. Tom Gustafson, D-Fort Lauderdale, Gallagher said, but Selph was late for the meeting.

Keeth has been reported as saying it was then that Selph's car probably hit the parked car. Selph told police he walked away from the accident and didn't return on the advice of Powell and others in the hotel.

According to reports, Powell offered a cab driver parked near the hotel $50 then $100 to pose as Selph and say he was driving the car. Powell has denied the story.

Powell told police he was driving Selph's car, but at 4:30 a.m., Selph went to talk with police. Police said Selph initially told them he wasn't driving the car and then said he was.

"You know I'm a lobbyist, and you have to take the fall when you work for a legislator," Powell reportedly told police.

Selph, 40, a certified public accountant, was first elected to the House in 1982.

displaying to last fall's discussion.

Commissioner Bob Thomas did not comment during discussions of the French Avenue parcel during Monday's meeting, although after the session he said he was opposed to a commercial zoning of the site. He said the field has been used as a sports area by youngsters "for years without any of them getting killed by French Avenue traffic."

Thomas also applauded Mercer's proposal for a pool to be part of the possible sports center off Airport Boulevard.

Thomas has been the commission's most vocal proponent for acquisition of the municipal swim center requested by the city's youth advisory committee in a report it submitted to commissioners last fall.

Commissioners have expressed interest in the Sanford Airport pool as the site for the facility, although the possibility has been opposed by representatives of the airport authority, which has jurisdiction over the pool.

Authority representatives say the pool's proximity to industrial complexes would pose a potential safety hazard for youngsters who may wander into these areas. They also say the authority's ability to secure insurance could be adversely impacted if the pool is used as a municipal facility.

physical custody was in mental custody and under duress.

Assistant state attorney Bill Cato argued that Gordon was not under arrest. That he was not in physical custody and that he went in his own car after the meeting to the Sanford Marina to meet someone along with the agents, who travelled in their car. After the marina meeting, he drove his car to the sheriff's department, again without being in custody, said Cato.

Cato cited case law in which people have been handcuffed, jailed, questioned, and read rights but have been determined by various courts not to be under arrest.

Leffler, after hearing case law for and against, said it was a tough issue.

The judge also raised the question of if the agents did not meet Gordon to investigate the case, then why meet with him?

"I can't figure out what the purpose was here," said Leffler referring to the agents going to Gordon's home.

Cato said that the agents wanted him to cooperate, so as to cultivate him as an informant. If he had not agreed to cooperate, they would have arrested him. Since he generally agreed to possibly cooperate after consulting with his attorney, they did not arrest him.

"As a matter of public policy, should we condone officers going out and threatening people this way," Leffler asked.

He said he will make his ruling by Friday when Gordon has a hearing asking for dismissal under constitutional grounds for due process.

Gordon is scheduled for trial July 22 but is eighth on a docket of eight for that week.

Pro's Lesson Is Hard Work For Pupil And Teacher

How much is a lesson from a good teaching pro worth? How long should the lesson be? Should I change a stroke just because the pro tells me to? How long will it take me to get really good? Will I be able to beat my boss? I've never beaten him before.

These are a few of the many questions that people have when they are considering lessons or clinics with a tennis teaching professional. Good questions for sure but, unfortunately, the answers do not always satisfy the prospective student.

To begin with, the value of a lesson from a teaching pro will vary from city to city or even club to club. I know of clubs where the pro charges up to $75 per hour. I also know of places where you can get a private lesson for $5 an hour.

Extremes both. I just do not believe in a $75 worth lesson. On the other hand, if you take a $5 lesson you are likely to get five dollars worth.

I believe a fair price is $10-$20 per hour. Believe me, a good lesson is hard work for the pro as well as the student. It's not "play" for the pro. It's work.

It takes concentration and patience. A good pro puts a lot of mental and physical effort into a good lesson. If your pro seems distracted, always stopping to chat with people, is often late, and does not give you a good effort — get a new one.

There are some really good ones out there and there are some who will just take your money and "run, Venezuela."

A lesson should last at least 45 minutes. An hour is better. If the student is a beginner there will be a lot of talking, so it will take at least one hour.

More advanced players often can get a good lesson in less time because they are running and hitting most of the time (By the way, if the student does not give 100 percent at all times, they are wasting their money — the student must try as hard as he/she can).

Larry Castle

TENNIS ANTONIO

One of the main reasons for taking a lesson is to improve your game. I have found over and over again that some students are very resistant to change. They pay a lot of good money to a pro so that their games will improve and then when the pro suggests some modifications in their strokes they simply will not cooperate.

Look, there is only one guideline to go by in changing your strokes: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." In other words, if your backhand volley is sound, reliable and consistent, then you do not need to change your technique.

You just need to keep hitting it to make a good one even better. However, if you have a weak backhand volley, with poor control and no power, you should listen to your pro, trust his judgment and make some changes.

How long will it take you to be really good? Who knows? Each of us progresses at his own speed. Several factors are involved in how rapidly you improve. The two main ones have nothing to do with your pro.

The most important aspects in how good you get are:

- 1. Your own natural ability.
- 2. How much you practice and how hard you work when you do practice.

If someone you want to beat is on a really high level, it may be impossible to ever beat him. Your boss may have been playing for many years and his level may be considerably above yours. There just might be too much of a gap to make up.

What you might be able to do, though, is improve enough to make it closer and be more competitive and fun for you both.

A good teaching pro is worth a lot. Most are hard working, concerned about your game and very conscientious. Find a good one and get to work.

Mike Maples got just the pitch he wanted, down the middle and a little high. The Sanford American pitcher deposited it over the fence to win the Sub-District Tourney.

Maples' Sweet Swing Sours Nationals In 6th

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

TAVARES — With the score tied, 6-6, with one man on and one out in the bottom of the sixth, Corey Bennett came in to relieve for the Sanford Nationals. And Bennett did exactly what manager Skip Mitchell wanted him to — he threw a strike.

Waiting in the batter's box for the strike, however, was hard-hitting Mike Maples. The rest, as they say, is history.

Maples got the exact pitch he was looking for and launched it into the twilight with a sweet swing for a two-run homer and an 8-6 Sanford American victory in the Florida Little League Sub-District 2 final before 201 fans at the Tavares complex.

The Americans, who were 4-0 in the tournament which they won for the second straight year, advance to the District 4 Tournament starting Monday night at Leesburg.

The Nationals finished with a 3-2 record and second in the tournament for the second year in a row.

With first base open, intentionally walking Maples would have set up a force at any base and Nationals' assistant Rick Taylor said they considered doing just that but decided to pitch to Maples.

"I figured they would pitch to me," Maples said after hitting his third homer and second game-winning homer of the tournament. "I got just the pitch I wanted, too. Right down the middle and a little high."

Sanford American went into the bottom of the sixth trailing, 6-5, and Sanford National starter Mike Dillon retired the first batter in the inning, American Manager Otis Raines then inserted Tony Holly as a pinch hitter and Holly dropped a perfect bunt down the third base line for a base hit. When the throw to first sailed wild, Holly motored all the way around to third. It was the third bunt single of the tournament for the fleet-footed Holly.

Anthony "Redman" Roberts then drilled a shot to left center for an RBI double, tying the score at 6-6. Bennett then came on in relief to pitch to Maples, who previously was 1 for 3 in the game and Maples ripped his first offering over the fence in left center to give the Americans the tournament title.

"The bench got that rally ignited for us," Raines said referring to Holly's bunt. "It's been a team effort the whole tournament. All 14 guys on the team helped us win it and that's the way it should be."

Tuesday night, the Nationals and Americans matched each other blow for blow right down to the final inning in the all-Sanford sub-district final.

The Nationals took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first off Americans' pitcher Maples. Demetry Beamon beat out a chopper between the mound and home plate for a lead off single and, with one out, Dillon drew a walk. The runners moved up on a passed ball and both scored when Quinn Byrd socked a single to right.

The Americans came right back with two runs in the bottom of the first. With one out, Roberts doubled to center and he then pulled off a delayed steal of third. Roberts scored the Americans' first run on Corey Williams' infield single. Britt Henderson was then hit by a pitch and Tyrone Williams followed with a single up the middle to tie the score at 2-2.

After a scoreless second frame, the Americans took a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the third. Henderson, who reached on a field-

Americans Rout Casselberry

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The Altamonte American League All-Stars used a tremendous pitching performance by Kevin Morro and an impressive hitting display by Billy Moore en route to a 14-0 rout of Casselberry in the first round of the District 14, Division 2 All-Star Tournament Tuesday night before 202 fans at the Eastmonte Recreation Complex.

Altamonte will travel to Pierson tonight to take on Mount Dora at 7 p.m.

"I was very happy with the way we played tonight," Altamonte coach Rudy Callahan said. "Our pitcher (Morro) pitched a heck of a game."

Morro whiffed 15 batters and only surrendered a pair of hits while Moore hit a pair of two-run homers and added a two-run double.

"I was struggling for the first few innings," Morro said. "But I felt as though I pitched better as the game went on."

Even though the game was a rout, both Morro and Moore felt that the team can play much better. "We can play a lot better than we played tonight," Moore said.

"I think that if we start to hit better we can go a long way," Morro added.

Despite the loss, Casselberry coach Ron Mason was pleased with the effort of his club, which was playing in its first tournament after forming a league this year. "We played a good ballclub tonight," he said. "We are a young team and gave our all. That's all that I could possibly ask for."

The Americans didn't waste any time as they scored four runs in the bottom of the first frame. Second baseman Pablo Abreu led off the game with a walk. First baseman Dana Dearth also walked. Moore then followed with the first of his two run hits, a double down the right field line plating Abreu and Dearth. Marty Horwitz then tapped back to Casselberry pitcher Chris Mayberry. Mayberry threw the ball over the head of first baseman Sean Mason allowing Moore to score and Horwitz to go to third. Horwitz scored on a past ball giving Altamonte a 4-0 lead that they would never relinquish.

Casselberry came back with a rally of their own in the top of the second. Third baseman Brad Norburg and shortstop Wayne Leigh walked. After a forceout, second baseman David Ruschitt singled to right to load the bases. But that is where Morro clamped down. The stocky righthander fanned Pat Lowry and Denny Sapp on six pitches to extinguish the rally.

After adding three more runs in the bottom of the second, the Americans extended their lead with five more runs in the fourth. Dearth led off with a triple to left. Moore followed with a towering homer to deep right field. Morro then helped himself with a double into the left field corner. Jonh Durrant was hit by a pitch. Morro and Durrant took second and third on a wild pitch. Morro then scored on a past ball and Durrant advanced to third. Mike Monahan then grounded to third scoring Durrant giving Altamonte a cozy 12-0 edge.

Altamonte added two runs in the fifth when after a single Moore lined his second four bagger over the right field fence.

David Blanton

BLANTON HURLS OVIEDO

The Oviedo Majors used a strong pitching performance by David Blanton en route to a 5-2 District 14, Division 2 All-Star Baseball Tournament victory over Clermont at the Oviedo Little League Complex.

"We played very well tonight," Oviedo coach Randall Seward said. "The team looked very good. We hit the ball really well and I hope we will continue to do so."

Oviedo will return home tonight taking on Winter Garden tonight at 7 in Oviedo. Winter Garden dropped Windermere, 5-1, Tuesday.

Blanton, who was a stellar pitcher last year as an 11-year-old, fanned nine and surrendered but two hits.

"David did a heck of a job," Seward said. "We had a few mental errors in the game but other than that we played as well as we could have."

Leading the offensive attack for Oviedo was Tyson Christ who had a pair of hits. Harlon Wilcoxon also contributed with a two-run single in the bottom of the second. Chris Huff and Blanton also had hits for Oviedo. Mark Bellhorn also added a double while Craig Cozart bopped a pair of singles.

Ferguson, Barfield No-Hit Eustis, 12-1

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Frank Harmer was talking about his team in military terms late Tuesday night. After the way pitchers Matt Ferguson and Chris Barfield worked their way through Eustis, Sherman's drive through Atlanta will have to take a backseat.

Ferguson and Barfield, a pair of 12-year-old righthanders, combined for a no-hitter as Altamonte demolished Eustis, 12-1, in District 14, Division 2 All-Star Baseball Tournament action at the Eustis Little League Complex.

"We took no prisoners," Harmer said over and over again Tuesday night. "It was just an awesome pitching performance."

Altamonte, 2-0, takes on DeLand tonight at 7 at Mount Dora. DeLand nipped Maitland, 6-5, Tuesday. Mount Dora, a 2-0 winner over Northwest Volusia, and the Altamonte Americans, a 14-0 winner over Casselberry, meet in the other winners' bracket matchup at Pierson. Harmer said T.J. Hamilton would hurl tonight.

Ferguson picked up the win, hurling the first four innings, striking out eight, walking two and hitting one. "Matt's fastball was definitely overpowering, but his curveball was even better," Harmer said. "He was really breaking them off."

Eustis picked up its run on a walk, a hit batsman and a groundout in the third.

Barfield took over in the fifth and he was just as devastating. He faced seven batters and fanned six of them to run Altamonte's "K ration" to 14 for the evening. Barfield walked one.

Altamonte took control in the first when Shane Odom walked. Scott Davidson walked and Ferguson tripled to left center for both runs. Hamilton reached base when Ferguson was thrown out at home but Kevin Scott hammered a homer over right center for 4-0 lead.

In the third, Davidson, Ferguson and Hamilton each singled for a 5-0 lead.

In the fifth, Ferguson singled and Hamilton doubled him to third. Scott, who had a hot bat in Monday's win, tripled home both runs for 7-1 lead. One out later, pinch-hitter Brian Saunders singled home Scott. With two outs, Odom rapped another hit and Frank Harmer followed with a homer over the left field wall for an 11-1 bulge.

Saunders came through with another hit in the sixth to score Hamilton for the final run.

Scott drove in four runs with his power barrage. Ferguson had three hits while Davidson, Hamilton and Saunders socked two each. Harmer's blast accounted for three ribbies.

"Our pitchers are doing a terrific job," Harmer said. "They have walked just four in two games. Our main concern was our offensive, but tonight we were just awesome there, too."

Players' Association Files Grievance, Waits

Football

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The NFL players union awaited word today on whether the league's Management Council would go to arbitration over allegations that commissioner Pete Rozelle's drug testing plan violated the collective bargaining agreement.

Players' Association legal counsel Richard Berthleson Tuesday told a press conference the union had filed a grievance with the NFL's Management Council in New York City. He said the council was asked to answer within 24 hours if it would accept arbitration on the issue.

"We filed a grievance to protest the drug program unveiled yesterday by the league," Berthleson said. "It was filed against not only the Management Council, but each of the 28 clubs in the league. It was filed against the league itself and Commissioner Rozelle."

Berthleson said under the agreement league management would normally have seven days to answer a grievance. However, because of the "extraordinary" circumstances surrounding this case, the union asked for the 24-hour limit.

"We are not asking them to rule on the legality of the argument," he said. "We are asking them only to say they will go to arbitration on the issue."

Tigers' 3 Consecutive Blasts Bombard Blyleven

United Press International
Eric King gave up nothing but doubles Tuesday night. Bert Blyleven should have been so lucky.

King, the Detroit Tigers' rookie starter, allowed four hits—all doubles—to the Minnesota Twins over 8 2/3 innings. Twins starter Blyleven yielded three home runs—all in a row. The Tigers came away with a 5-1 victory.

"The home runs were all fastballs," said Blyleven, who owns a $1.45 million-per-year contract largely because of his vicious curve. "I just have to keep pitching. There's not much else I can do and I'm trying not to worry about it. I don't really know what's wrong. I only hope it gets better soon."

King, obtained from San Francisco last October, had a bad outing in his last start, but got better in a hurry.

"I just said whoever's next, I'm going to get them. Someone's going to pay," he said.

The young right-hander, 5-1, helped the Tigers to their third victory in their last 10 games with help in the ninth from Willie Hernandez, who got the last out for his 18th save.

A.L. Baseball

Kirk Gibson, Lance Parrish and Darrell Evans hit consecutive home runs off Blyleven in the fourth inning. Blyleven, 7-8, has served up 30 home runs, tops in the majors.

Mariners 8 Blue Jays 5

At Toronto, John Moses collected two hits and two RBI, including the game-winner during a six-run outburst in the second inning, to lead the Mariners.

Red Sox 8, A's 7

At Boston, Bill Buckner drove in four runs and capped a five-run sixth inning with a bases-loaded double, rallying the Red Sox. Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd, 11-6, scattered six hits over six-plus innings.

White Sox 6, Indians 2

At Chicago, Harold Baines had three hits, including a three-run homer to cap a four-run fifth, and Neil Allen allowed five hits over eight innings to lead the White Sox.

Rangers 6, Yankees 1

At Arlington, Texas, Pete O'Brien

and Oddibe McDowell each hit two-run homers to back the five-hit pitching of Mike Mason and lead the Rangers.

Angels 14, Brewers 3

At Milwaukee, George Hendrick highlighted a six-run fifth inning with a grand slam and sparked the Angels.

Orioles 6, Royals 4

At Kansas City, Mo., shortstop Greg Pryor's throwing error allowed Fred Lynn and Cal Ripken to score the go-ahead runs in the 13th inning and help extend the Royals' club-record losing streak to 11 games.

Bell, Perez Top Mets; Raines' Streak Hits 14

United Press International

Veterans Buddy Bell and Tony Perez joined forces Tuesday night to prove the New York Mets are not invincible after the eighth inning.

Bell ripped a two-run homer to tie the score in the ninth inning and Perez singled home the winning run in the 10th to lift the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-4 victory. The game marked the first time this year in 47 contests the Mets lost a game in which they led entering the ninth inning.

Dave Parker opened the 10th with a line-drive double to center off Roger McDowell, 7-2. Parker went to third on Eric Davis' infield out and Perez then grounded a hard single through the drawn-in infield, giving John Franco, 3-4, his second victory in two nights.

"With the infield in, I just tried to make good contact," Perez said. "McDowell throws a sinkerball. I tried to get a ball up, but I knew I had to hit a ground ball because it's hard to hit a fly ball off him."

The Reds tied the score 4-4 in the ninth off reliever Jesse Orosco when Dave Concepcion singled and Bell hit the next pitch for his fifth home run of the year.

"Anything you beat anybody, it's a feather in your cap," Bell said. "But when you beat the Mets, as well as they play and as well as they've played this year, it's got to make us feel pretty doggone good."

Bell had stranded seven runners and produced a total of five outs in his first three at bats.

"I was aware of it," said Bell, who hit two double plays and struck out with the bases loaded in his three previous at bats.

The Mets maintained their 11-1-2 game lead over Montreal in the National League East as the Expos lost 4-1 to Houston.

"It doesn't really matter what Montreal does," McDowell said. "We have to win. I think our expectations are even higher than the fans."

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia clubbed Atlanta 8-2. San Diego stopped Pittsburgh 4-2. St. Louis edged Los Angeles 1-0 and Chicago topped San Francisco 4-1.

In the American League, it was: Seattle 8, Toronto 5; Boston 8, Oakland 7; Chicago 6, Cleveland 2; Texas 6, New York 1; Detroit 5, Minnesota 1; California 14, Milwaukee 3; and Baltimore 8, Kansas City 4 in 13 innings.

Stufflet, Seniors Roll On

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Shane "Right Stuff" Stufflet fired a six-hitter while Jason Vartek and Chris Knutson drove in two runs apiece as Altamonte blitzed Deltona, 9-1, in District 14, Division 2 All-Star Tournament Baseball Tuesday night at Deltona.

Altamonte, 2-0, plays Maitland, 1-0, tonight at 7 at Eustis in the winners' bracket final. Maitland slugged Eustis, 12-3, Tuesday. Manager Woody Woodard said lefthander Aaron Iatarola will pitch tonight.

Stufflet allowed a run in the first frame and shut down Deltona the rest of the way. The crafty righthander struck out nine and walked just one.

In the first, Stufflet walked and one out later, Wes Weger doubled home Stufflet. Cleanup hitter Jimmy Kremer singled Weger to third but Alex Birle popped out to pitcher. Vartek, though, stroked a clutch single to left to score Weger, but when Kremer tried to score he was thrown out at plate.

"Vartek really came out of the woodwork and was hitting like a champ," Woodard said. "He did a great job."

In the second, catcher Pat DeLuca reached on an error before Carlos Abreu singled him to third and moved to second on the throw. Chad Cochran followed with a sacrifice fly to score DeLuca for a 3-0 lead. Stufflet's bunt single brought home Abreu.

In the third, Weger singled and stole second. One out later, Birle singled Weger to third. Weger then scored on passed ball and Birle went to third before Vartek's sacrifice fly brought home Birle for a 6-0 lead.

Altamonte put the game out of reach in the fifth when Trevor Moore led off with a double and scored on a single by Birle. Vartek reached when Deltona tried to get Birle at third. After Danny Hendricks grounded out, Knutson drilled a single to left center to cap the scoring.

The victory, however, may have been a costly one for Altamonte as Woodard said Weger pulled a hamstring. "I don't know if Wes is lost or not," Woodard said. "But if he can walk, he'll sure try to play."

Woodard said Vartek filled in nicely at shortstop when Weger had to come out and Birle made several fine plays at third base.

In other Senior action, Ocoee roughed up three Oviedo pitchers for eight hits to hand Oviedo a 9-0 first-round setback at the Oviedo Little League Complex.

Manager David Austin's club returns to action Thursday at Windermere against either South Orange and Pine Hills.

Ocoee jumped on top with four runs in the third against loser Richard Cobb. It tacked on one run in the fourth and four more in the fifth to close out the scoring. Dwayne Clark relieved Cobb in the fifth and Brent Marretta finished up the sixth.

Todd Tocco led the Oviedo attack with a double and single. Cobb and Tim Tocco each chipped in a single. Tocco doubled to open the fourth and moved to third on Tim Whitley's ground out, but the next two batters fanned.

Defensively, Oviedo turned a 3-2-3 double play in the fourth when Cobb flied a bunt, fired to catcher Joey Beasley who quickly relayed it to first baseman R.D. Pellarin for the twin kill.

Ferguson's Juniors Open Last Tourney Against Oak Ridge

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Tom Ferguson, who enters his final year as an Oviedo Little League All-Star manager Thursday night, had nearly three times as many players to choose his Junior League All-Star team this year.

Ferguson, a devoted 13-year veteran, however, was quick to point out that this team won't be three times better than last year's. "It's got more depth than the team last year," he said. "Heck, we only had 13 players in the league last year, so we have to have more depth with a 14-player roster."

Oviedo, which plays its Juniors (13-year-olds) in the Senior League (14- and 15-year-olds), added 33 more Juniors this year due to tightening of the Altamonte Springs Little League boundaries and population growth in Oviedo.

"We considered having a Junior League," Ferguson, who is assisted by Bob Merchant, said. "There was a lot of debate on it, but we decided to stay with the Seniors."

Ferguson's team opens the District 14, Division 1 All-Star Baseball Tournament at home Thursday at 7 p.m. against West Oak Ridge. He said Marvin "Bubba" Fore would be his opening night pitcher.

"Bubba has a good fastball and curve," Ferguson said. "He throws about as hard as any 13-year-old."

Mario Ambrosio, a teammate of Fore's during the regular season, will be behind the plate. Tall Tommy Stikeleather (first base), Mark Mentzer (second base), Chet Tulp (shortstop) and Jeff Albright (third base) will fill out the infield.

"Mentzer and Tulp both have good gloves," Ferguson said. "They work well together. Albright has good power. He's our cleanup hitter."

The Juniors' outfield consists of Kevin Blagg (left), Shellie Elliott (center) and Russell Davis (right). "Blagg is a good lefthanded hitter and Elliott has that ability to get on base," Ferguson said. "Davis will also play some third base. He can do a lot of things."

Ferguson said Elliott will be his second starter while Bryan Hart, Derek Dixon and Clayton Beasley will also pitch and provide outfield depth. Todd Woodard will be the utility man and Derek Bell will share the catching duties.

Ferguson said he has enjoyed his 12 years in the organization. "I don't know if we're trying to go out with a bang, but I'm probably more relaxed this year," he said. "This is a good defensive team and has some good hitters."

Seminole Nationals Need Good Pitching For Repeat

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

After defeating the Americans in two straight in a best of three series last week, the Seminole Pony Baseball Mustang National League will be the favorite going into the Mustang District Tournament tonight at the West Seminole Pony Baseball complex in Forest City.

The tournament opens at 5:30 p.m. with Seminole American taking on West Seminole's "B" team. The second game, scheduled to start at 7:30, has the Seminole Nationals against the West Seminole "A" team. The double-elimination tournament is scheduled to end Saturday.

Although the Nationals downed the Americans, 15-5 and 23-5, in the best of three series last week, Seminole American manager Steve Goodman said his team can be competitive if it gets consistent pitching.

"We've got a good hitting team and a good defensive team," Goodman said. "If we get consistent pitching, we'll be all right."

The Americans will go with Chris Kietl on the mound tonight and the defense around him will include Ben Thomas behind the plate, Scott Couch at first base, Brook Selvers at second, Brian Luger at

Bench strength is provided by James Guemple, Scott Ludwig, Brian Dwyer, Jamie Pitzer, Lance McKeer and Aubrey Taylor. The alternate is Todd Hensley. Goodman's assistants are Pete Reed and Bill Proffitt.

The Seminole Mustang Nationals are looking to extend their dominance over the Americans as well as the West Seminole teams in district play.

The Nationals' starting lineup tonight will include Dana Coates on the mound, Corey Gochee at catcher, Shawn Shapiro at first base, Greg Hirsch at second, Robbie Morgan at shortstop, Michael White at third, Stacy Merrell in center field, Dusty Curry in right and Paul Renwick in left.

Bench strength comes from Shawn O'Quinn, Bryan Lowe, Eric King, Ben Scott, Michael Carr, Ronnie King and Jeff Miller.

The manager of the Nationals is Steve Shapiro, his assistant is Mike Black and the business manager is Parris Curry.

If the management council does not go to arbitration, Berthelsen said the union would seek a temporary injunction against the league.

"We are looking into that right now," he said. "We don't know if it will be in federal court or state court."

When asked about a possible strike over the drug testing issue, he said: "We'll cross that bridge if we ever come to it."

In New York, Rozelle said he had expected the challenge.

"I am disappointed that the union is planning to block the league's new drug procedures," he said. "The issue of drug abuse by NFL players has arised at a stage where everyone is being hurt — players, clubs and the league in general."

Bubka Vaults Centimeter Better

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet pole vaulter Sergei Bubka set a world record with a 19 feet, 8 3/4 inches, (6.01 meter) leap Tuesday to highlight the fourth day of the Goodwill Games.

Bubka beat by one centimeter the mark he set in Paris last year. Fellow Soviet Radion Gataullin took second place with 19-1/2 (5.80), ahead of Earl Bell of the United States, who cleared 18-10 1/2 (5.75).

U.S. runner Pamela Marshall won the 200 meters, clocking 22.12 seconds to edge Poland's Ewa Krasprzik by one-hundredth of a second. The American relay team beat the Soviets in the women's 4 by 400 meter event. Chandra Cheeseborough, Brenda Clitte, Lillie Leatherwood and Diane Dixon won in 3 minutes, 31.2 seconds.

In the 800 meter race, Americans Johnny Gray and Stanley Redwin were first and second with times of 1 minute, 46.52 seconds and 1:46.89.

The Soviet 4 by 400 meter relay team nipped the U.S. men's team, 3 minutes, 1.25 seconds to 3 minutes, 1.47 seconds.

"I think that the limit is still far away as vaulting technique is being constantly improved," Bubka said after his record-breaking leap.

er's choice, took third on an error and scored on Al Holt's felder's choice.

The Nationals tied it at 3-3 in the top of the fourth. Tyrone Chibberton reached on a felder's choice, took second and third on passed balls and scored on Don Hunt's two-out single down the left field line.

The Americans regained the lead in the bottom of the fourth when, with the count 2-1, Willie Williams blasted a leadoff homer well over the fence in the left field. "It was right down the middle and at my knees," said Williams, who hit three homers during the regular season. "Once I hit it, I was pretty sure it was gone."

The Nationals, who won three straight games in the losers' bracket, after losing their opener, refused to fold, though, as they came back with three runs in the top of the fifth for a 6-4 lead.

Maples quickly got an 0-2 count on Bennett but got the next pitch up and Bennett drilled over the fence in right center for his third homer of the tournament. With one out, David Dunn drew a walk and Byrd followed with a single up the middle to put runners on first and third. Dunn scored on a wild pitch and Byrd scored on Lorne Jones' single to center. The Americans got out of the inning when right felder Henderson made a shocasting catch of KoJack Hunt's sinking liner.

The Americans came back with a run in the bottom of the fifth to pull within 6-5. With one out, Henderson walked and Tyrone Williams followed with a fly ball to deep left field. Nationals' left felder Jones made a nice catch against the fence for the second out but Henderson, tagged at first and took second on the play, Henderson then scored on Al Holt's infield single after Holt collided with first baseman Dunn.

Maples, who gave up eight hits in the game, reached back and retired the Nationals in rder in the top of the sixth to set up the last-inning heroics for the Americans.

Seminole Has Super Week

Seminole Greyhound Park experienced its most-successful week in the park's history from July 1-8, general manager Tom Blayney said Tuesday.

On Thursday, July 3, Seminole broke the evening performance record handle of $383,615 by wagering $390,375. On July 4, the Twin Trifecta jackpot paid $55,985.10 and the Pick 6 jackpot paid $75,254.40. The Pick 6 was capped at $51,590, but patrons bet $24,000.

"Needless to say, four happy winners really had a super 4th of July," Seminole Greyhound Park Publicist Happy Ison said.

The handles for the week were the best in Seminole's history as $2,769,990 was wagered. In other SGP news, Steubenville Kennel has changed its name to Gulf & Bay Kennel. One of Gulf & Bay's best, Fixed Rate, set a record in the Super Marathon (9/16th) with a nine-length victory in 58.22. Florlando's Candid had the previous mark.

At the halfway mark, Andrews Kennel leads with 94 wins while Charter Kennel is second with 90. Connel Kennel (86) and Florlando (82) are next in line. Andrews also went over the 100 mark in place (102) and show (104).

The 3/8th Derby Final will be held Saturday, July 19. Three qualifying races remain. Charter appears to have the edge with two or three qualifiers. Tip Toe is the point lead with 55. Char Patrick (50), CE's Roxana (44) and Sallisaw Cyclone (41) are next in line.

Sheffield's 2-Hitter Keys Legion

Brian Sheffield tossed a two-hitter and drove in two runs as Sanford trimmed Winter Park, 4-3, in American Legion baseball Monday night at Winter Park.

Sanford's Legion, which is sponsored by Ball Motor Line and managed by Jim Lucas, improved to 5-3 for the season. It plays Kissimmee tonight at Kissimmee.

"Brian pitched a real good game," Lucas said. "The season has gone well. We've played good ball."

Sheffield, who will play for Seminole Community College next year, struck out nine and walked three.

The Seminole High graduate led the offense with a single and a double. Eddie Evans chipped in a double while Ron Cox and Gary Derr added singles. James Joyce reached on an error to start a two-run third inning.

FBS II Holds Lead In Lake

Florida Baseball School II rolled over Florida Baseball School I, 8-2, Tuesday to maintain its strangle hold on first place in the Buddy Lake Summer Baseball League at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

FBS II improved to 7-2 and FBS I dropped to 2-7. Boulevard Tire, 4-4, trails by 2½ games. FBS I takes on Boulevard Friday at 6 p.m.

John Jack tossed a three-hitter and struck out one for the winners. Gary Derr was the losing pitcher, giving up five runs in the first inning. Larry Harrington turned in five strong innings in relief of Derr.

John Elksnitis rapped two singles and drove in three runs for the winners. Tony Schettino had a triple and John Frabizio added a double and RBI.

Detroit Wins AAU On Coleman's Tip

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Detroit got a last-second tip-in from Derrick Coleman to knock off Hampton, Virginia 82-81, providing exciting play in the second day of the National Amateur Athletic Union Junior Men's Basketball Championship.

Coleman, a Syracuse signee, rebounded a missed shot with two seconds remaining to give Detroit their first win in the tournament. Nate Buntin led Detroit with 22 points.

Hampton became the first team to exit the double-elimination tournament, which is being held at Florida Junior College South Campus.

Led by Brian Oliver's 26 points, Atlanta earned its first win in the tournament with a 119-88 pasting over outmanned Maryland.

Maryland, who had only eight players after being a last-minute replacement, was led by Derrick Davis who poured in a tourney-high 41 points on 15 of 36 shooting from the field.

Kansas City, Missouri beat New York 102-88, as six Kansas City players scored in double figures.

In the last game of the evening, Philadelphia gradually pulled away from a scrappy Yakima, Washington team 117-104.

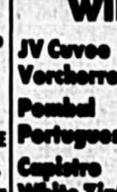

With a 51-51 deadlock at halftime, Yakima kept pace with the much faster Philadelphia club and tied the game at 79-79 with 9:47 left to be played. From there, Philadelphia's fast break became too much to handle for Yakima, and five minutes later they had a 103-90 lead on a slam dunk.

Breast Problem Merits An Exam

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a 40-year-old woman and am wondering what could cause the nipple of my left breast to leak.

DEAR READER — Non-lactating women may develop infections in the breasts or hormonal imbalances that may cause breasts to leak. Make an appointment with a gynecologist to discover the cause of the leaking.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What causes sarcoidosis and what can be done about it?

DEAR READER — Sarcoidosis is a chronic disease of unknown cause. It produces painless lumps in many organs, especially the lungs, spleen, skin and lymph glands. If the condition is discovered accidentally, as it often is, no treatment is necessary. If the disease progresses, therapy with cortisone may be considered. The diagnosis is established by microscopic examination of one of the lumps after it has been removed by biopsy. The lesions of sarcoidosis may disappear of their own accord after months or years. The disease is ordinarily not serious, but requires long-term medical followup.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I know a 7-year-old girl who is never still. She does well in her studies, but she can't sit in her chair during school and always likes to "be on stage." Is this normal?

DEAR READER — You raise a question of attention-getting behavior. Many children, particularly bright ones, seem constantly restless. This may be the way they have learned to gain attention in an adult world that pays little attention to them. If such children are gifted, they may be bored with school or the home situation; the only way they can cope is by being hyperactive.

Of course, some children are labeled hyperactive because of another, different condition called attention deficit disorder. These youngsters show nervous-system disorders resulting from genetic causes, chemical factors or birth injury. They are usually of better-than-average intelligence but show blocks in attention span or emotional stability, as well as in vision, language, memory and motor skills.

Although some degree of restlessness is common in most 6-to-10-year-olds, a persistent or disruptive pattern may indicate the need for a complete pediatric evaluation. A skillful pediatrician can usually determine whether the child's behavior lies inside or outside the normal range.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have a detached retina in one eye and degeneration in the other. I heard that linseed oil is good for the eyes. Is this true? Is there anything else I can do?

DEAR READER — You describe two serious ocular conditions that require the attention of an ophthalmologist. Linseed oil, aside from being ineffectual and causing possible eye damage, is of no benefit and might cause eye damage.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

The hardest plays to make are those that go against all our instincts. And it is certainly true that players who trump their partners' aces are not highly regarded in bridge circles. Nevertheless, there is a time and place for every play, even for that one.

Place yourself in the East seat defending against five hearts. Although your side is vulnerable and the opponents are not, your partner has blithely bid five clubs over four hearts. A glance at dummy confirms that he has a lot of holes in his hand. Furthermore, he cannot have the A-K of diamonds — ace with that holding he would be leading the king of diamonds rather than the club ace. It is very likely, for two reasons, that he has an eight-card club suit — first, to justify his bidding; second, if South had begun with the guarded club king, he might have preferred to inflict a penalty double on West rather than bid on to five hearts.

East must hope that West has at least the diamond ace for his solo bidding at such a high level. And that should be enough thinking for the current defensive problem. He should trump his partner's ace and lead the diamond queen. Please don't tell your friends that Jacoby always trumps his partner's ace. But he does sometimes, hoping that it's the right play.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 10, 1986

People with whom you become friends outside your job will play helpful roles in your career in the year ahead. There is a possibility that you will enter a new field of endeavor.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll be extremely observant today, and this can either work to your advantage or against you. Look for virtues in others, not their faults. Try to patch up a romance. The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Wide swings are possible today in the management of your resources.

Either you'll be far too extravagant or a tad too stingy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try not to be too restrictive of those in your charge today. Your measures may be well-intentioned, but they will not be well received.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone about whom you care a great deal did something recently that hurt your feelings. Air it openly, because no ill will was intended.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be prudently mindful of the types of activities you engage in today. There's a chance you might get in over your head, financially.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are unwilling to share the limelight with a person who has recently helped you achieve something of note, hard feelings are going to result.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) People with whom you associate today will have greater faith in you than you have in yourself. Shake off unreasonable doubts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you enter some type of romantic intrigue today, your secret will soon be detected and become an open topic of conversation among friends.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In career situations today, weak associates will turn out to be obvious liabilities. Do what needs doing on your own.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) People with whom you associate today will have a strong influence on your productivity if you hang out with idlers, you'll be one as well.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Guard against possessive tendencies today if someone you like starts paying more attention to another than to you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to overreact today if a family member doesn't show adequate appreciation for something special you did for him or her.

Suggestion Questioned For Cure Of Pain In The Neck?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 50-year-old woman who has never married. I am still a virgin, but I am not obsessed by the fact. (What I've never had, I don't miss.)

In the last 30 years I have been to many psychiatrists, psychologists and several chiropractors. (I got more help from the chiropractors, but the relief was only temporary.)

The problem has been a chronic pain in my neck, and every medical doctor I saw tried to tell me it was all in my head. Last week I went to yet another therapist who told me that the pain in my neck would disappear overnight if I would just hop into bed with a man — any man — regardless of whether I had any kind of feelings for him or not. I protested, saying I could not hop into bed with a man unless I had some loving feelings for him. He said I was being childish, that sex is normal — then he volunteered to be my "first."

I said, "No, I couldn't go to bed with a man unless I loved him. To do otherwise would be immoral, and I pride myself on being a moral person."

Am I wrong? Please answer soon. I want to show your answer to my therapist.

NORMAL IN VIRGINIA

DEAR NORMAL: I agree with you. Show this to your therapist. Suggesting that you hop into bed with just any man is bad enough, but volunteering his services is a violation of professional ethics. Find another therapist. Your therapist needs a therapist.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my nephew who has just graduated from high school and also has a birthday coming soon. I would like to give him a sizable cash gift for both his birthday and graduation, but I know that he is heavily involved in drugs.

I considered opening a savings account for him, but if he found out about it, he would never let his mother rest until she gave him the money.

He has just begun counseling. Perhaps the money should go toward that, but I'm afraid if he found out he'd quit counseling. Material things are out of the question — he says he doesn't want anything!

We are well-off financially; we love him very much and are not ready to give up on him.

CONCERNED AUNT

DEAR CONCERNED: Send cards for his graduation and birthday, and after he has conquered his drug problem, then consider presenting him with a material gift. Do not open a savings account in his name knowing that if he learns of it, he will nag his mother until she hands it over. And do not give him any money. If he receives a sizable cash gift he might be tempted to blow it.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since you printed the letter about the state of Delaware ("Dela-where?") in your column, I have been trying to recall the words to a song I used to know years ago.

It went something like this: "What did Dela wear, boys? What did Dela wear? She wore a New Jersey, she wore a New Jersey," etc.

Can you or any of your readers come up with the rest of the lyrics?

G.L. IN SLIDELL, LA.

DEAR G.L.: I can't. But I'll bet somebody out there will. Watch this space.

DEAR ABBY: I just read about the toddler who drowned in an ice chest and want to pass this along to you.

Recently, our very good friends lost a darling 14-month-old grandson. His baby sitter had strapped him into his high chair, then she went outside for a few minutes. When she returned, she found that the baby had wiggled down and hanged himself on the strap!

As was the case with the child who fell into an ice chest that contained enough water to drown him, no one ever dreamed such a thing could happen, but it did. And as you said, "If it happened once, it could happen again." Thank you for the warning.

BONNIE FROM CARBON

Chief Justice Talks To TV

By Mark Schwed
UPI TV Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Chief Justice Warren Burger is not known for his fondness of television cameras, tape recorders or reporters for that matter. That's why an upcoming television special is so extraordinary.

"The Burger Years — A CBS News Special," airing Wednesday, July 9, (8-9 p.m. EDT), WCPX-TV, Channel 8, is a revealing in-depth interview with the retiring chief justice by CBS News Correspondent Bill Moyers. It is the first television conversation ever conducted in the courtroom of the U.S. Supreme Court with a sitting chief justice.

Moyers talked to Burger for five hours over two days, including June 17, when Burger surprised the nation by announcing he would retire to devote more time to planning a bicentennial celebration of the Constitution's adoption.

In the interview, Burger gives his candid opinions on prayer in school and discusses how he felt when he ordered President Nixon, the man who appointed him chief justice, to turn over the White House tapes to a special prosecutor during the Watergate scandal. Nixon resigned 16 days later.

On the lighter side, the 15th chief justice of the United States recalls when his wife reprimanded him for pointing his finger at Justice Hugo Black.

"It is a timely, historic and extraordinary interview," Moyers said in a release. "No sitting chief justice has ever given his views in an extensive interview."

"When Burger announced he was stepping down, he also signaled that he was opening up. The chief justice was on a roll of story telling. He was reminiscing, reflecting and inspiring Americans to pay attention to the great document of their republic."

While Burger made numerous speeches and public appearances during his tenure, he was wary of the press. He rarely granted interviews and made well-known his dislike of cameras and tape recorders. Not until 1980 did he allow the first televising of one of his major public addresses.

In a rare interview with the Miami Herald in 1985 published just before a speech to the American Newspapers Publishers Association, Burger expressed a distrust of the news media, stating, "It would take a full-time job to keep track of the distorted and completely erroneous statements, about something I have done or that the court has done."

Oddly enough, Burger's first job was as a newspaper boy for his hometown paper, the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press.

On the Supreme Court, he authored more than his share of important media rulings, including the 1981 decision that paved the way for cameras in the courtroom. But he never allowed any picture-taking in the Supreme Court chambers when the justices were seated.

One of seven children, Burger was born in St. Paul and spent part of his childhood on a 20-acre truck farm. He was president of his student council and won letters in hockey, football, track and swimming. He studied law at night and sold life insurance during the day, graduating magna cum laude from the St. Paul College of Law in 1931.

As a justice, he was a connoisseur of fine wines, paintings and antique furniture who loaned or donated his own furniture pieces and knickknacks when he renovated the elegant, white marble Supreme Court building.

He authored two rulings that etched him a place in history: the 1974 Nixon tape case and the 1983 ruling striking down Congress' half-century-old legislative veto power.

While this is the first television interview given by a sitting chief justice in the courtroom, CBS News has, though rarely, presented interviews with other justices.

Study: Sex Education Does Not Lead To Promiscuity

NEW YORK (UPI) — Teenage girls who participated in a special sex education program in Baltimore remained virgins longer than girls who were not in the program, according to a Johns Hopkins University study released Tuesday.

Girls in the program were also less likely to get pregnant and more likely to seek birth control, according to the three-year study of 1,700 inner city Baltimore students.

"One of the biggest arguments against sex education is that it promotes sexual intercourse," said Hopkins researcher Marilyn B. Hirsch. "This study, for the first time, shows that sex education in Baltimore's inner city schools is effective in reducing pregnancies as well as delaying the onset of sexual activity, according to the study."

Students in the control schools had a 57.6 percent increase in pregnancies over the three years the study took place, while girls enrolled in the program experienced a 30.1 percent decline during the same period.

"The implications of this study are very high," said research leader Laurie Schwab Zabin, director of the fertility research unit at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine.

Two of the schools — a junior and senior high school — had an extensive, experimental sex education program with birth control centers next door while the other two schools taught only the basic sex education required by Maryland law.

Girls in the first group had their first sexual encounter at the median age of 16 years, two months while the others began having sex at the median age of 15 years, seven months.

According to a 1984 survey of students at the two high schools, 91 percent of the boys and 72.3 percent of the girls reported being sexually active.

"We thought the program would not have any effect when the students began having sex," said Hirsch. "Our study shows this particular program had some very positive effects. It taught them how to say 'no.'"

The findings were criticized by the founder of the American Life League, a family oriented political group that opposes sex clinics in schools.

"If the study had found that girls waited until they were married to have sex, then I would say the program was a success," said Judie Brown, of Stafford, Va. "But for the thousands of dollars it takes to place a sex clinic in a school, the difference is not extraordinary."

The program appeared to be effective in reducing pregnancies as well as delaying the onset of sexual activity, according to the study.

Students in the control schools had a 57.6 percent increase in pregnancies over the three years the study took place, while girls enrolled in the program experienced a 30.1 percent decline during the same period.

"The implications of this study are very high," said research leader Laurie Schwab Zabin, director of the fertility research unit at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine.

Wants To Broadcast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cuba wants to broadcast over U.S. radio — to counter the Voice of America's Radio Marti — as a condition of renewing a U.S.-Cuban immigration accord, The New York Times reported today.

And the administration appears inclined to accept the proposal, since there is no practical way of stopping Cuba from using an AM frequency for the desired broadcasts, the newspaper said, citing administration sources.

The report that Cuba no longer was requiring Radio Marti's shut down before resurrecting the immigration pact came as negotiations began Tuesday in Mexico City on renewing the 1984 accord, administration officials told the Times.

Cuban leader Fidel Castro suspended the immigration accord when Radio Marti began broadcasting to Cuba last year. No details on the talks were available, and it was unclear how long they might last.

Radio Marti programs are meant to provide a Spanish-language broadcast alternative to Cubans, much as Radio Free Europe serves Eastern Europe, and Radio Liberty, the Soviet Union.

One official said the United States would agree to issue a joint statement recognizing the rights of both countries to broadcast, so long each followed the rules of the International Telecommunications Union requiring that one country's broadcasts do not drown out another's.

At the time of its cancellation, the 1984 accord was the only significant U.S.-Cuban agreement. It provided for repatriating to Cuba 2,700 criminals and mental patients who came to America as part of the 1980 boatlift from the Cuban port of Mariel.

The United States, in return, agreed to resume emigrating 3,000 former political prisoners from Cuba and to again issue normal immigration visas to as many as 20,000 Cubans a year.

But U.S. use of the name of Jose Marti — the Cuban independence hero and poet — angered Castro, and he suspended the immigration accord on May 20, 1985.

Royal Redhead Inspires New Trend

Move Over, Blondie, Here Comes Red

By Melissa Sones
UPI Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Redhead rejection, says Stephen Douglas, president of Redheads International, is what his organization of 20,000 tries to prevent and no one could help the cause more than Sarah Ferguson.

"I'd love to be able to talk to her," says Douglas. "We already have Ann-Margret and Lucille Ball and Aileen Quinn who played in the movie 'Annie.' They've already written to us."

"If I had a note from Sarah Ferguson saying 'Keep up the good work' that letter would be locked up in a bank."

Since the earthy Ferguson, 26, hooked Britain's Prince Andrew, and the similarly down-to-earth teenage actress Molly Ringwald made the cover of Time magazine, red hair has made the news.

"I just had a conversation about redheads this morning," said Eileen Ford, co-founder of the Ford Model Agency and whose mother and brother were redheads. "I think they're slowly but surely coming into style but it's fairly slow."

It's been a hard-sell for me but more and more redheads are being booked."

Ford thinks the trend is beginning with highlights, such as the ones in her hair that her grandson thought were orange.

"Strawberry blonde is very popular right now with clients," she says. "They like the look of almost color."

"There are no strawberry blondes," says Douglas. "because there are no blonde strawberries. We call it strawberry red. Then we go to a medium red. Then a bright red. Then there's what we call a deep red. Then we have an auburn which is really a chestnut. Those are the types of redhead we consider red."

Ferguson is a natural, dark realistic red. Molly Ringwald dyes her hair orange, a shade similar to Howdy Doody's.

As those who mimic Ringwald have discovered, that shade, among other reds, can be achieved on a temporary basis with the growing number of color mousses hitting the market.

According to Elle magazine, coloring one's hair red is the trend. Nearly half the women coloring their hair these days are choosing red.

"I can promise you there's a new interest in redheads," says Louis Licari, a noted New York colorist who has worked with actresses Jill Clayburgh, Faye Dunaway, and recently Kim Basinger.

"Not only from the personalities like the Molly Ringwalds and the Sarah Fergusons, I think we're also seeing it from the magazines and watching the girls in the collections."

Like most trends, this one is starting on the streets of cities like New York, London and Paris.

"Fashion-wise and street-wise we're starting to see the redheads pop up which means that it's going to filter its way into the mainstream of fashion and then into mainstream America," predicts Licari.

Patricia Trainor, who works with Italian designer Luciano Soprani, is typical of fashion-conscious New Yorkers who like to set trends. So in January, she became "a Titian redhead."

"They used to talk about blondes," she says. "It's now redheads. People stop me in the street to talk about my red hair. It matches my freckles. I have glasses that match the freckles that match the hair now. It's one package."

But Titian or strawberry blonde or realistic red or funny punk red or the literal red red Licari did recently, each, he says, has its own personality.

Sarah Ferguson's deep straightforward shade represents a personality commonly associated with redheads.

"A little bit wild and a little big frisky," says Licari.

The other popular type, says Licari, "is the Titian beauty who is much more feminine."

"Certain redheads have a famous personality, too," he continues. "Look what it did for Lucille Ball. Perhaps that's what Ringwald's trying to do, create a character."

"I think red hair will be the color of the future," insists Trainor. "My hairdresser thinks so, too. It's no longer blonde. It's much more flamboyant."

Hot Weather Warning For The Elderly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although summer is a time for outdoor recreation, hot and humid weather can pose severe health problems for many people, especially people over age 50, according to the National Institute on Aging.

Heat-related illnesses, which range from heat fatigue to the potentially fatal heat stroke, are more likely to affect older people because of certain medical factors. These include: diabetes and heart disease; certain drugs, such as diuretics, sedatives and some heart and blood pressure medications that alter the ability to sweat; and changes in the skin, slowed circulation and inefficient sweat glands caused by the normal aging process.

Older people should take these necessary steps to lessen the risks of heat-related illness:

- Drink plenty of water and juices.
- Bathe or shower frequently using cool water.
- Wear lightweight, loose-fitting clothing (cotton is best).
- Avoid vigorous outdoor activity during the hottest part of the day (noon to 4 p.m.).
- Keep shades or curtains down during the day and windows open at night.
- Visit air-conditioned places such as shopping malls, libraries and theaters but avoid overcrowded places.
- Avoid heavy meals and limit the use of ovens.

Do-It-Yourself Home Renovation

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — An older home can become young at heart in the hands of a do-it-yourselfer.

Interest rates at moderate levels have fueled a surge in residential real estate, and each time an old home gets a new owner, chances are a face lift will soon be underway.

According to Payless

Cashways, Inc., a Midwestern building materials firm, the typical new owner is most interested in kitchen remodeling and exterior and interior painting, with energy efficiency improvements close behind.

The favorite major remodeling project involves transforming the older kitchen into a modern cooking and living center.

"Thirty or forty years ago the small kitchen and a separate dining room were popular," says James Breedlove, a senior vice president of Payless. "These days more families want an open, casual area that combines the kitchen and dining areas. So remodeling jobs in older homes often start with removing the wall between the two rooms."

New paint "is about the least expensive and most effective way to spruce up a home's appearance," says Breedlove. He recommends that "a city home should be repainted every five or six years. Rural homes exposed to less grime and fewer pollutants may look good for a longer period of time."

A common problem with older homes is lack of energy efficiency. Do-it-yourselfers can tackle this problem with such quick and inexpensive measures as caulking and weatherstripping, which can cut fuel costs by 15 percent. Storm windows and storm doors are more expensive but they can cut loss of heat by nearly 25 percent.

Money Needn't Fuel Marital Spats

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — If you and your spouse fight over money, you're not alone.

More married couples fight about money than about anything else, except perhaps how to divide the household chores, according to a San Diego psychologist.

But sometimes when a couple argues over finances, they aren't really fighting about money at all, said Dr. Sheldon Kramer.

"What they are really fighting about is power, or who has control in the marriage," he explains.

A marriage therapist who has counseled hundreds of couples, Kramer offers these guidelines for fighting fairly over money:

- Remember that each of you comes into the marriage with different attitudes toward money and that in most cases you will have to negotiate spending patterns.

- Start solving disputes by comparing your expenses with your income, then reach an agreement on how leftover money will be used.

- Develop systems that suit your special needs and attitudes. Some couples are comfortable sharing a checking account, while others prefer to have two individual accounts.

Art Center Presented With Grant

The Maitland Art Center has received final approval of a grant for $272,000 from the Bureau of Historic Preservation. This grant will make it possible for the Art Center to undertake a major portion of the extensive renovation necessary to preserve this historic property.

The grant money will be available in August and renovation will be started soon after on artist's studios and the open-air chapel.

The Maitland Art Center was the only institution in Central Florida receiving funding from the new Grants-In-Aid administered by the Bureau of Historic Preservation, under the division of Archives, History, and Record Management, Department of State.

president; David Chacey, second vice president; Sol Wallace, director; and Allen Gillin, director. Not shown are Henry Witte, third vice president; Willard Sessions, director; and Fritz Mock, director.

...Cook

Dissolve cocoa in water and add to creamed mixture. Add vanilla. Sift flour, salt and soda. Add to creamed mixture, blending well and adding buttermilk a little at a time until smooth. Bake in three round 8 or 9 inch cake pans at 350° for 15-20 minutes. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. Spread with your favorite fudge chocolate icing. Half of recipe makes a nice two-layer cake.

MOTHER'S KENTUCKY HOMEMADE BREAD
3 cups warm water
1 package yeast
In a small bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Set aside.

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
5-6 cups flour
In large bowl, cream sugar, shortening and salt. Add dissolved yeast to creamed mixture. Add flour; blend well. Place in warm area, cover with waxed paper and tea towel. Allow to rise until doubled in bulk.
Sift flour to about one inch depth onto a board. Dump dough onto board and knead until glossy. Divide into three equal portions. Continue to knead each one separately. Shape into loaves and place in greased loaf pans. Brush with melted butter. Allow to rise again. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Makes three loaves.

APRICOT BRANDY CAKE
3 cups sugar
2 sticks butter
6 eggs, separated
3 cups all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon rum flavoring
1 teaspoon orange flavoring
1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring
1/2 teaspoon lemon flavoring
1 teaspoon butter flavoring
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/2 cup apricot brandy
Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add flavorings, then flour, salt and soda mixture alternately with sour cream and brandy. Beat egg whites. Fold into batter. Pour into greased tube pan and bake at 300°-325° for 70 minutes.

MOTHER'S NUT CAKE
3 cups sugar
1 pound butter
2 quarts pecans, chopped

3 cups flour
11 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon vanilla
Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour and continue to beat. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form, then fold into above mixture. Add vanilla, fold in pecans. Pour into greased and floured tube pan. Bake at 250° for 2 1/2 hours. A rich, nutty pound cake. Delicious toasted.

REX'S SWEET POTATOES
4-5 large sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons grated orange rind
6 tablespoons butter
2 cups orange juice
Slice sweet potatoes and cook in water until tender. Do not overcook. Place sweet potato slices in large casserole dish. Mix remaining ingredients in saucepan and cook until slightly thickened. Pour over potato slices. Place orange slices, cut in half, around edge of casserole. Sprinkle chopped, unsalted pecans on top of orange slices. Bake at 350° for one hour. Serves 6-8.

When fruit is ripening too quickly, prepare homemade fresh peach ice cream.

PEACH ICE CREAM
4 cups chunky peaches (small pieces are more flavorful)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups sugar
1 1/2 quarts half and half
1/2 teaspoon salt
Microwave on 100% power, peaches and sugar for 1 minute*. Add lemon juice. Add half and half. Keep refrigerated until ready to churn. Follow the directions on your ice cream freezer.

*This dissolves the sugar and draws the juices from the peaches.

A plastic flan dessert pan is needed to prepare this fresh fruit flan. This time of the year I use a combination of fresh peaches and blueberries, but strawberries, bananas, plums or grapes can be used for this special dessert that serves 12.

FRESH FRUIT FLAN CAKE
Cake:
1/2 package (18.5 oz.) yellow, pudding cake mix
1/2 cup water

1/4 cup oil
1 egg
1/4 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoon packed brown sugar
1 to 2 tablespoons cinnamon sugar

Filling:
1 cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sliced fresh fruit (peaches)
1/2 cup blueberries
1/4 cup apricot preserves
1 tablespoon water
Combine cake ingredients except cinnamon and sugar in small mixing bowl; beat until smooth.

Grease a 10 inch plastic flan dessert pan. Sprinkle with cinnamon sugar and shake out excess. Add cake batter; spread evenly. Microwave on 50% power 9 minutes. Then, microwave 100% power 1 to 2 minutes or until no longer doughy. Let stand 5 minutes. Loosen edges gently with knife or finger. Invert onto larger serving plate. Cool completely.

Beat cream until slightly thickened. Add sugar and vanilla and beat until thickened. Spoon onto cake; spread evenly. Arrange fruit on whipped cream. Combine apricot preserves and water in 1 cup glass measure. Microwave on 100% power 40-50 seconds or until melted. Cool slightly. Spoon over fruit covering completely. Refrigerate until served.

Next week: Summer salads.

Bounty Of Fresh Vegetables Adds Variety To Warm Weather Cookouts

By Aileen Claire
NKA Food Editor

Take advantage of plentiful vegetables this summer with pork-stuffed baked eggplant or curry-stuffed onions.

Baked stuffed onions makes an excellent side dish for cookout meals and goes well with meat, fish or poultry or a vegetarian meal.

BAKED EGGPLANT WITH PORK STUFFING

- 1 large eggplant
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce, divided
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 pound pork shoulder, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
- 1 medium onion, chopped (1/2 cup)
- 1 clove garlic, mashed
- 1/2 cup celery
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste

- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1/3 cup orange juice
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1/3 cup toasted, sliced almonds or crushed peanuts
- Grated Parmesan cheese
- Quarter eggplant lengthwise.
- In a large saucepan, bring 2 inches salted water to a boil. Add 1/4 teaspoon pepper sauce. Add eggplant; cover, steam 20 minutes. Remove eggplant from pan; drain on wire rack. Scoop out pulp from each quarter, leaving 1/4 inch of the skin and pulp to form a shell. Chop pulp; reserve.

In medium skillet, heat oil; brown pork over medium heat. Add onion; saute 2 minutes. Stir in garlic, celery and cumin; saute 3 minutes longer. Stir in tomato paste, orange rind and orange juice. Remove from heat; stir in egg, almonds and remaining 1/4 teaspoon pepper sauce. Mound filling on each eggplant shell. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Place in baking dish. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes or until cheese is lightly browned and filling is heated through. Serve with additional pepper sauce, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

CURRY STUFFED ONIONS

- 4 medium onions (about 1 1/2 pounds)
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 cup shredded carrot
- 1 1/2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
- 3/4 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
- 1/3 cup chopped, tart apple
- 1/4 cup raisins
- Peel onions. Cut off one quarter of each onion from the top. Trim the root end, leaving it intact. Using a large melon-ball scoop, remove centers of onions, leaving 1/4-inch thick shells. Stand onion shells in a saucepan with 1 inch boiling water; cover; steam 15 minutes.

Remove onion shells from saucepan; invert on a wire rack; cool and drain. Finely chop onion centers, making 1/2 cup. In a medium skillet, melt 3 tablespoons butter; saute chopped onions 3 minutes. Add celery, cook 1 minute. Stir in carrot, mustard, curry and pepper sauce. Remove 1/2 cup in apple and raisins. Spoon stuffing into onion shells.

Arrange in small baking dish; pour hot water into baking dish to a depth of 1 inch. Bake in a 325-degree oven for 15 minutes, or until onions are heated through. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

Iced coffee drinkers will find the New Orleans method of brewing strong coffee ahead of time helps keep a constant supply ready. Strongly brewed coffee also heightens flavors in food recipes. For a different bread pudding, use the brewed coffee for added flavor and day-old French bread cubed for a different texture.

You'll enjoy the pudding hot or cold, topped with ice cream or even yogurt.

COFFEE BREAD PUDDING

- 4 cups day-old French bread cubes
- 2 tablespoons brandy or maple syrup
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 2 cups light cream
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 cup strongly brewed Louisiana coffee with chicory (recipe follows)

Eggs, at room temperature

1/3 cup butter or margarine, softened

1 cup sugar

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place bread in 13-by-9-inch baking pan. Dry in oven for 10 minutes. Remove from oven; set aside (turn oven off). In small bowl, pour brandy or syrup over raisins; set aside. In medium saucepan, heat cream, milk and coffee to scald.

Meanwhile, in mixing bowl, beat eggs with butter. Gradually add sugar, beating until smooth. Stir in brandy or syrup with raisins. Gradually stir in scalded milk mixture. Pour over bread in pan and let stand for 45 minutes. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Bake 1 hour or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve warm or cool completely and refrigerate, covered. 10 servings.

Light, Flavorful Dishes Most Appealing During Lazy Days Of Summer

Warm weather makes quick-cooking, easy-to-prepare dishes especially desirable, and those that are light and flavorful are the most appealing. A favorite technique to simplify meal preparation and impart delicious tastes is marinating.

For a refreshing main dish salad, Spicy Chicken Spinach Salad is a delicious choice. Cooked chicken acquires delectable Asian flavorings and succulence as it soaks in a special soy marinade. The addition of a bed of quickly shredded spinach and sliced cucumbers, radishes and celery is all that's needed to finish this easy to fix dish. Prepare the chicken the night before or early in the day, so there's no need to cook at a hot stove at scorching midday.

When selecting the spinach, look for tender leaves with good green color, says the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association. Spinach, rich in vitamins A and C, and high in iron, should be washed well under cold running water and trimmed of any tough stems before shredding.

SPICY CHICKEN SPINACH SALAD

- 2 large whole chicken breasts, cooked, boned, skinned and cut into julienne strips (2 1/2 cups)
  - 1/2 cup vegetable oil
  - 1/2 cup soy sauce
  - 1/4 cup wine vinegar
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons minced fresh ginger
  - 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
  - 8 cups trimmed spinach leaves, shredded
  - 2 small cucumbers, cut in julienne
  - 1 cup whole radishes, thinly sliced
  - 2 ribs celery, diagonally sliced (1 cup)
  - 1/2 cup unsalted peanuts
- Place chicken in large, shallow dish. Combine oil, soy sauce, vinegar, ginger and hot pepper sauce; pour over chicken. Cover; chill at least three hours. To serve, arrange a bed of shredded spinach on each serving plate. Remove chicken from marinade with a slotted spoon; reserve marinade. Add cucumbers, radishes, celery to marinade; toss to coat. Arrange chicken on bed of spinach; spoon vegetables around chicken. Sprinkle with peanuts.

Makes: 4 main-dish servings.

VEGETABLE KABOBS PROVENCAL

- 2 medium zucchini, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 2 yellow squash, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 1 small eggplant (about 3/4 pound) cut in 1-inch cubes
- 2 medium onions, cut in eighths
- 1 green pepper, halved, seeded, cut in 1 1/2-inch cubes
- 1 red pepper, halved, seeded, cut in 1 1/2-inch cubes
- 4 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh basil or 2 teaspoons dried leaf basil, crumbled
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh oregano or 1 teaspoon dried leaf oregano, crumbled
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Place vegetables in large plastic food bag. Combine remaining ingredients; pour into bag; close bag securely. Refrigerate at least 2 hours. Alternate vegetable pieces on long metal skewers. Place on rack of broiler pan or grill. Broil slowly (at 350°F.) or grill 8-10 minutes per side, until vegetables are tender and lightly browned.

Makes: 4-6 side-dish servings.

Serve Vegetable Kabobs Provencal with grilled meats, fish or poultry.

Cookbook Celebrates 'Taste Of Liberty'

By JOHN DEMERS
UPI Food Editor

Chateau Ste. Michelle, the pioneer winery of Washington state, pledged $5 million in 1983 to become a founding sponsor of the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation. It then spent $750,000 producing a cookbook to help raise the money.

"America's love of food and wine was spawned by its immigrants, whether they brought osso buco or baklava," said Bob Betz, the book's editor and vice president of Chateau Ste. Michelle.

"In some form or another, they helped determine the food and wine habits we have today.

The heritage sections — focusing on Italian, German, Greek, British, Eastern European, Iberian, Jewish, Scandinavian and French immigrants — trace the reasons these new citizens left their homelands, what they found in America and what they contributed.

To receive "Tastes of Liberty," readers should send a check or money order for at least $20 to The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, Liberty Centennial Fund, Box 4115, New York NY 10163.

OSSO BUCO

- 1 medium onion, thinly sliced into rings
- 1 cup finely chopped celery
- 1 cup finely chopped carrot
- 1 bay leaf
- 4 Tbsp butter
- 1 tsp grated lemon rind
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 tsp each freshly ground pepper, dried basil, marjoram and thyme, crumbled

6 meaty cross-cut veal shanks (6 to 8 ounces each)

- 3 Tbsp olive oil
- 1 cup dry white wine
- 1 cup rich homemade chicken or beef broth
- 1 1-pound can Italian plum or pear tomatoes, coarsely chopped, with liquid
- Saute onion, celery, carrots and bay leaf in butter until onion is translucent, about 5 minutes. Stir in lemon rind. Remove from heat and set aside.

Combine flour with seasonings. Roll meat in seasoned flour and shake off excess. Brown meat on both sides in oil in large Dutch oven with tight-fitting lid over medium-high heat. Add wine and bring to a boil. Add broth, reserved vegetables and tomatoes. Return to boil.

Cover and place in preheated

375-degree oven. Bake until meat is tender, about 1 hour. Remove bay leaf. Transfer meat to serving platter and keep hot. Over high heat, reduce sauce in pan by one-third, stirring frequently. Pour thickened sauce over meat.

SOUPA AVGOLEMONO

- 6 cups rich homemade chicken broth
- One-third cup long-grain rice
- 3 eggs
- One-third cup fresh lemon juice
- 1 1/2 Tbsp fresh chopped dill or parsley
- 1/4 tsp salt
- Pinch of freshly ground white pepper
- 6 lemon slices for garnish

Bring broth to a boil in 2-quart saucepan over high heat. Stir in rice. Reduce heat to low, cover and simmer until rice is cooked, about 25 minutes.

Beat eggs in medium bowl until thick, about 2 minutes. Beat in lemon juice. Gradually blend in about 1 cup hot broth. Slowly blend egg mixture into broth in saucepan.

Cook, stirring constantly, until soup is smooth and thick but not boiling, 1 to 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in dill, salt and pepper. Serve immediately, garnishing each serving with a lemon slice. Serves 6.

LEKACH

- Two-thirds cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
- Two-thirds cup honey
- 1/2 cup vegetable shortening
- 2 eggs
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 1 tsp ground cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1/2 tsp baking soda

- 1/4 cup strong coffee
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1/2 cup chopped almonds or walnuts

1 tsp grated orange rind

Beat brown sugar, honey and shortening together in large mixer bowl at high speed of electric mixer until light and fluffy, about 2 minutes. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Stir together flour, baking powder, cinnamon, salt and soda. Add to honey mixture alternately with coffee, beating well after each addition and end with flour mixture. Stir in currants, nuts and orange rind. Pour batter into oiled 9-by-5-by-3 inch loaf pan.

Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean, 1 to 1 1/4 hours. Cool in pan on wire rack.
