'Someone Else Is Watching'

By DOUGLAS R. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a super long distance call to tell America's men on the moon "how proud we all are," President Nixon phoned Mamie Eisenhower and former President Lyndon B. Johnson to share his jubilation with them.

"This certainly has to be the most historic telephone call ever made from the White House," Nixon told astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr.

"For one priceless moment in the whole history of man all of the people on this earth are truly one," Nixon said during his brief message congratulating the astronauts.

After talking with the astronauts, Nixon called Mrs. Eisenhower at the nearby White House mansion where she is visiting. He disclosed that the widow of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower had commented earlier that "somebody up there is looking at them too" — referring to the late Gen. Eisenhower.

Nixon telephoned Johnson at his Texas home.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters the President informed Johnson that "I thought we ought to share this great moment."

Johnson told Nixon, Ziegler said, he had been following the Apollo 11 activities all day and appreciated Nixon's call at the historic moment.

Fly Me To The Moon Let Me Play Among The Stars, See What Spring's About On Jupiter And On Mars . . .

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two Americans, who strode the moon's surface for the first time and raised their nation's banner above it, hold the world in suspense again today with a perilous blastoff for the long journey home.

A successful liftoff and rendezvous with their orbiting command ship would climax an epic expedition in which Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. fulfilled a centuries-old dream of men everywhere.

There is only one liftoff engine on the landing craft they call Eagle. It must work, or the astronauts would be stranded with only 15 hours of oxygen left and no hope of rescue.

They are confident it will perform flawlessly as have millions of other parts of Apollo 11 hardware during the incredible journey that carried man's quest for the unknown to his first landing on another celestial body.

The launching from the moon was scheduled for 1:55 p.m. EDT.

A successful liftoff would shoot them into lunar orbit to chase down Michael Collins, orbiting some 65 miles overhead in the Apollo 11 command ship.

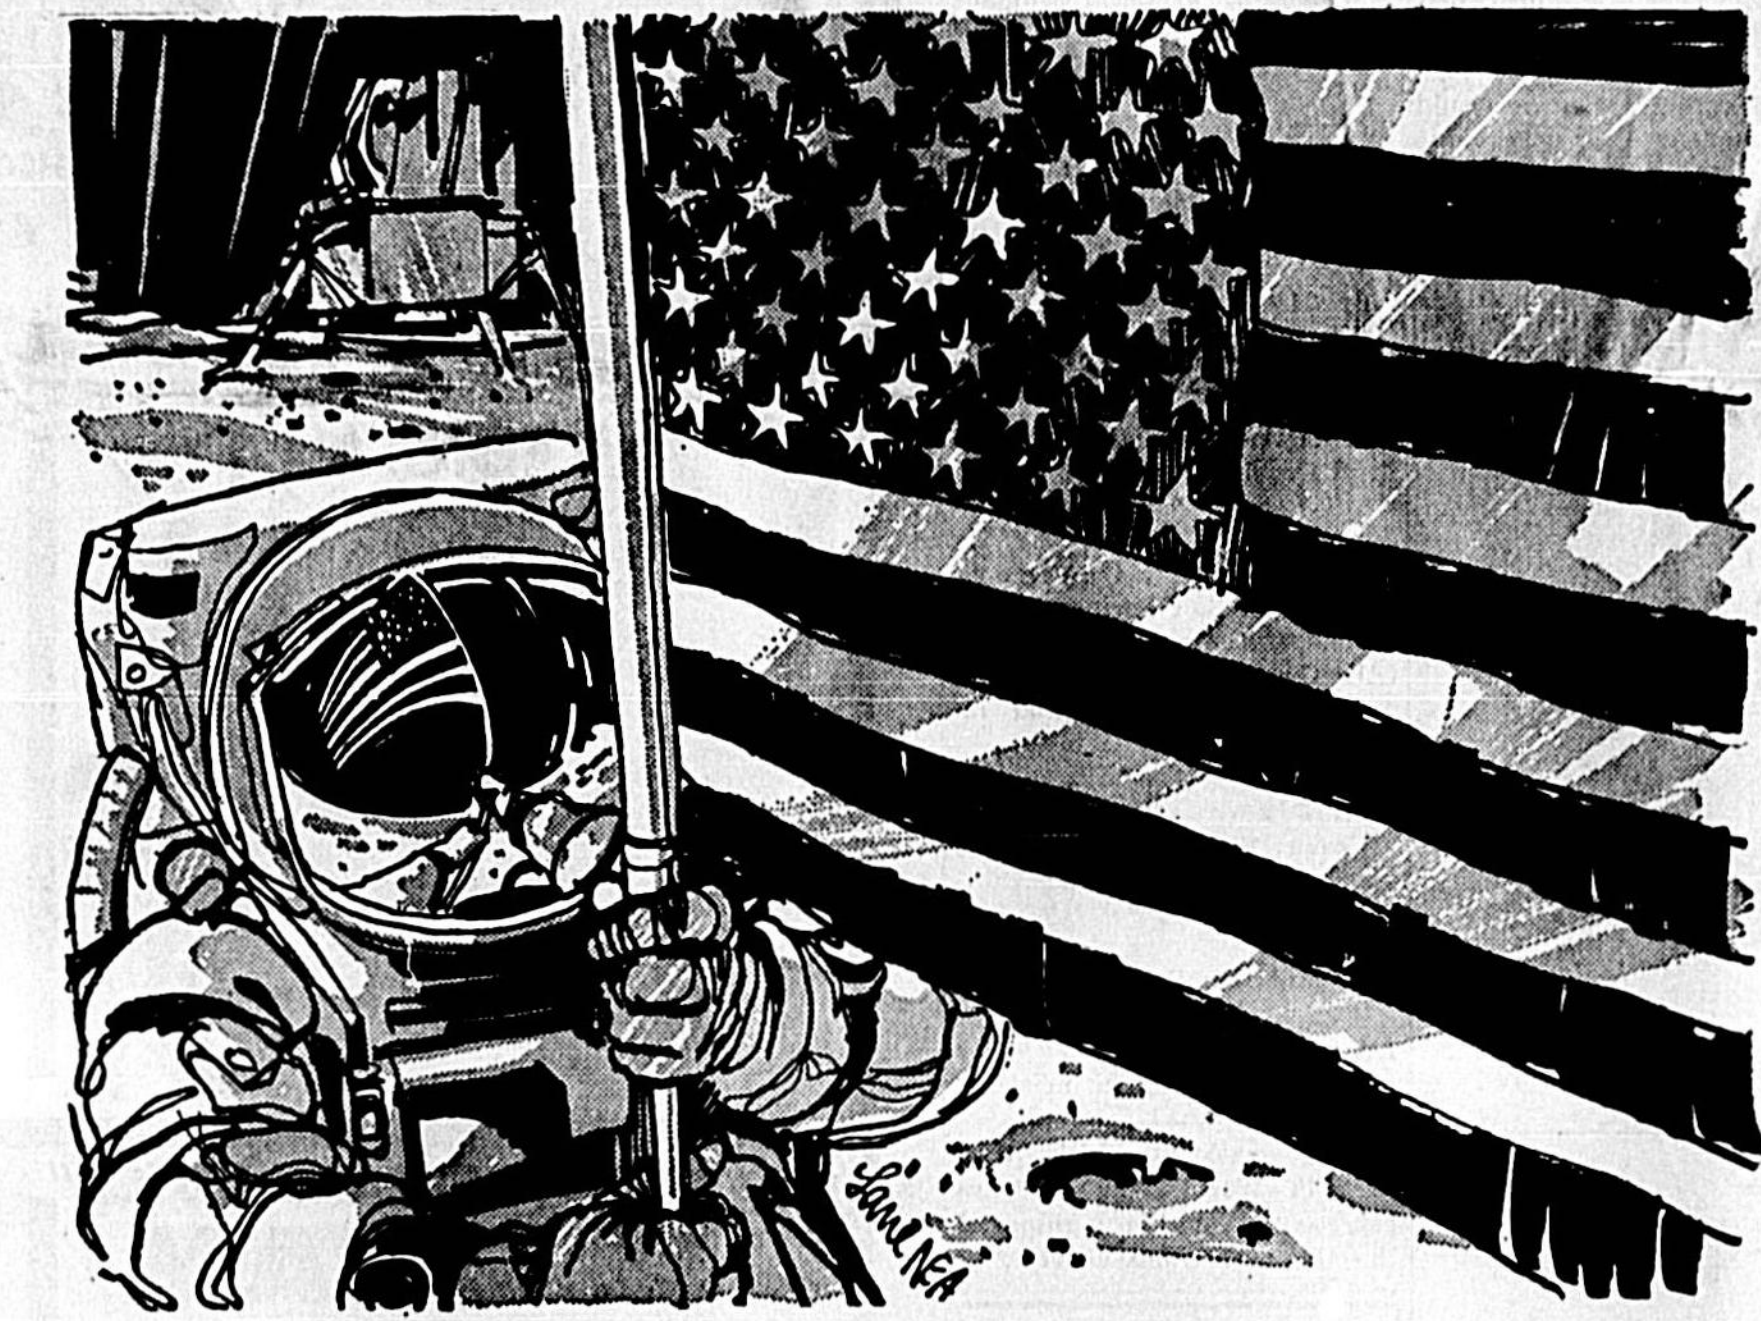

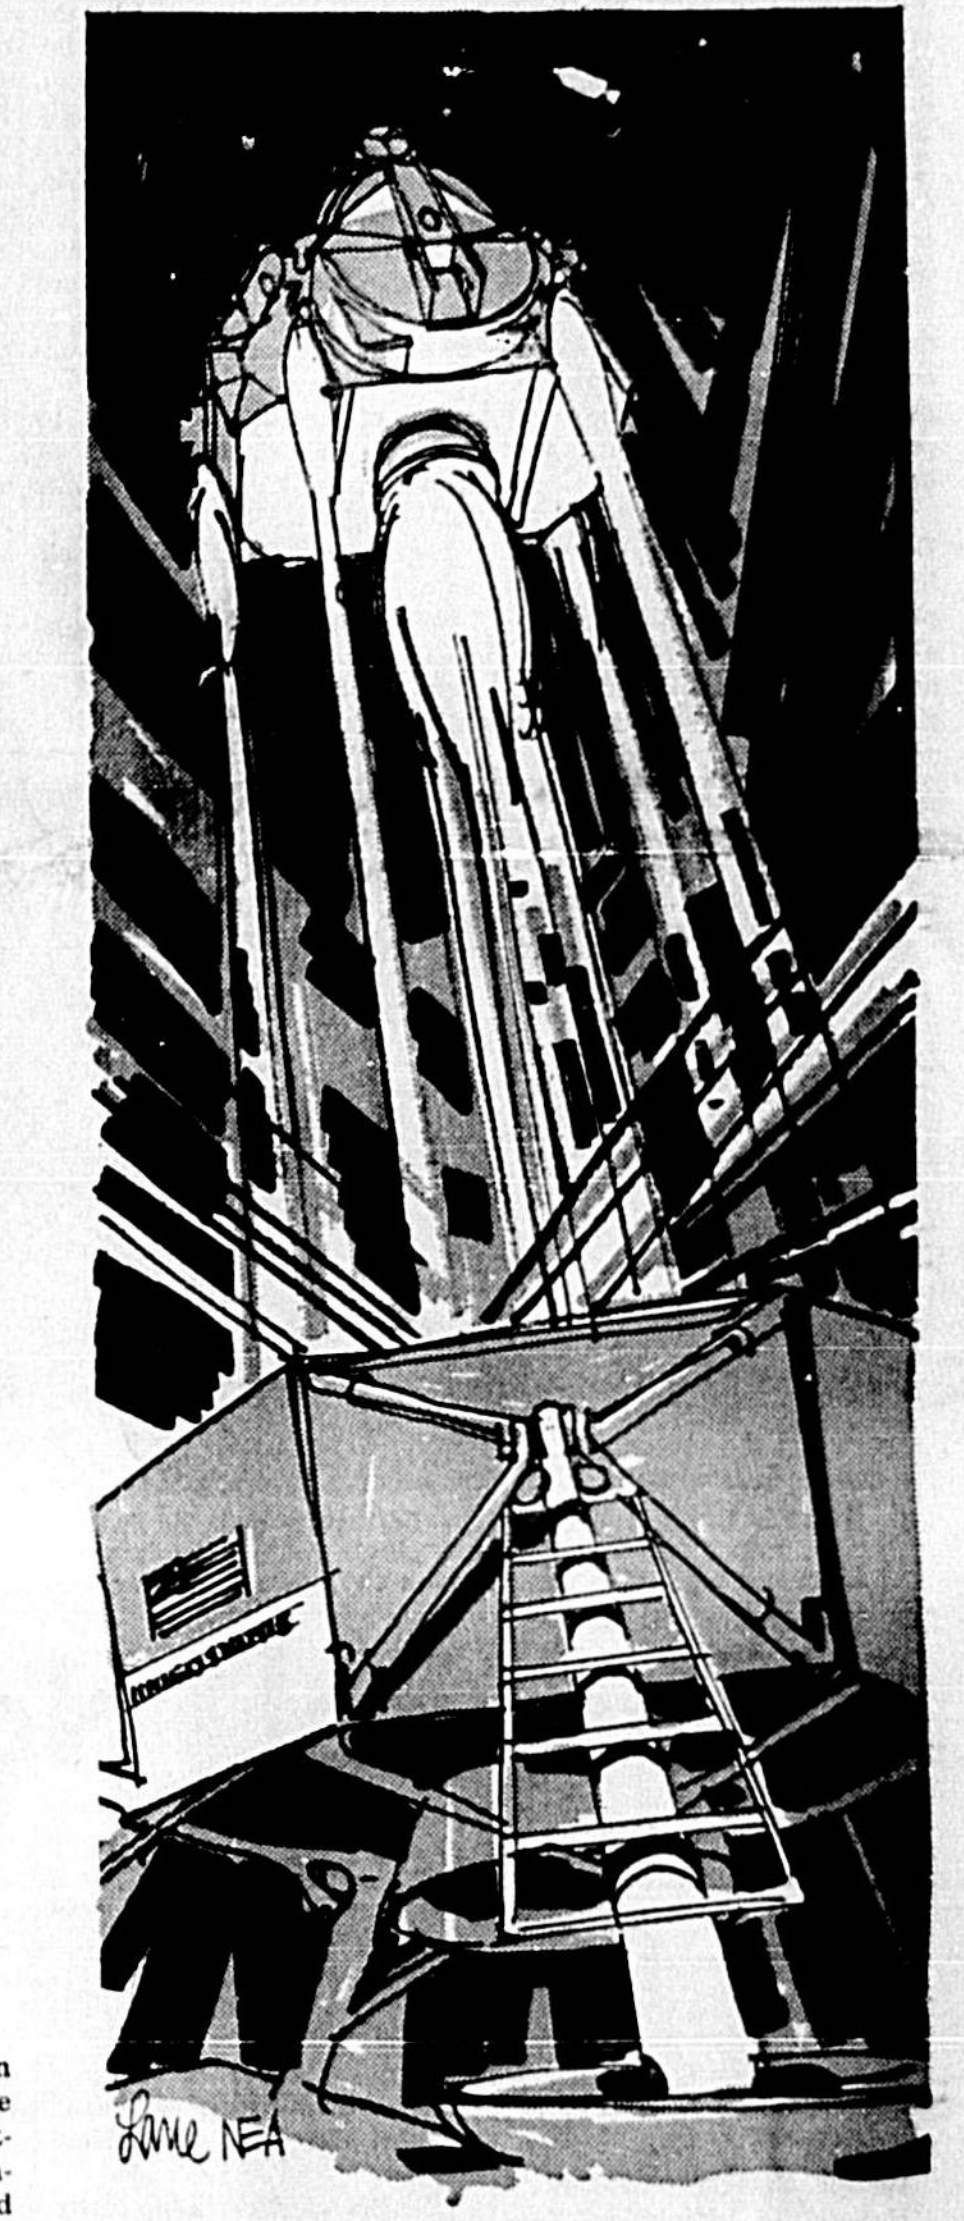

Once linked up, the plan to fire themselves back toward earth early Tuesday, ending a space odyssey in which they etched their names beside those of history's great explorers, Columbus, Balboa, Magellan, da Gama and Byrd.

Through the magic of television, an estimated 500 million people around the world had a inside seat to man's greatest adventure.

It was unforgettable. A man's foot climbed through the LM hatch and

Engine Means Life Or Death

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Their bold exploration of the moon completed, astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. now depend upon one engine to lift them to the safety of their mother ship for the voyage home.

For at least six critical minutes, this engine must fire to boost them to the ship circling overhead with Michael Collins.

There's no way to pretest on the moon, whether this ascent engine will work as it's supposed to.

The 3,500-pound thrust engine, which cost $250,000, must carry the two men straight up for 14 seconds, then tip over to an angle of 52 degrees to place them in an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 11 to 52 miles above the moon.

It is programmed to fire for 7 minutes, 18 seconds.

If it failed after six minutes, the astronauts could use small thruster rockets to push on up into their orbit.

But if it failed before six minutes elapsed, the little rockets couldn't finish the task. The astronauts would go into a trajectory like a ballistic missile and crash on the moon.

The ascent engine is at the base of the lunar craft's cabin section—the upper part of the LM or lunar module. The bottom section of the LM is composed of the braking rocket and landing legs. To depart the moon, Armstrong and Aldrin will separate the upper and lower stages by detonating explosive bolts and use the lower stage as a launching pad.

Luna 15 Lands

By ANDREW TORCHIA
JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — Russia landed Luna 15 on the moon's surface today, 500 miles from where America's Apollo astronauts were preparing to take off on their journey back to earth, Jodrell Bank Observatory reported.

Signals picked up at the giant radio-telescope here indicated this after four days of moon orbit the unmanned probe landed on the moon's Sea of Crises.

Jodrell Observatory, headed by 55-year-old Sir Bernard Lovell, stood by for any sign that Luna itself might be preparing to return to earth.

Prof. John G. Davies, Lovell's aide, said at 12:05 p.m. EDT: "Luna has landed."

The last signals received from Luna were "appropriate to a soft landing," he added.

Dump Openings To Cost County

By DONNA ESTES

Collection of the 50 cent fee from individual homeowners for use of the county's four sanitary landfills on Sundays will cost Seminoles some $4,000 more than it collects, County Commission Chairman John Alexander reported.

But the expenditure will allow the dumps to be open on Sundays, Alexander added.

Tentatively approved budget for the arthropod program is $70,000 during the fiscal year. $2,000 of the budget is to be given to the county's four sanitary landfills on the Sunday fees. At the same time, cost of providing attendants at the Sanlando, Cameron City, Ovidis and Upland dumps on Sundays totals $7,000.

Total of the fees from commercial users of the landfills on Sundays is to be increased to 10 cents per cubic yard, with the 25 cents in value added to bring in some $75,000 in revenues.

Of the monies added $20,000 will be set aside for future land acquisition or purchase of equipment.

In other budget matters, the commission raised the anticipated revenues from the zoning department in the new year to $115,000. The Commission is to have a public hearing in the next few weeks to consider raising the zoning change fee from $200 to $250. In 1968, $2,000 of the zoning change fee was given to the county's four sanitary landfills on the Sunday fees. At the same time, cost of providing attendants at the Sanlando, Cameron City, Ovidis and Upland dumps on Sundays totals $7,000.

Total of the fees from commercial users of the landfills on Sundays is to be increased to 10 cents per cubic yard, with the 25 cents in value added to bring in some $75,000 in revenues.

Alexander told the Commission that the Medic-Aid program will automatically cost the county some $48,000 for nine months in the new fiscal year. The amount will be matched by the federal government on a ratio of two-to-one. It was pointed out with the program Seminoles Memorial Hospital may be able to reduce its deficit operation in the new year.

Some $31,121 was included in the budget for cost of liability insurance with elimination of sovereign immunity.

Woman Jailed On Murder Charges

By BILL SCOTT

A woman has been jailed on murder charges in the slaying of a 21-year-old Sanford man.

Seminole Chief Deputy J. Q. (Slim) Galloway apprehended Regina Bailey, 20, and charged her in the death of Walter Gaines, 622 E. 8th Street.

Galloway said the woman was being held without bond in the county jail pending a hearing today before Peace Judge Robert E. Carroll.

The slaying of the 21-year-old Sanford man was the result of an argument between 22-year-old Bailey and another girl and resulted in the woman going into the place for a 410 gauge shotgun.

He reported Gaines tried to disarm the woman and in the resulting scuffle the gun fired with slugs striking Gaines in the left shoulder.

The wounded man was taken to Seminoles Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival by Dr. C. W. Hardwick minutes before 2 a.m. according to the official report filed by Deputies Roy Ross, Odell Hunt and John Wright Jr., officers assigned to the case.

A post mortem has been requested by Coroner Robert Carroll to the State Attorney's office.

Galloway said murder charges against the accused may be changed to manslaughter after the hearing before Carroll.

Florida Weekend Fatalities

Medal Of Honor - Accident Victim

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Florida highways over the weekend were the scene of several accidents.

A Marine major awarded the Medal of Honor for heroism in Vietnam was killed in a motorcycle accident Sunday in a total of 18 persons lost their lives on Florida highways over the weekend.

Maj. Stephen W. Pless, 29, lost control of his motorcycle and plunged over an open draw bridge at Pensacola Beach. He was awarded the Medal of Honor in January for rescuing four trapped soldiers in his helicopter gunship on Aug. 19, 1967.

A 45-to-50-year-old pedestrian was killed Sunday when a car from his home on State Road 30 hit him down at State Road 30 and Rebecca Street at Callaway.

He was identified as William Loucks of Callaway.

Nelson Gallon of Washington, D.C., and Virginia Ford, 18, of Apalachicola. Their car failed to make a curve, hit a utility pole, and rolled over along U.S. 90.

A 73-year-old Webster man, Dale Fussell, was killed Saturday night when a car in which he was a passenger, called Mary Ann Woods, 7, of his home, was struck by a car on the side of a Seaboard Coast Line train at an unmarked railroad crossing near Tampa.

The car was struck by a train while walking along a railroad crossing. The car was crushed and a pedestrian was killed in an accident involving two cars and two pedestrians was 73-year-old Paul Theodore Mouchon of Forest City.

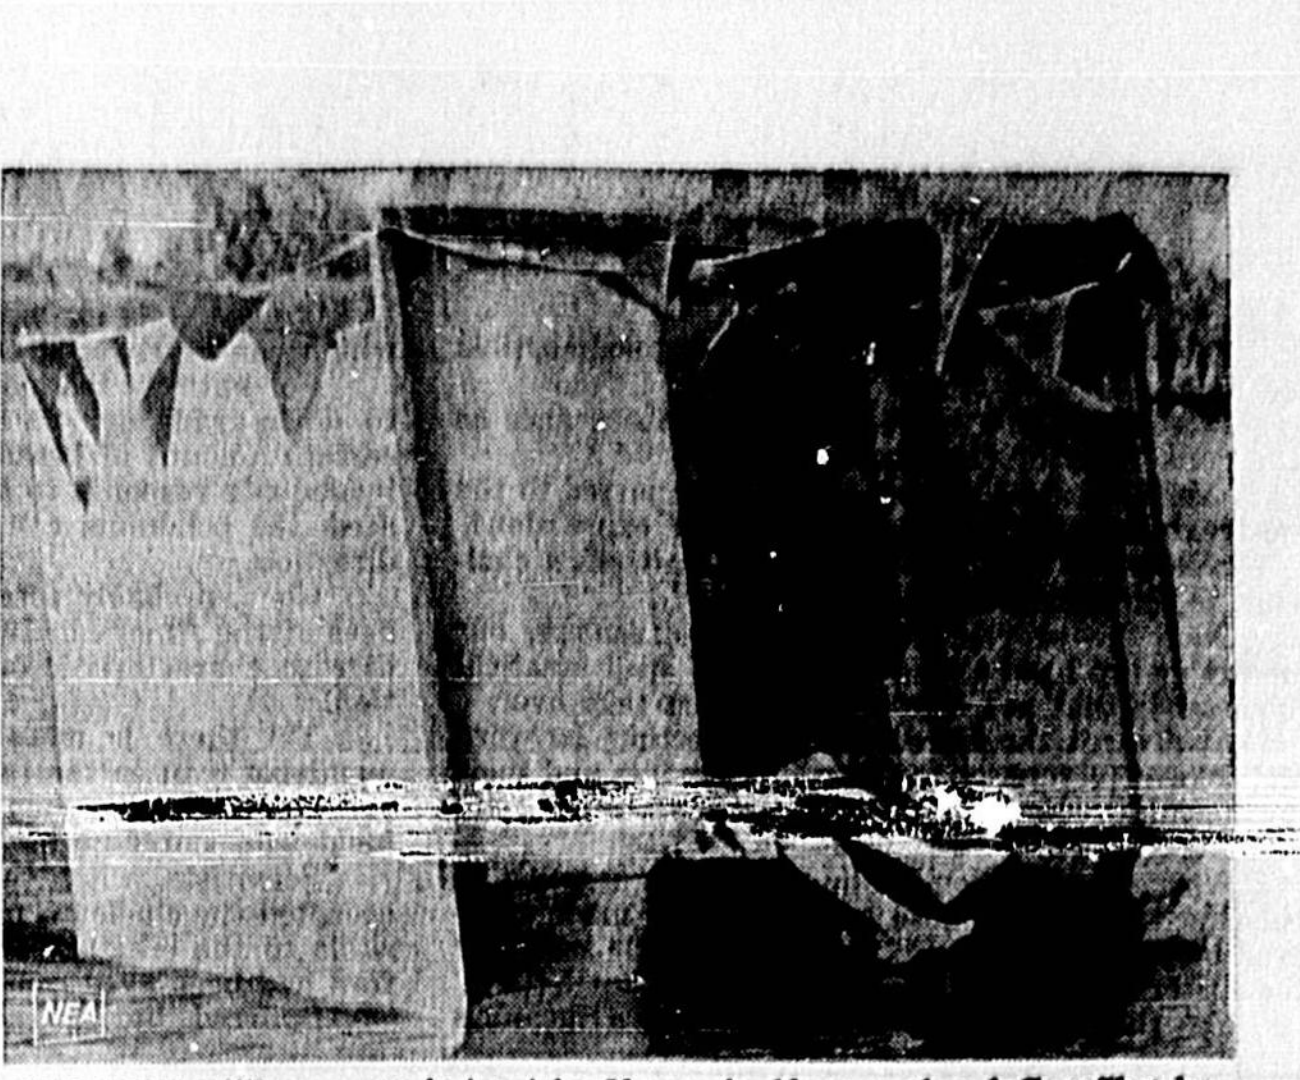

State troopers reported they did not know whether the victim was a man or woman. They found the car Saturday night along State Road 332 near St. Cloud.

Two persons died in an early Sunday accident seven miles east of Port St. Joe. They were Marvin Talk of Washington, D.C., and Virginia Ford, 18, of Apalachicola. Their car failed to make a curve, hit a utility pole, and rolled over along U.S. 90.

Awestruck Floridians Watched TV Images

By JOHN VAN GIBSON

From spaceport tavern to cat-telone funeral parlor, awestruck Floridians watched the feathery television images of men walking on the moon deep into this morning.

Joyce Smoot, barmaid at a Cocoa Beach tavern where many a space worker had downed drinks, pushed a mug of beer across a bar and said, "We feel like we had a little part in it."

"They buried Stella Beasley, 85, in Wauchula Sunday and afterwards funeral home worker Curry Riley turned to the television. "When they took the first step we walked right along with them."

Miami executive David Hildebrand, 22, waxed philosophical: "I think it may have been the only time in the world when everybody was thinking one common, good thought."

All of Footprint Island, population 5, about 10 strokes of the car from Yanketown, was glued to the television. Arle Gibbs, mother of the only far-ther-isle, enthused: "It is one big thrill. I wouldn't have missed this for the world."

Mack T. Meiner, Orlando restaurant owner, said, "I have been waiting all my life to see something like this. I hope we go to Venus and Mars."

"Mighty good job," said Tampa retired truckdriver Clyde Lee. "It was proud of them and I was proud to be an American."

It was Russell Caldwell, 25, Jacksonville mail clerk.

"The computers are taking over! But God shall prevail!" an anonymous woman caller whispered heavily over the telephone to a Miami newsman.

At Yanketown, Marina Adams declared: "We plan to stay up the rest of the night watching this and were keeping our children up to see it."

But two miles up State Road 40 at Crackerneck, Mrs. A. G. Thompson protested over the phone at 12:30 a.m.: "Your phone call woke me up. I just wasn't watching that's all."

"To think that we actually did it," said Mrs. John M. Tolar, St. Petersburg housewife.

And on U.S. A1A in Cocoa Beach, near where it started four days ago under the hot July sun, shirtless in red jeans strolled along rain-stick sidewalks selling $3 "Apollo medallions."

Neil A. Armstrong walked on Florida sand Wednesday. Today he walked the moon's powdery face.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Despite the overwhelming advances in technology and scientific information amassed during the space program this decade, it has not been achieved without some failures.

OF 248 NASA major launches since February 1959 and May of this year, 23 failed. In 1958 all four launches were considered failures.

Women Are Encouraged To Work For Good Govt.

WINTER PARK — Democratic women from central Florida will meet at the Mount Vernon Motor Lodge at 10:15 a. m. Thursday, July 24, in a massive re-organization effort to encourage more women to work for the Democratic Party and good government in the next campaign and election.

State Comptroller Fred O. Dickson Jr., will send the keynote address, a call for more interest and action on the part of all Florida Democratic women.

Mrs. Allen Bloodworth of Fort Myers, president of the Democratic Women's Club of Florida, said that throughout the years women have provided an effective and powerful force for good government and party unity.

"Don't underestimate the power of women," she said, "especially public — a principle I led knowledgeable women who have lived in and are dedicated to good government."

N.A.A. Membership Chairman George Linville, of Jacksonville, Fla., stressed the important nature of this appointment. NIREB offers continuing real estate education in the Residential and the Commercial and Investment areas. These offerings consist of up to 20 maxims and newsletters yearly, seven educational courses which are being conducted in 93 cities throughout the country during 1969, and which are made available to numerous books and films members at a great price savings.

Mr. Linville commended the Seminole Board of Realtors for their active support of the Brokers' Institute and invited attention to the fact that any person, who holds some form of license in the local Board, is warmly welcome to join NIREB.

Tomorrow's meeting, fourth in a series of five area meetings, was expected to attract more than 125 women and public officials from throughout the area.

Other meetings were scheduled:

Keep Warm To Live

LONDON (AP) — Up to 90,000 people a year die in Britain for lack of proper heating, according to medical expert Dr. Geoffrey Taylor.

Taylor's statistics show that in the six cold months of the year 1964-67 there was an average of 60,000 more deaths than in the six warm months.

Taylor suggested that people who live in warm houses live up to five years longer than those in cold, draughty houses.

American Public Awed By Spectacular Apollo Flight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The moon is the only place in the universe where there is both humans and peace," said a man in a Miami bar. Other Americans viewed Apollo 11 as a symbol of peace and progress. "I think it's an entirely new era in civilization. Probably an ultimate change in the way of the people on this earth are to be made," said a Seattle area resident.

The President said the Apollo mission "inspires us to redouble our efforts to bring peace and tranquility to earth."
Leahy Noble, 74, of Moonville, Ind., reflected, "It was even more exciting than that day in July 1918 when the first airplane flew over Moonville."
Charles Stuart, 22, of Park land, Ore., said, "When my grandmother was young they were just learning how to fly. Now I wonder what's going to happen by the time I'm her age."
Frederick Durant, an employee of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, found Apollo 11, "a tremendous thrill, sharing with everyone in the world this event which could open the next stage in the evolution of mankind."

Dean Hatwick, of Havre, Mont., stood in the Smithsonian beneath the Spirit of St. Louis, the tiny airplane in which Charles A. Lindbergh flew alone across the Atlantic in 1927, and said, "It's quite a night!"
Not everyone looked at the bright side of the moon venture. Nellie Lawrence of Atlanta said, "Man ain't supposed to be there. I've been to shopping centers and everybody is scared because God didn't intend the moon landing. God didn't intend man to set foot on the heavenly bodies."
The Rev. Joseph S. Crowder of Richmond, Va., took a middle ground: "Man is not able to deny his adventurous side for the sake of social responsibility."

Both are part of man's total experience."
Younger Americans had their own special points of view. "I'd like to go with the astronauts because I like to collect rocks," said Lance Rider, 10, of Virginia Beach, Va.

THE PENNEY STORY

Why make such a big deal out of quality?

By ROBERTA NASH

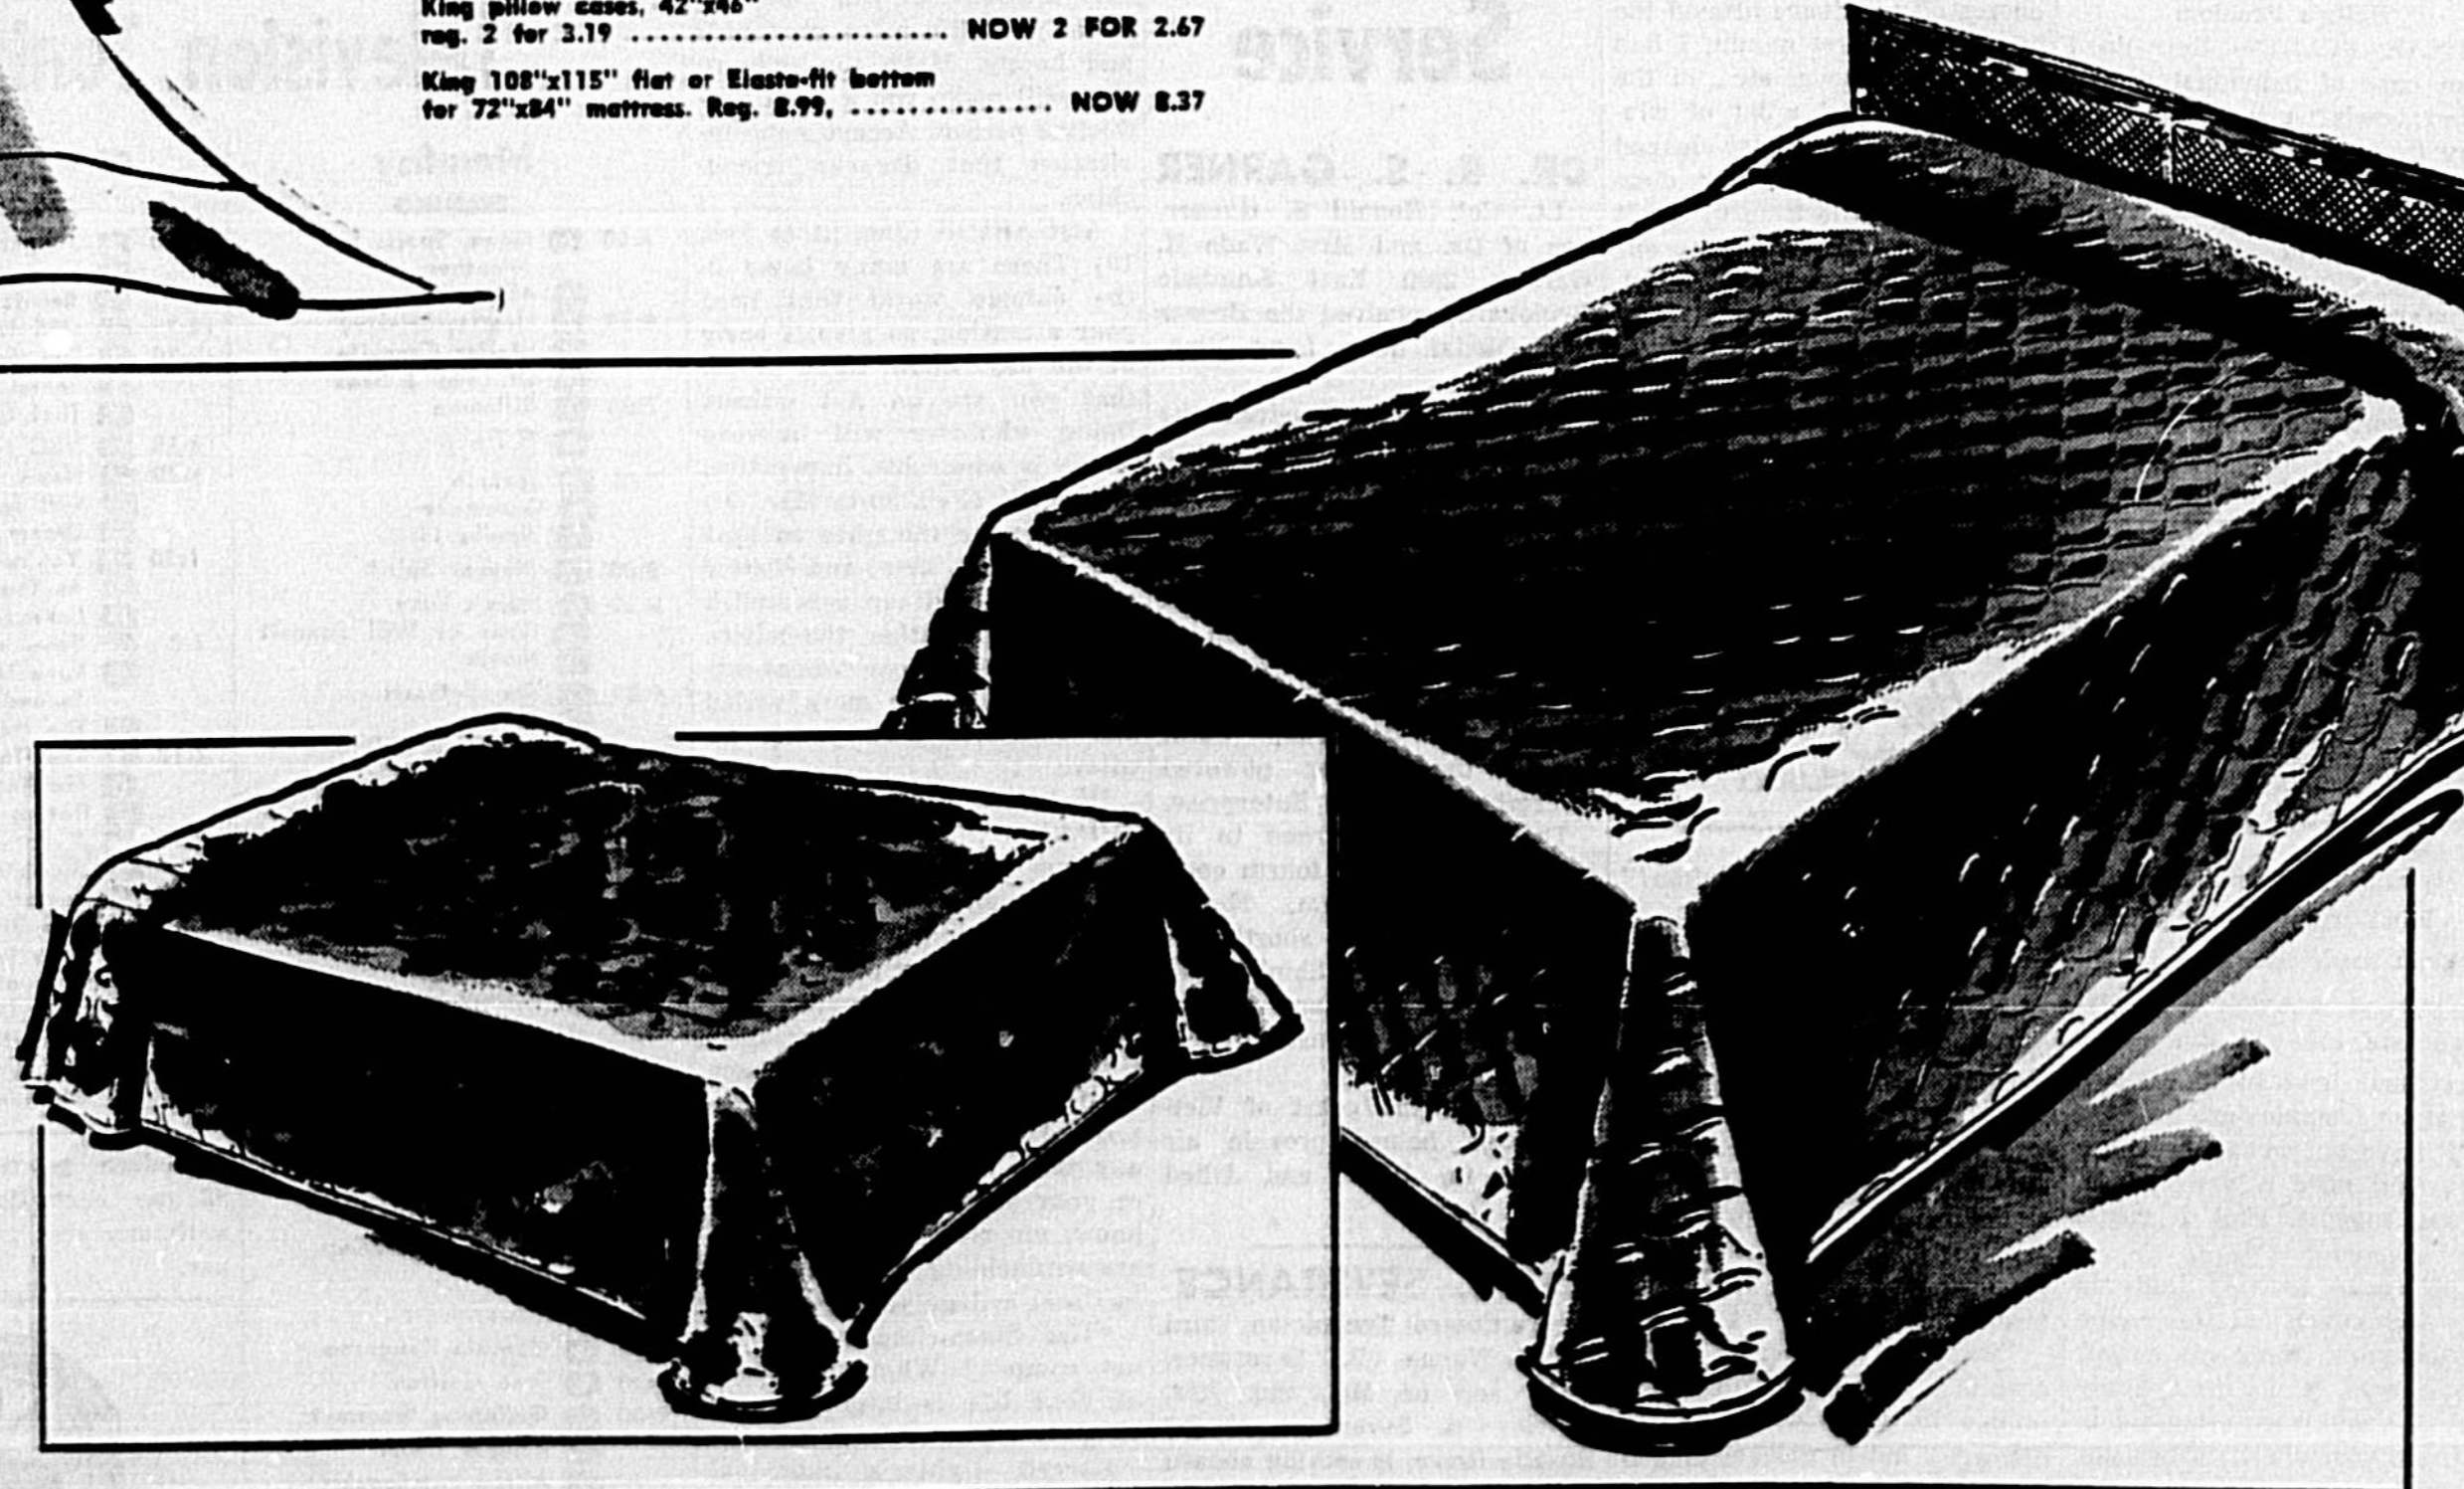

I asked a Penney store manager the question once and when he finally decided I was serious, he said, "If I could use only one word to describe the phenomenon of Penney's, I'd pick the word, quality."
"Mr. Penney has always been a fanatic on the subject," he continued. "They say the only thing that still makes Mr. Penney angry is when someone suggests we compromise Penney quality to make a lower price."

An Unbelievably Perfect Evening

By GARTH JONES

Associated Press Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—No different from the rest of the nation, the proud Apollo 11 wives struggled to find enough adjectives to express their feelings for their men on the moon.
"The evening has been unbelievably perfect," Mrs. Neil Armstrong said today after watching the moon exploration of her husband and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. "It's an honor and privilege to share with my husband, the crew, the Manned Spacecraft Center, the American public and all of mankind this magnificent experience of the beginning of lunar exploration."

Earlier, Mrs. Armstrong expressed her feelings much more simply. "I was tremendously excited," she said. "It was hard to think it was real until the men actually moved," said Mrs. Aldrin. "I felt I was looking at another stimulation."
After the moon touchdown Mrs. Aldrin said she wept "because I was so happy."
"I thought it was fantastically marvelous," said Mrs. Michael Collins, whose husband flew a moon orbit in the command capsule while the two other crewmen visited the lunar surface.
"Don't you think he is with them there in spirit?" Mrs. Collins replied when asked if her husband was disappointed because he was not in the landing party.

All Apollo families planned to sleep late today before the next critical phase, blastoff from the moon.
Tuesday night, if everything goes right, the three wives will be honored at a press luncheon party given by astronaut Bill Anders.
Mrs. Aldrin said Sunday at a news conference.

As Neil A. Armstrong's boots scuffed the lunar dust, it was just before sunrise in most of Europe and a crowd of 2,000 still clustered around a giant television screen in London's Trafalgar Square.

Commission To Meet Tonight

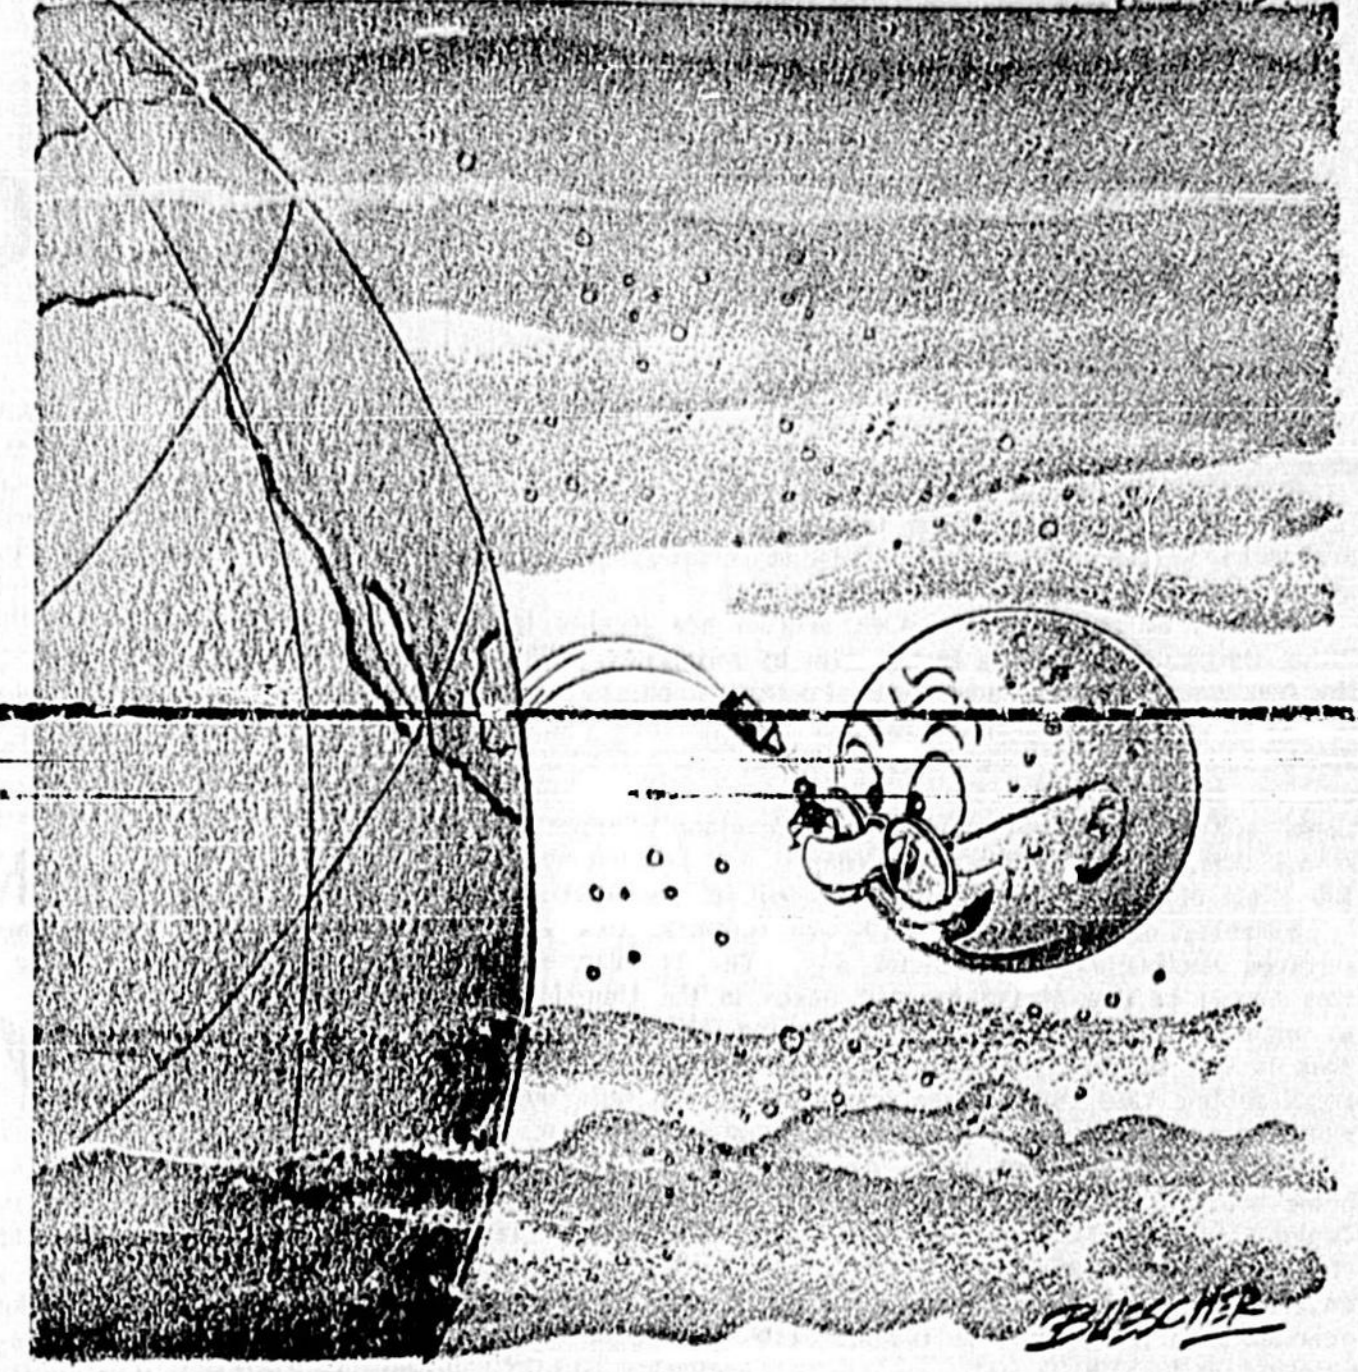

Sanford City Commissioners will gather at 8 p.m. in the city hall tonight for the first of many expected sessions over deciding on a 1969-70 city budget.
City Manager Warren E. Knowles has notified the commissioners that this year's budget as presented by him is "balanced," meaning nothing can be cut without throwing the proposal out of balance and creating a problem.
Main item on the expected $1.4 million budget is an increase of $52,000 over this year's $1,353,400 budget which will mean increased salaries to city workers.
A reported 83,000 in pay raises has been earmarked by Knowles to boost city workers' pay by an average nine percent in an effort to keep employees from leaving the city for better paying positions elsewhere.
Knowles, in a budget statement, told commissioners that city is having difficulty keeping and hiring employees and a pay raise would be necessary to operate city offices.
Earlier in the year, the Sanitation Department gave garbage collectors an increase in salary to keep workers from taking other jobs.

Referendum Suggested For Citizens Opinion

By DONNA ESTES
Special referendum to give the citizens of Seminole County an opportunity to express their opinions on the recent increases in salary for county elected officials given in the last session of the Legislature was suggested by one of the county commissioners.
Commissioner Greg Drummond suggested the straw vote as a basis for determining if request should be made to the legislative delegation asking that the county be excluded from the state uniform salary law.
Under the new law, salaries of county commissioners will be raised from $5,000 to $7,000 annually and the salaries of all other elected county officials except constables and peace justices will be raised.
Commissioner Chairman John Alexander stated his position that if the board could vote on the increase he would oppose it, but he also said he knows "of no method of legally calling for a straw vote."
The chairman said this is not the year for such increases. "The money could be used to a better benefit."
Sheriff's Department
Sheriff John Polk will have another day in court, so to speak, this week when he will be invited to appear before the County Commission to be held

Bear Lake Man Killed

By BILL SCOTT
One death and at least two injuries occurred in two traffic accidents that occurred in Seminole County during the weekend.
A 74-year-old Bear Lake man was killed and his nine-year-old grandson injured Friday night when struck by a car while walking along SR 436 at the intersection of Bear Lake Road.
Paul T. Mouchon, 59, of Bear Lake Road, was listed as dead on arrival at Mercy Medical Center and Loren Brent Mouchon, his grandson, was reported in serious condition at Florida Sanitarium and Hospital after a car driven by William Harris Palmer, 32, of Orlando, jumped a curb and struck the man and boy.
The youth was dragged for several feet by the car, which skidded approximately 70 feet before sideswiping another car. The elderly man's body was found at the rear of the car, county authorities said.
Palmer is in the county jail under a $1,000 bond charged with driving while intoxicated. Sheriff John Polk said the man would be charged with manslaughter.

Weekend Produces Many Area Burglaries

The epidemic of county burglaries continued during the weekend with the revelation that Ceco Corporation of Jacksonville doing construction work at Seminole Junior College old Highway 17-52, just south of Sanford had $50 in tools taken from a tool shed at the college building site.
An investigation is still underway there to determine what was taken, county authorities reported.
The side door to The Sanford Herald was opened and removed $20 to $30 in change removed from three vending machines, which were pried open.
Sanford Detective Ralph Russo is investigating.

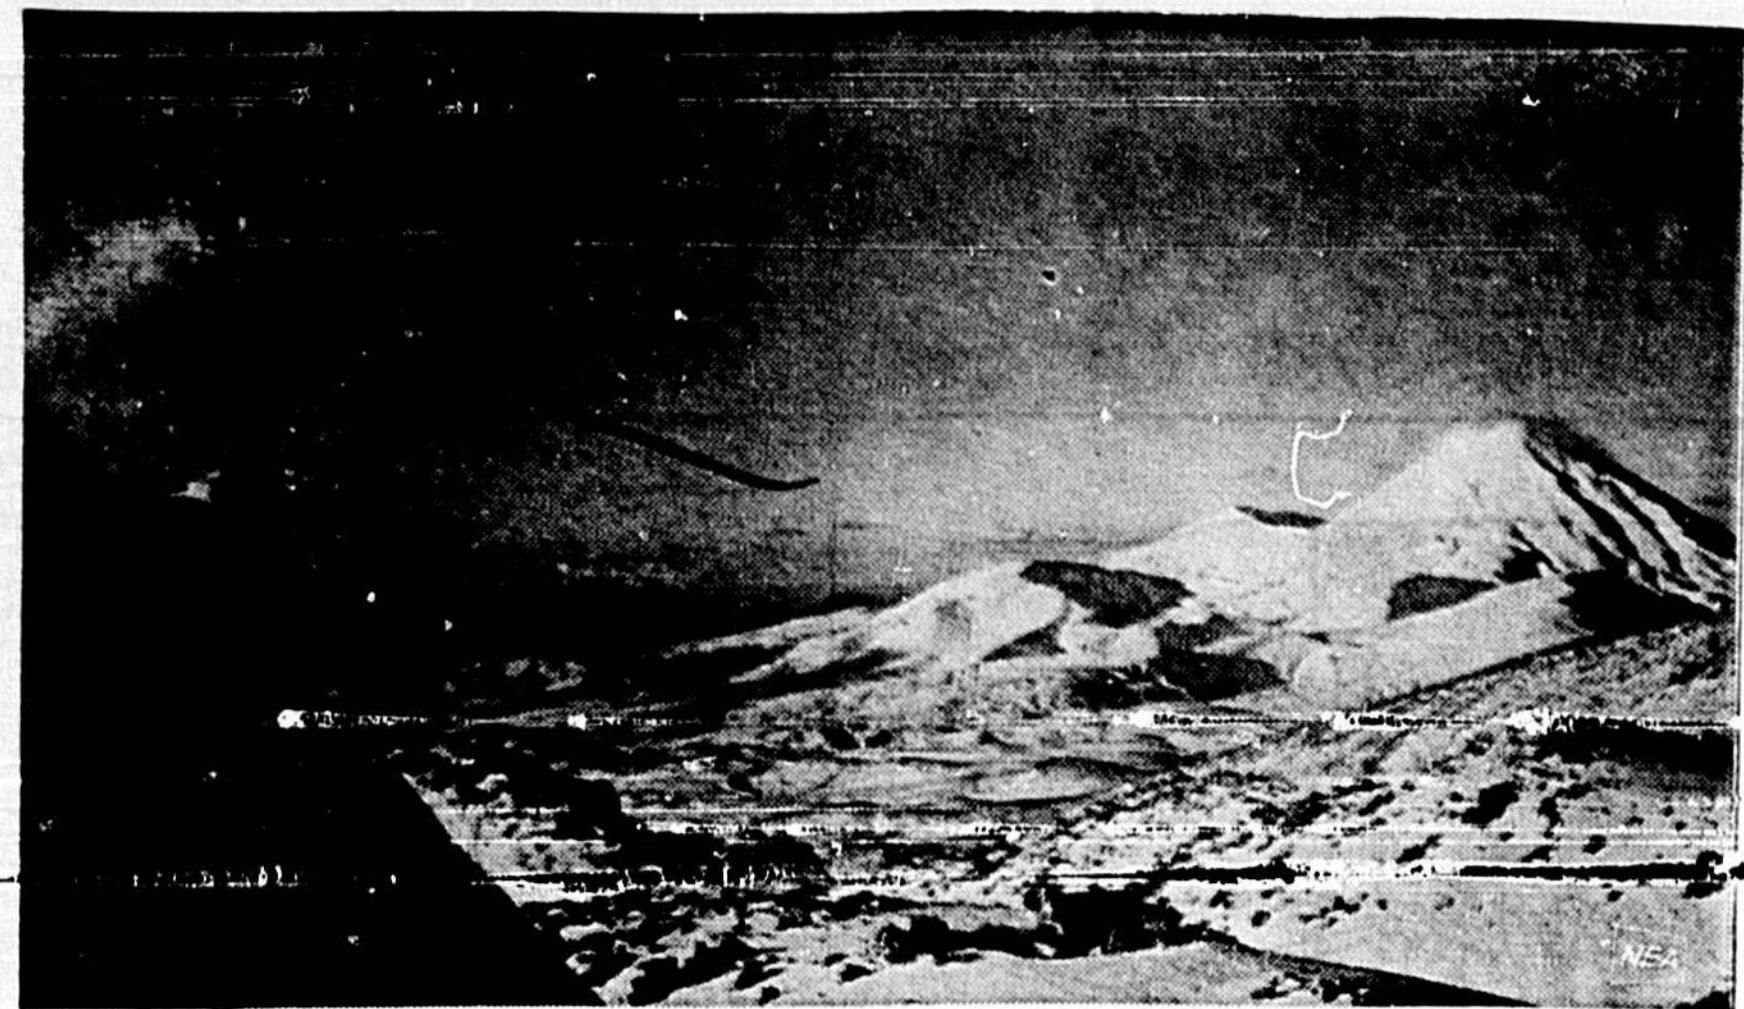

ONE KILLED and one injured in a Friday night accident that occurred when the above car struck a 74-year-old man and his nine-year-old grandson who were walking near the intersection of SR 436 and Bear Lake Road. The car reportedly jumped a curb and struck the two after sideswiping another vehicle. The man was killed and his grandson is listed in serious condition.

El Salvador Charged Shaky Cease Fire Is Broken!!

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Honduras charged that El Salvador broke the cease-fire in their undeclared war by the capture Sunday of five more towns or villages.

El Salvador replied with a charge that Honduran troops opened fire with machine guns on President Fidel Sanchez Hernandez of El Salvador while he was inspecting Salvadoran troops inside Honduras.

The cease-fire, which supposedly went into effect at 10 p.m. Friday, calls for the withdrawal of all Salvadoran troops from Honduras by 10 o'clock to night. But El Salvador said it would not withdraw until it received "satisfactory" guarantees for the safety of more than 275,000 Salvadorans living in Honduras and their property.

Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, Nicaraguan chairman of the peace commission of the Organization of American States, said that if El Salvador does not pull its troops back, it will be "considered an aggressor and subject to the sanctions specified in the Rio de Janeiro Charter."

According to Honduran announcements, the Salvadorans have now captured a sizeable piece of western Honduras since they invaded the neighboring country last Monday. The Salvadorans said they went to war because the Hondurans were persecuting the Salvadorans in Honduras and because Honduras was preparing to invade El Salvador.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey met today with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and said Kosygin told him the Soviet government is looking forward to cooperation with the United States.

"Kosygin gave me a message to take back to the United States," Humphrey said after the 7 1/2-hour meeting. "He wanted me to tell the President and the American people that the Soviet Union wants to work with the United States for peace."

"I think there is a basic Soviet desire to negotiate in good faith on matters of substance," Humphrey also reported. Kosygin was "very complimentary about Apollo 11 and expressed his personal good wishes to the astronauts and their families."

Humphrey told a news conference that the premier was very complimentary in general about U.S. space achievements.

The chief of the Soviet Communist party, Leonid Brezhnev, also wished the Apollo mission success as he arrived in Warsaw to attend the 25th anniversary celebrations of the Polish Communist government. As he passed down the receiving line at the airport, he shook hands with U.S. Ambassador Walter J. Stoessel Jr. and said in Russian, "25 unshaken," which means "with success." Stoessel told newsmen afterwards.

Humphrey was going later to day to Yugoslavia.

Russian Fleet Is In Cuba

By FENTON WHEELER, Associated Press Writer
HAVANA (AP)—Thousands of Cubans lined Havana's waterfront Sunday to cheer the arrival of the first Soviet naval force to visit Latin America.

It took the seven-ship task force almost two hours to steam into the harbor and to Cuban navy headquarters for welcoming ceremonies, but the crowd waited patiently under the glare of the sun.

A band on board the first ship, the cruiser, played the Cuban anthem as the squadron passed Morro Castle at the harbor's entrance. Cannon from La Cabaña Fortress boomed a 21-gun salute as the ships moved slowly down the channel.

Following the cruiser in single file were two destroyers, two submarines, the submarine mother ship Totok and the tanker Lena.

Soviet sailors in dress whites manned the rails and shouted burras in cadence as the Cubans waved from the seawall. Admirals and blocked off five miles of the bayfront for the welcome, and Soviet flags were on display throughout the city.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro was not present but is expected to greet the task force later during its seven-day stay.

The Cuban soldier, standing flagless in the heat, remarked, "It's a great thing, the visit. This shows Russian Cuban friendship." An onlooker agreed: "This visit is a marvelous thing, but I'm going home, it's just too hot."

Flags were distributed to the crowds. Cuban and Soviet national anthems played as the squadron was welcomed by Ma, Aldo Sannarria, head of the Cuban navy and member of the Communist party Central Committee.

Men Barred
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Anyone over the age of 18 in South Africa can see the German sex education film "Heiga" except members of the sex responsible for Heiga's pregnancy.

In other words: All men are barred, and the women are up in arms about the ban. Nearly all of them want their menfolk to see "Heiga" so they can "see what a woman goes through."

South Africa is the only country in the world where men are barred.

Maintenance Men Plan On Striking..

A strike by Seminole County school maintenance workers looks for Friday if that school department is not given a 20 per cent pay increase.

In an exclusive interview with a maintenance employee, who wishes to remain nameless for obvious reasons, The Herald learned that some maintenance employees had in a "discussion" last Wednesday agreed to "get sick" by this Friday, if an average 50 cents an hour pay increase is not granted.

John Bryant, board member, at a Thursday school board session, advised Supt. John Angel of his disagreement with the pay scales as recommended by the 1968-70 school budget.

Both Mrs. Bryant and Pat Buis board member, were concerned over the loss of county maintenance and transportation employees to Orange County because of the low wages paid county workers.

The Herald's informant advised that grounds laborers holding chauffeur licenses were paid $14.66 an hour; skilled workers get $1.80 an hour and electricians, cabinet makers, lock smiths and other supervisory skills receive $2.51 an hour.

Mrs. Bryant was contacted today and said the news fitted in with what she had heard before.

"I hope this doesn't happen, but there is a strong possibility that a vote will develop at Thursday's board meeting at the school budget public hearing."

Gurney Wants Answers Airport Deed Still 'Floating'

By BILL SCOTT
Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles was authorized by the city commission last night to enquire the city to get the matter resolved, but Gurney had indicated to him that all has not been told.

Moore said he didn't know what Gurney meant by not telling everything, and as far as he was concerned there was nothing more to tell.

Two memos written by the U. S. Department of Justice and forwarded to GSA have been sought by the city for several days, but thus far the papers have not been seen.

Moore said he was concerned that city was unable to receive the 150 acre area of the former Sanford Naval Air Station after having been promised the document by March 30, and suggested having Knowles go to Washington to look into the problem.

The mayor said city had enlisted the aid of Sen. Edward Gurney to get the matter resolved, but Gurney had indicated to him that all has not been told.

Fire Aide Bickers Budget Request Cut

By DONNA ESTES
Paid fire department was turned down by the Longwood City Council in budget session last night for the second year in a row and the grounds for the action were the same as in prior years—the city cannot afford it.

Fire Chief Carl Lommier and Councilman J. M. Brown and B. H. Ferrell, told the chief and fire commissioner that even if property tax in the municipality were raised the 50 percent increase in every other department was cut "to the bone" there would not be sufficient money to fund the request.

Ferrell insisted he had not been shown that the department needs such an increase and further remarked that he still had not received the firemen's activity report requested a year ago.

"You have $17,000 more in the requested budget than we can get away with," Ferrell stated. "If you'll cut your request to $9,000 to $10,000, we'll talk about it."

Meanwhile, Council Chairman E. E. Williamson pledged, "I ain't going to vote for no increase in taxes."

At beginning of the work session, the Council estimated its revenues in the new year to be $11,100,000 exclusive of water department accounts.

The board estimated some $200,000 from ad valorem taxes at the present rate of 3.27 mills, with building permits at $2,000; fines and forfeitures, $9,000; occupational licenses $1,000; miscellaneous revenues, $500; county road and bridge fund, $1,100; franchise tax, $1,800; cigarette taxes $15,000 and utility taxes $23,500.

It is interesting to note that both the administrative side and the food stamp plan were eliminated last year in a last minute move to keep taxes down.

Another matter discussed by the board was the method to be used to pay the state the $2 from each fine charged in traffic court, as required under the law passed in the last session of the Legislature.

It was generally agreed the fee will be added to each fine and to discuss the matter with City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr.

Use of the county road and bridge fund for paving of streets was also discussed with Councilman Brown noting the need to resurface the roads in Langhale at estimated cost of $14,000.

Police Department requested budget of $44,035 was also presented.

'Master Or Slave'

Calling the conquest of the moon by America's astronauts "earthman's greatest single accomplishment," Judge Volie A. Williams Jr., of Florida's 18th Judicial Circuit told the Sanford Rotary Club at Monday's luncheon of the effects the feat could have on mankind.

"We have the opportunity to grow into the image God made for us," he said and compared the event in relation to God and living together in peace on the earth.

Quoting from Paulus, "when I consider thou heavens," Williams bit at the bigotry of man and related that the first man killed in the Revolutionary War was a Negro; the man who helped finance the struggle for independence from England was a Jew and the Catholic priest helped raise $6 million dollars for his parishioners in France to buy munitions for the fight for independence.

"Every religious and ethnic group that came to these shores have contributed to our country's development," he added. The jurist said if man intends to make science his god, we will be frustrated, but if man intends to join with God in exploring the universe, we will succeed, he said. "Will we be the master or slave?" he asked.

If we use the moon for evil purposes, we will go down, but if we intend to advance God's word in his kingdom, we will succeed, he added.

Speaking about the possibility of bringing moon's contamination back to earth from the moon, the judge commented, "It is possible that we may contaminate the moon with our hatred and avarice from the earth."

Recalling that the moonship Eagle was docked in the moon's Sea of Tranquility, the judge said this was a fitting name and hoped the astronauts would bring tranquility back with them to earth.

The jurist concluded his comments with the lines from the song "America the Beautiful."

"America, America, God shed His grace on thee and crown thee good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea."

Williams was introduced by John Mavor, president of U.S. Bank of Seminole.

Sheriff John Folk and Sgt. Tom Stimmons of the Seminole County's Sheriff's Office will show a film on narcotics during next Monday's club meeting.
