

CIO President Warns Congress Against Punitive Measures

(Continued from Page One) gives now promise of developing maturity for the first time. Murray concluded his statement with the assertion that the proposed anti-closed shop bill scarcely affects those areas in which its abuse most frequently has been cited. The leaders of America's two big labor organizations are presenting a united front against attempts in Congress to hobble the unions. Yesterday, William Green, the president of the A. F. of L., warned the Senate Labor Committee that passage of restrictive legislation might wreck America's world position. Today, Philip Murray, the president of the CIO, told the same group of senators that curbs on unions would cripple the country's domestic economy. Like Green, Murray opposed all pending bills to outlaw the closed shop and industry-wide bargaining and change the Wagner Labor Law. The CIO president called the bills punitive measures against the unions. He said they were inspired by what he called "business monopolies. And, added Murray, "if they are made into law, they would encourage the monopolies and become the forerunners of a serious depression involving all Americans. He also saw another promise—if Congress laid off a prohibition against industry-wide bargaining. That, said Murray, is the prospect that collective bargaining will come of age in the steel, automobile, electrical appliances, and farm equipment industries. The CIO president detailed his position after inviting all organized labor to join in a concerted fight against the anti-

Oil Workers Strike Delayed For 24 Hours

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A United States Conciliation Service commissioner announced today that a strike by oil workers in five western states had been postponed another 24 hours. Commissioner Frank Wenig said the decision to delay the strike had been reached in a telephone conference with the President of the CIO Oil Workers International Union, O. A. Knight. Knight said in a statement that a final effort to settle the dispute will be made at a conference today. The strike had been scheduled to start today and would have involved approximately 20,000 oil workers. union measures now before Congress. That was his intention to merge their huge membership into one organization. In contrast to what Murray said was the trouble with the industrial situation was the testimony of Republican Representative Frederick C. Smith, of Ohio, before the House Labor Committee. Smith asserted that the difficulties are due to what he called the authoritarian regime directly controlling the government. The way to remedy that, he said, is to change the Wagner Act.

Company Estimates 50 Per Cent Loss In Citrus Fruit

(Continued from Page One) tangerines remain to be shipped. Growers predict that the present warm weather will result in quite a bit of droppage of fruit. Damage is reported as spotty with fruit from some groves ruined while other groves show relatively little damage. All fruit will be rigidly inspected by U. S. inspectors before being shipped. Inspector Bulford reported this morning that he had cut into quite a bit of fruit at Patrick's and found very little damage. Some of the droppage of oranges were reported to have been due to the cold, but not to the fact that they were frozen. Early estimates of heavy loss of cabbage up to 50 percent have been confirmed during the warmer weather, but enough remains to create good business at the State Market where cabbage is today quoted at $1.00 to $1.25 per 50 pound sack, depending on quality. Celery quality has also suffered but prices in New York while showing some decrease from yesterday, remain good. Yesterday Semulco County shipped 44 of the 99 cars from Florida, with Sanford sending 32 and Ovids, 12. In New York, fairs were quoted at $3.75 to $7.00 this morning as compared to $6.50 to $7.50 yesterday. Even 10 dozen to the box were quoted at $3.50 to $4.00. Celery haulings are reported as heavy and demand fair, mostly for the larger sizes.

British Facing New Cold Wave, Less Fuel

Prime Minister Attlee said today that factory production in the heavily industrial Midlands probably can be resumed on Monday. It was two weeks ago that many British factories closed their doors because of the coal shortage. On the other hand, British domestic consumers face continuation of the emergency restrictions on the use of electricity.

LONDON, Feb. 19—(AP)—More weather and less fuel was the story in homes throughout England today. In some parts of Britain, elderly persons are burning banisters and picture frames to keep warm. Sifted coal dust has become a prized fuel and in crowded East London, old age pensioners are searching through streets and bomb ruins for scraps of fuel. The cold wave that has gripped Britain for one month shows no sign of relaxing its grip. The temperature fell to 19 degrees above zero in some districts last night.

British householders are limited to 14 pounds of coal a week if they can get it. But thousands have had none at all since before Christmas and most English homes depend for heat on coal burned in fireplaces.

To make the situation even more desolate in London, that city's proverbially gloomy weather has broken all records for gloom. For the 19th successive day, the sun has failed to penetrate thick gray clouds. The previous record was 17 days in 1890. But there's one bright prospect for the British. There appears to be more likelihood that thousands of factories closed for lack of fuel will reopen.

The town of Luton opened an emergency warming center for old persons, thereby following the example of Berlin which had a temperature of 12 and snow flurries. It lists at least five more deaths from freezing. The cold spell also has gripped Paris and other parts of Europe. Ice floes have interrupted navigation on the River Maas in South Belgium.

Farmers Offered $1.00 Per Bushel In Wheat Agreement

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—American wheat farmers are being offered an export price of at least $1.00 a bushel for the next five years in a proposed international wheat agreement. It was decided today. The dollar minimum proposed in the international agreement draft is almost half what was paid for wheat during January when growers received an average price of $1.91 a bushel. The proposed export market price is considerably higher than the $0.75 that prevailed during the 1930's when surplus wheat helped pull prices as low as 31 cents a bushel.

The agreement also would fix a ceiling or top price averaging about $1.30 at farm level. Major wheat exporting and importing countries will be asked to ratify the agreement by August 1.

The draft of the agreement will be submitted to an international wheat conference which opens on March 1 in London.

The agreement would divide the world market among wheat exporting countries. The United States would get 10 per cent of the first 500,000,000 bushel annual world export demand.

Other countries would be allocated the following quotas: Canada, 200,000,000 bushels; Argentina, 125,000,000 bushels; and Australia, 90,000,000 bushels. Another formula would be worked out for sharing export demands in excess of 500,000,000 bushels.

With current prices far above the top level proposed by the agreement there is a question whether American farmers are interested in having this country ratify the agreement at this time. Congressional approval would be required. Agriculture Department officials said that world production of wheat

Hole 'Talks Back' At Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)—Contentants in the recent $10,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament, won for the second year in succession by Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., found one hole that really talked back at them. It was the 18th. As each player retrieved his ball hugging comments came clearly from the cup.

It was an innovation in tournament golf, and both players and spectators thoroughly enjoyed it. A small loudspeaker had been carefully placed in the cup prior to the opening of the tournament. Handling the mike connected with this loudspeaker were Barry Goldwater and Vic Armstrong of Phoenix.

Another innovation was the use of "walkie-talkies" by means of which hole-by-hole scores of the leading players were relayed from the course to the clubhouse outside the clubhouse. Fans kept abreast of the hottest players without following them physically about the course.

Auto Liability Insurance To Mount

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters announced today revised increases in automobile liability insurance rates in 27 states, the District of Columbia and the Territory of Alaska.

The new rates show a 80 per cent rise for private passenger cars and 40 per cent for commercial vehicles insured for property damage. The bodily injury rate changes produce a rate level 10 per cent above pre-war level, with minor variations by state in the case of private passenger cars, the bureau said.

William Leslie, general manager of the bureau, said the principal reasons for the rate adjustments were a heavy increase in the relative number of automobile liability claims received, and the greater cost of settling these claims.

He declared that since the end of claims has increased in keeping with the mounting number of traffic of gasoline rationing the frequency of accidents.

Leslie cited four factors as being primarily responsible for the rise in frequency of claims: New high record of automobile mileage in 1946; many cars are over-age and unsafe; average speeds have been increased; lack of road construction and repair during the war.

New Draft Act Is Advocated By Truman

President Predicts Confirmation Of David Lilienthal By U. S. Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20, (AP)—President Truman announced today his intention of sending a message to Congress which will advocate universal military training as soon as a special presidential committee completes a study of the subject. The President also stated that he still is considering the question of a message on the extension of the draft law. The present law will expire Mar. 31 unless there is a request for an extension and Congress takes action.

Mr. Truman also told his news conference today that the Administration is doing everything in its power to ease the shortage of railroad box cars. He said the problem is a vital one and that he is doing everything to alleviate it. Various business men have testified at Senate hearings that unless the supply of box cars is increased industry faces what amounts to collapse. Demands for relief have come particularly from Midwest grain operators.

The President also predicted that his nominee for Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, David Lilienthal, will be confirmed. He said he is still behind Lilienthal 100 percent.

Furthermore, Mr. Truman said he is going to put up a fight for his $37,500,000,000 budget, which he considers rock bottom. The President had no comment on a suggestion that he call coal mine operators and union leaders together to avoid a possible strike on Apr. 1.

Mr. Truman also said he has not yet chosen a new United States ambassador to Great Britain to succeed the late O. Max Gardner.

Union Chief Urges Congress Not To Ban Big Scale Bargaining

Telephone Workers' Head Opposed To Drastic Measures

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20, (AP)—The President of the National Federation of Telephone Workers appeared before the Senate Labor Committee today to voice opposition to a bill which would forbid industry-wide bargaining in labor contracts. The federation is preparing for a nation-wide strike in April unless its wage demands are met.

The union chief, Joseph Beine, told the committee that the only way his independent union can deal satisfactorily with what he called the monopolistic American Telephone and Telegraph Company is on an industry-wide scale.

Beine had earlier appealed to the CIO and the AFL to join with his independent group and fight valiantly against restrictive laws which a coast-to-coast telephone strike might precipitate. The federation announced that its 25,000 members in every state will walk out on or about Apr. 7 unless they get an increase of $12 a week.

Another independent Labor group voiced opposition to pending Labor bills. Chairman Edward Wilms of the Independent Union of New Jersey told the Senators that the majority of the measures under consideration would "ignite a campaign to spread the flames of Communism among legitimate and responsible Labor unions."

Beine asked that Congress specifically exclude his union from any prohibition against big scale bargaining. He also criticized legislation which would outlaw the closed shop where union membership is a condition of employment. The telephone workers chief declared that closed shops and their variations are the most effective producers of union responsibility.

Good Local Soaring Conditions Proved In Orlando Flight

Steve Bennis Glides To Air Base With Aid Of 3 Thermals

By GEORGE TOUHY
The splendid soaring conditions that exist in this vicinity and that justify the decision of the Soaring Society of America to sanction the First Southeastern States Glider Contests here were spectacularly demonstrated this week when Steve Bennis, who is the operations manager of the contests, flew his motorless Kirby Kite to Orlando.

Sensing in the low relative humidity and the cloudless sky the possibility of some "dry" thermals, and anxious to check the conditions that might prevail while the meet is in progress, Bennis decided to do a little exploratory soaring.

Mrs. Bennis in the trusty tow truck launched the sailplane and Steve released the tow at 750 feet. His suspicions were immediately justified because he started soaring almost at the point of release. The thermal swept him to 3,000 feet and then disappeared. The pilot glided around looking for another lift, but in the vicinity of Lake Jessup had lost altitude to 1,500 feet and being outside gliding range of the airport had picked out a field in which to land.

It was at this point he caught another convection current and soon was again at 3,000 feet. Elated by this incident, Bennis decided to try a trip to Orlando and headed in the direction of the neighboring city. On the way he used three thermals to make the hop, in each case losing altitude to about 1,500 feet and again soaring to a height of 3,000 to 4,000 feet.

Since the sailplane is not equipped with radio, there was no way to notify the control tower at the (Continued on Page Three)

JERUSALEM—Feb. 20 (AP)—The vital Iraq Petroleum Company pipeline was blown up and cut in two places near Haifa, Palestine, early today. An official communique said the blast severed the line near the Haifa city area and also near the Haifa city area and also the Iraq Petroleum Company run approximately 800 miles from an oilfield at Kirkuk to Palestine. The company is an international group.

Earlier, there were rumors of other outbreaks of violence in the Holy Land. The Jewish and Arab press both attacked the recently announced British decision to toss the whole problem of Palestine into the hands of the United Nations.

Meanwhile, the Palestine Government issued certificates authorizing 1,500 Jews and 800 Arabs to immigrate to the Holy Land between Feb. 15 and Mar. 15. The move is in line with the announced British policy to maintain existing immigration quotas pending action by the United Nations.

That was the statement of crucial importance which the Labor government has been pipelining for the past two days. It means that the British are pulling out of India after more than 200 years.

Attlee also officially announced that Field Marshal Lord Wavell is being recalled as Viceroy of India. Succeeding him will be admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten. An authoritative source in London said that Mountbatten is expected to leave for India sometime in March.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20, (AP)—A Senate subcommittee today approved legislation outlawing portal-to-portal back pay claims. Few Russians Listen To U. S. Broadcasts

MOSCOW, Feb. 20—(AP)—An informal survey of Moscow's "man on the street" today seemed to indicate that the new "Voice of America" broadcasts beamed to Russia are not going over too well. After three days, the broadcasts appear to be getting few Moscow listeners.

Those who have heard them complained that the static was terrible, and they said that if the broadcasts didn't improve no one will listen.

The broadcast are sponsored by the State Department, sent out from New York with a relay from Munich. The Russians said this is a mistake because the American station in Frankfurt gives much better reception. The Russians complained that the programs are too highbrow. They liked the British program better because it has more human interest stories and more fashion notes.

January Bond Sales $92,551 In Seminole

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Florida reached a post-war peak of $10,900,734 in January according to a report just received by Vivian A. Sperr, chairman of Savings Bonds Activities for Seminole County from Ralph F. Bagwell, State Director of the Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department for Florida.

"This figure exceeds the sales in any single month since March, 1945 when we were at war with both Germany and Japan, except for those periods during the War Loan and Victory Loan drives," Mr. Bagwell said, "and is indicative of the high regard that Americans have come to have for Savings Bonds as an investment and as an ideal way to save and safeguard bills on reserve funds for future needs."

Seminole County sales were $92,551 of which $26,287 were "E" Bonds, the balance being "F" and G series. Mr. Sperr says and this also was the largest month's sale in Seminole County since 1945.

For the state as a whole the January sales amounted to $4,847 per capita for each resident of Florida, compared to $332 for the same month last year.

The shortage is expected to be most acute in the near future, and publishers are urged to take steps to conserve newsprint and to warn their readers of the possibility of a shortage.

Good Local Soaring Conditions Proved In Orlando Flight

(Continued from Page One) Orlando airport of his approach and because there was no motor noise to indicate his presence, the control tower men were flabbergasted to see the Kite swoop in to "ask" for a landing. Bennis brought the plane to the ground in the Orlando Army Air Base section, and soon had a crowd of curious onlookers inspecting the visiting craft.

A telephone call to Sanford brought Mrs. Bennis and the trailer to pick up the plane and pilot. In commenting on his cross-country cruise, Steve first praised the civilian and army personnel at his unannounced destination for their friendly help, for they assisted in dismantling the Kite and stowing it on the trailer. He then said that under the conditions as he found them, he was convinced that spectators were assured of some excellent exhibitions of sailing when the big shots of soaring put their trim craft into the air on Mar. 1 and 2 when the regional championships are being decided.

Gleny Bennis, local glider instructor and an entry in the contests, at present holds the cross-country distance record for women but said that she was confident that she would break that mark. She is also going to attempt to establish a new altitude record. That means that she is cutting out some busy hours for herself, for she is to try to make the last leg on her Silver C rating, also.

On Nov. 26, 1924 the cornerstone of the present Masonic Temple was laid by the "Most Worshipful" Silas B. Wright, then Grand Master of Masons in Florida, said Mr. Miller. The first communication was held in the new temple on May 5, 1925 when Ralph B. Chapman was Worshipful Master of the Sanford Lodge.

Ralph B. Chapman was DD Grand Master for four years and became Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in Florida after serving in several stations in the Grand Lodge.

Deputies Disagree Over Yugoslavian Claim To Territory

(Continued from Page One) treaty designed to resurrect Austria as an independent state. They all agree on seven and disagree on eight. There are few total disagreements. In most cases it is a question of how strictly Austria should be controlled, with Russia, in most instances, holding out for close supervision. These points of dispute have been referred back to committees in hope that many of the differences may be ironed out before the deputies close their conference on Feb. 25.

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 20. (AP)—The United Nations Security Council met again today to resume debate on atomic control. The specific subjects discussed were the United States and Russian proposals.

Three principal points of disagreement between the United States and Russia stand out. First, the veto; second, a convention prohibiting atomic weapons immediately; and third, the lack of powers for constructive work on atomic energy in a control scheme.

On the veto, the United States is standing firm in its demand that the veto limit in the Security Council means that the most complete a flight of at least five hours duration. "You know I could do all three of those things in one flight," said the Sanford Ladybird.

Cliff McNeely Still Setting Scoring Pace

NEW YORK—Feb. 19 (AP)—Cliff McNeely of Texas Wesleyan is continuing to set a scorching pace in the race for individual scoring honors among the nation's collegiate basketball players.

McNeely leads in total points, with 583, and also has the best average, 22 and four tenths points per game. The top six scorers in the nation are: McNeely, Jim Lacy of Baltimore Loyola with 494; Parkman of Texas Wesleyan, 491; John Wilson of an Arizona school, 489; Darrell Brown of Humboldt of California, 472; and John Mills of Hofstra of New York, 467.

Other high scorers in the past year than New England: Frank Kwath of Elizabethtown of Pennsylvania, 350; Bill Hall of Marshall, 331; Jim Lacy of Baltimore, 331; and Hank O'Keefe of Catholic, 307.

WORKERS VOTE TO STRIKE AKRON, O., Feb. 20.—(AP)—CIO rubber workers at the B. F. Goodrich Company voted overwhelmingly today to authorize a strike, if necessary, to back up demands for a wage boost of 26 cents an hour. Wage negotiations between the big four rubber companies and the CIO collapsed two weeks ago in Cincinnati.

Yugoslavians Claim To Territory

(Continued from Page One) Council must not apply to atomic matters, particularly to punishing offenders of any atomic control set-up. Russia is equally firm in demanding that the veto remain without alteration which means that the veto would apply on the atomic question as well as on any other. Russia also wants all atomic control established within the framework of the Security Council.

The United States has insisted on a treaty or convention which would wrap up atomic controls, adequate safeguards and every phase of atomic development in one tight package.

Russia, for her part, wants an immediate convention prohibiting use of atomic energy for warlike purposes and another convention setting up a system controls.

Nearly One Million People Climb Top Of Monument Yearly

WASHINGTON—From the day it was opened to the public in October, 1885 until now, more than 21,000,000 people have traveled to the top of the Washington Monument, either by foot, which costs nothing, or by elevator which costs 10c.

Nearly a million people a year take in the vast view of the nation's capital and vicinity from the peak of the monument yearly, but few could tell you who its architect was.

Robert Mills, born at Charleston, S. C. designed the shaft. A distinguished engineer and writer, he was reputedly an exceedingly popular figure in society in his day.

Mills died in March, 1855, but it was not until about 10 years ago that his grave in the old Congressional Cemetery here even had a marking. At the man at the cemetery could say that the stone had been purchased by "some architects' society."

Workers Vote To Strike

(Continued from Page One) The architect came to Washington in 1830. He had some professional instruction from James Hoban, architect of the White House, and he received some assistance from his friend Thomas Jefferson, whose guest he was at Monticello for two years.

Andrew Jackson appointed Mills architect of public buildings—a position which he held for 16 years—1836 to 1851. Mills was the first plan for the obelisk which is now famed around the world. It was selected from a competition conducted by the Washington National Monument Society, whose first president was Chief Justice John Marshall.

Nazi Hope For War Between Allies Is Openly Discussed

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Dr. Kurt Schumacher told the German people yesterday that he hoped for an armed fight between the Allies. Conversations with American correspondents and military personnel have had with the Germans indicate that this hope has been fairly widespread, but the statement by Schumacher, who is the Social Democrat leader in Germany, is one of the few occasions when that feeling has been recognized publicly.

Officials generally are reluctant to comment on this phase of German thinking. They take the position that any public attention given to it only adds to the difficulties at a time when they are trying to build cooperation between the East and the West. One Allied source who is close to the situation said that the hope of a war between America and Russia could be found among Germans in all classes—from washwomen up.

Schumacher's political position requires him to keep his fingers on the pulse of German opinion. Presumably he felt it was necessary to tell his countrymen that an armed conflict would be the worst thing that could happen to Germany.

The Germans are beset by food shortages, lack of fuel, destruction of their homes, and general chaos because of the war. The reason some of them can imagine some advantage growing out of another war appears obvious to those who have studied the matter. The Germans who follow this line attribute their difficulties not to the war but to the defeat. They mean that if they get on the winning side in another fight, the amount of the post-war years will be forgotten and their position in the world improved.

Obelisk Is 555 Feet High

(Continued from Page One) The obelisk is 555 feet high, has 828 steps and its cap consists of the largest piece of aluminum ever cut up to the day it was set, Dec. 6, 1884. Incidentally, the Washington National Monument Society still meet once a year on Washington's birthday at the Metropolitan Club. The President of the United States is honorary chairman, and Frederick A. DeLoane is vice president.

Mills also designed the Treasury building, the Patent Office from the General Accounting Office and the Post Office from the General Land Office. "Sherry" is a British corruption of the name Jerry, who produced a section of South English merchants unable to pronounce the Spanish name, first called the wine, "Jerry's."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
 DO YOU PRIZE IMPORTANT FRIENDSHIPS? THEN DO NOT IGNORE THIS GREAT FRIEND: The Father himself loveth you.—John 16:27.

The growing need for a Community Chest in Sanford to handle local charities, becomes more and more evident as one drives through the city on the heels of another sometimes overlapping two or three at a time. There are, of course, certain objections to the Community Chest plan, but it seems to us fairly obvious that whatever objections there may be, they are not nearly so serious or so numerous as the present hodge-podge system, or lack of system.

According to the Gallup Poll, there is an overwhelming majority of the American people in favor of compulsory military training. Asked the question, "In the future, do you think every able bodied young man should be required to take military or naval training for one year?" 72 percent answered "yes". The others probably were those who would be about ready to take it themselves, or mothers of boys 16 to 17 years of age. Everyone else is in favor of compulsory military training. It is a great thing for those who don't have to take it, and even for those who are in a position to look back on it.

A recent Rotary Club program may not have been the most subtle piece of propaganda we ever saw, but there is something to be said in its favor. The idea could be used to advantage by our own Chamber of Commerce if in the middle of summer it sent a five wire representative and really fluent speaker into the very heart of the tourist section of North Carolina, or New England, to make speeches before luncheon clubs in that area, stressing the value of the tourist business to that section and intimating what an ideal place Sanford is to spend the winter. We believe there is something there which Sanford civic leaders should look into.

The United States Chamber of Commerce warns that there are 400 Communists now holding strategic government positions. Although that number is not nearly so large as many of us had supposed, the question still remains as to why there should be even a single Communist in any government position. The avowed purpose of the Communists is the overthrow of the very government which employs them, and not by peaceful means, but by violence, by treachery, treason, bloodshed and revolution. People who advocate any thing like that are not only criminals but also traitors. And yet our belief in tolerance is supposed to be so broad as to permit handing them the hatchet with which to chop off our heads.

Women must take a more active interest in national and international affairs. Miss Margaret Hickey, writer and economist, tells the Jacksonville-Business and Professional Woman's Club, Women have the right to vote, in fact, could control elections since they have more votes than men, but few of them take the trouble to find out how to vote for their own best interest and their country's. If they vote at all, they ask their husband, or their husband's friend, how to vote, devoting the full attention of their own minds to that household chore, or the next bridge luncheon. In fact, they don't spend much more time really studying national and international affairs than their men.

Living Standards

During the past 15 years considerable emphasis in public discussions has been laid upon economic security. And out of these discussions has come a vast pile of legislative enactments seeking to raise wage standards, improve working conditions, strengthen labor unions, provide unemployment insurance and old age pensions, increase free medical care and establish financial aid for widows and orphans.

Partly as a consequence of such governmental action the personal incomes of the American people last year reached an all time peak. Never before in the history of the world have so many people, made so much money with so little work. Had the supply of available goods anywhere near approached the demand for them, there is small doubt that the highest standard of living ever known would have been achieved.

Yet it can be statistically proven that more people suffered from nervous breakdowns, became habitual drunkards, got divorces and broke the laws of their state and nation than ever before. Crime increased in every department, from traffic violations to sex offenses and juvenile delinquency. Furthermore, civil and industrial strife as indicated by strikes and mob violence also hit a new high in 1946.

The only possible conclusion from such evidence is that the people as a whole are not happy. Their nerves are frayed, they do not get along with each other, they are suspicious of their employers and their political leaders, husbands are unfaithful to their wives and their wives are seeking solace in highballs and cocktails. Children are neglected by parents who are too busy making money or having a good time to look after them.

If the history of the last 15 years is worth anything at all, it proves that the Almighty Dollar is not the answer to all our problems and that the promotion of education and the development of character are at least as worthy of our consideration as the creation of a somewhat ephemeral security.

Standard of living in its broadest sense must be made to include living with one's self and one's family, and happily.

Genuine Tax Cut

Certainly no American hankers to carry an unnecessary tax load, and the talk of tax cuts is comforting. But the tax ax should be wielded warily in two areas: that of the public debt and military appropriations. Be it said for Ohio's Republican Taft that although he favors budget slashing, he also proposes to allocate two or three billion to reduction of the national debt.

This is sensible since, in public as in private debts, reduction of principal cuts the carrying cost of the interest. But in the matter of money for the military, War Secretary Patterson warns that slashings here might jeopardize not only national defense but also the effectiveness of American occupation forces in Germany, Japan and Korea.

The places where the federal budget could be pruned are in government departments and bureaus. Here there are still too many political office holders, not to mention duplication, inefficiency and costly red tape. Let taxes be reduced, if possible, say all Americans. But let the trimming be applied to the dead wood areas.

If congressmen would dare to disregard vote-getting patronage, they could find plenty of legitimate ways of saving their constituents' money. They might be strangely surprised, also, when it came to election time. Americans are in general really far more sensible about money matters than their congressmen are apt to think them.

Edison Homestead Deeded Fort Myers

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 20—(AP)—The old homestead of Thomas Alva Edison has been given to the City of Fort Myers for use as a botanical garden, library and shrine in memory of the late inventor, it was announced today.
 The property was deeded to the city by Mrs. E. Hoop, widow of the famous scientist. The estate, known as Seminole Lodge, was Edison's home for 61 years.
 The city agreed to maintain and restore the 14-acre tract which is full of rare tropical plants. Charles Edison, son of the inventor and former governor of New Jersey, said the Ft. Myers city commission would act as custodians and would cooperate with the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation in operating the shrine.

"O-PEN THE DOOR, RICHARD!"

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE KADS

WASHINGTON—Shed a tear for Robert Metcalf Littlejohn, who came back from the war to find bombs of criticism and complaint dropping all around him as War Assets Administrator. He has been only a few months on the job but is inheriting most of the grief a long line of war surplus disposers handed over to him.
 As quartermaster general of the European Theatre of Operations from June, 1942 to Nov. 26, 1945, Littlejohn was credited with handling the greatest surplus job in history. Now he is directing disposal of all surplus property in the United States, its territories and possessions.
 Since the death of the Office of Price Administration, WAA has become the favorite whipping-boy of congressmen, veterans, mayors, small business men and some housewives.
 Littlejohn, addressing the Conference of Mayors here, said that those who arrange programs like theirs have lagged behind other masters of ceremony in presenting speakers.
 Had his appearance been under Hollywood management, he said, instructions to the staff of the hotel where the conference was held would likely have read something on this order:
 "Erect a small building of clean material with peaked roof. Cover floor with straw. Put up a sign across the front reading 'Dev House'. Speaker to crawl through doorway on being introduced and to return in same way after talk."
 "Sound effects: As speaker appears, play back from records, Bronx cheers and catcalls. The tribal fat of snipers is heard, and in the distance the moaning and wailing of a treak chorus, providing an undertone of sorrow for the speaker's remarks."

 With that kind of set-up, Littlejohn, husky one-time West Point wrestling champ and star tackle, said he would have felt at home. It would have been more like his office.
 He philosophically closed his introduction by stating:
 "This is still a free country, and we cherish our right to cast our ballot for a man today and to denounce him tomorrow as an unmitigated scoundrel for whom hanging would be too good."

 The meeting wound up after Littlejohn's speech with mayors complaining from the floor that they couldn't get surplus airports, surplus hospital equipment, surplus bulldozers or surplus construction equipment, surplus trucks or surplus this or that.
 Littlejohn listened patiently to each complaint and promised to "light a fire" under regional WAA directors in the mayor's respective cities.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Speaking at a luncheon tendered him by officers and directors of the Florida State Fair, Governor Millard Caldwell complimented the Fair Association and the city on the Exposition which he termed an outstanding credit to the State and to all who had a part in its creation.

He then launched into a tirade from the shoulder talk on the subject of State finance and warned that if Florida is to keep pace with her rapid growth and provide adequate facilities to care for the needs of the day, we must find some means of increasing State revenue and he saw no answer to the problem other than an increase in taxation.

Pulling no punches the Governor pointed out that practically every State board, bureau and commission was demanding an increase in its budget and, while he made no specific recommendations, he tossed the problem squarely in the laps of the people of the State.

He admitted that State book-keeping is a complex and confusing process, more complex than necessary. He said that our accounting system was designed for a lighter load and a more leisurely pace. The Comptroller and State Auditor, he pointed out, differed two years ago on figures in the budget not because they wanted to be contrary but because they were not talking about the same thing.

He said that an earnest effort was being made to get the real facts and that he expected to have them this week. He said that despite the general opinion that the State had large surpluses of unexpended funds, the truth of the matter was that such funds were earmarked and must be used for specific purposes.

The Governor said that we cannot have better education facilities, improved health facilities, stepped-up welfare payments, better hospital accommodations and adequate highway construction unless we are willing to pay for it.

He said it is all very well to talk of abolishing boards and bureaus or curtailing services, but when you get right down to trying to decide just what boards or just what services are to be eliminated you find that very few of them could be done away with without a public outcry.

He suggested that those who contend that governmental expenses can be sharply reduced should specify as to just what departments or services they would eliminate. The Citizens' Committee on Education recommends an increase in State expenditures of from $16,000,000 to $18,000,000. The public is demanding better school facilities, more pay for teachers and other improvements. Can this be accomplished by reducing present expenditures?

The need for more and better hospitalization for tubercular patients is acute, and to simply meet present day needs with no thought of the years ahead call for the expenditure of approximately five times what we have been appropriating for this our pose. Will anyone suggest that we ignore this need and trim the already inadequate appropriation?

The State Forestry Department is asking an increase of several million dollars in its budget. Little has been done toward the development of State Parks and the need for a stepped-up program of forest conservation is unquestioned. Can the Budget Commission ignore this fact?

Is it the will of the people that no increase in their appropriation be considered or that their last biannual budget be reduced?

"We must concern ourselves at this time," the Governor said "with such functions as education, health, welfare, institutional care and general operations. In the light of present information, I think it likely that we can increase our disbursements by some twenty or twenty-five million dollars per year without more taxes. But even that increase must be predicted upon the assumption that the sum total of tax revenues will not appreciably sag within the next two years. If these increases are made and our receipts fall off materially, it is likely our working capital will be gravely impaired."

The Governor made it clear that he would have no part in the passage of rubber-check appropriations on the part of the legislature for schools, welfare and institutional care. He termed an appropriation without definite cash back of it as worse than worthless because it raises false hopes. Appropriations for more money than we have on hand, he said, should not be approved.

The Governor said that he was trying to present a businesslike and commonsense approach to the subject of State finances and urged that the people of the State concern themselves and decide whether or not they want to go ahead and spend the money necessary to provide for present day needs even if it should mean an increase in taxes.

Teen Talk

Dear Judy
I don't want to give the Jacksons ideas, but the kids in Colorado Springs High School have a new system which may help girls who are not date bait. One week in a year is set aside for "The Gals Day." The sole object of the "Twirl Season" is to acquaint the females with the rigors of date getting and seeing that everything is kept from the first to the last moment of the date.
The Lever, school paper, says the rules are that no boy shall ask any girl for a date within the dates specified. That the girl must make all dates and pay for all dates including shows, dances, and after school cokes and malts. The boys pay for gas, in case cars are used, but not tokens in the event they go by bus.
Do you suppose the girls bring the boys cokes?
By the bye, Sinatra has given the green light again to bobbers to attend his broadcast. But if they don't swoon in silence the age bar will go up again. Some of the kids are being mad and are talking of a boycott.
Hops who are interested in hobbies may like to know about congresswoman Patti Clayton's hobby. Patti collects old calendars. She now has about 85, some of them dating back to 1849.
Here's a cute idea availed from Ann—if you can pick up some strips of fur in a emment shop. Take the fur and make strips the length of suspenders out of 'em. Put some backing on the fur, and attach your old suspenders fasteners to 'em. Of course you don't have to use ermine or mink. While rabbit fur goes good with black accessories and muskrat stripes can look like mink if you fix 'em right.
The newest fad is a shoe with a moccasin front and a sling back. Some of them are studded all around with heavy white stitching. Others have platform soles.
So many of the kids are interested in world affairs that more and more of the school papers are including news topics of international interest. A while ago The Spectator, Sturgessant High School N. Y. paper devoted an entire page to the activities of the United Nations with stories on personalities, Lake Success, etc. Why don't the kids out there do something to jerk up their papers? One way to do it is to try to interview interesting personalities when they hit town. Big people are not so tough as they look.
Cheerio,
Vivian

Bright Hue's Liven British Styles

By BARBARA WACE
AP News Features
LONDON—Because no airman have to be rescued from the Channel and no soldier need to slink camouflaged through the jungle, British women can wear the bright colors they have longed for since they shed their drab uniforms.
Bright yellow and green chemical dyes have been demilitarized, and are among the twelve new spring shades issued by the Dyers' and Finishers' Association for this year's smart clothes.
The orange yellow dyes of the air-sea rescue rubber dinghies brought help to airman floating helplessly beside their wrecked planes. Now this color, in a weaker solution, is being used for new yellow and orange spring clothes and furnishings.
As for the dinghies, the kids are getting ready to use those next summer at the seaside in bathing suits for khaki and camouflages are now seen in party frocks and gay sports clothes under such names as Fairway Green and Wayside Green.
And dark navy blue—beloved of the tall, lanky Englishwoman who knows she looks best in a suit—is back too, after being reserved for the Navy.
When the crowd gets together these bright colors at a neighborhood get-together, a church social, a bridge party or whatnot spaghetti or macaroni or noodles will help feed them with little effort and with only a small dent in the food budget.

They are unadorned and the ladies of the royal family like to wear them with their own hats. The hats are made of straw, felt and silk. They are decorated with feathers, flowers, fruits, shells and ribbons.

SPRINGFIELD, O., (AP)—The "thin clad" of Springfield High School took off on their fastest race the other day.

A 50 mile "hoop" storm hit the city, unroofing the house of scholastic Track Coach, L. G. Ronemus.

The track team's uniforms and equipment stored in the attic, accompanied the roof.

Ronemus said he recovered most of the equipment, scattered over a 16 block area.

"I wish my high jumpers could boost these shorts this high," he chuckled as he retrieved part of a uniform from the branches of a towering tree.

Seabreeze, boasting a perfect record in the East Central Florida Conference, drew top billing for the tourney to be played in Daytona tonight and tomorrow, Secretary H. A. Schubiger announced yesterday.

Seven teams are scheduled to participate in the conference meet. Second rounding went to Eustis, followed by St. Augustine and Leesburg.

The Sand Crabs drew a first round bye. The schedule calls for three opening games tonight. Sanford is scheduled to meet the Leesburg Yellow Jackets in the first contest to get underway at 7:00 o'clock.

The semi-finals will be held tomorrow afternoon and the championship match will be played at 8:00 tomorrow night.

Should Sanford trip the Jackets the Finals will meet to Seabreeze Sand Crabs in the semi-final contest at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Comb's Umps

The jovial "Whitley" McMullen, sports editor of the Gainesville Daily Sun, has a few interesting paragraphs in a recent issue of the Sun. Whitley has this to say: "I had an opportunity to talk to Al Combs, president of the circuit, soon after he had been visiting the league's umpire school in Orlando and he reported at that time that the umpire school was high in the books of the School Director at Hill Summers, veteran American League arbiter."

"Looking over the list of men in blue who will operate here this summer I found Elmer Lavelly's name and immediately questioned him and everyone I found about this only hold over from last season's staff."

"Lavelly, I found out, had reported to the FSL school and been one of the hardest working students there. Evidently realizing the mistakes of last year he went all out to learn all he could and was given a high recommendation by Summers himself.

"I cannot help but admire a man who would do this and put out the effort to improve himself. Last season I did not think he was a good umpire, but if he's willing to work as hard as reports say he has seeking to improve, my hat's off to him and I personally hope he has a great season in the State League this summer."

We understand that Bill Godfrey has completed his training at the George Barr Umpire School and has signed to work in the Interstate League, a class "B" circuit. At least one of the so-called "blues" from last year's crew has advanced. We wish him well.

Sports Shorts

Do not be surprised if Willis Anderson retracts the statement concerning his venture at Auburn. It is reported that several teams outside the Southeastern Conference have really gotten hot since his Auburn government. Among the one to become very interested are the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. They are making some nice offers. Keep 'em guessing, Willie.

Next year's Fed grid machine is rounding into form in Spring training. Some of the outstanding prospects in the history of the school are in the making according to Coach Kettles... The Toledo Mud Hens are scheduled to play two Major League organizations at the local park during their Spring sessions. They will engage the St. Louis Browns, their mother club, on Apr. 11. They will play the Washington Senators on Apr. 1.

Camera Projects Keep 83-Year-Old Woman Active

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Miss Frances Benjamin Johnston was 83 years old a few weeks ago.

"I'm not exactly a debutante, you know, but I'll tell you something," she says with a laugh as she clears a table of a last of 10. "I'm having a grand time when my old ladies are sitting in black satin, rocking back and forth on the porches of old ladies' homes."

Miss Johnston, a pioneer in photography some 30 years ago, is still actively engaged in that profession. She has come to Washington, her birthplace, from New Orleans to enter a collection of her latest works in an exhibit here with three other outstanding photographers.

Most of the Johnston exhibit is comprised of selections from a work she began 15 years ago—recording the Old South in photographs. This work, which is bringing her sizable dividends, has taken her through Virginia, Georgia, Mississippi, the Carolinas and Louisiana.

Of such fine quality are her photographs the Library of Congress is incorporating her original negatives in its Pictorial Archives of Early American Architecture.

Before returning to New Orleans, where she has bought a home in the "Vieux Carre," the camera artist plans to photograph in color the ruins of Charleston in the year 1865.

Miss Johnston went to Paris to study art after completing her schooling here. Upon her return she entered journalism and became the first female newspaper photographer in the Capital.

"She couldn't quite make up her mind as to whether I should report she had started out in the Benjamin Harrison administration. She was afraid such a revelation would 'date me too definitely.'"

Cameras were just being introduced to the public, Miss Johnston wrote to George Eastman in the Eastman Kodak Co. in Rochester, N. Y., her mother's hometown.

"I asked him to please send me a shadow box," she says. She got the Kodak immediately and began making photographic history.

When Admiral Dewey was returning with his flagship, the Olympia, fresh from his Manila triumph in 1898, Miss Johnston went to Naples to meet him. To the dignified old admiral she presented a card from Theodore Roosevelt, then governor of New York.

She followed President McKinley through all of his administration, and he wanted to see at his open carriage rolled away from the Buffalo exposition just five minutes before his assassination.

Miss Johnston does most of her traveling in her chauffeur driven automobile. She likes to be independent and go where she pleases.

Photography, she says, is both her vocation and avocation, but she is looking forward keenly to getting back to her home in New Orleans with its court and garden "where things grow like mad," her nine cats and her gold fish.

ASHLAND, Va.—The so-called wise guys in Virginia baseball circles will give you odds that young syndor Wilson Thrift, Jr., will be throwing his blazing southpaw slants in the major leagues in the near future.

A sophomore hurler at Randolph-Macon College now, Thrift racked up six victories against opponents last year as a 14 year old freshman in leading the Yellow Jackets to the Virginia collegiate championship, and was named to the all-state team.

Baseball comes first for Syd Thrift. During the summer months he follows every major league outfit and many of the minor circuit nines, and he can rattle off batches of statistics like a youngster reciting his ABC's.

Thrift's dormitory room walls are splattered with the pictures of Syd's heroes—guys like Hank Greenberg, Bobby Feller, Howard Pollet and Joe DiMaggio.

Thrift first played baseball in the cow pasture with the kids from neighboring farms just as the city youngsters turn to the vacant lots. As the years passed and other interests began to dominate the lives of some of the other youths, Syd's baseball interest grew.

During his prep school days, Thrift found competition "wasn't too fast" and "I never had to throw all the things I knew in order to get the kids out."

When the pitcher turned up at Randolph-Macon, baseball coach Taylor Sanford, who also coaches football and is director of athletics, kept a sharp eye on Thrift, as Syd soon became the best collegiate hurler in the state.

Thrift has received offers from several teams in the Appalachian League and one from Martinsville, Va., of the Bi-State circuit. He turned the bids down, however, saying he wanted to finish his education, currently a prelaw course.

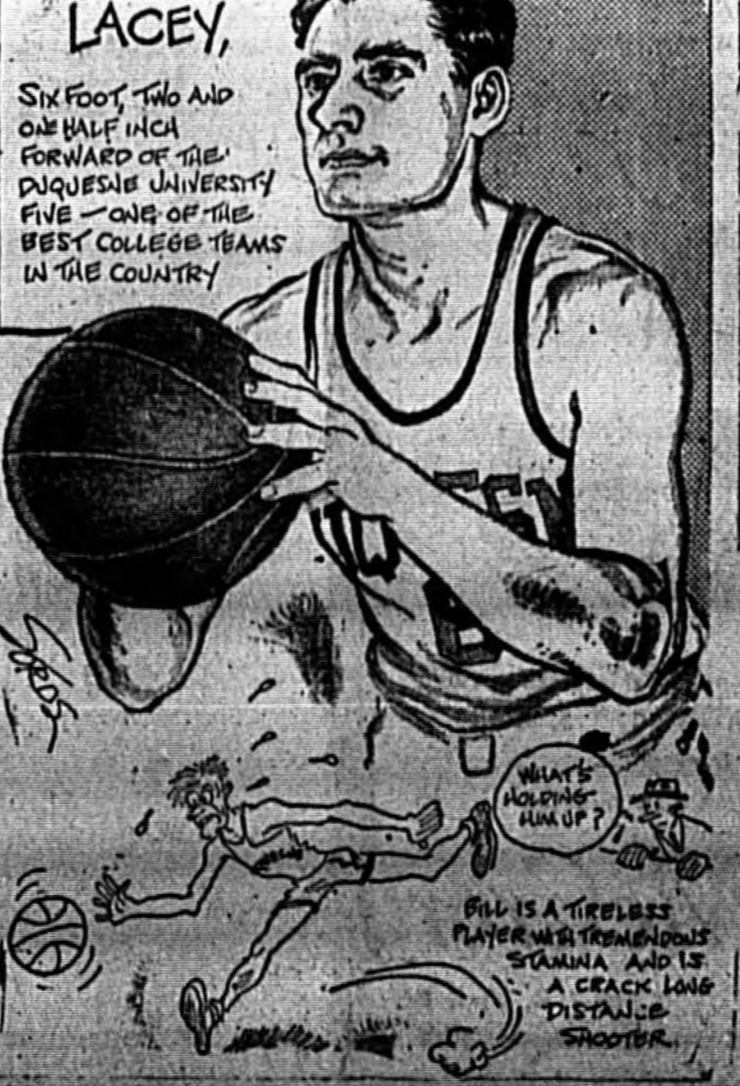

And what occupies Thrift's time when it isn't baseball season? Well, he spends it just waiting—waiting for another baseball campaign. One is almost here now, and Thrift is the happiest guy on the Randolph-Macon campus.

Armed Will Enter Gulfstream Park Match On March 22

HALLANDALE, Fla., Feb. 20—The Calumet Farm's Armed fifth leading money winner of all time, was a surprised last minute nomination to the $25,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap entries for which closed at midnight Monday, Trainer H. A. "Jimmy" Jones named both Armed and Pot O' Luck for the mile and a quarter race, richest ever staged at Gulfstream Park where a 40-day Spring meeting opens March 5 to continue through April 19.

All nominations for the Armed have not yet been compiled by Racing Secretary Emmett Hillman and Director of Racing James L. Clifford, but indications point to the finest field in the history of the track for the March 22 renewal of the Handicap. It was known that the devil's-red and blue of the Calumet Farm was to be represented in the event, but Pot O' Luck was considered the most likely nominee. The addition of Armed to the ranks was a pleasant surprise to Gulfstream Park officials; although in the nature of a shock to the many other thoroughbred owners whose color-bearers have been chasing the son of Bull Lea-Armful throughout the winter.

Another nominee of more than passing significance is B. A. Murphy's Concordian, who tossed dust into the face of Armed in last season's McLennan Handicap. Armed reversed the decision in the Widener, but owner Murphy is convinced his five-year-old son of Siekle is reaching top condition and will prove a potent factor in the division of the Handicap spoils.

Eternal reward, second to Armed in the recent McLennan Handicap, also figures definitely in the running.

"You can't toss him out of consideration," trainer C. J. Hall told President James Donn of Gulfstream Park. "The mile and a quarter of the Gulfstream Park Handicap will suit our colt, and he has trained the winter long over the track, another factor in his favor."

Complete nominations for the $25,000 stake are to be announced over the week-end, by which time entries will have been fully compiled. This marks the second running of the race, inaugurated a year ago under a $15,000 endowment and boosted sharply in value for the March 5-April 19 season.

One of the best matches in the National Amateur Golf Tournament of 1920 was decided not by golfing skill but by a simple mistake in judgment.

Harmon conceded his match to Dave Harmon on the 39th hole after he had apparently driven two balls out of bounds. Later it was revealed that neither one of the tee shots had gone out of bounds. Both had passed well beyond the last out-of-bounds stake. If Harmon had found his ball in the bush it's possible he could have pitched to the green for a try for a birdie or a par five.

A nationwide 50-city price tabulation shows the service station price of gasoline to average 30.11 cents a gallon, including an average tax of 6.00 cents.

Paradise For Ball Fans—That's Texas

DALLAS, (AP)—Texas next spring should be the fans' and young baseball players' paradise. The players can break in to almost any minor league classification. The fans will see more teams than ever before.

Five professional leagues—the largest number ever operated in this state—will place more than 30 clubs in the field in 1947, only A and A-1 missing.

Texas, in fact, will be pushing North Carolina for the largest representation in professional baseball among the 48 states.

Five members of the Class AA Texas League are in Texas. They are Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Houston and Beaumont.

The Class B East Texas League has six clubs definitely lined up with prospects of an eight-club circuit. In the league are Texarkana, Pads, Greenville, Sherman, Waco and Whitehall Falls. Temple, Corsicana, Gainesville and Palestine are being considered for the other two spots.

There are two class C circuits—the West Texas-New Mexico League and the Lone Star League. Six members of the former loop are in Texas: Abilene, Amarillo, Borger, Lamesa, Lubbock and Pampa. All of the Lone Star League clubs are in Texas. They are Bryan, Lufkin, Jacksonville, Heppner, Tyler, Kilgore, Longview and Marshall.

The newest league is the Longhorn, a Class D circuit with six members: Odessa, Midland, Schickler, Big Springs, Ballinger and Vernon. They're all in Texas.

These circuits play schedules from 130 games to 154. All furnish opportunity to youngsters just breaking into baseball. The Texas League goes in strongly for youth.

So young fellows, if you want to play the game, stop off in Texas. If there isn't a league to your liking somebody will be glad to organize one. But already there is room for about 500 ball players.

GEORGE M. GODING,

THE VICTIM of a "camera-gun" shooting some months ago, Mrs. Olga Ruocco is shown recuperating in Roosevelt Hospital just before she entered a claim against the city of New York for $200,000 charging lack of police protection. Where Cissy Spent Her Honeymoon

Most of the young newlyweds in our town spend their honeymoon at Roundtop Lake or Jackson Falls; why the Martins even went as far as New York City.

But when Cissy Copper married the young Carter boy, they allowed as how they were going to spend their honeymoon right here.

"There's no place better than our town," Cissy says. "And I'd like to start married life at home, with things that I and I use!"

Make sense, come to think of it. Folk naturally left them alone; and except for occasional visits to the Garden Tavern for a glass of beer, they stayed at home, getting used to married bliss.

My missus prefers traveling—and that's her right. But from where I sit, there's no place better for a honeymoon—or second honeymoon—than right at home, with your own possessions, good home cooking, and a friendly glass of beer or two—with the best company in the world.

Attlee Asks More Work From British

White Paper Insists Production Must Be Increased If Eng- land Licks Crisis

(By Associated Press)
Prime Minister Clement Attlee of Britain today issued a White Paper that told the war-strained nation that British production must be increased sharply if England wants to lick the crisis that threatens the foundations of its national life.

Without dramatizing the Prime Minister told the British public that 1947 has only two priorities—more coal and more workers. This is how Attlee says the Labor government proposes to achieve them:

(1) To mine more coal, British miners will be exempted for five years from military service, 35,000 more miners will be recruited and, production goals will be raised to pre-war standards. In addition, Attlee says England must have nationwide fuel rationing.

(2) To get the Labor Attlee says nearly 1,000,000 men will be taken from the armed forces. Foreign workers will be brought in. Housewives will be asked to consider factory jobs. Veteran workers will be asked to stay on the job past normal retirement age.

Chief Thomas Has Cracked Bone As Result Of Explosion

X-rays have revealed a cracked bone in the left foot of Assistant Fire Chief R. T. Thomas who was knocked unconscious Wednesday morning by an explosion in the fire gutted fertilizer plant of Nelson and Company in Oviedo.

The explosion is believed to have been caused by dynamite stored in the building, according to Thomas who reported that he had been informed of this fact by workers at the plant after the explosion.

Colis Godwin, who assisted Chief Thomas at the fire after the blaze was made from Sanford at 6:45 A.M., declared that he was thrown back 12 feet against the railroad embankment by the force of the explosion, and that although dazed by the shock went to help Thomas whom he had seen fall forward. He met the latter who had come to and was sprawling to safety. Godwin said that he then retrieved the spray nozzle and gave attention to burning embers thrown on nearby buildings.

Aside from a violent headache Wednesday, Thomas said that he had felt no bad after effects. "After the explosion I felt the top of my head and was very much surprised to find it there," he said this morning with a broad grin.

Rain yesterday morning removed the threat of grass fires. On Wednesday seven runs to put out grass fires were made, according to Chief Mack Cleveland. The first grass alarm came at 12:42 P. M. in Maple Avenue between Fifth and Sixth Streets where flames had crept within a few feet of the pipe line of North Atlantic gasoline tanks. One of the largest grass fires put out was on West First Street outside of the city limits.

When Circuit Court reconvenes the Seminole Bar Association will conduct appropriate memorial services for the late Sheriff Hand in open court. It was announced.

Green Rejects All Curbs On Labor

Speaking before the Senate Labor Committee in Washington, D. C., William Green, president of the AFL, warns that current Senate labor bills are "ill-considered in the extreme" and that their passage "would produce such great industrial confusion as to seriously undermine the present United States world position." Deaths Increasing Due To Weather In Northern Europe

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The long cold spell grew worse today in central and northern Europe. Eight more persons died of exposure in Berlin. Sweden was almost surrounded by masses of ice, and the fuel shortage grew more acute in the British Isles. Bad-weathering weather returned to much of northern Italy, and fuel shortages cut deep into the economic life of Belgium and Holland.

LONDON, Feb. 21. Winter has tightened its grip today on central and northern Europe. Berlin police announced that eight more persons have died of exposure, boosting the toll in the German capital to approximately 180 such deaths since Dec. 1, 1946.

A new blizzard has swept in from the east to batter England's southern coast. Shipping conditions in the Channel are the worst of the winter and new alarm is expressed by British Fuel Ministry officials. They are concerned about the probable effect the new snow and protracted cold will have on the movement of coal and gas supplies. Householders in many areas are finding it impossible to buy wood or coal. Sweden is almost entirely shut out from its supplies of fuel.

Five persons were killed in highway accidents during the wind-whipped storm in Pennsylvania. Two persons are dead in Connecticut. One man was killed in a traffic accident, and the other died of a heart attack after walking through heavy drifts. The other victim was a New York City man who died of a heart attack after shoveling snow.

The Eastern Seaboard is wrapped in a heavy mantle of glistening white today with most areas experiencing the heaviest snowstorm of the winter. It began snowing yesterday afternoon and still was snowing in some sections this morning. In New York City the weatherman said the snowfall may continue until today noon.

Drifts two to four feet deep are a common sight throughout most of the affected area. Schools have been closed in some rural parts of the storm belt. Highway traffic generally is unimpeded. Airlines have cancelled flights in and out of snowbound airports. Trains are running behind schedule. The storm has been described as a real old-fashioned winter (Continued on Page Three)

Chase Thanks Public For Help In Drive

Total net receipts of the March of Dimes campaign are now more than two thousand dollars in exact figures, $2,043, according to Randall Chase, chairman of the drive. "The response to appeals for funds with which to combat infantile paralysis has been very gratifying," said Mr. Chase. "A number of subscriptions were sent in which were not directly solicited, which indicates a wholesome interest in this worthwhile cause."

"All contributions have been acknowledged through the press, as it was impractical to make a direct acknowledgment to each contributor," he declared. On behalf of the Seminole County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Mr. Chase as chairman of the drive, expressed appreciation to each person who contributed or assisted.

$12,000 IS PLEDGED BY METHODIST MEN FOR RECREATION BUILDING

Approximately 80 members and guests of the Methodist Mens Club last night pledged nearly $12,000 over a two year period to be applied on the recreation building and Sunday school class rooms to be erected north of the First Methodist Church. The building will include complete recreational facilities for all youths of Sanford and Seminole County, and youngsters from all denominations will be welcomed to enjoy the facilities.

Rev. George E. Henninger, a retired Methodist minister, guest speaker for the meeting, now staying at Fellowship College, pointed out the spiritual as well as material benefits that resulted from tithing by church members. He told of the great success his Methodist Church in Indianapolis enjoyed from the tithing plan, and of how representatives of the church elsewhere came to find out why a church, composed largely of working people, was accomplishing so much financially.

Unstable Chemical Given As Cause Of Los Angeles Blast

Death Toll Now Given As 15 With About 150 Reported Hurt

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Police and firemen worked through the night under floodlights seeking possible victims in the wreckage of the world explosion in Los Angeles on 27 years. The official count of casualties now stands at 16 known dead and 151 injured.

The explosion occurred when perchloric acid set off in the electroplating plant of the J. J. O'Connor Corporation. Perchloric acid is a highly unstable chemical which is usually kept under pressure in refrigeration. At ordinary temperatures it becomes a seething, heavy liquid. There has been no explanation of the detonation of the acid in the plant.

The head of the firm, J. J. O'Connor, said the plant had been plating hospital bed and chairs with aluminum for the government by a secret process.

It was the worst explosion in Los Angeles since 1910 when the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times Building took 20 lives.

Most of the victims were in the electroplating plant or in adjacent heavily damaged buildings. (Continued on Page Three)

Death Knell To Junkers' Prussia Ordered By Allies

McNarney Says Area Is Destined To Be Wiped Off The Map

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—(AP) General Joseph T. McNarney announced in Berlin today that Prussia, the birthplace of German militarism, is to be wiped off the map. The American commander in Germany, and the Allied Control Council has agreed to frame a law dissolving the playground of the Junkers. The council action will confirm in law the partition of East Prussia brought about by Russian and British occupation of the Prussian state.

New Power Plant At Riviera To Open

One of the country's finest plants for generating electricity will be formally opened Tuesday, Feb. 25 at Riviera, near West Palm Beach, by the Florida Power and Light Company. McGreger Smith, president, announced today. The public is invited to attend the opening and inspect the plant between the hours of 2:00 and 6:00 P. M.

Although much of the power used in Sanford comes from the local station, the fact that the different power plants are in one large hookup may mean that at times Sanford may draw current from the new Palm Beach plant. H. H. Coleman local manager of the company pointed out today. The new plant is the most powerful single generating unit in the company's circuit.

A F Of L Official Admits Workers Must Be Deprived Of Some Wagner Act Rights

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21, (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee today approved a measure which would have the effect of practically outlawing all portal to portal claims. So far the Senate Judiciary Committee has not reached agreement on a similar measure.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has failed to reach final agreement on legislation approved yesterday by its sub-committee for banning portal suits.

Senate committee members indicated that questions have arisen concerning the constitutionality of some terms of the Senate measure. The committee chairman, Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, has declined comment. But Senator Harley Kilgore, West Virginia Democrat, said a way is being sought to prevent the bill from barring the portal suits of a "legitimate" character.

Another member of the group, Senator Cooper of Kentucky, said he is satisfied that the bill does not eliminate such claims.

Meanwhile an A F of L official told Congress that workers who strike to force employers to violate the law should be penalized. The official, Vice President George Q. Lynch of the A F of L Metal Trades Department, urged that the workers in such circumstances be deprived of their rights under the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

Millions For Relief For Europe's Poor Asked By Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP) President Truman asked Congress today for $450,000,000 for relief and for the people of liberated countries abroad. Mr. Truman told Congress that UNRRA full-scale supply operations are rapidly drawing to a close, and he said that the United States cannot abandon this effort until it is met.

The President referred only to relief operations in liberated countries, such as Germany and Austria, and not to the war-torn nations of Europe.

The President said that the $450,000,000 is being asked for the balance of the year. He said that the relief of the liberated countries will face a critical period this spring and summer when UNRRA shipments cease and harvests are not yet available. UNRRA is scheduled to wind up its operations by May 31.

Mr. Truman said he thought the relief contributions should be used only for providing such basic essentials as medical supplies, food and items which will aid in the production of foodstuffs. The President said:

"I urge the Congress to act promptly to insure we do not stop short of the goal that we do not endanger the permanence of the gains we have helped to achieve."

Governor Caldwell Offers Citrus Help

WINTER HAVEN, Feb. 21 (AP) A troubled Florida citrus industry meeting today in Winter Haven heard Governor Caldwell lead encouragement in an effort to solve its problems.

The Governor added: "You can depend upon the Legislature and the Administration for the maximum encouragement and assistance in passing laws to improve conditions in the industry."
