Manhunt

Lawmen Mount Intensive Search For Man Who Shot Teen

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A manhunt is on today for the unknown assailant who shot a 17-year-old south Seminole girl Friday after forcing his way into her home.

The girl, who was shot in the shoulder, was released from Winter Park Hospital and Monday assisted a sheriff's department artist in producing a sketch of her attacker.

Sheriff's spokesman John A. Spolski released the drawing of the suspect this morning.

Capt. Jay Leman said lawmen are mounting an intensive search for the suspect who is a white male, 20 to 23 years old, 5-feet, 7-inches tall, about 150 pounds, with reddish blond hair and blue eyes.

The girl, whose name is being withheld by authorities, told investigators she was washing her car outside her Dean Road home at about 3 p.m. Friday when the suspect drove up and asked directions.

She reportedly told the man she couldn't help him and he got out of his car and forced her into her house. The girl said the man threw her onto a bed and pulled out a revolver, which he attempted to shield with a pillow, a sheriff's report said.

The girl said she jumped up and ran out a door as the gunman fired one shot and missed. As she continued to flee, the assailant pursued her across her back yard and fired a second shot, which hit her in the left shoulder.

She sought safety at the home of a neighbor, who called the sheriff's department. The girl was taken to Winter Park Hospital, where the bullet was removed from her shoulder.

The assailant fled the scene in an orange, compact station wagon. At the time of the attack he was wearing a blue shirt, blue jeans, tennis shoes and a cowboy-style belt. The victim said she had never seen him before.

Anyone with a lead in this case is asked to contact the Seminole County sheriff's department.

At-Home TV Taping Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, in a precedent-setting decision, ruled 5-4 today that Americans are free to use their home video recorders to videotape television programs.

In a major victory for the $3 billion-a-year home video recorder industry, the justices overturned a hotly-contested ruling that even private, in-home taping of TV programs violated television copyrights and that manufacturers of the recording devices were responsible for the illegal copyright infringement.

"One may search the Copyright Act in vain for any sign that the elected representatives of the millions of people who watch television every day have made it unlawful to copy a program for later viewing at home, or have enacted a flat prohibition against the sale of machines that make such copying possible," Justice John Paul Stevens wrote for the majority.

Stevens wrote that the sale of Sony's Betamax video cassette recorder is "capable of substantial noninfringing uses. Sony's sale of such equipment to the general public does not constitute contributory infringement of respondent's copyrights."

The case was brought by Universal Studios and Walt Disney Productions against Sony Corp., manufacturer of the Betamax video cassette recorder. Also named as defendants in the suit were one user of the Sony Betamax recorder and one retail outlet that sold Betamax devices.

The court's decision spares the electronics industry from the threat of millions of dollars in fines or royalties or even a court injunction halting sales of home videotape recorders.

It also frees 5 million owners of home videotape recorders to record their favorite shows and movies from television.

Stevens noted that "it is not our job to apply laws that have not yet been written" and acknowledged Congress may "take a fresh look at this new technology."

Lobbyists for Hollywood are now expected to press Congress to rewrite copyright laws and provide for new royalties to compensate TV producers and performers.

One pending bill would explicitly allow people to freely tape programs at home. Another bill, supported by Hollywood, would force makers of videotape recorders to pay a royalty fee to producers and performers.

A key point in today's decision on copyright law was that copying in the home for personal use is a "fair use" exempt from the copyright laws.

"Any individual may reproduce a copyrighted work for a 'fair use,' the copyright owner does not possess the exclusive right to such a use," Stevens wrote.

A Healing Art

Sandy Dunn, histologist in the Central Florida Regional Hospital lab, puts finishing touches on colorful cartoons that will liven the hospital's pediatric area. Ms. Dunn designed the lively mural depicting the alphabet and has been assisted in painting them by Janice Tesar, wife of hospital administrator James Tesar; Gerry Weldon, wife of board chairman Earl Weldon and Jean Clontz, wife of Dr. Franklin Clontz; and several members of the staff.

Code Board Near Start Up

A citizen code enforcement board, appointed by the county commission to enforce certain county laws, is slated to begin its work in late February or early March. Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton said today.

So far the county commission has appointed four persons to the seven member board.

They are: Margaret Wimberley, representing business for a three year term, recommended by County Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather; former Altamonte Springs Mayor Hugh Harling, an engineer, representing the engineering sector for a two-year term, recommended by Commissioner Bob Sturm; John Leighty, former Casselberry councilman, representing subcontractors for a one-year term and recommended by Commissioner Barbara Christensen; and Sara Jacobson, representing the community-at-large for a three year term, recommended by Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff.

Yet to be named are representatives of architects for a two-year term by Feather; a general contractor for a two-year term by Mrs. Christensen; and a realtor for a one-year term by Commissioner Sandra Glenn.

Membership of the board by occupation is mandated under the state law authorizing the creation of code enforcement boards.

School Start

Donning hard hats for the occasion, retired educators William L. and Aleatha Hamilton, of Oviedo, at groundbreaking ceremonies Monday for Sanford's new Hamilton Elementary School, express appreciation at having the school named in their honor. Together the Hamiltons have given 85 years service to Seminole schools. Superintendent of Schools Bob Hughes, other school officials and guests were on hand. The $4 million school will be built at Eighth St. and Mellonville Ave. When completed later this year, the facility will house 792 students.

Weather Blamed

Overpass Completion Delayed

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The $2.5 million railroad overpass on State Road 46 in Sanford will not be completed until early April, three months later than scheduled.

"Originally we (the state Department of Transportation) felt the job could be completed by Jan. 2," said Don Kennington, DOT assistant district construction engineer.

Additional time was given for the construction, but that time will expire this weekend, Kennington said.

"Horrible weather" — rain and cold — set back the completion of linerock bases on the entrance roads to the bridges, he said.

Kennington added he expects some contention between the DOT and the contractor, RGK Inc. of Burlington, N.C., over whether the DOT should impose penalties because the completion time is being exceeded.

Work on the project began on May 13, 1982.

In the meantime, the Seminole County Legislative Delegation at a 5:30 p.m. meeting today at Longwood City Hall will consider a Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce recommendation that the overpass be named in honor of Sydney O. Chase Jr., a Sanford civic leader. The Sanford City Commission and the Seminole County Commission both have adopted resolutions endorsing the recommendation.

Although the delegation will take formal action today, state Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, and state Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, have agreed to introduce legislation in the two houses of the Legislature designating the naming.

Much of the credit for getting federal approval for the nearly $2.5 million cost of the overpass construction is given to Chase.

"The railroad crossing was not unsafe," says Sanford Chamber president, Jack Horner. "The money was granted on the basis of an emergency response. When railroad cars blocked the tracks for extended periods, emergency vehicles including ambulances were also held up."

Sydney O. Chase Jr.

The chamber expects to hold dedication ceremonies in Chase's honor sometime in February.

Chase, an octogenarian, said he began working toward gaining an overpass in 1968-69. He said he got direction and assistance from the Florida Highway Users Conference and the National Highway Users Conference, both of which he was a member of for 13 years.

"After we got the money for the Sanford project, everyone got stirred up and wanted funding for similar projects. While each state had the opportunity of getting the money for their projects, the Sanford one was the first in Florida and I never heard whether any other project in the state was approved for this funding," Chase said.

Accused Newsman's Killer Hangs Self In Jail Cell

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI) — An unemployed high school dropout charged in the bludgeoning deaths of a newspaperman and his family hanged himself in jail today and left a note claiming, "I didn't kill nobody," officials said.

The body of Calvin Perry III, 18, charged Monday in the September deaths of Fort Wayne News-Sentinel editorial page editor Daniel Osborne and Osborne's wife and son, was discovered in his Allen County Jail cell just before 7:30 a.m. EST.

An autopsy was scheduled for later today.

Reagan To Call For Permanent Space Station

TODAY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan will use his State of the Union address next week to call for the development of a permanent orbiting space station, an administration official said.

The official declined to provide additional details Monday, but James Beggs, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, has estimated that such a space station would cost about $8 billion and could be in operation by 1992 — the 500th anniversary of Columbus' voyage to the New World.

The space station would capitalize on the space shuttle's ability to ferry people and equipment to and from orbit and give new impetus to the nation's space program.

Reagan will outline his proposal in the State of the Union address to a joint session of Congress Jan. 25, the official said.

Administration officials said the space station is expected to be one of the few major new initiatives contained in the fiscal 1985 budget Reagan will send to Capitol Hill Feb. 1.

Beggs, who has been pushing to start a space station program, said last month between $100 million and $200 million in the fiscal 1985 budget could finance planning to get the effort under way.

Beggs sees such a space station as "a steppingstone to the future," giving the nation the foundation for greatly expanded operations in Earth orbit and eventually return flights to the moon.

The space station envisioned by NASA would be built of modules carried into orbit in the space shuttle's 60-foot-long payload. It would house up to six or eight men and women at a time and would be manned permanently with rotating crews.

In November, Beggs told a Senate subcommittee a properly designed space station could serve as a laboratory, a permanent observatory, a transportation center, a service facility for spacecraft, an assembly facility for the construction of large structures in orbit, a manufacturing center and a storage depot.

"Perhaps more important than any of these individual points, however, is my belief that a space station could also lead to important activities and functions that we presently cannot even predict today," Beggs told the Senate space subcommittee.

"Were NASA to have a station, it could represent a fundamentally new and versatile capability to support activities in space over the next 30 years."

The Soviet Union has a space station in orbit now and is expected to proceed with the development of a larger, permanent facility during the next decade.

A report last month by Congress' Office of Technology Assessment said the Soviet space station program "is the cornerstone of an official policy which looks not only toward a permanent Soviet human presence in low-Earth orbit but also toward permanent Soviet settlement of their people on the moon and Mars."

NATION IN BRIEF

From Wild Blue Yonder To The Silver Screen

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI) — Lt. Robert Goodman Jr., the U.S. Navy flier recently freed by Syrian captors, does not know whether he will re-enlist and says he has at least one offer to act in movies.

During a memorial service for Martin Luther King Jr. Monday at Hempstead Town Hall, Goodman, 27, said, "If it weren't for the help from the crusade of Martin Luther King, I wouldn't be in this uniform today."

And if it were not for the Syrians who shot down, captured and then released him, Goodman, of Virginia Beach, Va., would not have had an offer of a movie role.

In an impromptu news conference, the Annapolis graduate said his term of service with the Navy soon will be up, but he has not decided whether he will re-enlist. He said he has received at least one offer to act, but declined to elaborate.

Geter Faces Retrial

DALLAS (UPI) — Black engineer Lenell Geter, who blamed racism for his armed robbery conviction, refused to take a police-administered lie detector test that could have cleared him and a retrial was scheduled for April.

District Attorney Henry Wade, who set Monday as the deadline for Geter to take the police polygraph test, refused to negotiate with defense attorneys who said Geter had passed two independent tests "with flying colors."

When Geter failed to take the police test Monday, a pretrial hearing was scheduled for later this month and a retrial was scheduled for April 7.

Geter, 26, was convicted of robbing a Kentucky Fried Chicken store in Balch Springs, a Dallas suburb, in 1982 and sentenced to life in prison. His conviction, which he blamed on racism and sloppy police work, was overturned in December and Geter was released on an appeal bond last month.

Hutchins To Die March 16

COLUMBUS, N.C. (UPI) — Saying North Carolinians seem to favor the death penalty, a Superior Court judge reset for March 16 the execution of triple murderer James W. Hutchins who got an 11th-hour reprieve last week.

Judge William Freeman noted in rescheduling the execution Monday that Hutchins, 54, lost several appeals, including one to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Hutchins, who killed three policemen during a drunken rage in 1979, was scheduled to die by lethal injection last Friday.

The execution was postponed because a U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals judge granted a stay. That stay, although later overturned by the Supreme Court, invoked a North Carolina law that halted the execution and forced the trial court to set a new execution date within 60 to 90 days.

Democratic Contenders Claim

Olive Branch To Soviets Late In Coming

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic presidential candidates say President Reagan is three years late in trying to improve relations with the Soviet Union, but the president's speech was welcomed by many members of Congress.

The conciliatory attitude expressed by Reagan Monday "leaves the Soviets with no excuse for not returning to the arms control negotiating table for serious bargaining on a verifiable nuclear weapons reduction agreement," said Sen. Larry Pressler, R-S.D.

"He's extended the olive branch. Let's see if they'll take it," said Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah.

"If this is truly a shift in direction, hurray!" said Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Reagan, in a 24-minute address televised nationwide and in Western Europe, softened his recent anti-Soviet rhetoric and said renewed arms talks with Moscow are essential to global peace.

But five contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination failed to be impressed by Reagan's shift.

Former Vice President Walter Mondale said, "Once again, President Reagan is trying to deal with the politics of a problem instead of the problem itself."

"The problem facing our nation and the world is that President Reagan's policies have contributed to an increasingly dangerous arms race."

Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., noted Reagan had said the world is a safer place today, "but all the evidence points to just the opposite ... I urge Mr. Reagan to follow his own text and 'move from words to deeds.'"

Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, said Reagan "has apparently decided that some of his harsh and provocative rhetoric of the past was excessive and potentially dangerous."

Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., also a candidate, said Reagan's speech was "improved rhetoric, but rhetoric nevertheless ... The president calls for deeds rather than words, but the only deed he did was set the stage for his own re-election bid this year."

Former Sen. George McGovern, perceived as one of the dark horses, said Reagan's "rhetorical call for peace with the Soviet Union comes after three years of the most damaging foreign policy management in recent history."

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said Reagan struck a balance between sounding conciliatory and challenging. "I took it as a presentation of our willingness, now that the arms control process has been shut down, to reopen the dialogue," he said.

Seminole County Expressway chairman David Farr, in dark jacket, along with other authority members and staff accepts a check for $109,000 from state Department of Transportation officials, from left, C. A. Benedict, district engineer; C.C. Sylvester, deputy district engineer; and Henry Fuller, special projects manager.

Seminole Tollway Study Funded

The Seminole County Expressway Authority's work can now officially begin.

A check for $109,172 to fund studies and preliminary engineering on a possible tollway in Seminole County was hand-delivered to the Seminole County Expressway Authority by state Department of Transportation officials Monday afternoon.

The money represents a loan from the state against the sale of future bonds for an expressway if studies show such a toll facility to be financially feasible, according to County Public Works Director Jack Schuder who also serves as director of the county's expressway authority.

If studies show a toll road is not feasible, the money does not have to be repaid, Schuder said.

Schuder noted that the Orlando engineering firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff was given notice in late December to proceed with studies to determine whether there is a corridor in the county that can generate enough traffic to justify construction of a tollway.

The scope of the study will include where a tollway might be located, the amount of traffic it would generate, the cost of building the facility and the amount of revenue it would generate to support a bond issue.

Schuder said the Seminole County Commission has invested its staff's time in work for the authority for the past several months. The commission may be reimbursed for that time, he said.

Part of the state grant will be used to pay the $23,000 annual salary of planner Storm Richards who serves as executive director of the authority. The authority itself is composed of all five county commissioners and city Commissioners

David Farr of Sanford, chairman, and Lee Constantine of Altamonte Springs.

Members of the Orlando-Orange Expressway Authority told the Seminole Authority Monday that it is considering two alignments for its proposed tollway that would end in Seminole County. Both are within a mile of each other. The favored one appears to be between Tuskawilla Road in Winter Springs and Dean Road at State Road 426 in the county's unincorporated area, Schuder said.

There are no housing developments at present in Seminole County where the tollway would be, Schuder said.

There is a strong possibility, Schuder said, that the proposed Lake Mary Boulevard extension from U.S. Highway 17-92 east to Sanford Avenue and State Road 415 could tie in with any tollway that might be built. — Donna Estes

Rights Panel Changing Course

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — Conservative members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, hand-picked by President Reagan and his GOP backers in Congress, have made their first major bid to change the panel's direction.

The new eight-member panel, forged from a compromise between Reagan and Congress last year, met in a hotel some 60 miles outside of Washington Monday to consider proposals by Linda Chavez, its new Reagan-appointed staff director, to sharply change the focus of the commission's work.

The commission called a news conference late today to discuss its future plans.

Miss Chavez won acceptance of some of her proposals for future studies and projects of the commission but members also agreed to continue at least part of the work approved by the old commission.

The panel was originally established as an independent, bipartisan civil rights monitoring agency. It has no enforcement or policy setting powers but its reports — often critical of Republican and Democratic administration alike — were considered influential in shaping civil rights policy.

Reagan is a strong opponent of two of the keystones of the current policy — the use of court-ordered busing where necessary to achieve school desegregation and the use of numerical goals and timetables to end employment discrimination.

Last year he fired nearly all of the commissioners and only a last minute compromise with Congress, which restructured the agency, kept it in existence.

By late Monday, the commission had worked its way through approximately half the more controversial proposals of Miss Chavez that called for recasting or canceling a number of the projects and studies recommended by the past commission and its staff.

In one of the most hotly contested issues, the commissioners voted 5-3 to drop a study approved by the old commissioners that would look at the effects of reductions in student aid on predominantly minority colleges and universities.

Miss Chavez, in arguing for the cancellation, said such a study fell outside the jurisdiction of the commission. "Unless the commission wishes to establish that federal student financial aid is a civil right guaranteed to members of minority groups, this project would appear clearly beyond our jurisdiction," she said.

Commissioners also agreed to redesign a study on school desegregation, that instead of looking only at "voluntary methods of achieving school desegregation" would also look at such "involuntary" methods such as busing. Miss Chavez did not recommend including "involuntary" methods.

Officer Taken For A Ride; Driver Arrested

A 27-year-old Orlando man who gave an Altamonte Springs policeman a harrowing ride outside his car during an escape attempt has been freed from the Seminole County jail on $1,000 bond.

According to a report by officer Ben Carroll: Carroll spotted a man in a parked car allegedly rolling a marijuana cigarette in the parking lot of the Spirits Lounge on State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs early Sunday.

When Carroll asked the suspect for a plastic bag of green leafy substance in his pocket, the man was unresponsive and when ordered out of his car the suspect started the car and accelerated as Carroll clung to the side of the vehicle.

Carroll said he grabbed the suspect by the neck and pulled him partially from the car, forcing the suspect to stop the vehicle. As they continued to struggle, a witness, Donald Humphrey, 831 Wolf's Trail, Casselberry, assisted Carroll and they held the suspect until additional officers arrived to help transport the suspect to jail.

Stephen Wesley Dixon was arrested at 12:08 a.m. Sunday. He posted $1,000 bond Monday and was released from jail. He is scheduled to appear in court Feb. 3 to face charges of possession of less than one ounce of marijuana and resisting arrest with violence.

Neither Carroll nor Humphrey were seriously hurt during the incident, a police spokesman said.

BURGLARIES

Donald Fossitt, 27, of 2180 Dixie Ave., Midway, reported that between 7:30 a.m. and 12:10 p.m. Thursday someone entered his home and took video games, a stereo and a battery with a total value of $702. Fossitt said he thought the thief left through a garage door which had been unlocked, a sheriff's report said.

Brenda L. Omev, 24, of 4720 Nolan Road, Sanford, reported that someone entered her home through a bedroom window around Dec. 12. The thief broke the window to enter the house and took a CB base station, a hunting bow, two rifles, two shotguns, and two handguns, with a total value of $990, a sheriff's report said.

Angela M. Ledford, 41, of 1748 Cheryl Drive, Winter Park, reported that someone broke into her car while it was parked in her driveway and took a watch and a $70

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence: —Ralph John Nixie, 19, of Sanford, was arrested at 1:34

a.m. on U.S. Highway 17-92 at the Unroyal Tire Center parking lot, Casselberry. A Florida Highway Patrolman reported that the suspect allegedly was driving 5 mph on the highway when he was stopped. When confronted by the trooper, the suspect reportedly became belligerent and a Casselberry policeman was called to assist with the arrest. At the Seminole County jail, the suspect continued to resist and create a disturbance, a police report said.

Nixie faces an additional charge of resisting arrest with violence. He is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

—Steven D. Edwards, 18, of 268 3rd St., Lake Mary, was arrested at 4:23 a.m. Saturday on State Road 46A, west of George Avenue, Lake Monroe, after his motorcycle was seen traveling west in the eastbound lane of State Road 46A.

—James Robert Adams, 58, of 160 Shell Road, DeBary, was arrested at 9:50 p.m. on State Road 46, four miles west of Sanford, after his car was seen traveling 30 mph in a 55 mph zone.

DUI DISPOSITIONS

The following persons have been either found or pleaded guilty in Seminole County Court to a charge of driving under the influence. Most of them, as first-time offenders, have had their driver's license suspended for six months and been ordered to pay a $250 fine and perform 50 hours of community service. In cases where a different sentence has been given, the actual sentences are reported:

—William Earle Paulk, 52, of 1311 Semoran Blvd., Maitland, arrested Sept. 12 by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy in a restaurant parking lot on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, guilty by jury trial, five years suspension of driver's license, and 10 days in the county jail to be served on weekends. A charge of unlawful blood alcohol level was dismissed and a charge of fleeing in attempt to elude police not prosecuted.

—Edward Phillip Price, 30, of 250 DeBary Drive, DeBary, arrested Nov. 12 by Sanford police after his car was involved in an accident on U.S. Highway 17-92 near a shopping plaza, entered a plea of no contest to DUI. A charge of careless driving was dismissed and a charge of unlawful blood alcohol content not prosecuted.

—Robert Wayne Dyer, 39, of P.O. Box 105, Sanford, arrested by a Florida Highway Patrol trooper Nov. 13 on Interstate 4 south of Lake Mary, guilty by judge of unlawful blood alcohol level. A charge of driving under the influence was not prosecuted.

The following persons, who were arrested on a charge of driving under the influence or refusing to take a test to determine influence, have had that charge amended to the lesser charge of willful and wanton reckless driving:

—William Banks Richards Jr., 38, of 3091 Riverbrook Drive, Winter Park, arrested by Casselberry police on State Road 434 at Lake Howell Road Oct. 24, $350 fine. A charge of failure to maintain a single lane was dismissed.

The following person, arrested for driving under the influence, has had that charge dismissed: —Timothy R. Sturm, 23, of 1135 State Road 419, Winter Springs. A charge of careless driving was also dismissed.

IN BRIEF

Shultz To Soviets: Help Ease Nuclear War Threat

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz's address to the European disarmament conference will echo President Reagan's call for the Soviet Union to help ease the danger of nuclear war, officials said.

Shultz set a tone of moderation in his speech prepared for delivery today to the opening session of the 35-nation East-West conference, officials said.

A senior U.S. official traveling with Shultz said his speech appealed again to the Soviet Union to renew the talks on limiting medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe and on long-range weapons that were broken off by Moscow last fall.

The address will repeat Reagan's call to Moscow in a televised address Monday to make nuclear arms negotiations the No. 1 priority of the superpowers.

Shultz will also endorse such proposals as mandatory advance notice of military exercises, and a greater exchange of information on troop placements and communications, officials said.

Walesa's Influence Fading?

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Right-wing nationalist dissidents accused Solidarity founder Lech Walesa of failing to provide leadership to the anti-government movement and hinted he should step aside to clear the way for others.

The attacks coincided Monday with a vow from Walesa's dissident colleagues underground to step up the struggle against the Communist authorities. They said they had established tight-knit protest groups to carry on the propaganda war with the government.

The illegal Niepodleglosc (Independence) monthly paper of the banned, right-wing nationalist Confederation for an Independent Poland, which is not connected with the Solidarity movement, said Walesa's authority over his movement was fading.

In clandestine editions reaching Western journalists Monday, the paper said Walesa had been too cautious and had no valid program though he remained a symbol of resistance.

Saudi Consul Kidnapped

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Heavily armed gunmen ambushed and kidnapped the Saudi Arabian consul today and wounded his Lebanese driver in a blitzkrieg attack in a residential neighborhood in Moslem west Beirut, police said.

Consul Hussein Farra) was en route to the Saudi Arabian embassy in the Rawah area when his diplomatic car was attacked by gunmen firing machine guns from three cars, police said.

The consul's Lebanese driver/bodyguard was wounded in the head and rushed to Beirut's American University Hospital for surgery, police said.

It was not known whether the consul was injured in the attack and police said his fate was unknown. No group immediately claimed responsibility for the kidnapping.

Moslems Call For Anti-Israeli Strike

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Druze Moslem militiamen boycotted cease-fire talks and schools in Christian east Beirut were closed today after 12 hours of incessant shelling that left as many as 26 people dead and 75 others wounded.

No major violence was reported today but residents in the capital's Christian enclaves were reluctant to leave their homes and wary authorities refused to open schools, which were among the main targets of Monday's bombardment.

The attack was the worst since September when the Syrian-backed Druze forces battled Lebanese army troops and Christian militias.

Hospital officials and police said many of those killed in Monday's bombardment died overnight of severe shrapnel wounds.

"Many are in serious condition. The casualty figures are not complete, but we have hospitals reporting as many as 26 dead and 75 wounded," a police official said.

In southern Lebanon, the Shiite Moslem militia group Amal called a general strike today in defiance of Israeli army control. The strike was intended to counter a day of mourning declared for Israel's Lebanese ally, Maj. Saad Haddad, who died Saturday.

"(Today) will be a hot day for the Israelis. I think they had better learn it will be different from other strikes. I hear our people may defend themselves this time," said Mohammed Ghaddar, an Amal leader in the port of Sidon, 24 miles south of Beirut.

Ghaddar said Moslems would probably resist if the Israeli occupation forces attempt to scuttle the strike by forcing shop and school openings.

Members of Lebanon's cease-fire supervision committee conferred informally today in the absence of the Druze representative, who walked out of an emergency meeting at the height of Monday's shelling after accusing the Lebanese army and Christian militia of violating earlier accords.

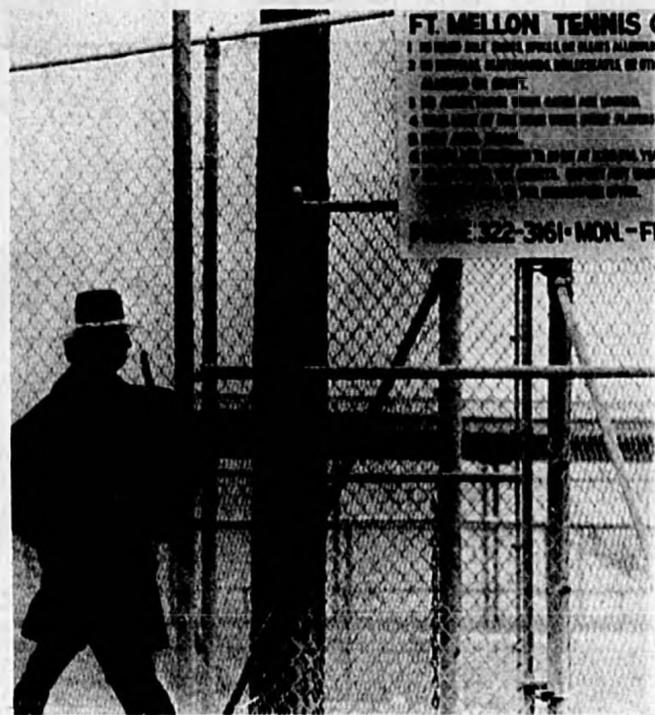

Political sources said representatives from the anti-government Druze and Amal militia groups were visiting Damascus today for talks with Syrian leaders.

The Druze fighters, who accused Christian forces of sparking Monday's attacks by bombarding Druze mountain villages outside Beirut before dawn, started the barrage at 9 a.m. local time.

After shelling most Christian sectors — from East Beirut to the Christian-run port of Jounieh, 12 miles to the north — Druze gunners fired at the presidential palace and the Lebanese Defense Ministry in the hilly suburbs southeast of Beirut.

Shells exploded near the palace while President Reagan's special envoy, Donald Rumsfeld, was there for a three-hour meeting with President Amin Gemayel. Shells also fell at the nearby U.S. ambassador's residence.

The U.S. Marines and the American 6th Fleet offshore did not get involved in the clashes, U.S. officials said.

Russian Missiles Magazine: Soviets Building Ballistic Defense System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has been given evidence by the CIA that the Soviets have in place or under construction the major elements of a nationwide ballistic missile defense system. It was reported.

Aviation Week & Space Technology quoted a White House official as saying, "The CIA's position on Soviet ballistic missile defense activities is unusual in its strength and clarity — an alarm bell that we must watch the situation very closely."

A CIA spokesman had no comment on the report.

"What seems clear," the White House official was quoted, "is that there is in progress a pattern that places their activity very close to the line in terms of a breakout" from the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty which allows for research and development of such weapons but not deployment.

"It appears that the Soviets are close to that point, but that they are positioning themselves to withdraw from the treaty and then deploy a layered system."

The Soviets already have one operating anti-missile system consisting of 100 interceptor missiles and six radars protecting Moscow. The ABM treaty allows for this, as it did for a similar anti-aircraft Nike Hercules missile system around Washington, which the United States unilaterally dismantled in 1974-75.

Although it then had the option, the U.S. never deployed an ABM system to protect the capital.

Aviation Week cited these Soviet developments:

—Construction of new phased-array, anti-ballistic missile defense battle management radars. "One site is north of Moscow, and others are under construction. The radar has four faces... to provide 360 degree coverage. It is 120 ft. high and 500 ft. wide."

—Ballistic missile detection radars located at sites around the periphery of the Soviet Union and a new radar located internally at Abalakova near SS-18 intercontinental ballistic missile fields.

—Deployment in silos around Moscow of SS-04 and SS-08 nuclear-armed interceptor missiles as part of improvements to the existing system.

—Testing of the SA-12 surface-to-air missile against ballistic re-entry vehicles.

—Consolidating command, control and communications systems, air defense and ballistic missile defense radars with battle management radars to tie together elements of a national defense system.

"It took a variety of sources and methods to piece together the mosaic the agency (CIA) presented," the White House official said. "It took the United States more than 18 months to detect and photograph the large phased-array radar at Pechora" — in northeast Russia, 75 miles west of the Urals and 250 miles south of the Barents Sea.

Life Expectancy And Health Costs Both Higher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average American's life expectancy is longer than ever. Infant mortality is at an all-time low, and annual health care costs have soared to more than $322 billion, the government said today.

The Department of Health and Human Services also said pregnant women are cutting down on smoking and drinking and that a large majority worked outside the home in the 12 months before their children were born.

The report, Health — United States, 1983, cited a series of recent studies by the department that show life expectancy rose to 74.5 years in 1982, with baby girls born that year likely to live 78.2 years and boys, 70.8 years.

The infant mortality rate continued to drop, with provisional data showing 11.2

deaths in each 1,000 live births in 1982, the report said. But it noted that final data for 1980 listed the mortality rate for black infants at 21.4 per 1,000 live births, or nearly twice as high as for white infants.

Even though the fertility rate rose slightly between 1979 and 1980 to 68.4 births for each 1,000 women of child-bearing age, provisional data for following years indicates the rate may have stabilized, the report said. The average number of lifetime births expected by women between the ages of 18 and 34 has dropped in the last decade, from 2.6 in 1971 to 2.2 in 1980, the document added.

Other data showed that before pregnancy, nearly one-third of mothers smoked and more than half drank

Men Guilty Of Attempted Hijacking With Toy Gun

MIAMI (UPI) — Two men who tried to hijack a Tampa-bound Piedmont Airlines jet with a "lifelike" plastic toy gun and a bottle of gasoline last September have been convicted of attempted air piracy.

A federal court jury returned the verdict Monday against Elio Bacaro-Garcia, 35, and Antonio Vigil-Montanel, 27. No sentencing date was set, but the men face a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

They were arrested Sept. 14 at Miami International Airport. Vigil-Montanel already was on board Piedmont's Flight 360 and had a plastic handgun replica with him. Assistant U.S. Attorney Roy Kahn said.

Bacaro-Garcia was apprehended as he passed through a security checkpoint near the boarding gate. A plastic bottle filled with gasoline was taped to his ankle and both men carried cigarette lighters, but no cigarettes or other smoking material.

Murderer Wins Stay

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — One death row inmate scheduled for electrocution next week has won a stay and lawyers for another convict plan a new appeal.

Agent Orange Group Will Meet Tonight

The Florida Commission on Veterans' Affairs has established an Agent Orange Committee which will have its first meeting tonight at 7 at the Howard Johnson's Motel at 214 W. Colonial Drive, Orlando.

The meeting will be chaired by commissioner Lamar Cannon from Jacksonville with the opening statements to be made by Mike Galyean and Tom Brewer of the Vietnam Veterans of Central Florida. The executive director of the New Jersey Agent Orange Commission will also be in attendance.

Agent Orange is the name of the herbicide used from 1962-1971 in Vietnam containing dioxin. It gets its name from the bands of orange painted on barrels of the herbicide.

Dioxin is considered by scientists to be among the most toxic chemicals known to man. In laboratory animals, minute amounts of dioxin have caused cancer and birth defects. Many Vietnam veterans and their offspring suffer from health problems that they feel result from exposure to Agent Orange.

For more information, contact Galyean at 644-6938 or 236-4382.

Senators Ask Delay On Phone Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of Senate Republicans led by Robert Dole of Kansas has drafted a letter asking the government to impose a one-year moratorium on telephone "access" charges, set to take effect April 3, congressional aides say.

The letter to the Federal Communications Commission could indicate an apparent weakening in support for phone legislation sponsored by Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., which favors a two-year delay in the controversial charges.

The bill had been expected to pass when the Senate takes it up later this month. The House has already passed a measure that would block the access charges to residential and small-business phone customers.

A spokesman for Dole, who previously supported the Packwood bill, said the senator was "looking into modifying the access charges" and had not decided when and if to send the letter to the FCC.

But Ward White, a Packwood attorney, said Dole's staff had confirmed the letter's contents and that it could be released as early as today.

Besides calling for a delay in the flat monthly fees until 1985, the letter also asks the FCC to allow small telephone companies to decide if they will impose the charges, which start at $2 a month for residences and $6 for businesses.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has said a delay or ban on the charges will drive up the cost of phone service to business customers, keep long-distance phone rates artificially high and eventually increase the cost of local service to all customers.

NYNEX, the new regional telephone company for New York and New England, released a new study Monday that found without the access charges, its customers' phone bills could eventually jump as much as $7.17 a month.

Consumer groups, however, argue that the access combined with other divestiture-related charges could cause phone bills to double or even triple.

Study: U.S. Making Illegal Arms Sales To South Africa

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A report by the American Friends Service Committee claims the State Department has systematically violated the ban on the sale of arms to South Africa, but State Department officials denied the charge.

The study by the American Friends said the administration has quietly reversed past policies and that between 1981 and the end of 1983 sold South Africa $28.3 million in military goods, more than the commercial military exports to South Africa for the previous 30 years.

In addition, according to the study, the United States sold $762,000 worth of "non-military" arms and ammunition to South Africa for hunting and other purposes.

Under U.N. resolutions, all members of the United Nations are prohibited from selling military equipment to South Africa. However, Israel has cooperated militarily with the South Africans and some Western European states have quietly sold the South African government a steady supply of arms.

"Based on information released to us under the Freedom of Information Act, on interviews with government representatives and a survey of military industry publications and South African patent documents, we believe that the arms embargo is being seriously eroded," the Friends Committee said.

The study charged the U.S. sales to South Africa included electronic devices with military applications, coding equipment, image intensifiers and navigation gear.

An official on the State Department's South Africa desk said, "We do not license the sale of any military equipment to South Africa. We look very, very carefully at every sale and make sure that it is not military equipment. We bend over backward to make sure."

The official said some of the equipment, although it is listed on the State Department's "munitions list," is not military in nature.

For example, he said, the coding devices were bought by American firms operating in South Africa so they could protect financial statements transmitted to their home office.

Aircraft navigation gear, he said, was purchased by South African commercial airlines. Computers with possible military application were also sold to airlines for commercial use.

The official conceded there have been slip-ups, "human errors." In one case, a U.S. export license was mistakenly issued for the sale of 2,500 electric cattle prods intended for crowd control use by South African police, and in another case some mechanical gear that could be used for 155mm howitzers was given an export license. Those, he said, were the only cases.

Tax Fraud — Repent And Save?

About two million taxpayers each year file amended federal income tax returns, and not all of them involve corrections of innocent errors. Apparently, it is fairly common to try something fancy in one's original tax return and give it up — by filing an amended return — after the IRS starts investigating. Indeed, in the two cases currently before the U.S. Supreme Court, the taxpayers involved admit their original returns were outright fraudulent (one of them was even indicted for criminal fraud), but they say their amended and corrected returns demonstrate that they have since repented. The question they are asking the Supreme Court to settle is how much this repentance will save them.

Under the U.S. Tax Code, the IRS can collect "at any time" the taxes and penalties owed because of an intentionally fraudulent tax return. With no mention of repentance or amendments, the law seems pretty straight-forward. But for most errors on ordinary tax returns, the two taxpayers now appealing to the Supreme Court point out, there is a three-year statute of limitations. And once they filed their amended returns and abandoned fraudulent intentions, they say, that statute of limitations should have started running in their cases. Since the IRS didn't get around to going after them within three years of their amended filings, they should now be off the hook and not have to pay any back taxes or penalties.

Unconvincing as this logic may sound, they have a critical legal precedent on their side: The same legal language about assessing back taxes "at any time" applies to people who don't file any returns at all, and in those cases the courts have allowed repentant taxpayers to get back under the protections of the general statute of limitations as soon as they file their overdue returns. If the court feels compelled to follow this precedent, the two repentant defrauders — and anyone else who manages to run out the IRS clock with the same maneuver — could well get away with it.

Fortunately, in oral argument the other day, it seemed that the Supreme Court judges were in a more commonsensical frame of mind. Justice O'Connor wondered aloud about an interpretation that would make it safer to commit fraud than many lesser tax crimes — like tax negligence, which by law comes under a six-year statute of limitations. Justice Stevens mentioned "convoluted reasoning." Justice Marshall suggested that it was not the "intent to defraud" but the "intent to escape punishment" that was at issue in these cases.

The court's decision probably will not be out for several more months, but it is reassuring to know that the judges are not adverse to calling a scam a scam. Even if they eventually decide for the taxpayers, they have made it clear it will not be because the court has been moved by their contrition. Repentance may cleanse the soul, but the court has plainly indicated that repentance alone can't wipe clean one's debt to the IRS.

Sorry, Virginia

A British government study on foreign aid has just unmasked Soviet boasts of giving $44 billion to Third World countries between 1976 and 1980. Actually, the Soviets gave $8 billion to the Third World, and Eastern European philanthropy was less than that given by Belgium.

Goodness gracious, is this the same communist bloc that is so often praised for financing progress in the Third World? The very same, indeed. Of course, most of the ballyhooing comes from college students, misguided liberals and the Soviet Union itself.

The Soviets have been congratulating themselves on their generosity for quite some time now. But the truth contradicts them. The United Nations has set a goal of 0.7 percent of Gross National Product as the foreign aid target for industrialized nations. And, whereas western industrialized nations donate, on average, 0.35 percent of their GNP to the Third World, the Soviets proclaimed in 1976 that their giving rate was more than twice that amount. They purported to increase their foreign aid in 1980 from 0.9 to 1.3 percent of their GNP.

But, Virginia, there is no Soviet Santa Claus. In reality, the Soviets gave away much less than western nations, only 0.19 percent of their GNP. Between 1976 and 1982, most of that aid went to six client states — Cuba, Mongolia, Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia and Afghanistan. In 1982, these countries gobbled up three-fourths of what the Soviets doled out to the Third World.

The point is, the Soviet Union is not a friend of the Third World; it is a friend of its Third World; and that is a difference worth pondering.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I wish you would take 'grump' lessons from Andy Rooney!"

There was a good turnout at the United Way of Seminole County's annual meeting last week in Casselberry. The 1984 campaign will be in good hands with former drive chairman United Way president Dave Joswick, as chairman backed up by another former chairman and president the unsinkable Sheila Brown.

New directors elected to the United Way of Seminole County Board of Directors reflect a broad spectrum of the county. They include representatives of new businesses to the county as well as established companies, schools, college, and city government.

Elected to the board for three-year terms were the following: Terry Allen, manager of the J.C. Penney Credit Processing Center, Longwood; Robert Blumentritt, administrator of South Seminole Community Hospital, Longwood; David Bonk, office manager for Florida Power Corporation, Longwood; Ivan Bowers, director of Student Services, Seminole County Schools; Mrs. Evelyn Briggs, Sanford; L. James Crozier, vice president and resident manager of Prudential Bache Securities, Altamonte Springs; Robert Ewing, branch manager, Coral Gables Savings and Loan, Longwood; Maynor Charles Glasecock of Casselberry; John Knapp, vice president of Human Resources, Florida Computer Graphics, Inc.; Lee Poquette, commercial food broker, Lake Mary; James Montegny, assistant manager, Sears, Altamonte Mall; Dean A. Vavreck, Seminole Community College; Howard Volpert, vice president of Burdines, Altamonte Springs; and Mrs. Annette T. Wing, Sanford.

Several additional appointments may be announced prior to Feb. 1. There are also 20 carry-over members on the board, which holds regular meetings four times a year with the executive committee meeting as needed.

Experts from across the nation will be in Orlando Feb. 6-8 for a three-day workshop at Las Palmas Inn on International Drive, jointly sponsored by the University of Central Florida, the U.S. Navy and the National Committee for Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Dependency.

Held there annually since 1976, the workshop will explore practical prevention of drinking and drugs at home and in school. Among the speakers will be Robert Anastas, executive director of the national Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD); Dr. Louis P. Bozzetti Jr., author of the 1972 national drug law; Miller Newton, former director of Straight, Inc. as well as several local speakers.

Alan Y. Cohen, executive director of the Pacific Institute of Research and Evaluation, California, will keynote the event, which is open to all interested persons. Call 275-2123 for further information.

DON GRAFF What Word From Damascus?

Lt. Robert O. Goodman Jr., taken aback by his instant fame, is modestly disclaiming any exceptional qualities.

No man in a million, he tells us, he's just an ordinary guy who had the extraordinary good luck to be sprung from a Syrian prison.

True enough, Goodman is, however, one man out of thousands — the thousands still in Syrian prisons.

There are at least 3,500 of them, by the count of Amnesty International, the worldwide human rights organization.

They are Syrians themselves, but even more than Goodman they are prisoners of war — the war their government is waging against its own people.

The dimensions of that assault are sketched in a report prepared by Amnesty International late last year and summarized at length in The New York Review of Books.

Under a state of emergency law in force for more than 20 years, Syrian security forces may seize anyone at any time without orders from any higher authority. Those detained may be held indefinitely, often incommunicado and in solitary confinement, without charge or trial.

At the time of the report's preparation, Amnesty International was pressing for the release of 17 detainees held for more than 12 years and another 300 who had been held for between two and nine years. In one case, three relatives of a fugitive political suspect had been held six years as hostages.

Detention is only the beginning. Prisoners are likely to be subjected to torture. Here are some statements from former detainees:

"They raised my feet and caned them until they bled... kicked me, strapped and blindfolded, from the top of the stairs to the bottom... applied electricity to the sensitive parts of my body..." — shopkeeper from Aleppo.

"My hands and feet were tied and my feet whipped until they became swollen. My torturer threatened to gouge out my eyes if I did not tell them where my father was..." — 15-year-old schoolboy.

Atrocities against individuals are not the whole story of officially sanctioned terrorism in Syria. There are also six reported instances of mass political killings.

It just so happens that publication of the report coincides with reports from Washington that the administration is taking a "brighter view," in the words of a New York Times headline, of Syria in the aftermath of Goodman's release.

The Syrians are now seen as being somewhat more forthcoming and less intent on sabotaging possibilities of progress in Lebanon.

Possibly, but it would certainly be advisable to keep a sharp eye out for the catch in any prospective deal with Damascus. It is highly unlikely that consideration for the interests of others has anything to do with a Syrian change of attitude, if that is what we have.

Back to Amnesty International, it forwarded the full 72-page report to Damascus, asking those in charge to take corrective action.

There has been no response.

Pouring Billions Into Gulf Defense

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger has secretly earmarked several billion dollars to secure bases for the Rapid Deployment Force throughout the Middle East. He has sought — not always successfully — to work out solid agreements with the countries the Pentagon is pouring money into, in hopes of guaranteeing U.S. access to the naval and air facilities.

Weinberger rates the Persian Gulf area as the United States' No. 3 defense priority, after North America and the NATO allies. From inside sources and several secret and top-secret documents, my associates Dale Van Atta and Donald Goldberg have uncovered the details of Weinberger's quiet preparations for the defense of the volatile, oil-rich region.

Medicare In Trouble

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Since 1965 the Medicare program has attempted to protect the elderly and the disabled against financial ruin from illness. But now the program itself is deathly ill.

There are many proposals now being floated to "save" Medicare. One calls for simply paying any annual Medicare deficit out of general revenue funds. But given the potential size of the deficit, this would almost surely require several large general tax increases.

Another plan calls for increasing payroll taxes to cover projected deficits. Employees and employers now pay 1.3 percent of covered earnings into the fund. But experts say this could require a doubling of payroll taxes by 1995 and a sharp and steady increase from then on.

Both plans are considered politically untenable.

Another plan would combine a more modest tax increase with the transfer of projected surpluses in Social Security funds to Medicare. But this seems awfully "iffy" since no one can be sure those Social Security surpluses will materialize.

The most comprehensive short-term rescue plan (to address the deficit expected by 1995) has just come from the Advisory Council on Social Security, which convenes every four years. The current council was given as its exclusive charge the formulation of a plan to rescue Medicare. Early in November the council approved such a plan.

Its most radical change would be the advancing of the eligibility age from 65, the current level, to 67 in stages between 1986 and 1990. Further age increases would be indexed to increases in life expectancy.

The council also called for increasing hospital benefits. Under its proposal the fund would totally pay for an unlimited number of days per hospital stay as long as the beneficiary paid the first $350 of any stay. At present the beneficiary begins to pay a share of any stay in excess of 60 days and all costs for stays in excess of 150 days.

To save perhaps another $50 billion by 1995, the council suggested adjustments in the formula by which hospitals are reimbursed. It called for saving an additional $40 billion by no longer paying hospitals for intern and physician training through Medicare.

To finance its suggested changes, the council recommended that the current premium of $175.20 for part B coverage be increased by $56 a year and that for the first time there be a premium for part A coverage ($42 a year initially). Then they suggested federal tobacco and alcohol taxes be doubled with the proceeds going to Medicare.

The council estimated that its recommendations could save the Medicare fund $200 billion by 1995. The proposals are too new to have engendered any kind of political response. But groups representing the elderly have been opposed to any plan which would raise premiums, as this one would.

The council recognized that its recommendations could stabilize the fund only over the short run. If Medicare is to survive over the long haul, the program must be reshaped.

Many experts argue that the program must be changed into a kind of entitlement program with premiums charged according to ability to pay.

Proponents of a "needs test" for Medicare like to point out that 250,000 millionaires are currently eligible for benefits.

House Democrats currently reject out of hand any kinds of needs test for Medicare.

The Reagan administration has made two Medicare proposals. The first would address itself to what some view as an inequity in Medicare's hospital reimbursement scheme. Currently, Medicare is paying for minor hospital stays while the beneficiary must carry the burden of long-term illness.

The administration would like to see this reversed.

This would turn Medicare into a kind of "catastrophic" insurance program. In the past, Congress has not gone along with this kind of thinking out of fear that such a program would start this country down the road to a comprehensive health insurance plan, and toward "socialized medicine." Groups representing the elderly are also opposed because they say the average Medicare stay in the hospital is 11 days and, if this proposal goes through, many elderly on fixed incomes would be required to pay much more for health care.

DICK WEST Right Stuff At The Wrong Time

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the most cherished items in my collection of political memorabilia is an album of presidential campaign songs titled "Sing Along With Millard Fillmore."

It includes such rousing lyrics as "Hurrah, hurrah, the country's risin' — Henry Clay and Frelinghuysen." Note the brilliant rhyme scheme: "risin'" and "Frelinghuysen." If the first two words had been pronounced "hooray" to rhyme with "Clay," it might even have put the ticket across. Who knows?

At any rate, it is safe to say they don't write songs like that anymore.

You might think from the way our 13th chief executive's 184th birthday anniversary was celebrated this month that Fillmore's greatest accomplishment was installing a bathtub in the White House.

Any such analysis will not hold water, however.

I remind you that it was during the nearly three years of his administration that the first cookstove was purchased for the executive mansion.

Some Fillmore fans insist the installation of the White House's first bathtub was more momentous than the purchase of the first cookstove. I disagree.

Both his private and political life were plumb full of distinguishing features.

Why it was during Fillmore's abbreviated term that Jinny Lind, the "Swedish Nightingale," gave her first American performance, that the federal assay office building was authorized and that Commodore Perry undertook the voyage that opened the ports of Japan to commerce.

Just ask yourself this: Had it not been for Perry's mission, what would America's Toyota owners be driving today?

Volvos, most likely. Or some other Swedish import. Nevertheless, I am convinced that any fair-minded rating of the events of that period would rank Amelia Bloomer's public appearances in long pantaloons as No. 1.

It was in 1851 that bloomers became famous, and I personally would put that development ahead of a 2-penny reduction in postal rates — from a nickel to 3 cents that occurred during the same time.

The postal cut was only a temporary reversal in the long upward and upward march of stamp prices. But the woman who gave her name to the "Bloomer Girls" was establishing a pattern that still exists today.

It is true Fillmore was not directly involved in the blossoming of bloomers. He himself customarily wore a dark frock coat over a high-collared shirt with a black silk necktie tied in a bow.

But pantaloons definitely got the point across. And since that blow for temperance and woman suffrage was struck during Fillmore's term of office, he should get the credit.

Incidentally, Bloomer was the married name of the early champion of feminine rights. Her maiden name was Amelia Jenks. Were Fillmore still in office, she probably would be married to Sam Blikin.

Sea, and the United States had planned to spend more than $500 million upgrading it, even though U.S. forces could not be stationed there.

Jordan: As I first reported, Weinberger planned to help the Jordanians form their own rapid deployment force to police the area. After the publicity, however, Congress refused to put up the money.

Kenya: U.S. forces will be allowed access to the air and naval facilities at Mombasa on the Indian Ocean. "In return," Weinberger noted in one secret report, "we have agreed to upgrade the airfield to support operations by maritime patrol and fleet support aircraft, and to dredge the harbor channel to provide access for our aircraft carriers." He authorized $75 million through 1985 for this work.

Pakistan: President Zia ul-Haq has promised to allow U.S. planes to use airfields in Pakistan should Soviet bombers threaten the Persian Gulf from Afghanistan. He has also agreed to let American weapons be sent to Afghan rebels through Zia's special forces. In return, the United States is already giving Pakistan $3.2 billion in aid over five years, providing special intelligence information to Zia and training presidential bodyguards.

Bahrain: This tiny island in the Persian Gulf has agreed to conduct mine-sweeping operations in return for U.S. aid in developing its air defenses — including $200 million worth of surface-to-air missiles.

Diego Garcia: This British-owned flyspeck in the Indian Ocean is the principal air and naval base for U.S. forces in the region, and Weinberger has allotted $575 million for rent and construction improvements, including airfield expansion and facilities for mooring Marine and ammunition ships.

Oman: Weinberger plans to spend more than $300 million to upgrade military bases U.S. forces may use in an emergency. Omani facilities would be vital for naval forces in the Arabian Sea and for land-based planes and minelayers to protect the Strait of Hormuz.

Saudi Arabia: In addition to the AWACS planes operated by U.S. crews, the United States has its own supply depots at Saudi airfields. More than $1 billion is being spent to stock enough equipment and ammunition to sustain American forces for 90 days of combat.

Somalia: Weinberger needs $30 million for Somalia, which has agreed to give U.S. forces access to air and naval bases on the Indian Ocean and near the southern entrance to the Red Sea.

United Arab Emirates: Weinberger is giving and selling this strategically placed Persian Gulf federation surface-to-air missiles and more than $1 billion in sophisticated intelligence-gathering equipment and electronic weaponry.

Portugal: Weinberger was willing to pay $155 million in military aid to improve Lajes air base in the Azores, a vital refueling way-station for U.S. forces en route to the Middle East.

Lemon's 18-Point Effort Turns Lady Patriots Sour

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

When your weakness is the inside game, and you lose your shooting touch from outside, you know you're in trouble.

Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots couldn't buy a basket in the fourth quarter Monday night and Lyman's Lady Greyhounds seized Brantley's shooting mishaps to cruise to a 61-44 victory in Five Star Conference basketball action at Milwee Middle School.

Lyman held a five-point lead, 45-40, going into the fourth quarter and scored 16 straight points to take a 61-40 lead with two minutes remaining. When Lake Brantley couldn't hit from the outside, it tried to force the ball inside resulting in numerous turnovers. Lyman used the strength of Kim Lemon and Kim Forsyth inside to do most of the damage in the fourth quarter.

"It was a very sloppy game, but I guess we can be satisfied with the way we came on in the fourth quarter," Lyman coach Dick Copeland said. "We don't get to dominate inside against many teams, but we can do it against a team the same size as us."

Lyman improved to 11-4 overall and 6-4 in the conference with its fourth straight victory while Lake Brantley fell to 4-9 overall and 2-8 in the conference. The Lady Greyhounds host Spruce Creek Friday in the first game of a doubleheader while Lake Brantley is back in action Thursday at Apopka.

"We played horrible basketball," Lake Brantley coach Renny Betris said. "We didn't execute on offense and we played terrible on defense."

Three players scored in double figures for Lyman with Lemon leading the way with a season-high 18 points and a game-high 16 rebounds. Valerie "Pam" Jackson pumped in 16 points and pulled down eight boards while Forsyth contributed 14 points and nine rebounds.

Michelle Brown led Lake Brantley with a game-high 21 points. Linda Nunez tossed in eight and Kim Wain added six points and 12 rebounds.

It was a very sloppy first half for the Lady Greyhounds while Lake Brantley was playing well, but missed too many free throws. Lyman committed 19 turnovers in the first half alone compared to just six for Brantley, but the score was deadlocked at 30-30 at halftime as Lake Brantley made just 4 of 13 free tosses.

Jackson led Lyman with 12 first-half points, but she also picked up three fouls along with starting guard Kim Goroum. Brown poured in 16 of her 21 points in the first half and Wain worked hard un-dearment with eight rebounds.

The Lady Greyhounds continued to turn the ball over early in the second half and things got worse for Lyman as Jackson picked up her fourth foul with 4:17 remaining in the third quarter. Lemon took over in Jackson's absence to score eight points the remainder of the quarter and boost Lyman to a five-point lead, 45-40, going into the fourth.

Lake Brantley's troubles began early in the fourth quarter. After Goroum hit a twisting jumper to put Lyman up by seven, Sherry "Ice" Asplen put up a shot that looked to be going in, but it bounced around the hoop and then fell out. Lake Brantley would go on to miss 13 straight shots and score just four points in the quarter, three by Angie May. The Lady Patriots made just 1 of 20 shots from the floor in the fourth quarter.

There weren't any expletive deletives, but the official didn't like her tone. Frank, who is on crutches because of a knee injury, couldn't even catch up with the official to ask him what she said to get a technical.

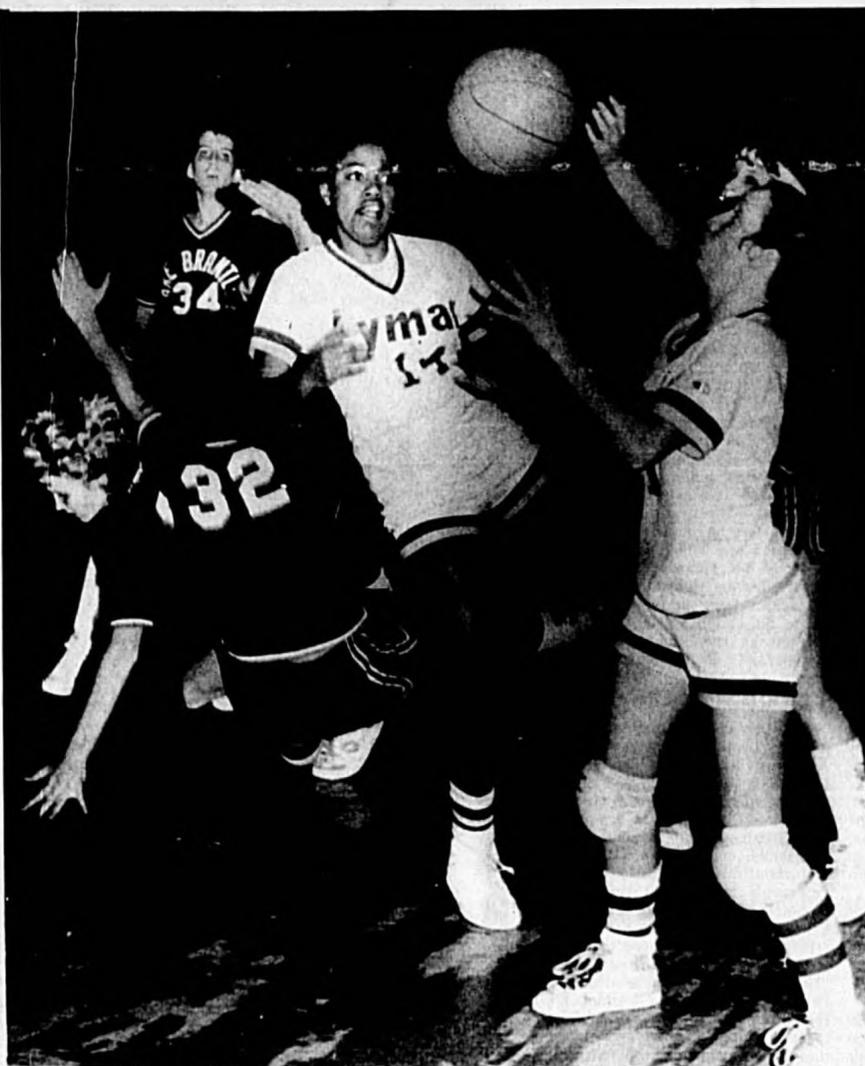

In junior varsity action Monday, Gigi Griffin and Ashley Thomas scored 10 points each and Cindy Staggs tossed in six to lead Lake Brantley's JV Lady Patriots to a 36-27 victory over the JV Lady Greyhounds.

Kristie Kaiser led Lyman with seven points.

Lake Brantley built a seven-point lead, 18-11, by halftime but Lyman came back to pull within one, 24-23, after three quarters. Brantley led the victory in the fourth quarter by outscoring Lyman, 12-4.

Jones sprinted to a 36-9 first-half bulge en route to a 65-22 victory over Oviedo's Lady Lions at Oviedo High School Monday night.

The Lions, 7-6, learned over the weekend that four-year varsity standout Fayette Robinson will be lost for the season with a chronic knee injury.

"They'll just have to learn to play without her (Robinson)," said Oviedo athletic director Dale

Phillips Tuesday. "Every time she plays, she aggravates it some more. The doctor thought it would be best to sit out the rest of the season."

Offensively, the Lady Lions were almost nonexistent as Natalie Barth and Mary Lokers led the attack with just four points each.

Evans Turns Away Tribe

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Evans' Lady Trojans went on a 26-12 fourth quarter surge Monday night to hand Sanford's Lady Seminoles their third loss of the season, 76-62, at Evans High in Orlando. All three of Seminole's losses this season are to Metro Conference teams (two to Edgewater) and top 10 teams in the state rankings (Evans 7th, Edgewater 3rd).

"I felt we should have won the game, but too many turnovers really hurt us," Seminole coach Ron Merthie said. "We did the same thing tonight (Monday) as we did against Edgewater. We tried to get too much, too soon. We have to learn to be a little more patient."

The loss dropped Seminole's record to 15-3 for the season while Evans improved to 10-2. The Lady Tribe returns to Five Star Conference action tonight at Daytona Beach Seabreeze. Seminole, which moved into the No. 9 spot in the 4A Poll, has a two-game lead over Lake Howell with a 9-0 conference mark.

Neither team could build a lead in the first half as the Evans held a slim two-point lead, 14-12, after one quarter and maintained the two-point edge, 34-32, at halftime.

The Lady Seminoles came out strong in the second half and built a six-point lead midway through the third quarter. Evans came back to tie it at 48-48 though going into the fourth.

The Lady Trojans took control early in the fourth quarter and built an eight-point lead. Seminole trimmed the lead to four on a couple of occasions, but never got any closer.

Cynthia Williams and Cassandra Cameron did most of the damage for Evans Monday night as Williams fumbled in a game-high 30 points, including an impressive 12 of 12 from the free throw line. Cameron added 21 points, including 5 of 6 from the charity stripe.

Four players scored in double figures for Seminole with Mona Benton's 15 points leading the way. Catherine Anderson tossed in 12 points. Genevieve Stallworth added 11 and Maxine Campbell chipped in with 10. Dietdre Hillery added eight points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Raiders Blame Intimidator's Label On Media

TAMPA (UPI) — The Los Angeles Raiders say all that stuff about them being "intimidators" is mostly "media hype."

"We're all, basically, pretty nice guys," said Bruce Davis, a 280-pound offensive tackle, when the Raiders arrived in Tampa to begin preparations for Sunday's Super Bowl battle with the defending champion Washington Redskins.

"But as much as people try to make football a civilized game, it isn't. It's a brutal game, one that has to be played with intensity."

"We're both professionals," Raiders running back Marcus Allen said of the two Super Bowl teams. "These aren't the kind of people you can intimidate on the football field. At best, you might take somebody's mind off the game for a moment."

"I'm sure it will be very, very aggressive," said Allen. "A player or two may be trying to intimidate, but it probably won't work."

As for himself, Allen, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards during the regular season and 154 in the Raiders' AFC championship victory over Seattle, is especially looking forward to Sunday's contest because he was sidelined by injury when his team lost to Washington, 37-35, the fifth week of the season.

Super Bowl

"It was very frustrating, sitting on the sideline for that game," said Allen. "Some say the game would have turned out different if I had played, but who knows. Since the Redskins haven't seen me yet, maybe I will be a surprise."

The Raiders flew into Tampa Monday afternoon. Their coaching staff arrived the day before, "just to make sure everything was ready for us."

Coach Tom Flores said the Raiders "worked on fundamentals" for three days last week, took Sunday off, will have a light workout today, "then we'll get into our game plan Wednesday and Thursday."

"Only about half of our guys were with us when we played (beating Philadelphia, 27-10) in the Super Bowl three years ago," said Flores. "The first thing I told them when they came in was not to get caught up in all the hype."

"We've got some people who have been in a Super Bowl before. They know what to expect and will help. Hopefully, that should carry over to our younger people."

Raiders quarterback Jim Plunkett said Monday he was more concerned at the moment about being besieged by the horde of media people covering the Super Bowl than the game itself since that was still six days away.

"That will change, of course, as the game draws nearer."

Plunkett said he's figured out what he was doing wrong in the early-season loss to the Redskins. "I made a few mistakes in that game, especially in the first quarter when I threw three interceptions," said Plunkett. "I don't expect that to happen again although I think the Washington secondary is improved since the last time we played them."

"Hopefully," said Plunkett, "Sunday's game won't be decided by a call or a mistake. Usually it's a combination of a lot of things that decide it."

"We'll do what has worked for us all year. Washington will do the same thing. We are confident. We don't think we can be beaten, but, of course, Washington feels the same way."

Raiders defensive end Lyle Alzado said he doesn't think the first meeting with Washington is going to mean much. "We turned the ball over so many times," said Alzado, "and they were hurt and we were hurt."

Raiders wide receiver Cliff Brunch, also asked about the intimidation angle, said, "We're both very physical teams, but I don't think anyone is going out there to take cheap shots."

Skins Warmed By Greeting, Prepare For Hectic Schedule

TAMPA (UPI) — In weather more than 40 degrees warmer than what they left behind in the nation's capital, the Washington Redskins were greeted by more than 400 noisy fans at their hotel Monday night in an opening burst of hoopla for Super Bowl XVIII.

The Redskins' charter flight touched down about four hours after the Los Angeles Raiders arrived from the West Coast. The Redskins arrived about 30 minutes late because of ice and snow in Washington.

Both teams have hectic schedules for the rest of the week before the Redskins try to defend their Super Bowl championship at 4:30 p.m. EST Sunday at Tampa Stadium.
At 8 a.m. Tuesday the Redskins face more than 800 reporters and several hundred photographers covering the game and the week-long festivities.
Following the media blitz, the Redskins will practice at the University of South Florida. The Raiders, the home team Sunday, will meet reporters at 9:30 a.m. before practicing at the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' facilities near the University of Tampa.

"This weather (80 degrees and overcast) is very welcome," said Redskins coach Joe Gibbs. "We had a lot zip in practice today but I think it was because the guys were cold and were anxious to come here."

The Redskins practiced Monday at their facility in Northern Virginia before flying to Tampa.

Gibbs said he has not given the Redskins a curfew or any other special restrictions this week. But he also does not expect problems.

Flores Handles The Press(ure)

TAMPA (UPI) — As soon as Tom Flores walked into the lobby, he was besieged. Microphones were shoved at him, the questions came rapid-fire.

But the Los Angeles Raiders coach had been through it before. It's Super Bowl week and Flores knew from his experience three years ago when he took the Raiders to New Orleans to play Philadelphia in Super Bowl XV that he'd be in constant demand while preparing his team to play defending champion Washington in Sunday's Super Bowl XVIII.

"That's one thing you don't forget about playing in the Super Bowl," said Flores. "But being there is what it's all about. One of the first things I told our players about this game is not to get caught up in all the hype."

"We're going to try to do the same things to prepare we did three years ago (when the Raiders beat the Eagles 27-10)," said Flores.

NFL Players' Association Won't Get Back Pay

NEW YORK (UPI) — The NFL Players' Association attempt to gain back pay for injured players during the 1982 players' strike has failed, the league said Monday.

The grievance asked back pay totalling $5.6 million for 215 players who were on the injured reserve or physically unable to play during the 57-day strike.

Arbitrator Sam Kagel denied the union's grievance because of the "money now" provision of the collective bargaining agreement that ended the strike. Under "money now," players received one-time payments up to $60,000 and injured players were barred from claiming back pay.

'Wynnless' Tribe Meets Seabreeze

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Prep Basketball

DAYTONA BEACH — If coach Chris Marlette's Fighting Seminoles entertain any thoughts of capturing the school's first Five Star Conference championship, a win tonight here over Seabreeze is a must.

Seminole and the Sand Crabs sit behind third-ranked Mainland and Spruce Creek in the conference with identical 6-2 records. The Bucs and Hawks are 7-1.

"If we beat Seabreeze, we're going to be a lot better off," said Marlette about his 11-4 Tribe. "I think Seabreeze will knock off either Mainland or Spruce Creek later. They have a lot of talent."

If the Noles are to win their first Five Star, they will have to do it without one of their mainstays for the past two years, William Wynn, a three-year varsity performer, quit the team last Thursday.

Marlette said it was amicable separation. "William's attitude has not been what it should have been," said Marlette about his 6-2 senior forward who he suspended earlier this season. "We had a talk and we decided it would be better for him to pursue other interests."

Wynn is a pitcher on the Tribe baseball team and Marlette has agreed to let him go that route. Usually, a player has to wait until his sports has ended before going out for another one, but Marlette and baseball coach Bobby Lundquist agreed it would be best for the versatile Wynn to move on.

"It's too bad," Marlette continued. "The biggest part will be getting the kids over it. They're real close to him. But his attitude was not going to help our overall program. That's what you have to look at."

Tonight, the Tribe will face a quick team in coach Joe Piggotte Jr.'s Sand Crabs. "They have to be of the best and quickest guards around," said Marlette. "And they've got some pretty good size, too."

Marlette will open with forwards Willie Mitchell (18 ppg and 11 rebounds) and Kenny Gordon, center Jimmy Gilchrist along with guards Bruce Franklin and James Rouse. Marlette said he would go with 6-4 Tracy Holloman instead of Rouse if Seabreeze's size started giving Sanford trouble. Senior Steve Grey is the first guard off the bench while 6-2 Tommy Siffey is the first swingman.

Another team with an eye for the conference, although it may be a longshot, is coach Willie Richardson's Lake Mary Rams. Lake Mary, 5-3, needs a string of victories to pull of the impossible — a conference championship in its first year in the Five Star.

The Rams are on a roll. After losing lopsided games to Spruce Creek and Seabreeze earlier in the season, Lake Mary played well but lost to Mainland before taking care of three straight foes the past two weeks.

Tonight, the Rams host DeLand, which has been an up-and-down team. The Bulldogs don't have their usual scoring firepower of the past few years, but coach John Zeoli's club is a scrappy bunch which doesn't hesitate to slow down the action when it gets ahead.

Lake Mary has made its living at the free throw line while posting an overall mark of 8.5. Guards Billy Dunn and Fred Miller are right at 90 percent for the season from the foul line and both made the clutch foul shots down the stretch as the Rams turned back Apopka and Lake Brantley last week.

Patriots Host Greyhounds

The key county matchup tonight involves Lyman and Lake Brantley at Altamonte Springs. Coach Tom Lawrence's Greyhounds (2-11) finally snapped their losing streak when they hammered Oviedo Saturday night. The string had reached nine games.

Although neither club has much to rave about this year, Patriot coach Bob Peterson's club (3-11) turned in a topnotch performance before losing to Lake Mary last Friday.

Peterson was encouraged by the play of his 6-7 junior center Greg Courtney. "He's coming along quite a bit," said Peterson. "Greg's been working hard. He stayed after practice a half hour today (Monday) and worked on some things. He's played real well for the past three games."

Eric Trombo, a 13 ppg scorer, along with Austin Hodges and Dennis Groschlose, both 7.8 ppg scorers, provide the outside punch for the Patriots. Mike Evans, "Bad Leroy" Brown or Todd Hill fills the final starting spot.

Lyman's biggest enemy this season has been itself. Lawrence is starting just one senior — forward Greg Pilot — and inexperience has cost the 'Hounds several games after they led at halftime.

Peterson, though, feels they are coming into their own. "The young kids are learning," he said. "They're, no doubt, picking up that Lyman press. I expect them to pick us up somewhere out by (County Road) 434."

In the county's other game tonight, coach Dale Phillips' Oviedo Lions get a taste of what the district tournament will have to offer when they travel to Orlando to take on Jones.

Frosh Snare 13th

Coach Bill Klein's freshman basketball team rolled to its 13th straight victory Monday with a 65-22 demolish over Lake Brantley at Seminole High School.

"That's the best we've played together all year," said Klein about his talented group.

"We gave the ball up to each other and played tremendous defense."

Basketball

Point guard Sean Fulce tossed in 20 points to lead the charge as the frosh powered to a 33-14 halftime lead. Jerry Parker was next in the scoring parade with 13 points.

Forward Rod Henderson applied the defensive pressure with five rebounds and three blocks. He also chipped in 10 points. Mike Edwards handed out four assists and scored four points while James Dennard had six points. David Daniels and added four while Freddie Grooms had two and Eddie Banks one.

Seminole, 13-0, hosts Lake Howell Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. before taking on Lake Mary at home Thursday at 4 p.m.

LAKE BRANTLEY (22) — McKinney 5, Morris 6, Satterfield 2, Bell 2, Sanders 2, Peacock 2, McMillan 1, Hamlet 2. Totals: 192-422.
SEMINOLE (68) — Henderson 18, Cockerham 5, Parker 13, Daniels 4, Fulce 20, Edwards 4, Dennard 6, Grooms 3, Banks 1. Totals: 313-945.

Alan Reid converted 7 of 8 free throws down the stretch as the Lake Mary Rams held off DeLand, 65-52, in Five Star Conference junior varsity basketball action at Lake Mary High School.

throws as coach Charles Steele's Rams won their third straight game to improve to 9-4 for the season.

"Friday's the big one," said Steele about this week's rematch with Seminole. The Tribe JV whipped the Rams in the season opener.

Lake Mary fell behind, 14-6, in the first quarter but the Rams' Mark Napoli tossed in 10 points in the second quarter to pull Lake Mary ahead, 29-27, at halftime.

"Napoli played a heckuva game for us tonight," said Steele. "He was the key in the second quarter when we got back in the game."

In the third, the Rams extended their lead to three points. DeLand, though, rallied in the fourth quarter until Reid came through with his free throws and Byron Washington picked off three passes and turned two of them into layups for the Rams.

Center Chris Jackson led all scorers with 17 points and six rebounds. Napoli finished with 12 points and Washington added eight and five boards. Troy Stuits chipped in eight points while David Drawdy came off the bench to score five points and grab seven rebounds.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Lyman Blanks Tribe, 6-0; Girls Host Oviedo Tonight

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds were tired Monday — but not too tired to post a 6-0 victory over Sanford's Fighting Lady Seminoles in prep soccer action at Seminole High School.

"We had a great opportunity," said Seminole coach Suzy Reno. "Lyman had just played three games (while winning the Burger King-Lake Mary girls Soccer Classic), but without Sherri Rumber we didn't have any offensive leader."

Rumber, who had two goals in Seminole's narrow loss to Lake Mary last week, suffered a broken collarbone over the weekend and will be lost for the season. She is also a topnotch goalkeeper.

Lyman, 11-0, broke loose for five goals in the first half, then added one more in the final 45 minutes. Sheila Mandy led the way with two goals while Alyson Barnes, Kellie Siraw, Dawn Boyesen and Lisa Chatman had one each.

Reno was encouraged by the Tribe showing despite the loss. "Lyman beat us, 11-0, last time," he said. "We did a lot better. Susana Humanan stopped 23 shots. Lisa Myers, Alecia Humanan, Ginger Fussell, Toni Washington and Christy Gonzales played good games for us."

Seminole, 1-4, goes for its second win today at home against Oviedo at 6 p.m.

Simmons Stays A Brewer

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — There were a couple of rocky moments, but Ted Simmons says he did the right thing by acting as his own agent and negotiating a new multi-million dollar, multi-year deal with the Milwaukee Brewers.

Simmons and the Brewers came to terms Monday, ending 10 months of talks. Sources said the contract would pay Simmons $1 million a year for the first three years, with the Brewers having an option to renew for the fourth year.

"I feel gratification and relief," said the 34-year Simmons, who will forsake his catcher's mask for the role of designated hitter in the coming season. "I'm happy and the organization is happy."

The exact terms were not released, but Simmons said the first three years are guaranteed.

Corso Next For NIU?

DEKALB, Ill. (UPI) — Northern Illinois University officials are poised to announce their new football coach today amid reports the choice was former Indiana coach Lee Corso.

Corso would succeed Bill Mallory, who left last month to take the head coaching job at Indiana. Corso was fired from Indiana after the 1982 season.

AHC-TV affiliates in Rockford and Chicago reported Monday that Corso beat out two other finalists for the job, and Corso himself said he was eager to return to coaching.

Road Woes Continue To Squeeze Redmen

United Press International

The Big East is putting the Big Squeeze on St. John's.

Over the weekend, St. John's lost 69-67 at Boston College. On Monday night, the Redmen were jostled on the road again, losing 63-61 in overtime at Pittsburgh. And if they look for any consolation back home, forget it. Next up is No. 6 Georgetown on Saturday.

"When you play a game as intense and heated as this and with young kids, you're bound to have mistakes," said Lou Carnesecca, coach of the No. 16 Redmen. "That's what makes college basketball so great. Errors, yes, missed shots, yes. If everyone were perfect, there would be nothing to this game."

Pitt, which last year stung a number of its Big East elders, won it on a foul shot by Billy Cubertson with 16 seconds left and another by George Allen with two seconds to go. There was also another ingredient.

"Perseverance," said Panther coach Roy Chipman. "The kids decided they had played so hard, they just would not let it slip away."

With 1:07 left, Andre Williams followed up his shot to put the Panthers ahead for good at 61-59. Cubertson's free throw made it 62-59 but Chris Mullin sank a layup with eight seconds left to pull the Redmen to 62-61 with eight seconds to go.

St. John's was given some life when Pitt failed to inbound but the Redmen turned the ball over. Allen was then fouled and made the front end of a 1-and-1 and Pitt had its second upset of St. John's in two years.

Mullin finished with 26 points for the Redmen, 11-3. Clyde Vaughan of Pitt, playing on a bad ankle, scored 15 of his 17 points in the first half and set a record of 13.

Rozier Will Stay With Maulers

USFL

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The president of the Pittsburgh Maulers of the U.S. Football League says Hetsman Trophy winner Mike Rozier will play for the Maulers despite his apparent firing of the agent who negotiated his initial contract.

"Contrary to what has been reported by the media, we have no indication at all from anybody close to Mike Rozier or from Mike Rozier himself that there is any dissatisfaction at all with, number one, his playing in Pittsburgh and, number two, his contract," Maulers president Paul Martha said Monday at a news conference.

Martha also said Rozier's newly hired attorney, Art Wilkinson of Philadelphia, denied in a conversation published reports that he planned to challenge

College Basketball

"Give the Pitt team the credit, not the (sellout) crowd," Carnesecca said. "Did the crowd make the foul shots? Did the crowd cause the turnovers? I've never seen the crowd score one point."

In the only other Toggate, No. 18 Louisiana State clobbered U.S. International 104-66.

At Baton Rouge, La., freshman Nikita Wilson hit for 17 points and Don Redden added 15 as the Tigers ran their record to 10-3.

Elsewhere in the Southeastern Conference, Joe Ward hit a 15-footer with two seconds left to carry Georgia over Mississippi State.

DeLand.....63
Baptist College.....61

DELAND (UPI) — Jorge Fernandez scored two of his game high 21 points with four seconds remaining to lift Stetson University over Baptist College 63-61 Monday night.

The win improved Stetson's record to 11-4 and evened the Buccaneers' record at 6-6.

Glynn Myrick and Tony Hemphill scored 10 points each for the Halers, while Jose Lara led Baptist with 18. Ben Hinson added 17 for the Buccaneers.

The Buccaneers jumped to a quick lead and held a 36-30 advantage at the half. Stetson didn't catch Baptist until only six minutes remained in the game. They held the lead briefly then Baptist tied the score at 61 each with 1:36 on the clock.

"Baptist plays everyone tough so we knew it would be a close game," Stetson head coach Glenn Wilkes said. "We had to frantically keep substituting in order to match up with them."

Rozier's contract

"He claimed he never made a statement like that concerning the authenticity of the contract and the possibility it might be voidable," Martha said.

Martha said the only thing that is being done is restructuring Rozier's contract so some of the payments will be deferred to later years.

Earlier in the day, Maulers spokesman Bill Keenist confirmed part of the report by the Boston Globe that Rozier had fired Mike Trope, the agent who negotiated the three-year, $3.1 million contract Rozier signed with Pittsburgh on Jan. 3.

Tillis Exterminating Can Rid Home, Lawn of Pests

Florida living has many advantages, but lawn and household pests are certainly not among them. You don't have to put up with these annoying and destructive pests, let Tillis Exterminating, Inc., at 767 N. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, keep them under control.

Call 331-5606 or 331-5696 to arrange for a free estimate, free termite inspection or regular pest control service by the month or year for commercial or residential accounts. Danny Tillis, who has 13 years experience in exterminating, started the business 13 years ago.

The termite is the most destructive insect pest. Tillis will treat your building for subterranean termites and give an annual inspection to make sure they don't come back. Often in the spring and fall you may spot swarms of winged insects. Only a professional can tell for sure if they are termites or ants so it is best to have them checked before they destroy your home.

They will fumigate for drywood termites, powder post beetles and wood beetles. Tillis issues clearance letters for houses for $30 for a normal sized house.

If your home is plagued by fleas, roaches, ants, spiders, wasps or bees Tillis can come to your rescue. They offer monthly service that includes spraying the eaves of the house, windows, and doors; spreading granular chemical around the outside, and spraying on the inside using aerosol and dust. Control of rats and mice is a part of the monthly service.

Max Force bait, that lasts for three months, for eradicating German roaches is available for people who cannot tolerate spray in the house because of emphysema and other breathing problems.

The annual inspection is the same on the outside of the house, but on the inside a chemical formula known as Killmaster, which lasts a full year, is painted on to kill silver fish and roaches. "It's the best chemical on the market for roaches," Danny said.

Tillis will keep your grounds looking beautiful with spray fertilization with iron and nitrogen to build up the lawn and spraying for lawn pests. Don't abandon it to those pesky chinch bugs, mole crickets, and sod web worms take advantage of Tillis' year-round service. They will also apply some weed control in the spring and fall.

Flowers By Gaynelle Keep Love In Bloom

Valentine's Day is the holiday devoted to lovers and Flowers by Gaynelle specializes in romantic arrangements that are sure to win the heart of your lady fair.

Located at 818 S. Sanford Ave., Sanford, Gaynelle's is featuring "Letter Perfect" and "Love Letter" arrangements that will remind her of you long after the flowers have gone. "Letter Perfect" is built around an attractive letter holder, while "Love Letters" has an old-fashioned and ink holder.

But whether its a single rose or the most elaborate of arrangements, Gaynelle's has something to suit your taste and your pocketbook. In addition to beautiful silk arrangements and fresh cut flowers, they have a good selection of decorative dish gardens and planters (including red ceramic heartshaped containers), potted azaleas and mums.

Gaynelle's does fresh or silk flower arrangements for weddings at reasonable rates and can also supply the traditional wedding equipment such as candelabra, kneeling bench, flower stands, arches and wine glasses.

Whether the flowers are for a wedding, a funeral, or other occasion, Gaynelle Hendrick, owner of Flowers by Gaynelle, is proud of her reputation and will not send any arrangement out under her name that isn't top quality. All of her carnations are fancy grade flown in from South America directly from the grower. She is out at 6:30 a.m. handpicking her flowers when the selection presented by the growers is best. Working with her in the shop is Elyse Isom, who has 18 years in the florist business.

For funerals, Gaynelle offers sprays, baskets and casket covers at affordable prices.

Flowers are not all you will find at Flowers by Gaynelle's. They have several kinds of dolls that collectors and little girls will love. Be sure to see Global Arts' Victorian Ashlea Originals many with music boxes inside each with a different tune and exquisitely dressed. There also dolls by Pauline, Thumbelina, and Bambo.

Gaynelle's also has unusual candles and ceramic mugs for gifts.

Gaynelle will be celebrating her fifth anniversary in business in April and wants to thank all of her customers in the past year, who helped make it the best year yet.

She is affiliated with five wire services and can wire flowers anywhere. She accepts Master Charge and Visa cards. To order by phone call 322-5066.

Terrorist Targets

Defense Contractors Told They Could Be Next

NEW YORK (UPI) — A terrorist group blamed for five New York City bombings threatened to unleash more attacks to protest "U.S. imperialism" and the Pentagon warned 22 top defense contractors that they are likely targets.

An anonymous caller telephoned United Press International and directed federal agents to a mailbox near the Brooklyn Museum that contained a communique from the United Freedom Front, threatening the new bombings.

The caller said "Hands off Nicaragua" before hanging up.

FBI spokesman Joseph Valiquette said the note, signed by the United Freedom Front, protested "U.S. imperialism around the world" and talks about the possibility of future bombings by the United Freedom fighters.

The group's most recent bombings include an attack at a Navy recruiting station in East Meadow, N.Y. Dec. 13 and a failed attack on a Honeywell Corp. office in Long Island City. The group has been blamed for at least five bombings in the New York area since December 1982.

The note was found shortly after the Boeing Military Airplane Co. disclosed in Wichita, Kan. It was one of 22 top defense contractors that had been warned about the potential for bombing threats by terrorist groups.

The Air Force warned the contractors to take precautions against possible sabotage by radicals, particularly the United Freedom Front.

The Air Force, in its warning to defense contractors, said the United Freedom Front claims to have targeted a number of such firms.

"We're just sensitizing them (contractors) to the fact that there appears to be an increased threat, particularly from this one group," said Air Force spokesman Capt. Johnny Whitaker in Washington.

The Air Force contract management division, headquartered at Kirtland Air Force Base near Albuquerque, N.M., recently compiled information on terrorists. Whitaker said.

The Air Force distributed summarized versions of the research to the nation's top 22 defense contractors. Whitaker said.

Other contractors to receive the Air Force information, Whitaker said, were Hughes Aircraft plants in Tucson, Ariz., and Los Angeles; Northrop, Los Angeles; Rockwell, Anaheim, Calif.; TRW, Los Angeles; Douglas, Los Angeles; Rockwell Rocketdyne, Los Angeles; Air Force Plant No. 42, Palmdale, Calif.; General, Sacramento, Calif..

Lockheed, Sunnyvale, Calif.; Chemical Systems Division, Sunnyvale, Calif.; Martin-Marietta, Denver; Pratt & Whitney plants in East Hartford, Conn., and West Palm Beach, Fla.; Lockheed-Georgia, Marietta, Ga. O Systems Division, Wilmington, Mass.; Westinghouse, Baltimore; Fairchild, Hagerstown, Md.

Fairchild Republic, Farmingdale, N.Y.; Rockwell, Columbus, Ohio; General Electric, Philadelphia; General Dynamics, Fort Worth, Texas; Boeing Co., Seattle, Wash.

Book Takes Author 50 Years To Write

XENIA, Ohio (UPI) — Octogenarian Helen Santmyer says she would never have started writing her book "And the Ladies of the Club" if she had known the effort it would take.

But confided to a nursing home and nearly blind at the age of 88, Miss Santmyer is looking forward to finally becoming a best-selling author — 50 years after she wrote the first of the novel's 1,344 pages in longhand.

"And Ladies of the Club, an account of small-town life based on Miss Santmyer's memories of Waynesboro, Ohio, has been selected as one of the Book-of-the-Month Club's 15 main selections for 1984.

Publishers G.P. Putnam's Sons is planning an initial press run this summer of 50,000 copies and work has already begun on a television mini-series based on the book.

"If I had known what it would entail," Miss Santmyer said in a telephone interview from the Hospitality Home East, "I probably wouldn't have started it. You keep writing and you don't realize how much you've got."

By the time she had finished the book — 11 boxes worth of bookkeeper's ledger covered with longhand — she was in the nursing home, partially blinded by cataracts and weakened by emphysema.

Miss Santmyer served as the dean of women and head of the English Department at Cedarville College in Ohio from 1935 to 1953, and later as a reference librarian in Dayton, Ohio. She also wrote two other novels, one that she now regards as "youthful" and a book of reminiscences called "Ohio Town."

"No, I never got rich from those books," she said. "An occasional royalty, but they never sold enough to make me rich."

Contemplating the glowing predictions for "Ladies," she added, "I have no plans for the money, but it'll be awfully nice to have it."

One person who apparently always believed in her was Weldon Kefauver, director of the Ohio State University Press in Columbus, which published "Ohio Town" in 1963.

Reward Offered For Killer's Whereabouts

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI) — The whereabouts of paroled killer Dan White is worth $10,000 to a group of "right-wing conservatives" who offered the reward and filed suit to force the state to reveal his address.

Attorney Jeffrey Walsworth, representing a new group called Citizens Protection Association, said members did not want the political assassin living near them.

The suit would require the state to provide information on former felons convicted of crimes involving great bodily harm. Although White is not mentioned in the suit by name, Walsworth said his parole provided the impetus for the action.

The attorney told reporters his clients realized the information they seek could endanger White, but thought that consideration was secondary to the rights of citizens to know their neighbors and co-workers.

"I say this to the Department of Corrections and the parole board: Would they choose to have their families live next door to a rapist or a murderer without knowing about it?" Walsworth asked.

White was released from prison a week ago to a secret location after serving five years for the murders of San Francisco Mayor George Moscone and homosexual Supervisor Harvey Milk.

Officials said only that White was living in Los Angeles County, a 4,000-square-mile area, with a population of 7.1 million — larger than 42 of the 50 states.

Walsworth said he has information that White may be living in Orange County or out of state, but he refused to elaborate.

"We think that the information that he is in Los Angeles County is simply a diversion tactic and we are conducting an investigation," said Walsworth.

Department of Corrections spokesman Phil Guthrie denied Walsworth's claim, saying "he's dead wrong."

Walsworth said earlier members of the Citizens Protection Association are Orange County businessmen who "consider themselves right-wing conservatives."

Last week, about 300 gay activists marched in Hollywood to protest White's placement in Los Angeles. The peaceful crowd carried placards, candles and Twinkies — a reference to the so-called "Twinkie defense," legal arguments that White committed the killings because he ate too much junk food.

Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, the City Council and the Police Commission have all expressed outrage at the state's decision to release White in Los Angeles.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring... YOUR BIRTHDAY JANUARY 18, 1984 This coming year you will become interested in a number of new subjects that you can use in practical ways for both self-improvement and advancement in your chosen field of endeavor. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Domestic disruptions are likely today if family members fail to cooperate properly with one another. Don't be a principal instigator. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't try to overpower coworkers today or pressure them into doing things your way. Pushing too hard could have unpleasant results. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your material conditions have promising potential, but a number of leaks must be plugged up. Unfortunately, you may be unable to do so today. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) To appease others today you might make shifts in positions against your better judgment and end up pleasing no one, including yourself. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Behaving rashly or impulsively could lead to your own undoing today. Take time to plan your steps carefully before jumping into the fray. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Strive to live within your means today. Subdue tendencies to involve yourself in activities that are out of your reach financially. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In your desire to achieve today, there's a possibility you might push yourself beyond your limits and energy. These tactics could deprive you of victory. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Avoid the company of an acquaintance with whom you recently had cross words. A thoughtless comment could reignite smoldering embers of anger.

Are Blood Pressure Devices Accurate?

DEAR DR. LAMB — My wife takes several pills for high blood pressure and sees the doctor every few months. We bought a blood-pressure instrument at one of our local pharmacies. However, her doctor says the instrument is not accurate. I understand that it may not be as sophisticated as the one in the hospital. How good or accurate are the instruments available at pharmacies? DEAR READER — It depends entirely on the kind of instrument you have purchased. If it's similar to those in doctors' offices and you learn to use it with a stethoscope, it can be reasonably accurate. Of course, that depends entirely on how well you have learned to use the instrument. Some of the electric devices simply aren't as accurate. They are poor in recording a diastolic reading (lower blood pressure). One way to find out the accuracy of your instrument is to take it to your doctor's office and take your wife's pressure with it at the same time he takes the pressure with his instrument. We even do that with some of the blood-pressure instruments that have a gauge on them rather than a mercury column. Despite the drawbacks of some of the home devices, I think they do more good than harm. At least they help people screen their blood pressure and become aware of the range of the pressure. They are sometimes helpful in guiding patients during treatment, again depending upon the type of device used and the skill of the person using it. You will be interested in the normal range and effects of blood pressure, so I am sending you The Health Letter 15-8, Your Vital Blood Pressure. Others who would like this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of his newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 47-year-old woman, a diabetic and have been taking insulin for the past six years. I have horrible muscle spasms in my chest, abdomen, legs and even my toes. Could you tell me how to relieve these cramps? I'm taking Dyazide and Apressoline for high blood pressure. DEAR READER — First, you need to know what is causing the spasms. You may be low on sodium or potassium. You should see your doctor and let him do some tests to see if your body chemistry is in balance. Dyazide usually doesn't deplete potassium as some diuretics do. The only way to tell is to have a blood test. Apressoline, used to control high blood pressure, rarely causes muscle cramps, but it can cause neuritis. Some of these effects can be prevented by taking pyridoxine (vitamin B-6). Please don't discontinue any of your medicines without your doctor's consent. Let your doctor guide you after determining the most likely cause of your problem. Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

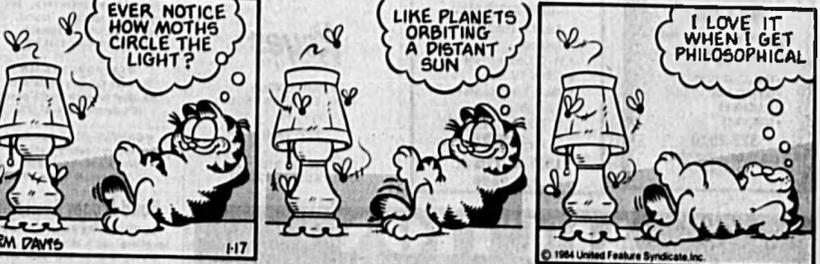

WIN AT BRIDGE

holds the ace of clubs, four is cold (and five is possible if there's a no trump loser). As you can see, the ace of clubs is wrong. At the other table South played for a 2-2 spade break and lost three clubs and a trump. Charley avoided a trump loss by the simple expedient of never playing trumps. He won the heart lead and cashed the second high heart, ruffed a heart, cashed the diamond ace and ruffed a diamond in dummy. Then he ruffed the last heart while East discarded a diamond, ruffed his last diamond and finally led a club. West's ace pickled South's king. West took two more high clubs while East chucked his last diamond. They were down to a three-card ending, with dummy holding the K-9 of trumps and Charley holding the A-J-10. It didn't matter what West led; the rest of the tricks belonged to Charley. By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby We will continue with more hands from the Dallas knockout. Here we see Charley Weed at a sound four-spade contract. If East
