

Lake Mary Reading Ability Is Subject Of Meeting

By KETIE JANE KEOGH
The guest speaker for the Lake Mary School P-TA recent meeting was Mrs. M. Golt, Supervisor of Elementary Education, who spoke on the teaching of reading in the schools. She displayed books used in the school, explained each and stressed importance of giving children experiences such as reading to them and listening to them retell the nursery stories. Readiness does not come to all children at the magic age of six, so one will find many levels of learning in such.

The Rev. John Piley, of the Community Presbyterian Church, gave a devotion on readiness. P-TA president, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, expressed appreciation of the group, as a whole, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mohr for their work as chairmen of the Halloween Carnival. She also expressed her views of the recent P-TA State Convention in Sarasota.

The Spring Festival was announced, with exact date to be announced later. Mrs. Marshall Smith, membership chairman, reported a total of 83 members in the local P-TA. The first, second and third grade mothers served donuts, punch and coffee to the 46 members present.

Former Resident Dies
Word was received this week of the death of Mrs. Winifred Ramsay, former Lake Mary resident. Mrs. Ramsay has been a way from this area for some years, but was well-known here. While living here she was active in all work, especially in music of the Community Presbyterian Church. Through her efforts, a junior choir was formed and a new piano purchased, along with many things she inspired in the church.

She was an artist and a poet in many homes in Lake Mary. Her "Sunset on Crystal Lake" is the most memorable of her work that can be found today.

Mrs. Ramsay was 86 at the time of her death Dec. 30, in Audubon, N. J., where she was residing with her daughter and son. She had been ill for some eight years.

She was the widow of the Rev. Robert M. Ramsay, who died in 1951.

Surviving are two sons, Robert A. and J. Douglas, a daughter Katherine, all of Audubon, three grandchildren and one great grandchild. Funeral services were held in N. J., and interment was in Kingwood, W. Va., her home town.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gleason were weekend guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gleason in Ocala. Mrs. Richard Keogh will be hostess Tuesday, 8 p. m. for the Circle 2 meeting of the United Presbyterian Women.

Among out-of-town guests here to attend the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peckham Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peckham and son, Bobby, Ben Hill, six and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peckham and daughters, Mayrene and Joanne, Tampa.

Miss Jane Fales, Field Director's office, Presbyterian Church, Orlando, visited friends here this weekend.

Judge Faces Criminal Contempt

Alabamian Defied 'Rights' Probers

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson today ordered criminal contempt proceedings against Circuit Judge George Wallace for his defiance of the Federal Civil Rights Commission.

The U.S. district judge cited Wallace for contempt on grounds the state judge refused to turn over registration records in Harbour and Bullock counties to commission investigators.

Reds Get Approval To Accept Oscars

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has repealed a controversial amendment barring Communists and "Fifth Amendment" witnesses from the annual competition for Oscars.

The action, revealed Wednesday, would allow Communists and witnesses who pleaded the Fifth Amendment before government investigating committees to be eligible for Oscar nominations which begin next month.

Repeal of the amendment which had been in effect since Feb. 6, 1957, brought a blast from actor Ward Bond, president of the Motion Picture Alliance and a crusader against Communists in Hollywood.

"All these Fifth Amendment Communists are working now. We've lost the fight and that's all there is to it."

Defends Board's Action
But Director George Stevens, president of the Academy's Board of Governors, defended the board's action which came Monday after a heated all-night session.

"This matter, this amendment," Stevens told United Press International, "has from the beginning been used only to harass the Academy. We're only interested in making awards based on merit."

The amendment, adopted two years ago when a "Robert Rich"—apparently a pseudonym—failed to claim an Oscar awarded him for writing the film story of "The Brave One," came under renewed fire this year over the eligibility of Ned Young, a screenwriter of the film "The Defiant Ones."

Fashions Designed To Return Whistle

ROME (UPI)—Italian designers opened their spring-summer fashion showings today with a collection aimed at restoring the whistle.

All indications were the 1959 glamour girl would look like Sophia Loren and less like Jacqueline Kennedy. The new look was like "satellite" and "bustier" were being used in polite fashion society for the first time since revival of the "empire" line.

The very high empire waistline is going back to the point where the anatomy books put it. After the sack and the semi-sack, the style dictators have become as figure conscious as Hollywood's producers.

Rome's four-day round of fashion previews began with a colorful display of high accessories and some new, ingenious shapes for shoes and handbags.

High fashion collections by Martin Margiela and Rappaport accentuated "femininity" and "grace."

Half a dozen boutique designers, many now in the international fashion scene, showed the kind of eye-catching beach and casual clothes that made Italy famous.

4-Year-Old Lucky; Car Had Stopped

Four-year-old Oscar Lewis Hill is a lucky boy.

Oscar dashed across French Ave. at 4th St. late yesterday afternoon and fell into the bumper of a car that had stopped just in time. The alert driver was Herbert F. Dykema Jr., 2611 French Ave.

Oscar was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital by Capt. Arnold Williams, of the Sanford police. X-rays and examination produced nothing more than a minor scrape on the little boy's elbow. The child lives at 406 Maple Ave.

2,864,000 More

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau estimates the nation's population stood at 173,370,000 on Dec. 1. The figure represents an increase of 2,864,000 persons during the past year.

Electronics Group Elecis Local Man

E. B. (Gene) Johnson of Casselberry was elected state president of the Electronics Association of Florida yesterday.

Johnson is president of Johnson Electronics, Seminole County's only electronic manufacturer.

The Electronics Association is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving the electronics industry. More than 22 companies now belong to the group. Johnson said this morning that membership was expected to exceed 100 firms within the year.

The Association meeting was held following a "reel-acquainted" session at Patrick Air Force Base for 200 central Florida small businessmen. Procurement officials and representatives of seven major contractors described the types of products and services needed by the missile program.

Attending with Johnson were Col. Clark Hunch, U.S.A.F. (Ret.), assistant to the president at Johnson Electronics, and Ralph Weber, executive vice-president.

City Gets $7,500 In Planning Funds

A Federal grant of $7,500 has been approved for city planning in Sanford.

The announcement came from the Florida Development Commission, and stated that the work should begin in approximately two weeks.

The grant will be matched by an equal contribution from the city, already set aside for that purpose. George W. Simons Jr., Jacksonville, has signed a contract with the city to perform the job.

The $7,500 grant was requested by Sanford. City leaders expressed surprise that the full amount was approved, as the majority of small cities in Florida have received less than the sum considered necessary.

Firehouse Slated Within 60 Days

The Lake Mary firehouse will be completed within 60 days.

Funds for construction of the building were collected through an enthusiastic community drive. The roof has been given by Randall Chase.

The announcement of construction plans was made at a meeting of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department. President Richard H. Ivers heard reports from committees and announced total assets of $7,716.36, a cash balance of $1,190.

Volunteers have been working weekends on the construction of the firehouse, which is 75 per cent completed. More than $1,700 was collected for the firehouse campaign.

Woman Returns To Home At Night
Mrs. Irene Stevens returned to her Palmetto Ave. home last night, after police and sheriff's authorities had searched in vain for her since 3:40 a. m. yesterday.

The expectant mother told Lt. Joe Hickson of the Sanford Police Department that she had not left the area all day. According to Mrs. Stevens, she had slept in a truck by the Postmart on 25th St., and later walked to Wade's Super Market for something to eat.

Her husband, Belton Stevens, was with Lt. Hickson, when she walked into the clearing near the house at 8 p. m.

A boy "about ten" stole a transistor radio that had been placed on a washing machine in the Park and Wash Laundry, Tuesday.

Gordon Meyer, owner of the laundry, also reported the theft of a wall clock and stated that clothes had been strewn around the floor.

C. LAWRENCE LYONS

39 Years On Train Ends; Engineer Makes Last Run

C. Lawrence Lyons, engineer for the Atlantic Coast Line for the past 39 years, made his last run with the railroad yesterday.

Lyons, who makes his home in Tampa, retired with one last run through Sanford, from Jacksonville to Tampa. In 1920, he started with the ACL as an engineer, and for the past 17 years has been engineering passenger trains from Jacksonville to Tampa.

Lyons, who lived in Sanford from 1929 until he moved to Tampa in 1944, regretted leaving the railroad, which has been more than a home to him, but says, "All good things must come to an end." As of now, he has no plans for his retired years, but he does want to stay busy.

Born in Pennsylvania, he traveled to Maryland, California, Canada, back to California, and then East again before he finally started with the railroad, which brought him to Florida.

Lyons has three daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Joe Roth, lives in Sanford.

At the ACL depot to bid him a "prosperous farewell" were M. E. Smith, road foreman of engines; W. B. Moye, chairman of the board of Locomotive Engineers; W. F. Wingeat, supervisor of safety for ACL from Wilmington, N. C., and a few of his many friends and fellow railroaders.

At the same time the government announced the first step to war's demobilization of the civil air army which broke the military dictatorship and presented Cuba with its first citizen president in six years.

Trial and execution of "war criminals" was reported interrupted throughout most of Cuba Wednesday although 19 more were executed by firing squads Wednesday morning.

Thousands await trial. Today the trials and executions resumed and Castro pledged they would continue until the last of the "Batista assassins" are shot. Several thousand suspects are in jail, 600 of them in Havana.

Among the 600 taken to Cabana fortress was Castillo, who attempted personal peacemaking negotiations with Castro a few days before Batista's flight and who headed a short-lived junta government.

Siren Wail Leads To Traffic Crash
A Casselberry policeman inadvertently caused an accident yesterday afternoon on Highway 17-92.

When a motorist passed a stopped school bus, the policeman gave chase with his siren screaming.

Ruth S. Herlein, Daytona Beach, and Edwin M. Clark, Traveler's Rest, S. C., heard the siren behind them at the same time. Mrs. Herlein stopped her car and Clark looked back to see what was going on, and ran his truck into the rear of the car.

The convertible was knocked across the highway, and sustained damages of $700. Clark's tractor-trailer had minor damages. There were no injuries. Investigating Highway Patrol Trooper J. L. Sikes said the policeman got his man—the school bus passer.

Mrs. Otis Spohorn said the boy grabbed the radio as she was doing her laundry and ran across the dirt road behind the building. Police searched the area without results.

Criticism Invited

Criticism sometimes is hard to take, Sanford merchants, however, invite it.

John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and Francis Roumillat Jr., chairman of the Retail Merchants Division, have extended an invitation to local residents to "state their cases" in letters to The Sanford Herald.

Krider and Roumillat said suggestions, analysis, desires and criticisms of local business-shopper relations "offer us, the merchants, the only means of learning what we want to know: how to serve you better."

Such a letter appeared on the editorial page of The Herald yesterday.

Local merchants are working in many ways to improve their services to shoppers. An all-out campaign to build Sanford as a shopping center now is under way.

Got a pet peeve which would help Sanford to serve you better? If so, take pen in hand.

Red Cross Votes To Aid UF, Calls Off Own Drive
The local Chapter of the American Red Cross yesterday voted to direct its efforts to help the United Fund, rather than have a membership drive for its own benefit.

The motion was made at a meeting of the executive committee, headed by Bruce G. Paddock. The committee will use the time which might be spent on an individual membership campaign to work for the United Fund as a whole.

"We are in need of funds ourselves," Paddock said, "but we believe in the United Fund and feel that a concerted effort on our part will strengthen the drive, which has fallen far short of its goal."

Figures released yesterday to Mrs. Daisy Knox, executive secretary of the Red Cross, showed a total of $22,776.53 in United Fund offers. The sum must be divided among seven subscribing agencies.

J. A. Hepburn, field director at the Orlando Air Force Base, announced that an assistant field director soon would be assigned to the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Mrs. Knox requested a Volunteer Services chairman. Anyone interested in this position may call her at Chapter headquarters.

Bill Seeks To Ban TV Competition For Minor Leagues
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A bipartisan group of congressmen today introduced legislation to "save baseball's minor leagues" by legalizing a blackout of major league game telecasts into minor league cities when their teams are playing at home.

The legislation would achieve this by exempting from the anti-trust laws agreements protecting telecasts originating within 75 miles of minor league cities on home game days. Otherwise, TV agreements would be subject to anti-trust laws.

It also would leave radio broadcasts of professional baseball, basketball, football and hockey games subject to anti-trust laws.

These were the major features of new sports legislation which otherwise would exempt from the anti-trust laws the reserve clause and other major sports practices of the four professional sports.

Except for the radio and TV provisions, the legislation was identical to a measure passed by the House last year and which died in the Senate.

Publisher Speaks To Toastmasters
Walter Gleason, publisher of The Sanford Herald, was the guest speaker at the Toastmasters' Club last night.

Gleason outlined the operation of a newspaper and touched on its dedication to community service. Other speakers were LeDr. Ernest Fritz and Lt. Ed Graham, members of the Toastmasters. The meeting was held at the Mar Lou Restaurant.

Bee Bill Buzzes Into House Coffer
COLUMBIA, R. C. (UPI)—Bell's bee bill buzzed into the House of the South Carolina House Wednesday.

The measure was written by Rep. Lloyd Bell, who is seeking the protection of his constituents in Horry County. It would require that bees being hauled through South Carolina be "confined within the vehicle being used."

Bell said many roadside residents in his county had been stung by stray bees being shipped south by northern beekeepers.

The bees are dormant because of the cold when they leave their northern homes, the legislator said, but they wake up when they get to the warmer climate and buzz out of trucks in search of nectar.

Student Missing
HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—A 13-year-old boy was missing today for Philip J. Newman of Miami, a student at Trinity College who has been missing for two days.

Today, said the outspoken Tallahassee attorney who is rumored as a possible candidate for governor in 1960, a "liberal" is suspected of traveling with the subversives, a "tolerant" person is "tolerant of the left, of the pinks, of spending and deficits," and nobody knows exactly what a moderate is except that does not represent the majority of the South.

He said "moderates," "liberals" and "tolerant individuals" were acceptable and even worthwhile until the federal government and U.S. Supreme Court started chipping away at the fundamental rights of the states to run their own affairs.

Army Will Shoot Moon Again Soon

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Army disclosed today that it expects "shortly" to launch its second moon rocket.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, research and development chief, made the announcement in a speech prepared for the National Security Industrial Assn.

The Army's first lunar probe was launched last Dec. 8 and traveled about 60,000 miles into space before falling back and burning in the atmosphere.

"We are now preparing for our second lunar probe to be launched shortly," Trudeau said.

He gave no other hint of the date. The Army passed up the last favorable time for a moon rocket launching at the start of this month and presumably also will let the next favorable time go by. That would be at the end of this month.

The government will launch about to space probes this year, including a dozen artificial moons, T. Keith Glennan, chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told newsmen Wednesday.

But Glennan refused to say if 1959 would see any American interplanetary shots.

'Honest' Approach On Germany Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Soviet Union today had an invitation from President Eisenhower to put forward "honest, peaceful" suggestions for solving the problems of German reunification and European security.

The President, who extended the bid in his remarks Wednesday at a National Press Club luncheon, coupled it with a promise to give Russia specific guarantees against possible military attack by a united Germany.

But he advised the United States would not accept current Russian proposals for uniting the two German states because they were aimed at completely demilitarizing the country and trying to isolate it from the rest of Western Europe. This won't work, Eisenhower said.

No definite proposals. The President said he did not expect any definite proposals to be made during his talk next Saturday with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who arrives in Washington Friday.

He added, however, that he hoped to find out from Mikoyan whether there is an "honest, peaceful motive" behind Russia's professed desire for another round of negotiations on Germany.

Bulletins

ATLANTA (UPI)—Federal Judge Boyd Sloan formally ordered Georgia State College today to stop refusing admission to Negro applicants solely on the grounds of race or color.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said today a high-level conference between East and West "is bound to take place" but it is difficult to say when.

ET. BRIDGE, N. C. (UPI)—Gen. George C. Marshall was rushed to the Ft. Bragg, N. C., hospital today after suffering what a spokesman in his Washington office called a "brain spasm." The spokesman said he believed the 75-year-old retired general suffered a "minor stroke."

Weather
Mostly fair, somewhat warmer tonight. Partly cloudy and mild Friday. High today in the 70's, low tonight 55 to 60. Variable winds E to 10 miles per hour becoming mostly southeasterly to night.

Caldwell said the men who wrote the U.S. Constitution never intended that Washington should control state schools or elections, nor that the President of the United States should serve as a sort of chief of police for the states.

But it is not too late if the people will rouse themselves, he declared.

"Our top officials may have won the first round, but we, the people, at the local levels, can win the war," he said.

"We must use every ounce of political power we possess to put the right men and women in every political office within our choice."

Caldwell called President Eisenhower "ineffectual." Congress

Mrs. Neil Atkinson gave the devotion. A business meeting followed. The study was given by Mrs. W. W. Tyre.

Following the business meeting Mrs. T. F. McDaniel, study chairman, led an inspiring discussion on the first three verses of the teachings and prophecies of Isaiah. Mrs. C. C. Priest opened the service. Mrs. J. E. Currier assisted Mrs. McDaniel with serving date and nut bars with whipped cream topped with a cherry and coffee.

The house was decorated with poinsettias and other holiday arrangements.

CIRCLE SIX: Circle Six met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hincer, 2114 Oak Ave. on January 12. Refreshments of orange fruit cake and coffee were served preceding the business to the 18 members and one guest present.

Miss Vera Woodcock, chairman presided over the meeting. Mrs. W. B. Kirby gave the devotional. The Bible study of Isaiah was presented by Mrs. O. E. White.

Miss Woodcock urged members to visit Mrs. Farrell, the circle's shut-in. A gift was sent to her for Christmas from the circle. Miss Woodcock stated that at the last WBCS board meeting, Mrs. Hutchinson urged the members to attend the study course on "The Middle East". First session is slated for February 4 when there will be a guest speaker to present the study. Classes are scheduled for February 11, 18, and 25.

Mrs. Hutchinson has books which she will lend to circle members in preparation for the course.

Miss Woodcock called attention to the lovely candle and floral container in the church, which were purchased for the church by the WBCS.

She announced that the district meeting will be held in Orlando March 12.

White Sale Tips Given

This year's traditional "white" sales are featuring some of the most colorful and fashion-wise household linens seen in many years. Deep and variegated towels, bath and decorative patterned sheets and pillow cases share the spotlight with the conventional white sale offerings.

However, your professional laundry advises shoppers to look for quality as well as style and attractive price tags at the sales. These tips are offered to shoppers.

When purchasing towels, the colorfast ones are the best buy. All towels don't hold their colors after laundering. Also, observe feel and pull the different sections to make sure that all stretch equally. Even tension can cause towel parts to pucker or become distorted after laundering. Choose close, large, loosely-twisted and thickly-packed loops, which indicate that the towels will be absorbent and will give good service.

Cotton sheets come in two basic types, muslin and percale. Muslin is a utility-type sheet that is heavier, less expensive and usually gives longer wear. Percale sheets are lighter and have a more luxurious feel. Check sheeting for firm compact selvage edges and seams that are straight with even stitching. When purchasing patterned or pastel bed linens, shoppers should also check for colorfastness.

For quality bed linens, look for threads that are evenly woven and of the same thickness. Properly woven fabrics do not need heavy sizing, which is a filler material used in loosely woven fabrics. Heavily sized items, especially sheets and pillowcases, have a good appearance when new. However, after laundering, the sizing is gone and the item becomes very limp. Even the professional laundry cannot fully restore the original appearance of such fabrics. To check for sizing, rub the fabric lightly. If a powdery substance appears, the article contains too much sizing.

Know the correct size so that the bedding will fit properly and there will be ample material for tucking. Correct size means more comfort as well as better wear. To find the correct size, take the length of the mattress, add six inches for thickness at each end and ten inches for tuck-in and folding over the blanket. The width of the sheet should be twenty-four inches wider than the mattress. This allows a five-to-seven-inch take-up on each side, depending on the thickness of the mattress, and a five-inch tuck-in.

The ideal pillowcase is ten inches wider than the pillow to avoid strain during use. It should also be long enough to completely cover the pillow.

Merchants Mobilizing To Boost Home Trade

Sanford merchants are "mobilizing" for an all-out drive to keep Sanford dollars at home.

Through the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, local businessmen are seeking ways to make Sanford more attractive to shoppers. Yesterday, merchants got a few ideas on how this might be accomplished.

Boiled down, the suggestions were: clean up and modernize. The appearance of business establishments, from the outside, was suggested as a starting point. Vacant or down-at-the-heel buildings in a block hurt not only that block, but the whole downtown area, merchants were told.

Charles Staubitz, DeBary, retired merchandising expert, said that old buildings should be torn down or repaired. He suggested use of a "customer suggestion box" in local stores, a book for wanted items not stocked by local firms.

John Krider, Chamber of Commerce manager, warned of the threat of competition from shopping centers, three of which are under discussion. He suggested advertising of "service" as one method of combatting out-of-city competition.

T. E. Tucker, speaking for local banking interests, said liberal loans could be obtained to improve the look of Sanford.

Francis Roumillat Jr., chairman of the Retail Merchants Division, outlined a comprehensive promotion calendar, plans for merchandising classes for sales personnel and store managers and a program for more sales and services.

Staubitz emphasized the need for advertising, pointing out that this is the only way a customer may know what a store has to offer.

All of these things are important. All must be accomplished if Sanford merchants are to win victory.

The problem here is not unique. All cities have it to some degree. Always, there is a larger city within driving distance. Other cities have achieved success. So can Sanford.

Yes, Orange Oranges

Is an orange orange better than a green orange? Many out-of-state orange customers think so.

Actually, most of the oranges produced in Seminole County are orange oranges. However, to make the oranges more orange, more attractive to customers, citrus packers have been adding color.

Orange oranges (with color added) were fine, until the Food & Drug Administration intervened. The coloring compound, it said, is derived from a substance which could poison people. The added orange in the oranges, it hastened to add, isn't poisonous of itself.

The Florida citrus industry appealed; the U. S. Supreme Court said orange oranges are against the law and that green oranges are better for the consumer. The consumer, however, declines to join in this opinion. Orange oranges are the kind of oranges she has been buying all of these years, and it'll be orange oranges or no oranges.

While all of this argument has been in progress, California slyly has mentioned, several times, that it produces orange oranges, not green oranges. Naturally, this wasn't intended as an attempt to take away any of Florida's orange market.

But, citrus men have come up with a new coloring compound, Citrus Red No. 2, which they feel will meet government requirements.

It appears that everyone wants orange oranges. The new compound would keep Florida oranges orange. Wouldn't that make California "green" with envy?

OUR FAVORITE HAVANA SMOKE

Inez Robb Says

BY INEZ ROBB

Well, hurrah for our side and for the Belgians, too!

The Belgian government is pleased to accept as a permanent gift from Uncle Sam the glorious pavilion and the theatre that housed (1) the American exhibits and (2) the American performing arts at the Brussels Universal Exhibition of 1958.

The announcement of the gift and its acceptance was made today by Howard S. Callman, American commissioner general in the Brussels fair. Believe it or not, it isn't easy to give things away these days, even for free.

Today's happy denouement is the result of long and earnest negotiations between the two governments.

But the theatre, said to be the most modern in the world, and the pavilion, widely acclaimed as the architectural gem of the fair, will be preserved. That is, the exquisite theatre, built for permanent use from the beginning, will remain untouched, and will be used as a home for the Belgian national theatre.

But the pavilion, a sensation from the moment the fair opened, will be altered to suit its new status as an exhibition hall. The charming exterior plastic shell, the lattice work and decor, which together with the extraordinary "umbrella" roof were non-permanent anyway, will go.

Along with the roof will disappear the wide balcony or second floor of the pavilion. Thus the floor of the balcony, which was built for permanency, will become the roof of the first or lower floor. Granted that the pavilion, a visual delight to all fair visitors, will be much changed, nevertheless its architect, Edward D. Stone, does not grieve—much.

"I took an enormous professional pride in the pavilion as a whole," Mr. Stone said. "It's drama and audacity will now be lost, but the Belgians have come up with a brilliant, practical and realistic solution to the problem of transforming the pavilion into a permanent exhibition hall."

"What will remain of the pavilion is an enormous doughnut, with the exhibition space covered. But the center of the building, where the indoor pool is, will remain open to the sky, as it always was.

"Of course, I'm happy that the theatre is to remain as it is. It is the best in the world today. It is even air-conditioned, and that's not common in Europe.

"It seems to me," Mr. Stone concluded, "that we Americans have left a useful symbol in Brussels of what we can do in a foreign land. I am grateful that we produced something worth saving."

An architectural drawing, by a Belgian firm, of the expanded, the revamped pavilion and the theatre, shows that the American gift will retain most of its original beauty. The great willow trees, so carefully enclosed in the pavilion originally, now tower through the "holes" in the doughnut and shade the indoor pool in a delightful manner.

The splendid suites of offices that were part of the pavilion are to remain, but the little round theatre that housed Circarama, one of the sensations of the Brussels exhibitions, is to be demolished.

As one who loved the American pavilion and exhibits, I rejoice that so much of our contribution to the fair is to be retained by the Belgians. From the moment the fair opened, it was widely rumored that the Belgians were most eager to retain the theatre.

But then there was a touchy international question: Would the Russians be offended if the Belgians wanted the American theatre and felt disinclined to ask for any permanent souvenir of the Soviet exhibition?

Apparently, that problem was solved and fairly diplomatically. By happenstance and the luck of the draw for fair space, the United States drew acreage within the city of Brussels proper and not in Heyssel Park, immediately adjoining.

Heyssel Park is the king's park, or a royal park. Every fair building in that park, by agreement, must be demolished or removed and the park restored to its original appearance.

Because the American buildings were on city, and not royal, property, they could be saved. Although their acceptance by the government will save the American government a million or so for demolition, since we, too, had agreed to remove our buildings en bloc.

The only other fair building to be preserved, I understand, is the handsome, modern Norwegian Building. It, too, has been given to the Belgian Government, which is taking it down piecemeal and reassembling it for use as a schoolhouse.

The Russian Building, known from the day the fair opened as "The Ice House," was built in sections, trucked to Brussels and set up. Now the reverse process is in order. The Soviet building is being carted back to the Soviet state to be reassembled as a factory, which was exactly what it looked like from the beginning.

The Vatican is removing its spectacular church, built in sections, too, and the treasures that filled its exhibit are being returned to the 30 countries from which they were borrowed.

Thus the great triangle at the fair, occupied by the United States, the Vatican and the Soviets, will soon be no more. Only the American buildings will remain. I, as one citizen, rejoice, that their beauty was such that the Belgians, egged-on I understand by Queen Mother Elizabeth, have decided to retain them in perpetuity.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The stage is already being set for one of those great ceremonial windings that frequently flutter this capital. On April 4 the foreign ministers, defense ministers and perhaps also the heads of government of the 16 other NATO powers will converge on Washington to mark the 10th anniversary of the founding of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

One can almost write the speeches now — ever-growing strings, solidarity unity, all the changes on the familiar words. But behind this handsomely decked facade will be — unless it is solved in the meantime — a conflict involving the high politics of missiles and the defense of the West. For while it is drowned out by the noise of the political dispute here at home over missile strength, or the lack of it, the same controversy engages America's allies.

An incident occurred recently that revealed the nature of the conflict. In the dispute over the Army's intermediate range missile, the Jupiter, and the Air Force's IRBM, the Thor, the Army argued for the mobility of its Jupiter. General John B. Medaris, head of the Redstone Arsenal that developed the Jupiter, claims it can be fired from almost anywhere with the simplest of instruments, whereas the Thor must have a fixed base with extensive installations.

With the Air Force under a White House decision taking over both missiles, Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker received a letter from Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas ordering that no further funds be spent on the development of mobility. The Army had about $48,000,000 which it proposed to use to that end.

Brucker's associates represented him as being indignant at this order. But he felt he could do nothing about it since he believed it had been inspired by Under Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles, who has from the first been the ardent advocate of the Thor.

Because of the attitude of America's allies this gets squarely into the high politics of missile defense. France originally indicated that it will have no American missiles based on French soil. More recently a strong hint has come from General Charles De Gaulle himself that France may eventually accept mobile missiles.

To put in permanent installations, taking valuable French soil and necessitating the presence of American forces, would create political friction, according to the hint from France's new President. What is more, such permanent installations, which would surely be known to the Russians, would be targets for a Soviet nuclear attack.

The Italians are said to feel somewhat the same way about permanent missile bases. Even the West Germans are understood to be dubious about setting up such conspicuous permanent installations.

The British have signed an agreement to take four squadrons of Thors with 15 missiles to a squadron. This is reported to have been on the understanding that they would in the first instance be 50 percent effective and ultimately they will be replaced by Thors that are 85 percent effective.

In view of the developing doubts it would seem that the future strength of the alliance turns in some degree on the settlement of this conflict. But for two reasons the public here at home at least is not likely to get more than a glimpse of what this really signifies.

One reason is the fact that Murray Snyder, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, is imposing an increasingly tight censorship on all information out of the Pentagon. He is also trying to extend his domain over the armed services abroad.

The second reason is that the Air Force will send up a whole series of Thors in experimental shots. These are the missiles that Quarles ordered in numbers to the dismay of many who felt that they had not been sufficiently tested. They will be sent up in the months ahead with mice, insects, monkeys. The skeptics believe this will add little except headlines to America's missile strength.

It may be possible to suppress the whole controversy both at home and abroad. But those who make the decisions will be taking on their shoulders a fearful responsibility for America's future.

Science Develops Potent Pain-Killer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two scientists who developed a potent new pain-killer said today some doctors may be able to get it for their patients, but only under strict regulation.

Dr. Nathan R. Eddy and Dr. Everett L. May said that the drug, 10 times more powerful than morphine, is being produced in only limited quantities for experimental purposes.

They reported it will be six months and possibly longer before the drug, known as NIH 3519, is ready for commercial production.

In the meantime, they said, it will be possible for some doctors to get it. They referred all inquiries to the sole producer, Smith, Kline & French Laboratories of Philadelphia.

But before the drug is released, the manufacturer will have to know something about the doctor and the conditions under which he proposes to use it. The doctor also must agree to follow strict regulations regarding the size of doses.

Availability of the drug will not depend on the nature of the illness as long as the patient normally would be given a pain-killer such as morphine.

Carter Will Take Test On Driving

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Veteran state Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner Jerry Carter will have to take a driving test next month to keep his driving privileges.

The 72-year-old Carter was found guilty in City Court Wednesday of causing an accident recently and ordered to pay $25 fine or serve 15 days in jail.

Carter said he would take a driving test at the Highway Patrol station here Feb. 2.

Committees Alter Tangerine Grades

LAKELAND (UPI)—The Federal Marketing Agreement Committee Tuesday altered minimum size and grade requirements for tangerines in interstate shipments.

The Growers Administrative Committee and the Shippers Advisory Committee voted that for the period Jan. 19 - Feb. 2 all tangerines in interstate shipments must be size 210 or larger, including fancy No. 1 and No. 2 russets.

Court Will Hear 'Mixed' Golf Plea

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A federal court hearing has been set for Feb. 6 on a motion seeking unrestricted play by Negroes on this city's municipal golf courses.

The hearing, set Tuesday by federal Judge Brien Simpson, is another in a series of legal maneuvers begun last July when four Negroes filed for an injunction against the city to keep it from restricting Negroes from daily use of the links.

At the same time, City Commissioner Dallas L. Thomas said if complete integration is ordered he will recommend that the links be closed immediately, pending further study.

White Sox: Hitting Problem

EDITORS NOTE: This is the fourth of 10 dispatches by the major league managers giving mid-winter appraisals of their teams.

By AL LOPEZ
Manager, Chicago White Sox
Written for UPI

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—The White Sox should be better this year, but hitting is the key.

I think we have a good ball club—better than last year. We have good fielding, good speed and good pitching.

Now what we are going to need is a longball hitter and we have high hopes we have him in this young fellow John Calison. He had a real good year at Indianapolis last year. If he connects in the majors he might be just the thing we are looking for.

We've got a big park at Chicago and it takes a longball hitter. We aren't forgetting Sherm Lollar in that department either. I think he hit 20 home runs for us last year, the best season he ever had.

Another thing is that if we start off during the first of the season like we played during the last half of last season—after the All-Star Game—we'll be plenty hard to beat.

We had a bad start last year—played rotten ball—and it cost us plenty. But we finally settled down after the All-Star Game and I think we played the best percentage ball in the league the rest of the season.

And I think we'll be even better than that this season. We have some young boys coming up that should give us a little extra power.

There's Calison, who had a real good year at Indianapolis last year, and there's this boy John Romano, who did a fine job of catching last year at Indianapolis.

They're sure terrific under pressure. McGuire said of his fourth-ranked Tar heels who were supposed to be "a year away" due to lack of experience. "Although they don't always play the way I tell them, they win the games on their own."

Wednesday night's victory achieved before an overflow, basketball crowd of 12,500 at Raleigh, N. C., was the Tar heels 10th in 11 starts this season. The loss was only North Carolina State's second in 13 games.

At Winston-Salem, N. C., Wake Forest jumped to a 13-point lead at halftime and went on to wallop South Carolina, 88-58. George Ritchie led the Deacons with 19 points.

In other games around the country, Dayton beat Xavier of Ohio, 60-56. Bowling Green defeated Toledo, 72-64. Maryland topped Georgetown, 61-55. Navy scuffled Portland State, 61-55. Temple downed Delaware, 64-48. Holy Cross mauled Assumption, 80-47. St. Joseph's whipped St. Francis (Pa.), 82-66. LaSalle upset Syracuse, 71-61. Pennsylvania defeated Columbia, 87-74. Army beat Yale, 74-47.

The curtain lifting comes at a time when we have a young world heavyweight champion, Floyd Patterson, who has been screaming for liberty—freedom to fight without interference from the International Boxing Club.

Now that the IBC clubs of New York and Illinois have been ordered dissolved and their owners divorced completely from Madison Square Garden, amateurs will be mighty interesting to see what Patterson does and how he does it.

At 23, Floyd is just a "baby" compared to the fighter of the year, light heavyweight champion Archie Moore—in his roaring forties—the same Archie whom Floyd knocked out in the fifth round for the vacant heavyweight crown at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956.

Rickard had Jack Dempsey, Jacobs had Joe Louis, Norris had Rocky Marciano for a while. Now, the independent promoters—whenever they are—have Patterson.

And what have they got? No one knows for sure. Manager Gus D'Amato says, "Floyd will hold the title 10 years. And he'll ultimately be recognized as the greatest heavyweight champion of all time."

That's a big order, and D'Amato's critics claim it'll never be filled, even if Gus continues to let Floyd defend against "amateurs."

The champion was on the floor in his two latest defenses against Pete Rademacher and Texan Roy Harris. However, it is recalled that Floyd rose and knocked out both Rademacher and Harris—just as Dempsey, Louis and Marciano did to certain opponents who had floored them.

Record Field Set For Crosby Pro-Am

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The biggest, most star-studded golf tournament in the country got under way here today as 500 amateurs and professionals, playing on three courses, teed off in the $500 Bing Crosby national pro-amateur clambake.

With top names from the fields of sports, entertainment and business participating, the shotnaking got under way in surprisingly good weather.

The three courses, labeled Pebble Beach, beautiful Cypress Point and wooded Monterey Country Club, have been soaked with rains for the past week. But the sun was slated to shine for the full weekend.

"Crosby weather" they call it here—because the rains usually go away for a day or two during this event.

The professional golfers will divide a pot of $35,000 in the individual pro section of the tourney, and pick up another $15,000 in the pro-amateur division.

Green crabs are the number one enemy of the soft-shelled clam.

Barry Latman helped our pitching during the second half of last season and he'll be back with us. Besides, Al Smith should be back with his leg healed.

Naturally, we are strong down the middle. Nelson Fox and Luis Aparicio are the best in the league.

Jim Landis in centerfield had a good season last year and he ought to be just as good this season.

We finished second last year and all I can say is we hope to do better this season.

What about the Yankees? Well, the world champions are always the team to beat and that's just what we'll be trying to do.

There are three other teams besides us in a good position to do it, too—Detroit, Cleveland and Boston.

I do know who will win. But we have a good club. I think if we can improve on our hitting next season we should be real tough to beat.

It'll be the hitting that makes the difference.

They're sure terrific under pressure. McGuire said of his fourth-ranked Tar heels who were supposed to be "a year away" due to lack of experience. "Although they don't always play the way I tell them, they win the games on their own."

Wednesday night's victory achieved before an overflow, basketball crowd of 12,500 at Raleigh, N. C., was the Tar heels 10th in 11 starts this season. The loss was only North Carolina State's second in 13 games.

At Winston-Salem, N. C., Wake Forest jumped to a 13-point lead at halftime and went on to wallop South Carolina, 88-58. George Ritchie led the Deacons with 19 points.

In other games around the country, Dayton beat Xavier of Ohio, 60-56. Bowling Green defeated Toledo, 72-64. Maryland topped Georgetown, 61-55. Navy scuffled Portland State, 61-55. Temple downed Delaware, 64-48. Holy Cross mauled Assumption, 80-47. St. Joseph's whipped St. Francis (Pa.), 82-66. LaSalle upset Syracuse, 71-61. Pennsylvania defeated Columbia, 87-74. Army beat Yale, 74-47.

The curtain lifting comes at a time when we have a young world heavyweight champion, Floyd Patterson, who has been screaming for liberty—freedom to fight without interference from the International Boxing Club.

Now that the IBC clubs of New York and Illinois have been ordered dissolved and their owners divorced completely from Madison Square Garden, amateurs will be mighty interesting to see what Patterson does and how he does it.

At 23, Floyd is just a "baby" compared to the fighter of the year, light heavyweight champion Archie Moore—in his roaring forties—the same Archie whom Floyd knocked out in the fifth round for the vacant heavyweight crown at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956.

Rickard had Jack Dempsey, Jacobs had Joe Louis, Norris had Rocky Marciano for a while. Now, the independent promoters—whenever they are—have Patterson.

And what have they got? No one knows for sure. Manager Gus D'Amato says, "Floyd will hold the title 10 years. And he'll ultimately be recognized as the greatest heavyweight champion of all time."

That's a big order, and D'Amato's critics claim it'll never be filled, even if Gus continues to let Floyd defend against "amateurs."

The champion was on the floor in his two latest defenses against Pete Rademacher and Texan Roy Harris. However, it is recalled that Floyd rose and knocked out both Rademacher and Harris—just as Dempsey, Louis and Marciano did to certain opponents who had floored them.

CHARITY HANDICAP STARTER — Rockin Jo, veteran star at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, is slated to compete in the Charity Handicap tonight when the track stages its fourth annual Charity Night to benefit some 23 charities in Seminole and Orange counties. Trainer Jim Swafford holds Rockin Jo.

Charity Handicap At Track Tonight

A dozen Seminole County charity organizations will share in profits from tonight's Charity Night at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The annual greyhound racing benefit, highlighted by the big Charity Handicap, each year is staged for some 23 organizations in Seminole and Orange counties. Early odds favor Rebel Muttie from the sixth post position in the featured ninth race, the Charity Handicap. The black dog has run with the season club's fastest hounds all season, and experts expect him to shine in the benefit race.

But in order to triumph, the Rebel will have to outscramper such standouts as Horns-neglected and Andy Dandy. Horns-neglected will fire from the fifth position, while Andy Dandy leaps from the first spot.

Those Seminole County charity groups slated to receive a portion of tonight's profits are United Appeal, Ella Lodge, American Legion Post 51 and Post 182, Longwood Medical Center, Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, TB and Health Assn., Cancer Society, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Pilot Club, March of Dimes and Disabled Veterans.

Representatives from most of the participating groups will be on hand for the special ceremonies and literary program.

back to the 4-yard line rather than to the 1-yard line under the old rule.

And a change was made in the procedure in the case of a penalty called on the offensive. Under the new rule, if an offensive team successfully completes a kick for 1 point, but is fouled by the defensive team, it has the option of accepting the penalty—which would place the ball on the 15-yard line—for another try, possibly a 2-point attempt.

In addition to the basic rule changes, the committee also changed the word but not the intent of rules on blocking and off-side penalties. Blockers must still keep their hands and forearms close to their chests to encourage "legitimate" shoulder blocking.

Moss Pledges 'Big-Time' Team For Florida State

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Amiable Perry Moss took over the football coaching helm at Florida State University today and pledged to steer the team to the college big-time.

In a matter of years, he predicted, "FSU will just about be able to play anybody."

He said he planned to line up lougher opponents for the Seminoles in the next few years, including Big 10 teams.

Moss was named Wednesday to replace Tom Nugent, who took over as head football coach at the University of Maryland. Moss formerly coached the Wisconsin backfield, and before that, was an assistant coach at the University of Miami.

"This is a great job," the new coach said.

"I knew when I was at Miami that FSU was one of the finest teams in the country. This is a real opportunity for a coach."

Moss said he will rely on the versatile T formation with various spreads next year, doing away with Nugent's publicized I formation. He said he will use a multiple offense and as much wide open play as possible.

He promised some surprises in store for FSU opponents, including Florida and Miami. During his three years at Miami, the Hurricanes beat the Florida Gators soundly every year.

"I'd like to keep it like that," Moss smiled.

Two big problems facing Moss now are lining up his staff and recruiting new players. He said he still didn't know yet how many of Nugent's staff would follow him to Maryland.

Moss said he might have a recruiting job in do on some of the high schoolers who played to play under Nugent. "To defeat a first rate team on the field," he said, "you've got to defeat them in recruiting."

Stagg's Advice: Behave Yourself; Crisler Silent

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—H.O. (Fritz) Crisler, who at 39 can look back on an illustrious and sparkling career as football coach at Princeton and the University of Michigan, where he is now athletic director, and on nine years as chairman of the NCAA Football Rules Committee, got his communique Wednesday.

Crisler made a touching farewell to his old football coach at the University of Chicago, the celebrated Amos Alonzo Stagg, 96 years young. He thanked Stagg graciously for "the wisdom" he lent to the NCAA meeting where the oldtime Chicago coach acted as an adviser.

"We've had a wonderful time," said Stagg as he prepared to leave for his home in Stockton, Calif.

And then as he shook the hand of his former pupil, Stagg said, "Behave yourself!"

Crisler had no comeback.

Rawls Is Favored In Tampa Tourney

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Betsy Rawls teed off as the favorite today to win the Tampa Women's Open for the fifth time in six years as the country's top female professionals opened their second tourney of the winter tour on the tight Palma Ceia Country Club course.

The touring pros came here from Sanford where they opened the Ladies PGA tour last week. Miss Rawls, from Spartanburg, S. C., didn't come close to winning that one but her phenomenal record at Tampa made her the favorite in the $7,500 72-hole tournament.

But there was plenty of competition in the form of Marlene Hagee of Pittsburgh, winner of the Mayfair Open at Sanford last week, and Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif., the leading 1958 LPGA money winner who placed second in the Sanford tourney.

Subs For Andrade

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Algerian lightweight Labuauri Godth will be Eddie Perkins substitute opponent in next Wednesday's night's nationally-televised fight. Godth replaces Cicero Andrade, forced to withdraw because of an injured shoulder.

Meanwhile, Dale Hall, Blaik's chief assistant and scout for the past three years, disclosed he already has applied for the vacant

Market Destroyed By $200,000 Fire

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—A fast-spreading fire gutted a large supermarket here early today, causing an estimated $200,000 damage. A fire department spokesman described it as the "second worst" fire in the history of this resort city. He said Deyo's Supermarket, one of the South's largest privately owned stores, was a total loss.

One fireman, Richard Hurston, 28, was injured when the heat exploded a plate glass window and splinters of glass were hurled into his face.

A dozen other fire fighters narrowly escaped death or injury when they ran from the blazing building only seconds before the roof raved in.

A blanket of black smoke hung over the city this morning while firemen soaked down the charred ruins to prevent spread of the blaze to adjacent buildings.

Two patrolmen, speeding to answer an emergency call, spotted flames in the huge store shortly before midnight. A general alarm was sounded, bringing fire-fighting units from all parts of the city.

But by the time firemen arrived, the blaze had too much of a start in the old, frame building.

Exploding bottles and canned goods and heavy smoke hampered the firemen. A few entered the building but were forced back by the flames. They made it out just before the roof collapsed.

Pie Eaten Early, Workers On Strike

DOUGCASTER, England (UPI)—Seven hundred automotive workers stayed home from the Ford plant here today because of a pork pie.

The pie was eaten by Donald Parr, 23, five minutes before his mid-morning break at the plant Wednesday. When Parr was fired his co-workers went on strike.

The Nazis melted down an estimated 150,000 German bells in order to help fight World War II, according to the National Geographic Magazine.

Family Vanishes; Empty Auto, Dolls Provide No Clues

MINERA, Va. (UPI)—What happened to the Vernon Jackson family?
Last Sunday night their abandoned automobile was found on a lonely back road. The car's four occupants, Vernon, a 29-year-old feed clerk, Mildred, 29, his wife, and their two children, Susan Ann, 4 and Janet, 18 months, had vanished.

Clues were scanty. Mrs. Jackson's purse, containing one dollar, was found in the car along with a nursing bottle and two dolls. The keys were in the ignition.

Police, bolstered by the testimony of another couple who told of a mysterious stranger who tried to stop them, believe the Jacksons were forced to abandon their car and enter another auto. But why?

"I don't have a motive," Sheriff W. E. Proffitt said.

The other couple, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Waldrop of Montpelier, Va., told police that on Sunday a man in his early 20s with long black hair forced them to stop by cutting in front of their car.

Waldrop said that as the man slipped across the front seat of his car to the right side door, Waldrop backed up and managed to spread away. He said his two children were with them at the time.

The incident occurred about 9 p.m., about 45 minutes before the abandoned Jackson car was found. Police believed they were stopped between 9:45 and 10 p.m. on a roadside midway between their home and the home of Mrs. Jackson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hill.

"Somebody stopped them there and put them in another car... but I don't know why," Proffitt said.

A search of the woods near the area by FBI agents, state and local police turned up no clues.

1958 'Good Year' At Sanford Bank

Directors of the Sanford Atlantic Bank proclaimed 1958 a "very prosperous year" for both the bank and Seminole County.

Net earnings after taxes were $125,677.14, Robert Bauman, bank president, said yesterday.

Bank deposits showed an increase of $837,538.27 over 1957. "We had a substantial number of new accounts, including many from the Navy. And this coming year looks even better for us," Bauman said.

Officers of the Sanford bank, one of eight in the Atlantic National chain, are R. J. Bauman, president; J. W. Shands, chairman of the board; R. F. Mann, vice-president; Bruce G. Paddock, vice-president; H. W. Ivane, cashier, and C. C. Meltrick, assistant cashier.

Bill Seeks Repeal Of Car Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress was asked today to get the economy "rolling at full speed" by repealing the 10 per cent federal excise tax on automobiles.

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich.), author of the bill, said failure by Congress to take action on the same legislation last year "contributed immensely to the crippling economic recession that plagued our nation."

Born of a feud over river commerce with Apalachicola, Calhoun County was formed in 1838. Income is derived from general farming, lumber and livestock. "Raising" worms for fish bait has reached the proportion of a major industry. Calhoun County is noted too, for its tupelo honey, outstanding beef and dairy cattle business, and profitable tung oil industry. The Dead Lakes and picturesque Apalachicola River provide splendid hunting and fishing. County seat is Blountstown, named after an Indian chief and its first settler.

In progressive Calhoun County, and throughout Florida, the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of the people of Florida, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-regulation" program.

AN INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER

VOL. XLIX United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1959 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 350

Old Junior High To Be Demolished

A crumbling monument to the early 1900's will be torn down next week.

Seminole Realtors Told Of Services They Can Perform

Seminole realtors were told last night that their services go "far beyond that of making a deal" that they should, as a service to customers and to community, take a buyer around to show them where they can find utilities, markets, businesses and other places needed to be known to a new comer.

Mrs. Betty Jane Boone Risinger, vice president of the Florida Association of Realtors, and guest speaker at the realtors meeting, stressed many points that they should know and do besides just selling a customer a house.

A highlight of the meeting was the installation of officers. William Stamer was re-elected president. Neil Farmer was named vice-president. Gladys Dawson, secretary-treasurer, Geraldine Waller, corresponding secretary, and Wally Dietrich, director.

Among the guests were Sanford Mayor Al Wilson and County Commissioner Chairman John Kridler.

Mrs. Risinger said that a realtor "must know architecture, advertising and many little things," so that the customer can get all of the facts.

Mrs. Risinger gave four reasons why people buy: (1) for comfort, (2) the opposite sex, (3) to avoid embarrassment, (4) to protect reputation.

A motion for a committee to inform the Welcome Wagon of newcomers to the Sanford area will be looked into and brought up at the next meeting.

The dinner meeting at Jim Spencers was ended by singing Happy Birthday to one of the members, J. W. Hall.

Junior Cage Loop Formed In Sanford

Junior basketball has come to Sanford.

Six teams are scheduled for practice sessions tomorrow in the National Guard Armory. The teams are a result of a basketball clinic held last Saturday, when more than 50 boys learned the fundamentals from Seminole County basketball coaches.

The 11 a. m. practice session tomorrow will be followed by weekly official league games at the Armory. A junior basketball court has been laid out for the boys, who are in the B12 age group.

The league is sponsored by the Sanford Recreation Department. Ronald Perry, director, cited the activities. Coaches for the league are Harold Sherwood, Rip Stamp, John Anteburg, Ira Hindman, Oscar Pennington, Buck Melts, Wendell Springfield and Bill Proctor.

County coaches who conducted the clinic were Paul Miller, Bud Loyer, Dick Silvers, Howard Gordie, Metts and Proctor. Silvers is in charge of officiating and statistics. The league is patterned after the Biddy Basketball.

Rotary Will Hear Professor Monday

A professor from the University of Florida will address the Sanford Rotary Club Monday.

Norman H. Thomson, of the School of Business Administration, has chosen "What's Ahead for Business" as his topic.

Thomson spoke to several Sanford civic clubs last year, and was well-received. The luncheon will be held in the Civic Center at noon.

Capt. Yow was in command of a C-124 Globemaster, carrying cargo to Anchorage, Alaska, when two of the four engines failed. He was a grandson of Mrs. T. A. Turner Sr., Sanford.

Squadron One Added To Local Family

The jet planes of VAH1 swooped into the Naval Air Station this morning for official welcoming ceremonies honoring the squadron, formerly based at Jacksonville.

Capt. James Ramage, command or Heavy Attack Wing One, met Cdr. Sid Baney as he stepped from his A3D Skywarrior. Two Cougars and eight A3Ds landed behind the skipper of Sanford's newest squadron.

Cdr. Baney told the welcoming committee: "We flew about 700 feet above Sanford, so I'm sure the city knows we have arrived."

On hand to greet the new squadron were members of the Armed Forces Committee, headed by Andrew Caraway, Mayor of Jacksonville this afternoon to bring their families back to Sanford.

Down town the welcome banner flew across First St. and residents of Sanford and Seminole County made plans to absorb the new squadron into the community.

Approximately 350 men and their families were added to the Sanford area with the arrival of VAH1.

School Board Lets Several Contracts

An insurance committee was appointed by the Seminole County School Board yesterday morning.

The committee will advise the board on an insurance program for county schools, which are on the brink of a $2 million construction program. Appointed to the board were H. James Gitt, Robert Kain and Andrew Caraway.

Bids were rejected on an inter-communication system for Croswell Academy. The board felt that a low bid of $1,807 and a high bid of $6,024 were "completely out of line."

Contracts were signed with John Burton, architect, for the renovation of Oviedo High School and the addition to Oviedo Elementary School. R. T. Milwee, superintendent of county schools, told the board that the additions would be completed before the next school year.

Enrollment in Oviedo schools has increased by 21 per cent in the last four months of this school year. The school board adopted a resolution requesting the city of Oviedo to close the road immediately in front of Oviedo High School. The board will pay $500 toward the paving of a street skirting the present home economics building and the proposed cafeteria.

Preliminary plans were approved for the Rosenwald and Midway Schools.

'Red Pepper' Papa Now 100, Plans To 'Live Little Slow'

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Luis Carrizales, 100, "red hot pepper" father of six children in the last 14 years, says he plans on "living slow."

The part-Cherokee Indian, whose wife was 21 when they were married in 1915, said on his 100th birthday Thursday he didn't plan to have any more children.

But he said, he had never been "sorry about our marriage."

"Living slow" didn't mean idleness, though, he said, celebrating the turn of his own century by walking a mile in the morning.

The busy oldster, who daily skipped rope until he broke his foot at 85, still walks four or five miles a day.

After three marriages and 13 children, ranging from 7 to 10, Carrizales wasn't likely to consider 100 all. His mother, he said, lived to be 116.

He met his present wife, Mary, at a tire and rubber plant here where they helped produce war-time B29 bullet-proof tanks. He switched to painting in his later years.

Carrizales' wife said he used to take "peppers in his lunch" every day to work. A foreman said he was as strong and tough as any of our men. He retired from work in 1953.

George Barr Given Keys To Longwood

LONGWOOD—Opening ceremonies were held here yesterday for the George Barr Empire School.

The program was highlighted by Barr's talk to the 25 young men that constitute this year's student body. The ebullient Barr told the men about the great need for athletes in organized baseball today, and urged them to develop judgment and self-confidence so they will be able to master every situation that arises on the field.

The men attending the school this year come from coast to coast, one from Puerto Rico.

Barr introduced Harry Brown, a graduate of the school, now umpiring in the Western League. Brown will be his chief aide. National League umpire Lon Burkhardt, who came to Barr's school in 1931, fresh from the pitching mound of the St. Louis Cardinals, will also be an instructor.

Another highlight of the afternoon was the introduction of Mrs. John J. McGraw, wife of the New York Giants. She was accompanied by Mrs. Harry Walter, whose husband was business manager for the great Babe Ruth.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Charlie Morrison of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. The Rev. Robert Spear, Sanford Nazarene Church, gave the invocation. The meeting was closed with a prayer by Chaplain Niles Hubler, Catholic chaplain at the Sanford Naval Air Base.

The key to the city of Longwood was presented to Barr by Mayor Al Lormann, vice president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Bishop John Branscomb Dies; Funeral Saturday

ORLANDO (UPI)—Bishop John W. Branscomb, Methodist bishop for Florida and Cuba, died unexpectedly in a hospital here today. He was 53.

Bishop Branscomb had been hospitalized here since Jan. 6 with a heart condition. Doctors said he appeared to be on the way to recovery when he apparently suffered another seizure shortly before midnight.

He had been bishop of Florida and Cuba since 1952.

Funeral services were scheduled at 11 a. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church of Orlando where he served as pastor immediately prior to being elected bishop. Burial will be at 3 p. m. Sunday in Union Springs, Ala., where he was born.

The family requested that no flowers be sent and that any such expression of sympathy be made to missions in Cuba.

The bishop apparently suffered a heart attack in his home in Jacksonville Jan. 3 but was unaware of the seriousness of his condition. He drove to Ocala the next day to preach at an evangelical rally and again complained of chest pains.

After the rally he called his doctor in Orlando who ordered him to go to the hospital here for a checkup.

He had been reported in fair condition since the attack, although no visitors were permitted to see him.

Bishop Branscomb was named the "Methodist of the Year" in 1951 by the World Outlook, a missionary periodical of the church.

Dr. J. Philip said Jimmy Lee Davis "should be all right," but recommended that "the child be taken from his parents."

The boy's condition had been listed as critical Thursday, a victim of acute alcoholism.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis, are in jail here charged with public drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

The mother said Jimmy Lee drank about a quart of whisky while she, her husband, and her brother drank about two gallons of "moonshine" starting Saturday morning.

"Scott gave whisky to my young son. I don't do it myself. He gives it to them and I can't help it," she said.

Davis said he didn't "remember a thing about it."

The couple and Mrs. Davis' brother, Robert Shirley, were arrested Thursday by the state highway patrol and the child was taken to the hospital.

Physicians said the boy could not have lived much longer had he not received medical aid.

Seminole Reports 'Slow' Tag Sales

License tag sales are going slowly in Seminole County.

After the first surge spent, sales dropped off and are now 800 behind the number sold last year at the same time.

The new plates may be purchased now at the Tag Office in the courthouse, with no waiting. At the deadline of Feb. 20 approximately 100,000 more plates will be sold, long lines will form and motorists will find themselves delayed considerably.

After Feb. 20 it will be illegal to drive a vehicle with a '58 Florida tag. Tag Collector John L. Galloway, who also is agent for the Motor Vehicle Commissioner, has urged motorists to get their '59 tags before the last-minute rush.

Invention Termed 'Significant' In Atomic Research

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House today unveiled a five-pound atomic generator which experts of the Atomic Energy Commission hailed as a "significant breakthrough" in producing electric power from heat.

The new device was presented to President Eisenhower for a demonstration on his office desk by John A. McCone, chairman of the AEC.

The generator, according to the AEC, has an efficiency 20 times greater than any known before in the translation of heat into electric power. Its first immediate application was expected to be as the power source for broadcasting units and instruments fired into space aboard American satellites.

The device opens the way for use of millions of gallons of radioactive atomic waste material now stored in underground vaults in the West.

Over a period of 236 days, the government scientists said a total of 1,450 pounds of batteries would be needed to produce the same amount of energy which the new generator could turn out. The satellite which broadcasted the President's voice from space shortly before Christmas carried 20 pounds of batteries which lasted for 18 days.

Officials said the new atomic generator could have kept the satellite broadcasting station in the satellite going next Christmas.

LEWISBURG, Tenn. (UPI)—A doctor pronounced a 3-year old child, found in a drunken stupor Thursday, out of danger today at a hospital here.

FSU Coach Gets Okay From Board

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The state Board of Control today approved Perry Jones as football coach at Florida State University with a three-year contract at a salary of $11,000 a year.

FSU President Robert Strozio recommended the three-year contract to give Moss "security and a sufficient time to prove himself."

The approval of Moss' contract to succeed Tom Nugent at FSU was the main item of business today for the Board.

The Board went along with Strozio's recommendation unanimously, pointing out that its policy against contracts for coaches did not apply to new men.

Moss was backfield coach at the University of Wisconsin. Nugent was hired away from FSU by the University of Maryland.

Blackberry Picker Finds $2 Million In Gold Bars?

CORSICANA, Tex. (UPI)—D. K. Jones, who says he found an estimated $2,000,000 worth of gold bars in a blackberry patch, is expecting a visit today from Secret Service men.

He and his lawyer, Tom Pollard Jr., are offering to help the government in "every way."

Jones said he thinks the gold was either buried in a box or cowhide.

"I found some peculiar looking objects that could have been decayed wood or cowhide," he said. "But whatever it was, it was all rotted away when I found it."

Jones said he did not ask the government what to do about it, but U.S. Atty. William Steger asked Secret Service agents to inquire into the case.

Jones, the father of eight children, works 12 hours daily in a service station. He has no plans to give up his job until he finds out how much gold he can keep.
