U. S. Consumers Worried About Economic Outlook

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP)—American consumers are worried about the economic outlook for themselves and the nation, a report by the University of Michigan's survey research center said today.

The center's nationwide survey was conducted during late November and December 1957 and is the latest in a twice-yearly series going back to 1952.

The center said the survey showed consumer optimism in the economy dropped during 1957 from its all-time high in September 1956. By June 1957, consumer optimism dropped from the high of 113 on the center's attitude index to 104. By December last year the index sank to about 95, slightly above the 93 registered during the recession of late 1953.

But the center pointed out that more than half the consumers in the U. S., 54 per cent, still believe times in 1958 will be "good" on the whole. A year ago, about 75 per cent of U. S. consumers expected "good" times in 1957.

Awareness of recent unfavorable economic reports, said the center, has lowered America's inclination to buy houses and new or used cars.

The survey revealed Americans now believe the U. S. is in the grips of a recession. High prices, "uncertain times," and high expenses were also often cited by consumers as reasons for their worries.

National Income Hits Record Rate In Third Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP)—National income climbed to a record annual rate in the third quarter of 1957 and then fell back as the current business decline set in, the government has reported.

The Commerce Department said income hit a record annual rate of 362 billion dollars in the July-September quarter last year—$17,500,000,000 more than in the comparable period of 1956.

It said the increase brought the annual income rate for the first nine months of the year to $38,500,000,000, up 4 1/2 per cent from 1956.

The department said it could not give an over-all income figure for the year 1957 because it still lacked data on corporate profits. But it noted "national income turned downward" in the closing months by an undetermined amount because of slumping business conditions.

President Eisenhower estimated in his annual economic report to Congress that national income for all of 1957 totaled $38,300,000,000—the same as in the first nine months of the year.

This presumably was a rounded-off figure, however, and probably will be replaced by a more precise total when all the facts are in.

Tax Law Changes Before Congress

CHICAGO—Changes in the federal tax law, expected to be considered this year by Congress, would affect the plans of many taxpayers, a national reporting authority on tax and business law believes.

Commerce Clearing House, in its 1957 annual federal tax review, said the second session of Congress faces a mountain of unfinished tax business in the 1,538 bills introduced last year.

Important among the measures already before Congress is the Mills "Technical Amendments Bill," which would accomplish far more than its title indicates, CCH said. Many of its 61 sections are designed to close loopholes or relieve hardships under current law.

CCH said Congress probably would consider sweeping changes in federal excise taxes, particularly the Forand Bill which has been passed by the House. This bill, which awaits Senate action, proposes changes designed to correct excise tax inequities and competitive disparities.

New Tax High Special attention probably will be focused on small business tax relief, CCH said. A series of hearings during the fall and winter at various cities were held by the Senate Small Business Committee proprietary to drafting a small business tax bill.

Also expected, CCH said, is the early enactment of provisions which would secure greater compliance with the law on the part of employers and others in paying taxes to the government, withheld from employee or collected from customers.

For the year ended June 30, 1957, Clearing House reported, federal tax collections reached a new high of 80 billion dollars, up five billion over fiscal 1956.

While all major taxes contributed to the increase, CCH said, the largest gain—almost four billion dollars—occurred in individual income and employment tax collections. Excise tax collections also were boosted due to higher sales and new taxes under the Highway Revenue Act, Clearing House said.

ST. JOHN'S ENVELOPED OUT NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern College Athletic Conference singled out St. John's 9-0 today as the top candidate for its new basketball trophy for major colleges. Brandeis 11-1 is the leader in the small college race.

Demo Party, Allies Are Pressing President For More Spending

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Democratic Party and its political allies are pressing President Eisenhower for more spending. This is remarkable because the Eisenhower administration already has established a new high for spending the taxpayers' money.

Pressure for spending is not limited to Democrats and such left-of-center political allies as New York's liberal party and spokesmen for organized labor.

Republican members of the Congressional farm bloc, for example, have put on the pressure for more spending to support farm prices.

Spending pressure from whatever source but, especially, from Democratic sources raises a question: How much spending is enough or, more importantly, how much is too much?

Back in the Truman years, the Democratic Party was in a position to fix spending levels and objectives to suit its idea of what was good for the country. That idea also is considerably influenced, regardless of who runs the government, by considerations of what would be good for the party-in-power.

Spent Liberally

Barring a two-year lapse during the term of the 80th Congress, Democrats ran the White House and the legislative branch during the Truman years. These Democratic managers of the nation and trustees of the people's welfare were liberal spenders but not so liberal with the people's money as the Eisenhower administration has been.

This, of course, was a contradiction of all reasonable forecasts and for several reasons. The Truman administration in its final years had an expensive war going and there had been presumed to be great economies in peace. Moreover, government economy has been basic in Republican Party policy over the years.

The high costs of war and the relative economies of peace can be demonstrated in the history of any modern nation. Basic party commitments to government economy do not, however, have the same staying power. Old timers will recall the sarcastic Franklin D. Roosevelt summoned the Hoover administration in the presidential campaign of 1932.

For Promised Cut

FDR promised that he would reduce government spending by 25 per cent. The Roosevelt economy effort continued not more than a couple of months after his inauguration on March 4, 1933. Thereafter government spending consistently exceeded all previous peacetime reords.

During the national defense upsurge aroused by the Soviet Union's launching of Sputnik I, President Eisenhower pledged greater defense spending, notably toward a U. S. entry into outer space. He said much of the additional spending would be offset by elimination of whole categories of non-defense programs.

It is not likely, however, that the taxpayer will get the benefit of these or any economies. The new Eisenhower budget maintains a high level of home front as well as of defense spending.

Budget Director Pervelud G. Brundage was before the Senate Finance Committee this week. Republican and Democratic members, alike, warned him that Congress will not accept cuts in home front spending.

Not surprising, this being an election year.

U. S. Saves Confab From Abject Failure

ANKARA, Turkey (UP)—The United States saved the Baghdad Pact conference from abject failure.

But the "northern tier" alliance still is a weak fledgling which could be pulled apart by the conflicting interests and fears of its members — Turkey, Iran, Pakistan, Iraq and Britain.

As a collective security organization, the pact still has a long way to go. It is beset by problems which often threaten to obscure its basic purpose—defense against the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now en route home, was satisfied, however, that the four-day meeting which ended Thursday turned out better than he expected. Two key speeches by Dulles made the difference.

The Moslem members reflected the changed atmosphere in their closing speeches.

When the premiers and foreign ministers met Monday in the still unfinished Turkish Grand Assembly Building, there was a definite feeling that Dulles was bringing only himself to the conference, and that was not enough.

Held Out Loan Prospects

In addition to their own individual troubles, the pact members tended to feel they were not getting either moral support or the money they needed from the United States to meet the Soviet penetration of the Middle East with its program of threats and economic aid.

The turning point came Wednesday, the day before the conference ended.

On the opening day, Dulles already had reaffirmed that U. S. "mobile power" would be used under the Eisenhower doctrine to back the pact members against any Communist aggression.

The Mississippi Democrat told newsmen the Defense Department should be limited to military projects in outer space research until Congress decides whether overall authority in the field should be vested in a civilian agency.

Senate Studies Defense Bill

The issue confronted the Senate Appropriations Committee in the form of a 10 million dollar item in a House approved $1,200,000,000 supplemental money bill to speed defense efforts in the missile race with Russia.

Other Senate Needs:

- Russian emphasis on a huge submarine fleet, NATO Atlantic Commander Adm. Jerauld Wright said, indicates the Soviets do not expect another world war to be "over in a few days."
- Wright said the Russians now have 450 combat ready subs—the largest underwater fleet "the world has ever known."
- If S. officials said they have received reports Russia is preparing to launch its third earth satellite—a monster weighing possibly 2,000 pounds.
- Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) said the "day of the sagger is coming." He warned against over-concentration of missile satellite efforts. Case said Americans still must grapple with other tough problems, such as education, that are basic to national security.

Advances In Nuclear Defense

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today new tests in the Pacific this year will advance nuclear defenses against enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Earlier this week, on Tuesday, Maj. Gen. John P. Daly of the Army's special weapons branch told Congress's Nike-Zeus antimissile missile bases could be established by 1962.

Meanwhile, the Air Force has said it will test nuclear explosions in space above the atmosphere to determine their effectiveness against enemy space missiles.

Presumably such tests would mean detonation of missile-borne warheads high above the Eisenhower proving grounds in the Pacific.

Advance Defense Weapons

In its 3rd semi-annual report to Congress, the commission said that Pacific tests starting in April will advance the development of weapons for defense against aggression whether airborne, missile-borne, or otherwise mounted.

The AEC also:

- Announced a program to develop peaceful uses of atomic explosions, including "excavation."
- The commission believes nuclear blasts deep underground may be used to level mountain ridges and store energy. An underground shot in Nevada last year is believed to have sealed perhaps as much as 90 per cent of its energy in a 700-foot shaft that can be tapped.
- The AEC is now drilling down toward this pool of energy.

Progress Without Precedent

—Reported that in 1957 "some firms" dropped out of atomic industry, a fact which "may temporarily deter new firms from entering." But despite this "adjustment," progress "without precedent" has been made in the past three years toward economic nuclear power and establishment of an atomic energy industry. It said "no other major scientific discovery has ever before been applied so quickly to so many practical uses."

—Said that paralleling growth of the U. S. industry "has been the expansion throughout the free world of organized effort to put atomic science, atomic tools, and atomic technology to work for human betterment."

Mrs. Spencer's March On Polio Here Tonight, 7-8 p. m.

An army of Sanford and Seminole County women will be marching against polio tonight beginning at seven o'clock and continuing for just one hour.

Mrs. R. E. Spencer, chairman of the Mothers March on Polio, announced yesterday the roster of ladies who will assist tonight.

The March this year marks 29 years of service of the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Spencer pointed out that "if you forget to leave your porch light on and no one contacts you for a contribution, those wishing to contribute can call The Sanford Herald until 9:30 this evening and someone will come by."

Every section of the county will be covered by the Mothers March on Polio, Mrs. Spencer said today. "Mothers in all sections of the county will call on their neighbors for contributions to provide continued aid and rehabilitation for polio patients," she said.

Those participating in the Mothers March tonight will deliver a special message of vital significance to mothers and fathers. Home owners will signal their desire to give by turning on their porchlight or by placing a lighted candle in a front window. Apartment occupants will tie a handkerchief or ribbon to the doorknob to signify their wish to make a contribution.

Headquarters for the Mothers March on Polio will be at the Sanford Herald Office tonight from 7 o'clock until all of the mothers participating have reported in.

75 Pct. Recovery By '59 Seen For Citrus Industry

"Experts say we'll have 75 per cent recovery by 1959," Dan Wright, vice president of Patrick Fruit Corp. and president of Florida Orange Marketeers, told the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Wright discussed the facts in the statewide citrus industry with members of the Jaycees at the noon luncheon meeting and then opened the floor for questions.

"The local citrus man, who is also one of the 12 directors of the Florida Citrus Commission, saw the incidents of two freezes, one in December and one in January. Temperatures and durations exceeded anything this state has had since the '95 freeze," Wright told the young businessmen.

Then he revealed that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has cut 22 million boxes from the 1957-58 crop which would be "the loss in two freezes."

"The loss can range anywhere from $40 to $100 million," Dan Wright explained to the Jaycees who listened intently to his report.

Then Wright came back with facts, stating "the economic loss would not be so severe because of price but it doesn't work that way."

The 75 cents a box increase which is being realized now will not represent the loss that has been experienced, he stated.

In detail, the Sanford citrus man explained the concentrate problems at the present time and what they would face in the future. "From an economic standpoint," he said, "frozen concentrate will continue to sell—but a certain group of people will be removed from the picture."

"This thing has been far-reaching," said Wright "and we won't come back next month or next year."

Everyone in the industry is "working night and day to try to solve the problem of what can be done," he said.

Wright was introduced by Herbert Stenstrom, program chairman for yesterday's meeting.

Mrs. Rita Bauer, prior to the guest speaker, appealed to the Jaycees in behalf of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary and the Hill Fever Folioes.

M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Jaycees said "everyone here will be there either in front or back—looking or working."

Stennis Asks Check Rein On McElroy In Space Research

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. John C. Stennis called today for a check rein on Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy in outer space research.

The Mississippi Democrat told newsmen the Defense Department should be limited to military projects in outer space research until Congress decides whether overall authority in the field should be vested in a civilian agency.

Senate Studies Defense Bill

The issue confronted the Senate Appropriations Committee in the form of a 10 million dollar item in a House approved $1,200,000,000 supplemental money bill to speed defense efforts in the missile race with Russia.

Slayer Says Killed Because Of Haired Built Up In Self

GERING, Neb. (UP)—Mass killer Charles Starkweather has admitted murdering 11 persons in two states because of a "hatred that built up in me," authorities said today.

"Since I was a child I wanted to be an outlaw, but I didn't want it to go this far," the 19-year-old Lincoln, Neb., sharpshooter told authorities.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp of Lincoln said Starkweather made the statements Thursday night during their trip by car from Douglas, Wyo., to Gering.

Earlier, Wyoming officials arraigned Starkweather on charges of premeditated jurisdiction over Starkweather and his 14-year-old sweetheart, Caril Fugate, for prosecution in Nebraska.

Starkweather, a stocky, red-haired gunman, was captured Wednesday night in a bullet-punctured police chase near Douglas shortly after he had killed his 11th victim, a traveling salesman.

Lincoln officials wasted no time extraditing Starkweather and Caril to Nebraska where Starkweather faces the death penalty on a murder charge. Caril also has been charged with murder, but claims she was Starkweather's terrified hostage on his murder spree.

"I want to go back to Nebraska because Wyoming has a gas chamber and I don't like the smell of gas," Starkweather was quoted as saying by the Sheriff.

"I suppose they'll have the chair ready for me."

Chellman Named Farm Forester For This County

The appointment of Charles W. Chellman as Farm Forester for Seminole and two adjoining counties was announced today by District Forester J. H. Smith of the Florida Forest Service.

Chellman replaces Albert Lundy who recently was promoted to Ass't District Forester in Tallahassee.

The new farm forester, said Smith, comes well qualified with his past experience in the field of forestry. He is a graduate of the University of Florida and in addition holds a Masters Degree from Duke University.

The forester has been a resident of Florida for 28 years.

Winds To Continue Over Canaveral For Several Days

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—High altitude winds which would block attempts to launch the Army's satellite missile may continue over Cape Canaveral for days, forecasters said today.

A powerful jet stream carrying blasts up to 200 miles an hour swept directly over the cape, where the big Jupiter C missile was believed almost ready for the nation's second attempt to fling a satellite into space to match Russia's Sputnik II.

Other missiles, including an Intercontinental Atlas and an Air Force Intermediate range Thor, also stood in their towers at the cape. But whether the jet stream winds would affect any plans to launch them was unknown.

The Jupiter C became the nation's first hope of getting a satellite into orbit around the earth when the Navy Vanguard satellite carrier was grounded with mechanical difficulties which also resulted from bad weather during several attempts to launch the booster rocket last week.

Summerfield Will Lead Free Tennis Clinic Tomorrow

Children of all ages are reminded of the free tennis clinic to be staged at the court of the Grove Manor Tennis Club tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Sid Summerfield, well-known tennis instructor, who has conducted successful clinics in many cities throughout the country, will furnish rackets and balls without charge.

Tomorrow morning's event will be the second in a series of ten free clinics intended to give children a splendid foundation in one of the finest of all competitive sports.

THE FEMALE LION CUB, one of the two that are to arrive in Sanford Wednesday morning. She is leash broken. The cubs are gifts of the Florida State Bank and the local Jaycees.

Cubs Arrive Wednesday Morning

Two lion cubs will arrive in Sanford next Wednesday morning to take their places in the local zoo.

Traveling by plane from Cleveland, O. on a non-stop Middle Airlines flight and then met by big-wigs and dignitaries from Sanford, the two cubs will take their place in a parade and then get a royal welcome to the city.

The two cubs, of the same litter, are coming to Sanford from the Cleveland Zoological Society which operates the Cleveland Zoo. The female of the pair has been leash broken and at present goes home with Mike the Zookeeper in Cleveland.

Both cubs are gifts to the Municipal Zoo.

The first one, a male, is a gift of the Florida State Bank and was purchased after long negotiations by Mervin Crandall of the FSB staff with bank dignitaries in Chicago.

As a matter of fact, the vice president of the Chicago National Bank will be in Sanford to celebrate the arrival of the two cubs.

The second cub, female, is a gift of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce and purchased from funds which were raised for the expansion of the Sanford Zoo.

Many of the Jaycees and Jayceettes will go to the airport to greet the new tenants of the lions cage at the Sanford Zoo.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles is having the lions cages in the Sanford Zoo renovated and modernized for the two cubs arriving on Feb. 8. Yesterday workmen were busy ripping away the old cage.

So far there are no names for the Mr. and Miss of the Lion World. It is expected that a contest will get underway soon after arrival of the pair in order to select suitable names for them.

First thing though, according to Mervin Crandall and others who are interested in making the zoo one of the state's finest attractions, "is to get the two cubs here in the grand and regal fashion of the Lion world."

RESULT OF "JUST SHOOTING"—Police look at a part of a truck trailer loaded with dynamite after it exploded near Lebanon, Tenn. Two teen-age boys were "just shooting at things" set off the tremendous blast when they fired rifle shells into the explosive-laden vehicle. One of the boys, 15-year-old Glenn C. Gully, was killed in the ensuing blast, while his companion, Charles Pruitt, 17, was seriously injured. (UP Telephoto)

Beyond the timber line rises sheer rock, towering above the clouds themselves. Looking at this great giant of nature we marvel at God's creations . . . and are aware of the comparative insignificance of man.
Yet, man is far from insignificant, save in physical size. For God, after all, made man in His image. And He gave man a brain, and a soul, with a sense of right and wrong. He gave him character and responsibility.
It is man who can progress to heights far greater than this mountain. But he needs help to do it—God's help, through the help of the Church.
You weren't meant to stand alone in this world. Remember that . . . and go to Church this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a bulwark of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It Will Take More Than Dollars To Solve America's Situation!

It will take more than dollars to solve the situation today!

We've heard rousing comments on the proposed budget on which our federal government will operate during the next fiscal year. And the figures run into astronomical figures — a figure that has been set at $74 billion.

None of us can even conceive the remotest idea as to what $74 billion might be — or what it might do. There is no plan by which we can be shown "just how much" this proposed $74 billion really is.

What we do know is that we are told the figure for operating the federal government in the coming year must be just that.

And then we've heard of the figures $1 billion — $2 billion — all going to this and that arm of the government or for that section of defense — or for what have you!

We do know too, that in the end, whatever the figure might be in the final analysis, must come out of our pockets. Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, wherever they might be, will foot the bill — whether it is for defense, missiles, college degrees, housing, agriculture and the multitude of departments and programs.

Will the dollars be enough, enough, to carry the programs of the United States of America to their final conclusion?

Citizens here in Sanford, Seminole County, Florida, and throughout the country have been looking for a tax decrease, expected one, and they are certainly due one.

You Bet Your Life Every Day!

If you had $18,000,000, would you bet it all against a single dollar bill that you could pass a speeding car in a split second? Of course you wouldn't — the odds are all out of line. Yet people bet those odds every day. The average person 35 years of age has 18,000,000 minutes of life expectancy remaining, and many repeatedly gamble every bit of it in an attempt to save on one minute or to less of time. When you do this, you don't bet money, you bet a lot more. In fact "You Bet Your Life".

A hardware man found this pretty sturdy thought in one of his trade magazines, and he's passing it around — so to speak — for his friends and neighbors to read.

To continue the thought: The shell game has plucked the savings from many a sucker — folks who risked a few dollars to win a lot more and lost the few they had. Card games, dice tables, and race tracks still fleece many gullible and greedy people of their folding money . . . and more. But they aren't really the big losers in the game

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"A good name is better than precious ointment."

But along came Mr. Sputnik and the apple cart turned over!

We've been lagging! Science is behind times! Russia will take over the lead now! When will America catch up! — Those are the screams that were heard over every ticker — microphone — and silver screens of television.

What is the true situation then — and what will it take to solve our problem?

Dollars will never do the job alone — history tells us that.

Faith is the answer. Faith in our fellowman, faith in one another, faith in our leaders — and then faith of our leaders in the people of America! It's going to take all of that and more. The "more" we're speaking of is faith in God.

Until we come to our senses and stop all of the screaming — get down to sensible business about the budgets — and on our knees in prayer, there will be confusion, animosity, demands, hatred and all of the other purveyors of turmoil that "the commanding officer of Hades" can muster.

America is the greatest country in the world and will continue to be the biggest influence over all the globe — if we will just come to our senses and realize that the United States of America was founded on faith and prayer! It grew and prospered for that same reason and it will continue to be the world's most influential nation should we but realize the truths and reasons for America being the country that it is today!

of chance. All they lose is money. It is possible to lose a whole lot more.

Every time you ignore a safety rule — at home or at work — you bet your life. Every time you skip wearing safety glasses, safety shoes, or any other safety apparel — or use your machine without its proper guard or safety device; every time you step into a busy street without looking first; every time you walk under a working crane or stack and handle materials carelessly; every time you take a chance you bet your life.

Why gamble something which means so much — when the odds are so ridiculous; the rewards so small; and the penalties so great. Is it smart to play it safe? You bet your life!

A new actor bearing the name Rip Torn has appeared on the American scene. For any young actor who feels the need to follow the trend toward such names we suggest that he consider the name Slice Ham.

A number of politicians have as yet refrained from declaring themselves presidential candidates. They are willing to stand out in the open where the lightning can strike them, however.

Letters To Editor

The Editor
The Sanford Herald
Sanford, Florida

My Dear Sir:

We wish to extend our thanks to you for the many wonderful write-ups and pictures you inserted in your paper, both before and after the Outboard Regatta which our club sponsored in Lake Monroe on Sunday, January 19th. The members of our club worked very hard to put on these races but your excellent publicity was what it took to bring the record crowd out to witness this great event.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. A. W. Woodall,
Commander,
Sanford Boat and Ski Club

The Editor,
The Sanford Herald,
Sanford, Florida

Dear Sir:

May I, on behalf of the Junior and Senior Chamber of Commerce, take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the cooperation that you and your paper showed in helping make "Courtesy Week" a success. Certainly the interest that you took in this program was one of the determining factors in making it successful.

Yours very truly,
C. Howard McNulty

The Editor,
The Sanford Herald,
Sanford, Florida

Dear Sir:

Congratulations to you on the outstanding editorial which appeared in your January 22nd issue in reference to "Jaycee Week."

I am not a Jaycee, yet I believe your editorial truly gave them the credit they have earned. Not only did I think the contents of the editorial to be good but the writing style was outstanding. Truly yours,
Andrew Snelling

Washington See-Saw

By Wm. Pennington

Sikes Moves In — Two weeks ago we told how Congressman Bob Sikes had called a meeting of the Florida Delegation to urge a unified stand on military construction in Florida. And now, to further strengthen his hand, and protect vital-building projects, Sikes has managed to have himself named vice-chairman of a special newly created subcommittee that will deal with all military construction. All appropriations dealing with military construction will be in the hands of this small group. Sikes has been trying to strengthen our military year after year (he's a colonel in the reserves) and certainly his new position will give him opportunities to move in that direction.

Cutting Red Tape — Thanks to a bit of persuasive talking on the part of Senator Holland, thousands of starving cattle in Central Florida will be fed this week — without the necessity of their owners signing the usual "pauper's oath" for the grain.

Up until now, when a disaster area is set up and feed is distributed, a farmer hasn't been able to secure emergency feed unless he signed a paper saying he was broke. If he had any assets, he was expected to sell them. After that, the government might help if the man needed it. The principle was one which said that if you have three starving animals you should sell one to feed the other two.

In other cases, the processing of loans took so much time that the cattle could starve while waiting for the papers to clear through normal governmental channels. But Senator Holland this week prevailed on the Department of Agriculture to release food at once, without the oath and without the long drawn out red tape. Until February 5th, when the program will be reviewed, cattle feed in Central Florida will be handed out regardless of a farmer's ability to pay. Holland said, "Save the cattle first, then let's get the payments straightened out. This is an emergency." All of this feed is paid for by the Commodity Credit Corporation's vast stock of farm surplus.

Ho Hum — There is a story going around Capitol Hill about a Congressman who told his friend about a dream he had the night before. He said, "I dreamed I was making a speech on the floor of the House, and when I woke up, I was." That is as bad as speech I made not long ago in Pennsylvania. As I was about half way through my speech (I had been talking about an hour), a fellow in the audience went to sleep. His wife tried to wake him up. She thumped him on the head with her thumb. He sat up and said, "Honey, you'll have to hit me harder than that. I can still hear him."

Rosy Outlook? — Sooner or later everything gets into politics. No, it is roses. Congressman Jim Davis, of Georgia, has introduced a bill to make the rose our national flower. That's all right with Georgia. Their state flower is the Cherokee Rose. But what about everybody else? What about the orange blossom? You'll never see all politicians to agree on one flower. Each will be under pressure from the folks back home to push for their favorite flower. Any way you look at it, the bill will never even get to a vote until somebody finds out whether a rose is Republican or Democratic. How can you vote until you know which side you are on?

Washington Scene — Here for the annual meeting of the National Agricultural Limestone Institute was R. M. "Whit" Palmer Jr., of Dolomite Products, Inc., Ocala. Seen in the Staller chatting with Florida Congressmen Bob Sikes, Jim Haley, and Syd Herliog.

Wanted Suburban Home

At the time, this writer talked to Campanella and here is what he said: "I'm not the kind of person who likes to set a big goal for himself. So if I can make good with Brooklyn—which I believe I can—I'd like to buy a home for my family. That's something I've wanted for a long time, just a nice home somewhere in the suburbs."

In the last meeting between the Gators and Wildcats on the Florida court, Kentucky won 80 to 71. In Lexington last year Kentucky won 88 to 61.

Like this year's Wildcats, Florida has demonstrated excellent team balance. Statistics through the last weekend showed Kentucky had four players shooting in double figures; Florida five.

Leading Wildcat marksmen is Vernon Halton, averaging 16.0 points through 15 games. Johnny Cox had 15.4; Adrian Smith 13.7; and John Crigler, 14.3 through 14 games.

Don't Mess Around With Cockroaches
 WASHINGTON (UP) — Don't mess around with cockroaches. They seem to be able to transmit diseases and have been reported to bite people.
 The Smithsonian Institution released a report by the Army Quartermaster Corps Research and Engineering Center. It said scientists cannot be more definite about cockroaches.
 Dr. Louis M. Roth and Edwin R. Willis of the center reported that transmission of disease outside the laboratory by cockroaches "has not... been incontrovertibly proved."
 Cockroaches caught in their native habitat have been found to harbor four strains of polio virus. In addition they can harbor experimentally coxsaebale, mouse encephalomyelitis and yellow-fever viruses.
 Moreover, the researchers said, "there is no question about the ability of cockroaches to carry pathogens in or on their bodies."
 But Roth and Willis said that with very few exceptions either relation to specific outbreaks of disease has not been determined. "This area of research," they added, "has not received the attention it deserves."

Missile-Tracking Film Devised

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — A new high-speed, high-contrast color film for missile-tracking and other specialized uses has been developed by the Eastman Kodak Company's Research Laboratories.
 The new film, known as 5D-1218, is a fast negative color film which possesses as an important feature a high contrast.
 This feature, along with the color contrast, makes the target object more easily visible against a background such as a gray or blue sky, according to Allan G. Millikan, senior research chemist at Kodak Research Laboratories.
 Millikan noted that missile and rocket tracking requires both special cameras fitted with elaborate electronic devices and film with unusual characteristics.
 Where long focal length lenses are used to follow the flight of a fast-moving missile, this high speed film is proving especially useful, he said.
 In some missile-tracking the color photo may be examined as a negative. Or a color print may be used to give an even better record for evaluation.
 It is expected, said Millikan, the new color system will find specialized uses in industry as well as in the field of guided missiles and rocketry.

Iran Viewed As Land Of Much Future Expansion
 By HAROLD GUARD
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 LONDON — Iran probably has the greatest economic and commercial potentialities of all the countries in the Middle East, according to recent authoritative surveys revealed here.
 A little over three years have elapsed since Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi signed the agreement with the international consortium of eight major oil companies which restarted the flow of Iranian oil.
 The authoritative monthly journal, The Director, said it had been a period of "real and encouraging progress."
 "Iran's foreign exchange earnings from oil are now running at some 80 million pounds sterling ($240,000,000) annually and, with the development of production these should rise considerably in the years ahead," the journal said.
 More encouraging, it added, was the fact that Iran was ploughing back her oil revenues into various development projects along the day when the oil no longer runs.
 A survey published by the official British Stationery Office reached a similar conclusion and said that Iran offers excellent opportunities and probably has the greatest potentialities of a Middle East country.
Seven-year Plan
 Both surveys spoke of Iran's seven-year plan which, by 1960, will have resulted in the spending of 300 million pounds on new development projects. Around 54 million pounds of this is earmarked for the expansion of mining power and industry, with emphasis on sugar refining, textiles, cement, iron and steel.
 A 50-million pound expansion program is planned by the oil consortium, including 10 million for additional facilities to handle increased output from the Gachsaran oilfield in southern Iran.
 This program includes a 50-mile pipeline to the Persian Gulf and a new loading port equipped to handle 100,000-ton tankers.
 Both surveys mentioned Italy's participation in Iran's development schemes, including exploitation of the recently discovered oil field at Qum and in two other oil-bearing regions.
Peace Projects
 Next autumn an Italian trade fair will be held in Teheran. The United States, the Soviet bloc, France, Germany and Japan also were said to be active in the market.
 Germany's Krupp and Demag concerns are to establish a 120-million-dollar steel plant in Iran which will be run by Germans until Iranians can take over.
 The Danish firm of Kampax has been appointed consultant for the building of 800 kilometers of highway and planning the construction of two ports in Iran on the Persian Gulf and the expansion of three other ports on the Caspian Sea.
 Other major projects in Iran include a 17-million-pound dam and 72,000-kilowatt hydroelectric power plant near Teheran and a 50,000-kilowatt thermal station in the capital.
 A British contracting firm has been appointed manager for design, construction and reconstruction of some 6,000 kilometers of Iran's road system and orders have been placed for 1,500,000 pounds worth of equipment.

White Collar Workers Lunch Like Executives

By JEANNE LESEM
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK — White collar workers lunch like executives — in their own private dining rooms — in a growing number of New York skyscrapers.
 The rooms usually are at basement level and so are the food prices, but food quality is as high as the prices are low, said David Berge, executive vice president of a restaurant which specializes in company catering.
 "It's all part of the modern business emphasis on employee benefits," Berge explained over a hearty hot lunch at one of the newest such cafeterias in midtown Manhattan.
 More than 90 per cent of the company's employees lunch here every day," Berge said. "For many, it's their big meal of the day — a hot one and a better-balanced one than they might eat if they had to leave their own offices building and go to any moderate-priced restaurant in the crowded Grand Central area."
 Berge's company, (Brass Rail Restaurants) operates more than a dozen employee lunch rooms feeling 20,000 persons daily. Two more are due to open this year, and another dozen are in the works.
 Price is probably the biggest factor in the popularity of these cafeterias, he said. Some companies absorb the entire cost; many, however, charge for meals, but prices are far less than the employees would pay for the same quality and quantity of food in a public restaurant.

 A typical menu is likely to include at least five hot entrees, several salad and sandwich combinations, appetizers ranging from fruit juice to clams on the half-shell, pies, cakes and in one case, a make-it-yourself sundae—ice cream and toppings are on the counter.
 "The white collar workers' cafeterias differ from executive dining rooms only in decor and serving method," Berge said. "The menu is the same for all. Sometimes you'll find executives sharing tables with their staffs because the cafeteria has quicker service."
 Two steam table lines in one new cafeteria can handle a total of 16 persons a minute, 1,700 in less than three hours a day.
 Yet there's no sense of urgency apparent in serving or eating, nor is there any lagging.

 relaxed atmosphere, Berge explained, helps the company as much as it does employees. Since its cafeteria opened about a year ago, one company has noted a sharp drop in staff turnover and an equally sharp decline in absenteeism due to illness.
 This trend toward staff feeding has become so big, he said, that many of the new buildings going up in the Grand Central area find it hard to get tenants unless they can offer more advantages than office space.

Yemen, Syro-Egyptian Union Join To Strengthen Nasser's Dream

By ZAKI SALAMA
CAIRO (UP) — Yemen joins United Press Staff Correspondent the Syro-Egyptian Union today in a move that will strengthen further President Gamal Abdel Nasser's dream of leading the entire Arab world into "positive neutrality," informed sources reported. Yemen Crown Prince Mohammed Seif al Islam al Badr was driving to Cairo by car from his desert kingdom and was expected sometime during the day to declare adherence to the new united Arab republic formed Saturday by Egypt and Syria. He spent the night in the Saudi Arabian city of Jeddah. There still was no official announcement on Saudi Arabia's position. Saudi Ambassador Sheikh Ibrahim al Suleiman called on Syrian President Shukri al Kuwaiti Sunday and then stated that "King Saud has always striven for Arab unity." It also was noted that Crown Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia spent some time in Cairo last month during the Syro-Egyptian talks.

The Egyptian press and radio, which has called Jordan's King Hussein a "traitor" and depicted him as a monkey dancing at the end of an American string, suddenly shut off their attacks on the Amman government today. Hussein was reported in close touch with Saudi Arabia's King Saud but there was no indication, yet, of Jordan's position.

Informed sources in Cairo said Nasser is now expected to have a stronger hand in bolstering liberation movements in various parts of the Arab world, particularly Algeria which Egypt has supported in its fight with the French. The new state also will be able to exert stronger pressure against Iraq in its role as the only Arab adherent to the Baghdad Pact.

The sources said the new unified state—the very core of Arab nationalism — will have more influence in Nasser's drive against alignment with any big power. Stabilize Conditions Egyptian sources said that unification, besides joining the two parliaments and the two armies, also would stabilize internal conditions, particularly in Syria which is sharply preoccupied with "conspiracies" against the existing regime. In the event of any future coup d'état in Syria the Syrian and Egyptian armed forces could intervene without incurring the charges of interfering in the internal affairs of another country. In the meantime the Egyptians and Syrians were reported to be

Have they will make their national integration program so workable they will gradually rally mass support throughout the Arab world. Yemen's adherence would raise the new state's total population to 22,000,000. Egypt has a population of 23 million, Syria four million and Yemen five million.

Navy Vanguard Ready To Be Launched Again

Submit Suggestion Drive Underway
The month of February has been chosen for the "Submit A Suggestion" drive at the Naval Air Station.

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UP) — United States rocketeers started the fourth week of "satellite month" at Cape Canaveral today, over the hump but determined to get the Navy Vanguard into the space race.

Successful orbiting of a 30-pound satellite by the Army's Jupiter-C missile Friday night salvaged the wounds to national prestige dealt by the Russian Sputniks. It also took the heat off the vaillant crew that wrestled with the Vanguard for days before the Army took over the "baby moon" shot.

Weather grounded a replacement for several days late in January when the launching team moved within minutes of firing the rocket. The forced retention of corrosive fuels in the rocket's tanks while waiting for a break in the weather almost literally gummed up the Vanguard's works.

Mothers' March On Polio Expected To Go Over Top
Friday night's "Mothers' March on Polio" apparently went over the top as containers were brought to The Sanford Herald office by those participating in the hour-long event.

'Meet Called To Discuss City's Return To FSL

With three major league clubs ready today to supply responsible local people with a general working agreement for 1958, Charles F. Krider, manager of the City League, today expressed the hope that a record crowd of local baseball fans would be at the City Hall Wednesday night at 8 o'clock to discuss the advisability of returning Sanford to the Florida State League picture.

League secretary Peter Schaaf announced Saturday at league headquarters in Orlando that the Pittsburgh Pirates, the San Francisco Giants, and the Baltimore Orioles all had indicated they are ready to go all out to place a team in the league this season.

"This is startling news," Schaaf pointed out, "in that in other years no such offers were being made this early, nor were they so final as these."
A general, or "full" working agreement, he added, is worth from $10,000 to $12,000 to any local sponsor. Under its terms, the major league club:

- 1. Pays a portion of the expense which could mean when playing for one reason or another, is placed on the club's "inactive" list even for as long as a season.
- 2. Pays the Sanford club $3,000 in equal installments ending on or before Oct. 1 of each year. Schaaf added that only yesterday, George M. Trauman, president of the National Association, indicated that this $3,000 may be raised to $6,000 for Class D clubs, effective this year.
- 3. There are several other conditions, involving full working agreements, Schaaf said, but the five listed above can easily be worth $10,000, if not $12,000 to any local sponsor.
- 4. Should Wednesday's meeting produce a working organization committed to sponsorship, Schaaf said, it will be the first time in Sanford's 15 years in the league that this $3,000 may be raised to $6,000 for Class D clubs, effective this year.

Soul-Searching Said Rewarding By Speaker

A faculty member of the University of Florida College of Administration, of Scottish ancestry, told the Sanford Rotary Club today that "periodic soul-searching can be most rewarding—it may mean the difference between success and failure for both the executive and his company."
Norman H. Thompson spoke to the civic group at its noon luncheon meeting on "To Executive Attitudes" and revealed that he has developed a series of questions which seem to be worth asking in regard to executive behavior.

NORMAN H. THOMPSON

The questions were taken up, one by one, when he said "My examples are drawn from the actual experiences of real companies and real people."
To the question "Does top management frequently ask itself 'In our industry—what are the fundamental tasks we perform?' What must we do as well as, or better than, someone else in order to compete and to excel?"
Thompson said the people who acted on the assumption they had no competitors have long since had to recognize the error of their ways.

There were six questions asked and answered by Rotary Club members.
"Do executives take time to think about major trends?"
Thompson pointed to examples where retail establishments, involved in internal management, lost sight of the change in urban areas. "Such stores," he said, "are in trouble."

Volunteer Firemen Answer Five Calls Within 45 Minutes

The Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department answered five separate and widespread fires within a 45 minute period Saturday.
Fire Chief Harvey Pugh stated that fallen power lines near the ACL section had grounded and started a fire which burned through to Palmetto endangering several homes.
The Lake Mary call strenuously used to inform the volunteer firemen was not available due to power failure but most of the firemen answered a church bell call. All the fires were under control in short order although they were fanned by big winds.
"Prompt and effective fire fighting helped to save many hundreds of dollars in property damage," a spokesman said.

Winds Hit Area Over Weekend

High winds belted the Sanford area throughout the weekend leaving a blanket of moss and limbs in its wake.

Parks, streets, lawns and open areas were covered with moss blown from trees and palm fronds were scattered as winds failed to subside throughout the three days.

There was apparently no property damage from the winds as signs were rocked and street lights swung and pedestrians bucked the breeze that whipped through unprotected areas at gusts that sometimes reached 50 miles per hour.

The Sanford Fire Department according to Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr., answered four alarms over the windy weekend. The worst of the alarms affected city property in the Evergreen Cemetery area when local firemen fought a wind-whipped grass and oak predicted that temperatures through Saturday will average about 6 to 10 degrees below normal with little day to day variation except for gradual warming in the latter part of the week.

Normal daily range, the weather forecast said, would be 66 to 76 with extreme north to 75 to 82 in portion.
Little or no precipitation is expected, the forecast said.

Committee Will Plan Strategy To Combat Canal Report

A committee of seven members appointed Friday afternoon will work out strategy to combat "unfavorable Army Corps of Engineers report" at a meeting of enthusiasts from over the state of Florida to discuss the Sanford-Titusville Canal.

Dr. R. W. Bradbury, transportation economist of the University of Florida, attended the meeting to report to the group of waterway enthusiasts meeting to discuss strategy.
At the outset, Dr. Bradbury said "The engineers did not take into consideration the growth factor."
He also pointed out that "to say there is no benefit from an outboard motor is to say that those who own them do not use them."
"It is a very legitimate basis to claim recreational benefits and the figure would be fantastic," Dr. Bradbury commented.

George Gibbs, only recently returned from a four-month visit out of the country, told the group "The heart of Florida is being blocked off by a technicality—there are a thousand things we can do to make this canal a reality."
Mayor Robert E. Carr of Orlando said "We are very much interested and will do all that we can to make the Sanford-Titusville Canal report a favorable one."
