Receipts Hit New High As Boxing Has Best Year

By CHIP ROYAL.
 AP Newfeatures Sports Editor
 NEW YORK — Boxing had its biggest year ever in 1946 as fans and receipts hit highs.

Three new champions were crowned among the smaller boys, but it was a Negro lightweight, Beau Jack, who went into the Army in March; a medical discharge from the Navy, Willie Pep, who really brought in the gray train.

"No hard to tell just what will happen in 1947 but, if anyone listens to birdies, the word is out that the coming months will be the start of the greatest boxing bouts the clientele has known.

All the boys mentioned above, champions of New York, Johnny Grasso of Montreal, Ray Robinson of New York and Jimmy Blinn of Cleveland, late discharges from the armed forces, are on hand ready to display the fine art of fistfighting.

Welterweight Grab Spotlight Ruffin and Greco are welterweights. They had two big-bout bouts late in the year with Greco winning one, and the other resulting in a draw. Both boys are bound to see plenty of action during 1947.

Robinson had the reputation of being the uncrowned welterweight champ before he went into the Service Command To Move Offices To Jacksonville

CAMP BLANDING, Jan. 2 (Special)—Of interest to Florida state Guard units and other civilian defense agencies is the plan of District No. 5, Fourth Service Command, which covers the State of Florida, to move its headquarters to the Buick Building in Jacksonville's Riverside section this week after three years station at Camp Blanding.

Originally established directly under the Camp Blanding commander at the time of Pearl Harbor, as a unit to operate in case of invasion of the State, District No. 5 was set up as an Internal Security Agency under the Fourth Service Command, Army Service Forces, in March of 1942.

District No. 5 collaborates with military and civilian organizations of Florida in regard to various emergencies, such as natural disasters and military contingencies, conducts monthly inspections of Prisoner of War camps in Florida, coordinates certain essential defense plans, and directs the administration of its many specialized Army units at various locations within the State.

Headquarters, District No. 5, collaborates with the State Adjutant General in many matters pertaining to the Florida State Guard, which is Florida's own important military organization and which operates directly under the Governor of the State.

August 1942, District Headquarters conducted a one-week training program at Camp Blanding for State Guard personnel.

District officers make frequent visits to the units of the State Guard to advise with and render practical assistance to the commanders in the training of their organizations. They also conduct the annual Federal Inspectors for these units.

District officers train and inspect Auxiliary Military Police guarding Florida war plants, and inspect Military Police units in Jacksonville, Miami, and West Palm Beach.

In addition to its potential role in the event of military emergency or natural disaster in the State of Florida, District No. 5 is expected to function in training and administrative matters concerning officers on Reserve status in the post-war period.

Commanding District No. 5 is Col. J. C. Muller, Distinguished Service Medal winner for war service on Ascension Island, "The Rock of the South Atlantic," as commander of Combat Task Force 8012, maintaining that strategic South Atlantic air route link. As District commander he is the field representative for the Commanding General, Fourth Service Command, in District No. 5.

Some Old Records Remain Unchanged

By JOE REICHLER
 AP Newfeatures

NEW YORK — Each year new records are made, erasing old marks from the books, but some, like old man river, keep rolling on, outlasting the efforts of modern era stars.

Great performers like Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, George Sisler, Rogers Hornsby, Nap Lajoie, Eddie Collins and Grover Alexander have shattered many records, but others were out of even their reach. These marks are likely to last for a long, long time.

Most prominent is Hugh Duffy's grand all-time .438 batting high in 1894 with the Boston Braves. Hornsby reached .424 in 1924 and Cobb and Sisler hit .419.

In the same year, 1894, Billy Hamilton of Philadelphia's great National League outfield, scored 196 runs, 23 of them in consecutive games—both record feats. The closest any modern ever came to Hamilton's marks were Babe Ruth with 177 runs in 1921 and Red Rolfe who scored in 19 successive contests in 1939.

Again in '24, Bobby Lowe, Duffy's teammate, accumulated 17 bases in a nine-inning game—four home runs and a single. Ed Delahanty, Gehrig, and Chuck Klein all hit four homers in a game, but their total base figures stopped at 16.

Nobody has been able to match the feat of Jim O'Neill, the original "Tip" of the St. Louis Browns of the American Association. O'Neill, in 1887, pounded out 46 doubles, 24 triples and 13 homers.

Twenty-five modern players have made six consecutive hits in a nine-inning game, but none has equalled the seven straight safeties amassed by Wilbert Robinson of the 1892 Baltimore Orioles.

Although the names of Ruth, Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Mel Ott and Hank Greenberg are synonymous with runs batted in, Ed Cartright of the 1890 St. Louis American Association club holds the record of seven RBIs in one inning. First made in 1911 and Hub Johnson in 1937 came close with six.

Among the pitchers' records is Bill White's 75 games for Cincinnati in 1878. Not even Iron Man Ed Walsh or Ace Adams from Iron City, Ga., could match that. Walsh pitched 66 games in 1906 and Adams 70, most in relief in 1943.

Young Farmers Now Deferred To Be Drafted

Byrnes Asks Draft Boards To Call Up 364,000 Farmers In 18 To 25 Age Group

(By Associated Press) James F. Byrnes called on Selective Service today to take steps for the immediate induction into the armed services of men 18 through 25 who have agricultural deferments. There are 364,000 in this age group with deferments.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said the request was made to draft officials "because of representations made by the Army and Navy that they must have men" as Byrnes proposed to tap this new source of manpower, the largest remaining source of young men.

T. Hoyt Davis was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be judge for the middle district of Georgia, succeeding the late Judge Haslam C. Deaver.

Southern sentiment on such long standing issues as race discrimination, poll taxes and state rights appeared unshaken today as the 70th Congress opened today with only 11 new members from the nine Deep South states.

Louisiana and Mississippi returned their entire memberships to both House and Senate, and only one or two new faces appeared in the delegations from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Tennessee, and North and South Carolina.

President Roosevelt gave general endorsement to a home-front legislative program proposed by War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes, as members gathered for the Seventy-ninth Congress opening.

The program includes the draft of 4-Ps into limited military service or war jobs if present measures prove inadequate to meet military needs.

It also includes expanding the War Labor Board to enforce its own orders; and tax revisions, but no general tax reduction.

Dehydrated Blond Is Shipped Overseas

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 3.—A dehydrated blond, captured today for Captain Hope Harris, of Conway, Ark., the undisputed title of world's champion hair of 1944, awarded by the Burlington Lanes Club, unquestioned critic of tall tales.

Several years ago the judges made an award to a young man who described how his "wife" cooked eggs. When discovered that the story-teller was a single man, a certain feminine blond, however, given name "Hope" and wondered if perhaps they hadn't been taken in again.

Investigation by the Associated Press disclosed that Captain Harris is in the Women's Army Corps—service overseas.

Here's the champion's story, adjusted to the best of 1938 when he was the club's sixteenth annual contest:

"Two years away from my girl friend became unbearable. I've been a mess and have done some work with my hands. I took the 4-Ps to go to a plant that produced fresh vegetables for overseas shipment and get my hair dehydrated.

"Immediately her mother put her in an overcoat and sent her to the air mail. When the letter arrived I took her out, poured water over her, and in half an hour she was as good as even—and here with me."

Home On Leave

Editors Note—The following names of boys in service "home on leave" have been submitted by the First Club members: G. W. Hamel, 281 West Eleventh Street; and Miss Blanche Kennedy, telephone 323-W have been selected as committee to secure names of service men and women so that their friends may know when they are in Sanford.

J. C. Adams, ART 1/c, and Mrs. Adams of Norfolk, Va. have been the guests of relatives in Sanford.

Charles Rabold, opposite petty officer, third class, is spending a brief leave with his parents, Mrs. Rabold, 231 West Eleventh Street.

Overseas Joe Smith, U. S. Coast Guard, is home on a 30-day leave, spending 11 days in Sanford.

Charge Murders To Nazis

FOR A FEW BRIEF DAYS these women and children of Belgium tasted freedom when the Yanks marched in and liberated their towns. But the Germans have come back and here they lie dead, victims of Nazi torture and murder, according to a Signal Corps picture. The picture was taken at Stavelot, where the German counter-offensive broke through the Signal Corps Radiohop (the International Soundphoto).

W. G. Kilbee Is Named Chairman Of County Board

Plans Are Made For Developing Several Recreational Parks

W. G. Kilbee of Geneva was elected chairman and G. J. Pope vice chairman of the Board of County Commissioners who held their initial meeting for 1945 Tuesday evening at the Court House.

The Board is appointed to office all of the present county employees it was reported by O. P. Herndon, county clerk.

M. C. Hagan, acting county engineer was instructed by the Board to proceed with the completion of surveys and of obtaining the necessary right-of-way for a road to run north from the Georgia Road to a county owned tract adjoining the St. Johns River to be known as Millet Lake Park. This will enable the tract to be used as a fishing and picnicking ground, Mr. Herndon said.

Another recreation park to be known as Rat Island Park will be developed by the County. This will be located in a triangular 15-acre tract, adjacent and north of the St. Johns River, east of the St. Johns River and south of Lake Harney. This is the gift of C. S. Lee from whom the commissioners received the deed.

The Board dedicated the property as a public park. On account of an located Indian shell mound being located on the corner, said Mr. Herndon, which has been known for generations as Rat Island, the Board decided on the name, Rat Island Park.

Lot No. 4 in Block 10 of Mayfair subdivision in Sanford was dedicated by the County to Sally Harrison Chapter of the D.A.R. which plans some day to erect a building on the site to house historical records, said Mr. Herndon.

Biggest Raid Made On Jap Honshu Cities

Admiral Nimitz Says United States Must Prepare To Invade Japan By Assault

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—About 90 Salpan-based Superforts bombed the aircraft center of Nagoya and neighboring industrial cities of Osaka and Hamamatsu today, a Japanese imperial communiqué reported. This is the largest number of B-29s officially reported by the Japanese as being over Japan. The enemy claim followed an earlier War Department announcement here that B-29s of the 21st bomber command had struck again at Honshu the main island of Japan.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, returning from an inspection of Pacific forward areas, said that Japan definitely will have to be occupied by American forces to win the peace and he warned: "We should be prepared to invade Japan by assault."

The Superfort raids against Japanese war industries highlighted all developments in that theater. An aerial sweep of the waters hundreds of miles north of the Philippines brought Bomarcas into General MacArthur's command for the first time.

The first part of the Superfort assault was a surprise attack on the Philippines. The Superforts were preparing to invade Luzon.

He warned the Japanese that the bombing of their homeland is just beginning and is due to be intensified, adding that the United States will have to use atomic bases close enough to Japan to launch an atomic attack on the island.

In a speedy interview with war correspondents at a pier after a tour of this Superfort base, a deep breath was taken to indicate the assault upon Germany.

"I do believe this—they will fight to the very end," he declared.

The Tokyo radio, in an English language broadcast, blasted in North American and European newspapers today the Federal Communications Commission, said that while it "is not impossible" to "burn Tokyo" out of existence through bombing, it is "difficult" to "burn Tokyo" out of existence through bombing.

Grammar School Is Ransacked, Robbed By Thieves At Night

The Sanford Grammar School was entered, ransacked and robbed last night by thieves who entered the building on the south side by going up a fire escape and prying open a top window. It was reported by Capt. Roy Tilla today who investigated the robbery.

The office of the building was ransacked and a black drop cord to which was attached a small shaded bulb, similar to those used with adding machines. Because of its shade, this small light could be pointed at the floor, after being plugged into a socket, and would not be seen from the outside.

In addition to this clue, the thieves penciled the following notation on a calendar pad in the office: "Thanks for everything—The 7's."

Mrs. Rawlins Makes Seal Sale Appeal

Mrs. Mary Rawlins, Christmas Seal sale chairman for the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association, today appealed to those who had not at present in their money for Christmas seals, "please do so at once in order to avoid a lot of bookkeeping."

The collection to date amount to approximately $2,000, she revealed. Funds so collected will be used to find tuberculosis cases and to give aid to patients in need of assistance, she said.

Indications Point To Nazi Withdrawal As 50,000 U. S. Casualties Are Reputed

(By Associated Press) United States Third and Seventh Army troops slowed or halted German jabs in nearly a dozen places today against positions from Saarbrücken to the Rhine, while in the Belgian bulge Third Army forces sailed to positions four miles northeast of Bastogne amid growing indications of Nazi withdrawals.

The German high command declared tonight U. S. divisions had been forced into an effort to bring the Nazi positions in the Bastogne sector, suggesting that some 100,000 Americans were as a result of the assault.

The German attack since their offensive started on Dec. 16 American casualties had exceeded 87,000.

Definite Plan For Peace

There is a strong possibility that the new Senate will consider, soon, action putting itself on record as favoring both the Atlantic Charter principles and our active participation in some form of postwar international organization to control aggressors.

By such a means the Atlantic Charter, lately discovered to have been not a document in itself but only notes and verbal agreement, can achieve the status of an official resolution by our treaty-making body.

Even more significant is the fact that many senators are now coming to the idea of official approval, before the end of the war, of some such organization as that of the Dumbarton Oaks proposal.

This will eliminate the doubt concerning our intentions which may well be behind the present return to power politics in Europe, and will strengthen the President's hand in future consultations.

King Of France

The King of France may have just been arrested. That is what a few faithful followers call Henri Robert Ferdinand Marie, count of Paris, descendant of the Bourbon kings of France, who since his birth in 1908 has been groomed by a handful of aristocratic French families for their country's throne.

Restoration of the monarchy in France could come only when the republic fell into misfortune. In 1940 Hitler's conquest must have made the count feel that his time had come.

At one time there were three claimants to the French throne if and when they should be one to claim. Besides the Count of Paris the former Orleans dynasty and the descendants of the Bonaparte emperors Napoleon I and III, hoped for a return to power these last two lines have died out.

At one time there were three claimants to the French throne if and when they should be one to claim.

Holidays

The "holiday season," it must be admitted, hasn't been altogether holidayish. Millions of people have worked as usual to keep up the industrial output of munitions.

But even so, it has been a time of gladness, as well as courage and hope. Friends and relatives have drawn nearer together in spirit, even when a person they may have been a world apart.

Now the New Year has arrived, renewing memories almost as strong as those of Christmas. They will be borne in a spirit no less sturdy and patient, in the conviction that the sacrifices for country and home and future peace are beginning to bear fruit.

Now the New Year has arrived, renewing memories almost as strong as those of Christmas.

20 Professors At U. Of F. Engaged In War Research

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 3. (Special)—Research has taken an important place in the activities of the University of Florida during 1944, a year-end survey of the state institution showed here today.

Nearly 20 faculty members are engaged in research projects the University has been asked to undertake for the federal government, looking toward solution of wartime problems.

From a high of 3,456 students in 1939-40, civilian enrollment has gone down to the present total of about 700, but the facilities of plant and staff have been taxed to the limit to carry on two major soldier training programs and others of lesser extent but of importance in the national war effort.

During this period, in which groups of trainees remained on the campus from three to five months receiving instruction in academic subjects like English, geography, and history, in physical fitness training, and in military subjects, the University of Florida established an all-time record.

important to the state and educators, but for which time has not heretofore been available.

A large amount of federal money is being spent on research projects here. The nature of these cannot be divulged now, but, aside from the projects themselves, the increasing emphasis on research at the University will have "tremendous significance to the state and the University," according to Dr. John J. Tigert, president, who said its full importance will be realized only after the war.

Looking back over the last year in the light of developments since the University "went to war" alongside the state and nation back in 1942, Dr. Tigert recalled the shrinking student enrollment as young men cut short their college careers to volunteer or to answer their calls to service.

From a high of 3,456 students in 1939-40, civilian enrollment has gone down to the present total of about 700, but the facilities of plant and staff have been taxed to the limit to carry on two major soldier training programs and others of lesser extent but of importance in the national war effort.

During this period, in which groups of trainees remained on the campus from three to five months receiving instruction in academic subjects like English, geography, and history, in physical fitness training, and in military subjects, the University of Florida established an all-time record.

More individual students were served during the academic year ending in May, 1944 than in any other year when 4,717 individuals enrolled in residence, including 3,558 army trainees and 1,159 civilians.

War services have included basic flight training and ground school instruction to civilians, glider pilots, liaison pilots, and flight instructors; home defense training to 500 civilians; extension courses to thousands of men in the services.

In a statewide program, the University has trained thousands of Florida citizens for technical work in war industries. In an officer candidate school, 1,000 officers were trained for administrative work in the U. S. Army.

The two major army programs on the campus instructed 2,294 Army Air Force aviation students, 1,500 Army Specialized Training and Reserve men.

Cheese making on a commercial scale had its origin in New York state, the method employed being an adaptation of the system used in England.

Before the war, although Greece was mainly an agricultural country and 60 per cent of her population derived its income from the cultivation of the land, only one fifth of her area was suitable for cultivation.

German Resistance Reveals Necessity For New Point Of View On Home Front

BY THOMAS HAGENBUCH
NEW YORK. The end of 1944 finds the United States in a certain success in the war effort. It is not too long ago that the nation was in a state of panic, and the Federal Reserve Board had just advised that the production of 1944 had fallen 10 per cent below that of 1943.

Nevertheless, the year brought real progress in the financing of the war, for the Treasury came near to achieving one of its major objectives to meet approximately half the cost of the war through current taxation.

FRANCE

THIS IS THE AREA in which the 1st German counteroffensive has precipitated a battle which may be one of the most decisive of the war. German Gen. von Rundstedt's assault pushed through American lines at several points, but particularly heavy blows were struck at Hensfeld in Belgium and at the Luxembourg towns of Vianden and Echternach. It is in this region, as indicated by joined arrows on the map, that Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' 1st Army forces are striking back. (International)

Bastogne Story
U. S. Air-Ground Team Is Tops
Thunderbolts Plunge From Sky As Yanks Lash Out At Fox

PARIS, Jan. 3, (AP)—The 101st Airborne Division's "brilliant" defense of the bastion of Bastogne was rewarded, they were getting ready to start pursuing the Germans themselves when Third Army forces happened to break into the encircled town last week.

Hard-bitten, 40-year-old Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, acting commander of the 101st, said so today.

"Anybody who says we were rescued or who thinks we needed rescue is all wrong," he told a press conference. "On Christmas night I called my regimental commanders together and told them we were now ready for pursuit."

When Major Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, divisional commander, flew from Washington and jumped into Bastogne before the battle was over, he asked how the division was and General McAuliffe told him:

"Sir, we're ready to attack."

The man who dare to say "No" to the Germans is Brigadier General Anthony C. McAuliffe of Washington—known to his friends as "Tony"—and to his men as "General Mac" and "Old Croc."

"Old Croc" McAuliffe is forty-six years old, which makes him one of the oldest jumpers among the paratroopers. On D Day he jumped with the men of the 101st, the first division to land in France.

His mission was to secure roads leading from the beaches and later to capture Caen. They succeeded in those missions as in all subsequent ones.

The "Old Croc" made the Holland invasion in a glider. There the mission was to take bridges and highways for fifteen miles from Elndhoven to Vechel and to capture both of those cities. They took Elndhoven, a city of 110,000 population, with one regiment.

the Americans four to one. It was as simple as all that and yet it never could have succeeded had not the 101st been composed of the toughest fighters in the world, men who do not know the meaning of failure and who would fight to the last man though outnumbered 10 to 1.

The story is told of a tank, comprised of stragglers from other units which had been mauled in the swift German advance through Luxembourg.

Among the stragglers were gunners, truck drivers and mess attendants. They were a weary and discouraged lot.

General McAuliffe organized them under a colonel as a task force and put them to work guarding prisoners, packing supplies and gathering supplies dropped by parachute.

—America's New Industrial Frontier—

THE SOUTH—AMERICA'S NO. 1 OPPORTUNITY

The South has been called the nation's "No. 1 economic problem." It might have been recognized that any problem presents a challenge, and a challenge an opportunity. Donald M. Nelson, former chairman of the War Production Board, seems to have recognized that fact.

Writing in a recent issue of THE AMERICAN MERCURY, he declares that this section is moving into an era of industrial and social development that will astound the world.

Declaring that the section has always had great material resources and a favorable climate, it has, with the war, acquired large-scale industrial know-how and substantial accumulations of regional capital. And throughout history this triumvirate has been an unbeatable combination. "People," he says, "who talk about the South of 1944 as if it were the South of 1939 or 1929, simply do not know the facts."

Listing as one of its greatest assets the 200,000,000 acres of commercial forest area on which the South has 35 billion feet of old growth hardwood—the only large reserve in this country—Mr. Nelson foresees the expansion of already established industries and many new industries—hardwood items, chemicals, rayon, cellophane, plastics—rising out of this one natural resource.

He expresses the belief that within the lifetime of the next generation the South's resources, skills and capital will bring the section into the vanguard of world industrial progress, while its fresh social vitality will contribute enormously to the shaping of a greater America and a richer world.

Akyab Captured On Road To Singapore

Philippine Bombers And PTs Made 3-Day Attack On Jap Ships Knocking Out 69

(By Associated Press)
British troops seized the Burmese port of Akyab in the first amphibious operation on the long road back to Singapore, swarming a shore at Akyab Island off southwest Burma Wednesday simultaneously with an attack on Formosa. The Japanese garrisons there fled the night before.

Philippine-based American bombers and PT boats knocked out 69 Jap ships in a three-day attack co-ordinated with carrier raids on Formosa. Tokyo claimed an American aircraft carrier and two battleships or cruisers were sunk in the western Philippines as both sides intensified the air war swirling around invasion-threatened Luzon and the U.S. base on Mindoro.

Tokyo reported four Superfortresses reconnoitered and harassed Japan within 75 miles of Naraya.

Flying from a powerful task force, American carrier planes blasted Formosa, 200 miles north of Luzon, and its companion bastion of Okinawa, for the second straight day Wednesday. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

Japanese broadcasts, estimating the attacking planes to number 400 connected the raids directly with Philippine operations, hinting at the possibility of new landings, and the Japanese Domei agency reported that a task force escorting a transport convoy had been sighted in the Sulu Sea at the southwest corner of the Philippines, "seemingly to effect new landings."

Admiral Nimitz gave no details. This was taken to mean that the attacking Naval force was still in enemy waters and that radio blackout was necessary.

Formosa, the great fortress island, is the chief target in the 230-mile north of Luzon, the chief target in both attacks, enemy broadcasts indicated. Okinawa, the chief island of the Okinawa group in the Ryokyu Islands 350 miles east of Formosa, was a secondary target.

Cruel Fate For A Mercy Worker

2 Sanford Gridders Enjoy Miami Trip For Orange Game

Two members of the Celery Fed football team of Seminole High School, Bob Callahan and Clarence McKee, winners of the Kivians award of a free trip to the Orange Bowl game in Miami where they saw Tommie Davis, Georgia Tech gridders, 35 to 12, on New Year's day, arrived home happy from their adventure and reported they had a fine time.

All expenses of the trip were paid by the Sanford Kivians Club, whose committee was headed for the purpose, made the award to the boys on the basis of the most improvement in playing ability, sportsmanship and scholastic standing.

The committee included Dr. H. W. Rucker, Dr. Leiber Doss, Herman E. Harris, USO Director John Stonik and Coach C. F. Kettles.

This was the first trip that the two boys had made to Miami. They stayed at the University City dormitory. At the game they met Principal Morris and Harold Kastner of Sanford.

Saturday evening they ate in a Chinese restaurant, and later danced at the Young People's Club. Sunday they went swimming at Miami Beach, and on New Year's Eve, went to a midnight show. At the game Monday they had good seats near the 30 yard line. On the way back on the train they met most members of the Georgia Tech team and got their autographs.

Coach Kettles reported that the Kivians' announcement of the award, he had encountered no trouble in disciplining the team. It is hoped by Kivians to repeat the success of the Celery squad next year.

4-Fs Are Reported Flocking To Jobs In War Industries

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Four-Fs and nonessential workers flocked to war work by the thousands over the nation, employment agencies observed the heaviest stream of job applicants in months.

Meanwhile some opposition developed to cancelling farm decontrol of the National Labor Relations Board. James F. Byrnes' proposed new, tough manpower policy today evoked a cascade of protest in labor circles and in Capitol Hill.

Time publications sharply criticized the war mobilizer's proposal to draft 4-Fs for war jobs. Members of house and senate levelled their attack on the order to draft nonessential farm workers. (Continued On Page Three)

Lions Club Decides To Call Off Show

Due to a recent ruling by school authorities that school auditoriums may not be used for purposes other than those functions related to public activities, the Sanford Lions Club at its meeting today decided not to sponsor a proposed show known as "Vanity Varieties," as no suitable location for the play could be found.

"King Lion" J. E. Rowland introduced the application for membership of J. N. Robson, Jr. which was approved by the Club.

Miss Catharine Clark was guest of the club, and played for the slugging which was led by C. L. Powell.

Efforts are being made to increase the club membership during January as this is the birth month of Melvin Jones, secretary of Lions International, said "King Lion" Rowland.

Local Post Office To Have Face Lifted

The Sanford Post Office, erected in 1917, is the next structure in Sanford due to receive a "beauty treatment."

The new building, which will be a modern structure, will be completed by the end of the year.

Celery Acres In Sanford Cut By Weather

2,451 Acres Are Now Planted, Or 344 Less Than In 1943; Mostly Goldenheart

Effects of the hurricane freeze and drought in Seminole County are reflected in decreased plantings of celery due to damage to seed beds, according to J. E. Wathen, secretary of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, and secretary of American Fruit Growers Inc.

Figures compiled by Mr. Wathen show that a total of 2,451 acres of celery were planted this year in the county, as of Jan. 1, a decrease of 344 acres from the 2,795 acres had been planted. Of this year's crop of celery, 1,838 acres have been devoted to the goldenheart variety, and 623 acres to green parcel. In 1943, there were 2,172 acres of goldenheart celery planted, and 623 acres of parcel, the same amount of the latter variety as in 1944.

Rain, which on Thursday totaled .97 of an inch, and last night 2.1 inch, a total of 3.07 of an inch, has proved of great benefit to celery and other vegetables.

Mr. Wathen pointed out that while celery plants obtain moisture by sub-irrigation, even during such a long period of drought as has occurred since October, the leaves of the plant need moisture to maintain normal growth. Rain of this nature helps the plant and helps its root and top growth.

During a time when they have been in price ceilings on celery, F.H.B. prices on celery have been bringing $4.00 to $4.50 on the average, up until lately, with highest prices being received for the smaller sizes. However, these prices have decreased recently, probably due to the fact that supply of celery has increased. Price ceilings are expected in the near future, he added.

A 50 percent increase in cabbage plantings was recorded by Mr. Wathen, with an estimated 609 acres planted this year, compared with 442 acres in 1943. At present, cabbage at the Sanford State Farmers Market is bringing $2.05 for a 50 pound bag, and Manager H. J. Lehman predicted that prices on this vegetable will hold up.

Extreme plantings, estimated at 208 acres, compared with 308 acres planted in 1943, are bringing fine returns to growers of this section, as is also lettuce which has good reports of being of good quality.

Most vegetable shipments have been by rail, with F.O.B. prices at from $2.50 to $2.75 a bushel.

Boston lettuce plantings declined in the county from 17 acres in 1943 to 19 acres in 1944. Boston lettuce plantings increased from 17 acres in 1943 to 11 acres in 1944. Cauliflower plantings increased from 25 acres in 1943 to 72 acres in 1944. Celery plantings increased from 2,172 acres in 1943 to 2,451 acres in 1944.

Brisk sale of vegetables at State Market was reported by Lehman, with good crops of cabbage, tomatoes from the east coast and southern part of the state, celery from this and southern counties, broccoli, cumber, iceberg and Boston lettuce, onions, English peas, and turnips. Big demand is reported for citrus fruits and packing houses are very busy.

Welles Blames Government Leaders On Foreign Affairs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt will include a comprehensive discussion of foreign affairs in his annual message to Congress Saturday. However, he is not expected to define exactly what U. S. policy is toward current European political problems.

The President announced he would broadcast the message Saturday night and would discuss the report of the month deal with foreign policy and management questions.

Welles Under Sec. of State Sumner Welles asserted in the preface of a new book to be released today that he still had a few minutes before the U. S. took the war to Europe. He said he would be the people's mouthpiece about foreign affairs.

He made his point in the introduction of the book "The United States and the World," which is a government publication, the only one available to the public in the full and complete form, about all aspects of our foreign relations. It is a book that is worth reading to the people, and one that should be in every home.

Welles revised the manuscript so that even the minor details represented views on world conditions. He said he would be the people's mouthpiece about foreign affairs.

Welles appealed to the government to provide the people with the facts about their relations with other countries.

"When the ultimate appraisal is made of the fundamental causes of the second World War," he wrote "such an estimate will undoubtedly maintain that by no means the least of the contributory factors was a lack of knowledge of, and interest in, the foreign relations of their country on the part of the peoples of the democracies. That charge will be peculiarly applicable to the people of the United States.

"Insofar as the United States is concerned, it can not be denied that a measure of responsibility for the existence of these conditions over a period of many decades must justly be laid at the door of those leaders of the executive and legislative branches who have the people entrusted with authority."

Mrs. Kibbee Elected Social Workers' Head

Mrs. Hulda Kibbee, executive nurse of the Seminole County Health Unit, was elected president of the Seminole County Association of Social Workers at a recent meeting. She succeeded Dr. L. H. Dame director of the Health Unit in this office.

Other officers elected for the year were Major A. S. Wharton as the Salvation Army as vice president; Miss Joy Elliott, unit supervisor of District Welfare Board No. 12, as second vice president, and Mrs. Abbie W. Boyd, executive secretary of the Seminole County Welfare Board, as secretary and treasurer.

14 Fewer Marriages In 1944 Than In 1943

Fourteen fewer marriage licenses were issued in 1944 than in 1943, the office of County Judge R. W. Ware, records show. During the past year, 674 marriage licenses were issued as compared with 688 licenses issued in 1943.

The most marriage licenses issued during any month of 1944 was in March when 81 were recorded, August was the low month with only 56 licenses on record. June which in 1943 was the biggest month with 97 licenses issued, showed only 57 marriage licenses issued in 1944.
