FEDERAL GENERAL AND HIS WHOLE STAFF CAPTURED BY THE REBELS

CARDENAS, STAFF AND 300 CAVALRYMEN CAPTURED

ATTACK TAMPICO

General Rafael Buelna Commands Rebel Forces That Are Responsible For Victory

(By The Associated Press)
VERACRUZ, Dec. 28.—Gen. Lazaro Cardenas and his entire staff and 300 of cavalry have been taken prisoners by the revolutionary forces, according to a statement issued Thursday night at revolutionary headquarters here.

The rebels were under command of Gen. Rafael Buelna of the Obregonists army. They attacked the Obregonists at Irapuato, state of Guanajuato.

Important Triumph

The official statement says: "General headquarters has received news of an important triumph on the western front, where the revolutionary General Buelna was detached from the columns of Gen. Enrique Estrada to offer battle to the Obregon forces, who from Michoacan, menaced the flank of the revolutionaries and were advancing along the railroad to Irapuato.

Gen. Buelna completely routed the federalists commanded by Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, taking him prisoner, together with his staff and 300 of his cavalry. The remainder of the federal column went over to the rebels.

"This triumph leaves completely free the advance of the revolutionary army of Gen. Estrada and this is believed to be the principal reason for the withdrawal of the Obregon forces for San Marcos at Apizaco, which was announced yesterday.

A general advance on Apizaco and Puebla has been ordered from here to prevent Gen. Obregon from moving troops to the western front."

Rebels to Attack Tampico

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—An attack by Mexican revolutionary forces on Tampico within a week was forecast in an official communique of the de la Huerta group received here Thursday from Vera Cruz.

The communique, dated December 26, follows:

"General Figueroa, reporting on the capture of Puente Ixtla, in the state of Morelos, about 50 miles south of Mexico City, on the 22nd instant, states that the enemy garrison at that place composed of 400 men, was defeated with many casualties. Forty prisoners were taken and much war material; also two trains.

The armed transport Coahuila was recently pursued by the federal garrison at Progreso in the Pacific, and the latter having a superior armament, the Coahuila sought refuge in the harbor of Acapulco, Fort San Mateo, which protects the entrance, having long range artillery, prevented further pursuit.

Juarez and Loredo Cut Off

"Since yesterday Juarez and Loredo have been cut off from railway communication with the interior. The oil region in northern Vera Cruz is slowly coming under the domination of the revolution, while troops in the Isthmus of Tehuantepec region are in daily contact with those of the imposition government under the command of Bravo Iguidero.

"General Maycotte has executed a well-thought plan resulting in effective defeat of a flying column of Obregonista troops, which he keeps moving from one front to another. In the central part of the republic, and which forms only nucleus of his forces which are matters only of the soil on which they stand.

"General Cesar Lopez continues his advance against Tampico, which he will probably attack within a week.

"The legislature at Taxcoaltex will abandon the capital, Taxcoaltex, and will move to Apizaco in view of the intensity of the movement in that state, and with revolutionary forces approaching.

Capital Without Garrison

"Mexico City is now without a garrison, as Obregon has been compelled to withdraw all his troops and incorporate them in his flying column which is daily decreasing in numbers through desertion.

"General Manuel Chas, in Chihuahua, is rapidly augmenting his forces and will shortly retake positions south and west of Chihuahua, which he abandoned upon being attacked by Obregonists in superior numbers. His success at Tancul has greatly strengthened him and diminished that of the enemy in the state of Chihuahua which is suffering through constant desertions and that the dispatching of contingents to the central part of the republic.

"Within eight days, two columns detached from the forces of General Guadalupe Sanchez, will co-operate with contingents operating to the west, in the states of Morelos, Hidalgo and Mexico, menacing the capital."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The American minister at Tegucigalpa has been instructed to inform the president of Honduras and responsible officials of that government that the United States regards with disfavor any attempt of a government to perpetuate itself in power except by accepted constitutional processes. The communication was sent by the department as a result of the disturbed situation in Honduras incident to the presidential election.

Summary of Instructions

At the same time, the department communicated to its representatives in the other four central American republics a summary of its instructions to Minister Morales at Tegucigalpa, and expressed the hope that nothing would develop in or between the five republics which would disrupt the concord reached by them at the conference held here several months ago.

The department recently instructed Minister Morales to repeat also to the Honduran authorities the representations sent them when the presidential election situation first appeared to threaten trouble in that country. In that communication Secretary Hughes suggested that the Honduran government take steps to the end that the elections might be conducted in an orderly manner and protection be afforded the voters against any attempt to intimidate them or to hamper them in the exercise of rights to vote for candidates legally in the field and of their own choice.

DUTIES OF FOREST RANGERS HEAVY

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Fire fighting and fire prevention form a small part of forest ranger's duties. It is pointed out at headquarters of the California district of the United States forest service.

"Time was," said a ranger who works in one of the California national parks, "when if a fellow could wrangle horses and throw a diamond hitch he had about all the necessary qualifications to hold down the job of ranger. But no more.

"Mine is an ordinary-sized forest tract, about 200,000 acres of rough mountainous country, mostly timbered, but with some grazing land, mining, water power sites and quite a number of summer homes and free public camps.

"Right now the best part of my work is handling timber sales; as I've got a gang of lumbermen cutting government timber on my district. I have to know all the trees and what they're doing; how to mark green timber for cutting under forestry rules; all about scaling cut logs. I must see that the brush is piled and burned, and that the young trees left for a future crop are not injured or destroyed.

"Next comes supervision of cattle and sheep grazing. A ranger is supposed to be able to call all the forage plants by their first names; to know the different breeds of livestock; the different ranges in under or over stocked and how much salt a steer or sheep ought to get in a season."

The hard and dangerous task of fire fighting, he explained, is a constant specter before the ranger. Combating a forest fire he termed "the meanest job in the world—bar none."

ONLY THREE DAYS LEFT TO QUALIFY FOR BOND ELECTION

With the close of the city registration books but four days away but few over 400 voters have qualified for the coming bond election which will be held on January 11.

The election will be held to determine whether the voters are in favor of floating bonds in the sum of $220,000 for the erection of water, lights and gas plants and for the erection of a city hall.

Approximately 1,500 voters are registered on the city books, it was pointed out Friday but of that number only a few over 400 voters have paid their 1923 poll tax. The payment of this tax is absolutely imperative as was pointed out in a statement made by Mayor Forest Lake a few days ago.

Up until Friday morning Tax Collector John D. Jenkins had issued 439 poll tax certificates. There had been 13 issued at the First National Bank and 15 at the Seannio County Bank. The total was 461 but of that number there are some who are residents in the county only.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT INQUIRY INTO MATTER

Hundreds of Prominent Officials Are Said To Be Involved In Big Scandal

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The Polish minister Friday conferred at length with third assistant secretary of state Wright in connection with the liquor that police tried to seize a few days ago and around which controversy is revolving. His visit followed a request from his home government for information on the subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Congressional attention to Washington bootleg conditions with special condemnation of the latest rum ring scandal involving a list of many hundred alleged customers and of diplomatic liquor stocks, appeared certain Thursday. Representative Newton, Republican, Minnesota, addressed the Senate. Secretary Hughes, Commissioner of the internal revenue bureau and Commissioner Oyster, of the District of Columbia, asking the facts in the bootleg case.

Diplomatic Hoax Exempt

Police and revenue agents in this case, which has resulted in the arrest of 14 persons alleged to be connected with a bootleg organization, attempted to seize stocks of liquor in an apartment but were prevented when Dr. V. Sokolowski, secretary of the Polish legation, declared it was his and claimed immunity from seizure.

The letter of Representative Newton to Secretary Hughes concludes: "One hears repeatedly about how private individuals are unable to recoup their own stock of liquors from diplomatic sources. It seems to me that every effort should be made to prevent this. Further, when there is evidence that this is being done there ought not to be any hesitation whatever about sending the diplomatic representative back where he came from."

Will Write Another

Commissioner Oyster, after drafting a reply to Representative Newton's letter to him and making known its contents to the press, decided he would not send it. He said he would write another reply to the Minnesota representative tomorrow, but did not indicate what the nature of it would be.

In his letter to the commissioner Mr. Newton asked for information as to what efforts have been made to find out whether or not the list of alleged purchasers "was recovered, by whom, and who turned it over to the intelligence unit."

Elmer Irey, chief of the intelligence corps of the internal revenue bureau, reiterated Thursday that the majority of the list was not in the hands of the bureau. He did say that some names of supposed customers were known to his men.

RUSSIAN PROVINCE SHELTERED WITHIN THE N. Y. BORDERS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—New York boasts foreign colonies from all the countries of the globe, but few New Yorkers know that within the confines of their great metropolis there exists an organized "province" of the Russia of the Czars, firmly knit and efficiently directed by a governing general and a staff of provincial officers.

The province has no boundaries. Its headquarters shifts weekly from one east side meeting hall to another. Its exchequer is oftentimes barren, but the hearts of its citizens are rich in faith that some day they will again live on the soil of Russia of their fathers.

Several hundred Russian men and women, driven out of their homeland by the Soviets and held together here by their patriotism, formed the provincial government. Many of the exiles had noble titles, others were officials of old Russia. Now many of them are day laborers and few are affluent.

Each Tuesday night they meet in a rented hall and revive memories of their days in Moscow and Petrograd. There are Russian songs and Russian dancing, speeches, poems and anecdotes.

The governor general is in charge. His staff constitutes a reception committee. Two general laborers laboriously draw up the curtains. Another former army officer is accompanist at the piano.

The scenes bring the audience back to the great opera house in Petrograd to receptions in the homes of the upper classes. Then an eloquent recites verses, describing the downfall of the old life, and a rush of bitterness and sadness falls over the listeners.

But the sad mood is dispelled when the lieutenant governor of the old world Babushkin in Constantinople describing the splendors of New York. Their roseate misconceptions of the new world make the hearers rock with laughter.

Then the "province" disbands and its members go back to the far from roseate reality of their lives in exile.

PARIS, Dec. 24.—Premier Poincare, replying to adverse criticisms of the Ruhr operation from the government's opposition, Friday reviewed the entire subject in the chamber of deputies. He produced figures purporting to show that France and Belgium had obtained more than 5,000,000 tons of coal and coke since January 11, the beginning of the occupation, as compared with what he termed a "probable zero" had not the guarantees been taken. He added that with 27 per cent of the entire Ruhr production assured for 1924, the shipments next year will reach more than 25,000,000 tons.

Will Stay in Ruhr.

The premier reiterated the government's intention not to evacuate the territory beyond the Rhine "until we are completely paid" and he added the occupation as an effective means of bringing Germany to the realization that she must come to terms.

Concerning the expert committees appointed by the reparation commission to investigate Germany's financial situation, he expressed the hope that their work would be successful. He dwelt especially on the importance of the presence on the committee of representative citizens of the United States with the approval of the Washington government.

America's Democracy Is Typified in Donations Made To Harding Fund

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—

America's democracy is typified in the list of contributors to the Harding Memorial Fund. Donations coming into the Harding Memorial Association here represent the highest and humblest aspects of national life. Extremes in the associate membership of the Harding Memorial Association are President Calvin Coolidge, who gave $1,000 to the Memorial Fund, "a little body of hard working women" in Warren, Maine, who contributed the joint sum of $2.91.

Many touching tributes have been paid the former President in the letters enclosing gifts to the Memorial Fund. A contribution of one dollar, postmarked Now Brunswick, N. J., bore the single word "Love." No signature was given. Another from Ash Fork, Arizona, said: "No memorial will quite express the real feeling and gratitude of our people." A contribution, now famous among the personnel of the Harding Memorial Association, addressed to former Senator Frelinghuysen stated: "It sure is fine of you guys to remember a good man."

A little group of children in a Washington, D. C. hospital, inmates of the free ward, made a contribution of five dollars, through their patroness, volunteering to deny themselves the weekly refreshments she serves them, in order to repay the gift.

Report Steamer Attacked

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27.—

Teodoro Fraziers, commercial agent of the de la Huerta faction in Mexico, announced Wednesday night he had received a telegram stating that the steamship Coahuila of the Mexican Navigation Company had been attacked by the steamer Progresso said to be a Mexican government boat. Both of the vessels were armed with guns of small calibre, Mr. Fraziers said.

Details of the encounter were lacking. The dispatch stated the Coahuila had put in at Acapulco on the Gulf of Mexico, to avoid capture. Confirmation of the capture by government forces of the city of Puebla was received in a message Wednesday by Arturo M. Elias, Mexican consul general, from the war department at Mexico City.

Federals Control Most of Mexico.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 27.—Federal troops control the entire republic of Mexico except those positions held by the troops under Gen. Guadalupe Sanchez and Gen. Enrique Estrada. Mexican Consul General Enrique D. Ruiz was advised Wednesday by Mexico City.

Daniel Martinez Herrera, former chief under Lieut. Gen. Manuel Pelaez, which, according to reports from Tampico, is operating in the Esperanza district.

The federal detachment garrisoning the section is reported to have been ambushed and Col. Severino Leal killed.

CHICAGO FIRE

about a quarter of a mile away. A few of the attendants remained to help check the flames but three wards of the building were destroyed before much headway had been made.

The Dunning hospital is located on the northwest edge of Chicago. It is not surrounded by a fence or other inclosure and when the patients were ushered out, many became confused and wandered away. They were recognized by their hospital attire and those who did not return voluntarily were rounded up.

After city apparatus had arrived the fire was controlled, after three wards, constituting one-half of the building had been destroyed.

Firemen estimated the loss at $100,000. Hospital officials however, said they believed it would be less.

Because of mud in the streets and on the grounds fire apparatus had great difficulty in reaching the scene.

Ford Booster In South Comes Out For Coolidge

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 27.—C. W. McClure, Atlanta business man and the original Ford-For-President man in the South, in an interview here today, said he was highly gratified that Mr. Ford had cleared the political situation as far as his supporters were concerned by announcing that he was not only not in the race for the presidency but that he (Ford) is going to support President Coolidge. Mr. McClure says further that he hopes as many as possible of Mr. Ford's friends will do likewise—that is support President Coolidge—as Mr. Ford, using Mr. McClure's own words, "is the greatest business genius alive today and when he thinks it is best for the country that President Coolidge should serve a full term, I think he knows what he is talking about."

"The fact is," said Mr. McClure, "we ought to have more business men in executive offices than we have instead of lawyers and politicians."

Massachusetts Goes On Record Against Bonus

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, Dec. 27.—The Massachusetts Department of the American Legion is on record against the payment of a second state bonus to the former service men of the World War. At a recent state executive committee meeting of the veterans' organization a resolution was passed, placing the legion squarely opposing this payment.

Service men from Massachusetts received $10 a month for each month they served until January 30, 1918. Then the state voted a flat payment of $100 for each man who served in the war. Recent proposals to pass a third payment of $100 for the former service men is regarded as unnecessary, in the belief that the adjusting of compensation should fall on the Federal Government where the state has already made provisions for at least one payment.

BOY ASSUMES THE CONTROL OF LARGE BUSINESS CONCERN

Lucien J. Demotte Succeeds To Head of $2,000,000 Art Establishment In New York.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—His boy chums call him just plain "Luke," but wealthy art connoisseurs, bankers of several nations and business associates address him more respectfully, for to them he is Lucien J. Demotte, 17-year-old president of the House of Demotte, a $2,000,000 art concern located in this city.

Young Demotte is a dark-haired, soft-spoken, aesthetic-looking son of France, with more the air of a student than of a successful man of affairs. Fate cut short his boyhood and shouldered him with a man's responsibilities.

Last summer, when life to this boy meant nothing more than pleasant days with a tutor in his ancestral home near Paris, his father, George Joseph Demotte, founder of the New York house of art, was accidentally shot and killed in a boar hunt in France. As is the French custom, the youth had been trained to erudite his father's footsteps. He had been reared on art, in the old Demotte mansion on the banks of the Seine, in the midst of ancient furniture and statuary his ancestors had accumulated from the medieval castles of France.

"My father always talked to me of art," says Lucien. "Then, too, I had access to his library on Gothic art. We often went on tours of France together, visiting old churches and bringing through remote places for sculpture, wood carvings and other articles with which to build up our collection."

The death of the elder Demotte ended the carefree existence of his son. A month ago Lucien came to America. He was elected president of his father's corporation and given full authority to manage the business.

"A little pale rose with a crimson heart."

That was Marie Corelli's description of her heroine, in "Thelma," her classic romance of the Norseland and in Chester Bennett's screen version of the famous tale Jane Novak, as the star, is the perfect embodiment of the character known to millions of readers throughout the world.

As romance is the basis of happiness, romance is by all odds the most popular species of entertainment today and the spectacular and charming picturization of "Thelma" will thrill hundreds of theatergoers at the Milane Theater where it is being shown for an engagement of one day (today) only.

"Thelma" is a triumph for Jane Novak. It is a triumph too, for Chester Bennett, the producer. For the many admirers of Miss Novak it will be welcome news that she appears in brilliant scenes, fashioned by the greatest modistes of this country and Europe. Then, by way of contrast, she is shown in the sweet simplicity of her Norseland surroundings, wearing the plain native frock of her homeland. The scenes in which she captivates London society as the wife of Sir Philip Errington are in themselves exhibitions of brilliance and charm of lustrous proportions.

FLORIDA FORESTS HAVE ATTRACTION SAYS STATEMENT

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 27.—That Florida's forests—the Choctawhatchee in Santa Rosa, Oklawaha and Walton counties, and the Ocala in Marion county—hold out great possibilities as attractions for recreation, is indicated in a statement by Colonel W. B. Greeley, chief of the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture, in his annual report.

It is shown in the report that the number of people that visited national forests in 1923 reached six million, or practically double the figures for 1917, and all indications point to a continued increase for the future the report states.

"The use of the national forests for recreation is in all respects deserving of encouragement," the report says. "It means for no small part of the country a population a valuable opportunity and privilege. Properly managed, the forests will add valuable elements to our national life without seriously impairing the capacity of the forests to create wealth or render other public services."

One of the important duties of officers of the Forest Service, the report continues, is the protection of game animals and fish, two resources of the forests which are closely related to the use of forested areas as recreation grounds.

"The wild life resources of the national forests," it continues, "must be administered, fostered, and utilized much as are the timber and forage resources. The cost of this activity, in common with providing facilities for recreation and conserving the sources of water, will never be recovered in the form of commercial receipts, but is justified by the valuable public service which the national forests can thus contribute."

"More game refuges and fish-breeding streams, and ponds should be set aside to provide for protected breeding to meet the rapidly increasing use of the forests for recreational purposes, careful consideration must be given to available food supplies for the desirable animals, and a system of regulated use devised that will prevent depletion of all wild life."

Farm Census Will Be Taken In This State Next Year

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 27.—Both the federal and state agricultural departments probably will participate in the farm census that is to be taken in Florida in 1925. It is not unlikely that they will combine forces in the work, although there is nothing officially known to this effect as yet.

In the meantime, however, both departments are going ahead with plans for an agricultural census. The Florida department is working on plans for its eighteenth biennial report covering the years of 1923-24, showing the progress of the state both with respect to crop production and manufactures.

The federal department is planning for a nation-wide census of agriculture, the value of which Dr. H. C. Taylor, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics of the federal department emphasizes as an aid in developing national agricultural policies.

"In working out the details of a properly balanced system of national agriculture under normal conditions, the basic agricultural statistics collected in 1920 are inadequate," Dr. Taylor says, "At that time American agriculture was still in a period of readjustment from war conditions, and the statistics reflect the transitory effects of the war rather than to provide data from which national agricultural policies may be developed."

"The various branches of American agriculture are now gradually working toward a more normal basis, and by 1925 will yield figures that may be safely used in planning the future healthy growth of the industry as a whole," he states. "The plan to make agricultural enumerations in other than population census years is also merited in that the results can be made available nearer the date that the agricultural census is taken."

Dr. Taylor says that basic agricultural statistics compiled by the Census Bureau are continually used in

Newspapers Are To Be Used As Textbooks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Much interest is expressed in Capital City educational circles over the proposals of Missouri school authorities to use the daily newspaper as a classroom book, for daily study. The plan is advanced by Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of public schools, who has placed it before each school in the state.

Mr. Lee asserts that the newspaper as the vehicle of world-wide communication and exchange of thought is the public necessity, and that pupils should be taught how to read and study the news in the better class of newspapers. Grasp of the dangers besetting Government, he holds, can only be had by serious study of the actual developments day by day.

Stephen A. Wagner, member of the St. Louis Board of Education, advocates that the board subscribe for a large number of daily papers, to be connection with the department's forecasts and estimates of crops and livestock, in measuring the financial status of farms and farmers, and in gauging shifts in farm population.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardul for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardul," said Mrs. J. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart. "This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardul, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardul helpful for your troubles.

Price of the Circuit Court, who has indicated the intention of resigning. It is understood that A. J. Rose, city attorney, has the unanimous support of the members of the bar. Judge Price gives pressing private business as the reason for his resignation. The legal firm of which he is a member, he states, has a large number of cases that need attention and he feels it his duty to be firm and to his clients to relinquish the judgeship and give the matters attention. His retirement will become effective January 1, it is said.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Ham Patties—Take one cup finely chopped cooked ham, one-quarter cup fine bread crumbs, one-half cup milk, one tablespoon butter, melted. Mix meat and crumbs, add butter and milk. Half fill greased ramekins or muffin rings with this mixture and break one egg carefully into each. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and generously butter crumbs and bake 12 to 15 minutes in moderate oven.
Sift dry ingredients into flat-bottomed pan. Work in shortening thoroughly. Add enough milk to make soft dough, mixing it with spatula and keeping to one side of pan. Flour bottom of pan well, pat dough out gently, and cut with well-floured cutter. Bake about 12 minutes in moderate oven, turning up heat if necessary to brown. This method is much better than rolling dough on molding board. Much time is saved and the dough can be made softer so that the biscuits are more delicate.
Rice—Indian Style—One cup rice uncooked, one cup stewed tomatoes, one cup soup stock, a little grated onion, salt and pepper, one cup butter. Boil together the tomatoes and the soup stock. When at boiling point add the rice and cook until rice is done. Remove from the fire and add one-half cup butter and let steam on back of stove for 20 minutes. Don't stir very much after the rice is put in.
Cranberry Sauce—Wash, clean and pick one quart of cranberries; put them into a granite saucepan with one pint of water and let them stew for one hour, or until tender and soft. Then mash them through a colander and return to the fire. Now warm in the oven one pint of granulated sugar or one and one-half cups of brown sugar, and as soon as the sugar boils, empty in the sugar and cook until it jellies, which will be a very few minutes. Then pour into a bowl or dish and set aside until cold. Never stir cranberries with anything except a silver spoon.
Apple Dessert—Boil one and one-half cups sugar, one cup water to syrup; peel and core apples of same size, color with pink gelatine tablets or fruit coloring. Cook apples slowly in syrup until soft; take out; stick a few blanched almonds around and serve with plain or whipped cream.
Sugar Cookies—One egg, one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, four tablespoons sweet milk, one small teaspoon baking soda, flour to mix soft; stir with spoon. Roll thin; bake in quick oven. Be careful not to mix too stiff.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY. THE LORD IS GOOD.—O, taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in him.—Psalm 34:8.

LIFE.

To the preacher, life's a sermon, To the joker it's a jest; To the miser life is money, To the loafer life is rest, To the lawyer life's a trial, To the poet life's a song; To the doctor life's a patient, That needs treatment right along.

To the soldier life's a battle, To the teacher life's a school; Life's a good thing to the grafter, It's a failure to the fool, To the man upon the engine Life's a long and weary grade; It's a gamble to the gambler, To the merchant life is trade.

Life is but a long vacation, To the man who loves his work; Life's an everlasting effort To shun duty, to the shirk, To the earnest christian worker Life's a story ever new; Life is what we try to make it; Brother, what is life to you? —Minneapolis Journal.

Pay that poll tax. Get ready to write it, 1924. Yes sir, Sanford does grow. Good citizenship means service. An important election is coming. What will be the next progressive step for Sanford? A tremendous amount of talking is done in this world.

Christmas is over and there is still a few days left before the bills come in.

Today is Woodrow Wilson's birthday. He is sixty-seven years of age.

If there is a hotel in Sanford that is not filled to capacity, there is a reason.

But Sanford has really only begun to grow; at that. Keep watching it closely.

Many lucky folks received gifts of money for Christmas. They are spending it now in the stores that advertise.

Reports come of a fine celery crop for this year. It looks as if Seminole county is to have the best year in its history.

The Orlando detour doesn't get a bit better. Does anyone know how long it will be before Sanford Avenue is opened to traffic again?

That proposed bond issue of $850,000 is already bringing Sanford good advertising. They are pointing to the way in which Sanford is doing things.

If you have a little money—or a lot of money—and want to invest in a sure thing—buy Sanford real estate. Next year this time it will be worth double its value today.

Why is it that signs of warning are nearly always posted along comparatively safe roads while dangerous curves and crossings have no signs to warn the motorist?

Provide a rain water cistern for that new home you are planning. Many people foolishly leave out of their plant provision for the storage of soft water.

Sanford housewives are finding the Friday grocery pages of The Herald of great assistance in making up their lists for Saturday shopping.

Some information worth remembering. The 118th Psalm which contains 176 verses is the longest chapter in the old Testament; the shortest is the 117th Psalm, which comprises only two verses.

Own your own home. You may think that you cannot afford to own your home in Sanford, but you can. You can manage some how to get hold of a place and pay for it with the sums you now pay for rent. Own your own home. Better yet, buy a lot and build your own home. The Herald's builders page on Saturday will offer valuable suggestions.

Celebrating Christmas With Fireworks

Newspapers of the state are having much to say of the manner in which Christmas was celebrated in the various cities of Florida.

In many places it has been the custom to celebrate this great day with fireworks.

The Fort Meade Leader in its issue of Thursday has the following to say in regard to the manner in which Christmas is celebrated:

"The fact of the matter is that almost every town and city in the entire South is putting the ban on fireworks and on firecrackers during the Christmas holidays, and many of the communities are forbidden to sell fireworks of any kind.

"And there are several sensible reasons for this. One of these reasons is that fireworks and firecrackers are a menace and should rightly not be permitted within the fire limits of the city. And then another reason is the revulsion of feeling against what appears to be almost a sacrilege against traditions of Christmas.

"The custom of so much noise at Christmas time by a conglomeration of fireworks originated, we learn, among the slaves of the South on the old plantations, the masters permitting the negroes to celebrate the Yuletide season in that way. But this custom is rapidly dropping into discard and a lot of noise and fireworks at Christmas seems wholly out of place. There are other and holier and more appropriate ways and means of celebrating the nativity of Jesus."

The Development of Radio

The year 1923 has witnessed great strides in the development of wireless communication. Every few days during the year announcements of new and startling feats have been made. Today, people are beginning to wonder if the radio has reached the pinnacle of development.

It was on December 21, 1901 that telegraphic signals transmitted from Newfoundland were received in England, marking the success of William Marconi in bridging the Atlantic after his previous feat of telegraphing through the air across the English channel. This date can be considered as the birthday of world communication by wireless. Twenty-two years after, on December 11, 1923 the voice of a French senator speaking in New York was distinctly heard by listeners in his native land.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram says that if we are to believe that the highest point in the first stage of radio has been reached, we must believe that there is to be a second stage whose advancement shall be continuous from the present. The goal toward which scientists are bending their efforts is that of discovering means of controlling radio messages as to directions and definite distance.

Without a doubt the coming year will bring with it still greater development in wireless communication. And what will be the marvelous accomplishments within the next ten years?

A Word to the Wise

A bond election which, if carried, will mean the securing of the public utilities for Sanford, will be held in this city on January 11. Persons desiring to participate in that election must be qualified to vote.

Poll taxes must be paid. And they must be paid before the night of January 1.

The purposes for which the money from this big bond election would be used are worthy ones. The important thing is to bring out all the possible voters and obtain a big majority.

The Herald thinks a word to the wise will be sufficient and that Sanford's good citizens will see to it that they are qualified to vote in this important election. Don't delay.

Does Advertising Pay?

The Herald published an associated press dispatch Wednesday stating that the Miami Chamber of Commerce is raising a fund of $40,000 for publicity purposes.

Miami believes in advertising. It is today the best advertised city in the country, but yet it continues to spend great amounts of money to keep before the public.

In 1920 the United States census gave Miami a population of about 29,000 but The Miami Herald is claiming a population of over 50,000 now for the magic city.

The proper kind of advertising always secures results. The wise advertiser keeps continually before the people he desires to reach and creates a demand for his product.

If you don't believe advertising pays look at Miami. It furnishes conclusive proof.

THERE IS ONE SIN which is everywhere underestimated and quite too often overlooked in valuation of character. It is the sin of fretting. It is as common as air, as speech—so common that unless it rises above its usual monotone, we do not even observe it. Watch any ordinary coming together of people, and see how many minutes it will be before somebody frets; that is, makes more or less complaining statements of something or other which most probably everyone in the room, or in the car, or on the street corner, it may be, knew before, and which probably nobody can help. Why say anything about it? It is cold, it is hot, it is dry; somebody has broken an appointment, ill cooked a meal; stupidity or bad faith has resulted in discomfort. There are plenty of things to fret about. It is simply astonishing how much annoyance may be found in the course of every day's living, even at the simplest, if one only keeps a sharp eye out on that side of things. Even Holy Writ says we are prone to trouble "as sparks fly upward." But even to the sparks that fly upward, in the blackest smoke, there is a blue sky above, and the less time they waste on the road, the sooner they will reach it. Fretting is all "time wasted on the road."—Herald of Peace.

The Asheville Citizen

A superstition has existed in the family of Martin Finken that a giant oak standing in front of the Finken farmhouse would some day bring a mishap to the family. Today the tree crashed down on Harry Finken, eldest son, and killed him.—News note from Nyack, N. Y.

Naturally, Harry Finken's death was what the Finken family had been asking for. Bring up children with the idea that something is to happen to them, and the chances are that it will. Rear your child with the thought firmly implanted in his mind that by birth, breeding and opportunity he is entitled to do great things in the world, and he will go into the game of life admirably equipped to come out a winner. Bow down the soul of a boy with the fetters of fear, and you doom him before even the alarm is sounded, you prepare him for retreat instead of advance.

The burden of all Christ's teaching is that, if you would succeed, you must expect to succeed. "Fear not," "ask," "seek," and "be of good courage" are the commands with which He led the weak and the sick into the realm of health and contentment. He was the first to reveal to the world the irresistible power of the mind, the incomparable strength of the con-

Effort Wins

The idea is that instead of trying to shield children from the problems of life, we should teach them to become so strong that such problems can be mastered almost without effort.

Instead of eternally watching the young man, lest he go astray, make him so strong that no power on earth can lead him astray. Make him strong enough to stand by himself; and then hold neither fear nor anxiety over him any more.

At first sight it may seem noble of parents to prepare an easy life for their children; but is it not far more noble to teach children to become so strong and so competent that nothing in life is difficult?

Which would you rather be, a puppet with a "soft snap," or a mental giant with sufficient power to master anything, and transform anything into whatever you might wish it to be?

When we are training children, large or small, this is something we should consider well.

Everything that tends to make a person dependent, tends to decrease that person's ability, and consequently makes life more difficult for him to live.

On the other hand everything that tends to bring out the person's own individuality will increase that person's ability, capacity, and power, and will not only make his life easier and more agreeable, but will accomplish a great deal more in his own chosen vocation.—Larson.

My Favorite Stories

By Irvin S. Cobb

Where I used to live there was a distinguished lawyer, who had served a term or two in Congress. Like most Kentuckians of his type, he loved good horseflesh. Also, he had a very pretty wit of his own.

In this same town was a blacksmith who had turned—or thought he had turned—racehorse man. He owned a bony mare which in the fond eye of her owner had the makings in her of a trotter—a belief which few, if any, other persons in the community shared with him.

The infatuated blacksmith bought an elaborate outfit—high-wheeled racing sulky, interfering boots, jangling harness, fancy breeches—the whole thing. For himself he purchased a peaked cap and the orthodox lined duster.

On a proud day he drove down the principal street to exhibit the mare and her finery and his to the populace. On the corner by the post office he encountered the former congressman. He drew up with a flourish. "Colonel," he hailed, "you're a judge of these things. Just look us over and give me your honest opinion."

The lawyer squinted his eye at the spectacle. "Perfect," he commented, "practically perfect in every detail."

"What do you think of that set of interferers?"

"Couldn't be beat."

"And I call your attention to this here russet leather harness. Purty good, eh?"

"Magnificent."

"Well, Colonel, speaking as a man, could you think of anything more that's needed to make this here racing outfit complete?"

"Well, my friend," said the Colonel, "if you put it that way, I might suggest that you do need just one thing."

"What's that, Colonel?"

"A hoss."

Another Traveler is Interviewed

Detroit Free Press

Hugh Jennings is back from a trip to Europe and has been interviewed, but there is no occasion for alarm. He did not tell how to rehabilitate Germany nor did he explain the Russian situation. Instead he did what is naturally expected of him and talked baseball. His idea is that the chances of introducing the American national game among Europeans are not as good as some people seemed to think after ball-playing American soldiers had carried the game across the water. There is no use, he says, in trying to make Europeans play ball by any process that does not begin with the boys and bring them up with the game.

There is much to be said for that theory, but at the same time it is one that makes one doubt whether baseball ever will capture Europe. Children are essentially conservative. They may run after fads like their elders sometimes, but their standard amusements have been the same from time immemorial and all they do is hedged about with permanent traditions. Who can say why boys always play marbles in the spring and go in for kite flying somewhat later? What is there in adolescent nature that causes the average American youngster to regard a game of marbles in August as something bordering on the disgraceful? Nobody knows, but everyone knows the fact, and it points to something in a boy's attitude toward sport that is more deeply seated than reason or even his own desire. He is ruled by a higher power in such matters. He plays certain games at certain times, not only because he likes to, but because it is the right thing to do and other things are taboo.

Doubtless it is possible to introduce new elements into a boy's play complex but they come by evolution rather than by propaganda. Rugby football was born when one headstrong boy broke the rules of the older form of the game. Baseball evolved among American boys and young men from rounders. Nobody invented these games, and whether they could have been thrust upon the youth by a conscious effort of their elders is an open question.

The Development Florida Needs

Palm Beach Post

The importance of doing small things has been so often and so long stressed that today the people of this country have become imbued with the idea that it is only the little things that count.

Modern development, and true progress no longer can be had by doing only little things; or by each man working alone and singly for himself. Saving the pennies, accumulating dollars of pennies; judicious investments of worth while number. Planting a ten-acre tract of fine land carved from a cypress swamp in Florida or anywhere else in the South makes a fine showing for the man who does it; but after all he has added nothing to the general welfare of the state, nor has he benefited his community, for he perhaps, alone of all his community, had the money to spend in this intensive small development.

Today the development that makes men rich, that builds up the population and the wealth of a state is that development done by big organizations, in a big way, preparatory to selling to the individual.

If California and the Rio Grande valley, and Arizona and Washington State, and Oregon had been left to the individual efforts of the home seekers and homesteaders to develop, those rich and populous areas would today be as sparsely settled and as weakly cultivated as many places in the South.

But great development companies prepared the way there for settlement, population, and population by subduing the wilderness, the deserts and the forests, and opened potential farm and home sites all over them. Then they brought the people from every quarter of the country and showed them a place ready for the plowman, ready for the family, and ready for the sowing and planting.

That is what is needed in Florida. Instead of a small colony where ten to a hundred men and their families attempt each for himself to prepare a home and farm on ten acres, there must be great, tried, farm tracts prepared for the settler by the development company. Let the land be made ready for the seed bed, a comfortable house with outbuildings, and pure healthful water for domestic use be made ready, let hard roads lead from the nearest market town and the county seat to each community so developed, and then bring down your people, to see a place that lacks only the domesticity of the family furnishings to make it a home indeed.

The land company which undertakes this first, is going to reap a harvest in returns of pecuniary worth, be given the acclaim of the section and add to the wealth and population of Florida to a degree that years of single-farming by honest, but hampered, farmers cannot attain.

The home-seekers' rates to this state will be in effect early in April, for the first time in many years. The time is ripe now for some one or several big companies to prepare to take advantage of these excursions of men and women who are at least interested enough in Florida to come and see.

Annual Christmas Ball of The Social Department At The Woman's Club

The most brilliant social affair and one that is anticipated with much pleasure and interest is the annual ball given by the Social Department of the Woman's Club, and was given last evening at the beautiful new club house.

Never has the club been more artistically decorated than on this occasion. Small Christmas trees, gaily decorated and trimmed with myriads of tiny varicolored electric lights, encircled the large auditorium. The stage was banked solid with boughs of cedar, vines and flaming poinsettias. On mantels and cabinets were cases of poinsettias and roses combined with greenery and red lighted tapers were also used. On the heart, a large cheery fire burned which added a finishing touch. The colonades were entwined with vines and glittering tinsel, and the whole place presented a festive appearance. Much credit is due to the decorating committee, Misses Katherine Wilkey and Tuba Williams.

Welcoming the guests upon arrival were Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Langley. Mrs. Langley was attired in an exquisite gown of peach crepe, heavily beaded in crystal and combined with Georgette.

The programs were enlivened with red roses, the club flower, and these were given out by Mrs. R. A. Newman whose fetching frock was of black lace veiling gold metallic cloth.

Punch was served throughout the evening at a prettily appointed table, by Mrs. G. L. Loucke and Mrs. W. A. Fitts. Black velvet fashioned the elegant costume worn by Mrs. Loucke, while Mrs. Fitts was indeed lovely in lace.

The music was exceptionally good and was furnished by Aherns Orchestra from Orlando. The dance was opened with a grand march led by Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Langley. Appropriate favors were given throughout the evening.

During the intermission at 11 o'clock, refreshments of chicken and turkey sandwiches and hot coffee were served by Mrs. Howard Overlin and her committee. Mrs. Overlin wore a creation of fuchsia georgette, which was indeed becoming.

Mrs. R. E. Tolar, president of the Woman's Club was regal in American blue panne velvet.

Miss Katherine Wilkey wore a girlish and becoming costume of Celestial blue georgette.

Miss Tuba Williams was greatly admired in a French frock of wisteria chiffon velvet.

This year's ball far surpassed those previously given by the club and too much praise can not be given Mrs. W. A. Fitts, chairman of the Social Department, whose untiring efforts made it such a success.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS ENTERTAIN FOR MR. AND MRS. RUMPLE.

Many delightful Christmas games were played. Delicious refreshments of fruit gelatine, whipped cream, angel food cake, nuts and coffee were served by the hostesses for the society, Mrs. Green, Miss Laura Lehman and Miss Gertrude Runge. After refreshments were served Mr. William Rumble, president of the C. E., presented Mr. and Mrs. Rumble with a silver lettuce fork with the best wishes and love of the Christian Endeavor.

OLDERS BRIDGE CLUB.

The lovely home of Mrs. George Davis Hart was the scene of a very attractive party Thursday afternoon, when she entertained the members of the Olders Bridge Club and one extra table of players at bridge.

Small pines in tubs and jardiniere were arranged about the rooms forming a rich dark background for the baskets and bowls of poinsettias and red roses. Softly shaded lights cast a mellow glow over this pretty scene.

Scores were kept on Santa Claus tallies and after a number of spirited games of bridge, the prize for high score among the club members, was won by Mrs. Harry Heron. Mrs. Osborne Herndon held high score among the guests, and was awarded a set of bridge tallies.

At the conclusion of the card game, Mrs. Hart served candlestick salad, sandwiches, cake and coffee. The affair was one of exceptional enjoyment to the guests and the cordial hospitality of Mrs. Hart was reflected in every detail.

The guests included, Mrs. John Meisch, Mrs. Harry Heron, Mrs. Endor Curlett, Mrs. Ludwig, Mrs. John Bender, Mrs. Henry Wight, Mrs. Alex Vaughan, Mrs. Roland Read, Mrs. Osborne Herndon, Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, and Mrs. E. P. Morse.

The many friends of Mrs. J. A. Kelley of Sanford Heights will be sorry to learn that she was injured Tuesday by a truck knocking her down. However, the injuries while painful are not serious and unless complications set in she will be out in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Daiger left Friday morning in their car for their home in Tampa after a pleasant visit here with relatives. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Augusta Elgermann, who will spend the week-end with her son, Warren Eigenmann at Clearwater.

DANCE

One of the most enjoyable entertainments on the social calendar for the Christmas season was a dance given Wednesday night by Miss Demarius Musson at her home on Palmott's Avenue.

The whole lower floor was thrown together en suite and was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. The lights were shaded with red paper which cast a warm and pleasant glow over the rooms. Many surprises were in store for the guests, among them, the radio, which furnished the music for dancing, from such places as Pittsburg, Memphis, Atlanta, Jefferson City and many others.

Dancing was enjoyed by this until a late hour when all the guests were asked to be seated as there was a very important announcement to be made. This announcement was given in a very clever little poem by Miss Allie Vera Glisson. This was really the surprise of the evening as the engagement of Miss Musson to Mr. Ralph Warren was made known. Much excitement came from this source. To add to the fun and pleasure two boys slipped out very quietly and went down and wired the Atlanta radio broadcasting station to announce the engagement. In about 20 minutes the engagement was announced over the radio which was a complete surprise to the bride and groom-to-be.

Later in the evening refreshments, consisting of hot chocolate and cakes, were served. Little bags filled with candies, nuts, etc., were given as favors.

Among those attending this happy event were Misses Elizabeth Flowers, Rose Gallego, Florence Marme, Bernice Austin, Helen Hogue, Mary Fields, Dorothy Stokes, Dorothy Vay, Chevolet Smith, Walker, Ollie Vera Glisson, and Messrs. Ralph Warren, Joe Gonzalez, Hyron Stephens, Clarence Fields, Clifford Walker, Bertram Sheppard, Herbert Messer, Troy Ray, Johnny Musson, and George Cowan.

The evening passed all too quickly and in the few hours of the night the guests departed bestowing congratulations on the happy couple and declaring they had never spent a more enjoyable evening.

EVERY WEEK BRIDGE CLUB.

One of the prettiest Christmas parties, was that of Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Walter Wight entertained at bridge at her home on Park Avenue, the guests being the members of the Every Week Bridge Club, there being three tables of players.

Vivid-hued poinsettias, and bowls of nasturtiums together with Christmas greens, and wreaths were effectively used in decorating the rooms where the card tables were placed. In one corner was a gay Christmas tree, on which were hung the favors.

The card games proved most interesting and when scores were counted, the prize for top score among the club members, a set of sandwich cutters, was won by Mrs. G. F. Smith. The high score guest prize, a deck of bridge cards, went to Miss Katherine Wilkey.

Refreshments consisting of a salad course, with coffee and Charlotte Russe, were served at the conclusion of the card game.

Those enjoying the cordial hospitality of Mrs. Wight were Mrs. John Van Ince and Mrs. S. D. Chittenden, of Calico, Ga., Mrs. J. G. Sharon, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mrs. L. P. McCuller, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. S. E. Barrett, Mrs. A. M. DeForrest, Mrs. W. J. Thigpen, Mrs. T. L. Dumas, Mrs. John Sneed, and Miss Katherine Wilkey.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S LUNCHEON.

After a most satisfactory luncheon, the president, Miss Elizabeth Musson called the meeting to order and the plans were discussed for taking care of the note due on the Chautauque debt. Then the meeting was given over to gay, informal talk on the holidays and just how good Santa Claus had been to each one.

Those present, were Miss Elizabeth Musson, Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, Mrs. John Leonard, Miss Agnes Heron, and Miss Mel Whittier. An attendance of over 60 per cent of the membership.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. Schelle Maines were hosts at dinner Wednesday evening at the Valdez Hotel, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Haynes, whose twelfth wedding anniversary it was.

The prettily appointed dinner table was centered with a crystal basket of calendulas and ferns, and marking the places were place cards also designed with yellow flowers. A delicious six course dinner was served.

Mrs. Tom Paine of Belle Meade, N. J., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tillis. Mrs. Paine will be most pleasantly remembered as Miss Cora Lee Tillis. ## CAPT. CHARLES H. LEFFLER ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Winnie Strong entertained Thursday night from 8 until 11 o'clock in honor of the eighty-first birthday of Captain Charles H. Leffler at her home on 11th Street.

The large living room was bright with masses of poinsettias and red roses mingled with the dark green of the pine and evergreens. The party was a complete surprise to Captain Leffler, for when he returned from a short errand he found his many friends gathered to give him congratulations and good wishes. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner, in fun and laughter from the telling of jokes and recounting of stories, one story bringing another.

Captain Leffler is one of the most loved and honored of the older citizens of Sanford, having been one of the boosters of Sanford from its founding. He served with distinction in the army during the Civil War and afterwards helped rebuild the new south.

Later in the evening refreshments of chicken salad, salsitas, olives, hot rolls, coffee and whipped cream were served.

Those present were Mrs. Fannie S. Munson, Misses Zoe and Fannie Reba Munson, Mrs. Ella Leffler, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leffler, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Miss Winnie Strong, Mr. Allen Jones, Mr. C. H. Leffler, and Mrs. Strong, Laurie McDaniel, Virginia McDaniel, Martin McDaniel, Mr. Obie Leonard.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES HENRY SMITH CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING.

Brilliant in every detail was the party given Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Smith. The spacious home was never more attractive. The living room was decorated entirely in silver and white, in the bay window, draped on either side by silver tinsel, was hung a silver and white wedding bell; the mantle was covered with white bride's roses and banked over the book case were masses of narcissus, white sweet peas and snap dragons.

In the dining room the color scheme was pink and white. Pink candles in silver candelabras graced the buffet and serving table. The mantle was banked with pink La France roses and fern. The dining table was arranged in the bay window, which was decorated with silver bells and wreaths. On the table was the bride's cake with the numerals 1898-1923 in silver and on either side of the cake was a tall silver candlestick with its gleaming pink taper.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. B. J. Stalling charmingly gowned in silver cloth, and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell in fawn colored satin caught up on one side with a silk La France rose and gold ribbon.

Mrs. G. F. McKay, lovely in black lace, asked each guest to register in the bride's book as a memento of the occasion.

The main event of the evening had been kept as a surprise from all the guests. It was instead of a musical celebration of the silver wedding ## of the host and hostess who were married 25 years ago in Kingston, N. C.

The following program of nuptial music was then given:
"When Honey Sings an Old Time Tune," by Mrs. A. M. Phillips.
Piano Solo, "The Lotus Flowers," by Mrs. Abercrombie.
Piano Duet, "The Poet and Peasant," by Misses Smith and Bailey.
Vocal Duet, "Love's Merry Morning," by Mrs. A. M. Phillips and Mrs. Schelle Maines.
Piano Solo, "Birds and Flowers," by Miss Julia Laing.
"Sweetest Story Ever Told," by Miss Lillian Ruth Spencer.
Piano Solo, by Miss Charlotte Smith.
"Perfect Day," by Mrs. Claude Herndon.
Mrs. Barnes gave a reading charmingly, "It takes a Heap of Living," by Edgar Guest.
Mrs. Smith cut the wedding cake, and assisted by Mrs. W. S. Morgan gave each guest a piece to dream over.
Mrs. Morgan was lovely in old rose crepe de chine.
Refreshments of fruit salad with salsitas and nuts in little silver nut dishes, with coffee and whipped cream were served by Misses Catherine Brandy, Catherine Wilson, Gussie Frank, Julia Laing and Gladys Adams. These young ladies added a pretty note of color in dresses of all the pastel shades.

Mrs. Claude Herndon charmingly and graciously received the guests for the hostess. Softly the prelude by Widener was played by Mrs. Abercrombie. Then Miss Lillie Ruth Spencer sang exquisitely "At Dawning," by Cadman.

The guests were on tip-toe of expectation when the familiar strains of the wedding march sounded and the double doors opening into the dining room opened and Dr. Carpenter entered followed by the little fairy flower girl, Miss Dorothy, dressed in white accordion pleated silk and carrying a large white open rose. Miss Blanche Marquette, sister of the bride, and who was her maid of honor 25 years ago followed, lovely in yellow and green changeable taffeta draped with black silk lace and carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Then came the bride, gracious and charming in white satin draped in all-over lace and pearl ornaments and carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and sweet peas. The groom distinguished and handsome entered with the bride. They were followed by their two sons, Mr. Virgil Smith and Mr. Dwight Smith, acting as groomsmen. The bride and groom stopped under the large silver bell in the living room and Dr. Carpenter, in lieu of a ceremony offered a prayer and then while the wedding music was softly played, gave a congratulatory talk. The guests hastened to offer their warmest good wishes and congratulations.
