Sanford Bus Service Set Dec. 4... If No Problems

Bus service for Sanford will begin Dec. 4 barring any unforeseen circumstances, Dwight Maddox, Orange-Seminole-Osceola Transportation Authority (OSOTA) director of planning told a meeting of the Sanford Plaza Merchants Association today.

"We've set a target date of Dec. 4, if this is agreeable with the county and we can get everything coordinated in advance," said He noted the final routes are still subject to minor changes and bus stop locations have not been established. Those problems are expected to be resolved by the end of the Maddox added OSOTA will have to plan

The routes are planned to run as follows: The southern route will run a loop around the Cardinal Industries area west to the Sanford Plaza area and back to Sanford Avenue where it will head north to 20th Street and north again on Park Avenue to downtown Sanford.

The western route will also run a loop around the Sanford Plaza area north on U.S. 17-82 to Sith Street west, then north through the Lincoln Heights area and back to U.S. 17-$2 and north to the downtown area. The eastern route would circulate through the Midway area; west on 28th Street and north to the downtown area on Mellonville. Minor changes in those routes may still be made before service opens, according to

The southside route will operate hourly from 6 a.m., 7 a.m., 9 a.m., 10 a.m., noon, 1 p.m., 3 p.m., 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. The east side route will circulate in the Midway area at 8 a.m., 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 5 D.m.

Rates for the new lines have not been set, according to Maddoz. However, the county nion suggested several months ago COMMIN that the fee for the Sandard route be 50 cents and that the Altamonte Springs fare be raised to 16 cents to help cover the cost of starting the Senford route.

The city will not participate in funding the service. The new bus lines will be operated on revenues from users, a county subsidy and state and federal funds.

Hattaway: He Serves Well

A legislator's worth can best be measured by his responsiveness to his constituents. And by this measure Robert (Bobby) Hat-taway, District 33 Democrat of Altamonte Springs, who has represented Seminole County in the Florida House of Representatives for four years, has certainly demonstrated such worth. We urge his re-election on Nov. 7.

In his two terms in Tallahassee, Rep. Hat-taway time after time has demonstrated his devotion to our county. We need only mention a few examples: his help in obtaining funding for research into control of the blind mosquitoes; his efforts in keeping the juvenile detention center here; his most recent effort in trying to upgrade and smooth out the public defender's operation here in Sanford; or his quick response in using his office to see that the primary voting-machine problems were looked into and straightened out.

Add to his responsiveness, Rep. Hattaway's consistent availability to his constituents and you have another good reason to keep him in office.

Whether it is because he is a native of Seminole County or because he recognizes his responsibility to do so as a legislator, Rep. Hattaway has remained conversant with issues affecting our county. He has done his homework.

From all indications, too, among his peers in Tallahassee Rep. Hattaway is considered a leader. He knows his way around the state capitol and legislative process.

In fact, according to Hyatt Brown, speaker-designate of the Florida House, all of Mr. Hattaway's experience could propel him some day into the speakership spot himself. On a closer-to-home level, Rep. Hattaway has earned the respect and admiration of his colleagues. Example: his associates on the Seminole County Legislative Delegation have elected him chairman.

We also like Rep. Hattaway's long-term ob-jective to allow Seminole County to elect its own representative and senator to Tallahasse, instead of having to share with other neighboring coun-ties-as we do now in the Florida Senate.

For all these reasons and more, Rep. Robert (Bobby) Hattaway deserves to continue serving Seminole County District 33 in the Florida House of Representatives.

Congress As Whole

As an institution the United States Congress can veer from high to low in public esteem as often as it veers from right to left From acts of laudable statesmanship it can crumble quickly into partisan bickering or surrender to special interests. The response from the sidelines is forever a mixture of brickbets and bouquets.

Election day every two years gives us a chance to speak up en masse to determine the composition of the lower house of Congress - the House of Representatives.

It is then we make the recurring discovery that voters don't pass judgment on "Congress" as a whole. The quality of the upcoming 98th Congress, like that of the 98th that just adjourned, depends on the outcome of hundreds of state and local elections.

That is the perspective we take to polling places Nov. 7 to vote on candidates for the U.S. House of Representatives and, in some states, for the U.S. Senate. In the congressional races on the November ballot we are ding representatives to Washsington to fill a dual role in the

RONALD REAGAN Muddle Through Plan?

Guess what? Inflation is YOUR fault. At least that is the underlying message of Mr. Carter's "anti-inflation" plan. He stopped short of actually saying that labor and business, through the wage-price spiral, cause inflation, but he certainly implied it in his speech the other evening. The centerpiece of his plan -"voluntary" wage and price guidelines -reinforces that implication. By failing to identify the cause of inflation - swollen government and its huge deficits - he focuses the nation's at-iention on the symptoms instead. Voluntary wage and price guidelines will become a sort of straw man. By putting the nation's expectations on them as the cure for inflation, he increases the likelihood that they won't produce the desired result. Inevitably, that will lead to stepped-up cries for mandatory government controls. It doesn't take history professor to know that those won't work, either. in fact, they haven't over the 2,000 or so years they have been tried.

Mr. Carter and his minions are in the midst of a massive public relations campaign now to make us believe that the only alternative to their current "plan" are mandatory controls, on the one hand, or recession on the other. Horse feathers. The overseas money markets agree. They

A REAL PROPERTY AND ADDRESS OF ADDRESS ADDRESS OF ADDR

Your checking account can tie up a lot of money. First, there's your minimum balance. Then there's the amount you have to keep for your monthly bills. And you may be depositing extra money in checking to guard against overdrafts.

Good reasons to keep money in your checking account? Certainly. The problem is, most of that money isn't working for you. It just sits there, not earning a nickel. And that means you've been losing interest in your checking account. Until now.

ATLANTIC BANK BRINGS YOU INTEREST PLUS CHECKING.

Atlantic Bank brings you a great new concept in banking. It's called Interest Plus Checking. And it combines the advantages of a checking account with an interest-carning savings account. So every dollar you deposit works for you. Here's how.

INTEREST PLUS CHECKING IS NEW AND PRACTICAL

A HEARD CONTRACTOR OF THE STATE AND A DECKED AND A DECKED

When you open an Interest Plus Checking account at Atlantic Bank, every dollar you deposit goes directly into a 5% per annum same account where it will earn interest from the day of deposit to the day of withdrawal. That's new.

Then, whenever you write a check, Atlantic Bank does something very practical. We transfer the necessary amount from your savings account into your checking account. But the rest of your money stays in savings, where it continues to draw interest

ONE STATEMENT MAKES IT SIMPLE AND CONVENENT.

At the end of each month you will receive a single, simple-to-read statement showing all your transactions. Your deposits, withdrawals, transfers, balances in checking and savings, and your total interest earned. You always know your exact balance because you keep track of it just as you do now. In your own checkbook. The difference is, your balance is in your savings account earning interest.

INTEREST PLUS CHECKING MEANS AUTOMATIC OVERDRAFT PROTECTION.

All the while you are automatically protected against overdrafts by the automatic transfer procedure. And the extra money you used to keep in checking to guard against overdraft is earning 5% per annum interest from the day of deposit to the day of withdrawal.

COUNTY IN BRIEF

Ambulance Contract Ends:

Subsidy Talks Continuing

Herndon Ambulance Service continues today providing both emergency and transport services in Seminole County although they do not have a contract with the county commission and have not been granted a subsidy.

"We'll continue to provide service," said Terry Vann, assistant to Idus Willis, president of the firm," whether we have a contract with the county or not. The question is the degree of service."

An extended contract between the firm and the county expired Tuesday. County commissioners Tuesday, with Commissioner John Alexander absent, had a tied vote on whether to approve a contract for a 30 to 90 day period at a subsidy of $6,244.63 monthly while commissioners determine whether to meet Herndon's demands for a subsidy ranging from $74,000 annually to $253,000.

Alternatives the county is considering are whether to provide in-house ambulance service through the county fire department or to seek service from another firm through private enterprise. Under previoks county acontracts with the company, emergency and transport service was provided. The county is seeking to have 3-4 Herndon Ambulances stationed locally for use for emergency calls 🗟 only.

Jail Work To Date OK'd

Work done through Oct. 15 on the construction of the new $4.3 million county jail at Five Points was approved by county commissioners Tuesday.

Payment approved for the period of Sept. 16 to Oct. 15 for work done totaled $165,567.90. The county has authorized payments to contractor Standard Construction and Associates as recommended by Gutman, Dragash Associates, architects, for $683,280 to date.

Library 'Bill Of Rights'

The county commission voted to delegate to Mrs. Jean Rhein, chief county librarian, authority to purchase and contract for the library books, pamphlets and periodicals for the county's two libraries at Sanford and in Seminole Plaza at Casselberry.

Commissioners also approved a "library, bill of rights" patterned after one in effect with the Council of American Library Association. The commissioners amended a statement in the bill of rights by adding the word "sex." The policy now states: The use of the library should not be denied or abridged -because of age, race, sex, religion, national origin or social or political views.

-Pullen Made Civil Engineer

Approval has been given by the board to the county public works department to promote James F. Pullen, survey party chief, to the -post of civil engineer for design with the county

Incumbent Pat Telson will meet challenger Bob Czesnakowicz for the District Four seat on the Seminole County School Board. Mrs. Telson, 48, who is chairman of the school board is trying for her second term while the 26-year-old Czesnakowicz is making his first try at public office. Although the candidates have to live in their particular district, the candidates are elected countywide.

Bob Csemakowics candidly admits he may not be well versed in a lat of particular education issues but he says, "I do believe that a school board member should be more knowledgeable about ication itself."

And the Si-year-old Cosmakowics further believes "my background and training will be an asset for me." The founder of Progressive Communications in Winter Park, Casenakowics graduated from John Carroll University in Cleveland and earned a bachelor's degree in elementary ocation and psychology.

He recalls he first started thinking about school boards and their duties in his college classes.

"I was in a class where the teacher was talking about how the board had the power to hire and fire and I wondered how they can have that much power and not be trained in education," he recalls. "That seemed odd to me and something that always

After graduating he was uncertain about his future goals in life m decided to move to Colorado where he stayed a year. While in the western state he met his wife, Nancy, who is from the central Florida area.

On a visit to this area to meet his wife, he met people who were interested in hiring him for their marketing firm. "They said they liked my qualifications and they wanted me to speak a marketing office for them in Colorado," he said. After staying in Colorado for several months, his employers tran-sforred him back to Florida to learn about advertising.

""I worked in their office for several months and then went out on my own," he said.

Since he opened his advertising and marketing business in 1974 It has grown from a one-man operation to one that employs 14 people, operates in 14 cities throughout the country, and has tales about $ 1 million a year.

"I think the combination of business and education that I have is just dynamite to serve on the school board." says

"By no means am I an expert, but when you study for four years, it helps you develop an understanding to solve different problems," he said. The candidate noted that he has kept in touch with the problems of the school because his wife is a teacher at Lawton Elementary. Chemakowics is one of the candidates endorsed by the Seminole Educators Political Action Committee, the political arm of the Seminole Education Association. However, he noted "I did not actively seek their support, but hey came to me because they heard that I was considering siming for the school board and they asked me if I was serious bout running." Csesnakowics added one of his main goals is to ensure "there is better communications with teachers and the school board and Sint teachers take a bigger role with what is occurring in education in this county."

Naomi Forbes, clincial dictitian at Seminole Memorial Hospital, not only prepares special diets for special patients, but believes whole-heartedly in healthful eating for everyone. "That's why recommend more grain products, fruit and legumes, with less sugar. meat and eggs," she said. Explaining the use of less fats in the diet, Naomi said, "Fats are the most concentrated form of energy. Most of us get more than we need. More exercise is needed to burn up the stored fat. In order to cut down on calories, we should reduce the size of the portions served. Instead of a six, eight or ten ounce steak, use a smaller amount. Most people just don't realize they are getting more fat than they are using up in energy Then, it is just stored as fat on our bodies."

Naomi prefers cooking plain meat, minus sauces. "A lot of sauces have too much fat. When I prepare a roast, I drain the drippings and add ice cubes to them The fat will accumulate around the ice cubes and may be lifted off," she said. Naomi's husband, Dr. Richard B. Forbes of the University of Florida faculty, is affiliated with the Agricultural Research and Education Center on Celery Avenue in Sanford. Both of their sons, David, who is married and working on his Ph D, and Richard, in Architectural School, are at the University of Florida and oth know how to cook. Encouraging the use of fruits and vegetables, Naomi suggested a unique way of preparing orange juice. "When the children were small, I would freeze orange juice in a jar with a large top. Then I'd thaw it a little and turn it out in a bowl. After using a food chopper on it, it would turn into a mush. They just loved it and ate it with a spoon. So instead of drinking our orange juice, we ate it! You could also add other fruits to it. It's as good as ice cream or sherbet and more healthful."

In her hospital work, Naomi has found that patients on restricted diets are much happier if they have a selection of foods from which to choose. Their therapeutic diets are modified in some way, with low residue or fiber, low

If you plan ahead you can eat well every day no matter how tired or rushed you are. Many delectable dishes can be made at your leisure on Sunday and refrigerated or even frozen for use at a future time. Some dishes hold up better than others. Two that have proved themselves marvelously are Fresh Vegetable Borscht, a wonderfully hearty

Russian peasant soup, and Onion Batter Bread served with herb butter made with fresh parsley and dill. Beets are the main ingredient in the boracht, giving it its famous lush red color. The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association says the best beets are firm and their greens should not be limp.

Frosen, the dishes can be kept for weeks, or the boracht can be refrigerated and held for several days. Actually, the flavor of the borach even improves with

WALLACE LAPETERS By DENNIS FEOLA AND MAX ERKILETIAN

An internal investigation of the Sanford Police Department has revealed confidential files on the personal lives of policemen were being assembled during the administration of Chief Wallace LaPeters. "The files that were kept were primarily on the personal lives of the officers," Sanford City Attorney C. Vernon Mize said in disclosing the results of the in vestigation. The investigation also revealed equipment was being eachanged with a private police equipment firm without proper authorization and official records.

Also criticized as a result of the investigation was a long-standing practice of policemen soliciting contributions for various civic activities while in uniform. Mize said the investigation has revealed no criminal acts.

... it is the position of the city of Sanford that the degree of improprieties and irregularities do not justify any criminal prosecutions, dismissals or suspensions Certain officers involved have been reprimanded and such action should be sufficient," Mize said in a letter to State Attorney Douglas Cheshire

rongdoing grew out of Cheshire's probe of the surprise firing of LaPeters in July. At that time LaPeters set forth allegations of attempted ticket-fixing and Sunshine law violations

Nothing came of those charges, however, during the interviews at the state attorney's office, new allegations of wrongdoing were brought out and Cheshire requested the internal investigation to clear up the matters. "We had asked for the statements of those officers making allegations to the state attorney, but the state attorney refused to give us statements. They did furnish us with a list of names of officers they talked to," Mize

"One of the things that greatly hampered our in vestigation was the fact that a number of officers refused to give a statement. We have no powers of subpoena. That state attorney's office can subpoena someone and use a number of methods to force someone to make a statement," the city attorney said. "What was found were minor improprieties.
