Commissioners Say 'No' To Countywide Bug Control System...

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

There won't be a countywide mosquito control program in Seminole County this fiscal year.

County commissioners Monday were unwilling to allocate $400,000 from the fiscal 1982-83 budget for any kind of countywide mosquito program but they directed County Administrator Roger Neiswender to study possible alternatives for future consideration.

The discussion on a countywide program came about as a result of continued requests from Sanford officials who wanted the county to spray areas surrounding the city.

County officials said they couldn't do that without offering the same service to other parts of the county.

"The real issue isn't the mosquitoes but the money this year," Commission Chairman Robert Sturm said. "I wouldn't have any complaints about talking with the cities about a referendum for next year."

Commissioner Sandra Glenn agreed that next year is the earliest the county can participate. "I wouldn't see any problem with setting up a countywide taxing district for mosquito control," she said.

She endorsed aerial spraying, claiming it is far more effective than spraying by truck that was proposed in the $400,000 program presented by Neiswender.

Commissioner Barbara Christenson said, "I would like to get into aerial spraying too. I don't want to see us using little trucks going on the back roads. That's not going to get into the breeding grounds."

Commissioner R.G. "Bud" Feather agreed aerial spraying is the only effective method of mosquito control but favored a program this year.

"I'd like to see aerial spraying be explored," Feather said. "There's a direct relationship to the quality of life. People can't even enjoy themselves because of all the mosquitoes."

But Commissioner William Kirchhoff was opposed to any mosquito program. "If we're talking about an aerial program,

I would have serious problems with it," Kirchhoff said.

"It's hard to do it and have it be effective. We can do it but mosquitoes are still going to be there and they're still going to bite you," he said. "It would be about as effective to put funds in the budget to buy everyone in the county a can of Off."

"It's a fact of life. If you live in Florida, you've got roaches, mosquitoes, armadillos, snakes and toads," he said.

He suggested that brochures advising residents how to combat mosquitoes be sent to county residents who call in to complain about the insects.

Feather agreed with that idea but said the county should at least make sure county facilities are clear of mosquito breeding grounds.

Feather said he had received more complaints about mosquitoes this year than in past years.

Sturm said that is because the area this year has received more rain than in recent summers.

Officials in several Seminole County municipalities said Monday they do not need to participate in a countywide mosquito control program.

Local officials in Longwood, Casselberry, Winter Springs and Altamonte Springs said they already have mosquito control programs. Lake Mary officials said they do not have a mosquito problem.

...Sanford May Seek State Funds To Go It Alone

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Refusal by other cities and the county government to cooperate in a countywide mosquito control program may pave the way for Sanford to get state money for an independent program.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles told the Sanford City Commission Monday night, the offer had to be made to the other governmental bodies in the county to avoid a charge of "double taxation."

"The service was offered to all the cities in the county. And if a service is offered and refused, double taxation cannot be claimed," he said.

"Perhaps it will be more economical for Sanford taxpayers to do it ourselves," he said.

He warned, however, that if Sanford goes it alone on a program, it may not only have to spray all properties within the city, but also outside the city for a mile in all directions.

Knowles said Dr. John Mulrennan, state entomologist who spoke to the commission recently about an effective mosquito program, said the major mosquito in the area flies a radius of one mile.

The city manager said if Sanford ends up being the only governmental unit in the county that wants state funding for a program, the state will be mandated to give that money to Sanford.

Earlier, it was estimated that the city program would cost about $50,000. Mulrennan said the city could receive $15,000 plus 5 percent of the program's budget from the state.

City Commissioner Milton Smith said the mosquito problem in Sanford is still severe.

"I stepped outside last night and I know two dozen black mosquitoes lit on me before I could get back in the house," he said.

Commissioner Eddie Keith asked how much of the $400,000 estimated by the county as the annual cost of a countywide program would be paid by Sanford taxpayers. Knowles responded that perhaps it would be more economical for Sanford to go it alone.

County Will Move Offices Into Hospital

Seminole County commissioners have taken a step toward solving the county's office space problem. And that step will lead them to interim offices at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Commissioners decided Monday the best use of the former hospital is to convert it into office space for the board and its support agencies. The county health department also will be moved into the facility, according to the plan.

Consultant Don Hahn, of Walter E. Sobel and Associates of Chicago, told the board the old hospital would be inefficient in any use but said the space could be utilized to solve the space squeeze the county is facing.

Hahn said converting the old hospital facility at First and Melonville Avenue into office space will allow it to be used until the economy improves and the chances of selling it increase. The board received no bids to purchase the building at a bid opening last week.

"We did a preliminary study," Hahn said. "There's about a $1 million difference between building a new facility and putting someone in the hospital."

Working from that figure, commissioners estimated it would take a sale price of almost $2 million to make selling the building worthwhile.

County Administrator Roger Neiswender explained the space in the old hospital could be vital for the county while new office space is being constructed.

"The game now is to move someone in there for five to 10 years while we're building other space," he said. And building additional space is necessary regardless of any innovative plans commissioners might devise, Neiswender said.

"You have to build a major building with courts in it. No matter how the alternatives fall out, that's a given," he said.

The courts, board of county commissioners and the sheriff's department are expected to nearly double their space needs by 1985, Hahn explained. Other county agencies also are expected to grow but not to the degree that those offices will.

Neiswender explained another building also will have to be built at the county's Five Points complex to meet expansion needs there.

The plan that drew a consensus at Monday's work session was to move commissioners, the county administrator, the office of management and budget, county attorney and several other offices into the hospital.

Also favored was a plan to convert the first two floors of the hospital into new offices for the county health department. But Hahn said those plans did not have to be mutually exclusive since the health department will not need two floors until the year 2000. Administrative offices could occupy the facility until then, he said.

The judiciary system will take over the area now used for county administration. The plan called for one or two more courtrooms to be built in the existing courthouse and several additional ones to be constructed in the proposed building next door to the courthouse.

That building would be five stories tall and be built directly east of the courthouse in a parking lot owned by the city of Sanford.

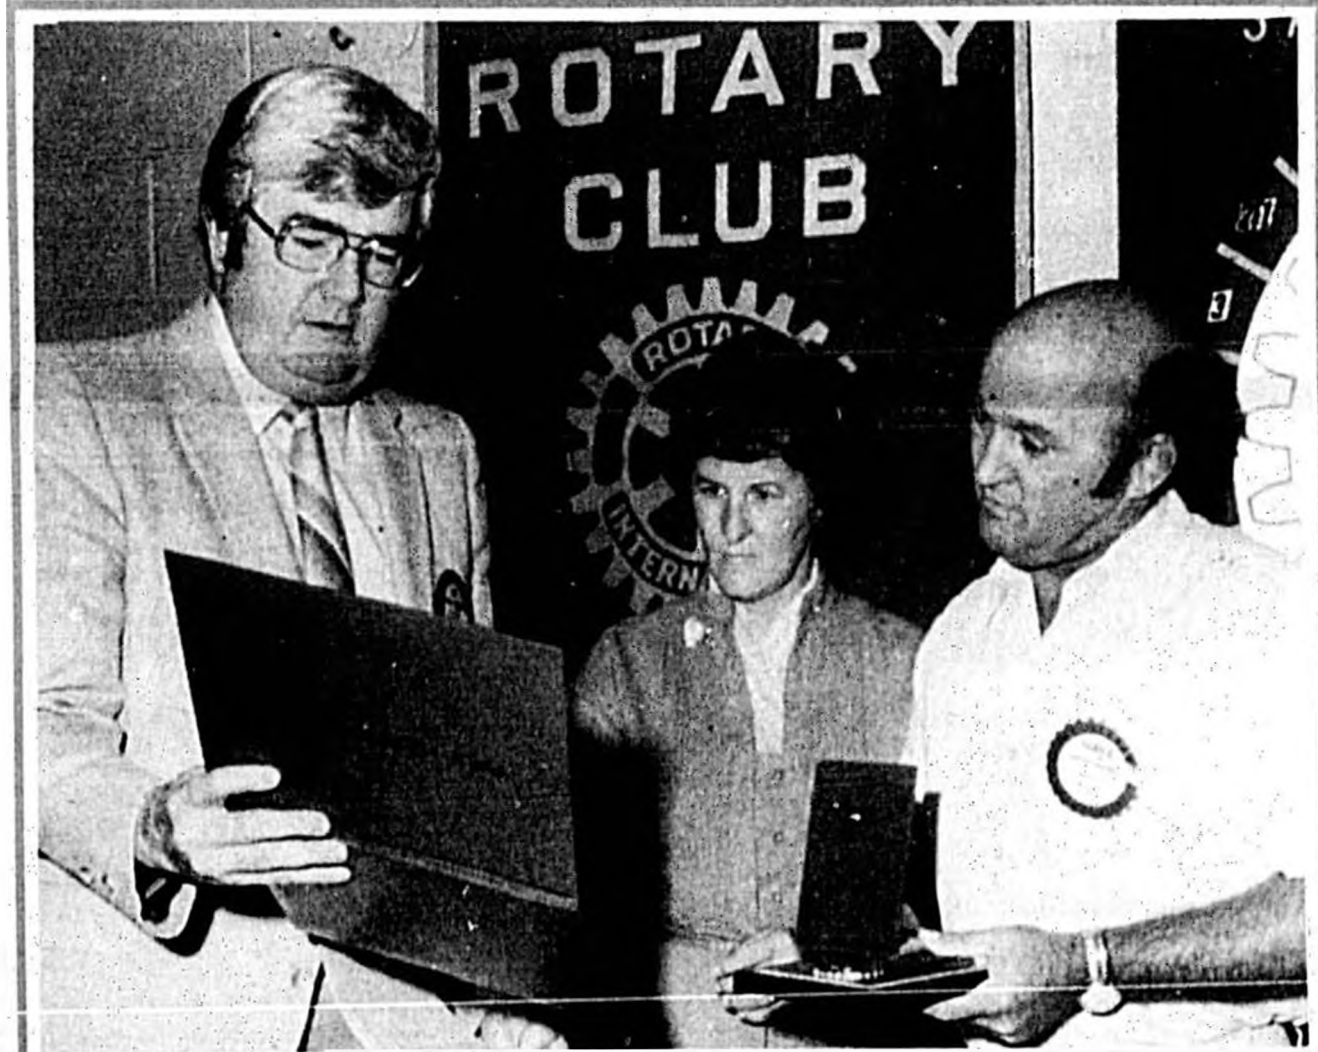

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff advised the board to move toward acquiring land needed for that construction immediately. He said a trade could be made with Sanford officials who are anxious to acquire property for their own health department offices.

Hahn said the move into the old hospital, vacant since the new Central Florida Regional Hospital opened early this summer, will buy time for making other decisions about who should go where.

Commission Chairman Robert Sturm said he favored the plan to move into the former hospital but he is concerned it will become a permanent home.

The only commissioner to oppose the plan was R. G. "Bud" Feather, who urged his colleagues to sell the old hospital immediately.

Neiswender suggested the board plan to make the move with a minimum of renovations. — MICHAEL BEHA

ROTARY HONOR

Monday was a big day for Sanford Rotary Club member Harold Hunziker. Tom McDonald (left) presented Hunziker with the club's 1982 Paul Harris Fellow Award as Hunziker's wife, Pat, looked on. The Paul Harris Fellow Award is given annually to an individual who contributes $1,000 or more to the Rotary's scholarship fund. The award was originated in Chicago in 1905 by Paul Harris and has been an integral part of Rotary International's scholarship fund raising efforts as part of community service.

Trial Date For Miss Florida Uncertain

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

While a lawyer for Miss Florida would like to see the DUI case against his client disposed of within a week to clear the way for her trip to Atlantic City, state prosecutors say that may not be feasible.

Prosecutor Angela Blakeley said she intends to file a "motion of non-availability of a material witness" with the court today, "explaining to the court that the arresting officer would not be available for trial next week and that the state needs time to prepare its case."

Deanna Pitman, 22, of 6 Myrtle St., Apopka, was arrested following a single-car crash near Altamonte Springs on July 16, according to the Florida Highway Patrol. She was charged with driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages, careless driving, driving without a license and having an improperly displayed license plate after her car veered off the roadway along Spring Valley Drive and destroyed a pillar mailbox, troopers said.

While Ms. Blakeley contends the state requires three to four weeks from the arraignment date to prepare its case for trial, Miss Pitman's lawyer, Jack Bridges, says he intends to see the case go to trial next week.

"I met with (County) Judge Wallace Hall last week informally and with Prosecutors Angela Blakeley and Alan Robinson on an unrelated matter," Bridges said. "At that time, since all parties in the Pitman case were there, I asked the judge to advance Miss Pitman's case to next week's calendar and he agreed. The prosecution had no objections at that time."

"As far as the fact that Trooper G.R. Caves, the arresting officer, won't be available for trial, he is going on vacation but he will be in the state and I told the prosecution about that," Bridges said.

"Mr. Bridges and Trooper Caves notified me that Caves would be on vacation from the end of July through Aug. 16," Ms. Blakeley said. "As far as whether or not he will be in the state or not, I do not know."

Ms. Blakeley is expected to appear before Hall at 11 a.m. Wednesday for the court's ruling on her motion concerning Caves' non-availability and her request for additional time to prepare her case.

"I would still need time to compile witness testimonies in the case and receive certified information concerning Miss Pitman's past driving record from Tallahassee and I just don't see that being done within a week although we have asked Tallahassee to rush the information, Ms. Blakeley said.

"The state is correct in that it normally takes three to four weeks for such a case," Bridges said. "But for obvious reasons (the upcoming Miss America pageant), I want to go ahead and get this case before the court and resolve this issue."

Bridges maintains that a copy of Miss Pitman's driving record issued by the local office would be sufficient in the case and that the state could subpoena Caves for the day of the trial since he will be vacationing in the state.

Meanwhile, the Miss Florida board is awaiting the outcome of Miss Pitman's trial before it determines whether or not to strip her of her crown. If she is convicted, officials say she will not necessarily lose the title but the board will review the situation after the trial.

Miss America pageant officials said they do not feel a DUI conviction is evidence of bad moral character and that such a verdict would not result in Miss Pitman being ineligible to compete for the title during the week of Sept. 3-11.

If the trial is delayed until after the pageant and Miss Pitman wins the Miss America crown, the issue would be moot because she would no longer be Miss Florida and would not be under the state pageant board's jurisdiction.

Girl, 7, Killed By Car

A 7-year-old Seminole County girl is dead and her 11-year-old playmate is in stable condition today at Winter Park Memorial Hospital after an out-of-control car crashed into the youngsters who were waiting to cross Lake Howell Road.

Dana Dietrick, of 5244 Lake Howell Road, died at the Winter Park hospital shortly after being struck by a vehicle driven by David Green, 79, of 2321 Knowles St., Winter Park, at about 5:12 p.m. Monday, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

Shawn Balencie, of 5226 Lake Howell Road, who also was struck by the vehicle, was listed this morning in stable condition at the Winter Park hospital's intensive care unit, officials said.

Troopers said no charges have been filed against Green, who was taken to Florida Hospital-Altamonte for observation and released. Troopers said the accident remains under investigation.

Sheriff's deputies, who responded to the scene, said the two children were waiting to cross the road in the rain when Green's AMC Gremlin jumped the curb, hit the children, skidded back into the roadway and into the front lawn of Rick Savard, at 5224 Lake Howell Road, struck a northbound vehicle, then crossed the center line and hit another car head-on before coming to a stop.

The drivers of the other two vehicles which collided with Green's car, Dorothy Ellis, 46, and Kimberly Bonnell, 16, both of Maitland, were not injured, troopers said.

"At first we thought there might have been another vehicle involved that may have caused Green to veer off the roadway but a witness told us there was no other vehicle involved," said John Spolski, sheriff's department spokesman.

Witnesses told investigators the two children had been swimming at a neighbor's home and they were attempting to cross the street to return home when the fatal accident occurred.

Young Miss Dietrick's death marks the 17th traffic-related fatality in Seminole County this year.

Chinese Want Player Back, Promise Not To Punish Her

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The 19-year-old star of the Chinese women's tennis team emerged from a week of hiding and asked for political asylum in the United States but approval may be a problem.

"She has to prove she'll be threatened or she'll undergo some kind of hardship if she goes back," David Ilchert, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said Monday. "We have denied applications before from people from the People's Republic of China."

"I haven't got any definite information up to now," Jin Shen, team spokesman, said. "There's no reason for her to apply for asylum. We treat her so well. We welcome her to come back and naturally, we would not punish her."

Reagan Backs Watt, Habib

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, a veteran at backing up his team, is now at bat for Middle East troubleshooter Philip Habib and Interior Secretary James Watt.

In response to criticism of Habib and Watt and calls for their resignations, Reagan Monday expressed complete confidence in the two who are hired in their own respective controversies.

It was disclosed Sunday Habib is on a retainer with the San Francisco-based firm of Bechtel Group Inc., which has dealings with Arab countries. That raised questions of a possible conflict of interest.

At the same time, a furor has been raised over a letter Watt wrote to Israeli Ambassador Noshé Arens in which he said U.S. support for Israel may weaken "if liberals of the Jewish community" do not support Reagan's energy policies.

Record Tax Hike Examined

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee called a meeting today to take a look at the proposed record $98.5 billion tax increase approved by the Senate and to decide what to do with it.

Interviews with several of the panel's 35 members found a general consensus the committee would modify the measure rather than trying to draft a tax bill of its own.

The three-year package, endorsed by President Reagan, would double the cigarette tax, reduce deductions for medical expenses and cut in half the deduction for business lunches. It also would require a 10 percent withholding of interest and dividends for tax purposes, boost telephone and airport ticket taxes, stiffen taxpayer compliance rules and penalties and close an array of business tax loopholes.

Paraquat Not So Bad

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Florida's environment would be minimally damaged if the powerful herbicide paraquat is used to spray illegal marijuana fields, according to a federal official heading a 5-year study of the chemical.

Ralph Wright of the U.S. Office of Pesticides and Toxic Substances said Monday the spraying could threaten the eggs of ground nesting birds (such as quail) but said it would be a minimal threat.

Florida law enforcement officials plan to use the chemical to reduce the time needed to destroy illegal marijuana fields in north and central Florida. Agents carrying sprayers in backpacks and on tanker trucks would spray the herbicide on marijuana fields and then cut down stalks.

Drug Dealers Get Probation And Fine

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Two men, who pleaded guilty to drug charges in June, began serving five year probation sentences today as ordered by Circuit Judge Volie A. Williams Jr.

William Robert Allmond, 46, of Pompano Beach, and Paul S. Mann, 53, of Oklahoma City, were also ordered Monday to pay fines of $5,000 each and forfeit any claim to money used in the January drug deal to purchase 80,000 Quaaludes.

The two men pleaded guilty June 23 to charges of conspiracy to traffic in Quaaludes in connection with a January drug deal at a Sanford motel in which police said the men bought 80,000 Quaaludes for $30,000.

During plea negotiations last month prosecutors agreed to accept Mann and Allmond's guilty pleas to the lesser charge of conspiracy to traffic in Quaaludes because of "problems" surrounding the case.

Prosecutors said the disappearance of a crucial tape recording of the drug deal, discrepancies in arresting officers' testimonies as to details of the crime, the non-availability of a key witness, a charge from Allmond and Mann's lawyers that the original transaction involved $40,000 and not $30,000 as police reported, the recent revelation that one witness turned out to be an undercover agent, and unsubstantiated charges by a former Sanford police officer who claims evidence of the case was tampered with all combined to hamper the successful prosecution of the case.

ICEHEIST

An undisclosed amount of ice was stolen from an ice machine at Granny's Grocery, County Road 419, Chuluota, at about 5:08 p.m. Friday.

Gerald Wilford Lamoureux, 58, notified deputies of the theft after a store customer said he saw a man loading ice into a truck from the machine and drive away.

STORED FOOD STOLEN

About $1,500 worth of stored food was stolen from an I-4 Industrial Park warehouse between 4 p.m. July 15 and noon July 20.

William C. Conley, 40, of DeBary, told deputies the thieves broke the lock on his Sanford warehouse, No. 220-B, and stole the food.

THIEF TRIES TO TAKE FOOD

A Sanford man chased off a would-be burglar after he discovered the thief in his apartment with an armful of frozen foods at about 3:22 a.m. Saturday.

Jerome Bradley, 27, and Barbara Wyche, 31, both of 31 Castle Brewer Court, told police a man broke into their apartment and was attempting to steal food. However, Bradley chased the thief through the home, causing him to drop the stolen food as he fled, police said.

BARBER SHOP DOOR DESTROYED

Someone threw a concrete block through the 13th Street Barber Shop door at 1223 W. 13th St., Sanford, at about 3:55 a.m. Saturday, causing about $200 worth of damage, police said.

Owners Sara and Connie Floyd told police there doesn't appear to be anything missing from the shop.

MAN HOSPITALIZED FOR NECK WOUND

A 24-year-old Sanford man is listed in serious condition at the Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, following an incident at about 12:30 p.m. Saturday in which he reportedly was cut on the neck.

John Parsons, of 2411 Stevens Ave., Sanford, was being treated for what hospital officials are calling a stab wound in his neck in the cardiac care unit of the hospital.

Police said Parsons was injured after he allegedly entered the home of Moses Ammar, 20, of 1503 Mellonville Ave., Sanford, and began hitting Ammar. Parsons allegedly followed Ammar out of the house, continuing to strike Ammar with a piece of wood, when Ammar picked up a piece of metal and struck Parsons in the neck, Ammar told police.

Police are continuing their investigation of the incident.

$4,100 IN PROPERTY STOLEN

About $4,100 worth of property was stolen from a Sanford woman's home between 10:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Sharon Cockman, of 108 Wilkins Circle, reported the theft to police.

LAWNMOWER TAKEN

A lawnmower, valued at about $241, was stolen from the home of Bertha Dixon, of 1003 W. Fifth St., Sanford between 6:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday, police said.

CASH TAKEN FROM DRAWER

About $750 cash was stolen from a Sanford man's dresser drawer between 7 p.m. Saturday and 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

George Zack Sr., 53, of 1317 W. 10th St., reported the theft to police.

THIEVES TAKE GOODS WORTH $9,795

About $9,795 worth of property was stolen from a Sanford home between 9 p.m. and midnight Saturday.

Morris P. Taylor, 30, of 2625 Hartwell Ave., told police the thieves entered his home through a bedroom window and stole a television, jewelry, a .22-caliber pistol, a silver collection and a Honda motorcycle.

DEPUTY BURNED, OTHERS INJURED

A sheriff's deputy and two other people were injured after a fire broke out in the trunk of a vehicle, apparently caused by faulty wiring.

Deputies said Deputy John A. Huston was traveling along State Road 46, west of the county line near Geneva, at about 10:48 a.m. Saturday when he noticed an oncoming vehicle with smoke billowing from its trunk.

Huston waved at the oncoming motorist to tell him about the possible fire but his actions were not understood, deputies said. Huston turned his patrol car around, followed the car and stopped the vehicle after utilizing his siren and blue lights, deputies said.

After helping car owner Betty A. Von Herbulis, driver Gary Alan Stevenson, 19, Benjamin H. Pritchard, 19, and Robert Frances Von Herbulis, 15, all of Sanford, out of the 1970 Oldsmobile, Huston attempted to douse the burning vehicle with a fire extinguisher, deputies said. However, while attempting to put out the fire, Huston suffered first-degree burns to his three middle fingers of both hands, officials said.

Stevenson and Von Herbulis also were treated for smoke inhalation at the scene, deputies said.

Sheriff's department officials said it is undetermined how long Huston will be absent from work because of the burns.

Varney To Fight For County Job

Fired Seminole County Facility and Parks Coordinator John D. Varney will appeal his dismissal at a 10:30 a.m. hearing Aug. 9 before the county personnel board.

Varney, 39, was fired from his $22,000 a year job July 19 for what County Administrator Roger Neiswender called "bad judgment."

Varney, who held his post for six years, was arrested July 19 on four charges of misuse of county property, purchase orders and labor. He has pleaded innocent to the charges.

An official with the Seminole County Sheriff's Department said today the investigation which led to Varney's arrest is continuing. He declined to say if any more arrests are expected in the case.

Varney is charged with:

—Unlawfully authorizing the purchase of more than $200 worth of electrical equipment and the installation of the material in a fellow employee's trailer by a county worker.

—Authorizing the purchase of automobile parts using county purchase orders and authorizing work by a county employee on Varney's personal truck.

—Authorizing the purchase of $35 worth of materials with county funds and directing a county employee to build a doll house for Johnnie Butler, a secretary in the Parks and Recreation Division. The project took three days and cost the county more than $100 in lost work time.

—Authorizing two employees to procure scrap materials for a motorcycle trailer which took five working days to complete and cost the county more than $100 in lost man hours.

Neiswender said the county will conduct its own management and administrative investigation into the incident after the sheriff's department completes its probe.

If convicted, Varney could face as much as five years in prison, a $5,000 fine or both on each of the four charges.

Longwood Officials Plan Hospital Tour

It will be up, up, and away for several Longwood City Commissioners, members of the city's Land Planning Agency and a handful of Longwood residents Friday morning.

Mayor June Lormann, commissioners Steven Uskert and Russell Grant, in addition to several land planners and private citizens will board a Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) jet at the Sanford Airport at 9 a.m. Friday to depart on a one-day tour of a psychiatric hospital in Chattanooga, Tenn. similar to the facility HCA wants to build in Longwood.

In January, the City Commission approved HCA's request to construct a 150-bed general use hospital on a 26.5-acre site located at State Road 434 and West Lake Road. Original plans for the hospital called for a psychiatric wing. But HCA later took city officials somewhat by surprise when they announced plans to build a separate psychiatric hospital on the same tract.

On the recommendation of City Attorney Marvin Rooks, HCA then applied for a conditional use permit for the separate facility.

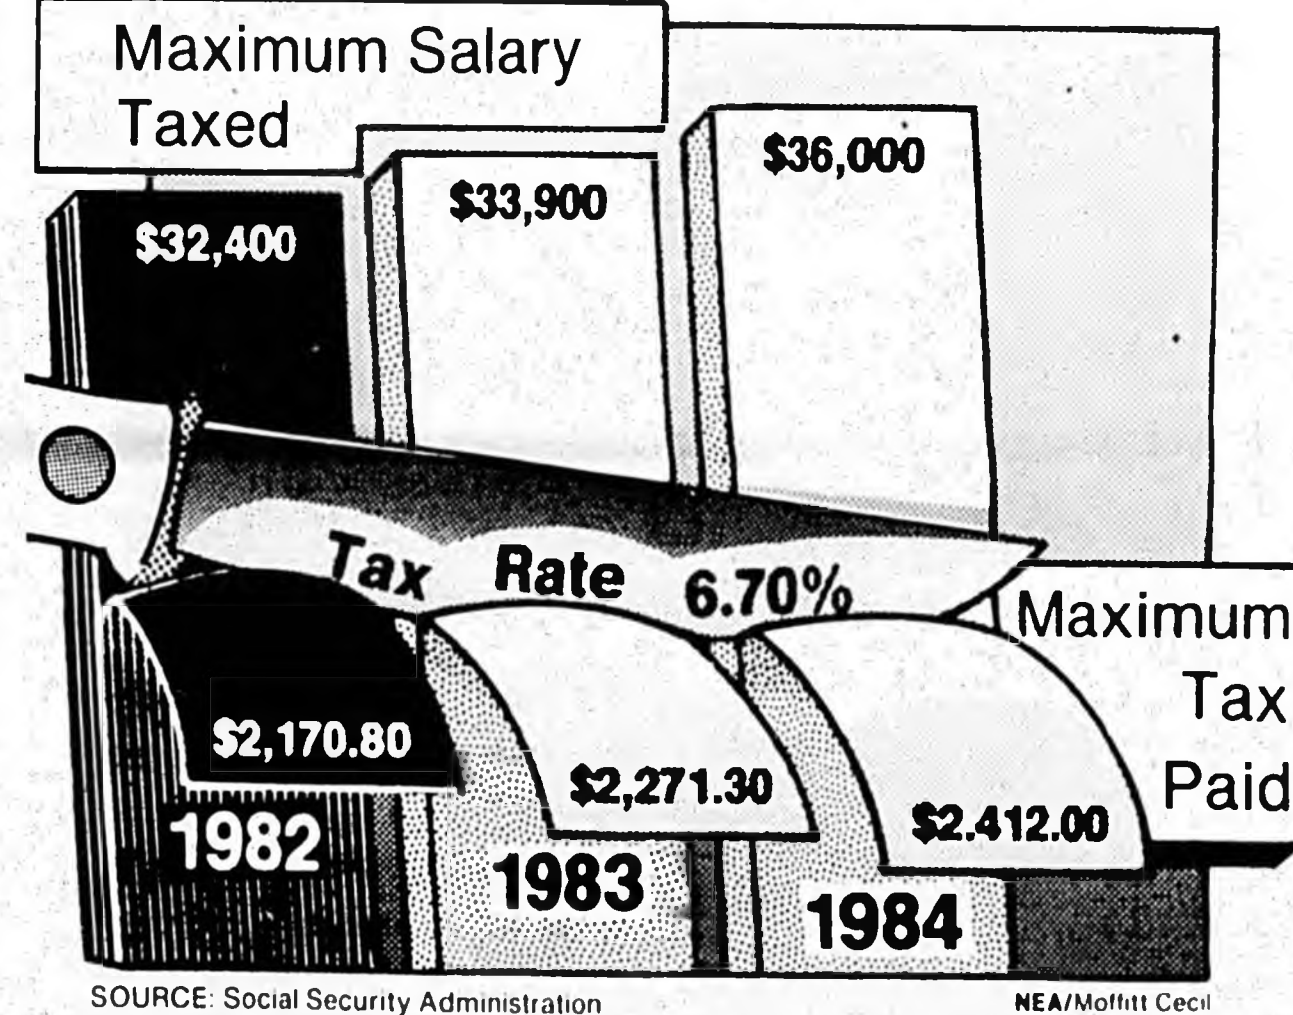

On July 14, following an extensive question and answer session before the city's Land Planning Agency about hospital security, admission and treatment practices and the types of patients the hospital would serve, HCA received unanimous approval of its conditional use permit request.

HCA followed up that approval by extending an invitation to city officials for a first-hand look at the type of hospital it is proposing to build in Longwood.

The Longwood contingent will spend the better part of Friday in Chattanooga and is scheduled to return to the Sanford Airport at approximately 6 p.m. Friday.

At Monday's regular commission meeting, the board set an August 16 date for a public hearing on the psychiatric hospital issue.

The Social Security bite out of American paychecks will be going up again in the years immediately ahead, but the exact amount is still to be determined. Figures for 1983 and 1984, including the tax rate, are estimates subject to change. The final figures for 1983, barring new legislation by Congress, will be fixed by the Social Security Administration in the third quarter of this year on the basis of present benefits authorizations.

Social Security On The Skids

BALTIMORE (UPI) — For the first time, Social Security will have to borrow — up to $7 billion — and Americans may eventually have to accept tax increases for the program or reduced benefits, the system's commissioner says.

Commissioner John Svahn said the system's retirement program will be forced to borrow money from its disability insurance trust fund — up to $1 billion in October and $6 billion in November.

"It goes downhill from there," he said Monday in speaking to the American Society of Hospital Personnel Administrators.

Svahn said the biggest problem facing the system is, most of those who pay into it believe they won't collect benefits.

"Seventy percent of the American population doesn't believe Social Security will be here when they retire," he said. "It's that same group of people we are going to have to rely upon for payments to keep the system going."

He said eventually, possibly by the year 2010, 25 percent of the gross U.S. payroll would be required to keep Social Security in its current form.

It would represent a 100 percent increase over the current Social Security tax rate and be split between employees and employers.

Developer Gets OK For Office Complex... Sort Of

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Site plans for a 66,000-square-foot office complex on State Road 434 and Bay Avenue in Longwood have been approved. On one condition.

Longwood's City Commission voted unanimously at its Monday night meeting to approve plans for developer Richard Tickle's Florida Homecrafters' Office Complex with the stipulation that Tickle foot the bill for approximately 640 linear feet of paving from the office complex entrance on Bay Avenue to Wayman Street. No cost estimates for the paving were given.

Tickle's site plan had already been approved by the city's Land Planning Agency with a recommendation by city engineers for construction of a back entrance to the complex. Tickle said his plans also meet Department of Transportation requirements, but Commissioner Russell Grant's insistence on the paving issue won out.

"I think we ought to have Bay Street paved, at least one end of it," said Grant. "This complex will throw a lot of traffic onto 434 and Bay Street."

Tickle argued to little avail that he didn't want a back entrance to the complex on Bay Street and that he was asked by the city to put it there.

"I don't need that back entrance and I don't want it. This city asked me to put it in," Tickle said.

Grant replied that other developers have paved the streets around their developments when they've had an impact and asked Tickle to volunteer to pave the surrounding area to the entrance.

"I don't think I should volunteer. If you want it paved, tell me you want it paved," Tickle told Grant.

"Others have paved streets going into their property, not around it," Tickle said.

Grant replied that he didn't think it was such an unusual request to ask Tickle to pave the back and front entrance areas, citing the city's requirement of another unmentioned developer do similar paving.

"You named only one other developer who had to do it and I know the man," said Tickle. "He had a gun to his head."

"I was at the meeting when that issue was decided and I don't remember seeing any gun," scoffed Grant.

Despite support from Commissioner Steven Uskert who said he felt the paving should be split between Tickle and other residents along Bay Avenue and Wayman Street, the commission adopted Grant's motion to grant approval of the site plan with the stipulation Tickle pay for the paving job surrounding the two entrances.

In another development-related issue, the commission unanimously gave Florida Residential Communities (FRC) another six months to begin construction at the Tiberon Hills development, north of Longwood Hills Road and east of Lake Emma.

FRC received the green light to build last July, but representative Elizabeth Bigley explained to the commission that a sour real estate market had forced the firm to delay its construction timetable.

"We plan to start building within 60 days. We won't need a full year extension unless something drastic happens to the economy," she said.

Commissioner Tim O'Leary proposed a six-month extension as opposed to a year.

"I feel comfortable with six months. We approved this a year ago and construction hasn't started. A year would mean they would have to start from scratch to get the project approved."

Fall's Elections May Find

More Women In Legislature

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The National Organization for Women expects the number of women in the Florida Legislature to at least double after this fall's elections.

Equal Rights Amendment backers have launched their threatened vengeance drive in elections for the Senate, which rejected the ERA 22.17 during a June special session. And women candidates have qualified in a record number of races for the House, which passed the ERA 60-58.

Twenty women are running for the 40 member Florida Senate with 61 running for the 120-member House, NOW said Monday.

Baby Sitter A Murderer?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — An autopsy report on the fifth child to die in the care of a Florida baby sitter in little more than two years says the child died of oxygen deprivation, but it does not say whether the death was intentional.

The baby sitter, 19-year-old Christine Falling of Blountstown, was charged last week with strangling or suffocating 2½-month-old Travis DeWayne Coleman July 3 and Cassidy "Muffin" Johnson in February 1980.

The autopsy report, written by Bay County Medical Examiner Joseph Sapala, concerned only the death of the Coleman infant. Sapala said Monday that his findings were consistent with the charges against Miss Falling.

Alligator Hunt Scheduled

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Florida game officials predict at least 350 alligators will be killed during a two-week hunt this fall, and without the outcry of protest a recent "mercy kill," of starving Everglades deer drew from several environmentalist organizations.

The alligator hunt will be held as part of a 7-year environmental study of the alligator population. The hunt is scheduled to be held at three lakes near Gainesville Sept. 7 through Sept. 24.

BEAM, MRS. ANNE MARSH — Memorial services for Mrs. Anne Marsh Beam, 79, of Lake Ashby Mobile Home Park, New Smyrna, who died Saturday, will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with the Rev. Leroy D. Soper Jr. officiating. Gramkow Funeral Home is in charge.

Altamonte To Review $18.6 Million Budget

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Altamonte Springs picked a big night to go live. The Altamonte Springs City Commission will receive public input on its proposed $18,614,928 budget for next year when it gathers at City Hall, 225 Newburyport Ave. tonight at 7. The commission meeting will coincide with the first-ever live broadcast of commission meetings on Storer Cable Communications channel 1.

Altamonte's $18.6-million budget represents an increase of about $2.2-million over this year's budget and carries both a property tax rollback and an increase in utility rates.

If the spending plan is approved, residents would realize a reduction in property taxes from $3.78 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $3.15 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

While residents can look forward to reduced city taxes, a hike in the state sales tax, higher property value assessments and increases in water-sewer and garbage pickup rates will more than make up for any savings.

The owner of a $70,000 house who qualified for the full $25,000 homestead exemption paid a total of $222.72 in city property taxes, utility taxes on water and sewer services, and franchise fees on garbage collection.

With an average 15 percent increase in property value assessments, a 60 cent increase in monthly garbage pickup bills and the extra $100 each homeowner is expected to pay in increased sales taxes, that homeowner can look forward to paying about $34 more in taxes this year.

Included in tonight's budget discussions will be consideration of where to spend $1.7-million in proposed capital improvements for the city.

The commission is also expected to approve on second reading an ordinance which would increase garbage collection rates from $5.75 per month to $6.25 per month, and consider two hold harmless agreements between property owners for utility easements at 774 Little Wekiva Circle and at Lot 5, Domegill Court.

The commission is also expected to approve an amendment for a wholesale sewage agreement with Orange County for three subdivisions.

The agreement would provide for sewage metering services in two of the subdivisions already utilizing the Country Creek Sewer Project — Tealwood Cove and Lakewood Forest along with a newer subdivision, Shady Grove.

County Mum On Plane Proposal

Seminole County commissioners have voiced concerns about a proposal to build amphibious airplanes in Seminole County.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said the board is not opposed to the program but questioned its feasibility and its funding.

Commissioners decided Monday to withhold comment on the project because they have no way of knowing if the project will work.

County officials are routinely asked for comment on federal grant applications. The Seminole Economic Development Corp. has asked for $1 million from the federal government for an amphibious airplane plant at Sanford Airport.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said, "I don't know whether the county should get involved in commenting where we aren't sure of the feasibility of the project."

Kirchhoff said the project, under the auspices of the Seminole Economic Development Corp., "has no orders and is funded by Community Services Agency and the Farmers Home Administration." He questioned whether those agencies should be involved in funding the project at all.

"In Polk County, you've got private airplane companies that are laying off people," he said. "If there was money to be made, they'd be building them."

Funeral Plan Costs Elderly Woman Her Medicaid

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI) — An elderly woman who sells newspapers from her wheelchair has lost her Medicaid benefits for two years because she set aside $1,000 to make sure she is buried in the gray gown and casket she picked out.

Government officials said they felt sorry for Mattie Dudley, 67, but they had no choice but to follow regulations.

Miss Dudley, 67, receives $280 a month in Supplemental Security Income and earns about $5 a week by selling The Daily Progress from the wheelchair she rigged with a canopy to protect her from the elements. She also has a $1,000 certificate entitling her to a funeral at the Hill and Wood Funeral Home.

Her problems with the government started with the certificate. Her assets totaled $1,694.36, just above the limit to remain eligible for the benefits. To keep the SSI, she transferred her certificate and $226.27 in interest it earned to another woman.

But by transferring the certificate, Miss Dudley made herself ineligible for Medicaid benefits that pay for prescription drugs and medical bills. Medicaid regulations require such certificates be sold and the proceeds used to buy food and clothing, or to finance shelter or other necessities.

It's Time To Clean Up SBA

As Sen. William Proxmire has emphasized with his famous Golden Fleece awards, federal bureaucrats are never more resourceful than when spending money.

Thanks to a recent investigation by The Wall Street Journal, the once-respected Small Business Administration has been found to be no better than other federal aid programs when it comes to waste, corruption, and mismanagement.

SBA auditors are turning up appalling abuses among the 488 privately owned small business investment companies that hand out mostly government-backed loans to small firms. Minority-enterprise companies, for example, get direct federal funds at 3 percent annual interest, which are supposed to be reinvested in business owned by persons deemed to be "disadvantaged" either socially or economically.

But Congress has written such loose laws that "minority" companies are financing businesses owned by white millionaires. Even worse, some of these companies lend chunks of money they borrowed from the government at 3 percent back to the government or private banks at double-digit rates.

Then, there is the case of the minority-enterprise loan to Donald A. Nixon, the former president's nephew. Nixon said he qualified for a $45,000 loan, which he invested in gold claims north of Lake Tahoe, because "I'm socially disadvantaged."

An even more surprising beneficiary of SBA financing is Show World Center Inc. of New York City, which plowed a $65,000 loan into what auditors have subsequently described as "the retail sale of X-rated books, magazines, sex aids and stimulants, and the showcasing of X-rated films, live sex acts, nude dancers, etc."

Not to show partiality to New York pornographers, SBA investment firms are financing a rock concert promoter in Alabama, a string of X-rated movie houses in Florida, and a chain of homosexually oriented Turkish baths in Southern California.

Arguably obscene in another sense are loans made by a minority-enterprise company in San Francisco to "disadvantaged" doctors and dentists, who earn up to $500,000 a year. These individuals are being endowed by the taxpayers simply because they are of Asian extraction.

Even the "disadvantaged" Hollywood crowd is plugged into the SBA money machine. Actors Paul Newman and Burt Reynolds, producer Norman Lear, and some 50 other showbusiness types pooled $6 million to form an investment company, which then borrowed $14 million through SBA for terms up to 10 years. This SBA financing is at rates almost 10 percentage points below what the rest of us pay for borrowed money.

But such examples are almost heartening compared with instances of embezzlement — $2.1 million in the case of one New York woman who is now in prison for grand larceny — but eligible for parole in two years.

Small wonder that almost 25 percent of the investment companies licensed since the SBA program began in 1958 have ended in liquidations that have cost the taxpayers more than $80 million.

These revelations are especially galling in a time of recession when numerous small businesses across the country, which the Small Business Administration was intended to serve, are either against the wall or going bankrupt for lack of financing at endurable rates.

The SBA program's gross abuses stand out starkly. And, inasmuch as waste and corruption directly violate all the Reagan administration stands for, we would expect a vigorous SBA housecleaning.

"I'll have whatever 'The Thing,' here is havin'!"

By MIKE BERRA

Usually whenever citizens appear to address a school board, city council or county commission, they only have complaints to air.

But that wasn't the case this week when an Oviedo woman congratulated Seminole County School Board members for their efforts to upgrade school facilities in Oviedo.

Jan Finch, one of several Oviedo residents who had appeared before the board a year earlier to complain that facilities in that area were inadequate and getting worse, told board members they had given parents in Oviedo hope.

Mrs. Finch said the parents had suffered from "parent burnout," a condition she claims is brought on by frustration after beating one's head against a wall.

The board's action in formulating a plan to help cope with the county's growth problem has shown Oviedo area residents that there is a plan and with that plan, hope for the system, she said.

One of the board's capital outlay projects for fiscal 1982-83 is Lawton Elementary School in Oviedo. Work on the school's roof and other renovations are planned.

Mrs. Finch said the board has done an excellent job in putting its four considerations in the proper perspective. "You have to consider the present, the future, popular demand and what is right," she said.

"What frustrates us parents is when one of these four areas gets out of balance," she said. Mrs. Finch also praised School Superintendent Robert Hughes for his work in developing a comprehensive plan for the county schools.

Being a newcomer to Central Florida I have spent a good deal of my first three weeks here.

trying to catch on to the lifestyle. Alas, I'm afraid those efforts have thus far come up short.

One of the areas which has presented some confusion for me is a phenomenon I have never encountered before—identifying which women are married and which aren't.

On the one hand, many married women I've met here don't wear wedding rings. On the other hand, (if you'll pardon the pun) there are those women who wear diamonds on their left ring finger even though they aren't presently engaged.

Even more confusing are the ones who wear a jewelry counter on their hands. Who has time to wade through all that glitter?

If you're a woman, perhaps you prefer that people don't know. If so, I apologize for my impertinence. But put yourself in my shoes. As a reporter I've got to identify you as a Miss, Mrs. or Ms.

So ladies, if I'm interviewing you and I ask if you're married, give me a break, huh?

Monkeys Have Memories

HOUSTON (UPI) — Monkey business is serious business to a University of Texas researcher who has found that monkeys remember things in the same fashion as, and sometimes better than, humans.

Dr. Anthony A. Wright, associate professor of neurosciences at the University of Texas Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences, has given human visual memory tests to monkeys the last seven years.

"By measuring their response times in visual memory tests, we've found that monkeys have the same memory processes humans have," Wright said. "We have also shown the actual strategies they use for memorizing things. This is a breakthrough. It opens up a whole field of animal memory."

Three rhesus monkeys — Joe, Linus and Max — were tested in the project Wright is conducting with the help of Dr. Steve Sands, assistant professor of psychology at the University of Texas at El Paso.

Researchers spent up to a year training the monkeys to take the test — to look at a series of 55mm color slides and to push a lever designating whether they recognized the pictures when the slides were shown a second time.

During testing, the monkeys sit in a clear plastic box with their heads sticking out, facing a screen. A feeder filled with banana pellets opens on one side of the monkey's mouth, and a tube filled with orange juice hangs on the opposite side.

"When the monkey responds correctly, he gets a squirt of juice or a banana pellet — just like beer and peanuts at the bar," Wright said.

When the monkey answers improperly, a bright light comes on over his head for a few seconds.

Humans took the picture-memory tests with the primates. One test pitted a veteran monkey test-taker against a woman. The monkey outperformed her until researchers told her how she was doing. Then she changed her strategy and finally improved her performance and salvaged her dignity, Wright said.

However, the doctor said it is impossible to know for sure who has the better memory, humans or monkeys. He planned to continue his research with monkeys and hoped to gain a better understanding of human memory. "If we know how human memory works we can make it better or cure it if it fails," Wright said.

The scientist said researchers can test certain drugs on monkeys to see how they might affect the memory process.

"There are indications that anti-nausea drugs may have adverse effects on memory, though not profound effects," Wright said.

"But what if an airplane pilot or a submarine captain took such a drug and his memory was affected in subtle ways? The consequences could be disastrous.

"We're in a position now that we can test these things and tease out those subtle effects from drugs."

Wright said monkeys also can be used in geriatric research — to test drugs to improve the memory of the elderly.

Pentagon Row Opens Weak Porthole

WASHINGTON — President Reagan is trying to close what he calls the "window of vulnerability" that would allow the Soviets to penetrate our land-based missile defenses. But he is leaving wide open a smaller "porthole of vulnerability" that would make our carrier fleet submarines virtually defenseless against attacking Soviet submarines.

The problem is not only that a dangerous "submarine gap" is developing, but that it is caused by unseemly Pentagon squabbling. In an earlier column, I reported that the backstabbing and undercutting inside the Pentagon wastes billions of dollars and seriously weakens the nation's security.

Each weapons system is supported by a formidable lobby, composed of the military brass who believe in it, the contractors who manufacture the component parts, and the workers who put them together and the congressmen whose districts enjoy the economic benefits.

A canceled defense contract will cause these disparate interests to swarm like angry hornets. They will fight bitterly for the most extravagant and unnecessary weapons. All too often, the nation's military requirements will be forgotten in the fray.

ROBERT WAGMAN

The Steel Industry

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "There is no trade war going on between the United States and its European trading partners, and there is not going to be one."

So says Raymond Waldmann, assistant secretary of commerce for international economic policy. Waldmann is one of the administration's leading point men in trying to smooth over economic relations with the Western European allies.

The fact that he must make that statement several times a day in speeches and interviews indicates the extent to which U.S. relations with many of the allies have deteriorated.

Much has been written about this country's quarrels with Western Europe over the Soviet gas pipeline and the cheap credits and loans advanced by many European countries to the Soviets. But less attention has been given to an issue that could prove even more divisive: steel.

Some U.S. steel makers have charged that their competitors in Western Europe, South America and South Africa are able to sell their steel products in this country below cost because the companies are subsidized by their governments.

If this is true, U.S. law requires that a countervailing duty be tacked onto these imports. That duty must equal the portion of the price difference between the U.S. and foreign products that is attributable to the subsidy.

In January, seven U.S. steel makers filed anti-dumping and countervailing-duty cases against their competitors in 11 countries.

Now the Commerce Department has issued a preliminary finding that government subsidies are indeed given to certain steel companies in nine countries: Belgium, Brazil, West Germany, France, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

A final decision will be made by the end of August. If the preliminary finding is upheld, the Commerce Department will issue countervailing-duty orders by mid-October. At issue are some 4 million tons of imported steel, which represent almost 20 percent of this country's steel imports and 4 percent of its total annual steel consumption.

The European steel industry is badly depressed, as is its counterpart in this country. The threat of losing the U.S. market because of countervailing duties is being taken very seriously in European capitals.

At the heart of the argument is a sharp difference of opinion over exactly what constitutes a subsidy.

In this case, the Commerce Department says that subsidies include government equity ownership in steel plants, government loans, conversion of long-term company debt into government bonds and government grants for employment programs and environmental equipment, as well as the direct aid and tax breaks traditionally classified as subsidies.

The Europeans argue that the investment policies of their governments are internal matters and do not constitute subsidies in the sense of the U.S. law. The Commerce Department disagrees.

If the decision sticks, this would mark the first time that the United States or the European allies ever imposed countervailing duties on each other's products. (The United States has only rarely imposed countervailing duties on imports from other regions.)

The Europeans are threatening to retaliate by charging countervailing duties against the products of U.S. companies that receive various kinds of tax breaks. A large portion of U.S. industrial and agricultural exports could be affected by such a move.

This could lead to all-out economic war. Most of the Western European countries say that the Reagan administration brought the steel problem on itself.

DON GRAFF

No Safe Cigarette

For callous, calculated greed in marketing, there's no beating the tobacco industry.

Ever since the initial Surgeon General's report fingered smoking as a major national health hazard, producers have been simultaneously saying it isn't so and misusing the research that supports the indictment of their product to keep smokers buying.

They continue to flood the market with low-tar, low-nicotine cigarettes, pushing these supposedly safer brands as the answer to the concerned smoker's problem. The ads would have you believe that low ratings according to research standards, far from being measurements of relative peril, are virtually equivalent to seals of approval.

With notable success. The low brands account for about a third of a cigarette market that is pushing $20 billion a year.

The truth of the matter is that there is no safe cigarette — or even safer, if lower-rated brands lead to smoking more or inhaling more deeply. There is also the carbon monoxide produced by the burning process and the still unknown consequences of ingesting the chemicals that producers don't publicize — trade secrets — but add to the tobacco to compensate for taste lost with the removal of tar and nicotine.

But give the industry credit. If it could produce not only a tarless but a smokeless cigarette, perfectly safe in all respects but in effect giving the smoking public nothing for its money but continuation of the habit, there's no reason to doubt that it would try. As long as the public would buy.

And if not a smokeless cigarette, why not smokeless tobacco? That's the chewing and dipping variety.

While the promotion effort is virtually subliminal compared to that behind cigarettes, it has the familiar ingredients. Ads pairing the product and attractive young people suggest not only the acceptability but desirability of use.

Smokeless tobacco has a marketing advantage over cigarettes in that it is not required to carry the health-hazard warning. But it ought to, as the American Cancer Society points out in a current release on the consequences of chewing and dipping.

They include leukoplakia, white patches inside the mouth that result from irritation by tobacco juice and in 5 percent of diagnosed cases lead to oral cancer. Also decreased ability to taste and smell, receding gums among other dental problems and discolored teeth.

"The ads never discuss the health risks or social issues," the society notes. "It's their job to make chewing and dipping appealing."

The ads and the labs aren't only fronts in the tobacco war. It's also being fought in Congress, when has passed new price support legislation. It is a considerable retreat from previous support programs, shifting the bulk of the subsidy burden from the taxpayers in general to the growers themselves, who will be assessed for a fund to cover losses resulting from low market prices.

Even so, foes of a "killer crop" were narrowly defeated in an effort to make the new program even more restrictive.

TALLAHASSEE — After being silenced in the opening game Monday, the Sanford Nationals ripped four home runs en route to a 14-8 victory over Panama City at the State Little Major Tournament.

"Now that we got off the Bellamy's Disease, we got the Tallahassee Disease," said manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin Jr. about his team's pre-tournament jitters.

Sanford was stymied on just one hit by lefthander Kevin Cabanas in Monday's opening game, a 4-1 loss to defending-champion Key West.

After not hitting a ball out of the infield in game one, the Nationals took out their frustrations on four Panama City pitcher.

The Nationals pushed across six runs in the second, four in the third and four more in the fourth to build a commanding 14-3 lead.

First sacker Todd Revels led off the second with a walk and Edward Gordon, Saturday's hero, but Monday morning's flop, followed with a two-run homer over right-center field barrier.

With one out, Tim Graham, Ron Blake and Willie Grayson drew consecutive walks. Tarance Carr then hit the first pitch for a line-drive homer over the right-field fence for a 6-0 lead.

Panama City bounced back for three of its own in the bottom of the frame against Sanford starter Leonard Lucas. Ronnie Jackson chased home one run with an RBI-single, Willie Messer plated another with a bases-loaded walk and the third scored on a wild pitch.

Sanford took a 10-3 lead in the top of the third. Revels singled and pinch-runner George Gordon went to second on a wild pitch and third on a passed ball. Gordon came across on Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud's single to left.

Two more runs scored when Tim Graham blasted a shot to deep right field which cleared the fence bringing McCloud home ahead of him for a 9-3 bulge. Ron Blake walked, hurried to second on a passed ball, took third on a wild pitch and scored when reliever Johnell Nealy balked.

In the fourth, Revels led off with a 300-foot clout over the left-field fence. Tim Graham singled and eventually scored on a wild pitch. Jeff Blake singled and also tallied on a wild pitch. Lucas, who was on second at the time, never stopped and followed Blake home for a 14-3 bulge.
Lucas, who pitched Sanford past Ormond Beach Saturday for the District 4 title, had control troubles all night, walking 13 batters. He struck out seven, though, and got tough when the situation called for it.
"Maybe if we put it all together we'll get some where," concluded Franklin.
Tonight at 8, McCloud will come back against either Okecheelee or Pensacola.

The Sanford Nationals ran into a three-run home run by Alan Collins and a one-hit effort from southpaw Kevin Cabanas in an opening loss to defending champion Key West.

Sanford took an early 1-0 lead when Tarance walked, went to second on a wild pitch, moved to third on Leonard Lucas' ground out and scored on another wild pitch for a 1-0 first inning lead.

Key West, however, bounced back for three runs in the bottom of the frame when Cabanas reached on a fielder's choice, Stanley Payne walked and with two out and a 3-2 count on Alan Collins, the big rightfielder drilled a three-run homer well over the left field fence.

"That one hit (the homer) killed us," said manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin Jr., while lamenting the loss.

Sanford played fine defensively, committing only one uncostly error, but couldn't get it going against the left-handed slants of Cabanas.

"We just didn't hit," continued Franklin. "We've gotta hit the ball if we want to come back in this tournament."

Cabanas, utilizing a ferocious fastball and a wicked curve, fanned 13 hitters and walked nine. The Nationals couldn't hit the ball beyond the infield. Six wild pitches by Cabanas failed to hurt him because the lack of baserunners.

Sanford had three other scoring opportunities. In the third and fourth innings, the local boys left two runners on base. In the sixth, Sanford left the bases loaded.

Key West added an insurance run in the fifth. Danny Betancourt led off with a double to the gap in left center and Cabanas sacrificed him to third. Betancourt scored on Stanley Payne's bashed up the middle.

Sanford had a chance to get back into the game in the sixth. After Edward Gordon struck out for the third straight time, Cabanas issued free passes to be both McCloud and Willie Walton. But Ron Blake struck out for the second out and Willie Grayson, who had Sanford's lone hit, walked to load the bases.

Tarance Carr worked the count to 3-2, but went down swinging on a ball out of the strike zone for the final out of the game.

"We can't give up now," Franklin told his team after the ball game. "If you want it you've got to come out and struggle for it."

Port Orange Sandman Silences Awakening Sanford Bats, 9-7

ORMOND BEACH — Sanford's slumbering Junior League All-Star bats finally awoke from their tournament-long sleep here Monday night only to find the "Sandman" waiting for them in the fifth inning.

Sanford had just raked Port Orange starter Bobby Jackson and reliever Paul LaRubbio all over the park. Tommy "Sandman" Abdo, nevertheless, rocked the Sanford cradle with a few fastballs and preserved a 9-7 Port Orange victory.

The Juniors finished third in the tournament. Tonight at 7, Port Orange plays Ormond Beach. An Ormond victory sends it into Monday's State Junior Tournament in Sanford. A loss sets up a final game on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

"They might have beat us, but we set up Ormond Beach pretty good," said coach Doug Atkinson referring to Port Orange's use of ace Abdo. The hard-throwing right-hander won't be available tonight and has only six innings left for a Wednesday game, if Port Orange wins tonight.

Sanford bounced out with two runs in the first inning. Alvin Jones walked, stole second and third. Craig Dixon walked and stole second. Dexter Franklin, the Juniors most productive player in the tournament, delivered a clutch single to score both runners.

Port Orange came back with four runs in the bottom of the inning — all unearned and tainted by a controversial call. "That call cost us four runs," said manager Pete Courlas about a ground ball to the infield on which the runner was ruled safe at first on a close play.

The call seemed meaningless at the time since it would have been the second out of the inning, but after starter

Bobby Phelan walked, Brian Addair reached on an error as did Marc Hazen by second baseman Franklin to score two runs. Jackson followed with a double to left for a 4-2 lead before Mitchell fanned Henry McKelvey.
Dixon led off the Sanford third with another walk and immediately stole second and third. Franklin rapped a ground ball to the shortstop to score him and pull the Juniors within, 4-3.

After yielding two second-inning runs, Mitchell settled down to blank Port Orange over the next three innings. He retired nine of 11 hitters he faced and was aided by a great, tumbling catch by third baseman Mike Wright.

Sanford broke loose in the fourth. David Rape started the rally with a ringing double to left center. After Mitchell grounded out, Eddie Korgan plated him with a single to center.
Jones, the Sanford center fielder, then slammed one way over the fence near where he usually patrols to pull the Juniors even at 6-6.

In the fifth, however, the "Sandman" made his visit and the Sanford bats grew weary. Abdo fanned seven of the 11 hitters he faced and didn't allow a hit.

Donald Grayson, who whiffed the first three times at bat, reached on an error in the seventh, stole two bases and scored on a wild pitch for the lone blemish on Abdo's record.

Port Orange scored in key runs in the sixth on a leadoff homer by Jackson, a single by McKelvey, two Sanford errors and a sacrifice fly by Bovier.

Franklin had two hits, three RBI and Tyler Phillips, Ormond Beach baserunner, steps around Sanford catcher Jeff Blake without touching the plate in Saturday's championship game in the Little Major District Tournament. In the background, manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin Jr. tells Blake to go and touch the runner, which he did in the Ormond Beach dugout. Umpire Henry Debose then correctly called Phillips out, which brought the usual screams from the Ormond coaching staff, who claimed Phillips did touch home. Sanford won, 8-5.

Recruits Drop Angels, 17-2

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Sanford's Hamp's Angels didn't win the State Recreation Softball Tournament here this past weekend, but they did send the state's number one ranked team out for reinforcements.

Softball

"After we beat them the first time," said manager Rev. Andrew Hamilton. "They had to go out and recruit some more players to beat us."

With the new supply of players, the Blue Machine nipped Sanford, 8-7, in the first game and then went wild with a 17-2 victory for the title.

Hamp's opened the tournament with a similar thrashing of the Silver Streaks, 17-1. Pat Moran paced the 12-hit attack with a triple and a single good for three runs batted in.

Joyce Randall, Katherine Bennett and Johnnie Bennett each rapped two hits. Randall and Alice Bennett scored three times apiece. Alice also had a double.

In the second, the Angels derailed the Blue Machine, 6-2, as Alice Bennett slammed a solo home run and knocked in another run with a single.

Five big runs in the sixth inning put the game out of reach. Randall opened the inning with a single, Cindy Pendarvis also singled and Johnnie Bennett walked to load the bases.

Robin Riggins then unloaded a hit which scored Randall and Pendarvis for two runs. Alice Bennett and Tony Hardy followed with singles to plate two more and Jill Harper had a base hit to score the final run.

Righthander Dee Hogan held the Big Blue bats in check with a seven-hitter. Hogan didn't allow a run until the sixth inning.

In game three, Hamp's rolled to another easy win, 17-6, over Watercraft. Alice Bennett, switching her track shoes for some hitting shoes, smashed two homers and a double to chase home seven RBI. The Florida State track standout also scored four runs.

Johnnie Bennett, Hardy, Randall and Riggins each collected two hits. Hardy followed up A. Bennett's first-inning homer with one of her own. Pendarvis scored three runs.

Needing just one victory for the title, Hamp's took on the Blue Machine again. The Angels jumped to a 1-0 lead on a home run by Riggins in the second and added another in the third when Harper scored on an error for a 2-1 edge.

The Blue Machine, however, broke loose for four runs in the bottom of the third to take a 5-2 lead. Sanford came back with two more to pull within, 5-4, but the Blue Machine pushed across three in the fifth for an 8-4 edge.

In the sixth, Riggins walked and scored. Hardy reached on an error by the leftfielder and later came home on a fielder's choice for an 8-6 game.

Randall reached on an error to open the final inning. Another error moved her to second and Riggins singled her home for an 8-7 score. Alice Bennett then grounded into a fielder's choice to end the game.

The third battle with the Machine was no contest as eight runs in the fifth and four more in the sixth turned the game into a runaway.

Harper was the only Angel with a hot bat, stroking three hits and scoring one run. Johnnie Bennett added the other run for the final 17-2 bulge. Pat Moran added two basehits.

Juniors Swipe 13 Bases, Run Over Inverness, 15-1

By BENTON WOOD
Herald Sports Writer
WINTER GARDEN — Gene Letterio must be thinking about the Indy 500 as well as the state tournament. But after the Altamonte 13 year old all-stars swiped 13 bases in their 15-1 sectional opener win on Monday night, the only thing Inverness was thinking about was home-sweet-home.

However, Altamonte can look forward to a winners bracket matchup with Jacksonville San Mateo tonight at 8. "Our game is to run and that's what we did tonight," Letterio said afterwards. "We'll run to second almost everytime we get someone on. And after watching the San Mateo catcher tonight, I think we'll be able to run on him too."

Run over is a better description of what Altamonte did to Inverness Monday night. While Altamonte could do no wrong at the plate or on the basepaths, Gary Nuss and Scott Verville were quietly working on a three-hitter.

Third baseman Shane Letterio started the rout in the first. He led off with a single to left, swiped second, moved to third on a Marty Posey ground ball, and scored on a wild pitch.

Altamonte upped their lead to 4-0 in the top of the third. With one out, Posey and Mike Schmit grounded consecutive singles up the middle. They moved up a base on a wild pitch before a walk, an RBI ground out, and a Rick Langley throwing error.

In the meantime, starter Nuss, whose brother, Eddie, pitched in the Boston Red Sox organization, was mowing down the Inverness hitters. He was touched for a single in the second and a Langley double in the third, but he recorded three strikeouts between the two frames to get out of any trouble.

"This was kind of a test for Gary," Letterio acknowledged. "His performance tonight gave us a third starter and gave him some confidence back."

In the fifth, Altamonte only had a pair of hits, but they added eight more on the scoreboard. A Bruce Carlson double chased home Schmit for the first run of the inning, and Ryan Lisle upped the advantage to 6-0 with a suicide squeeze. A couple of walks didn't help Inverness hurler Craig Goolsby any before Schmit finally came up again and delivered a two-run single to right.

Matters for Inverness got worse in the sixth. Lisle led off with a walk and stole second, his third stolen base of the game. Bret Marshall lined a double to left scoring Lisle and then came around to score himself on a Letterio double to right-center field. Altamonte added another run in the seventh.

"In section play you don't get games like this very often," Letterio said of their pushover opponent. "It kind of let us tune up for San Mateo."

Schmit will definitely get the nod tonight with Neal Harris scheduled for the following outing.

San Mateo advanced by virtue of a 6-4 win over Niceville. The Jacksonville crew overcame a three-run Niceville first with four of their own in the initial frame. The San Mateo team is the same group that Letterio's Major League All-Stars had to defeat last year to reach the state tournament.

Seniors Clobber Niceville, 10-1

By SAM COOK

EUSTIS — Altamonte's Derek Livernois struck out 14 hitters here Monday night and Mark Chasey drove in two runs as the Juniors squashed Niceville-Valparaiso, 10-1, in the first round of the Sectional Tournament.

Tonight at 8, manager Clayton Garrison will send righthander Van Golmont against Orange Park, a 5-2 winner over Inverness, in second round action.

"Orange Park will be our biggest test," said assistant coach Rod Metz Sr. "We played them twice when these guys were 13-year-olds and both were good games." Altamonte jumped all over Niceville starter Harold Tennant in the first three innings Monday night. Keith Wallace led off the first with a walk and scored on a double to left by hot-hitting Scott Underwood. Livernois followed with a single to plate Underwood and came around himself on three passed balls. Golmont walked, moved up on passed balls and tallied when Scott Morrissey reached on an error by the second baseman.

In the third, Chasey rapped a double to left center but was cut down trying for three. Kevin Hill restarted the rally by reaching on an error. Morrissey walked and Alan Wing singled home Hill. Morrissey then scored on a passed ball. Wallace also reached on an error which scored Wing for a 7-1 bulge.

In the fourth, Underwood scorched a triple to left center and when the shortstop mishandled the relay, third base coach Russ Whittington waved Underwood home.

In the sixth, Livernois doubled and Golmont singled. Golmont moved to second on a passed ball and Chasey drilled a single to chase home the final two runs.

Giving More Than A 'Fair Share'

New Directors Join United Way

The Board of Directors of United Way of Seminole County welcomed four new directors at a breakfast Thursday at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford.

Kay Bartholomew, Sandy Cummings, Sharyn Dickerson and Terry Duffy joined the team that will ask business firms, their employees and other residents of the county to "give a fair share" of their income to help 20 agencies in the area.

KAY BARTHOLOMEW
Kay Bartholomew is a long-time and highly regarded Sanford resident.

Many residents of Seminole and Volusia counties met her — or became aware of her capabilities — when they attended the open house of the Central Florida Regional Hospital where she is Marketing Director. Added to this overwhelming responsibility are those stemming from her position as Public Relations Director.

Since earning, magna cum laude, a B.A. degree at the University of Central Florida, she has continued study related to her work. Her accomplishments have placed her in responsible positions, recently that of heading the state Public Relations professional association.

She is delighted, she said, that James Tesar, Administrator of CFRH, is "very community minded" and encouraged her to become involved with the "once for all" charity campaign.

Tesar added that the new hospital is very much a part of this area and is encouraging staff members to take their places in it efforts.

KAY BARTHOLOMEW

While there will be much organizational work done between now and the "kick-off" of the fall campaign of UW, Mrs. Bartholomew's background dictates "a lot of 'get ready' organization — and she is eager to "add her bit" she said, to the huge effort of a waging a successful campaign.

SANDY CUMMINGS
The participation of industrial organizations in United Way campaigns has been accepted as a norm.

With this type support of her employing firm, Southern Bell T & T Co., Sandy Cummings accepted a place on the Board of Directors of United Way of Seminole county. Since her election she has played an active role in the plans for this year's campaign.

Mrs. Cummings' position as secretary (administrative reports) has broadened her concept of the real potential for a "county of growth" in the "once for all" charity drive.

SANDY CUMMINGS

In her other community activities and the acquaintances she's developed through her interest in swimming and gardening, she is confident, she says, that United Way has strong support both from persons and by business firms.

But, she added, her employer and "many, many other corporations, avidly encourage their employees to be involved in community activities."

This and the fact that the area is growing caused her to believe that the UW drive this fall will be enthusiastically supported, she said.

Mrs. Dickerson and her husband, Carroll, live in Maitland.

SHARYN DICKERSON

As senior vice president-cashier of ComBanks of Seminole county, the new participant in the united charity effort is well-acquainted with the magnitude of the task of meeting the "needs of the needy."

But, she added, her employer and "many, many other corporations, avidly encourage their employees to be involved in community activities."

This and the fact that the area is growing caused her to believe that the UW drive this fall will be enthusiastically supported, she said.

Mrs. Dickerson and her husband, Carroll, live in Maitland.

TERRY DUFFY

Inc., Duffy is adding a wealth of information about residential and industrial developments in south Seminole County.

The Marquette University graduate commented on his close scrutiny of the UW financial drive last year. He was complimentary of those who were engaged in the 1981 campaign and of the achievement in reaching the goal. But he added "we can do better than that this year."

In support of that opinion, Duffy said that even though economists underscore the adverse business conditions of the day, figures reflect good growth in the area "we serve in Seminole county."

The Nebraska native "turned 'Gator'" pledged an all-out effort to make his forecast of a successful "larger goal" this year a realized dream.

Duffy, his wife, Pat, and sons Erin, Scott, Tim, Kelly and Dennis, live in Casselberry.

Sex Is A Sparkler; Love Is A Flame

DEAR ABBY: What is the difference between "having sex" and "making love"?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: In "having sex," the name of the game is sexual gratification. It's a selfish exercise, a physical release in which the partner is a faceless object. (Anyone will do.)

In "making love," one is motivated by an overwhelming desire to give pleasure, express affection, communicate one's feelings of caring. It's the ultimate in sharing. In making love, the partner is a very special person. (No one else will do.)

Love is a metropolis. Sex is a whistletop. Love is an eternal torch. Sex is a sparkler.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I would like to make you aware of a new fraud springing up in our land. It involves dental insurance. Now that most people are getting dental insurance, it seems many dentists probe and dig as hard as they can in order to loosen patients' old fillings and crack them. That way, the filling will either fall out, or food particles and bacteria will get beneath the filling and start a new cavity.

"If there is no trouble in your mouth, they will make it. The last dentist I had showed me X-rays of "my" mouth, and I noticed the teeth in the X-rays were all crisscrossed. My teeth are wide-spaced! He argued with me, insisted they were my X-rays, but I'm a nurse and I know something about reading X-rays.

Another racket is drilling too deep, damaging a nerve and then sending the patient to an oral surgeon or a root canal specialist who gives the dentist a kickback.

My husband suffered agonizing pain, time lost from work and a lot of needless expense for root canal work that was probably caused intentionally by his dentist.

Please print this as a warning to all people.

ON TO THEM INST. LOUIS

DEAR ON: If anyone suspects his dentist of unethical practices, he should report that dentist to the local county dental society. There is a dental review board that investigates every complaint thoroughly. I assure you the board will get to the root of the matter!

DEAR ABBY: We are planning a surprise 40th wedding anniversary celebration for our parents, but we do not want the guests (most of whom will be our parents' friends) to bring presents. I was told that you printed a very beautiful and tasteful invitation, suggesting that a written recollection of a "shared memory" be the gift. Will you please run it again?

ABBY FANS

DEAR FANS: With pleasure:

"The children of Ivar and Helen Dahl invite you to celebrate with them the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents. A reception will be held May 7, at 2 p.m., at the Elmhurst Country Club.

"We request your help in compiling a book which recalls memories from our parents' first 50 years of marriage. On the enclosed sheet, we ask that you write one memory or event that you have shared with them, and return it to us by April 26. We believe that the loving memories they have shared with you, their friends, would be the most treasured gift they could receive; therefore, we request that no other gift be sent."

DEAR ABBY: I have a very difficult decision to make concerning my dog, Sheba, a 7-year-old Great Dane who has been with me since birth.

She is getting old and set in her ways and she has bad hips.

I feel I would be betraying her if I sent her to "the great hound heaven in the sky," but I don't want to wake up some morning and find a 165-pound dead animal in my house. If I give her away, I know she will die of a broken heart. She's like a member of the family, but something has to be done. Should I have her put to sleep?

ANIMAL LOVER

DEAR ANIMAL LOVER: A veterinarian can tell you if Sheba's "bad hips" are giving her pain, and if they can be surgically repaired.

If Sheba can be kept alive without discomfort, keep her and love her — as she does you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a college student who is troubled over a situation with my former girlfriend, Susan (not her real name).

While we were dating, I gave her my fraternity pin as a symbol of our commitment to each other. Since then, we have stopped seeing each other, and she refuses to return my pin. I might add, the pin is rather costly.

I feel that the pin was a "loan," and she obviously feels otherwise. We respect your opinion, and ask whether you think the pin should be returned.

PINLESS AT U.C.L.A.

DEAR PINLESS: Unless the rules have changed, a man gives his beloved his fraternity pin to wear — not to keep. If the "commitment" ends, she returns the pin.

"The Best of Dear Abby," featuring Abby's best answers and favorite responses during the past 25 years, is now available. You can obtain a copy of this new best-selling book by sending $9.95 plus $1 for postage and handling to "The Best of Dear Abby," in care of this newspaper, 4400 Johnson Dr., Fairway, Kan. 66205. Make checks payable to Universal Press Syndicate.

Sanford's Taylor Rental Center is a family affair. T. J. and Joyce Mehl (center), the new owners, are assisted by their children Peter (left) and Carrie.

Need Tools, Tent, Or TV? See Taylor Rental Center

It's hard to imagine what an elegant champagne fountain and a one-ton roller have in common. Add a TV set, garden tiller, baby crib, camping tent, and a cement mixer and it becomes even more puzzling.

The answer is found in a unique business enterprise — Taylor Rental Center.

The new owners at 3159 U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford have these items and many more on display for rental.

New owners T.J. and Joyce Mehl and their children Peter and Carrie are from Silver Springs, Md.

One of the things that makes a Taylor Rental enterprise unique, according to the Mehls, is the wide range of items for rent.

"You might say we are a rent department store," they said.

A partial list of categories proves the point: all kinds of party and banquet items, chairs, tables, dishes, silver, etc., exercise equipment, baby furniture, paint and wallpaper tools, camping equipment and a wide range of hand and power

Furniture Rental Industry Growing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Furniture leasing is a relatively new and growing industry that is proving virtually recession-proof, says Ernest Rosenfeld.

Rosenfeld runs International Furniture Rentals of New York and is chairman of the Furniture Rental Association of America, which has 60 companies operating 200 rental showrooms around the country that probably account for 80 percent of an estimated volume of $500 million a year.

Rosenfeld says this volume has grown about 45 percent in the last five years and the rental companies haven't felt the recession at all. In his opinion they have penetrated only 15 to 20 percent of the potential market.

While furniture has been rented in a small way for decades, as an industry doing an efficient job it's only about 15 years old.

It has been created by rapidly changing social conditions — the growing divorce rate for example and the increasing transient proportion of the population.

Rosenfeld said about 60 percent of his business is renting residential furniture and about 40 percent office furniture. The average rental period is 16 months and many of the leases give the renter the option to buy, an option often exercised, he said.

"The reasons why people rent furniture are so numerous their variety constantly astonishes me," Rosenfeld said. "After 15 years in the business, I'm still hearing new ones."

He got into leasing from furniture retailing. The idea was suggested to him by an old Navy buddy he met while on a buying trip to High Point, capital of North Carolina furniture manufacturing.

People want convenience and fast, full-package service from the rental companies, he said.

"They will come in on Tuesday and want an apartment or a house completely furnished by Friday."

The furniture rented is of good quality and is well maintained (Rosenfeld has his own refinishing department, for example) but it never is expensive in a big way.

"As a rule of thumb, customers are willing to pay 20 to 25 percent to rent furniture of what they pay to rent the house or apartment," he explained, "but that's a loose estimate."

He said the increase in the divorce rate is a big factor in the growth of the residential business. "When a couple breaks up, they need one or two new living places in a hurry and neither is anxious to buy new furniture and probably doesn't have the money to do so."

While the transient population, people being transferred, diplomats, entertainers, professional athletes or people who are victims of fires or other disasters, are the big customers, many people who are fairly well settled find renting furniture can be convenient and cheaper than owning it.

There are no interest charges on installment loans and the rental company takes care of the maintenance and moving costs. The rental company often will make substitutions rapidly for the customer's convenience.

The rental companies carry big inventories and the customer not only has a pretty good variety to choose from, he or she can get expert help from the rental people in choosing furniture for any apartment, home or office.

Some people, Rosenfeld said, rent furniture simply because they don't want to commit their money to the big outlay buying good furniture entails, or go into debt for the purchase.

For business use, of course, rental is a deductible operating expense; no capital is tied up and credit lines are preserved for other uses.

Twice-Is-Nice Can Help Back-To-School Headache

If outfitting your children for school is breaking your pocketbook, you will want to check out the good selection of school clothes for boys and girls at "Twice-Is-Nice" family consignment shop. You will also find school supplies and accessories.

"Twice-Is-Nice" is now in its larger, convenient location at 1910 French Ave., Sanford (formerly the Hobby Depot), and there is ample space for customer parking.

Owner-manager Renee Johnson invites all old and new customers to come in to see her new store and shop in comfort and style. The store is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. MasterCard and Visa cards are accepted and layaway service is available.

"Twice-Is-Nice" has new and "like new" clothing for the whole family beginning with infant sizes. They have women's dresses size 3-54. They have men's slacks, suits, shirts and swimwear. All clothing is current fashion.

If you are planning a wedding, be sure and check with "Twice-Is-Nice" for wedding gowns and veils and formal dresses. Bridal gowns are available for sale and rent. Renee is always looking for good consignment wedding gowns as well as other clothing.

At "Twice-Is-Nice" you will find a selection of new quality jewelry, fashion headbands and feathers.

The store now has a large variety of new wigs from which to choose. Renee and her husband, Terry, who celebrated the first anniversary of their business in February, take pride in providing prompt, friendly and courteous service to all their customers.

"Twice-Is-Nice" accepts surplus family apparel and accessories on consignment from local retailers and individuals. The price of each garment is mutually agreed upon with the shop receiving 60 percent after the sale.

Any items sold within 30 days of consignment will sell at the prices listed on the inventory sheet. After 30 days, prices may be reduced up to 20 percent. After 60 days, prices may be reduced up to 50 percent. Any item not sold by the end of 90 days becomes the property of the store unless picked up by the consignee before the 90-day period is up. Retailers' merchandise will be returned to them if unsold.

New items of clothing are added each day to the dollar rack in front of the store in addition to the on-going gold and blue tag bargain sales.

Hospital room charges led the itemized bill of medical care cost increases during 1981. The jump was the largest for a single year since the federal government began reporting on medical costs in 1935 and almost half again as much as the increase in overall consumer prices (8.9 percent). The steep increases are attributed to rising health insurance system expenditures, labor costs, expensive medical technology and the aging population.

Health Care: The Cost Continues To Skyrocket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans spent nearly a dime of every dollar for health care last year, generating a record national medical bill of $287 billion, federal figures show.

The Health and Human Services Department reported Monday health-care spending increased 15.1 percent, eating up 9.8 percent of the gross national product, which itself rose by 11.4 percent.

"The message in these statistics is that the policies of the past are continuing to bring us health cost increases well above the rate of inflation," said HHS Secretary Richard Schweiker.

"The Reagan administration stands committed to the kind of changes that will encourage cost-conscious behavior in the health care system," he said, although not specifying what changes would be sought.

Administration officials, delayed by the budget battle, have not yet proposed specifics of a program to hold down costs. They are considering vouchers so Medicare recipients can buy private insurance, and taxing workers for high-priced employer-paid health insurance premiums, in an effort to discourage policies that pay for alleged frills.

The administration also wants to limit federal payments to hospitals, which get a third of their revenues from Medicaid and Medicare.

Another tack to limit health costs is contained in the tax bill approved by the Senate last week, which lowers the individual deduction for medical expenses. Proponents say that will encourage consumers to confine medical care to the necessities.

More than two-thirds of the 1981 health costs were paid through insurance programs or the government.

The biggest chunk of each dollar spent on medical care, 41 cents, went to hospitals. Eight cents went to nursing homes, 19 cents for doctor bills, 21 cents on other personal care and 11 cents on other medical spending.

Medicare, the federal health program for the aged and disabled, and Medicaid, the program for the poor, financed by state and federal governments, paid $73 billion in benefits last year, or 29 percent of personal health care costs.

Private insurance paid $67 billion in benefits last year, or 26.2 percent of personal health expenditures. Insurance companies took in $73 billion in premiums, or 47 percent of consumer health spending.

New Plan To Save Venice From Ravages Of The Sea

VENICE, Italy (UPI) — "Oh Venice, Venice, when thy marble walls are level with the waters there shall be a cry of nations o'er thy sunken halls, a loud lament along the sweeping sea."

When Lord Byron wrote those opening lines of his "Ode on Venice" in 1818, the perils of relentless high tides flooding the Dowager Empress of the Adriatic were already well documented.

Since then, the incidence of high tides battering the priceless art treasures and palaces of the hypnotically beautiful lagoon city built on wood piles has increased dangerously.

Churned by changing meteorological conditions but most of all provoked by man's tampering with the lagoon's delicate natural balance, the Adriatic has relentlessly tried to reclaim the city that once ruled it.

High tides invaded Venice 240 times in 1981 compared to only 28 times in 1919.

The most fearsome inundation loomed on Nov. 4, 1966, when a tide 6 feet above normal flooded most of Venice. It aged the city some 50 years in 14 hours and sounded an international alarm that brought massive amounts of aid from the world over.

An ambitious and costly plan to save Venice from the ravages of the tides was approved unanimously by the city council this year. If it is approved by Rome, supporters say the sound of the shrieking horns of the early alarm system that warns Venetians to get out their high rubber boots may become a remembrance of things past.

The feat of modern engineering will cost at least $500 million and take 7 years to complete. It involves narrowing the lagoon's 3 entrances with dykes and implanting artificial underwater barriers that could be raised at a moment's notice to block the Adriatic's rising waters.

Giant hollow cylinders, each about 5 yards in diameter, will be anchored horizontally on the lagoon's bed. Quickly filled with compressed air when the sea level rises, they will rise to a vertical position to block the water.

"This is not the magic wand to solve all of Venice's problems but it's a start," said Paolo Cacciari, deputy councilman who oversees the 1973 "special law" in which the Italian government declared that saving Venice and its lagoon was a matter of essential national interest.

Cacciari discussed the massive project in an interview at his office in the Venice city hall, a splendid palace a few feet from the Rialto bridge, where the early Venetians sank the first wood piles into the bogs 1,500 years ago to escape the barbarian invasions on the mainland.

The relatively minor flooding problems Venice suffered when Byron lived in voluntary exile in "the city of the soul" have been immensely aggravated by 20th century man's tampering with nature.

In 1926, a new industrial zone called Porto Marghera was created by filling in 1,235 acres of the lagoon. Another equally large area was filled in after World War II, and still more land was claimed from the lagoon for the new Marco Polo airport in 1960.

The landfills, coupled with some 35 square miles of fish hatcheries that created a patchwork of dams, blocked once free-flowing areas to tides and diverted water to Venice's vulnerable center.

To further aggravate the problem, some 20,000 deep artesian wells dug for fresh water lowered the water table under the islands, causing Venice to sink some 8 inches in 100 years.

The 3 natural channels that link the lagoon to the Adriatic were deepened to allow oil tankers to reach the new industrial ports, and massively increased the volume of sea water entering the lagoon.

Some ecologists, conservationists and hydrologists say the plan will only further damage the lagoon's delicate natural balance.

They say the only way to reduce the threat of another major flood is to reclaim the usurped landfills and hatcheries, dredge bottoms of the city's 177 canals to remove silt and garbage that block water flow, and restore the three ancient channels to shallower depths.

One of the plan's leading opponents has been the highly respected "Italia Nostra" conservationist group.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Wednesday, July 28, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY
July 28, 1982
Dealing this coming year with family and close relatives should develop into mutually beneficial situations with far-reaching effects.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try not to let outside interests pry you away from the time you should be spending with your family today. Your presence will make a difference. Find out more of what lies ahead for you for each season following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You'll do best at tasks today which are more mental than physical. Your imagination and powers of concentration are exceptionally keen.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your financial prospects look encouraging today, so be on the lookout for things which may enable you to turn a profit. They're at hand.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This is not a day to hand over the reins of matters which you should be personally managing. You'll do well. Others might not.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your hunches and instincts could be of great help to you today in figuring out things which your logic might not totally grasp. Use them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be optimistic and hopeful about what you intend to do today. If your attitude's right, it will inspire you to take successful action.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Competition or challenge may cause others to fall back today, but it will have an opposite effect on you. It will bolster your determination to succeed.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Conditions which will now have created complications should begin to melt away today. Your prospects in several areas are now brightening.

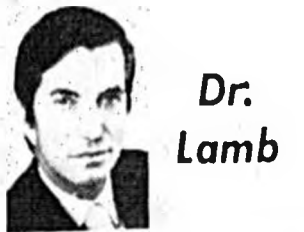

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Something in which you're involved could undergo some changes or transformations today which you'll be unable to control. However, it will turn out OK.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your willingness to cooperate is your greatest asset today. Situations which could have deadlocked will now move off-center.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Much can be accomplished today if you heed your industrious impulses. Devote your time to projects which are meaningful and helpful.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Seek pleasurable diversions today, departures from your established routines. A change of pace will do you a world of good now.

Breast Enlargement Protein Won't Do It

Dr. Lamb

DEAR LAMB — Are there any exercises for breast development? I have tried weight lifting for one quarter. Now I have learned about a breast development preparation made from protein formula powder. I would like to try this. I can afford the 12-day supply but I would like to ask your advice as to whether it is safe and is it worth my money.

DEAR READER — I would recommend saving your money and using it for good food you can buy at the grocery store.

There is no way that protein powders can increase your breast size unless your breasts are small because you are on a protein-deficient diet. If that is the case you should improve your diet to include more of the protein foods found in the dairy and meat food groups. Additional protein that your body doesn't need is merely converted to fat and increases body fat stores. You might not like that.

It is true that many lean women tend to have small breasts. By fattening your body you may increase the fat in the breasts but the overall effect of generalized fattening is not always an improvement. And you run the risk of having fat in the hips and face and not gaining fat in the breasts.

Yes, there are exercises that increase the size of the muscles behind the breast. That is what a properly done weight-training program for breast enlargement should do for you. That and posture training often enhance a woman's figure. But make no mistake, exercise will not increase the size of the breast itself, only the chest muscles underneath the breast.

In some women hormones do influence the size of breasts. Breast size is dependent upon inherited characteristics, hormones and general good health. Birth control pills may cause a woman to retain sodium and because of that to retain water which will make the breasts fuller.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 18-12, Breast Basics, to give you a better understanding of the problem and what works and what does not work so you can avoid being ripped off.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A close friend recently told me that his doctor suspected he was a victim of a little known disease called Ondine's curse, a breathing ailment. The doctor indicated that the very rare disease was something medical students were told about but few cases were documented. I can find no reference to this ailment in any reference. Can you comment?

We breathe automatically and think nothing about it. But sometimes the nervous system that regulates breathing fails and automatic breathing diminishes or fails. It is sometimes called Ondine's curse after the fairy tale of the river nymph who was jilted by a mortal lover. The curse she gave him was to have to consciously do all his automatic functions, including breathing. Thus when he fell asleep he would stop breathing and die.

This term is also used by some for sleep apnea, where a person stops breathing at night. Usually these are overweight men who snore heavily. But it can affect women, and it is usually associated with an upper airway obstruction. In these cases a tracheostomy, an opening in the trachea, allows normal breathing and stops the episodes.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag
North-South had an excellent, but complicated auction to reach six clubs on today's hand. After South had shown extra values with his two-diamond reverse, North cuebid both major suits and supported clubs. South confidently bid the slam.
Declarer won the opening heart lead with dummy's ace and immediately drew the opposing trumps in two rounds. Next he led a small spade to dummy's jack, successfully finessing West's king.

At this point, declarer knew his contract was safe. He could ruff a heart in his hand, lead a spade to the ace and trump dummy's last heart. Finally, he would exit with the spade queen West would win his king, but any return would give South his slam. A diamond lead away from the queen gives South three diamond tricks. A heart return allows declarer to ruff in his hand and discard one of dummy's diamonds.

However, South went down in his slam! Today's hand took place in a duplicate tournament and declarer greedily decided to play for an overtrick. At trick five South played a diamond from the table and hopefully finessed the jack. When the finesse lost, West returned a heart and South ruffed. When neither the 10 of diamonds nor the king of spades later dropped, South had converted 12 tricks into 11.

What declarer didn't consider is that six clubs is an excellent contract and many of the other pairs would fail to bid it. In fact, only three pairs out of 14 did.
