THANKS TO YOU

The Central Florida Experiment Station is now a reality — secured for Seminole County and Central Florida thru your efforts and donations of time and money.

Many who would have gladly contributed are not represented on this list because the drive for funds went over long before we got to everyone.

Central Florida's position in the Vegetable field will be helped for generations to come by this fine addition to our business. Future generations should be thankful for this foresight in our most important industry.

700 Ships Are Tied Up After Seamen Strike

Curran Says Over 11 Hundred Ships Will Be Affected Within Two Or Three Days

NEW YORK, June 16, (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwelbensch dispatched Assistant Secretary John W. Gibson here today to attempt to end a work stoppage of CIO seamen which the union estimated tied up 700 ships in United States ports in its first day.

Gibson, former head of the Michigan CIO, arranged to leave by plane for New York and said he expected to confer with both management and labor representatives tonight.

Federal Conciliators Fred Livingston and William N. Margolis, meanwhile, announced indefinite postponement of sessions with shipowners and representatives of the National Maritime Union, the American Communications Association and the East Coast Division of the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association.

Joseph Curran, NMU president, predicted that if union demands were not met by owners, 1,150 ships would be affected in a few days by the "no contract, no work" dispute in which four other CIO unions are involved.

Although Curran did not detail the ports and number of ships in each, he said 500 of the nearly 700 ships were in east coast ports. More than 2,000 ships would be affected, Curran claimed, if current negotiations between the union and tanker companies failed. Tankers are not affected by the present stoppage.

Although no pickets showed up at the work stoppage, Curran said that after the expiration of contracts at midnight yesterday.

A West Coast CIO maritime committee spokesman, however, said that similar to the East Coast pattern as announced, the West Coast unions which are locked out will have their members remain on the jobs.

Pledges of mutual support by five CIO Maritime Unions indicated that a solid front of 200,000 CIO maritime workers would be involved in the stoppage.

Tribunal Again Refuses Review Of Curley Case

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused for the second time to review the mail fraud conviction of Mayor James M. Curley of Boston.

The refusal apparently cleared the way for a renewal of Justice Department efforts to put the 72-year old mayor in jail to begin serving his sentence of six to eight months.

Curley, however, was reported ill in a Belmont, Mass. hospital. He was taken there last Friday suffering from what his physician described as hypertension induced by arterio-sclerosis.

The Boston executive has been a Democratic leader in Massachusetts for half a century. He is serving his fourth term as mayor. Previously he was governor of Massachusetts and served four terms as a U. S. representative.

The mail fraud charges resulted from war-time operations of Engineering Group, Inc., of this city. The government charged the firm realized about $60,000 by falsely representing that it was able to obtain war contracts. In addition to the sentence Curley was fined $1,000.

Landis Reports On Plane Crash Inquiry

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—Chairman Landis of the Civil Aeronautics Board said today that the Capital Airlines plane which crashed Friday night was descending through overcast in an effort to come into Washington "under the weather," an opinion given the pilot by always traffic control.

Landis told a news conference that procedure pending the accident which carried 10 persons to sudden death near the Virginia-West Virginia line was standard. It is "in the books" Landis added, through a recording device in the Washington airport control tower.

It is simply a hypothesis, the chief chairman said, that the pilot miscalculated his position, during a letdown from 7,000 feet.

Britain Seeks Red Participation In Marshall Aid To Europe Plan

LONDON, June 16, (AP)—Britain announced today she was seeking to enlist Russian participation in the Aid-to-Europe project advanced by secretary of State Marshall, but Moscow already appeared reluctant to cooperate in any continental-wide pump-priming effort financed in large part by U. S. dollars. The British overtures, a foreign office spokesman said, will be made through Sir Maurice Peterson, British ambassador in Moscow.

Caldwell Vetoes Nine More Acts Of Legislature

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 16, (AP)—Governor Caldwell today vetoed nine more acts of the 1947 legislature, including one which would have created a state board of watchmaker examiners. The acts would have become law without the governor's approval today, if he had not vetoed them.

The other measures vetoed would have:

- Established new regulations and requirements for registration of birth certificates; granted home-state rights to war veterans in Escambia and Palm Beach counties; exempted nine counties from certain provisions of the cattle fever tick eradication law; created the occupation of public bookkeepers; reduced the mileage tax of commercial trucks; excluded Okeechobee county from the Everglades drainage district and cancelled all oil and mineral reservations held by trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund on lands within the city of Okeechobee.

Vetoing the watchmaker board bill, the governor said "it is not believed the regulation would be advantageous to the public or to the profession, from the governmental standpoint, the act would merely add another regulatory board to the long list of boards and would give the citizenry another opportunity to proclaim that democratic principles are being frittered away by further regimentation."

The tick eradication measure would have allowed owners of horses and mules in nine counties to wash, sponge and spray their animals instead of dipping them. The governor said he was advised that dipping is more effective. (Continued on Page Three)

4 Witnesses Will Be Called At Papy Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 16, (AP)—State Attorney Orlan C. Parker, Jr., said today he plans to call only four witnesses at the bribery trial of former Rep. Bernie G. Papy of Key West on July 31.

Acting on orders of Circuit Judge W. May Walker, Parker furnished Papy's attorneys with the names of his witnesses and a bill of particulars setting forth the date, time and place in which Papy is charged with offering Bape Bralley Odiam of Sanford and Clarence H. Camp of Ocala cash bribes to vote against an anti-book bill.

Parker said he plans to call Odiam, Camp, Speaker Thomas D. Bessley and Mrs. Lamar Hodson, chief clerk of the House. He said, however, an investigation is continuing for additional witnesses.

ST. LOUIS, June 16, (AP)—Automobile traffic jams described by police as the worst in this city's history developed today as public service company and union chieftains met again in an attempt to end a streetcar and bus strike now in its fourth day. All days off for police were cancelled for the duration of the transportation emergency.

CHICAGO, June 16, (AP)—Backward seating of airplane passengers for increased safety and better views was advocated today by John B. Schwab, accommodation engineer of Trans-Canada Airlines.

In a prepared discussion of "passenger service requirements for North Atlantic operations" at the semi-annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Schwab anticipated backward seating in future aircraft and declared:

"This was the double advantage of affording passengers a better view and an added protection in the event of forced landing."

"With the spine and head supported throughout its length, the body can withstand terrific forces of deceleration," he said. "It is possible to bring a body from 200 miles per hour to a full stop in less than without injury when so seated."

Rotarians Told Good And Bad Points Of City

Four Sanford young men who have recently returned to Sanford from tours of duty in the armed services and studies at various educational centers today told Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon at the Tourist Center some of the good and bad things about Sanford and made suggestions for the improvement of their home town. The program was arranged by Dr. C. W. Baker.

Young Men Recently Returned Suggest Civic Improvement

Billy Hutchison, who left Sanford four years ago and spent several years in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and is now a student at the University of Florida, suggested that local business men get together and try to work out some plan of providing employment to college students during the summer months.

Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, today termed President Truman's veto of the tax bill "a political gamble with the jobs and pocketbooks of the American people at stake."

In a statement, Bunting, here to address two conventions, asserted that "everybody's stake in tax reduction is fairly and squarely across the board... has been whittled away, knocked to bits, and stacked up as kindling wood for next year's political bonfires."

Slight Pepper Damage Caused By Heavy Rains

Some damage to peppers is believed to have resulted from heavy rainfall, especially in the Samsula section, according to local shippers. Rainfall since June 5 has been 6.79 inches, according to H. F. Whitner, weatherman.

Normal rainfall for June is 7.48, and last year during June the total rainfall was 12.58 inches, an excess of 6.05 inches. In July, 1946, the rainfall was even heavier, 14.07 inches and the result was flooding in farm areas. Clearing of the Smith Canal by joint action of the Seminole County Farm Bureau and the County Commission, has proved a big help in this direction.

3 Jewish Terrorists Given Death Sentence

JERUSALEM, June 16, (AP)—A military court condemned three convicted Jewish terrorists to death as the United Nations Commission of Palestine opened its inquiry today amid an Arab general strike.

The Jews were accused of participating in the May 4 jail delivery which freed 251 prisoners from Acre prison and left 16 persons dead. Two other Jews tried with the condemned trio were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, underground organization which took responsibility for the prison break, was expected to appeal to the U. N. Commission in an effort to stay the sentences. Irgun repeatedly has threatened "blood for blood" retaliation against the British for death sentences against its members.

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—Federal Justice James M. Proctor refused today to bar Henry A. Wallace from speaking at the government-owned Watergate Amphitheater here tonight.

The judge rejected a petition from the American Anti-Communist Association, headed by Rep. O'Connell (R-Wis.), that he order Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug to deny Wallace use of the Watergate. Krug's department has jurisdiction over the Watergate, an outdoor theater in park lands near the Lincoln Memorial.

"These matters do not fall within the judicial realm," Justice Proctor commented in dismissing the petition.

O'Connell left the court building with a declaration to report that he would take the matter up in Congress.

"I am going to tell the membership of Congress that until our government takes a truly anti-Communist stand here at home, that we in Congress should refuse to appropriate any money to fight Communism abroad," he said.

Wallace, who is crusading against the Truman foreign policy, is expected to discuss his anti-peace and perhaps also clarify his position in the 1948 presidential campaign.

Tax Reduction Legislation Vetoed By Pres. Truman; G.O.P. Criticism Is Severe

Knutson Thinks Veto Is Part Of Discredited Spending Policy Of New Deal

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—Republican bigwigs in Congress and out hit back at President Truman's tax bill veto today with words leaving little doubt they expect it to be a 1948 presidential campaign issue. Reaction from the bill's backers was immediate and, for the most part, caustic.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), author of the measure and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, issued a statement saying "the President's suggestion that we wait for tax reduction until next year is nothing but cold-blooded politics." Knutson's obvious reference was to the fact that 1948 is a presidential election year.

He declared that by the veto the President demonstrated "a sad lack of understanding of the needs of our economy."

Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, said in a statement that "Mr. Truman has committed his administration to continued support of the tax and spend and spend, and elect and elect philosophy of the now discredited New Deal."

"That philosophy was repudiated by the American people last November, and I am confident it will be repudiated again and even more emphatically in 1948."

House Republican Leader Hallett (Ind) issued a statement declaring that Mr. Truman "has thwarted the will of the people, as expressed through their recently elected representatives in Congress."

"I hope," he went on, "that democratic President Truman does not continue to disregard the will of the people by resorting to the veto power on major legislation passed by a Republican Congress, and thus try to hamstring Congress by making it necessary to have two-thirds majorities for all measures unwanted by the New Deal masters of the Democratic party."

Rep. Anderson (R-Minn) suggested on the House floor today that the Republicans take the lead now in paying war veterans' terminal leave bonds with the funds resulting from continuance of wartime loans.

Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, today termed President Truman's veto of the tax bill "a political gamble with the jobs and pocketbooks of the American people at stake."

In a statement, Bunting, here to address two conventions, asserted that "everybody's stake in tax reduction is fairly and squarely across the board... has been whittled away, knocked to bits, and stacked up as kindling wood for next year's political bonfires."

Judge Refuses To Bar Wallace From Amphitheater Talk

Income Tax Bill Provisions

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—Here are the provisions of the Republican tax-cutting bill of which President Truman vetoed today:

1. Withholding against wages and salaries for tax purposes would be reduced July 1.
2. The tax cut on a yearly basis would be 30 per cent for persons with taxable income (after exemptions and deductions) of $1,000 or less. This would mean the 30 per cent cut would apply to single persons with total earnings before exemptions and deductions, up to $1,356; married persons $2,222; married couples with one child $2,777; married couples with two children, $3,323.
3. Persons with taxable income between $1,000 and $1,400 would get a flat 52 to 57 annual tax reduction or a 20 per cent cut of their tax bill, whichever was the larger.
4. The tax reduction would be 20 per cent for taxable incomes above $1,400 and up to $137,000; 15 per cent on taxable incomes from $137,000 to $302,000, and 10 per cent on any income above $302,000.
5. The measure would reduce the present ceiling of 85 per cent at which any income can be taxed, to 81 per cent in 1947 and 78.5 in 1948.
6. Persons over 65 years old would be given an extra annual exemption of $240, bringing their exemption to a total of $1,000.

Stassen Urges Rebuilding Of Ruhr By U.S.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., June 16, (AP)—Presidential aspirant Harold G. Stassen called on the United States today to rebuild the Ruhr "as a center of modern peoples' capitalism in Europe."

The former Republican governor from Minnesota, in a clear-cut statement of his economic policy, advocated redevelopment of the Ruhr "without socialization and without monopoly, with the workers sharing in the fruits of high production, with its owners and managers making a profit from high production."

In an address prepared for the Swarthmore College, Stassen also listed as "priority" aid for "the rapidly dwindling dollar credit of England, 'this sturdy old, our friend and our ally.'"

"There is currently more danger from mistakes and errors of American world economic policy than in any other major question in this country," said Stassen, adding that the questions of "peace and plenty and freedom" hang in the balance on our economic policies.

He urged bipartisan support of a program in which the United States, which he said produces more than one-fourth of the world's goods and services, should lead the way towards "economic freedom of man, developed to the high degree through modern capitalism."

Only once did Stassen refer to Russia, where he spoke with Premier Josef Stalin last winter. The reference came when he spoke of the Ruhr development.

"Action in the Ruhr," he said, (Continued on Page Three)

U. S. Paper Supplies Reach Record Low

NEW YORK, June 16, (AP)—The American Newspaper Association said today reporting daily newspapers had on hand and in transit at the end of May the lowest supply of newsprint on record.

The overall average of 23 days' supply at the end of May compared with 32 days at that 1946 date, 43 at the end of May, 1945, and 38 days in 1944.

Dallas reporting to ANPA used 302,994 tons of newsprint in May, an increase of 18.9 percent over 255,484 in May, 1946, and 16.2 percent over 220,837 in that 1944 month.

Total consumption of newsprint for all types of uses was estimated at 415,990 tons for May and 1,956,127 tons for the first five months of 1947. Reporting newspapers used 1,427,973 tons in the first five 1947 months, representing an increase of 18.9 percent over the 1946 period and 16.6 percent over those 1944 months.

No Chance Is Seen For Overriding Of Presidential Veto; Bill Said Unsound

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—President Truman told Congress in his tax veto message today that "despite many gloomy predictions, there is no convincing evidence that a recession is imminent." He made the statement in discussing arguments that a tax reduction now would add to consumer purchasing power and help maintain employment.

NEW YORK, June 16, (AP)—Wall Street absorbed the news of the tax bill veto without a noticeable shock today as the stock market resumed its recent recovery move.

WASHINGTON, June 16, (AP)—President Truman vetoed today the $400,000,000 tax reduction bill, virtually killing any possibility of a cut in income taxes this year.

The republican-dominated Congress will vote on whether to pass the bill over the veto, but backers of the legislation conceded they saw no chance for success. It requires a two-thirds vote to enact a law over the President's disapproval. Leaders said that can be mustered in the House, which will vote tomorrow, but not in the Senate.

In a message to Congress, Mr. Truman said the bill "offers dubious, ill-considered, and risky benefits at the expense of a sound tax policy and is, from the standpoint of government finances, unsound."

"The President declared it offers 'the wrong kind of tax reduction, at the wrong time,' he added: 'Proposals for tax reduction must be examined in the light of sound and carefully related fiscal and economic policies. Unless they are consistent with the demands of such policies, they should not be approved.'"

It was the second time in history that a President has vetoed a tax bill—and the first time one providing a tax cut has been (Continued on Page Three)

Flood May Reach 40 Year Record Peak In Missouri

KANSAS CITY, June 16, (AP)—The latest flood threat on the Missouri River was centered today at St. Joseph where the "Big Muddy" reached a stage of 20.3 feet the highest water at that point since 1908.

Harry Aldrich, chief forecaster of the U. S. Weather Bureau here, said the river had a long flat crest from St. Joseph to Rulo, Neb., where the river has been almost stationary for the past 36 hours. The Rulo reading at 9 A. M. was 20.6 feet. Aldrich said A. M. was advising St. Joseph to prepare for a crest of 20.5 feet.

The U. S. Army Engineers said they had received no early reports from St. Joseph, except that water was seeping through the levee protecting Rosecrans Air Field and was moving in on the road connecting the field with the city.

Work of Edward Marshall, Junior High School instructor in his capacity as senior councillor, was highly praised by Legion officials, said Mr. Mann. Aky assisting him was Simon Dingfelder and Francis Wilson. The Sanford group will be the guests of the Elks Club Thursday evening.

At Ottumwa, 30 miles upstream from here, the industrial city's 32,000 residents rode out the brunt of the flood yesterday without panic and with no reported loss of life.

At Cedar Rapids in eastern Iowa, meanwhile, the Cedar River crested at 18.25 feet, highest since 1933, but did no major damage.

Locations Announced For Military, National Cemeteries Overseas

ATLANTA, June 16 (Special)—Locations of 14 permanent American Military Cemeteries and four National Cemeteries, which the War Department plans to establish as final resting places overseas for members of the Armed Forces who died during the war outside the continental limits of the United States if next of kin request burial to be made overseas, was announced today in a War Department dispatch to the Atlanta General Depot. The locations were agreed to jointly by the Quartermaster General and the American Battle Monuments Commission.

Temporary U. S. Military Cemeteries held out during World War II but which will become permanent cemeteries are, U. S. Military at Cambridge, England 50 miles from London, U. S. Military Cemetery at Margraten Holland ten miles west of Aachen Germany, U. S. Military Cemetery at Hamm Luxembourg two and a half miles east of the City of Luxembourg, U. S. Military Cemetery at Henri Chapelle Belgium 15 miles northeast of Liege, U. S. Military Cemetery at Neuville-Vireux-Cordez France nine miles southwest of Liege, U. S. Military Cemetery at St. Laurent France 20 miles northeast of St. Lo, U. S. Military Cemetery at St. James France 35 miles northeast of Rennes, U. S. Military Cemetery at Epinal France two and a half miles south of Epinal, U. S. Military Cemetery at St. Avold France 23 miles east of Metz, U. S. Military Cemetery at Draguignan France 27 miles west of Cannes, U. S. Military Cemetery at Nettuno Italy 32 miles south of Rome, U. S. Armed Forces Cemetery at Manila Philippine Islands.

In addition, Florence Italy and Tunisia will be cemetery locations although the exact sites are not yet chosen by the Quartermaster General and the American Battle Monuments Commission.

The four National Cemeteries are to be established under the plans at Honolulu Hawaiian Islands, Guam in the Marianas, San Juan Puerto Rico and Juneau Alaska. These National Cemeteries will provide final resting places for any armed forces personnel or honorably discharged veterans who may wish to be buried in Hawaii, Guam, Puerto Rico or Alaska in addition to those who died during World War II. American dead of World War II rest today in more than 150 temporary United States Military Cemeteries overseas. Next of kin of the deceased are now being asked by the War Department to state where they desire their loved ones buried. Options open to the next of kin provide for burial of the individual deceased member of the armed forces in a private cemetery in the United States, in a National Cemetery in the United States, in a permanent American Military Cemetery overseas or in a cemetery in a foreign country which is the homeland of the deceased or of next of kin.

Action by Congress will be required before the permanent military cemeteries or the new National cemeteries may be established they will be cared for by the American Battle Monuments Commission. The Office of the Quartermaster General has supervision only over all National Cemeteries in the United States and abroad.

Land for the new cemeteries may be purchased if Congress so directs, or may be acquired by outright gift from the country concerned.

Following World War I, eight permanent American Military Cemeteries were established in France, Belgium and England. A total of 50,507 World War I dead rest in these cemeteries.

Engineers State No Radical Changes Are Forthcoming In Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

French Lick, Ind., June 16 (AP)—Post-war automobile designing began where it left off at the time of Pearl Harbor and having gained virtually nothing from the automobile industry's experience, cannot present anything radically different in early forthcoming models.

That's the way the car designers here for the midsummer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) sum up the new model prospects. They do not think that changes will be little more than those that would evolve from one model year to another in normal times.

The SAE closed its five-day session here recently with technical discussions of diesel engine developments, aircraft power plants and unusual types of engines.

One somewhat unorthodox combining of the diesel type, combining the fuel injection method of the diesel with the traditional spark ignition of the gasoline unit, was described to the engineers by Allan M. Starr, of Piedmont, Calif. He said it operated economically on a wide variety of fuels and propelled a 3,400-pound vehicle 35 to 45 miles on one gallon of fuel at a speed of 40 miles an hour.

Starr described his engine as having the flexibility of a gasoline power plant and the economy of a diesel.

The automotive industry's war production tasks, according to several of the engineers, taught a number of lessons in the efficient handling of materials but left little in the way of new devices or new principles engineering that could be successfully adapted to peacetime motorcar construction.

The industry, they declared, has found little or no peacetime passenger car use for magnesium and looks for relatively few new uses for aluminum or cast iron pistons of course, will go indefinitely, but wider use of the lighter material cannot be called a new adoption insofar as pistons are concerned.

TEN ESSENTIALS FOR PROFITABLE FARMING ARE OUTLINED HERE

The pillars of profitable farming are pretty well known by good farmers and by those who study farming. The following 10 points deserve careful consideration all the time, and will be especially helpful during times when prices for farm products may not be as high as they have been during recent years.

1. High yields: High yields per acre and large production per animal always bring the most profits.
2. Production of food and feed: Food for its people and feed for its animals should be the first aim of any farm program, no matter what the kind of farm.
3. Distribution of labor: Productive work for as many days as possible in each week and each month will bring best results.
4. Distribution of income: Cash sales throughout the year give an assured income. Diversification will help to give better distribution of both labor and income.
5. Fruit use: Fruit use economically on a wide variety of crops is a sure way to increase the maximum productive use of every acre of land on the farm should be the goal.
6. Adequate capital: Farm operations should be planned to develop fully and most efficiently the system of farming land resources.
7. Economy of operation: The highest possible returns per dollar of expense should be sought.
8. Wise buying and selling: Farm operations should be planned to provide for economy in purchases and maximum prices in sales. Adequate capital often will aid in this.
9. Adequate reserve: Emergencies are apt to arise at any time. An adequate reserve to meet emergencies is very desirable.
10. Records: A current record of all financial transactions and other important developments in the operation of the farm should be kept.

Effective Treatment Found For Type Of Infantile Paralysis

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 16, (AP)—Discovery of several treatments for the most fatal kind of infantile paralysis, that both save lives and get the children well with very little crippling, was reported to the American Medical Association recently by Dr. A. B. Baker, of Minneapolis.

This former death-dealer is bulbar infantile paralysis, so named because its seat of destruction is in a bulb of gray matter, the size of a walnut, at the top of the spinal cord. This gray walnut is part of the brain.

The discovery was made in the infantile paralysis epidemic in Minnesota last summer. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis contributed $1,000,000 March of Dimes money for this piece of medical work.

The bulbar type in the past killed 80 percent of its victims. This was reduced to 30 percent in Minneapolis, despite the fact that the remedies were discovered during the outbreak, before some of the children could be treated with them.

Autopsies gave the clues. They revealed that instead of being one type of infantile paralysis as thought previously, the bulbar kind is five different types.

In one type children choked to death. Autopsies showed this was because bulbar nerves that control swallowing had stopped their work temporarily. Secretions that naturally gather in the throat were doing the choking because the children could not swallow. The treatment for this was inserting temporarily a tube in the wind-

Inquiry Asked Into U.S. Redeeming Red Printed Nazi Money

By EDWIN HAAKINSMIN

Three Republican senators, asserting they had been unable to get the full facts elsewhere, demanded a senate investigation into reports that millions of U. S. dollars may have to be used to redeem Russian-printed German invasion currency.

Each of the three, Senators Bridges (NH), Ferguson (Mich) and Knowland (Calif.), told a reporter in separate interviews that he had been unable to learn from either the War Department or Treasury how much American money is or will be involved.

All three said they had learned that the plans, from which the invasion money was printed, were given to Russian authorities by U. S. Officials.

Senator Knowland made public today a letter from Secretary of War Patterson indicating that German banks in the American and British zones held some $20,000,000 worth of 1,000-mark notes.

Knowland, a member of the Senate's special War Investigating Committee, said that 1,000-mark notes were not issued by the Americans or British forces and so "these must have reached American and British zones from Russia."

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said "reports reaching me are that from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 of United States funds have been or will be used to redeem this the month."

Locations Announced For Military, National Cemeteries Overseas

ATLANTA, June 16 (Special)—Locations of 14 permanent American Military Cemeteries and four National Cemeteries which the War Department plans to establish as final resting places overseas for members of the Armed Forces who died during the war outside the continental limits of the United States if next of kin request burial to be made overseas, was announced today in a War Department dispatch to the Atlanta General Depot. The locations were agreed to jointly by the Quartermaster General and the American Battle Monuments Commission.

Temporary U. S. Military Cemeteries laid out during World War II but which will become permanent cemeteries are: U. S. Military at Cambridge, England 50 miles from London; U. S. Military Cemetery at Margraten Holland ten miles west of Aachen; Germany, U. S. Military Cemetery at Hamm Luxembourg two and a half miles east of the City of Luxembourg; U. S. Military Cemetery at Henri Chapelle Belgium 18 miles northeast of Liege; U. S. Military Cemetery at Neuville-En-Corder France nine miles southwest of Liege; U. S. Military Cemetery at St. Laurent France 20 miles northeast of St. Lo; U. S. Military Cemetery at St. James France 83 miles northeast of Rennes; U. S. Military Cemetery at Spinal France two and a half miles south of Epinal; U. S. Military Cemetery at St. Avold France 23 miles east of Metz; U. S. Military Cemetery at Dranguignan France 27 miles west of Cannes; U. S. Military Cemetery at Nettuno Italy 32 miles south of Rome; U. S. Armed Forces Cemetery at Manila Philippines Islands; U. S. Armed Forces Cemetery at Manila Philippines Islands. In addition, Florence Italy and Tunis Tunisia will be cemetery locations although the exact sites are not yet chosen by the Quartermaster General and the American Battle Monuments Commission.

The four National Cemeteries are to be established under the plans at Honolulu Hawaii; Guam; San Juan Ponce Rico and Hawaii Alaska. These National Cemeteries will provide final resting places for any armed forces personnel or honorably discharged veterans who may wish to be buried in Hawaii, Guam, Ponce Rico or Alaska in addition to those who died during World War II. American dead of World War II rest today in more than 150 temporary United States Military Cemeteries overseas. Engineers State No Radical Changes Are Forthcoming In Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE Associated Press Automotive Editor

French Lick, Ind., June 16 (AP)—Post-war automobile designing began when it left off at the time of Pearl Harbor and having gained virtually nothing from the automobile industry's experience, cannot present anything radically different in early forthcoming models.

That's the way the car designers here told a summer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) today. They said that changes will be little more than those that would evolve from one model year to another in normal times.

The SAE closed its five-day session here recently with technical discussions of diesel engine developments, aircraft power plants and unusual types of engines.

One somewhat unorthodox engine of the diesel type, combining the fuel injection method of the diesel with the traditional spark ignition of the gasoline unit, was described to the engineers by Allan H. Starr of Piedmont, Calif. He said it operated economically on a wide variety of fuels and propelled a 3,400-pound vehicle 35 to 45 miles on one gallon of fuel at a speed of 40 miles an hour.

Starr described his engine as having the flexibility of a gasoline power plant and the economy of a diesel.

The automotive industry's war production tasks, according to several of the engineers, taught a number of lessons in the efficient handling of materials but left little in the way of new devices or new principles engineering—that could be successfully adopted to peacetime motorcar construction.

The industry, they declared, has found little or no peacetime passenger car use for magnesium and looks for relatively few new uses for aluminum or cast iron pistons of course, will go indefinitely, but wider use of the lighter material cannot be called a new adoption insofar as pistons are concerned.

TEN ESSENTIALS FOR PROFITABLE FARMING ARE OUTLINED

The pillars of profitable farming are pretty well known by farmers and by those who farm. The following 10 deserve careful consideration the time, and will be helpful during times when farm products may not be high as they have been during the war.

1. High yields. High yield and large production per acre always bring the most profit.
2. Production of food and fiber for its people and for its animals should be the first aim of any farm program, no matter what the kind of farm.
3. Distribution of labor. Productive work for as many as possible in each week and month will bring best results.
4. Distribution of income. Income should be distributed throughout the year.
5. Adequate capital. Farm assets should be planned to top fully and most efficient system of farming follows.
6. Economy of operation. Highest possible return per dollar of expense should be sought.
7. Wise buying and selling. Farm operations should be planned to provide for economic purchases and maximum profit sales. Adequate capital off hand is vital.
8. Adequate reserves. Reserves are apt to arise in emergencies in very detailed records. A current of all financial transactions other important developments the operation of the farm be kept.
9. Adequate insurance. Insurance is apt to arise in emergencies in very detailed records. A current of all financial transactions other important developments the operation of the farm be kept.
10. Records. A current of all financial transactions other important developments the operation of the farm be kept.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IF WE ARE LOOKING ONLY A FEW SCORE OF YEARS AHEAD AT MOST WE MISS THE VAST PANORAMA OF ETERNITY. THERE IS WHERE OUR FUTURE LIES. CONSIDER THAT IN YOUR PROGRAM: And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.—1 John 2:24-25.

Russia Sends Regrets for Killing of Swede—headline. Yes, so toly; please.

We see where they are going to build a huge newspaper mill up in Alabama. But we are afraid that won't help us next week. It will be two years before it gets into production.

Senator Vandenberg wants to see how much money we've got in the bank before committing ourselves to any more aid to Europe. That is the difference between a Republican and a Democrat. Now, a Democrat wouldn't care.

Ben Cohen, a State Department counselor, reveals that it will probably only cost 15 or 20 billion dollars to feed Europe during the next three or four years, which is about what we figured when the Greco-Turkish aid bill was passed. But what we'd like to know is how much it is going to cost after the three or four years is over.

We have no objection to bringing in several hundred thousands of these European Displaced Persons to live among us as our next door neighbors, but we don't think they ought to be brought over until they have a place to stay. And incidentally, we think the Federal Housing Expediter, the one who has been expediting veterans housing; ought to be the one to locate them their apartments.

Much as we disagree with everything that Henry Wallace has been saying of late, we don't think he should be barred from Washington's Watergate Amphitheater tonight. Every time he makes a speech he helps to solidify the opposition to Communism in this country and he serves to convince those who believe in democracy that freedom is something which has to be worked for if it is to be preserved. By all means, let him talk.

The extent to which some left wing so-called "liberal" groups will go in appealing to prejudice when trying to serve their own selfish interests is shown by a letter received by us today from "The Committee for the Preservation of Southern Traditions." It asks us to wire our senators and representatives to uphold a possible veto of the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill on the grounds, mind you, that it contains an amendment which would abolish segregation of white and colored employees throughout the South.

What a bad example will be shown by the action of the Boys State legislature voting huge appropriations while defeating all tax bills. They probably got the idea from our State Legislature. But then, the State Legislature was simply following the example of the U. S. Congress which for 12 years has been spending money it didn't have. But the difference is that the federal government can and did borrow huge sums of money, but the State of Florida is prohibited by its own Constitution from going into debt.

Unhappy Coincidences

In Washington, officials are now admitting freely that they look upon the Communist Coup in Hungary as part of a wider drive by the Soviets to consolidate their hold over all Eastern Europe. Perhaps these excerpts from one day or so's foreign news dispatches show most clearly why they think that.

One Budapest factory group is reported to have listened attentively while the Hungarian premier, a Communist and virtual dictator of his country, boasted "that everything was put over perfectly before the United States could rub its eyes, a task that was carried out by the brave and iron-fisted Communist party."

Nikola Petkov, leader of the Agrarian opposition to Bulgaria's Communist-dominated government, was arrested in Sofia. He is quoted as saying that what was happening to him was merely a prolongation of events in Hungary.

In Athens, Constantine Tsaldaris, Greek government leader, announced discovery that an international brigade is being formed by the Communists in Yugoslavia. The intent is, he declared, to clear a Soviet path to the Aegean through Greek Thrace, to the Mediterranean through Turkey and the Dardanelles, and to the Adriatic through Albania. He feared a Third World War.

All of these dispatches appeared in the American press within a few days of the third anniversary of the Allied landing in Normandy, first step in freeing Europe from the Nazis. In spite of the 99,000 white crosses which mark American graves there, and the millions of similar crosses over men of all aggression-hating countries throughout Europe, that aggression still thrives in another form.

Out-Verning Verne

In 1873 the French author, Jules Verne, published his book, "Around the World in Eighty Days," and the public read its absurd extravagances with delight. In 1947, between June 17 and July 1, a group of this nation's leading newspaper editors and publishers will undertake a globe-girdling stunt that makes poor Jules Verne look mild indeed.

The newspapermen's 18-day jaunt is to be made in a sleeper plane, one of Pan American World Airways' new Gold Plate Constellations. It will begin at New York and end in San Francisco after stops in Ireland, England, Turkey, India, China, Japan, Guam, Wake, the Philippines and Hawaii. Pan American's president, who bears the appropriate name of Lippe, will accompany the distinguished gentlemen of the press on this flight to celebrate the launching of the first world-circling service in the history of commercial aviation.

It will be interesting to read the dispatches sent back by these men. One wonders whether even their astute minds will be able to digest the quick-moving kaleidoscope of impressions to which they will be subjected as they visit in such rapid succession so many divergent national scenes.

And maybe the ghost of Jules Verne will help them in their task.

New Electoral Plan

How should the president be elected? A House subcommittee is considering a constitutional amendment by which the electoral vote of each state would be divided in proportion to the popular vote, instead of going solidly to the winner. This system would in 1944 have given Roosevelt 14 votes from California to Dewey's 11, and 12 votes in Ohio to Dewey's 14. The present method gave Roosevelt all California's 25 votes; and Dewey all of Ohio's 28.

There is a good deal to recommend the change. The minority in a hopelessly one-party state would have an incentive to come out and vote. By making a strong showing the Democrats could pick up an electoral vote or two in Maine, and the Republicans in Alabama. The net result would correspond more closely to the popular will. Outlawed would be outcomes like that in 1888, when Cleveland polled 100,000 more popular votes than Harrison, but Harrison got an electoral majority and the presidency.

Also it would break up the practice of choosing candidates only from large doubtful states, such as New York and Ohio. A good man, capable of getting enough votes throughout the country, would then be a wise choice even if he failed to carry New York.

Aid To Europe Plan

(Marshall made no mention of Hungary in his June 5 speech at Cambridge, Mass., in which he set forth the Aid-to-Europe program.)

Leontiev also saw in Marshall's proposals an effort "to convince the American people that 'dollar expansion' is dictated by a desire to prevent an approaching economic crisis in the United States."

"The granting of American loans to independent European nations," the combatant declared, "has not justified itself, in the view of Marshall. Therefore he recommends that the European debtors of America create some sort of system of collective responsibility for these European debtors of Wall Street."

"Europe is being told to initiate for itself a united, universal program of economic restoration, and the United States' role will be that of supporting this program. In other words, the program must be submitted to the Americans."

Leontiev summed up his remarks by declaring:

"The real meaning of Marshall's resolutions," his public approval of the idea for a United States of Europe all indicates that the former political meaning of American policy has to be presented to the American people in an unembellished form."

He asked if the "necessity of containing" the country to the policies of the administration was not "what is really behind the stream of anti-Soviet slander and the bailing of democratic states in Eastern Europe which has been organized recently in the U. S. A."

In another article published in Pravda under the heading "British Hypocrisy and Hungarian Affairs," Leontiev rapped "the British government for interfering itself in the situation in Hungary."

"We do not dispute the fact," he said, "that British state leaders have obtained sufficient experience in interfering in internal affairs of other countries."

Service Men Attend Vocational School

Service men made up nearly one-third of the enrollment of the Sanford Vocational School during the past term it was announced today by Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, principal.

Total enrollment was 101 and of these 31 were service men and one a service woman. Thirteen service men received diplomas at Seminole High School. Two women and one man, who received vocational school training, also got diplomas at the High School. Forty-five men and 56 women attended the school.

In commercial subjects 12 men and 13 women were awarded certificates. All men receiving certificates were ex-service men. Forty-four students secured jobs as a result of their training of which 23 were permanent and 16 temporary.

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—If President Truman vetoes the rent control bill which Congress expects to send him this week there probably will be no federal ceilings at all after June 30, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today.

Sparkman is the ranking Senate Democrat on the House Senate conference committee which reached final accord last week on legislation to extend rent controls through next Feb. 29. The committee compromise was listed tentatively for House action today.

It is also known that tendencies toward such interference did not disappear after the end of the second World War.

"However, we cannot fail to wonder at the boldness exhibited in efforts to ascribe to the Soviet Union this British longing for interference in the affairs of other nations."

Wilson Stresses Opportunities In Livestock Industry

JACKSONVILLE, June 16 (Special)—"Continued high prices for meat products, and particularly for beef and pork, should center attention, more and more, on one of the greatest long-term opportunities facing Florida," said William L. Wilson, Director of the State Markets today. "Our chances in beef cattle production during recent years have been amazing, but there are still wide open opportunities for expansion along this line."

"I feel we may safely assume that today's prices will not continue for any lengthy period, yet it is also true that we can't see right now just how long they will be paid. However, when a decline does come, I feel sure that our Florida producers will be able to put livestock on the market at a profit fairly comparable with producers in other states which supply the bulk of the nation's meat supply. This would mean, therefore, that producers appear assured of prices somewhat in line with those now being paid for a considerable period in the immediate future, and a good permanent demand for their cattle and hogs."

"Florida's excellent grazing lands have supported substantial numbers of cattle through most of the State's history. In recent years, however, we have improved our production facilities in many areas by the planting of improved pasture grasses, and introduction of more and more purebred stock. The feeding-out of livestock is also on the increase and I believe holds tremendous possibilities for adding to the profits of the producers."

"Commissioner Nathan Mayo of Florida's Department of Agriculture has long taken a very active interest in the State's livestock industry. Our State Markets system operates a number of auctions, handling cattle, hogs and other animals. We now have plans actively under way for the early development of a half-dozen showplaces for purebred cattle. These exhibition centers are expected to spur interest in the production of better animals."

"Sales on the Jay State Livestock Market last week totaled $7,497.50, the one-day auction handling 82 cattle and 150 hogs. The Arcadia State Livestock Market's sale ran up a total of $22,568.09, for the 557 cattle and 28 hogs which were sold."

Curran also made public a telegram from the AFL Seafarer's International union pledging "complete support" of the CIO seamen and promising that AFL men would refuse to work on ships that might be allocated by operators of struck lines to those not affected.

The stoppage resulted from demands by the NMU and the AGA for wage boosts of 20 and 15 percent respectively, plus other contract improvements and suspension of the expired contract. By the marine cooks, the Maba and longshoremen on the West Coast have agreed on contract extensions but promised to follow the lead of the others in the event of a "lockout."

Rotary Meet

(Continued from Page One) where mere monetary gain would not be the principal objective but rather the training and practical experience needed to give full meaning to their educational studies.

Billy Crumley, another student at the State University, commended the many recent improvements which have been made in Sanford listing the radio station, the bus station, and active Jayco organization and much new construction, and suggested that steps should be taken to clean up the waterfront, have more boat races and encourage new industries. Agriculture, he added, is the backbone of this community, but he insisted that other industries should be developed here and more recreational facilities provided.

Billy Brumley, who served two and one-half years in the Pacific in a PT boat squadron, said the first thing he noticed upon his return to Sanford was the large amount of new construction going on. He commended the new hospital, and pointed out the large amount of the new and up-to-date equipment which it has. He also mentioned the new radio station and said that while he was away he was proud to tell people he was from Sanford and that whenever he said "Sanford, the Celery City," they knew what he was talking about.

Herman Brumley, new city recreational director, discussed the work which is being done here in providing recreation for young boys and girls, and said that the job which has been given him this summer is a great help to him in his studies at Rollins since he is majoring in physical education. He urged the construction of a municipal swimming pool and said that with more recreational facilities Sanford would grow and the people here would have more fun.

Headaches Are Serious

By W. V. BITTING

Touchton Drug Co.

A headache may derive from any one of 20 or more serious causes. Only a physician can correctly diagnose and prescribe the cure.

A headache is a pain and a pain is always a symptom of something. A sedative may alleviate it, but the underlying cause is still there and may progress unless the trouble is corrected.

Your doctor cannot remove the reason why you suffer from headaches. He will seek to relieve the pain, thus relieving you from recurrent attacks and from the threat of a progressive malady.

Follow this advice, exactly. Procure the most expertly compounded medication possible.

GRAVES TO SPEAK
GAINESVILLE, June 16 (Special)—John Temple Graves II, prominent Southern editor, author, columnist and lecturer, will speak at the University of Florida on June 18, under the auspices of the College of Arts and Sciences Lecture Series and in cooperation with the Summer School Lecture Committee. The address, scheduled for 8 P. M. in the University Auditorium, will be "Gone With the Bomb."

He has been extended a year or more except for previous and unavoidable Hollywood commitments. The play has been revised for stock and amateur presentation, which means every provincial Duse will be having a chance at one of the toughest roles of the decades.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 28 (AP)—Some artists may sneer at the movie, but there is at least one Hollywood hob. He is pianist Arthur Rubinstein, who says films are now an art. "After all," he said, "I am not to be fed and listened to with a spoon, but I can only give work with art. If I could not do it, I am not an industrialist."
Rubinstein is currently doing his first acting chore for the movies in "Memory of Love." It is his fourth film chore. However, twice before, his heavy work has been featured on sound tracks and he was photographed at the piano in film.
"Ah, but I am an actor now," he laughed. He demonstrated with a tone which he had to deliver to Lana, Apollonia, in various scenes. "I gave it various deliveries. All last night I practiced this line with different intonations," he said. "I guess I'm not as good an actor as I used to be. I'm a pianist, I am jealous of him."

Hollywood sights and sounds... Spencer Tracy, who doesn't get out much but likes his baseball, took from his regular box at the Hollywood Ball Park... Doug Fairbanks, Jr., battling eight men in "The Exile" and wondering if he would prefer drawing-room comedies... New Yorker Edmund O'Brien learning to ride a horse on the U. S. track for a western.

The dress extra parading into RKO at 9:00 A. M., attired in their tuxans and formal... Sue Donagan, the South's Cotton Queen, thrilled at meeting Frank Sinatra... Angela Lansbury telling about a marriage proposal from an Alaskan fur trader... the long, grey line of bicycles parked in multiple racks, denoting the current inactivity on the lots... conductor Eugene Ormandy, here for a movie week, eating alone in the RKO commissary... Alan Ladd, appearing on the set of his present Western, "Whispering Smith," in street clothes, and Bob Preston shrieking in a high voice: "Oh, lookie, Al, Ladd in civvies!"

Mr. Tully being in opposition to the Nazis when the Germans invaded Hungary was condemned to die. He went into hiding. Mrs. Tully was allowed to go free in the hope that her husband might be found. One of her two sons was arrested and badly mistreated by the Nazis.

Legion Auxiliary To Have Supper Tuesday

The monthly covered dish supper of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held on Tuesday night at the Legion Hut. It was announced today by Mrs. Seth Woodruff, vice president.
She also announced that during the past year over $550 had been donated to local benefits and almost that much for outside benefits. She declared that during the year the auxiliary had supplied gifts to Pratt General Hospital as well as to Ray Pines.

Meeting Of Balkan Pro-Red Army Chiefs Felt Greek Threat

B. J. M. ROBERTS, JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst:
The gathering of Russian, Czech, Rumanian, Bulgarian and Yugoslav military leaders in Belgrade means lightning in the skies over Greece.
Whether it is merely heat lighting, generated by the war of nerves, or whether it will bring the thunder of a real storm, remains to be seen.
But regardless of how we may rationalize it, the nature and rapidity of Balkan developments leads inexorably to speculation whether world observers could be wrong in estimating how far Russian military adventurism which contains a threat of war.

If we accept the theory that Russia is merely exploiting her postwar position but is in no position to take real chances, then we will look merely for a tightening of Balkan cooperation, perhaps a federation. This would result in increased long-term pressure on Greece but more as a part of the general situation in Europe than a direct and immediate threat.
Just what, if the Communists should attempt a decisive move before the report of the Balkan investigating commission comes before the U. S. SENATE COMMITTEE?
Lack of mention of Albania in connection with the Belgrade conferences, less no particular mention, although her claims against Greece constitute one of the pivotal points in the dispute. Albania has little of even the national autonomy which the Communists have chosen to meet their other Balkan holdings, and will respond immediately to any orders from Tito.

Regular military supply lines for the Greek guerrillas have been set up in Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Albania (which surround Greece except for the sea and her flight border with Turkey). Regular training camps are in operation from which reinforcements are sent to the front. Regular field hospitals just inside the Communist countries care for guerrillas who would be brought back from Greek battlefields. In other words, the guerrilla bands in Greece, although they may contain many real patriots, actually constitute a Communist expeditionary force.
Russia, then, is going to be terribly embarrassed before the security council. She will try to keep the fight to her discretion. But indications are that she will be backed into a corner where she will either have to call off her dogs or defy the U. S. with a veto of the Balkan pact, calling for a commission to keep watch over the area.

This pact, in its own right, is the same position she was in over Iran. The chances are that the result will be similar. But we cannot help thinking what might happen, with America's money and Britain's aid, in Greece, if the Belgrade conference should decree one that threw of the dice before the U. S. case comes up, if those supply lines from the Russian sphere began to pour eastward augmented forces into the guerrilla war.

CARRIER BOYS Sanford Herald

What they are concerned about are these questions: 1. The long-range U. S. Policy toward Argentina. 2. The fundamental American policy toward all the Latin American countries.

Both tie in together because they seem to be recurrent. Oversimplified, the problem is: Shall the United States under the Good Neighbor Policy treat all the Latin American neighbors like or firm with those it considers to be bad neighbors?

Some Americans, meanwhile, are becoming strongly friendly but grand-offish type of policy toward Argentina. The advantage of this, they argue, is that the U. S. then can step in whenever it figures Argentina is moving against American interests in South America.
