BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

ALL WHO BELIEVE ARE SONS OF ABRAHAM: And Jesus said unto them, This day salvation came to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham. Luke 19:9.

VICTORY

You that have faith to look with fearless eyes
Beyond the tragedy of a world
And know that out of death and night
The dawn of a new life
Rejoice, whatever anguish rend
The heart,
That God has given you the priceless dove
To live in these great times and have your part
In Freedom's crowning hour,
That go may fall your sons who see the light
High in the heavens — their heritage to take
I saw the powers of darkness
Lave their might
I saw the morning break.

Death Rates Increase

One of the ironies of the European War, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company point out, is the fact that the conquest of Poland and the consequent heavy mortality among the Polish people came at a time when that nation was enjoying the lowest death rate in at least a decade.

In fact, over a period of 10 years practically all of the nations of Europe, the United States, and the British dominions have been experiencing a continuous improvement in mortality. But the outbreak of war, the Metropolitan says, has brought a very real threat of higher mortality, not only in the belligerent countries but possibly for the world.

Of the 27 countries included in the 10-year study, Poland was one of eight nations which experienced record low death rates in 1938, the others being the United States, Bulgaria, Denmark, Lithuania, Northern Ireland, Portugal, and Scotland. Only three countries—Australia, Germany, and New Zealand—showed an upward mortality trend, attributable in some part, according to statistics, to aging populations in these countries.

"It is a sad reflection," the Metropolitan says, "that a break must now be expected in some of the hitherto favorable trends of international death rates. Unfortunately, added to the direct harvest of death on the battlefield, there is, in every war, additional heavy toll from diseases associated with the hardships to which both the military and civil population are exposed.

"Making allowance for the great advances of modern medicine, deaths from disease will inevitably run very high among the armed forces during any war, and will, furthermore, be seriously increased among the civilian population, living and working under handicaps imposed by a state of war.

"All in all, it is a foregone conclusion that the excellent record of diminishing death rates that has characterized the last few decades will suffer a serious setback in the warring countries during the current and impending struggle, even if we are spared so devastating a visitation as the influenza pandemic of 1918-1919."

When Professor Rudolf Virchow, famous German scientist, criticized Bismarck severely in his capacity as chancellor, Bismarck challenged him to a duel. "Well, well, well," said the scientist to the Iron Chancellor's seconds, "as I am the challenged party, I suppose I have the choice of weapons. Here they are." And he held up two large sausages which looked exactly alike.

"One of these," he continued, "is infected with the deadly germs of trichinosis; the other is perfectly sound. Let His Excellency do me the honor to choose whichever he wishes, and eat it. I will eat the other."

Within an hour the Iron Chancellor had decided to laugh the duel off.—Everybody's Weekly.

HAIL AND PARRELL
A Fort Lauderdale hotel manager on a fishing trip off the Florida coast is quoted in the Miami Daily News as encountering a German submarine and being hailed by its commanding officer. The hotel manager's drink with a philosopher, he said, but promptly left for home. Sanford Herald. Sounds like another East Coast fish story. Bill Parrey says he's fishing in the Gulf Stream a few miles off Miami last Sunday. I was about ready to start back, having drunk up all my bait, when suddenly two pink submarines appeared in the distance on my starboard beam. Their lights were on and they were looking at me and I was in a bit of a fix. I was about to start back when I saw a third submarine on my starboard beam. I was in a bit of a fix. I was about to start back when I saw a third submarine on my starboard beam. I was in a bit of a fix.

Falling Hair

Has your hair begun to fall out? Well, if it has you need not reconcile yourself to the inevitability of baldness if you are willing to devote the time and trouble to restoring a luxuriant crop atop your scalp.

At least that is what Sylvia Myrtle says about it in the New York Herald Tribune. She says that many a man with a type of baldness known by specialists as alopecia areata has seen his hair restored after it has fallen out in great bunches at a time. Dandruff is one of the main causes of baldness and should be regarded seriously and treated continuously until cured. A good hot oil rub at night with a good soap and water shampoo the next morning will work wonders on even the most stubborn case.

"Take care of your son's hair," says Sylvia, "as well as you take care of little sister's. The reason so many more men suffer from baldness than women is because women take care of their hair and men from boyhood do not. Many a man makes his first acquaintance with a hair brush when his mother uses it for a paddle, and his second only the night before he goes out on his first date."

"Where there is a tendency toward baldness," Sylvia writes, "the modern trend in dermatology is opposed to brushing the hair. It is considered a harmful drug on the weakened hair. But too much cannot be said in favor of at least a few minutes of massage daily, if it is intelligently applied. The method favored is a rotary movement, under the hair, of the balls of the fingers. Move them inch by inch over the entire scalp, especially the crown. But be sure the scalp is rinsed, not just the fingers.

"Getting his hair wet every morning under the shower will not be harmful, if a man will shampoo it afterward. The hair, which is an appendage of the skin, collects even more dirt than the skin. It can be washed every day, with no bad effects. What is harmful, is to plaster oily, dirty hair down with water, and allow it to remain damp and become sour. When this happens, the roots are affected, and hair falls out. It is far better for a man to keep his hair freshly shampooed, and to tame down the wildness with a dressing of pomade, brilliantine or oily lotion."

Wearing hats does not necessarily cause baldness, but a lack of fresh air and moderate sunshine on the hair and head can have a very harmful effect. Every man should go without his hat at least part of the day while out of doors. Hats that are too tight thus restricting the circulation of the blood are disastrous.

MARKET TOWN NEWS

Sanford State Farmers Market

Seems as though quite a few of the boys are going hunting. Jack Flynn went out Thursday morning for turkeys and after talking with him, it is really very hard about the whole morning. Saw 'em but did not bring any back. Two Jack, better luck next time! Sam Schlichter, Bill Williams (Cross Bond Packing Company) and Jack Hall (Yowell's Dept. Store) all went out last Monday morning, and seem as though Sam felt that it was long but boy hadn't gotten in his way he would have gotten a few, but that is his story, and (meaning Bill) he is going to stick to it. I suppose we will all have to believe it. Gray Hinson and Farvis Daumardner of Bristol, Tenn. made their first trip to the Sanford Market Tuesday. Glad to get back down here. Who was seen out at Jack's Monday night around 10:30 P. M., having a nip and listening to "South of the Border" and watching the moon? Two guineas, G. C. and Bud R. What about that? Lloyd Nance called at the Market Wednesday, first trip this year. He hauls from High Point, N. C. I think he will make a good boy for Harold. Friends of Bud Ponder's will be glad to know that he is able to be up and around after being confined to his bed for the past ten days with the "flu". C. W. Stokes from Mazon, Ga., made his second trip to the Market Thursday, buying produce, but he wanted BETTER, so Farmers please bring in the best. The Samuels boys have been flooding the Market this week. R. S. Bates is spending the day in Vero Beach, suppose looking around for produce. Frank Turley is really carrying a lot of produce on the Market. All the dealers are getting more and more produce every day to meet the demand of the truckers. Kastner, Whelchel, Williams, Aiken, Flynn, Richards, Watson, Bates and Taylor are really going after the business this year. J. G. Michael of Jacksonville spent the weekend in Sanford, and while here called at the Sanford State Market. Ben F. Haines of Altamonte Springs, large citrus and fern grower, was a visitor at the Market Thursday morning. M. Kinlaw is recovering from a cold. The State Road Department is really fixing up the roads around the market, giving it a SURPRISE — I have been rather worried since returning from Washington. I have come to the conclusion that either my constituents are all mad with me, well pleased or do not know I am here. This same period last year my office was generally full of callers when I was here. This year there have not been nearly so many. I have finally arrived at a conclusion: I am positive they know I am here and if they were new at me they would have written because my constituents are not illiterate. Therefore, it must be that conditions are improving. However, I may say that in any event I am not making the suggestion that everybody visit me just to make me feel good.

THANK GOD FOR AMERICA — In 1921 a brave little band of pilgrims gathered to give thanks for an abundant harvest after long suffering and privation. For over 200 years America has celebrated a day of Thanksgiving with feasting and family reunions. Today, as never before, America should give thanks. For with half the world seething in a misery of oppression and restraint, we in America still hold aloft the torch of human liberty. Under the banner "American way" this country has produced a higher standard of living than is enjoyed in any other country in the world. No "black bread" or "thin soup" — no synthetic foods grace our Thanksgiving table. Instead, roast turkey, pumpkin pie and all the trimmings of a holiday feast.

AN AMAZING RECORD — President Roosevelt had a good reason for looking so admiring eye a fortnight ago at the safety record of the nation's air transport lines. No flying passenger himself, the President could well use the word "extraordinary," realizing that years of hedge-hopping and cross-country flying in lectures and families has made Mrs. Roosevelt an I. I. Hoover for air travel. And so with millions of other Americans who know that 100,000,000 passenger-miles have been flown by the 17 scheduled airlines operating within the United States since they last had an accident involving the death or serious injury of any person. Incidentally, Eastern Airlines reported that one of its planes had been scheduled for Florida; they are along, sold out and turning passengers away.

CERTAINLY I AM GOING (Nov. 24) A friend of mine called me from Sanford today to inquire if I were going to Washington on the hearings before the War Department in behalf of the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal. My reply was "Certainly, I am going. Who started this thing anyway?" He said, "Here you did." I did introduce the resolution which started this present survey and this

Milk is Perfect Food When Small Expense Needed

Must Be Pasteurized Properly, Otherwise Is Dangerous

By A. B. McCREARY, M. D.
JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—When the family food budget faces the necessity of being sliced, the healthiest way the housewife can meet the situation is to increase the consumption of properly pasteurized milk and cut down on some other commodity. For milk is generally recognized as the most nearly perfect single food there is. Health departments add the requirement of "properly pasteurized milk" because experience has proved that this most nearly perfect food is also capable of harboring disease germs if it is not pasteurized according to recognized scientific standards.

The reason it is necessary to qualify the statement about milk's being the "most nearly perfect" food and not say outright it is the "most perfect" is the fact that its bulk does not make it satisfactory as a single article of diet. Milk is rich in butter fat, sugar, protein, calcium and phosphorus. It is deficient only in the amount of iron. And since iron is essential to a healthy diet it must be supplied by some other food. In calories, one quart of milk is equivalent to one pound of round steak. And even if the housewife over-looks on milk and some of the better foods there are still many ways in which it can be utilized as a food.

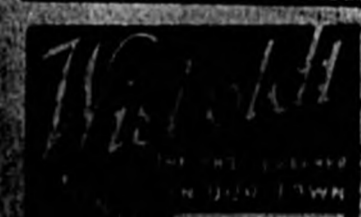

Milk is nearly 100% digestible and, therefore, completely assimilated by the body. In addition to the butter fat, proteins and energy-producing sugar already mentioned, milk is also rich in vitamins. And its calcium and phosphorus are essential to proper formation of teeth and bones.

The U. S. Public Health Service standard milk ordinances, operating in many localities, set forth minimum standards for pasteurization of milk. Proper pasteurization requires that the milk be heated to and kept at a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit for one-half hour, chilled quickly and kept refrigerated.

The process of pasteurization, if properly carried out, kills disease-bearing germs that may be in milk. Some of the more commonly known varieties that thrive in milk are germs of typhoid, bacterial, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, septic sore throat, and diphtheria. If milk is not pasteurized all the germs are not killed and the protection is not 100 percent.

Pasteurization does not change the food value of milk in any way other than destroying some of its Vitamin C content. Vitamin C is the antiscorbutic vitamin and is found in great abundance in orange and lemon juices and fresh vegetables. Lemon juice was introduced in the British navy in 1795 as a preventive and cure of scurvy and it was thus that the familiar term "Limes" became applied to British sailors. It still sticks. Scurvy first developed among the sailors as a result of an unbalanced diet and too much dried foods.

Anyone eating fresh vegetables and drinking orange or lemon juice need not fear scurvy. Even small amounts of these foods supply sufficient Vitamin C. Thus, it can readily be seen that even though some Vitamin C is sacrificed by pasteurization it is more than compensated for by the safety of using milk that is free of disease-producing germs.

Keep Sanford Dollars at Home!

SPONSORED BY
Edward Higgins,
Mayor Of Sanford

A CAMPAIGN WHICH WITH YOUR COOPERATION, WILL BUILD SANFORD INTO A BIGGER AND BETTER CITY.

At the request of a group of citizens who realize the seriousness of the loss of trade to Sanford by out-of-town buying, I am putting on a vigorous campaign to show the people of Sanford that it is to THEIR interest to trade at home and thereby keep Sanford dollars here in Sanford.

Students of the local Grammar School, the Junior High School and the High School will call on YOU beginning Monday after school and ask YOU to sign a pledge card like the one below, promising that you will co-operate by trading at home for at least the next four months and thereby do your bit to "Keep Sanford Dollars at Home," boost Sanford, and make this a bigger and better city in which to live. Prizes totaling $38.00 will be awarded to students securing the most pledges.

MY PLEDGE

Mr. Edward Higgins, Mayor
City of Sanford, Florida.
November 21, 1939

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I am entirely in sympathy with your campaign to keep Sanford Dollars in Sanford, so that they may circulate here and thus improve the general condition of our city. I believe in Sanford and realize that we are not making the best of our opportunities and am therefore willing and glad to do my full part toward making it a better town to live in. I further pledge myself for the next four months to trade at home, and do all in my power to encourage my friends and neighbors to do likewise.

Signed _____

Signed _____

Every merchant, business and professional man will be requested to sign a "Merchant's Pledge" card like the one illustrated below. YOUR Sanford merchants are co-operating to "Keep Sanford Dollars at Home" and at the same time are pledging to you that they will carry a stock of goods that will be as stylish, as of good quality, and as of low prices as you can find in other cities where many Sanford people have been trading.

MERCHANT PLEDGE

Hon. Edward Higgins, Mayor
City of Sanford

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I will voluntarily sign a plan to keep Sanford Dollars in Sanford and pledge myself to the following:

- To carry such stock of goods as are necessary to fill all demands and to sell at such prices to meet competition.
- To carry all supplies and accessories, except those incident to my business, as far as possible.
- To pay all my employees, the Mayor's employees and their wages in Sanford.

Celery Feds Are Defeated By New Smyrna 13 To 6

Epps Intercepts Pass And Runs 45 Yards For Sanford Touchdown

New Smyrna Ties Score In Second Period; Winning Mark Made By Clifton On Intercepted Pass

Sanford's Celery Feds put up a game fight against a heavier, more experienced New Smyrna eleven last night but went down to defeat 13 to 6 in a bruising battle. It was the last home game of the season for the Feds.

The Celery Feds started off the game in fine fashion and hardly were the first quarter well under way before Dub Epps intercepted a New Smyrna pass and scampered 45 yards for the first touchdown of the game. Epps came up fast and took the pass full on the run and tucked down the left side, dodging several tacklers.

New Smyrna made their first touchdowns in the second quarter after Danny Altman had kicked to the New Smyrna 45 yard line where Hardin took the ball and plunged back up the field to the Fed 44 yard strip. On the very next play, Clifton faded back and passed to Holdcraft for 15 yards. Holdcraft gathered the ball in his arms and streaked for the goal line 30 yards away. He dodged two tacklers and picked up some good downfield blocking that prevented any of the Fed players from cutting him down from behind.

The second touchdown for the Buccaneers came in the fourth quarter. Bob Wilkinson went in the lineup for Dub Epps. It was New Smyrna's ball and Clifton hit center for one yard. He quick-kicked and the ball was taken by Altman on his own 44. Jimmy Page knifed his way over right

Lyman Greyhounds Beaten By Melbourne Bulldogs 13 To 0

MELBOURNE, Nov. 24—Long-haired Lyman Greyhounds were beaten by the Melbourne Bulldogs 13 to 0 here last night in a game played largely in the air.

Although they threatened the Melbourne goal on three occasions, the Greyhounds were unable to drive through the heavier Bulldog line for a score. First score of the game was made in the second quarter by Jesse Davis on a 45-yard line and run a kick by Schmitt for added point was good.

Second score in the third quarter was scored by Richard Ellis on a line plunge. A pass for extra point failed.

C. Swafford, of Lyman, was principal left carrier for the Greyhounds, picking up 38 yards running and carrying the ball 27 yards on passes from Lyons.

LITTLE 144-POUND Hattie Houston, St. Petersburg, is the smallest back on the University of Florida football team. His toughness and elusiveness have resulted in his seeing plenty of service at the tailback position this year. His first on the Gator squad. He is one of the lightest players in Florida's grid history.

SOPHOMORE ARCHIE BAGWELL, of Daytona Beach, is the number one reserve at the quarterback post for the University of Florida and should see considerable service in the Big Game when the Gators meet Georgia Tech in their annual Homecoming game Nov. 25.

SELECT SELECTIONS

By RALPH WARNER

Although business has been comparatively poor at this time the past couple of weeks, conditions are looking up a little this Saturday.

While we have kept pace fairly well with the others, it hasn't been quite good enough to be considered satisfactory. With only twenty-five contests to muller about this week, the strain is removed somewhat.

So, outside of the two or three starting spots that will occur, you may rest assured that the following selections are right from the feed box.

Georgia Tech over Florida. Just a chance for one of those thrilling battles to be right here. A tough one for the favored Jackets, whether they know it or not. Tech will have to utilize all of its deceptive attack to gain a 13 to 0 decision.

Duke over N. C. State. It is becoming increasingly evident that powerful Duke never should have suffered its lone defeat by Pitt.

Georgia over Auburn. Sure, we know that Auburn is the favorite. A little birdie insisted that we try this, however. With our only concern being that Auburn may dislike being upset, we'll see interfile Georgia by 13 to 7.

Michigan over Miss. State. 13 to 0.

Tulane over Swannee.

Miami over South Carolina.

Southern Methodist over Baylor.

Reconquering from the defeats to meet the top.

Texas Christian over Rice. Another almer eyebrow lifter.

Cornell over Penn. Strong. It's not finished, undefeated, mixed season. Two or three touchdowns a margin predicted and if so, the Duke information says a tip to California around Jan. 1.

Carnegie Tech over Duquesne. Picking rugged but better. Six to smash the Duke's perfect record in a tight, defensive battle.

Boston College over Kansas State. 13 to 7.

Pitt. over Penn. State.

Purdue over Navy. Loss up.

Villanova over Manhattan.

Harvard over Yale. One touch down.

Columbia over Colgate.

Southern California over Notre Dame. The elastic of the day and just about a loss up. If powerful Trojan can get by Fighting Irish, an uncertain year virtually insured. A one touchdown victory for well treated Californians.

Ohio State over Michigan. Some chance for one of those starting

When Florida and Georgia Tech meet in Gainesville Nov. 25 it will mark the fourth time the Yellow Jackets have appeared as the Gators' Homecoming opponent.

Georgia Tech, Georgia, Alabama, Auburn, Clemson, Maryland, Wake Forest, Mercer and Drake have all appeared as opponents in the 15 Homecoming football games played by the University of Florida.
