RUMORS OF WAR ARE ONCE MORE CIRCULATING IN COUNCILS OF EUROPE

Germany Sends Munitions to The Red Army in Russia

TROTZKY - LENINE BUSY

Getting Ready for Spring Drive of Soviet Army Along The Eastern Front

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Dec. 30.—The German government in a note addressed to the council of ambassadors in Paris protests against the demand of the control commission, endorsed by the ambassadors for the dismantling of the guns on from 11 to 14 fortresses on the southern and eastern frontiers of Germany as an infraction of the peace treaty, which it is asserted permitted the fortresses to remain in the same state as they were on January 10, 1920.

The note points out that the dismantling demanded would leave Germany with only three fortresses on these frontiers.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Rumors of war are again circulating in the council chambers of Europe. The reports center about Russia and Germany, the latter being concerned in the former's martial preparations.

While the Bolsheviks are said to be massing troops along the western frontier in readiness for a spring drive against the border state, the Germans are alleged to be keeping a steady stream of munitions moving toward Moscow.

FUEL ADMINISTRATION COST U. S. GOVERNMENT FOUR MILLION DOLLARS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The total cost of fuel control to the federal government during the war was $4,824,681, according to the final report of the business manager of the fuel administration made public here today. This sum represents all expenditures, national and state, by the fuel administration from its organization in September, 1917, to June 30, 1919, when the administration virtually was disbanded.

Appropriations made for fuel control totaled $5,813,818, and Lawrence Mitchell, assistant business manager, who prepared the report, said there was a balance of $989,137 on hand on June 30th this year.

Expenditures by the headquarters in Washington totaled $2,706,479 and by the states $1,948,618. By far the largest sum was spent in New York State, the total being $212,012, while Pennsylvania was the second state in the list of expenditures with $84,025, while Illinois was third with $66,849. In the New England states as a whole the cost was $99,812.

The report shows that there were 52 $1-a-year men in the fuel administration, these including Dr. Harry A. Garfield, the administrator; J. D. A. Morrow, Rembrandt Peale, John P. White, Timothy Healy, F. M. Whitaker, Mark L. Requa and Alfred M. Ogle.

The highest salary on a yearly basis in the report is $3600 a year.

GRIDIRON BREAKFAST

NOT THE WASHINGTON ONE, BUT EDITORS WILL HAVE "SOME PARTY"

Second in interest to no special feature of the South Florida Fair is the annual Rotary-Press breakfast, given by the Tampa Rotary Club in honor of editors of Florida newspapers and distinguished winter visitors, and which ranks in excellence of features with the "gridiron" banquet given each year by the newspaper correspondents of Washington.

The date of this banquet has not been fixed yet, but the program is being arranged and the scribes and other fortunate guests are promised the "time of their lives" when the morning hour banquet is held. Professional Rotarians is being entertained the visitors and—well, there'll be a feature or two that will produce nation-wide comment.

HUGHES TO HEAD CABINET ACCORDING TO LAWRENCE DOUGHERTY, ATTORNEY GENERAL

Two Good Men Are Slated for The Secretary of the Treasury

HAYS FOR P. M. GENERAL And Others Among the Faithful Elephant Riders to Be Rewarded

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Charles Evans Hughes will be the next secretary of state.

Governor Lowden is out of the running for secretary of the treasury and will be given a foreign post of importance.

Charles Grosvenor Dawes, and Geo. M. Reynolds, both of Chicago, are uppermost in the minds of President-elect Harding for secretaryship of the treasury. Herbert Hoover will be either secretary of labor or secretary in favor of his being asked to take the former.

Harry M. Daugherty will have to decide the question of who is to be attorney general, for he can have the place if he wants it.

Henry C. Wallace has been asked to become secretary of agriculture and has accepted.

Will Hays will be asked to become postmaster general.

The other portfolios—secretary of the navy, secretary of war, and secretary of commerce—are not yet decided upon, and if Mr. Hoover is asked to become secretary of the interior, this would upset calculations on the secretaryship of labor.

The foregoing series of statements have been given the writer by several of the men who can be considered as members of the inner circle in the next administration. They are authority, moreover, for the assertion that General Pershing will not be asked to be secretary of war, and they insist with equal positiveness that the published stories concerning Senator Penrose's unwillingness to let Senator Knox resign his seat in the senate because it would lead to the entry of Governor Sprout as a contender for control of the Pennsylvania political situation, are entirely without foundation. Mr. Penrose is represented as being willing to do anything that Senator Harding may want.

Kramer Plans to Turn Over a New Leaf in Prohibition Enforcement.

EVERYTHING UNDER BAN Was Today Going Over a List of All Persons Licensed to Traffic in Alcohol.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—Prohibition enforcement will go on a new basis in many of its phases, beginning January 1, according to present plans of Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer.

Kramer was today going over a list of persons licensed to traffic in liquor, alcohol and manufacturers of patent medicines containing alcohol. Many licenses will be revoked, it is expected. One official today hinted that the "slaughter" may involve hundreds of licenses. Another predicted "thousands." Kramer is silent.

One well known "medicine" however, will not be sold after January 1, Kramer made plain. This is manufactured by different concerns under the title of "Ionic" formulae approved by the United States bureau of internal revenue. Beside this heading one manufacturer boldly prints "40 per cent alcohol." Another uses only 15 per cent.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING DECEMBER 28

Temperature: The temperature averaged above the normal, although it was much below normal on several days, especially in the northern and western counties, where freezing prevailed.

Precipitation: Rainfall was generally in excess of the usual amount for the period, several stations having totals exceeding 2 inches. Rainfall was least in the Southern division, and greatest in the north and west.

Condition of Crops: Work was largely suspended, owing to holiday conditions and wet weather. Oats did well, and celery, lettuce, and cabbage are reported in good condition. Some tender truck was damaged in northern and central divisions by frost on the 25th; and truck in much of the south has made slow recovery from frost damage on the 17th instant. The shipping to citrus fruit was practically suspended during the week, and only small quantities of truck was available in local markets.

PRESIDENT OF IRISH REPUBLIC HAS DISAPPEARED

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Jas. Maguire today denied a report published yesterday in an Irish newspaper that DeValera, president of the Irish republic, was a guest at her home at New Rochelle.

enforcement unit admitted today that the manufacturers of this medicine really "put one over" on the bureau. "We tested their formula," he said. "We thought we had made it so bitter that no one could possibly drink enough to get much alcohol at one time. Wait until after January 1."

Meanwhile scores of holders of liquor licenses daily are cooling their heels in the office of Kramer, William M. Williams, commissioner of internal revenue, and other officials supposed to have more or less influence with some mysterious person who decides who shall and who shall not receive permits.

Some of the applications for licenses were reported to have button-holed Kramer on his way to and from meals and his home. Commissioner Williams for weeks has exceeded all speed limits in passing thru the halls of the treasury department building where he has his office.

TO ESTABLISH CENTRAL MARKET FOR PERISHABLES

TRADE COMMISSION SAYS THIS PLAN IS NOW VERY NECESSARY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Establishment of control markets for perishable food products in all large cities and the setting up of a Federal licensing system applicable to all dealers in such foods at those markets is proposed by the Federal Trade Commission in its annual report today to congress.

The commission's conclusions are based on an investigation covering many months and it declares that Federal action is necessary to obtain effective regulation and to avoid unfair and wasteful practices with the consequent effect on prices. In the present system the commission sees as a hindrance to the proper passage of perishables from the producer to the consumer certain inter-trade dealings which it believes should be eliminated and it suggests that the handling of these products be surrounded by numerous regulations and restrictions such as the recording of available supplies, the dating of cold storage periods and provisions for auction marketing.

Facilities should be made adequate, the commission says, to enable the producer to ship freely into the central markets and "with proper protection of his interests." The marketing system should be so governed that objectionable hoarding would be eliminated and proper co-ordination of transportation facilities should be accomplished to make deliveries certain when required.

The commission says that "the needed reforms can hardly be expected to be accomplished by the initiative of the dealers," and asserts that state and municipal authorities lack the power to effectively regulate the handling of the food supplies. Although co-operation of state and local authorities and railroads might accomplish the ends sought, the commission believes this plan does not hold out much hope for a satisfactory solution of the problem.

Turning to wheat products, the commission says it has found that concentration of the milling industry has progressed far enough so that "probably ten of the largest milling concerns could supply the demand of the country for flour." The commission mentions incidentally that its figures from thirty-seven milling corporations showed that their sales had increased from $160,000,000 to $354,000,000 between 1914 and 1918, while their annual profits had grown from $5,500,000 to $20,000,000 in the same period.

Printing Stamps by Millions.

Few labor-saving machines are more ingenious in combining a number of operations, or more impressive in the amount of work they do, than the new stamp-printing presses of the United States bureau of printing and engraving. Each press, with two operators, moistens, prints, gums and rolls a total of 4,000,000 postage stamps in an eight-hour day, states an article in Popular Mechanics. The perforations are made both lengthwise and across, both the roll and the punches being adjustable for position. One operator, in front, takes care of the unwinding roll and adjusts its path to the perforators by means of a screw. The other operator, at the rear, regulates the speed of the machine and inspects the finished work. Finally, the roll is cut into sheets of 400 stamps each.

Keep Pace With the Child.

When the child is a tiny creature, the parent must exercise self-control, gentleness, tact—never allowing her temper to interfere with judgment or to cause her to speak harshly or in anger, says Mothers' Magazine. As years go on, the most loving child is also a critic. "Mother's way" has heretofore seemed to him the best way. It rests with the mother to make it seem so always. To this end she must keep pace with her boys and girls in thought, in education, in new ideas. Parents cannot go to school again, but they can have their minds alert and open for all new facts. And they can watch their own manners and language so that the children can continue to use these as models.

Her Suspicion.

MENDENHALL WITHDRAWS PARDON BECAUSE HUNDREDS PROTESTS WERE LAUNCHED

such force that Mendenhall would neither appear himself, nor would permit counsel to appear for him. However, it has been the policy of the board to give both Mendenhall and the opposition a full hearing should he appear.

General sentiment throughout the state has been that all members of the board were primarily against a pardon for the convicted murderer, with the exception possibly of Gov. Catts, whom the majority seem to think would have signed his pardon.

It is a known fact that much of the credit in breaking down Mendenhall's intentions of appearing for the hearing, has been the activity of the women and the press of the state. The Florida Federation of Women's Clubs took up the matter, and local chapters all through the state have taken actions of protest.

There has been some sentiment in favor of a pardon for Mendenhall, but those favoring a pardon for him have been very much in the minority, and they have refrained from taking open steps toward securing his pardon.

Mendenhall was convicted before Judge O. K. Reaves in Pinellas county in 1916, and has not yet served five years of his term.

The overwhelming opposition to a pardon for Mendenhall is thought to have made it clear to Mendenhall himself that the present time was inopportune for making his application. Rather than run the risk of having his application denied, thereby spoiling his chances for the future, he has evidently given up the idea for the present at least.

Mendenhall filed his application for a pardon without the active assistance of any lawyer, and his professed intention was to appear before the pardon board in his own behalf. Reports that a majority of the board were in favor of granting a pardon of some sort to the murderer of Susie Elliot and her mother were largely responsible for the strength of the opposition.

State Comptroller Ernest Amos removed a large portion of the cause for alarm by his statement several days ago that he was unalterably opposed to granting any sort of a pardon to Mendenhall and that he was convinced that the other three members of the board were likewise opposed. Gov. Catts was conceded to favor Mendenhall's plea, but the governor alone was without the pardoning power, requiring the concurrence of a majority of the board before he could act.

Cost of Caste.

A Hungarian immigrant tells of life in his native town, a reminiscence of what is gone, in the World's Work. "I held a good position in a bank in Budapest. Every morning I was driven to my work in a flakker, and every afternoon I was driven to my home. I mention that flakker because it can be taken as a symbol of the old life in Budapest, just as the five-cent subway ride to business can be taken as a symbol of life in New York. In Budapest it was easy, gay, frivolous; almost every one who made a pretense of what we called living spent more than he earned. I do not want to forget the good things in the old life—Magyar hospitality was open-handed, warm, fine; but financially, Magyar social life was built on straw—almost all were living beyond their incomes. If a family tried to reduce its expenses, to live truthfully, it lost caste.—Bertalan Barna.

Long for Good Old Days.

Two ragged youngsters stood at the pool before the big ornamental statues at the Columbus circle entrance to Central park, looking longingly at their reflection in the cold smooth depths of the undisturbed water.

"Aw, gee, I wish it hadn't a got cold," said one.

"Aw, me too," the other replied. "Nobody stops any more to throw quarters in the water. It's too cold. Anyhow you wouldn't catch this bold hittin' that ice water in this make-up. I'll say I need the money, but not that bad. All I wish is it wuz warm agin. And they say bizness ain't a gonna be so good next summer, cuz people's gonna hang onto their coin then. Gosh, but war times wuz good times. What they'd bring back the good old days."

Enhanced in Value.

"This traffic policeman says you were going fifty miles an hour."

"Judge," said the motorist, "I can hardly believe it, but would you object if I asked the officer to put that statement in writing and give me a duplicate copy?"

"What for?"

THE HIGH FREIGHT RATES AND THE PRICE OF LABOR STRANGLING THE GROWER

sating field and packing house labor by changing at once to the per diem of hourly pay instead of the piece system, which, it was pointed out, would accomplish both the lessening of cost as well as assist in securing a better quality of the article, and a concerted and untiring effort to reduce the freight rates gone about in an intelligent way, by the appointment of a representative executive committee who would have at its disposal the brains and backing which could be secured only from effective organization of those whose very industrial lives were at stake.

Mr. S. J. Sligh, of Orlando, a representative operator as well as grower, was quickly selected as chairman of the meeting, and he explained its purpose by reciting the proceedings of a similar preliminary meeting held at Leesburg on December 20. While he stressed on high freight rates as the prime cause for present unprofitable conditions, he mentioned other features that had helped to bring about the deplorable condition in which the industry now finds itself, such as the early shipping of immature fruit, the practice of various independent operators bidding against each other regarding rates that were paid pickers, problems of equitable distribution of the crop among a range of markets instead of concentration, inferior materials furnished, as well as the desirability of eliminating entirely certain elements of cost the necessity of which was now in question.

Mr. A. E. Sandlin, manager of the Leesburg subexchange, and Secretary Downing of the Leesburg Board of Trade, were selected as secretaries of the meeting.

The return from the questionnaires which had been dispatched to practically the entire Florida field as a result of the Leesburg meeting, were read by Mr. Sandlin and the general trend of written reports from Ocala, Bradentown, Tavares, Leesburg, Polk County points, Palmetto, Nocotee, DeLand, Sanford and many others, while giving figures and recommendations in detail, were practically unanimous in the prognosis that early demise awaited the fruit and vegetable industries of Florida unless substantial and even radical readjustment processes were undergone in all the elements that make up the cost of marketing the fruits, and the intelligent opinion of qualified representatives in the sections named was that these adjustments should be commenced simultaneously at the top and the bottom by securing both cheaper labor and cheaper freight rates.

The situation, as affecting the vegetable interests particularly, was discussed by Mr. D. E. Marlow, of Sanford, who told of experiences of his own as well as other growers and operators, one of which netted him $3.43 profit on a carload of 400 hampers or 12,000 heads, of fancy lettuce, and being a former railway official, his analysis of the situation by which the railroads realized a total of $423.09 from the same shipment for their freight and icing charge, carried conviction and induced similar recitals on the part of citrus growers and operators, all tending to the same summary, that the freight rates on their products was the chief burden of the present costs. He called particular attention to the agreement on the part of the railroads when the advance of 15 per cent in freight rates had been granted, that preferred service would be given fruit and vegetable products and maintained that the carriers had utterly fallen down in their share of the agreement, stating that "shippers are paying from 15 to 20 per cent above first-class rates for this promised preferred service, and that they are not getting it."

Discussion of other phases of the situation was had by S. S. Griffin, Orlando; Dr. M. Samples, Haines City; M. J. Daetwyler, Orlando; Dr. Sadler, Mt. Dora; P. F. Shupe, Ocala and others.

At the afternoon session, the sentiment was unanimous that the body recommend to its members for individual adoption a scale of pay for labor in which $3.50 would be the maximum day wages paid for picking and 25 cents an hour the maximum for ordinary farm labor.

The following committees were appointed, the first named to constitute the chairman:

Organization—R. P. Burton, Leesburg; E. F. Lane, J. H. Sadler, Winter Garden; S. O. Chase, Sanford; F. D. Waite, J. S. Taylor, Largo; J. W. Sample, Haines City; A. B. Michael, Wabasso; H. L. Boreland, Ocala; W. J. Krene, Homestead; H. O. Hamm, Palatka; E. C. Gillett, Tampa; York, Arcadia, and Edwards, Thonotosasso.

Railroads—S. O. Chase, Sanford; G. R. Williams, Jacksonville; Dow, Aull, Stewart and Thomas, Tampa.

Supply—M. Sample, Haines City; C. H. Walker and A. J. Nye, Orlando;

J. C. Lee, Leesburg; J. J. Parrish, Titusville.

Antiquity of Peat.

The use of peat as a source of heat goes back beyond the historical period in the ancient history of the early tribes in northern Germany. Pliny, the Roman naturalist, gives us possibly the first indication of the use of peat. He reports that the Teutons on the border of the north sea dried and burned mud, what we now would call peat. In Ireland, Great Britain, Russia, Scandinavia, Germany, Holland, and parts of France peat has been used as a fuel since time immemorial. The peat was cut from the bog very much in the same manner as it is still being done in many parts of Europe, where it is cut in brick shapes, allowed to dry in the wind and sun.

She Knew a Windfall.

Mrs. Youngbride thought the apples the farmer had brought her were rather dirty, but he explained that this was because they had fallen off the tree onto the ground—in short, they were windfalls—so she bought them.

A week later she called the farmer's wife up on the telephone. "I ordered the best cucumbers for pickling," she said sharply, "and you sent me windfalls."

"Sent what?" gasped the farmer's wife.

"Windfall cucumbers! I can tell; you needn't think I can't. There's dirt on them."

WILL FORTIFY PANAMA CANAL IN GREAT SHAPE

This ordnance includes those guns which were authorized in 1918 for coast defense purposes, the first of which are to be delivered next spring.

In addition to the canal's main land defenses, the war department has proposed the placing of several of the longest range lies on an island located about one hundred miles off the Pacific entrance. The committee members are said to have agreed to this proposal and will authorize the placement of guns there as soon as the state department can conclude diplomatic negotiations to that end.

The Atlantic entrance under the present plans will be provided with an elaborate system of tracks designed to carry the heaviest railroad artillery mounts with guns calibered to greater distances than those used by the most powerful dreadnaughts afloat.

House members believe that the canal thus can be made impregnable by use of material now under construction and with only little additional expense to the government.

FORTNIGHTLY

Mrs. H. B. Lewis entertained the Fortnightly Bridge Club at her apartment in the Welaka, Wednesday afternoon.

The apartment was beautiful in its Christmas decorations of poinsettias and holly. The prize for high score was won by Mrs. Bishop, a pair of candlesticks. Mrs. R. S. Keelor was the only substitute.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of a salad course, were served.

D. A. R.

McCuller, a tie won by Mr. Randall Chase, for bridge, a tie vase, won by Miss Aycock and a tie won by Dr. Brown for five hundred, a tie won by Mr. M. F. Robinson for chess.

"In the dining room was arranged a very attractive punch table, which was presided over by two dainty ladies. Miss Lydia Yowell and Miss Mildred Holly, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. 'Bob' Holly of Sanford, these two pretty little Hebes managed to keep even the very thirsty crowd well supplied with delicious fruit punch."

Polk: Early oranges about all shipped. Grapefruit and seedling oranges moving to market. Markets continue good. Recent cool weather did no apparent damage.

Elevated to Bishopric

Seldom has there been discovered a more clever and effective device for spreading the gospel than that arranged by wise old Bishop Amator of Armoric. He evolved a scheme which promised the linking of the church with the powerful state.

Catching Governor Germanus in church one day, the bishop slipped up behind that official. A pass with one hand and he had snipped off the gubernatorial locks; a pass with the other hand, and a bishop's robe was slipped over the tansured dome. Before the governor could say the American equivalent for "Jack Robinson," he was informed that the Bishop Amator had resigned and that he was ordained in his stead.

FATHER OF MODERN SPINNING

Invention of Samuel Crompton, Englishman, of Immense Importance to the Western World.

At one time muvils were imported from India for the reason that English spinners were unable to produce yarn fine enough for the manufacture of such delicate fabrics.

The invention of Arkwright, by which spinning with rollers was used, and Hargreaves, with his spinning Jenny, led the way for Crompton to combine both of those inventions in his mule, thereby enabling spinners to draw out long threads in large numbers to more tenfold than had ever been done by the East Indians.

This invention enabled Lancashire to assume the first place as cotton spinner to the world. Samuel Crompton was born December 3, 1753, at Firwood. He came of the farming class and had rather a good education. On the death of his father his mother carried on the farm and set Samuel to spinning at home. Five years after his majority he completed his mule, "his mind during that time being in continual endeavor to realize a more perfect principle of spinning."

This he did at the expense of every shilling he had; and he gave his invention to the world, but in such a way that he gained no credit. Years afterward his statue was erected in Bolton.—Chicago Journal.

Make Your Mind Your Klondike

Every man has a rich mine of precious ores if he wants to work it. The other day the news went out that great oil fields had been discovered in Klondike, the land famous for gold. The papers say men are rushing to strike claims as they did in the palmy days of the gold craze, and there will be many who will part with all they have and make their way to what promises to be a quick fortune. In the last rush the way to Dawson City had many a ghastly group of bleaching bones when the snows of winter melted away. The chances are this present craze will duplicate the scene. Only a few of the many make money. It will ever be thus as long as man try to win by chance the riches that usually come by toil.—Cris.

DeSota: The pig contest for this county was held on the fourth. Ten purebred Duroc-Jersey pigs were shown by the boys. Four boys won scholarships to the club short course at the university.

Wonder if the governor is going to bury Joe Earman in that cemetery along with those "niggers I killed in Alabama?"

DREW CHARACTER FROM LIFE

Thackeray's "Beatrice" Said to Have Been Modeled on Career of Prof. Ligata Dresser.

One of the few feminine characters of Thackeray that was not declared insipid by critics, was his Beatrice. She was drawn from real life, and the original was the daughter of Col. Thomas Chudleigh, afterward to become Elizabeth, duchess of Kingston. She married Augustus Hervey, earl of Bristol, after setting all London by the ears with her beauty, spirit and pranks. He was a member of the naval forces, and shortly after their secret wedding was called to sea, and when he returned found his wife the reigning beauty of the court and head over heels in half a dozen affairs, the one with the duke of Kingston being so notorious that even the street gamins knew of it. She managed to bring a suit for a jactitation, and her husband was subject to heavy penalties should he say she was his wife. She then married the duke.

Her great beauty was a storm signal wherever she went in London and Paris, and a long list of duels, ruin and trouble followed her wake. Although she lost a part of her fortune she continued to be received at continental courts up to her death at the age of sixty-eight, as wicked in her final years as in her youth. She got drunk, swore, had a dozen lovers, ruined as many more, and in fact did everything that should have brought her shame and sorrow, but lived a riotous life to the end.

MEDALLION HELD AS CURIO

Only One of a Number Struck in 1825 Is Believed to Be in Existence Today.

To defray the expenses incident to the inauguration of John Quincy Adams as the sixth President of the United States in 1825, the inaugural committee sold medallions at $5 each. Five dollars was considerable money in those days, and the owner of a medallion was entitled to special consideration at the inaugural ceremonies.

As much as the medallions were prized 95 years ago, it is believed that only one exists today, the property of J. A. Larrick, a policeman detailed to Washington police headquarters.

The Adams medallion was given to Larrick 15 years ago by Edward Murphy, who is now dead. Murphy's father, who witnessed the inauguration of President Adams, was the original purchaser of the medal.

At the time he was presented with the medallion, Larrick was a policeman in the first precinct. Murphy was an aged bookkeeper. Larrick on several occasions assisted the old fellow and the medallion was his reward.

Probably the most striking thing about the medallion is its inscription, "Science Brings Peace and America Plenty."

Chose Wife by Her Feet

Reading persons' characters from their feet is the method Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the chief scout, has admitted he employed in choosing his wife—"The best wife I ever had."

The secretary of a boy scouts' troop gives these examples of foot reading: "Short steps denote a fussy, swaggering little person.

"Hurried, jerky steps, a nervous person.

"A slow slouch, a lazy man, a loafer. "Smooth, quick steps, an intelligent, observant person."

A boy scout observed that a stolid person often walks fatfooted.

H. V. L. Ross, the walker, said: "The walker I most distrust, especially where a woman is concerned, is the one who comes down hard on the heels. I believe this is a sign of a bad-tempered person."—From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

All Dressed Up

"The seashore jokes about short bathing costumes are back numbers," said Cortland Hleecker, the society leader at a Newport ball. "All the same—"

Mr. Hleecker chuckled merrily.

"Here's a good one, all the same. Two Newport girls were jangling in their 'mailots' the other morning on the beach. You know the 'mailot' rig—no skirt, no stockings, no sleeves, and hardly any legs. Well, the first girl said as she jangled:

"It's jolly to have a little dance after your bath, isn't it?"

"Yes," said the second girl; "only you feel so dressed up in these mailots after last winter's ball gowns."

Growth of Y. W. C. A.

The present membership of the Y. W. C. A. in the United States is 559,815, an increase of approximately 300,000 in the last five years. There are 1,212 association centers in the country, 351 of them in 234 cities of more than 25,000 population, 111 in smaller communities and 750 in colleges. This is exclusive of work being carried on by the American association in eight European countries, and in India, Japan, China, South America and Honolulu.

An Important Decision

"This celebrated novelist says he frequently sits at his typewriter all morning without being able to write a word."

"I know just how that is," said the debutante. "I once sat for two hours at my writing table before I could write the one word, 'No.'"—Blrningham Age-Herald.

A burglar serving a 20-year sentence at Joliet prison escaped, went to the home of the prison director, stole two suits of clothes, returned to the prison, rifled the pockets of 60 sleeping prison guards and got away safely. Thus the question, "can a criminal come back and make good?" is answered in the affirmative.—Daytona Journal.

The election of officers at Moore's Station Sunday school took place last Sunday. Mr. Elwood Irish was unanimously re-elected as superintendent to succeed himself, as also were the remaining officers. Miss Helen Chorpene as secretary and treasurer and Miss Ruby Hart as organist.

The Christmas tree and entertainment at Moore's Station church took place Monday evening. The church was comfortably filled for all the rain. The tree, a beautiful cedar, was filled with gifts for the pupils and there were candy, nuts, oranges and tangerines for all. The entertainment is said to be the best ever given. Much credit is due those having it in charge. There is some especially good talent among the young people, that with a little training makes a fine showing. The church was decorated very efficiently. Many remarked on the appearance of it.

French Hostess House Closed.
Because of the small number of visitors to the American cemeteries in France during the cold months, the hostess houses maintained by the American Red Cross and the Y. W. C. A. at Bony, Vere-en-Tardenois and Belleu woods, for the comfort of parents and friends who are visiting the graves, are closed this winter. The house near Romagne, at the Argonne, the largest of the American cemeteries, will remain open. If the need is renewed in the spring the houses will open again. Hundreds of American travelers who have visited the graves have been taken care of in these small houses, the only quarters affording meals, restrooms or any traveling comforts near the cemeteries.

Columbia: Because of the excellent showing made by this county at the state fair, many of the most pessimistic have been convinced of the value of fairs.

Perhaps no group of men in the world are so considerate of their bodies as the sailors of the United States Navy. The fresh salt air and the strenuous life of the sailor body active and full of the stuff Kipling has a tendency to make the mind and ling eulogized as "Pep."

The average layman believes that when a ship leaves port, it leaves all athletic sports behind. In direct contrast to this opinion the sailor-man takes his athletic gear to sea with him and has as much sport on the broad decks of the battleship as he does on the athletic field ashore.

The photograph shows a group of laughing sailors passing the medicine ball. At first the group makes a wide circle, but as the ball is continually snapped back and forth, the circle narrows until the medicine ball is hidden and the only knowledge the spectators have that a game is in progress, is the continual smack of the medicine ball against the brawny chests of the participants.

Often the game is enlivened by having a man stand in the center of the circle, who endeavors to catch the ball before it is delivered to one of the men in the circle, succeeding in doing so, he takes his place in the circle and the man who threw the ball replaces him.

Obstacles are only made to overcome, so the Navy has an athletic field that goes to sea.

And the band plays on.
Have you given your bit for the privilege?
We mean privilege of hearing such a fine musical organization.
It is not compulsory, you know. The band is free as the air, only if you feel like giving something buy a ticket for the concert at the Princess tonight.

This week has been one round of gaiety and the young folks home from school are having one grand big time. Sanford people believe in enjoying themselves and they are keeping the home fires burning.

The world has for us just what we have for it. It is the great whispering gallery which flings back the echo of our voices. If we laugh, it laughs back; if we curse, it curses back.—St. Augustine Record.

It is hoped that the efforts of the citrus fruit and vegetable growers of the state to reduce the cost of labor and freight rates will have the desired effect before the growers go broke and go broke they will unless some measure of relief is soon afforded. They cannot and will not stand the present exorbitant labor and freight rate especially on a falling market.

We would again call attention of the Auto Camp committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of the City Commissioners and all who are interested to the fact that Sanford has taken no steps to start those new auto camps. We need them badly and there are new people coming here every day looking for locations to camp. Will the gentlemen who have this matter in charge please get busy at once?

Wood gets any scarcer and higher the people of this state will be forced to plant more trees or use some system of reforestation to bring back the timber that one day grew here in such profusion. Too late we realize that we are squandering our heritage in cutting and slashing into the timber that at one time looked as though it would never give out. However, any supply will be exhausted if it is never renewed and Florida is faced with such an alternative now.

Volusia, Lake, Seminole and Orange counties should insist that our representatives in Congress see that proper appropriations are made for the deepening of the St. Johns at least as far South as Sanford, and that some of the sharp curves are cut out. The St. Johns is a great asset for this section of Florida, and while the government is spending millions to improve the river between Jacksonville and the sea, only the smallest amounts are appropriated for the great river south of Jacksonville.—DeLand News.

Harry Brown took leave of the St. Augustine Record force Tuesday after being managing editor of that paper for the past fifteen years or more. The force presented him with a silver service showing the high esteem in which he was held by the entire force. Harry takes over the Lake-

J. P. SAYS: The habit of not trying, keeps many able people from the larger success of which they are capable. They exhaust their energy in dreaming and wish that they could do this or that but they fail to burn their bridges behind them and commit themselves to the task before them. This is the only way to accomplish anything in life. If you are going to do a thing, do it and I suggest that you do it today by investing in SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY'S 8 PER CENT CUMULATIVE PRIOR PREFERRED STOCK, a mighty good investment for mighty good people. land Telegram after the first of January and Herbert Felkel will take his position of managing editor on the Record. St. Augustine will miss genial, kindly, big-hearted Harry Brown but in Herbert Felkel he has a worthy successor and then South Florida needs men like Harry Brown.

Young man advertises a reward of ten dollars to anyone who will find him an apartment between Oak and Palmetto avenues from First to Tenth street. This young man should get an apartment. He deserves it. He evidently realizes and knows the value of printer's ink and instead of taking a local advertisement or sitting around waiting for the rooms to come to him he breaks out with a display advertisement offering the reward of ten dollars? Can you beat it? A reward of ten dollars to anyone finding him an apartment in Sanford. That shows just how scarce apartments are in Sanford and shows that more of them should be built at once if new people are to become residents. If anyone has an apartment for this live wire who believes in going after things he should be accommodated for he deserves one of the best apartments in town at a very reasonable figure for the rest of his life.

WELCOME, TIN CAN TOURISTS!
There is in session this week in Tampa a unique organization. It is the "Tin can tourists of the world." There are more than 2000 here, and the free auto camp ground provided by the city of Tampa is full to overflowing with automobiles, from the most costly to the utility flivver.

These people are those who love the open air, and know how to get every bit of enjoyment out of their cars and the whole wide world. They are people who know that a winter spent in Florida is provocative of longer life. They know that the most wonderful climate awaits them here, and the most cordial greeting is extended them. They know that it matters not to Florida how its winter guests come, or where they live when arrived, so long as they come and partake of the beneficence of the Father who made this state and its wonderful resources of sunshine and shadow, warmth and crispness.

The city is an open book, ladies and gentlemen of the convention; read it. And in reading it you will not see anything between the lines to indicate that you are held in ought but the very highest regard and honor. The Tribune bids you welcome in the name of Florida and of Tampa and of the individual people themselves living in this city. It bids you welcome in the name of the thousands of other tourists less happily situated than you, who have to spend their nights and their days shut up in mere palatial hotels or mansions or apartments. All of us envy you, all of us would that we could spend a week, or a month, or a year in the manner in which you will spend the winter in this state.

If the city treats you well, make it your annual meeting place. If it does not treat you well, make it known to the city officials, the people, or the press, and all will combine to right the wrong, whatever it may be.—Tampa Tribune.

HAVE WE REACHED THE TURNING POINT IN READJUSTMENT?

A recent statement of the federal reserve board, reviewing the economic and financial situation of the country is inclined to be optimistic in its conclusions as to the future. It declares that the difficulties of reconstruction incident to the ending of the war, have passed their worst point, and although improvement may be slow, it is surely coming. Owing to the nation's strong banking structure the period of distress usually attendant on times of readjustment will be much less than on previous similar occasions. Although necessarily uncomfortable, the transaction through which the country is just now passing is attendant with a minimum of such sharp reductions of prices, and heavy decreases in production, with extensive unemployment and business reaction, as has characterized previous. An element of uncertainty, however, is found in the fiscal situation, which, both at home and abroad is an unsatisfactory condition. It has not yet recovered from the unsettlement following the war. International trade shows signs of returning to normal conditions. Export trade is slowing down owing to the abnormal condition of foreign exchange which makes against purchases in our markets. There is no doubt but that foreigners want large quantities of the things we have to sell, both raw materials and manufacturers, but they haven't the money to pay cash for them, and must have long time credits. It is that fact which gives strength to the proposition for the United States to extend credits to foreign nations for a supply of raw materials and take our pay later in manufactured goods. It is claimed this would work for good in two ways. It would make a market for our wheat, cotton and meats, and it would help to put the foreign manufacturers on their feet, and make it possible for them to pay us so much earlier, what they owe us. Whatever may be thought of the political wisdom of joining forces with the European nations in any kind of a league or association, it is evident that our financial interests are inextricably interwoven, and must be worked out with a due regard for the interests of all. If we would trade with these war-stricken nations we must accept our pay in whatever they have to pay with, which is not cash at present. Nor can it be in goods, until they have been given time and materials for manufactures. Altogether it is a puzzling problem for our financiers.—Tampa Times.

A Little Love Story.
A dreamer and a man of action loved a woman. The dreamer said: "I shall write verses in her praise; they will touch her vanity and she will love me for them."
But the man of action said: "How old fashioned! I shall corner the stock market, and that will bring her."
So the dreamer wrote verses, and he induced a friend of his, who ran a ten-cent magazine to print them. And the man of action cornered something or other and became a millionaire.

In the meantime the girl married a man who inherited his money, and lived happy ever after.

But the dreamer was so proud of his verses that he didn't care; and the man of action was so busy that he didn't care.
The only one to suffer was the man she married.—Exchange.

Tells Joke on Herself.
The other morning when Mrs. B— had a new help, she accompanied her husband to the office as he was about to start on his day's work, she lovingly called to him: "Good-by, sweetheart." Soon after Mrs. B— and their little daughter went to the door with Mr. B—. He kissed the little one and said good-by to Mrs. B—. She, not wishing to be outdone by her happy neighbor, called to Mr. B— as he was half way down the walk: "Good-by, dear." Mr. B— turned around so quickly to look back at his wife that he stumbled and with difficulty kept on his feet. "I saw him shanking with surprised laughter as he went down the street," said the indignant Mrs. B.—

New American Industry.
Establishment of a new Eastern factory with 50,000 square feet of floor space, for the manufacture of artificial pearls from fish scale essence, marks the beginning of a new American industry, formerly dependent on imports from France, Germany and Italy, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The common herring is the base of supply for the iridescent material used, and removing it is an arduous task, because each scale, taken from certain parts of the fish, yields only a tiny speck of luster.

Suction Tube Unloads the Boat.
A big suction tube is used at Oakland, Cal., in the operation of unloading crafts of their cargo of copra. The material is thrown into the hold loose and the end of the tube is thrust down the hold. The material is light and the current of air readily picks it up and carries through the pipe to the bins on the wharf where it is stored. Copra is lighter than cork and comes from tropical countries.

If "hogs pay" so do turkeys. This assertion is proven every year by Mrs. G. W. Goff of Suwannee county, who makes a specialty of raising them for market, in which she is remarkably successful as she seldom misses marketing more than a hundred head.

The fifty-ton Bay City ditcher has arrived and is being assembled for use by the National Farm estate in digging ditches, drainage work and road work.

MICKIE SAYS

Porridge, a Tallman.

Porridge is what the Scots are brought up on; that and theology, and the curious thing is that only those who come from north of the Tweed know the secret of how to make it. The English have a breakfast dish made with oats, while the people of the United States are perfectly frank about it and call it "oatmeal." The Scots have been accused of being clanish, but it may be that they are only fond of their national dish. A traveler in Canada one morning alighted from the train at Scotia Junction. Did the name of the station and the pictures of Edinburgh castle and the Forth bridge in the little hotel bring back any happy memories? Perhaps, yes. Perhaps, no. Anyhow it was noticed that when he heard the quiet request, "Will yer hae some porridge?" a smile spread over his face. That settled it. The best must be a Scot.

Mean Advantage.
Chairman (of public banquet)—Gentlemen, before I introduce the next speaker, there will be a short recess, giving you all a chance to go out and stretch your legs.
Guest—Who is the next speaker?
Chairman—Before telling you who he is I would rather wait until you come back.—Life.

FINDS COBURN SHOW IS GOOD

If there is a theatre-goer that can sit through J. A. Coburn's Minstrels without shaking with both laughter and "jazz" he has a stone heart and hard muscles.
 There isn't a bad spot in the entire show from the time the curtain rises on the scene in the Alps until it drops on the oriental scene in the heart of Chinatown. To begin to pick out the stars is just like trying to pick them out of the heavens. Everyone starred, from Charley Gano down to the fellow that plays the second violin. Edward Clifford, Cleon Coffin, and Pat Byrne as interlocutors kept the first act full of "pep" all the while.
 Their modes of introducing the various entertainers was exceptionally clever. The cross-fire comedy between the interlocutors and the valets, Jordna, Horn, Ford, Turner, Clark, Johnson, Turner and Murry, kept the audience in laughter all the while.
 Charles Gano is just as full of fun and wit as ever and it didn't take the audience long to recognize "Charley" when he made his appearance. The singing of the double quartet composed of Clifford, Coffin, Brone, Pyrne, McAnnallon, Featheringill, Denton and Dolan was in reality "big time" stuff.
 The olio of minstrel vaudeville would have done justice to any of Keith's bills. The feature of the olio was easily the novelty acrobatic dancing of the Turner brothers. The singing of the "American Singing Sextette" was very well received by the audience and the boys were called to answer many encors.
 The Chinese fantasy, "The Fiesta of the Soocy Tonge," was exceptionally clever and won favor from the beginning. The action throughout this act was lively and extremely funny.—Exchange.

CRISPETTES AND DOUGHNUTS ARE GREAT

We had a chance to taste some of those fresh crispettes and doughnuts of the Booth Crispette Shop yesterday and both are great. The crispettes are fresh popcorn right from the machines that pour delicious syrup over the fresh corn and wraps four nice little rolls in a tissue paper package for you to eat and it is delicious. The doughnuts are just like mother used to make and are also delivered around the city fresh each evening. The idea of having these confections fresh each day and the idea of delivering them to you each day is another good idea. The Booth Crispette Shop is at the corner of Second street and Sanford avenue and ought to do a land-office business for they certainly have the goods. They also carry an advertisement in the Daily Herald from time to time. Try the crispette shop if you want something good.

GOOD WRESTLING MATCH HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

The fight fans will witness a good wrestling match tomorrow night between Jimmy Pierson, the light heavy-weight, and Billy Hoffman, the home boy, at the Princess theatre. Jimmy has been adding to his laurels in other parts of the state and comes to Sanford determined to lay Billy on his back in record time but Billy and his friends think differently and it may be the job of Jimmy's young life to even gain a decision over the home boy. The following report from Leesburg in the Times Union is interesting:
 LEESBURG, Dec. 28.—Here tonight, before a large and representative audience, in which a large sprinkling of the feminine sex made appearance, James Pierson, light heavy-weight champion wrestler of the United States and Canada, threw Fred Myers, known as "Young Aberg," of Tampa, in two straight falls well inside the time limit, the match being a handicap affair.
 Pierson secured the first fall in 3:39 and the second in 23:22, Young Aberg making a desperate effort after the first disaster to last the limit. He was too far out-classed, however, and lost.
 Fred Hoffman, light heavy-weight champion of Ohio, issued a challenge before the bout offering to take on the winner. It is expected that Pierson and Hoffman will get together in Jacksonville, Tampa or St. Petersburg.
 In the prelim, Young Ladke was victorious over Claude Bridges.

FELL FROM TRUCK

While riding on the truck of the Gillen-Fry Electrical Company, yesterday on Seventh street, a young electrician named Moon was thrown on the brick pavement when the truck made a sharp turn and sustained serious injury to his head. The young man was taken to the Fernald-Laughton hospital where he is receiving every attention. The injury to his head is a serious one but it is hoped that he will be able to be back on the job again within another week. It seems that he was talking to some of the other men on the truck and did not know it was rounding the curve at the intersection of the streets and had no chance to save himself from falling on the brick pavement. He came here several months ago from New York state and his friends are looking after him while at the hospital.

J. E. Worthington, who has been the successful business manager of the Tampa Times, has resigned his post to assume ownership of the Lake Wales Highlander—having purchased that property from Harry Gann, recently deceased.

Wagonload of watermelons made their appearance on the streets of Orlando Saturday and were gobbled up in short order by the eager purchasers. Watermelon out of season is on a par with winter baseball.
