Like Will Attend Meet At Annapolis

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower will attend his conference on fitness of American youth at Annapolis, Md., June 12, and close it with a speech.

The two-day conference originally was set for last fall but was postponed after Eisenhower suffered his heart attack.

The President plans to motor to Annapolis around 5 or 6 p. m. June 12, go to a barbecue, make an informal speech and return to the White House that evening.

Astronomers Going To Set Up Optical Fences Across Sky

SAN FRANCISCO — Astronomers are going to set up "optical fences" across the sky to observe the artificial satellites which will be whizzing around the earth a year or so hence.

Professionals as well as amateurs, equipped with instruments to be especially designed for the job, will form teams constituting the "posts" of the fence.

The instruments at each observation post on the ground will be set to cover a particular strip of sky. The angle of total vision in this strip would be possibly 20 degrees wide and about 104 degrees long. That will mean a width of about 100 miles and length of several times that at a height of 200 to 300 miles—the level the satellite is expected to follow.

Many such observation teams, placed along north-south lines, will make up several fences paralleling different meridians of longitude. The astronomers are counting on having enough observers so that many of them will see and track the satellite every day. They will be trained to give its time of appearance and fence-crossing time accurately within one second and its direction and altitude with similar precision.

Hundreds of such reports when put together are expected to yield fairly accurate data needed to help solve some of the elusive problems of earth and sky measurements.

These reports will be all-important, says Dr. Armand Spitz, co-ordinator of the observer program, in case the little radio transmitter in the satellite fails.

So long as the transmitter works it will broadcast intermittent signals which will yield a high-accuracy record of its motion. But the radio cannot be expected to operate for more than two weeks and it may fall even before that, Dr. Spitz said. And some of the satellites may keep going far longer than a fortnight.

Dr. Spitz, observer coordinator for the program, which is being supervised by the Smithsonian Institution, disclosed the plan to representatives of astronomical groups in this area. It will be a large-scale, country-wide operation, he said.

Observers will come mainly from such organizations as the astronomical league, the American Assn. of variable star observers, the Assn. of Lunar and Planetary Observers, the Western Amateur Astronomers and elements of the Civil Defense Ground Observer Corps.

First of all, Dr. Spitz reported, the observers will need a type of optical instrument not now available—a binocular with an extremely wide angle of view. He hopes for an instrument that will cover a field 20 degrees in diameter—about 40 times the width of the full moon. Most binoculars have fields of only about 3 degrees and the big telescopes covers areas even smaller than that.

Nobody will see a satellite twice exactly in the same place at the same time with each passage. The rotation of the earth will produce other apparent changes. It will be traveling in an approximate circle whose center will not be exactly the same as the earth's center. This will cause variations in its altitude. And it will be slowing down gradually. This will make a further slight difference in its position each time.

If the observers can cope with these variations they will pile up data that will help to give scientists some long-needed information. It will aid in making more

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Brown mud, a waste product in the process of extracting sumatra from bauxite is a good source of agricultural lime, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

When a white-topped and a black-topped car are parked together in the sun, the white-topped car may remain 15 degrees cooler inside.

U.S. deaths from communicable diseases listed among the 10 leading causes of death were 36 per cent of all 1955 deaths compared with 5 per cent from the same diseases today.

SRD Toll Projects May Revenue Given

TALLAHASSEE — May revenue from State Road Department toll projects Thursday was reported up from last year.

Sunshine Skyway toll booths took in $143,341 this May in comparison with $128,387 last May and 80,618 vehicles crossed the span.

The Pensacola beach bridge produced $13,837 in revenue compared with $11,078 a year ago.

The Mathews Bridge on the Jacksonville expressway took in $104,838, up from $80,012, and the Warren Bridge, also on the expressway, produced $46,438 in comparison with $43,380.

Buccaneer Trail revenue came to $15,917, up 14 per cent and the Franklin County ferry system produced $675. The Franklin ferries were not in operation last May.

Citrus Commission Approves Proposed Advertising Plan

LAKELAND — More than half the Florida Citrus Commission's 1956-57 advertising budget will be spent on television.

The commission Wednesday approved in principle a proposed $3,050,000 advertising program submitted by its agency, Boston and Bowles of New York. The budget committee was asked to give the program further study.

Here's how the money will be spent:

Television $1,571,000; radio $104,000; newspapers black and white advertising, $484,000; magazines and Sunday supplements $332,000; Canadian advertising and promotion $125,000; special projects in production and marketing $150,000.

Themes of the advertising program will be that Florida citrus is "low in calories and high in Vitamin C," and "Florida citrus is cheaper and you get more for your money than you do in bottled drinks."

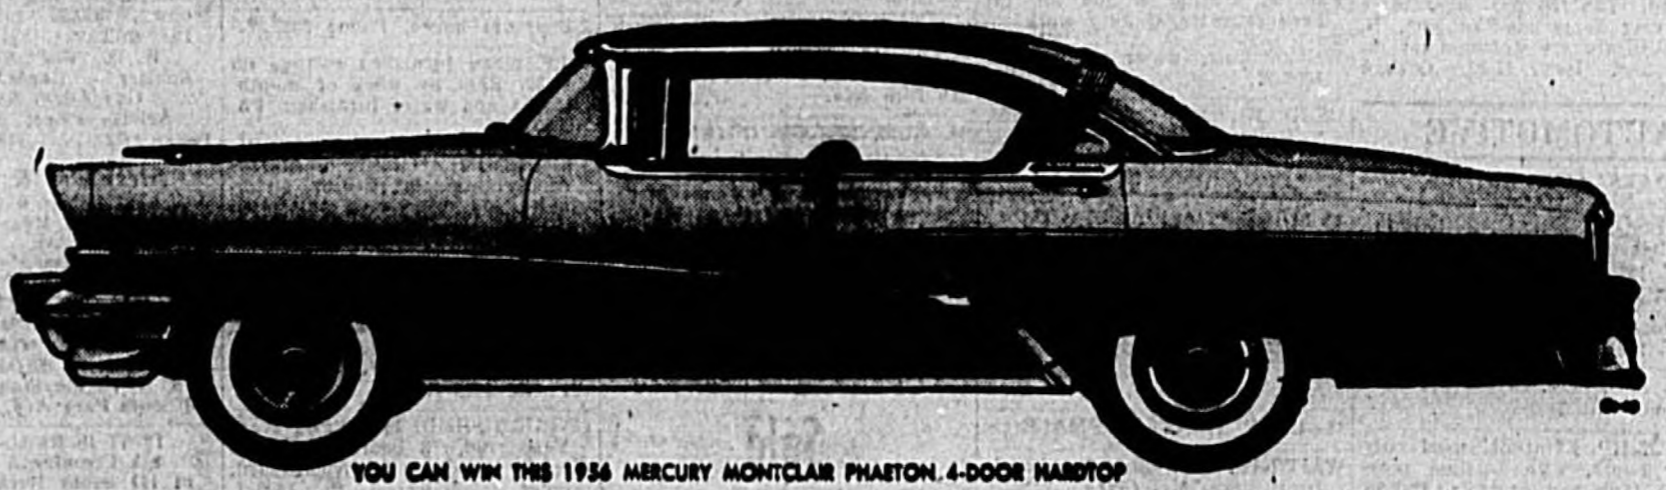

One of the aims will be to get the American family to drink fresh orange juice morning, noon and night.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Extended

Rev. C. L. Herron Receives Divinity Degree From Emory

Commencement for graduates of Emory's college was held June 7;

For graduates of the professional schools, June 8. Speaker at the June 7 exercises was James S. Pope, editor of the Louisville Courier Journal and Times. Ernest E. Allen, division chief of the National Institute of Health, addressed June 8 graduates.

Six honorary degrees were awarded, three at each exercise. Honorary doctorates were conferred on the two commencement speakers, the Rev. Anthony Hearn, the Rev. Nat. T. Long, the Rev. John Boswell Cobb and on Dr. Moses Hadas.

Among professional school graduates were a husband and wife, Mrs. E. C. Black Jr., Atlanta, Ga., both of whom received the M. D. degree. Two brothers, John Robert and John Morris Brackman, Marietta, Ga., received the bachelor of divinity degree.

Four graduates received the doctor of philosophy degree.

Rev., Mrs. Spear Will Attend 14th General Assembly

The Rev. and Mrs. Bob Spear, pastor and wife of the Sanford Church of the Nazarenes, left today for automobile for Kansas City, Mo., where they will attend the Fourteenth General Assembly, June 17-20. The Rev. Spear will also attend the General N. Y. P. S. Convention as a ministerial delegate from the Florida District, June 14-15.

During the convention days of June 14-16 the Church Schools Department, under the leadership of the Rev. Albert F. Harper, Ph. D., the N. Y. P. S. under the leadership of President Louise R. Chapman, and the N. Y. P. S. under the leadership of the Rev. Ponder Gilliland D. D. will be reviewing achievements of the quadrennium 1929-34 and formulating plans for the 1934-40 quadrennium.

Twelve thousand Nazarenes are expected to partake of Holy Communion Sunday morning June 17 prior to the business sessions which will follow for the next five days. Great evangelistic services are planned for the evenings which are expected to fill to capacity the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium.

The Rev. Jesse Brannon will conduct the Sunday services in the absence of the pastor.

Volunteer Fire Dept. Slates Meet

The Lulu Mary Volunteer Fire Department will meet tonight at the Lulu Mary School.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m., "sharp," according to the organization's president, A. L. Walter.

Only about 50 percent of the quota for Seminole County in the current drive for funds to support the Citrus Council Girl Scouts has been raised up to this date, Roy Holler, chairman of the fund campaign said today.

For this reason, said Holler, the campaign is being extended through the balance of this week in an attempt to reach the small quota that has been assigned Seminole County.

A special meeting of all persons interested in the Girl Scouts and the success of the organization in Seminole County has been called for tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House.

Contributions may be made to either of the two banks in Sanford the Sanford Atlantic National Bank or the Florida State Bank, Holler said today.

Many people have been calling on Seminole County citizens in the interest of raising funds for the Girl Scout organization. However, knowing that many have not been contacted, the campaign fund committee is appealing to all of those who have not been reached to make their contributions as soon as possible.

The success of the campaign here would mean the extension of Girl Scouting and the benefits of trained leadership for the present troops that might be organized within the county.

Seminole County would be a member of the Citrus Council Girl Scouts jointly with Osceola, Brevard and Orange counties.

Weiderhold Enters State FFA Speaking Contest At Confab

Public speaking heads the agenda today for more than 1,000 members of the Florida Future Farmers of America meeting in Daytona Beach for their annual five-day convention.

Among the speakers taking the platform today in the contest to decide the State's Top FFA speaker, he was named top speaker in the Central Florida contest earlier this year.

Other contests set for today include both harmonics and vocal quartets.

A tractor driving contest and the preliminary rounds of a softball tournament took up the first day's activities of the organization following the registration of the statewide group.

Softball League Plays 1st Game Of Season Tonight

The City Recreation Department's summer softball league gets underway tonight with the first game of the season.

The games will be played under lights at the softball diamond on the Lakewood in Fort Mellon Park.

Bake Sale Friday

The local Fleet Reserve Association Branch will sponsor a building fund bake sale Friday, June 15 at the Foodmart when wives of the Branch members will display their talents in various home bakings.

SHS Celery Feds Lose First Game In State Tourney

The Seminole High School Celery Feds baseball team was defeated in the first game of the State Tournament playoffs yesterday when they met the Gainesville baseball team at 3 o'clock.

The score was 1-0 with pitcher Jim Hawkins giving up only two hits during the seven inning game. Errors on the part of Hawkins teammates prevented the Celery Feds from taking the game.

John Wilcox, Gainesville High School pitcher, allowed only one hit to the Celery Feds which was a double by Samuels which threatened to allow the local baseball squad to come out on top.

Persons To Attend Otometric Meet

Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Persons and daughter, Julia, left for Miami this morning where Dr. Persons will attend the 50th Annual Congress of the American Otometric Association which will be held at the Hotel Seville in Miami Beach from Wednesday through Saturday.

U. S. daily optometry, geriatrics, reading, visual skills and social and health care trends are the subjects of the educational program for the Miami Beach Congress of the AOA.

While in Miami, Mrs. Persons will visit with her father, C. D. McIntyre, and sister Mrs. I. D. Cathey and family. They will return to Sanford on Sunday.

Board Of Education To Meet Tomorrow

The Seminole County Board of Education meeting has been set up one day and will meet tomorrow instead of Thursday morning at 10 a. m. at the Educational Building on Commercial Ave.

The meeting has been changed due to the fact that Seminole County Superintendent of Public Instruction, R. T. Milwee, will attend a State conference of School Superintendents in Gainesville Thursday and Friday.

Cleveland Named To Committee

Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., was yesterday appointed to the Interim Committee on Game and Fresh Water Fish.

The appointment was made by Speaker of the House Ted David.

8-Year-Old Is Killed Accidentally By Rifle De Bary Resident 'Rescues' G. Moore

An eight-year-old Negro boy was accidentally killed last night shortly after 7:30 when a .32-caliber rifle was fired by a playmate.

Willie Edward Lowery of 3824 Wells St. in Orlando, who was visiting his grandparents at 1006 Pecan Ave., died instantly when the rifle was fired in the hands of 11-year-old Robert Lee Randolph.

The bullet entered the chest of the youngster and came out at the left shoulder.

According to investigating officers, Captain Arnold Williams, and E. P. Holman, Joe Hickson and Carl Dodson, Willie Lowery found the rifle in a bedroom corner and began to play with it. Robert Lee, who had been taught to handle firearms gently, took the rifle away from the younger Negro and had rested in his arms in order to replace it.

According to the officers, Willie attempted to scare Robert Lee and jumped on him shouting "Bad, bad, bad." The rifle was subsequently and unintentionally squeezed.

Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galway and Justice of the Peace Hugh Duncan were called to the scene. JP W. Hugh Duncan impounded a coroner's jury which will conduct an inquest at a later date. Jurors sworn in were: G. W. Carver Jr., E. E. Skully, Roy Stinson, Leroy Hickson, Frank Takach, and George W. Morgan.

The accidental shooting took place at the home of S. H. Randolph, Robert Lee's grandfather who owned the rifle.

Funeral Is Today For Mrs. Fortier

Mrs. Mary Agnes Fortier, 57, died at Seminole Memorial Hospital Sunday night at 11 p. m. following an illness of eight months.

Mrs. Fortier was born in Lake Mary and August 1, 1866, and had lived in Sanford and Lake Mary all of her life.

She attended the Free Methodist Church in Sanford at Fourth St. and Laurel.

Mrs. Fortier is survived by her husband, J. T. Fortier Sr.; three daughters, Mrs. G. W. Arnold Jr., Mrs. C. S. Toston, and Mrs. D. W. Toston; and one son, J. T. Fortier Jr., all of Sanford; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. Eldon Kluge officiating.

Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery.

R. J. Ingram Sr. Succumbs Friday

Mr. Robert J. Ingram Sr., 66, passed away at 8:35 p. m. Friday following a lingering illness.

He was born in Cedar Key, on August 29, 1868.

Mr. Ingram was a retired farmer, a member of the Baptist Church of Cedar Key, and a World War I veteran.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Robert J. Ingram of Cedar Key; seven children: Mrs. Clara Belle Simmons, Chieftand; James A. Ingram, Monticello; Mrs. Ruth Jacob, Gainesville; Mrs. Minnie Lee Underwood, Tampa; William F. Ingram, Tokyo, Japan; Mrs. Viola Schickham, Cedar Key; R. J. Ingram Jr., Sanford; 11 grandchildren; and four brothers: William Ingram, Cedar Key; Charles Ingram, Lake City; Hugh Ingram, Clarke; and Luther Ingram, Clearwater.

Remains will be sent to Cedar Key for services and interment.

Weather

Partly cloudy through Wednesday, with widely scattered showers; low tonight 65-75.

Ordinance Passed Granting Franchise Despite Protests

Rotarians Induct 2 New Members; Applaud Patriot

Members of the Sanford Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting yesterday at the Yacht Club witnessed the induction of John Burton, classification Architect, and Thomas McDonald, classification Abstractor, by the father of the latter, Morton McDonald of DeLand, Past District Governor of Rotary International and presently president of the National Title Association. They also paid their tribute to an American of Italian heritage, Sam D'Ambrosia, who, for many years has been laying aside five cents a day for the privilege of being permitted to raise the American flag at his small grocery store at Five Points, here.

The large group of business and professional men rose spontaneously and applauded for a long time, the 68-year-old patriot who has received national acclaim for the daily act of respect to the flag and the annual mailing to the Treasurer of the United States of $12.25 for the privilege of enjoying the opportunities of an American citizen.

D'Ambrosia vowed when he came to this country as a youth from his native Italy, that he would try to be a credit to the land of his adoption and if he were permitted citizenship, he would daily raise the flag, salute it, and set aside a fund to be sent to his newly acquired country.

He saw to the mooring and then entertained Moore at the Yacht club for dinner where, to add to the interest of the event, young Debby and Darwin Bruce Jr. brought out their Florida pet, twin alligators, who did their bit for the evening's entertainment.

Boat, Ski Club Changes Meeting Date To Tomorrow

The Sanford Boat and Ski Club will hold its meeting tomorrow, Wednesday, night instead of Friday.

The group will gather in the City Commission room in the City Hall at 8 o'clock. The members will be notified later of the next meeting date, time and place. The public is cordially invited to these meetings.

Crooms Recreation Program Underway

The summer recreation program for Negro boys and girls got underway yesterday at Crooms Academy.

Children beginning at 7 years of age are invited to participate in the program at Crooms Academy and at Hopper Academy.

Hours for the complete program begin at 8 a. m. and end at 3 p. m.

The recreation for Negro children includes: swimming, arts and crafts, dancing, all types of sports, reading and story telling, and sewing.

Board Hears Objections

The ordinance granting the Florida Power and Light Company a franchise for 30 years in the City of Sanford was passed last night by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners despite a group who appeared at the meeting to enter protests.

Robert H. Fite, president of the FP&L explained, again, the franchise contract offered to the City of Sanford enumerating the benefits to the city.

Fite explained that the FP&L would pay the city of Sanford a sum of $75,000, an accrued balance that had accumulated since the citizens voted, in 1930, to grant a franchise. First payments to the city on the six per cent of gross revenues from commercial and residential users would amount to an estimated $32,000.

In addition, Fite said, the FP&L would pay the city a $200 a month rental on standby diesel motors at the high lift pumping station plus a sum of $18,500 with which the water pumps would be operated. This portion of the contract could be canceled by the city at the end of any five year period, Fite said, but not by the Florida Power and Light Company.

William A. Laffer spoke to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners and urged that they give additional study to the franchise and said "The (FP&L) are continually hounding to get the Sanford, Lake City and Arcadia franchises."

Laffer said "You had better talk rates."

The City was asked to make his remarks a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Randall Chase appealed to the Board of Commissioners to give further study to the franchise on the basis of several features "That I would like to call to your attention." He suggested "a careful study should be made by engineers for the protection of the citizens of the City of Sanford."

However, Fite came back with an explanation for every suggestion that had been presented to the Board of Commissioners and agreed to change wording of the franchise ordinance by letter in order to clarify the issue.

Fite agreed that the books of the Florida Power and Light Company were open for audit and examination when he said "Any of the figures or the books from which they come are open for examination. We will welcome any check."

H. H. Coleman, Division Manager for the Florida Power & Light Company revealed that there was a City Ordinance allowing the city to check the records of the company.

President Fite explained "The franchise in no way affects rates. The rates are subject to the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and we cannot regulate that right away."

Commissioner David Gatchel, in viewing his opinion to the audience attending the meeting and to the commissioners said, "In the event the City would spend anywhere from 10 to 20 thousand dollars for the franchise, we would lose all of the benefits offered."

Gatchel enumerated the monetary benefits that amounted to approximately 200 thousand dollars.

"Should we take such steps the Florida Power and Light Company would use every means available to nullify their position. Investigations for expert advice would be a distinct disadvantage," he said.

Parents Are Urged To Secure Polio Shots For Children

Florida is now receiving plenty of Salk vaccine to meet the demand, announces the Florida State Board of Health today, and parents whose children are not immunized against poliomyelitis are urged to secure this protection for them as soon as possible, through either their family doctor or from the Seminole County Health Department.

As of May 26, 1934, only approximately one-third of the total state population eligible to receive the Federal Salk vaccine, ages 6-15 years, have received one or more of the injections. Only one-fifth have received two injections.

"We feel that all children should have at least two shots of vaccine for good immunity," says Dr. James O. Bond, epidemiologist, Florida State Board of Health and for more complete protection they should have a total of three injections."

Figures just compiled by the State Board of Health show that as of June 1, 1934, there is an estimated 100,000 in the eligible age group (6-15 years) in the state. That of this 100,000 an estimated number of 100,000 have received only one injection; 37,500 have received two injections and only 52,500 have received three injections.

As the supply of Salk vaccine became more plentiful during the last three months, the maximum age limit for receiving the Federal vaccine was raised on May 15 from 15 to 18 years. There is no age restriction on vaccine purchased by the private physician from a commercial source.

To receive the immunization against polio, Dr. Bond says, "Go to your private physician or your county health department. We strongly urge those parents whose children have received no Salk vaccine to have them immunized with at least one shot immediately as the polio season is just getting started."

"We are happy," continues Dr. Bond, "that we are now receiving Salk vaccine in excess of current demand and we hope no child in the eligible age group will fail to receive this protection."

Jack Stafford, 83, Dies In Hospital

Mr. Jack Stafford, 83, died at Orange Memorial Hospital Saturday night at 7:25 p. m. following a three-year illness.

He had lived in Sanford for seven years coming here from New York City.

Mr. Stafford was born August 17, 1851 in New Haven, Conn. He made his home here at Higgins Terrace. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. W. Stafford of Sanford and one sister, Mrs. Emily O'Brien, Philadelphia, Pa.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. this morning at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. A. G. McInnis officiating.

Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary L. Strong Dies In Ft. Myers

Agents Discovering Stars These Days

HOLLYWOOD—Want to know who discovers movie stars these days? Despite what you may have heard about eagle-eyed producers, agents are the ones who do the discovering. It's unglamorous but true. Most of young hopefuls who are signed by the studios in Hollywood are not found in drive-in restaurants or soda fountains. They are brought to the studios by alert agents, interviewed, tested and signed.

Take Felicia Farr. The legend promoted about this lady-haired beauty was that she was lobbied by her studio while staying in a local eatery. "Not so," says Felicia. "A friend of mine was hostess at Dupar's Restaurant in the Farmers Market. She got sick and asked me if I would take over her job for a week so she wouldn't lose it. I wasn't working at the time, so I agreed to do it.

"It wasn't the studio that discovered me; it was as agent, Herbert Gold. He asked me if I would be interested in a film career. I thought it was the same old line, so I didn't take much notice."

The agent persisted. Felicia was not exactly a tyro, having done a bit of TV commercial in New York. "It was the Betty Furness type—always opening and closing refrigerator doors," she explained. Gold wanted to show her around at the studios, but held off until she began a play at a little theatre here. She played the Kim Novak role in "Picnic", and Columbia Pictures was mightily impressed. She was signed.

Sugar No. 1 Villain In Dental Health

(Following is the third in a series of articles published as a public service by The Sanford Herald in cooperation with the Seminole County Dental Society.)

The No. one villain in dental health is sugar. In fact, some dental scientists have declared that if America's sweet tooth grows much larger, we may become a nation without teeth.

Sugar is the most important factor in tooth decay. The relation of sugar to tooth decay has been well established by years of scientific research.

Dental scientists have shown that bacteria which leads to tooth decay require food that can be broken down quickly to form acids. Sugar supplies the answer. Sugars on the tooth surface are turned into decay-producing acids swiftly by these bacteria. There is no proof of any way to stop the formation of these acids.

Each time a child eats a sweet, the teeth are attacked by acids produced from the sugar. Sweets eaten between meals are particularly dangerous because each time the sweet is eaten, the decay process starts again.

The child who nibbles on candies, cookies and other sweets five or six times a day invites badly di-ever, such foods are invaluable so far as general health is concerned.

However, during the period when the teeth are developing within a child's jaw, they do require calcium in order to be properly formed and calcified. Proper diet also has a beneficial effect on the gum tissues and bone structures around the teeth.

Dental decay is chiefly a disease of childhood and adolescence. If the devastating effects of too much sweet food can be avoided during this period, these young people will have far less dental ills than their elders.

If a growing child ate as much according to his weight as a growing bird he would consume three lambs and a calf in a day.

Parking Lot Adjacent To County Court House Would Be Convenient

We had an idea the other day—one that would eliminate a lot of griping—enhance the value of the Lake front boat ramp—and allow more people to do business conveniently in the Seminole County Court House and the Sanford City Hall.

There's a large area of property adjacent to the Seminole County Court House being wasted at the present time since it is used only for a lawn and shrubs.

Both sides of Park Avenue, in front of the Court House, Court House lawn and in front of the City Hall are being used for all-day parking by City and County employees as well as others who leave their cars during business hours.

A goodly portion of the parking space of the Court House is used by cars of the Sheriff's Department in order that they may be available for immediate use in emergencies.

Our suggestion is that this space, now used only as a lawn, could jointly be turned into a parking area—the entire space paved and marked off for off-street parking and open to the public.

Even this area, in time to come, will not be large enough to take care of the parking burden in the downtown shopping and business district.

In creating this huge parking lot, an area could be reserved for the cars of the Sheriff's Department, the Constable's car, and other emergency or City-County business cars—and still be as convenient to their offices as the present spaces being used along Park Avenue.

Naturally, with such an area available, both City and County employees would have ample parking space leaving several hundred spaces for automobiles of those using the ramp into the river located nearby opposite this area.

Inasmuch as the cars parked now in the spaces along Park Avenue would be parked off-street—the entire parking facilities along Park Avenue would be available for short-time parking for those who would like to take care of their business in the City Hall and County Court House.

The cost of the project—that of paving the present Court House lawn area and turning it into an off-street parking lot—would be minute in comparison to the amount of good space a parking area would be to both the City and the County.

We are reasonably sure that the City of Sanford and Seminole County could get together and work out the details—in short order—for creating a parking lot that will serve thousands of people and their automobiles.

In looking to the future—the concrete ramp that is now being completed near the seawall that will create a proposed boat basin will be used by thousands of sportsmen and boaters from all over Central Florida. Already, hundreds of people are using the area—or had been using it until construction began on the concrete ramp. Now—hundreds more will be attracted to Sanford and Lake Monroe creating not only a problem for the parking of cars but also a problem to furnish these sportsmen with ample facilities for procuring gasoline, food, and other supplies necessary for a day's or several day's outing on Lake Monroe.

With the causeway becoming more and more possible within a few short months—and the water becoming calm from the construction of it across the lake—Sanford and Seminole County will become a mecca for those who "take to the water" every day in search of fun and recreation.

Boating enthusiasts have already expressed their opinion as to the number of boats that will be launched from the new Sanford Boat ramp and have also forecast boats and skiffs on Lake Monroe. Sanford Boat ramp and have also forecast a surging interest in the operation of sailboats and skiffs on Lake Monroe.

Another view to take in making plans for providing ample parking space for visiting, as well as hometown automobiles, would be toward the huge island that will be shown in the two islands that will be constructed for picnics, fishing, boaters, swimmers, and those just looking for recreation.

We would like to call on the two commissions, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners and the Seminole County Board of Commissioners to get together at an early date to work out possible plans for the creating of a new parking lot adjacent to the Court House. We're not speaking of "just a portion" of this area, but the entire area from the Court House to Seminole Boulevard.

Just an example of how such a parking lot would be used could be taken from the present Municipal Parking Lot picture last week-end. Every parking space was taken, the lot was full, and traffic on First Street was still heavy and parking stalls controlled by parking meters at a premium.

Certainly we must realize that the finger of interest and enthusiasm is being pointed now at Sanford and Seminole County because of the many opportunities available here. Unlike any other Central Florida City, Sanford and Seminole County, has much to offer in recreation, industry, home ownership and business. Our plans should be in the making now to take care of the influx in visitors, in popularity, and in automobile traffic.

With careful consideration of the needs of both the City and the County, and with devoted cooperation toward working out the problems that confront the two, jointly—we will be able to take care of every situation that develops.

As the City and County grow—so should our facilities be increased to take care of not only the present—but the potential enlarging and growth.

CUT WORM

U. S. Capitol Not Falling Down

By ROGER D. GREENE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Unlike London Bridge—and contrary to a warning once issued by former President Truman—the United States Capitol is not falling down.

A long disputed facelifting operation is now in the works, however, amid outraged cries from critics. Blasted by fire set by British troops in 1814 and rocked by a gas explosion in 1928, the 168-year-old original structure today is chipping away in chunks. Some newly fallen slabs weigh as much as two or three pounds.

Moreover, experts say the historic shrine is out of whack, architecturally speaking, and part of the great white-painted dome appears to be floating in mid-air.

One side of the famous superstructure actually does project into space without direct support from the ground.

The "skirt" of the 4,455-ton cast iron dome juts out 15 feet 9 inches beyond the front wall of the central portion, between the Senate and House wings, and overhangs the east (front) portico where thousands of sightseers enter the halls of Congress daily.

Hidden beneath the skirt is an ingenious system of iron brackets and cast-iron levers, but nevertheless, an ex-President Truman complained, the illusion remains that the huge mushroom-shaped landmark leans to the steady on its pines and might do a lumpy-sumpy.

"The dome," Truman wrote, "is about a foot or two out of plumb and one of these days it will probably come crashing down, which will be a pity."

Officials scoff at such a possibility, but just to be on the safe side, engineers examine the dome twice a year for any danger signals.

Meanwhile, Capitol custodians are frankly delighted at the speedy appearance, which has overtaken the weather-beaten facade. Hunks of paint nearly an inch thick, often accompanied by slabs of rotten sandstone, are peeling off and falling to the ground with increasing frequency.

Since 1928 about 20 coats of paint have been applied to brighten the central structure's gray stone in harmony with the marble of the Senate and House wings. The original building was constructed of some creek sandstone from a quarry owned by George Washington. Some experts say the sandstone front is disintegrating.

The dome itself is now being scraped and painted—a job carried out every four years to make ready for the next inauguration. It takes 1,000 gallons of oil-white paint and this year costs $4,302.

Fairly to remedy old flaws—and to provide more elbow room for the nation's crowded lawmakers—a three-man commission of architects has begun work on recommendations for a multimillion-dollar project to rip out the crumbling front wall and extend the portico perhaps 25 feet eastward. The original walls are as much as 7 feet 9 inches thick in some places.

Congress finally authorized the extension project last year, clogging a controversy dating back to Civil War days. It earmarked five million dollars to get it started.

Among other things, tentative plans call for construction of an underground hydrogen bomb shelter—known officially as "security vault"—plus a two-level subterranean garage, a new congressional restaurant, and additional storage and office space.

The commission expects to submit its recommendations before Congress adjourns this summer. The project may take around three years to complete.

Bitter disputes about revamping the face of the Capitol have erupted intermittently ever since Thomas U. Walter, who served as Capitol architect during the Civil War, wrote in his 1853 report to Congress.

"The eastern portico of the old building will certainly be taken down at no very distant day, and the front be extended eastward."

It was Walter, incidentally, who supervised construction of the great iron dome replacing the small wooden dome which capped

Mister, Are You Boss In Family?

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you the boss in your family, mister?

If you are, you are an unusual husband and father. It is getting harder and harder in our time for a man to act the role of the family boss. The former lord of the manor has become something of a mouse in his own house.

Some psychologists say it is a good thing that father is no longer the final boss. They believe the modern family doesn't need a boss, that authority and responsibility can be shared.

Maybe so, but I doubt it. You can't run a railroad or any other business without a boss, and I suspect the same thing is true of a family. A family, of course, isn't a business—but it has to be a going concern, and it needs someone at the head of it who, in a crisis, can make a final decision to which the others agree.

It is fashionable in literature now to picture the old-fashioned father as a tyrant who often inflicted his will on his family in a selfish manner, who ruled by fear more than by love.

But is this portrait true? I suspect it to be false. I believe that most old-fashioned fathers held their authority because their children both loved and respected them.

The trouble with the modern father is that he often is either too spineless or lazy to assume the proud family role nature intended him to take. No wonder his children treat him like a harmless middle-aged fossil. That's what he is.

I had an old-fashioned father. He and my mother married young and had five children. While Mama ran the house, there was never any doubt about who was the final boss—it was Dad.

I can still remember how on a summer night my children used to urge hopheads to hop-race across the street under the lamplight, worrying that if we touched them our fingers would break out in warts.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Dad would take his foot off the front porch banister and stand up the tallest tower of my lifetime—and beat his palms together like thunderclaps.

"Whap! Whap! Whap!" there was no missing his beat time summons. It could be heard for two blocks. Dogs and children might growl or grumble, but they all headed for home and slumber.

There was no whining or grumbling about it. It wouldn't do any good. Before kneeling in his old-fashioned long underwear and saying his nightly prayer, Dad checked to see that every kid was under his covers and the lights were out. He thought all children should sleep in their own homes, and we were never allowed to stay overnight with neighbors. Most of us never slept away from home until we left home forever.

My wife and I have only one child, Tracy Ann, who will be three this month. For some reason, while Tracy is very fond of me, I have no more authority over her than a piece of wet string.

I can't convince her she is too young to be a night owl.

One night recently, trying to recollect her tale the idea that had been a wren and life would start tomorrow, I told Tracy Ann about my father. I told her how in the long ago, on summer nights, he would stand there straight and tall on the wooden porch and beat his echoing palms together and summon his scattered tribe to the shelter of his roof.

"Like this?" asked Tracy. She beat her two small hands together pat-pat-pat-pat.

"Come to bed, Daddy. Right now."

Well, sir, believe it or not, I want to bed.

2nd Illness Causes Voters To Think

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's second physical crisis in nine months will force voters to think again of what they asked themselves the first time: Should he be given another four-year term?

The question does not arise out of lack of confidence in Eisenhower's honest opinion of what he thinks is best for himself and the country. He has said he will frankly say if he's not up to another four years.

But he is a man of 61, carrying the enormous burden of the presidency. He would turn 70 before the end of a second term. He has had two major illnesses within three months: a heart attack and an intestinal block.

Because of the great public liking for him and trust in his judgment, questions about his physical fitness quelled down once he said after the heart attack that he felt he could stand another four White House years.

But now, in view of this second illness, voters cannot help asking themselves: This question, even though he may again say he feels able to run for re-election: Are these two illnesses so close together simply accidents that could happen to any man? Or are they signs of a physical weakness under the stress and strain of the presidency that may be repeated?

Eisenhower himself said: "The possibility of my being able to do the job of the President is a question that I must be constantly reminded to avoid answering. I am sure that the doctors have said to me that I am not up to another four years."

—counting 24 months after his heart attack—that for 4 1/2 months in a year he could not function fully.

The doctors have said there is no connection between the two illnesses, and they have been almost enthusiastically optimistic about his ability to run again. And Eisenhower has shown remarkable recuperative powers.

In fairness to himself and to the country he probably will wait until he is back on his job full-time before saying for the second time whether he will try for re-election. That will be mid-July. Until then he will leave Democrats and Republicans with their tongues hanging out—but wagging—in opposite directions, the Republicans knowing their best hope is Eisenhower, the Democrats knowing their best hope is anybody else.

MRS. JOSEPH PAUL STINE

Joan Lemke, Paul Stine Speak Vows In Gainesville Chapel

Miss Joan Inez Lemke and Joseph Paul Stine were united in marriage recently at the Iona Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, Gainesville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lemke, formerly of Jacksonville, now of Miami Springs, and Mr. Stine is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Stine, Orlando, and formerly of Sanford.

The Rev. I. B. McDonald, cousin of the bride officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

Miss Bobby Sue Yates, soloist was accompanied by Horace Arington, organist, in a program of traditional wedding music. "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and the "Alpha Chi Omega Sweetheart Song," the young couple's fraternity and sorority, were played.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white gown of antique taffeta featuring re-embroidered panels of lace extending into a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of illusion was attached to a pearl-studded tiara and she carried a bouquet of white roses, fashioned into an old-fashioned nosegay with white streamers. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Robert Stine served as his brother's best man and another

All Souls School Graduates Honored With Reception

After the first graduation exercises from the ninth grade held recently at the close of All Souls Parochial School, the graduates upon receiving their diplomas in All Souls Catholic Church, were entertained with a reception on the school grounds of the Catholic Woman's Club.

The graduates were seated informally on white wrought-iron chairs and settees in a lovely garden setting.

Nearby was an iron trellis under a huge oak tree where the students appeared in their order to read the class "will" and "promise" and made other remarks pertaining to their school life.

Miss Cynthia Roumillat was the announcer and other members of the class taking part on the program were Miss Diane Moya, Miss Carolyn-Mikels, Miss Angelyn Graves, Miss Joanne Kennedy, Eddie Rincovitch, Kelly Lake, Terry Stafford and Billy Teale.

After the singing of the school songs and remarks by Father Richard J. Lyons, the graduates, their families and friends were served refreshments from a daintily appointed table with Mrs. Robert Bauman, president of the club presiding.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a linen and lace cloth, the central arrangement being a cut-glass vase holding lovely gardenias. Other appointments were in silver and crystal.

Mrs. Ann Jansen presided over the first graduating class register. A pretty flower arrangement on the table was a bowl of blue hydrangeas emphasizing the class colors of blue and white in the flowers used for the occasion.

Mothers of the graduates served as floating hostesses and others assisting Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, chairman for the reception were Mrs. Helen Constantine and Mrs. W. O. Livingston.

The parochial school is staffed by the sisters of Christian Charity, who had as their guests for the occasion, sisters of the same order from Winter Park.

M. Von Herbulis Weds J. Wiggins In Lovely Ceremony Saturday

The All Souls Catholic Church was the scene Saturday at 6:30 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Margaret Mary Von Herbulis to Jack Lee Wiggins.

Miss Von Herbulis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Von Herbulis and Mr. Wiggins is the son of Mr. Sidney Dillon Wiggins and the late Mr. Wiggins.

The Rev. Father Richard Lyons officiated at the lovely double-ring ceremony and Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, organist, and soloist rendered "Ave Maria" and "Mother At Your Feet is Kneeling."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of bridal satin with a chapel train. The dress featured a fitted bodice yoke of nylon net edged with a ruffle of net and sprinkled with pearls and rhinestones. The long sleeves ended in points over the hand and daisies centered with rhinestones joined the bodice to the skirt. The gown had been worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. R. W. Anthony. The fingertip veil featured a tiera of rhinestones and pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Mrs. Wiggins' bouquet was a white orchid on a prayer book with white satin streamers showered with orange blossoms and stephanotis.

Mrs. R. W. Anthony, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a pink and white ballerina length gown of organdy eyelet. She wore a demi-hat with pink roses on either side and carried a colonial nosegay of roses.

Carl L. Von Herbulis served as best man and James L. Von Herbulis and Robert W. Von Herbulis acted as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Von Herbulis chose a pink Irish linen sheath dress featuring a pointed scalloped neck line with pink and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and sweetheart roses.

A reception was held following the wedding in the church annex. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and a crystal punch bowl was used. On the center of the table was an arrangement of white and pink and babies breath. Three white candles were placed on each side. The couple cut a three-tiered wedding cake.

Those assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. W. H. Kramer, Mrs. R. W. Von Herbulis, Mrs. L. T. Sheppard, Mrs. O. R. Meredith and Mrs. J. L. Von Herbulis. The bride's book was kept by Miss Dorothy Teale and Miss Sadie Soderblom.

For a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins went on a short

De Bary News

Laura Platt Brown, the well-known musician of De Bary, is attending a Piano Workshop in Jacksonville at the Seminole hotel this week. This is sponsored by the State Music Teachers Association which holds two others in June; at Miami, June 9 and at Tampa, June 15. Dr. G. Halverson, president of the National Piano Teachers Assn. and John Fulton of the American Music Conferences will teach in the Jacksonville class.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Healy have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Mulcahy, her husband and three children of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Einar Tideman are visiting old friends in Eau Gallie for the week end and in Fort Pierce for the remainder of the trip.

Mrs. Daniel Pugh is leaving this week for a vacation in Utica, N. Y. where she will have her first glimpse of a new grandson. She will stop, also, at Pensacola to attend exercises where her son, Dr. Daniel Pugh, flight surgeon, will receive his wings.

This has been a week of mishaps in De Bary. Mrs. Robert Cox lost a tuxedo with the top steps of her porch; this after a long bout in the Seminole Hospital because of another ankle broken in an auto accident. Mrs. Wallace Gabler caught her foot in a rug and connected with the mahogany edge of a couch. Mrs. Arne Erickson fell through a doorway and broke an ankle bone.

Personals

Mrs. W. P. Vesley has returned from St. Louis, Mo., after visiting friends and relatives. She had "a nice time but glad to get back home."

Mrs. Stella Moore has returned home from a visit with her sister in Orlando.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings L. Taylor of Williamsburg, Va., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gallagher. Mrs. Taylor is head of the hostess department for the Williamsburg Restoration. Airman 3e John L. Amann who is stationed at Peppercall Air Force Base, St. Johns, Newfoundland, is home on leave after completing a year flying as radio operator on AC-46s throughout the North East Air Command.

Fill cleaned peach halves with mineral acid and heat in the oven. Serve with roast loin of pork when you're having company.

Pickens, Hopkins Rites Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Pickens announce the marriage of their daughter, Mabel Jane to Walter Roy Hopkins Saturday, June 16, at 7 p.m. The wedding will take place at the First Methodist Church.

All friends of the family are invited to attend.

Two OES Members To Receive 'Grand Cross Of Color'

The Chapter room of the Order of the Eastern Star was beautifully decorated to carry out a color theme of red and white, the chosen colors of the Worthy Matron at the meeting held Thursday night at the Masonic Temple.

Large baskets of red and white gladioli graced the East and West. The impressive meeting was conducted by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. P. H. Wyatt.

Five out-of-town visitors were introduced and welcomed by the Worthy Matron, P. H. Wyatt.

It was announced that the Rainbow girls would hold a grand Assembly in Orlando June 21-22. At this time Mrs. P. H. Wyatt, Worthy Matron and Mrs. J. H. Anderson Jr., Junior Past Matron, will receive "Grand Cross of Color" the highest honor that can be bestowed on a person for active duty of Rainbow.

Mrs. H. P. Holtzclaw gave a report on the changes made by the Grand Instructor at the School of Instruction held in May.

Mrs. J. H. Bilbrey also gave a very interesting report of the meeting held in Daytona Beach honoring all secretaries.

It was decided to hold the Robert Morris Picnic August 29, the date to be announced at a later date.

The next meeting will be Father's night.

At the social hour visitors and members were invited into the dining room by Mrs. R. V. Thompson and her committee for refreshments.

The dining room was beautifully decorated. The table was covered with a white linen cloth and in the center was a beautiful arrangement of red and white roses sprinkled with baby's breath. An assortment of sandwiches, nuts, mints, cup cakes and cakes was served.

Cook a package of frozen mixed vegetables and drain. Add the liquid you drain from the vegetables to milk and make a medium white sauce. Mix the vegetables, the white sauce and sliced cooked ham or chicken; or replace the meat with flaked salmon or tuna. Spoon into a shallow baking dish, cover with tiny cubes of bread mixed with butter and roset in a moderate or hot oven. Good supper dish.

MISS BEVERLY KAY BENTON

Engagement Is Revealed Today Of Miss B. Benton, J. Douthitt

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Benton of this city are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly Kay, to Joe C. Douthitt, son of Mrs. Mills Douthitt of Batesville, Arkansas.

Miss Benton, born in Sanford, attended local schools, graduating with the class of '53 from Seminole High School. She is now employed by the Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

Mr. Douthitt received his education in Arkansas, graduating from Little Rock Senior High School in the class of '50. He plans to attend Eleton University this fall.

Plans for the wedding will be announced by the couple at a later date.

Political Future Of Symington Is Shrouded By 'His'

(Advances for Sunday June 11)
WASHINGTON (AP)—The political future of the rangy, handsome, live wire junior senator from Missouri is shrouded by "his."

Smart Symington will say yes—the Democratic Party gets around to asking him to run for president.

There's a possibility he might be asked "if" neither Adlai E. Stevenson nor Sen. Estes Kefauver has been able to win the nomination.

But the Democrats want somebody who will unite the party and serve as a rallying point, the Missouri State Democratic committee says it has the right man.

So far, his home state support has not infused the Democratic Party generally. There is no over-riding clamor for Symington.

Nevertheless, talk of the senator as a compromise, dark horse possibility has been perking among some party professionals ever since Stevenson's defeat in the Missouri Primary.

Stevenson and some of his key lieutenants have been inclined to consider Symington a more serious threat than Kefauver.

In 1952 Symington was a political novice making his first bid for an elective public office. He impressed voters pulling power that showed the pros in both parties as he fought his way into the Senate.

In the primary, Symington bowed over the Democrats for whom President Truman said he would vote. In the general election, he outran the national ticket, backed the Eisenhower tide, and became the only Democrat to defeat a Republican senator.

His Missouri boosters figure he would be strong with organized labor and farmers and ought to command a following among businessmen and independent voters.

That's on the basis of his background: Although his father practiced as a lawyer, the family was essentially pinched at times. Symington was a 60-a-week office boy at 13, during summer vacations; a machine shop apprentice at 14; one of the Army's youngest second lieutenants at 17. In his 20s he was piling up a fortune in radio, stainless steel and electrical companies—shaky firms he took over and lifted to their feet.

Symington shared profits with his workers at Rochester, N. Y., Baltimore and St. Louis. No union ever authorized a strike in any of his plants.

Follow Missourians say his support of high, rigid farm price supports makes him popular with the farmers. They say he ought to appeal to independent voters because he has shown some independence himself.

In 1940, for example, Symington voted Republican because "I didn't believe in three terms" for President Roosevelt. He quit as the nation's first secretary of the Air Force because he didn't think the Truman administration was giving air power enough support.

Almost from the start, the Missouri senator has been hammering the Eisenhower administration on his contention it has put economy ahead of an adequate national defense.

On the racial issue, Symington carefully avoids going beyond the statement that the Supreme Court has exercised its responsibility of declaring "the principle of the law regarding segregation" and:

"I realize people in the South and many areas of the North, too, have a very difficult problem of adjustment but I have confidence they are going to manage it, and manage it well in the true American tradition."

The senator has a Negro typist-clerk on his staff.

He never shies away from a scrap, although he isn't exactly top as a rough and tumble debater. Symington concedes he is the golden tongued orator.

He says he is in fine health and he looks it. But a political opponent probably would dig up the fact he had a major operation for hypertension some years ago. The senator says it was a complete success.

Symington is 6 feet 2 and a lean 200 pounds. He is sandy-haired and blue-eyed, with more of a youthful look than his 34 years would seem to allow. His clothes have an expensive cut.

He is effervescent, restless, full of confidence.

Massachusetts born, Maryland raised, he has a Virginia ancestry on his mother's side. A grand-uncle charged with Pickett at Gettysburg.

Symington moved to Missouri

Dentist Is Child's Friend

(This article is published as a public service by The Sanford Herald in cooperation with the Seminoles County Dental Society.)
The dentist is the child's friend—a friend who wants to help the youngster have a healthy mouth. If a child from the time he is two or three is taught good dental health habits and informed early that trips to the dentist can be interesting and worthwhile experiences, he will be a good patient.

The first trip to the dentist should come soon after the child's primary or first teeth are in, between the ages of two and three. Whether the dentist does little or nothing on the first trip except make friends is not too important.

It is suggested that the talking be left to the dentist. Many members of the dental profession suggest that the parents stay out of the dentist's operating room while the child is receiving treatment.

On a child's first trip, the dentist usually shows the youngster about, explaining in simple language the various instruments and equipment. Children frequently are introduced to dental procedure by having their teeth cleaned.

Some dentists make certain recommendations for parents about a child's first visit. For instance, they strongly advise mothers against "brining" a child into going to a dentist for the first time. He can be rewarded afterwards—perhaps for being such a good soldier.

It has also been suggested that if possible the mother take the child with her on a dental appointment of her own so the youngster can become familiar with the surrounding and can meet the dentist in advance of his own appointment.

Introduction of the child to the dentist in this manner will do much to eliminate feelings of apprehension that may lead a boy or girl to insist on postponing needed dental services.

Dental health education for the parents is a very important aspect of that first visit. Parents must learn that care and treatment for the child's primary teeth are just as important to health as the proper care for the permanent teeth.

Dental neglect can reduce chewing efficiency and result in impaired health. Unhealthy teeth can detract from personal appearance. Neglect of first teeth can also result in irregular permanent teeth.

Visits to the dentist, beginning early, are a guarantee of mouth health, even in the very young, and, most important, are a substantial assurance of lifelong dental health.

Miami Trade Mission Back

MIAMI (AP)—The Miami trade mission returned Tuesday after a 24-day goodwill tour of South America.

The group, headed by Randall Christmas, mayor of Miami, sought to promote the shipping of Latin American goods through Miami.

The trade mission visited Caracas, Venezuela; Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, Brazil; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montevideo, Uruguay; Santiago, Chile; Lima, Peru; Quito, Ecuador; Bogota, Colombia, and Panama City, Panama.

Christmas commented, "I think we made a lot of new friends and I'm sure our industries as well as our tourist business will benefit from our tour."

In 1926 he led the Emerson Electric Manufacturing Co. to the top of the list in the Yale Graduate. He won a letter in tennis but hasn't had a racket in hand for a dozen years. He still plays golf at times in the expert '70s—and he likes to shoot and fish if he can find time. He used to collect books but has gotten away from that.

Mrs. Symington, a one-time "society singer" at a fancy salary, is the daughter of the late James Wadsworth, who was a Republican senator and congressman from New York. The Symingtons have two sons, both lawyers, one in New York, one in St. Louis.

Military Defense Spending Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spending for military defense over the 15-year period extending to 1955 may total more than half a trillion dollars—even with the nation at peace.

This is more by many billions than was spent in the previous decade and a half—which included fighting World War II.

From fiscal year 1951 through 1955—if the current spending rate continues—the cost of rearming for the jet-atomic age will be about $284 billion dollars. This period also includes the years of the Korean War.

That estimate will be spending by the Defense Department. The figure does not include the cost of nuclear weapons. The Atomic Energy Commission has not disclosed what part of the approximately 14 billion spent for this over-all program to date involves weapons, but it is known the great bulk of that total has been for weapon development and production.

High defense officials have stated that a critical need for military readiness probably will mean that the current annual rate of military spending—about $5 billion dollars—will be required well into the future, unless there is a change in world conditions resulting in either disarmament or another war.

Moreover Secretary of Defense Wilson has said that continued

improvements in technology and weapons "will tend to increase costs unless offsetting savings can be found."

Defense Department spending in the last six years through June 30, 1956 is estimated at $13 billion. That does not include such items as foreign military aid nor public works projects such as rivers and harbor development. An annual spending rate of $5 billion from 1956 through 1965 would add another $15 billion to the total—to boost it above the half trillion mark.

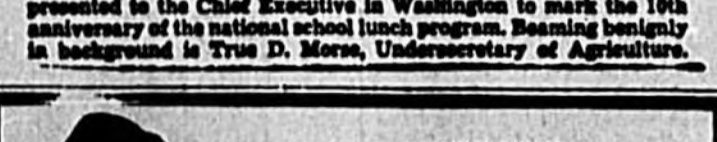

For the 15-year period beginning with 1936 records show a total expenditure of $44,249,000,000. This figure does not include the lend-lease program of the war years, but does include public works projects under the big economic recovery program of the later 1930s.

The bigger cost now arises out of two primary factors:

1. The price tag on weapons is higher. The cost of material and labor for weapons production has gone up, like everything else.

2. The weapons with which World War II was fought were relatively simple by today's standards.

Radio-TV Highlights

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—"I've never seen a television program," the bishop said. "But I'm most interested."

He was an Anglican bishop, going home to England by slow stages after several years of service in Africa. He was a cheerful man. Healthy too, but rather deaf.

The conversation began while he was drinking tea at an adjoining table in a Naples hotel. We never would have mentioned television if the concierge had not strode in, long coat tails flying, and turned on the hotel's TV set with a flourish.

There came music, the prelude to "La Traviata," but the screen was blank. The bishop adjusted silver-rimmed spectacles on his nose and looked, perplexed at the empty screen. Then he remarked wistfully on wanting to see a TV program.

I told him I'd seen many TV programs in America, though none in Europe. In fact, I said somewhat archly, at home I was paid to view television and criticize what I saw—a career that had left me with vast indifference to viewing TV on a European vacation.

"Then you repair television machines," the bishop said, interested.

"Oh no," my wife said quickly. "He's very clumsy and—"

But the bishop, his deaf ear turned to her, said to me, "perhaps you could bring the picture on the machine."

Feeling that the bishop deserved better than a blank screen, I went to the set and began turning the dial. The screen remained blank, but "La Traviata" roared louder. "These foreign makes are different," I shouted.

The concierge hurried in and turned down "La Traviata" and remarked in English that the television would not begin for 15 minutes.

"Then I'll have some more tea and wait for it to begin," said the bishop. "Won't you join me? I'd

Florida Receiving Plenty Of Vaccine

JACKSONVILLE—The Florida State Board of Health said today Florida is now receiving plenty of Salk Vaccine to meet the demand and urged parents of children who have not been immunized against poliomyelitis to obtain this protection as soon as possible.

Only about one-third of the state's children up to 19 years old eligible to receive the federal Salk vaccine have been given one or more injections, the board said. Only one-fifth have received two.

"We feel that all children should have at least two shots of vaccine for good immunity," said Dr. James G. Zond, epidemiologist of the board of health, "and for more complete protection they should have a total of three injections."

Figure compiled by the State Board of Health show that on June 1 there was an estimated population in the eligible age group (0-19 years) in the state of 1,254,369. Of these an estimated 108,603 have received only one injection; and only 33,140 have received three.

The maximum age limit for receiving the federal vaccine was raised on May 13 from 15 to 19 years. There is no age restriction on vaccine purchased by the private physician from a commercial source.

To receive the immunization against polio, Dr. Zond advised parents to go in their private physician or county health department.

"We strongly urge those parents whose children have received no Salk vaccine to have them immunized with at least one shot immediately as the polio season is just getting started," he said.

McKibbin New CofC President

Clifford McKibbin, a member of Carraway and McKibbin, Sanford insurance firm, was elected president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce by the new Board of Directors at their meeting last night.

Other officers named were: Don Bales, vice president and Robert Bauman, treasurer. Additional members of the executive committee are: J. Bralley Odham, W. A. Patrick, and Earl Higginbotham.

Prior to the election of new officers and meeting of the new Board of Directors, a National and Legislative Affairs report was made by Senator Douglas Stenstrom.

Stenstrom recommended that three study groups be set up to consider three divisions of the Hoover Commission Report and to make their report and recommendations for action to the Board of Directors.

President Touhy requested Stenstrom set up and name the committees.

Don Bales, chairman of the chamber's Industrial Committee advised the directors that prospect had been submitted to the Howard Hughes project supervisor in Florida and that they had made several contacts with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and were vitally interested in a locale proposed in this area.

It was also reported by Bales (Continued On Page Three)

Stenstrom Favors Government Granting More For Fly Battle

Senator Stenstrom very firmly stated, "I would not say at this time that I would vote for $14 million dollars to fight the Mediterranean fruit fly without the state taking some steps to replace at least a part of that money."

"It is my opinion that Florida should move cautiously and only after we have all the accurate information available before we begin pouring millions into this fight," he said.

"We want, of course, to do all that is necessary to eradicate the fruit fly but we must do it as economically and sensibly as possible," Stenstrom said.

It was revealed late yesterday that the special Senate committee will meet with the House Citrus Committee shortly before the special session to draw up a bill for an appropriation.

Senator Barber said that the federal officials who talked about federal matching based their talks on what the federal government is doing in fights on pests and plant diseases in other states.

Barber said it was hoped the pest would be under control before the next fruit and vegetable crops start coming in September. Mopping up operations will be carried out thereafter.

There was some indication yesterday, The Sanford Herald reviewed the situation up to the present time, that the overall costs of fighting the Mediterranean Fruit Fly would come to $5 million dollars.

Teenage Advisory Council Outlines Week's Activities

The Sanford Teenage Advisory Council of the Summer Recreation program held its first meeting last night at the Yacht Club to outline activities for the coming week.

The 25 young men and young ladies, in a round-table discussion, planned and outlined the program of recreational activities for teenagers.

The Sanford Teenage Council is the result of a desire by the City of Sanford Recreation Department to provide a program of recreation that would be good in the eyes of Sanford's youngsters rather than a program planned and supervised entirely by adults.

John Angel, Recreation Department Director, said this morning, "We feel that if the teenagers of Sanford are represented by a selected group, we who understand such a little bit about teen desires, may be better enlightened and better able to plan effectively."

"To make our recreation program enjoyable to the youngsters of Sanford, let them have a hand in the planning," he said.

The teenage Advisory Council is a group of 25 boys and girls selected from a standpoint of leadership, personality, and industry. They represent all of the teenagers of Sanford, and as Angel said, "Should do an invaluable service to the City."

Plans Investigating Area Of Suspicion

JACKSONVILLE — A plane from Jacksonville Naval Air Station today flew over the Gulf of Mexico to investigate an area of suspicion.

The Navy said the weather disturbance was reported about 200 miles south of New Orleans and 200 miles east of Corpus Christi, Tex.

The plane, piloted by Lt. J. E. Shipman of Memphis, is expected to investigate the area until dark and then either return here or fly to Corpus Christi.
