Energetic Campaigns To Be Waged To Make Houston Convention Harmonious Meeting

Leaders Say Smith Can't Be Defeated Therefore They Seek To Squelch Efforts To Hamstring Him

HAUSTON, Tex., June 23.—(INS)—A quiet but nevertheless, extremely energetic campaign was under way here today to stifle the sounds of conflict already with the Democratic National Convention which opens on Tuesday.

It is predicted on this line "Smith is going to be nominated. You can't stop him. Why hamstring him, then, by repeating Madison Square Garden?"

In this campaign are, first of all, of course, the active supporters of the New York governor, but of more importance is the fact there are a number of Southerners who would rather see someone else nominated but who are convinced no one else will be, and being so convinced, want to make the best of the situation.

The early efforts to form a bitter-end, anti-Smith coalition have failed utterly. Perhaps one may be whipped into a shape later, but thus far efforts along this line haven't made much headway. There are half a dozen rival candidates, each with his small following and each with a total lack of a coordination of effort necessary to succeed.

One Southern leader, a Senator, who views with no particular enthusiasm the nomination of Governor Smith, was approached with the suggestion that he join a "last ditch" anti-Smith coalition. "All right," he agreed, "but whose you got to stop him?" Several names were suggested—Reed of Missouri, Hull of Tennessee, Donahy of Ohio—anybody but Smith. "Nothing doing," said the Senator. "In a life time of politics, I have learned that you can't beat somebody with nobody. It is a truism in politics. You show me somebody else to stop him, and I'll stop him and I'm your man. But unless and until you do, I am a Democrat, and I hope, too sensible a politician to join any such undertaking."

This dialogue, varying in degree, according to the principals and the place, has taken place half a dozen times in Houston during the past 24 hours. The coalition seekers have been busy, but without any appreciable success, and, on the contrary, their efforts seem to have resulted in the determination on the part of the long-headed leaders of the party not to let the anti-Smith hot-heads promote another such spectacle of Democratic disharmony as was presented four years ago.

Harmony has become the watchword of the majority, and a short, snappy convention, their goal. For the first time since 1912, a memorable year to Democrats, they point out, a Republican convention has just concluded its work by doing a lot of washing in public. The agricultural discom-

Gunn Leads After His Morning Round

DALLAS, Texas, June 23.—(INS)—Playing in championship form, although having considerable difficulty with his putter, Watts Gunn, youthful Atlanta, Ga., star, was leading Ossia Carleton, Houston, Texas, sharpshooter, 2 up at the end of their morning round in the 98 hole finals of the Southern Amateur Golf Championship at Brook Hollow links here today.

BANDIT HOLDS UP TRAIN AND TAKES $50,000 IN CASH

Lone Mail Robber Gets Drop On Messenger In Charge Of Express Car And Flees With Booty As Train Speeds Down

BLISSFIELD, Mich., June 23.—(INS)—A lone bandit who held up a New York Central passenger train here shortly before midnight, escaping with $50,000 in cash, was being sought by authorities of Blissfield and nearby towns today. The train was en route from Chicago to Buffalo, having left Chicago at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The bandit is believed to have boarded the train at Adrian, Mich. He entered the express car and leveled a revolver at the messenger in charge of the train. The messenger was thrown from the train when it slowed down for the Blissfield station. The bandit, after seizing a pouch containing $50,000 in currency, leaped from the train and escaped into the darkness. It is believed the bandit fled to an automobile parked near the station and headed toward Detroit.

The train pulled into the station at 11:13 P. M. The first on the look out for the daring robber was several persons on the platform, who were horrified at the sight of a man being hurled from the express car into the midst of the night.

The messenger appeared uninjured and was quickly revived. But in the meantime the bandit had fled in goodly style from the other side of the train. Adrian, where, according to the messenger, the bandit boarded the train, is 15 miles northwest of here. The messenger said the man "got the drop" on him as soon as he entered the express car. He described the bandit as "little more than a boy, well dressed in a blue suit, tan shoes and a light felt hat."

Detroit, and all nearby towns were immediately advised to be on the lookout for the robber. He is about 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighed about 160 pounds, the messenger said.

Three Flyers Die When Plane Falls

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(INS)—Major Charles A. Lutz, veteran marine flyer and holder of the coveted Curtis Trophy, and two other flyers were killed today when their big Fokker plane went into a tail spin near Ft. Belvoir, Va.

An official report to the Navy Department said the plane ran into a heavy fog after passing over the Quantico Marine Base. The accident was attributed to engine trouble.

JIM REED SAYS HE WILL CARRY FIGHT TO LAST

"Stormy Petrel" of Missouri Tells Newspaper Men That His Delegation Is Certain Of Winning His Nomination

HOUSTON, June 23.—(INS)—Senator James A. Reed, father of the Senate's slush fund inquiries and the "fighting Jim" of Missouri Democracy, today announced his fight for the Democratic presidential nomination would be carried "to the end of the road."

In a brief but characteristic interview with newspaper men, Reed emphatically declared the Missouri delegation was confident of nominating him. He did not mention Governor Al Smith, of New York, his principal rival, but he did give notice there would be no compromise in his battle for the nomination.

"The only maxim Missouri knows is 'to the end of the road,'" said Reed. "That is, I will not stop, as somebody once got it." Reed, however, pledged himself to the support of Smith or any other Democrat in event the other man won.

"The Missouri delegation came down here to win this nomination if possible," Reed said to a group of a hundred newspaper men. "They feel it can be done. If they lose, they will be found supporting the ticket with absolute loyalty."

The Missourians wore a light-weight linen suit, a soft straw hat and smoked his characteristic cigar. "Put your back to the wall," a newspaper man called to him as he entered the conference room in his headquarters here.

"Yes, and look back of me," Reed added, with a laugh. "I may have a formal statement sometime tomorrow," he said. "I just came in to say 'hello to you boys.'" Then, with a serious note, he declared the Missourians expect him to win the Democratic nomination. He expected to be excused from discussing issues.

Adrian, where, according to the messenger, the bandit boarded the train, is 15 miles northwest of here. The messenger said the man "got the drop" on him as soon as he entered the express car. He described the bandit as "little more than a boy, well dressed in a blue suit, tan shoes and a light felt hat."

Governor Al Smith Has No Intention Of Carrying "Wet" Plank In Platform

HOUSTON, Tex., June 23.—(INS)—Al Smith has no intention of demanding a wet plank in the Democratic platform and some of his close friends here are quietly laughing up their sleeves at all the fuss being made by the dries, according to reports in circulation at the Smith headquarters here today.

Although Governor Smith personally believes the Volstead Law should be modified, it was pointed out by members of his board of strategy that he was repeatedly declared for strict enforcement of all laws.

There has been a persistent report at the Smith headquarters for the last 24 hours that the governor will approve the writing into the platform of a plank declaring for rigid enforcement of all laws, but making no specific mention of either the Eighteenth Amendment or the Volstead Law.

Because of repeated public declarations made by Smith in the last two years in which he asserted that all laws should be strictly enforced, his managers are said to feel that it will not embarrass him, as a presidential candidate, to run on a platform which declares for rigid law enforcement.

Judge George Olvany, leader of Tammany Hall, and half a dozen other leaders in that famous Democratic organization are here to do all they can in a quiet way to help nominate Governor Smith but they are making it a point not to discuss prohibition.

ATLANTIC FLYERS PAY HOMAGE AT GRAVE OF ALCOCK

Pilot And Mechanic Of Air-Plane Friendship Journey To Place Wreath Upon Tomb Of First Atlantic Aviator

LONDON, June 23.—(INS)—Pilot Wilner Stultz and mechanic Leala Gordon, of the transatlantic monoplane Friendship today paid homage to the memory of Sir John Alcock, who, with Sir Arthur Whitten Brown, made the first flight over the Atlantic from America to Europe in 1919.

Stultz and Gordon flew to Manchester in an Imperial Airways plane and placed a wreath upon Sir John's grave. They were guests of a luncheon given by the Lord Mayor and the United States Consul in Manchester. Miss Amelia Earhart, third member of the Friendship crew, remained in London where she was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton, wife of the American ambassador.

DELEGATION OF GEORGIA WILL NOT ACCEPT AL

Senator George Declares His State Will Hold Out Until Last Ditch Against Casting Vote For New York Candidate

HOUSTON, Tex., June 23.—(INS)—The Georgia delegation will never vote for Al Smith for the presidential nomination, in the opinion of Sen. Walter F. George, of Georgia, favorite son candidate for the office.

George said today he would undertake to deliver ever" his delegation in the event his name was withdrawn. The Georgia delegation, he said, will determine its own course if the time should arrive for him to withdraw his name.

"I have a feeling," he added, "that they will support me well, but that they will stick to the end. I don't think they would ever vote for Smith." George said no overtures have been made to him to join a coalition among the Southern States' delegations against Smith.

The Georgian deprecated the issuance of the "wets" statement issued by Norman E. Mack, on his arrival Wednesday which "upset" George Van Namee, Smith's pre-convention campaign manager.

"I feel that it was extremely unwise to attract attention at this time to the prohibition issue," George said the party should go before the people on a platform of broad principles appealing to the liberal thought of the country.

Senator James A. Reed will be in a "dangerous position" if he takes his place as a delegate on the floor of the convention and makes a speech, which may result in his nomination as vice president, George declared.

Senator George declared that if he makes a speech on the floor of the convention, it, of course will be a good one, and if it is conciliatory, there is a strong probability that he would be nominated for vice president, despite his statement that he would not accept it," George said.

Name Of Lejeune Will Be Offered

HOUSTON, Tex., June 23.—(INS)—The name of Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the marine corps and a hero of the World War, will be offered at the Democratic convention here as a candidate for the vice presidential nomination. It was learned today, Lejeune's name will be placed in nomination by the Louisiana delegation.

Lejeune, beloved of World War veterans, is a Mason, a high church Episcopalian, and a Protestant. His supporters, feeling the nomination of Gov. Al Smith, is assured, will urge Lejeune's selection for second place because he is a Protestant, a dry, a Southerner and a soldier.

5 NATIONS ENTER SEARCH FOR LOST AMUNDSEN PLANE

Norwegian Explorer Missing Five Days; Italian Aviators Again Drop Supplies To Noble's Party

KING'S BAY, Spitzbergen, June 23.—(INS)—Five nations were joined today in the search for Capt. Roald Amundsen, famous Arctic explorer, who left Tromsø, Norway almost five days ago accompanied by Major Rens Gullhaugen and three others in a French plane and has not been heard from since.

Major Maddalena and Penzo, the Italians who flew over Noble's encampment yesterday and dropped additional supplies and radio equipment by parachute, intend to scour the northern wastes for Amundsen today. They announced they will make a systematic search of the southern coast of North-eastland, Spitzbergen.

The Norwegian aviators, Capt. Riser-Larsen and Lieut. Laetow Holm, will make similar flights over the west of Spitzbergen. Three Swedish planes, including the giant hydroplane Upland, also will scour the northlands. These planes passed over Noble's encampment yesterday but were unable to land.

The Russian ice-breaker originally sent out to search for Noble by the Soviet Government, has altered its course and is now proceeding towards Northeastland to search for Amundsen at the request of the Norwegian Government.

Two French navy ships are now en route to this place to aid in the search. An additional Italian plane left Pisa yesterday to join the other Italian relief planes.

JONES HOLD LEAD IN OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

Shoots Third Round 73 For Aggregate 217; Performance 2 Strokes Over Par

OLYMPIA FIELDS, June 23.—(INS)—Bobby Jones and Jimmy Farrell finished in a dead heat at 294 strokes this afternoon at the end of their fourth round of the National Open Golf Championship here today. Jones shot a 77 this afternoon.

OLYMPIA FIELDS, Ill., June 23.—(INS)—Bobby Jones continued in the lead for the National Open Golf Championship, in the third round this morning by shooting a 85-28-73 for an aggregate of 217.

Jones' performance was two strokes over par for the distance but nevertheless it served to increase his lead in several cases, over his adjacent rivals. His only bad holes at that were the twelfth and fourteenth and his only real good ones of the nine was the eleventh, where he got a birdie 3.

He gave a customary Jones performance at the tenth where he was straight and true all the way for a par 4 but, after getting his second along the line of a 40 foot putt and dropped it firmly in the hole, while a gallery of 3,500 screamed in ecstasy.

Bobby's 5 at the twelfth was the result of a misdirected approach, a shot that caused him some painful moments in the tournament. Usually he plays with a chip shot of a putt, but this was not one of those times. He had lost a stroke and it stayed short, a 5 being the result. The shot he made his approach putt roll very close.

Then came his denouncement of the fourth. His tee shot left him so deep in the woods that he was forced to play safe, merely chipping out. Then he pressed on in his third putt, after chipping on in four.

Meantime, teach, two strokes behind at the start of the round, had gone to the turn in 37, including a 20 foot putt and a birdie 3 at the second. He also sank a 10 footer for a birdie at the sixth but he messed up the fifth, being in the rough off the tee, playing a safe out and finally three-putting the situation for a 6.

Head Of Woman's League Declares Strongly Against Governor Smith

HOUSTON, Tex., June 23.—(INS)—An army of Democratic women will canvass the wives and mothers of the nation to vote for Herbert Hoover if Al Smith is nominated by the Democratic convention, Mrs. Ada Dupuy announced today.

She is one of the leaders of the Women's National League, which is seeking a bona fide platform and the defeat of all wet candidates and the defeat of all wet candidates. She will nominate Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, of Maryland, head of the league, for the vice presidency.

Arkansas Imperiled By Torrential Rains

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 23.—(INS)—With torrential rains falling for the past 24 hours, storms swept northern Arkansas early today and a new flood peril was anticipated.

A break in the levee at a point just below Georgetown was feared, as flood waters of the swollen White River were lashed over the top of the levee, during the storm. Engineers at Cotton Plant were confident the levee there would hold.

Famous Blonde Of Screen Announces Addition To Family

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 23.—(INS)—Telegrams of felicitation flowed eastward today to Mae Murray, congratulating her on being the mother of a Golden-haired son whose existence has been kept a secret for 16 months by the blonde stage and screen star and her titled husband, Prince David Mdivani.

The Prince broke the news to an astonished Hollywood, when the paternity of the youngster was sought by puzzled friends of the couple. "Yes, it is true," he admitted, smiling. "He is my son."

Publishers Plan To Advertise The South

BILOXI, Miss., June 23.—(INS)—A $500,000 fund to "Advertise The South" will be raised by the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association during the next three years, it was decided at the closing Session of the annual meeting of the organization here.

The proposal to solicit the money from among public utilities and railroads resulted in a sharp debate but opponents on the plan lost out. Opponents pointed out it would be in bad taste to allow utilities and railroads to contribute to the fund in view of the disclosures being made by the Federal Trade Investigation into the "Power Trust."

Heavy Selling of Industrial Stocks Marks Beginning of Today's Session

NEW YORK, June 23.—(INS)—Heavy selling of the industrial stocks and the motors broke out at the beginning of the short session of the market today, carry prices of many of the market leaders down 2 to 5 points below the level of the previous day. A good part of the selling was attributed to Western traders who were forced by a new crash in Bancillary Corporation to liquidate their holdings of other stocks.

Bancillary declined 11 points to 100 in the curb market in the first period of this "distress selling" by outside traders.

Opportune Hitting Enables Feds To Take The Second Contest

WEST PALM BEACH, June 22.—(Special)—Sanford annexed a pair of tilts here yesterday from Ernie Burke's Sheriffs, 1-0 and 0-2. Rube Brower and Keith hooked up in a 12 inning duel in the opener with the visitors taking the win on Keith's single and Frisbie's triple to deep right in the first half of the twelfth. Burns and Hymel were the opposing boxmen in the night cap and Sanford hit opportunely to make a pair for the day.

MICKY WALKER WINS BUT CROWD DISLIKES VERDICT

Judges Favor Champion But Referee Votes For Hudkins In Slashing Fight Last Night In Windy City

By Davis J. Walsh International News Service SPORTS EDITOR CHICAGO, June 22.—(INS)—They pulled one out of the hat for the boys at Comiskey Park in the rain last night when they said Mickey Walker was the winner over Ace Hudkins in their 10 round fight for the middle-weight championship of the world.

Walker didn't win according to my scoring, any more than the same fighter beat Dave Shade out of the welterweight title in New York several years ago or, according to popular indictment, any more than he won the title he now holds at the expense of the later Tiger flowers. But I've had a hard, hard life, and somehow I find I'm mellowing in the ageing wood very nicely. No longer do I react violently to decisions that fail to enjoin my judgment. The pass has been reached where respect for the opinions of others has become stangely tolerant and the fact of the matter was that two local citizens, Ed Kelin, a restaurateur, and Harry Carrol, an auditor, sat in the judges chairs and said that Walker had won. Ed Purdy, the referee voted for Hudkins but quite a few newspaper critics saw it the way the judges did. The crowd of 30,000 didn't like it at all.

So maybe there was a margin of honest doubt about the business and maybe, too, I'm as blind as a hook without an eye. It must have been one or the other, it couldn't be both.

Walker, as the writer saw him, carried just two rounds of the 10, one of them by a convincing margin. This was the fourth in which he had Hudkins' drooling on the edge of a knockout from a flurry of lefts and rights to the jaw. This was Walker's big moment virtually his only one, just as the seventh round was Dempsey's climax with Tunney. It was also Dempsey's anti-climax before the bell sent them on to another round and strangely there was some resemblance of this to Walker's failure to put Hudkins on the floor in the fourth last night. One more punch might have won for both of them but either had it.

Walker blew up with victory in sight. So did Dempsey. His arms and legs went dead when, by all the odds of the game, they should have been tingling with life. Dempsey's did the same. I think Walker is through. I know Dempsey is.

Mickey was so weary after the fourth that he could barely lift his arms and then only to protect himself against Hudkins' incessant attack on the body. It is difficult to see how he could give a decision to a man who did nothing very steadily for the last six rounds but they could, in fact, the matter went a triple further than that. They did.

Some observers said they thought Walker won because he landed the cleaner punches. Personally, I would like to know just how many he landed, clean or otherwise, in the last six rounds and I'll even count the ones he would have liked to start had he been able. The champion just didn't have a punch in him for the second half of the fight. Occasionally he lashed out in the briefest of rallies but these always were succeeded immediately by the old army game—safety first and always.

Having shot his bolt in the fourth round, Walker simply was out-roughed and out-buffed by a younger, tougher man. The latter was warned several times for too many punches and as many times more for hitting on the break, a possible sin: A point-reduction by the judges. It didn't seem, however that even this could have made the decision a just one.

The writer gave Walker only one round beside the fourth. This was the opening heat in which he had all his pep and nerve and easily outscored the ace by as much as two to one. I called seven rounds for Hudkins and one even, conceding meanwhile that none of his many punches really hurt Mickey. But these were many after the fourth round and Walker's wore few and until last night I thought that was the way they paid off on these things. But we live and learn, according to the standard book of bromides. Personally, I'm not so sure I am to do both. Even if I do

Orlando Colts Drop Abbreviated Game To St. Petersburg

Princess Granted Divorce

ORLANDO, June 22.—St. Petersburg kept its stride toward pennant honors in the first half of the Florida State League campaign out on Yinker Field yesterday afternoon by taking a brief contest from Orlando, 5 to 2. The victory puts the Saints six and one-half games in front of the Colts, in the runner-up position.

Orlando will have to take the next two games in the present series to stay anywhere near in the running. Skipper Wells will show every effort into the game today to reverse the order of things displayed yesterday.

At any rate we are going to have a Biblical allotment of the score and ten years as a maximum of a well rounded life, will probably be extended to five score and perhaps more, according to scientists. This is discouraging to the undertakers but to be honest with you, we cannot sympathize with them, and we do not believe you can, no matter how much you may be of their personal acquaintance. Many Undertakers will be glad to find a more profitable location. In New York City instance there are 1,800 undertakers to take care of 6,000 people who die on the average annually.

This is an average of only one case a year per Undertaker. The result is that most of them find it hard to make a living. People will not die, even in highly congested New York City, where 6,000,000 people or more are getting along great, despite everything. You realize, of course, that people are living longer, don't you? Is it not because they are taking good care of their stomachs? Result: Better health and brighter outlook on life. People are bound to live longer if they get good things to eat regularly. Of course there is not a thing that fits to eat unless one knows that it is made of pure food. Fortunately, people are protected these days by Food Manufacturers of Pure Food Products. The labels they use on their products have proved their integrity. People are not now afraid to eat a food that carries an honest label.

It is said that one touch of ptomaine poisoning, even if it does not kill, shortens life five years. It is very seldom now that anybody gets a touch of ptomaine poisoning.

Quality Bakers of America all bear the above insignia which does not change to meet any new fad that comes up. It is a mark that speaks Uniform Quality year in and year out, day in and day out. Hence, it has earned Public Confidence and Good Will.

The public always appreciates careful, sustained effort on the part of any body in any line to give them articles of food that can be consumed safely and at the same time can be counted on to preserve strength and health.

The greatest of all stand-bys in every home is Bread. Called "the Staff of Life," it proves that it is every day. There is no other article of food used more universally or that is more necessary. Therefore, every family is entitled to Good Bread of a Quality that is sustained scientifically and conscientiously.

A very large part of this population knows our Bread and eats it regularly. More may eat it if they wish. Any Good Grocer can supply you.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23

BLIND

I felt the wind in the night,
 Howling across my face,
 Then on my cheek a sudden touch—
 The curtain's cool embrace;
 And closed my eyes to see
 'Twas a hundred times before
 The moonlight's still, enchanted pool—
 Along the eken floor,
 My shadow lay,
 But the velvet dark lay close,
 My shadow lay to bed,
 And I was—
 "Blind! Blind! Blind!"

I felt the wind in the day
 As my shadow lay;
 I caught the breath of the sun-
 warmed boy—
 Fresh earth-scents from the plow,
 And with a leaping heart,
 Strained eager eyes to see
 My shadow's rainbow-woven robe
 Of glowing tapestry.
 But the velvet dark pressed hard—
 I cursed the traitor wind
 And heart and soul, despair-
 ing, wept,
 "Blind! Blind! Blind!"—By

Clear The Ether

The news that good diction among radio announcers is to be promoted by the offer of a medal by the American Academy of Arts and Letters is not only of keen interest to every fan who begins to dial hopefully the moment dinner is over, but it has the added significance of being a healthy sign of the increasing attention which is being paid to the problem of American speech. When one compares the effect on the audience of the radio announcer who knows how to use his voice properly and enunciate distinctly and the impression produced by the speaker who mumbles his words in such slovenly fashion that his meaning is lost, one realizes the rich possibilities for improvement in this field.

Those of us who have heard with delight Graham McNamee's clearly articulated and thrilling reports of prize fights and football games have noticed that one can listen to the "father of all announcers," and others of his superior ilk without the nerve racking tension that is the inevitable accompaniment of the painful effort to understand the inferior "hello everybody man." A poor announcer may even cause a tempest in his domestic teapot. Picture the family in an impatient listening half circle around the radio with father at the helm. He switches gayly from New York to Dubuque and after jaunting merrily all over the map, he turns with sidling eyes to sing his paean of praise, "Think of it, Sarah. Isn't it wonderful? In ten minutes, I got WJZ, KDKA, WEAF, but Jimmie interrupts with "Oh for heaven's sake, please get anything PDQ and stay there."

And after the family has finally agreed that they would all like to hear the election returns, as luck will have it, they get a half baked announcer who mumbles unintelligibly and either the candidate or the number of votes he polled is invariably lost in the ether. After a distressing fifteen minutes of ear and disposition strain, mother suggests plaintively that perhaps they had better go to bed, and father growls at Jimmie to shut that "damn guy" off and that he never wanted him anyway.

It would seem then, that for a man, the very essence of whose profession is to be heard, the effort to attain good diction is a powerful appeal. There will probably be a hot race for the American Academy's medal and whoever wins the award, the radio fan will not be the loser.

The Road To Success

What is success? Such an abstract term must of necessity have a variable definition. That which is success for one may not be for others. George M. Verity, one of the foremost manufacturers of this country, offers as a general definition of success the "attainment of a fixed goal." And how is that goal reached?

It goes without saying that no loafer can succeed. Only the energetic man can win, and Mr. Verity supplements this with the declaration that a man must at all times have in mind the limit of his powers. One must be ambitious, but again the manufacturer adds the warning note that overdoing the thing will lead to failure, pointing out that the overly ambitious man sometimes sacrifices principle and honor.

John Carlyle writing in the Kansas City Star says a man who succeeds must have initiative, not be afraid of new things, nor fear to hold fast to that which has been proved. "A man must be sure of himself," he says, "no matter what may be the clamor around him. The scaphand may get on a payroll but he does not win in the end. He must be courteous and kindly and his word must be kept at any cost."

Above all we believe a man must be an optimist. Determination is what gives one the essential stick-to-it-iveness. Discouragement breeds discontent and the discontented person is too unsettled to concentrate on the straight path that leads to success.

NOT LOGICAL, BUT IT WORKS

KANSAS CITY STAR

There are many criticisms of the American party system on the ground that there is not sufficient difference between the two parties. Many logical souls are distressed over the existing confusion. In some respects the Republican party is liberal, in others conservative. The same thing is true of the Democratic party. Obviously neat and well ordered parties should not be thus messed up. One should include the liberals, the other the conservatives.

But human nature, unhappily, isn't logical. Men of radical tendencies in one respect are conservative in another. Mr. Bryan considered himself a liberal in politics, for example, and a conservative in theology. Often an ultra-modernist in religion is a tremendous believer in the sanctity of private property.

So in politics we find all sorts of strange bedfellows; Democrats voting for the protective tariff, and Republicans voting for lower duties; Democrats lined up with Republicans for tax revision and against tax revision, and so on down the line. It is confusing and it certainly isn't logical, but for some reason it works. The American federal government, for all its faults, is probably the most stable, sensible and progressive government in the world. It adopts progressive measures, slowly perhaps, but still effectively, and it doesn't run wild.

DAYTONA BEACH NEWS-JOURNAL

New York City politicians draped into the Board of Elections office one morning last week to shake the hand of an old man there presiding. His name was John R. Voorhis, his age, 98. The occasion for congratulations was his 17th anniversary as Grand Sachem of Tammany Hall.

Grand Sachem Voorhis, by no means feeble, thanked everyone and announced that he hoped to pass his 100th birthday with Alfred Emanuel Smith in the White House. He also said: "Everybody talks about Tammany, but hardly anyone seems to know. To listen to them talk you'd think that Tammany Society was one and the same thing as the Democratic. What Grand Sachem Voorhis meant was that there is such a thing as the Society of St. Tammany, founded in Revolutionary times by a New York upholder named William Mooney to give the bourgeoisie a club comparable to the aristocratic Society of the Cincinnati, to which only New York's fine families belonged. An Indian patron-saint and Indian rigmartie were adopted as a protest against Toryism. The objects of the Society were and have been benevolent—making immigrants comfortable, for example. The activities of the members were and have been political. After suffering immigrants, one can franchise them and show them how to vote.

The "one black eye" referred to by Grand Sachem Voorhis was, of course, William Marcy ("Boss") Tweed, the coarse, corpulent crook who grafted incredibly on New York City while he was Grand Sachem. He died in jail 50 years ago. Beside the doings of Tweed, the political peccadilloes of other Tammany members are dwarfed. Tweed and his "ring" controlling the city's Board of Supervisors, cleared tens of millions in letting contracts, selling permits and offices, contributing to the city's "charities." A plasterer named Garvey once got $133,187.20 for two day's work from the City. How much Tweed took back no one knows, but he gave $1,800,000 to his two mistresses and the "Ring" once offered the New York Times $500,000 to publish a scurrilous and ultimately successful exposure.

In Tweed's heyday, which Grand Sachem Voorhis well remembers, leading citizens of New York were not above working with Tammany. John Jacob Astor vouched for Tweed in a crisis, and escaped three years' exile. Elihu Root was one of Tweed's lawyers. Many other good names is connected with many another bad moment in New York City's government. No matter how well the present Tammanyites behave themselves at Houston—and last week they said they were not even going to take a brass band—many a bad moment

KISSES ARE ELECTRIFIED

TALLAHASSEE DEMOCRAT

The investigations at Washington should take in consideration the fact that there might lurk in the kiss the potent influence of electricity and in this species of propaganda the esteemed St. Petersburg Times might be involved. Bob Holly, director of the public utilities information bureau thinks the Times is carrying the matter too far when they even take up the oscillatory practice and couple it with electricity as the following editorial from that paper would indicate:

Electricity is what puts the real kick in a kiss, the contact of the lips causing a mild and pleasing shock, according to an eminent Danish scientist who recommends wearing rubber heels as insulators, so as to get full benefit of the voltage, as it were. It is supposed, then, that boots, a fireman's coat and rubber gloves would add considerably to the potency of a kiss, altho the learned doctor does not say so.

Still the old fashioned kind, delivered without these adjuncts seem not to have lost their effectiveness. The shock, sometimes slightly delayed, continues to jolt the youngsters who take literally the old lie that two can live as cheaply as one. Insulation against that idea is what the world needs, more than the kind recommended by this no doubt kindly but slightly misguided Dane.

15 eggs to the DOZEN!

That's the way one man who feeds his hens Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash expresses his increased production. "I gather 15 eggs for every dozen that I got before I used Ful-O-Pep," he says.

You can increase the number of eggs you are getting every day, too. Right now is the time to do it.

This is the famous feed that contains Cod Liver Meal to make the other ingredients give additional value. Every mouthful gives the hens all feed—no waste—and young and old layers keep right on producing.

Mrs. Powell Honors Friend With Party

Reflecting the cordial hospitality of the hostess in every detail was the bridge party given Friday evening by Mrs. Charles Powell Jr., her home in Rose Court, honoring Mrs. Harry M. Dickson of Orlando, the guest of Mrs. La Verne Hurt.

A variety of lovely flowers were artfully arranged in baskets about the rooms where the games were played. The floral suggestions were carried both in the tallies and score pads.

The card games proved exceptionally interesting and after the usual number of rounds had been played it was found that Mrs. A. Peterson had scored the most points, and was given a Japanese fan filled with crystallized ginger.

The men's prize, handkerchiefs, was won by Major Peterson. Mrs. Dickson was given dainty handkerchiefs as memento of the occasion.

The players were Mrs. Harry M. Dickson, Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Hurt, Major and Mrs. A. Barthold Peterson C. E. Myers and Charles Powell Jr.

Mrs. Housholder Is Hostess At Bridge

Entertaining in her usual gracious manner, Mrs. Ernest Housholder was hostess at a lovely bridge party, Friday afternoon at her home on Evans Street when she entertained the members of the Sisters Bridge Club honoring Mrs. Harry M. Dickson of Orlando, the guest of Mrs. La Verne Hurt.

The rooms of this lovely home were converted into veritable bowers with quantities of roses and petunias.

Ship designs marked the tallies and score pads used for the games and at the conclusion of the stated number of progressions, scores were collected and the prize, a silver hot dish mat, was given Mrs. James G. Sharon. The guest of honor also received a similar gift.

At the tea hour the bridge accessories were removed and the tables spread with dainty covers and refreshments of a tasty ice course were served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Floyd Palmer. Refreshing punch was served during the progress of the games.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Housholder were Mrs. Harry M. Dickson, Mrs. La Verne Hurt, Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mrs. Braxton L. Perkins, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Mrs. Edward Higgins, Mrs. James G. Sharon, Mrs. W. A. Pitts and Mrs. Floyd Palmer.

Bridge Party Is Given For Benefit Of Fund

One of the most enjoyable of a series of vanishing bridge parties given for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the N. de V. Howard Chapter U. D. C. was that of Friday afternoon when Mrs. Robert J. Holly and Mrs. Frank J. Gonzalez were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Holly on Park Avenue.

Zinnias, petunias and ferns were used in charming profusion about the rooms of this spacious home. The pastel tints were featured in the tallies and other details.

After the fifth progression had been played, scores were collected and prizes awarded. The prize for top score, silk hose, was won by Mrs. J. C. Benson, while Mrs. Emmett Hunt received a china tea bell for second prize. The cut prize, Coty's perfume and powder, was awarded Mrs. Theodore Langley.

Late in the afternoon the tables were cleared and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The players enjoying this afternoon affair were Mrs. J. C. Benson, Mrs. Emmett Hunt, Mrs. W. Theodore Langley, Mrs. Moore Scott, Mrs. Roy Sykes, Mrs. E. I. A., Mrs. M. Minarik, Mrs. Harry M. Dickson, Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mrs. Braxton L. Perkins, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Mrs. Edward Higgins, Mrs. James G. Sharon, Mrs. W. A. Pitts and Mrs. Floyd Palmer.

Mrs. James I. Wells Entertains At Bridge

Among the many delightful social affairs of Friday afternoon one of exception pleasure was the bridge party given by Mrs. James I. Wells at her home on Oak Avenue, when she entertained the members of the Sans Souci Bridge Club and an extra tabby of players.

Exquisite pink roses and ferns were used to brighten the rooms of this attractive home. The colors of pink and green were also carried out in the bridge score pads, and tallies and refreshments.

Of exceptional enjoyment were the games of auction bridge played during the afternoon and when the scores had been totaled the highest score among the club members was made by Mrs. Braxton B. Baggett, while Miss Marcia Patterson was found to have scored the most points among the guests. Both were presented dainty filet and linen bags as prizes.

At the tea hour a tempting salad course with fruit punch was served by the hostess.

A Dainty Nightgown

This is just the thing to make for the late bride's trousseau. It is not difficult to make, and yet the result is both dainty and distinctive. Ecru lace used in the skirt bands and yoke is effective with pastel shades of de Chine; but contrasting shades of ecru de Chine are also pretty, such as pink trimmed with pale blue, or green trimmed with lavender. The patch pocket and narrow sash are child touches.

Mrs. Dickson Honored With Bridge Party

On Friday morning Mrs. A. Barthold Peterson was hostess at a very delightful bridge party and luncheon at her home on Magnolia Avenue, honoring Mrs. Harry M. Dickson, of Orlando, the guest of Mrs. La Verne Hurt.

Adorning the rooms where the tables had been placed for the games were bowls of sinias, crepe myrtle, roses and other lovely Spring blossoms.

The morning hours were soon spent with the interesting games of auction bridge and when the games had been concluded the prize for top score, a Spanish pottery vase, was awarded Mrs. La Verne Hurt. The cut vase, an attractive score pad, went to Mrs. Floyd Palmer. Mrs. Dickson received as guest prize, a double deck of bridge cards.

At one o'clock Mrs. Peterson assisted by Mrs. Ralph Wight served a tasty luncheon.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Harry M. Dickson, Mrs. La Verne Hurt, Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mrs. George A. De Cottes, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. Floyd Palmer, Mrs. Percy A. Mero, Mrs. Braxton L. Perkins, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Mrs. W. A. Leffler, Mrs. Hal Wight, and Mrs. Walter S. Coleman.

"Girl In Pullman," New Prevost Film, Booked By Milane

Laughs, chuckles, grins, smiles, thrills—these are the main ingredients of Marie Prevost's new star comedy, "The Girl in the Pullman," which will have its premier showing at the Milane Theatre today. Harrison Ford, Kathryn McGuire, Franklin Pangborn, and Harry Myers are featured in one of the most brilliant farce comedies of the season.

From the opening scene of "The Girl in the Pullman," laughs abound. The fun begins when Dr. Burton, a nerve specialist, played by Mr. Ford, practices his art on a ticklish patient whose nerves are all shot to pieces. Then the spectator is carried to a hotel lobby where 70 pairs of feminine legs are on display. It is safe to say these silk-encased pedal extremities will create a sensation at every showing, but purely from the standpoint of physical art. There isn't a single shot in this scene to which the slightest exception may be taken by the most Puritanical mind.

Pangborn in Great Scene.

Franklin Pangborn, the comedian, has a strong part in the rendition of which he is obliged to utilize a steam cabinet with amazing results. His clothes are across the room and there are many women in the office.

He decides to possess himself of his raiment at any cost, it is a certainty that the spectators will scream in merriment. Pangborn has many admirers and he will vastly increase his popularity by his work in this screaming farce.

WINS ORATORICAL PRIZE

The many friends of Miss Lucile Bolz, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Bolz, will be pleased to learn that she won the silver medal in the oratorical contest given at the Congregational church, given under the auspices of the W. G. T. U. Miss Sara Maxwell, won second place. The other contestants were Miss Vera Webb, Miss Estelle Webb and Miss Ruth Martin. The judges for this contest were Miss Margaret Young, Mrs. C. H. Senator Harris To Work Against Wets

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(INS)—With the avowed intention of throwing his support and that of the Georgia delegation for the nomination of a dry candidate and a dry platform plank, Senator Harris (D) of Georgia, left today for the Houston Convention.

Harris is head of the Georgia delegation which on the first few ballots is expected to cast its vote for Senator George, of that state, for the presidency. Although, recently having undergone an operation for sinus trouble, Harris is considerably improved and received permission from his physicians to attend the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Roumillat and Dr. Ben Caswell were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thrasher and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Thursday evening at their cottage at Coronado Beach.

Florida Growers Of Grapes Plan Meeting

The Florida Grape Growers Association's annual fair and meeting will be held in Orlando on June 28 and 29 at the San Juan Hotel.

A large display of this year's crop of Florida grapes will be shown and indications are that on account of the general interest throughout the State in this most promising Florida industry this year's show will be by far the most interesting and important one that has yet been held. The program will include papers and addresses by a number of outstanding grape growers, who can speak with authority on this subject, and the display of fruits will cover the entire list of varieties now being successfully grown in the State.

The Orlando Chamber of Commerce is extending the courtesies of the city, including free automobile storage. Special hotel rates have been secured and everything is being done to make the visitors comfortable.

Lindbergh Resumes New York Journey

WILKES-Barre, Pa., June 23.—(INS)—Col. Charles Lindbergh resumed his air journey to New York by taking off at 5:45 A. M. today after being forced down near here in a dense fog at 7:30 last night.

Lindbergh came down at Corning, Pa., in heavy fog for 400 miles from here. He was immediately recognized by the crowd that gathered, and explained that he had left Detroit for New York yesterday afternoon and decided to land because it was getting late with the added danger of fog.

While he was here Lindbergh was the guest of Lehigh Valley Railroad officials, inspecting the yards at Coxtown. He retired last night at 2:00 A. M. and was up again at 4:00 o'clock inspecting his plane.

DRIVE STARTS TO STIFLE ALL PARTY STRIFE

Content in the normally Republican Middle West, coupled with the slashing attack that is planned on the Republican scandals; all of otherwise, has convinced a lot of Democrats that they have a real chance to win in November. Therefore, they want, if possible, to present here in Houston a reasonably harmonious convention and get away as soon as possible.

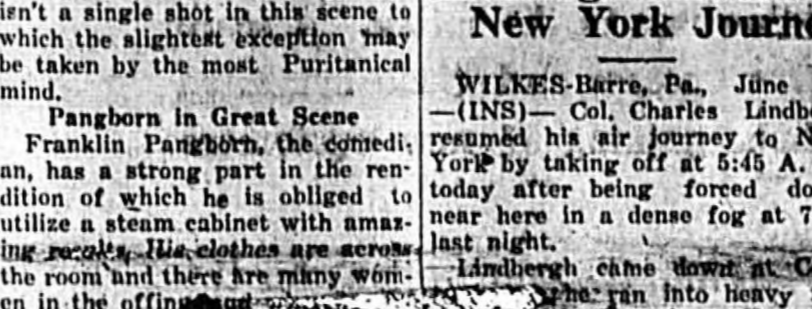

This task of the harmonizers is to put a soft pedal on the prohibition fight. That is at once their first and their most difficult task.

In this convention they have already made some headway through the virtual selection of Sen. Key Pittman, of Nevada, to be chairman of the platform committee. Senator Pittman is "drier" than any Western Democrat are, but he does not belong to the radical fringe of the party. Every incoming delegation is being quietly urged to select as its member of the resolutions committee, a "reasonable member who will be willing to go along with the majority rather than upset the apple cart with a minority report."

With Pittman running the resolutions committee, with Claude G. Bowers, a personal friend of Governor Smith as temporary chairman of the convention, and with the likely selection of Sen. Joseph T. Robertson, of Arkansas, a hard hitting organization Democrat, as permanent chairman, the harmonizers feel already reasonably confident of meeting any situation that may arise.

The next few days will show whether or not their confidence is justified.

Daily Fashion Hint

Box-pleats are one of the most effective and youthfully simple ways of adorning a young girl's frock. The frock at the left shows these pleats, stitched down part way, descending from a square yoke. The sailor collar suggests the middy blouse. Made of flannel with a contrasting flannel it is smartly practical, while in two tones of linen-finished cotton it is comfortable for warm days.

The modish pleats are inserted below the vestige of the little frock at the right, providing ample width. The fulness at the shoulders is made decorative by the use of smocking. Printed and plain linen, voile, or gingham is smart for this bloomer frock.

First Model: Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4272. Sizes 6 to 14 years.

Daily Fashion Hint

The bloomer frock at the left achieves the effect of a little coat by means of the panel of contrasting material inserted in front, with a pleat on each side. Decorative and unusual in the ragged border, whose points are filled in with colorful embroidery. This is pretty in plain and printed gingham or voile, while two shades of linen or pongee are equally effective. The bloomers may match either the blouse or the inserted panel.

N O W ... PROOF OF THE PUDDING

Proof of the Dollar Day pudding was in the eating. A score of merchants helped make it a success and then benefited from it in increased sales and the gaining of new customers from other communities.

Long hours and hard work went into the preparations for the day. Money was spent liberally. Every means of carrying the message of Dollar Day far and wide over Central Florida was utilized.

The work and the funds used brought the desired results. In almost every case, the benefits exceeded the expectations of those participating. Crowds such as Sanford has seldom or never seen crowded the stores and walked the streets.

Merchants were satisfied. The purchasers were satisfied. They will come again when the merchants invite them to Sanford's next big community Dollar Day.

Another Opportunity Is Coming

A number of the merchants who took part in the day are already planning for another similar event next month. Among these merchants are some who made no extensive plans for the occasion. They doubted that large crowds of people could be induced to shop in Sanford. Now, they know the crowds can be brought here and they are planning better bargains for the next great Dollar Day.

A number of merchants failed to reap the full harvest of Dollar Day business. They either failed to take part in the day or underestimated its worth to the community and themselves. Now these merchants know Dollar Day can be made a tremendous success. They have seen others profit by its op-

To all the merchants of Sanford, The Herald wishes to announce that another Dollar Day is coming late in July. With the co-operation of every responsible merchant this July Dollar Day can be made an even greater success than Wednesday's was.

The Herald will co-operate to the fullest extent with every merchant. He will be given assistance with his advertising copy and in preparing for the event. The Herald only asks that each merchant who enters strive to his utmost to make the day a success for himself and Sanford by planning ahead and being fully prepared when the day arrives.

But Remember This :

The merchants who have the greatest success in special events such as Dollar Day are the merchants whose names are known, the merchants who advertise consistently. These merchants advertising steadily, reap their largest reward on Dollar Day. And during the periods when no special dollar bargains are being offered, these same consistent advertisers are the merchants who get the cream of the city's business. They can tell you that advertising in The Herald pays a large dividend.

LEAGUE RECORD SET AS SHERIFFS DEFEAT SANFORD

Sanford Allows Feds But Three Hits in Game Played in 70 Minutes; Hymel Also Hurls Great Game Until Seventh

WEST PALM BEACH, June 23.—In the fastest game recorded in the history of the Florida State League The Sheriff's defeated the Celery Feds by a score of 2 to 1. Jones, hurling for West Palm Beach, allowed the Celery feds a grand total of three hits during the afternoon while Hymel was pitched for five. Both hurlers pitched good enough ball to win any ordinary game, Hymel getting the only extra base hit in the game. Sanford took the lead in the first frame and maintained it through the first six innings but the Sheriff's scored once in the seventh and then added another in the eighth when Hymel showed a faint sign of weakening. Hustlers Triumph Over Islanders In Well Played Game

MIAMI, June 23.—(Special)—Miami came back Friday behind the excellent pitching of Jake Morris and rapped Harvin, Daytona Beach hurler, for eight innings to win the second game of the series here, 3 to 1. Daytona Beach's lone tally came on a home run by Miller, left-fielder, in the seventh inning. It was the visitors' only scoring threat, the Hustlers scored one run in the fourth, fifth and eighth frame. Triples by Burdine and Dunbar counted for two of the tallies and Loder's single followed by Brown's double scored the third.

KID INFELDERS OF BROWNS HAVE BEST PROSPECTS

St. Louis Team Has Keystone Combination Which Appears To Be Only Chance Of Outpacing Domination Of Yankees

NEW YORK, June 23.—(INS)—Ralph Kress, Olin Brannon and Larry Bettencourt, the three kid infielders of the St. Louis Browns, comprise the most interesting combination developed in the big league this year. Their playing has inspired the other members of the team and it may be that the young hustling Brownies, rather than the aging Athletics, will be the club that eventually will smash the domination of the New York Yankees in the Junior League.

Kres and Brannon, transplanted from Tulsa, have made the grade as a keystone combination. Kress led the play away from his buddy by his home run hitting. Bettencourt, the Californian who was an all-American football selection last year, is fielding well and yesterday hit his second home run in as many days.

The Browns walloped Detroit yesterday, 8 to 3, but were outslugged in the nightcap, 12 to 6. Brannon smacked his ninth homer of the season.

Bob Burke of Washington won a brilliant 1 to 0 duel from Charley Ruffing of the Red Sox, and the Nats climbed back into the first division. The Cleveland Indians, who took a 7 to 4 beating from the White Sox, dropped into fifth place.

Wee Willie Sherdel pitched the Cardinals to a 4 to 1 win over the Cubs in six innings. Jim Bottomley hit his sixteenth homer in the seventh frame but it was washed out of the records by a rainstorm.

The Cards are now 4-1-12 games ahead of the Reds, who were swamped by the Pirates, 11 to 1. The Reds couldn't touch Burleigh Grimes, who chalked up his tenth victory of the season.

Closely Matched Crew Await Gun On Thames River

NEW YORK, Conn., June 22.—(INS)—America's oldest sporting event, the Harvard-Yale regatta, dating back three quarters of a century, will tack another chapter to its long history at dusk this evening when the undefeated Harvard varsity crew and all-conquering Yale eight battle through the four-miles of the historic Thames River course in a race which gives promise of being one of the most brilliant in the long string of contests between these ancient rivals.

Few things since the two first met in the almost forgotten past of 1852, have they sent to the Thames, crews better matched than are the pair which will fight it out before a crowd of close to 100,000 this afternoon, after the freshmen and junior varsity races have been held. All the betting is in even money.

None too promising weather greeted the oarsmen and the advance guard of the army of enthusiasts which has swamped his picturesque whaling town of by-gone days. But although the skies are dark, with heavy clouds, New London is making the ocean blue streamers are everywhere and a gala one. Crimson and the carnival spirit pervades the town.

Timber Tract To Be Tapped By Railroad

SANFORD, Fla., June 11.—(INS)—Plans to build a 112 mile railroad line through northern Aroostook County between Presque Isle and Frontier Lake, Quebec within a short time were announced by R. H. Wheeler of New York City.

The road is expected to open up more than a million acres of commercial timber land.

Mr. Wheeler also declared that he has "practically completed negotiations" to bring to Aroostook County one of the largest hardwood manufacturers in the West. This company, he announced, plans to erect mills along the railway and to prepare for market about 50 million feet of hard wood during its first year.

G.O.P. Leaders Turn Attention To Funds For Their Campaign

WASHINGTON, June 22.—With the basic reorganization of the Republican campaign set up, G. O. P. chieftains today turned their attention to the all-important subject of cash to carry on the drive for the White House.

The financial aspects of the campaign were talked over by Dr. Hubert Work, the new chairman, J. R. Nutt, Cleveland banker allied with the Van Swearington interests, the treasurer, and Herbert Hoover, the presidential candidate.

There will be no lack of funds for the Hoover campaign to maintain "Republican ascendancy for eight years." It was learned, however, that Hoover has been pledged the support of many influential business men throughout the country who will be volunteers and unpaid workers.

In preparing the campaign chest and its disbursements the existence of the Senate Slush Fund Committee which is now in Chicago to inquire into a $40,000 expenditure in Wisconsin and Hoover's forces were mindful of Minnesota during the primaries.

This committee will continue its inquiry, both into Republican and Democratic expenditures, and leaders of the two camps frankly said that it will be incumbent upon the candidates and their friends to "watch their steps."
