United Drive Plans To Be Made Feb. 13

The members of the seven organizations who agreed to cooperate in a United Drive are being asked to meet at the City Hall on Wednesday, Feb. 13, 8 p.m., said John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

"We are also asking that two representatives of each civic club meet with us to formulate the plans for a United Drive," said Krider.

War II." He explained "at the end of World War II in the treaty with both Germany and Japan we agreed to keep these properties instead of collecting reparations on them."
"These funds are just lying there idle and I feel it's about time they be put to some worthwhile use," he said.
Senator Smathers also revealed in his newsletter that "one of the biggest problems in our state and in all states is the shortage of fresh water."
"We've been working closely with the Department of Interior and other groups that are studying possible solutions to this problem," he said.
"Several research projects are underway, some at our own University of Florida, designed to find a practical way of changing sea water into useable fresh," said the Senator.
"By compiling the results of these studies," he said, "we have high hopes of coming across a workable plan that will help the dry areas of our states."

ford said "I won't recommend a contract of this kind to the commissioners."
"If Mr. Hughes hasn't made more than 400 an hour he should have moved long ago," said Swofford. "We need a fence, a trail, a road, and other improvements for told Stenstrom and the commission "and it is my belief that the project could pay the county something."
"I'm going to agree with you 100 per cent," said Stenstrom, "and I don't want to be far off before the county will begin to receive revenue from Big Tree Park."
"It is long overdue," reported Commissioner Swofford.
Commission Chairman Fred Dyson suggested "that we study the offer and think about it before taking any action."
However, Commissioner Swofford didn't drop the subject and said "I have reasons to believe that the income of Hughes at Big Tree Park was well over $5,000 and something should be done—it isn't a credit to Seminole County."
Commissioner Homer Little, however, questioned whether or not Howard Hughes could make over $5,000 "selling a few cold drinks and gifts."
"Seminole County hasn't put $25 into Big Tree Park in the last 10 years," said Senator Stenstrom.
Commissioner Swofford suggested that Senator Stenstrom submit a proposed contract with the county for the use of Big Tree Park and for the care taking of the county's only attraction.
"Will you consider sitting down and talking this proposition over," said Senator Stenstrom.
Commissioner Swofford agreed.

said this is the proper course to pursue.
At his 40-minute news conference, Dulles also:
1. Said he has no plans now to resign or retire as secretary of state. He defended the administration's policies in the Middle East as honorable and predicted history would justify this estimate. He said it was heartwarming to hear President Eisenhower refer to him as a man of unparalleled wisdom and knowledge.
2. There has been no discussion of a summit meeting of Mr. Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French Premier Guy Mollet. But it would be normal for them to meet separately.
3. Congressional delay on the Eisenhower Doctrine has not been serious yet. The delay may have weakened, the psychological effect somewhat, but everyone recognizes that Congress has been following dilatory tactics.
4. A visit to the United States by Yugoslavia Marshal Tito would be useful as a way to exchange views with Mr. Eisenhower. Vigorous congressional objections prompted Tito to put off the visit "for the time being."
5. There is no change whatever in United States' diplomatic or trade policies toward Red China.
6. Oil shipments from the United States have been lower than expected largely because of the reluctance of Texas to increase production. But he said oil is flowing to Europe in substantial quantities.

Garden Club Guest Speaker Says Birds Conservationists

By Mary Fowler
DEBARY — The DeBary Garden Club met yesterday at the civic association auditorium, with Mrs. Arthur G. Watt as featured speaker. Mrs. Watt showed pictures of wildlife for which she is famous, having won acclaim in art centers from Chicago to New York, to London and South Africa. She spoke of our feathered friends as true conservationists through their devouring of insects, beetles and caterpillars.
Mrs. Watt described her invention for a seed container, which was a hollowed out branch or small tree limb and could be set, like her pine cone peanut butter holder, onto a plaster of Paris base. The flickers are true tree conservationists, she assured the club, for they are busy on the job eating grubs that would otherwise eat the young trees. The Florida birds also consume enormous amounts of weed seeds and insect eggs.
Mrs. Henry Wood, chairman of the horticulture department, announced that her committee would meet at 10 a.m. Thursday in the civic rooms, with Mrs. Arthur Lambert as head of a discussion group on landscaping our DeBary homesites. Mrs. William Ferguson, visiting gardens chairman reported on a recent trip to the Barn in Eustis.
The following new member were welcomed: Mrs. Howard Sharp, Mrs. Frances Thurber, Mrs. Herman Batson, Mrs. Laura Arrington and Mrs. David R. Thomas.

Lt. Root's Tour Of Active Duty Is Extended

Lieutenant J. B. Root Jr., USNR, currently serving as the Legal and Discipline Officer for the Florida Group of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet in Green Cove Springs, has received official notification from the Navy Department in Washington, that his termination date of Active Duty has been extended to Oct. 31, 1957.
Lieutenant Root is a native of Sanford where his father Dr. J. Bernard Root is an established resident. He attended Law School at Stetson University and subsequent to his graduation, entered the Navy as a member of the Naval Reserve on Active Duty. He attended the Navy's Officers Candidate School at Newport, R. I. and upon graduation, was commissioned an Ensign and assigned to duty with the Legal Department of the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.
Since reporting to the Florida Zipper Fleet in 1955, Lieutenant Root has reorganized that Command's Legal Department, which included consolidation of Four Sub Group Legal Offices into a centralized unit. In his current billet as Staff Legal Officer, he acts in the capacity of Legal Advisor to the Commander Florida Group, as well as representing the Navy on legal matters and reviewing Court Martials.
Upon the completion of his extended tour of Active Duty in the Navy, he plans to return to Sanford where he will establish his law practice.

She fancied that they were not the masterpiece of the sculptor Matteo Civitti, but were real angels come straight down from heaven and imprisoned in marble for a while.
The story is that these two guardian "Angels of the Adoration" named "Faith" and "Peace", at a critical point in the commemoration of the passion of Christ on Good Friday, for an hour came to life and wing their way through the various rooms of the cathedral before returning to kneel in worship at the shrine.
Mrs. Dow is realizing her fond hope of many years that a memorial to her illustrious father, General Henry Shelton Sanford, L. L. D., and once United States Minister to Belgium, be instituted at Sanford. Sanfordites will undoubtedly give her the go-ahead on this memorable historic occasion.

The U.S. Coast Guard ship Yamacraw and then the USS Blackwood reached the disabled freighter S.S. Noriuna after hours of searching by planes and surface craft.
The 11,500-ton vessel and its 35 crewmen were in no immediate danger but both ships stood by to give any help needed, the Coast Guard said.

Ike Believes Israel Will Withdraw Forces

Avoids U. S. Aid Mention

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today he believes Israel will withdraw her forces from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba in response to the United Nations appeal.

Mr. Eisenhower carefully avoided any direct mention of U.S. support for sanctions that might be imposed against Israel if it does not withdraw. But he said the United States is committed to support the United Nations.

The President told his news conference this country is doing everything it can to reach a Middle East settlement and it is not merely trying to stop fighting there. The whole range of complaints, including the question of violation of Israel's sovereignty, has to be considered and adjusted, he said.

Seeks Arab Support
The President spoke as the United States stepped up its fast-moving drive to win new Arab support and understanding for his plan to use U.S. troops, if necessary, to protect the Middle East from Communist penetration.

On other Middle East problems, the President:

1. Said he would deplore any delay by Congress, just for the sake of delay, in considering his Middle East doctrine. But he would not quarrel with the rights of Congress to investigate important issues.

2. Said he firmly believes his talks with King Saud of Saudi Arabia and other Middle East leaders help keep the peace by clearing away much misunderstanding about U.S. policies and plans in the area.

3. Officially confirmed that talks are under way with Britain on a possible meeting between himself and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Police Department Is Cracking Down On Traffic Violators

The Sanford Police Department is cracking down on traffic violators in an attempt to reduce automobile accidents, property damage, and injuries in collisions in the city.

Last week, in the seven day period from Jan. 27 to Feb. 2, arrests were made for careless and negligent driving or reckless driving totaling 8. Arrests for exceeding the speed limit totaled 14, and 8 arrests were made for running a red light or stop sign.

These arrests form a partial list of a very heavy court schedule held Monday afternoon in Sanford City Court.

"The crackdown is still in force," said City Manager Warren E. Knowles, "and it will be diligently pursued."

Each week, a boxscore showing the number of arrests made in traffic cases by members of the Police Department will be carried by the Sanford Herald to point up the effort being made to reduce accidents within the city.

Traffic cases also include such violations as: driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors, illegal parking, failure to yield the right of way, driving on the wrong side of the street, parking all night, and other violations covered by ordinances of the City of Sanford.

Revamping Of State's Correctional System Urged By Governor

TAMPA — Gov. LeRoy Collins said Tuesday that some of Florida's correctional institutions rank among the nation's very worst and pledged to make them the nation's best before he leaves office.

The governor in a detailed speech outlining the state's needs said long-range planning in all sections of state government is the first "practical problem" now facing the state. He touched on such varied subjects as schools and roads, but emphasized the need for reform in the correctional institutions.

"Overcrowding, silt, poor administration with badly limited personnel, inadequate supervision and little emphasis on returning a good citizen to society are commonplace," in state prisons and correction institutions, the governor said.

"Now that I've had an opportunity to get a really close look . . . it is just impossible to describe conditions . . . other than to say they are ghastly."

He told the annual Governor's Day lunch here that the entire correctional system must be revamped. The lunch was sponsored by the Florida State Fair Assn. range planning in other fields of state government as well.

"Stopgap efforts," he warned "will only pile up for others in the future even more awesome problems."

He pointed out that Florida has the highest percentage of increase in traffic and said the state will spend an estimated $19 million dollars on roads in the next four years.

Collins said the state "can hold its head reasonably high" in the field of education, but pointed out that it now has a backlog of school building needs amounting to $8 million dollars.

He said the school enrollment is increasing at the rate of 50,000 every year, and that Florida needs at least 5,000 well-trained new teachers.

Wave Of Vandalism Told At SHS; Two Taken Into Custody

Two youths were taken into custody last night, Sanford Police Chief Roy Williams said today and turned over to their parents pending a hearing in Juvenile Court.

The teenage boys were allegedly involved in a wave of vandalism at Seminole High School.

Investigating officers, Lt. Joe Hickson and Patrolman C. C. Dodson arrested the boys following the alleged taking of gasoline from Seminole High School and turned them over to Juvenile Judge Ernest Housholder.

Blocks were torn away from a track on the Seminole High School athletic field last week, an apparent act of vandals on the nights of local basketball games.

Names of the boys are being withheld due to Florida State laws which prohibit the publishing of them.

An automobile was involved in the gas taking last night, according to Chief Williams.

Skyraider Crashes Near Lake George; Pilot Is Killed

A Navy single engine Skyraider attack bomber crashed into a wooded area 20 miles west of the southern tip of Lake George yesterday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock.

The pilot, Lt. Cdr. Glen F. Gallagher was killed in the crash when his plane went down because of apparent engine trouble.

The Navy plane, in the restricted Pinecastle area west of Lake George, was flying out of the Jacksonville Naval Air Station, according to local Navy officials.

A helicopter was dispatched from the Sanford Naval Air Station to the scene where Dr. G. L. Backer found the pilot dead. The rescue helicopter was piloted by Cdr. W. M. Webber.

Extent of damage has not been ascertained, according to local Naval Air Station officials. However, they did say "extensive damage was done."

A Board of Investigators from the Jacksonville Naval Air Station is scheduled to meet at the scene of the crash today to attempt to determine the cause of the plane's smashing into the wooded area.

Local curiosity was aroused at mid-afternoon yesterday when an ambulance, a crash truck and other vehicles were dispatched to the scene by local Naval Air Station authorities.

Lt. Cdr. Gallagher is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sue Ann Gallagher, who lives in Jacksonville.

High Fever Follies Is Said 'Terrific'

High Fever Follies, being presented Friday and Saturday night at the Seminole High School auditorium is "Four Oh" Mrs. Robert S. Stone, general chairman of the production for the Women's Auxiliary of Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Stone, at the final rehearsal before putting the show together tonight and the first class rehearsal tomorrow night said of the show "I think it's terrific!"

The general chairman would not cite any one part of the program as being better than the other. Instead, she said "The cast has been wonderful about rehearsals, in fact, I am most pleased."

She paid particular tribute to the "unsung heroes" as she called them, the ladies who have stayed at home to take care of children of members of the cast and doing the extra jobs which call for no appearance in the show at all.

Last night, with the morale of the cast at its highest, everyone joining in for laughter and a review of the show in which they had no particular part, upward of 125 people gathered at the Elks Club to go over their lines, rehearse their parts, and brush up on stage appearance.

High Fever Follies is divided into two acts, each with 12 scenes. The first act contains scenes such as "Hollywood Star Interview," "Beach Scene," "Fashion Show" and particularly highlighting "The Stage In A World."

Act 2 features such scenes as the "Frankie and Johnnie" number, the "Speak Easy" scene "Love and Marriage" and "Take Back Your Minks."

Mrs. A. W. Epps, Sr., Chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of Seminole Memorial Hospital said last night she was busy whipping each act into shape for the "putting together" of the show tonight and the dress rehearsal tomorrow night. However, he had time to say that "The show is out of this world. These people of Sanford are the finest I have ever seen. And their cooperation has been unusually fine."

"We're going to have a fine High Fever Follies and everyone who sees it will agree when Sanford's talent is displayed Friday and Saturday nights," Reeder commented.

Gen. Sanford Led Interesting Life

By DR. FRED ENSMINGER
Henry Shelton Sanford was born at Woodbury in southwestern Connecticut—"the land of steady habits" on June 1, 1821, and, in spite of handicaps, lived a vigorous and fruitful life for almost 69 years. He pleased his parents and tutors by his application to his studies. He went to an academy at Cheshire and to Trinity College at Hartford. Asthma and failing eyesight prevented his graduation but he won high honors and Trinity later gave him an honorary Doctor of Laws. After a sea voyage for his health he studied at the University of Heidelberg in Germany and passed his examinations "cum Laude." Readers helped him with his education. In Germany he studied law and became known for his knowledge of international law.

While on a visit to St. Petersburg he was asked by our Minister to Russia to become Secretary of State.

Feb. 20 Deadline For Getting '57 Automobile Tags

John L. Galloway, Tax Collector, who acts as Agent for the Motor Vehicle Department calls attention to the fact that the deadline for obtaining 1957 automobile tags is Wednesday, Feb. 20. After that date any person found driving with a 1956 tag on his vehicle will be doing so in violation of the law.

Mr. Galloway commented that to date a total of 7798 tags have been sold as compared with a total of 16983 for the year 1956 which means that "we have a long way to go in a very short time," he said. Those who have not obtained their 1957 tags are urged to do so now and not wait until the last day so as to avoid having to wait in line.

Those who wait until the last day will probably have to stand in long lines and be forced to wait.

Mr. Galloway added that all a local resident needs to buy his 1957 tag is the number of his 1956 tag. Those buying tags here for the first time must present their registration card and out of state people must have title or other required papers.

Every person that works in Florida or has a child in school must have a Florida tag on his or her car.

Communist Party In U. S.

NEW YORK — The Communist Party is trying to convince you that it is not a puppet of the Soviet Union or a menace to America.

It will unveil this weekend in New York a new "red-white-and-blue" look at the first national convention in six years.

The American people will be asked then to believe that the party no longer takes orders from Moscow, that today it is an independent movement of "national" Communists, still opposed to capitalism, but dedicated to debate and democracy.

"We are American Communists — part 1," said the 23,000-word draft resolution, a self-whipping confession of past errors and guileless statement of future tactics, prepared for approval by the Feb. 8-13 convention.

"Nobody tells me what to think," a Communist official told a United Press reporter in a cubbyhole conversation which he said was wire-tapped.

Daily Worker's Claim
"Nobody gives us orders," said the party newspaper, The Daily Worker.

"There are various roads to socialism—not just the Soviet way—said the party.

Communists have denounced the brutalities of the late Soviet premier and hero, Josef Stalin. They have assailed the bloody repression and shooting of workers by Soviet troops in Hungary.

They have argued with each other.
Then aging Party Chairman William Z. Foster defended the "grim necessity" of Soviet intervention to prevent "fascism" in Hungary, Daily Worker labor reporter Herbert Singer wrote:

"If there is a 'grim necessity' it is that American Communists understand that they cannot take a serious step toward establishing a new basis for socialism... if they condone or justify the Soviet actions in Hungary."

For months behind the forbidden doors of floors six and seven of a sandstone building on Manhattan's lower West Side, party leaders have been painting on the new face which will make no attempt to disguise their crisis.

It is just a mask to avoid further prosecution and to confuse the public? Or is it a sincere break from Kremlin domination? Is it a change of pace or heart?
View: Still Secret

That is one of the few secrets the Communists still harbor from the vigilant eyes and long shadows of the FBI. The answers to those questions are a matter of interpretation.

The FBI, the Department of Justice, American labor leaders and many specialists on Communist affairs say that the image of "independence" is merely a carefully-arranged shift in tactics—a sham. Moscow still calls the signals.

On one point there is no argument. The party is in sad shape.

Eleven of the top 12 party leaders were convicted in 1949 and jailed in 1951 under the Smith Act for conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the U. S. government. Chairman Foster escaped trial due to illness. Five of the 11 are now free.

Under the 1940 Smith Act, 145 Communists have been tried in 18 processes, and 103 have gone to jail. The testimony of 27 undercover agents of the FBI who penetrated the party sealed the fate of many.

The Smith Act convictions, the exposure of 153 Communist-front publications and organizations, the deportation of subversives, the campaign against security risks—the party itself lists these as the acts which crippled it.

Underlined Themselves
But American Communists, with an able assist from the Soviet Union, undermined themselves by slavishly following the Kremlin line.

The Communist invasion of Korea, the disclosure of Soviet spy networks, the flip-flop on Stalin, the Soviet cruelty in Hungary led successfully to thousands of desertions. And no new blood is coming in. The overwhelming majority of the American public long ago discredited the party.

In this critical situation, party comrades have turned on Russia and each other. It may sound like a free-swinging debate, but Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell warned in a memo to President Eisenhower: "The Communists... propose a new change in the party line, seeking to divert public attention by now claiming allegiance to the United States and purporting to sever their ties with the Soviet Union."

"They will fool no one by this tactic. So long as Communist dictatorship threaten the peace of the world, the Communists and their agents will remain a serious threat to our internal security."

Moslem Countries Join Attempt To Strengthen Mid-East Allied Position

Two important Moslem countries are joining the United States in its attempt to strengthen the Allied position in the Middle East.

The two countries are Turkey and Iran, both members of the Baghdad alliance, which is aimed at opposing Communist aggression.

While King Saud of Saudi Arabia is visiting Washington, Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes is making a state visit to Libya, one of the nine Arab countries with which the new Eisenhower Doctrine is chiefly concerned.

It is announced also that Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran will visit King Saud on March 2. Neither of these visits is likely to receive much attention outside of the Middle East itself.

But it may be taken for granted that neither President Gamal Nasser of Egypt, who aspires to leadership of the Arab world, nor Soviet Russia will welcome them.

The visits of Menderes and the Shah fit in perfectly with the aims of the Eisenhower Doctrine. They are calculated to oppose the anti-Western, pro-Russian trend which Nasser's policies have encouraged in Arab countries.

Tax Council Report

TALLAHASSEE (UP) — A tax payer has no way of knowing or proving whether he is paying more or less than his fair share of property taxes under present assessments, a report prepared for the Citizens Tax Council showed.

The report, by Ernest E. Means of the Florida State University Bureau of Governmental Research and Services, said wide variation found in each county on assessments "means simply that the owners of some classes of property are bearing more than their fair share of the property tax burden, while the owners of other kinds of property are bearing less than their fair share."

But Means said that under present conditions "the taxpayer simply has no way of knowing much less of proving—that the assessed valuation on his property is discriminatory."

Means said the study which covered Brevard, Collier, Lake, Leon, Nassau, Orange and Palm Beach counties showed that non-conformity to the law requiring all property to be assessed for tax purposes at full value.

He said the study found that property under homestead exemption may be assessed at a higher percentage of full value than non-exempt property.

My New York

There appears to have been launched a diabolical plot to undermine a Manhattan institution—the luncheon of a cigar and a Coke. There are many reasons why there are so few fat persons on the streets of New York, but one large one is that there is no place handy for the average worker to eat; lunch, so he ducks into the corner drugstore and has his soft drink and gasper. I speak now, of course, of the $60-to-$100-a-week employee. Anyone making more than $100 a week in this town has only martinis for lunch.

However, just recently the Socony-Mobil people opened a huge new building at Lexington avenue and 42nd street, just across from Grand Central terminal—and in the basement provided a mammoth dining room to take care of the 8,000 or so souls working in the building.

Here the workers get lunch for less than a dollar—in cop-lined lounges, yet—and served food emanating from the world's most modern, all-electric, stainless-steel, block-long kitchen. R. S. Curtiss, president of the city's real estate board, nodded approvingly. "It's ironic," he commented, "that in a city with the world's greatest concentration of restaurants, more and more of our citizens find it difficult to enjoy a mid-day meal."

I know S-M means and tomato on a whole wheat bread. Anything more substantial may be a shock to his system, and I don't want to be blamed for the consequences.

IT MAY WELL BE that the most frightened man in town is comic Lee Tully; he's the man who did the Elvis Presley satire for Flair records called Around the World With Elwood Prezell. The peculiar Presley fans have threatened Tully with mayhem and even now are picketing the recording company.

Funnyman author Edie Davis has a new book out, Laughier in Bed, and I am started to see myself credited on page 123 with a joke I never knew till now. It's not the world's greatest joke, either. # More New Homes Needed In State To Accommodate Growing Population

The nation's economy boomed in 1956, but there was a 15 per cent decline in the construction of private housing.

Although continuing prosperity is forecast in 1957, a further drop of perhaps 10 per cent in private housing construction is expected this year. These facts should be of concern to the entire nation, especially when laid against the additional fact that there is still a housing shortage in the United States. This was brought out in a recent report by the housing subcommittee of the Senate.

A Florida man, Kenneth S. Keys of Miami, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, thinks that "abnormal tightness of the mortgage money market" is mainly responsible for the decline in housing construction. There is considerable support for this view outside the building industry, also.

Whatever the reason, the fact is that we are steadily falling short of the nation's needs in new house construction. It is conservatively estimated that between now and 1960 housing units should be added at the rate of 1,400,000 units annually, and that in the 1960s this figure will jump to 2,000,000 a year. Yet only 1,100,000 units were produced in 1956, and it is expected that the total this year will be even lower.

What the federal government can do about all this is a moot question. Some relaxation of the tight money market to ease housing credit might be helpful. In any case, however, it is clear that a shortage of housing does still exist, and that it is likely to become worse if construction continues only at present rates. In the press of other demands on its time Congress should not bypass this matter.

Looking at our own Florida picture in the construction figures of last year, an eminent speaker only last week revealed that while the nation suffered a setback in its newhousing development, Florida gained six per cent.

However, as more and more people from all parts of the nation see the Florida expansion program and advancement, new homes in the Sunshine State will have to be built to accommodate the growing population.

Certainly, no one in Florida, and especially in the Sanford-Central area, will want to see a cut-back in new house construction.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The visit of King Saud of Saudi Arabia to President Eisenhower promises to be a big diplomatic success.

There seems to be good reason to believe that the Arabian monarch's conferences in Washington may lead to improvement in the entire Middle Eastern situation.

Saud, appears to have been convinced, for one thing, that the Eisenhower Doctrine aimed at combatting Communist penetration of the Arab countries is a real contribution to Middle Eastern stability.

He has intimated strongly that he will tell the leaders of other Arab countries that the President's plan should be accepted.

As regards the direct United States-Saudi Arabian part of the Washington talks, it seems certain that agreement for cooperation between the two countries will be worked out.

Under this agreement, the United States would sell Saudi Arabia a large quantity of arms. The figure of $250 million has been mentioned, but is said now to be too high.

Cry For Security

In these times our people lack confidence in their power to cope with the perplexities that confront them, and a clamor for protection and security can be heard in all quarters.

Many look with favor upon an ever increasing and more pervasive control of our daily lives by the government.

More and more we look to it for the solution of every want or need . . . The cry for security at any price is the signal for a retreat from freedom, a surrender to unreasonable fear.

We are doomed to thralldom if we sacrifice what has been preserved for us at such great cost for the comforting security of the chain.

We have chosen to erect the structures of government in the belief that no national government should do what the local government can do, and NO GOVERNMENT SHOULD DO WHAT A MAN CAN DO HIMSELF.

E. Smythe Gambrell,
Past President American Bar Association.

Material Things

The material things . . . are the CONSEQUENCES of the American system. They are . . . evidence to show the workability and serviceability of the basic American principle which is the source and the cause of our comparative comfort and prosperity.

But that basic causative American principle is the important consideration . . . and the principle is this . . . AN UNCOMPROMISED DEMAND FOR THE FREEDOM AND INDEPENDENCE OF THE INDIVIDUAL MAN . . .

If the communistic threat is to be liquidated, communism must be defeated on PRINCIPLE. It will never be defeated by making those very social, economic and political concessions to socialism which Karl Marx advocated as necessary prerequisites to the ultimate establishment of communism itself.

It isn't necessary for a man to have a job or a second shirt for his back before he can be devoted to and be dependent upon to support the American principle of Personal Liberty . . . The love of and necessity for personal liberty are a part of each man's God-given nature. It is a birthright which only the grossly misled will sell for a mess of materialistic portage.

Blondes are more likely to catch colds than persons with other complexions, according to an authority on the subject—that is, on colds.

This seems to provide an exceptional market opening for dark cosmetics during seasons when the sneezes and sniffles bug is most energetic.

Good will is a business asset of prime importance, especially in the business of government. By this standard, the Soviet government should be having a going-out-of-business sale anytime now.

Nautilus Goes 20,000 Leagues On Nuclear Power

ABOARD USS NAUTILUS (UP)
—The world's first, atomic submarine, the Nautilus, has fulfilled a prediction conceived by the almost — prophetic imagination of Jules Verne 77 years ago.

The scene was off the continental edge in the depths of the Atlantic Ocean.

Just before 9:30 p.m. Monday Capt. Eugene P. Wilkinson, skipper of the modern Nautilus, stood in the soft glow of the red lights of the attack center, and announced:

"In a few minutes we will witness a feat that has been unknown to man except in the world of fiction—this ship, our Nautilus, will

When Will Taxpayer Get Break?

WASHINGTON (UP)—There is disagreement among officials who should know best as to when—if ever—the American taxpayer will get a break.

Moreover, the officials who believe a tax cut may come relatively soon are outnumbered and outbragged by officials who cannot see a tax cut coming for a long time.

President Eisenhower is among those who believe government spending may continue to climb, and if he is correct in that, tax cuts are a long way off. Mr. Eisenhower is supported by Budget Director Percival F. Brundage.

Treasury Secretary George P. Humphrey is fearful that the President and Brundage may prove to be right. Humphrey predicts economic disaster for the United States unless taxes and spending are reduced. He does not forecast disaster tomorrow or next day.

Reduction Far Off
Humphrey's argument is that the long haul United States trend of high taxes and big spending will get the country into serious trouble in time. Brundage estimates that tax reduction is three to five years away. That is a long time, perhaps time enough to put Humphrey's theory to a test.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., R-Mass is one of those who expects substantial tax reduction soon.

"It will come," he said recently, "because we will carefully screen our spending and eliminate waste and extravagance."
Martin has served more than 30 years in Congress. He is the Republican leader of the House, a former speaker, a powerful man.

He is talking about, which may be some comfort to taxpayers. But so should the President, Humphrey, Brundage and others, know, too.

Someone is wrong about tax cut chances. That is obvious. Obviously, too, is that Martin's prescription for careful screening to eliminate waste and extravagance from government spending would accomplish wonders. There is no assurance, however, that spending will be so screened or that waste and extravagance will be eliminated.

Waste Will Go On
A better bet would be that waste and extravagance will be doing business as usual when all the individuals now talking and writing about taxes are long dead. Waste and extravagance are almost built in to government spending. That is partly because the spenders are using other people's money.

Other people's money is a lot easier to spend than your own. There also is a well-founded political theory that big government spending reaps a harvest of votes. A notable figure in the Roosevelt administration once denied that he had been overheard to remark at a horse track that the new deal system was based on this: "Tax and tax, spent and spent, elect and elect."
A publication of "The Tax Four-

Soviet Polity To Reduce '57 Arms Budget

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet government has announced that it would reduce its 1957 arms budget by more than 6 billion rubles ($1,500,000,000). It was a reduction of almost 8 per cent in the funds allocated last year.

The announcement was made by Finance Minister Arseni Zverev, who presented the 1957 budget to a joint session of the Supreme Soviet.

Zverev said the proposed total arms was 96.7 billion rubles about $24.1 billion. He said the 1957 arms figure totaled 16 per cent of the budget as compared with 18 per cent in the 1956 budget.

This is the second consecutive year Russia has reduced its visible military budget.

The figures do not include expenditures on guided missile, rocket and nuclear weapons.

Rules For Healthy Feet

By HERMAN M. BUNDEN, M.D.
It takes 20 years to grow a foot! During the early years of childhood, those tiny feet you mothers so love to fondle are simply baby bony masses. They don't even appear to be united.

Gradually, as the child grows older, these masses become larger and connect with each other. At child is 10 years old before the general foot structure is completed. And even then certain details of the great heel bone are not perfected.

It takes 20 years before a foot is fully grown.

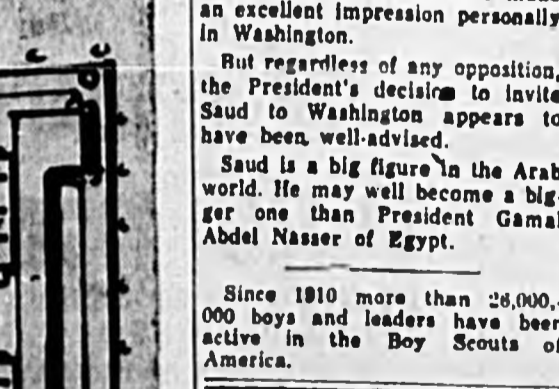

Good Foot Habits
I think you can see why it is so important for a youngster to develop good foot habits at an early age, when the bony structures are still and are still being shaped.

When walking and standing, make sure the foot is placed so the inside of the big toe is on a straight line ahead. If practiced patiently, this soon will become a natural position. It throws the weight of the body on the outer border of the foot, thus saving strain on the arches.

Foreign Markets May Be Cut Down By Import Limit

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP)—Limitations on Japanese textile imports to this country may eventually cut down on foreign markets for American textiles, according to a leading spokesman for the industry.

F. E. Grier, president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute told United Press here Japan will flood the rest of the world with textiles which would have entered the United States before last month's voluntary agreement to set up quotas on exports to this country.

Under the agreement, Japanese manufacturers will limit their exports to the United States to 235 million yards annually instead of the "around 275 million yards" which Grier says they shipped here in 1955.

Grier, president of Abbey Mills at Greensboro, S. C., added that "other Asiatic countries with 150% quotas" also are increasing their textile products and have a vast "effect" on American export markets.

"Cotton production is growing in India . . . Japan's production is getting bigger every day and so is it at Hong Kong," he said. He noted that U.S. textile imports have dropped from 1,500,000,000 yards annually to 500 million.

Grier said Canada and Cuba probably will remain the biggest foreign markets for American textiles because "both are close by and both are conscious of our styles."

He said he considered the U.S.—Japanese agreement "practical" and a "step in the right direction."

He said that "if adhered to with strong effort it will work."

He spoke at a news conference before the first of a week-long series of textile meetings in the Carolinas and Georgia under the sponsorship of the ACMI.

Similar meetings will be held today at Charlotte, N. C., and Gastonia, N. C., with subsequent meetings at Augusta, Ga., Greenville, S. C., and Spartanburg, S. C.

America's vulnerability to sudden air attack "has increased greatly" and under present defense policies will continue to increase.

"It is my conviction," Quarles said, "that we have today the best air force in the world and that its quality in man, material and leadership surpasses that of any potential opponent."

Quarles Convinced US Has 'Best Air Force in World'

ENGLWOOD, N. J. (UP)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said that he is convinced the United States has "the best air force in the world" and one which can effectively deter war.

In a speech before his hometown Republican Club, Quarles took issue with the Democratic majority of a Senate Air Power subcommittee.

The Democrats, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington Mo., contended

HAROLD ROSS, founder of the New Yorker Magazine, was a perpetually inquisitive genius who "read the Encyclopedia Britannica for fun."

It was Ross who persuaded Raoul Fleischmann, baking millionaire, to invest an original $50,000 in the venture, and then pony up a cool half million more later. It was Ross too who got stars like Thurber, White, Benchley, and Dorothy Parker to contribute pieces for a fraction of what others would have paid them.

"Hal" invented the "profile," too. The going rate was then $150 tops, for which the writer had to check and recheck his facts, and write and rewrite until Ross was satisfied. Nobody ever resigned.

London Punch sized up "Hal" the value to the New Yorker in one short sentence: "Ross was the only guy at the party."

Larry Norwood of Orlando, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a dress of pale blue pongee with a corsage of pink carnations and navy accessories.

The mother of the groom wore a gold and white sheath dress with a corsage of gold and white carnations.

A reception was held following the wedding. The bride's table was overlaid with a white imported linen table cloth and was centered with a traditional three-tiered wedding cake. Fern, sweet peas and burning tapers were used to decorate the table and the punch bowl was also surrounded with fern and sweet peas.

Mrs. Brogg cut the cake and Mrs. Dale Moore served punch. The Bride's Book was kept by Miss Rose Clapp.

Big Events — Past and Future

President Hugh F. McKean of Rollins College was the speaker at FSU's commencement exercises on the afternoon of Feb. 2. At this time degrees were conferred on approximately 250 undergraduate and 60 graduate students by President Doak S. Campbell.

125 prominent citizens gathered at the Hotel Putnam last Friday evening for a Chamber of Commerce sponsored dinner in honor of Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of Stetson University. This dinner came as a result of Dr. Edmunds recent election to the head of the American Association of Colleges. Dr. Edmunds was also praised for his success in several fields including that of attorney and former Duval County Judge, as a business man, educator, and for his religious convictions. Also Dr. Edmunds has been named as one of the 18 members of a commission to discover and develop scientists and engineers.

Among those attending the informal Open House for the parents of Stetson University students last Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. John Krider, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morrison, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stinecpher. At this time these parents met and talked with Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, the Faculty, and other parents.

Sanfordites will have the opportunity to hear the University of Miami Band in concert tonight in the Seminole High School auditorium. This is a part of the band's seventh annual in-between semesters, musical tour of Florida, which will also take them to Ft. Pierce, Vero Beach, Daytona Beach, Kissimmee, Orlando, Hialeah City, Lake Wales, St. Petersburg, and Moore Haven.

Those attending the concert, which is sponsored by the Seminole High Band, will hear such numbers as Leroy Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday," Reed's "Ode for Trumpet," and Vincent Bach's "Hungarian Melodies." Also there will be twirling acts by Janis Wadsworth Wyatt, "Miss Majorette of America."

Betty Good and Joe College In a beautiful candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church of Winter Park last Tuesday evening, Miss Kathleen Jensen became the bride of Harold Marsh Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Marsh of Sanford. Kathleen is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Jensen of Winter Park.

Miss Patty Johnson, Mt. Dora, was maid of honor while George Herndon, Sanford, served as best man.

Kathie is a sophomore at Stetson University where she is majoring in elementary education. Prior to entering Stetson she graduated from Edgewater High School in Orlando. Hal is also a student at Stetson, after graduating from Seminole High School in 1951 and serving two years with the Merchant Marines. He is enrolled in the School of Business, there and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Kathie and Hal are at home at 137 South Stone Street, DeLand while they are continuing their studies at Stetson.

College students attending the wedding from Sanford were Doug Oglesby, John Todd, and Grace Marie Stinecpher.

Martha Grogan, daughter of Mrs. Mamie Grogan, has just completed a two year secretarial course at Stetson University. Congratulations, Martha! She now plans to vacation for about a month and then go to work in Orlando.

I wouldn't advise you to try it, but Kirby Rogers has found the unique way to get out of exams — he had an appendectomy in the middle of exam week. After several days in Fish Memorial Hospital in DeLand and a few more recuperating in the dorm at Stetson, he seems to be in top-notch condition now.

Miss Tina Gifford of DeLand was the guest of Nancy Rountree and Rosemary Garner last week-end. Tina, Nancy and Rosemary are Phi Mu sorority sisters at FSU.

Grace Marie Stinecpher spent last Saturday in Mt. Dora as the guest of Miss Patty Johnson, her roommate at Stetson University.

In a very impressive and beautiful wedding ceremony, Miss Mikolajzik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lippolis, of this city, became the bride of Joseph S. Siler son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Siler. The rites took place Sunday at 2 p.m. in All Souls Catholic Church with the Rev. Richard Lyons officiating.

Mrs. F. E. Rounitlat Sr., serving as organist and soloist, played the traditional wedding marches and sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "O Perfect Love."

Fuji mums, pompon chrysanthemums, gladioli and palms placed at strategic points throughout the church formed the background for the double ring ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her step-father, Pete Lippolis, was radiant in a traditional wedding gown of chantilly lace and tulle. The lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline and down the back, a row of self-covered buttons extending to the waistline. Self-covered buttons were also used at the tapered points of the full length sleeves. Tiers of lace overlapped onto the skirt of satin, which flowed into a full cathedral train. Her three-tiered veil of illusion fell gracefully from a bandeau studded with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of Amazon lilies showered with orange blossoms.

Now Hear This!

by BETTY O'CONNOR and IRENE DULEK

Here we go into the month of February already. For the men of Sanford NAS who are eligible this month to take rating exams this month it means buckling down to the books to insure them of advancement if there are openings in their rate.

The first class petty officers took their tests Tuesday Feb. 5, and by the looks of the low heads — it was a tuffy, a real brain washer.

To the rest of you men, still to take your tests, Good luck and Happy Sailing.

The meeting of the EMWC was called to order with the pounding of the gavel by Mrs. Howard Miller, President of the E.M.W.C. Monday evening at 8:00 at the U.S.O. Building.

Discussions of the meeting included still indefinite plans for a Valentine's dance to be held Friday Feb. 15, at 8:00 at the newly redecorated E.M. Club. Mrs. Miller had earlier in the day talked to Mr. Leary, head of the Department of Special Services and he had assured her that all enlisted men and their wives are invited to hold meetings and parties with access to a reserved room at the club. They will, at dances have waiter service and music with ample room to dance.

Another section of the club is partitioned for lounging with tables and T.V.

Under the assurance of a private room, the members voted unhesitatingly to hold their Valentine's party there. Mrs. Lucy Sanchez volunteered her services as dance chairman.

Plans to hold a plastic ware party as a program at the close of a future meeting were also discussed. Members and guests will be invited. This column will announce the definite date at a later time.

A lunch of salad and beef tea immediately followed the meeting, preceded by all the members enjoying the playing of a few games.

Following is a list of members attending Monday's meeting: Mrs. Desne Lanier, Mrs. Doris Shortland, Mrs. Adelle Holtman, Mrs. Rosemary Finnegan, Mrs. Patricia Foster, Mrs. Joyce Williams, Mrs. Alice Pulver, Mrs. Joanne Fleischman, Mrs. Bobbie Wilson, Mrs. Gladys Carter, Mrs. Lillian Ogles, Mrs. Patricia Hoppe, Mrs. Mildred Coleman, Mrs. Lucy Churchill, Mrs. Marion Feeback, Mrs. Alice Drake, Mrs. Irene Dulek, Mrs. Betty O'Connor, Mrs. Betty Miller, and Mrs. Ruby Dickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Femeller were dinner hosts Monday, Feb. 4, to Harry Kuly. Both Mr. Femeller and Mr. Kuly are in VAH-5.

Sunday afternoon seemed like a nice day for the beach, didn't it? Well, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Femeller thought so too. The water was beautiful and the weather was ideal. Even the tide was out, but thank heavens for good Samaritans, for shortly after they hit New Smyrna Beach the car sank. After a brief dip it started to rain so no sunbats but quite a day to write about.

Miss Cason Feted With Shower Friday

Miss Paulette Cason, bride-elect of Feb. 14 was honored at a shower given Friday night by Mrs. Owen Meredith and Miss Lennie Rotundo.

Red and white was the color scheme chosen by the hostesses and this theme was carried out with the use of beautiful arrangements of red and white snapdragons, white statice, and red and white tulips. In the bridal game played by the guests, Mrs. W. D. Lane was prize-winner.

Many lovely gifts was presented to the honoree, and as she opened each one, someone wrote down her remarks, and these were later read back to her.

Those invited to be with the honoree were Miss Gertrude Vining, Mrs. R. E. Soderblom, Mrs. Evelyn Cushing, Mrs. L. E. White, Mrs. N. P. Hendley, Mrs. C. C. Hanner, Mrs. Vernon Davis, Mrs. T. E. Noon, Mrs. L. T. Sheppard, Mrs. W. D. Lane, Mrs. George Benton, Mrs. P. B. Gillyard, Mrs. Penn Rahn, Mrs. John Griffin, Miss Evelyn Bennett, Mrs. E. I. The various loyal fans voiced stern disapproval of the apparent player attitude. The mentoring staff said the downward trend had become more apparent since the last Winter Park game. It was a "wait and see" situation this morning, and head basketball coach Bud Layer said that an unseasoned, inexperienced team was always unpredictable—most certainly the Seminoles are very representative of this category.

Today's Sport Parade

By JACK CUDDY United Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—What kind of a heavyweight champion is Floyd Patterson? Right now that's the biggest one-man question in sports. It may be answered shortly this year if the youngest heavyweight ruler in history survives his two planned defenses in June and September.

Both fights are expected to be at Yankee Stadium, and the probable challenger is Tommy Hurricane Jackson and Eddie Macho. At 21, the streamlined boxer-puncher from St. Albans, N. Y., apparently has the body and the fighting philosophy to make him one of the greatest champions of all time.

The ring philosophy that governs his training and fighting is very important. He and Manager Gus D'Amato maintain steadfastly that "the perfect fighter is one who can hit his opponent; a stunning blow without getting hit himself."

His ability to avoid ancient Archie Moore's punches in their exhibition at Chicago, meanwhile, ripping Archie with combinations was a feature of his championship victory, Nov. 30. However, whether young Floyd is half as good as he is looked against 40-year-old Archie is a big question. Certainly Moore didn't put up half the fight expected—either because of his own regression or because of Patterson's ability. And Floyd flattened him twice in the fifth round for a knockout.

It must be recalled that our new champion was not nearly as impressive six months before that when he won a split 12-round decision over Hurricane Jackson. However, Floyd fought the last five rounds with a broken hand that June night in Madison Square Garden. And most writers agreed he won decisively. The two judges favored him 8-4 and 7-3, but Referee Harry Kessler—who often is out of line in his voting—had Jackson ahead, 6-3-1.

Heading the range of sharpshooters from Apopka was Orla Balkcom with 15 points and Carl Cousins with 13 points. Both Balkcom and Cousins ran their personal scores into the double figure mark in two quarters, leaving the rest of the game to their reserves.

Football League Drafts 312 Players

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Football League, its player draft completed, moved into its midwinter business sessions last week with the proposed program of the new players organization, rule changes, expansion and schedule consideration on the agenda.

The 12 member clubs drafted a total of 312 players last week, completing its selections started last November when 49 hopefuls were tapped for future play among the rugged pros.

Commissioner Bert Bell, planned to present the program of requests to Los Angeles, Green Bay and San Francisco were non-committal. Cleveland withheld comment, and the Chicago Bears, whose players are not members, had nothing to say.

Redskin Owners Opposed George Preston Marshall, president of the Washington Redskins, opposed the players' group move because it "would be extremely difficult to have a player association in a contact sport like football. . . The rules which apply to baseball don't apply to us in any respect."

Dave Laude Named New SHS Baseball Coach

Season Opens Monday, Night Games Hoped For

DAVE LAUDE, NEWLY APPOINTED BASEBALL COACH FOR THE SHS SANFORD SEMINOLES. The ex-Marine infantry officer...

Along with a new brand of baseball in Sanford will come a new and highly capable coach in the person of Dave Laude. Laude was appointed new head baseball coach at the last meeting of the County School Board. Andy Bracken, sports-minded principal of Seminole High said yesterday afternoon that he was "pleased" with the good judgment of the school board's choice.

Laude said that when the educational function of a sport was realized the winning team could follow in short order, all things being equal. "We will have a group of well disciplined boys to build a good team around, and the nucleus will be juniors a long with some sage experience from a few seniors."

Laude is a product of the boy-day of Stetson's athlete. During the reign of Florida's small college king, Joe McMullen, Laude was a member of the famous "McMullen Midgets" that soared to unprecedented heights for Stetson.

Laude gained state recognition as a great competitor in the Tangerine Bowl appearance of Stetson in 1935 when his extraordinary pass receiving won the game for the Hatters. Laude caught the winning pass, sliding into the end.

New Star Lights JV Horizon As Team Meets Blue Darters

A new star lighted the Seminole basketball horizon last night as little Jim Gracey tried to fire the outclassed Sanford Seminoles JV's against the tall timbored baby Blue Darters in a losing attempt.

Junior High Cage Five Tops Ormond Beach Team 26-24

Behind the fine performances of Alex McKibbin and Johnny Marshall the Sanford Junior High cage yesterday resumed its winning ways against the Blue Darters. Gracey's effort was good for more than half the points of the entire Seminole team showing as he plugged 12 baskets from the floor and hit one free throw to give him 25 points.

Also impressive was Mike Davis, who tallied for nine points to be the number two high man for the losing JV's. Gracey's effort more than doubled the showing of any other player in the game.

David Sanley, bustling defensively all season, had reason to rejoice, even if his team did lose. He scored his first point of the season against the Blue Darters.

Gen. Sanford

retary of the Legation. Then he was secretary of our legations at Frankfurt, Germany, and at Paris. Here he became Charge d'Affaires and arranged the first Postal Convention between the U. S. and France. He spoke English, French, German and Italian.

At Paris he wrote "The Penal Codes of Europe", which was approved by Daniel Webster, then the U. S. Secretary of State and published in book form, became a reference work.

Back in America he was engaged as a lawyer on the Aves Island case for seven years, winning an award of something like $100,000 from Venezuelans. At that time there were "derelict islands in the Caribbean. Aves Island was southeast of Porto Rico and was 600 miles from Venezuela. In 1854 Capt. W. P. Gibbs with 25 men raised the American flag over the island and fenced off a portion of it for the guano deposits. Venezuelans later drove them off. Sanford's document "The Law of Special Reprisals" became well known.

In 1860 he brought men of both parties to his home at Derby, Conn., in an effort to stave off the war between the States.

Appointed in 1861 as Minister to Belgium he was used by the government in a number of European countries. He was sent to Italy to deal with Garibaldi. He remained in Belgium as Minister, and with much influence, for eight and half years.

Liking the State of Minnesota he was enrolled as one of its "Old Settlers" and made Major General on its Militia.

1867 found him a delegate of the American Geographical Society in Belgium. He had a part in the opening of Congo Free State and worked for the abolition of the slave traffic and against the liquor system there.

Following the Franco-German War he helped by giving quantities of ice to the wounded and was active on the bread committee, which was the relief agency.

It was in 1870 that he purchased the old Spanish land grant in Florida in Orange County south of Lake Monroe. It comprised 23 square miles if land and included Sanford and Helix which he founded, as well as New Upsala, where he brought two large companies of Swedish people.

Helix had 500 acres, of which 145 acres were improved by citrus and other fruit and to acres an experimental fruit and flower garden.

He made Sanford "The Gate City of South Florida." At times there were eight or 10 steamers on Lake Monroe. He established Florida Land and Colonization Company which had a two-story office building on the northeast corner of Park Ave. and Commercial St. The Sanford Hotel was an early and impressive resort Hotel facing Lake Monroe. He was interested in the South Florida Railroad and established the Southern Florida Journal, which became the Sanford Herald.

His family consisted of his wife, two sons and five daughters, only one of whom Mrs. Carola Dow, is now living.

In his public and private enterprises he was energetic, personable, generous and untiring in his services. Sanford is fortunate to have had so farseeing a founder. In spite of a rigorous physique he finally work himself out.

In 1944 the first of 32 Liberty ships was launched by the Government at Jacksonville and named the H. S. Sanford.

Conning The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

Saturday night Ruth and Forest Norvell entertained part of HATU with a bridge party. Pecan pie was served, and incidentally, Ruth is famous for this, and coffee. Joe McClane won high prize for men, Mac Edwards high for ladies, and Bill Edwards booby. Bob Radtke won the traveling prize. Also playing was Troy Gilroy, weekend guest of the Tegfeldts, and stationed at Offitt field in Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. C. E. Lukens has arrived to join his wife, daughter and son. His daughter is Mollie Barlow, and his son Ted Lukens. Ted is getting out of the Navy and will return with his family to Philadelphia.

So far this has been one of the quietest weeks (socially) since I have been writing this column. All my good friends are indulging in civic aids however. Judy Smith is assisting Betty Place with her girl scout troop. Louise Parker has been collecting for the Girl Scout fund in Lake Mary. Incidentally the eleventh of February marks the start of the Seminole County Girl Scout drive. The budget this year is $2,175, a small sum indeed when one considers the advantages given the girls. This money is used for administration, camping, equipment, printing and training. I was one of those who took the leadership course last fall, and if it were not for the volunteer workers, there would be far less than the 315 girl Scouts we have in Seminole County now. It is wonderful indeed, that since we joined the Citrus Council last June, the number of girls participating has more than doubled. So when you are keeping money out for other drives, and there are a great many at this time of year, remember the Girl Scouts. They hold an important place in the future of America.

Other girls are working on founder's Night to be held at Southside Thursday night, when all the schools join together. And of course there is the Follies, and that is where the news has gone. I can report that Mrs. Warren Adams and Mrs. Eileen Rector and their sewing committee are having a hectic time of it now as they fit the cast into the multitudes of costumes needed in the production of the High Fever Follies.

The Box Office Exchange opened today, and was expected to do a tremendous business, as choice seats were selected for the Follies. If you did not get down today, better hurry tomorrow at eleven at the Chamber of Commerce to pick a good seat. Don't want to miss a single act.

Colombia Expands Road Projects

BOGOTA—(UP)—Columbia is embarked on a massive program involving 6,000 miles of roads and an investment of $400,000,000. It's all keyed to a 1980 completion date and the country's economic boom.

Columbia in 1956 spent more than $102,000,000 on its road improvement projects and will spend an equal amount through each of the next three years. It tops its neighbor, Venezuela, by some 10 million, and is far ahead of Argentina, Brazil and Mexico in its 1956 road-building efforts.

The importance of Columbia's current program lies in the fact that completion of its projects will virtually eliminate most of the last "missing links" in the long-planned Pan American Highway.

American motorists long have hampered for centuries by an inadequate internal communications system. Its major north-south highways, now constructed or to be built, are those paralleling the Andean range and run from the Caribbean coast on the north to the Ecuadorian border on the Pacific coast to the south.

These are the major links Colombia is adding to the Pan American highway system. But it needs these improvements for its own economic progress as well.

Domestically, Colombia has been hampered for centuries by an inadequate internal communications system. Its major north-south highways, now constructed or to be built, are those paralleling the Andean range and run from the Caribbean coast on the north to the Ecuadorian border on the Pacific coast to the south.

THESE FIRST PHOTOS of the X-10 show the unmanned test vehicle for the Air Force SM-61 Navaho intercontinental strategic guided missile system program during successful trials at Missile Test Center, Florida. At top it takes off and, at bottom, it lands with its braking chute opening out behind it. The X-10 has been flown at high supersonic speeds. A long range missile, it is powered by two turbine engines.

at many locations, sometimes at elevations of 10,000 feet or higher in the Andes. Bogota, the capital, sits atop an 8,000 foot level and from here highways fan out in many directions — to Manizales and Medellin to the west and to Cali toward the south.

Industrial output, textiles, footwear, metal products and other items coming from its factories. More than 50 of them, American affiliates, are located in the Cali area alone.

Steel production at the Paz del Rio plant, one of the largest in South America, also depends on transportation via highways. Oil production, now being expanded, is largely centered at refineries at Barranca Bermeja, on the Magdalena River, and Mississippi River type sternwheelers carry some of this petroleum output. Other freight is moved by steamers over the river to ports on the Caribbean.

EMMETT KELLY, 58, famed hobo clown, prepares to hit the "old apple" with a loaf of Italian bread in New York, where he signed up for a season with baseball's Bums, the Brooklyn Dodgers. The apple is in the hand of Dodge president Walter O'Malley, who said Kelly has been hired to "relieve the tension at Ebbets Field." The clown will entertain between innings at home games and those played in Jersey City. (International)

CHARLES EDMONDSON, a U. S. Information Agency officer at Seoul, South Korea, has been asked to resign because he publicly denounced President Eisenhower's Middle East proposal as "a blank check for a one-man rule." His criticism was made in Tokyo where he handed reports to his "strictly personal statement" during a stopover. A former St. Louis newspaperman, Edmondson has been an Information Agency official since 1949.

SHE IS FRONT PAGE copy now, but when this picture of Princess Grace of Monaco was taken it rated no greater attention than a place in the family album of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly of Philadelphia. Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A DIGNIFIED gentleman was sauntering down a fine residential street in St. Louis attired in his Sunday best when a dilapidated tramp darted out of a side lane and demanded a quarter to "buy breakfast."

The gentleman was distinctly annoyed. What was such a character doing in an exclusive neighborhood like this? Catching sight of a young policeman nearby, he demanded, "Where could a man buy a breakfast for twenty-five cents in this district?"

The policeman eyed him stonily, then dismissed him with, "Get on with you, mister. The likes of you has no call to be looking for such a breakfast!"

In Milwaukee, a 5-year-old lass beat her mother to the ringing telephone one morning, called out a bright "hello!"; then lapsed, frowning, into a prolonged silence. At length, her mother demanded, "Well, what is it?"

"I don't know what it is," admitted the daughter, handing her mother the receiver, "but it sure is talking!"

ENCHANTED HARBOR

By DOROTHY WORLEY

CHAPTER 30
 ALVAREZ' mouth quirked at one corner. "When you find the chest, you'll know how much is in them."
 "That's right," said Bill. "Just thought you might tell me. You've transferred lots of counterfeit before into real money, south of the border. And gambling in Havana, Nassau, and Kingston—gambling with counterfeit money. How long did you think you could keep it up? Those bills... Oh, not too many at one place, but sooner or later they turned up. The job then, of course, was to find who had used them. You were always one jump ahead."
 "Figured it all out, haven't you?"
 "It's been figured for some time. The first suspicion of you came from Miami... Your girl friend who was in the Gray Packard today—she's been quite a help, hasn't she? But this has gone far enough. I want you to show me where you put those chests."
 "How can I, when you keep pointing that gun at me?"
 Bill opened the door and the other two men came in. They both carried pistols. One of them said, "I could handcuff you, Alvarez, but that isn't our party. Tell us where the chests are hidden." His eyes moved over the room.
 Surprisingly, Alvarez said, "At the end of the room there." He nodded his head. "Wear the floor, press the wood."
 It was said in no matter-of-fact a voice that Bill said, "Wait a minute. Let Alvarez open it. But first, we'll turn his pockets inside out. How about taking over, Nick?"
 Alvarez carried no weapons and they permitted him to put his hands down after they had searched him. He opened the panel, and there were the two chests.
 "What are you going to tell my guests?" asked Alvarez.
 "Concede to you to think of them, but the heavy party will proceed as planned. Just remember, Alvarez, that you will be covered at all times on both sides. Don't make a false move. The reason we want the break-down party to go ahead is that we don't want your crew to get wise. Your two key men are by

Whole New World Without Television

By DOC QUIGG
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK (AP)—Our television editor, a beamish broth of a Brooklynite, came into the office with a big grin dimpling his screen-hardened phiz. He looked all around.
 Then he whispered: "Don't tell anybody."
 "Don't tell 'em what?" asked his cellmates.
 He peered down the room to see if the boss was safely at his desk, too far away to hear. He was.
 "My TV set; conked out," our man said sleepily, "and I've been—READING: Saturday, Sunday, and Monday night, I read. And sh-h-h: You know what? I LIKE IT!"
 "What've you been reading?"
 "Books: Everything! It's a whole new world."
 "But we thought you told us once that you read philosophy at night—you told us about Spinoza and Epicurus and..."
 "Oh that!" said the TV editor. "That was only in tiny spurts."
 "How come?"
 "Well, I only read philosophy during the commercials. As soon as the commercial came on, I would pick up the book and read fast and furious and jam in as much philosophy as I could—but it was only for a minute or two at a time. Soon as the commercial was over, I'd have to start watching again."
 "And now?"
 "Now... no TV... this is wonderful! Reading is for me!"
 Maybe he has stumbled onto something there. I'm told there is a world of information in books that never even gets hinted at on television. Sometimes I have heard, there are ideas, notions, and tidy language bundles that just seem to jump out of books at you, like Lassie jumping at a burglar or Sgt. Friday leaping at a bad guy.
 And here's something else new.

Inmates End Rioting, Release Hostages

Utah Prison Scene

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah.—More than 500 embittered Utah prison inmates ended more than 11 hours of rioting early today by releasing all hostages and surrendering all weapons.

None of the men who had been held since before 7 p. m. Wednesday appeared to have been harmed before they walked from the convict-held cellblocks at 6 a. m.

They were preceded by two convicts—armed robbers Billy Randall and Joe Vales—who turned over to authorities the weapons they had taken from a captured sentry turret.

Randall carried a machine gun. He handed it to a guard, then gave the officer the ammunition clip for the weapon. He turned to another guard, calmly opened his jacket and took a revolver from his belt.

The inmate opened the chamber to show there were five bullets in the pistol and then, with a flourish, surrendered it.

Visitors Released

Eighteen men, including seven members of a Mormon church basketball team, came out behind Randall and Vales.

Earlier, 10 men had been released or made their way to freedom.

A coveted award was presented to the Sanford Kiwanis Club yesterday by the award's originator, Lloyd Gahr of Orlando.

At the local Kiwanis Club's weekly luncheon meeting, Gahr gave a brief history of the award, pointing out that the "effect of club bulletins on membership has been greater than expected."

The Lloyd Gahr Cup, only four years old, has been won twice by the local Kiwanis Club for the "best club publication" in the membership bracket of 75 to 100.

General Sanford Also Noted Horticulturist

By PHILIP J. WESGATE

General Henry Shelton Sanford, founder of Sanford, was a horticulturist, as well as a man of varied world wide interests and accomplishments. The dedication of the General Sanford Memorial Library, located in Fort Mellon Park, Sanford, by General Sanford's daughter, Mrs. Carola Sanford Dow, on Friday, Feb. 5, focuses attention again on Delair Groves.

General Sanford, world traveler, and at one time Minister to Belgium (1831-1839), first came to Florida in 1869. In the following year he purchased some 23 square miles of land in Central Florida, including Delair near Sanford. The General planted his first citrus trees at St. Gertrude Springs, just west of Sanford, in 1870, but was forced to move his groves to Delair in 1873 because of poor drainage due to a soil hardpan at the earlier location.

As a result of General Sanford's contacts in Central and South America, Africa, Southern Europe, and the East Indies, he was able to import plants and seeds of citrus, and many species of tropical and sub-tropical fruits and ornaments for trial in Florida. By 1889 his collection contained a great number of species, many of which survived the 1888 freeze. His Delair Groves attained national fame, and attracted many visitors, including General Grant, and President Cleveland.

According to an old letter printed in "Delair, Sanford, Florida, and Their Founder, 1889," General Sanford sent oranges from Delair to Prince von Bismarck in Berlin owned by Gen. Henry Shelton in 1855. Even with the shipping (Continued on Page 4)
