Windstorm Reaches 38 MPH Here; Frost Tonight

Tree Falls, Three Hurt

By Harry I. Johnson
A biting windstorm which reached gusts of at least 38 miles an hour at Sanford Naval Air Station created hazardous driving conditions this morning, blew down a number of trees and signs, and generally created havoc in the area.

The wind was out of the south during early morning hours, then switched to the west later in the day. Still later it was to blow from the north and with it bringing considerably colder temperatures.

Today's gusty winds broke a front door—the one with a pattern of coils imbedded—in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank shortly before noon today. As a customer opened the door, a gust of wind caught it and slammed it back against the wall.

Some frost is expected in local areas tonight, according to the Weather Bureau.

Three persons were taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital for injuries received when the

The wind was really blowing this morning. Chief Deputy James Singletary was reading a police report to The Herald and the talk switched to the weather.

"Just a minute," said Singletary, "someone opened the door and the paper just blew off my desk."

car in which they were riding struck a fallen tree on Highway 46, four miles west of the Seminole County line.

Taken to the hospital were the driver, identified by police as Diane Fleischer of 506 Plumosa Dr., and two Georgia visitors, Mrs. Kay Kelly, and her son, Robert.

The mishap occurred about midnight and at about the time the Naval Air Station said the wind hit its peak velocity.

Cars were pushed nearly off the road in many instances this morning as the wind shifted and made driving extremely difficult.

Many signs were blown down and a tree was toppled onto power lines at 10th Street and Locust Avenue, police reported.

Lake Monroe was pushed into swells rather than the normally choppy waves familiar to area residents.

SNOWS KNIFE INTO DIXIE
United Press International
A sprawling, wind-blown snowstorm piled five foot drifts through the center of the nation today.

Snow and arctic temperatures knifed deep into the heart of Dixie while Texas braced for possibly its worst freeze in four years.

Towering drifts of snow virtually isolated many central Illinois towns. Strong winds whipped snow three feet deep around Memphis, Tenn., closing all major highways out of the city.

The storm, described by the weather bureau as one of the worst of the season, has claimed at least 22 lives since it hooked out of the Northern Plains two days ago.

SNOW WARNINGS
Heavy snow warnings remained in effect for lower Michigan, Indiana and north-west Ohio—with up to seven inches of fresh snow expected. The warnings were extended to the interior and northern sections of New England.

South of the snow belt, heavy rain fell and temperatures dropped to near or below freezing.

Asheville and Hickory, N.C., were hit with an inch of rain in six hours during the night.

Throughout Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama, temperatures fell 30 or 40 degrees when the icy front moved in.

Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf Coast, reported a 40-degree drop from 73 to 33.

New Orleans conducted its second torchlight parade of the Mardi Gras Wednesday night with the mercury hovering 2 degrees above freezing.

'Specks' Hit Area Cabbage

Product Safe, Purchasers Shy On 'Look'

Area agricultural interests are waging a hard fight against black specking of some cabbage crops harvested here and shipped to other points.

The specking appears after the crop is shipped, according to local officials, and, although it has no injurious or harmful effects on the consumer, the looks have caused buyers to shy away from the cabbage.

Scientists are working virtually around the clock to find a solution to the situation. They say they have found no virus, fungus, or other causes for the specking.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and other health officials have labeled the problem a "nuisance but not a health menace."

The cabbage crop is estimated to be valued at $1.25 million but no estimate can be given "at this time" on how much of this is bothered by the specking.

"The cabbage leaves here in beautiful shape when it reaches the consumer," it was said.

Dr. John Darby, plant pathologist at the Central Florida Experiment Station, reported today the hybrid cabbage was developed in recent years. The cabbage cannot fertilize itself as other plants can.

'MALE-FEMALE'
It gets its pollen from another plant, Dr. Darby explained, planting one row of "male" plants and four rows of "female" plants.

"It is very vigorous and matures fast," the pathologist said. The cabbage leaves here in excellent shape but develops the specks at what Darby calls "the terminal market," or the consumer.

"The problem is so severe, such a threat," the pathologist said, "that the Farm Bureau has given $2,500 for incubation boxes" to help combat it.

Dr. J. C. Walker, of the University of Wisconsin, one of the world's greatest plant pathologists who has written more than 450 scientific publications and two textbooks, is among those working on the problem.

He has been at the local station as a consultant and returned to the University of Wisconsin today. He is expected back here to continue the search next week.

"Dr. Walker has produced several interesting theories," Dr. Darby said.

'Hollerballoo' Opens Tonight

Opening today at Seminole Plaza is the gala "Hollerballoo" auto display and sales event, which features bargains, fun and entertainment for everyone, now through Saturday night.

At 6:30 p. m. the first of three rock and roll bands will begin playing for dancing and listening in the parking lot area. Dance contests will be held with representatives of the Bob Hay Studio on hand to judge the winners who will receive prizes.

For three days, starting today, a portion of the parking lot will be roped off for a display of gleaming new 1965 Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles and Chevrolet from Holter Motor Sales.

Shoppers, dancers and lookers are invited to register for a grand prize of a portable television set with many other prizes. Drawing will be held Saturday night.

United State Bank Opening Saturday

A new financial institution—the United State Bank of Seminole, joins other such firms in the county Saturday with a ribbon cutting and grand opening scheduled at 10 a. m.

Snapping the gay red, white and blue ribbons will be J. D. Wright Jr., chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission, and James H. Crapps, mayor of Sanford.

The red, white and blue ribbons represent the city, county and state governments. Located in the newest shopping area, the Sanford Plaza on South Hwy 17-92, the bank features modern styling and equipment, round a patriotic Americana theme of red, white and blue decor.

The public is invited to attend the grand opening which will be kicked off with ceremonies by prominent area and bank officials. After the grand opening at 10 a. m., the institution will remain open until 4 p. m.

Top prize to be given away to one of the hundreds of persons who are expected to attend is a color television set, with a number of free safe deposit boxes also slated to be made available to lucky winners.

No one will go away empty handed, as pulled plants will be given away to everyone with special presents of tops, pencils and flags for the children.

President Loring Burgess and Vice President John Mercer, along with F. E. Tucker, chairman of the board, have invited all Seminole Countians to the opening with the slogan "If you have money, we want it—if you need money, we have it."

Fire Truck, Car In Collision, 2 Persons Hurt

City firemen had one of the busiest days in memory Wednesday when they responded to five alarms. A fire truck was involved in a collision while answering one of the calls.

Two persons in a passenger car were hurt in the wreck at 20th Street and French Avenue. Treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital were Mrs. Mary L. Hartsock of 412 Lancelotti Dr., driver of the passenger car, and her son, Stephen Hartsock, 15.

Driver of the truck was Billie Lee Tolbert of 112 Anderson Circle, police said. The truck was loaded for a grass fire at 24th Street and Myrtle Avenue when the collision occurred. The alarm was received at 3:10 p. m.

Firemen returned to the station at 3:26 p. m. just in time to be called to 2431 Elm Ave. when a trash fire got out of control.

At 3:52 p. m. they were summoned to 214 Oak Avenue when a defective carburetor caught fire in a car owned by Ford Russell.

At 4 p. m. they went to a home occupied by J. H. Shroyer, at 2312 Melville Ave. when grease flared on a kitchen stove. Damage was confined to the stove area.

Firemen got a short respite after this until 8:15 p. m. when they were called to 1913 W. 13th St. where a kitchen stove overheated. The home is occupied by Oliver Johnson.

'Cracker Days' Meeting Friday

All merchants in the Greater Sanford area are invited to attend an organizational meeting for the annual "Cracker Days" observance at 3 p. m. Friday at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

E. C. Harper Jr., chairman of the Sanford Merchants Division, Greater Sanford Board of Commerce, invites all merchants to attend and assist in the planning for "Cracker Days."

Burns Warns Thumbs Down On Job Center

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Haydon Burns has warned in advance, in order to save Peace Corps director Sargent Shriver "some embarrassment," that he will veto a new federal job corps training center proposed for Ocala.

The Governor turned thumbs down on the tentative proposal.

The camps are being set up under the new Economic Opportunity Act and one has been proposed for the Ocala area.

"I will veto it," said the governor to a delegation of housewives from Marion County who called on him to urge that the youth camp not be located so close to the small town.

The federal act creating the centers specifically provides that the governor of any state whose name is proposed be given the final say in the matter.

"We can save ourselves and Mr. Shriver some embarrassment," Burns told Dr. Sam Hand, director of Florida's participation program in the act, and a delegation of women.

The location has been proposed by the U. S. Forest Service but has not been submitted to Shriver who has the final say on the camps at the federal level.

Senior Citizens Protest Raid

MIAMI (UPI)—Twenty-six senior citizens, charged in connection with playing poker for social security money, protested and a peace justice postponed the hearings.

Sympathetic Peace Justice Ralph Ferguson said the postponement "may be indefinite."

"Why can't I play cards," one woman protested. "I'm too old to dance." She is 82.

Constable Russell Marsh said, "The games are small, penny stakes. Most of them are playing with social security money. I'd just as soon leave them alone, but other people say they're breaking the law."

Another 88 were reported killed elsewhere in the attacks by the light bombers and F100 Super Sabres which dropped smaller bombs.

New details of Wednesday attacks were reported as Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh flew to Hong Kong en route to "exile" as an observer to the United Nations in New York. He had been stripped of power earlier in the week.

ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT, says four-year-old Barbara Jean, the county-wide telephone systems are topsy-turvy in Seminole County. But, she adds, (the turn to page 2).

No Celebration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The income tax is 52 years old today. Absolutely no celebration is planned.

R. E. Porter bears by the grapevine that of all those elected officials in Seminole County hoping for a healthy pay raise by the next Legislature . . . only the members of the County Commission can definitely count on it, and begin spending it. That doesn't mean, however, the others won't get a pay hike . . . It's just definite the commissioners will.

Lenon vows: "I shall give up candy," said Tom, sweetly. "I shall give up smoking," said Dick, with unmatched fervor. "I think I shall just give up," said Harry, weakly. (Swiped)

Leon E. Buffum, a Clock Watcher from Osteen, has joined in conversation of the various Sanfords in the United States. He recalls having moved here from Sanford, Me., back in 1925. Says "Palm Beach" suits are made in the Mains town by the Goodall Worsted Company. Buffum also remembers working on the Florida Power Corporation's plant at Enterprise shortly after he arrived here.

This is Smokey Bear Week. It's been proclaimed as such by Gov. Haydon Burns. Smokey Bear is probably the best known animal among the youngsters. In his proclamation, Governor Burns calls upon "all citizens of Florida to be alert to the dangers of forest fires this week and every week and to join with Smokey to help prevent forest fires."

They're planning to pack 'em in next week at Deltona. That's when Don McNeill and his Breakfast Club will appear there for a special week-long show. It'll be aired live across most of North America and will prove a real boost to the community.

Mrs. John E. Fox' daughter, Mrs. Jay Gilliland, is the subject of a feature picture-story in her hometown Sanford (N. C.) Herald. The topic is on how she prepares "very special meals for her husband on weekends."

That handshake that spanned 600 miles between Sanford, N. C., and our own Sanford has brought the two communities much closer together. Many Sanfordites say they'll make it a point to stop overnight in the North Carolina community which has the same name as yours—The Sanford Herald. Local folks are also hoping North Carolinians will make their presence known when they visit here.

If you've missed seeing those harvesting machines in action, suggest you have a treat in store by visiting the outlying areas. It's an uncanny outfit and is busy, busy while in operation.

Hope you attended the Seminole Sportsmen's Association steak dinner Wednesday night. If you did, you'll be telling your friends of the good time and be making plans for another year. If you didn't, you really missed something.

'Agrapha' Reveal Jesus' Teachings

The teachings of Jesus Christ have been preserved for 2,000 years primarily in the four Gospels of the New Testament.

But contrary to popular belief the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John are not the only documents in which Jesus' sayings are recorded.

Statements attributed to Jesus but not found in the Gospels are known among Biblical scholars as "Agrapha." Hundreds of them have been unearthed from a wide variety of sources. Some obviously are spurious. Others have the ring of authenticity.

The most reliable Agrapha—accepted by all scholars as genuine utterances of Jesus—are found in the New Testament, itself. Several of St. Paul's letters, for example, contain words of Jesus which are not duplicated in the Gospels. And it is from the Book of Acts that we get the familiar quotation:

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Another such source of Agrapha are so-called "glosses" in New Testament manuscripts. Before the invention of printing, manuscripts were copied by hand. Occasionally a scribe would add material from some other source to the Biblical text he was copying. Such additions are called glosses. They are detected by comparing the oldest manuscripts with those of later date.

It was manuscript glosses that produced the story of Jesus' gentle dealing with the woman taken in adultery, as well as the great cry from the cross: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

From what source ancient manuscript-copiers took these sayings, no one can now determine. But both so clearly reflect the spirit of Jesus that their authenticity is considered beyond challenge.

The four Gospels which the early church decided to include in the Canon of Holy Scripture were not the only Gospels in circulation. Writings of the church fathers contain allusions to seven other Gospels which were not considered as reliable as those which became part of the New Testament. These are known as "Apocryphal Gospels." One of them, long known to scholars, is called "The Gospel According to the Hebrews." Along with some material of dubious history, it includes several sayings of Jesus. For example: "Never rejoice except when you have looked upon your brother in love."

Two long-lost Apocryphal Gospels have come to light in the past century through Egypt. They are the so-called "Gospel of Thomas" and "Gospel of Peter."

Tribe Tilts Ocala Tonight Sports Race 'Go'

Tough Going Faces Indians In Tourney

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole High cagers will travel to Mainland High School in Daytona Beach for the group tournament tonight with their first opponent, Ocala.

The Seminoles finished their season with a 4-11 record by winning their last three ball games in a row.

Head Coach Mack Blythe said towards the end of the season, "We should win our next four ball games and we have the team that can do it." That's just what they did by beating New Smyrna Beach, Bishop Moore and Boone, who had previously beat the Tribe in a row.

According to Blythe, the squad finished the regular season very well considering that there were no letterman on the team and their tallest boy was 6-3.

Ocala Star-Banner sports editor telephoned The Herald this morning for information about the Seminoles and imparted this information: Ocala has a 14-8 record and the average height of its players is 6-3. Compare that with Sanford: 6-19 record and the tallest boy is 6-3.

Blythe said, "We are well pleased with the win over Boone and the way we finished the season."

"Tonight we play Ocala in the first round of the group tournament in Daytona. If we win this game we will go on to play another game Friday night. Ocala has a big ball club so we'll have to do a good job if we expect to win."

Paul LeRoy has been moved up from the Jay Vees to play in the tournament for the Seminoles. LeRoy was a starter on the Junior varsity and one of the high point men for the season. According to Blythe, LeRoy will be an asset to the squad.

The starters for tonight's game will be Ron Hinson, Don Nicholas, Steve Groover, Buddy Stumpf and Frank Murray.

Daytona Beach Race 'Go'

DAYTONA BEACH—(Sp)—Sports car drivers are like postmen in that neither heat, rain, snow, fog nor hail keeps them from their jobs, so the 2000-kilometer Daytona Continental will start at 10 a.m. on Sunday no matter the weather.

Predictions are for fair skies, but if they come up rain the 50 or more sports, prototype and GT cars will take the starter's flag at the scheduled moment, and be off on their 1243-mile battle over the Speedway's demanding 3.81-mile track and road course.

This layout combines both high-banked turns and a twisting road.

The fastest cars of America and Europe began arriving Tuesday for technical and medical inspection in preparation for practice the remainder of the week. Night practices will be held tonight and Friday to allow the drivers to acclimatize themselves to the high-banked turns in the dark.

A dozen or more cars are given solid chances to win the $33,750 event, with its points counting toward the manufacturers' championship. Chief among these is the factory-entered 1963 prototype Ferrari with world champion John Surtees of England and Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico as co-drivers.

Another is the powerful Lotus 19 J that will have Dan Gurney, winner of the first Continental, as its No. 1 driver.

Favored by many is the team of six Cobras and Fords entered by Shelby American of California. The Cobras, which gave Ferrari a hard run for the manufacturers' title in 1964, will be handled by such sports car stars as Ritchie Ginther, Ken Miles, Bob Bondurant, Jo Schlesser and Lloyd Ruby.

For those seeking choice in-field locations, the tunnel entrances to the infield will be opened at 10 p.m. on Saturday.

Senators To Write Baseball Trust Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As far as Senate hearings are concerned, the baseball season was over today.

An inquiry by the Senate anti-trust subcommittee into the purchase of the New York Yankees by CBS came to a close Wednesday.

Chairman Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) indicated that he is ready to begin work on a bill which would place baseball on a business basis under federal monopoly regulation but exempt such player practices as the reserve clause.

Hart held open the possibility that his Senate group might hold another hearing or that subcommittee sources indicated that they would deal with fringe areas not involving baseball.

The sports anti-trust bill sponsored by Hart was approved by the subcommittee last session, but never came up for floor action after the controversial $112 million Yankee sale to the CBS network stirred up a storm.

The four days of hearings this year set off no fireworks even though a closing witness was outspoken Kansas City owner Charles O. Finley.

Finley denounced the CBS transaction as bad for baseball but didn't wax contentious before the senators.

The final witness in Wednesday's hearing, Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn, declared the Yankees were dead as far as their off-the-diamond domination of American League affairs is concerned.

Allyn acknowledged that the Yankees had exercised undue influence in the past over other league owners because of their leadership on the playing field.

"I believe the owners have blown the whistle on that domination," he said.

Both Finley and Allyn voted against the sale at a league meeting last year.

Allyn said he still was dissatisfied with the purchase but felt that the dispute was partially responsible for curbing Yankee dominance of league operations.

Horsemen Plan Benefit Sunday

Apopka Horsemen's Association will sponsor a barbecue at 11 a.m. Sunday followed by a 1 p.m. gymkhana with all proceeds to benefit the March of Dimes.

The event, sponsored in conjunction with the Apopka State Bank, will be held at the Apopka arena.

Duane Oliver Racks Up 509

In the Jet Bowlerettes League, Duane Oliver rolled her first sanctioned 500-plus series with a 194/509.

Not too many pins behind was Elaine Kostival with a 192/505. Other high scorers within the league were those of Ellie Oldham 197/475, Alice Murphy 198/473, Jo Brown 196/467 and Jane Spolski 163/466.

Individual high games included Mary Sterman's 188, Joan Evely with a 172 and Meda Wilshire, 165.

Spills converted were the three-ten for Bernice Smith, twice, Joan Evely and Ann Morton.

The difficult five-ten dropped for Gert Bridges and Kay Shoemaker.

Making the five-six were Bernice Smith and Alice Beuhle.

Additional split conversions were those of Lou Meeks five-seven; two-seven for Jewell Mills; the 3-9-10 for Mel Evans and the baby-split three-seven for Ann Gabel.

Mary Sterman and Ann Gable both had two turkeys (three consecutive strikes) and Elaine Kostival, Duane Oliver and Jo Brown strung out four strikes.

Upright Rowing

Everyone knows that rowers develop tremendously strong chest and shoulder muscles.

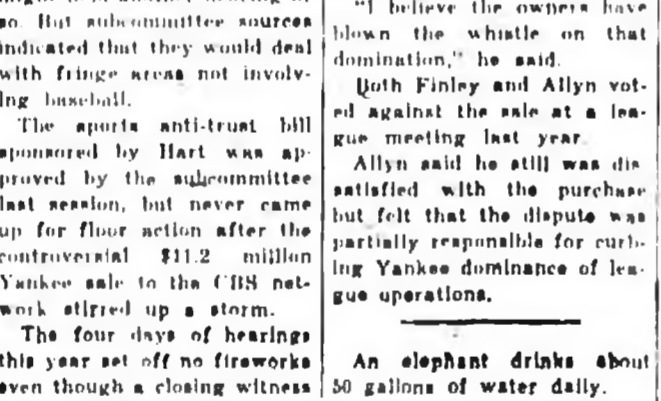

Well, the purpose of this exercise is the same, without the boat, of course.

Begin in position A with the dumbbells extended downward. Then, raise the arms, moving up and out. At the beginning eight to 10 repetitions will suffice.

As you become accustomed to the exercise and have worked on it, you can increase the repetitions to 12 to 16.

Inhale on the upward motion and exhale on the downward.

Barry, Canes End Brilliant Season Sam Leads Pros

The Sanford Herald
Feb. 25, 1965 — Page 5

Miami Faces Florida State In Finale

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rick Barry and the Miami Hurricanes bring their brilliant 1964-65 basketball seasons to a close next Monday with both certain to clinch national point-making honors.

The 6-foot, 7-inch Barry had 890 points in 24 games for a 37.1 average through games of Feb. 20.

The late Wayne Estes of Utah State maintains second place with a 33.7 average but third-place Bill Bradley of Princeton was far behind with 30.1.

The Hurricanes, who crushed Rollins 148-79 Tuesday night, need only 24 points in next Monday's game against Florida State to top the all-time major college high of 96.1 points a game set last year by Detroit. Miami has averaged 99 points while winning 21 of its 25 games.

Three in individual scoring were Dave Schellhase of Purdue with a 29.3 average and Steve Thomas of Xavier of Ohio with 28.9.

Henry Finkel of Dayton was the field goal percentage leader with 331-355 for .651, with Tim Kehoe of St. Peter's second at 119-187 for .636.

Little League Benefit Mar. 6 At Casselberry

Pickup stations for those contributing to the white elephant sale at the Seminole Little League benefit March 6 at Casselberry, have been announced.

Proceeds from the day-long events at the Little League Park will be used to defray expenses of the league this coming season. Last year the benefit netted about $7,000.

Pickup stations for this year's sale are:

Casselberry - Altamonte Springs area, at Lovelace Used Furniture Store opposite the Fern Park Post Office.

Deer Lake Forest City, Reynolds Amoco Station, Highway 416 in Forest City.

Sunland, Howard's Atlantic Station in Sunland Estates.

Lake Mary IGA Store, Longwood-North Orlando, Longwood Plaza Barber Shop.

The program starts at 10 a.m. with registration of prospective players. Each must be accompanied by a parent and proof of age is requested. The Ladies Auxiliary to the league will handle this phase of the program as well as the sale and other booths and concessions.

A day-long barbecue is also planned along with other events.

Bulldogs Battle To $$$ Draw

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer

The New York Yankees' 1965 edition of the "battle of the bulldogs" ended in a draw.

General Manager Ralph Houk, ex-major, ex-Army ranger and all that sort of thing, and pitcher Jim Bouton, last name spelled STUBBORN with accent on the second syllable, each decided to compromise a bit.

And so Bouton took the $29,000 and probably saved Houk $1,000 in headache tablets.

An 18-game winner in 1964, Bouton demanded $30,000 for his 1965 services. A losing World Series general manager in 1964, Houk countered with an offer of $28,000.

They stared daggers over the bargaining table for a few weeks and then agreed that $29,000 would be acceptable to both.

Yankees Deal 'To Stick'—Giles

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—National baseball League President Warren Giles said he thinks the CBS purchase of the Yankees will stand.

"From what I hear, the deal is going to stick," Giles said.

Giles, en route to Florida for a tour of baseball camps, was asked about the CBS purchase of the New York club.

"It's not in my league, but I don't like the deal," he said.

"They tell me Frank Stanton (president of CBS) made a fine presentation for the firm when he appeared before the anti-trust and monopoly committee in Washington.

"They didn't call me to testify, thank goodness," Giles said.

On List

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Bruins placed the East's leading collegiate hockey scorer, Jack Cumfitt of Boston College, on their negotiation list.

Cumfitt, a sophomore, is expected to complete his education before trying out for the Bruins.

Colleges Cancel Cocky Cassius

BOSTON (UPI)—Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, who flunked his Army aptitude test, would like to go to college for three weeks.

However, greater Boston's colleges and universities aren't terribly interested in having the champ use their facilities.

Under the contract for his May 25 Boston Garden title defense against Sonny Liston, Clay must spend the final three weeks of training in Massachusetts.

He worked out at the Boston Arena on his last visit but recently decided there wasn't enough room for spectators in the arena annex where he performed.

When he returned here recently to undergo a final examination on his hernia surgery at Boston City Hospital, Clay expressed his dissatisfaction with the arena arrangement.

New Coach

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—John R. Stiegman former head football coach at Rutgers and Pennsylvania, was named defensive line coach at Pittsburgh, replacing Dr. Joe Pulkinos, who resigned to devote full time to his dental practice.

The tournament is for the old pros — those 50 and over. The winner of the tournament collects $3,500, plus a trip to England to meet the British Seniors champion. Another $14,000 will be distributed to winners in eight age groups.

Among the competitors in the 27-hole tournament over the Fort Lauderdale Country Club course were such as Gene Sarazen, Jimmy Demaret, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison.

Sneed, at 53 still a master and possessor of one of the game's classic swings, banged out a 66 in a practice round Wednesday. He won the tournament at the PGA course in Palm Beach Gardens last year with a 270, nine under par.

His toughest competition then came from hulking John Barnum, who finished three strokes in back of the West Virginia slammer. Barnum picked the Caribbean tour of the tournament here this year, however, and won't be around to bother Sam again.

Mutual Concert Bonus Slated Tuesday

A "tee-tapping" program of Broadway hits that will appeal to all ages will be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Civic Center by the Florida Symphony Orchestra. This will be the long-awaited bonus attraction for the Mutual Concert Association's 1964-1965 season.

"Curtain Going Up" is the same program that has drawn rave notices from the press and exuberant praise from the audience. The rollicking "Hello Dolly" as sung by Florence Bolding and the orchestra's rousing rendition of "Seventy-Six Trombones" from the "Music Man" has audiences giving the orchestra and soloist wild applause as the curtain came down.

To give added color the Symphony is bringing along a number of soloists including Ann I. Blaso, Florence Bolding, Bernia Ballie, Jack Thompson and Dwight Charles, pianist.

The program includes almost everybody's favorite Broadway melodies. There will be the whistling "Standing on the Corner" from "Most Happy Fella," and "Climb Every Mountain" from the "Sound of Music" while "Pajama Game" lends "Hey There" and "Small Talk" to the tuneful list. There will be selections from "Bye Bye Birdie," "West Side Story" and "Camelot," just to name a few.

Patricio Salvatierra, violinist, will present the "Theme from Moulin Rouge" and the orchestra will bring the Overture from "Of Thee I Sing" and selections from "My Fair Lady." Other famous hits from the "Great White Way" will include "Oliver," "Wildcat," "Fanny Girl," "The Fantasticks" and "Milk and Honey."

An outstanding cultural evening is in store for the Association's patrons as an art exhibit will also be on display at the Civic Center. The exhibitors are limited to the Mutual Series members.

A number of students tickets are available through the Seminole High School band office.

THIS PORTRAIT of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow is the possession of Mrs. Betty Offineer, 1223 Randolph Avenue. Mrs. Offineer found the picture hidden in an antique picture frame she purchased while in a second hand store in Portland, Me. She says she bought the frame for 25 cents and believes the store owner did not know the picture was in it. The picture was made in 1882.

Cub Pack 560 Has Banquet

By Mildred Haney
DeBary Cub Scout Pack 560, which includes boys from Deltona, Enterprise and DeBary, held its Blue and Gold Banquet Monday observing the 55th birthday of scouting. The banquet, which had as its theme George Washington's birthday, was held in the Community Methodist Church of DeBary at 6 p.m. Each family brought a covered dish and the birthday cake was provided by cub scouts from the Methodist Children's Home in Enterprise.

A total of 100 boys and their guests were present to enjoy the supper and program.

Hero Honored

DUBLIN (UPI)—Irishmen by the thousands paid tribute today to Sir Roger Casement, the nationalist hero whose body was returned to Dublin nearly 50 years after the English hanged him as a traitor.

DeBary Circulates Petitions Protesting Hazardous Road

DeBary Chamber of Commerce is circulating petitions protesting hazardous conditions of the Benson Junction-Enterprise Road left since heavy equipment was in the area with paving of I-4.

Decision of the Chamber to take action on the matter was announced at last week's dinner meeting held at Stetson Union Building in DeLand with Tom Glechrist, director of WESH-TV, a guest speaker.

The petitions, after signature, will be presented to the Volusia County Commission, which, in turn, is expected to turn the matter over to the State Road Department for consideration.

Glechrist, who also is regional director of the Florida Chamber of Commerce, vice president of the Daytona Beach Chamber and a member of the Orange City Chamber, pointed out roles of the smaller communities in an expanding Florida.

He stressed the need for more and better schools and told of civic and commercial improvements being planned by neighboring cities and communities.

He also cited bad conditions of the Benson Junction-Enterprise cutoff from I-4, advising that immediate steps should be taken to bring about its repair.

In reports given during the business meeting following the program, it was stated that the new DeBary directory is expected to be ready for distribution in mid-March.

Deltona Welcome Wagon Club To Assist In Cancer Drive

Deltona Welcome Wagon Club members pledged their help and time to the cancer drive in Volusia County after hearing an urgent plea for assistance from Mrs. Stanley Smith, guest speaker at the February meeting.

Mrs. Smith, a resident of DeLand, told of assistance available to people who need help and of the "closet" which offers all types of equipment to those in need.

Heading the Deltona group working in the drive will help be Mrs. Ella Neese Wisniewski, president, and Mrs. Mildred Haney, Welcome Wagon hostess for the area. Offers of additional help from civic minded ladies in the community will be gladly received.

Other plans discussed included those of the forthcoming Style Show and Card Party to be held March 30 at the Community Club. Refreshments and prizes will be offered in abundance. Plans also were begun for a reception to be held for sponsors and husbands of members with further details to be completed.

Next meeting of the group will be March 16 when a luncheon is scheduled at Holiday Inn in Daytona Beach. The Inn is located on Highway 17-92 across from the race track. Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. followed by a program on geriatrics by the guest speaker, Mrs. Susann Frierason of Daytona Beach.

Deltona Welcome Wagon has adopted geriatrics as its charitable project and all monies earned by the club will go to this fund.

New members welcomed to the club were Mrs. Esther Timmerman, Mrs. Emmy Lou Diaz and Mrs. Esther Cordes.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was so distressed when the Supreme Court ruled that there shall be no more prayers in the public schools. I certainly hope that in time enough people will complain so that they will reconsider and go back to the old way. Please print this. It might stir up something.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago a lady wrote you that a friend of hers pointed out to her that she was breaking etiquette by going under the name of Mrs. John Smith after her husband had died. This friend claimed that, since there was no longer a John Smith, neither was there a Mrs. John Smith, and she should call herself Mrs. Geraldine Smith. You replied: "Dear Mrs. Smith: Your friend is wrong. When you took the name of Mrs. John Smith, you took it for as long as you lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as HE lived."

DEAR ABBY: I am sorry to say you're talking to him. About once or twice a year I don't bid when I have a chance to and this time I was properly punished. In fact, I'm sorry I brought this whole thing up.

TYPICAL OF THE FEMININE elegance of fashion's mood for spring are these designs from the Pattullo-Jo Copeland collection. Gardenia silk and worsted evening gown (left) is trimmed with mocha satin and has its own mocha satin stole. The two-piece ensemble (center) is in navy, red and white French tie silk. Cocktail dress (right) is a floral print on imported black silk-nylon. Styles like these are sure to put any gal in a party mood.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

For a homey change, today's column will feature a dialogue between father and son. We start with a comment by father.

Oswald: Jim, what do you think of this hand from last year?

James: Well, dad, I like to bid and would surely have overcalled with the East hand in spite of being vulnerable.

Oswald: Where were you going with that diamond suit?

James: Nowhere, since my partner held only one point, but I would not have been in any trouble. What do you think of South's six-heart bid, dad?

Oswald: A gambling bid. South did not want to ask for ace and give East a chance to double a five-diamond response. Also his bid worked.

bles would have called for a spade lead. So East must have hoped that West would open a diamond anyway. What do you think of West's club lead?

James: Not so much. When I make a blind lead against a suit slam I'd rather lead a short suit because there is more chance to get tricks there. I see that South made the slam after the club lead by drawing trumps and discarding dummy's losing diamonds on the clubs. By the way, was East anyone I know?

Oswald: I'm sorry to say you're talking to him. About once or twice a year I don't bid when I have a chance to and this time I was properly punished. In fact, I'm sorry I brought this whole thing up.

We The Women:

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I am having a very hard time with my 14-year-old girl. Though she continues to take her piano lessons, she no longer practices. Whenever I try to talk about this to her, I get a long string of excuses: she can't practice because her homework is too heavy or somebody has had the television on. The subject has grown so tense that she goes wild if I even mention practicing.

Wa, too, turn to excuses when we are disappointed by our own behavior. When we break a promise, lose our temper or accuse unjustly, we too try to whitewash this disappointing behavior with excuses that will make it acceptable to our pride. If anyone continues to criticize it, we will go "wild" in our frantic effort to avoid knowing that we can be a disappointing person.

have to concoct alibis for my carelessness? Why can't you just be what you are—careless—instead of trying to make me believe you're somebody else? It usually works. Instead of getting "wild," the young first look sheepish and then begin to laugh with relief at my permission to be what they are. I don't know whether this kind of response to your daughter's excuses would prove for you because I don't know how sure you are that your own excuses derive from pride in faultless, never-disappointing behavior. It would be nice if you were sure. Because it's awfully hard to live with excuse-making people. You can't get at them. It gets lonely for everybody.

TV Time Previews

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Defenders "No-Knock." The legal point at issue is so vital, it's almost criminal that this show stacks the deck to make it and then, once having made it, hedges it. The theme is the New York State "no-knock" law which permits police to enter premises without warning, if legally authorized. The dangers of this law are dramatized when a numbers racket "controller" kills a policeman breaking into his apartment in search of evidence, thinking he is a burglar. It's a pretty searing expose of law vs. constitution and well played, until the show chickens out. Jack Gilford plays the numbers racket underling.

story involves a Quaker family, but the most interesting sidelight is the continuing battle by Jay ("Tonto") Silverheels to destroy that image of nobility he built up for so many years as the Lone Ranger's companion. In this one, he is simply not to be trusted.

This show has the flavor of an emotional mystery story as Kildare and a researcher try to track down a young girl's seemingly fatal disease. The two become rivals and the girl almost dies because of this rather than the disease. Barbara Jell Geddes is well cast as Kildare's rival and enough theories and facts are expressed during the hour to help stimulate an interest in research.

Beauty after Forty EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

I want to emphasize the future possibilities for mature women to have a career after forty and also a new career after retirement. Today women are living longer. The science of geriatrics has focused attention on matters of health and well-being of the older man and women. It is acknowledged by doctors and others in this field that women, with more years to live, must make these years productive and happy ones. It may happen to be that you have no need of financial aid (lucky you!), but you will find that you must do something with your time. This modern age calls for action, for being interested and for looking your best. I realize how difficult it is for a mature woman to have to get a job when she has always had the protection of her husband. Some women find it absolutely necessary to have that career after forty whether they want it or not. If this is happening to you, or has happened, don't try to compete with youth in offices and other fields. Try for even a better job than you think you should expect. Experience with life does pay off. You may be more successful than you dreamed possible. Take an inventory of your appearance and of your professional ability. Can you sew? Can you cook? Can you keep house? Garden? Can you drive a car? Are you good in emergencies? Do you like children? There are so many career couples who need a "mother-in-law" type of woman around the house, without the "authority" of a mother-in-law. These are well-paying

By Julia Bartos
A lovely miscellaneous bridal shower was held at the home of Mrs. Ted M. Karns at Oakwood Court for Miss Dicki Jo Christensen of Longwood.

Miss Christensen, a 1964 graduate of Lyman High, received many beautiful gifts. She will marry Mr. Thomas Wesley DeLucian and the wedding date is set for March 6, at the Orlando Garden Club.

Mr. Don Foulkes, member of the Watch Tower Bible Society, will officiate at the wedding. A reception will follow at the groom's home in Maitland.

Milady To Radiate Status In New Pink Mink Creation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pink mink? It's new, true and in. Down on the mink ranches, the little creatures blessed with a rosy coat of fur are dripping with status. And so will be the few women who wrap themselves in the mink rancher's latest offering.

Pink mink is the latest mutation accepted by an influential organization that makes mink pelts pass muster before they can be marketed. The association plans to auction just 3,000 pink pelts March 1, and the bidders are expected to offer about $400 for each rosy-beige pelt.

Pink mink isn't cheap. It takes about 35 to 65 pelts to turn out a full length coat and the mink association estimates that the first few coats could set a woman back $30,000. A comparable mink coat of another color would cost about $6,000.

The newest color, in the poetic words of one breeder, looks like "the pale rose color of a woman's delicate cheek." And one husband, whose wife owns one of the early experimental pink minks, just thought his wife was wearing one of her old white wraps lighted by the glow of her rubies.

Ruby glow or not, it took the mink breeders years to come up with their newest color. Pink mink doesn't come easily to little animals who tend to be brown.

Pink mink is produced by a complicated breeding system and the association said it is the first color to be produced by what is called "a quadruple recessive natural mutation."

Only one out of 256 kits bred with an eye toward becoming pink is suitable for pink breeding. Pink mink stems from earlier developed mink colors, including such colors as Moyle buff, silverblue, gunmetal, ambergold, hope and violet.

The association is still puzzling over a name to give their latest creation. Their names take a trademark and association lawyers are busy checking six potential names to find one they can trademark.

The newest shade brings to 57 the total number of shades of mutation now available, said the association. They range from the darkest, gunmetal, to the lightest, Jasmine, which is a near-white.

The association said it takes about four years to "breed" a new mutation, and that mink breeding is big business — there now are 4,000 ranchers in 40 states growing the tiny animals for their pelts.

What will follow pink? The association isn't hazarding a guess. But if they ever get mink to produce red pelts, you can bet they'll sell.

Homemakers

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Well, are you in a cooking mood today? I was out at the County Agent's office the other day and looked over the free bulletins you can get there any time you wish. In bulletin No. 233 on "Using Florida Citrus Fruits, Citrus Pies and Cakes," I found some wonderful sounding recipes. Here are several of them.

GRAPEFRUIT CREAM CAKE
2 1/4 cups sifted flour
2 1/2 tps. double-action baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 tbsp. grated grapefruit rind
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind

3 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 cup grapefruit juice
1/4 cup water
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening, sugar and grated grapefruit and lemon rind. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add flour mixture in three portions, alternately with grapefruit juice and water in two portions. Beat batter 1/2 minute. Turn into 2 well greased lightly floured round 9-inch cake pans. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 30 minutes or until well done. Turn out on wire rack to cool. When cool spread Grapefruit Cream Filling between layers. Frost with Seven Minute Frosting or your favorite frosting.

GRAPEFRUIT CREAM FILLING
1/2 cup sugar
2 tps. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup fresh grapefruit juice
1 tsp. margarine
1 egg yolk
1 tsp. grated grapefruit rind
Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Blend in grapefruit juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, or over hot water until mixture is very thick. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat 5 minutes, stirring. Cool. Spread between cool layers.

beyond edge of pan. Turn batter into pan; bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Sift confectioners sugar on brown wrapping paper or a clean dish towel 3 inches larger than the pan. Turn cake out on this and remove wax paper. Spread with Orange Filling and roll up like a jelly roll. Makes 10 1-inch slices.

FLORIDA ORANGE FILLING
1/2 cup sugar
3 tps. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/4 cups orange juice (fresh or frozen)
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tsp. butter or margarine
Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in top of double boiler. Blend in orange juice and beaten egg. Mix thoroughly. Cook over direct heat and stir constantly until mixture thickens. Place over boiling water; cook 10 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add butter. Remove from heat. Cool.

"Candid Chatter"

By "Doris"

EVER BEEN TO A "FASCHINGBALL?" Hasn't everyone? In good ole' American slang it means "have a ball." Actually it is a festival in which Germans stage a fete comparable to our Mardi Gras.

This Saturday night, February 27 the German American Society will have their third annual "Faschingball" in the Egyptian Room of the Cherry Plaza at 8 p. m. Admission is by invitation only through one of the society members or by contacting Mrs. James Marlowe, 715 Warwick Place, phone—424-7154, Orlando.

MRS. B. E. PURCELL was recently in The Herald Office, looking smart as usual in a chic cocoa suit. She reported a marvelous trip to New York via jet on a spring buying spree for the Purcell Stores, accompanied by friend husband.

The Purcells were busy, busy, busy, but did manage to take in a few of the metropolitan sights. They revealed many of the very latest in fashions are in store for Sanfordites.

DON CAHILL, favorite sorority reporter, faithfully gives me the news on wife Jan's chapter. He recently revealed he was going to have Jan invite me to a real shindig. "Lets leave your wife outta this, Don—O.K.?"

ONE WOULD THINK the Garden Club is paying AUDREY SPEER a handsome salary for the publicity she has so capably delivered to this office regarding the Flower Show, March 5-6. She is another live wire with intelligence bustin' at the seams and so easy on the eyes.

BILL VINCENT recently leaned over my shoulder and asked if I wanted to sample a choice morsel, as he displayed a small square in replica of a chocolate bar.

What is it, Bill? "My cousin sent it to me from Coombsboro, Arkansas, and it's the best tobacco you will ever chew," Bill beamed as he so generously sliced me off a portion with his rusty pocket knife to share this delicacy.

Exactly what I needed—a chew of tobacco!

MEMO TO MR. V. Was recently an invited guest to a pre-summer fashion showing, which featured the very latest in resort and seaside wear. A demure doll daintily draped in only a small piece of fish net approached the center of the area, coyly tugging at the net in an attempt to conceal the nudity underneath.

A spotlight was focused on her just as the net dropped to the floor and then total darkness, followed by the lights flickering on just as she ran from the area in the so-called nude.

At this point, one debonair gentleman, impeccably tailored, dropped the cigar from his mouth, setting fire to his clothing. I would say this was a pretty hot ill number, wouldn't you? Bet he would have sworn in Supreme Court she was "in the nude," but she had on one of the new nude-tone body stocking foundations.

ANOTHER ONE, MR. V.—Know how glasses effect vision? Depends on whether or not you wear them or drain them.

That does it! Vitamin C, which comes from citrus fruits, cannot be stored by the body.

Theta Epsilon Elects Nominating Committee

Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi reports that two recent meetings were both cultural and entertaining.

Highlighting one of the meetings at the home of Fran Riviero, was Joseph Mathieux, art director of Seminole County schools, lecturing on "Art" by schools. Betty Erickson and Betty Lewis entertained the members with a program on "characters" at the next meeting at the home of Pat Largen. They portrayed different types of "characters" from the overly dressed and self impressed to the forward and uneducated type woman.

Elected to serve on the nominating committee were Pat Largen, Mona Walker and Faye Stetson.

Others attending the meetings were Joanne Bohannon, Sherry Bolte, Jan Cahill, Sharon Davis, Barbara DeKle, Kay Lee, Betty McGee, Nancy Reynolds, Joann Gardner, Dixie Jennings and Pat Helms.

The Story League Conducts Patriotic Program

MRS. W. L. ROCHE, left, and Mrs. Betty Snyder, president of the Sanford Story League, are examining a cookbook which the Story League members have compiled.

MRS. MILDRED HANCOCK, art teacher and exhibitor, serves Mrs. Leonard DeWit, chairman of arrangements for the tea which was combined with the recent Art Show at the Civic Center.

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
The Sanford Story League met at the Caucus room of the First Federal Bank recently for its business meeting and program with the president, Mrs. Betty Snyder, presiding.

The meeting was opened with all reading the "Story Tellers Creed," in unison. Proposed amendments to the by-laws were approved. Mrs. Clarence Snyder was appointed publicity chairman.

The group decided to raise $50 toward sending a delegate to the District Convention to be held in Huntington, W. Va., this coming June.

A market basket sale will be held at the next meeting. Mrs. C. R. Jones reviewed the current issue of the Story Art Magazine.

The subject of the February program was Historical Stories. Mrs. Fred Robb, program chairman, introduced Miss Judy Robb, who told an interesting story of a boy befriended by Abe Lincoln, entitled "The Boy Who Voted for Abe Lincoln" by Milton Richards.

Mrs. Robb told several true stories of American heroes. First was the story of how Patrick Henry, when a new member of the House of Burgesses, succeeded in having the Resolution Act passed.

Then she told of a poor mountain boy in Kentucky who was determined to receive an education. He entered school in Berea, Ky., at the age of 18. That boy is now Dr. Franklin, the missionary of the Presbyterian Church for the southeastern states.

Also the story of Robert E. Lee was told from boyhood to his famous military career and on until his death. How George Washington celebrated some of his birthdays was also related.

The meeting adjourned for refreshments and a social hour.

The table was decorated with a Washington birthday theme. Appointments were in silver and crystal. A three-of red cherries, Russian tea, cookies and nuts were served. The cookies were centered with red cherries.

Hostesses were Mrs. E. C. Williams and Mrs. C. R. Jones.

Mrs. Harold Rowe was a guest. She is a recent newcomer to Sanford from Vermont and is a well-known author.

ROSE CIRCLE

Mrs. E. W. White and Mrs. Donald Norton were recent hostesses to the regular meeting of the Rose Circle.

The president, Mrs. J. C. Meriwether, presided with Mrs. Helen Cole giving the Horticulture report.

Mrs. Thelma Vose was welcomed as a new member with 23 members attending the meeting.

Through the members, 26 chairs have been donated for the new Garden Club building. Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, III, conducted a most original program on "Artistic Arrangements," interpreting members of the Rose Circle.

Geneva Park, mother of the year, was interpreted with a present of camellias. Mrs. Woodruff used an arrangement of greenery and golf balls to represent Merle Trull. A lovely calla lily arrangement described Ruth Meriwether and a very unusual arrangement of carrots, glads and lilies was created for Helen Cole.

Mrs. Woodruff used a Valen-tine tulip arrangement to depict the Rose Circle, with all the members spellbound as she so cleverly created these unique arrangements.

By Frances Wester
Signed deed to property owned by James Daughtrey fronting Lake Mary Boulevard was turned over to County Commission Chairman John Alexander at Tuesday morning's meeting of the commission by Don Jackson who represented the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce roads committee.

Paving of the boulevard from Ninth Street in Lake Mary west to the Interstate highway is scheduled as soon as all needed rights of way are secured.

Bill Bush, county engineer, told Jackson that he hoped "other owners along the road will soon follow through so that paving can get underway."

Once this access route to the Interstate is paved, State Road Department officials have advised that an interchange will be considered.

'Dead Ringer' Doesn't Remember

John (Fritz) Johnson

Mrs. Nancy Johnson

Lawrence Joseph Bader

Mrs. Mary Lou Bader

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — A medical report on "dead ringer" John (Fritz) Johnson said today there is no indication that "he has any recollection" of his life as an Ohio salesman who disappeared almost eight years ago.

The doctors said they were also unable to find a medical or psychiatric reason for Johnson's loss of memory.

Johnson's family doctor revealed the results of exhaustive mental and physical tests conducted on the flamboyant Omaha television personality.

Johnson's fingerprints have identified him as Lawrence J. Bader, an Akron (Ohio) kitchen appliance salesman who disappeared during a fishing trip on Lake Erie in May, 1957. Johnson, now 38, turned up in Omaha three days later and became one of the city's best known figures before a friend of Bader's recognized him in Chicago early this month.

Johnson's doctor indicated it would be months—if ever—before the mystery of why Bader disappeared and why Johnson cannot remember him is solved.

Bader's wife, Mary Lou, and her two children still live in Akron.

Johnson and his wife, Nancy, have two children in Omaha.

The report said that after eight days of intensive neurological, psychiatric, and physical tests, no neurotic or psychotic tendencies could be found to explain his inability to recall any former life as Bader.

Dr. Lee C. Bevilacqua, Johnson's personal physician for the past three years, issued the medical report in a brief news conference in the office of Johnson's attorney, Harry Farnham.

Johnson did not attend.

Farnham and Bevilacqua indicated that further long and intensive medical studies will be needed to fully explain Bader's memory loss.

Bevilacqua said it was obvious that Johnson's memory loss, involving such a long and "vital" period of his life, "represents a deep-seated psychiatric problem."

"Fritz is very desirous of commencing psychotherapy and both psychiatrists advise me it would take an indefinite period of such treatment to ascertain the exact nature of such a problem," the doctor said.

Expanded Program Planned

TALLAHASSEE (SpI) — Broward Williams Florida's new treasurer and insurance commissioner has announced a new program to bring more insurance company conventions and conferences, as well as more regional home offices to Florida.

These duties will be coordinated by an administrative assistant, E. A. Faircloth, who has been with the treasurer and insurance commissioner's office for 21 years.

In making the announcement, Williams said that Faircloth's vast experience with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and with officials of insurance companies and trade organizations throughout the country will qualify him to head this program.

Williams said that a concentrated effort will be made to bring more regional home office operations to Florida. Under Florida law, companies are allowed 50 per cent of the two per cent premium tax on the company's Florida premiums, plus an amount equal to the full amount of all ad valorem taxes paid by such insurers provided that such credits and deductions shall not reduce the amount of tax payable to less than 20 per cent of the premium tax normally payable by the company.

Presently there are 17 regional home offices in Florida, through which 23 companies operate.

Williams further stated that much interest has already been evidenced in this far-reaching two pronged program.

Seminole Junior College Gets Boost In Priority

Funds Use Given OK

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The State Junior College Advisory Board voted today to give five proposed new institutions, including Seminole County Junior College, first crack at any second priority funds appropriated by the Legislature.

The new junior colleges are not allotted any of the $33 million in first priority funds approved by the Budget Commission, since these funds are based on taking care of present enrollments.

Seminole County's share of the second priority funds, if approved by the State Legislature, would be $12.2 million. Schools Supt. R. T. Milver says the money would be for building purposes.

Sen. Mark N. Cleveland Jr. and Rep. S. J. Davis have assured the local Junior College Committee they will introduce bills soon after the Legislature convenes in April to permit construction of the college and funds with which to do it.

The Junior College Board, which is seeking an additional $3 million in capital outlay funds for second priority projects, said if appropriations fall short of that mark the new institutions should be provided for first.

The proposed college in Duval County, which already has legislative authorization would get the largest part of the second priority funds, with $14.8 million.

It was estimated the Duval College has a potential enrollment of 2,570 students and would receive an additional $260,000 in minimum funds for 1965-66.

Capital outlay projects for the new institutions included $1.9 million for a new building in Duval County and $1.4 million for a building in Seminole County.

Other new projects included $1.5 million for a building in Duval County and $1.5 million for a building in Seminole County.

In addition, $100,000 in equipment expenses will be available for the new institutions.

Wind Blows Some Good

Freezing Air Kept From Citrus, Crops

LAKELAND (UPI)—Temperatures plunged to the 20s in North Florida today and tourists along the southeast coast bundled against a stiff wind that protected citrus and vegetables.

A fierce Midwest storm sent the mercury to 26 at Tallahassee, and as low as 47 in Miami.

But a brisk wind over the citrus belt and into South Florida kept the freezing air from settling on fruit trees and tender truck crops.

But the strong wind that kept the cold air out of the citrus groves also did some damage on its own.

Dale Carlton, of Florida Citrus Mutual, said the winds caused substantial droppage in the remaining grapefruit crop and some droppage in the orange crops. He added that the blowing sand may result in damage to bloom buds just starting to appear on trees.

The high at sunny Key West this morning was 61 degrees.

The weatherman predicted more of the same tonight with a warming trend later Saturday.

But the forecast for later today and tonight was for colder air and old fires at night were being leaped in the groves and vegetable fields for fire protection.

Temperatures in the middle and low 20s are necessary over a period of hours to do damage to citrus trees.

Today's frigid temperatures of 20 to 25 in south central Florida with a 20 to 25 at Sanford and a 15 at Sarasota, Gainesville had a 20 at Jacksonville, and 25 at Tallahassee, and 41 at Tampa.

One of the worst winter storms in years swept across New England today with a white storm of snow, sleet, rain and gale force winds.

Widespread flooding was reported along the coast and many families were rescued from their homes by boat.

The storm caused death toll across the nation rose to at least 64. Illinois, still buried under deep snow drifts, reported 14 deaths.

Phil Logan says the new theme song down in Latin America is "I'm Dreaming of a Wide Isthmus."

Both telephone companies in Seminole County—Water Park Telephone Co. and Southern Bell—stand ready to make further investments in the future of this area by providing toll-free service if phone subscribers affected want it. This is the word from Bob Shelton, manager of the local phone office. He adds that both companies are in "full agreement" with aims of the Metropolitan Telephone System Committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce and have offered their cooperation in achieving these aims.

The publicity gained in the North Carolina community is priceless, according to John Krider, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce executive manager. The newspaper there carried a front page story, reproduction of Mayor Jimmy Crapps' letter of greeting, a map pointing to all 15 Sanfords in the United States and then did a smashing, full page spread on another page, complete with many pictures of Sanford, Florida, scenes.
