

Opposition Faces Gov. Burns On School Question

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Haydon Burns may find it easier to seek co-operation from the new Board of Regents in re-examining the trimester system than to get the Board of Education to go along with him in bypassing the regents.

Two of the five members of the Cabinet rank Board of Education, Secretary of State Tom Adams and state School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey, showed opposition to Burns' suggestion of having the Board of Education order a study of the trimester system without consulting the Board of Regents.

The other members of the Cabinet board are Burns, Atty. Gen. Earl Fairolo, and Treasurer J. Edwin Larson.

The new nine-member Board of Regents was named by Faris Bryant five days before he left office, over the protests of Burns, who said he felt Bryant favored continuation of the trimester system and would put members on the board who also did.

Burns campaigned on a promise to try and bring back the semester system to state universities.

The regents' board holds its organizational meeting in Tallahassee Wednesday, and the trimester system and a new president for Florida State University will be top pending matters to be discussed both among members and with the new governor.

Baya Harrison, of St. Petersburg, chairman of the old Board of Control and one of four carryover members to the new regents board named by Bryant, said he did not know how much these things would be discussed at the first meeting.

It will be primarily for electing a new chairman and taking care of other organizational matters.

North Orlando Garden Club To Meet

Carlson To Head Longwood Board

By Donna Estes

R. C. Carlson was re-elected to his 13th consecutive year as chairman of the Longwood City Council at the reorganizational meeting of the board held last Thursday evening.

Carlson, who is beginning his 15th consecutive year on council, was named to the post by a vote of four to one with the only contrary vote being cast for Carl Lommler.

Carlson thanked his colleagues for the vote of confidence but stated firmly that since he was "serving his last term as councilman, having no intention to run for the office again, he would relinquish the post as chairman next year."

Currency Isn't Like Any Paper

By Jesse Bogus

UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The current turmoil over the price of gold on international markets has left at least one bank employe in this financial center completely unaffiliated.

He is too busy each banking day taking care of a stock of millions of dollars in currency.

He is Cornelius Hopkins, ex-Marine, who works in the closely-guarded fifth basement level at Chase Manhattan's main office in the Wall Street area, as a supervisor of the currency and coin department.

Money is the stock in trade of any bank, of course, and Hopkins works amid shelves where currency is wrapped and stacked just as items in retail trade at any store. The currency division, and nearby Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority division handle about $15 million each day.

And as in any receiving department in a manufacturing or industrial concern, the incoming stock gets a thorough going over. Bills are counted on a federal bill counter and inspected at the same time. Worn currency is weeded out and sent to the Federal Reserve Bank for disposition.

That which passes inspection goes back into packages, by denomination of 100 bills. Some is retained for use by the Chase, it is packaged in the familiar paper-band wrapping which cashiers' windows produce in quantity on paydays.

About 75 per cent of the currency Hopkins' department handles comes in from abroad, mostly by registered sea mail. The other 25 per cent comes from domestic sources.

"Currency isn't like a piece of paper that can be mislaid and replaced," Hopkins said recently. "You may never recover it if it is lost."

As in any job where accuracy and dependability are governing factors, Hopkins must be always careful and always on the alert. But after eight years on the job, he regards all that money as merely stock in trade. The sight of it, he says, doesn't affect him at all.

Alexander Hamilton Institute comments that the market rally of last week may continue somewhat further, but says the recovery may be only temporary. The advisory service says "we believe the market has pretty well discounted the current strength in general business, particularly in automobile sales and the steel inventory buildup."

S. Seminole Unit Of VFW Observes Fifth Birthday

By Donna Estes

The Auxiliary unit to South Seminole VFW Post 8207 celebrated its fifth anniversary with a covered dish supper attended by some 40 members of the post and auxiliary and their families.

The menu for the supper included meat loaf, baked ham, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, potato salad, Chinese pie, tossed salads, cole slaw, relish trays, hot rolls, coffee, pie, cake and cold drinks.

The cake for the event, which had white frosting with blue lettering, was baked for the occasion by Mrs. Rosemary Sandifer.

Especially honored were Mrs. Virginia McManus, current president; Mrs. Harriet Harris, charter president, and Mrs. Irene March, past president.

Given recognition were John McMacus, current post commander, Robert March and Harold Matz, past commanders; Ed Ludecke, Brockton, N. Y. and past commander Sanford Barryacks World War I Vets, and Merle Harris, past commander, Weber Memorial Post 9304 of Winthrop, Mass.

Market Turns

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear and Staff, Inc., says the long range outlook for stocks is favorable and "we would not disturb investments that are drastically conservative."

However, the advisory letter comments that on a near term basis "we would avoid making substantial new commitments on margin until the technical picture improves."

International Statistical Bureau advises its clients not to disturb their stock holdings at present. The bureau says the performance of the market in the past week "justified our optimism and clearly negated the misplaced pessimism of some investors, speculators and advisory services."

Adults Flunk School Exam

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Barbara Davis, a 17-year-old senior at Wooster High School, returned to school today with a little more respect for her classmates.

Barbara said Sunday that she gave a 21-question test to 51 persons, including four teachers and three college students, designed to prove that most adults could not pass a basic high school civic examination.

Only five of the 51 received a passing grade of 70 or more. The scores ranged from 35 to 58.

A typical question was, "name three constitutional requirements for being president." Some answers: "must be a millionaire" . . . "must be male" . . . "white only" . . . "married."

Cut Your Own Taxes - 7

By Ray De Cress

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It probably was an Internal Revenue auditor who first said: "There would be no mortgages outstanding on churches today if churches actually received all the money people claimed they contributed on their tax returns."

Perhaps that is why so many church officials are being queried by tax auditors these days to confirm contributions being reported on tax returns.

As in all other statements and deductions claimed on tax forms the burden of proof is on the taxpayer and it is a wise man who has a statement from his church or canceled checks to support his contributions.

Furthermore, there is no "rule of thumb" or "average amount" to be listed as a contribution. List what you actually gave. That amount is your deduction.

Of course, for the overly generous there are maximum limitations. Contributions are generally limited to 20 per cent of total income. An additional 10 per cent may be taken if the money went to religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational organizations. This does not include tuition to a school or college but an outright gift.

In addition to your contributions to church you may deduct all contributions to non-profit schools and hospitals, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Community Chest, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, the various health funds and societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

There are other items that are also properly considered as deductible charitable contributions.

Say you go to a theater party where all the proceeds go to a recognized charity. If the cost of the ticket is $50 and the usual charge for the entertainment or play is $5, then the additional $45 is treated as a contribution.

Delegates to a church convention who are not compensated for their services or reimbursed for their expenses may deduct the transportation charges plus the cost of meals and lodging while attending to convention business.

Under no circumstances may you charge off any value

placed on your time or services while performing such volunteer work.

Should you donate painting, a work of art, a bond, securities or anything of value to a religious or charitable institution, the fair market value of the item—it may be more or less than your original cost—is fully deductible.

Many housewives overlook another charitable deduction now available to them.

If you are a volunteer worker at a hospital, a den mother to a Brownie or Cub Scout pack or the Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts you may have some deductible expenses which never occurred to you.

As a volunteer worker, your cost of transportation to and from the hospital or welfare institution is, deductible. If you used your own car the cost of gas and oil plus parking may be itemized. Or you may simply use a Treasury-approved allowance of five cents a mile on the car.

Cost of meals and lodging while performing your donated service are also deductible. Should you be required to wear a distinctive uniform which is not readily adaptable to general use its original cost and laundering expenses may also be included.

Den mothers who take turns holding meetings for Scout groups may charge off the cost of snacks served at meetings as well as transportation expenses when taking such groups on field trips.

Delegates to a church convention who are not compensated for their services or reimbursed for their expenses may deduct the transportation charges plus the cost of meals and lodging while attending to convention business.

Under no circumstances may you charge off any value

placed on your time or services while performing such volunteer work.

Should you donate painting, a work of art, a bond, securities or anything of value to a religious or charitable institution, the fair market value of the item—it may be more or less than your original cost—is fully deductible.

School Body Reorganizes

It's supposed to be hush-hush on orders of the Miami hotel men paying the bills, but 15 Sanford men are included in the 125 Floridians being flown to Las Vegas, Nev., for a week of fun. Local doctor is the "co-ordinator" for this area.

Disabled American Veterans of Seminole County will be guests of DAV Chapter 30 at the annual mid-winter conference Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Langford Hotel, Winter Park. Call Jim Hay or Gaylord Muffley at 322-1330, extension 321, for information.

Thirteenth annual Policemen's Ball will be held this Saturday at the Mayfair, beginning at 9 p.m. Wear what you desire and dance to the music of Al Nova and his band. Tickets are available from any policeman or at Police Hq.

Korean Conflict veterans with short periods of wartime service will be the first to lose their GI loan entitlement starting Jan. 31. See Howard H. Harrison, county service officer, for information.

City Commission room looked like a movie set Monday night with all the television cameras grinding and news photographer's flashguns popping. The press box was "crowded" — to say the least. All generating wonderful advance publicity for Sanford Riverport Marina.

Seven Central Florida county units of the Florida Heart Association are meeting at the Cherry Plaza in Orlando today to consider the idea of joining together in an "impact area" heart organization, along the lines of the East Central Florida Planning Council.

The Christian Science Monitor has come up with a different thought concerning the President's Medicare program. As you may know, Christian Scientists don't believe in doctors and hospitals, so want to know if they might have the choice of cash benefits — in lieu of officially authorized medical care?

John Alexander, County Commission chairman, who conducted his first meeting Tuesday, came up with a deal that could save a lot of loot for taxpayers. It's a central purchasing procedure which would handle the smaller purchases. This way, reckons John, they could buy such items as letterheads and other material in bulk quantities. A limit would be placed on the amount of money to be spent with larger transactions being handled, as now, by the Commission.

He also has started an energetic program to refurbish county parks. Picnic tables and benches will be placed in many of them so they will be more alluring to tourists and local residents as well.

Commissioners also were advised that a legislative act should be drawn so that the county will have permission to build boat ramps. Looks like Seminole County is starting an all-out pitch to woo tourists.

That's all to the good. Now if we could get the physical work started on the lakefront beautification project...

By Dottie Austin
Mason H. Wharton was unanimously elected chairman of the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction at an early meeting this morning.

MASON WHARTON

Wharton succeeds J. D. Wright Jr., who presented his resignation from the School Board at the meeting. Wright was appointed chairman of the State Industrial Commission last week by Gov. Haydon Burns.

The name of Don Bales was wired to the Governor today by Harold Kastner, chairman of the Governor's Seminole County Central Committee to fill the vacancy on the school board.

The committee relayed the request of the School Board that the appointment be made before the Jan. 19 meeting, "if possible."

Bales, owner of the Sanford Motor Company, is a school trustee.

In accepting the leadership of the local board Wharton told The Herald:

"I appreciate the opportunity afforded me by the board's decision. The next two years are going to be rough, but we have here as fine a group of men as I could ask, to deal with the problems facing us. The unity of this group and its dedication of the job has been responsible for past accomplishments, and will, I am sure, provide the best answers to the tremendous tasks before us."

"It has been a pleasure to work with men of the caliber of this group," said Wright as he turned his office over to Wharton.

Donald Bales was named vice chairman of the board and a special meeting of the group was set for 7:30 p.m. Jan. 19 to confirm the new appointee. Regular meeting of the board is scheduled for 1 p.m. Thursday.

The other two board members are James Birkenmeyer and John Evans.

Standing boards and committees have been named for 1965 by the Seminole County Commission. They were elected at Tuesday's board meeting. The members are:

Trustees of Fred R. Wilson Memorial Law Library: Vernon Mize Jr., G. Andrew Spoor, W. C. Hutchings Jr., Vassar B. Gaulton, Volie A. Williams Jr., William E. Akridge.

County Insurance Committee: Robert E. Karna, Clifford McKibbin, Robert J. Crumley, E. J. Moughton Jr.

Board of planning examiners: Archie Harriett, Bill Lantz, Lamar Stokes, Henry Lee Sr., Richard Sites.

Board of electrical examiners: E. C. Harper Sr., C. T. Rabun, Jim Lee, Don Young, Sidney Vibben.

Water control and conservation: Harold Kastner, M. L. Cullum, W. E. Knowles, C. S. Lee, Vernon Dunn, R. S. Brown, Homer Osborne.

Board of adjustment: Dick Zottman, Jack Symes, William Halback, Walter Torres, Carl Schilke.

Zoning board: Bob Rogers, A. K. Shoemaker Jr., Raymond Hall, Andrew Stanko, Glenn Metcalf.

Board of adjustment and appeals: John A. Burton IV, William Hush, LeRoy Hobb, John Yates Sr., Paul Campbell.

County Bows To State's Light Demand

By Harry I. Johnson
That traffic hazard at the interchange of Interstate 4 and Highway 436 will stay. So will traffic lights installed there recently by the State Road Department after a series of accidents and near-accidents.

County commissioners were told Tuesday that the SRD has no intention of changing the design. The lights will stay as placed, according to Richey Green, SRD engineer, who admitted in a letter to the County Commission that the traffic lights were installed "hastily."

He asked that the county pay for maintenance of the traffic lights and at first commissioners were against it.

One county official said he has been informed that the SRD has the right to close all "bypass" and indicated that may be the thinking at the I-4 interchange if a controversy developed on maintenance of the lights.

It was pointed out that the SRD has the authority to close any interchange it deemed a hazard.

Conceivably, this area of the interstate could have all access cut off.

Mulling this over for a few seconds, commissioners decided to accept maintenance of the signals. They learned, too, that other lights may be placed at the interchange when the west side of Highway 436 is widened to four lanes.

Green also wrote the commission that a proposal for a sidewalk along Celery Avenue has been turned down because the state has no such funds available. The request was relayed by the City Commission to county officials for further relay to the state.

Commission Chairman John Alexander appointed commissioners to supervise various activities in the county.

John Fitzpatrick will be in charge of the employment board; Ed Yarbrough in charge of the agriculture and road department buildings; Lawrence Swafford the Osceola site and Big Tree Park; and Leo Gary the courthouse custodian.

Weather Drops To 22 Below
United Press International Arctic air spilling out of the Canadian prairies set up a cold line today from southern New England to northwest Oklahoma that plummeted temperatures more than 20 degrees below zero in some sections.

It was 22 degrees below zero at Aberdeen, S. D., and Bismarck, N. D., and 14 below in Minneapolis, Minn.

A band of light snow swung eastward across the Midwest from Central Missouri to Michigan and was headed toward northern New England.

Motorist Robs, Pistol Whips Osceola Deputy
KISSIMMEE (UPI) — An Osceola County sheriff's deputy was handcuffed to the front of his patrol car, robbed and pistol whipped last night after he stopped to help a motorist who appeared to be having car trouble.

The sheriff's department said an unidentified motorist found Deputy Robert Fornes, 25. The officer was unconscious and still handcuffed to the patrol car.

Fornes said he was patrolling U. S. Highway 441 about four miles north of Yesho Junction, south of here, last night when he stopped behind a parked station wagon. He said the car appeared to be stalled.

When he approached, the driver pointed a pistol at the deputy and took the officer's handcuffs and about $10 Fornes had with him.

Fornes said he was then chained to the patrol car and pistol whipped.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Sales tax collections for December in Florida, based on December sales, were up a whopping 11.6 per cent from the same month a year earlier, State Revenue Commissioner, J. Ed Straughn said.

Collections for December totaled $20,298,075, a $2 million increase over the previous year.

Collections to date for the fiscal year total nearly $118.5 million, an increase of nearly $15 million or 14.4 per cent over the same period a year earlier.

U. S. Opposes UN Closing
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United States opposes any move for an early adjournment of the General Assembly to get around the UN financial deadlock, U.S. sources said today.

There were increasing reports that the six-week crisis over Russia's $61 million UN debt was leading to a move to adjourn the assembly this month and resume business in September.

U. S. 'Nation Of Nations,' Johnson Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson asked Congress today for a major overhaul of U. S. immigration laws.

He proposed abolishing the 40-year-old system of national quotas which he called "incompatible with our basic American tradition."

Johnson's special message to Congress carried out his State of the Union pledge last week to seek an immigration law "based on the work a man can do and not where he was born or how he spells his name."

The President told the lawmakers today that correction of "serious defects" in the law was long overdue. He urged that the program be given "priority consideration."

Same As JFK
Except for technical refinements, the proposed legislation is essentially the same as sought by the late President John F. Kennedy in 1963. Kennedy's proposal failed to clear either the House or Senate Judiciary committee.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, (D-Mich.), announced that he would introduce legislation Friday to carry out Johnson's recommendations.

The heart of Johnson's plan is a recommendation for gradual elimination of the quota system which has been in use since 1924 to determine the number of foreigners permitted to enter the United States from each country.

The President asked that the promise of America be opened to others based on their skills and ability, and on their relationship to relatives in this country so families could be reunited—not on the basis of a person's country of origin.

"Nation of Nations"
"We are not merely a nation, but a 'nation of nations,'" Johnson declared. "Violation of this tradition by the national origin quota system does incalculable harm."

"The procedure simply that men and women from some countries are, just because of where they come from, more desirable citizens than others. We have no right to discriminate the ancestors of millions of our fellow Americans in this way."

Under the proposal, existing country-by-country immigrant quotas would be gradually eliminated over five years.

The quotas would be reduced by one fifth in each year until abolished, thus avoiding an abrupt change in the pattern of immigration.

which took place at the Community Center.

Announcements of coming events for the auxiliary included a silver tea and musicale, Feb. 12, in the Community Methodist Church social hall with gold star mothers to be guests of honor.

A covered dish supper and silent auction will be held at the Center on Feb. 25.

Reports of donations revealed that $16 had been sent for child welfare to the state department; $5 to the Chaplain's Memorial Fund; seven pillows to the VA hospital; and canned goods valued at $25 for Christmas baskets provided for three needy families in the local area.

A meeting of the executive committee was announced for Jan. 25 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lovanna, ways and means chairman.

A combined social hour took place following the business meetings with refreshments served by Mrs. David Levy, Mrs. M. Newell and Mrs. Viola Leone.

Ella Roebuck Dies In Texas

Friends of Mrs. Ellen Roebuck, former Sanford resident, learned Wednesday of her death last night at Odessa, Tex.

Born April 16, 1878, in Osceola County, Mrs. Roebuck resided for 18 years in Sanford until last July when, because of her health, she made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Martha Darville, at Odessa.

Surviving are five children, Paul Yates, Minneola; Emory Yates, Strassford, N. J.; Mrs. Lillie Simmons and Mrs. Bertha Nettles, both of St. Cloud, and Mrs. Darville; 20 grandchildren, 34 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Surviving in Sanford are these grandchildren: Mrs. Naide Cockman, Richard Yates, Miss Ola B. Yates and Mrs. Annette McDaniel.

Funeral and burial services will be conducted in Odessa.

Former Resident Dies In Alabama

Mrs. J. L. Johnson, 95, of Troy, Ala., who made her home for a number of years in Sanford with her daughter, the late Mrs. W. L. Vance, died Monday night in a nursing home in Luverne, Ala.

While living in Sanford, Mrs. Johnson attended First Baptist Church.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Howard Weed, of Troy, and Mrs. Glenn Kurts, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; a son, Porter Johnson, of Montgomery, Ala.; and numerous grandchildren, including a granddaughter, Mrs. June Brodie, of Sanford.

Funeral and burial services will be held Thursday morning in Troy.

The READING ROOM of First Church of Christ, Scientist, WILL MOVE to its new location 101 W. First St. FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, AND WILL BE CLOSED UNTIL JANUARY 18.

LBJ's Health Care Plan Outlined

EDITOR'S NOTE: President Johnson's program of health care for the elderly seems assured of passage by Congress this year. In this dispatch UPI correspondent George J. Marder explains how the administration's plan would work.

By George J. Marder
WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you're 65 years old on July 1, 1966, and you become sick enough to need hospital treatment or a nurse, Uncle Sam would pick up part of the bill under the administration's health care for the elderly program.

This federal aid would be available whether you're rich or poor or somewhere in between, whether you're working or retired, whether you're under Social Security or not. But the person who has to go to a hospital would have to figure on paying the first day's bill, or something close to it. The administration proposal contains a deductible factor before the insurance begins to pay off.

This deductible would be set at one day's national average cost of hospitalization. At present, this figure would be about $40, but the sum might be different by the time the program goes into effect.

NO MEDICAL, SURGICAL. After that the government would pay hospital bills up to a maximum of 60 days. It would not, however, pay for any medical or surgical expenses; these would have to be covered by private insurance.

In addition to hospitalization, there are three other fringe benefits:

—The government will pay for 30 days of outpatient service. But again, this begins after the deductible factor. On outpatient service, the deductible would be half the amount of the cost of hospitalization at current cost levels, about $20.

The program would pay for home health services, such as a visiting nurse or other health worker, but not a doctor. This would include 240 such home visits a year.

If, after hospitalization, a patient required treatment at a medical facility which has an arrangement with a hospital to continue the care, that also would be paid for up to 60 days. This is called post-hospital extended care. It would not go into effect until Jan. 1, 1967, however.

WHO PAYS? Besides the question of who gets what, there's the question of who pays for the proposed new services. The answer is that just about everyone pays, but only those 65 and over collect.

The administration's program would be under Social Security, though maintained in a separate fund.

A special Social Security hospitalization tax would be imposed, starting at 0.3 per cent of earnings and increasing to 0.45 per cent in 1969 and thereafter. The tax would be imposed on earnings up to $5,000 a year and would be matched by employers.

In dollar amounts, the hospitalization tax would work out this way:

When the plan reaches its peak in 1969, a person under Social Security earning $5,000 a year would pay $25.10 a year into the hospital insurance fund. Even if more were earned the same amount would be paid in; if less, there would be less paid in.

PICK UP TAB For those elderly persons not under Social Security but eligible for the hospital insurance benefits, the federal government would pick up the tab. The bookkeeping arrangement would work this way:

The Social Security hospitalization fund would pay the costs of those over 65 collecting from the program but not covered by the Social Security retirement system. Then, each year Congress would appropriate money from the general Treasury to repay the fund.

In other words, all taxpayers would subsidize the two million older persons who would come under the plan but who would not be under Social Security.

In 1966, the cost of that subsidy from the general Treasury is expected to be $10 million.

In 1967 it would be $45 million. It would be expected to level off and decrease as more people come under Social Security.

But the subsidy is only a small fraction of the program. The remainder of it is paid as-you-go on the basis of the new Social Security taxes.

WON'T GO BROKE In the first year of operation, the new hospitalization fund would be expected to take in $1.3 billion but pay out only about $800 million.

In the second year, 1967, it would take in almost $2 billion and pay out $1.75 billion.

Those who have planned the program say that the fund would not go broke or get shaky regardless of how high hospital costs go.

They say the fund is set up to handle higher hospital costs for as far into the future as it is possible to plan.

Administration planners have based the fund on these assumptions: That for the next 10 years, hospital costs will rise faster than earnings, and that if hospital prices rise 710 per cent over the next 75 years the fund will still be financially sound.

Strikes... Spares

By John A. Spolski
There was only a difference of two little pins between the final of 961 for Roy and Mary Sterman and the 956 for John and Gert Bridges.

These were the finals of the five game Scotch doubles this past Sunday evening, handicap included. Those two little pins represented the difference of quite a few dollars in prize money for these folks.

The moral of the story is that if you have a big wide-open split... don't be greedy by trying to convert it. Take those pins of which you're sure and then you'll be pleasantly surprised when you figure your total at the end of the game.

This is especially true if you're on a strike or a double.

Congratulations and best wishes to our newly formed Parent-Youngster League which started competition this past Friday evening with 16 couples participating.

Al Probet was elected president for this happy group and Dick Mayer received the nod for the "Veep" position. Hard-working Jerry Kanter is assuming the duties of secretary-treasurer and little eight-year-old Harry Bierly III was selected as the sergeant-at-arms. (Betcha nobody gets our line in this league, huh?)

The highlight of the league will be on the 18th night when only the youngsters in the league will compete for three prizes - brand new bowling ball, shoes and bowling bag.

Grace Mills made her debut to the Sanford bowling area, after an absence of approximately three years as hubby Hal completed his studies for the title of chiropractic physician, and converted the three-six-seven-ten. (Wonder if that's some sort of omen Split-aki... lay off for about three years and then maybe you'll improve, MAYBE THAT IS!)

In this same Windjammer Women's Scratch League, Torkeys were tossed by Ann Morten, Pat Sipley, Susy Reno and Elaine Kostival.

In last week's Single Classic League, George Swann was pin-pounding until he finally

Top Competition Expected Sunday At Horse Show

By Margaret Conby
Howard Lloyd, president of the Santa Fe Riding Association, has announced Sunday's show will be one of the biggest yet.

Competition is expected to be the keener, since this is the third show in a series of six for which contestants are vying for the beautiful six-month Mitchell Trailer trophy.

At the present time Jack Kelley, senior division rider, and Evert Shoemaker, junior contestant, both from Cocoa, lead the top six riders with 29 points each.

Following them are junior division riders Tommy Austin of Longwood with 26 points, Christine Copelen with 25 points, and Valerie Allred tied with senior rider Joe Cannon, 23 points each, all from Orlando.

At this Sunday's show an electronic device again will be used to time events within one one-hundredth of a second to speed up events, give greater accuracy and eliminate the possibility of numerous run-offs.

Mrs. Dot Ball of Cocoa will be on hand to judge the western pleasure classes.

Grand entry is scheduled for 1 p.m. and there will be five junior and senior events including keyhole, clover leaf, pole bending, western pleasure and flag race with pickup and musical tires as open events.

As a finale there will be a jackpot jumping figure 8.

Junior and senior division high point trophies will be awarded as well as a trophy and six ribbons in every event in each division.

Tribe Clobbered 62-24 In Sixth Straight Loss

By David Higginbotham
Seminole High cagers lost their sixth straight game last night to the Oak Ridge Pioneers of Orlando in a Metro Conference game by a score of 62 to 24.

In the first period it looked as if Oak Ridge would run the game the way they wanted it to go, especially when they were ahead nine to zero until Ron Hinson finally made a basket for the Tribe. The first quarter ended with the Pioneers ahead 10 to 2.

In the second stanza the Tribe started to pick up with Mike Gray, Buddy Stumpf, Don Nicholas, Gary Loyd, and Hinson each making two points and Steve Groover making one on a free throw. Although the Seminoles made these scoring plays the Pioneers made 15 more points to increase their margin to 25 to 13 by the end of the first half of play.

Oak Ridge moved even farther in the lead in the heated play in the third stand by making 21 points to Sanford's six. Frank Murray and Bill Day made a hoop each for the Tribe and Gray and Stumpf made a free shot each to comprise Sanford's six points.

Stumpf was the only player on the Sanford team to score in the final period with two hoops and a free throw for five points while Oak Ridge scored 16 points for a 62 to 24 conference win.

In the preliminary game between the Baby Tribe and the Baby Pioneers Sanford lost by only one point with the score 49 to 47.

Wally Jamigan led the Tribe in the first period with four points and Ron Dudley and Terry Echols made a free shot each. But Oak Ridge dumped in three hoops and a foul shot for seven points to give them a one point lead going into the second stanza.

Larry Hodges made four points for the Tribe in the second period with Frank Whipham and Greg Ganas making a hoop each for two points and Paul LeRoy adding one on a free throw. The Pioneers made 12 points to give them a 19 to 16 margin at the half.

Wayne Hurst and Whigham made two baskets each and Echols made one for a total of ten points in the third period while the Orlando club made 14 points to hold the lead 33 to 28.

In the fourth quarter the Baby Seminoles really came to life out scoring Oak Ridge in that period. Dudley led the locals with six points and Whigham was second with three. Burnstead and Echols added a basket each and Mark Laborn added a free shot to give Sanford 40 points. The Pioneers made eight points, but it looked like the Tribe would win when they had the ball in the fourth quarter. The game ended with Oak Ridge ahead 41 to 40.

Lions Lead Throughout

At the start of Tuesday night's Oviedo-Florida Air Academy game at Melbourne the score was 0-0. That's the only time it was close.

Oviedo's red hot basketball artists downed the Academy 95 to 65 as Rex Brooks scored 34 points. David Elbel bucketed 35 points for the Academy but the rest of the squad lagged far behind.

Brooks kept hitting with his jump shots as Tim Colbert fired away out front as Oviedo moved to a 23 to 15 lead in the first quarter.

Florida Air made it appear to be a contest in the second quarter, moving within five points, 35 to 30—but that's as close as they got.

The score was 40 to 30 at the half and 66 to 53 as the final period started.

The Academy's defense disappeared like a jet on take-off in the final stanza and Oviedo surged ahead.

Colbert kept pace with Brooks by tossing in 25 points while Jimmy Courier caged a total of 17 markers. It was Oviedo's fifth win of the season.

Mary McLaughlin Rolls First 200

Mary McLaughlin rolled her first 200-games in the Hi Nooners Bowling League this week. Her score was an odd 200. The Jet team as they made a clean sweep against Wilson-Moore Furniture.

Betty Newsome's 168-387 helped Hunt Realty win three points from Stenstrom Realty.

Marge Carathers' 206-572 was high for Nationwide Insurance when they tallied three points from Art Brown Post Control.

Margaret Price 179-450 for Bohlers Tractors helped score three wins against Shoemaker Construction.

Dot Patton and Carolyn Salter converted the 3-10. Betty Newsome and Louisa Pyle 2-7; and Ellen Cornett the 4-6. Betty Newsome put together four strikes in a row. The league is now at the halfway mark and the standings are:

Stenstrom Realty, 53-13; Behrens Tractors, 47-20-4; Jet Inn, 42-26; Joe's Laundry, 36-32; Southern Air, 36-32; Nationwide Insurance, 35-32-1; Wilson-Moore Furniture, 32-35; Art Brown Post Control, 32-36; Lake Monroe Inn Lasses, 27-41; Hunt Realty Checkmates, 23-45; M & R Bar 21-47; and Shoemaker Construction, 19-49.

Jel Lanes Tops In City League

Jel Lanes team is in the top spot in the City League with a four point win from the Sanford Manufacturing team. Paul Marcotte was the big gun for Jel Lanes with his 227-504 net and Jack Frost was high for the manufacturing men with 204-577.

In other league action the Bob's Restaurant team took over the number two spot with a three point win from the Pryor's State Farm Insurance team. Pryor's were in second place until they met the bombers from Bob's Restaurant team. Don Dorman was the big factor in Bob's win with a tremendous 213 game and a 573 series. John Zeuli was the hot shot for Pryor's with a 536 set. Lake Monroe Inn held their fourth place standing despite losing three points to the "upsetters" Wisdom Sod Service team. Al Chaffin was high for Wisdom with a 519 total while John (the lamb) Kneeland took honors for Lake Monroe Inn with a 212-508 series.

The Cook's Corner team held fifth place although they dropped three points to the American Legion Post No. 33 team. Post Commander Tom Bert led his team with a 208-553 series and Team Captain Clyde Percy was hot on his trail with a 208-543 series. Willie (Firecracker) Maglio was the star for Cook's Corner with 200-561. In the final match of the night the Rose & Wilk's Restaurant team regained their winning stride with a four point plastering of their old tormentors the Harry's Bar and Package team. George Paulk was the mainstay of the Rose and Wilk's outfit with a 210-564 and team captain Gordon Honeycutt was close behind with a fine 209-561.

High games recorded this week were by Don Dorman with 243, Paul Marcotte 237, John Spolski 214, George Paulk 210, Honeycutt and George Swann 200, John Kneeland and Harry Protecutt 223, Percy and Bert 208, Jack Frost 204, Murphy 201 and 203 and Maglio an even 200.

Mickey's Pact For $100,000

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mickey Mantle will have a contract for $100,000 to soothe his feelings about being second best.

Ralph Houk, vice president and general manager of the New York Yankees, confirmed a previous report by United Press International when he intimated Tuesday that Mantle would receive a $100,000 contract for the third straight year.

There have been some reports that Mantle's salary would be boosted above the top figure of $105,000 received by Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, but Houk only said: "that's a lot of bunk."

Decisive Fight LONDON (UPI)—England's Henry Cooper, heavy-weight champion of the British Empire, meets Dick Wiperman of Buffalo, N. Y., tonight in a fight that may decide whether Cooper retires or continues in the ring.

Canada's EXPO 67 1967 World Exposition at Montreal will cover 834 acres.

48 Deer Killed In Experiment

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission reported 48 deer were killed Jan. 9 during an experimental antlerless deer hunt on the Eglin AFB reservation.

Wildlife biologists classified the hunt as successful.

Director A. D. Aldrich said the legal harvest of surplus deer, regardless of sex, was "nothing more than good sound wildlife management and the same type of management program practiced by domestic livestock farmers."

Aldrich said 270 hunters participated in the hunt.

Mohammed claimed descent from Ishmael, son of Abraham and Hagar.

Casselberry 'Admiration' Society Meets

By Julian Stenstrom
It was almost a mutual admiration society meeting Monday night when the Casselberry Town Council was reorganized for the year 1965. County Prosecuting Attorney Ken McIntosh, who was renominated and confirmed for another term as attorney for the council, and retiring board chairman Edward A. Lunn came in for most of the accolades.

Both were highly commended by members of the council and citizens for the fact that during the past two years more municipal legislation was enacted by the council than during the entire previous 23 years of the town's history.

On the other hand, McIntosh and Lunn—after complimentary remarks to each other—expressed their appreciation to other members of the board and appointees serving the town for their efforts to make the past two years the most progressive during the past quarter century.

Also sworn into office Monday were Town Marshal Gus Sawyer and Town Clerk Mary Hawthorne. Mrs. Hawthorne was highly commended by Lunn for her services to the council.

Lunn declared that during 1964 the council, which has 12 regular meetings a year, actually met 38 times to conduct the affairs of the municipality.

"It's no longer a town," said Councilman Overman. "Casselberry's now a city."

The entire board paid its compliments to Paul Bates and Herman Joyce for the organization and program of the Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department.

The department, recently commended by former chairman of the Board of County Commissioners — James P. Avery, was described by various councilmen as being second only to the Sanford Fire Department which, of course, has a paid force.

How To Cut Your Own Taxes—8

By Ray De Crane
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the greatest joys of home ownership is realized at income tax filing time.

A real glow of satisfaction spreads over the face of the otherwise grumbling taxpayer as he spreads out on the desk in front of him a pile of 12 mortgage payment receipts. As he scans each receipt he copies down just one figure from each slip and then carefully adds the 12 entries. He is eagerly totalling the interest he paid during 1964 on his home mortgage and for just that one night he wishes it were even higher.

For every penny of his interest charges is fully deductible on his income tax return. Home owners who are paying off a sizable mortgage usually elect to itemize their deductions instead of selecting either of the two options—the standard deduction which allows a 10 per cent of income up to a maximum of $1,000, or the new minimum standard deduction which permits a settlement of $200 plus $100 for each exemption.

While mortgage interest usually is the biggest interest item when deductions are being totaled there are many other kinds of interest, all of which can be used to reduce the amount of tax you will pay.

Did you buy a new or used car on time last year? Borrow from a bank, savings and loan, credit union or finance company to consolidate debts, improve your home or buy new furniture? If so, the interest you paid on the use of the money is deductible. How about a loan for a college student's tuition? Interest paid to Internal Revenue for late payment on last year's taxes? These amounts, also, are fully deductible.

Carrying charges and service charges on many types of installment payments pose a problem for many taxpayers. Where the actual amount of interest is not shown on such a contract Internal Revenue will allow an interest 6 per cent of the average monthly balance. It is how to arrive at this allowable interest figure when preparing your own tax return.

Put together all your monthly statements from department stores, finance companies or any other firm with whom you made an installment purchase contract. Total all the monthly balances. Divide this total by 12 to obtain the average monthly balance. Multiply this figure by 6 per cent and that is your allowable interest. Enter it on your tax return as "Interest on installment purchases."

Many home mortgage notes contain a penalty clause which calls for the payment of an additional interest charge if the mortgage is paid off prematurely, generally within five or 10 years after the mortgage is entered into. Such accelerated payments are not common in most households but the rule can apply should the home be sold within the penalty period. For at the time of the sale the mortgage is fully paid off through the funds placed in escrow.

If you sold your home last year and you still had a sizable mortgage on it, better check your escrow statement. If you paid a penalty for early discharge of the mortgage this is additional interest which you may deduct on your tax return.

Angeline Brown To Wed Audie L. Hudnell

By Robert B. Thomas Jr. 322-5786

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown Sr. announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Angeline, to Audie L. Hudnell, Saturday at their home, with Rev. H. B. Hodges officiating.

The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mrs. Annie Mae Chambers, of 120 Academy Avenue. He is presently serving aboard the USS Shangri La.

Following the wedding, the couple will depart for Jacksonville. He will be there for two weeks and leave for an eight-month tour of duty overseas.

which will remain forever in Mrs. Wilson's heart.

If you attend this program and visit the Good Samaritan Home you will see what a magnificent job this humanitarian and her staff are doing.

The Bethune-Cookman College Choir will appear in concert at Crooms High School Friday, Jan. 22, at 8 p. m. This program is sponsored by Trinity Methodist Church.

Young Ladies Community Club held its first meeting of the new year at the home of the president, Katie Robinson, who presided over the business session. Plans were made for the year. Mrs. Lillie R. Hall was honored guest. Members present were:

Mrs. Ruby (Mother) Wilson will be honored with an Appreciation Program at the Free Will Holiness Church. It will run Saturday and Sunday, Mrs. Edna Walden, Rev. H. Ross and others are the sponsors.

Mrs. Wilson is most deserving in being so honored. This dedicated person, has been most instrumental in helping many boys and girls find themselves. Her success lies in the fact that she gives youngsters love and security.

It has been my fortune to see some children when they first enter into Mrs. Wilson's sanctuary. Some had been rejected, others neglected, etc. They were most frustrated.

Exemplifying the patience of Job, Mrs. Wilson tackled her job with tremendous vigor. A few months pass and signs of happiness on the faces of the young subjects replace those which were once disturbed and unhappy.

We are most fortunate to have this deeply religious and devoted person in our midst. You are asked to come out and help make this a day

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Williams, of Newark, N. J., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown. Mrs. Williams is a 1950 graduate of Crooms High. Visiting with the Browns was Robert Spivey, also of Newark.

Mrs. Sarah R. Davis, of Newark, spent a few days here during the Yuletide season. She is the former Sarah Lou Raines.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldence (Tap) Refoe, of Philadelphia, are visiting for a few days. Mrs. Refoe is the former Lillie Belle Brooks. Both are graduates of Crooms where he starred in football.

What shall it be—group improvement or self-improvement? Many of us have no desire to succeed and, we do not like to see others do the same. We do everything possible to block another person's progress. Jealousy and envy are the marks of such do-nothingers. The persons are to be sympathized with because they suffer greatly.

Nutty Intruder Brings Police

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Helene Bell returned home and found a lamp overturned and a vase knocked from her mantle.

She summoned police officers L. F. Lamour and E. Imiltrevis, who entered the house with pistols drawn and captured the intruder—a Texas red squirrel. Officer Lamour took the culprit home for a pet.

Two-Mill Citrus Tax Proposed By Mutual

LAKELAND (UPI)—The legislative committee of Florida Citrus Mutual has called for a two-mill per box tax on all citrus grown in the state to provide funds for an aerial citrus tree count.

Mutual has been critical in the past of crop estimates made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and has said the only way to get accurate crop estimates is to have an accurate tree count.

Mutual executive vice president Robert W. Rutledge said that the crop estimate released then by the USDA still was two to four million boxes too high.

The Mutual committee approved in principle the measure for a two-mill tax for one year.

Committee Chairman J. J. Parrish Jr. of Titusville said the last tree count was made in 1956 and since that time has been made useless by two major freezes that have destroyed a large number of trees. There also have been vast new plantings since that time.

The commission also approved in principle a one-mill per box tax on all citrus to provide funds to aid in the operation of road guard stations. These facilities have been called a "valuable" tool in preventing the shipment of stolen fruit out of state.

Tax Guide Ready For Farmers And Ranchers-Tucker

Income tax reporting time is almost here for farmers and ranchers.

An excellent way for farmers and ranchers to prepare for this task is to obtain a copy of Publication No. 225, the Internal Revenue Service's 1965 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide, says Cecil Tucker, Seminole County agricultural agent.

It is available without cost from the local county Agricultural Center or from the Internal Revenue Service.

Farmers and ranchers wanting extra time to file their final report have until Friday to file their 1964 tax estimate. If this estimate is filed, the final date for filing Form 1040 is extended to April 15. However, if no estimate is filed, Feb. 15 then becomes the deadline for making the final tax report. These deadlines, Tucker points out, apply only to taxpayers who derived two-thirds or more of their 1964 gross income from farming or ranching.

Another important consideration is the reporting of hired labor and social security tax on wages paid. Either of two tests determine whether a farmer must pay social security tax on wages. If the worker was paid cash wages of $150 or more during the calendar year or if he was paid cash wages (computed on a time basis) for 20 days or more during the year, the 3% per cent social security tax should have been deducted from such wages.

Form 943 is used for reporting farm wages. Farmer-employers must show wages paid and give the account number of individual workers. Tax withheld plus an equal amount from the employer, along with the reporting form, must be filed on or before Jan. 31.

Because every phase of the farm and ranch business can be affected by taxes, Tucker emphasizes the need for a complete study of the '65 Tax Guide. For a copy of this guide call the Agricultural Center 322-3233.

Sanford Moose To Lead Deland Enrollment

The Degree Team of Sanford Lodge 1851, Loyal Order of Moose, will conduct enrollment ceremonies at the Deland Moose Lodge at 8 p.m. Thursday. Those making up the team include Charles Post, Jim Parkinson, Bob Stockton, Andy Faughnan, Vernon Graham and Bruce Ross.

This Saturday and Sunday the Sanford lodge will be host for the Eighth District beginning with a dance Saturday night at the local Moose Home for lodge members and co-workers of Women of the Moose.

On Sunday a dinner will be served at 12:30 p.m. by co-workers of Sanford Chapter 1404 preceding the 2 p.m. district meeting to be conducted by Lou Matheny of Leesburg, district president. Members of all lodges and co-workers of all chapters in the district are urged to attend the meeting.

The monthly session, held at the Mansion House, was conducted by Arthur Bennett and reports were presented by Mrs. James Hadlock, secretary, and Archie MacNaughton, treasurer, who advised that 1965 dues are payable.

It was announced that Charles Gifford of DeBary has donated a kiln to the club and that a potter's wheel will be given by Robin Elliott and Albert Mercer. Members also were advised that the club will be permitted to use building recently moved to the rear of the Mansion as workshop space upon final approval from the executive board of the Florida Federation of Art.

Miss Patricia Ann Walker Engaged To Marry Thomas Algernon Speer

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Edward Walker of Sanford, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Thomas Algernon Speer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Algernon Speer Jr., also of this city.

Miss Walker, born in Palatka, attended Sanford schools and was graduated from Seminole High School. She recently returned from Atlanta, Ga., where she resided for the past two years and is presently employed at the Florida State Bank of Sanford.

Mr. Speer, a native of Sanford, attended Seminole County public schools. He received his liberal arts education at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., and his Bachelor degree in Business Administration at the University of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman of Pine Avenue, Longwood, announce the birth of a son, David Richard, Jan. 7, at Winter Park Memorial Hospital. Paternal grandfather is Charlie Norman, also of Longwood and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hauser of Forest City. Maternal great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tonnoff of Longwood.

FOREWARNING — Just in case the bridegroom doesn't know who will wear the pants in the new family, New York designer Anthony Blotta includes this bridal outfit in his spring collection. It features bell-bottomed pants of delicate lace.

State President Addresses The Sanford Woman's Club

The General Business and Fine Arts Luncheon of the Sanford Woman's Club was held recently with the president, Mrs. W. L. Merritt, presiding.

An arrangement of large pink and white roses centered the speaker's table with rose colored camellias on the baby grand piano. The mantle was centered with a large red poinsettia, and the card tables, which were placed in a semi-circle, held Brazilian peppers. An eye-catching arrangement of white glads in a handsome silver pitcher was at one end of the stage.

The club was honored to have the president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Mark Emmell; the president of the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. M. L. Tinsley, and the corresponding secretary of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. C. B. Outen. Each was presented a camellia corsage made by Mrs. L. E. Spencer, treasurer of the Sanford Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ben Wade, vice chairman of the Fine Arts Department, introduced Mrs. Emmell, who spoke on the aims and projects of the Florida Clubs. She spoke on the history of the club and cited the accomplishments of the many women who worked in the first Women's Clubs.

Mrs. O. Bryant was introduced as guest of Mrs. Ned Julian. Mrs. Durwood Walker and Mrs. Emma Young were welcomed back after missing several meetings. Mrs. Margaret Pitchford was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Merritt announced that Mrs. B. F. McWhorter would serve as club historian. Mrs. R. C. Warren was reinstated as a member and welcomed.

Mrs. Fred Harris, first vice president, announced a bridge and fashion show would be held January 26 at 7:30 p. m. at the club house and urged all women to participate with the benefit.

Mrs. Wade Rucker, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Mrs. C. B. Ray, State Department of Welfare, thanking the members for their help in providing toys for foster children.

Mrs. DeWitt Matthews, chairman of the American Home Department announced their next meeting would be "Party Pastry Demonstration" by Mrs. J. M. Moyer at the home of Mrs. C. P. Hark-

Mrs. Harriett Matt Is Guest Speaker At DeBary Club

By Mrs. John Leone
The DeBary Business and Professional Women's Club met at the DeBary Restaurant for a dinner meeting January 5.

President Bert Lederhaus presided and Helen Snodgrass gave the invocation.

A letter of thanks was read from the Ocala School for Girls for the gifts the DeBary Club members presented to the girls at Christmas.

Mrs. Matt was voted to send a check for $3.00 to the DeBary Garden Club for their beautification project of planting native palm trees on the Highway through DeBary.

Mrs. Harriett Matt, District 4 Director of Leesburg was the honored guest and speaker. Mrs. Matt stated that District 4 was one of the largest in the area with 117 clubs in the state of Florida.

The employment of women wearing the BPW pin in positions today which previously were only held by men, makes us realize the status of women in business has changed.

Two guests were present, Martiel Franklin, president of the Lakes Club and Miss Doris Hoppe of Jackson Heights, N. Y.

The District 4 Luncheon meeting will be held at the Elks Club in New Smyrna Beach with registration at 10 a. m.

Members under 25 years of age will be honored on Sunday, Jan. 24. Please make reservations with president Lederhaus if you plan to attend and arrangements will be made for a car pool.

Fashions And Diamonds To Highlight Combined Beta Sigma Phi Luncheon

Fabulous fashions and dazzling diamonds will be featured at a luncheon Saturday, Jan. 23, at the Capri, when all five chapters of Beta Sigma Phi will combine for the annual luncheon.

The First Lady of the state of Florida, Mildred Burns, honorary member of the sorority, had accepted an invitation to attend the luncheon, but in view of a committee pre-scheduling her itinerary, humbly had to cancel her luncheon plans.

Congeniality hour will begin promptly at 11:30 a. m. with luncheon served at 12:30. Following the luncheon, sorority members will model exciting fashions from Playgirl Fashions, with Mrs. R. C. Steck serving as coordinator and narrator. Coiffures will be styled by Sandy's Beauty Sal-

'Watch Those Curves' Show Film Entertains Oviedo Women

By Evelyn Lundy
Beautiful roses of every color, together with azaleas and camellias, decorated the Oviedo Woman's Club. Friday, Jan. 4, as members and guests gathered to enjoy the first luncheon and meeting of the new year.

By popular request Mrs. Williams made an interesting Sogetsu arrangement using one budding crepe myrtle branch and three bronze mums in an original Sogetsu container brought from Japan.

A workshop followed the demonstration, with Mrs. Williams helping the members create their own designs from a wide variety of materials. It was an exciting and stimulating experience and the finished arrangements were taken home by the members.

Before the program a brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. John M. Morgan. It was a pleasure to welcome three new members, Mrs. John T. Johnson, Mrs. Floyd Hunt and Mrs. John W. Epps.

Mrs. Cecil Tucker, sister of Mrs. Charlie Williams, was a guest for the demonstration and workshop.

Mrs. Mosier announced that ten feet west of the club had been donated to the club by Ben Jones to be used as a driveway.

Mrs. A. B. Tedford announced that a fashion show would be held in March and she urged each member to make a garment to be shown at this time.

After the salute to the flag, the meeting adjourned.

Phi Gamma Eta Schedules Social Events Forthcoming

Members of Phi Gamma Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi recently gathered at the home of Barbara Erickson. President Peggy Crever presided at the chapter's first meeting of the year.

An interesting program, "Do I Use My Imagination Well?" was presented to the chapter by Leslie Best.

The chapter received an invitation from Zeta Xi Chapter to the January luncheon to be held at the Capri Restaurant on Jan. 23. Members of the chapter will represent Phi Gamma Eta at the affair.

Plans were made for a box supper for the monthly social on Jan. 16. Mary Sharp will hostess the event and members, husbands and dates will attend to enjoy the delicious supper.

As a money-making project at the next regular meeting, the chapter will hold a miscellaneous auction. Each girl will bring two articles which will be put up for sale to the members.

Rushing plans for January and February were discussed. Rushes will be held at a pizza party on Jan. 28 at the home of Mrs. W. R. Jennings, chapter sponsor. A "model meeting" for rushes will be held on Feb. 4.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago I married what I thought was a sweet, understanding country girl. I was a city boy. Now we have three children. I have always loved to hunt. Before I got married, five buddies and I used to go out of state to hunt deer for a week every year. My buddies are all married now, too, and THEIR wives let them go on these hunting trips, but my wife won't let me go. She says killing deer is inhuman and we are a bunch of savages. She refuses to cook wild game and she absolutely forbids our sons to play with toy guns. What do you suggest?

ABOUT HAD IT
DEAR ABBY: Your wife can't persuade you? If that deer hunting is neither inhuman nor savage (and good hunters are familiar with all the arguments), you had better hunt yourself up another hobby. You can't win 'em all, and it would appear that your wife has "about had it" on the hunting issue, too.

DEAR ABBY: The manufacturers of men's clothing saved money when they took away the vest, a very handy garment. Then they raised the price of men's suits. How come?
DON'T GET IT
DEAR DON'T: Where have you been? The vests are coming back. But don't wish for the "good old wages" that went with them.

DEAR ABBY: How often I have heard that my husband and I are the happiest couple in town! Yet, after 27 years of marriage, two fine, well-educated children, plus three grandchildren, I found out that my husband has been unfaithful to me with a woman who works for him. Before making any accusations, I hired a lawyer and a private detective to get the facts. The evidence they brought me (photographs and tape recordings) was a blow I shall never get over. My soul is dead. I have repeatedly asked my husband to confess his guilt, but he responds with more lies. (He doesn't know I have the evidence). It has been six months and I am still waiting for him to tell me the truth. The hurt and humiliation is more than I can bear. How much longer shall I give him? Please thing foolish to him or to answer before I do something.

DEAR ABBY: Write to AB-BY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
Problems? Write to AB-BY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON MCLEOD

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod"
I am a weak sister (your description), so how will I ever reduce from my horrible two hundred pounds? And I am only five feet five. —H. H.

Only through will power and the knowledge that your health can be so easily affected. No woman should weigh 200 pounds, no matter tall or how short or how young! So get busy and follow my "Figure Perfection Diet." Today dieting simply means eating food in "controlled" portions. The food is the same as the rest of the family eats, but you must follow the menu. And may I add that you will regret being so much of a "weak sister." Send for my "Figure Perfection Diet." To receive it, do this: Send me a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and enclose a dime. I will send you a copy of "Diet Breaker."

"I have a broken neck and must attend a large reception which I helped to arrange. I am fine but feel foolish with my arm in a sling. Could I wear a handsome scarf as the sling? My dress is navy blue brocade—Della."

Of course, use an attractive scarf and, as much as possible, forego the arm. Have fun!

"I have very white hair, and don't mind it one bit. I need a dressy after-five dress, and someone has suggested white brocade. I am fifty-one, slim and tall. Would this be becoming, do you think? My complexion is very pale and I have blue eyes, not as nice as when I was young—E. E."

First, give a bit of depth to your eyes by using blue eyeshadow on your eyelids. I would suggest a color for the dress because your hair will "show off" much better. As your skin is so pale, try a deeper-than-skintone face powder.

"Is it in good taste to wear perfume when one is attending church on Sundays? My neighbor says it is 'disgraceful'—After Forty."

Your neighbor is so very wrong. A charming fragrance, of course, is correct at any time and at any place.

Tomorrow—From My Notebook.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Last year I ran a bidding contest. First prize was a trip to the Hawaiian Regionals where the winner was to play as my partner in every event for which we would be eligible.

It was won by Robert Marks of Vista, Calif. Because he had won my contest, I assumed that we would have little trouble with the bidding and hoped that we would be able to stand the strain of 10 sessions of play.

The most difficult part of play is defense and on one of the first hands Bob came through with a beautiful defensive play.

I opened the jack of diamonds. South thought a while and went up with dummy's ace. Then he drew trumps, cashed his ace and king of hearts, entered dummy with another trump, ruffed dummy's last heart and threw Bob in with the king of diamonds.

All this constituted a standard elimination play. Bob could lead a heart and give South a ruff and discard or he could lead a club. Most players would avoid the heart trap, but would lead a low club whereupon my jack would fall to dummy's ace and declarer would then finesse successfully against Bob's queen. Bob read that situation also and came up with the play that gave declarer a chance to go wrong. He led the queen of clubs!

South went into deep thought. If Bob had led queen-jack, it was up to South to win in dummy and finesse against the jack in Bob's hand. If Bob had led from queen nothing was as the case, it was up to declarer to win in his own hand and play me for the jack. Declarer wasn't looking at all the cards and went wrong.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Every now and then something happens to me as a housewife and mother look at herself, her family, or her home with new eyes.

Perhaps she has been talking her husband pretty much for granted, and is suddenly made to realize how dependent she is on him for happiness when a close friend loses HER husband.

Perhaps she has thought for a long time that her house is dreary, and then suddenly she comes across pictures in a magazine that give her an idea of just what to do to make her own home bright and gay and cheerful.

She may be feeling lonely and unneeded, with her children grown and gone from home. When asked to pinch-in as a volunteer job, she may well discover there are jobs outside the home that need to be done—jobs she can do.

She may have, for years, sniewed women with special talents and then been surprised when another woman said, "I wish I had your gift for friendship" or some other special quality she had always taken for granted.

She may have wished she had more education and then finally realized, with all the children in school there was no longer anything to keep her from going back to school, herself.

She may have complained for years about being pushed for time, and then one day realized how easy it is to cut down on unimportant activities just by learning how to say "no."

It is in such moments as these that a woman sees herself and others and her own problems clearly.

It is by such flashes of insight, if she makes use of them, that a woman continues to grow, that a woman continues to grow as a person.

Highlights

9:30-10:30 P.M. A.D.C. Burke's Law. "Who Killed Mother Goose?" With the victim the writer of kiddie stories, it follows that there might be an odd kiddle or two in this episode. Star of the show is young Miss Susanne Cupito (playing a character named Lolita no less) who not only develops a crush on Burke, she gives him sketches of all the suspects. That gang is played by yummy Lola Albright, Ann Hlyth, George Hamilton, Walter Pidgeon and Jan Murray. Lots of good touches, clever lines and interesting characters as this returns to its exalted form.

7:30-9 P.M. NBC. The Virginian, "Hildent" (Color) You've got to say this much for this series. It usually hires some excellent guest stars to create havoc among the regulars. Tonight, it's a father-son combination, beautifully played by Forrest Tucker and Andrew Prine, who've been surreptitiously rounding up wild horses for fun and profit and aren't about to encourage competition. Regular Robert a Shore (Betsy) stumbles on to them and creates some havoc of her own.

8:30-9 P.M. ABC. Shindig! Turn down your hearing aid, maw. It's music time again. Johnny Cash is top good as Johnny Cash is top good as he is to be trapped on these premises, but here he is promoting a record. Also on hand and demonstrating some phenomenal lung power are the Detergers, Hermin's Hermin's, The Blossoms, the Elliptics, The Paria Sisters, Dick and Deedee and Paul Peter-

Prothro Returns As Bruins Coach

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Tommy Prothro, who originally came West as an assistant coach at UCLA and then took a 10-year sabbatical to Oregon State, was back today as the Bruins' head football coach.

The appointment was accepted by Prothro at Chicago from UCLA athletic director J. D. Morgan and announced simultaneously by UCLA and Oregon State late Monday.

Cerebral Palsy Unit Planned For Seminole

By Donna Estes
An organizational meeting to establish a woman's auxiliary in Seminole County to assist United Cerebral Palsy of Central Florida is scheduled for Thursday at 8 p.m. at First Federal Savings and Loan in Sanford.
The group is being organized under auspices of UCP in Central Florida by Mrs. Robert Bass of North Orlando and will study feasibility of setting up a day clinic and nursery in the county and enlist volunteers to work with the annual CP Telethon Drive scheduled next month.
Women to represent each of the civic and church organizations in the county are being invited to attend.
The clinic located in Orlando on E. Colonial Drive presently serves patients from Orange, Seminole, Brevard, Volusia and Lake Counties.

Your Service Station

The service station is a prime example of successful, energetic small business. There are more than 200,000 in this country, according to a publication of the American Petroleum Institute and about 96 per cent are owned or operated by independent businessmen.

And the station—individually and collectively—is a real asset to the community and the nation. The typical new one adds some $15,000 in wages and $20,000 in locally purchased materials each year to the economy of the area it serves. Last year total sales by the stations passed $19 billion.

Each station, as an unpaid tax collector, is an important agent of government. On the average, it collects an estimated $30,000 in federal and state gasoline taxes. And, of course, the station's owner and operator is a taxpayer in his own right.

To depart from statistics, every service station has the other basic characteristics of free enterprise. It is intensely competitive, and the competition takes many forms—price, the attractiveness of its facilities, the special appeal of brand names, the quality and scope of the services rendered to the motorist.

The service station has come a long way indeed from the time when gasoline was dispensed from a five-gallon can or a single pump at curbside. It is still moving—the newer stations are larger and more efficient, geared to the needs of a seemingly endless increase in the number of motor vehicles. It does an important job surpassingly well.

Man Vs Nature

Mankind now has the power to influence and change all of the three ways that human continuity moves from one generation to the next.

The three ways, or levels, according to Dr. Walsh McDermott of Cornell University Medical School, are: — The genes—the chemical code carried in the cell, which determines the structure of every living thing. The genes have always been subject to alteration by natural radiation, and now by man-made radiation. — The fetus—the developing human before birth, also susceptible to radiation and drugs such as thalidomide. — The cultural environment.

Of the three, man has heretofore only been able to exercise their wills on the third level. Even today, their power over the others is still chiefly negative and destructive.

Dr. McDermott was speaking at a conference on Science and Development in Chile, one of the many nations in the world faced with the problem of achieving technological modernization while at the same time preserving their cultural heritage.

Even at the third level of continuity, too-sudden change can be destructive. In some countries, said Dr. McDermott, the change is so rapid that "a father's whole experience is without meaning for his son."

We can see it even in our own society, on a lesser scale, in the gap in understanding that often separates the generations.

Thought For Today

Blessed are those who mourn for they shall be comforted.—Matthew 5:4.

This world is so full of care and sorrow that it is a gracious debt we owe to one another to discover the bright crystals of delight hidden in squalid circumstances and irksome tasks.—Helen Keller.

Dick West's

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Navy tradition is rich with pungent quotations, two of the better known examples being "Don't give up the ship" and "Damn the torpedoes, etc."

Ranking right up there with these historic utterances, in my judgment, is the spirited motto coined by Capt. John Horrocks Jr., commander of the Navy bean ball league.

While serving as executive officer of the USS Springfield, where bean ball evolved from a simple, unorganized game into a way of life, Horrocks spoke the immortal line: If there is one thing I hate it's a poor loser.

Political Notebook

American research scientists are coming up privately with highly critical personal evaluations of how the U.S. foreign aid program is being run.

These technical men, talking frankly and bluntly at a meeting away from home, say:

After 15 years and the expenditure of $40 billion in foreign aid, we have learned little and have little to teach.

We're experts in the agriculture of temperate climates, as in the United States, they do not agree. But they add, we're not experts in the agriculture of the wet tropics and other regions where much of this underdeveloped world lives. We then don't know how to teach these people the agriculture they need.

Instead we tend to export our methods, which often are not appropriate to the climate, technology or political and social organization of the underdeveloped countries.

We make the same mistakes in exporting our system of medicine and public health. In the United States, public health is dependent on a great body of highly trained, skilled men and women. But most of the countries we're helping don't have more than a drizzle of that kind of manpower.

We need to develop a kind of public health-medical system for export that could utilize the type of manpower now available in underdeveloped countries. That is, we need to develop medical and public health techniques which could be used by uneducated men with little training.

We tend to export our sophisticated, biologic and science, often not suitable for practical application in the underdeveloped countries. The quick insertion of this very advanced technology of sanitation often creates economic and social types of agriculture, industry and communications.

Meanwhile, we lead them into a far-out science "from which they can never get back to reality."

We fall into the same error in our export of education. We tend to export pale "book-cutter" imitations of U.S. schools and colleges. They're not geared to local conditions.

Some of the scientists interviewed seem to be advocating that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's system of cost effectiveness be applied to U.S. foreign aid.

They say the basic common sense technique would be to first find out all the ways foreign aid could be designed to accomplish the ends we have in mind. Then we should pick the most effective for the dollar systems out of that basket of possibilities.

The systems should, of course, be those most likely to be effective in the countries in which they are to be used.

Phil Newsom Says

Challenge On Religion

By K. C. CHAMBERLAIN

Under the general and subtle communism is a challenge to the church. Now this has been challenged by the powerful Italian Communist party, strongest among the parties in Western Europe.

Luigi Longo, the Italian party's new leader, calls it a mistake to regard religion as a weapon used by conservative classes.

"In the contrary," he writes in the latest issue of the organ of international Communism, "we believe that sincere religious sentiment can make a valuable contribution to the struggle against the oppression and inhumanity of capitalist society, to the struggle for justice and against war."

The first such bid for a "new approach" to religion came from the late Palmiro Togliatti, former leader of the more than two million strong Communist party of Catholic Italy. It was contained in a memo handed to the deceased shortly before his death last fall to former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Togliatti boldly said "the old atheistic propaganda is of no use."

Longo has now gone a step farther by speaking of "cooperation" between Catholics and Communists and of "freedom of religion and culture."

Although the church may resist a change of strategy, it nevertheless amounts to a bet on the part of the traditional, hard-line Communist approach to religion.

The move, the first such from the 50 odd world Communist parties, has so far met with no direct response from the Kremlin.

In Moscow, a full-scale propaganda offensive was launched against the churches, Islam, Judaism and even Buddhism as late as 1963 when de-Stalinization was already under way.

Anti-religious propaganda has been matched by restrictive administrative measures, as well.

The constitution of the Orthodox Russian Church, itself, was changed as recently as 1961 to virtually deprive the priests of any say in running their parishes. About half the

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Donna wonders if Nudist Camps are not the best form of health insurance for all of us. Millions of Americans, likewise have an entirely false idea about nudity and also about tanned skins so read this case and get help to the medical truth. And note Dr. Freud's view of Nudist addicts!

CASE U-181: Donna B., aged 18, is the college coed mentioned yesterday who wondered if total nudity would increase sexual immorality.

"Dr. Crane," she added, "wouldn't it be healthful if we imitated the folks who belong to Nudist Colonies and thus eliminated all our clothing?"

"Aren't the Nudist thus smart from the medical angle?"

No, the people who relish baring around at Nudist Camps in their "birthday suits" are medically ignorant.

For clothing is an invention of mankind to protect the skin from insects and scratches, as well as reduce the absorption of dangerous ultraviolet rays from the sun.

Clothing also whets the romantic interest of the male sex, so men are far more stimulated nowadays by girls than Adam ever was while in the garden of Eden.

You little schoolgirl, you! I recall that Eve, a la nude, was not sexually stimulating to Adam.

They never had any children till they wore aprons of fig leaves, why?

Because it is the partially clothed female figure that stimulates man's erotic fancy and not the nude figure!

Nudists often show evidence, too, of a juvenile throwback. For at the toddler stage, children often evoke vigorous protests from mamma when they walk around without any clothes.

Mamma then makes a fuss so they catch her attention and thus gain the limelight.

Dr. Freud and his psychoanalysts thus regard Nudism as one of the evidences of subconscious regression to the mother's womb.

It is an evidence of juvenile plus an attempt to strike back at Mamma's rebuff so they try to satisfy the baby's egomania.

Actually, it is unhealthful to go around with your skin exposed to bright sunlight!

All animals and fowls were covered by God Almighty so their fur or feathers would keep the dangerous ultraviolet light of the sun away from their bare skin.

God expected mankind to use his superior brain to evolve myriad forms of clothing to do the same thing.

We have thus adapted cotton, flax, wool, nylon and many other products to our skin in lieu of the fur and feathers of infa-human creatures.

The tanned skin turns brown to try to ward off more of those dangerous ultraviolet rays, for dark skins partially rebuff ultraviolet light.

A tanned skin is thus, technically, a sick skin, for it shows a final feeble attempt by the skin to make up for lack of brain action!

Farmers wear overalls and long sleeved shirts, thus avoid ing chiggers, insect bites and scratches, as well as overdoses of ultraviolet rays.

City young bucks show their immaturity by working on the farm in shorts!

Sunlight also causes apparently healed tuberculosis lesions to flare up and also activates quiescent peptic ulcers.

So reserve your nudity for the bathtub and quiet making a fetish out of a tanned skin, for that tan indicates a sick skin!

Letters

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Editor, Herald:

The Ellsworth Eagles basketball team arrived home last Saturday (Jan. 2) at 2 a.m., very tired but very happy. The kindness and hospitality of the Gifford Cochran and the many people in Florida who made their privileged vacation such a pleasant one will always be one of their most treasured memories.

We are looking forward to a return visit of the Ovidio Lions' team to our lovely State of Maine.

Mrs. John Linnehan Ellsworth, Me. (Editor's note: The people of Ovidio and Seminole County counted it a privilege to have the Eagles in our midst. We are confident that if the Ovidio boys can visit Ellsworth they will be entertained as royally.)

Bureau of Labor Statistics says building trades plumbers were paid a basic $1.70 an hour last year. As if we didn't know!

Consumer Price Index shows the cost of living is still going up. All part of the general uplift, no doubt.

When today's school kids think a grade, says an educator, they are no longer "left back" to take it over again. They are "retained" and become "returnees." So does the teacher become a "gobblerdooker?"

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With More Comfort

FALSTER, a pleasant alkaline non-acid powder builds false teeth more firmly to eat and talk in more comfort. Just sprinkle a little FALSTER on your plates. No sunny sunny taste or denture breath! Get FALSTER at any drug counter.

The first car at the bottom of the world.

The Australian National Research Expedition really had no choice. They wanted a car that any member of the party could hop into and drive off without a moment's hesitation.

And the Volkswagen just happens to fill the bill.

The big trick is the VW's air cooled rear engine. It has no radiator. It uses no water or antifreeze. It just goes.

(Antarctica #1 stood for days in 50° below zero weather and started without a tremble.)

The rear engine gave the VW so much extra traction it climbed "straight up and down the slopes" (But they cheated a little sometimes they put chains on the back wheels.)

Another reason the VW went where even the dogs wouldn't is the sealed bottom. It took an awful beating, but that's what it's there for. To protect the work's inside against the weather outside.

The conditions got so fierce that one man said, "Now we know what it'll be like when Hell freezes over."

So if it ever does, you know what car to buy.

'Big Picture Of Progress' Painted For Seminole

By Harry I. Johnson
 "A port by 1966."
 "Expansion of the Agricultural Experiment Station."
 "A medical center for Seminole County."
 "Free and easy phone communications between the north and south parts of the county."
 "We'll be turning dirt for an airport in two years."

These and other comments were made Wednesday night at a Mayfair Inn dinner meeting of various committee chairmen of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Each presented his version of the "Big Picture of Progress" for the county. And the future looks bright, the brightest in history. A long list of speakers reviewed the past and gazed into the future when called on by Loring Burgess, Chamber president.

 A capsule comment of each is given in alphabetical order: AGRICULTURE—Gen. J. C. Hutchison: Looks to improved products; control of harmful insects; support of the Central Florida Experimental Station; station expansion is planned; further cooperation of agriculture and industry; help the Sanford State Farmers Market.

 AIRPORT—Gordon Frederick: Application for Federal Aviation Authority approval for an airport west and south of Sanford has been denied; must locate another site; "dire need" of an airport; will find another spot for an airport so as not to conflict with the Naval Air Station's flight patterns; will be turning dirt in two years for an airport.

 ARMED FORCES—Mack N. Cleveland Jr.: Will continue maximum effort to continue friendship with the Naval Air Station; cooperation pledged in Captains James O. Mayo and Chandler W. Swanson.
 BEAUTIFICATION—John

Alexander: Meeting slated Jan. 22 with landscape engineers to see what is permitted along state-owned highways and approaches to the county; complete concentration on all approaches to the county as the beautification work progresses.
 GREATER SANFORD BOARD OF COMMERCE—DeWitt Mathews Jr.: Various groups—some of which have been at odds—are merging into one group; stimulate enthusiasm for the beautification of the Sanford area; stop flow of dollars out of Seminole County.

 INDUSTRIAL—Scott Burns and Carl Schilke: Port Authority Committee has moved rapidly; Industrial Show proves highly successful; Seminole County is in a strategic location as a trading area; can lure numerous industries to this section.

 LAKE MONROE DEVELOPMENT—Dr. Vincent Roberts: The Riverport Marina is one of the most important projects to come before the Chamber of Commerce; each committee, each individual has an integral part in pushing this project; future of Sanford and Seminole County lies in the natural resources it possesses; help pledged to the City Commission in seeing if the marina project is feasible; "I personally think this (marina project) is feasible;" port authority and marina efforts must be coordinated; "God willing, we will have the port in another year."

LEGISLATIVE and NATIONAL AFFAIRS—Gordon Frederick: Will obtain necessary powers to carry out the projects of the committees; will continue to serve other committees.
 LONG RANGE PLANNING—C. Vernon Mize Jr. and Byron Kimball: Need the help of all in establishing a junior college; this is the most important project; must establish a road program to provide proper access to the new state university.
 MEMBERSHIP—Robert DeSmet and Arthur Beck with Jr.: Need to raise "roughly $50,000" in the next two weeks to further the work of the Chamber and community.
 METROPOLITAN TELEPHONE—George Touhy: Must have "free and easy" phone communications between the north and south portions of the county.
 PORT AUTHORITY—F. E. Rommlat Jr.: Committee has almost "outlived" its usefulness since the project is well under way for a port. Legislation is ready to be presented to the State Legislature to create the authority; target date on bill is July 1; will get a feasibility report next month; by 1966 will have the port.

 PROMOTIONS—Clifford McKibbin: Highway signs being put in place along strategic points of highways leading to Seminole County; car tags pushing various communities have been or are being issued; need for recreation areas cited.
 WATERWAYS—Sam Levy: "If we can bring people down here to play, some will come to stay;" must lure owners of smaller boats as well as larger ones; it's better to fill a 10-cent lunchbox 10 times than a 25-cent lunchbox once; set up special cruises starting from the lakefront.
 NEW FACILITY—James P. Avery Jr.: President Johnson has proposed building of 38 medical centers; "we are almost certain of getting one, if not two;" must "put our bid in" for this institution; will attract a high type of people to the community.
 (The Chamber president, Burgess, immediately appointed Avery chairman of a committee to push this project.)
 CAPTAIN SWANSON: "Thanks for including the Navy in the Chamber's program; "Navy doesn't take lightly the importance of such cooperation as exists here; 1964 was a year of decision for this community; there is no change in the status of SNAS—if anything, it is getting firmer; cooperation pledged to further community programs."
 CAPTAIN MAYO: The Navy did a thorough study of Sanford before deciding to stay in Sanford; it is for the "best interest of the Navy" that it stay in Sanford; "I have in my hip pocket one thing no other Navy officer has—community spirit."

Johnson Cuts Request For Foreign Aid

$3.4 Billion 'Consistent' With Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson today asked Congress for slightly less than $3.4 billion for foreign aid next year. It is the lowest request in the 18-year history of the aid program.
 In a message to lawmakers, Johnson said the "lowest" aid budget consistent with the national interest.
 Johnson requested $1.17 billion for military aid—slightly more than last year's appropriation—and $2.2 billion for economic aid, almost the same as last year.
 He said that if "situations should arise" requiring additional amounts, he would not hesitate to ask for more funds.
 Follows Pattern
 The request followed last year's pattern of presenting Congress with a tightly cut down aid program in hopes funds would be made.
 Last year, this tactic resulted in the smallest cut ever made by Congress in a President's foreign aid request—only 7.6 per cent.
 The new funds would be for fiscal year 1966, which starts next July 1.
 The lowest previous final aid request for any one year was $3.47 billion asked by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1955.
 The smallest annual appropriation by Congress for the program was $2.7 billion in 1956.

Exact Total
 The exact total of Johnson's new request, officials said, is $3,380,370,000. It falls between the $3,516,700,000 he requested last year for the current fiscal year and the $3,250,000,000 that was appropriated by Congress.
 The message continued stress on the administration policy of concentrating aid to nations which take steps to improve their own economies.
 A new policy provision was added, saying that developing nations should avoid spending their resources on "unnecessary armaments and foreign adventures." The latter phrase could apply to such countries as Indonesia.
 In the message, Johnson commented that U. S. aid can be effective only in a framework of "constructive and sensible policies and programs."
 At Odds
 But beyond this, the message said nothing about future aid toward countries such as Egypt whose policies have been at odds with the United States.
 About $500 million of total aid would be for Southeast Asia, mainly South Viet Nam and Laos.
 Johnson asked for a "special standby authorization" for use, if necessary to boost help to embattled South Viet Nam. This would be tantamount to an unlimited aid authorization for Viet Nam.
 However, officials said it would not be a "blank check."
 Aid funds must go through two congressional actions—authorization and appropriation.
 The new measure would avoid having to seek additional authorization, but the extra funds still would have to be appropriated by Congress.

$550,000 Note Sale Approved
 The new owner of the Sanford Gas Company, Florida Public Utilities Company, of West Palm Beach, has won state approval to sell $550,000 in unsecured promissory notes.
 Permission was granted by the Florida Public Utilities Commission.
 The Florida Utilities firm two weeks ago officially notified the Sanford City Commission that it had purchased the local concern.
 The new owners advised commissioners that the gas business "and the entire assets" were acquired effective Jan. 1. The Commission recognized the assignment and transfer of the franchise at its Jan. 5 meeting.
 Proceeds of the promissory notes will go towards purchase of the Sanford company and to improvement of existing company plants.

Education Needs Cited

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Haydon Burns said Thursday that the greatest problem facing public school education in Florida is its dependence on real estate taxes for financing on the local level.
 "I find little or no relationship between Florida's rapid population growth and the value of real estate or between growth and the ability of real estate to carry the tax burden," Burns said.
 "It is my belief that the long-range solution to the financial ills of our education system lies only through complete revamping of the tax structure of the state."
 He said as he has said before that he will ask the Legislature to appoint a study commission of business, financial and educational leaders and state officials to find a new approach and make more adequate and functioning provisions for education.

 Burns made his remarks in an early morning address to a group of 80 new school board members and county school superintendents here for a two-day orientation course.
 It was his first speech as governor to a group of elected officials.
 State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey introduced Governor Burns as "a great friend to education who is committed to the improvement of education from kindergarten to graduate school."
 Burns told the group he considered education the "most vital of all governmental responsibilities."

 John Evans, of Toledo, was elected vice chairman of the re-organized Board of Public Instruction Wednesday and not Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. as stated in The Herald. The ballot was unanimous.

Texas Boy, 11, Feared Kidnaped

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Police feared today a missing 11-year-old boy may have been kidnaped by a red-haired man who bought him a banana split.
 The youth, Billy Dean Nixon, was last seen early Tuesday.
 Police said a drug store clerk recalled seeing the red-haired man buying the boy a banana split, then taking him for a ride.
 "I'm reluctant to call it a kidnapping but it appears to be a very serious situation at this time," said Capt. H. E. Hopkins of the police juvenile division.
 "If the boy is not found pretty soon every man in the youth division (10 in all) will be assigned to the case."
 Hopkins said the police department was checking all descriptions of known sex offenders.

Light's On Upstairs
 You've seen it in cartoons probably in movies and finally happened in Sanford. This report was filed at police headquarters last night by Patrolman Michael Rotundo.
 "Send one of the patrol cars up to First Street and Sanford Avenue. There is a drunk hanging onto a light pole. He can't make it any further."
 Police obliged and the man awoke this morning in a strange cot.
