Haunted Houses, Telepathy Like Reading Bumps

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Offhand, I can't think of anything that'll numb me into narcosis quicker than true-life stories about clairvoyance, telepathy, haunted houses, levitation, mediumship and the other clutter of the psychic heap.

Phony stories about the spirit world and its tenants, I like. Bring on the ghosts, mummies, ghouls and deck me with wobbly-bone. But serious retellings of strange occurrences I put in a class with headlamp readings, lake monsters, dowling rods and the writings on the great pyramid.

Wednesday night, CBS-TV's "Armstrong Circle Theater," a drama show that deals with actual happenings, turned to one of these honest-to-goodness strange occurrence stories, building an entire hour around a long Island, N.Y., family whose house had the "haunts."

It was a rather curious specimen of program, partly dramatic, partly straight interview, mostly very dull. The family was trotted out and so were some policemen, all of whom dutifully talked about bottles popping, sugar bowls sliding, plastic globes flying and dressers falling and it all sounded like a normal afternoon at anyone's house. Somehow, I couldn't help feeling that about 20 cents worth of glue would have fixed everything up fine.

CBS-TV's other hour drama show Wednesday night, "Pursuit" came up with "Free Ride," that was a mild boiler, its most notable assets were Ralph Meeker and Keenan Wynn who played the leads. Meeker, playing a small-time mobster, gave his part a kind of Richard Widmark glie. Wynn was solid, sharp, sure incidentally, the girl who played the little brat's mother in the play was Jocelyn Brando, Marlon's sister.

Over at NBC-TV, Milton Berle turned out another low-key, moderately funny show. This, despite the presence of Sammy Davis Jr., a performer whose charms have always eluded me.

It's true that Davis is versatile. He sings, dances, clown, does impressions etc. But it seems to me that he doesn't do any of these things very well. He merely does them. However, he does keep that smile going full blast and that seems to be all that a performer really needs nowadays.

The Channel 33's one of the new shows on the planning boards at NBC-TV is "Chopsticks," a musical panel show in which panel members sit before pianos and pound out their answers. Screen Gems, an independent outfit, is planning a filmed situation comedy for it, on Trueman called "Mister is a Governor."

ABC-TV will program reruns of "Shirley Temple's Storybook" on every third Monday starting Jan. 5. CBS-TV's "Jackie Gleason Show" is going through a crucial period — Its ratings have everybody gloomy. A test film for the proposed Hal March daytime variety show will be shot by NBC-TV before Dec. 21.

69-Mile Train Of Vegetables

Seminole County plants and harvests acres and acres of vegetables. The total shipped in the past year would have filled a 69-mile train.

This impressive total represented shipment of 6,865 carloads. Had all of the rail cars been loaded at once and hooked to the same train, it would have stretched from Sanford to St. Augustine, or from here to Lakeland.

Herald Executive Elected To Board

Mrs. Evelyn J. Cushing, advertising manager of The Sanford Herald, has been elected to the board of directors of the Florida Newspaper Advertising Executives.

Mrs. Cushing was one of six members elected to serve for the coming year at the fall convention, held in Lakeland the past weekend.

William Sharr, president, advertising director of The Fort Lauderdale News, presided over the meeting, attended by 30 newspaper and eight representatives. Problems facing advertising directors were discussed in group sessions. Harry Horton, personnel director of The Miami Herald, addressed the convention on selection of personnel. Rae O. Welner, director of the school of journalism at the University of Florida, spoke on recruiting advertising employees.

Members and guests attended the final F. N. A. E. banquet Saturday, followed by an evening of entertainment and dancing.

These vegetables brought Seminole County producers an estimated $1.2 million in profits, according to figures compiled by the University of Florida Extension Service and Cecil Tucker, county agricultural agent.

Seminole farmers spent almost $4 million to plant, cultivate, harvest, pack, grade and market these vegetables.

SECOND OF SERIES

These products sales amounted to about $5.4 million. These figures represent substantial contributions to the local economy. Tucker said in discussing the importance of agriculture to the county and its people.

Preliminary estimates are available on total acreage planted this season. They also show that the total acreage for just about every vegetable has been, or will be, increased during this growing season.

During 1956-57 (last growing season), Seminole County planted 5,370 acres of vegetables. Leading the list was cabbage with 2,100 acres. Celery was a close second with 1,935. After that, acreage dropped sharply. Snap beans occupied 435 acres, lettuce 300, peppers 225.

Although celery was second in acreage, it was first in cost to the farmer. It also was a "healthy" first in profit return. Tucker said the estimated growing costs on the 1,935 acres of celery was slightly more than $1 million, the total growing and marketing costs combined a little more than $1.2 million. The net return was estimated at $663,493.

Two other vegetables topped the $100,000 mark in sales. They were cabbage ($147,200) and peppers ($108,814).

Labor was the most expensive item for vegetable producers. Wages and salaries totaling $1,337,224 were paid out from the time the seeds were planted until the vegetables were shipped in the second most expensive item. It cost county farmers a little more than $600,000.

All of this money did not remain in Seminole County, but a substantial part of it did, Tucker said. Much of the $4 million went into the local economy. The total this year is expected to be higher, Tucker said.

Ex-Con Confesses To 1933 Murder

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI)—An ex-convict who escaped detection for more than a quarter of a century was held here today while authorities considered what charges to file against him for the 1933 killing of 6-year-old Nadine Vogel Love.

Police said they were "inclined to doubt" some aspects of the statement of Arthur Eisenman, now 51, who said the child was killed in a traffic accident.

Eisenman said his car struck the girl, a neighbor of his parents, and that he "panicked" and hauled her body to the lonely area where it was found two days later, on April 30, 1933.

At the time of the killing, the Wyandotte County coroner found Nadine died of strangulation, that

West Rejects Russ Plan On Nuclear Testing Ban

GENEVA (UPI)—THE West rejected Russia's demand for a nuclear testing moratorium at a meeting here today. It reportedly consisted of a solemn declaration to be signed by all three countries at once pledging them to refrain forever from all further nuclear testing, plus a control system modeled on one proposed by nuclear scientists who met here last summer.

The West has refused consistently to sign any unconditional all-time ban. It is unwilling to go beyond a year-to-year ban and then only provided a control system is functioning and progress is made towards general nuclear disarmament.

Representatives of the United States, Britain and Russia met for the second formal session of the Geneva nuclear ban conference at the Palais des Nations. Before they they had a draft treaty submitted by Russia at the opening session last Friday.

Attendance Record At Center Broken

At least 500 teenagers attended the Halloween Party given by the Recreation Department at the Civic Center Friday night.

The crowd was the largest ever to attend a function at the Youth Wing.

Dancing, a free horror movie, stunts and games were featured during the evening. Refreshments were provided by the Junior High mothers. The entire evening passed without incident or sign of vandalism, according to Ronald Perry, director of recreation.

Results of the Window Peeking Contest were announced Friday night. Mary Humphrey placed first for her Halloween scene painted on the window of Mr. Perry's second prize went to Sonja Wiestor for her drawing of Randall Electric's windows. Gilbert Freeman took third prize with his painting on the window of J. L. Perkins.

Prizes for the contest were Mayor Merle Warner, Perry, and Miss Polly Jack, recreation department. Prizes were donated by Sanford merchants. The contest will be an annual Halloween event.

The books opened this morning at the county courthouse, and will remain open until April 1. After this date, taxes become delinquent and subject to penalties.

Boosters To Meet

The Seminole High Business Club will meet at the school at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Chief Seminole Interest On Dunn-Gary Contest

Local voters will go to the polls tomorrow to choose one member of the Sanford City Commission. Most of the interest in Seminole County will be centered on the race for the District 4 seat on the County Commission, sought by Vernon W. Dunn, Democratic nominee, opposed by a write-in campaign in behalf of Orlando Mayor Lee Gary.

The Democratic nominee for the other county commission seat, David Gatchel, has no opposition in District 2.

Eight candidates qualified for the City Commission seat here, too, a write-in candidate has centered the picture.

On the ballot tomorrow for City Commission will be Joe E. Baker, Roger L. Harris, Wight Kirtley, David Wayne Mathes, Philip T. Meeks, M. L. Raborn Jr., Troy Glenn Richardson and Clyde H. Robertson.

Not on the ballot, but an avowed write-in candidate, is Mrs. Jay Beck.

Mayor Gary has not waged a campaign, although his supporters have been busy in his behalf. He agreed to a "draft" at the urging of a group which said it wanted a candidate "with a more substantial interest in Seminole County."

Dunn, along with all other Democratic candidates who remain will be listed on the voting machine, has received the support of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee. H. S. Bittner, chairman of the committee, said Friday that county Democrats are "honored bound" to support Democratic nominees.

The eight-man race for Gatchel's seat on the City Commission has created little interest. There has been no rally, no public debate, no "issues" for the candidates, no jostle for the public.

U. S. Sen. Spessard L. Holland, who won re-election over ex-Sen. Claude Pepper in the Sept. 9 Democratic primary, is pitted against Leland Byers, Miami Republican.

U. S. Rep. A. Sydney Herling, Democratic incumbent, has opposition from Republican William C. Hill, Columbus.

Willbur C. King, Democrat, and Andrew Sandgren, Republican, are campaigning for Group 1 on the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. Jerry W. Carter, Democrat, and Louis W. Ingram, Republican for Group 2 on the Commission.

Heavy Vote Urged; Rides Available

When the polls open tomorrow at 7 a. m., officials hope that a majority of the 11,239 registered voters in Seminole County will exercise their rights to choose the men who will be making decisions on a state and local basis.

Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bourc defined an estimate on the size of the expected vote. Mrs. Bourc stated that the race between Vernon Dunn, Democratic nominee and Lee Gary, Democratic write-in candidate, has created "unprecedented interest" in the County Commission race.

In city elections, 7,626 registered voters may choose among a field of eight qualified and one write-in candidate, so many candidates for one seat on the Sanford City Commission, a runoff is expected in December.

The Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce, in its get-out-the-vote campaign, has set up transportation facilities for persons who need rides to and from the polls. Voters desiring the Jaycees to furnish transportation should call FA 2-3481.

Islands Pounded; Casualties Heavy

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The Chinese Communists pounded the Quemoy Islands today with 36,031 shells in the biggest one-day barrage since early September, the Defense Ministry said. Civilian loss of life was feared heavy.

The ministry said the massive bombardment hit the 11 offshore islands between noon and 6 p. m., the biggest since Sept. 12 when Red artillery blasted the islands with more than 50,000 rounds.

The ministry said 18,436 shells fell on Big Quemoy and more than 8,000 on Little Quemoy. Other islands in the group were hit with bombardments ranging from a few hundred on pinpoints of land to thousands on others.

The bombardment was believed here to be a noisy protest against U. S. government policies and

Integration At-A-Glance

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International

Integrationists sought today to sharpen the effectiveness of a boycott against the city transit system in Birmingham.

The latest act of protest against the South's custom of separating the races began Friday night. A number of Negroes failed to take part during the weekend, but leaders predicted the boycott would become more extensive as word got around.

A similar boycott in Montgomery, the Alabama capital, lasted for a year and resulted in nullification of that city's segregated seating law.

Executives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People spoke Sunday at state chapter meetings in Arkansas and Mississippi.

NAACP Predictions
At Little Rock, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, said Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus has helped the Negro's cause by demonstrating the futility of intervention (use of state authority to block federal mandates). He also predicted that "makeshift schools must sooner or later collapse."

Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington bureau, told Mississippi members that "time is running out on segregationists in the Democratic Party." He urged Negroes to vote in the election Tuesday, although "in most southern states colored voters will have to close their eyes and hold their noses."

Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, made some modifications in his previous statements concerning southern Democrats. But he urged a strong stand on integration in 1960 and suggested that reprisals might be levied in Congress against southern members who refused to accept that stand.

Butler Wants South
Those who do not want to support a party platform containing a board civil rights plank, Butler said, have the choice of voting Republican, embracing a third party, staying with the Democrats and trying to promote their views of simply not vote.

Butler denied that he had invited the southern wing to leave the party. "I hope they will stay," he said.

Concerning Butler's reference to possible reprisals, Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) commented: Mr. Butler seems to be under the delusion that he is running both the Democratic Party and the United States Congress. It will be impossible for the Democratic Party to organize either house without the support of southern Democratic members."

John Sammons Bell, Democratic chairman in Georgia, said: "For the good of the Democratic Party he (Butler) ought to resign instantly. If he doesn't resign soon, he is going to be kicked out, for he is doing the Democratic Party a great disservice."

No Thread Used, Women In Danger Of Losing Panties

LONDON (UPI)—Thousands of British women are in mortal danger of losing their panties at any moment, the label Sunday Pictorial warned Sunday.

It said a big manufacturer of women's panties had admitted his firm was gluing the elastic waistbands together instead of sewing them and that the glue sometimes gives way after repeated washing and ironing.

The Pictorial said the Countess of Haddington was one of the first victims and that anyone could be the next. It happened when she was opening an exhibition at Edinburgh a week ago, it said.

But it had good news for the future. The firm is now sewing the elastic together, it said.

Segregation Leaders Hit Tax Threat On Churches

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI)—A segregationist group has charged that federal tax officials subjected Southern church leaders to "propaganda, intimidation and coercion" by pointing out that churches used for schools could lose tax-exempt status.

The Arlington chapter of Defender of State Sovereignty and Individual Liberties, repeated demands that the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) identify the head of any IRS department which has any such tax denial exemption "under active consideration."

IRS officials said last week that churches might be risking their tax status under certain circumstances if they provide space for private classes in community where public schools are closed to thwart integration. The officials commented in response to a reporter's questions.

They said the issue had been raised informally. But they emphasized that no such case had been brought before them official for a ruling.

The state sovereignty group said that it will petition Virginia members of Congress next year to open an investigation "to ferret out those responsible for using an office of IRS in coercion, intimidation and propaganda private church institutions into submission to race mixing schemes of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)."

10 Miamians Face Gambling Charges

MIAMI (UPI)—Ten Miamians, including a former University of Florida football star, will receive hearings this week on gambling charges resulting from a giant bolita raid staged here Saturday by federal officials.

The agents struck shortly after the winning number in the lottery play was determined and weekly takes were turned in. Some $16,000 was confiscated.

Alleged bolita king Howard Dinder Sr., 54, told authorities he was the head of the organization. He was released on $5,000 bond and the others on $1,000 bond each.

Also arrested was Gasper (Vic) Vaccaro, 33, assistant football coach at Miami Beach High School, who quarterbacked the school, and his wife, Dorothy, 31, University of Florida teams from 1947 through 1949, was suspended from his job by School Supt. Joe Hall after being arrested.

The raid, made at Dinder's home, was led by Richard Wallace, a supervisor of the Internal Revenue Department's intelligence division.

Fair Day Expected For Tuesday Vote

United Press International
A storm in the Northeast began diminishing today, paving the way for what weathermen expect will be a fair, sunny day across most of the nation on election day Tuesday.

A weather disturbance off the New Jersey coast Sunday touched off rain from the lower Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into the middle and northern Atlantic coastal area, with snow in higher elevations.

Forecasters warned that some heavy snow accumulations were expected in higher places in central and northeast Pennsylvania and southeast New York state, creating slippery road conditions.

Wind gusts of 37 miles per hour whipped Latiardville Field in New York City during the night. Rainfall amounts included .60 inches at Harrisburg, Pa.; .52 inch at Naticket, Mass.; and .38 at Saratoga, N.Y.

Brisk westerly winds accompanying the storm dropped temperatures throughout the eastern third of the country, with the greatest cooling occurring in the Southeast.

Overnight readings ranged from the 40s in the Southeast in the 30s in the Midwest, a drop of about 10 degrees from the night before.

Voting Is Important In Election Tuesday

Tomorrow is election day. It is most important that Seminole County voters go to the polls. At stake in the general election are several important governmental positions.

Florida voters will elect a senator, several congressmen and two members of the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. Seminole County, in addition to voting for these important U. S. and state officers, will choose a member of the Board of County Commissioners.

Voters in the City of Sanford will select a City Commissioner. Eight candidates will be listed on this ballot. A ninth has been campaigning as a write-in candidate. This office is just as important to the voters as any other to be filled tomorrow, despite the apparent lack of interest shown in the campaign.

The candidates who are successful in tomorrow's election, no matter who they might be, will represent the voters in many important decisions in the next four years (six in the case of the senator and two in the case of the congressman). It is important, therefore, that as many voters go to the polls as possible.

Voting is one of the few rights that the average man retains in this era of centralization of government. One of the surest ways to keep this privilege, and duty, is to exercise it at every opportunity. It is the only way the voter has of expressing his wishes.

After the candidate takes the oath of office, voters may attend meetings to protest certain actions, write letters, etc. But this is not nearly so effective as going to the polls and voting for the candidates.

Despite the general belief that one vote makes little difference, every vote is important. Many elections have been decided by a slim margin, including such elections as that for President of the United States. In the Sept. 9 Democratic primary, a few votes decided the outcome in a county race.

Polls will be open early and late. Everyone should have the time to cast a vote. For whom they vote is not as important as the act itself.

$1 Million For Roads

The Florida Development Commission today was scheduled to issue $1 million in road revenue bonds for Seminole County.

Funds to retire these bonds, and pay the interest, will come from the state's eight-cent gasoline tax. These bonds will not be an obligation of the county, nor of the state. The money will be used to pay for rights-of-way and some road construction in Seminole County.

County Attorney Meek Cleveland Jr., who also is one of Seminole's representatives in the Legislature, said the county, under law, could not pay off the debt even if it so desired. The gasoline tax collected by the state for Seminole County will be pledged to retire the bonds.

It is encouraging to see $1 million made available for road construction in this county. Part of this, no doubt, will be used from rights-of-way for the gigantic road-building program connected with the interstate system which soon will be under construction here.

Contracts are expected to be let by Jan. 1 for the first construction in the south end of the county, according to an announcement by State Road Board members. Soon to follow will be the leg from French Ave. to the Lake Monroe Bridge.

In addition to the benefits Seminole will receive from this superhighway after it is finished, some of the $1 million will find its way into the local economy during the construction periods.

Washington Calling

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

Substituting for Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is taking the substance of his critical last two years in the White House in trying to become a "give 'em hell" politician in the Congressional campaign.

Moreover, he is the wrong man in the wrong war at the wrong time and in the wrong places. This is not really his fight. First, it is not a truly national election, but only a series of highly mixed local and regional contests on issues more parochial than national. Second, he owes nothing to the very GOP wing for which he is turning himself inside out in the evening of his public career.

And even if it were his fight, his tactics are not the tactics that have won for him the far greater fights he has won in the past. Twice he beat the Democrats by being exactly what he is not—being now—himself. He is not a genuine partisan, and never was. He is not a "regular" Republican, and never was. He is not even a politician—as he himself has often said and never wavered in his doing the Congressional Democrats, who are in a highly critical race, he is doing Republican nominees.

more harm than good in obediently—but not convincingly—presenting himself as a "tough" Republican partisan flinging epithets like "radical" at the Democrats.

He is also gravely injuring his own wing of his party—the "modern" or liberal Republicans.

All that is made perfectly plain, for one illustration, in New York. There, Nelson A. Rockefeller, the modern Republican candidate for governor, has publicly if politely, disavowed the President's attacks on Democratic "radicals." Mr. Rockefeller says frankly that he wants to work rather than to drive away all the Democrats he can which is precisely what Mr. Eisenhower did in twice rolling up vast Presidential majorities.

The "new" Eisenhower is bad news to the moderns, who can live at all only with some Democratic support—and who can have no national spokesman of any real power after the Eisenhower retirement in 1960 unless Mr. Rockefeller wins now in New York.

And the "new" Eisenhower is writing only a condition in which the President himself in two ways: It is creating unnecessary animosities among the Congressional Democrats, who on the voting record have often been more useful to the President than the Republicans. And it is regulars will control almost everything in sight within the GOP once the November spasm is passed.

Except for such possible islands as might be established by a Rockefeller victory in New York, the regulars will have liquidated whatever is left of the Eisenhower wing before the new Congress is two months old. They will have done this regardless of which party is then in control there.

For the President, by heading the regulars and staking his prestige in a non-Presidential campaign, has deeply compromised the powerful independent position he has held so long in the GOP. He is now only trying to do what Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is doing—and he is not doing it nearly so well.

Fred Othman Says

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

WASHINGTON—The other evening I was invited out to an expensive dinner. Money meant nothing to the host, because it wasn't his.

The restaurant was our town's fanciest and the figures in the right-hand column of the menu were so high I ignored 'em. I do remember as a matter of historic interest, though, that the slice of melon I had as a starter cost $2.63. Good melon, too.

It came in a silver bowl of rived here. Now, a slice of cracked ice and with it a slice of lemon wrapped in cellophane as I wouldn't splash myself. My meat with some gravy on it was $4.90; the other fixings also weren't exactly reasonable.

All this didn't much impress my host. He said like this almost every night, trying to make friends and customers for the firm that employs him. I'm willing to be friendly, but about halfway through that melon I got to thinking that the taxpayers (including myself) actually were paying for most of it.

The man signed the check with a flourish, the auditor will pay it and the cost of feeding me will go down in the tax records as an expense of doing business. This goes on all over the country, night after night.

Such business expenses frequently include theater tickets, duets to prize fights, and even the services of beautiful ladies as dancing partners, though I hear tell they get jotted down on the forms as secretarial service. Fact is, a leading wine salesman told me not long ago that if it were not for the expense account trade, important guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ballard.

Mrs. Laura King, who underwent surgery at an Orlando hospital, recently, is reported recovering satisfactorily.

Mrs. Ed Ballard and Mrs. Hubert Kirkland spent Monday with Philip Bauer.

The chicken pieau supper held recently at the Community hall was well attended. Contributions were received in the amount of $141.80.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Baxter and family of Bartow spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Bradley and family.

Mrs. Norton, Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. House of Aniston, Ga., arrived here Friday, to spend the winter. Making the trip with them was Ralph Rainwater of New York who will remain for a few days before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ball arrived Saturday, to spend the winter.

Mrs. Cathy Stovell was hostess at a shower honoring Luyene Stone, Sunday evening at her home.

Mrs. D. L. Hart, Mrs. Jack Stewart and Mrs. W. L. Selig attended the mission study course at the First Baptist church, DeLand, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guyett of Vergennes, Va., have returned to spend the winter at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mackenell announce the birth of a son, born Thursday, Nov. 30, weighing eight pounds, seven ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maxwell.

"Some of these people get away with a lot," the steward said. "There are many of them, with so many different kinds of expense arrangements, that they simply aren't enough accountants alive to keep track of 'em."

"We do, of course, catch up with large numbers of people whose expenses seem unreasonable, but even then we try to lean over backwards in being fair. If a diner and a theater party brings a manufacturer a large order, which he feels would have gone otherwise to his competitor, we're inclined to go along."

It's when two manufacturers of similar dinghats compete for the same order with a lavish series of entertainments that the tax man begins to feel concerned.

"But even then we frequently don't do much, because it is so difficult to make a decision that will stick," he added.

He said, for instance, a Washington commentator, who took somebody to lunch and theater almost every night all year. The cost he put down to business expenses and the total was so large the tax agent got suspicious.

"The taxpayer insisted these all were legitimate efforts on his part to make contacts and we didn't argue with him," my man said. "But we did say that he had to pay for his own meals with his own money on the theory that he's had to eat somewhere, anyhow. This almost cut his deductions in half."

Good. And I'll be eating no more melon until they're on sale in season at the super market.

Parade Will Lose Helium Balloons

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the big attractions of the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade is losing out to the space race this year.

Parade officials announced that the giant gas-filled balloons that usually mark the parade will be missing this year because helium is in critical supply and needed for use in the missile and nuclear weapons programs.

Bowl Picture Gets In Focus

United Press International
There's many a pitfall ahead but the New Year's Day bowl picture appears today to be rapidly coming into focus.

Iowa, Louisiana State, Oklahoma and Oregon State gained the inside track for various "automatic bids" Saturday and it also seems that Syracuse, Mississippi, Clemson and North Carolina are in line for lucrative Jan. 1 invitations. Toss in the Southwest Conference champion and rugged Pittsburgh and here's a long-range look at the possible pairings in five major bowls:

Rose Bowl: Iowa (5-0) vs. Oregon State (5-2-0)
Sugar Bowl: Louisiana State (7-0) vs. Syracuse (5-1-0)
Cotton Bowl: Rice (4-2-0) or Texas Christian (5-1) vs. Mississippi (6-1-0)
Orange Bowl: Oklahoma (5-1-0) vs. Clemson (5-1-0)
Gator Bowl: Pittsburgh (4-2-1) vs. Clemson (5-1-0)
 Iowa, the nation's No. 1 team, took a firm grip on the Big Ten lead with a 37-14 triumph over Michigan Saturday while Oregon

Burnett Lead Cut By New York Life

New York Life Insurance swept three game series from Celery City Printing in Sanford City Bowling League action to come within one game of the leading Burnett Painters, who could manage to take only one game from the up-and-coming Mather of Sanford team.

Bukur Music Shop also closed on the leaders by taking two of the three games from Gene's Seminoles Dry Cleaners.

For the first time since the start of the league there are no ties for any position in league standings. As of now, which marks one-third of the season, Burnett Painters leads the league with 19 wins and 11 losses. New York Life is second with 18 wins and 12 losses, and Bukur's follows with 17 wins and 13 losses. In the lower division, Celery City Printing has 13 wins and 17 losses, Mather of Sanford has 12 wins and 18 losses, and Gene's Seminoles Dry Cleaners has 12 wins and 18 losses.

Jesse Cook led New York Life its sweep as he set a season high single record with a 132 game. He cooled slightly thereafter to end with a 558 series, quite respectable in the league. Jim Maloney and Doc Ring helped with a 517 and 513 respectively. Harold Herbst led Celery City with a 202-488.

Bob Rugenstein came back from the north to lead Bukur's in its wins as he rolled a 146. Sonny Fritzsche led the Cleaners with a 642. Mather picked up two wins over the Painters due to Gary Fox's 549 and Ed Wheeler's 516. Burnett's Painters followed behind Larry Pickett's 482.

"Splitshrinkers" for the night were many. Al DePalma, with a five and dime and a 47-16, and John Harrison, who made the 3-7, and the 4-7, led the group. They were joined by Ed Wheeler's pick of the 6-8-10, and Ted Burnett, Hank Kratzert, and Bob Steele, who all made the 3-7.

This week's action will feature a fight for second place between New York Life and Bukur's Music Shop on the center alleys. Celery City will meet Burnett Painters on one and two, and Mather and Gene's Seminoles Dry Cleaners will cross pins on five and six.

Averages for the league:
 DePalma—187, Fox and Rugenstein at 165, Richards and Von Herbitz at 164, Best—151, Maloney and Stemper—145, Kasee and Peadar at 141, and Wheeler at 160. A. I. n., Steiler—139, Cook—158, Steele and Bukur—137, Swann, Gillstrap, Kretzer, and Kreis at 156, Ferguson—153, Ring—153, and P. vae, Callan, Kirehloff, Proctor, Holler, Hahn, and Brown at 151. Also, Herbst and Burnett at 150, Estridge and C. Piery at 141, Herzdorf—137, Harrison—134, and Perry and H. Piercy at 125.

'Bring On Colts,' Chant Giants After Sunday Win

United Press International
"Stop hooting poor old Charley and bring on those Baltimore Colts!"

That was the New York Giants' slogan today as they gloated over a 21-17 Sunday triumph that snapped Cleveland's five-game winning streak and left them only a game behind the Browns in the National Football League's Eastern Division.

Next Sunday the Giants entertain the league's only remaining undefeated team, the galloping Colts who crushed the Green Bay Packers 56-0. Baltimore, aided by the Rams' 41-35 victory over the Chicago Bears before 100,476 at Los Angeles, took a two-game lead in the Western Division.

Who's "poor old Charley?" That's Charley Conery, 37 going on 38, the grey-haired Mississippi cotton farmer and ex-Marine who has played quarterback for the Giants for 11 years. The fans booed Charley at the Polo grounds, they boo him now at Yankee Stadium, and 78,404 stunned Clevelanders felt like giving him a record raising Sunday in their Big Municipal Stadium.

Pize Touchdown Passes
 Because it was old Charley, hammered and pounded as he has been for so many years by Cleveland's aggressive defenders, who fired the three scoring passes that handed the Browns their first 1958 defeat. The Giants, 10-point underdogs and playing without all-league half-back Frank Gifford, kept the Browns from taking a three game lead and breaking the Eastern race wide open.

Hugh McElhenny's 32-yard run in the final four minutes gave the Forty-Niners a 24-21 victory over the Detroit Lions before 59,313 fans at the Western Division.

Brooklyn's one-yard loss to Dick Bielecki with 17 seconds to play gave the Philadelphia Eagles a 21-21 tie with the Cardinals at Chicago, and Bobby Layne's two touchdown passes paced the Steelers to a 24-18 victory over the Washington Redskins at Pittsburgh.

LSU Favored To Take SEC Title

By DAVID M. MOFFETT
 United Press International
 ATLANTA (UPI)—The unbeaten, untied Louisiana State Bengals appear headed for their best season in 50 years and are now solid favorites to win high national ranking, the Southeastern Conference championship and a coveted bid to the Sugar Bowl.

The Bengals knocked off previously unbeaten, untied Mississippi 14-0 Saturday night and thus became the nation's only "bigtime" college football team with an unblemished record.

But they aren't home clear yet. They still have highly-regarded Duke, unpredictable Mississippi State and free-passing Tulane ahead. They'll be favored to go the route for a perfect season, but any of these three foes is capable of springing an upset.

Louisiana State plentifully capitalized on a couple of breaks Saturday night to beat Mississippi. The first break was a fumble recovery which set up a touchdown late in the second period. The second was an eddy—the Bengals recovering the ball deep in Mississippi territory after the Rebels had blocked a punt.

The Louisiana State-Duke clash at Baton Rouge, La., Saturday night will be the Southern headliner because of the Bengals' record.

These are five games scheduled that will count in the conference standings. These include Alabama at Tulane on Friday night; and Georgia at Florida, Vanderbilt at Auburn, Mississippi State at Auburn, Georgia at Florida, Vanderbilt at Kentucky and Houston at Mississippi, all on Saturday. The Mis-issippi-Houston game counts by conference consent to give the Rebels enough games to qualify for the SEC title.

In addition, there will be two other non-league matchups—Georgia Tech at home in Clemson and Tennessee at home in Chattanooga.

This past weekend was one of bruising football for the conference. Auburn extended its unbeaten streak to 20 games with a 6-5 win over Florida; Alabama upset Georgia 12-0; Kentucky surprised Mississippi State 25-12; Georgia Tech edged Duke 16-8; Vanderbilt beat Miami 26-15; Tulane routed Texas Tech 27-0 and Tennessee lost to North Carolina for the first time in 16 years, 21-7.

VOTERS OF SEMINOLE COUNTY
KNOW YOUR MAN

FOR
 BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS DISTRICT 4

Where does the Write-In-Candidate (the hand-picked candidate of the privileged few) stand on these issues:

- Was he for or against the school bond issue?
- Was he for or against the tax equalization program that will remedy a condition that the State Comptroller termed:

"THE WORST OF THE 67 COUNTIES IN FLORIDA".

Is he for or against good, sound and progressive government with the interests of District 4 constituents foremost in his plans, or is he playing ball with the SPECIAL INTEREST GROUP WHO HAS STYMIED PROGRESS IN SEMINOLE COUNTY FOR THE LAST 30 YEARS?

What are his views on county road construction and open public meetings to set up a sound and economically feasible road program? Is he a "Court House Basement" voter or does he believe you are entitled to know exactly what is going on?

What has the Write-In-Candidate promised to the "BOYS" who hand-picked him as their candidate?

Why has he refused invitation to debate these public issues or to state his position in regard to them?

Does he share the views of his financial backers—some of the remnants of the

"OLD COURT HOUSE CROWD" — and the
"BIG LAND HOLDERS"

HE WON'T COME OUT AND TELL YOU WHERE HE STANDS !!

But here is my platform, exactly as it was when these issues were debated in a real contest for the nomination — and as it is today:

1. A full-time Commissioner for a full-time job.
2. County business on a business-like basis and public kept fully informed. (No "basement voting")
3. Progress always—and where most needed—without waste, for better schools, roads, public buildings, adequate personnel with just compensation, etc. — all on a PLANNED BASIS.
4. A tax structure on an equalized and fair basis with favoritism for none—Above all—the welfare of the county as a Whole!

WE CAN LICK THIS BUNCH AND THEIR $$$$$$$$$$.
LET'S GIVE SEMINOLE COUNTY BACK TO THE PEOPLE!
DO IT AT THE POLLS NOVEMBER 4.

Oak Tree Inherits Land It Occupies
ATHENS, Ga. —(UPI) —A tree that inherited the land it stands on from its father, who was dead, is the property of a University of Georgia professor. It was a sturdy white oak 30 feet tall.

The original "tree that owned itself" lived in the age of 150. During its lifetime, it dropped an acorn that grew up to become the present occupant of the plot on Pilety St. in downtown Athens.

The property was signed over to the tree by Prof. William H. Jackson in the 1820's. The deed conveyed "to said white oak tree entire possession of itself and of the land within eight feet of it on all sides."

It is said to have been the only tree ever to receive such an honor.

Injured Man Says Changes Needed In Rules About Buses

Rupert Strickland wonders if it's worth it all, as he moans gently about, with aching muscles, the result of a traffic accident of last week.

Strickland was in a pickup truck going south on Highway 11-82 when he stopped for a school bus that was unloading in the north-bound lane. As he watched two children clear the front of his truck, he checked his rear-view mirror prior to pulling off.

As he did, a tractor car approached from behind. Strickland told his passenger John Butler to "hold on, we're going to get hit."

When the two men came to they were some 150 to 200 feet further south and, what's more, they were pinned in the cab of the truck. The impact caused the cab to cave in, pinning the occupants.

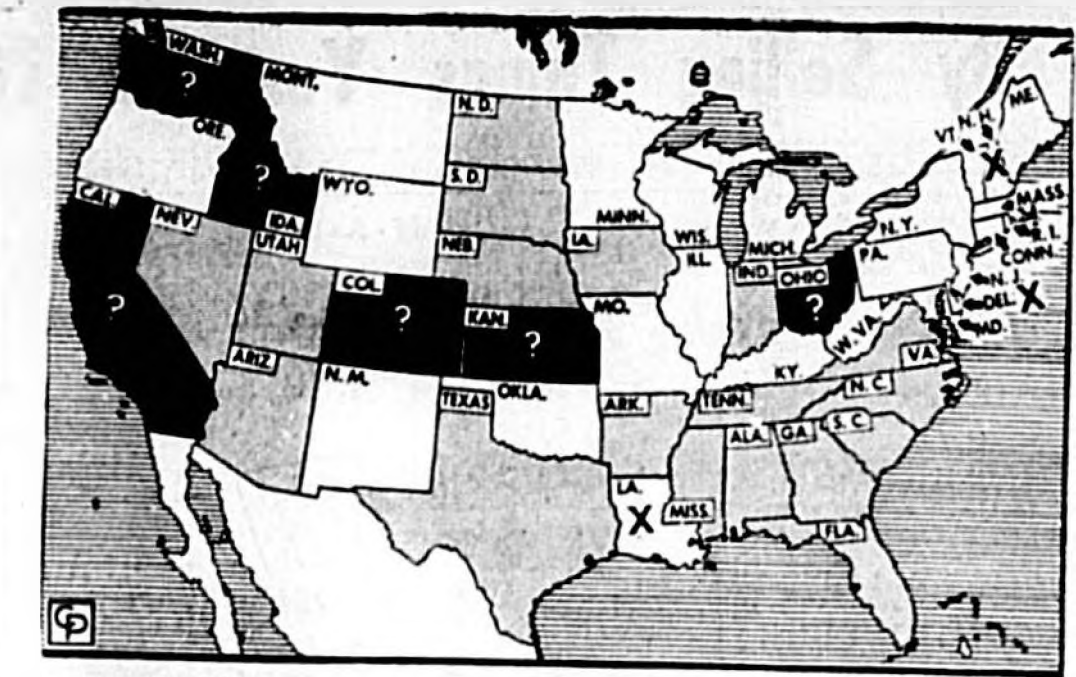

Genial Charlie Morrison happened by and brought Strickland and Butler to Seminole Memorial Hospital. Strickland was released but Butler was sent to Orange Memorial Hospital for special treatment. He has since returned to his home.

Strickland today told The Herald that he believes the existing state law concerning stopping in both lanes of a divided highway for a school bus is dangerous and should be changed. He further stated that some type of pull-off area for buses might help the situation.

Seminole Voting 'Fairly Heavy'

Nation Registers Heavy Early Vote; Record Is Possible

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans in an hourly swelling tide today cast ballots which will determine control of the 96th Congress and affect the 1960 presidential race.

Some forecasters predicted a record off-year vote approaching 65 million. The weather was fine over most of the country except the South.

Early reports showed voting heaviest where the local issues and races were hottest, as in Ohio, and lightest where the outcome was not in doubt, as in the South.

County Voters Balloting On Offices, Amendment

Seminole County voters went to the polls today to elect a political campaign enlivened by a battle between a Democratic Party nominee and a write-in candidate for the District 4 seat on the County Commission.

Local voters were to ballot on two members of the county governing body, a Sanford City Commissioner, a congressman, U. S. senator, two members of the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and the fate of two constitutional amendments.

Mild, Indian summer weather beamed down on the county. This, combined with the interest created by the race between Vernon W. Dunn and Lee Gary, was expected to bring about a "fairly heavy" vote.

United Fund Drive Extended; Leaders Cite Campaign Lag

The United Fund campaign will continue into the month of November in an effort to reach the goal of $30,000 established as the total need for the seven participating agencies for 1959.

The announcement was made yesterday by Harold Kastner, president and Howard McNulty, drive chairman.

The drive during the month of October produced $11,000.69, McNulty said, and he felt sure that Seminole County residents "would be quick to recognize the need for a more enthusiastic response if these welfare groups are to do the work cut out for them."

The drive leader paid high tribute to the produce and trucking division and its captain, Richard Packard. The goal was $1,000 and by Oct. 31, $2,720 had been subscribed. This deficit of $240 should be forthcoming in the next week or so, he said.

Reds Say Poison Gas Fired; Charge Denied

TAIPEI (UPI)—The Communist left claimed today that U.S. soldiers fired poison gas shells at the Red-held mainland Monday, and alarmed Nationalists charged that the Communists are preparing to attack the defenders of the tiny outpost island.

A Peiping broadcast beamed at Formosa leveled the charge late today. The Nationalists denied it with a rapidity that reflected their concern.

Adm. Roland Smoot, commander of the U.S.-Taiwan Defense Command, also swiftly denied the Communist implication that the United States furnished the Nationalists with gas shells. Smoot said: "This statement is absolutely untrue. We have not furnished the Chinese Nationalists with poison gas shells. This is obviously a typical propaganda fabrication."

Shameless Lie

"This is a shameless lie, calculated to pave the way for Communist adoption of such weapons," snapped Rear Adm. Liu Hsiu-tu, spokesman of the Nationalist Defense Ministry, less than an hour after the broadcast.

"We have no such weapons. The United States never supplied us with such weapons. We never intend to use such weapons against our own people on the mainland, who are held captive by the Communists."

Liu said Gen. Wang Shuoming, the Nationalist chief of staff, personally ordered the immediate denial.

"I want to warn the Communists. If they resort to such weapons, they must bear all the consequences," the admiral said.

The Red broadcast said 14 Communist soldiers were "affected" by the alleged attack which involved gas of an unspecified type. It linked the United States with the attack by noting that it took place "after" the supply of large amounts of U.S. ammunition "in the Nationalist area."

The charge was leveled during a full in the "heat and noise" campaign against Quemoy. The Communist guns which hurled 23,162 shells at the outpost island Monday were silent.

Vegetable Farmers Hike Acreage Despite Gamble

Farming, like any other occupation, is a gamble. Vegetable producers probably are the world's best-known business gamblers, facing all of the odds of other businesses and a few peculiar to their own trade.

Like other farmers, vegetable fight the battle of too much rain or too little, insects, gluttony markets, freezes, high production costs and many others.

Unlike many other types of farmers, however, the vegetable producer can't hold his product "until the market is right." When cabbage, celery, lettuce and beans are ready, they must go to market, regardless of the price. It's true that cold storage has helped preserve the life of vegetables for a few days, but a carload of vegetables isn't like a bale of cotton or a herd of cattle that can be held for an indefinite time.

Heavy rains last week probably were viewed as a nuisance to many city dwellers, but Seminole County vegetable farmers didn't fret. They loved it. These rains were like money in the bank. To some, it could mean the difference between profit and loss for this growing season. To others, it will mean a more successful year.
