RUSS WHITE

Most people have little regard for reporters. The last four anyone believed in were named Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. They were very good.

Nowadays, reporters aren't so blessed. Attorneys are the only ones held in lower esteem than reporters. People trust politicians and porn kings more than they do the media.

The primary reason reporters are so despised is that half the people they encounter have something to hide - something they don't want publicized. Good reporters are constantly exposing them.

Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein proved just how powerful reporters could be when they exposed the Nixon White House in the Watergate Scandal. As a result of their efforts, Richard Nixon was forced to resign the presidency. A couple of young reporters had turned the country upside down.

Newspapers cover all kinds of stories about cops, crooks, pals, beleaguered taxpayers, and beleaguered jocks. Each of the above - especially the pals and the beleaguered jocks - regard reporters as a necessary nuisance. It takes an effort for them to be civil - let alone cooperative.

This isn't to make anyone think that reporters are shunned wherever they go. Far from it. Some organizations try to win the media's favor with bribery. Super Bowl reporters are wined and dined in a two-week orgy each year. Newspaper readers are rewarded with daily drivel, often written between buffets.

In the 1950s, flacks used to come into newspaper offices with envelopes bulging with cash for reporters and editors who would give mention to their employer's gifts. At Christmas, gifts would arrive. TV sets. Record players. Even a refrigerator.

It's not so blatant now. Most newspapers forbid their reporters or editors of accepting anything of value. Those who do this do it at their own risk. Reporters are not for sale. Try to buy one and you'll find out in a hurry. The old "give 'em a steak and they'll write anything" does not apply.

A big complaint some still have about a reporter - or a newspaper - is that the stories they read are "slanted." You know what? Matthew.

Teens linked to rash of burglaries

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Two teenage boys, who told deputies they were bored, have been arrested for ransacking two homes in Maitland on Wednesday, and linked to nine other burglaries.

The arrest of the boys will clear two armed robberies, four residential burglaries and one vehicle burglary cases in Seminole County and two armed burglary cases in Longwood, deputies said.

Roy D. Adams, 17, 667 Trailwood Drive, and Todd M. Kaltenbach, 16, 308 Monticello Drive, both of Altamonte Springs, confessed to sneaking into the home of Lynn and Jimmie Adams at 224 Flame Avenue in Maitland, then having an egg fight and taking a 22 rifle to fire into a refrigerator, TV, VCR, family photos, and air conditioner Seminole County Sheriff's Department spokesperson Deanna Brown said.

Both boys have two prior arrests in Seminole County, she said.

"The defendants in this case acted with total disregard for the property of the victims, and did so because they were 'bored,'" the investigator's report said, according to Brown. "The defendants also show no remorse for their actions which is evident in the video tape of the two in our interview room."

The teenagers also burned a coffee table in the home, Brown said.

The boys then scaled an eight foot wall at the home of Jeffrey Ettinger, at 227 Flame Avenue, Brown said. The boys entered through a bedroom sliding glass door and "turned his home upside down as well," Brown said.

Jewelry, coins, weapons, ammunition, and a laptop computer were stolen from the two homes by the teenagers, Brown said.

Careers flourish for artistic couple

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

LAKE MARY - Lake Mary artists Bettye and Don Reagan are showing their award-winning work beginning this weekend at the Ormand Memorial Art Museum, continuing careers that have seen their art displayed from New York to Los Angeles.

"When you and your wife have a lot in common it's really nice," Don Reagan said. "We both enjoy it. Really, she's a lot more artistic than I am, with more training. She's been my back-bone."

Don Reagan, 68, is a wood sculptor who studied at the Arrowmount Craft School in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. His work has been shown at the Renwick Gallery of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., the American Craft Museum in New York, and will soon be shown in the Del Mano Gallery in Los Angeles.

"I've always been creative," Don Reagan said. "I'm really

Adult club owners get a day in court

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Totally nude dancing at Seminole County's adult clubs attracted nearly one million customers each year to a half dozen establishments, but the figures are plunging sharply.

Club owners say that in the past week their clientele has been cut in half because the dancers who used to be nude are now required to cover a portion of their breasts and buttocks.

At 9 a.m. Tuesday, Circuit Court Judge Nancy Alley will rule whether to grant a temporary injunction to the club owners, who claim nude dancing is a constitutionally protected form of expression. Attorneys for the clubs must convince the judge they have a chance of winning the case in the long run.

"Loss of money is never enough to convince a judge but loss of constitutional rights is a clearly sufficient reason for the club owners to get the injunction," said attorney Tom

City moves to privatize waste collection service

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - The Sanford city commission will vote Monday on a proposal to award a contract for the city's Solid Waste disposal services to a private company.

A four-member committee consisting of two city staff workers, a county representative, and a resident, is recommending the commission award the contract to the Florida Recycling Solid Waste company, with an initial three-year contract.

"We're looking to get the best possible service with the least possible cost," City Manager Tony VanDerworp said during a public meeting with city employees Wednesday. "I want to make sure the transition is handled correctly. Our solid-waste workers are doing a heck of a job."

Dazzlers in New York parade

By Jeff Berlinick
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - All of the garage sales, all of the time spent selling food at the Orlando Arena and Citrus Bowl, all the time soliciting family friends finally is going to pay off.

Sometime early Saturday morning, four dancers for the Seminole High School Dazzlers are going to be on a plane heading for New York City where they'll perform before, oh, about 50 million people at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Some of those people will be lining the streets of New York, the rest will be watching on television from all over the world.

The Dazzlers aren't nervous at all.

"I'm more excited than anything," junior Shannon Maguire said. "When I see all those people, I just want to entertain them. I don't think I'll be scared."

"We've done so many performances in front of so many people that it's really nothing new," added senior Kimberly Huffman.

Maguire and Huffman, along with juniors Jenna Elliott and Leslie Dantuma, make up the four-person contingent heading for New York. They'll be accompanied by several parents.

The current group of Dazzlers, over 70 strong, perform Please see parade, Page 5A

Leslie Dantuma, Jenna Elliott, Kimberly Huffman, and Shannon Maguire will perform at the Macy's parade.

Aggressive drivers targeted

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Due to the increased number of traffic crashes caused by aggressive drivers failing to obey traffic control devices in Seminole County, the Sheriff's Office will monitor signalized traffic intersections and cite drivers that run red traffic signals and all other traffic related infractions.

The goal of this operation is to heightened the awareness of the general public to dangers of aggressive driving. Furthermore, to strictly enforce child restraint violations as part of Operation ABC Mobilization and to enforce all other traffic related violations. Special attention will be given to several locations with high vehicle crash statistics.

In Brief

Monday, the following locations will be targeted for the entire day in a joint effort between city and county law enforcement officers: Tuskawilla Road at Red Bug Lake Road; State Road 436 at Oxford Road; and State Road 434 at Wekiva Springs Road.

P & Z meeting

LAKE MARY - The Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Board will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. at City Hall, 100 N. Country Club Rd., Lake Mary. Items on the agenda include Ordinance amending Chapter 154.11 of the Zoning Code. Temporary Structures; and Conditional Use for a modular building at the City's Public Safety Complex on Rinehart Road.

Record-setting campaign

ORLANDO - Heart of Florida United Way announced that a record-setting $18,105,000, $1,274,200 more than last year, was raised during its 1998 campaign. The announcement came at a Victory Celebration sponsored by Huntington National Bank at Disney's Coronado Resort and Convention Center.

Youth ranch president

The Board of Directors of the Florida Sheriff's Youth Ranches, Inc. has chosen

Youth Ranches Vice President of Programs Roger O. Bouchard Jr. as the next president.

Bouchard is a Florida native who grew up in the Clearwater area. He joined the Youth Ranches in 1990.

The Youth Ranches are a charitable, nonprofit corporation sponsored by the Florida Sheriff's Association. The Ranches manages and operates four residential child-care campuses and two Youth Camps throughout Florida.

Council hosts Wekiva River protection forum

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

WINTER PARK - Motivated by questions raised from a recent meeting at the Florida Department of Environmental Protection the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council hosted a review workshop to discuss future development in the Wekiva River Protection Area.

County's Planning Department made a presentation on the county's recently submitted Wekiva Special Area Study. This report provided direction for county efforts to guide growth in a manner that will protect the character and natural features of the Wekiva River area within Seminole County. Representatives from Orange, Lake, and Volusia counties, as well as the cities of Lake Mary and Sanford, joined officials from the St. John's River Water Management District, Florida Department of Environmental Protection and several non-profit environmental organizations for the meeting at the regional planning council's offices, 1011 Wymore Road, Suite 105, Winter Park.

The Wekiva River Protection area was established 10 years ago by the state legislature. It created a protected zone which crosses through Seminole, Orange, Lake and Volusia counties. Since the area's designation, the state has aggressively expanded its conservation land holdings along the river and has constructed bear underpasses on SR 46 in an effort to protect wildlife from the effects of area growth.

POLICE LOG

The following reports were compiled from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for incidents recorded Nov. 20:

Battery:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Oakhurst, 400 block, Nov. 19, 6:15 a.m. A 44-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for battery. Deputies said he and a friend were involved in a fight when he threatened her with a knife. Later he grabbed her by the throat and threw her to the ground three times, causing her some minor injuries. On one occasion he threatened to hurt her again, deputies said.

SANFORD, French Avenue, 2300 block, Nov. 19, 10:21 p.m. A 55-year-old man was arrested by Sanford Police for battery. Police said the homeless man was staying as a guest in the "box hut" of another man when he returned home from an evening of drinking and punched his host in the face at least twice and put him in a choke hold.

Driving under the influence:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Anchor Road at State Road 436, Nov. 19, 8:55 p.m. A 45-year-old man was arrested for driving under the influence by Seminole County sheriff's deputies.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Marion at Central Parkway, Nov. 19, 3:02 a.m. A 26-year-old man was arrested for driving under the influence by Altamonte Springs Police.

Drugs:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, State Road 434 at Westtowne, Nov. 19, 3:30 a.m. A 21-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for possession of drug paraphernalia and for theft. Deputies said he was being arrested for the theft of a newspaper box, which they found in the back of his pickup truck. During the arrest, they searched him and found some rolling papers and a pipe with cocaine residue in it.

SANFORD, Sanford Avenue, 2100 block, Nov. 19, 3:35 p.m. A 28-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana. At the same time a 20-year-old woman and a 23-year-old man in the same household were arrested with possession of more than a pound of marijuana with the intent to distribute. Deputies conducted a search of the house and found a baggie of marijuana in the 28-year-old man's room and a large amount of marijuana in the room shared by the other two. The 23-year-old man told deputies he had sold about half of the marijuana.

Retail theft:

SANFORD, French Avenue, 1500 block, Nov. 19, 9:02 p.m. A 22-year-old woman was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for retail theft. Deputies said she walked out of the grocery store with a shower cap, which she made no effort to pay for, stuffed into her purse.

Local agencies spread message: Buckle up

FROM STAFF REPORTS

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Local police and government agencies will support a concentrated holiday effort to protect children through passenger safety including the proper usage of seat belts and air bags.

Cpt. Rick Poovey of the Sanford Police Department said his officers will work with six Sanford schools on Monday and Tuesday to achieve this goal. School resource officers at Wicklow, Pine Crest, Hamilton, and Goldsboro elementary, and Millennium and Sanford middle schools will distribute literature to parents picking up and dropping off their children from school, Puffy said.

"Our objective is to send a clear message that buckling up is a requirement," Poovey said. "We are hopeful that this effort will save lives over the holidays when people travel more."

Poovey said his department joins the national effort called Operation ABC Mobilization: America Buckles Up Children, which involves more than 5,000 law enforcement agencies.

According to the National Sheriff's Association, the impact of this operation showed six million more people buckled up. This translates into an estimated 670 lives saved each year. A survey by the National Safety Council showed fatalities decreased more than 35 percent during the same period on Memorial Day.

The law requires that children under age 4 be restrained in a car seat and a child 4 to 16 must be restrained in a car seat.

Also supporting the effort are the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and the Seminole County Health Department.

"Although only law enforcement officers can write the tickets, we stand firmly behind the lifesaving message each ticket delivers," said July Wilhelm of Please see Safety, Page 5A

Deputies search for robbery suspect

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

FERN PARK - Police are searching for a suspect who allegedly grabbed a store employee and tried to force her to open the cash register last Saturday in a Fern Park exotic shop.

The strong arm robbery took place at Eye to Eye Exotic Dancerwear, located at 7010 S. Highway 1792 in Fern Park at approximately 1:43 p.m. The suspect fled the store through the front door with an undetermined amount of cash, Seminole County Sheriff's Department spokesperson Deanna Brown said.

The suspect was last seen heading south in an unknown type of car, Brown said.

Deputies describe the suspect as a 5'7" black male, with a heavy muscular, in his mid-30's, with a patch of gray hair on the left, front side of his hairline, Brown said.

The suspect entered the store, looked around, and approached the store counter to tell store employee Donna Nash that he was looking for something, according to the police report.

Nash told deputies that the suspect came behind the counter, grabbed her by the neck and face, and placed his hand over her mouth, the police report said.

The suspect released Nash and fled after grabbing money from the cash register, the police report said. Nash received small cuts on her top lip but refused medical treatment, saying she was fine, the police report said.

Joseph Concannon told deputies he responded to Nash's call for help and chased police report said.

Reached by telephone at the store, Nash said she would not comment on the incident over the phone.

the suspect, the police report said. Concannon told deputies the suspect was in a red car.

Concannon told deputies that when he pulled the suspect out of the car, the suspect threw five dollar bills at him, got back into the car, and fled, the police report said. Concannon said he got into the car to stop the suspect from making his escape, the police report said.

The suspect reached between the seat for something, Concannon told deputies, according to the police report. Concannon said he then got out of the car and let the suspect drive away, the police report said.

Concannon took the license tag number, and it came back to an Orlando address, the police report said. The Sheriff's Department is not releasing the license tag number, Brown said.

Deputies have lifted latent finger prints from the store's front door and cash register, as well as the five dollar bills, the

Choice not always obvious or logical

As Thanksgiving approaches, the Sanford City Commission faces a choice between compassion and budget logic.

On Monday, the commission will decide whether to award a sanitation contract to a private company. If the city decides to privatize garbage collection, the question of how many benefits to give sanitation workers will not be an easy one.

Commissioners would choose between paying 100 percent benefits or paying reduced benefits.

The workers deserve 100 percent payment of the benefits they have earned. However, this choice involves difficult trade-offs. City money spent on benefits for workers could also be spent elsewhere on deserving projects.

This may be a choice between either being fair to people or making the best business decision. In this age of downsizing, many times at the expense of longtime employees, government entities and private businesses are choosing the bottom line.

The choice is not always logical. This is also nearly Thanksgiving week, with Christmas approaching. True kindness requires sacrifice. The city's sanitation workers and their families are hoping the commission will feel the spirit of the holidays.

We must impeach Thomas Jefferson

By Joseph Spear
Newspaper Enterprise Association

So, TJ was a tomcat, after all. As astute students of public affairs, I am sure you have been following the story. A professor emeritus of pathology at Tufts University, Dr. Eugene Foster, gathered genetic samples from descendants of Founding Father Thomas Jefferson and from descendants of a slave woman with whom he was rumored to have had a long affair, and has demonstrated to a fair degree of certainty that at least one of her sons was fathered by the third president.

Her name was Sally Hemings, and Jefferson met her when his youngest daughter took her along on a trip to Paris in 1786, where he was serving as the American ambassador. Jefferson was 43 years old. Sally was 14, fair-skinned and beautiful. Indeed, she was the half sister of his late wife, Martha Wayles Skelton.

They returned to the United States in 1789, and Sally continued to live at Monticello, the Jefferson estate, for many years thereafter. She gave birth to five children during that time. Most of them were fair-skinned, and several were said to bear a resemblance to the red-haired Jefferson. Rumors of an extended liaison between Jefferson and Hemings had been abroad in the land for years before they were finally published in the Richmond Record on Sept. 1, 1802 by a drunken Scottish journalist named James Thomson Callender. "It is well known that the man, whom it delighteth the people to honor, keeps and for many years has kept, as his concubine, one of his slaves," Callender began. "Her name is SALLY.... By this wench Sally, our president has had several children."

The controversy that erupted consumed the nation for months. The following July, Callender drowned in the James River while bathing under the influence. Historians through the years have tended to discount the Jefferson-Hemings tale as a vicious rumor that found its way into print during a violently partisan period in our history. And then along came Dr. Foster.

Using DNA samples from five of Jefferson's living relatives and DNA samples from descendants of Hemings' oldest son and her youngest, Foster determined that the latter carried a Y chromosome that was very likely to have come from Jefferson.

Other tales involving Jefferson's allegedly lecherous behavior can never be scientifically validated. He is said to have wooed the wife of a British artist who lived in Paris while Jefferson was serving as the envoy there. In 1805, he was also accused of earlier attempts to seduce his best friend's wife.

Put it all together, and it appears that one of the most important men in American history, the author of the Declaration of Independence no less, was indeed a rake. The question: Does it make any difference, and what should we do about it?

Personally, I think an investigation is clearly called for. I mean, character counts, you know. So what if Thomas Jefferson was a brilliant thinker, a magnificent writer, an architect, an inventor and arguably the most intelligent man ever to serve in the White House? He was a fornicator and quite likely an adulterer. America deserves better. This ugly business screams out for an independent counsel investigation and perhaps some retroactive impeachment proceedings.

Once he is impeached, we must negate everything he did after his licentious behavior came to light. That means every official act from 1802 until he died in 1826 must be wiped off the books. The Declaration can stand—Jefferson was only 33 years old when he wrote it, and, as far as we know, faithful to his wife then.

But the Louisiana Purchase must be nullified. The states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, part of Texas, and large portions of Oklahoma, North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Minnesota will just have to get along outside the union until the purchase can be renegotiated with France by a pure and virtuous leader.

And then we must design a re-education program to teach the truth about Thomas Jefferson and undertake a crusade to consign him to the footnotes of history, where he clearly belongs.

Development not compatible with homes

By Susan Eberle

On Nov. 24 at 1:30 p.m. at the Seminole County Commissioner's meeting, 1101 E. First Street, Sanford there will be a hearing on a small parcel of land known as Harling-Locklin (PZ98-93). At first glance this project might not seem significant. The applicant wants to build four townhouses on West Palm Valley Dr., Oviedo near Alafaya Trail. It is the location of these townhouses that is a big concern to the residents of River Walk, a gated community of 115 homes. Not only are these townhouses incompatible with our homes, there are also concerns about flooding, traffic, noise, vandalism and crime.

I doubt there will be many citizens at the hearing to protest this development as it is at 1:30 p.m. in the afternoon, when most people are at work, and two days before Thanksgiving. I had planned to go and had told a Seminole County staff member that Nov. 24 was the only day that I could not attend the hearing. Imagine my surprise when this meeting was planned for that day!

At the Oct. 7 Zoning Board hearing, the Seminole County

My Two Cents

staff recommended against the townhouse project. Staff said that this project is not compatible with the single family homes in River Walk and Kingston Oaks. However, the Zoning Board did not listen to its staff nor to the citizens who spoke against this project and unanimously approved the rezoning of this land. The only stipulation was that Mr. Harling was to decrease the density of this project. I have since spoken to staff and was told that the density, or number of units, has not been decreased.

There are many problems with this project. It is not compatible with our single family homes and there is only a 25 foot buffer between this project and one of the homes in our neighborhood. This proposed development is to be just 25 feet from West Palm Valley Drive. The townhouses are to be built just beyond 550 feet from the Little Econlockhatchee River. In November 1994, during tropical Storm Gordon, River Walk residents witnessed the Little Econ. River flooding this land to within about 50 feet of West Palm Valley Drive. Where is the 1100 foot buffer from the Econ. Protection Act? (The Little Econ. was named "An Outstanding Florida Water" in 1991.) How would the storm water runoff from this project impact our neighborhood? How could the additional traffic be handled? It is already very difficult to turn onto Alafaya Trail from Palm Valley Drive. Also cut-through traffic in our neighborhood is a concern as our gates have often been forced open. Noise, crime, and vandalism are some of our other issues.

I have provided photos to the Zoning Board, including a picture of Larry Dale's Cardinal Glen, off of McCulloch Road in March 1998, after a 2 day 3-1/2 inch rain. The entire center portion of this land is underwater.; there are homes on this land now. This development is just beyond 550 feet from the Little Econ River. Also there is a picture of the Little Econ. overflowing at River's Pointe, on the corner of Buck and Rouse Road. This flooding occurred several times last winter. In late December 1997, after a two-day, 5 inch rain the river and River's Pointe pond converged. Flooding from the Little Econ. went all the way from the river at Buck Road to Rouse Road.

If the Seminole County Commissioners represent "the people" they will vote against the Harling-Locklin townhouse project. It is not only incompatible with our single family homes, but it is too close to the river on land that is prone to flooding.

Letters

Facts on Astor Farm

In response to Keith Schue's letter in the Nov. 8 1998 edition of this newspaper, let us examine the facts.

FACT: The Astor Farm is just that—a farm. A plowed field is not a 'habitat' for anything.

FACT: With its present zoning and land use, 130 permits could be issued for septic tanks, and for deep wells, for potable water and for shallow wells for irrigation. Think of it! Two Hundred and sixty wells drawing from the aquifer. One Hundred and thirty septic tanks discharging into the aquifer. This would be an environmental disaster. And it can be done with all the present regulations in place, without a single public hearing. This is what the County Commission is moving to avoid.

Clearly, development with central water and sewer makes more sense.

FACT: The Northwest Quadrant of the county, as defined by the boundaries of North of Highway 46 to the St. Johns River, and West of Interstate Four to the Wekiva, contains 3,682 acres already owned by the State of Florida and local government. (RE: H.W. "Bill" Suber, Seminole County Property Appraiser, in the attached letter supplied and certified by his department.) A stupendous number. When this is divided by the 640 acres in a square mile, it comes to 5 3/4 miles of wildlife sanctuary. There appears to be less than 20 square miles in the described quad. If this is correct then one out of four acres there will never be developed and remain in a pristine state. Balance this against the notion that developing a mere 130 acres, a very small fraction of the total, will harm the environment.

FACT: Seminole County, in area, is the third smallest county in Florida. Many hundreds, (perhaps thousands) of acres throughout the county are likewise owned by government. In addition, thousands of acres are not developable because of swampland, or lowland, or flood prone characteristics. It makes good business sense not to unduly restrict land well suited for development.

FACT: None of the Astor Farm is in the flood plain, as an investigation of United States government surveys and maps will attest.

FACT: None of the Astor Farm lies in the Wekiva Basin.

FACT: None of the Astor Farm drains into the Wekiva Basin, or otherwise impacts it.

FACT: If the lines of the Wekiva Protection Act had been drawn locally, where these facts are more readily available, and not 250 miles away in Tallahassee, these errors would have been avoided.

FACT: Property rights are the foundation of a free society. Freedom without property rights would be meaningless.

FACT: Government has purchased One Million Acres in Florida for conservation in the past eight years, and has announced intention to purchase Seven Hundred Thousand more by the end of the year 2000. No interest has been expressed by government to acquire the Astor Farm because it is not environmentally sensitive land, not lying in or draining into the basin.

FACT: The recent elections insure that even more funds will be available for acquiring environmentally sensitive lands. Reasoned and informed voices tend to make intelligent and informed decisions. The best decisions are based on facts.

In view of the facts, the County Commission, after careful study and consideration made the determination that we can make a fair allocation between property rights and the environment.

The development will occur under the watchful supervision of the County as a Planned Unit Development, where much greater control is exercised over what is appropriate and what does not insult the environment.

We are all environmentalists.

Habitat employee gives information

Nov. 8 there was a letter to the editor which had quite a lot to say about the Habitat Thrift Store, which is located in Sanford.

I am a county resident and have been a volunteer with Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County since 1993. Since I feel that the store was not fairly represented and that the letter might do harm to a non-profit agency that I enthusiastically support, I would like to respond with some information about Habitat and the part that the store plays in the agency's service to the community.

Habitat's mission is to replace poverty housing with decent affordable homes. Our homes sell below the regular market price because of the volunteer labor during construction. Our families have a 20 year interest free mortgage. With no interest to pay, homeowners pay less for their new home than they paid before for substandard or crowded housing. In accordance with Habitat International (which is supported by former President Jimmy Carter) this is a hand up not a hand out or give-away program. It has made home ownership possible for people who could not afford it otherwise.

The purpose of the store is to generate money to build houses. Shirts, skirts, slacks and shoes sell for $1.00 each. A coffee cup is $.25 and a gallon of paint is $3.25. Paperback books are $.25 and hard cover books are $.50. Very reasonable prices!

A mission store cannot afford give-away prices. When we get quality expensive furniture, we put a price on it far below, give-away prices. When we get quality expensive furniture, we put a price on it far below antique store prices—but we do not give it away. Less expensive or less than new looking furniture is very reasonable priced. First class clothing or jewelry is proportionally higher priced than most of our items. When a potential buyer wants to dicker about price our policy is that prices are not negotiable. If we would take $25 off an item that would postpone the day when some deserving family can have a home of their own.

When the Zayre's was due to be bulldozed down and we had to relocate, we would only look at sites in Sanford. We have many low income families who regularly shop at our store and our low prices allow them to stretch their dollars farther. We have a real sense of commitment that we serve Seminole County by helping families provide things which they otherwise could not afford to own and, most importantly, by generating profits which pay for the building of homes for low income families.

We are always looking for new customers and for volunteers to work in our store. I hope that people will read this and come and shop with us. We appreciate our customers because they support our mission to benefit residents in Seminole County.

Working on a lathe that he built himself, Don Reagan said he takes seven months to create each sculpture, making 20-25 at a time. His work ranges from small "treepots" to large vessels and wall hangings.

Don Reagan uses Buckeye Burl wood from northern California in many of his sculptures.

"This is one of the prettiest woods in the U.S.," Don Reagan said. "It has a very rich texture, giving my sculptures another dimension."

It was his wife's love of art that enticed Don Reagan to begin making wood sculptures in 1987.

"He went to a show with me in 1987," Bettye Reagan said. "When he saw some wood-turning, he really went to town."

Bettye Reagan, 65, started her art career as an oil painter in 1975, then switched to pastels in 1984. Her art has been shown at the Maitland Art Center and The Gulf Coast Museum. She recently won first place in the Deaux Arts show in Coral Gables.

"I love color," Bettye Reagan said. "I'm painting feelings instead of subject matter. I want viewers to have a personal response from the rhythm and the colors. I use many variations of color to get energy and vibrancy."

Bettye Reagan, who was born in Sanford and raised in Oviedo, said her artwork is continually improving.

"My pastels are becoming brighter all the time," Bettye Reagan said. "I am not afraid to use a color anymore. It's becoming an automatic response."

The love of art the couple shares requires changes in their lifestyle. Bettye Reagan said.

"Being an artist is a way of life," Bettye Reagan said. "My painting is very serious to me, and he takes his work seriously. It changes your whole outlook, and your way of living. I've become more serious since my husband started it."

The Reagans have three sons, three daughters and four grand-children. Bettye Reagan said her children went through an adjustment period as the couple became more serious artists.

"I was always at home when they were growing up," Bettye Reagan said. "Now, we're both gone more often than we're home. But, they know that we're enjoying it very much."

Artist Bettye Reagan will be showing her award winning work starting this weekend at the Ormand Memorial Museum.

Burglary

Neighbors in the area saw the boys and told deputies they were hiding in the woods, Brown said.

When deputies found the boys, they were covered in egg, had shell castings in their pockets, and one was wearing a shirt he had stolen from one of the homes, Brown said.

The boys are charged with grand theft, grand theft of a firearm, burglary to a dwelling while armed, and criminal mischief.

lowest bidder for proposed rates of service. The committee ranked bids based upon customer rates and revenues, performance in other cities, employment of existing staff and benefits, financial capability, and liability.

City solid-waste workers voiced their concerns over continued employment, sick-leave, retirement and annuity plans to VanDerworp during a public hearing on Wednesday.

"I just want these guys to be paid 100 percent of the benefits that they've earned," Anthony Helton, the supervisor of the city's Solid Waste disposal, said. "I don't care about privatization one way or the other. I just want people to be paid 100 percent of what they've earned."

The committee is presenting the commission with information on the ability to buy out accrued sick and vacation time and purchase annuities for employees who have not vested in the retirement system, VanDerworp said.

Annuities for retirement contribution would cost the city $113,800, according to the committee's report. One option being presented is for 100 percent of vacation and sick-leave to be paid at $154,500. The second option is to pay vacation and sick time at rates that would cost the city $137,200.

The third option would pay vacation and sick leave at rates that would cost $40,500.

"I think you'll see that the commission will deliberate strongly on how you're treated," VanDerworp said. "This is a difficult policy issue. It's a tough decision to make."

If a private contract is awarded, a transition period would likely be put in place lasting until late January or early February, VanDerworp said.

"I want to spend time in a transition process," VanDerworp said.

Florida Recycling has a history of hiring employees from Sanford, VanDerworp said.

The committee is recommending that if the service is privatized, a full time manager should be hired in Public Works responsible for contract administration at a salary of $40,000.

regularly at football games and school functions and also work in the Central Florida community. They've been seen regularly on ESPN and have won many national titles throughout the years. In March, the group will travel to San Antonio, Texas to compete in a national event that will be nationally televised.

The four Dazzlers making the trip are part of the Universal Dance Association and will participate on a float sometime during the parade in front of the television cameras in Harold Square. Over 1,000 dancers will participate from all over the country and the Seminole dancers have been working on the routine for weeks.

They received packages in the mail with a video of the routine along with instructions and a red jacket that the girls have been wearing proudly. When the Dazzlers get to New York, they'll be practicing five hours a day with the UDA dancers from all over the world so everything is in place by Thursday.

The Dazzlers will also get a slice of the Big Apple. During their six-day stay, they'll skate at Rockefeller Center, attend dance clinics on Broadway, see the Lion King on Broadway, visit the Radio City Rockettes, and get a chance to tour New York's most famous landmarks while staying in the heart of downtown.

They also have some plans of their own. The popular musical group N'Sync is also performing at the parade and Elliott is dying to meet them.

Also on the agenda are some visits with MTV and some New York taxi and subway rides.

Besides that, the girls said they plan on getting up early in the morning (they have an 11 p.m. curfew) to try to get on the Today Show which shoots crowd shots outside of its studios.

The girls acted like their vacation began earlier this week when they started charging toward the local shopping malls. It seems their Central Florida fashions might not be ready to handle the sometimes snowy Thanksgiving Day in New York.

"We've been spending a lot of time at the malls," Elliott admitted. "We just can't wait to get there and meet so many new people."

They got the opportunity through hard work. Help came from Pulte Homes and family friends, but the group also raised most of the $2,500 needed for the trip themselves.

By the end of next week, they think it will have been well worth the effort.

the Seminole County Health Department.

Crashes are the leading cause of death to American children. Last year alone, more than 91 children under age 16 died in Florida. Over 1,785 fatalities occurred in Florida and 32,213 nationally in crashes.

Studies consistently show that the best way to get children buckled up is to get adults buckled up. According to observational data, when a driver buckles up, children are buckled up 87 percent of the time; however, when a driver is unbuckled, child belt use drops to only 24 percent.

Many drivers just don't believe they'll be in a crash, so they don't put on their own seat belt or make sure that children are restrained. The possibility of being stopped and ticketed is what it takes for many drivers to protect children by always buckling them up.

New channel may lead to healthier lake

By Shari Brodie
HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

SANFORD - Opening a new channel between the St. Johns River and Lake Jesup could lead to better water quality in the lake.

"Channel B, according to model predictions, seems to be the key," said Dr. Gary Zarillo of Scientific Environmental Applications.

Zarillo presented results of a study of the hydrodynamics (movement) of water in the lake to the Friends of Lake Jesup Thursday. The Friends had proposed the closing of Government Cut, at State Road 46, and restoring three historic channels that linked the lake to the flow of the river, prior to the building of the State Road 46 bridge.

The goal of the project was to examine alternative configurations at Lake Jesup's north boundary for improved flushing time.

Zarillo modeled four cases, opening and closing Channels A, B, and C, and Government Cut. At the meeting, Zarillo said, "Flushing the lake becomes largely a function of opening Channel B."

In Zarillo's model, the existing Channel A and Government Cut would remain open and Channel B would be restored. The third channel would remain closed and part of the existing causeway.

Zarillo called Channel B "a very efficient conveyance channel," and said, "Channel C doesn't benefit flushing time at a high water stage as we had hypothesized."

Using the conditions proposed by the Friends, Zarillo said, "there doesn't seem to be any exchange between Lake Jesup and the St. Johns River."

The final report of the study and results of biological studies being done by the St. Johns River Water Management District will be presented to the Friends early next year.

"We're presenting here what the model results are," said Hector Herrera, an engineer with the district. "No recommendations have been made."

The Friends will have the opportunity to discuss the results of the studies and decide how they are going to respond to the Florida Department of Transportation.

The FDOT is currently studying options for the replacement of the S.R. 46 bridge, which is nearing the end of its life span. The Friends had wanted the causeway removed and a bridge from treeline to treeline, restoring the natural flow of the St. Johns, into and out of Lake Jesup.

The FDOT has suspended action on the bridge until the Friends make a recommendation. Gary Bass, with FDOT, said Thursday that the agency can wait as long as five years, but Erich Marzolf, a biologist with the district, said his study trying to figure out a delicate way to deal with what some say is a dilemma.

Some believe that Jerry Uranik, who owns several adult clubs in Seminole and Orange counties is interested in turning his Cabaret Club in Casselberry from a totally nude dancing club into a gay and lesbian bar. Uranik could not be reached for comment Friday.

There may be changes like this, Pinter said. "We've had female impersonators at Club Juana. When we began, we couldn't always afford to pay the girls. We did a good business. Gay or straight, there are customers who want to have a good time. What the rest of the community thinks is up to them."

The fact that the club owners are used to making money and suddenly they have been told they can't operate the way they had is what is causing them to scramble. "The county cornered them," Trees said. "They can't go left or right, they can't back up. All they can do is come straight at those who cornered them."

Carlton Henley, voted the County Commission Chairman the same day the public decency ordinance went into effect, said he expects the ordinance to hold up in the courts. What the club owners do next, is their choice.

The citizens of this county are the ones who approved the ordinance," Henley said. "They made their choice of what they believed was right and wrong."

should be completed by January with results to the Friends in February.

Maitland attorney Hugh Trees said Friday. "A 1-minute loss of your constitutional rights is all it takes."

As they prepare to get a ruling from Judge Alley, the club owners have complied to the county's new ordinance which went into effect last Tuesday. Undercover agents and sheriff's deputies made no arrests the first three days and nights. "We are not about to go against the law," Club Juana owner Mike Pinter said.

The adult club owners are planning new frolics that Trees said "may disturb" the citizens and the county officials more than total nude dancing. In the not too distant future, one or more of the clubs may begin to cater to the gays and lesbians, he said.

Already, one such club - known as Persuasions - is operating on State Road 434 in Casselberry. Persuasions is across the road from Rachel's, one of the formerly all nude clubs. Casselberry officials are trying to figure out a delicate way to deal with what some say is a dilemma.

The citizens of this county are the ones who approved the ordinance," Henley said. "They made their choice of what they believed was right and wrong."

State charges bogus charities

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

TALLAHASSEE - Florida Agriculture and Consumer Services Commissioner Bob Crawford is charging the president of two bogus charitable organizations with 19 felonies involving illegal fund-raising activities.

Division of Consumer Services Investigator Diane Fuchs and the Department's Office of Agricultural Law Enforcement began investigating Clinton Arun Bose earlier this year after receiving complaints from people across the state who had been asked for donations to help sick, dying and abused children. Solicitors claimed the contributions would be used to send children to Florida amusement parks and said the charities were registered with the Department as required by law.

In August, cease-and-desist orders were filed against United Children's Foundation Inc., and Florida Children's Welfare Association Inc., forcing them to stop soliciting donations. The organizations are not registered with the Department, and there's no indication the money has been dispersed to any needy children.

"This abuse of the public's trust is offensive and illegal," Crawford said. "It's the season for giving and cases like this make it hard on legitimate charities. I hope this arrest sends a message to other charity scammers that we will take every action necessary to protect Florida consumers."

The charges against Bose include operating unregistered charities, misleading people to believe any of the proceeds would be used for charitable purposes and organized fraud, all 3rd degree felonies.

Several victims in Okaloosa County identified Bose from a photo lineup as the person who picked up their checks and gave them a receipt. Bank records seized by Investigator Tony Golino revealed that no funds had been dispersed to any recognized charitable organization or child. Crawford expressed his thanks to the Okaloosa County Sheriff's Department and State Attorney's Office, which assisted in the investigation.

Bose was arrested without incident at a mall in Palm Beach County where he's been working for the past few months. Palm Beach County Sheriff's Deputies assisted in the arrest.

Crawford urges consumers to report any suspicious charity or request information about a charity by calling the Consumer

Hotline at 1-800 HELP FLA (1-800-435-7352). The Department also publishes a free "Gift Giver's Guide" that lists charitable organizations registered with the state, and provides financial information about those organizations registered with the state, and provides financial information about those organizations. Consumers can receive a copy by requesting one over the phone or writing: Gift Giver's Guide, Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, 407 S. Calhoun Street, Room 208, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-0800.

The Herald

Seminole Herald, Sanford, Florida Sunday, November 22, 1998

HERALD ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

The future is looking bright for Tribe girls

SANFORD — Let the Lake Mary girls get all the attention this basketball season.

The best team you haven't heard of is at Seminole High.

The Seminoles are off to a 4-0 start and playing with tenacity on both ends of the floor that could send them a long way towards the state Final Four next spring.

Why did we start off with a reference to Lake Mary?

Because this Seminole team might rekindle some memories of the Lake Mary team two years ago that made it to the state finals.

That year, the Rams had three sophomore starters, a junior and a senior.

Last season, when the Rams won it all, they started four juniors and a senior.

This season, Seminole has just one senior and a ton of younger talent including three transfers from Lake Mary.

Martina Kendrick, a transfer from last year's state championship team, scored only three points in a rout of Lake Brantley Thursday, but dominated on both ends of the court.

Sophomore Natoshia Fisher is dead on from 3-point land and Barbara Gray and Jamala Mitchell, along with senior Amanda Cook give the 'Noles a strong inside presence.

Point guard Kendrick learned a lot from practicing against Lake Mary's Ashlee Ballance the past two seasons and can dominate a game without lighting up the scoreboard.

Give coach Sylvester Wynn a lot of the early credit. He's got his team rebounding much better than last season and the 'Noles have obviously been working on conditioning.

The Lake Brantley game marked their third district or conference game in three nights, but, even one night after a big district win over Mainland, Seminole still had enough left to run Lake Brantley out of the gym.

Wynn's team is deep and seven of his 11 players had scored by halftime.

The most eerie resemblance to Lake Mary's juggernaut is that the best is yet to come.

Wynn only losses one player next year and Gray, Kendrick, Fisher, Laquena Grayson, Jamala Mitchell, Matta Mitchell and Felicia Williamson all have two years remaining.

Like Lake Mary coach Carl Brown, Wynn's biggest problem is dealing with so much talent trying to hog playing time. Brown deserves tons of credit for keeping his Rams happy, especially upperclassmen who have had to ride the pine watching younger players.

If Wynn can do the same kind of juggling act, he and his team could dominate the district (the win over Mainland Wednesday has already given Seminole a win in its toughest district game of the season).

He could also scare Lake Mary at home next Tuesday.

Sure, it's too early to start talking title, especially one year after the 'Noles got bumped off in the first round of the regionals.

But keep an eye on this team and remember the 1996 Rams.

Last Second Shot: For the record, my Hetsman ball lot (if I actually had a vote) is in: Kansas State's Michael Bishop over Texas's Ricky Williams at the buzzer.

Panthers pound Patriots

Dr. Phillips knocks Lake Brantley out of playoffs

By Jeff Berlinicke ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

ALTAMONTE — SPRINGS — Long after the hint of Friday night's 53-7 loss to Dr. Phillips has worn off the memories of one of the finest seasons in Lake Brantley High School football history will live on.

The season may have ended suddenly in the first round of the Class 6A playoffs at Tom Storey Field, but Lake Brantley still has its '00 undrafted regular season, the first in school history, to remember along with one of its finest senior classes ever.

The Patriots entered the season with an untested quarterback, a new running back tandem and a group that struggled during parts of George Clayton's first year as head coach last season.

Instead, an early win over DeLand (which amazingly crushed heavily favored Evans, Lake Brantley back up quarterback Brian Smith (No. 7 above) tries to elude a Dr. Phillips defender, while junior defensive back Joe Hordhoka (left) wonders what happened to the Patriots as the Panthers forced eight fumbles and three turnovers and routed Lake Brantley, 53-7, in the first round of the FHSAA Class 6A State Football Championships Friday night.

Industrial season ends

By Dean Smith HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD — Vantare got to start its victory party earlier than expected Friday night.

Vantare, which wrapped up the championship of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Fall Industrial Slow Pitch Softball League last Friday night, did not even have to break out its gloves this week as Briar Corporation and Invarac, both handed 7-0 forfeit victories to the champions.

The games were supposed to be made up from contests rained out on October 25th.

The final standings in the very competitive league are very unimpressive as they show Vantare being the only team with a winning record at 9-3, while Invarac finished 5-7 and Briar Corporation ended 4-8.

Vantare lost its opening game of the season and was only 2-3 and tied for second place after splitting a doubleheader on October 16th.

But the new champions never lost again and finally took the lead by goal on November 6th when it swept a doubleheader to move past Invarac, which had been earlier in the lead or shared the lead since opening night and was 5-3 on October 23rd.

In fact, even Briar Corporation was only a game and a half out of first on October 30th.

Making up the Vantare roster were H.J. Carroza, James Colman, E. Gravier, H. King, R. Jassam, C. Sclatani, Zeb Webb, K. Saver, Bill Coghurn, Bill Shaw, G. Beck, R. Ogilvie, M. Aponte, J. Davis, E. Mann and S. Evan.

Central Florida to host the 2000 AAU Junior Olympics

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — The Central Florida Sports Authority (CFSA) has announced that Central Florida will be the home of the 2000 Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) Junior Olympic Games Friday at the 1998 State of Sports Address.

The Central Florida Sports Authority is proud to host the largest amateur athletic competition held annually in the world. The Games have long been unofficially billed as the "Olympic Games for Youth."

Twenty-seven events will take place at 25 venues throughout Orange, Lake, Seminole, Osceola and Volusia Counties.

For nearly two weeks in the first summer in the new millennium (now tentatively set for July 26th through August 5th), Central Florida will be in the spotlight for the celebration of amateur athletics.

Opening ceremonies are tentatively scheduled for the Florida Citrus Bowl in Orlando.

From the beaches of Volusia to the lakes of Lake, from the playing fields of Osceola to the links of Seminole County and from Disney to downtown Orlando, 15,000 children and young adults are coming to compete in Central Florida in the biggest amateur sporting event our region has ever seen, says Randy Johnson, President and CEO of the Central Florida Sports Authority.

The sheer size and complexity of the Junior Olympic Games affords Central Florida for the first time the experience of hosting a sporting event of this magnitude.

The area became of interest partly because the AAU national headquarters are now located in Lake Buena Vista at Walt Disney World.

The Central Florida Sports Authority won the bid over Knoxville, Tennessee, which had hosted the games in 1993.

Nearly 12,000 athletes and 4,000 coaches and officials recently attended the 1998 Junior Olympics in Virginia.

The Games for athletes ranging in age from six to 19, are expected to attract more than 20,000 out of town guests.

Orange, Seminole and Osceola counties will host a majority of the sports, with Lake County getting the golf and triathlon events, and Volusia County putting on the

Patriot seniors leave legacy for the future

By Alex Kane HERALD STAFF WRITER

ALTAMONTE — SPRINGS —

Lake Brantley's seniors played the final game of their high school careers Friday night, and while it was a loss, they ended the season as winners.

The Patriots had the finest season ever in the school's illustrious history, going undefeated in the regular season for the first time. They played with speed, power, discipline, and most importantly, class. The seniors have a great deal to be proud of.

After suffering last year through a series of key injuries which caused them to lose their last three games and finish 4-5, the seniors this year made sure not to let their last season end that way. Even when key players were injured this year, others stepped up.

Quarterback Regan Russell ran the triple option offense effectively. He racked up yards and proved his toughness, taking his share of hard tackles.

Running back Arnold Celeste had an absolutely spectacular year, leading the county in rushing. Powering over opponents, he fought for every yard, and made the Patriots' offense all the more threatening.

Linebacker Clint Hanson led the defense not only as captain, but as its spiritual leader. His strong play on the field was paralleled by equally strong leadership off of it.

Placekicker Trey Keeley hit deep field goals, and consistently gave opponents poor starting field position. In a number of games, his kicking made the difference.

John Miller and Mike Jackson played solid defense the entire year, and made big plays when their team needed them.

These and the rest of the seniors gave Lake Brantley High School a team to be proud of regardless of its record and their efforts paid off with an incredible season.

While the season may have ended on a sour note, it will not soon be forgotten by the players, families, and students of Lake Brantley High School.

The seniors have led their team and set a fine example for every Patriot football team in the future to follow.

What's Up In The NFL..... Week No. 12

SANFORD Week 12 has arrived and many teams have already rolled over and died.

The CRYSTAL BALL OF FOOTBALL, in a quick count, declares that at least 16 teams no longer have any hope of reaching the playoffs.

The biggest disappointments? Without hesitation two come to mind.....Tampa Bay and Seattle.

These teams are both loaded with talent but will continue to struggle without a major personnel change on both teams.

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers will continue to be mocked in the N.F.C. Central unless they get rid of Trent Dilfer.

He has proven year after year that he doesn't have what it takes to take this team to the next level. Many people argue that he is more suitable as a backup in the League, but I'm not even convinced of that.

The Seahawks on the other hand have a fine quarterback, a fine offense and a fine defense, but a coach who should have stayed in the college ranks where he enjoyed moderate success at the University of Miami.

With a new owner who happens to be a multi-billionaire/zillionaire type, this team should be soaring in the A.F.C.

They WILL make the change in the off-season because, unlike the Bucs, this organization has the guts to make the tough decisions to benefit the team as a whole.

Looking around Florida, I'll start with a brief tribute to Jeff, my colleague here at the Herald. This week he made the point that the Jaguars were the best team in Florida, and for the first time ever, I must admit he is correct.

In years past, Jeff allowed his vision to be clouded by his undying loyalty to the franchise, but that is no longer the case.

The Jags thumped the Bucs last week and the Dolphins are a DISTANT third in the state.

Miami snuck by a terrible Carolina squad and should be ashamed of their coach's claim that they have the talent to win the Super Bowl. I know, I know. All you Marino fans will send me hate mail again but face it, he's old and crusty. Unlike fine wine and John Elway, Marino has not aged well.

What's Up In The NFL

Speaking of Jeff, he and fellow Herald sports writer Kellie Werner, get my WHAT UP FOOTBALL FREAK AWARD this week. These two sports nuts, although disagreeing with me passionately on the purpose of prep football, are a pleasure to follow on the sports page.

Enough of the accolades, let's look into the CRYSTAL BALL OF FOOTBALL and find the winners this week.

PITTSBURGH (-2) VS. JACKSONVILLE

The Steelers seem to have gotten their rhythm back which is good, they'll need it in this one.

This game determines who will challenge the Oilers, that's right the OILERS, for the Divisional crown.

I like the TERRIBLE TOWELS in this one. Remember last year when Steeler coach Bill Cowher almost stepped on the field to trip a Jaguar player returning a blocked field goal? Wow! That my friends is hard core! Steelers 24, Jaguars 21.

MINNESOTA (-3) VS. GREEN BAY

The Vikings, for the first time in a number of years, have the talent to win this game. If they can slow the Packer pass attack down, they should get the "W". If they can't, I think Favre could give his team a giant win in their race for the playoffs. TOO CLOSE TO CALL.

DALLAS (-7) VS. SEATTLE

Since the Seahawks have let me down as playoff contenders, I considered not commenting on this game.

However, my hate of the Cowgirls forces me to take Seattle with the points, and cross my fingers. Cowgirls 20, Seahawks 17.

BUFFALO (-6) VS. INDIANAPOLIS

My beloved Bills will benefit from Miami's loss at New England and they know it. They win, Miami loses, and Flutie is tied for first in the A.F.C. Eastern Division!

The fans will be throwing rock-filled snow balls at a terrified Peyton Manning. Call some extra cops, this one will be brutal Buffalo 28, Colts 6.

ATLANTA (-10) VS. CHICAGO

Was it the Beach Boys that sang the summer hit, "Wipe Out"? If so, they'll be collecting some royalties after this one. Falcons 36, Bears 12.

WASHINGTON (-2) VS. ARIZONA

Most of you probably don't care about the outcome of this one, but I do.

Season long wagers.....need the Cardinals to win at least seven games this year have.....to get this one. Cardinals 17, Redskins 19.

DENVER (-9) VS. OAKLAND

The Cheaters have gotten themselves into a mess this time. After beating bad and worse teams to get to a 7-3 mark for the season, payday has come.

The Broncos are one of the best squads I've seen in years. I'm not sure they will be beaten this year, they're that good. Broncos 31, Cheaters 13.

TENNESSEE (-2) VS. NEW YORK JETS
The Oilers know how to win the ugly games and more importantly, they know how to make games ugly.

The Jets have talent and with their great coach may win this one. I can't go with them, though, because every time I go against the Oilers they embarrass me. Eddie George needs a big game. Oilers 23, Jets 20.

SAN FRANCISCO (-12) VS. NEW ORLEANS

Leave the Saints alone! Poor Dilka was 4-0 to start the season, then the League required them to start playing real teams.

Now they are 5-5 and face a Niners squad desperate for a win. If it were a night game I'd tell them to save on the power bill. With or without the lights on this one is etched in stone. Niners 41, Aints 13.

NEW ENGLAND (-3) VS. MIAMI

The Dolphins stink, but so do the Patriots. I wish it were the good old days when these teams were battling for supremacy, but those days are gone. The biggest news for the Patriots is their move to Connecticut.

I'll take the Patsies, but I'm not thrilled about giving up the points. Patriots 23, Dolphins 19. Each week, and after hours of diligent research, I release what I consider to be the best selection against the spread in the schedule.

My patented LOCK OF THE WEEK selections have paid off mortgages, credit card bills, student loans, and many more nagging debts. For the season we stand just over $12,000 in profit, but have been in a slump the last two weeks.

Today I'm going with the BUFFALO BILLS (-6) VS. INDIANAPOLIS as my LOCK OF THE WEEK, and guess what? I'm letting it ALL ride!

That's right folks, the entire profits from this season are being laid on my beloved Bills as the LOCK. Why so confident? Buffalo and their fans smell blood in the Division and they will go for the jugular as the chilly weather greets the indoor Indianapolis Colts at Rich Stadium. Enjoy your day of football and remember, everything else can wait!!!!

IN BRIEF

Sosa wins NL MVP in a walk

NEW YORK - Chicago Cubs outfielder Sammy Sosa, who had a great year mostly overshadowed by Mark McGwire's run at the home run record, easily won the National League Most Valuable Player Award.

Sosa collected 30 of 32 first place votes and 438 points to far outdistance McGwire, who got the other two first place votes and 272 points.

Sosa hit .308 this season with 66 home runs and 158 RBI.

McGwire, who himself said during the season that Sosa should be the MVP, hit 70 home runs, while batting .299 with 147 RBI. He also had a higher slugging percentage (.752-to-.647), more extra base hits (91-to-86), a higher on base percentage (.470-to-.377) than Sosa, who did have more total bases than the St. Louis Cardinals slugger (416-to-383).

All told, 23 players received votes in a poll of sports writers who cover the National League. Houston's Moises Alou, San Diego's Greg Vaughn and the Astros' Craig Biggio rounded out the top five.

SHS baseball fund raiser

SANFORD - The Seminole High School baseball team will be holding a fund raising clinic on December 21st and 22nd.

The clinic will be the Hitting & Pitching

Camp, featuring Tuttle Thomas and J.D. Artega from the University of Miami.

The camp is set for the first 100 entrants, giving a ratio of instructors to campers of 1-to-10.

Cost will be $80 and the camp will run from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

For more information, call Mike Powers at 320-5058.

Ocean Spray Road Race

ORLANDO - The Ocean Spray Feed America Five Miler will take place Thanksgiving Day, November 26th at 8:30 a.m.

This five-mile road race will start and finish in downtown Orlando's historic Church Street Market, passing by Lake Eola and Lake Davis on the race route.

All proceeds benefit the SENIORS TRUST Meals on Wheels program.

Awards will be given to the top 10 male and female finishers.

In addition to the five-miler, there will also be a 2-Mile Turkey Trot at 7:45 a.m. and a Kids 1K Fun Run at 8:35 a.m.

Entry fee is $20 per person or $10 with a bag containing canned and/or boxed non-perishable groceries.

All groceries received will be donated to local food pantries.

For entry information, please call Ocean Spray at (407) 898-1313.

52-28, Friday night) solidified the Lake Brantley team and, after beating Seminole three weeks ago, the Patriots moved up to a season-high number-seven ranking in the FSWA Class 6A State Poll.

Relying on the triple-option offense, the Patriots put together Central Florida's best rushing offense as quarterback Regan Russell, along with running backs Arnold Celeste and Lanier Bush, continually racked up big yardage.

Last night, the Patriots hosted a Dr. Phillips team still smarting from last season's overtime loss in the first round of the playoffs to Ostedo.

The game got ugly quickly, but Lake Brantley showed enough fight to stay close after some early setbacks.

The visiting Panthers took the opening kick and capped off an opening five-play, 40-yard drive with a 13-yard touchdown run around end by Nate Zackary.

Lake Brantley fumbled on its first possession, one of eight on the night (three were lost).

Dr. Phillips capitalized with a six-play, 28-yard drive to make it 14-0 with 5:37 still remaining in the first quarter.

Then, Lake Brantley struck back. On second down, Celeste took a pitch and raced 67 yards around left end for a touchdown to make it 14-7.

The Patriot defense dug in and forced a punt. Starting from its own 46, Lake Brantley moved down the field behind the running of Celeste, but on the first play of the second quarter, the Patriots fumbled a pitch to kill the drive.

Lake Brantley never threatened again.

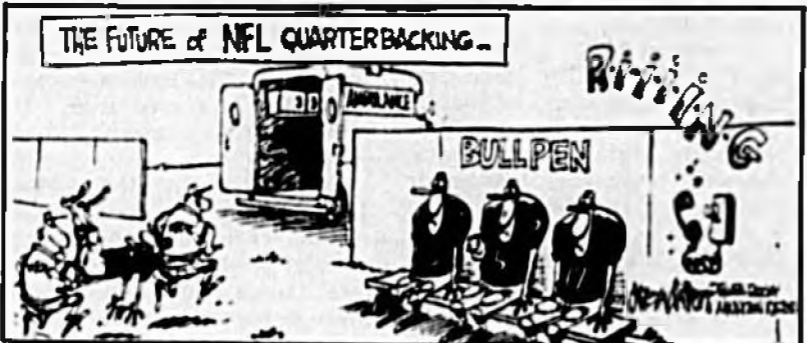

Dr. Phillips again took advantage of the fumble with a drive culminating on a seven-yard scoring pass from James Thompson to Mike Bonneville. The extra point was botched but the score was 20-7.

After receiving the kickoff, the Patriots fumbled on the first play from scrimmage and it was returned for a touchdown. The rout was on.

Two more Dr. Phillips' scores just before halftime made it 41-7 at the intermission.

On the night, Celeste led the Patriots with 72 yards rushing, most of it on his long touchdown run. Russell, who was spelled at times by Brian Smith at quarterback, added only nine yards on five carries.

HOROSCOPE

Sunday, Nov. 22, 1998

Even though you may not have any plans to master something new in the year ahead, several learning adventures in new areas could be in the offing for you. What you acquire will prove to be of extreme value. Don't be afraid to embrace new opportunities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't waste time beating around the bush if there is a serious issue you need to iron out with another today. Get right down to basics and set your mind on resolving things. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that'll govern you in the year ahead. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions by making $2 to Astro-Graph c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Even though what you acquire today might not be earth shaking, be alert for ways to improve your material circumstances. Small gains have a way of adding up.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't be surprised if you're the one who is appointed to orchestrate a game plan. Something difficult has to be taken care of within your peer group today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Get off the couch and come out of your corner today. The day will be more satisfying and refurbishing if you are a mixer rather than a homebody.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The chances for making your expectations a reality are within the realm of possibility today. View your goals within reason, and practical targets will be reachable.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Being a high achiever is foremost in your mind today. However, you'll be extremely selective with which objective to choose. Motivation could be the key.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) By not making the same mistake twice, you'll put to use a valuable lesson you learned from a painful, past experience. Constructive healing is best. Good for you!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll recognize a good deal when you see one today. More importantly, you'll know how to fit it into your own financial or commercial picture advantageously.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The most beneficial involvement you might take on today could be some type of partnership arrangement. It'll have mutual advantages, but you'll each have to work at it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A task you've been trying to complete without much success might finally get accomplished today. Tackle one step at a time, and let each completion dictate what to do next.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't be reluctant to take charge and call the shots if you find yourself with a group of pals who can't figure out what to do today. You'll come up with something fun.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you focus on your more serious priorities today, you'll be amazed at how much you can accomplish. Handle the tougher matters first, and don't waste time on frivolous pursuits.

WIN AT BRIDGE

The best value for money

By Phillip Alder

BRIDGE

PHILLIP ALDER

Octavio Paz wrote, "The supreme value is not the future but the present." Well, an excellent present for the future is The Daily Bridge Calendar. Every day you get at least one problem to struggle with over breakfast - or to struggle over with breakfast! (It also contains information about tournaments and bidding conventions.) Through the year, you will test every aspect of your game - not bad for $13.95 (C$18.95) postpaid. To order, call (800) 749-3292.

You know which day of the week it is by whose problem you are attempting. For example, next year, if it is one of my questions, it must be Wednesday.

Here is something from this year's calendar. You are South, the declarer in three no trump. West leads the spade four. I asked the reader how many overtricks he would win. Well, how many will you collect?

Most players see an opportunity to win at least two overtricks via three spades, four hearts, three diamonds and one club. They plan to run the first trick around to their spade queen, then to take the diamond finesse.

However, disaster strikes. East wins with the spade king and switches to the club jack. Having no real option, declarer fineses: West wins with the king and returns a club. With only eight tricks, South takes the diamond finesse, but it loses too, and East cashes his clubs. How many undertricks was that? Right - two. (Yes, South could resignedly settle for one down - not recommended!)

Environmental Fest held to raise public awareness

FROM STAFF REPORTS

CHULUOTA — With Thanksgiving drawing near, many parents may wonder what kinds of traditions they are passing down to their children.

With a marketplace full of the beeps and bleeps of electronic gizmos, it might be refreshing to see children's values return to the simplicity and excitement of Mother Earth, said Jan Blue, of the Chululota Trading Company.

Blue is organizing a benefit on Nov. 28, with Earth preservation as its focus. "We don't want to lose track of who we are," said Blue.

The Environmental/Endangered Species Fest will be held at Big Oaks Ranch and will include children's events from 1 until 6 p.m. There will be visits from the Florida Wolf Dog Association. CARE will feature information on endangered cat species. There will also be art education, pottery throwing and bread stringing.

Entertainment will include Native American song and dance by the Greenstone Singers and Dancers.

Several environmental groups, such as the Seminole Audubon Society, are scheduled to attend and disseminate information on protecting air, water and land.

Choral society brings 'Messiah' to Oviedo

Free concert to be offered at St. Luke's Lutheran Church on Dec. 6

FROM STAFF REPORTS

OVIEDO — For more than 25 years, the Messiah Choral Society's presentation of Handel's "Messiah" has filled the Bob Carr Performing Arts Center to overflowing.

The annual pre-Christmas concert, which features more than 100 voices with orchestral accompaniment, is scheduled for Nov. 28. But for those who do not wish to travel to Orlando, a second and third performance is available this year.

A joint gift of the society and St. Luke's Lutheran Church, the "Messiah" will be presented at no charge to the Central Florida community at the Oviedo church on Dec. 6. A performance at the Forest Lake Seventh-day Adventist Church is scheduled for Dec. 7 at 11:40 a.m.

In September of 1973, William Travis, a local church choir director, conceived the idea of assembling a group of amateur singers from the Oviedo area with the intent of presenting three performances of Handel's "Messiah" to the community. Invitations were sent to other local choirs, and enough interested singers responded to begin weekly rehearsals.

The first performance was held in December of that same year, with approximately 120 singers, and was a well-received by the public. That Travis decided to form a more permanent organization, the Messiah Choral Society, to perpetuate this activity. Travis obtained sponsorship from a local benefactor so that subsequent annual performances could be held in a formal setting, the Orlando City Municipal Auditorium (now the Bob Carr Performing Arts Center).

The present music director, Dr. John V. Sinclair, has acquired that position, and 1988, Sinclair is the chairman of the Department of Music at Rollins College and the director of the Bach Festival Choir.

Financing of the choral fund is supplied by the three previous music directors in the society's history. Dr. Sinclair has provided the choir with excellent guidance and musical instruction, taking the organization to the highest level of artistic quality it has ever enjoyed. The choir has continued to be relatively stable in size, averaging 150 members, with 80 percent of the group having five years or more of membership.

The Messiah Choral Society is a small but important effort to sustain cultural interest in the Central Florida area. The group rehearses at Rollins College, two hours every Sunday afternoon beginning the second Sunday in September through the primary performance date.

While the group is all volunteer, it has provided a unique cultural niche within the community, offering members the rare opportunity to perform as an amateur while complemented by professional orchestral and soloists. Approximately 25 musicians are employed for the performances, and two dress rehearsals. At least four professional or semi-professional soloists are also engaged.

The Charles G. Magruder Foundation, the Arts Services Council, the Orlando Downtown Development Board, the Charles Foundation, the Music Performance Trust Funds, Publix Supermarkets and Target Stores are the major donors to the Messiah Choral Society, and the group receives other funding from private and corporate foundations, small businesses and individual donations.

An active congregation, St. Luke's Lutheran Church reaches out to the community through a variety of ministries. The "Messiah" presentation is the first of three concerts that will be at the church.

Financed for the Lenten season on March 21, the Lutheran Cantata Choir will present its fourth annual concert under the direction of Dr. Paul Ebelber. This large regional choir will sing a variety of classic Christian music, including portions of St. John's and St. Matthew's Gospels.

On April 22, the University of Central Florida Orchestra under the direction of John C. Whitney will present its Spring concert at St. Luke's. The program will include a reprise of Whitney's original arrangements of Slovak folk tunes and St. Luke's student musicians will join in.

The sanctuary at St. Luke's can seat more than 1,000, and doors will open at 2 p.m. for the 7 p.m. concert. (The entrance will be barred when capacity is reached.)

St. Luke's is located at 2021 W. State Road 329. (Also, at the use Red Bug Road exit off I-95, 117 then south on S.R. 329.)

Nursery care will be provided for small children. For more information, call the church at 363-1108.

All four Lake Mary Pop Warner cheerleading squads have advanced to the State Competition to be held on Nov. 27 at the Jacksonville Coliseum.

Lake Mary Pop Warner Cheerleaders rock the Orlando Arena

FROM STAFF REPORTS

LAKE MARY — All four Lake Mary Pop Warner cheerleading squads have advanced to the State Competition to be held on Nov. 27 at the Jacksonville Coliseum.

The Mid-Florida Pop Warner Cheerleading Competition was held at the Orlando Arena on Nov. 1 and the Lake Mary squads walked away with two firsts and two seconds, with more than 100 teams vying for the title.

The Senior Midgets took first place, with Lake Brantley placing second and Dr. Phillips taking third. The Seniors' squad consists of seventh and eighth graders from both Greenwood Lakes and Rock Lake Middle Schools. The Junior Midgets also placed first, with Ocoee taking second and Lake Brantley placing third. The Junior Midgets have girls ranging from fourth to seventh grade. In the PeeWee Division, Lake Mary took second behind the Patriots.

They will compete against all regional winners throughout the state. The teams to place first and second at state will advance to the National Competition to be held at Disney World on Dec. 11.

Attitude, confidence, desire, and a lot of hard work have resulted in the wins for the squads, said Head Coach Mary Beth Mergo. "These girls give six hours a week to practicing for their competition, in addition to cheering at the football games on Saturday. If you ask any one of the girls if it's worth it, she'll smile and look at you with those determined eyes and shout, 'Yes!'"

The girls learn so much more than just cheerleading, said Mergo. They learn how to be a part of a team, they realize that it's not so much what they do individually, but what the squad does as a team. They learn respect for themselves and each other. And in the end, even with a squad of 30, they come together and compete as "one."

"These are cherished qualities that will make these girls succeed in life long after their cheerleading days are over," said Mergo.

The Lake Mary Pop Warner organization owes its success in part, said Mergo, to the hard work and dedication of the coaches and Angie Toole, Cheerleading Coordinator. Toole has served as coordinator for the past four years and has given as much time, energy and support to the organization as anyone, said Mergo. "She has proved to be the backbone of the cheerleading program."

The cheerleading squads are also helped by the Lake Mary High School cheerleaders. These girls give of themselves on a daily basis, either to their own practices or to the Pop Warner practices.

Because of the support from the high school, the young Pop Warner athletes are dedicated, devoted and ready for success by the time they reach ninth grade.

And the Jr. PeeWees took second behind Oviedo.

Hospice, 'It's about living until we die'

By Debra Wood, RN
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - Many people associate Hospice with death or dying, but for thousands of Central Floridians, it has meant much more. "It's about life. It's about quality of life," said Robert G. Wilson, president, CEO and chaplain for Hospice of the Comforter. "It isn't so much about dying. We're not funeral directors. It's about living until we die."

Hospice offers a holistic approach to caring for patients with a terminal illness. Multidisciplinary teams of nurses, nursing assistants, social workers, chaplains and volunteers help patients remain comfortable, so they can live each day to its fullest potential.

"We're looking at the whole person and addressing the whole person's needs," Wilson said. "We manage the pain. If there's the nausea, we get that under control. Then we start talking about their life and memories and their hopes for the family."

Hospice patients receive palliative, or comfort care, not curative treatments. But that does not mean a sooner death. "I'm convinced that instead of shortening life, Hospice extends life," Wilson said. "When the pain is managed, the symptoms are under control and the person has a better outlook. Then they live longer."

Wilson, a former hospital chaplain, and Robert J. Watson, a businessman, formed the hospice nine years ago. After organizing the operations, fund-raising, and preparing policies and procedures, Hospital of the Comforter began caring for patients in 1990. This month, the nonprofit Hospice of the Comforter admitted its 2,000th patient.

"It developed gradually, and it has been very successful in making a difference," Wilson explained. "We wanted to have a significant ministry that touched people's lives in very positive and helpful ways, and a sound business, so we could be around next year to continue it."

The Altamonte Springs-based Hospice cares for children and adults throughout the tri-county area.

"The privilege of serving 2,000 families and making this experience a little better for them is the high point," Wilson said.

Hospice counsels the patient and family about what to expect and focuses on appreciating and enjoying the remaining time they have together. As the death approaches, families do not have to be alone. Hospice staffers are on call 24 hours a day to help the patient or their families. After the death, Hospice offers bereavement services for one year.

"Our focus is on quality of care and going the extra mile," Wilson said. "Asking what's the most we can do to help these people, seeing it as a moral imperative to be helpful and supportive and help them finish their lives with their families in the most positive way possible."

Thoroughly trained volunteers stay with patients to give caregivers a break, run errands and offer support. Hospice of the Comforter has more than 150 volunteers. Many are involved in patient and bereavement services, some provide administrative and fund-raising support, and others tackle handyman projects, such as building wheelchair ramps.

"We try to incorporate [volunteers] into every area of the Hospice that we can," said Jo Dyer, director of volunteer services. "It's at or over $100,000 per year that they generally save us."

Medicare, Medicaid and insurance plans pay for most Hospice care. To qualify, the referring physician must certify the patient has a life-threatening, end-stage illness.

"Our challenge is late referrals," Watson said. "People aren't getting the amount of that benefit that's available to them or could be helpful to them when we get the patient three days before they die."

Hospice patients must want to remain at home, have a caregiver and personal physician, and decline artificial life-support measures.

"So far this year, we've provided more than $160,000 in free care," Wilson said. "We turn nobody away, regardless of ability to pay if they qualify and desire the service."

November is National Hospice Month. If you'd like to know more about Hospice care or volunteer with the nonprofit Hospice of the Comforter, call 682-0808.

Keeping your toothbrush clean and germ free

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

CHICAGO - Patients can take steps to keep their toothbrushes clean but some creative methods may actually do more harm than good, said a Chicago dentist.

"I think that many patients have become much more conscious of their toothbrush and the fact that it can become a repository for germs," explains Terri Tiersky, DDS, JD, a general dentist who practices on Chicago's North Side. "It's important for patients to remember that toothbrushes have a certain life span and should be thrown away more frequently than in the past—usually at three months. Bristles can become worn down and are then less effective in cleaning teeth anyway."

Tiersky notes that toothbrushes are not sterile instruments and are thrust into the oral cavity—essentially a contaminated atmosphere—several times per day, if the brusher is conscientious. "I would recommend that patients place their toothbrushes in glasses that contain mouthrinse with alcohol to kill germs," said Tiersky. "There should be only one toothbrush per glass and the mouthrinse needs to be changed every other day or so. This method should keep germs to a minimum."

Tiersky notes that she has heard some very interesting methods of sterilizing toothbrushes. "Recently, a 12-year-old girl conducted a science project in which she placed the toothbrush in the dishwasher," said Tiersky. "This method probably kills germs but I think the intense heat in the dishwasher causes more wear and tear on the brush, so that bristles become splayed out and going all over the place. You would end up replacing the brush more often anyway."

Another method is placing the brush in the microwave. "This method really sounds great but the pad containing the bristles usually is stapled to the brush and holds it in place," she said. "The metal in the staple can distort the microwaves and do some serious damage to your microwave oven."

Sprays are marketed to disinfect brushes. "So far, I'm not really impressed with these but they have great promise," she said.

The most logical solution, said Tiersky, is to simply change brushes more often. "Americans change their brushes only once every nine months while Japanese consumers change their brushes every 3.1 months," she said. "Toothbrushes generally should not be kept in one cup or close together as is generally the custom in this country. I recommend that patients who have had colds or influenza change after their illnesses to avoid infecting other family members or re-infecting themselves. People who are immunocompromised should change brushes as often as once a week."

The change will do you good, said Tiersky. "There is a wide variety of brushes from which to choose, and most are less expensive than a large order of French fries," she said. "It's worth the investment."

Free Spanish-English brochure on controlling high blood pressure for women now available

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

WASHINGTON, DC - The Alliance for Aging Research and the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute announces a new Spanish-English brochure on high blood pressure. The free bilingual brochure titled, "Controlling High Blood Pressure: A Guide for Older Women," is an educational resource for Hispanic older women about high blood pressure and how to control or prevent it for themselves and their families.

"We hope this brochure will convince older Hispanic women of the importance of controlling their hypertension. Most of all we hope that it will motivate them to adopt a healthy lifestyle and to take any medications prescribed by their physician," said NHLBI Director, Dr. Claude Lenfant.

As they age, at least 50 percent of Hispanic women are predicted to develop hypertension. More than half of all women over age 60 have this condition which, if uncontrolled, can lead to heart attack, heart failure, kidney disease, stroke, and other complications. While three of every four women with high blood pressure know they have it, fewer than one in three are controlling it.

"Older people, especially women, need to take action and communicate with their doctors about high blood pressure," said Daniel Perry, executive director of the Alliance. "That is why we have developed the Spanish-English brochure, which will allow us to communicate with an even broader audience about the importance of being heart healthy."

Individuals can obtain a free copy of the Spanish-English brochure by calling the NHLBI/Department of Health and Human Services Office of Minority Health Information Line at (800) 282-9126. For consumers or health care providers who wish to order multiple copies, e-mail the Alliance at info@agingresearch.org or write to the Alliance for Aging Research, 2021 K Street, NW, Suite 305, Washington, DC 20006. (Cost for brochures: 2499 copies are $35 each and 500 or more copies are $25 each) A clinical guide is also available for professionals.

The National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute is one of the 18 Institutes that comprise the National Institutes of Health. NHLBI provides leadership for a national program in disease of the heart, blood vessels, blood, lungs and the use of blood and the management of blood resources. The Alliance for Aging Research is the nation's leading advocacy organization for research to improve the health and independence of older Americans. This program is made possible by a professional grant from Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wayne Tuttle Jr.

Vavreck-Tuttle vows exchanged

Nicola Ann Vavreck and Kenneth Wayne Tuttle, Jr. are announcing their marriage today. They were united in the Sacrament of Holy Matrimony on Feb. 28, 1998 in a traditional double ring ceremony. The Rev. Kenneth Schnipke officiated at Nativity Catholic Church, Longwood.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vavreck of Lake Mary. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Agnes Leigey and the late Mr. Willard Leigey of Clearfield, PA and the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vavreck, Sr. of Hawk Run, PA. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Potter of Altamonte Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tuttle, Sr. of Sarasota.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Burrell of Sarasota, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Tuttle of Greensboro, NC, the late Mr. John Kaufman of Okeechobee, and Mr. and Mrs. George Potter of Sarasota.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk peau de soie a-line princess silhouette gown fashioned with a delicate curved off-the-shoulder neckline embellished with beautiful delicately placed pearls and adorned with authentic Austrian crystals. The back of the gown was accented with trailing miniature buttons. She wore opera length silk gloves. The gown had a cathedral length train that was hand-embroidered with the bride and groom's initials "N" and "K". The bride wore a silver tiara adorned with Austrian crystals and pearls with cathedral length veiling. A mixed bouquet of white and candlelight roses, with cascading rosary beads wrapped with chiffon and silk ribbon was carried by the bride.

The maid of honor, Juli Vavreck, sister of the bride, wore an a-line black velvet and crepe tiara gown adorned with an L'Amour satin bow. Attendants were Tiffany Potter, sister of the groom, Kimberly Bishop, cousin of the groom, Lisa Schaffer, Nancy Tuttle, Laura Gouldy, Lynn Trammell, and junior attendant Candice Shipp, friends of the bride. The bride's attendants wore simple classic black crepe tiara gowns accented with an L'Amour satin bow on the bodice with trailing miniature buttons down the back. All attendants wore matching opera length gloves and carried bouquets of white and pink blush roses wrapped with chiffon and silk ribbon similar to that of the bride.

The best man was Randy Ramroth, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Mark Vavreck, brother of the bride, Hank Sullivan, cousin of the groom, Dustin Tully, David Taulbee, Edward Norton, William Stripp, and Errol Bannister, friends of the groom. The groom and his attendants wore tuxedos of traditional style.

Flower girls were Lauren Lavole, Brooke Lavole, Jordan Ramroth and Kristin Shipp, friends of the bride and groom. The flower girls wore handmade European

After 60 years, Bernoskys 'still go like a house on fire'

When William Raymond Bernosky took Dorothy Elizabeth Taylor for his bride Oct. 29, 1938 in Flatwoods, Pa., a lasting love story was about to begin.

Dorothy and William met at a dance in June and were married in October. "It will never last," an aunt proclaimed.

And now, 60 years later, the couple are blessed with more love and family unity than ever. "This is a family of love," William "Bill" R. Bernosky, their eldest son said. "Not an unkind word is ever said against any family member. It's unique that we get along so well."

Bill recalled how some families don't get along, are always squabbling and this one doesn't speak to that one. "But not our family," he added.

William, 83, a first generation Lithuanian, and Dorothy, 77, of Welsh and English descent, were born about 20 miles apart in Elizabeth and Star Junction, Pa. Due to Dorothy's health, they sold out, packed their five boys in the car and headed for Sanford.

SENIOR EDITOR

DORIS DIETRICH

William had a friend who knew Bob Gregory of Gregory Lumber Company, and when he called to apply for a job, was hired that day in July 1956. He later went into construction.

Dorothy had her hands full raising five sons who have their own claims to success. She said they never gave her any trouble. Four of these sons, Bill, Thomas J., Robert Earl and Daniel Dean were in law enforcement, and at one time they were all officers with the Sanford Police Department. The fifth son, David, is a site supervisor at the new Denver Airport in Colorado. Daniel is presently a lieutenant with the Florida Highway Patrol in Sarasota County. Bill and Thomas are retired and Robert Earl is employed by Atchley Appliances in Orange City.

"All five sons married local girls and we raised our families here (Sanford)," Bill said proudly. William and Dorothy have 16 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren to generate some very large family gatherings.

Around the Sanford area, Dorothy has catered more than her fair share of weddings. She is well-remembered for baking and decorating sensational wedding and other cakes. She still enjoys baking and cooking and likes to play bingo. Dorothy catered her 50th wedding anniversary celebration for 150 guests and has catered all her children's and grandchildren's weddings. She has already made 75 pounds of Christmas candies, several fruitcakes and other Christmas goodies for the forthcoming holiday season.

Independent and fun-loving, the Bernoskys are active in All Souls Catholic Church. He has his truck and she has her car and they drive all over. William does all his yard work and trimming and always grows a garden.

"They go like a house on fire," Bill said. "They maintain their home and, as yet, none of the five sons don't do a thing for them."

The Bernoskys reaffirmed their vows on Saturday at All Souls with Father Trout as the officiating clergyman. The next day they were honored at a catered dinner for family and friends at Bill Keller Park in DeBary.

Would Dorothy do it all over again?

"Oh yes! If for no other reasons...my five sons."

The five sons to whom she taught respect, how to work, to follow rules and regulations, how to be good citizens, how to love....

Sanford women installed to Northern Region Advisory Council of ALPI

"Empowering Families and Community Toward Unity" was the theme of the 1998 annual meeting of the Agricultural and Labor Program, Inc. Northern Region Advisory Council held his meeting on Nov. 14 at the Hal Marston Center, Orlando.

Advisory council chairperson, Grace Miller, presided. Musical selections, "What God Has For Me It Is For Me," and "How Can I Say Thanks" were sang by Eloise W. Dilliguard and her daughter Jasmine George, of Sanford.

The New Zion Praise Team presented sign language to the selections "Joy Comes in the Morning" and "The Storm Is Over" under the direction of Dorothy Holmes of the New Zion Primitive Baptist Church, Sanford. The Praise Team members are youth of the church.

Council member and chairperson of the annual meeting, Cynthia K. Oliver, presented the speaker of the hour, Dr. Velma H. Williams, City of Sanford Commissioner and corporate member of ALPI. Her message of strength, information and concern about Americans, and most importantly the youth, must realize that education must be one of the top priorities of becoming an outstanding American. Dr. Williams encouraged the home, church, school and the community to get involved in Empowering Families and Community Toward Unity.

After this message of challenges to all, Dr. Williams, Sandra Gaines and Cynthia Oliver were installed as members of the Northern Region Advisory Council of the ALPI.

The community service awards for 1998 was presented to Sweet Harmony Order of Eastern Star Chapter No. 388, Eartha Melton, Worthy Matron and members were honored for the great Christian service rendered to those in need in the Sanford and Seminole County area.

Retiring county commissioner of Orlando, Mable Butler, also received the 1998 Community Service Award for her dynamic dedication to the residents of Orlando. ALPI CEO Delores Johnson brought greetings from the corporate office and staff. She congratulated the region on the success and growth of the Northern Region Advisory Council.

The program adjourned with a tasty luncheon prepared by caterer Ernest Culbeth.

AARP learns all about the SALI college program for senior adults

Any meeting that starts out with a free lunch is already a good meeting. At the November meeting, the Lake Mary Chapter of the AARP members were treated to lunch by Renaissance, a retirement community in Sanford.

During the business meeting, Norma Smith presented the slate of officers for the upcoming year. The slate was accepted as presented. The officers are: John Schiermann, president; Cynthia Pitcock, first vice president; Jack White, second vice president; Jim Carmona, treasurer; and Helen McCreedy, secretary. The Board of Directors will be Val Sanderson, Mabel May, Norma Smith, Marie Kuhns, Henry Jehan, Marge Carmona, Tom Dresser and Addie Rossi.

Legislative Committee Chair Jack White told members that the National AARP is working on a Patient's Bill of Rights specifically for people with HMOs. He'll keep the members updated on this. Health Service Chair Henry Jehan asked members to make sure they read the magazine "Modern Maturity" this month. There are changes coming to Medicare and they are outlined in the magazine. The changes, some of which go into effect Jan. 1, 1999, will be a bit confusing at first. The important thing to remember, Henry warned, is that you need to read everything about your insurance, especially the fine print. Many SHINE (Serving the Health Insurance Needs of the Elderly) members just completed their training in Jacksonville. So if you get really confused, feel free to call SHINE.

President Jim Carmona reminded members about the AARP annual Christmas luncheon, Tuesday, Dec. 15. Bistro Cappuccino was such a hit last year, the party will be held there again this year. Members have until Dec. 10 to get in their reservation.

The guest speaker for the November meeting was Pat Evans from Seminole Community College. She came to tell the AARP members all about SALI, the Seminole Adult Learning Institute. The program, only a year old at SCC, is designed to provide college level continuing education opportunities for people 50 and over.

SALI offers three sessions throughout the year: Fall, Winter and Spring. For a flat fee of $39, you can take as many classes in one session as you can make time for. Fall classes included Greek/Roman Mythology and Fairy Tales; Languages of the World; Discover Computers and more. SALI membership also includes social and travel opportunities. Recent events included a Valentine's Dance Social, a visit to the Seminole County Historical Museum, a trip to the Ringling Museum in Sarasota and a trip to San Miguel and Guanajuato, Mexico. Your membership means that you are a student at SCC and entitled to be the same access to all SCC has to offer, including sporting events, theater presentations, use of the library and more.

For more information on the SALI program, call 328-4722, extension 1-3373.

CUBS COLLECT FOOD

It's a good turn that scouts participate in every year. The first weekend in November, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts drop bags off at houses in neighborhoods all over Florida. The following weekend, the scouts pick the bags up loaded with food.

Scouts in the Lake Mary area took their food to the Winn Dixie parking lot where volunteers sorted and boxed the food on site. Scouting for Food is one of the most successful community service projects the scouts participate in all year long.

tea-length silk dresses accented with a bluish colored sash and bow. All wore fresh ivy halos and silk gloves. The flower girls carried a swag of ivy adorned with baby's breath, the ring pillow and a basket filled with rose petals which were thrown before the bride's entrance.

Michelle Bannister, friend of the bride, served as the guest book attendant. Betty Brazzell, friend of the bride's family, Tiffany Potter and Lisa Schaffer, attendants to the bride, were readers during the mass.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom and their families were escorted by vintage cars to the reception at The Country Club at Heathrow. As the festivities began, guests were greeted with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres and later served a sit down dinner. White colored chairs encircled the dinner tables where artfully displayed clusters of white flowers were arranged atop of tall sterling silver pedestals with candles. The entertainment was provided by the string quartet and a pianist throughout dinner followed by an evening of more music and dancing. The dinner's sweet finale was the bride's elegant nine tier European influenced fondant cake adorned with tender hand-painted blush porcelain-like sugar paste roses simply accented with dotted Swiss and English ivy. The top of the cake featured a dramatic cluster of sugar bows and each tier was accented with trailing miniature sugar bows.

The groom's cake was in the shape of a Florida Gator, the mascot of the University of Florida, of which the groom is an alumni.

Family and out-of-town guests joined the bride and groom on Sunday for a farewell brunch. Once the festivities had come to a close, the bride and groom headed for a fun-filled and relaxing honeymoon skiing in Vail and Beaver Creek, Col.

The newlyweds are at home now in Winter Springs. Nicola is employed as an accountant with Siemens Corporation and Kenneth is employed as a real estate appraiser with a Winter Park firm.

Kappa Sigma Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Sorority Inc. held its annual Mature Citizens Thanksgiving Luncheon at Fellowship Hall, First Presbyterian Church-Park Avenue at Fourth Street on Saturday. About 30 guests attended the luncheon. Soror Thelma Kendrick chaired the event and Soror Bobria Alexander was the mistress of ceremonies.

Thelma Mike, executive director of the Good Samaritan Home in Sanford was the featured speaker. Changes in funding for Senior Citizens Health Care and the need for each senior to pay strict attention to their prescriptions was emphasized. She also spoke of the need for mature citizens to be involved as volunteers with the various agencies and boards in Seminole County. She recalled that Jeb Bush, governor-elect, and Lt. Gov. Frank Brogan had visited the Good Samaritan Home. Mike said she believes they are genuinely interested in the welfare of senior citizens, because unlike many politicians they didn't bring a television crew." Tender Loving Care cards were completed by all the guests about questions relative to their needs. The sorors plan to follow up with the request indicated on each guest card. Presentations of flowers, gifts and gift certificates were made to the guest.

Standing in for the president (Basileus) Soror Eddy K. was the vice president (Anti-Basileus) Lurlene Sweeting. She thanked everyone for their participation and said she "hoped that if it was God's will we would all be sharing another Thanksgiving Luncheon in 1999". The entire meal was prepared and served by the sorors and their helpers.

Committee members were sorors Bobria Alexander, Thelma Kendrick, Donna Sweeting and Lurlene Sweeting. Other sorors assisting with the luncheon were Kathryn Alexander, Carolyn Coleman, Mia Coleman, Brenda Ford, Celeste Hurley, Meriam Johnson, Margaret Oliver, Delores Myles and Vivian Youngblood.

Retired live-in father holds special place in busy family

DEAR ABBY: I have read many letters in your column over the years that have made my writing fingers tingle, but "Papa Know-It-All" made me race to my word processor. This guy would try the patience of a saint!

ADVICE ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Abby, my 76-year-old father has lived with us for more than four years. I'm blessed with a wonderful father. I don't know what I'd do without him. While my husband and I work long hours, Dad tends to the household chores, takes care of the four pets, runs errands, works part time, volunteers in his spare time and socializes with friends of all ages. He knows when to butt out of our business and asks us if we're interested in his opinion. He also pays his own living expenses out of his Social Security income and wages.

with me about my answer. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: You gave good counsel to "Papa Luke's Prisoners." However, I think the Serenity Prayer has been overworked in recent years.

"Lord, this situation stinks and we both know it. Now, I'm going to try something different, because what I've been doing hasn't been working. And if Thou wishest to contribute to the miracle, be my guest!" THE REV. D.M. MEKKER, JOPLIN, MO.

DEAR ABBY: I recently received a wedding invitation from a relative in Oregon. I was surprised to see enclosed with the invitation a bank deposit slip and a request to help pay for the mortgage on their "dream house." Is this a common practice with wedding invitations? STUMPED IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR STUMPED: Send a gift and ignore the request for money... unless you can send a little toy bird that says "Cheap, cheap!"

SSS CLASS OF 1953 MAKES 45TH REUNION

It was a hot time in the old home town Nov. 13, 14 and 15 when the Seminole High school Class of 1953 gathered for the 45th class reunion in Sanford. According to Janice Springfield, since the 10th class reunion, the friendly and fun-loving classmates have gathered every five years to be together. The committee started meeting about six months ago and had a lot of fun planning the event, Janice said. "We had a great time," she said. "It was so much fun."

BRIDGE SOCIAL

Dressed in a long seafoam green dress, complemented with coordinated jewelry, Fran Webster was hostess with the mostest when she greeted members of the Bridge Club to her new lakefront home. She served delectable refreshments to her guests "to feed the soul and great cards to spur us on to a slam contract." Libby Prevatt said. Winners were Thelma Smith, iting one of their favorite haunts of their school era, the Rita Theatre, due to nearby street renovation.

At the banquet Saturday night, the class sponsors and their spouses introduced were Nellie and Body Coleman and Roger and Louise Harris. Other VIPs introduced were Ernie Cowley, band director and his wife, Jan.

Janice said 32 classmates attended the event, along with their spouses. They viewed a video taken of Sanford in 1952 which proved to be most enjoyable and interesting. Door Prizes were donated by Sanford merchants and the group enjoyed shopping at the Heritage Festival going on in downtown Sanford. Janice made special mention of classmate Capt. Terry Cordell, son of Sanford Mayor Denver Cordell, who was the first officer in the United States killed in the Vietnam War. Terry, an outstanding student who excelled in sports and academics, has a school award in his memory which is presented annually.

And now, the gang can't wait for the 50th reunion which will take place next century. The committee, along with emcee Janice, included: Barbara Flynt Ray, Mary Ann Bukur Bruce, Janette Ratliff Carr, Kitty Nix Corley, Beverly Benton Douthitt, Joan Wright Ludwig, June Vance Miller, Linda Leonard Robb, Joe Pickens and Edwin Tyson.

Da' Bomb!

What's up in and out of the classrooms of Seminole County

SC - Seminole Herald, Sanford, Florida - Sunday, November 22, 1998

Da' Bomb hears all...

Da Bomb says anybody in Sanford who doesn't go the Seminole High School carnival this weekend is missing out on a great thing. Last year the event wasn't a big draw, but weather wasn't too great either. The gang at Seminole put on a great show so check it out.

Da Bomb says all of the Seminole County schools have to start selling pizza at their basketball games. Why do you think Winter Springs gets so much coverage? (Just kidding).

If all local organizations helped out the schools as much as the folks at Alaquia with Hamilton Elementary, Da Bomb says the kids would be in a really great school district. It's awesome to see businesses helping out like they do at Hamilton.

Speaking of businesses helping out, Da Bomb says thanks for the kudos, Sanford Middle School.

Da Bomb wasn't able to attend, but he heard the dinner theater presentation at Lyman High School was great last weekend.

Speaking of Lyman, Da Bomb says you need more visitors' parking. It's tough to find a spot over there with only three visitors' spaces in the whole lot.

Hey Winter Springs: Da Bomb says great job hosting the county marching band festival last month. The whole district showed up and it sounded great.

Lion's Tale captures state honors

By Alex Kane
HERALD STAFF WRITER

The Oviedo High School newspaper, The Lion's Tale, earned the title of Gold Medalist by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The newspaper, produced by a class of 30 students under sponsor Debra Jepson, have shown themselves motivated to lift their publication to this plateau. "Everybody works together. Everybody knows what they have to do, and they do it," said Opinion Editor/Copy Editor Christine Brownyard.

The Lion's Tale is a combination of journalistic writing and original graphic approaches. Innovation is the thrust of Oviedo's paper.

What has helped Oviedo reach the point is has? "Advertising," said staff writer Jeff Tillwick. "We try to have enough money to run every issue in color." The paper has no one editor, but an executive team composed of two seniors (Sofia Kazl and Laura Hoffman) and two juniors (Jessica Harrison and Samantha Riepel).

"The people on staff make for an interesting newspaper and an interesting class," said Kazl.

The well-designed and well-written newspaper is unique in its professionalism and its diversity. The standard pages of News, Feature, and Sports show a unique style and meticulous design. The Lion's Tale also contains Diversions. Diversions is just that, with articles sometimes similar to an Arts and Entertainment page, but best described as a page for stories not usually found in a student publication. This year, the subjects on this page have ranged from Marilyn Manson to Titanic.

The students who produce the newspaper do not yet find themselves content with it. The newspaper continues to improve as plans continue to form to make it even better. There are notions of adding national news to the format. The staff also plans to continue to try innovative approaches to laying out the paper.

Filled by students who care about making theirs the best of all possible newspapers, The Lion's Tale has earned an impressive distinction.

Don't turn basketball into a game of politics

By Arthur Booth
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

So I'm pretty sure you have all heard about the pro babies, er, basketball players complaining that they are not getting enough money.

I am so sick and tired of hearing this from pro athletes. First it was the baseball players and thanks to Mark McGwire, people are finally starting to like baseball again. So now we're going to go through the same thing with baseball players again.

I think they should just fire them all. Not a single one of the players is worth a million dollars, not Jordan, Olajuwon or Ewing. I know at least a million people who would love to play the game for less than half of what they make and some of these people would probably enjoy themselves. Spots are supposed to be about having fun and exercising. Where was I when the sports became about politics and money?

Some of these players get paid trillions of dollars a year for sitting on the bench. Then they have to jack up the ticket prices so they can pay athletes that can't even touch their own feet. They should be happy that they get paid to play sports. Heck, I'd play for free. So why can't they just be happy with the millions of dollars that they rake in for their shoe sales. We don't get our own shoes and we work harder than they did.

So, since all pro athletes seem to be such babies, let's treat them like babies and not go to their games.

They would have to lower

Arthur Booth has a pretty good game of his own and plays ball all over Seminole County. He goes to Greenwood Lakes and plays on several youth teams.

prices and players' salaries. So then they might actually learn how to play the game for fun.

There is no fun in politics. Arthur Booth is an eighth grader at Greenwood Lakes Middle School.

Thumbs Up

Adam Babington, a Florida State University student and a graduate of Lake Mary High School, won a state writing contest for his script based on Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man. He received a cash prize from the Florida Council Teachers of English. Last year, he was selected as one of the outstanding English students at Lake Mary.

Robyn Landey, of Longwood and a sophomore at Lake Mary High School will compete on the United States Karate Team in Miskolc, Hungary on Dec. 4-6. She has won the state championship and took a Gold Medal at the Junior Olympics last year.

Sarah Marshall was named Editor of The Pathfinder, Indian Trails Middle School's newspaper. She has been on staff for two years.

Barbara Brown, a past advisor to the Lakeview Mustang yearbook, received 941 out of a perfect 1,000 points for the 1998 Lake Mary High School yearbook, becoming a gold medalist. It is the highest award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Several Seminole County students were named to the Dean's List at Columbia College in Missouri. They included: Bernard Johns, Brian Greene, Shannon Howell, and Stephanie McKeon of Altamonte Springs, and Rose Phillips of Casselberry.

James P. McCroan III, of Winter Springs and a student at Trinity Prep, was named to the Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Ashley Brewer, daughter of Terry and Bonny Brewer, and a sophomore at Oviedo High School, was recently named to the Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Bradley Daniels, son of Lyle and Gloria Daniels of Lake Mary, and a senior at Lake Mary High School, was recently named to the Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Several Seminole County students were recently nominated for the national Wendy's High School Heisman award, an national award that honors student-athletes from all over the country. Seminole County athletes include: Karlin Cloninger (Oviedo), Loudhia David (Lyman), Krista Edmondson (Lake Brantley), Jonathan Hubbard (Seminole), Joseph Kenshi (Lake Brantley), John Roth (Oviedo), Robert Stachow (Lyman), Mary Leah Sutton (Lake Mary), Lori Thomas (Seminole), and Justin Wright (Lake Mary).

I had a blast at the Heritage Festival

Maxwell C. Butler went to the Sanford Heritage Festival last week and saw his mom get (almost) sick on one of the rides. He has a great time as well.

Maxwell C. Butler
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

I went to the Sanford Heritage Festival Saturday with my mom and two sisters.

I went on the merry-go-round and the Moonwalk. I won a blue blow-up hammer that I could hit my sisters with. My mom gave me $5 to spend on whatever I wanted and I found a frog necklace for only $3.

I had the frog necklace, but I wanted a different one so they let me change it to a peace sign one.

I got to see Chubby Checker. I liked the "Twist" and I made my sister Marjorie's Alien dance (Marjorie won it from a duck game).

Then we saw Kellie and Jeff from my mom's work when we were eating funnel cake.

Then Jeff took me on the Moonwalk one more time while my mom and Kellie went on the Skymaster.

When I was done on the Moonwalk, I went to go watch my mom get sick on the ride. While I was watching then, someone took my blue hammer so we went to get another one, but this time I got orange.

I had fun and then we went home.

I hope we can go again next year.

Maxwell C. Butler is a kindergarten at Lake Mary Elementary School who had just a little bit of help from his mom and sister.

Tajiri concert to raise money for AAUW

By Jeanne Hughes
HERALD STAFF WRITER

WINTER PARK - The Orlando/Winter Park Branch of the American Association of University Women will present a concert by the children from Tajiri Arts School of Arts and Academics in Sanford.

The AAUW, comprised of women graduates working toward or having bachelor's or higher degrees, strives to create educational, employment, and social equality for women and girls.

"It is an educated group of women trying to give back to education through scholarships and educational programs," said Donna Kaufman, member of the Orlando/Winter Park Branch. "We are a well kept secret in the community, but we want to change that."

Though the group may not be well known it is very active within the Seminole and Orange county communities.

AAUW members partner with Junior Achievement and go into Seminole and Orange county classrooms to consult with students and teachers. In March, Women's History Month, the AAUW presents women's achievements programs to area school children.

The AAUW assisted the League of Women Voters with a drive to register new voters, and members helped as poll workers during the recent elections. The AAUW also participates with other groups in a diversity discussion group with Orlando Mayor Glenda Hood.

The concert with Tajiri Arts is this year's major fund-raising event for AAUW and will fund national and local scholarships.

Tajiri Arts, founded in 1988, works with ethnically diverse youth to enhance education, self-respect, self-discipline, and self-worth through academic enrichment, entrepreneurship, and the performing arts.

Founder Patricia Merritt Whatley is a former special education teacher for Seminole County Schools and holds a bachelor of arts degree in Elementary Education and a master of arts degree in Administration and Supervision.

Patricia Whatley is the founder of Sanford's Tajiri School.

Whatley has been recognized as an outstanding educator, most recently being named Educator of the Year (1998) by the Sanford Optimist Club.

The award-winning school has trained more than 550 students since its inception. After-school programs provide students, ranging in age from three to 19 years old, with training in a variety of musical, dance and dramatic arts. Skills for life are also a part of the Tajiri Arts curriculum. Students receive academic tutorial, speech, entrepreneurial and etiquette instruction.

Whatley takes pride in the accomplishments of her students. Tajiri Arts student Terry McKinney, a senior at Seminole High School is a national oratorical winner and the state president of Future Business Leaders of America.

Students from Tajiri Arts have taken first place honors at the state level in the Optimist Club's Oratory Championships in 1995, 1996 and 1998. Many of Whatley's students have gone on to attend law and engineering schools and prestigious universities such as Yale and Howard University in Washington, DC.

The AAUW has solicited help from the business community in order to showcase the talents of these children. Phoenix Tool & Plastics is among the corporate sponsors for the concert. Phoenix, a Central Florida manufacturer in Sanford, provides custom injection molding for the plastics industry. Corporate sponsors purchase blocks of 10 tickets or more and will receive recognition during the concert program.

The concert will be held Dec. 6 at 3 p.m. in the Winter Park High School auditorium. Tickets are $10. For tickets or sponsorship information call (407) 774-8028.

MOVIE TRIVIA

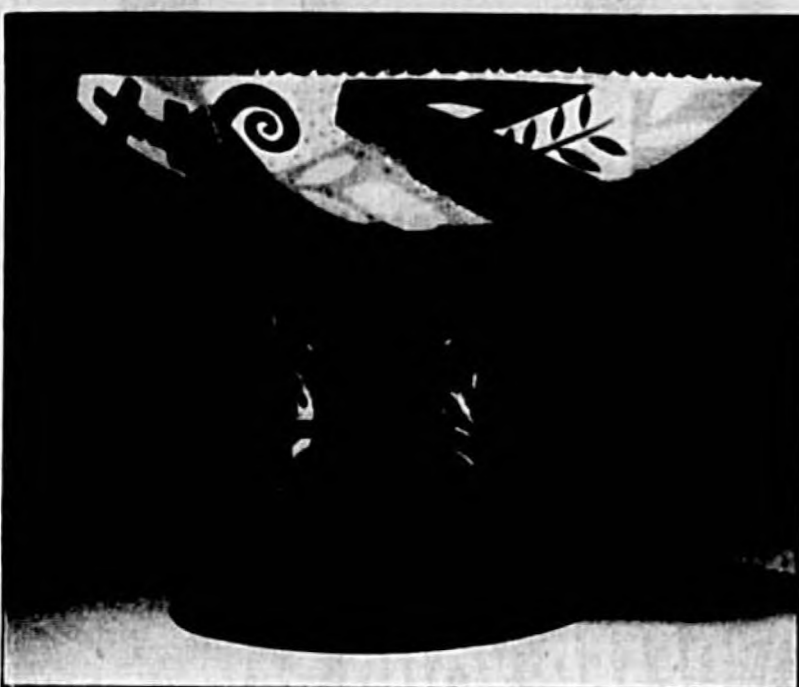

Q. Although I do hope you will have some way of looking up what I am writing about, I'm afraid it will be hard to do. I am 91 years old, and for years an old song has often run through my head. I have an idea it is from an old movie. If that is true, what is the name of the movie, who sang the tune, and when was the movie made? It goes like this: "Come ye back to Mandalay/Where the old Botilla lay/And the dawn comes up like thunder/Out of China comes the bay." — G.M.B., Kalamazoo, Mich.

A. That's an old standard — "On the Road to Mandalay" — which didn't come from a movie. It was adapted from a poem, "Mandalay," by Rudyard Kipling.

Q. Some years ago, I saw a movie called "Hunting Party." I believe the stars were Gene Hackman, Candice Bergen and Oliver Reed. Are my facts correct, and is there a video out? — Unsigned

A. You have the facts on that 1971 film exactly right, but there is no video available.

Basketball

DAYTONA BEACH - Tickets for the Bethune-Cookman College vs. Georgetown University Basketball Game set for 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 30 at the Daytona Beach Ocean Center are now on sale at Ticketmaster locations.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $7 for students with college or high school identification and $5 for children 12 and under.

This is the second contest between the Wildcats and the Hoyas, featuring a "father vs. son" matchup of Georgetown veteran coach John Thompson and former Georgetown standout and Bethune-Cookman College head coach Horace Broadnax.

"I'm glad to have the opportunity to have Georgetown play in the state of Florida, since I never got a chance as a Georgetown player to play here in the state," said Broadnax, a member of the 1984 Georgetown national championship team and native of Plant City. Last year, the Wildcats lost 85-41 to the Hoyas in Washington, D.C.

"I hope we're a better ball team than last year. Whether Georgetown is better than last year, I don't know. Our players understand the significance of the game since I'm from Georgetown."

The Georgetown matchup is the second major college basketball program to play Bethune-Cookman College at the Ocean Center in the past two years. Last year, the Wildcats hosted No. 1 ranked North Carolina and native son Vince Carter.

Bethune-Cookman College Athletic Director, Lynn Thompson said this is a continuation of the college's commitment to draw quality athletic events to Volusia County. "We are excited about bringing one of the nations' top ranked teams to Daytona, which proves for the second year in a row that the Volusia County sports fans can be a part of big time athletics with Bethune-Cookman."

Ocean Center Assistant Director, Chad Smith said, "We feel very honored that Bethune-Cookman College has given us this opportunity to host another game of this level, and we hope that college basketball fans throughout Volusia County will come out and support the Wildcats."

Santa hotline

If your child would enjoy a phone call from Santa Claus, send a registration form, payment and letter to: Youth Programs North Pole Extension, SCC, 100 Weldon Blvd., Sanford, FL 32773.

6199. Please include your child's name, age, telephone number, special interests, and Christmas wish list. Please indicate which day and time is best. Phone calls will be made Dec. 7 through Dec. 10 between 6 and 8 p.m. Cost is 46 per child. All letters must be received by Dec. 3. For more information call (407) 328-4722, ext. 3493.

Playreading

SANFORD - Seminole Community College Fine Arts Theatre presents a playreading of the political spoof Jungle Rot on Dec. 3, 4 and 5 at 8 p.m., and Dec. 6 at 2 p.m.

Jungle Rot, a comedy by Seth Greenland, is based on actual CIA activities in the Congo in the 1960s. John Stillman is languishing as the CIA station chief in the Congo in 1960, when his career gets an unexpected shot in the arm. He receives a cable from the Eisenhower White House ordering him to assassinate Congo's president! Stillman is horrified by the assignment and more shocked by the reaction of his wife, Pattence, who thinks this could be a great career move. The plan quickly dissolves into a comedy of errors and unexpected results.

The SCC production features students Tanasha Burns, Abe First-Page, Andrew Hawkins, John LeMieux, Bill Mitchell, Jared Morris, Brian Nolan, Tiffany Orf, Michael Oldaker, Lori Simunek, Laurnell Williams and is directed by theater faculty Paul Luby.

The reading is free and reservations are not required. For more information call (407) 328-2039.

Craft show

TAMPA - The 1998 American Craft Council Craft Show, the largest indoor museum-quality, juried show in Florida will be held Dec. 4 through 6 at the Tampa Convention Center, 333 S. Franklin St., downtown Tampa.

The sixth annual show will feature approximately 200 of America's best contemporary craft artists. Works of art will include hand-blown glass; clay and ceramic objects; contemporary jewelry; designer clothing; metal works such as lamps, candle sticks and eating utensils; leather purses, briefcases and shoes; wooden furniture and more.

The show will be open Dec. 4 & 5 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Dec. 6 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. One-day admission is $5 for adults, children under 12 and ACC members are free. The Society is located at 137 W. Michigan Ave., DeLand, FL 32720. For more information call (904) 740-6813.

Ceramic, photographic exhibition open

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

DELAND - An exhibition by Lake Helen photographer Anna Tomczak and Stuart, Florida ceramic sculptor Cheryl Tall is currently housed at Stetson University, DeLand.

Gatherings: 21 Years of Photographs is Tomczak's presentation of photographs including polacolor transfers, digital iris prints, painted silver prints, cyanotypes, and hand-made books. While the Lake Helen resident is well known to Central Florida art enthusiasts, she is equally recognized statewide and has participated in solo and group exhibitions in New Hampshire, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, DC and Girona, Spain. Her works are in the public, private, and corporate collections of more than two dozen prestigious venues. In 1998-97 she was the recipient of a Florida State Individual Artist Fellowship. Ms. Tomczak's photographs will be on display in the Duncan Gallery of Art.

Tall's exhibition, Close Relations, features the artist's "Unusual" coil and slab-built ceramic sculptures which are painted with impressionistic applications of glazes and sigillatas and kiln-fired multiple times. Tall says her work is influenced by folk art and mythology, and focuses on the relationships between figures and houses interpreted in a unique, abstract way. Her subject matter often includes two iconic figures back to back or side by side, roughly textured, with houses on their heads. In 1996 Tall was one of fourteen international artists selected to participate as a resident artist in the five-week International Workshop of Ceramic Art in Tokoname, Japan, a city with a 900-year ceramics history. She has an MFA in ceramics from the University of Miami, and is currently an adjunct professor at Palm Beach Community College. Tall's work will be on display in the Sampson Hall Foyer Gallery through Dec. 11.

The Duncan Gallery of Art is free and open to the public Monday through Friday 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. and on weekends from 1 until 4 p.m. For further information please call (904) 822-7266.

Fest

Children may also get their pictures taken with a painted Indian pony.

In the evening, from 7 to 11, there will be music under the stars, original and classical rock by Under Pressure, world music by Circularity, Native American music by Native Descended Nation, the end of the evening will feature an indigenous jam. Blue suggests blankets or lawn chairs for the music program.

Suggested donation is $10 for adults and $5 for children.

Portions of the proceeds will be divided between Back to nature Wildlife Refuge, The Navaho Elders' Blanket Relief Fund and the C.A.R.E. Foundation.

Blue said she is also giving thanks, in presenting the fest, to the Chuluota community who has supported her entrepreneurial efforts over the past year.

Advance tickets for the event can be purchased at the Chuluota Trading Company, 95 E. 7th St. or at the gate day of event. Big Oaks Ranch is located at 1900 Brumley Road.
