

Humphrey Bogart Wins Oscar For 'African Queen'

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD — A sentimental and happy Hollywood rejoiced today with Oscar Winner Humphrey Bogart, the people's choice, but the town was still muddled over "American in Paris" copping the best picture award.

Of the top three awards, Vivien Leigh was the only favorite to come through. Her performance as the tarnished Southern belle in "A Streetcar Named Desire" won her the best actress award. It was her second victory. Her first was as Scarlett O'Hara in 1939.

"It was a sentimental year and Bogie summed it up best himself: 'I have been around a long time. Maybe the people like me.'"

Bogie's performance in the unshaven boatkipper in "The African Queen" was the popular choice. It brought down the house—a fancy ermine and white-tied couple of the Manhattan elite.

Karl Malden, the disillusioned lover of "Streetcar," won the award for the best supporting actor and Kim Hunter, the wife in "Streetcar," won the best supporting actress plum. They were favorites.

The biggest upset of the night, if not in years, was the victory for "American in Paris." It was the first out and out musical ever to win the grand prize. Most experts figured it last in their selections. A good musical, it was not classed in the same breath with "Streetcar" and "A Place in the Sun." But it won, nevertheless, to open-mouthed applause.

The musical also won Oscars in these categories:
Costume design, art direction, set decoration, cinematography (all these in color films), musical scoring, story and screenplay.

In addition to these, Gene Kelly, the picture's star, won an honorary award for his "brilliant achievements in the art of choreography on film."

Bogart's win was partly due to sentiment and partly due to old-fashioned campaigning. While favored Marlon Brando favored around Europe, Bogie put on a whirlwind campaign. He hired a national press agent and sold the 1,700 Academy members on Bogart.

The 31-year-old Bogart once called Academy awards "filly" but not this one. He said he was going to take it home and put it on a table. However, he added, "I still hold to my original thinking—that it's not a matter of the best actor, it's who gets the best part."

Miss Leigh, appearing in "A Streetcar Named Desire" with her husband, Sir Laurence Olivier, was not present. Greer Garson accepted in her behalf.

Miss Leigh heard her selection by portable radio in her dressing room in New York. She lifted her face to her husband and commanded: "Give me a nice big hug." Olivier did, with a kiss.

"I'm thrilled," she said, "and I'm honored." It was just as thrilling, she added, as her first Oscar.

SPRING RIOTS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Spring came bustin' out all over the usually staid University of Michigan campus Thursday night.

It took a near-riotous foray. Bands of youths raided women's dormitories and the women raided back.

Assessing the damages today, university authorities found some broken windows and smashed doors. They blamed a spontaneous outbreak of spring fever. At its peak an estimated 2,500 students were involved.

SON SHOTS FATHER

MIAMI — William George Mooty, 23, was held for investigation today in the shooting of his father, William F. Mooty, 64, banker and owner of the Franklin Press. Detective Karl Owens reported.

Young Mooty, a Navy veteran, surrendered to police Thursday night after his father was shot through the chest in his printing plant. Witnesses told police the father and son engaged in a lengthy argument in the elder Mooty's private office prior to the shooting.

Walkout Looms In Steel Industry If Raise Is Rejected

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel industry leaders met today with Hoover Fuisan, federal economic stabilizer, to discuss the Wage Stabilization Board's recommendations for settling the industry wage dispute.

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON — Elated CIO Steelworkers early today accepted a government pay boost proposal and cancelled a week-end strike threat, but a new walkout danger loomed on April 8 if the steel industry turns down the recommendations.

Philip Murray's union jubilantly approved a Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) plan for settling the steel labor dispute which has been going on since last November.

Voted by public and labor members over stiff industry objections, it calls for a 3-installment pay boost that will eventually total 17 cents an hour, plus other concessions including the union shop.

The union had asked for 15-cent hourly pay boosts with other concessions estimated to bring the overall increased costs to around 35 cents an hour.

Steel companies gave no immediate reaction to the WSB plan. But WSB's industry members earlier denounced the proposal in a blistering statement as unfair and inflationary.

Murray, announcing his fourth delay in strike plans, called for renewed negotiations starting Monday with steel companies here and at Pittsburgh.

The chief of both the CIO and the million-member Steelworkers Union said if no settlement with steel firms is reached by April 4, the unions will give 96 hours notice and strike April 5.

Thus if the industry refuses to go along with the WSB recommendations an eventual strike appears inevitable. The steel firms have claimed all along they could grant no wage boosts unless they were accompanied by compensating price increases.

Steelmakers have said an expected $2-a-ton additional price allowance is too little to cover anticipated extra labor costs.

The statement of WSB industry members said the proposals are "union appeasement" and estimated they would cost the steel industry 30 cents an hour direct added labor costs immediately and eventually 60 cents.

These figures were disputed by WSB Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger who estimated the WSB's public labor majority recommendations would cost only about five cents hourly added labor cost, in addition to the 17-cent pay boost.

B. K. ROBERTS, justice of the Florida State Supreme Court, will be the principal speaker at the dedication of the new Southwest Florida Tuberculosis Hospital at Drew Field, near Tampa, Sunday, March 23. The dedication ceremony is at 3 P.M., and open house will be held from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. to permit the public to tour the hospital.

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY

Tonight is the big night for the group known as the "Vagabonds" here aboard the station. The Sanford Yacht Club will be the scene of their second dance since the organization of the club. According to the club, tonight's affair will follow the same pattern as last month's dance. Lots of candlelight, lots of good music, and some of the best entertainment to come to Sanford in quite awhile. I missed their dance last month because "duty comes first" but I'm making it a point to be there tonight and I'm hoping I'll see everyone of you there, too.

Ray Farris received a release from active duty today and will soon be heading toward his home in Fort Lauderdale. Ray is a member of the naval reserve and had been called to active duty in November of 1950. He had quite a hard time deciding whether he should volunteer to remain on active duty or accept his release when George Powell and Fred Wood gave him a very good "shipin' over" duty center this week. Civilian life was out for the second class teleman, however I think George and Fred deserve a lot of credit for their excellent try. Good luck to you, Ray. We certainly hope your choice has been a wise one.

Wot's happen'd to our baseball team? That seems to be the question of the week around the station. The Stetson Hatter nine came here Tuesday and went back to Deland with an 11-6 victory over our navy club. Yesterday our men went to Deland to try to even the series but they failed to make the grade again as they went down to defeat to the tune of 11-4. Who was it that once said, "You can't win them all"? Most recent arrival to NAAS in Warren Cadoret, Warren reported aboard yesterday after completing a course of instructions at the navy's class "A" Air Controlman school at the Naval Technical Training Center in Olathe, Kan. where he graduated sixth out of a class of 28 naval students. Warren's home is in Manchester, Vt. George Powell and his wife Lorraine have been entertaining Lorraine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shanahan, who arrived recently from their home in Chicago, Ill. George and his family took the visitors to see Silver Springs yesterday. It was a nice day for a ride and Silver Springs was more beautiful than ever according to George, who is a native Miami.

Roduto Rapado reported back aboard NAAS last night after having completed a tour of temporary additional duty in Key West and states that, although it was warmer down there, he's much happier to be back to good ol' NAAS.

Farm Loan Members To Meet Tuesday

Members of the Sanford National Farm Loan Association will hold their annual meeting at the City Hall in Sanford next Tuesday, at 8:00 p.m. H. D. Freeman, secretary-treasurer, announced today.

At this meeting regular association business will be handled, including the election of directors and the re-organizing of financial and other reports on the 1951 period by the President, N. W. Bryan of Titusville, and H. D. Freeman.

A representative of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia will be the principal speaker. "All citrus growers, farmers and others interested in cooperative agricultural credit are cordially invited to attend this meeting," Mr. Freeman said.

The association's office is located in Room 7, Church and Main Building, Orlando, and handles Federal Land Bank loans in Seminole, Volusia and Brevard counties. The association directors are N. W. Bryan, Titusville, president; Leo Butner, Sanford, vice-president; Roy Parlin, Sanford, W. H. McBride, Seville, and Gus Scamh, Sanford.

FARM VOTE
WINTER PARK, (Special)—A state-wide "Get-out-the-vote" campaign has been inaugurated by the Florida Farm Bureau. It was announced here today.

E. H. Finlayson, Greenville, president of Florida's biggest farm group, has called upon leaders in 52 County Farm Bureaus to work for a big vote in the upcoming primaries.

Last year, throughout the nation, the Farm Bureau invited its members to participate in a slogan contest, to stimulate voting. It selected the slogan: "Your Vote is your Voice—let it be heard."

will not be meeting for the next two weeks. The professor of the class, Mrs. Roland Dean, will be on a speaking tour through the state of Mississippi, which will include stops at the University of Mississippi in Oxford and at the Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus. Columbus is the professor's hometown, so I'm sure she's looking forward to the trip.

Dot Von Herbilis is going to learn to drive this weekend and this writer is going to be the teacher so — God be willing — I'll be back Monday to bring you more about the "Blues in the News".

Freedom of Religion is not only a right — it's a privilege. Attend New Year's Day concerts in the White House since 1801.

Brailey Odham Is Still Going Strong On Radio Marathon

MIAMI — (Gubernatorial Candidate Brailey Odham was still answering questions at 8 a. m. today — the half-way point in his 36-hour radio marathon — and was demanding more.

"How do you feel?" he was asked.

"I feel better than when I started."

"Have you got your second wind yet?"

"Heck, no. I'm still operating on my first wind."

Odham is slated to address a rally in Bayfront Park tonight at 8 p.m. and apparently will have enough left for the scheduled appearance.

Odham took to the airwaves at 8 a. m. Thursday over radio stations WIOD and WQAM and before he was in over his head he had been asked approximately 600 questions in the first 12 hours of his "talkathon" and had answered most of them. He acknowledged that many of the questions, from listeners who had phoned in and from visitors at the cafeteria, had been duplicated.

Recovering from a deep cold, Odham frequently had to swallow to treatment during the night. He rested between turns at the mike in a chair a listener had sent in. He subsisted mostly on hamburgers and cola drinks since he does not drink coffee.

In birds the chest is not separated from the abdomen and breathing is carried on by the abdominal muscles.

Drake Attacks Highway Men On Road Deal

Warren Accused of Political Pressure For Private Roads

OCALA, Fla.—Trustee P. Drake Jr., Ocala member of the State Road Board, charged today that Governor Warren, State Supreme Court Justice E. C. Roberts, and Edward Ball of the Du Pont interests had exerted "political pressure" to have private roads for profit built in Central and West Florida.

Drake said the pressure had been put on him and Marion O. Nelson, Panama City member of the board, to secure construction of roads including a stretch of State Road 40 that would bypass Silver Springs, and a highway at Port St. Joe that would be beneficial to the St. Joe Paper Co., a Du Pont enterprise.

Drake said in a public statement that re-routing Road 40 would put it through Du Pont property on the south side of Silver Springs.

He said the cost would be over one million dollars to straighten the road between Lynde and the junction near Ocala of Road 40 and the Sharpe's Ferry road and build a necessary new bridge about three-quarters of a mile north of the present Sharpe's Ferry bridge.

Drake said all this would shorten Road 40 only about a mile.

Drake said pressure had first been put on him and Nelson in 1948 soon after they became members of the board.

He said Warren had sent two memoranda to Alfred McKethan, board chairman, in efforts to have the board eliminate from the 1952 road budget the item calling for construction of State Road 19 from Road 40 to Salt Springs in Ocala National Forest.

Drake said Warren in the first memorandum said that he felt Road 19 wasn't in the public interest, that it was "too narrow" and that "due to the extraordinarily large amount that Marion County had already received in roads and one-half of Silver Springs, the amount of State Road 19 to be constructed should be let during the current year for the County."

Drake said that any disproportionate amount of money had been spent or budgeted for Marion roads.

Drake said no action was taken on the second memorandum, that the 1952 road budget was adopted.

Drake said that Warren had put on him in Tallahassee in Roberts' home, Roberts at that time had not been appointed to the bench.

He said Warren, Roberts, Nelson and himself were present and that it was Roberts specifically who said he was interested in several roads, some in West Florida and one south of Silver Springs.

Drake said he told Warren in a subsequent meeting that relocation of Road 40 would cost about a million dollars and Warren said that was "too much money," that the new stretch of highway sought for the south side of Silver Springs was just a farm-to-market road.

Drake quoted Roberts as agreeing with this idea.

"Then afterwards I began hearing indirectly that a lot of heat was being put on me about the road," Drake said.

Drake said that Warren asked him to call to the road Feb. 23 this year and that they did.

"I looked at some maps, then went to look at the road," Drake said. "That's all that happened then."

But on Feb. 23, he added, he met with the governor and McKethan in the Governor's Mansion and Warren asked him to put the road in the budget.

"I told him I couldn't see my way clear to put it in the budget, that I didn't feel the road was justified, that it hadn't been re-routed no more."

Tells Big Audience He's Not Running On Others' Demerits

Sanford, Fla.—Senator Joseph P. McCarthy, candidate for governor, told a Sanford audience Saturday night that he is running on his own platform and his own qualifications and not on the demerits of others.

McCarthy, who is also a candidate for the U. S. Senate, said he is not running on the demerits of others but on his own merits.

He said he is not running on the demerits of others but on his own merits.

Home Shattered By Tornado In Tennessee

AT LEAST 200 persons were killed and more than 1,000 persons were injured as a result of a series of tornadoes which swept with destructive fury through four southern states. The above scattered wreckage is all that remains of J. W. Stafford and his family in Moscow, Tenn. The staffords took refuge in a cellar as a tornado struck Moscow. Homes were ripped from their foundations in Arkansas, West Tennessee, Missouri and north Mississippi. (International Soundphoto)

233 Killed, 1,100 Hurt In Tornadoes

FUNERAL RITES HELD IN DOZENS OF DEVASTATED CITIES, TOWNS THRUOUT THE SOUTH

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—The living worked grimly at burying and rebuilding today in six tornado-ravaged states in which 233 died and 1,100 were hurt.

In small, partly wrecked churches throughout the region Sunday half-dazed people clustered for funeral services—sometimes for whole families.

The normal Sabbath still of small towns was broken often by the raucous chugging of bulldozers in clearing the debris, the rattle of trucks and the clumping of boards being piled.

Survivors of the disastrous week-end picked at what was left of their homes searching for something salvagable—often under the stare of hundreds of neighbors who jammed the stricken areas.

At last count, and it was at best incomplete and often times inaccurate, the death toll stood at Arkansas 131, Tennessee 84, Mississippi 11, Kentucky 8, Missouri 16 and Alabama 5.

Arkansas alone reported 71 injuries and 1,452 families, thousands hundreds, affected by the terrible winds.

In basements of churches, schools and armories Salvation Army and Red Cross workers struggled manfully to feed, house and clothe those left destitute.

An accurate estimate of damage was impossible but it was expected to reach into the tens of millions of dollars.

In hospitals doctors and nurses, eyes red-rimmed from lack of sleep, worked to near exhaustion to aid the injured. Hospital capacities were strained to the breaking point.

Arkansas Gov. Sid McMath appealed directly to President Truman for funds to help the state rehabilitate itself.

It was the night that the President called on the cabinet and the federal agencies to make a quick check of the damage in all the stricken areas to ascertain the need.

There was an ironic story from Hartsville, Ala., where one of the critically injured was little Brenda Kay Jones, 5. As the storm approached her grandmother picked up Brenda and fled to a neighbor's house.

The neighbor's house was destroyed. The one from which they fled was unharmed.

Judsonia, Ark., probably was the hardest hit. The business district was all but gone. Perhaps 75 per cent of all the buildings in the town of 200 were damaged.

Here Mrs. E. C. Meacham, wife of a store owner, told of looting and her husband worked at the job of rescue and first aid.

It was the most disastrous week-end of tornadoic terror since March 18, 1925, when 680 people died in Illinois, Missouri and Indiana.

Earl Kipp Tells Rotary Of School To Aid Children

Zimmerman Explains Mission Of Christian Religion

Earl Kipp, supervisor of schools in Orlando, and former principal of the Sanford Grammar School in Sanford, today explained the work of the Forest Park School for crippled children in Orlando and urged support of the Easter Seal campaign which helps to finance this project, in a talk at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club today.

The Rev. H. L. Zimmerman explained the mission of the Christian religion to a group of people who gathered at the Forest Park School for crippled children in Orlando, today.

Zimmerman, who is a member of the Rotary Club, said that the mission of the Christian religion is to help the poor and the suffering.

He said that the Christian religion is a religion of love and compassion.

He said that the Christian religion is a religion of service and sacrifice.

25th Street Traffic Lights Are Shot Out

Vandalism in the recent shooting out of traffic lights on Twenty-fifth Street and the Sanford and Mellonville Avenue intersections will be severely punished, Police Capt. Roy Tillis, acting chief of police, announced this morning.

"We expect to make an arrest soon," he declared. The first damage was reported last Monday night when the light directing traffic at Sanford Avenue and Twenty-fifth Street was shot out, resulting in damage estimated at $225. The next night the light was again shot at and damage was put at $50. Later in the week a lens was shot out on the Mellonville Avenue-Twenty-fifth Street traffic light.

Tillis indicated that a .38 caliber pistol was used in the shooting, said Capt. Tillis.

Truman Demands Bars Be Lowered For 300 Thousand Europeans

President Asks Aid For Victims Of Oppression Escaping Thru Iron Curtain

BY ERNEST B. ACCARD

KEY WEST, Fla.—President Truman today asked Congress to open immigration gates to admit 300,000 additional Europeans during the next three years. Many are escaped victims of Communist tyranny, he said.

This request highlighted a 4,000-word, three-point program drafted at the Little White House asking Congress to:

"(1) Provide aid for the unfortunate victims of oppression who are escaping from Communist tyranny behind the Iron Curtain.

"(2) Continue our participation in the international effort now being made to assist in the migration and resettlement throughout the world of a substantial number of persons from the overpopulated areas of Western Europe.

"(3) Authorize additional immigration into this country, on a limited basis, in aid in alleviating the problems created by Communist tyranny and overpopulation in Western Europe."

No estimate of the cost of the three-year "emergency period" immigration was contained in the message. It suggested immigrants be brought in at the rate of 100,000 a year.

The message followed up a presidential directive Sunday allocating $4,000,000 of Mutual Security funds or immediate use to form a billboards and specialists escaping from behind the "Iron Curtain" into elements of the Eisenhower military forces supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"Communist tyranny has taken up where Hitler's brutality left off," the President said.

He said as a result of repressive measures, "some 15,000 to 20,000 Germans are slipping over the border from the Soviet Zone of Germany and crossing into Western Germany every month."

"From the communist countries to the south and east the movement to free Europe is smaller, but still they come, at the risk of their lives, past border guards and through mine fields," he continued.

"There are about 100,000 of these people already west of the Iron Curtain, and they are coming in at the rate of about 1,000 a month."

Reds Ask For Supreme Court Secret Talks On Exchange Of POW

Down One Of 12 Russian-Made Jets

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Command, in a move to speed agreement on a Korean armistice, has lowered a curtain of secrecy around the stalemate negotiations on how to exchange prisoners of war.

HOLLYWOOD By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (A)—Ballarina Nora Shearer drops this unusual comment: She won't raise her child to be a dancer.

The flame-haired English dancer, who is as responsible as any one person for the current Ballet boom, is expecting a child in August. Her confinement will mark the first extended vacation she has had from the ballet in 16 years. And therein lies the reason she does not want her child to be a dancer.

"Usually a dancer starts in the ballet at the age of 10, at least," she remarked. "Of course, I was carrying on my usual schoolwork at that age, but much of the time was spent in learning the ballet. After five years, I started dancing professionally. Then the grind really began."

"A ballet dancer doesn't merely perform before the audience and let it go at that. There are three or four hours of exercises and practice every day, added to time spent on stage. That is utterly necessary, if one is to continue in the peak of performance, or can never let down if you do, you are soon finished."

Miss Shearer remarked that the average child does not know what he or she is getting into when they start on ballet careers. If they did, they probably would reconsider. Usually it is the mother or father who supplies the drive for a child to get started in ballet, she observed. She added that she doesn't intend to perform that career for her expected offspring.

That is particularly true if her baby is a boy, she remarked. "Aside from other reasons," she said, "what future is there for a male ballet dancer? He is generally through dancing at 40 or before. Since he has spent most of his life in training for the ballet, he is unsuited for anything else."

Miss Shearer seemed to relish the idea of a few months away from her ballet slippers.

"We have our annual holidays—usually about four weeks," she said. "And there is the time out for torn muscles and other mishaps. Otherwise I have been dancing without letup since I was 10."

New 28, Miss Shearer isn't even having the usual easy time of expectant mothers. Last week she finished a ballet number for "Story of Three Loves." She also plays a dramatic role in the film, as she did in "Red Shoes," the movie that helped start the ballet boom.

After a fishing trip to British Columbia with her husband, writer Ludovic Kennedy, she'll return to England to await the arrival of their first-born.

The ballerina originally came here to enact a role in Samuel Goldwyn's film about Hans Christian Andersen. The deal blew up, and from all reports, so did Goldwyn. I asked Miss Shearer what happened. Briefly, this is her report.

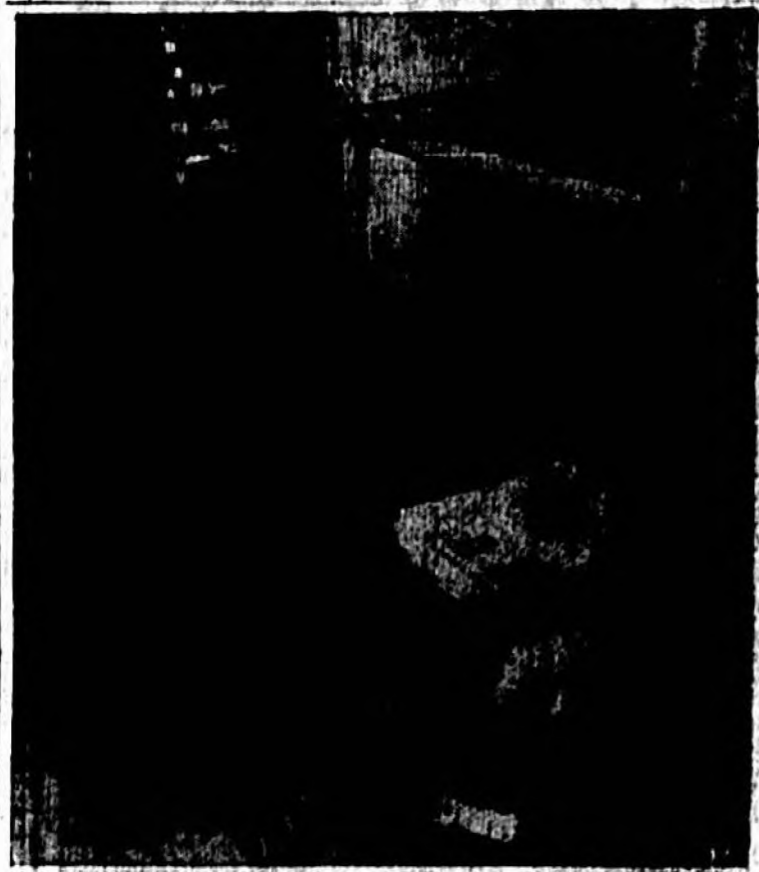

"When I signed for the picture a year and a half ago, I was told that it was to be a straight story about Hans Andersen. Then, when I got back to England, I read that Danny Kaye was in play Andersen. The film began to take on an entirely different aspect from what I had been led to expect."

"When I came back here and saw the script, I had more misgivings. I discovered that I was supposed to sing a couple of numbers with Mr. Kaye. Ballet dancers just don't sing, and I tried to explain that to Mr. Goldwyn. But he was firm, and I intended to fulfill the contract. Then came the bombshell (her pregnancy) and the schedules could not be arranged for me to finish the dancing in time."

questioned by any elected official or group," Drake said.

When the memoranda came down, Drake said:

Road Chairman McKethan said "I have no comment to make" about Drake's statement.

Asked to release copies of the governor's memoranda, which Drake mentioned, McKethan said "I don't care to disclose the contents of any memoranda from the governor. If he wants to disclose the contents that's all right."

He answered "No" to a question of whether any political pressure had been exerted on him to get the roads in question built.

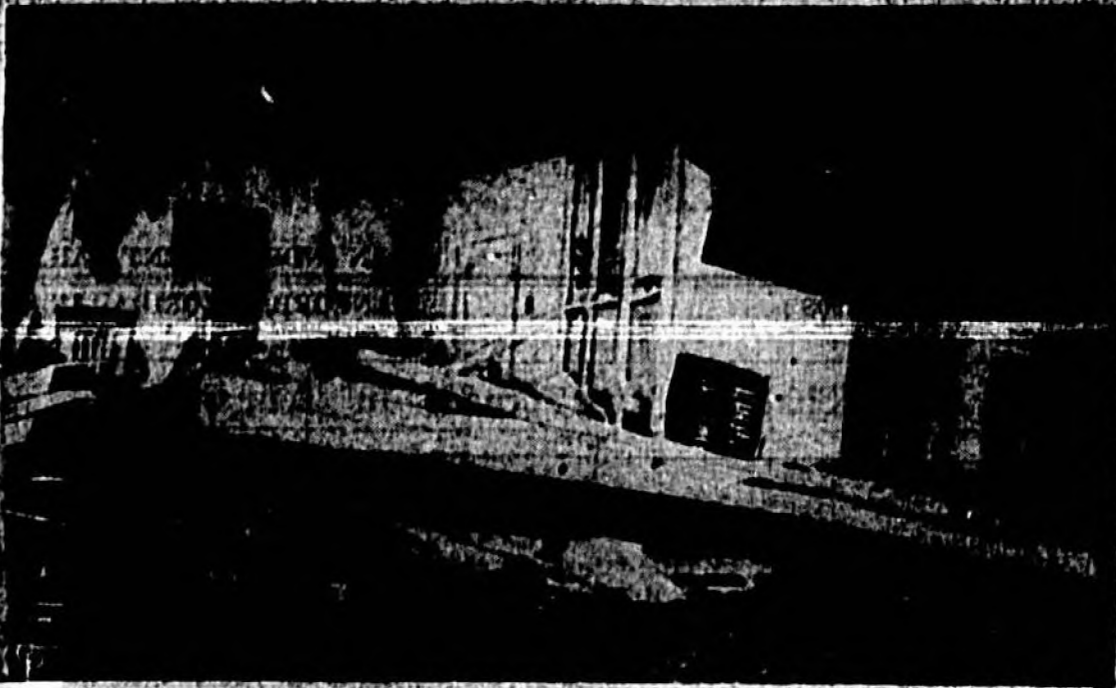

Governor Warren could not be reached immediately for comment. Justice Roberts said "I have never discussed any Florida roads with Road Commissioner Drake since he became a member of the Board Department or since I became a justice of the Supreme Court. I've never discussed a state road with Mr. Nelson at any time."

"I've never exercised any pressure on any member of the State Road Board or any other agency of the state government. In 1948, a year before becoming a justice of the Supreme Court, several friends, including Mr. Drake, had lunch in my home."

"We discussed Florida's rapid growth and need for an expanded road system because road building activity had been curtailed during the war. I suggested a hope that the incoming administration would be remembered for stimulating highway construction. Numerous road projects were discussed with no emphasis on any one project. Any suggestion of pressure is wholly untrue and fantastic."

Nelson, who represents the West Florida district on the State Road Board, was reached in Chairman McKethan's office here. He said "Mr. Roberts has never discussed any specific piece of road with me. There has been no pressure on me from anybody."

He confirmed he was present at

The heavy block of concrete that was used as an onetime concrete block cafe at Mosby, Tenn., is scattered around the area after a destructive fury of a tornado that swept through Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri and Kentucky. The debris caught a heater in this cafe, when the tornado struck and was crushed to death. The heavy concrete blocks after the roof was blown away. Roberts' home with Drake in 1948, before they actually took office, but the discussion of roads was in general terms where the whole state of Florida was concerned."

Nelson said the proposed road to run about 15 miles through DuPont property from north of Port St. Joe to a point west of Apalachicola "has not been built and is not in the budget." McKethan said the Marion County Sharpe's Ferry road isn't in this year's budget, either.

He said bids were taken Feb. 26 for paving Road 19 (the one Drake said Warren directed should not be built) but the low bid of $69,356 was rejected as too high.

McKethan said it "had nothing to do with this story," and that the road board plans to reevaluate the project later.

Drake gave the information regarding the matter as an interview and public statement with the Ocala Star-Banner.

Some hours after the story had been released, he told the Star-Banner that some portions of the statement were not correct.

He said: "The Associated Press article quoting me is incorrect in several respects. I did not say that any pressure was put on me at the meeting at the home of B. K. Roberts in 1949. I did not say that certain roads were discussed and I was told by Mr. Roberts that he was anxious that they be built. Among these was the road south of Mosby Springs. To be accurate, I said Mr. Roberts has only discussed this road with me twice. Both times, prior to his being appointed to the Supreme Court.

"In my discussion I did not use the word pressure. However, I do believe I indicated that the principles mentioned in the article were anxious for the road to be built."

Safest Places Named In A-Bomb Attacks

WASHINGTON (A)—The safest shelters during atomic bomb attacks are office buildings, stores, schools, theaters and factories. Churches and large auditoriums which have inadequate overhead protection are not safe.

These points were brought out by the Federal Civil Defense Administration Sunday as it noticed publication of a new manual designed to help cities locate their own shelters, preferably several in each block.

The agency said potential American target cities now provide protection for only about two million persons. But, it said, alterations to present buildings could boost this to give safety to 15 million more.

It recommended that heavily populated industrial areas—possible targets—recruit survey teams of architects, construction engineers, builders, city building inspectors and utility experts to spot the best shelters.

Adequate shelters should be located in each block, if possible, because an attack may come with little warning.

financial well-being. "As governor I will support an expanded program in the fish and game fields, so residents as well as visitors can enjoy the natural recreational opportunities our wonderful state provides."

McCarty soberly cautioned his outdoor crowds, "the campaign is not won. Our opposition is growing desperate. The only way to secure victory for us is to meet the false statements you'll hear with the truth, so everyone will know what Dan McCarty, your candidate, stands for. Tell them the truth, straight from the shoulder, as the people will know."

Following morning conferences in Jacksonville, McCarty spoke Saturday afternoon in Orange Park, Palatka, Crescent City, Seville, Durbin, Bakersville, DeLeon Springs, Orango City and closed the day with a night rally here. Sunday he rested at home in Port Pierce.

Today he began a week's stumping tour which will take him down the East Coast and up the West Coast to Sarasota, then cross-state through Arcadia and Oklawaha to spend next Sunday at home.

Spring Vegetable Deal Is Reported Off To Good Start

WINTER HAVEN (Special)—The Spring vegetable deal got off to a good start last week at the Plant City Market with Federal-State inspection on all vegetables. 928 bushel hampers Yellow Crooked Neck squash brought $4.80 to $10.10 per bushel hamper, and 120 bushel hampers fancy Bell Peppers brought $2.50 to $4.10.

Collards, English peas, Red Bliss potatoes, Tendergreen beans, turnips and turnip roots were also available.

The Collard market was unusually good with 3,885 dozen bunches selling at 76c to $1.00 per dozen bunches. Strawberries continue in fair supply with 190,498 2 1/2 pint crates selling last week for $40.74, at a price range of $4c to 50c per pint. Total gross sales for both strawberries and vegetables were $51,902.00. These facts were contained in the weekly commodity news report received by William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets.

Strawberries of top quality, bright in color and medium to large in size are steadily increasing in volume at the State Farmers Market. Brandford County berries have a priority rating in the trade, and 96,408 pints the past week brought growers in excess of $23,000.00. New telephone facilities have been added at this market to assure buyers and growers of adequate service during the busy season. R. E. Johnson, Market Manager, announces.

The Immokalee State Market stepped up its activities last week with 2,720 units selling for $30,588.00, compared to 1,518 packages for $8,172.00 the preceding week. Cucumbers led in volume and price with 1,229 bushel field crates fancy cukes bringing $18,893.50 and 323 bushels plain selling for $983.55. Yellow Crooked Neck squash—183 field crates brought $1,476.00. Other commodities available were a small supply of tomatoes and No. 2 Yellow Crooked Neck squash, with fair volume of white squash and eggplant.

Business continues good at the Sanford State Market, but sales dropped slightly from the preceding week. Last week 128,677 packages sold for $107,865.40. Of the 41 varieties of vegetables moving, cabbage led, 58,201 bags sold for $43,050.75, and 16,092 crates for $10,500.00. 11,187 crates celery

Rural Common Sense

By BRUCE JOHNSON

A shabby and shabby number of farm workers in the United States produce a constantly increasing quantity of food, feed and fiber. By increasing use of power, one worker now produces much more than did his predecessor of some years ago. The 1952 goals recently announced by the Secretary of Agriculture leave no room for a lessening of efforts. They call for the highest farm production in the history of the country—a level nearly 50 percent higher than the average for the years just before World War II.

The country is trying to do a short-term job of mobilizing for defense and a long-term job of producing lasting peace. Both jobs will require increased food, feed and fiber. With little new land left to go into production and with brought around $20,000.00 and 9,000 bags Red Bliss potatoes in excess of $87,800.00. 1,800 crates sold for more than $16,000.00.

A light volume of fair to good quality cucumbers moved through the Fort Pierce State Market. Best bushel basket, packing-house pack, brought from $10.00 to $12.00 per bushel. Cuke volume is expected to show a sharp increase this week. The Spring tomato season, however, has been delayed a few days due to recent cold weather, but harvesting from the most advanced fields is expected to get underway this week. Tomato auctions will follow at the Market.

At the Palmetto State Market there was active selling of corn, beans and peppers, plus an improved market on collards, the best bringing around $1.35 per dozen bunches. Cabbage, celery and radish, on the other hand, moved slowly and cabbage cutting was mostly on order. Beans brought from $1.75 to $5.00 per bushel hamper, an increase in price over the previous week. Peppers sold from $2.75 to $6.80, and corn $1.75 to $2.75 per crate.

Trough-protected Spring cucumbers of very good quality moved in light volume over the Wauchula State Farmers Market last week, with 711 field crates selling for $8.80 to $14.35 per crate. Volume is expected to increase each week, but the offerings will not be heavy until the open field cukes are harvested, which will be around the middle of next month. Both tomato and cucumber crops are making fine progress in this area, with plenty of moisture and warm weather, states Market Manager, Frank E. Conner.

Hints to Housewives

By CLEO M. ARNETT

Bit-down ironing has been recommended to the housewife ever since efficiency experts began applying to homework rules learned in industry for saving effort and time. Why, then do most women continue to stand while they iron yet report that ironing is one of their most tiring jobs because of long hours of standing?

The answer, according to the Vermont Experiment Station, is that most ironing equipment in the average home is not suited to sit-down work. Most homes have folding ironing boards with cross-cross supports which lack space for knees of the seated number of available farm workers constantly decreasing, increased yields per acre and per worker seem to be the only answer to production problems present and future.

Better varieties and hybrid strains of crops, along with improved farm animals, are helping. But increasing the worker's productive ability through the use of more and more power also is playing an important part.

With power lines reaching practically all populated rural areas now, electric power is playing an increasing role in the farmer's hired hand. It can save valuable time with household chores, releasing the farmer and his help for field jobs. A. M. Pettie, farm electrification specialist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, cites the following instances of what electricity can do:

A one-horsepower motor can do the work of eight men. An electric milker will do the job in one-third the time required for hand milking. Electricity can help cut grain and hay losses by drying, reduce losses of pigs before weaning, and increase egg production by lighting poultry houses. Electric pumps can provide irrigation to increase yields and improve quality of vegetables, citrus and other crops.

The Extension Service electrification specialists and county agents will be glad to help rural people with their problems dealing with the use of electricity.

worker. Many old irons are too heavy, too tall, or poorly shaped. The seated worker can have some shaft drive and catch. Few homes have chairs convenient for sitting at the ironing board.

Vermont studies of 25 women ironing showed that when seated comfortably at a board of the right height, women use less ironing motions than when standing. When standing, they exert unnecessary pressure on the iron. When sitting, they use an easy sliding motion which irons just as well with less effort.

The studies showed the ideal height of the board for a seated woman just clears her lap, and a good chair is a comfortable armless chair—just high enough to let the feet rest easily on the floor—with back rest and castors so she can swing around to reach clothes basket or rack or move along the board for fast and easy work.

Most women favored an adjustable board which could be raised or lowered to suit different workers and stand-up and sit-down ironing. Most preferred a board 58 inches long and 14 inches wide with tapering stands. Engineers at the Station designed two types of homemade lavas. The most satisfactory was a hinged, fold-up, wall board with only one slanting support, allowing simple knee room. The other was a folding portable board with a straight "leg" to rest on the floor and a second leg slanting out toward the tapered end of the board, supported by a brace.

The engineers remodeled plain kitchen chairs for ironing use by cutting down legs to a convenient height for the worker, padding seat and back for support and comfort, and adding castors.

The new lightweight iron proved best for seated ironing. Cord of the iron should come down from above.

About 14 per cent of air is oxygen.

 1,000 people. Among the 2,000 questions he was asked was one which he answered as follows: If

Treaty With India

A treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between India and the United States may be signed within the next month. Wording the treaty so that it would be agreeable to both countries proved to be a more difficult task than was anticipated. India, like most nations whose independence has been newly won, is sensitive to any provisions in an agreement which seem to violate its sovereignty. Apparently most of the difficulties have been ironed out and the treaty seems to be accomplished.

Among the points which delay agreement was the problem of protection of American capital invested in India. It was essential that the United States receive assurance that American investments would be protected from competition in the event that the industries in which they invest are ever nationalized. That point seems to have been settled to the mutual satisfaction of both sides.

Once the treaty has been signed we will have made a great gain in India. Many Americans have been impatient with India's unwillingness to accept the American position on various world affairs. But Prime Minister Nehru is demonstrating that he realizes Communism is a threat to the freedom of his people as well as to the rest of the world. India may yet prove to be a valuable ally and the proposed treaty may hasten that day.

Elastic Law

A 21-year-old Mexican immigrant, recently deported for illegal entry into the country, may soon be back in the United States with the full approval of the immigration authorities. Alberto Gonzales, Purple Heart veteran of Korea, has convinced the authorities that he would make a good citizen. Three years ago he entered the United States on the credentials of a dead man and promptly enlisted in the Army. In addition to the Purple Heart he holds five battle stars and several combat ribbons and awards.

It is easy to see why immigration officials must be so strict. Many illegal entries into the United States are made by way of the Mexican border and it is the duty of the authorities to enforce the law and send such immigrants back. But it is good that justice is not always blind, and that our laws can be made elastic enough to welcome one who has proved his desire for citizenship by offering his blood.

Deciding Birthdays

All British monarchs are born in June, at least officially. King Edward VII set the tradition when he decided that the sovereign's birthday should hereafter be celebrated in June to fit in with national holiday schedules. Queen Elizabeth II is following this rule in deciding to have her official birthday come on June 5. She was actually born on April 21.

This freedom of arrangement well envied by those unlucky enough to have been born just around Christmas. They get fewer birthday presents because of the nearness of Christmas, and fewer Christmas gifts because they either have had or are going to have a birthday. They must envy those who have the good fortune to have been born at some other time of year.

Why could they not decide to celebrate their birthdays at some time of the year that suits them? Whose birthday is it anyway?

Another Big Write In Drive For Taft And Ike Looms In Nebraska

By The Associated Press
 While Wisconsin voters settled back today in a week of being wooed by presidential hopefuls, the Nebraska electorate heard talk of a "write-in" drive.

Both states hold primaries April 1 and, as the final campaign week began, this was the picture: In Wisconsin, Republicans had a choice among three candidates for the presidential nomination—Sen. Taft of Ohio, Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota. All three were stumping for their states of 30 convention delegates.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's name is not on the Wisconsin ballot and the state does not count write-ins.

Democrats in Wisconsin choose between two 28-vote delegate tickets, both claiming to represent President Truman. But Sen. Estes Kefauver was waging a battle he hopes will sweep the board.

In Nebraska, Rep. Buffett's return home from Washington was expected to open a write-in campaign today for Taft. Eisenhower supporters already have asked newspapers to show how write-ins are cast. Stassen backers criticized Buffett's move and invited the Eisenhower people to align themselves with Stassen.

Nebraska's Republican primary ballot lists only Stassen and Mrs. Mary Kenny, who favors Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The Democratic race is between Kefauver and Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma. Both plan campaign speeches in Nebraska later this week.

Meanwhile, the Washington Post, an independent newspaper which has not endorsed a presidential candidate during the 30 years of its present management, said editorially today:

"We stand for Eisenhower." It called for a "complete change," said a Taft-Truman combat would settle nothing, and labeled

Biggest Maneuvers Since End Of War To Start Tonight

FORT HOOD, Tex. (AP)—At one minute after midnight tonight the nation's biggest armed forces maneuvers since World War II began.

From then until April 11, huge masses of men—115,000 to 120,000—will undergo realistic combat experience designed to make them better warriors.

Exercise LONG HORN is expected to bring into play some war lessons learned in Korea.

Battle situations will be allowed to develop pretty much as if the 2nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N. C.—the backbone of a foreign force invading the U. S.—The 2nd Airborne Division paratroopers have been making practice air drops to prepare themselves for their attack which will set the maneuvers off.

Color blindness is seven times as common among men as among women.

Some of the latest walkie-talkie radios that both send and receive are about the size of a loaf of bread and weight about six and a half pounds, including batteries.

Some radio tubes are so small that workers must use microscopes to assemble them.

Seminole Chapter Of OES Has Meeting

OVIEDO (Special) — Seminole Chapter No. 2, OES, met Thursday night at the Masonic Temple in Sanford with Mrs. J. T. H. Laine, worthy matron, and J. B. Jones, substituting for R. F. Cole as Worthy Patron, presiding.

All other officers served in their respective stations with the exceptions of Mrs. J. B. Anderson, as Chaplain, and the associate patron. These stations were filled by Mrs. R. F. Cole, Mrs. L. S. Sheppard, respectively.

During the regular business session, Mrs. R. W. Turner, Grand Instructor of District 24, acting as installing officer, installed James L. Holtzclaw, as Sentinel, this office being vacated by the resignation of J. R. Lyles. The Marshall assisted Mrs. Turner, acting as installing marshall.

Mrs. S. F. Long, junior past matron, and Mrs. R. W. Turner were escorted to the East by the Conductress, Mrs. Holtzclaw, at the request of the worthy matron.

It was announced by the worthy matron that Mrs. Long had been asked to serve as escort at the Grand Chapter in Tampa, Apr. 8-11. Mr. Holtzclaw, junior past patron, declined the request to be assistant sentinel at the Grand Chapter as he would be unable to attend.

Several members were reported on the sick list, among them the worthy patron, R. F. Cole.

An interesting reading was given by Mrs. Hack, of Geneva.

A special service in memory of the brothers and sisters of the chapter who have passed on was given by some of the officers of the chapter. Mrs. R. F. Cole sang softly during this service. Mrs. Joseph Feinhardt accompanied at the piano.

The worthy matron announced that the next meeting will be "Eunice Turner Night," the meeting in her honor as Grand Instructor of District 24. It also will be initiation ceremony. Many visitors from District 24 are expected to be present. Mrs. J. B.

Sanford Wins High Awards In Show

Three members of the Sanford Garden Club won high awards at the first statewide flower show held in the new industrial arts building on the campus of Florida Southern College under the sponsorship of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs and the Garden Club of Lakeland, Inc.

Mrs. J. M. Moye won first place with her arrangement "In a Garden." Mrs. E. Terwilliger won second place with her arrangement, "A Buxom Maiden," and Mrs. Charles Wilke received a third place with a dried, tailored corsage.

Outstanding among the exhibits were the garden layouts arranged in the courtyard containing the arrangement and horticultural exhibits. Among the wide varieties of arrangements were the modern line, period and traditional. In awards made Friday afternoon Mrs. I. M. Wilson, of West Palm Beach, won the tri-color award for the arrangement class, Mrs. Nea Rhodes of Lakeland was awarded the tri-color in the horticultural class and the Bartow Garden Club was awarded the tri-color for its garden.

According to Mrs. L. E. Spencer, president of the Sanford Garden Club, the show, the first of its kind ever to be attempted in the state, was a huge success and Florida Southern College has offered its services again next year.

Dr. Ludd M. Spivey, president of Florida Southern, opened the college to guests of the show for tours of the grounds.

Those attending from Sanford were Mrs. L. E. Spencer, Mrs. Fred Ganas, Mrs. W. R. Jennings, Mrs. J. P. Cullen, Mrs. J. E. Terwilliger, Mrs. J. M. Moye and Mrs. Fred Yerkes and Mrs. Endor Curlett of Geneva.

Norman R. Mehrof, Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist, gives some timely pointers for folks who are raising poultry. In addition, the United States Department of Agriculture passes along some information about grass for cattle. The notes will be heard tomorrow at 12:15 on WTRR's "Radio Farm Digest".

Elizabeth Murphy, and her program "National and International Affairs Through the Eyes of a Teenager," are on the air tonight (7:15) at 7:15. Elizabeth says something to say about "loyalty" on her program this evening, and takes a glance at important events of last week in the world of news.

"The VPW Reporter" is heard every Tuesday evening at 7:05 on WTRR. The veterans of Foreign Wars pass along some of the news from the nations capital of interest to servicemen and their families.

WTRR will bring the sportmen a new show in the very near future. The program, taped and produced in Tallahassee, is in cooperation with the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. A once-a-week quarter hour, Guy Hamilton who produces the program, says that it's chock full of real Florida game and fish stories and day of the first program for the sportmen. Watch for the in the series.

"The Sunlit Years," a dramatized story of Florida, will begin a 12-week run on WTRR next Sunday afternoon at 1:15. Produced at the University of Miami, the program includes many of the colorful events in the history of Florida.

Anderson and her committee will be in charge of decorations and refreshments.

Following the meeting Mrs. P. H. Wyatt and her committee served homemade cake and coffee in the dining room. Her committee was Mrs. Carl Williams, Mrs. L. M. Swaim, Mrs. Robert Reedy, Mrs. John Carver and Mrs. R. V. Thompson.

Tenors, Basses Needed By Choral Society

Mrs. Clara Ginn, president of the Seminole County Choral Society, today announced that unless more men, particularly tenors and basses, attend rehearsals, the Society may have to disband.

This would be a calamity for Sanford as far as choral music is concerned, she declared adding that a concert had been planned for April, but this will be impossible unless the men attend rehearsals.

The concert is intended to include a program of semi-classical music and to feature solos by Dick Holtzclaw of the New York City Opera Co.

Mrs. Ginn a former grand opera star, had high praise for the ability of Roger Harris, director of the Choral Society. "The people of Sanford do not realize the talent he has or his training and musical ability. Under his leadership, with proper co-operation, we can really have a fine choral group here," she declared.

Singers from outlying communities including DeBary, are invited to join the Society, she said. The next rehearsal is Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Jeffords Named Lodge President

Mrs. Lowell Jeffords was elected president of the newly organized Hibiscus Lodge 534 of the Ladies Society of Locomotive Engineers at their third meeting held Thursday at the Labor Temple.

AS INTEREST MOUNTS in the coming contest for the Presidency, many women voters are speculating on who will be the First Lady after the November election. The distaff position has become increasingly important since John Adams' wife, Abigail, became the first hostess of the land in 1800, when the present home of our Presidents was constructed. Pictured above are six of the women who are considered top contenders for the post of the nation's First Lady. (Central Press)

Woman's Club Scene Of Pilot Bridge Party

The Woman's Club was decorated with spring flowers and the tables were marked with the Pilot emblem at the annual bridge and canasta party given by the Pilot Club Friday evening for the benefit of the "Milk Bank", the club's main fund.

Candidates For Governor Spend $17,000 In 1 Week On Campaigns

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida's candidates for governor reported more than $17,000 spent in their campaigns for votes in weekly financial statements filed with the secretary of state today.

Contributions listed in the new reports totaled more than $20,000. Alto Adams topped the field in both money spent and received as contributions from his supporters. The former Supreme Court justice listed expenditures of $11,392 during the past week and contributions of $12,503.

Tom McCarry said he spent $4,010 and received $4,459 in campaign donations.

Bradley Odham's report showed $1,223 spent, including $186 paid out earlier but not previously reported, and $1,416 contributed to him in the week.

Bill Hendrix said he spent $50 and received $205. Dale E. Spencer reported expenses of $28.84 and nothing contributed.

Republican Harry B. Swan said he spent $17.11 and received $40 in contributions. GOP candidate Bert Lee Acker reported expenses of $424.50 and no contributions. The third Republican aspirant for the governor's chair, Eugene Fitzmaurice, said he spent nothing and received nothing.

paign fund included: Charles Helmly, Miami $600; James R. Porter, Orlando $250; Welborn Phillips Jr., Orlando $200; George W. Morgan, Sanford $200; and E. J. Shepard, Sanford $100.

Bill Hendrix reported contributions of $100 each from Charlie Parker and George Loweth, both of River Junction.

Hendrix wrote across the face of his report: "I have resigned from the Klan and believe all who are on state payrolls and running for office should resign. It was my duty as a Klan officer to come out in the open, but 60 per cent of all state officials for the past 20 years have been ex-klanmen. I had had luck just before the campaign started. I had to banish one of the biggest politicians in the state from the Klan. I will tell my story after the election and I want to claim Fuller Warren's $1,000 reward.

Gov. Warren recently offered a $1,000 reward to anyone who could supply information leading to the conviction of anyone in his administration on charges of official corruption."

Truman Plan

grants would include (1) 7,000 religious and political refugees from communism in Eastern Europe (2) 7,500 Greek Nationals from Greece; (3) 7,500 Dutch from the Netherlands; (4) 20,000 Italians from Italy and Trieste and (5) 30,000 Germans and persons of German ethnic origin.

"While the admission of these particular groups should constitute a temporary program of limited duration," the President said, "it could well be fitted into desirable permanent changes in our present quota system if the Congress finds itself able to make such changes at this session."

He recommended also extension of authority to contribute to and participate in the "provisional" government committees for the movement of migrants from Europe, which 17 governments already have joined and to which the United States has contributed 10 million dollars.

The organization is providing overseas transportation from areas of overpopulation to lands where more people are needed. It uses the fleet of ships formerly operated by the international refugee organization.

AUTO ACCIDENT

SOUTH BAY (AP)—Two men were killed and police today sought the body of a woman as the result of an accident near here Sunday night.

An automobile carrying the three persons sideswiped a truck and plunged into a canal, killing John Ambrose Alkison, 32, Dade City, and Grover Durham, 45, Miami.

Highway patrolmen sought the body of Mrs. Durham who was believed to have been a passenger.

DEWEY IS IN PAWLING

PAWLING, N. Y. (AP)—Today is Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's 50th birthday but he says he is not celebrating.

"This birthday I am not celebrating," Dewey, joked. "I'm trying to forget it."

Revival Meeting At Church Of God

A revival meeting began last night at the Church of God on Elm Avenue with the Rev. Paul E. Lawson, in charge. Rev. Lawson is a nationally known evangelist and radio gospel singer. He has been active in "Youth for Christ" rallies in Times Square, New York City, in addition to conducting revivals throughout the nation.

Religious pictures are shown at intervals during the meeting along with pictures taken by the evangelist depicting the great missionary need of our nation.

Services begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. with special music and singing in each service. The Pastor, Rev. J. C. Crowe, extends a hearty welcome to all.

Missing Girls

Mary Ann's cap, was found on a bridge over the south branch of the Cento River, eight tenths of a mile from the Church home. One bloodhound ran along the bank of the narrow and shallow creek, which has some open water but searchers could find nothing else.

Stains on the Church mailbox, which appeared to be blood, raised a theory that the children may have been struck by a motorist who carried them away in his auto to conceal the accident. The mailbox was sent to Oconto for analysis of the spots.

The search has covered a mile radius from the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Church and Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, which face each other across Highway 32. Mrs. Phillips is Steven Kennedy's mother.

Mrs. Church said the children went outside about 3 p.m. Saturday. They frequently tagged after a semi-tame porcupine which lived on the edge of the woods, the same as the children's dog, in the minutes Mrs. Church began looking for them. The alarmed parents were aided by about 50 friends and neighbors Saturday.

Volunteers looked to the scene Sunday as the news got around. Hundreds more who were just curious also clogged the highways in the area which includes some of Wisconsin's wildest country, with rolling terrain and thick woods.

Arnold Church is a woodsman. In summer months he is employed by the state on its reforestation program. In the winter he cuts and trims trees in the forest. Phillips is employed by a Green Bay, Wis., firm and is away except for weekends.

FAMILY BURNED

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A family of four burned to death near Sunday midnight when fire leveled their small garage apartment two miles west of the city limits.

Dead are Joe Cribbs, 27, his wife Jean, 23, and their two sons, Jerry, 3, and Joe Jr., 5.

Cribbs had worked as an auto mechanic since Jan. 3 at Boree Body and Fender Works.

Cause of the fire was undetermined. A fire truck answered the alarm but there are no water mains in the area and firemen could only bring in a line from a nearby artesian well to cool the wreckage.

From the positions of the bodies, investigators surmised that Cribbs was sleeping with one of the boys in the bedroom; Mrs. Cribbs was on a sofa-bed in the living room with the other child.

to speak freely in an executive session since their remarks would not be aired in the press.

Off - the - record negotiations would mean a virtual news blackout on the prisoner talks. Only the final agreement - or lack of one - would be announced.

Actually, however, newsmen needed to be allowed to attend and only portions of the record have been opened to correspondents.

News of the negotiations has come from official spokesmen, the delegates themselves and from the official U. N. Command communiqué.

Several times the first word of a major development has come from Communist correspondents at Pannunjom. Last week the Red newsmen hinted that a truce might be signed by mid-April.

Another group of staff officers working on truce supervision may put the final stamp of approval on detailed maps of 10 ports of entry Tuesday, a U. N. spokesman said.

The Communists admitted retreat Monday and Col. Don Darrow said "we have general agreement in areas on their side."

"We could wrap it up tomorrow."

Supreme Court

Heinfield in 1943 by threats and harassing demands, but Rutkin contended the money represented a final settlement of his interest in Brown Vintners.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today cleared the way for the government to try William W. Remington on new charges that he lied about Communist connections. Remington is a former $10,000-a-year Commerce Department official.

He was convicted 13 months ago in New York of having sworn falsely to a federal grand jury that he had never been a Communist Party member. But the U. S. Circuit Court there ordered a new trial, it said the judge's charge to the jury was too vague on what constitutes party membership.

Remington appealed to the Supreme Court, contending he was entitled to either a judgment of acquittal or dismissal of the perjury indictment.

While this appeal was pending, the government obtained a new indictment in New York. It charged Remington testified falsely at the first trial.

The government then told the Supreme Court it planned to ask the trial court to dismiss the original perjury indictment. It said that because Remington's appeal was pending, there was uncertainty whether the trial court could permit dismissal of the original indictment without approval from the Supreme Court.

The high tribunal last December refused to give his O. K. while Remington's appeal was pending. The Justice Department then asked the court to deny Remington a hearing on the pending appeal. This request the high court granted today, apparently by a vote of 6 to 2.

PRODUCTION UP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today authorized major increases in production of passenger cars, washing machines and other consumer goods after July 1.

The Defense Production Administration said it increases in production are possible by a slight decline in allotment of materials to the military.

This move apparently is based on the government's program in the war to mobilize effort over a longer period of time.

Full quotas of metal will be provided for the output of 1,500,000 autos for the July-September quarter, and DPA said producers may make up to 1,150,000 cars if they can stretch supplies sufficiently. Elimination of all ceilings is being considered.

RACIAL TERRORISTS

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—The California American Veterans' Committee says some law enforcement officers are not effectively prosecuting racial terrorists.

"Some 10 delegates at the California AVC convention Sunday passed a resolution condemning the recent bombing of two Negro homes in Los Angeles. One home owner was Bill Bailey, Negro teacher and AVC member."

GERMAN SNIERS

VIENNA (AP)—At least six German snipers today were reported killed in weekend avalanches in the Austrian Tyrol. Sixteen other persons were injured and nine were missing.

Scores of mountain rescue workers, using trained police dogs, sought the missing buried beneath avalanches set in motion by the sudden onset of warm spring weather.

PUBLIC MOBILITY

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII has sounded a call for the abolition of the "cold war" and to public as well as private life.

In a broadcast he was marking the celebration of "Devotion of the Family" in Italy, the pontiff attacked the "cold war" which he said creates the "division of social life in public and private spheres, from action on the public powers in peace and war."

From 15 to 16 barrels of apples are required to produce a barrel of steel.

FRANCE LAKE

VIENNA (AP)—At least six German snipers today were reported killed in weekend avalanches in the Austrian Tyrol. Sixteen other persons were injured and nine were missing.

Scores of mountain rescue workers, using trained police dogs, sought the missing buried beneath avalanches set in motion by the sudden onset of warm spring weather.

Two Auto Wrecks Are Reported Here

Police reported two automobile wrecks over the week-end, in one of which, a woman received minor injuries.

Mrs. Elle B. Powers, 1615 Wise Avenue, Orlando, was treated at Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock for cuts and bruises after the 46 Ford sedan in which she was riding with her brother, R. W. McCullough, hit a telephone pole in the alley running north from Second Street and connecting with the east-west alley between Park and Oak Avenues.

The front end of the Ford, the right side and windshield was damaged. Mrs. Powers was injured, according to police, when she head hit the windshield.

Two automobiles were damaged when a 1946 Chevrolet sedan driven south on Oak Avenue by Osa Rufus Estridge, 220 Holly Avenue, collided with a Nash sedan, the property of Ellen Bell, near Eleventh Street. Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at $600, and to the Nash at $700. Both cars were taken to Rattiff's.

social responsibility must always provide impetus for social reforms, not as ends in themselves, but as means to the end that all men may know God and worship and enjoy Him forever."

Mr. Zimmerman denied that the mission of Christ was primarily a revolt against corruption of the Jewish church and social system. His mission, he said, was redemptive in the theological and religious sense. The revolt against injustice was the fruit of this mission—not the end of it.

Mr. Zimmerman insisted that there is much more to Christianity than the "Jewish religion with a little added to it." Christianity, he said, claims to be the positive and final fulfillment by God's direct action in Christ, of the Jewish revelation. Christianity is the New Testament (or contract) between God and man, completing the Old Testament (Jewish religion) of God with His people.

Mr. Zimmerman said it was a distortion of history to hold that the corruption of the Catholic Church brought about the suppression of the masses and the resulting slavery and cruel injustice against which there was ultimately a revolt.

He denied that the Spanish Inquisition resulted in Protestantism. He insisted that it was Protestantism which resulted in the Spanish Inquisition.

He denied that the Protestant Reformation was a revolt by the masses against social and economic injustice of the Catholic Church. He said that the Protestant Reformation was a theological revolution, not a social, and he insisted that the reformation against the economic exploitation of the masses which came in the wake of the Industrial Revolution, had its roots deep in Christianity.

"Whether we acknowledge it or not," he said, "modern Western civilization is the product of Christianity. The truths which led to the revolt were Christian truths of man's responsibility to man. 'Am I my brother's keeper?' brings a resounding Christian answer, 'You are.'"

President Of Nam Asks Defense Act To Die This Year

BOCA RATON (AP)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers said today "we want the Defense Production Act to expire in June, 1953."

William W. Zimmerman, president of NAM's Industrial Institute in an address at its opening session said "We do recommend allocation of material for defense orders only, and providing the Federal Reserve Board with power to impose credit controls such as regulation 'W'."

"Far too few of us realize the extent to which the Korean emergency has been used as a justification for even bigger central government," Grede said.

"Little or no attention has been paid to the impact upon employer-employee relations—the manner in which the government has interfered and may actually overwhelm the direct relationship between employer and employee."

"Far reaching efforts have and are being made to substitute government directive and mass pressure for the judgment and discretion of individuals in their relationships with each other."

He said that since the imposition of the wage freeze, the general wage level has advanced much more rapidly than has the price level.

"Wage stabilization," he added, "has served as a device by which the influence of government has been added to the pressure of labor unions to produce an irremediable but nevertheless artificial upward trend."

Grede said wage stabilization has not stabilized wages but "has disrupted normal wage administration, supplanted recognition of individuality and substituted a union imposed government as the agency which appears to be responsible for wage increases when, of course it is the employer who grants such increases."

Civic Service Class Will Be Organized

A class in clerical and civil service training will be organized Monday afternoon, Mar. 31, at 1:00 o'clock at the Sanford Vocational School, Mrs. May B. Maxwell, principal, announced today.

The course will include a number of subjects, including arithmetic, grammar, spelling, vocabulary, office procedure, correspondence, filing, tests in typing and shorthand for civil service work, pay roll work, and a series of tests taken from real civil service examinations.

This course will be intensive, and students are urged by Mrs. Maxwell to enroll on time so that they will not miss a lesson. There is no charge for the instruction except for work books. The school is located on the upper floor of the Kent Building on Commercial Avenue.

Warren Denies Drake Charge Of 'Pressure'

His Friend For Thirty Years, Warren Attributes Recent Attack To Nerves

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Fuller Warren today denied ever applying "political pressure" to any appointee of his administration.

He suggested that Road Board Member Truman P. Drake, Ocala, was "overwrought" from "heavy strain" when he charged Warren with attempting to secure the building of two roads that would benefit the DuPont interests in Florida.

Warren said in a formal statement that "Mr. Drake and every other appointee of this administration know I never have applied pressure to them about any matter. Pressure is not and never has been my method of dealing with people. If I can't get a thing done by persuasion and friendly discussion, I don't want it done."

Drake said Monday that Warren, Supreme Court Justice B. K. Roberts and Ed Ball, Jacksonville banker, had tried to get him and Road Board Member Watson Nelson, Panama City, to construct a new link in State Road 40 which would bypass Silver Springs and run through property owned by the DuPonts.

Drake said Monday that Warren, Supreme Court Justice B. K. Roberts and Ed Ball, Jacksonville banker, had tried to get him and Road Board Member Watson Nelson, Panama City, to construct a new link in State Road 40 which would bypass Silver Springs and run through property owned by the DuPonts.

The governor said he had objected to the Road Department inquiring into new highway work in Marion County, which has a population of only 37,973, while he planned to spend only $1,000,000 in Orange County in which 114,184 people live, Warren said.

Drake budgeted only about three million dollars for highway work in Volusia County, which has a population nearly twice that of Marion, the governor added. He maintained:

"During the past three years nearly four million dollars has been spent by the State Road Department in Marion County. Mr. Drake proposed expenditure of nearly five million dollars for roads and bridges in Marion County, which has a population of only 37,973, while he planned to spend only $1,000,000 in Orange County in which 114,184 people live, Warren said."

Barbecue Is Given At Country Club For San Antonio

Over 100 people attended the Chamber of Commerce's barbecue last night in honor of the San Antonio Mission baseball team at the Seminole County Club.

Barbecue chairman John Ivey introduced all the players to the guests and G. W. Spencer, introduced the wonderful team of Taylor and Mission manager Joe White, who related several baseball stories.

Mr. White entertained his audience with two humorous happenings of his diamond career. But Missis thanked the Chamber for the wonderful meal on behalf of the Mission players and described their stay in here as most enjoyable.

Mayor William Stapp said the Chamber of Commerce should be commended for the wonderful meal on behalf of the Mission players and described their stay in here as most enjoyable.

There is now hope for Gary Duane Tilla, 4-year-old cerebral palsy victim, because of the Easter Seal fund drive for crippled children. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Tilla of 2587 Palmerton Avenue. Gary is one of many handicapped children in this area who are provided with special treatment at the Central Florida Chapter of the Crippled Children's Association's Federal Park School in Orlando.

Baseball Stadium Seminole County Committee Named Fair Attracting By Commission Wide Attention

Formation of a baseball stadium committee which will make recommendations for the use of Sanford's two baseball parks on Melville Avenue, was announced last night by Mayor W. H. Stempner after the City Commission held a public hearing on the subject.

Named as members of the committee were Vernon Carroll, who was among the protesting residents who live near the old ball park, Denver Corbett, G. W. Spencer, Roy Holler and W. A. Morrison.

Max Johnson, one of the delegation, stated that more than 75 families were against use of the old ball park, and that residents of the vicinity had understood that when the new park was built, the old one would be done away with.

Virgil Metts, another resident, stated that his group was protesting use of the park by both white and colored teams. Others of the 12 residents present stated that the park was too noisy during games, that parking of many cars blocked entrance or exit to their own automobiles. Holding of some services with loud speakers on Sundays in the old park, was also protested.

Six Perish In Los Angeles Hotel Fire

More Than 150 Persons In Skid Row Hotel When Fire Breaks Out At Nite

By PAUL DITZEL. LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fire which flashed swiftly in a 6-floor Skid Row hotel killed at least six men today.

A night clerk who ran through the corridors knocking on doors, then hurried back to his switchboard to warn others by telephone, credited with saving many lives.

An estimated 150 were in the St. George Hotel, at 114 East Third St., when the blaze broke out at 1 a. m. (Pacific Standard Time). Police said 100 were hospitalized with burns or injuries.

The night clerk, Leland Whitehouse, 37, said: "The first I knew of the fire was when someone called down from the fourth floor when he saw smoke. I ran upstairs. I went down a back stairway from the fourth to the third floor. Then I saw the fire. It was coming from Room 312 at the rear. The door was open."

One of the occupants of 312, identified by police as Al Bernhardt, fell jumped to his death in an alley. The other occupant, Emil Mongee, was in a hospital with critical burns. Until they could question him, fire department arson investigators said they had no idea how the blaze started.

Whitehouse said the two men checked in about 1:30 a. m. Fire Capt. Claude Conlan said a check showed that the hotel's second floor fire hose was rotted. It was not usable, and a weight-balanced fire escape ladder at the rear, leading from the second floor to the ground, was wired up.

Asked about this, Manager Floyd P. Brown, told reporters he didn't know anything about it. "I've only been manager about a month. Besides, that's the fire department's business."

The hotel is just off Main Street, in the Skid Row section. It has about 80, and caters chiefly to men transients.

Ike Expected To Show Hand Within Week

Move In Congress To Force General's Return From Europe Is Losing Strength

By The Associated Press. It seemed unlikely today that Congress would invite Gen. Dwight Eisenhower home, but there was a prospect he might announce next week whatever his plans are for returning.

The development spurred presidential nomination races already quickening in states like Wisconsin and Nebraska. It goes this way:

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee had shelved a proposal to ask Eisenhower, Allied defense commander in Europe, for personal Western tour before a certain bill. The proposal, originally drafted, 7 to 3, had been re-introduced and set aside pending testimony of Eisenhower's right hand man, Gen. Alfred M. G. Gruenther.

Eisenhower, being lauded for the Republican presidential nomination, reports April 2 via radio and television on the first year of Western tour under his command. He could ask then, or later, to be relieved.

House Democratic Leader, Carl Albert, of Massachusetts, meanwhile, said Eisenhower should give up his command or become an active presidential candidate. Eisenhower for President headquarters, in reply to the statement, said it means the Democrats regard the general as their "No. 1 choice."

In Wisconsin, Sen. Estes Kefauver told a reporter how he feels about his chances in the Wisconsin and Nebraska Democratic presidential primaries.

Wage Board Split By Issues Growing Out Of Steel Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board said today the board "should go out of business" because of its inflation and defeating its own purpose.

Their statement was further evidence of the bitterness in the controversy over Wage Board recommendations in the steel case—recommendations which defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson said pose a serious threat to stabilization efforts.

In reply, CIO President Philip Murray blasted Wilson as a "big business and uninformed" big business man and refused to meet with him on the crucial steel dispute.

Boston Armored Car Is Robbed Of $600,000 In Cash

DANVERS, Mass. (AP)—Three gun men today broke quiet of this town 20 miles north of Boston by robbing an armored car of about $600,000 cash, all the money in the vehicle.

The robbers fled in a black Buick sedan which, less than an hour later, was found abandoned in Everett, just north of Boston.

Police said their quick, early investigation indicated the back doors of the truck were left unlocked or open.

Senator Williams Accuses Secretary Of Agriculture Of Playing President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's deputy expressed tonight before the House committee on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on President Truman's $7,990,000 foreign aid program.

It was Gruenther's second day in a row as a witness at the Capitol. His testimony Monday before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee appeared to have sidetracked for good a proposal that Eisenhower come home to testify himself.

The proposal by Sen. McMahon (D-Calif.) had one supporter and ten others who had favored the idea seemed lukewarm after Gruenther's appearance Monday.

He also told the House committee today that Eisenhower's STATE command (Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers in Europe) is constantly reminded of the need of Europe, building which come under congressional attack.

Eisenhower believes, his deputy said, that if we create a military force and destroy the economies of the United States and the North-South Atlantic Treaty organization nations, our work will be in vain.
