SELLING SANFORD DUTY OF CITIZEN, SAYS DECOTTES

City Attorney in Address Before Junior Trade Body Gives Citizens First Duty; May Get Grid Game Here

Selling Sanford to the world was the subject of an address made before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon Thursday by City Attorney George A. DeCottes, who, in his opening remarks, praised this city for the progressive spirit of its citizens...

Mr. DeCottes declared that no merchant succeeds who fails to properly display his goods and who does not use the right kind of salesmanship in trying to dispose of them. Selling one's city is analogous to the sale of one's goods, he declared, and unless the right selling methods are used, a community cannot be sold to the outside.

Navy Airplane Dives 1200 Feet Into Sea Killing Five Officers

Yesterday's Accident Is Said to Be Worst in History of Naval Aviation; 3 Injured

Lieut. Giochini Varini, pilot of the plane; survived by widow, Mrs. Minnie May Varini, 17 North Spring Street, Pensacola, Fla., body recovered. Lieut. Kilburn H. Roby, assistant pilot; widow, resides in San Diego; body unrecovered. Lieut. Arthur P. Thurston, assistant pilot, Orange N. J., body recovered. Fred D. Cruell, aviation chief machinist mate; San Diego; body recovered. J. Wiscak, radio man, first class, Oswego, N. Y.; body unrecovered.

Although aviation officials at North Island believe that the exact cause of the tragedy probably never will be known, a fairly accurate idea of what happened was obtained from Lieut. Joseph H. Gowan, pilot of the seaplane towing the target for the ship in which the men lost their lives and from observations at Rockwell Field.

The H-16 was flying at about 85 miles an hour when Lieut. Varini attempted a right vertical turn. The ship then was about 1,200 feet above the ocean and about half a mile southwest of Point Loma. Either the controls jammed or one or more of the wires running to the rudder and elevator snapped. Then plane, weighing more than a ton, went into a spin, plunging with terrific speed toward the sea, crashing in the surf about 500 yards directly west of the officers' quarters at Rockwell Field.

STATE SCHOOLS HAVE BIG GROWTH IN ATTENDANCE

Superintendent Report Increase Has Been Coincident With Period When Secondary Schools Were Promoted

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 10.—Unprecedented development in the field of secondary education in Florida is shown in a paper prepared by W. S. Cawthon, state high school inspector, which was read before the meeting at Memphis, Tenn., last week of the Southern Association of Supervisors of Secondary Education. This development, it is pointed out, has been coincident with the period during which the General Education Board has promoted secondary education in this state.

"The inspection and supervision of high schools in this state began in the fall of 1908," the paper reads. "At that time the total value of all the public school buildings in the state was $123,927, and that of all furniture and apparatus $23,983. By 1914, the value of buildings used for white schools had increased to $3,174,143 and that of equipment in high school laboratories was $37,954. In 1924 the value of buildings in which high school work was done was $8,063,463 and that of high school pupils enrolled was 16,075 the year 1923-1924, there was expended for laboratory equipment $95,475, an amount more than $9,000 in excess of the total estimated value of all furniture and apparatus in 1908. (Of course, the decreased purchasing power of the dollar is not here considered.)

"In 1908 there were enrolled in the grades 7-12 of our public schools 25,265 pupils; in 1914 there were 4,571 high school pupils; in 1924, the number of high school pupils enrolled was 16,075," the paper says, and continues: "The number of high school pupils graduating in 1923 was 2,049, almost half as large as the number showing the total high school enrollment nine years before."

"At the beginning of the period in question, there were eight four-year high schools with three or more teachers, including the principal, giving full time to high school teaching."

"In 1924, 99 four-year high schools were accredited by the state department of education and 83 by the Southern Commission on Accredited Schools."

Florida Grown Fruits Will Furnish Many Delicacies For Dinner Table

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 10.—Florida housewives have right at hand fruits that will furnish them some of the most delicious dishes and delicacies that money can buy—wholesome table products from orange and grapefruit that are constantly growing in demand in this state, according to home demonstration department specialists who are constantly at work on recipes and methods for preparing such products. Some of their suggestions are given below:

Sunshine Marmalade

When oranges have been cut in half and the juice squeezed from them or the pulp removed with a spoon, a delicious marmalade may be made from what remains. Separate the sections of fruit from the rind and the membranous skin or rind. Put the peel through a food chopper and to the chopped peel add twice its weight in water and two tablespoons of lemon juice for each cup of water used. Let this stand for one hour, then add the same amount of water as originally taken and boil gently for three minutes, cover, and set aside to cool. When cooled, press through a jelly bag to extract the juice. Keep half of this ground peel to add later to the boiling juice. Test for pectin and add such an amount of sugar as the test indicates is needed. Bring to a boil, add half of the ground peel and cook until the jellying point is reached.

Sour Orange Marmalade

Use the following substance: 1 pound of peeled sour oranges, 2 pints of water, 1-2 of the peel removed from the oranges, 1 1/2 pounds of sugar. Preparing the peel: Wash fruit, remove and discard two-thirds of peel, reserving the third free from blemishes; with a knife remove any blemishes that may be on the peel. Cut this peel in as thin slices as possible. Place in a kettle and add water four times in weight to that of the peel. Boil 10 minutes, then drain, repeating three to five times, each time allowing the water to boil five minutes. Peel should be exceedingly tender. All bitter taste may be removed by changing the water a sufficient number of times. Preparing the juice: After the peel has been removed, weigh the fruit, cut into small pieces, place in a kettle and for each pound of orange taken add 2 pints of water. Boil until it thoroughly disintegrates. Pour into a flannel jelly bag and press until no more juice can be obtained. Drain this juice again through a clean flannel jelly bag without pressing.

Making the marmalade: Pour this juice into a kettle, add peel and bring to a boil. Add 1 1/2 pounds of sugar for each pound of fruit. Continue the boiling until the jellying point has been reached, which is indicated by the flaking

"Then Forbes was not in the bathroom when you handed him the money?" the attorney asked.

"Thompson was in the room with my wife while Forbes and myself were out," Mortimer replied.

Mortimer also repeated Tuesday his story that when he arrived at his hotel suite with Thompson he found Forbes and Mrs. Mortimer "shooting craps on the bed."

"He had his coat off and was in shirt sleeves and working hard," the witness said.

"It cost me $220 to pay for his fun that afternoon."

In answer to further questions Mortimer said he was not certain whether the money ever had been given to Forbes by Mrs. Mortimer.

Doubt If He Got It.

"They were so close, I doubt if he got it," he said.

The $15,000 given him by the construction firm on his note, the witness said, was for Forbes and himself and "the expenses of the trip" to the Pacific coast in the summer of 1922 when Forbes took Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer and a few close friends from the veterans bureau headquarters on a tour of inspection to the Western seaboard.

FOREST FIRES ARE INJURIOUS TO FARM LANDS

Soil Specialists at University of Florida Warn People of State Against Woods Blazes

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 10.—Don't Burn the Woods! Forest fires destroy in a few minutes that which months, years and decades grow, and that which the farmer is worth many carloads of the very best fertilizers, say soil specialists of the State College of Agriculture.

Still, it is added, there are many farmers and farmers of farmers who see no particular harm in applying a match to heavy growths of woods grass and undergrowth. Little do these persons realize that this heavy growth of grass and undergrowth (if not destroyed) will in the long run provide cattle, sheep and other grazing animals with more nutrition than will the constantly burnt-over woods, it is stated. And little do they think of the terrible destruction of young trees, the source of future lumber and naval stores, when they apply the match.

Scientists and practical farmers declare that the one greatest need of Florida soils is humus, and it seems nothing less than waste to them to destroy this humus so often and so needlessly; instead of destroying it, they urge that every effort should be made to protect and conserve it.

In consideration of the timber phase of the question of "burning the woods," Professor W. L. Floyd, of the Florida College of Agriculture, says, "The future of Florida's forests, especially her cut-over lands, is uncertain. They may be used to produce continuously crops of timber. As the supply decreases and the demand increases, prices will rise, and therein is seen our duty to posterity to protect the future of our lumber industry. There is no better way of doing this than by refraining from 'burning the woods'."

"The only time 'burning the woods' is justifiable," he adds, "is when it is done to destroy pests harbored in and protected by the grass and underbrush. The exception for this, however, is the occasion rather than the rule, and it should be done under most careful control precautions."

Hotel Owners Who Fail to Pay State Licenses Are Subject to Heavy Fines

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 11.—Persons who put off filing descriptions of their places of business and neglect to pay licenses required under laws governing operation of hotels, rooming houses, apartment houses and restaurants in Florida, are subject to prosecution, with a maximum penalty of $50 fine or 30 days in jail, or both, according to an opinion given Jerry Carter, state hotel commissioner, by Attorney General Buford. The commissioner has so notified all of his field men and instructed them to file information with the local authorities and cause the arrest of such delinquents.

In replying to a letter from the hotel commissioner asking for his opinion on the subject, the attorney-general wrote: "I beg to say that a failure upon the part of the owner or operator of a hotel, apartment house, rooming house or restaurant to comply with the sections referred to in your letter constitutes a misdemeanor for which prosecution is NOT barred by the statute of limitation until the expiration of two years from the date of the offense. The statute makes it the duty of such officials to make complaint of such violations to the proper county authorities for prosecution."

Mr. Carter says he has spent two years of his department's time and a considerable amount of state funds bringing to the attention of those who have rooms or apartments for rent, or who furnish meals or lunches for profit, the fact that the statute requires them to pay a license, and that in the future those who neglect to do their duty under the law will be prosecuted without exception where inspectors of his department ascertain that they have failed to abide by the law.

AIR STATION LOSES PET

PENSACOLA, Dec. 11.—The naval air station is mourning the disappearance of its pet Pelican and a cat for which the bird had formed a close friendship. Both pets had grown accustomed to sitting nearby fishermen who cast aside the smaller catches as food for the strange pair. Finally, however, one of the fishermen became careless as the dinner bell rang, pulling from the water a small fish which he left on the hook. The cat, in his greed, hurriedly grabbed the fish, hook and all. He was so painfully hurt by the hook that he left the station. A few days later the Pelican also disappeared, attaches believe because of the loss of his friend cat.

DUVAL HIGH MUST PLAY SUMMERLIN FOR STATE TITLE

Head of State High School Athletic Association Says Eligibility of Players on Bartow Team Is Settled
TAMPA, Dec. 11.—Duval High

School of Jacksonville, must play Summerlin Institute, of Bartow, for the 1924 football championship of the Florida High School Athletic Association if the Jacksonville school can show no better record than Summerlin, according to Professor D. B. Shaver, principal of Kissimmee High School, president of the association.

"I have not seen the records of the two schools," said Professor Shaver this morning, "but if their records are equal a game must be played to decide the issue."

Professor Shaver said he had investigated the records of Bartow players and found nothing to disqualify any of them. He added that if either team refused to play the title would be awarded to the other.

C. D. Appling, business manager of the Bartow team, said he wired Duval management Tuesday offering a substantial guarantee for a game at Lakeland, Dec. 15.

R. B. Rutherford, Duval principal was quoted as saying that he was unwilling for Duval to play Summerlin unless the question of ineligibility of some Bartow players was cleared up.

Duval's Officials' Telegram. Officials, Prof. R. B. Rutherford, principal, and R. C. Marshall director of athletics, of Duval high school, yesterday sent a joint telegram to Prof. D. B. Shaver, Kissimmee, president of the Florida High School Athletic Association.

Prof. Walter Roberts, Bartow, principal of Summerlin Institute, and Prof. P. L. Reed, Gainesville, member of the board of control of the F. H. S. A., clearly defining the stand of the football team of the local institution on the present contention between Duval and Summerlin on the state high school football championship.

The telegram, verbatim, follows:

"Duval cannot play Summerlin and live up to the spirit of the state. If player is ruled ineligible for residing in another county and playing in another game in which he played should certainly be ruled out thereby disqualifying school from championship on record. According to constitution, school guilty of violating any eligibility rules is subject to suspension. If player after being declared ineligible moves in mid-season into other county and is then eligible and allowed to continue playing and entire record of school allowed to stand as though nothing had happened, certainly the spirit of the clause upon which he was first declared ineligible is violated and Duval cannot sanction such violation. We gladly give up championship honors rather than sacrifice principle and consider the matter closed."
(Signed)
R. B. Rutherford, Principal.
R. C. Marshall, coach."

Mails Will Soon Carry Groceries of America Throughout Germany

HAMBURG, Dec. 11.—The German housewife is soon to be given the opportunity of ordering American food by mail and having it delivered to her doorstep by fast freight from a general distributing warehouse to be established in Hamburg. The promoters of the scheme promise that the system will be in operation within a few weeks, and this despite the opposition that has arisen among members of the grocery trade organizations who contend that the mail order business will work great hardship upon them.

The sale of American lard, bacon, flour, dried fruits, canned goods, evaporated milk and a large assortment of other staples is to be handled by a consumers' co-operative society organized for the purpose. It is proposed to serve families all over Germany.

LANDIS RECEIVES ENDORSEMENT OF AMERICAN LOOP

Junior Baseball League Is Squarely Behind Baseball Commissioner; Plans Made To End Ban Johnson Feud

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The American League Wednesday lined up beside the National League in support of the administration of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and took steps toward offering a conciliation in the feud between its president, Ban Johnson, and the commissioner.

Taking action interpreted by baseball men as the sternest rebuke ever delivered to Johnson, who wielded czar-like authority in baseball until the regime of Landis, the American League club owners unanimously adopted resolutions declaring their "continued faith and confidence in the integrity and ability" of the commissioner and pledging "full and unqualified support and endorsement" to him in his "methods of conduct and leadership."

At the same time, however, the American League men also followed the example of the senior circuit's magnates in refraining from personal reference to Johnson's attacks upon Landis. It also was pointed out that Wednesday's resolutions, while amounting virtually to a vote of confidence in Landis, failed to endorse specifically, as the National League had done, the decisions of the commissioner in handling the Dolan-O'Connell bribery scandal, and ordering the world's series played in spite of its disclosures. On both of these points, Johnson severely had arraigned Landis.

Gambling Charges Tabled
Baseball men interpreted a second setback for Johnson when his club owners in the only other important issue before them, tabled his charges that gambling existed in connection with the Pacific Coast League. Details of these allegations, it was learned, were laid before the board of directors by Johnson and referred later to the league meeting as a whole but no official

Seabreeze All-Stars Will Meet Stetson's Quintet Saturday

Stetson's basketball season will open Saturday night in a game on the Cummings gymnasium floor against the Seabreeze all-star five which is reputed to have a number of good men this year and which is coming to DeLand intent on carrying home a victory.

There has always been considerable rivalry between the teams turned out in Seabreeze and those from DeLand. The season opening with these two teams in action is expected to draw quite a crowd, as many as the gymnasium will hold.

Since the first game has been announced before it was expected there would be one, the candidates for the various places on the squad are showing much more enthusiasm and this week will probably see some stiff practice on the floor.

Stetson basketball fans are anxious to see this season opener. There are numbers of persons who are anxiously awaiting the cage games.

action was taken as a result of feeling that conclusive proof was not apparent and that the matter was outside the league's jurisdiction.

After the meeting, Johnson refused to comment on any of its developments, but it was said on his behalf that he would pursue personally his dealings with the gambling accusations. Harry Williams, president of the Pacific Coast League, who cancelled his plans to return at once to the coast, announced he would attempt to obtain all available facts in Johnson's possession in an effort to force the issue to a showdown.

Club owners of both leagues, now on record as united in backing Landis, will gather in joint session Thursday afternoon, in spite of the absence of the commissioner, caused by the illness of his wife, but it was considered likely that the meeting would be merely perfunctory. Landis, it was said, had requested that an adjournment be taken until Saturday and the meeting held in Chicago, to permit a final showdown. In the major league's winter drama, but this was viewed as impractical by club owners of both leagues, a majority of whom seemed to favor postponing the session until early in January.
