

American Olympic Divers Sweep First Three Places

U.S. Relay Unit Is Defeated By Japanese Team

Nippon Lass Leads Way In 200-Meter Breast Stroke

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Paced by Dick Degener, team Detroit serial artist, America's Olympic divers swept the first three places of the springboard finals yesterday but her 800-meter relay team absorbed an awful lacer from Japan.

The day thus was no more than half-way a success for Uncle Sam.

The 20,000 fans were given more thrills than ordinarily would be anticipated in any diving event when blond Marshall Wayne of Miami, Fla., made a heroic but unsuccessful effort to overtake Degener in his final optional springs.

German audiences filled the stadium with "pfeifs" when the judges decided he hadn't quite done it. The final tally was 163.57 points for Degener and 159.56 for Wayne, a thin margin of 4.01 points.

Al Green of Chicago finished a comfortable third with 146.29 points but never endangered the lead his teammates piled up the first day in the compulsory program. The competition consisted of five compulsory and five optional dives spread over two days.

The Americans' elation over their first medal of any sort since the water games opened Saturday proved of short duration.

Immediately after Wayne and Green had the laurel wreaths placed on their brows—Degener wasn't there, having rushed off to visit his wife who was ill with a severe cold—America's relay team hooked up with the wrong quartet in the Japanese.

Head Coach Bob Kiphuth shot the works by inserting Ralph Flanagan of Miami, and Johnny Macdonald of Yale into the lineup in place of Charles Rutter of Cambridge, Mass., and Ralph Gilman of Alameda, Calif. He might as well have tried to corral a flock of live turkeys.

Still smarting over the loss of the 100-meter title to Yuzne Calk, the Hungarian surprise package, Masanori Yusa gained a full length on Flanagan on the first 200-meter leg and the next three little brown scoters followed his example with intense enthusiasm.

By the time they had finished they had left the runner-up Americans at least 15 meters behind and established a world and Olympic record of eight minutes, 51.5 seconds that may take a long time to beat.

"Something must have stirred up those boys," commented Kiphuth. His swimmers proved too dazed and out of breath to say much except: "You saw it, didn't you?"

The fact that three members of the team, Yusa, Shoji Taguchi and Shigeo Arai were clocked within fourth-tenths of each other attested to their remarkably even pace. Their slowest man, Yusa, proved a full two seconds faster than America's fastest, Flanagan, leaving little further doubt where the world's greatest free-style swimmers are being incubated.

The "leg" times of the rival teams were: Japan—Yusa, 2:13.4; Shigeo Arai, 2:11.9; Taguchi, 2:15.0; Arai, 2:13.2.

United States—Flanagan, 2:15.4; Macdonald, 2:16; Paul Wolf, Los Angeles, 2:16; Jack Medina, Seattle, 2:15.5.

After watching her men-folk perform, luxuriant Hideko Maehata could not do much less than win the women's 200-meter breast stroke championship but only after a heated tussle with Martha Genesee, German girl who stayed right at her shoulder for the last 50 meters and was beaten only a foot.

The small margin of the Japanese girl's margin was small consolation to the German crowd which roared and waved itself into a tangle of arms and legs.

Miss Maehata was behind the world Olympic record she set at Berlin in the preliminary trial.

U. S. RELAY TEAM TIES WORLD RECORD

Uzcuden Reported Killed In Spanish Revolution

Basque Woodchopper's Death Unconfirmed; Lost Last Fight To Joe Louis In United States

BAYONNE, France, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Paolino Uzcuden, the "Basque Woodchopper" who several times contended for the world's heavyweight boxing championship, was reported killed in heavy fighting between Spanish rebels and loyalists at San Sebastian yesterday.

Uzcuden's death was reported by the Bayonne Courier, afternoon newspaper. Officials at the Popular Front center, here, were unable to confirm the report.

Uzcuden's last fight was with Joe Louis, American negro who was the only fighter ever to knock the Basque out.

Paolino, who collected a fortune during 13 years in the ring, is considered Spain's greatest pugilist. Until his bout with Louis, Uzcuden boasted he had never been knocked off his feet.

He engaged in 70 bouts starting in 1923, winning 34 by knockouts and 16 by decision, losing 16, getting three draws and being knocked out once. He was born at Bagli, Spain, May 3, 1892.

In his early days he was famed for his woodchopping ability, but later became a prize fighter when he found it was more lucrative. He invaded the United States in 1926 and the next year was considered one of the promising contenders for the heavyweight title.

After Gene Tunney retired in 1927, Paolino was one of the three leading contenders for the vacant title. The other two were Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling and the German won a 15-round decision, giving the Basque a bad beating in the late rounds. Schmeling went on to win the heavyweight title on a foul from Sharkey.

Among the outstanding victories scored by the Basque were a 6-round K. O. of Phil Scott, a 4-round K. O. of Harry Wills, 10-round decisions from Tom Henney, Otto Von Porat and K. G. Christner, and a 24-round decision over Max Baer.

Always happy go lucky, Paolino engaged in pranks even during the height of training. He always was picking up some new trick or game to show one of his acquaintances. One of his favorite tricks was to give an unsuspecting friend a "hot foot."

Slipping Daytona Beach Nine Falls Before Reds, 6-1

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 12.—Home runs accounted for all the scoring yesterday as DeLand's Reds defeated the slipping Islanders, 6 to 1. The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was called because of rain.

Jim McGloin locked up with Bill Kinsey in a mound duel, and except for weakening by the Daytona Beach right hander in the sixth, it was an even game. Both clubs got seven hits.

All the DeLand runs came in the sixth inning, after Duggan's homer hit he fourth had given the Islanders the lead.

In the sixth, a single and an error by Davis put Patterson and Didrikson on base. Then Welch lifted a homer to left field. Simon and Chiado got on through Dillingham's error and a base on balls, then Robertson homered to right.

Gainesville Is Beaten 5-3, By Palatka Outfit

G-Men Get To Pair Of Hurlers For 12 Hits; Padgett Fans 6

PALATKA, Aug. 12.—Ebert Padgett, Gainesville's right hander, continued to have the Indian sign on the Azaleas here yesterday and limited the local nine to seven well spaced blows to post a 5-3 victory over the Palatkans.

Padgett fanned a half dozen and walked three during the contest while the G-Men were combing the deliveries of Berger and Gould for a total of twelve base hits.

Palatka tallied twice in the initial stanza when Guerra was hit, went to second on Hines' infield out and scored on Kinard's double to right which landed on top of the berm. Smith's single to second scored Kinard.

Berger, who started, weathered the first two frames without difficulty but was pulled in the third with the bases loaded, three runs in and one out. Gould replaced Berger and finished the tilt but the G-Men tallied twice more in the third stanza before the side was retired.

Palatka's final marker came in the eighth when Hines doubled with one away and scored on Kinard's single to left. Gallegos followed with a single but Smith hit into a double play which retired the side.

Adair and Pitman led the Gainesville attack with three blows each while Kinard and Swift were the leading hitters for the Azaleas with a double and single apiece.

JAPANESE SETS MARATHON RECORD

Kitel Sen, sturdy 22-year-old Korean student representing Japan, is shown in this picture transmitted to New York from Berlin by radio as he came home ahead of a field of 66 starters to win the Olympic marathon run. Nation's Trotting Classic Billed Today In Goshen

Colt, Filly Owned By Ben White Leading Hambletonian Bet

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Hambletonian, the magnet that annually packs this little village upwards of 40,000 farm and city folk, draw 10% of the country's leading three-year-old trotters today for its biennial renewal over Good Time Park's triangular track today.

The owners and trainers of the six colts and four fillies, posted the final declaration fee of $600 with hopes that the investment would be returned many fold today. If the 10 trotters start for the first heat, the race will have a gross value of close to $36,000 with nearly $20,000 going to the winner.

Heading the field are two stallions, a colt and a filly, conditioned by Ben White, veteran Lexington trainer. The colt is Ed Lester from W. N. Reynolds' Winston-Salem, N. C. barn. The filly is Rosalind, the story-book trotter owned by White's 21-year-old son, Gibson.

Experts were of the opinion there would be little to choose between the pair.

Neither was favored by the draw for positions for the first heat, however Ed Lester drew the outside lane, with the possibility he may have to score in the second flight, while Rosalind was placed seventh from the pole.

The favored pole position went to Hollywood Hermes, the only surprise of the entry list. Owned and driven by the near 70-year-old John L. Dodge of Lexington, Hollywood Hermes has raced only once in his career and in that effort failed to show anything.

If either of the favorites is beaten, the winner is likely to come from a group composed of the three other fillies and Brooklyn Hanover, a colt from Lawrence B. Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., farm. The fillies are William Hughes' Clara, of Cleveland, Ga.; Gale's Mita, which came in the silks of John E. Kelley of Bangor, Maine; and Ruth M. from C. B. Shaw's Cold Spring stud of Lexington.

California Girls' Olympic Oarsmen Spring Surprise In Sustain Defeat At Rye Tennis Meet

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Two California girls, Dorothy May Sutton Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., and Dorothy Workman of Los Angeles, furnished major surprises yesterday as the Eastern Grass Courts singles tennis championships reached the quarter final round.

Miss Bundy, daughter of the former national women's champion, cashed in on her training and tennis heritage by eliminating the sixth seeded player, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York, 6-2, 10-8. Her doubles partner, Miss Workman, won more easily from red-haired Norma Taabele of New York, seeded seventh, 6-3, 6-4.

One other seeded player, Mrs. Mary J. Lammie of Rye, the defending champion who was fifth on the list, fell yesterday while the men's division produced one surprising result. Otherwise the top-ranking favorites, led by Don Budge and Bryan Grant, came through with little trouble. Doubles players kept the courts busy all afternoon with first and second round matches.

The biggest surprise in the men's division came when Arthur Hendrix of Miami turned back the Orange, N. J. veteran, J. Gilbert Hall, 5-6, 6-4, 6-4. Rivaling this battle was the protracted duel between John McDiarmid, the Princeton instructor from Fort Worth, Texas, and Gene Mallo, brilliant young Oakland, Calif. player. McDiarmid, seeded fourth, won 8-10, 7-5, 6-2, mostly because of his greater endurance.
