County Favors Fees For Fire-Rescue, Not Libraries

A proposal to levy fire-rescue impact fees on new development in unincorporated areas of Seminole County is to get public hearings Aug. 5 and 25, county commissioners agreed Tuesday. But commissioners declined to schedule hearings on impact fees to help boost the number of library books in the countywide system.

The levy for fire/rescue service is proposed to re-establish and maintain a fire response time of five minutes, a standard that county officials say has not been met in the last couple years of rapid growth.

Commissioners agreed to advertise the proposed fees at a rate of $110 per dwelling unit or 1,000 square feet of commercial space, but expressed a willingness to provide discounts recommended by the impact fee committee. As suggested by the committee, developers would pay $75 for each residential unit and $50 for each 1,000 square feet of a commercial building.

The impact committee recommended phasing out the discounts over three years, thus putting the fees back to the $110 level. Commissioners, however, supported a staff proposal to keep the fees at $75 and $50 and reconsider the amounts in two years.

County staff said the lower charge for commercial and industrial buildings is based on an occupancy of fewer than 24 hours a day. Assistant County Manager Montye Beamer explained unoccupied buildings are less likely to be the source of a fire or destination of a rescue call.

Committee members, in discussions with commissioners, conceded a lack of firm data made their study of county fire and rescue needs difficult and contributed to the narrow vote, 5-4, to recommend the fees. All the committee members believed fire and rescue services were a legitimate use of impact fees but whether the county was facing a deficit in its standard of service remained a matter of opinion, according to Roger Neiswender, committee chairman.

"We thought we could go through this very quickly, but we didn't," said Neiswender. "The validity of the five-minute fire response time became the critical issue. The vote came down to a difference of opinion on how strong our data was."

Available data were mostly transportation-related and derived from the years 1982 to 1985.

In a note of advice to the commission, Neiswender said, "We emphasize the need for direct data on fire response times." He said the data should include the number of responses. See FEES, page 12A

Bank Robber Held In Seminole

A convicted bank robber wanted on murder, robbery and escape charges was arrested in Daytona Beach Tuesday and was being held in the Seminole County jail pending a court appearance today in Orlando federal court.

Michael Thomas Savich, 53, was arrested at gunpoint at about 6:30 p.m. by U.S. Marshals and Daytona Beach police. He did not resist when confronted by the lawmen inside the Voyager Motel lobby on Atlantic Avenue, said U.S. Marshal Peter Nagurny, supervisor of the Orlando Marshal's office.

The federal agents received a call from a motel employee via 911 that Savich was at the motel. The day before, agents left photographs of Savich at the motel after learning that he might be in the Daytona Beach area.

Savich escaped from the Dade County jail on Feb. 5 while awaiting trial on a charge of murdering a People's National Bank security guard during a robbery in Miami in 1985. Frank Zoufa, 74, was shot to death in the $45,000 robbery.

Savich escaped from the jail by scaling a 12-foot wall of an exercise yard. Guards did not notice Savich missing until four hours later.

Besides the murder and escape charge, Savich will be charged with the Feb. 19 robbery of $175,000 from an armored car

Body Found In Woods

Florist Worker Killed In Apparent Robbery

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

An autopsy was scheduled early today for an Seminole County florist shop worker who was killed by a robber before 4:40 p.m. Tuesday. Seminole County sheriff's deputies were back at the scene early today, searching for clues.

Dead is Diane Lynn McGinnis, 39, of 113 Duncan Trail Longwood, whose body was found about 150 yards north of her workplace, Floral Creations, 484 Hunt Club Road, Hunt Club Corners, Apopka.

McGinnis' husband of 22 years, Donald, said today they celebrated their anniversary Friday and he last saw his wife when he left for work at about 6 a.m. Tuesday.

"I can't believe it. There was nothing there. There was no money there," Donald McGinnis said.

Seminole County sheriff's

Capt. Roy Hughey said that investigators called to the scene after McGinnis' body was found in woods about 100 feet from a lake, reported seeing an apparent bullet exit wound in her head. But an entry wound was not found in a preliminary exam. McGinnis' body was found after off duty Seminole County reserve deputy Pete Kelling entered the unattended florist shop on personal business at about 4:40 p.m. Kelling saw that the cash register was open and empty and from the back door. Hughey said, Kelling saw a car.

Kelling went to a neighboring shop and called the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the owner of the florist shop, Jackie Gordon. Hughey said patrol deputies and Gordon and her husband arrived at about the same time and a search was mounted for McGinnis, who had been working alone.

Donald Gordon, whom Hughey identified as the husband of the shop owner, found McGinnis.

Rescue workers were called to the scene, but she was dead. Deputies are estimating that she was killed after 4 p.m. Kelling did not hear a gunshot, Hughey said.

Hughey said it is believed Kelling arrived at the shop just shortly after the robbery in which less than $100 is believed to have been stolen.

Donald McGinnis said his wife was born in Chicago, Ill., and they moved to Florida about nine years ago with their two children, Donald Jr., 20, and Donna, 17. Mrs. McGinnis worked at the florist shop five years and McGinnis said they never expected that anything like this might happen in such a setting.

Woman Escapes Abductor-Rapist

A 25-year-old Seminole County woman escaped from a kidnapper-rapist who abducted her from her bed early today.

The woman was bound, gagged and had a pillowcase put over her head by an intruder who took her from her home at knife-point at about 4:30 a.m., Seminole County sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said.

The woman told sheriff's investigators she was forced into a car, which was driven a short distance by the abductor. When the car stopped the woman was forced out and raped. She remained bound, gagged and with the pillowcase over her head, Hughey said.

After the attack the woman was put back into the car and as the rapist drove she managed to free her hands, remove the pillowcase and jump from the car on State Road 436 at Howell Branch Road, near Casselberry. The man stopped and got out of the car, but got back in and drove away as the woman fled and hid outside a nearby apartment complex, which is also where she lives, Hughey said.

The woman went home and reported the incident to sheriff's deputies at about 6:20 a.m. Her roommate, Hughey said, told investigators she heard noise in the apartment at about 4:30 a.m. Investigators believe the assailant entered the apartment through a sliding glass door.

Crooms Discipline Board Topic

Award of a construction contract for Wilson Elementary School additions and a new Crooms School of Choice discipline program will be items for discussion and possible approval when the Seminole County School board meets today.

The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p.m. in board chambers at 1211 Mellonville Ave., Sanford.

Seminole Recruitment 'Active'

Report Cites 'Drastic' Shortage Of Black Grade School Teachers

From Staff and Wire Reports

The Seminole County School Board is actively seeking the best qualified black grade-school teachers from a declining number that, according to a state advisory panel, will prove to be the most serious part of Florida's worsening teacher shortage.

Karen Coleman, spokesman for the Seminole County School Board, said six ads have been run this month in black publications such as the Richmond Afro-American, the Washington Afro-American, the Baltimore Afro-American and the New Jersey Afro-American aimed at recruiting qualified black teachers.

A 43-page report released by the Education Standards Commission late last week estimated that only 90 blacks were available last year for 6,000 teaching vacancies in Florida.

But in Seminole, "We're not in a real critical situation," Coleman said. "As a general rule, school systems seek to employ approximately the same percentage of black teachers as they have black students enrolled. While there is no great disparity in the percentage of black teachers and students in Seminole County, we are aware that the trend is for fewer outstanding black students to enter education. We are, therefore, involved in an active recruitment program to secure the very best black teachers available."

Management Information Services for the district shows that 109 black elementary teachers were employed by Seminole County at the end of last year out of a total elementary teaching force of 957. Coleman said, which represents 11.4 percent black teachers compared with 13.25 percent of the black student population.

The state report blamed the shortage on declining black college enrollment and a high black failure rate on teacher certification exams.

Noting that over one-third of Florida grade-school students are from minority groups, the commission said the lack of minority teachers is a "drastic" shortage.

"Of all of the issues surrounding teacher supply and demand, (we believe) that the shortage of qualified minority teachers is the most crucial, and will ultimately prove to be the most difficult to ameliorate," wrote commission chairwoman

11-Year-Old Trying For Flight Record

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — Flying across the country, even in a private plane, is not exactly an unusual feat these days — unless the pilot needs three cushions to reach the controls and is still in elementary school.

John Kevin Hill insists he is just like any other 11-year-old, but admitted Tuesday that his goal to become the youngest pilot to fly across the United States sets him apart somewhat.

The flight was scheduled to begin today, a day after John flew in from his hometown of Arlington, Texas, with his flight instructor, Mike Fields, in a four-seat, twin-engine Cessna.

The youngster, who has to sit on three cushions so he can reach the airplane's controls, has logged 150 hours of flight time since he began flying at age 9. Because he cannot legally fly solo until he is 17, Fields is on board as backup.

John, a student at Arlington's Dunn Elementary School, said Tuesday he was nervous but anxious to begin the flight.

"It's easy to fly ... (but) it sometimes feels scary up there," he said.

His mother, Patsy, was not quite so calm, telling reporters in Texas, "I am about ready to fall apart."

The plan for the record-setting 3,500-mile flight calls for stops in Loveland, Colo., and St. Louis before winding up July 1 in Washington, D.C. The Hill family

City Adopts Pool Resolution

Sanford city commissioners adopted a resolution offering support to the Seminole County School Board in seeking a PECO (public education capital outlay) grant to help pay the cost of constructing a pool at Seminole High school.

Sanford Recreation Director Jim Jernigan said that with the acceptance of the resolution the school board and city can now begin plans for a pool.

"The PECO grant," Jernigan said, "requires a cooperative effort between school boards and municipalities. The resolution means that the city will cooperate in the planning and funding of a joint project, in this case a swimming pool."

Requirements for the state grant are that:

adjacent to school property.

• Educational purposes for the facility come first; recreation second.

• The city must split the cost of the project with the state.

Jernigan said the next step is for the resolution to officially go to the school board. Then the two bodies must get together and determine how much the city is willing to spend on the project before contracting out for an architect to draw up the plans.

When the plans are completed they will be sent along with the grant application to Tallahassee where the project will be evaluated.

"It will probably take 18 months for the funding to come through," Jernigan said.

POLICE IN BRIEF

Police Search Of Home Reveals Cache Of Cocaine, Marijuana

Sanford police, with a warrant, searched a home at 1811 W. 15th St., Sanford at about 5 p.m. Monday, and reported finding cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Major Wheeler, 25, of that address was charged with possession of those items of contraband. He has been released on $2,000 bond to appear in court July 13.

Women Report Sexual Assaults

In separate cases two women who accepted rides from men Sunday reported they were raped.

In one case, a 22-year-old woman told Seminole County sheriff's deputies she was raped by a man who picked her up on Interstate 4 in Orange County after her car broke down at about 6 a.m. The man drove to an unknown location and the woman said she was raped. She didn't report the rape until she and her boyfriend were arguing about it at a Caselberry bar later Sunday and sheriff's deputies were called. The case was referred to Orange County.

In the other case, a 24-year-old Sanford woman told sheriff's deputies she fled partially clothed from a man who had picked her up at her home and then drove to a wooded area off Bungalow Boulevard, Sanford, where he assaulted her. The woman was picked up by a passer-by on Airport Boulevard and taken to the Sanford police station, a sheriff's report said. Deputies have the name of a suspect in that case.

Club Prompts Man's Arrest

Walking along Interstate 4 with a club in his hand prompted the arrest of a Casselberry man on a marijuana charge.

Police received a report around 2 a.m. Saturday that a man was southbound on I-4 near State Road 434 and carrying a club. On the approach of the officer the man reportedly dropped the club and raised his hands.

The officer, thinking the man may of had other weapons, frisked him and felt what he first thought was a knife. It was, however, a set of keys intertwined with a baggie of what is believed to be marijuana, said police.

Charged with possession of marijuana was Mark Franklin Seither, 27, of 804 Cypress Way. Bond was set at $500.

3 Jailed On Drug Charges

A Sanford couple and a person living in their home were arrested on drug possession charges after undercover agents searched their home Friday.

The agents served a search warrant around 6:30 a.m. at 1713 Southwest Road in Sanford. Why the agents served the warrant and where they reportedly found the drugs at that address was not included in the arrest reports. The agents did report finding crack cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Arrested and charged with possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia were Saintaler and Brenda Exantus, 40 and 28, of the above address as well as Berna Philemon, 29. Bond at the Seminole County jail was set at $2,000 each.

Repo Men Threatened With Gun

A Midway woman was charged with aggravated assault after reportedly aiming a rifle at men who were repossessing her car.

The men attached the vehicle to a tow truck while the woman argued with them, according to a deputy's report. The woman then went into a house and returned with a rifle, the report said. She then aimed the rifle at one of the men at a distance of three to five feet and ordered him to detach the car and tow truck. He did.

When the deputy arrived at whom the gun was aimed identified the woman and she was placed under arrest. The deputy reported finding a rifle under a bed in the residence. That rifle resembled the one she aimed at the man, he said.

Charged with aggravated assault was Barbara Jean Watkins, of 2514 Frog Alley. Her bond was set at $1,000.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

A $300 television, a $330 diamond ring and $200 cash belonging to Earnest A. Stickle, 21, of 7437 Fieldcrest St., Winter Park, were stolen Wednesday from 217 Stefank Ave., Winter Park, a sheriff's report said.

CLARIFICATION

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith was incorrectly quoted in a story in Tuesday's Sanford Herald regarding the city's decision to request assistance from the governor's office in the Yankee Lake investigation.

Smith voted against the city contacting the governor's office, saying since the state attorney's office already had done so, Sanford would have nothing to gain from the city doing likewise. She did not say there was nothing to gain from the investigation itself. The Herald regrets the error.

Health Officials Prepare For Crisis

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — South Florida health officials said today they are preparing for the worst as doctors decide whether to pay increased malpractice premiums or curtail their services.

"We are preparing ourselves as if we would be preparing for any other type of disaster, such as a hurricane," said Ralph Marrinson, chairman of Broward County's Emergency Medical Services Council.

Palm Beach County officials are planning to hire trauma specialists to work in a hospital emergency room under limited protection from malpractice suits. Broward County emergency medical services officials have organized a task force to monitor the availability of surgeons and other trauma specialists at hospitals.

St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. of Minnesota, which insures about 5,000 of the state's 20,000 doctors, is expected to decide in the next few days whether to accept a rate increase proposed Monday by state Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter.

Gunter said St. Paul's could raise its basic rates 30.9 percent in Broward and Dade counties and should drop its rates by 1.6 percent in Palm Beach County and the rest of the state. He allowed an 11.8 percent hike for increased-coverage policies.

St. Paul threatened to pull out of Florida on July 1 unless Gunter granted its rate hike request of 63 percent in Broward and Dade counties.

St. Paul's typical annual premium in Dade and Broward counties for neurosurgeons is $143,832. The rate for neurosurgeons in Palm Beach County and the rest of the state is $95,996. Those rates do not include the proposed increases.

Many south Florida doctors have already curtailed practices to protest malpractice insurance costs. They are divided over whether to accept the rates the state approved.

"I think you're going to see a lot of physicians curtail their practice as of July 1," said Robert Newman, associate administrator of Florida Medical Center Hospital in Lauderdale Lakes.

"I think the physicians are just to the point where how much is too much? I think we've passed that point already. When do you say enough?"

Many neurosurgeons and orthopedic surgeons already have resigned from Palm Beach County hospitals. Some pregnant women have been forced to seek care in Broward County because most Palm Beach obstetricians are refusing to accept new patients.

The Palm Beach County Commission could vote next week on a plan to hire emergency room doctors, probably at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, who would receive the county's limited immunity from liability awards of more than $200,000.

Broward County officials are preparing for July 1 by setting up an Emergency Resource Management Committee to monitor emergency services that hospitals provide and tell paramedics and other rescue workers where to take patients.

Dr. Joseph Phillips, secretary of the Palm Beach County Medical Society, said he expected most doctors would reluctantly accept the newest rate increase.

"The simplest thing, unfortunately, is to accept a short-term Band-Aid solution," Phillips said.

Phillips said many doctors are waiting to find out whether the Legislature soon will make changes in malpractice law before they decide to change their practices.

Gov. Bob Martinez has said he wants the Legislature to meet in special session this summer on the issue, but has not set a date.

Court: Churches Can Discriminate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A unanimous Supreme Court handed religious groups a major victory today, ruling Congress can exempt churches from laws prohibiting discrimination on the basis of religion.

Justice Byron White, writing for the Supreme Court, said, "A law is not unconstitutional simply because it allows churches to advance religion, which is their very purpose."

The court's ruling came in two cases brought by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the government, seeking review of a decision of a federal court in Utah that found portions of the Civil Rights Act unconstitutional.

The case was closely followed by a variety of churches, which operate schools, hospitals, nursing homes and childcare facilities and feared widespread government involvement.

Today's ruling gives the groups wide immunity from a variety of government anti-discrimination laws that deal with religious discrimination.

2 Enter Pleas In Drug Case

Two women arrested on cocaine charges have pleaded no contest to attempted possession of a controlled substance.

Lynette Jackson, 24, and Angela Sue Little, 22, of 201 Monroe Ave., Winter Park, entered their pleas before Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton Jr. Eaton set Aug. 13 for sentencing.

Two other people arrested at the same time on cocaine possession charges await final disposition of their cases.

Jackson and Little were arrested in November along with Patrick Robin Boone, 25, of Orlando, and Gene Charles Lovely, 40, of 5125 Richland Road, Sanford. They were arrested in the parking lot of the Hotline Bottle Club in Altamonte Springs.

The men were also charged with tampering with evidence after they allegedly tried to throw away cocaine when confronted.

Local Report

The high temperature Friday in Sanford was 96 degrees and the overnight low was 72 degrees as reported by the University of Florida Agricultural Research and Education Center, Celery Avenue. There was no rainfall recorded. Partly cloudy today with expected high in the low to middle 90s and a 50 percent chance of afternoon showers.

Area Forecast

Today partly cloudy with scattered afternoon thunderstorms. High in the low to mid 90s. Wind southwest 10 mph. Rain chance 50 percent. Tonight and Thursday partly cloudy with a chance of afternoon and evening thunderstorms. Low in the mid 70s. High in the low to mid 90s. Light wind tonight then southwest 10 mph Thursday. Rain chance 20 percent tonight and 50 percent Thursday.

Thunderstorms Dot Southeast

By United Press International
Rain, hail and gusty winds lashed Nebraska today as storms rolled through the nation's midsection, and thunderstorms dotted parts of the Southeast.

Storms pushing across the central Plains brought rain to Nebraska and Kansas after leaving eastern Colorado, the National Weather Service said.

Thunderstorms hit parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. Rains were scattered, and there was no threat of flooding.

Three-quarter-inch hail fell near Mitchell, Neb., Tuesday night, and thunderstorms brought heavy rain, gusty winds and small-sized hail to the central Nebraska Panhandle.

Tornadoes were spotted Tuesday near Honey Grove, Texas, Ardmore, Okla., Emporia, Va., Weld County, Texas, and Banner County, Neb. No injuries or damage was reported.

Showers subsided over most of New York state Tuesday, but not before as much as 3 inches had fallen over its western, central and northeastern sections. More than 3 1/2 inches of rain was measured at Glens Falls, N.Y., during a 24-hour period ending Tuesday morning.

Winds up to 75 mph Tuesday were blamed for damaging airplanes and a hangar in Craighead County, Ark., and for pushing a semi-truck onto a pickup near Searcy, Ark.

About 2 inches of rain fell Tuesday evening at Little Rock, Ark., and at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Elsewhere, the West Coast enjoyed mostly fair skies, clouds covered the mid-Atlantic states and skies were fair over New England. Temperatures soared into the 90s Tuesday in Virginia and North Carolina.

Toxic chemicals flowing into the Atlantic are poisoning fish and shellfish off the New England coast, posing a growing threat to consumers, a coalition of scientists, lawyers and environmentalists says.

The Coast Alliance, in a report released Tuesday, said a major study of the chemical contamination of New England's fishery resources showed eating fish and shellfish "may be dangerous to your health."

That conclusion is based on the findings of marine scientists at the Woods Hole Scientific Institution and the University of Massachusetts.

Sarah Chasis of the Natural Resources Defense Council said the threat is "very real indeed" but the trend can still be reversed.

"Our intention is to sound the alarm," she said.

Paul Hauge, a member of the Conservation Law Foundation of New England and one of the authors of the report, said most seafood in New England is not dangerous to eat yet.

"But there are pockets of contamination that can make a trip to the fish store a game of Russian roulette," he said.

The report said the most dangerous chemicals being dumped into the sea through sewage, industrial wastewater and storm runoff include lead, cadmium, mercury, and hydrocarbons.

"They almost never disintegrate in the water but move through the ocean food web, accumulated by marine life which is eventually eaten by people," the report said.

Lawyer: Bakker's Want Peace

TEGA CAY, S.C. (UPI) — Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker, seeking a truce in their "holy war" with the Rev. Jerry Falwell over the PTL, agreed to vacate — but not surrender — their $1.3 million lakeside mansion and move to a Tennessee mountain chalet.

The Bakkers planned to leave Tega Cay today for a brief vacation at the chalet in Gatlinburg, Tenn., returning later to remove their belongings from the disputed lakefront "parsonage," Jim Toms, an attorney for the PTL founders, said Tuesday.

Toms extended the olive branch to new PTL leaders, saying the Bakkers want to avoid a legal fight to regain control of the PTL evangelical empire and hope "trusted friends" can mediate a settlement with Falwell and the ministry's new directors. He would not identify the trusted friends.

"It is the conviction of the Bakkers and the opinion of their counsel that the continued destructive, divisive presentation of differences can only harm the cause of many other Christian organizations apart from the Old Time Gospel Hour" — Falwell's own television program — "and the PTL organization," Toms said.

"It is time for peace to be made and scriptures to be followed."

"The Bakkers have asked me also to tell you that within the next few weeks they will be moving from this house," Toms said, adding, "They are not moving in an indication of abandonment of entitlement to the home."

The Bakkers contend the PTL gave them the house in Tega Cay, but Falwell says it is PTL property and wants to sell it to help pay a $70 million debt that forced the ministry to seek Chapter 11 protection from creditors.

Falwell took charge of the ministry at Jim Bakker's behest in March when Bakker's sexual tryst with a church secretary became widely publicized.

Into The Wild, Blue Yonder

We don't envy T. Allan McArtor who was nominated recently by President Reagan to assume command of the Federal Aviation Administration after Donald Engen retires in July. The beleaguered government agency responsible for ensuring air safety appears increasingly unable to fulfill its mandate in such a manner that inspires public confidence.

No sooner does the outgoing FAA administrator assure us that the skies are safer than ever, than there is another disturbing disclosure to frighten the most seasoned air-travelers. For example, recently there was a near collision between a jetliner and a military aircraft over Rapid City, S.D., due to a controller error. Then we learn that on May 29, two Boeing 727s came within 500 feet of each other over Chicago because of a breakdown in air-traffic control procedures.

These near misses lend chilling credence to charges by the National Transportation Safety Board of a significant "erosion of safety" in the skies during the last several years. Reports of near mid-air collisions are 30 percent above last year's levels, which, in turn, were 42 percent higher than in 1985. Equally alarming is that "runway incursions," in which one aircraft taxis into the path of another, have increased by 50 percent during the last two years.

These ominous statistics reflect the mismatch between an understaffed, ill-equipped air-traffic-control system and the relentless growth of commercial flights since the airlines were deregulated in 1978. Last year, 9,555 fully certified controllers were available to handle 9 million flights out of the nation's 22 busiest airports. Contrast that with 21 percent fewer flights in 1981, when there were 38 percent more veteran controllers on duty.

Despite longstanding assurances that the current controller corps is adequate, Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole has asked Congress for more money to hire an additional 955 controllers by October. Even so, it will be another 12 months or so before they are trained and able to monitor traffic in the increasingly crowded skies.

Another serious problem is the snail's pace at which the FAA's outdated equipment is being upgraded to handle the heavy volume of air traffic. In 1985, the agency added a computer program that automatically reports incidents in which high-flying planes come within five miles of each other. And the FAA is currently installing sophisticated computers to cope with the predicted growth in air travel. But a multibillion-dollar overhaul of the system and a planned nationwide reconfiguration of air routes have been bogged down between Congress and the Reagan administration over budget priorities.

Then there is a General Accounting Office report that scolds the FAA for its inadequate safety inspections. The review, based upon investigations between August 1985 and January 1986, found that some FAA employees are being pressured by the airline industry to spend less time making inspections and more time certifying new airlines and operating changes for existing carriers. Indeed, the report disclosed that at five district FAA offices in 1985, inspectors spent 80 percent of their time conducting certification and other jobs unrelated to safety inspections.

This brings us back to McArtor and the daunting task before him if he is confirmed by the Senate. At first blush, he appears highly capable. An aviator who received the Silver Star and the Distinguished Flying Cross for his service in Vietnam, McArtor is a senior vice president of Federal Express, the nation's largest air-freight company. He will need all of his administrative skills to restore confidence in the safety and reliability of the nation's commercial airline system.

Why Wouldn't Politics Be Partisan?

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The raising and spending of money purely for the purpose of winning election being undeniably a political endeavor, why is anyone surprised that reform of campaign financing laws is a partisan issue?

"Whenever you consider the issue of money in politics, the partisan juices begin to flow," Common Cause President Fred Wertheimer points out. "There has never been a fight involving campaign finance reform that hasn't had partisan overtones."

For three weeks, the Senate has been paralyzed in a classic split down party lines without even the hint of movement that would indicate a rendezvous on common ground.

In fact, the only point of agreement among Democrats and Republicans is that something is amiss and that it is time for Congress to remodel the law that was spawned by the excesses and failures of a lawless system.

Past that initial agreement, important in itself, Republicans and Democrats are on the road to different destinations, their routes dictated by the needs of and weaknesses in their own parties.

Citing the increase in the cost of a winning a Senate election from $600,000 in 1978 to $3 million last year and no end in sight, Democrats offer a bill that would set spending limits ranging from $950,000 in the smallest states to $5.5 million in the largest.

By contrast, Sen. Alan Cranston and his Republican opponent, Rep. Ed Szchau, R-Calif., spent more than $20 million last year in the California Senate race, and big state contests threaten to go beyond that in the future.

A Supreme Court ruling, however, prohibits imposing campaign spending ceilings that put Democrats in the position of providing candidates with some "carrot" to make voluntary participation attractive. The answer: taxpayer financing up to 40 percent of the limit.

Although the skyrocketing cost of winning a Senate seat is outlandish and does force incumbents to spend an inordinate time hustling money, putting limits on spending would profit Democrats. The reason is simple: Republicans raise more money and, therefore, can spend more.

Republicans are not willing to cede this money edge, which they see balancing heavier Democratic registration in many states and countering registration and get-out-the-vote drives by such heavyweights as organized labor.

Senate Republican leader Robert Dole says that limitations on spending would end any GOP hopes of the long-awaited "breakthrough" in the South and other parts of the country where the Democrats are heavily entrenched.

His counterpart, Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd, insists that the legislation "is not intended to destroy the Republican Party. That's pap."

In one area, the role of political action committees, both sides are willing to move, but, again, in different directions. The Democrats want to limit the amount a candidate can accept from PACs; the Republican suggest cutting the maximum a PAC can give to a candidate.

Kremlin Struggle Rages

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A major power struggle is taking place within the Soviet hierarchy over the pace of Mikhail Gorbachev's domestic reforms, according to U.S. experts.

In his two years, Gorbachev has moved to consolidate his power both on the 11-member Politburo, which runs the country on a day-to-day basis, and the 307-member Central Committee. His aim has been to replace old-liners who think his economic reforms too radical with supporters committed to his policies.

Some believe one of the biggest breaks for Gorbachev in recent months happened when a young West German flew his small plane into Red Square. This gave Gorbachev and his supporters the excuse they needed to oust Sergei Sokolov as Defense Minister and as a voting member of the Politburo.

Sokolov, a hard-liner originally appointed to the Politburo by Leonid Brezhnev, was a leader of the faction that believes Gorbachev is moving too fast.

Some believe the outcome of the current debate will come down to a test between two Kremlin leaders whose names are generally unknown in the West.

Yegor Ligachev is the No. 2 man on the Politburo. Ligachev is the party's chief ideologue; his job is to see that all party ideas remain pure. This is an extremely powerful role within the Soviet structure, and the holder of this position maintains an independent power base second only to that of party secretary.

Western analysts are split over whether Ligachev supports or opposes Gorbachev's reforms. At times he seems to support them, but at other times he seems to be saying Gorbachev is moving too far, too fast.

It is said that Ligachev is being challenged by Alexander Yakovlev, a close Gorbachev ally, who holds the key role of Central Committee secretary and sits as a non-voting member of the Politburo.

Yakovlev has apparently launched a bid to take over the ideological position now occupied by Ligachev. In the last six weeks, he has published several major articles and made key speeches about ideology.

Western experts point to certain recent developments as showing how bitter this contest is becoming.

But if the Politburo changes are not made, the message will be equally clear. The Central Committee will have told Gorbachev he is moving too quickly.

Carter Planned October '80 Surprise

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — A missing key has been found to a story that won't go away — a story that we wrote during the 1980 presidential campaign but that then-President Jimmy Carter swore never happened, a story nevertheless that won't give up the ghost. We reported, and Carter angrily denied, that he was planning a military attack on Iran as an "October surprise" on the eve of the election.

The missing evidence has been uncovered by the distinguished journalist John Barron, a former intelligence officer specializing in Soviet affairs, who is now a senior editor for Reader's Digest. He revealed the evidence as part of his investigation of the John Walker spy case. After digging through exhaustive files and interviewing Walker at length, Barron wrote a book about the Walker espionage ring.

City In The Fast Lane

INDIANAPOLIS (NEA) — For the first time since the Memorial Day auto race was inaugurated in 1911, the grueling Indianapolis 500 will not be the major sporting event here this year.

That development is noteworthy because for decades Indianapolis has had a well-deserved reputation as a Midwest backwater where nothing of note ever occurred except for the auto race. Even the natives referred disparagingly to their home town as "Indiana-place."

But the Pan American Games, to be held here Aug. 7 to 23, not only will overshadow the Memorial Day 500 but also will mark Indianapolis' success in achieving the urban renaissance that has eluded many other cities.

The largest sports event held anywhere in the world this year, the Pan American games will attract 6,500 athletes, coaches and officials from 38 nations in the Western Hemisphere. Being designated as host is a coup for Indianapolis, which has repeatedly turned to sports to define itself.

The Market Square Arena, a 17,000-seat facility completed in 1974 at a cost of $16.4 million, is the home of the Indiana Pacers of the National Basketball Association.

The Hoosier Dome, a 60,500-seat covered stadium completed in 1984 at a cost of $77.5 million, is the home of the Indianapolis Colts of the National Football League.

The metropolitan area's more than $136 million worth of world-class sports facilities also includes a natatorium for swimming and a velodrome for cycling. In addition, Indianapolis is the headquarters of a half-dozen amateur sports federations, including those governing gymnastics, diving and rowing.

Indianapolis' success in capturing two professional sports franchises when many other communities would gladly settle for one masks the fact that Indiana's capital is hardly a "big city." Its population barely exceeds 700,000, and its nascent skyline poses no threat to New York or Chicago.

For the past two decades, however, Indianapolis had made up in spirit what it lacked in size. The city's astounding growth began in the mid-1960s under a Democratic mayor, John Barton.

The commitment to aggressive but judicious development was enhanced in the 1970s and 1980s under two Republican mayors — Richard Lugar, now a U.S. senator, and William Hudnut, now serving his third term.

Municipal officials estimate that more than $2 billion has been invested since the early 1970s to construct dozens of hotels, office buildings and retail complexes — but the city's revitalization extends beyond sports facilities and commercial buildings.

Union Station, a railroad depot built in the late 1800s, has been transformed into a superb "festive marketplace," a Romanesque showplace of more than 100 shops and restaurants. A hotel incorporated into the complex includes suites fashioned from refurbished Pullman cars.

Other old but sturdy downtown office buildings have been carefully restored. St. Elmo's Restaurant, for example, still serves superb steaks in the same building where it was founded in 1902.

The resurgence here has produced a booming economy. Local officials claim net gains of almost 6,100 businesses and 89,400 jobs during the past decade.

Protein Cancer Treatment

By Rob Stein
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — Genetically engineered proteins based on a toxin produced by the bacteria that cause diphtheria may offer a new approach for treating certain types of cancer, organ rejection and autoimmune diseases.

Because the proteins are tailored to kill specific cells, researchers say they may offer an effective treatment without the adverse side effects of chemotherapy.

"This is a whole new ball game," said John Murphy, chief of biomolecular medicine at the University Hospital in Boston, who developed the new approach. "It's exciting."

Because the new approach has shown promise in experiments with cells and mice, Murphy and his colleagues plan to ask the Food and Drug Administration for approval to begin the first tests on humans this fall.

Diphtheria is an infection that usually begins in the throat and is most common in developing countries. The infection is caused by a bacterium that produces a toxin that can kill cells throughout the body.

For the new therapy, researchers take the gene from the bacterium that produces the toxin and remove the coding that allows it to bind to all cells and replace it with coding that allows it to be taken up by specific cells.

In one case, the researchers used the binding coding for interleukin-2, which is taken up by immune system cells known as T-cells. T-cells become cancerous in adult T-cell leukemia — a deadly and currently untreatable form of cancer.

The altered gene is then placed into another type of bacteria, which produce the hybrid proteins in large amounts.

"We set out to design molecules to learn something about basic science as well as to develop prototypes of a whole new class of biologicals that could be potentially used for the treatment of specific human disease for which at the present time there are no effective therapies," said Murphy. "That's exciting."

The same molecules may also be effective for treating episodes of organ rejection and autoimmune diseases, both of which involve T-cells, Murphy said.

Seragen Inc., a biotechnology company in Hopkinton, Mass., has been granted the right to develop and market the technology.

Russia to its Warsaw Pact allies have warned them to be prepared for a military confrontation in Iran in October. The KGB's "best estimate," according to the cables, was that the United States was getting ready for military action, and the Soviets would have to meet force with force.

Barron reports that the Soviet Union rushed 22 full divisions to the Iranian border. He concludes tersely: "American reconnaissance detected the poised Soviet formations. With their discovery, a horrendous specter immediately became apparent."

"The moment the U.S. raiders land ... Soviet airborne troops quickly surround the Americans, while Soviet armored divisions hurtle across the border. President Carter now must choose. He can let the vastly outnumbered American force surrender or be annihilated. Or he can resort to nuclear weapons and risk precipitating World War III."

"Prudently, Carter canceled the raid."

NATION IN BRIEF

Children's AIDS Contact Prompts New Blood Disposal Rules

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — County health officials say they will consider new rules for the disposal of AIDS-contaminated blood after several children came in contact with tainted vials while rummaging through a dumpster.

Dr. Frank Johnson, director of the Marion County Health Department, said Tuesday new rules are being proposed to prevent contact with contaminated blood.

About a dozen children were exposed to vials of blood contaminated with AIDS and hepatitis viruses when they went foraging through a dumpster outside an Indianapolis health clinic last weekend, officials said.

The children were looking through the trash for a box to house a baby bird, said Martha Bennington, coordinator for communicable disease control for the county Health Department.

Senate Set To Debate Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic-led Congress, awaiting the final Senate vote on a $1 trillion budget compromise, is ready to confront President Reagan over provisions he says overburden taxpayers and shortchange the Pentagon.

"The confrontation is going to take place," Rep. William Gray, D-Pa., chairman of the House Budget Committee, said Tuesday, minutes after the House voted 215-201 in favor of the fiscal 1988 spending plan. "The bottom line is that if we're going to have a solution, he (Reagan) has got to participate."

Debate was scheduled for today in the Senate, where final approval is likely.

Reagan has no authority to sign or veto the budget resolution, which will serve as a blueprint for government spending for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. But he does have veto rights on subsequent legislation that will be needed to write many budget provisions into law.

AMA Warns On Health Care

CHICAGO (UPI) — The American Medical Association's new president is warning that if the public fails to join his group's fight for substantial changes in Medicare and Medicaid the programs "may not be there" when they are needed.

"Sooner or later, the public is going to be deprived of services, and maybe then they will see something needs to be done," said Dr. William Hotchkiss, a thoracic surgeon from Chesapeake, Va., who was to be installed today as the AMA's president.

Hotchkiss said he favors reforms proposed in Report MM, a restructuring of health financing proposed by the AMA last year. The AMA then warned that if Medicare was not replaced, it would be $1 trillion in debt by the year 2010.

Report MM recommends raising the Medicare eligibility age to 67 from 65, increasing the federal social security tax and converting Medicare to a private insurance system in which patients would receive vouchers to purchase health coverage.

Panel Probes New Money Trail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional investigators are studying a new money trail to learn how a mysterious $500,000 from the Swiss bank that held deposits in the Iran-Contra operations wound up in the legal defense fund for Richard Secord, one of the scandal's major figures.

The money, transferred by a Swiss investment company from the Credit Suisse bank, came into Secord's legal defense fund in three deposits in the last six weeks, Noel Koch, a former Pentagon official, testified Tuesday.

Koch said the deposits led him to resign as a trustee for the fund.

He appeared before the House and Senate committees probing the affair as they resumed their public hearings for a seventh week following a brief recess this month. Today the committees called forth Stanley Sporkin, a federal court judge and former general counsel for the CIA.

Murderer Executed In Texas

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (UPI) — Elliot Rod Johnson was executed by injection early Wednesday for the murder of a jeweler during a 1982 holdup, a shooting he contended was carried out by an accomplice.

Johnson, 28, who won stays of three previous execution dates, was pronounced dead at 12:55 a.m. CDT. He had been sentenced to death for the killing of jeweler Joe Angel Granado, 67, during an April 1982 robbery.

The Supreme Court denied Johnson's handwritten appeal at 8:30 p.m. EDT Tuesday. The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. District Judge Howell Cobb and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals refused earlier Tuesday to stay the execution.

The execution was the fourth this year in Texas, which leads the nation in executions. It was the 80th in the nation and the 24th in Texas since the Supreme Court reinstated capital punishment in 1976.

Governor Denies Money Link

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — Gov. Bill Clements, the target of an attorney general's investigation and possible impeachment proceedings, denies he covered up his involvement in illicit payments to SMU football players.

Attorney General Jim Mattox announced Tuesday he would investigate whether Clements or other former Southern Methodist University officials used school money to conceal the pay-for-play scheme that destroyed the school's football program.

The attorney general said his office will look at possible violations of a state law covering misapplication of fiduciary property or property of financial institutions.

Mattox said his office will also look into the more than $863,000 SMU is continuing to pay former Athletic Director Bob Hitch, Coach Bobby Collins and Assistant Athletic Director Henry Lee Parker.

2 Tax Rulings Could Cost States Billions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legal experts say two Supreme Court rulings striking down state tax laws favoring in-state companies will limit legislatures' ability to tax interstate businesses and may cost states billions of dollars in refunds.

In one decision Tuesday, the court invalidated 6-2 a Washington state manufacturing tax assessed only on products made in Washington for sale to out-of-state purchasers.

The court was more closely divided in the other case, ruling 5-4 that two Pennsylvania truck taxes, which bring the state $68 million a year, put a heavier burden on out-of-state trucks and are unconstitutional.

The rulings could cost Washington state up to $900 million in refunds and Pennsylvania $500 million in refunds.

The Pennsylvania ruling could also affect Arkansas, Maryland, Indiana, Kentucky, Vermont and New Jersey, which have similar laws.

University of Virginia law professor, Paul Stephan, said the decisions together may lead to major changes in the way states tax interstate businesses.

"Were I a state legislator and I wanted to know what kind of taxes I could levy on businesses, I would be comfortable with an income tax and I would be comfortable with a sales tax," Stephan said.

He said any other type of manufacturing tax, to meet constitutional muster, probably would have to be levied against both out-of-state and in-state companies, and most states are unwilling to subject their own businesses to multiple taxation.

Writing for the majority in the Washington case, Justice John Paul Stevens said by exempting in-state businesses from certain taxes, legislatures thwart the Constitution's promise of free trade between the states.

An exemption "does not merely erase a tax incentive to engage in interstate commerce; it affirmatively places interstate commerce at a disadvantage."

Panda Cub Doing Well

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Excited National Zoo officials said today there were indications Ling-Ling, the giant panda that gave birth to a 4-ounce cub, actually gave birth to twins.

"There is some evidence (of a twin)," zoo spokesman Robert Hoage said. "I can't say anymore than that. Twinning in panda births happens over 50 percent of the time."

Hoage said "more information of interest" would be released at a news conference today.

"When you've got a big 245-pound panda you can't always see everything that's going on," said an excited but tight-lipped Margie Gibson, another zoo spokeswoman, who stopped short of saying Ling-Ling was the mother of twins.

"We're observing her under less than ideal conditions," she said. "We don't have a real clear view. We're seeing her on closed circuit TV."

Ling-Ling and Hsing-Hsing's first cub was born Tuesday at 3:33 a.m. and has lived longer than any other panda born in the United States, said zoo spokesman Mike Morgan.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Renegade Sheikh Gives Up Palace Coup Against Brother

SHARJAH, United Arab Emirates (UPI) — Renegade Sheikh Abdel-Aziz, bowing to demands from the ruling Supreme Council of the United Arab Emirates, agreed to give up a weeklong coup against his brother, Sheikh Sultan bin Mohammed al Qasbi.

An accord reached Tuesday in a meeting at the Al Ain oasis 60 miles south of Sharjah, a tiny emirate in the southern Persian Gulf, ended the worst crisis in the history of the UAE, a federation formed by seven former sheikhdoms after they gained independence from Britain in 1971.

"The Supreme Council (of the United Arab Emirates) today witnessed the full and complete brotherly, warm reconciliation of the two," the official Emirates News Agency reported in a brief dispatch.

Jews Plan Waldheim Protest

ROME (UPI) — Jewish activists converged on Rome, vowing to stage demonstrations in St. Peter's Square to protest a two-day state visit by Austrian President Kurt Waldheim, accused by Jewish groups of complicity in Nazi atrocities.

Waldheim was to arrive in Rome late today for the two-day visit to the Vatican, which includes an audience with Pope John Paul II. The trip marks the former United Nations secretary-general's first state visit since he was elected president of Austria on June 8, 1986.

The Vatican Tuesday confirmed Waldheim will have an audience with John Paul in the Vatican at 11 a.m. Thursday and will be welcomed with the full honors of a visiting head of state.

Germany To Try TWA Hijacker

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — West German security sources said today the government decided to try Mohammed Ali Hamadel on air piracy and murder charges for the 1985 Middle East hijacking of a TWA jetliner and the murder of an American passenger.

As expected, the Cabinet of Chancellor Helmut Kohl denied a U.S. request that the Lebanese hijacking suspect be sent to the United States for trial on the charges, the sources said.

A government source said the cabinet decided in a meeting today that Hamadel would be tried by a West German court on charges of air piracy and murder, as well as a charge of illegal possession of explosives. Hamadel was arrested on the explosives charge in Frankfurt last January.

West German security sources said the government decided against extradition because of fears two West German businessmen held hostage in Lebanon would be killed in retaliation.

Shultz, Shevardnadze To Meet

GENEVA (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze will meet next month in a bid to clear the way for signing of an intermediate nuclear missile treaty by the end of the year.

Presidential arms control adviser Edward Rowny said Tuesday that Shultz and Shevardnadze will try to remove obstacles to an intermediate arms treaty during a mid-July meeting in Washington. The meeting, he said, will largely determine whether an agreement can be completed by late fall.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union have expressed hopes that President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev can sign a treaty at a new summit before year's end.

A Soviet government spokesman said Wednesday a meeting between Shevardnadze and Shultz would be "most welcomed," but he denied a specific date had been set.

Kidnappers Free 2; Glass Fate Unknown

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The son of Lebanon's defense minister was freed unharmed today after a week of captivity, but the fate of kidnapped U.S. journalist Charles Glass remained unknown, Lebanese police sources said.

Alli Osseiran, 40, was released with Suleiman Suleiman, 26, the bodyguard who was driving Glass and Osseiran when the three were abducted last Wednesday at the entrance to the southern suburbs of Beirut.

News of the release of the two men came less than a day after Syrian military sources set a Tuesday sundown deadline for the release of Glass, Osseiran and Suleiman.

Constitutional Debate Reopens In Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — President Chun Doo Hwan held a historic meeting today with opposition leader Kim Young-sam and agreed to reopen debate immediately on constitutional reform in a bid to end two weeks of anti-government protests.

The three-hour session at the Blue House, the presidential office and residence, was the first between the president and the leader of the nation's biggest opposition party since Chun came to power seven years ago.

"The president told Mr. Kim that it is desirable that debate on constitutional change is immediately resumed and constitutional amendment based on consensus is achieved through the National Assembly," a presidential spokesman said.

Previous debate to determine a new system of selecting Korea's chief executive was cut off unilaterally by Chun on April 13 after almost a year of fruitless squabbling.

Kim told reporters: "President Chun promised to immediately reopen constitutional debate. There was no clear-cut agreement on other demands I raised."

"I told the president what the true reality of the nation is," Kim said. "Now everything is up to him."

Kim, head of the Reunification Democratic Party, said that, in addition to resumption of constitutional debate, he demanded direct presidential elections, a national referendum to let the voters pick a government system, and the release of some 3,000 students arrested in the past two weeks.

Kim said he further asked that house arrest imposed on leading dissident Kim Dae Jung be lifted and that some 500 political convicts be fully pardoned and their civic rights be reinstated.

He said Chun gave no clear answer to the demand about Kim Dae Jung's house arrest, "but I came to have a feeling that it will be removed sometime today."

Kim said Chun told him he would instruct the Cabinet to study the request for the release of arrested protesters.

Asked if he thought the agreement formed the basis for a plan to settle the current crisis, Kim said, "Now everything depends on the president's determination."

The opposition leader told reporters Chun agreed to meet with him again if necessary. He

But the Syrian soldiers so far have stayed out of the southern suburbs, a hotbed for pro-Iranian Muslim fundamentalists.

Col. Ali Hammoud, head of the Syrian observers in Lebanon, said contacts on a governmental level were taking place between Syria and Iran, which has influence over Hezbollah.

"So far there hasn't been any direct negotiations between the Syrians and the kidnappers. The negotiations are taking place with the side close to the kidnappers," he said.

The Lebanese defense minister had said he received promises from senior Iranian diplomats and Sheikh Mohammed Hussein Fadlallah, the spiritual guide for Hezbollah, that they would try to speed the release of the hostages.

Earlier Tuesday, a senior Syrian military source warned, "The kidnappers have until sundown to release their hostages; otherwise we will change our methods."

Before the deadline expired, the source said, "We hope not to reach a dead end because then we will be forced to take whatever measures other than peaceful negotiations to secure the release of the three captives."

Glass, a former ABC correspondent and longtime friend of the Osseiran family, was the first Westerner abducted in Beirut since the Syrians took control of its security Feb. 22. He is one of nine Americans, and 24 foreigners overall, who are missing and believed held hostage in Lebanon.

Lake Mary Manager Says City's Form Of Government Must Change

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary City Manager Bob Norris told residents Monday night that the city's "hybrid" form of government, with some departments answering to the mayor and some answering to the city manager, is not working and must be changed.

Norris spoke to about 15 citizens at the Community Improvement Association's regular meeting. His talk was part of scheduled visits to community organizations to educate them about proposed charter revisions due to come up for a vote at the city's next election. The proposed revisions are to give voters the opportunity to change the city's election date to coincide with the state election date, to change to a true city manager form of government with all departments under the umbrella of the city manager or to reduce the number of commissioners to four from five with the mayor voting other than when there is a tie.

Norris said he has never seen the type of "hybrid form of government" that exists in Lake Mary with some employees answering to the mayor and some answering to the city manager. "On a day to day basis in this city, nobody's in charge," Norris said. "Ladies and gentlemen, you've got to change this form of government" to a true city manager form of government.

Norris said the city manager form of government has become very popular throughout Florida and has been popular in California for many years. It is typically popular in the more progressive states, he said.

Governments invariably have to change to suit varying conditions and that change needs to occur in Lake Mary, Norris said. Building permits in the city have doubled since September from 50 a day to 100 a day and single family lots are available everywhere in the city with 1,100 at the Timacuan subdivision alone, he said.

"We have no idea what the population is in the city," he said. "Between 4,000 and 5,000, but we have no idea."

He predicts, once the Seminole County Expressway Authority selects a freeway route, which he thinks will miss a lot of the subdivision areas in Lake Mary that have been waiting to see where the beltway would run, the city is going to have a tremendous amount of permit activity.

"We are going to be impacted like never before," he said.

With a true city manager form of government, Norris said, the powers and duties of the city manager will not change except that all departments in the city will answer to the city manager and the city manager will answer to the city commission.

Norris said, in his opinion, a city manager makes his living preparing the city's budget. The city manager then presents it to the commission and the mayor and commissioners go through it "line item by line item" making any changes they see fit. Once that budget is approved, Norris said, it is up to the city manager to keep it in line. He said the city manager's primary function concerning preparation of the budget is to present "a picture" for them to work within and then to "insure" that the budget stays in line.

The CIA President, Police Chief Charles Lauderdale, said he agrees with Norris. A city like Lake Mary, opening its door to future development and growth, has to have a professional with authority working on a day-today basis in the city, Lauderdale said. That person should be able to present lawmakers with prepared, well researched recommendations; otherwise, the city is going to be sorry, he said.

Commissioner Charlie Webster said he agrees the city should not function with a "hybrid" form of government. Previously he said he wanted Lake Mary's city government to stay the same.

Resident Margaret Wealey said she has been in and out of city hall for business purposes for many years.

"There are a lot of fine people there and I like them," she said. "But city hall is like a ship without a captain - we need a captain for the ship."

When Joe Litton, manager of league champion Sanford Police Benevolent Association, could not coach the Sanford Little National All-Star team, some familiar names came to the rescue.

Rick Taylor, a veteran and successful coach in the Sanford youth leagues, SAY of Orlando and manager and Sylvester "Slick" Franklin, Jr. and Skip Mitchell are the coaches who hope to take a winner to Leesburg this week for the Florida Little Major League Sub-District 2 Tournament.

The Nationals open the tourney tonight at 6 against host Leesburg. SAY of Orlando and Orlando Bruton will square off in the second game Wednesday. The winner of the Sanford National-Leesburg game advances to an 8 p.m. game Thursday against defending champion Sanford American.

While Mitchell has had the team the past two years, Franklin and Taylor are returning to the team they took to the state tournament in 1982 and '83. Mitchell was manager of the second-place Sunniland team this season while Taylor was his assistant and Franklin did not coach in the Little Major League.

"After the first coach (Litton) couldn't take the team we figured we couldn't let the kids down," Mitchell said. "And we've all been there before so we know what to expect."

As in the past, the Nationals are depending heavily on a strong pitching staff. Demy Beamon, who pitched SPBA to the league title, will be the ace of the staff with Sunniland's Richard Peterson and Disabled American Veteran's Bernard Sparrow also lending mound support.

When he doesn't pitch, Beamon plays shortstop while Peterson also plays first base and Sparrow is a second baseman. Other infielders include returning all-star Lorne Jones of Sunniland at short or third base and SPBA's George Martin also plays third and is a relief pitcher.

The outfielders include Sunniland's Tyrone Chibberton in right, SPBA's Keith Roberts in center and either First Federal's Angelo Cashe or SPBA's Tony Taylor in left.

Mitchell said the Nationals have three capable catchers including Kent Pritchard of First Federal, Matthew Harris of DAV and Andre Rawlings of SPBA. Harris also plays outfield and Rawlings can also play the infield.

Others who will contribute for the Nationals include SPBA's Eric Roberts, Sunniland's Don Hunt and Railroaders' Tarus Davis.

"We've always had some pretty strong pitching and this year's team is no different," Mitchell said. "This team could be a little stronger than the one last year. This year's team is real fundamental and knowledgeable about the game. I'm not sure how much support we'll have in Leesburg but we hope to have some people following us."

Taylor, who said Beamon will start on the mound Wednesday night, said this year's Sanford National team is different than those in the past in one important aspect — discipline.

"This is probably the most disciplined team we've had," Taylor said. "We have not had to deal with any attitudes and the kids are quick to learn and listen."

And, just like last year, the coaches expect the Nationals and Sanford Americans will most likely fight it out for the championship.

"It depends on who goes to losers' bracket first," Mitchell said. "We lost our first game the last two years and came back, but we prefer to stay in the winners' bracket. And we know we'll probably see the Americans more than once in the tournament."

Taylor believes the Nationals have the ingredients necessary to win the tourney.

"We stress hitting first and I think we'll be able to hit anybody we face," Taylor added. "And it will be important for the defense to do well and help spark the offense. If we shake the first round jitters early, we are capable of winning it and that's what we have in mind going up there."

Edberg Blanks Eriksson

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Sweden's Stefan Edberg considered throwing a game in order not to embarrass a fellow countryman, but a chance to make Wimbledon tennis history was more enticing.

Edberg whitewashed Stefan Eriksson 6-0, 6-0, 6-0 Tuesday to become the first men's winner in this year's tournament, which was delayed nearly two days because of rain.

Men's top seed and two-time defending champion Boris Becker eliminated Karel Novacek in straight sets, while No. 2 seed Ivan Lendl struggled before subduing an 18-year-old qualifier he knew nothing about and who has yet to win a Grand Prix match this year.

"I have never won a three-set match without dropping a game, but I beat Andreas Maurer (West Germany) 6-0, 6-0 earlier this year," Edberg, seeded fourth, said.

Edberg became only the third man during the Open era to sweep a Grand Slam match without dropping a game. Eriksson won merely 35 points in the 60-minute match and had only three game points.

"I tried to keep the ball in play," Edberg said. "I thought about giving him a game in the end, but I may never get a chance to win like this in a grand slam tournament again. I felt sorry for him, but he only laughed afterwards."

Becker, with his flashy style, entertained a Center Court crowd which had waited until late afternoon of the second day before rain permitted play. He delivered 10 aces and even won a point with his left hand — for which he apologized — in beating Novacek, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Becker closed out both the first and second sets with aces.

Lendl, the losing finalist to Becker last year, worked for 2 hours and 22 minutes to beat Christian Saceanu, a Romanian who now lives in West Germany, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5. Lendl, ranked No. 1 in the world, came within two points of dropping the fourth set before making the decisive break in the 11th game.

Saceanu won only one set in two previous Grand Prix tournaments this year and is ranked No. 175 in the world.

Other seeds to win during a program abbreviated by rain were No. 11 Pat Cash, No. 12 Brad Gilbert of Piedmont, Calif., and No. 13 Joakim Nystrom.

Cash, a quarterfinalist at Wimbledon last year, defeated American Milbert ousted Stuart Bale of Britain, 7-6 (7-4), 6-4, 6-3; and Nystrom beat Henrik Sundstrom, 6-2, 6-7 (5-7), 6-4, 6-3, in another all-Swedish confrontation.

Gabriela Sabatini, at No. 7 the highest women's seed to play, defeated American Barbara Gerken, 6-3, 6-3; No. 8 Manuela Maleeva of Bulgaria defeated Canada's Helen Kelesi, 6-3, 6-2; and No. 11 Lori McNeil of Houston won her opening round match from Marie-Christine Calleja of France, 6-2, 6-3.

Becker, utilizing his awesome serve and a powerful return, never was in trouble against Novacek, a French Open quarterfinalist. A service break in the third game got Becker started, and the 19-year-old West German never lost his service in the 1 hour and 38 minute match.

It was during the second set that he won a point left-handed.

"It was the only chance I had to make that shot," he explained. "I've never done that before in my life. I don't know what came over me there. After the shot I said to Novacek, 'I'm sorry. I didn't mean it to look like I was trying to play with you.'"

On today's schedule, Martina Navratilova begins defense of her women's title and the start of her bid for a sixth straight singles crown. Navratilova will meet 18-year-old West German Claudia Porwik. Second-seeded Steffi Graf, also from West Germany, meets Argentina's Adriana Villagran.

NOTEBOOK

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Spectators visiting the Wimbledon tennis championships during rainout days may get their money back in future tournaments, but not this year.

The All England Club, which stages the Wimbledon tournament, is considering introducing a version of the raincheck system used at the Queen's Club tournament. There, money is returned if less than two hours of play is possible on the center court.

4 Opinions: Murphy Bad Attitude Untrue

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Ronnie Murphy's competitiveness has never been questioned. Yet, some NBA officials believe, it was an over-competitiveness which kept him from going even higher than the 17th pick in Monday's NBA Draft.

Four gentlemen who have spent many hours scrutinizing Murphy, however, feel that the former Oviedo High all-stater has been given a "bad rap" concerning an attitude problem.

Two of the four — Portland Trail Blazers executive Bucky Buckwalter and coach Mike Schuler — put their futures on the line Monday when they made Murphy Portland's No. 1 selection in the draft.

Neither has a second thought. The Trail Blazers also indirectly found the center they wanted in the first round of Monday's NBA draft, selecting guard-forward Murphy and trading for Cleveland pivot Keith Lee.

The acquisition of Murphy led the Trail Blazers to trade guard Jim Paxson to Cleveland for Lee. "Ronnie Murphy is one of the top six or seven athletes in the draft," Buckwalter, vice president of player relations for the Trail Blazers, said. "We're very excited to have been able to select him. We see no problem."

With only six centers listed in the Blazers' draft pick guide as first-round material, Buckwalter and Schuler didn't expect a tall man to be available by their pick, the 17th of the first round.

Murphy is scheduled to begin his career with the Blazers in the off-guard position, eventually moving into point guard.

"We like Murphy because of his toughness," Schuler said. "He's very competitive and he can play a couple of positions in the backcourt. Some people are afraid of Murphy, but that's what saved him for us."

Schuler conceded Murphy had been involved in some incidents such as spitting on the floor that led to technical fouls. Schuler said he feels they resulted from immaturity and a will to win. He believes things will be different in Portland.

"The difference is, here it costs you money. And guys don't like to lose money. Much of what is said (about Murphy) is not true. We are not taking a risk," Schuler emphasized.

Jacksonville coach Bob Wenzel, who coached Murphy for four years, agreed. "People mistake his competitiveness for a bad attitude," he said. "That's unfair. Some writers assassinated his character for a couple of immature acts. People with great talent are temperamental. They do things they are sorry for later."

"Ronnie wants to win very badly. That intensity will make him a great pro."

Dale Phillips, Murphy's coach at Oviedo, also worked with the 22-year-old swingman for four years.

"Basically, Ronnie is a good kid," Phillips said. "He is a tremendous competitor which causes him to lose control sometimes. He is a maturing, though, and I don't think that he has a bad attitude. He just wants to win very badly."

Sullivan's Pub Captures Women's Crown

Softball

Sullivan's Pub claimed the Sanford Women's Softball League championship Tuesday night with a 14-6 victory over Stromberg-Carlson at Fort Mellon Park.

Paula Ritchey led the Sullivan's Pub offensive attack with three singles and five runs batted in while Chris Woodall and Tamara Moreland drove in two runs each to back the pitching of Bear Foster.

Stromberg took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first on Lynn Anderson's single but Sullivan's scored three times in the second with Woodall's two-run sacrifice fly leading the way.

Stromberg-Carlson tied the game in the bottom of the second but Sullivan's broke the game open with two runs in the third and five in the fourth. In the third, Ritchey had an RBI single and she drilled a two-run single in the fourth. Also in the fourth, Moreland unloaded a two-run triple and Lori Corcoran added a run scoring single.

Sullivan's sealed the victory with four runs in the sixth inning. Ritchey's two-run single was the big hit in the inning.

In Friday's first game, Classy Clerks won by forfeit over The Barn.

Feeling Heat? Listen To Body's 'Air Conditioning'

I was going to write last week's column on playing tennis in the heat but it was too hot. So I put it off until this week.

Seriously folks, it's hot enough out there to melt your strings.

Indeed, a lot of the old-timers around the courts are saying that this is the hottest summer they can remember. It's not only hot, it's also humid. That is a tough and potentially dangerous combination for the avid tennis player.

It makes playing difficult but it also sets up the possibility for the player to come down with a very serious ailment known as heat exhaustion or even worse — heat stroke. These heat-related illnesses are not just something you read about but never see. They are for real. I have seen tennis players suffer from them many, many times and in some cases have seen players hospitalized because of them.

Actually, a person does not even have trying to keep us cool, nature's "air conditioning," so to speak. As long as our bodies have lots of liquid everything is fine. You can play as hard as you want with no problem. When our bodies start to run low on fluid though, heat exhaustion might begin.

If you start feeling sick to your stomach, dizzy, see stars, feel cool and clammy, in general you feel way off center out there, it's your body telling you that you should get off the court. If you listen to your body signals and come off the court, sit down in a cool place and start replacing the liquids, then you should have no problem.

If you do not listen to your body and continue to play, then your condition will get worse and worse. You may not then be able to get off the courts — you might get a free ride on a stretcher.

Heat exhaustion, if not treated, can lead to heat stroke. Heat stroke can be fatal. Whereas in heat exhaustion one feels cool and clammy, in heat stroke the skin feels hot and dry. In heat stroke the skin is red, with white around the nose, mouth and eyes. There is no perspiration — the body has used all of it trying to keep you cool.

There is certainly no need to stop playing tennis in the hot summer months. But, there are some things you should do to protect yourself from a heat-related illness. You should try to avoid playing in the middle of the day. Early morning or late evening is better. Wear a hat and keep it cool and wet by putting water on it between games.

Take lots and lots of water to the courts with you. Take time out anytime you want to for some water (the more you drink the better). Above all, listen to your body, and if you start feeling weak, light-headed, etc. — GET OFF THE COURT!

Tomorrow is another day and it might even be cooler.

Upshaw Slam Cages Tigers

United Press International

For the past two seasons, inside pitches have meant trouble for Willie Upshaw. Tuesday night, he opened up and reclaimed part of the inside corner.

Upshaw hit a grand slam in the fourth inning and Fred McGriff added a two-run shot, powering the Toronto Blue Jays to an 8-7 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

With no score in the fourth, Jesse Barfield walked, George Bell singled to center and Ernie Whitt walked before Upshaw lined an 0-2 pitch into the upper deck in right for his ninth home run, equaling his home run total for last season. Kelly Gruber singled to third and McGriff pulled the first pitch to him into the upper deck in right for his sixth home run.

"I wasn't about to give in. Regardless of what happened, I was going to have a good swing," Upshaw, who hit his second career grand slam, said. "I caught up with a fastball. That was it.

"I've been able to open up on inside pitches again, and not stay so closed."

Dave Stieb, 6-4, allowed six hits in 6 2-3 innings. He has won three of his last four starts. Tom Henke, the fifth Toronto pitcher, earned his 13th save despite allowing a two-run homer to Alan Trammell in the ninth. Jeff Robinson, 4-4, took the loss.

Elsewhere, New York edged Baltimore 2-1, Boston slugged Milwaukee 9-5, Chicago pounded Seattle 13-3, Minnesota clouted Cleveland 9-4, California shaded Texas 8-6, and Kansas City blanked Oakland 4-0.

In the National League, it was: Chicago 4, New York 1; Montreal 8, Pittsburgh 2; Philadelphia 4, St. Louis 1; Los Angeles 3, Atlanta 2; Cincinnati 4, San Francisco 1.

Joyner belted a solo home run in the sixth and a two-run double in the seventh. Willie Fraser, 4-5, went six innings for the victory. Greg Minton pitched 1 2-3 innings for his second save. Charlie Hough, 7-3, took the loss despite taking a no-hitter into the sixth inning for the second consecutive start.

With the score tied 4-4 in the seventh, California scored three unearned runs with two out. Downing walked and White reached on an error by shortstop Scott Fletcher. Joyner doubled both of them home. Doug DeCinces followed with a single to score Joyner and make the score 7-4.

Oddibe McDowell's seventh homer of the year, a solo shot in the second, gave Texas a 1-0 lead. The Rangers added an unearned run in the third to go ahead 2-0. Jerry Browne walked, went to third on Fletcher's single and scored when catcher Bob Boone threw wildly attempting to pick him off third.

White broke Hough's no-hit bid with a two-out solo homer in the sixth and Joyner followed with a homer to tie the score 2-2. The Angels added two more runs, one unearned, for a 4-2 lead. DeCinces and Jack Howell walked, advanced on a passed ball, and scored on Boone's single.

The Rangers tied it 4-4 in the sixth. Pete Incaviglia and McDowell doubled for one run. Mike Stanley's fly ball moved McDowell to third, from where he scored on Steve Buchele's sacrifice fly to center.

Rawley Stops Cards As Elia Finally Wins

United Press International

Lee Elia found out how easy managing can be when your starting pitcher turns in a dominating performance.

Shane Rawley allowed four hits over eight innings Tuesday night to help the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and their first triumph in five games under Elia, who replaced the fired John Felske last Thursday.

"We needed a well-pitched game and we got it," said Elia, who received a bottle of champagne after the game. "Whenever Shane smelled that he was getting into trouble, he found a way to get out of the inning.

"(The victory) was inevitable because we were breaking our tails the last four days. We had the right ingredients to win. It was nice getting over that hump."

Rawley, 8-4, improved his career record to 5-1 against

Brantley's 5 Errors Pave Way For Apopka's Regional Crown

Lake Brantley's American Legion committed five costly errors Tuesday night, handing Apopka a 7-4 victory in regional championship Sunshine State Games baseball at Boardwalk and Baseball near Haines City.

"We simple gave it to them," Lake Brantley manager Jerrey Thurston said. "We haven't a lot of problems with errors lately, but we sure did tonight."

Lake Brantley pitcher Shane Stuffed went five and one-third innings for Brantley. Stuffed gave up seven hits as he fanned two and walked one. Mark Gabrovic and Randy Green each came on in relief of Stuffed.

The big blow of the game came in the bottom of the sixth inning. With the score deadlocked at 4, Green was brought in with the bases full. Green then gave up a three-run double.

Brantley could manage only four hits. Jerrey Thurston went 2 for 4 with an RBI triple and a single. Jim "Mongo" Morse chipped in with an RBI single. Green had a single.

Johnstown Buries Sobik's Subs

Johnstown Properties used a nine-hit attack en route to a 14-2 four-inning victory over Sobik's Subs in the first game of the best-of-three series in the Seminole Pony Mustang Division Playoff at Five Points near Winter Springs Tuesday.

The two teams will square off again tonight at 6 at Five Points. A victory by Johnstown, the National League champ, would give it the Mustang championship. But if Sobik's, the American League champions, regroup, a deciding third game will be played on Thursday night.

Johnstown pitcher Kiley Kapala went three innings as he gave up two runs on three hits. Kapala fanned four. Aaron Church pitched the final inning for Johnstown.

Shawn Burger led Johnstown with a pair of RBI singles. Church chipped in with a pair of singles and an RBI while Shawn Ernest and Scott Neufeld each had RBI doubles. Kyle Gaines and Kapala also had hits. — Scott Sander

Radcliff Slams Lyman To 11-0

Chris Brock relieved starter Jim Lucas in the third inning and picked up the victory.

Johnny Luce and Brock each went 4 for 4. Brock had a two-run homer and a three-run double in the game, giving him five runs batted in as Lyman walloped 16 hits.

Kenny Jackson, Marty Martin, and Noah Talesnick each had two hits apiece. — Scott Sander

Miller Rips Americans

Special to the Herald
WINTER SPRINGS — Brian Miller's two home run blasts, including a solo shot in the bottom of the sixth, powered the National League to a come-from-behind 7-6 victory over the American League in the first game of the Seminole Pony League Pinto Division all-star series at Five Points Complex.

The two teams swapped runs in the second inning before the Nationals erupted for four runs in the bottom of the third, sparked by Miller's first homer, a three-run shot over the center-field fence which drove in Kenny Kramer and Chris Louaman, who had singled. Matthew Wright singled in Mike Grandilla for the other run in the inning.

The score remained 5-1 in favor of the Bill Corrente's National team for the next two innings, due to excellent defensive from both sides. American's Jason Bernoski made the most spectacular defensive play in the game — a sliding catch of a fly ball in center field.

"Crunch time" began in the top of the sixth for the Americans as they found themselves behind, 5-1. Shaun St. Dennis led off the inning with a single, followed by singles from Danny Pursell and Aaron Black, with Black picking up an RBI. After a flyout by the next batter, Jason Kirst sent a three-run homer sailing over the right field wall to tie the game, 5-5. Bernoski then singled before being forced out at second on a fielder's choice for the second out. Jason Gaines then came up and drilled a home run to give Americans the lead, 6-5.

"We had a tough time (at the plate) in the first four or five innings," King said. "We're not good losers. We're gonna win tomorrow, no doubt."

Miller's two homers in his two at-bats led the National squad, and Christian Sanders also belted a solo homer for National's only run in the second.

Seminole East: Pair Of Thirds

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole East, composed solely of Sanford players, took third place in both the 15 and under and 13 and under state tournaments at Coral Springs this past weekend.

Seminole High Coach Charles Steele's 15 and under team opened the tourney with a 72-22 trouncing of the Palm Beach All-Stars. Shawna Cohen's 12 points led the way with Sherri Reddicks and Trudi Roundtree tossing in 11 each. Chineta Gilchrist pumped in 10. Liz Long added eight and Connie Williams, Tammy Lawrence and Letticia Strickland contributed seven points each.

Seminole East then dropped a 60-40 decision to the Bay Area team out of Tampa. Bay Area held a 24-19 halftime lead and pulled away in the second half. Strickland's 17 points led Seminole East and Long hit 10.

After being eliminated from a shot at the title, Seminole East faced Vero Beach St. Helens for third place and came away with a 54-52 victory. Long and Reddicks pumped in 13 points each while Strickland hit for 10 and Cohen and Roundtree added six each. Cohen also made the defensive play of the game when, in the waning seconds, she stepped in front of a St. Helens player and took a charge to stop a scoring opportunity that could have tied the game.

Others who played for the Seminole East squad included Yolanda Baker, Trina Williams, Cindy Lyons and Mechelle Toombs.

"I can't say enough about the way the girls played," Steele said. "We were playing with almost all players from one school while the others were all-star teams. It's hard to play hand-picked teams, but the object is to get my kids to play against that kind of caliber teams. It will make them better."

The Seminole East 13 and under team of coach Julius Francis lost its first game in the tournament but rebounded to win its next two for third place. Lakoscia Kennon, who will be a freshman at Seminole High this school year, was the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

In the opener, Seminole East dropped a 46-26 decision to the Team Central Florida Oskies. Kennon's 15 points led Seminole East and Regina Alexander tossed in six.

Seminole East then routed the Brevard County Stingers, 77-33, behind the 30-point performance of Kennon. Regina Alexander tossed in 14 points, Davina McNeil hit nine, Kayla Alexander contributed seven, Michelle Wright and Teresa Matthews had six each and Julie Francis added five.

Kennon exploded for 32 points as Seminole East won the third place game, 55-44, over Vero Beach St. Helens. Francis added eight points and Regina Alexander tossed in six.

Team Central Presses Way To AAU 15 Title

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Team Central, propelled by a tenacious press defense, stormed to the 15 and under AAU State Championship this past weekend at Taravella High School in Coral Springs.

The 15 and under all-stars, including a number of Seminole County standouts, earns a berth in the National AAU Tournament July 23-31 at Oxford, Miss.

Team Central qualified with a 66-47 victory over Gold Coast Coral Springs on Sunday. West Orange High's Jennifer Clark, the tournament most valuable player, led the way with 21 points and eight rebounds while DeLand's Renee Bellamy contributed 10 points and Lake Brantley's Tracy Brandenburg dished out seven assists.

Team Central used the pressure defense to build a 44-13 halftime lead and never looked back.

After receiving a first-round bye, Team Central opened the tourney with a 71-54 victory over Vero Beach St. Helens. Clark's 20 points led the way with Vicki Smith pumping in 15 and Brandenburg adding nine points, seven assists and three steals. Seressa Setzer ruled the boards with 12 rebounds.

The Central Florida stars then went up against Bay Area and used the press to build up a 42-19 halftime lead en route to a 66-45 victory. Setzer's 14 points led three players in double figures while Clark pumped in 11. Brandenburg hit 10 and Oviedo's Suzanne Hughes contributed eight points and six rebounds.

"Coach (Mac) Blythe's press tore them (Bay Area) up," head coach Mike Averill said. "And Bay Area is a pretty darn good team."

While Clark was the tourney's MVP, Brandenburg and Smith were also All-Tournament.

"Clark is a very good offensive player," Averill said. "And she does pretty well on defense. She was a first team Metro Conference pick. Brandenburg handled the point and shot extremely well from up to 20 feet. The best part about Tracy is her command of the game and protecting the basketball."

Also this past weekend, the 11 and under team of coach Nancy Coalter, nicknamed the Blue Streak, defeated Coral Springs for the state title while the 13 and under team of Tom Bieri was beaten by Coral Springs for the title.

Active Market, Stocks Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower Wednesday in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which fell 5.78 Tuesday, was off 3.98 to 2435.75 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 530-387 among the 1,377 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 14,400,000 shares.

The stock market posted its first loss in more than two weeks Tuesday, brought low by profit-taking and futures-related sell programs triggered by weakness in the dollar and bond markets.

But most traders and analysts agreed that the market is likely to continue its advance, with investors viewing any pullback as an opportunity to return idle cash to equities before the end of the second quarter.

Many big investors had sold stocks and raised cash in the weeks leading up to the Venice economic summit and last Friday's "triple-witching hour," and many are now feeling pressure to reinvest those assets.

Dollar Down Against Key World Currencies

By United Press International

The dollar opened lower against all key foreign currencies in moderately active trading in New York Wednesday following reports that a senior Bank of Japan official said he saw no further room for the dollar to rise.

The dollar was also lower in Japan and Europe where traders said the dollar was weakened by reports of U.S. and West German bank intervention. The price of gold and silver moved higher.

Traders in New York said the dollar fell on reports that a senior Bank of Japan official reportedly said that instability in the yen-dollar rate had declined in recent days and that the central bank has shifted its worries to signs of renewed inflation.

The official indicated the Bank of Japan now considers it vital to hold down inflation, but he added that Japan would continue its easy credit policy to stimulate demand, boost imports and cut its trade surplus. In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar weakened marginally against the Japanese yen, closing at 145.95 yen, down 0.65 from Tuesday's close of 146.60 yen.

Traders in Japan said the dollar weakened following reports that the United States and West Germany intervened to sell the dollar.

On major European markets, the dollar began the day in Frankfurt at 1.833 German marks, down from Tuesday's close of 1.8455.

The dollar opened in Zurich at 1.52 Swiss francs, down from 1.526 and in Paris at 6.1165 French francs, down from 6.1345.

The dollar also opened lower in Brussels at 37.95 Belgian francs, down from Tuesday's close of 38.15, in Amsterdam at 2.057 Dutch guilders, down from 2.069 and in Milan at 1,324.50 lire, down from 1,332.95.

FDIC Bails Out 2 Banks

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — Two Alaska banks on the brink of failure will be kept alive with infusion of a $295 million grant from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. because that is cheaper than paying off depositors if the banks fail, the agency said Tuesday.

Private investors must put up $65 million as part of the plan to keep the banks afloat.

Alaska Mutual Bank and United Bank Alaska become the fifth and sixth banks to be rescued this year as part of the FDIC's financial assistance program.

said Bill Olcheski, a spokesman for the agency.

"I'm sure this is the largest" of the bank rescues this year, Olcheski said. The program came to the aid of seven banks last year, he said.

"The financial assistance program has been agreed to in principle by FDIC, which determined that it will be less costly to FDIC than the cost which would be incurred by the failure of Alaska Mutual Bank and United Bank Alaska," Olcheski said.

how much time consumed and the amount of equipment deployed.

Nonetheless, consultant Ken Young, of Henderson and Young, Palm Harbor, theorized that the county had maintained a five-minute fire response time until growth offset it, adding about one and one-half minutes to the average time it takes firefighters to get to a fire. He predicted, though, that upon completion of Fire Station 27 on Red Bug Road the county would regain the five-minute standard until growth once again offsets it.

"The five-minute response time was achieved for four years in a row until last year because the county couldn't keep up with growth," said Young. "But we are confident that the new station being built this year will bring you back to that standard and level of service."

Concerning the library fees, commissioners agreed having 1.5 library books per county resident is a noble goal, but it must be accomplished through traditional taxing methods — not by impact fees.

Commissioners agreed with their impact fee committee that forcing developers to provide money for new library books strays from the intended use of the fees as an instrument to fund infrastructure needs created by growth. In recommending against the library levy, the committee had defined the book holdings goal as a "lifestyle" enhancement rather than a growth-related need.

The panel voted 5-4 in late May not to recommend the fees, which were proposed at $50 a dwelling unit or for each 1,000 square feet of a commercial building.

Florida Library Association guidelines suggest that a county of 300,000 people have 390,000 library "items." The level for all libraries statewide is 1.23 books per capita, according to Young.

Indications are the commission eventually will take a look at the number of volumes available for the newly constructed libraries funded by a $7 million bond issue approved by voters.

"We need to examine the libraries we just built," said Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff. "And come back and see what we need to put them in service."

Other commissioners agreed they should set their sights on providing at least one library book per resident. "The one book per capita standard is something we have a commitment to do through taxes," said Commissioner Sandra Glenn.

Young had advised the impact fee panel during its meetings that the county would need an infusion of $1 million for book purchases just to come up to standard for the population and of $1.9 million for the population expected in five years. He estimated that by Sept. 30 of this year, there will be 0.78 books per capita.

During the committee meetings, Library Services Director Jean Rhein said one of the first things a newcomer does upon arriving in the county is secure a library card. But at Tuesday's work session, a representative of the Homebuilders Association of Mid-Florida argued growth-related fees for libraries would not meet legal requirements for impact fees.

John Tracy, a member of the impact fee committee, countered that "the development community is getting off light" by not having to pay impact fees to fund the construction of libraries. He also expressed dissatisfaction that cost overruns in building the libraries have greatly diminished the $1 million set aside from the bond money to buy books.

Without the fees, he said, the county will be using general fund tax dollars as part of its strategy to accommodate growth.

The commission also decided to put on hold the pursuit of impact fees for services, such as law enforcement, and facilities, such as parks. County Administrator Ken Hooper said the time could come when fees may have to be assessed in response to growth-created pressure for increased law enforcement spending. Likewise for parks, added Hooper. "There may be a need in future years for impact fees for law enforcement and parks."

Right To Cheer Assassination Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 5-4 today the Constitution protects a clerk typist in Texas from being fired for cheering the attempted assassination of President Reagan in 1981.

The justices, rejecting arguments from Harris County, Texas, officials, affirmed a lower court ruling that said the dismissal of deputy Ardith McPherson violated her First Amendment right of free speech.

The case stemmed from the March 30, 1981, assassination attempt of Reagan by John Hinckley in Washington.

McPherson, then 19, was listening to radio coverage of the incident at her job at the county constable's office and turned to a fellow worker and said, "I hope if they go for him again, they get him."

When Constable Walter Rankin learned of McPherson's remark, he fired her. She then filed a lawsuit claiming violation of her First Amendment rights.

At issue in the case, Justice Thurgood Marshall wrote for the majority, was whether McPherson's statement was a matter of "public concern" and thus protected by the First Amendment.

"Considering the statement in context ... it plainly dealt with a matter of public concern," he said. "The statement was made in the course of a conversation addressing the policies of the president's administration. It came on the heels of a news bulletin regarding what is certainly a matter of public attention: an attempt on the life of the president."

The court concluded that a threat on the life of the president would not be protected by the First Amendment, but McPherson's comment did not amount to such a threat.

Chief Justice William Rehnquist and Justices Byron White, Sandra Day O'Connor and Antonin Scalia disagreed with the majority ruling.

Scalia, in a written dissent, said the constable's interest in maintaining a respectable public image "outweighs any interest his employees may have in expressing on the job a desire that the president be killed."

IN BRIEF

Ex-DNR Director Surrenders Amid Probation, Bribery Scandal

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Elton J. Gissendanner, former head of the Florida Department of Natural Resources, will surrender today on charges he accepted $80,000 to help a drug smuggler avoid a prison sentence.

Gissendanner, 59, was scheduled to turn himself in to U.S. Magistrate Lurana Snow in Fort Lauderdale at 10 a.m. His attorney, Patricia Kyle, said Gissendanner would "enter an emphatic plea of innocent."

Gissendanner was indicted Monday on four counts of violating the Hobbs Act, for extortion, lying to a federal grand jury and failure to disclose the $80,000 on his 1983 federal income tax return. If convicted, he faces a maximum penalty of 48 years in prison and $130,000 in fines.

Gissendanner, a veterinarian and a political protégé of Florida Sen. Bob Graham, became DNR chief in 1979. He had long been at odds with his new bosses — Gov. Bob Martinez and the Florida Cabinet — and was scheduled to be replaced July 1. He resigned when the indictment was announced.

Coronas Guilty Of Racketeering

MIAMI (UPI) — Father and son bankers Rafael and Ray Corona were convicted of buying Sunshine State Bank with money from a marijuana smuggler who wanted the institution to launder his profits, officials said Tuesday.

Following Monday's verdict, U.S. District Judge James W. Kehoe allowed Rafael Corona, 67, to remain out on bond until he and his son are sentenced Sept. 2. The judge ordered Ray Corona, 39, jailed pending a bond hearing.

Ray Corona was convicted of conspiracy, racketeering and using the mail and traveling in furtherance of a conspiracy. He faces a maximum of 65 years in prison.

His father was acquitted of a racketeering conspiracy charge, but convicted of racketeering and using the mail and traveling in furtherance of a conspiracy. He faces up to 45 years in jail.

AIDS Teen Testifies In Porn Case

PENSACOLA (UPI) — A teenager with the AIDS virus was asked to testify at a pornography trial without spectators present after his attorney convinced a judge it might be traumatic for the boy, who twice tried to commit suicide.

The teenager, who described the defendant as a father-figure, was among six youths to testify, but the only one who did so in private. Spectators and the media viewed the testimony from a monitor in another courtroom.

Testimony was scheduled to resume at 9 a.m. CDT today in the trial of Michael Patrick Haggerty, 34, of Warrington. He is accused of taking photographs of young boys and selling them nationwide through ads in magazines catering to homosexuals.

Lynn Guettler. The percentage of black high school graduates going on to college has dropped steadily in the past decade, the commission reported.

In 1983, Florida's black students represented 19 percent of all high school graduates, but only 9 percent of university and community college enrollment.

The commission said certification exams, which were instituted in 1980, have become a barrier for aspiring black teachers.

In 1986, only 30 percent of the blacks taking the tests for the first time passed, compared with an 88-percent success rate for whites.

"(Boosting the number of minority teachers) is essential to inspiring and motivating minority students to achieve and, perhaps more importantly, as evidence that educational achievement leads to a better quality of life," the commission wrote.

The commission called on lawmakers to establish special scholarships and target programs to boost the number of minority students going into the teacher training curriculum. The Cabinet is slated to discuss the recommendations at its Aug. 4 meeting.

The commission is a 24-member panel responsible for advising the Cabinet and Legislature on how Florida should screen and maintain a pool of qualified teachers large enough to fill grade-school vacancies.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lee Carter Jr.

Cheryl Ray, H.L. Carter Jr. Repeat Vows

Cheryl Ann Ray and Hugh Lee Carter Jr. were married May 2, at 4 p.m., at the First Presbyterian Church, Sanford. The Rev. Richard G. Danielak was the officiating clergyman for the traditional double ring ceremony.

Carol Gilbert, sister, was accompanied by Ture Larson, organist, who also played nuptial selections.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Florence A. Ray, Sanford, and Norman S. Ray, Sarasota. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lee Carter of Pine Hills.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a white satin gown fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline and full puffed sleeves. The gown was embellished with beaded silk Vanise lace motifs. The controlled skirt gracefully fell into a sweeping chapel train and she carried a cascading bouquet of bridal white roses, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Joanne Dwyer attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a satin radiant gown styled with a basque bodice, off-the-shoulder neckline and full puffed sleeves accented with a bow and back brush train. She carried a presentation bouquet of bridal white roses, baby's breath and fern.

Bridesmaids were Connie Overall, Sanford; and Nancy Gilbert, Casselberry. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's. Junior bridesmaid Beth Dwyer, niece of the bride, wore a white satin gown accented with a radiant bow and cummerbund.

Robert Ruchl, Pine Hills, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Bruce Ward, cousin of the bridegroom, Pine Hills; Terry Grant, nephew of the bridegroom, Orlando; and Brian Dwyer, nephew of the bride, Sanford. The bridegroom and groomsmen wore black tuxedos with white boutonnières in the jacket lapels.

The mother of the bride wore a pink long-sleeved, waltz-length gown, with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a two-piece long-sleeved beige and white waltz-length ensemble complemented with matching accents. Both mothers wore bridal white rose corsages.

During the wedding ceremony, Noel Grant, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, officiated at the reading of the Scriptures, followed by the bride and bridegroom lighting a unity candle.

The reception was held at the Sanora clubhouse. Music was provided by Sugar and Spice. Ralph Cowan videotaped the wedding and reception. Mary Rufas, Sanford, served as hostess and Millie Peters, Sanford, Peters registered the buxets in the bride's book.

Following the reception, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Sanibel Island. They are making their home in Orlando where the bridegroom is employed as an electrician by D.H. Contractors and the bride is employed by J.C. Penney, Florida Mall.

Cook Of The Week

Student, Carrying On Family Tradition In Education, Specializes In Goodies

By Carol Gentry
Special to the Herald
Christy Reynolds, 20, has spent half of her life in the kitchen creating delightful desserts. Her first solo cooking experience at age eight was a unique looking batch of chocolate chip cookies. "They tasted good," she recalled, "but looked funny."

She learned to cook from her mother and older sister, Vicky, by following them around the kitchen asking questions about everything they did. While some culinary connoisseurs give you lofty conceptualizations for their expertise, Christy is down-to-earth when she says, "I just like to eat!"

Her cooking has been enjoyed by all. In Christy's senior year at Lake Mary High School, she raised over $200 for publication of the Senior Calendar by selling her baked goods to the faculty, staff and students.

Christy, who attended University of Central Florida the past year, will enter the University of Florida in the fall. She does not have as much time now in the kitchen as she would like. Besides playing the flute and her love of reading, she is part-time operations and editorial assistant for Strang Communications Company in Altamonte Springs. This Christian publication company publishes four magazines, one, Charisma, is the largest Florida-based magazine to be internationally distributed.

Following in her family's footsteps, she is majoring in Language Arts Education in college. Christy's mother, Ann, and sister, Tracy, teach English at Lake Brantley High School. Her father, Don, is the principal at Lake Mary High School.

When asked if cooking was also a family tradition she laughed and stated that her youngest sister, Mickey, could burn water.

Just recently the family moved to their new home in Osteen. Christy undertook the kitchen supervision of preparing for a combination housewarming and wedding anniversary party for her parents who have been married 30 years. "We spent two days cooking," she said.

Here are some of Christy's favorite recipes that she would like to share with you:

The outdoor chef likes to show off by using special sauces. Here is one inspired by zesty Chinese plum sauce to use as a baste for grilled pork, chicken, beef, hot-dogs, hamburgers or any meat that's good cooked on the grill.
Make an extra batch to offer for dipping. You'll have a blend of East and West with every bite.
To marinate a steak quickly, use a marinade with kiwis.

Spencer Schmitt loves to read.

Boy, 7, Reads 377 Books In 8 Weeks To Win Contest

Between March 9 and April 30, Friendly Restaurant sponsored a Reading Incentive Program with seven Seminole County schools, grades K-5, participating.

Top reader in the competition was Spencer Schmitt, a Hamilton Elementary School student in the first grade class taught by Sarah Linglis. During the eight-week program, Spencer read 377 books and finished the school year with a straight A grade point average and awards in math and art.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schmitt of Sanford, Spencer likes reading more than anything else. Encouraged by his teacher, he and several classmates read to the Trainably Mentally Handicapped to help them receive their book credits and several days were devoted to reading and reporting on their books.

Spencer found most of the 377 books he read at the Seminole County Public Library. His mother said he has loved books since he could sit up and has had his own library card since he was 5. He has checked out as many as 10 easy reader books at a time.

"I read a neat book about spiders and learned that some can even change colors," Spencer said, but when asked about his favorite book, he answers, "The Pain and the Great One because it sounds like me and Stephanie (his 4-year-old sister)."

Microwave Magic

Basic Recipe For Meatballs Served In Variety Of Dishes

Meatballs can be the entree for many meals and can be so varied by the ingredients and sauces that you need not repeat the recipe. For two servings of a meatball recipe 1/2 pound ground beef is needed. This first recipe is for a good basic recipe that will make two servings.

MICROWAVE MEATBALLS
1/2 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
3 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1/4 teaspoon salt

dash of garlic powder
Mix ingredients and shape into small balls of uniform size. Place balls in an 8-inch round glass baking dish. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 1-2 minutes. Rearrange meatballs. Cover and microwave until the inside is no longer pink. This usually takes 1-2 minutes longer with a 600-watt microwave oven. Let stand 3-5 minutes, then drain. Serve with a prepared sauce on spaghetti or ziti.

To serve these meatballs with a wine sauce on rice follow these directions. Prepare meatballs and keep warm.

Wine Sauce Ingredients:

Man's Family Shuts Him Out After Closing Door On Wife

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a lovely woman I'll call Carole. My mother did not approve of her because she was a divorcee with two children. (We are both in our late 20s.) My brother was my best man. My family came to the church but did not go to the reception. In fact, they walked out the side door immediately following the ceremony.

My brother is getting married soon and I had already agreed to be his best man. When the wedding invitation arrived, I was shocked to see that it was addressed to me only! I asked my brother if it was some kind of oversight and he said no. Carole was not invited because Mother didn't want her there.

I sat down and wrote my brother a letter because I couldn't tell him face to face how hurt I was. I also told him that unless my wife was invited, I could not be his best man. I asked him to please come to see me so we could talk things over. I heard nothing from him, so I called and asked if he wanted to talk, and he hung up on me. I haven't heard from him since.

The last line of my letter was: "When Carole and I took our marriage vows, we two were made one, and I cannot send half of me to your wedding."

Was I wrong? Should I have gone and left my wife at home? (She told me it was my decision.)
HURT IN LYNN, MASS.

DEAR HURT: You were not wrong. I applaud your loyalty. Please greet your lucky wife for me.

DEAR ABBY: A while back you answered a woman's query about the comparison of a man's eating habits to his lovemaking. She was in love with a man who ate fast and she was concerned that his quick satisfaction of his physical need for food might prophesy a similar quick satisfaction of his physical need for sex.

You advised her not to be concerned — if she loved him, she should marry him.

At the time, I wasn't sure of your advice. Now I am, Abby, you were right on the nose. I now know what great sex is, and it's with this man who eats like he hasn't eaten in six weeks. Please print this as validation of your advice to others, who, like me, put your advice on hold.

Dear Abby

Sign me ...

YUM

P.S. On what did you base your conclusion?

DEAR YUM: Just common sense and good manners. A gentleman never keeps a lady waiting.

DEAR ABBY: How right you are to point out that constant tickling of a person is cruelty and should not be tolerated. My Irish mother told me at least 50 years ago of a situation that took place near her hometown in Ireland.

A neighbor had at least two wives pass away before anyone paid much attention to it. Then another neighbor reported hearing hysterical laughter coming from that house. Well, it was later learned that the man had been tying his wives to the bedpost, and tickling the soles of their bare feet with a feather! He continued until the hysteria did them in. In truth, they were tickled to death.

Food for Thought

by Bill Painter

Tiny tarts—your own or bought—are a super dessert. Stuff with cream and strawberries now. In winter, use raisins and figs plumped in marsala wine and tossed with chopped walnuts and grated chocolate.

Researchers have found that monounsaturated fats may be better than polyunsaturated to lower cholesterol. Look for more products to promote the monounsaturates.

When tomatoes are ripe and flavorful, top thick slices with a mixture of 1 cup sour cream and 2 tsp. each brown sugar and Dijon mustard. Broil until topping starts to brown.

What the labels mean: "lean" beef has less than 10 percent fat, like most choice cuts. "Extra lean" has less than 5 percent fat, which would cover much of the "good" or "select" beef sold.

Top off your barbecue with "roasted" fruit. Scatter unpeeled bananas and foil-wrapped nectarines over the embers. Spoon the softened fruit over ice cream.

And how do you top dinner at COLONIAL ROOM RESTAURANT With our famous desserts, of course.

It's Summertime And The Vegetable Pickings Are Easy

Garden baskets and roadside stands are spilling over with gorgeous vegetables that tantalize with color. When abundance makes prices low and flavor high, it is wise to take advantage of summer's harvest.

Even the most creative of culinarians, however, search anxiously through cookbook after cookbook for the perfect side dish when confronted with a lonely zucchini isolated like a lonely sentry on the countertop.

Converting such raw material into tasty foods requires a recipe repertoire. Summer House Vegetable Pudding would be a welcomed addition on any veranda, especially with a grilled salmon or swordfish. Ruby red native tomatoes, basil, and zucchini are sliced, chopped, and added to sauteed onions and garlic. Eggs, cheese and breadcrumbs provide the framework for this savory pudding, and tabasco pepper sauce adds life to the concoction.

Cob-fresh corn figure wonderfully into Farm Fresh Corn Pudding. Soothing milk, butter and eggs are blended, smartly flavored with red bell pepper and red pepper sauce and baked to custard-like perfection.

SUMMER HOUSE VEGETABLE PUDDING

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
2 medium cloves garlic, minced
4 medium tomatoes, divided
3 medium zucchini, divided
1 tablespoon fresh basil, chopped or 1 teaspoon dried basil, crumbled
1 1/2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese, divided
1 cup fresh whole wheat bread cubes

2 large eggs, lightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon red pepper sauce
In large skillet melt butter; saute onion and garlic about 2 minutes. Chop 3 tomatoes (you should have about 2 cups). Slice remaining tomato, set aside. Cut 8 thin slices of zucchini, set aside for garnish. Coarsely chop remaining zucchini (you should have about 2 cups). Add chopped tomatoes, zucchini, basil and onions to skillet. Cover. Simmer 8-10 minutes, stirring occasionally, until zucchini is crisp-tender. Stir in 1 cup cheese and bread crumbs. Cool slightly; stir in eggs and red pepper sauce. Turn mixture into a 1 1/2-quart shallow baking dish; arrange reserved tomato and zucchini slices on top. Bake in a preheated 375°F. oven 25 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup cheese. Bake 3 minutes longer, until cheese is melted. Yield: 4 servings.

FARM FRESH CORN PUDDING

2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
3 large eggs
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon red pepper sauce
2 cups fresh kernel corn, cut from the cob (approximately 2 large ears)
3/4 cup coarsely chopped red bell pepper

In small saucepan scald milk; add butter. In small mixing bowl beat eggs with a whisk until foamy; beat in flour, salt and red pepper sauce; gradually beat in milk mixture. Add corn and red pepper; mix well. Pour mixture into a buttered 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Set dish in larger pan; add 3 inches hot water to larger pan. Bake in a preheated 325°F. oven 55-60 minutes, or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Yield: 4 servings.

Vegetable Pudding combines a medley of summer's garden harvest.

Nautical Salad refreshing in summer.

Tangy Dressing Is Secret Of Salad Success

By tradition, as well as the current focus on seasonal eating, summer signals salad days. During the warmer months' celebration, refreshing salads are a tasty and often quick solution to what to have for dinner.

Good cooks know that the secret to a good salad is a special dressing that complements and brings out the flavors of ingredients in the salad bowl. The following two entree salads, perfect for light summer meals, have noteworthy dressings made with tangy Miracle Whip salad dressing.

Nautical Salad, featuring chunks of tuna on a bed of mixed greens, has a cool and creamy dressing that combines mayonnaise-type salad dressing with sour cream, chopped cucumber, onion and hard-cooked egg whites. Mix the dressing several hours in advance of serving so the multiple flavors have a chance to blend.

Then at meal time, arrange the tuna and salad greens onto a chilled plate. Spoon on the dressing and add sieved egg yolks and ripe tomato wedges for color. The dressing can also be served over chilled canned salmon chunks, turkey or chicken to create other entree salad. To complete the menu, serve rolls, iced tea and a simple fruit dessert.

Everybody's favorite potato salad can be transformed into a party main dish with the addition of a tangy homemade celery seed dressing, broccoli flowerets, ham strips and cubed cheddar cheese.

Be sure to prepare the salad several hours in advance so it is well-chilled and the medley of ingredients take on the special flavor of the salad dressing. Just before serving, add a little extra salad dressing. Delicious!

A Common Problem That May Be Serious

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT -- I am 61 and still work six days a week, walking on a cement floor. I missed two weeks of work because of phlebitis. What is this? Could it have come from the Estratest pills my family doctor has me on?

DEAR READER -- Strictly speaking, phlebitis means inflammation of the lining of a vein. This inflammation is almost always associated with thrombosis, formation of a blood clot at the site of irritation. Therefore, doctors usually refer to thrombophlebitis, a term that includes both the clot and the vein inflammation.

Thrombophlebitis commonly affects the leg veins, which are divided into two systems: superficial and deep.

Superficial veins are the ones we can see; they frequently become inflamed and thrombosed, causing a situation that is uncomfortable but not dangerous. People get red, painful bumps that disappear with application of heat, elevation of the legs and the use of anti-inflammatory medicines, such as Indocin and Butazolidin.

Deep venous thrombophlebitis is quite another matter. The deep leg veins are large and not visible. When they become inflamed and thrombosed, serious medical complications can develop. Unlike blood clots in the superficial veins, the clots in the deep veins have a dangerous tendency to break off and be carried to the lungs, causing pulmonary embolism. If the blood clot is big enough, large portions of lung tissue can be injured and the condition may be fatal.

Pulmonary embolism is a dreaded affliction because it may be difficult to diagnose without the use of sophisticated and dangerous testing, such as pulmonary angiography. In addition, it can occur suddenly and without warning. Similarly, deep venous thrombosis can be tricky to diagnose. Patients usually have swollen, tender calf muscles. However, the typical signs may not be present. Treatment includes anticoagulation with heparin.

Thrombophlebitis can have a variety of causes. In particular, women who smoke cigarettes and take birth-control pills are at higher risk. Some people who spend long hours standing on hard surfaces can develop the condition.

In short, thrombophlebitis is a common disease that is often unsuspected in people with leg (and chest) pain, and requires careful attention and management, if the deep veins are affected.

In my opinion, Estratest, a combination of estrogen (female hormone) and testosterone (male hormone), could have triggered your phlebitis. Ask your doctor about this; perhaps he or she will want to change your medicine.

If you have questions about HIATAL HERNIA, you can get answers in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-428. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on Hiatal Hernia.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

So often the right play requires the suppression of natural bridge instincts. Here's a good example. Many times with 18 high-card points the opener will jump to only three hearts, but here North thought that his king of diamonds was as good as an ace after West's overall, so he jumped right to game.

Declarer won the diamond opening lead with his ace to lead a trump right away — normally good procedure. West grabbed the ace and continued with the diamond 10, king from dummy, ruff. East returned a club to West's ace and West took the setting trick with the diamond jack. Despite the need to draw trumps, that vulnerable overall by West should have alerted South to the likelihood that West held both aces as well as a six-card diamond suit. So he should look for a counter to the predictable defense.

The right tactic is to capture the diamond opening lead with the king in dummy. Then play a low club back to the jack. West will win with his ace and play another diamond, but now South can play low when East ruffs. If East then returns a spade or a club, declarer can throw his other diamond on dummy's club king before returning to his hand to finally lead a trump. And if East plays back a heart after ruffing, he will not have another heart left with which to ruff.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
JUNE 25, 1987

In the year ahead, you are destined to play a leadership role in an important venture instead of being numbered in the ranks. You'll be up to what is required.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Projects or ventures that you initiate have good chances for success, provided you can get something moving today. Be a doer, not a dreamer. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to restore the relationship. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A career goal can be accomplished today, but you will have to put the needs of another above your own.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There are strong indications that an important change will take place today. It will usher in new conditions for which you've been hoping.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be intimidated by challenges today, because the aspects indicate that success can be achieved through boldness and tenacity. Aim high.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your ideas and suggestions carry more weight today than you may realize. People you think are indifferent will be absorbing every word.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Joint ventures hold more promise for you today than your independent efforts. Don't fight the world alone if you can team up with an able ally.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone with whom you are closely affiliated will make an important decision today that will also affect you. Fortunately, this person's judgment is good. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Pace yourself wisely today so that you're in command of your work and it's not in command of you. Proper procedures enhance productivity.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your organizational abilities will be very pronounced today. If there is a situation you'd like to reconstruct, do it now.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your demeanor will cast a shadow over everyone in your household today if you are long-faced and grumpy. Try smiling instead.

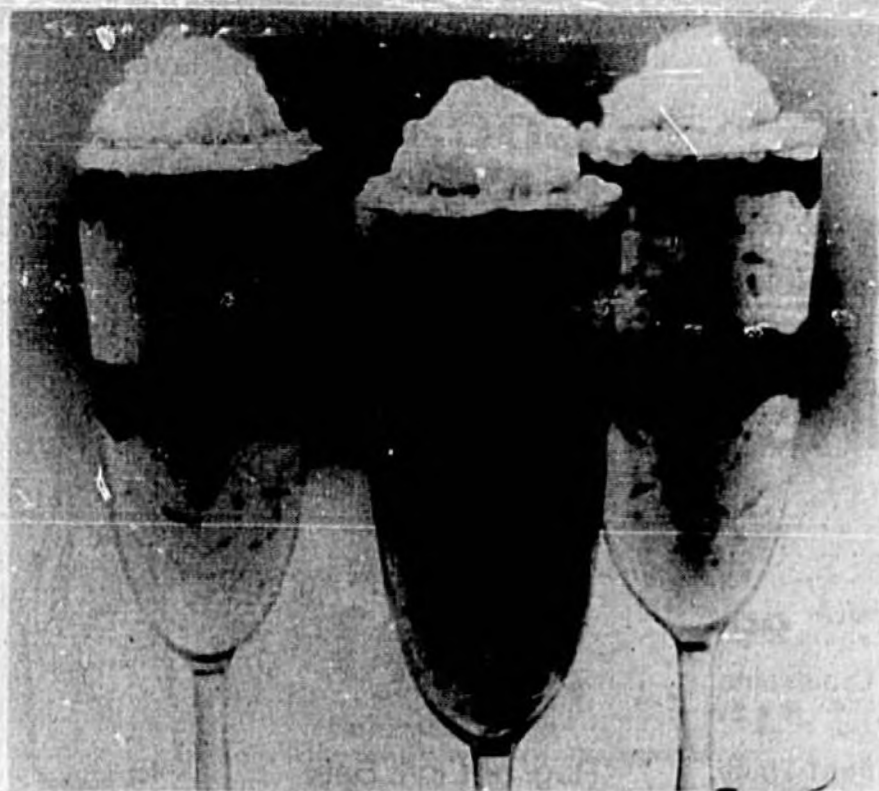

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Schedule your day wisely so that you don't do a lot of unnecessary running around. If you fail to make appointments, the people you want to see may not be in.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be especially alert today for an unusual development that has profitable potential. You're very close to something good.

Elegant Rice Royale Is Simple To Prepare

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

A layered dessert of rice, butterscotch pudding and chocolate syrup, enriched with a whipped cream topping, makes a fantastic dessert. It is simple to put together, but looks as though you've spent hours preparing it.

Serve Rice Royale in clear glass — in elegant goblets, wine glasses or a simple kitchen glass — so family or guests get the full impact of the layered design as they savor the dessert's rich flavor.

RICE ROYALE

1 package (3 1/2 ounces) butterscotch pudding and pie-filling mix

2 teaspoons instant coffee
2 cups milk
2 cups cooked rice
1 envelope (1 1/2 ounces) whipped topping mix, prepared, divided

Chocolate syrup, homemade or bottled

Chopped nuts (optional)

Combine pudding mix, instant coffee, and milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Add cooked rice; cool. Fold in 1 cup whipped topping; chill. Then, in clear glasses, alternate layers of rice pudding and chocolate syrup. Top each serving with remaining whipped topping. Chill at least one hour before serving. Garnish with chopped nuts, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

VANILLA ICE CREAM

1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
1/3 cup light corn syrup
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons pure vanilla
1 cup heavy cream

In 2-quart saucepan combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually stir in milk until smooth. Stir in corn syrup and egg yolks. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. Pour into large bowl.

Cover surface with plastic wrap. Refrigerate at least 2 hours or until chilled. Stir in cream. Freeze in 2-quart electric or hand freezer following manufacturer's directions. Spoon into freezer containers; cover and freeze several hours or until firm. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 quarts.

Blueberry Ice Cream: Follow recipe for vanilla ice cream. Reduce vanilla to 1 teaspoon. Stir 1 cup pureed blueberries into cream. Freeze as directed.

Chocolate Ice Cream: Follow recipe for vanilla ice cream. Add 2/3 cup unsweetened cocoa to dry ingredients. Reduce vanilla to 1 1/2 teaspoons. Freeze as directed.

2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup packed light brown sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Pastry for a double-crust, 9-inch pie

Peel peaches, slice thinly and place in large bowl. Sprinkle with lemon juice, add brown sugar, flour, salt and pecans; mix gently.

1/2 cup diced pepperoni
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 large loaf seeded Italian bread

1 large onion, thinly sliced
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 medium (1 pound) eggplant, thinly sliced

1 zucchini, sliced thinly on the diagonal
1 yellow squash, sliced thinly on the diagonal
1 tomato, thinly sliced
1 red pepper, thinly sliced
1 cup fresh mushrooms, sliced

3 tablespoons red wine vinegar

1 teaspoon dried leaf oregano, crumbled

1/2 pound freshly grated Parmesan cheese

Stir occasionally while simmering until vegetables are softened, about 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from heat; cool. Cover. Refrigerate overnight. Drain vegetables in a colander to remove most of the moisture. Slice loaves in half lengthwise, and scoop out one-half of the soft bread on both sides. Spread small amount of vegetable mixture in one half and line loaves with a layer of salami and a layer of cheese. Top with remaining vegetables mixture and Parmesan cheese. Place halves together and wrap in foil or plastic wrap. Slice into portions. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

Celebrate Nation's 211th Birthday With A Barbecue

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Every summer, the Fourth of July is a favorite party day, an all-out national festival. This year, Independence Day marks the 211th birthday of the United States, and festivities will be more patriotic because 1987 is also the bicentennial celebration of our Constitution.

The Constitution was actually signed on Sept. 17, 1787, but the birthday of the nation is a great day to toast that historic document.

What better way to say happy anniversary than to gather with family and friends for an outdoor barbecue with such traditional fare as colorful drinks, burgers, bean salad, potato salad, pecan pie and homemade ice cream? All foods may be readied in advance so everyone will have time to enjoy the day's events.

MENU

SPARKLING BLUEBERRY-LEMON PUNCH

3 cups (24 ounces) blueberry-cranberry drink, chilled
1/4 cup (2 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate, undiluted cup (6 ounces) club soda, chilled

Lemon slices, for garnish (optional)

Pour blueberry-cranberry drink and lemonade concentrate into a 1 1/2-quart pitcher. Stir until lemonade melts. Add club soda. If desired, garnish with lemon slices. Add ice as needed. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings, about 5 ounces each.

FRUIT BLENDER DRINK

1 bottle (32 ounces) cranberry juice cocktail, chilled
2 small ripe bananas, peeled and cut into chunks, chilled

1 cup fresh or drained canned peaches, sliced, peeled, chilled

2 cups watermelon, seeds removed, diced, chilled

6 ice cubes, crushed

Fresh peach slices or mint sprigs for garnish

Place half of all ingredients — except garnish — in container of electric blender; whirl until smooth. Pour into 3 tall glasses. Repeat with remaining ingredients. Garnish each drink with a fresh peach slice or mint sprig. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 tall drinks.

SPICED PITA CRISPS

1 package (8) whole wheat pita bread (4-inch diameter)

6 tablespoons safflower oil

Select as desired: chili powder, dill weed, Italian seasoning, garlic powder, sesame and/or poppy seed

Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Using a paring knife to cut around the edges, separate each pita bread into 2 layers. Brush the rough sides of each pita round well with safflower oil, about 1 teaspoon. Sprinkle with desired spice. Cut each round into 6 triangles. Place in a single layer on 2 baking sheets. Bake until crisp, about 10 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate in a tightly covered container until ready to serve with cheese or dips. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 96 triangles.

COOL-AS-A-CUCUMBER DIP

1 cup cottage cheese
1/2 medium cucumber, unpeeled, cut in pieces

1 teaspoon seasoned salt

1 cup (14 ounces) cranberry-orange sauce

1/2 cup dry white wine or apple juice

1/2 cup soy sauce

Serve a variety of grilled favorites on the Fourth.

Dash hot pepper sauce
Assorted fresh vegetables: carrot strips, celery strips, zucchini rounds, broccoli flowerets, cherry tomatoes, etc.

Serve with fresh cut-up vegetables. Double or triple recipe as desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 1/2 cups dip.

SEASONED HAMBURGER ROLLS

3 cups biscuit baking mix
Seasoning, as indicated below
1 cup milk

1 egg, lightly beaten

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Mix baking mix and seasonings; stir in milk. Mix until a soft dough forms; beat vigorously for about 30 seconds. If dough is too sticky, gradually add enough baking mix to make dough easy to handle. Form dough into ball.

Dust large board with flour. Knead dough about 12 times on board. Roll to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut with 3 1/2- or 4-inch cookie cutter dipped in flour. Brush tops of rolls with beaten egg; sprinkle with desired toppings.

Bake rolls on ungreased baking sheet, until golden brown, 10 to 12 minutes. Cool at least 5 minutes on wire racks before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 rolls.

SEASONINGS/TOPPINGS:

For Turkey Burger Rolls: Use 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning. Top with 2 tablespoons sesame seeds.

For Veal Burger Rolls: Use 1/2 teaspoon ground mustard and 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder.

For Beef Burger Rolls: Use 1/2 teaspoon mixed herb leaves and 1/4 teaspoon onion powder. Top with 2 tablespoons poppy seeds.

1/4 teaspoon pepper

1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, chopped

1 large onion, chopped

1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup cranberry-orange sauce
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

1/3 cup chopped parsley

2 navel oranges, cut into 4 thick slices

1/2 cup cranberry juice cocktail

In a large bowl, combine beef, eggs, bread crumbs, salt and pepper; blend well. Divide into 8 thin patties. In a pan, saute mushrooms and onions in butter until golden brown. Stir in cranberry-orange sauce until well blended. Spoon mixture on center of patties; top each with 2 tablespoons shredded cheese. Top patties with remaining 4 patties and press edges together to seal.

Grill 5 inches from source of heat for about 15 minutes for medium burgers, turning once or twice.

Place orange slices on grill, about 5 inches from source of heat; brush with cranberry juice cocktail. Grill on both sides, about 5 to 8 minutes, turning and basting with cranberry juice cocktail.
